Об издательской-то деятельности и мечтал Разумихин… «Иные издания дают теперь славный процент!.. И зачем, зачем мимо рта кусок проносить!» (Достоевский 3). It was publishing that Razumikhin had in mind…. "Some books now make a wonderful profit!… And why, why miss the boat?" (3a).

К-508 • УРВА́ТЬ КУСО́К coll, usu. disapprov [VP; subj: human] to obtain or appropriate (usu. by rather unscrupulous means) a portion of some fortune, property etc: X урвал кусок ≃ X got ⟨grabbed⟩ a piece of the pie; X got ⟨grabbed⟩ something for himself.

К-509 • В КУСТЫ́ (уходить, прятаться и т.п.) coll [PrepP; Invar; predic (with subj: human) or adv] to (try to) avoid doing sth. (taking responsibility for sth., participating in sth. potentially dangerous etc) out of cowardice, fear: X (уходит) в кусты ≃ X chickens ⟨backs⟩ out; X slinks away; X runs for cover; X tries to hide; X looks for a way out; [lim.] X dodges (sth.).

Они за уважаемого [Иванько] только до тех пор, пока сила на его стороне. Чуть уважаемый качнулся, они — в кусты (Войнович 3). They were for their respected colleague [Ivanko] only as long as he had the power. As soon as he stumbled, they slunk away (3a). ♦ «Значит, вы ничем не хотите помочь партии. Разговор доходит до дела — и в кусты, так, что ли? Дерьмо вы, дерьмо собачье!» (Гроссман 2). "So you don't want to help the Party? Just when we get to the point, you try and hide. It's like that, is it? You're shit, real dogshit!" (2a).

К-510 • СМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ⟩ В КУСТЫ́ coll [VP; subj: human] to try to avoid work, responsibility: X смотрит в кусты ≃ X is trying to back ⟨duck⟩ out; X is trying to sneak out the back way; X is looking for a way out.

К-511 • ВАЛИ́ТЬ ⟨СВА́ЛИВАТЬ⟩/СВАЛИ́ТЬ ⟨МЕША́ТЬ/СМЕША́ТЬ⟩ В (ОДНУ́) КУ́ЧУ кого-что coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human; obj: often всех, всё] to mix, group different things or phenomena indiscriminately, failing to see their differences: X валит Y-ов в одну кучу ≃ X lumps ⟨mixes, bunches⟩ Ys together; X puts Ys in the same bag ⟨basket⟩.

Л

Л-1 • НЕ СЕ́МЕРО ПО ЛА́ВКАМ у кого highly coll [NP; Invar; the resulting phrase is usu. indep. sent; fixed WO] s.o. is not burdened with a large family needing support and care: у Х-а не семеро по лавкам ≃ X doesn't have (too) many mouths to feed; X isn't saddled with a large brood.

Л-2 • ПО ПЬЯ́НОЙ ЛА́ВОЧКЕ ⟨ПОД ПЬЯ́НУЮ ЛА́ВОЧКУ, ПО ПЬЯ́НКЕ, ПО ПЬЯ́НОМУ ДЕ́ЛУ, ПО ПЬЯ́НИ⟩ all highly coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (in refer. to a person) in a state of intoxication: when one is drunk ⟨pickled, in his cups⟩; when one has had one ⟨a few⟩ too many; when one has had too much to drink; in a drunken state.

[Брылов:] Ну, может, по пьянке баба ошиблась, не того [масла] купила (Солженицын 8). [B.:] Well, maybe my old woman made a mistake. Maybe she had one too many and bought the wrong kind of butter (8a).

Л-3 • ЗАКРЫВА́ТЬ/ЗАКРЫ́ТЬ ⟨ПРИКРЫВА́ТЬ/ПРИКРЫ́ТЬ⟩ ЛА́ВОЧКУ highly coll [VP; subj: human; usu. infin with надо, пора, пришлось etc or imper] (permanently or temporarily) to discontinue engaging in, or cause the discontinuance of, some activity, undertaking etc: пора закрывать лавочку ≃ it's time to close ⟨shut⟩ up shop; it's time to call it quits; [lim.] it's time to put up the shutters; it's time to put a stop to this ⟨to sth.⟩; [in refer. to ending sth. for the day] it's time to call it a day.

Капитан насобачился делать печати. И дело пошло. Зарабатывали много… Потом они попали в облаву… Еле выкрутились… Так дальше не пойдёт, сказал Крикун. Эту лавочку надо прикрыть (Зиновьев 1). Captain found the knack of forging official stamps, and they were in business. They earned a great deal…. But then they were picked up in a police raid…. They only just got out of it…. "We can't go on with this," said Bawler. "We'll have to shut up shop…" (1a).

Л-4 • ПОЧИВА́ТЬ ⟨ПОКО́ИТЬСЯ obs⟩/ПОЧИ́ТЬ НА ЛА́ВРАХ lit [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] to be satisfied with the accomplishments one has already achieved and not try to add to them: Х почивает на лаврах ≃ X rests on his laurels.

[author's usage] [Дудукин:] Пора вам пользоваться своей славой, своими успехами, пора успокоиться на лаврах (Островский 3). [D.:] It is high time to enjoy your fame, to rest on your laurels (3a).

Л-5 • ЛА́ВРЫ чьи, кого НЕ ДАЮ́Т СПАТЬ ⟨ПОКО́Я⟩ кому [VP_{subj}; pres or past] s.o. experiences envy at another's success: лавры Х-а У-у спать не дают ≃ the thought of X's success is keeping Y awake nights ⟨at night⟩ Y can't stand the thought of X's success; the thought that X is successful ⟨has won etc⟩ is eating ⟨chewing⟩ Y up (inside); [with the focus on a burning desire to become as famous as the person or category of people named] Y covets ⟨lusts after, has set his heart on gaining⟩ X's laurels ⟨X's success, X's fame⟩.

< Apparently, a modified loan translation from Latin or Greek. The Athenian statesman Themistocles (527?–460? B.C.) supposedly said, after Miltiades' brilliant victory over the Persians in the Battle of Marathon (490 B.C.), that he was "kept awake by the trophies of Miltiades" (Plutarch, Life of Themistocles, III, and Cicero, Tusculan Disputations, IV, 19 etc.). Occasionally used in the form «Лавры Мильтиада не дают спать».

Л-6 • ПОЖИНА́ТЬ/ПОЖА́ТЬ ЛА́ВРЫ lit [VP; subj: human] to enjoy the honors brought by success (sometimes, success earned by another): Х пожинает лавры ≃ X wins ⟨gets⟩ the laurels; X reaps the rewards ⟨the benefits⟩; X takes the bows; X gets all the glory ⟨the credit, the acclaim⟩.

Л-7 • ДЕ́ЙСТВОВАТЬ НА ДВА ЛА́ГЕРЯ [VP; subj: human or collect; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to serve two opposing sides at the same time (usu. for the sake of personal gain): Х действует на два лагеря ≃ X has a foot in each camp; X works ⟨plies his trade on⟩ both sides of the street.

Л-8 • В ЛАД [PrepP; Invar] 1. ~ чему, с кем-чем [Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] corresponding exactly to (the beat, rate, rhythm etc of sth.): in tune ⟨keeping, accord, harmony, concert⟩ with; in time with; to the rhythm of; at one with.

«Была бы у меня эта книжечка, — сказала Лёлька, провожая меня до порога с малышом на руках, — я бы спать не ложилась — её читала! День и ночь бы читала, глаз бы не перевела!» Её речь звучала в лад со сказкой — это наново поразило меня (Чуковская 2). "Had I this little book," said Lyolka as she accompanied me to the door with the baby in her arms, "I would not go to bed, I would read it! Night and day I would read it without closing my eyes!" I was struck again how much her words sounded in tune with the fairy-tale (2a).

2. [adv] together, in harmony, synchronously: in unison; in concert; in tune; as one (man); || Neg не в лад ≃ out of step ⟨tune, time⟩.

Мы поздоровались с классом. Ребята ответили негромко, но в лад. We said hello to the class, and the kids responded softly, though in unison.

Л-9 • ИДЁТ/ПОШЛО́ НА ЛАД [VP; subj: usu. дело, всё; fixed WO] things are going or are starting to go better than previously, well, without problems: дело идёт на лад ≃ things have begun to go ⟨are going⟩ smoothly ⟨well, very nicely etc⟩; things have begun to improve ⟨are improving⟩; things have taken ⟨are taking⟩ a turn for the better; things are looking up; things are ⟨s.o.'s health is etc⟩ on the mend; [lim.] (from here on in ⟨from now on etc⟩) it will be smooth sailing; || Neg дело не идёт на лад ≃ there's no progress ⟨improvement⟩; things aren't going well; we ⟨they etc⟩ can't get things going; things aren't getting (any) better.

[Городничий:] Ну, слава богу! Деньги взял. Дело, кажется, пойдёт теперь на лад (Гоголь 4). [Mayor:] Well, thank God, he took the money! Now I think everything will go smoothly (4f). [Mayor:] Phew! Thank God! He took the money. It'll be smooth sailing from now on (4d). ♦ Постепенно и на работе дела у него пошли на лад (Войнович 4). Even at work things began gradually improving for him (4a).

Л-10 • НА какой ЛАД [PrepP; nonagreeing postmodif or adv] in a certain way (as indicated): in a [AdjP] way ⟨manner, fashion⟩; || на новый лад ≃ in a new way ⟨manner, fashion, style⟩; (there is ⟨they use etc⟩) a ⟨the⟩ new system ⟨standard, approach etc⟩; || на современный лад ≃ in a modern-day way ⟨manner⟩; after the fashion of modern times; (there is ⟨they use etc⟩) a ⟨the⟩ modern approach ⟨version etc⟩; || на старый лад ≃ (in) the old ⟨old-fashioned⟩ way; in the old manner ⟨fashion, style⟩; as it was done in the past.

Недавно заведённое на новый лад хозяйство скрипело, как немазаное колесо, трещало, как домоделанная мебель из сырого дерева (Тургенев 2). The new system of estate management, introduced only recently, squeaked like an ungreased wheel, creaked like homemade furniture fashioned from unseasoned wood (2g).

Л-11 • НА ОДИ́Н ⟨НА ТОТ ЖЕ⟩ ЛАД [PrepP; these forms only; fixed WO] 1. [subj-compl with copula (subj: any count noun, pl)] (two or more people, things etc are) identical or very similar (to one another): the same; alike.

Все твои доводы на один лад. All your arguments are the same.

2. [adv; more often used with impfv verbs] identically or extremely similarly: the same way; in the same manner; (come out etc) the same.

Женщины пели все песни на один лад — медленно, заунывно. The women sang all the songs the same way—slowly and plaintively.

Л-12 • НА СВОЙ ЛАД; НА СВОЙ МАНЕ́Р coll; НА СВОЙ САЛТЫ́К obs, coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] in a way specific to o.s. and corresponding to one's personality, tastes etc: in one's own way; after ⟨in⟩ one's own fashion; [lim.] the way one wants ⟨likes⟩.

Бахут был мингрельцем и произносил его [Кязыма] имя на свой лад (Искандер 5). Bakhut was a Mingrelian and pronounced Kyazym's name in his own way (5a).

Л-13 • ДЫША́ТЬ НА ЛА́ДАН coll [VP; pres or past; usu. 3rd pers] 1. [subj: human] (of a mortally ill or old and feeble person) to be about to die: X дышит на ладан ≃ X has one foot in the grave; X is on his last legs; X is breathing his last.

Дышит на ладан, — возразил полковник. — Оставь его, Филюков. Можете оба идти» (Войнович 2). "He's breathing his last," retorted the colonel. "Leave him alone, Filiukov. You're both dismissed" (2a).

2. [subj: concr or collect] to be in the final period of existence, be about to stop functioning: X дышит на ладан ≃ X is on its last legs; X is on the verge of collapse; X is in its last days; X is dying out.

Второй — чистовой — экземпляр [«Шума времени»] кочевал по редакциям, и все отказывались печатать эту штуку, лишённую фабулы и сюжета, классового подхода и общественного значения. Заинтересовался Георгий Блок, двоюродный брат поэта, работавший в дышавшем на ладан частном издательстве (Мандельштам 2). The fair copy [of Noise of Time] went the rounds of various publishers who all rejected it, devoid as it was of plot, story, class consciousness, or any kind of social significance. The only person to show interest was Georgi Blok, the cousin of the poet, who worked for a private publishing firm already on its last legs (2a).

Л-14 • КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ НА ЛАДО́НИ ⟨НА ЛАДО́ШКЕ coll, НА ЛАДО́НКЕ obs⟩ [как etc + PrepP; these forms only] 1. (видно, видеть кого-что и т.п.) ~ [adv or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. concr, often всё)] sth. is very clearly and distinctly visible, (to see s.o. or sth.) very clearly: (be) in full ⟨plain⟩ view; (be ⟨stand⟩) open to view; (be as clearly visible) as if it were (spread out) on the palm of one's hand.

Городок стоит открыто, как на ладони, кругом ни ветлы; где-то очень далеко, на самом краю неба, чернеется лесок (Достоевский 3). The town stands open to view; there is not a single willow tree around it; somewhere very far off, at the very edge of the sky, is the black line of a little forest (3c). ♦ По стеклянным ступеням мы поднялись наверх. Всё — под нами внизу — как на ладони… (Замятин 1). We ascended the glass stairs. Everything below was as clearly visible as if it were spread out on the palm of my hand (1a).

2. [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human or, less often, abstr)] everything about (a person, his life etc) is clear, evident, there is nothing secretive, hidden from view: X как на ладони ≃ person X is an open book; (you can read person X) like a book; thing X is so ⟨absolutely⟩ clear ⟨transparent, plain⟩.

…Ведь ты же знаешь все мои институтские штучки, ведь я у тебя весь как на ладони (Аксёнов 1). …You know all my college-kid tricks, I'm an open book to you… (1a). ♦ …Его безупречное притворство было как на ладони (Окуджава 2). …His impeccable pretense was so transparent (2a).

3. ~ выложить (кому) что, показать кому что и т.п. [adv] (to tell, reveal sth. to s.o.) straightforwardly, clearly, and completely: candidly; openly; concealing ⟨withholding, suppressing⟩ nothing.

Л-15 • В ЛАДУ́ ⟨В ЛАДА́Х⟩ с кем быть$_{ø}$, жить и т.п. coll [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human) or adv] (to be) friendly with s.o., have a good rapport with s.o.: X с Y-ом в ладу ≃ X is on good ⟨friendly⟩ terms with Y; X gets along ⟨on⟩ (quite) well with Y; X gets along ⟨on⟩ fine with Y.

[Беркутов:] Да мне бояться нечего: я здесь со всеми в ладу. Хоть ребячеств Лыняева и всей их компании я и не одобряю, а всё-таки не ссорюсь и с ними (Островский 5). [B.:] I'm not afraid of anything. I'm on good terms with everyone here. I don't approve of the childish behavior of Lynyayev and his associates, but still, I don't quarrel even with them (5a).

Л-16 • НЕ В ЛАДУ́ ⟨НЕ В ЛАДА́Х⟩ coll [PrepP; these forms only] 1. ~ с кем [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human) or adv] one is in disagreement with s.o., has a strained relationship with s.o.: X не в ладу с Y-ом ≃ X is at odds with Y; X is on the outs with Y; X is on bad ⟨not on good⟩ terms with Y; there's something wrong between X and Y; something is not right between X and Y; X does not get along ⟨get on⟩ with Y; [lim.] X and Y just don't click.

«Нет, он [Собакевич] с ними не в ладах», — подумал про себя Чичиков (Гоголь 3). "He [Sobakevich] must be at odds with them," Chichikov thought to himself (3c). ♦ С братьями по вере [пятидесятник] не в ладах. Слишком для них эксцентричен (Терц 3). He [the Pentecostalist] does not get on with his brethren in the faith—they find him too eccentric… (3a).

2. ~ с чем [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human)] one cannot understand or master sth., cannot learn how to use, apply etc sth.: X не в ладу с Y-ом ≃ X is at odds ⟨at variance⟩ with Y; X is not (very) good at Y; X is not cut out for Y.

«…Мне кажется, вы немножко не в ладах с русской грамматикой» (Войнович 3). "…It seems to me that you are somewhat at odds with Russian grammar" (3a).

3. rare ~ с чем [usu. var. не в ладу; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: abstr or concr)] sth. is in discord with some other thing: X с Y-ом не в ладу ≃ X is not in harmony ⟨in tune⟩ with Y; X and Y are at variance; X is not in sync with Y.

Л-17 • НА ВСЕ ЛАДЫ́ повторять, твердить что, ругать кого и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv or, rare, nonagreeing postmodif; usu. used with impfv verbs; fixed WO] (to repeat sth., keep saying sth., swear at s.o. etc) in all possible ways, in every form imaginable: in every possible way; with ⟨in⟩ all sorts of variations; over and over again; (look at a matter ⟨argue a point etc⟩) from every (possible) angle ⟨from all angles⟩; [in refer. to cursing only] call s.o. every name in the book; curse s.o. up and down ⟨up hill and down dale⟩; curse a blue streak.

Загадка не давалась, как клад. На все лады перевёртывал он её… (Салтыков-Щедрин 2). The mystery remained unsolved. He tried to look at it from every possible angle… (2a). ♦ Проклиная меня на все лады, он кое-как взобрался на меня [мула], согнал ослика на тропу, и мы двинулись домой (Искандер 3). Cursing a blue streak, he somehow got up on me [the mule], drove the donkey back to the path, and we started for home (3a).

Л-18 • СКЛОНЯ́ТЬ НА ВСЕ ЛАДЫ́ кого-что coll [VP; subj: human; often 3rd pers pl with indef. refer.; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to mention s.o. or sth., speak about s.o. or sth. much and usu. disapprovingly: X-ово имя склоняли на все лады ≃ X's name was bandied about.

Л-19 • ЛА́ЗАРЯ ПЕТЬ/ЗАПЕ́ТЬ obsoles, iron [VP; subj: human; usu. impfv (often infin with хватит, перестань etc)] to pretend to be miserable and complain about one's fate in an attempt to move s.o. to pity: X пел Лазаря ≃ X was moaning and groaning about his fate; X was bemoaning his fate; X was playing on person Y's sympathies; X was playing Lazarus ⟨the beggar, the pauper⟩; X was pleading poverty.

Л-20 • НАОБУ́М ЛА́ЗАРЯ disapprov [AdvP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] without thinking sth. out, without considering sth. carefully: recklessly; rashly; without using one's brains ⟨head⟩; without thinking; (just) any which ⟨old⟩ way; (just) any old how; (just) anyhow.

На все убеждения Денисова не ездить [во французский лагерь] Петя отвечал, что он тоже привык всё делать аккуратно, а не наобум Лазаря, и что он об опасности себе никогда не думает (Толстой 7). Petya's response to all Denisov's attempts at persuading him not to go [to the French camp] was to say that he too liked doing things by the book and not just any old how, and he never thought about danger to himself (7c). To all Denisov's efforts to dissuade him [from going to the French camp] Petya replied that he liked doing things with precision, not "just anyhow," and that he never thought of danger to himself (7a).

Л-21 • ДО ЛА́МПОЧКИ кому highly coll [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: any noun, often это, всё, всё это)] the person or thing in question does not matter at all to s.o., does not interest s.o. in the least: X Y-у до лампочки ≃ Y couldn't ⟨could⟩ care less about X; Y couldn't care a snap about X; Y doesn't ⟨couldn't⟩ give a damn ⟨a hoot, a fig⟩ about X; Y doesn't care at all (about X).

Л-22 • В ЛА́ПАХ ⟨В КОГТЯ́Х⟩ чьих, (у) кого быть$_{ø}$, оказаться, очутиться, держать кого; В ЛА́ПЫ ⟨В КО́ГТИ⟩ чьи, кого, (к) кому попасть(ся) all coll [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or adv] (to be or end up) in s.o.'s power (may refer to one's being taken prisoner by s.o.): X в лапах у Y-а ≃ X is in Y's clutches; || X попал в лапы (к) Y-у ≃ X fell into Y's clutches.

Половина с лишком мужиков была у него [Трифона Борисыча] в когтях, все были ему должны кругом (Достоевский 1). He [Trifon Borisich] had more than half of the peasants in his clutches, everyone was in debt to him (1a). ♦ «…Чего ты боишься?» — «Как чего боюсь, батюшка Кирила Петрович, а Дубровского-то; того и гляди попадёшься ему в лапы» (Пушкин 1). "What are you afraid of?" "What indeed, dear sir Kirila Petrovich! Dubrovskii, that's what! You can never tell when you might fall into his clutches" (1a).

Л-23 • (ХОДИ́ТЬ ⟨СТОЯ́ТЬ⟩) НА ЗА́ДНИХ ЛА́ПКАХ ⟨ЛА́ПАХ⟩ перед кем coll, derog [VP or PrepP (these forms only, subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$); subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to fawn upon s.o., be obsequious (usu. in order to obtain sth. or out of fear of losing s.o.'s favor): X ходит перед Y-ом на задних лапках ≃ X dances attendance on Y; X kowtows ⟨plays up⟩ to Y; X bows and scrapes to Y; X truckles to Y.

Председатели колхозов на задних лапах перед ним [Егоршей], потому что пёс его знает, что он напоёт хозяину, когда останется с ним с глазу на глаз (Абрамов 1). Kolkhoz chairmen danced attendance upon him [Egorsha] since God knew what he would pass on to the Boss when he was with him eyeball to eyeball (1a).

Л-24 • ГУСИ́НЫЕ ЛА́ПКИ [NP; pl only; fixed WO] wrinkles in a fan-shaped cluster at the outer corners of the eyes: crow's-feet (around s.o.'s eyes).

Л-25 • (ПОДНИМА́ТЬ/ПОДНЯ́ТЬ) ЛА́ПКИ КВЕ́РХУ coll [VP or NP (Invar, usu. predic); subj: human; fixed WO] to admit defeat (without putting up any resistance, or already having ceased to resist): X (поднял) лапки кверху ≃ X threw in the towel ⟨the sponge⟩; X cried uncle; X gave up (the fight); [lim.] X was down for the count; X took it lying down.

Тебя слегка покритиковали, а ты сразу же лапки кверху? A little criticism and you immediately throw in the towel?

Л-26 • СТАНОВИ́ТЬСЯ/СТАТЬ НА ЗА́ДНИЕ ЛА́ПКИ перед кем coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to begin to take an obsequious attitude toward s.o., fawn upon s.o. (usu. in order to obtain sth.): X становится перед Y-ом на задние лапки ≃ X begins to dance attendance on Y; X starts kowtowing ⟨playing up⟩ to Y.

Л-27 • ЛА́ПТЕМ ЩИ ХЛЕБА́ТЬ coll [VP; subj: human; pres or past; fixed WO] to live in ignorance, be backward, uncultured: X лаптем щи хлебает ≃ X is a (country) bumpkin; X is a yokel ⟨a hayseed⟩.

Л-28 • НЕ ЛА́ПТЕМ ЩИ ХЛЕБА́ТЬ coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pres; fixed WO] to understand things as well as others do, be as good, capable as others: X не лаптем щи хлебает ≃ X knows a thing or two; X wasn't born yesterday; X knows his way around; X isn't just out of the trees; X knows which end is up.

Воркута стоял в очереди за бандеролью и вот, как загнёт в три этажа! Цензор, видно, решил показать, что тоже не лаптем щи хлебает, тоже кое-что умеет — и отозвался ещё похлеще (Марченко 1). He [Vorkuta] was lining up for printed packets when, all of a sudden he let loose a terrific hail of curses. The censor evidently decided to show that he wasn't born yesterday either and also knew a thing or two—and sent back an even bluer reply (1a). ♦ «Мы ведь там у себя [в провинции] тоже не лаптем щи хлебаем. Кое-что сами соображаем» (Зиновьев 2). "You know, even out in the provinces we're not just out of the trees; we're capable of understanding things for ourselves" (2a).

Л-29 • ЛА́ПТИ ПЛЕСТИ́ obs, substand [VP; subj: human] to do sth. clumsily, confusedly, incorrectly: X лапти плетёт ≃ X makes a mess of it ⟨everything⟩; X does everything backward; X gets everything ⟨it all⟩ mixed up; X botches the job ⟨it, everything⟩ (up).

Л-30 • НА ЛА́ПУ дать кому, взять и т.п. slang [PrepP; Invar; used as obj] (to give s.o. or accept) a bribe or bribes: X дал Y-у на лапу ≃ X greased Y's palm; X gave Y a kickback; || X берёт на лапу ≃ X takes ⟨accepts⟩ bribes ⟨kickbacks⟩; X won't refuse a bribe.

Л-31 • СОСА́ТЬ ЛА́ПУ coll, occas. humor [VP; subj: human; often infin with придётся, должен etc] to eat skimpily due to having little or no means of subsistence: X-у придётся лапу сосать ≃ X will have to tighten his belt ⟨to go hungry⟩; X will have to go ⟨do⟩ without (food).

Л-32 • ВЕ́ШАТЬ/ПОВЕ́СИТЬ ⟨НАВЕ́ШИВАТЬ/НАВЕ́СИТЬ⟩ ЛАПШУ́ НА́ УШИ recent [VP; subj: human; more often impfv] to (try to) fool, intentionally mislead s.o. by telling him lies, improbable stories: X вешает Y-у лапшу на уши ≃ X dupes ⟨tries to dupe, suckers⟩ Y; X strings Y along; X takes Y for a ride; X pulls the wool over Y's eyes; [lim.] X takes Y for a sucker ⟨a fool⟩; || Neg Imper не вешай мне лапшу на уши ≃ don't give me that baloney ⟨bull⟩; that's a bunch of baloney ⟨bull⟩.

Петров — подходящий кандидат в Думу: неглупый, обаятельный, а самое главное — отлично умеет избирателям лапшу на уши вешать. Petrov is a fitting candidate for the Duma. He's bright, charismatic, and, most importantly, he's a pro when it comes to duping voters.

Л-33 • (А) ЛА́РЧИК ПРО́СТО ОТКРЫВА́ЛСЯ [sent; past or pres; fixed WO] some seemingly difficult problem turned out to have a simple solution, some seemingly inexplicable phenomenon turned out to have a simple explanation etc: the explanation ⟨the solution, the answer (to the puzzle)⟩ was quite simple (after all); it was easy ⟨wasn't hard⟩ to figure out; the reason was (all) too obvious.

«А ларчик просто открывался. Мы по душам говорили сегодня, и она сказала, что я её физически не удовлетворяю. Разрыв ещё не оформлен, на днях, наверное» (Шолохов 2). "The answer to the puzzle was quite simple after all. We had a heart-to-heart talk today and she told me I don't satisfy her physically. The break is not yet official, in a few days probably" (2a).

Л-34 • ГДЕ ЛА́СКОЙ, (А) ГДЕ ТА́СКОЙ [saying] (to try to elicit cooperation, obedience etc) by alternating kindness with severity, reward with punishment: ≃ first the carrot, then the stick; (using ⟨applying⟩) carrot-and-stick tactics ⟨the carrot-and-stick strategy⟩; (take ⟨adopt⟩) a carrot-and-stick approach.

Л-35 • ОДНА́ ЛА́СТОЧКА ВЕСНЫ́ НЕ ДЕ́ЛАЕТ [saying] isolated indications or the first signs of some phenomenon do not ensure its beginning or realization: one swallow does not make a summer ⟨a spring⟩.

Л-36 • ПЕ́РВАЯ ЛА́СТОЧКА [NP; usu. subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: human, abstr, or concr); fixed WO] the earliest, very first indication of the approach of sth., the first member of a series to follow: the first swallow (announcing the summer of sth.); the first sign ⟨the harbinger, the forerunner⟩ (of sth.).

Рогозин сказал примерно следующее. Классики марксизма, а Ленин в особенности, были полными невеждами в области логики… С факультета Рогозина убрали, но не посадили… Судьба Рогозина… — одна из первых ласточек наступавшей либеральной эпохи (Зиновьев 2). What Rogozin said amounted roughly to this. The classics of Marxism, and Lenin in particular, were complete ignoramuses where logic was concerned…. Rogozin was expelled from the faculty, but left at liberty…. Rogozin's fate was one of the first swallows announcing the summer of the liberal period (2a).

Л-37 • ЛБО́М СТЕ́НУ ⟨СТЕ́НКУ, СТЕНЫ́⟩ НЕ ПРОШИБЁШЬ [saying] it is impossible, useless to oppose great force or the authorities (said when a person has to yield to circumstances and accept sth. imposed on him by those in power): ≃ it's ⟨there's⟩ no use beating your head against a (brick) wall; you can't fight guns with sticks; you can't fight a howitzer with a peashooter. Cf. you can't fight city hall.

Л-38 • НА ЛБУ НАПИ́САНО у кого coll [Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. a clause), usu. pres; fixed WO] (sth., usu. a personality trait or s.o.'s profession, social status etc) is immediately visible, noticeable, apparent from a person's outward appearance: у Х-а на лбу написано ≃ it's written all over X's face; X has it written all over him; you can tell it just by looking at X.

[Саша:] Воды не попросит, папиросы не закурит без того, чтобы не показать своей необыкновенной честности. Ходит или говорит, а у самого на лбу написано: я честный человек! (Чехов 4). [S.:] He can't ask for a glass of water or light a cigarette without making a show of his extraordinary honesty. Whether he's talking to you or just walking about, it's written all over his face: I am an honest man (4a).

Л-39 • ОДНО́Й ЛЕ́ВОЙ highly coll [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to do sth.) without difficulty, quite easily: just like that; without half trying; (be able to do sth.) with one hand tied behind one's back ⟨with one's eyes closed⟩.

Разве это задача! Я такие задачи одной левой решаю. Some problem! I can solve this kind of thing with one hand tied behind my back.

Л-40 • ЛЕ́ГЧЕ ЛЁГКОГО coll [AdjP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. это or infin); fixed WO] it is very easy (to do sth.): это легче лёгкого ≃ it's as easy ⟨simple⟩ as can be; it's (as) easy as pie ⟨as falling off a log⟩; it's the easiest thing in the world; [lim.] it's like shooting fish in a barrel.

Боясь связываться с вредной старухой, мои экзаменаторы не решились меня провалить, хотя сделать это было легче лёгкого: ведь я не владела искусством перебрасываться с преподавателями вопросами и ответами, словно теннисными мячами, и вполне могла перепутать все съезды… (Мандельштам 1). Afraid of antagonizing the difficult old lady, my examiners hesitated to fail me, though it would have been the easiest thing in the world: I had not mastered the art of bandying question-and-answer, like a tennis ball, with the lecturers, and I was quite capable of mixing up the Party Congresses (1a).

Л-41 • КАК ЛЁД [как + NP; Invar] 1. (холодный, холоден) ~ [subj-compl with copula (subj: concr, often руки, ноги, пальцы etc) or modif] sth. is extremely cold: (as) cold as ice; ice-cold; like ice.

Наконец губы наши сблизились и слились в жаркий, упоительный поцелуй; её руки были холодны, как лёд, голова горела (Лермонтов 1). At last our lips came close together and merged in an ardent rapturous kiss; her hands were as cold as ice, her brow was burning (1a).

2. (холоден) ~ [modif or, less often, subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] emotionally indifferent, uncaring: (as) cold as ice.

Узнав об отъезде Базарова, Павел Петрович пожелал его видеть и пожал ему руку. Но Базаров и тут остался холоден как лёд; он понимал, что Павлу Петровичу хотелось повеликодушничать (Тургенев 2). When he learned of Bazarov's departure, Pavel Petrovich wished to see him and shake his hand. Even then Bazarov remained as cold as ice; he realized that Pavel Petrovich simply wanted to appear magnanimous (2g).

Л-42 • ЛЁД ТА́ЕТ/РАСТА́ЯЛ [VP_{subj}; fixed WO] a feeling of tension, distrust, estrangement (between people) disappears: the ice breaks; tension eases ⟨lets up⟩.

Л-43 • ЛЁД ТРО́НУЛСЯ [VP_{subj}; this form only; usu. used as indep. sent; fixed WO] some long-awaited actions or changes in sth. have begun: things are ⟨have started etc⟩ moving.

В продолжение рассказа Остап несколько раз вскакивал и, обращаясь к железной печке, восторженно вскрикивал: «Лёд тронулся, господа присяжные заседатели! Лёд тронулся» (Ильф и Петров 1). During the account, Ostap jumped up several times and, turning to the iron stove, said delightedly: "Things are moving, gentlemen of the jury. Things are moving" (1a).

Л-44 • РАЗБИ́ТЬ ⟨СЛОМА́ТЬ⟩ ЛЁД [VP; subj: human; usu. past; fixed WO] to ease or remove tension, awkwardness, or formality in a social situation (by doing sth. friendly, starting up a friendly conversation etc): Х разбил лёд ≃ X broke the ice.

Мне пришлось несколько раз встречаться с Цветаевой, но знакомства не получилось… Никто из нас не сумел сказать ни одного человеческого слова или, как говорили в старину, разбить лёд (Мандельштам 2). Though I met Tsvetayeva several times, we never really became friends…. Tsvetayeva and I were unable to say a human word to each other or—as they used to say in the old days—break the ice (2a).

Л-45 • РАСТОПИ́ТЬ ЛЁД [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to ease tension, awkwardness, or formality (between people): Х растопил лёд ≃ X melted ⟨thawed⟩ the ice.

Л-46 • ЛЕЖМЯ́ ⟨ЛЕ́ЖНЕМ⟩ ЛЕЖА́ТЬ substand [VP; subj: human] to lie (in bed) for a long time doing nothing productive: Х лежмя лежит ≃ X lies ⟨lounges⟩ around in bed (all day long etc); [of a seriously ill person] X is flat on his back; X is laid up.

Л-47 • ЛЕЖА́ЧЕГО НЕ БЬЮТ [saying] mercy is or must be shown toward a person who is in trouble or who is suffering—he should not be caused further trouble: ≃ (you) don't kick ⟨hit⟩ a man when he's down.

Конечно, она [Ольга Васильевна] выставила свою досаду совершенно напрасно… Потому что — на него свалилась гора. Лежачего не бьют (Трифонов 3). Of course she [Olga Vasilievna] shouldn't have let her irritation show… because he really was in trouble and you don't hit a man when he's down (3a).

Л-48 • НЕ БЕЙ ЛЕЖА́ЧЕГО highly coll [VP_{imper}; Invar; usu. subj-compl with $быть_{ø}$ (subj: работа, служба etc); fixed WO] some work is not hard, requires very little effort: работа — не бей лежачего ≃ this is an easy ⟨a soft, a cushy⟩ job; this job is a piece of cake; this job is no sweat.

Муж [Сони] — бывший лётчик, в отставке по болезни. Больно ударила его эта отставка, не мог примириться, что не у дел. Устроился по знакомству каким-то регистратором, работа… «не бей лежачего». А ему подавай дело — привычное, кипучее (Грекова 3). Her [Sonya's] husband was a former pilot, retired because of illness. That retirement had hit him hard. He couldn't live with the fact that he wasn't working. Through connections he got himself a kind of receptionist job, an easy, soft job. But he needed real work, his usual, tough work (3a).

Л-49 • ПЛО́ХО ЛЕЖИ́Т highly coll [VP; subj: usu. (всё,) что; usu. pres; used as a subord clause; usu. this WO] sth. is easily accessible and would be easy to appropriate, steal: (steal anything) left lying around loose; (snatch anything) just lying around; (steal anything that) isn't care- fully watched; (filch anything) within reach; (lift anything that) isn't nailed down.

Все знали, что я не прочь украсть где что плохо лежит… (Лимонов 1). Everyone knew that I wasn't averse to stealing anything left lying around loose… (1a). ♦ «Помилуйте, да эти черкесы известный воровской народ: что плохо лежит, не могут не стянуть…» (Лермонтов 1). "Well, you see, it is a known fact that these Circassians are a bunch of thieves. They cannot help filching anything that is within reach…" (1a). "Good gracious, these Circassians are well-known to be a nation of thieves. Whatever's just lying around, they can't help but snatch it up…" (1e).

Л-51 • ЛЕЖА́ТЬ В ЛЁЖКУ substand [VP; subj: human] to be seriously, gravely ill, be confined to bed: X лежит в лёжку ≃ X is flat on his back; X is laid up.

Л-52 • УЛОЖИ́ТЬ ⟨ПОВАЛИ́ТЬ⟩ В ЛЁЖКУ кого substand [VP; subj: human or a noun denoting a strong alcoholic beverage] to make or get s.o. extremely drunk: X уложил Y-а в лёжку ≃ X got Y dead drunk; X got Y smashed ⟨bombed, plastered etc⟩; person X made Y drink till Y passed out; person X made Y drink himself silly.

Л-53 • ЛЕЗТЬ ВПЕРЁД [VP; subj: human] to behave in an excessively exaggerated manner in an attempt to be noticed, singled out, praised etc ahead of others: X лезет вперёд ≃ X is trying to call ⟨attract⟩ attention to himself; X is trying to make ⟨get⟩ himself noticed; X is trying to grab attention for himself.

«Характерно, что в Турции про Анвара-эфенди почти никто не знает. Он не лезет вперёд, на людях не показывается» (Акунин 5). It is indicative that in Turkey hardly anybody at all has even heard of Anwar-effendi. He does not call attention to himself or appear in public (5a).

Л-54 • (все, каждый) КОМУ́ (ТО́ЛЬКО) НЕ ЛЕНЬ coll, occas. disapprov [NP; these forms only; usu. nonagreeing modif (if все or каждый is ellipted, it is implied); fixed WO] any and every person who has the desire (to do sth.): anyone ⟨everyone⟩ who feels like it; anyone ⟨everyone⟩ who wishes; [lim.] just about everyone.

Да, вот так быть за председателя колхоза, когда ты в то же время и главный подвозчик дров, и сена и чёрт знает ещё чего. Каждый, кому не лень, глотку на тебя дерёт (Абрамов 1). Yes, that's what it was like to be acting kolkhoz Chairman when you were also the chief source of firewood and hay and heaven knows what else. Anyone who felt like it would give you a bawling out (1a).

Л-56 • РАЗБИВА́ТЬСЯ/РАЗБИ́ТЬСЯ ⟨РАСШИБА́ТЬСЯ/РАСШИБИ́ТЬСЯ⟩ В ЛЕПЁШКУ highly coll [VP; subj: human; most often pfv fut] to make every effort, do everything possible to achieve sth. (or for s.o.'s sake): X в лепёшку разобьётся ≃ X will do whatever it takes (to achieve sth.); X will knock himself out; X will bend over backward; X will go out of his way; X will work his tail ⟨butt⟩ off.

Л-57 • ВНОСИ́ТЬ/ВНЕСТИ́ СВОЮ́ ЛЕ́ПТУ во что rather elev; often humor in contemp. usage [VP; subj: human] to do one's part in a shared effort: X внёс свою лепту в Y ≃ X did his bit (for Y); X added ⟨contributed⟩ his mite to Y; X contributed his (small) share to Y; X made a ⟨his⟩ contribution to Y; [in refer. to participation in a discussion etc] X put in his two cents worth.

Председатель Голубев сидел сейчас в кабинете и вносил свою лепту в общее большое бумажное дело (Войнович 2). At that very moment Golubev was sitting in his office doing his bit for the great cause of paper work (2a). ♦ «Их уже не встретишь на Невском, тех пионеров… Их раскидало и расшвыряло, и они — выросли. Больше или меньше, но вносят они какой-нибудь службой лепту и в сегодняшний день (Битов 2). You won't encounter them on the Nevsky anymore, those pioneers. They were routed and sent flying—and they grew up. Whether more or less, they contribute their mite by some sort of service to the modern day as well (2a).

Л-58 • КТО В ЛЕС, КТО ПО ДРОВА́ [Invar; adv or indep. clause; fixed WO] (often in refer. to singing and playing musical instruments) (people do sth.) without coordination among themselves, without agreement, cooperation: everyone doing his own thing; (all) at sixes and sevens; [lim.] at cross-purposes; out of sync; Dutch concert.

«Ну-с…как бы вам описать эту симфонию наиболее популярно? Попробую. Итак, „ударили в смычки". Кто в лес, кто по дрова» (Катаев 3). "Now then—how shall I explain this symphony in the most popular manner? I shall try. Off go the violins! All at sixes and sevens" (3a).

Л-59 • ЛЕС ⟨ДРОВА́⟩ РУ́БЯТ — ЩЕ́ПКИ ЛЕТЯ́Т [saying] a major undertaking cannot be accomplished without errors, casualties etc: ≃ you cannot make an omelet without breaking eggs; if you hew trees the chips must fly.

Ведь именно люди двадцатых годов разрушили ценности и нашли формулы, без которых не обойтись и сейчас: молодое государство, невиданный опыт, лес рубят — щепки летят… Каждая казнь оправдывалась тем, что строят мир, где больше не будет насилия, и все жертвы хороши ради неслыханного «нового» (Мандельштам 1). It was, after all, these people of the twenties who demolished the old values and invented the formulas which even now come in so handy to justify the unprecedented experiment undertaken by our young State: you can't make an omelet without breaking eggs. Every new killing was excused on the grounds that we were building a remarkable "new" world in which there would be no more violence, and that no sacrifice was too great for it (1a).

Л-60 • СМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ⟩ В ЛЕС coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pres] to long to leave one's residence or job because it has become tiresome: X в лес смотрит ≃ X is looking for greener pastures; X can't ⟨can hardly⟩ wait to get out (of somewhere); X wants to split ⟨cut out⟩; X wants out.

Л-61 • ТЁМНЫЙ ⟨ДРЕМУ́ЧИЙ⟩ ЛЕС для кого coll [NP; sing only; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: abstr); may be used with pl subject; fixed WO] sth. is completely unfamiliar or totally incomprehensible (to s.o.): X для Y-а — тёмный лес ≃ Y is completely in the dark (about X); X is Greek to Y; Y doesn't have a clue (about X).

«Улики показывают, что в Новосибирске Степнадзе был, однако чем здесь занимался, пока — тёмный лес…» (Чернёнок 1). "The evidence indicates that Stepnadze was in Novosibirsk. However, we haven't a clue as to what he was doing here…" (1a).

Л-62 • ЧЕМ ДА́ЛЬШЕ В ЛЕС, ТЕМ БО́ЛЬШЕ ДРОВ [saying] the further events progress, the more unexpected difficulties and complications arise: ≃ the further you get, the harder the going; things go from bad to worse.

«Попервости-то [substand = сначала], было, выговор объявили, а потом — дальше в лес, больше дров» (Гинзбург 1). "First I got a reprimand, and then things went from bad to worse" (1b).

Л-63 • СПУСКА́ТЬ/СПУСТИ́ТЬ С ЛЕ́СТНИЦЫ кого coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] to force s.o. to leave one's house: X спустил Y-а с лестницы ≃ X kicked ⟨threw, booted⟩ Y out of the house; X threw Y out (on his ear); [lim.] X gave Y the bum's rush.

[Нина:] Тебя надо гнать из дома… Тебя надо с лестницы спустить! (Вампилов 4). [N.:] You should be kicked out of the house… you ought to be thrown out on your ear! (4c).

Л-64 • КАК В (ТЁМНОМ) ЛЕСУ́ coll [как + PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] one is completely lacking in comprehension or understanding of sth.: X как в тёмном лесу ≃ X is completely in the dark; X is all ⟨completely⟩ at sea; X is totally lost.

Сочинения [Кирилл] писал посредственно, почерк ужасен, в математике соображал слабо… Английский язык? Ну, разве что. В детстве силой заставляли ходить в английскую группу… Но ведь только лексика, а в грамматике — как в лесу (Трифонов 5). His [Kirill's] school compositions were mediocre, his handwriting abominable, and he was weak in math…. His knowledge of English? Well, that at least was something. When he was a child we had forced him to join an English language group…. But even so, all he had was a large vocabulary. When it came to grammar, he was completely in the dark (5a).

Л-65 • СКО́ЛЬКО ЛЕТ, СКО́ЛЬКО ЗИМ! coll [formula phrase; Invar; fixed WO] (used upon meeting s.o. one has not seen for an extended period of time) we have not seen each other for a long time: it's been ages!; it's (been) ages since I last saw you!; I haven't seen you for ages ⟨in a dog's age⟩!; (it's) been a long time, hasn't it?; long time no see.

Лица, предназначенные для целования, движутся навстречу друг другу, изображая на лице нечто такое, что в великой ибанской [nonce word] литературе передаётся возгласом: ба, кого я вижу! Сколько лет, сколько зим!! Вот не чаял встретиться!!! (Зиновьев 1). The persons appointed to perform the kiss approach each other, their faces bearing an expression which in great Ibanskian literature is interpreted as "Look who's here! It's ages since I last saw you! What a wonderful surprise!!!" (1a).

Л-66 • СРЕ́ДНИХ ЛЕТ [NP_{gen}; Invar; nonagreeing modif or subj-compl with copula (subj: human); fixed WO] (a person who is) not young, but not yet old: middle-aged.

…Герой наш уже был средних лет и осмотрительно-охлаждённого характера (Гоголь 3). …Our hero was already middle-aged and of cautious, tempered character (3d).

Л-68 • ВЫСОКО́ ЛЕТА́ТЬ coll [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] 1. to occupy a prominent position in society: X высоко летает ≃ X is flying ⟨riding⟩ high; X has made it big; X is a big shot.

2. to behave arrogantly, have an excessively high opinion of o.s.: X высоко летает ≃ X thinks that he is too good for everyone; X has a swelled head; X is full of himself.

Л-69 • БА́БЬЕ ЛЕ́ТО [NP; sing only; fixed WO] warm days in early autumn: Indian summer.

Ноябрь был на редкость тёплый, настоящее бабье лето (Горенштейн 1). November was exceptionally warm, a real Indian summer (1a).

Л-70 • ЖИВА́Я ЛЕ́ТОПИСЬ чего [NP; sing only; often subj-compl with $быть_{ø}$, считаться etc, nom or instrum (subj: human); fixed WO] a person who can clearly recall all the events that happened during his lifetime: a living chronicle ⟨history book⟩.

…Главным украшением прощального обеда должен был служить столетний старец Максим Гаврилыч Крестовоздвиженский… Идея пригласить к участию в празднике эту живую летопись нашего города, этого свидетеля его величия и славы, была весьма замечательна… (Салтыков-Щедрин 2). The chief ornament of the farewell dinner… was to be our centenarian Maxim Gavrilovich Krestovozdvizhensky…. The idea of inviting this living chronicle of our town, this witness of its greatness and glory, to our celebration was indeed a most brilliant one… (2a).

Л-71 • КА́НУТЬ В ЛЕ́ТУ ⟨В РЕ́КУ ЗАБВЕ́НИЯ obs⟩ lit [VP; subj: abstr or human; fixed WO] to disappear completely, be forgotten forever: X канул в Лету ≃ X was swallowed up by Lethe ⟨in the river of oblivion⟩; X sank into oblivion.

«Так, понимаете, и слухи о капитане Копейкине канули в реку забвения, в какую-нибудь эдакую Лету, как называют поэты» (Гоголь 3). "It was thus, you understand, that the rumours about Captain Kopeikin were swallowed up in the river of oblivion, in this—er—Lethe, as the poets call it" (3a).

< From Lethe («Лета»), the name of a river in Hades. In classical mythology, those who drank the water of the Lethe—also called "the river of oblivion" («река забвения»)—forgot the past.

Л-72 • ЛОВИ́ТЬ НА ЛЕТУ́ что [VP; subj: human; pres or past] 1. Also: СХВА́ТЫВАТЬ ⟨ХВАТА́ТЬ⟩ НА ЛЕТУ́ ⟨С ЛЁТУ⟩; ЛОВИ́ТЬ С ЛЁТУ [obj: usu. всё, мысль etc; pres or past] to (be able to) understand, assimilate sth. (another's thoughts, ideas etc) quickly and easily: X ловит всё на лету ≃ X picks things up quickly; X is quick to grasp things; X is quick to catch on (to things); X is quick on the uptake; [lim.] X catches ⟨seizes⟩ everything on the wing.

Итак, в дом ходит учитель Курас, у Иосифа есть способности, он всё схватывает на лету… (Рыбаков 1). So, the teacher [Kuras] would come to the house. Yosif was capable and picked things up quickly… (1a).

2. [obj: usu. слова, указания etc] to listen very attentively, trying to let nothing slip by: X ловит Y-овы слова ⟨каждое Y-ово слово⟩ на лету ≃ X catches everything Y says; X hangs on Y's every word; X (makes sure he) doesn't miss what ⟨a single word that⟩ Y says.

Дудырев привык к уважению в районе, к тому, что его слово ловят на лету (Тендряков 1). Dudyrev was used to respect in the district and to people hanging on his every word (1a).

Л-73 • НА ЛЕТУ́ [PrepP; Invar] 1. [adv] during flight, while sth. or s.o. is still in the air: on the fly; on the wing; in midair; in mid flight.

Началось кормление. Александр Петрович вынул из сачка крупную ставриду и бросил её пеликану. Разинув свой чудовищный клюв, пеликан… на лету подхватил добычу (Искандер 3). The feeding began. Alexander Petrovich took a large horse mackerel from the net and threw it to the pelican. Opening its monstrous bill, the pelican caught it adroitly on the fly… (3a).

Странное, необычное то было лето… Была радость у людей. Были свадьбы и скороспелая любовь на лету. И были плачи великие. От земли до неба. По тем, кто не вернулся с войны… (Абрамов 1). A strange, an unusual summer it was…. There was rejoicing among the people. There were weddings and there were rushed, fleeting romances. And there was great weeping. From earth to heaven on high. For the ones who did not come home from the war (1a).

Л-74 • ДАТЬ ⟨ПОДДА́ТЬ⟩ ЛЕЩА́ кому substand [VP; subj: human] to strike or shove s.o. forcefully: X дал Y-у леща ≃ X landed a good one; X smacked Y (but) good; X gave Y a swift kick.

Л-75 • (как) ВЫ́ЖАТЫЙ ЛИМО́Н coll [NP; sing only; usu. subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human)] 1. a very tired, physically exhausted person: X как выжатый лимон ≃ X is beat ⟨dead tired, done in, all in⟩; X is (as) limp as a (dish)rag; X is tapped out.

Дай маме отдохнуть — она как выжатый лимон. Let Mom rest—she's dead tired.

2. a person who has exhausted his creative talent: X выжатый лимон ≃ X's creative juices have been sapped; X's creative energy has been spent; X is all washed-up; X is a has-been; [of a writer, playwright etc] X has written himself out.

Л-76 • ИДТИ́/ПОЙТИ́ ПО ЛИ́НИИ ⟨ПО ПУТИ́⟩ НАИМЕ́НЬШЕГО СОПРОТИВЛЕ́НИЯ [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to choose the easiest course of action, avoiding difficulties, trouble: X идёт по линии наименьшего сопротивления ≃ X takes ⟨follows, chooses⟩ the line ⟨the path, the course⟩ of least resistance.

Л-77 • ПО ЛИ́НИИ [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv or modif] 1. ~ чего, какой in the sphere of sth.: in the area ⟨field⟩ of; in relation to; along [AdjP] lines; as far as sth. is concerned; with regard ⟨respect⟩ to; || пойти по военной линии ≃ pursue ⟨go in for⟩ a military career; || по служебной линии ≃ at work; on the job (front); || выговор по служебной линии ≃ reprimand on the job.

Лёва не старался выдвинуться по общественной линии, т.е. избежал общественной работы, что в принципе просто соответствовало его склонности… (Битов 2). Lyova did not try to advance himself at the institute along social lines; i.e., he avoided community work, a policy that basically just suited his own inclination… (2a). ♦ Жаль, не пошёл по военной линии, получился бы отличный полковой командир. А то поднимай выше — дивизионный генерал (Акунин 2). A pity you didn't go in for a military career—you'd have made a fine regimental commander. Or something even higher than that—a divisional general (2a).

Такие вопросы должны решаться по линии министерства. Such matters should be decided by the ministry.

3. ~ какой, кого used to specify kinship according to lineal descent: line; side; (be) related through s.o.; || потомки X-ов по мужской ⟨женской⟩ линии ≃ descendants in the male ⟨female⟩ line of Xs; male-line ⟨female-line⟩ descendants of Xs; || дядя по материнской линии ≃ one's uncle on one's mother's side ⟨on the maternal side⟩; one's maternal uncle; || тётя по отцовской линии ≃ one's aunt on one's father's side ⟨on the paternal side⟩; one's paternal aunt.

Главный предок был из петровских немцев, оба деда, и по материнской линии тоже, профессорствовали (Улицкая 1). His most prominent ancestor was one of Peter the Great's Germans; both grandfathers, paternal and maternal, were professors (1a).

Л-78 • ГНУТЬ СВОЮ́ ЛИ́НИЮ ⟨ГНУТЬ СВОЁ⟩ coll; ВЕСТИ́ СВОЮ́ ЛИ́НИЮ [VP; subj: human] to be extremely persistent in defending or maintaining one's position (in an argument or discussion), in insisting that one get what one wants (despite another's resistance), or in carrying out one's chosen line of action (despite some opposition): X гнул свою линию ≃ X held ⟨stood⟩ his ground; X stuck to his guns; X stood firm ⟨fast⟩.

…Александра Прокофьевна упорно гнула своё: «Нет, ваши доводы я нахожу несостоятельными» (Трифонов 3). …Alexandra Prokofievna obstinately stuck to her guns. "No, I find your arguments unconvincing" (3a).

Л-79 • ОБДИРА́ТЬ/ОБОДРА́ТЬ ⟨ОБИРА́ТЬ/ОБОБРА́ТЬ, ОБЧИ́СТИТЬ, ОБЛУПИ́ТЬ⟩ КАК ЛИ́ПКУ кого coll [VP; subj: human; most often pfv] to ruin s.o. financially, overcharge shamelessly, take everything from s.o.: X ободрал Y-а как липку ≃ X fleeced Y; X cleaned Y out; X robbed Y blind; X took Y to the cleaners.

В деревне же этот самый товарообмен шёл куда веселее, чем в городе, где человека обдирали как липку всяческие посредники, спекулянты и барышники… (Катаев 3). In the countryside this barter was much more lively than in the city, where people were mercilessly fleeced by all sorts of middlemen, profiteers and speculators… (3a).

Л-80 • ЛИСА́ ПАТРИКЕ́ЕВНА coll, disapprov [usu. sing; commonly used as vocative; both words capitalized] a sly flatterer (more often a woman): sly fox ⟨devil⟩; crafty devil; slyboots.

Л-81 • КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ БА́ННЫЙ ЛИСТ пристать, привязаться, прилипнуть (к кому) coll, disapprov [как etc + NP; these forms only; adv (intensif); usu. used with pfv verbs; fixed WO] (to pester s.o., impose one's presence on s.o.) extremely irksomely, annoyingly, and unceasingly: leech on to s.o.; be ⟨stick⟩ like a leech; be a regular pest.

Л-82 • КАК (ОСИ́НОВЫЙ) ЛИСТ дрожать, трястись coll [как + NP; these forms only; adv (intensif); fixed WO]

(to tremble) violently (out of fear, anxiety, from the cold etc): (tremble ⟨shake, shake all over⟩) like a leaf.

«„Это лошадь отца моего“, — сказала Бэла, схватив меня за руку; она дрожала как лист…» (Лермонтов 1). “‘That is my father’s horse,’ said Bela, clutching my arm; she was trembling like a leaf…” (1d).

Л-83 • С ЛИСТА́ играть, петь, переводить и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to play, sing, translate etc) without previous rehearsal or study of the material: on ⟨at⟩ sight; || играть ⟨петь⟩ с листа ≃ play ⟨sing⟩ at ⟨on⟩ sight; переводить с листа ≃ do sight translation; || чтение с листа ≃ sight-reading.

Л-84 • ФИ́ГОВЫЙ ЛИСТО́К ⟨ЛИСТО́ЧЕК⟩ lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] sth. meant to conceal what is considered unacceptable, shameful, unflattering etc: fig leaf.

Яша… пришивал ко всем отчётам фиговые листки оценок (Грекова 2). To every report he [Yasha] pins a fig leaf of evaluations (2a).

< From the Biblical account of how Adam and Eve made “aprons” from fig leaves to cover themselves after eating the forbidden fruit and realizing that they were naked (Gen. 3:7).

Л-85 • С ЛИХВО́Й вернуть, возместить кому что, окупиться и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] with a surplus: (pay s.o. back) with interest; (make sth. up to s.o.) handsomely; more than (makes up for etc sth.); [lim.] (pay s.o. back) with a vengeance.

«Спасибо, ребята, — растроганно сказал Пантелей. — Вижу, что фронтовики… не забуду… верну с лихвой…» (Аксёнов 6). “Thanks, lads,” said Pantelei, touched by such generosity. “I can see you’re old frontline soldiers… won’t forget. I’ll pay it back with interest…” (6a).

Л-86 • НЕ БУДИ́ ⟨НЕ ТРОНЬ⟩ ЛИ́ХО, ПОКА́ СПИТ ТИ́ХО [saying] do not try to deal with potential future problems ahead of time—wait until they become real before taking action (often said to dissuade s.o. from a course of action that the speaker considers unreasonable): ≃ don’t ⟨never⟩ trouble trouble till trouble troubles you; don’t meet troubles halfway; let sleeping dogs lie.

Л-87 • НЕ ПОМИНА́Й(ТЕ) (меня ⟨нас⟩) ЛИ́ХОМ coll [VP_{imper}; usu. used as formula phrase; fixed WO] (usu. used as a request or wish made when parting with s.o. for an extended period of time) do not remember me (or us) badly: don’t think ill ⟨badly⟩ of me ⟨us⟩; remember me ⟨us⟩ kindly; think of me ⟨us⟩ kindly.

На другой день Аксинья, получив расчёт, собрала пожитки. Прощаясь с Евгением, всплакнула: «Не поминайте лихом, Евгений Николаевич» (Шолохов 4). The next day Aksinya was paid off and packed up her belongings. She gave a sob as she said goodbye to Yevgeny. “Don’t think ill of me, Yevgeny Nikolayevich” (4a).

Л-88 • ЛИЦА́ НЕТ на ком coll [$VP_{subj/gen}$; pres or past] s.o. has become very pale, the expression on s.o.’s face has changed (usu. from extreme anxiety, fear etc): на X-е лица нет ≃ X looks awful ⟨terrible, ghastly, terribly upset etc⟩; X is (as) pale ⟨white⟩ as a ghost; X is (as) white as a sheet; X is (as) pale as death; X doesn’t look himself; X looks like death warmed over; [usu. as a result of extreme fatigue] X looks washed-out.

Л-89 • НЕВЗИРА́Я НА ЛИ́ЦА [PrepP; Invar; adv] without taking into consideration or being influenced by s.o.’s high position, title, social status etc: without regard for rank; irrespective of rank; no matter who (s.o. is).

Александр Петрович знал, что его при дворе считают чудаком за то, что он всегда, невзирая на лица, со всей откровенностью верноподданного высказывал свои мысли о средствах к спасению царя и государства российского (Искандер 3). He [Alexander Petrovich] knew that he was considered a crank at court because he always—without regard for rank, with all the candor of a loyal subject—spoke his thoughts on ways to save the czar and the Russian state (3a).

Л-90 • С ЛИЦА́ НЕ ВО́ДУ ПИТЬ [saying] physical attractiveness is not important (usu. said when choosing a plain-looking husband or wife): ≃ beauty is only skin-deep; handsome is as handsome does; pretty is as pretty does; looks aren’t everything.

Муж у неё добрый, покладистый, а что некрасивый — так ведь с лица не воду пить. Her husband is kind and obliging. So what if he’s unattractive—looks aren’t everything.

Л-91 • СПАСТЬ С ЛИЦА́ substand [VP; subj: human; usu. past] to become thin in the face: X спал с лица ≃ X’s face became ⟨got⟩ haggard ⟨drawn, thin⟩; X’s face looked ⟨became, got⟩ pinched; X became ⟨got⟩ thin in the face.

Дети боранлинцев изнывали, томились, с лица спали, и некуда их было упрятать от духоты и изнуряющего зноя (Айтматов 2). The children at Boranly were miserable and tired, their faces drawn, and there was nowhere for them to escape from the oppressive, exhausting heat (2a).

Л-92 • СТЕРЕ́ТЬ ⟨СМЕСТИ́, СНЕСТИ́⟩ С ЛИЦА́ ЗЕМЛИ́ [VP; subj: human or collect; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] 1. ~ что to annihilate, destroy sth. completely, so that nothing is left of it: X-ы стёрли Y с лица земли ≃ Xs wiped Y off ⟨swept Y from⟩ the face of the earth; Xs wiped Y off the map; Xs razed Y to the ground; Xs blotted Y out.

…Ратабон явился с великолепным и полностью разработанным проектом перестройки Лувра, причём для успешного хода этой работы было необходимо снести с лица земли не только Малый Бурбон, но и прилегающую к нему церковь Сен-Жермен д’Оксерруа. Пол закачался под ногами у Мольера. «Значит, мы без предупреждения остаёмся на улице?» — спросил Мольер (Булгаков 5). …Ratabon had come with a magnificent and fully detailed plan for the rebuilding of the Louvre, which required not only that the Petit Bourbon, but also the church of Saint-Germain-l’Auxerrois which adjoined it, be razed to the ground. The floor rocked under Molière’s feet. “So we’re being thrown out into the street without warning?” he asked (5a).

2. ~ кого to kill s.o. or exterminate some group of people: X сотрёт Y-а с лица земли ≃ X will wipe Y off the face of the earth; X will do away with Y; X will rub out Y.

Газеты были полны сообщениями о вредителях, саботажниках, уклонистах. «…Беспощадно карать!.. Стереть с лица земли!» (Рыбаков 2). The newspapers were full of attacks on wreckers and saboteurs and deviationists. “…Punish them mercilessly!… Wipe them off the face of the earth!” (2a).

Л-93 • В ЛИ́ЦАХ рассказывать, изображать кого-что и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to tell about sth.) expressively, portraying s.o.'s manner of behavior and/or speech: [the equivalents incorporate both the idiom and the verbs they collocate with] act sth. out; mimic ⟨imitate⟩ how ⟨the way⟩ s.o. speaks ⟨does sth.⟩.

…Офицеры начинали хором петь песенку о начальнике станции… Офицеры разыгрывали эту песенку в лицах. Особенно хорош был пожилой полковник — «колонель» — с жёлтой бородкой, изображавший разъярённого начальника станции (Паустовский 1). …The officers would begin to sing in chorus a song about a stationmaster…. The officers acted out this song. The best of them all was an elderly colonel with a yellow beard who played the part of the infuriated stationmaster (1b).

Л-94 • В ЛИЦЕ́ чьём, кого [PrepP; Invar; Prep] as personified or represented by (s.o.): in the person of; in s.o.'s person; in (s.o.); [lim.] through (s.o.); in the form of.

…В лице Чернышевского был осуждён его — очень похожий — призрак; вымышленную вину чудно подгримировали под настоящую (Набоков 1). …In Chernyshevski's person they condemned a phantasm closely resembling him; an invented guilt was wonderfully rigged up to look like the real one (1a). ♦ Я поступлю в институт и стану потом инженером или учителем. Но в моём лице люди потеряют великого путешественника (Казаков 2). All right, I'd finish the tenth class and enter the institute and become an engineer or a teacher. But in me they were losing a great explorer (2a).

Л-95 • ИЗМЕНИ́ТЬСЯ ⟨ПЕРЕМЕНИ́ТЬСЯ⟩ В ЛИЦЕ́ [VP; subj: human; usu. past; usu. this WO] 1. Also: МЕНЯ́ТЬСЯ В ЛИЦЕ́ to change the look on one's face quickly under the influence of some emotion: X изменился в лице ≃ X changed his expression; X changed color; the expression on X's face changed; a (complete) change came over X's face ⟨expression⟩; X ⟨X's face⟩ turned ⟨went⟩ pale; || Neg X не изменился в лице ≃ X's face betrayed no emotion.

2. to have one's face change in appearance (becoming pale, thin etc as a result of illness, sadness, emotional upset etc): X изменился в лице ≃ X's face changed ⟨lost⟩ color; X's face (was) changed; X's face became drawn ⟨haggard⟩.

Дня три после ареста Мити Грушенька сильно заболела и хворала чуть не пять недель… Она сильно изменилась в лице, похудела и пожелтела, хотя вот уже почти две недели как могла выходить со двора (Достоевский 2). Some three days after Mitya's arrest, Grushenka had become quite ill and was sick for almost five weeks…. Her face was greatly changed, she had become thin and sallow, though for almost two weeks she had already been able to go out (2a).

Л-96 • НА ЛИЦЕ́ НАПИ́САНО у кого or чьём coll [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. a clause or abstr, often это, всё); usu. this form, but pl and other genders can be used; usu. pres or past; more often this WO] sth. (usu. a person's feelings, intentions, character type etc) is clearly visible from the person's facial expression: у X-а это на лице написано ≃ it's written all over X's face.

Они переглядывались между собой, когда к ним подкатил шпик (на лице которого было написано, что он шпик) и спросил, кого хоронят (Войнович 4). They exchanged glances again when they were approached by a spy (it was written all over his face) who asked them whose funeral it was (4a).

Л-97 • БРОСА́ТЬ/БРО́СИТЬ В ЛИЦО́ ⟨В ГЛАЗА́⟩ кому что [VP; subj: human] to address (sharp words, accusations, rebukes etc) directly to the person for whom they are intended, often displaying open defiance: X бросит Z в лицо Y-у ≃ X will throw ⟨fling⟩ Z in Y's face.

Байрон… сломился, но сломился, как грозный Титан, бросая людям в глаза своё презрение, не золотя пилюли (Герцен 2). Byron… was broken, but broken like a menacing Titan, flinging his scorn in men's faces and not troubling to gild the pill (2a).

Л-98 • В ЛИЦО́[1] кому говорить что, называть кого чем, смеяться, лгать и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to say sth., call s.o. sth., laugh at s.o., lie to s.o. etc) openly, directly addressing the person involved: (right ⟨straight⟩) to s.o.'s face; (tell s.o. sth.) face-to-face; (laugh) in s.o.'s face; [in refer. to lying] tell a bold-faced ⟨barefaced⟩ lie; lie through one's teeth.

Она [Фанни Невская] — настоящая, с ней нельзя болтать, ей нельзя солгать, она заставляет говорить как на исповеди. Она говорит в лицо то, что думает (Аллилуева 2). She [Fanny Nevskaya] was a real person. You couldn't just gossip with her, or lie to her. With her you spoke as if you were at confession. And she always said straight to your face what she thought (2a).

Л-99 • В ЛИЦО́[2] знать кого [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to know s.o.) by his outward appearance (without being acquainted with him): X знает Y-а в лицо ≃ X knows Y by sight; X knows what Y looks like; X would recognize Y.

Митя хоть и знал этого купца в лицо, но знаком с ним не был и даже ни разу не говорил с ним (Достоевский 1). Though Mitya knew the merchant by sight, he was not acquainted with him and had never once spoken to him (1a). ♦ Вскоре Ольга Петровна знала уже всех в издательстве — и по фамилиям, и по должности, и в лицо: счетоводов, редакторов, техредов, курьерш (Чуковская 1). Soon Olga Petrovna knew everyone in the publishing house—their names, their jobs and what they looked like—ledger clerks, editors, technical editors, messengers (1a).

Л-100 • ЛИЦО́ ВЫ́ТЯНУЛОСЬ у кого; ФИЗИОНО́МИЯ ВЫ́ТЯНУЛАСЬ [VP$_{subj}$; usu. this WO] s.o.'s face assumed an expression of disappointment, distress, surprise (usu. caused by sth. unpleasant) etc: лицо у X-а вытянулось ≃ X's face fell (in surprise ⟨bewilderment, disappointment etc⟩); [lim.] X pulled ⟨put on⟩ a long face.

Когда из пяти выпущенных мной пуль махальщики показали три попадания в головную мишень с четырехсот шагов, лицо у ротного вытянулось от удивления… (Лившиц 1). When, out of the five bullets I spent, the signaller showed three bull's eyes at four hundred paces, the commander's face fell in surprise (1a).

Л-101 • НА ОДНО́ ЛИЦО́ coll [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, казаться etc (subj: any count noun, pl); fixed WO] some people (things etc) are or seem to be identical in appearance to one another, devoid of individual distinctions: (look ⟨seem to be⟩) (exactly) the same; (look) exactly alike; (be) as like as ⟨just like⟩ peas (in a pod); [of two persons] (be) (as) like as two peas in a pod.

…Нюра же на первых порах начальников не различала, для неё они все были на одно лицо, как китайцы (Войнович 4). …Nyura could not tell one official from the other, they all looked the same to her, like Chinese (4a). ♦ Марсиян было человек двадцать, и все были, как мне тогда показалось, на одно лицо

Л-102 • ПОКАЗА́ТЬ СВОЁ (НАСТОЯ́ЩЕЕ ⟨И́СТИННОЕ⟩) ЛИЦО [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to reveal one's true nature, show one's true (usu. negative) character: X показал своё настоящее лицо ≃ X showed his true colors; X showed his true ⟨real⟩ face.

Л-103 • СОХРАНИ́ТЬ ЛИЦО́ [VP; subj: human; often infin after чтобы, пытаться etc] to avoid embarrassment, disgrace, or a humiliating loss of prestige: X пытался сохранить лицо ≃ X tried to save face.

Л-104 • ТЕРЯ́ТЬ/ПОТЕРЯ́ТЬ ЛИЦО́ [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to suffer a loss of prestige, dignity, reputation, lose the respect of others: X потерял лицо ≃ X lost face.

Ещё не осмыслив глубины своего поражения, великий комбинатор допустил неприличную суетливость, о чём всегда вспоминал впоследствии со стыдом. Он настаивал, сердился, совал деньги в руки Александру Ивановичу и вообще, как говорят китайцы, потерял лицо (Ильф и Петров 2). Not yet realizing the full extent of his defeat, the great schemer permitted himself to make a scene which he always afterwards remembered with shame. He insisted, became angry, pushed the money into the hands of Alexander Ivanovich, and on the whole, as the Chinese say, lost face (2b).

Л-105 • ЛИЦО́М К ЛИЦУ́ [Invar; adv or, less often, subj-compl with copula (subj: human); fixed WO] 1. видеть кого ~ (to be) very near to (some person who inspires fear, trepidation etc in one, or by extension death): (be ⟨find o.s.⟩) face to face (with s.o. ⟨sth.⟩).

Мысль увидеть императрицу лицом к лицу так устрашала её, что она с трудом могла держаться на ногах (Пушкин 2). The thought of seeing the Empress face to face so terrified her that she could barely stand upright (2c).

2. встретиться, столкнуться с кем и т.п. ~ (to meet up with s.o. etc) right up close: come face to face with s.o.; meet s.o. face to face; run right into s.o.

Поднявшись как-то ночью после смерти матери, она лицом к лицу столкнулась в сенях с отцом (Максимов 3). She had got up one night after her mother's death, and come face to face with her father in the hallway (3a).

3. стоять, столкнуться, соприкоснуться и т.п. с чем ~ (to be, find o.s. etc) facing (some problem, new phenomenon etc): (be ⟨stand, come, find o.s.⟩) face to face (with sth.); [in refer. to difficulties only] (be) confronted head-on (with sth.).

Я стоял лицом к лицу с невероятным явлением. Гумбольдтовское понимание языка как искусства находило себе красноречивейшее подтверждение в произведениях Хлебникова, с той только потрясающей оговоркой, что процесс, мысливший до сих пор как функция коллективного сознания целого народа, был воплощён в творчестве одного человека (Лившиц 1). I stood face to face with an extraordinary phenomenon. Humboldt's conception of language as an art form found a most eloquent confirmation in Khlebnikov's works—except that what had hitherto been understood as the function of the collective consciousness of a whole people was here incarnated in the work of a single man (1a).

Л-106 • НЕ УДА́РИТЬ ЛИЦО́М В ГРЯЗЬ coll [VP; subj: human or collect] to carry out some matter well, as it should be carried out, and thereby make a favorable impression on s.o. (often as a means of proving one's professional competence or in an attempt to show off): X не ударил лицом в грязь ≃ X didn't disgrace himself; X didn't fall flat on his face; X refused ⟨was not⟩ to be outdone; X came through in good fashion ⟨with honor⟩; X made a good showing; X put up a good show; X didn't disappoint person Y.

…Как всегда наш город лицом в грязь не ударил, показал, что стоит на уровне века (Рыбаков 1). …Once again our town didn't disgrace itself, but showed that it was living in the twentieth century (1a). ♦ [Балясников:] Смотри не ударь в грязь лицом, Блохин, я сообщил Виктоше, что ты величайший пельменный мастер (Арбузов 5). [В.:] Careful you don't fall flat on your face. I informed Viktosha you were the greatest expert on meat dumplings (5a).

Л-107 • ПЕРЕД ЛИЦО́М lit [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] 1. ~ кого-чего in s.o.'s presence: in front of; before.

«Я, верховный главнокомандующий Корнилов, перед лицом всего народа объявляю, что долг солдата… и беззаветная любовь к родине заставили меня в эти тяжёлые минуты бытия отечества не подчиниться приказанию Временного правительства и оставить за собой верховное командование армией и флотом» (Шолохов 3). "I, the Supreme Commander-in-Chief Kornilov, declare before the whole nation that my duty as a soldier… and my unbounded love for the Motherland have compelled me in these grave minutes of the country's existence to ignore the order of the Provisional Government and retain the supreme command of the Army and Navy" (3a).

2. ~ чего, often смерти when faced by sth., directly before the approach of sth.: in the face of; confronted with.

…Началась первая мировая война, потом революция, и перед лицом таких великих событий никто уже не интересовался: сделали обрезание Якобу Ивановскому или не сделали (Рыбаков 1). …It was soon the First World War, then the Revolution, and in the face of such great events nobody was interested in whether Jakob Ivanovsky was circumcised or not (1a).

Л-108 • ПОВОРА́ЧИВАТЬСЯ/ПОВЕРНУ́ТЬСЯ ЛИЦО́М к кому-чему [VP; subj: human, collect, or abstr; often infin with должен, надо, нужно; fixed WO] to begin concentrating on s.o. or sth., to show a keen interest in s.o. or sth.: X повернулся лицом к Y-у ≃ X has focused his ⟨its⟩ attention on Y; X has addressed the needs ⟨the problems etc⟩ of Y; [lim.] X has moved closer to Y; X has looked toward Y.

Центральный Комитет считал, что наука должна повернуться лицом к производству, ближе, тесней связаться с жизнью (Гроссман 2). The Central Committee considered that science must move closer to industry and become more integrated with real life (2a). ♦ «Она родила принца Мехмеда, который впоследствии стал монархом и вошёл в историю как великий реформатор. Мать научила его французскому языку, пристрастила к французской литературе и к французскому вольнодумству. С тех пор Турция повернулась лицом к Западу» (Акунин 5). "She gave birth to Prince Mehmed, who later ascended the throne and is known to history as a great reformer. His mother taught him French and gave him a taste for French literature and French freethinking. Ever since then Turkey has looked toward the West" (5a).

Л-109 • К ЛИЦУ́ кому [PrepP; Invar] 1. [subj-compl with copula (subj: a noun denoting an item of clothing, a hairdo, jewelry, a facial expression etc) or adv; often neg] sth. befits s.o., makes him look more attractive: X Y-у не к лицу ≃ X doesn't suit ⟨become⟩ Y; X doesn't look good on Y; X doesn't flatter Y; || одет(ый) к лицу ≃ becomingly ⟨attractively⟩ dressed.

жакет, и очень вам к лицу“» (Войнович 4). “[I] paid her an off-handed compliment—‘Valentina Mikhailovna, what a pretty jacket you’re wearing…. It’s beautiful and it suits you very well’” (4a).

2. [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: abstr or infin); usu. neg] sth. is suitable, right for s.o., befits s.o.’s position: X ⟨делать X⟩ Y-у не к лицу ≃ X ⟨doing X⟩ does not become ⟨suit⟩ Y; it is not fitting ⟨becoming⟩ for Y to do X; it is unseemly for Y to do X; X ill becomes Y; X is not (particularly) appropriate ⟨proper, attractive etc⟩ for Y (in Y’s position ⟨at Y’s age etc⟩).

Восьмой [член правления], академик и герой труда, решил, что ему участвовать в этой склоке совсем не к лицу… (Войнович 3). The eighth [member of the board], an academician and Hero of Labor, decided that for him to participate in this squabble was not at all becoming… (3a). ♦ «Вчера вы изволили фокусы делать…» — «Я? — воскликнул в изумлении маг, — помилосердствуйте. Мне это даже как-то не к лицу!» (Булгаков 9). “The other day, if you don’t mind, it was your pleasure to perform some tricks…” “Tricks?” the magician exclaimed with astonishment. “Surely, you don’t mean it! Such things would ill become me!” (9a).

Л-110 • ПЕРЕХОДИ́ТЬ/ПЕРЕЙТИ́ НА ЛИ́ЧНОСТИ coll [VP; subj: human; often neg imper] to make offensive remarks about s.o. in a presentation, conversation etc: X перешёл на личности ≃ X got ⟨became⟩ personal; X brought personalities into it; X resorted to personal ⟨ad hominem⟩ attacks (against person Y).

Говори по существу, не надо переходить на личности. Stick to the point, no need to get personal.

Л-111 • НЕ ЛИШЁН ⟨НЕ ЛИШЁННЫЙ⟩ чего [AdjP; the resulting phrase is subj-compl with copula (subj: any noun—short-form var.) or modif (long-form var.)] a person (thing etc) is not devoid of a certain (as specified) quality: X не лишён Y-а ≃ X is not without (some) Y; there is some Y about person X ⟨in thing X⟩.

Ваше замечание не лишено остроумия. Your remark is not without wit.

Л-112 • ХВАТИ́ТЬ ЛИ́ШНЕГО ⟨ЛИ́ШНЕЕ⟩ coll; ХВАТИ́ТЬ ЛИ́ШКУ highly coll [VP; subj: human] 1. to say or do sth. that goes beyond the accepted social limits, violates the rules of ordinary good behavior: X хватил лишнего ≃ X went (a bit) too far; X carried ⟨took⟩ it too far.

…Бахут его шутки не принял, он ринулся вперёд. «Ты всю жизнь лошадей любил больше, чем своих детей, ты чуть не умер, когда твоя [лошадь] Кукла порченная вернулась с перевала». — «Как видишь, не умер», — сказал Кязым. Он не любил, когда ему об этом напоминали. Бахут почувствовал, что хватил лишнее… (Искандер 5). …Bakhut did not accept his joke, he plunged ahead. “All your life you’ve loved horses better than your children. You nearly died when your Dolly came home from the pass ruined!” “As you see, I didn’t die,” Kyazym said. He disliked being reminded of that. Bakhut sensed that he had gone too far… (5a).

2. Also: ХЛЕБНУ́ТЬ ⟨ПЕРЕЛОЖИ́ТЬ obs⟩ ЛИ́ШНЕЕ coll; ХЛЕБНУ́ТЬ ⟨ПЕРЕЛОЖИ́ТЬ obs⟩ ЛИ́ШКУ highly coll to drink too much: X хлебнул лишку ≃ X had one ⟨a few⟩ too many; X had ⟨took⟩ a drop too much.

[Трилецкий:] Должно быть, именинником был… Хватил лишнее… (Чехов 1). [T.:] It must have been his birthday, he’d had a drop too much (1b). ♦ …Не был он (по его выражению) и врагом бутылки, т.е. (говоря по-русски) любил хлебнуть лишнее (Пушкин 2). …He was (as he himself put it) “no enemy of the bottle,” that is (in plain Russian), he loved to take a drop too much (2a).

Л-113 • НЕ ЛИ́ШНЕЕ ⟨НЕ ЛИ́ШНЕ⟩ [AdjP; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. infin or a clause) or obj-compl with находить, считать (1st var. only, obj: usu. deverbal noun or infin)] it would help, be useful (to do sth.): it wouldn’t be (such) a bad idea (to do sth.); it won’t ⟨wouldn’t⟩ hurt one (to do sth.); (there’s) no harm in (doing sth.); it would be worthwhile (to do sth.); (sth.) is worth doing; it’s ⟨it would be⟩ worth it (to do sth.); it wouldn’t be out of place (to do sth.).

[Нина:] Сначала думать надо, а потом уже с ума сходить! [Бусыгин:] Разве? Уж лучше наоборот. [Сарафанов:] …По-моему, Володя прав. Думать, конечно, не лишнее, но… (Вампилов 4). [N.:] You must think first, and then go round the bend! [B.:] Really? Better the other way round. [S.:] I think Volodia’s right. No harm in thinking, of course, but… (4a).

Л-114 • ПОЗВОЛЯ́ТЬ/ПОЗВО́ЛИТЬ СЕБЕ́ ЛИ́ШНЕЕ [VP; subj: human; often neg; in the affirm. лишнее takes the final position] 1. to make expenditures one cannot afford: X не позволяет себе лишнего ≃ X doesn’t allow himself any extras; X lives within his means ⟨budget⟩; X doesn’t exceed his budget.

Мои сёстры живут скромно, не позволяют себе ничего лишнего. My sisters live modestly, not allowing themselves any extras.

2. Also: СЛИ́ШКОМ МНО́ГО ПОЗВОЛЯ́ТЬ/ПОЗВО́ЛИТЬ СЕБЕ́ to go beyond the accepted limits or rules in one’s behavior: X позволяет себе лишнее ≃ X is going too far; X is getting above himself; [of a man’s overly familiar behavior toward a woman] X is taking liberties (with person Y).

Л-115 • СКАЗА́ТЬ ⟨СБОЛТНУ́ТЬ coll⟩ ЛИ́ШНЕЕ [VP; subj: human] to say sth. one should not: X сказал лишнее ≃ X said too much; X said the wrong thing; [lim.] X made a slip of the tongue; X put his foot in his mouth ⟨in it⟩.

Вступился Кривошлыков, опасаясь, как бы простоватый Подтёлков не сболтнул лишнего… (Шолохов 3). Fearing that Podtyolkov in his simplicity might say too much, Krivoshlykov intervened (3a).

Л-116 • С ЛИ́ШНИМ ⟨С ЛИ́ШКОМ coll⟩ [PrepP; these forms only; used with a Num or quantit NP as nonagreeing modif] (used when expressing some amount of time, s.o.’s age, the size or quantity of sth. etc as an approximation rounded down to the nearest convenient figure) (the figure named) plus a small amount: more than…; (a bit) over…; [Num]-odd…; …or more; …and then some; …and some odd.

Два с лишним года он [Бабий Яр] был запретной зоной, с проволокой под высоким напряжением… (Кузнецов 1). For more than two years it [Babi Yar] was a forbidden area, fenced off with high-tension wires… (1b). ♦ «…Разве я давно здесь?» — «Час с лишком» (Тургенев 3). “…Have I been here long?” “Over an hour” (3b). ♦…На них [поминки] ухлопаны были чуть ли не десять рублей из двадцати с лишком, полученных от Раскольникова собственно на похороны Мармеладова (Достоевский 3). …Almost ten of the twenty and some odd rubles that Raskolnikov had given her [Katerina Ivanovna] for the actual funeral had been squandered on the [funeral] feast (3a).

Л-117 • ЛИШЬ БЫ (ТÓЛЬКО)…; ТÓЛЬКО БЫ… 1. [subord Conj; introduces a clause of purpose] for the purpose of (achieving sth. or, when used with a negation, preventing sth.; what is stated in the main clause usu. presents an extreme means of achieving the goal stated in the subord clause): (in order) to…; [when used with a negation] (in order) to avoid (doing sth.).

«Её — эту Дёмину — у нас на заводе даже начальство за версту обходит, лишь бы не разговаривать» (Максимов 2). "Here at the shipyard even the bosses will go a mile out of their way to avoid having to talk to her [Dyomina]" (2a).

2. [subord Conj, condit] used to show that the truthfulness or realization of what is stated in the main clause is contingent upon the fulfillment of the condition stated in the subord clause; the fulfillment of this condition is considered desirable: as ⟨so⟩ long as; if (only); provided that.

…Мужикам, по их натуре, нужна любая техника, лишь бы она была новой, любая теория, лишь бы она сводила какие-нибудь концы с какими-нибудь другими концами… (Залыгин 1). By their nature they [men] needed any sort of science as long as it was new, any theory as long as it tied up one or two loose ends… (1a).

3. [Particle] used to express a wish: if only.

Лишь бы только он доехал благополучно! If only he would arrive safely!

Л-118 • В ЛОБ [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. атаковать кого, наступать и т.п. ~ mil (to attack, advance etc) having the enemy immediately in front of o.s.: (launch etc) a frontal ⟨head-on⟩ attack ⟨assault⟩; (attack) frontally ⟨head-on⟩.

2. nautical (coming, blowing) from the direction in which a ship etc is headed: [of wind] headwind; [lim.] (sail) upwind; (sail) in the teeth of the wind; [of waves] beating head-on.

3. говорить, спрашивать и т.п. ~ coll (to say, ask sth. etc) in a straightforward manner: point-blank; directly; straight out; (come) right out (and say ⟨ask etc⟩ sth.).

О нет, они [КГБ] не станут прямо так, в лоб, предлагать сотрудничество (Буковский 1). Oh no, they [the KGB] won't put it to you point-blank, suggesting you collaborate (1a).

Л-119 • ЗАБРИВÁТЬ ⟨БРИТЬ⟩/ЗАБРИ́ТЬ ЛОБ ⟨ЛБЫ⟩ кому; ЗАБРИ́ТЬ (ЛОБ) В СОЛДÁТЫ ⟨В РЕ́КРУТЫ⟩ all obs [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv 3rd pers pl with indef. refer.] to conscript s.o. for military service: X-у забрили лоб ≃ X was taken as a recruit; X was drafted (into the army ⟨the service⟩); X was called up into the army ⟨the service⟩.

Как только Ванька вернулся в Долгов, его тут же забрили в солдаты… (Войнович 7). As soon as Vanka arrived back to Dolgov, he was drafted into the army… (7a). ♦ [Слесарша:] …Мужу-то моему [городничий] приказал забрить лоб в солдаты… (Гоголь 4). [Locksmith's wife:] …He [the Mayor] ordered my husband, now, to be called up into the army… (4a).

Л-120 • ЛОБ В ЛОБ столкнуться, сойтись и т.п. coll [Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to meet, run into one another) right up close, facing each other: (collide ⟨meet etc⟩) head-on; (run ⟨crash etc⟩) right into each other; (meet ⟨come etc⟩) face to face.

…Стоило ему заступить в должность, как уже на другой день грянула беда: в самом исходе перегона Роща-Дубки лоб в лоб столкнулись два товарняка (Максимов 3). …Sure enough, the very day after he took up his duties, disaster struck. Two freight trains crashed head-on on the last lap of the Roshcha-Dubki run (3a).

Л-121 • МЕ́ДНЫЙ ЛОБ highly coll, derog [NP; fixed WO] a senselessly stubborn, dull-witted person: blockhead; numskull; bonehead; fathead.

Л-122 • ПОДСТАВЛЯ́ТЬ/ПОДСТА́ВИТЬ (СВОЙ) ЛОБ [VP; subj: human] to put o.s. in a dangerous position, in a position where one could be shot, severely punished etc: X подставил лоб ≃ X made himself an open target; X presented himself as a target; [in refer. to shooting only] X risked having his brains blown out; X risked getting shot; X stood there waiting to be shot at.

«Скверно! — решил он наконец, — скверно [, что будет дуэль], с какой стороны ни посмотри. Во-первых, надо будет подставлять лоб и во всяком случае уехать…» (Тургенев 2). "Yes, it's [dueling is] a bad business," he decided at last. "A bad business from whatever angle one looks at it. Firstly I risk having my brains blown out, and in any case I shall have to go away from here…" (2c). "Bad!" he concluded finally. "It's bad from whatever side you look at it. In the first place, I'll have to risk getting shot and I'll have to leave…" (2g).

Л-123 • ЧТО В ЛОБ, ЧТО ПÓ ЛБУ [saying] it makes no difference which of two available options is chosen because neither one is better or worse than the other: ≃ (it's) six of one, half a dozen of the other; (it's) six of one and half a dozen of the other; it's as broad as it is long.

Ещё хуже выглядело сельское хозяйство. Правда, не было уже класса помещиков, он был ликвидирован, но зато были сельскохозяйственные капиталисты — кулаки. А народная мудрость правильно гласит: что в лоб, что по лбу (Львов 1). The situation was even worse in agriculture. True, the landowning class no longer existed—it had been liquidated—but, on the other hand, there were agricultural capitalists, the kulaks. As the saying goes, it was six of one, half a dozen of the other (1a).

Л-124 • ЛОВИ́ТЬ/ПОЙМА́ТЬ СЕБЯ́ на чём [VP; subj: human; prep obj: usu. на мысли (, что…) or на том, что…; fixed WO] to discover suddenly that one is thinking an unexpected thought, feeling an unexpected feeling etc: X поймал себя на Y-е ≃ X caught ⟨found⟩ himself thinking ⟨feeling⟩ (Y ⟨that…⟩); X suddenly became aware that… ⟨aware of Y⟩; X suddenly realized that…

…Будучи уже студентом и переживая свою первую и злосчастную любовь, поймал он себя однажды… на мысли, что он неродной сын своего отца (Битов 2). …One day, when he was already in college and suffering through his first and ill-starred love, he caught himself thinking… that he wasn't really his father's son (2a). ♦ Тщетно понатужившись, он поймал себя на мысли, что жаждет непременно соригинальничать… (Ерофеев 4). Straining, but with no result, he suddenly became aware of his desire to come up with something completely original… (4a).

Л-125 • НА ЛОВЦÁ И ЗВЕРЬ БЕЖИ́Т [saying] (said when s.o. unexpectedly comes across a person he has been looking for or needs) you are or this is precisely the person I want to speak to, consult with etc at this moment: ≃ just the person I need(ed) ⟨want(ed)⟩ to see; [lim.] talk ⟨speak⟩ of the devil (and he appears ⟨will appear⟩).

Л-126 • ЛО́ДЫРЯ ГОНЯ́ТЬ coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] to loaf, spend time idly: X лодыря гоняет ≃ X spends his time goofing off; X twiddles his thumbs.

Л-127 • ПРОКРУ́СТОВО ЛО́ЖЕ (чего) lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] criteria, standards to which sth. is forcefully fitted or adapted (in order to produce conformity): Procrustean bed; bed of Procrustes.

Л-128 • ПОД ЛО́ЖЕЧКОЙ болит, сосёт, щемит, холодеет и т.п. у кого coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to have a pain, spasm, feeling of hunger etc) in the upper part of the abdomen where it meets the chest: (to have a sinking ⟨anxious, bad etc⟩ feeling, a burning sensation, pain etc) in the pit of one's stomach.

Дело-то ого-го какое. И мысленному взору обер-полицеймейстера открылись перспективы до такой степени заоблачные, что захватило дух. Но одновременно и засосало под ложечкой. От страха (Акунин 3). Oh, this was truly momentous business! In his mind's eye, the chief of police pictured prospects of such transcendental glory that they took his breath away. But at the same time he had a sinking feeling in the pit of his stomach. He was afraid (3a).

Л-129 • ПОД ЛО́ЖЕЧКУ ударить кого coll; ПОД ВЗДОХ ⟨ПОД ДЫХ⟩ substand [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to hit s.o.) in the upper part of the abdomen, esp. at the point where it meets the chest: (hit ⟨punch etc⟩ s.o.) in the belly ⟨in the gut⟩.

«Ишь чего захотел — простить», — выкрикнул некий лжечеловек из зала. Но другой, почти такой же, и всё-таки чуть получше, дал тому локтем под дых и громко сказал: «Заглохни, псина!» (Войнович 4). "Now look what he wants, us to forgive him," cried out a pseudo-human from the audience. Another one, almost the same but a bit better, elbowed him in the belly and said loudly: "Shut up, dog meat" (4a).

Л-130 • (ХОТЬ) ЛОЖИ́СЬ ДА ПОМИРА́Й substand [(хоть +) VP_{imper}; these forms only; usu. subord clause; fixed WO] (used to express hopelessness, despair) (the situation is so desperate that) there is no escape, death is the only way out for s.o.: there's nothing (left) to do but lie down and die; there's nothing left but to lie down and die; you ⟨he etc⟩ might (just) as well lie down and die; life isn't worth living.

[Лука:] Был он — бедный, жил — плохо… и когда приходилось ему так уж трудно, что хоть ложись да помирай, — духа он не терял… (Горький 3). [L.:] He was a poor man and had a hard life. Sometimes things got so bad it looked as if there was nothing left for him to do but lie down and die. But he didn't give up (3d).

Л-131 • ДОРОГА́ ЛО́ЖКА К ОБЕ́ДУ [saying] sth. is valuable only if it is available when needed: ≃ slow help is no help; it's all in the timing; [when used as a reproach in refer. to sth. done too late] a day late and a ruble short.

Л-132 • ЛО́ЖКА ДЁГТЮ ⟨-я⟩ В БО́ЧКЕ МЁДА ⟨-у⟩ [saying] sth. that spoils an otherwise good, satisfactory state of affairs (said in vexation when some insignificant but unpleasant thing spoils what is otherwise very good—a project, mood, impression etc): ≃ a fly in the ointment.

Л-133 • В ЛО́ЖКЕ ВОДЫ́ УТОПИ́ТЬ кого coll [VP; subj: human; usu. infin with рад, готов etc or fut; fixed WO] to cause s.o. great trouble without significant reason: X рад ⟨готов, пытается и т.п.⟩ Y-а в ложке воды утопить ≃ X would love ⟨is ready etc⟩ to hang Y ⟨to have Y's neck⟩ for the slightest infringement ⟨offense⟩; X would use any ⟨the slightest⟩ excuse to do Y in; X would like nothing better than to see Y hang.

Л-134 • БЛИ́ЗОК ⟨БЛИ́ЗКО⟩ ЛО́КОТЬ, ДА НЕ УКУ́СИШЬ [saying] sth. seems easy to do or obtain but is actually impossible to accomplish or get: ≃ so near and yet so far.

Хорошая семья. Крепкий корень. И если бы Егорша с такой семьёй породнился, может, он и сам бы немножко остепенился — повылезла бы из него лишняя дурь… Да нет, вздыхал Степан Андреянович, близко локоть, да не укусишь. Разве пойдёт такая девка за моего шалопая? (Абрамов 1). Good family…. Strong stock. And if Yegorsha should marry into such a family, maybe he might settle down a little and give up his wild and useless ways. But no, sighed Stepan Andreanovich, so near and yet so far. Would such a girl marry my black sheep? (1b).

Л-135 • КУСА́ТЬ (СЕБЕ́) ЛО́КТИ coll [VP; subj: human] to regret bitterly having made a mistake (that cannot be put right), having missed a chance (that may not come again) etc: X кусал (себе) локти ≃ X could have kicked himself; || нечего локти кусать ≃ it's no use ⟨there is no point (in)⟩ crying over spilt ⟨spilled⟩ milk.

Л-136 • ЛОМА́ТЬ НЕ СТРО́ИТЬ [saying] to destroy a structure, discredit a theory or method etc is easier than to build or create a new one: ≃ it's easier to tear down than to build up; a ⟨any⟩ jackass can kick a barn door down, but it takes a carpenter to build one.

Л-137 • ОТРЕ́ЗАННЫЙ ЛОМО́ТЬ [NP; sing only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human), pres or past; fixed WO] 1. a person (usu. a grown-up son or, less often, daughter) who no longer lives with his family, who has become independent and does not require support: X — отрезанный ломоть ≃ X is on his own; X is ⟨has become⟩ his own man ⟨her own woman, his own master⟩; X has left the nest; X has cut loose; X is a piece cut off (from…).

2. a person who has dissociated himself from his milieu, from his traditional way of life, from his usual activity: X — отрезанный ломоть ≃ X is cut off (from his country ⟨his milieu etc⟩); [lim.] X is a lone wolf.

…В Одессе он [Бунин] застрял: не хотел сделаться эмигрантом, отрезанным ломтём; упрямо надеялся на чудо — на конец большевиков, погибель советской власти и на возвращение в Москву под звон кремлёвских колоколов (Катаев 3). …In Odessa he [Bunin] has stuck: he did not want to become an émigré, cut off from his country; he was stubbornly hoping for a miracle—for the Bolsheviks to be defeated, Soviet rule overthrown and his return to Moscow amid the triumphant ringing of the Kremlin bells (3a).

Л-138 • НА ЛО́НЕ ПРИРО́ДЫ lit [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] in the countryside, the forest, the fields etc: in the bosom ⟨the lap⟩ of nature; close to nature.

Человек-то лучше становится на лоне природы. И не так уже неприятен показался бы Александр Семёнович, как в городе (Булгаков 10). A man becomes better in the lap of nature. And even Alexander Semyonovich would not have seemed as unpleasant here as he had in the city (10a).

Л-139 • ВО ВСЕ ЛОПА́ТКИ удирать, бежать и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to run away, race, gallop etc) very quickly, headlong: (at) full tilt; for all one is worth; hell-for-leather; as fast as one can; as fast as one's legs will carry one; at top ⟨full⟩ speed.

Он прискакал в Глупов, как говорится, во все лопатки… и едва вломился в пределы городского выгона, как тут же, на самой границе, пересёк уйму ямщиков (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). He galloped hell-for-leather, as they say, into Foolov… and no sooner had he overrun the borders than he flogged a bunch of coachmen, right then and there on the town common (1a). ♦ [Городничий:] Слушайте: вы побегите, да бегом во все лопатки, и снесите две записки… (Гоголь 4). [Mayor:] Listen, will you run, and I mean run, as fast as you can, and take two notes… (4b).

Л-140 • КЛАСТЬ/ПОЛОЖИ́ТЬ ⟨УЛОЖИ́ТЬ⟩ НА (О́БЕ) ЛОПА́ТКИ кого [VP; subj: human; more often pfv; the verb may take the final position; otherwise fixed WO] 1. in wrestling, to put s.o. flat on his back: X положил Y-а на обе лопатки ≃ X pinned Y.

2. coll to win a victory over s.o. (in an argument, contest etc): X положил Y-а на обе лопатки ≃ X pinned Y to the mat; X laid ⟨put⟩ Y flat on his back; X beat Y (all) hollow.

Он высмеял Топоркова за доклад, а затем… с профессиональной сноровкой уложил отца психоанализа на обе лопатки (Ерофеев 3). He ridiculed Toporkov's report and then… with professional aplomb, he pinned the father of psychoanalysis to the mat (3a).

Л-141 • ГРЕСТИ́ ⟨ЗАГРЕБА́ТЬ⟩ ЛОПА́ТОЙ деньги, золото, серебро coll [VP; subj: human] to make a lot of money: X гребёт деньги лопатой ≃ X makes money hand over fist; X rakes in ⟨up⟩ the money; X makes big bucks.

Л-142 • ХОТЬ ЛО́ПНИ ⟨ТРЕ́СНИ⟩ substand [хоть + VP_{imper}; these forms only; subord clause] 1. [usu. foll. by the Conj «а» or «но» + imper сделай, выполни etc] despite any circumstances: no matter what; come hell or high water.

Он — человек, который знает, что ему надо. Вот выбрал меня и всё, хоть лопни, а будь его женой (Кожевников 1). He's a man who knows what he needs. So, he's chosen me. That's it, no matter what, I'll be his wife (1a).

2. despite whatever you do, however much effort you put into sth. (it is useless, futile): no matter what you do; however hard you try; try as you might ⟨may⟩.

…Бывают дни невезения, когда ни черта не клеится, хоть лопни (Трифонов 4). …There were bad luck days when not a damn thing went right no matter what you did (4a).

Л-143 • ЧТОБ ТЫ ⟨он и т.п.⟩ ЛО́ПНУЛ ⟨ТРЕ́СНУЛ⟩!; ЧТОБ ТЕБЕ́ ⟨ему и т.п.⟩ ЛО́ПНУТЬ ⟨ТРЕ́СНУТЬ⟩! all substand, rude [sent; these forms only; fixed WO] an abusive phrase used to express one's anger, fury at s.o. or sth., one's wish that every kind of trouble befall s.o.: blast ⟨damn, screw, to hell with⟩ you ⟨him, it etc⟩!; [lim.] may you ⟨he etc⟩ be struck dumb!

Проезжий… поглядывал в окно и посвистывал к великому неудовольствию смотрительши… «…Эк посвистывает, — чтоб он лопнул, окаянный басурман» (Пушкин 1). The traveler… looked through the window and whistled—an action that greatly annoyed the stationmaster's wife…. "Ugh, he does whistle, may he be struck dumb, the damned infidel" (1a).

Л-144 • В ЛОСК substand [PrepP; Invar; adv (intensif)] 1. ~ напиться, пьян и т.п. Also: В ЛОСКУ́Т ⟨В ЛОСКУТЫ́⟩ substand (to get or be) extremely (drunk): в лоск пьян ≃ dead ⟨stinking, blind⟩ drunk; loaded to the gills; smashed ⟨plastered, bombed⟩ out of one's mind ⟨skull⟩.

Все выступавшие были в лоскут пьяны, все мололи одно и то же… (Ерофеев 1). Everyone who delivered a speech was stinking drunk; they all ground on about one and the same thing… (1a). ♦ «Давно мы с тобой не пили, Лёха, — удовлетворённо похохатывал гость, — вернусь, напьёмся — нальёмся в драбадан». — «В доску!» — «В лоск!» (Максимов 1). "You and I haven't had a drink for ages, Lyonya," the visitor chuckled contentedly. "When I get back we'll get stuck in—we'll get drunk as lords!" "Completely plastered!" "Out of our skulls!" (1a).

Сел он играть с какими-то жуликами, — понятно, проигрался в лоск. He got into a game with some card sharks. It's no wonder he lost his shirt.

Л-145 • ТЁМНАЯ ЛОША́ДКА coll [NP; usu. sing; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human); fixed WO] a person, occas. an opponent or a competitor, whose true character, feelings, plans, abilities etc are unknown (in sports, often an athlete or team from whom one may expect surprises): dark horse.

Л-146 • КАК ЛОМОВА́Я ЛО́ШАДЬ работать [как + NP; nom only; adv] (to work) very hard (usu. doing heavy, tiring labor): (be) a (real) workhorse; (work) like a horse ⟨a dog, a mule, a slave⟩.

Л-147 • САДИ́ТЬСЯ/СЕСТЬ В ЛУ́ЖУ ⟨В КАЛО́ШУ, В ГАЛО́ШУ⟩ coll [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to end up in a foolish, embarrassing position (because of failing to do sth. properly, making a blunder, revealing one's ignorance etc): X сел в лужу ≃ X fell flat on his face; X made a fool ⟨an ass, a jackass⟩ of himself; X had ⟨ended up with⟩ egg on ⟨all over⟩ his face; X put his foot in it; X came a cropper; X looked ⟨appeared⟩ ridiculous; X looked ⟨ended up looking⟩ pretty stupid; [lim.] X laid an egg; X got himself into a mess.

Партийные идеологи с предсказанием сроков очень часто садятся в лужу. Никита Хрущёв обещал построить коммунизм за 20 лет, но теперь ясно видно, что он вряд ли будет построен и через 200 лет (Войнович 1). When making predictions about time, Party ideologists often fall flat on their faces. Nikita Khrushchev promised that Communism would be built in twenty years, but now it's clear that it can scarcely be built in two hundred (1a).

Л-148 • САЖА́ТЬ/ПОСАДИ́ТЬ В ЛУ́ЖУ ⟨В КАЛО́ШУ, В ГАЛО́ШУ⟩ кого coll [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to put s.o. in an awkward, ridiculous, foolish position: X посадил Y-а в лужу ≃ X made a fool (out) of Y; X made Y look silly ⟨ridiculous⟩; X put Y on the spot; X tripped Y (up); [lim.] X got ⟨put, plunked⟩ Y into a jam.

Раздался дружный смех. Молодец Мёрзлый! Посадил секретаря [райкома] в лужу (Абрамов 1). Everyone laughed in unison. Good for you, Myorzly! You've plunked the Secretary [of the party District Committee] into a jam! (1a).

Л-149 • ОТ ЛУКА́ВОГО lit [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: abstr, often всё, всё это)] (of a theory, idea, action, or phenomenon that s.o. does not understand and deems unnecessary) sth. is completely uncalled-for, bad, and potentially harmful: X — от лукавого ≃ X is the work of the devil; X comes straight from the devil; [lim.] X is evil.

Всё, что не входило, не вмещалось в этот мир, в котором он вырос, выучился и по ступенькам дошёл до нынешнего положения, — было от лукавого (Гинзбург 2). Anything that did not form part of this world of his, to which he had been born, trained, and promoted step by step to his present position, was the work of the devil (2a).

Л-150 • ПОД ЛУНО́Й ⟨-ю⟩ [PrepP; these forms only; adv] in the world, on earth: in this world; under the sun.

Директор у нас был хороший, но увы, ничто не вечно под луной, — его сняли. Our director was a good man, but, alas, nothing in this world lasts forever: they fired him.

Л-151 • (как, будто, словно, точно) С ЛУНЫ́ СВАЛИ́ЛСЯ ⟨УПА́Л⟩ coll [VP; subj: human; past only; usu. used in questions; usu. this WO] one does not know things that are obvious, known to everybody: ты что, с луны свалился? ≃ where have you been all this time?; are you ⟨what are you,⟩ from another planet?; what planet do you come from?

«Приношу [плакат], а там…» — «Погоди, ради какого случая?» — «Ты что, с луны свалился? Ради Дня открытых убийств» (Аржак 1). "I took it [the poster] to them, and they…" "Wait a minute. In view of what occasion?" "Where have you been all this time? Public Murder Day, of course" (1a).

Л-152 • КАК ЛУНЬ седой, белый [как + NP; Invar; modif; may be used with pl subj] totally, absolutely (gray): completely gray; (one's hair is) snow-white ⟨white as snow⟩.

[Кречинский:] Смотришь, вот и старик отец идёт в комнату; седой как лунь, костылём подпирается… (Сухово-Кобылин 2). [K.:] Then into the room comes the aged father—hair white as snow, leaning on a crutch (2b).

Л-153 • ЛУ́ЧШЕ БЫ [used as particle; Invar] used to introduce a course of action preferable to what one or s.o. is doing, is going to do, or already did: [in refer. to the present or future] it would be better if…; one ⟨s.o.⟩ would do better (to do sth.); one ⟨s.o.⟩ would be better off (doing sth.); I wish (one or s.o. were ⟨did etc⟩); [in refer. to the past] it would have been better if…; one ⟨s.o.⟩ would have done better (to do sth.); one ⟨s.o.⟩ would have been better off (doing sth.); I wish (one or s.o. had been ⟨had done etc⟩); one ⟨s.o.⟩ should have (done sth. else ⟨behaved differently etc⟩) (instead).

«Слышал, что у вас в столицах нынче мода на вегетарианство и многие защитой животных увлекаются. Лучше б людей защищали» (Акунин 2). "I have heard that in Moscow and St. Petersburg vegetarianism is fashionable now and many people take a keen interest in the protection of animals. They would do better to protect people" (2a). ♦ «Обругали, что ли?» — «„Обругали!" — передразнил его Иван Матвеевич. — Лучше бы прибили!» (Гончаров 1). "Did they yell at you?" "Did they yell?" Ivan Matveyevich taunted him. "I wish they'd beaten me!" (1d).

Л-154 • ЛУ́ЧШЕ НЕ НА́ДО coll, approv [Invar; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: any common noun) or adv; fixed WO] sth. is extremely good, of very high quality, s.o. is excellent, entirely adept: the best there is; couldn't be better; you couldn't ask for better ⟨a better…⟩.

Мои друзья живут в прекрасном районе, квартира — лучше не надо. My friends live in a great neighborhood, and their apartment—you couldn't ask for better.

Л-155 • ЛУ́ЧШЕ ПО́ЗДНО, ЧЕМ НИКОГДА́ [saying] it is better that sth. expected or desired happens late than not at all: better late than never.

Л-156 • ТЕМ ЛУ́ЧШЕ [AdvP; Invar; usu. indep. sent or predic (subj: a clause); fixed WO] that (outcome, state of affairs etc) is better, more desirable to or advantageous for s.o. (than another outcome or state of affairs might have been): all ⟨so much⟩ the better; that's even better; [lim.] (it ⟨that⟩ is) just as well.

[Кашкина:] …Ты не думай, что я про тебя ничего не знаю. Кое-что мне всё-таки известно. [Шаманов:] Тем лучше (Вампилов 2). [K.:] …Don't think I don't know anything about you. A few things have come to my knowledge. [Sh.:] All the better (2a).

Л-157 • ОСТАВЛЯ́ЕТ ЖЕЛА́ТЬ ЛУ́ЧШЕГО ⟨МНО́ГОГО⟩ [VP; subj: usu. abstr; pres or past; fixed WO] sth. is unsatisfactory, not good enough, less than ideal: X оставляет желать лучшего ≃ X leaves much ⟨a great deal⟩ to be desired; X falls short (of the mark); X doesn't fill the bill.

«Я приму к сведению всё, что услышал сегодня, — объявил полицмейстер. — Ваш тон, сударь, оставляет желать лучшего, однако я обещаю лицам, уполномочившим вас, что разберусь…» (Стругацкие 1). "I will take everything into consideration," announced the police chief. "Your tone, sir, leaves much to be desired. However, I promise your superiors that I will look into the matter…" (1a).

Л-158 • ЛУ́ЧШЕЕ — ВРАГ ХОРО́ШЕГО [saying] by trying to achieve, obtain, or produce the very best, you risk losing something good that you already have: ≃ the best ⟨the perfect⟩ is the enemy of the good.

Л-159 • К ЛУ́ЧШЕМУ [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. abstr, often всё) or adv] improvment of the situation, even though it may not be immediately evident (often said when reacting to something undesirable): for the best ⟨better⟩; to the good; it is a good thing (that…); || перемена к лучшему ≃ change for the better.

Вот о чём я хотела Вам сообщить, когда осмелилась заглянуть в комнату. Вы меня выгнали и правильно сделали. Получилось к лучшему (Акунин 2). This is what I wanted to tell you when I dared to glance into the room. You drove me away, and you were right to do so. It has worked out for the best (2a).

Л-160 • НАВОСТРИ́ТЬ ЛЫ́ЖИ (куда, откуда) highly coll [VP; subj: human] to run away (or be about to run to or from some place): X навострил лыжи ≃ X took ⟨was ready to take⟩ to his heels; X skipped out; X took ⟨was about to take⟩ off (for some place).

«Дело известное, что мужик: на новой земле, да заняться ещё хлебопашеством, да ничего у него нет, ни избы, ни двора, убежит, как дважды два, навострит так лыжи, что и следа не отыщешь» (Гоголь 3). "You know perfectly well what a Russian peasant is like: settle him on new land and set him to till it, with nothing prepared for him, neither cottage nor farmstead, and, well, he'll run away, as sure as twice two makes four. He'll take to his heels and you won't find a trace of him" (3a).

Л-161 • НАПРАВЛЯ́ТЬ/НАПРА́ВИТЬ ЛЫ́ЖИ куда highly coll [VP; subj: human] to start off or be going in some direction: X направил лыжи в место Y ≃ X headed (off) for place Y; X set off ⟨out⟩ for place Y; X took off for place Y.

Л-162 • ЛЫ́КА ⟨-ом obs⟩ НЕ ВЯ́ЖЕТ highly coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] one is so drunk that he cannot speak coherently: X лыка не вяжет ≃ X (is so drunk that he) can't talk straight; X is too plastered ⟨tipsy⟩ to make any sense.

Вот так, когда нам представляется сделать доброе дело, мы чувствуем, что слишком трезвы для него, а когда в редчайших случаях к нам обращаются за мудрым советом, оказывается, что именно в этот час мы лыка не вяжем (Искандер 5). So it goes—whenever it occurs to us to do a good deed, we feel we're too sober for it, but on the very rare occasion when we're consulted for wise advice, it turns out to be precisely the moment we can't talk straight (5a).

Л-163 • НЕ ВСЯ́КО(Е) ЛЫ́КО В СТРО́КУ [saying] not every error or fault should be held against the person who committed it (said to excuse a person who has made a blunder; also said as advice not to carp on trivial matters): ≃ don't quibble over every trifle; everybody makes mistakes.

< In old Russia, strips («строки») of bast («лыко») were used to make woven sandals. Not all bast was of good enough quality for use as strips.

Л-164 • СТА́ВИТЬ/ПОСТА́ВИТЬ ВСЯ́КОЕ ЛЫ́КО В СТРО́КУ кому coll [VP; subj: human] to blame s.o. for any and every mistake: X ставит Y-у всякое лыко в строку ≃ X holds everything against Y; X blames ⟨sticks the blame on, pins the blame on⟩ Y for everything that goes wrong.

Л-165 • ЛЫ́КОМ ШИТ ⟨ШИ́ТЫЙ⟩ coll [AdjP; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human), pres only] one is unpolished, uneducated, uncultivated: X лыком шит ≃ X is a (country) bumpkin ⟨a hick, a yokel⟩; X is cut from simple cloth; [lim.] X was brought up in a barn.

Л-166 • НЕ ЛЫ́КОМ ШИТ ⟨ШИ́ТЫЙ⟩ coll [AdjP; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, оказаться (subj: human), pres or past, or detached modif (full form only)] one is as good as anyone else, is not lacking abilities, knowledge, manners etc: X не лыком шит ≃ X is no (country) bumpkin ⟨no slouch, no hick, no yokel⟩; X is no ⟨nobody's⟩ fool; X wasn't born yesterday; X knows what's what.

Слава Богу, пережили НЭП [новую экономическую политику], троцкистский заговор, бухаринскую оппозицию, космополитов и врачей-вредителей. Научились кой-чему, не лыком шиты (Буковский 1). Thank God, we've survived the NEP [New Economic Policy], the Trotskyist conspiracy, the Bukharinite opposition, the "rootless cosmopolitans," and the "doctor-wreckers." We've learned a thing or two along the way, we weren't born yesterday, you know (1a).

Л-167 • ИЗ ЛЮБВИ́ К ИСКУ́ССТВУ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to do sth.) exclusively for the pleasure one derives from doing it rather than for the sake of achieving some goal: (just) for the fun of it ⟨of the thing⟩; for the (sheer) love ⟨joy⟩ of it; for sheer pleasure.

Никто из нас не носит носков, связанных бабушкой, но она продолжает вязать их из любви к искусству. None of us ever wears the socks Grandma knits, but she keeps on knitting them for the sheer joy of it.

Л-168 • НЕ ОТКАЖИ́(ТЕ) В ЛЮБЕ́ЗНОСТИ [VP$_{imper}$; these forms only; foll. by infin; fixed WO] a polite request: (please) be so good ⟨kind⟩ (as to…).

Не откажите в любезности сообщить мне результаты конкурса. Please be so kind as to let me know the results of the competition.

Л-169 • ЛЮ́БО-ДО́РОГО ⟨ЛЮ́БО-МИ́ЛО⟩ coll [AdvP; these forms only; usu. predic with быть$_{ø}$ (impers or with subj: any common noun or infin)] (sth. is) very good, nice, (sth. is done, to do sth.) very well: (be) a (real) treat; (be) marvelous ⟨lovely, a pleasure etc⟩; || любо-дорого посмотреть ≃ (it's) a sight to see ⟨to behold⟩; (it's) a sight for sore eyes; (it's) a pleasure to look at ⟨to behold⟩; (it's) a (real) treat for the eyes.

…[Егорша] кивнул на чулан, прислушиваясь к песне. «Райка, что ли, поёт?» — спросил Михаил. «Ага. Пойдём, я сейчас её выкупаю — любо-дорого!» (Абрамов 1). …He [Egorsha] motioned toward the storeroom, from which singing could be heard. "That Raika singing?" asked Mikahil. "Yup. Come on. I'm going to give her a soaking. We're in for a treat!" (1a). ♦ «Теперь, вон, в столовой любо-дорого… На четыре гривенника ешь — не хочу…» (Максимов 3). "It's a real treat over there in the canteen nowadays…. Eat as much as you like for a few coppers…" (3a).

Л-170 • ЛЮБО́ВЬ ЗЛА — ПОЛЮ́БИШЬ И КОЗЛА́ [saying] love cannot be rationalized, you may end up falling in love with a person whom others consider inappropriate for you: ≃ beauty is in the eye of the beholder; love is blind.

Л-171 • СТА́РАЯ ЛЮБО́ВЬ НЕ РЖАВЕ́ЕТ [saying] an old, deep feeling does not pass with time: ≃ old loves are not easily forgotten.

Л-172 • всё КАК У ЛЮДЕ́Й (у кого, где) coll [как + PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: всё)] things are (or are done) the way they should be: everything is (being done)

as it should be; everything is (just) as ⟨the way⟩ it's supposed to be; everything is being done the way it's supposed to; || Neg всё не как у людей disapprov ≃ everything is (being done) all wrong; nothing is the way it's supposed to be; nothing is being done the way it's supposed to.

Виктор представил себе уютный вечерок: …бутылка, шампанское шипит в фужерах, перевязанная ленточкой коробка шоколаду и сам адвокат, запакованный в крахмал, галстук бабочкой. Всё как у людей… (Стругацкие 1). Victor imagined a comfortable tête-à-tête:… a bottle, champagne fizzing in crystal glasses, a box of chocolates tied up with a ribbon, and the lawyer himself, all starched up and wearing a bow tie. Everything just as it's supposed to be… (1a).

Л-173 • ПОСПЕШИ́ШЬ — ЛЮДЕ́Й НАСМЕШИ́ШЬ [saying] when a person does sth. hastily, without careful consideration, planning etc, he is likely to end up failing, looking ridiculous etc: ≃ haste makes waste.

Л-174 • ВСЕ МЫ ЛИ́ОДИ, ВСЕ (МЫ) ЧЕЛОВЕ́КИ [saying] we all have deficiencies and weaknesses (said to excuse a person's shortcomings; also said charitably of human weaknesses in general): ≃ we're only human; nobody's perfect.

Л-175 • ВЫВОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ВЕСТИ В ЛИ́ОДИ кого [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to be actively involved in helping s.o. to achieve a secure or prominent position in society, in life: X вывел Y-а в люди ≃ X set Y up in the world; X put ⟨set⟩ Y on Y's feet; X helped Y get on Y's feet; [lim.]: X made Y's career.

[Добротворский:] Ваш папенька… в люди меня вывел, я прежде очень маленький человек был (Островский 1). [D.:] Your papa… set me up in the world: before that I was a very insignificant man (1b). ♦ А там, гляди, устроится попрочнее, заслужит награду, ему комнатку дадут и возьмёт он к себе когонибудь из братишек, чтобы и его в люди вывести (Мандельштам 1). He… would soon settle in a more permanent way, get some kind of award and a room to himself, after which he would invite one of his younger brothers to join him and help him get on his feet as well (1a).

Л-176 • ВЫХОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЙТИ ⟨ВЫБИВА́ТЬСЯ/ВЫ́БИТЬСЯ⟩ В ЛИ́ОДИ [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to achieve a prominent position in society, achieve success in life as a result of determined effort: X вышел в люди ≃ X rose ⟨came up, moved up⟩ in the world; X made his way in the world; X made his way up (in the world); X became somebody; X got ahead in the world; X made something of himself; X made it; [lim.] X worked his way up from…; X carved out a career for himself.

«Ну что, Евгений, выходишь в люди, — бодро сказал Силаев. — Скоро вообще большим человеком будешь» (Войнович 5). "Well, Evgeny, you're moving up in the world," said Silaev heartily. "Pretty soon you'll be a big shot" (5a). ♦ «Татьяна у нас будет учёная, — сказала Лизка. — Вот уж эта выбьется в люди» (Абрамов 1). "Tatyana will be a scholar," said Lizka. "That one will really make her way in the world" (1b). ♦ [Анастасия Ефремовна:] Мы думаем о том, чтобы ты в люди вышел, и считаться с твоими капризами больше не намерены! (Розов 1). [A.E.:] …We want you to be somebody—so we don't intend to pay any attention to your whims (1a).

Л-177 • ЖИВУ́Т (ЖЕ) ЛИ́ОДИ! coll [Interj; these forms only; var. with же is more common; fixed WO] (said with a trace of envy or a mixture of envy and admiration when reacting to sth. desirable that another possesses, has the opportunity to do etc) some people are lucky: some people know how to live; some people have it good; that's the life! [lim.] the way some people live!

Он нагнулся к туалетному столику, вытащил бутылку и стакан… «Ничего, если из одного стакана?» — «Это смотря что», — ответил Виктор и снова сел. — «Шотландское… Устраивает?» — «Настоящее шотландское?» — «Настоящий скоч. Получайте». Он протянул Виктору стакан. — «Живут же люди», — сказал Виктор и выпил (Стругацкие 1). He bent over to the night table and pulled out a bottle and a glass…. "Is it all right if we share a glass?" "It depends on what's in it," answered Victor and sat down again. "Scotch…. Does that suit you?" "Real Scotch?" "The real thing. Allow me." He held out the glass to Victor. "Some people have it good," said Victor (1a).

Л-178 • ИДТИ́/ПОЙТИ́ ⟨УЙТИ́⟩ В ЛИ́ОДИ obs [VP; subj: human] to leave one's home in search of a job (usu. working for s.o. on whose premises one can reside): X пошёл в люди ≃ X left home to earn his living; X went out to work as a live-in hired hand ⟨as a live-in domestic etc⟩.

Двенадцати лет бабка пошла в люди, была прислугой, нянчила детей, потом стала прачкой (Кузнецов 1). At the age of twelve my grandmother went out to work; she looked after other people's children, worked as a domestic servant and then became a washerwoman (1b).

Л-179 • ЛИ́ОДИ ДО́БРОЙ ВО́ЛИ media [NP; pl only; fixed WO] (formerly used by the Soviet media as a propagandistic cliché; used ironically by émigré writers) people striving for peace, for the good of the people: people of good will.

Ты себе не представляешь, Коля, до чего жестоки и тупы многие простые люди доброй воли (Алешковский 1). You have no idea how cruel and dense a lot of people of good will can be, Kolya (1a).

Л-180 • НА́ ЛИ́ОДИ coll выходить, показываться и т.п.; В ЛИ́ОДИ obs [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to go out, show o.s.) in society, in a public place: (be) with people; (be) among ⟨around⟩ other people; (appear) in public; (go out etc to) see ⟨call on⟩ people.

Душа её, взлетев и возликовав ещё на пашне, продолжала играть, просилась на люди, но что-то удерживало, наговаривало, что это не её день, не её победа, что она к победе никакого отношения не имеет (Распутин 2). Her soul, which had flown up and soared back in the fields, was still playing, begging to be with people, but something was holding her back, telling her that it wasn't her day, her victory, that she had nothing to do with the victory (2a).

Л-181 • СВОИ́ ЛИ́ОДИ — СОЧТЁМСЯ [saying] relatives, friends, people who are close will always be able to pay each other back, return a favor etc: ≃ it's all among friends; it's all in the family; what's money ⟨a favor etc⟩ between friends?

Л-182 • ЖИТЬ ⟨СЛУЖИ́ТЬ⟩ В ЛИ́ОДЯХ obs [VP; subj: human] to work for s.o. while residing on his premises: X жил в людях ≃ X was a hired hand ⟨a live-in servant⟩; X was in the service of others.

Л-183 • НА ЛИ́ОДЯХ coll; В ЛИ́ОДЯХ obs [PrepP; these forms only; adv or subj-compl with бывать, быть$_{ø}$ etc (subj: human)] in the company of others: in public; in company; in front ⟨in the presence⟩ of others ⟨of other people⟩; before other people; (be) among ⟨around⟩ (other) people.

Теперь им совсем плохо, лежат пластом и до утра… на людях появиться не смогут (Стругацкие 3). Now they were quite ill, flat on their backs, and could not appear in public before morning (3a). ♦ То ли оттого, что у тёти Маши муж был нелюдим, то ли это было свойством её собственной натуры, но тётя Маша любила бывать на людях (Искандер 3). Whether because Aunt Masha's husband was an unsociable person, or because it was a trait of her own nature, Aunt Masha loved to be among people (3a).

Л-184 • ТЯНУ́ТЬ/ПОТЯНУ́ТЬ ЛЯ́МКУ coll [VP; subj: human; usu. impfv] to be occupied for a long period of time with a difficult, unpleasant, monotonous task: X тянул лямку ≃ X slaved ⟨toiled⟩ (away); X sweated it out; X performed ⟨was engaged in⟩ drudgery; X was ⟨remained⟩ in harness; X drudged; [lim.] X sweated.

Максим кончает пехотное училище, будет тянуть армейскую лямку (Рыбаков 2). …Max was finishing infantry school and would sweat it out in the army (2a). ♦ …При изменившихся обстоятельствах мне казалось невыносимым тянуть всё ту же лямку (Гинзбург 2). …In the changed circumstances, it seemed insufferable to me to have to perform the same drudgery as before (2a).

Л-185 • ТОЧИ́ТЬ/ПОТОЧИ́ТЬ ЛЯ́СЫ ⟨БАЛЯ́СЫ⟩ (с кем) highly coll [VP; subj: human] to be occupied with idle chatter (often to the detriment of the matter at hand): X точит лясы (с Y-ом) ≃ X is chewing the fat (with Y); X is shooting the breeze ⟨the bull⟩ (with Y); X is wagging his tongue.

…За делом Алёша лясы не точил, знал прежде дело, а уж потом всё остальное… (Распутин 4). Alyosha never chewed the fat when there was work to be done, he did the work first and then whatever else he might have felt like… (4a). ♦ Вот мы с вами сидим, лясы точим и ноги чешем, а там, за окном, быть может… всему свету наступает конец… (Терц 6). Here we sit, you and I, wagging our tongues and scratching our heels, and who knows if there, outside the window… the whole world is coming to an end… (6a).

М-2 • НА МАЗИ́ highly coll [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: abstr, usu. всё, дело)] in a favorable state, condition, close to completion or realization: X на мази ≃ X is going smoothly ⟨fine⟩; X is almost all set; X looks like a sure thing; X is practically in the bag; X is well underway.

Ипполит Матвеевич внимательно поглядел на перильца, за которыми стояла чета. «Рождение? Смерть?» — «Сочетаться», — повторил мужчина в пиджаке… Девица прыснула. Дело было на мази (Ильф и Петров 1). Hippolytus Matveevich looked attentively at the railing behind which the couple stood. "Birth? Death?" "Register a union," repeated the man in the jacket… The damsel burst into a giggle. Everything was going fine (1b).

М-3 • КУДА́ МАКА́Р ТЕЛЯ́Т НЕ ГОНЯ́Л coll [subord clause; Invar; usu. used as adv; fixed WO] very far away, to a very remote, far-off place: to the back of beyond; to the middle of nowhere; to the land of no return; to a ⟨some⟩ godforsaken place ⟨hole etc⟩ (miles from anywhere ⟨nowhere⟩).

«Посмел бы возражать, завтра же отправили бы, куда Макар телят не гонял. На урановые рудники» (Копелев 1). "If he dared argue, tomorrow he'd be shipped off to the back of beyond. To the uranium mines" (1a).

М-4 • НА БЕ́ДНОГО МАКА́РА ВСЕ ШИ́ШКИ ВА́ЛЯТСЯ [saying] new troubles arise for an unfortunate person already burdened with many troubles: ≃ when it rains, it pours; it never rains but it pours; trouble and I ⟨you etc⟩ are never far apart; trouble rides behind and gallops with me ⟨you etc⟩; (I ⟨you etc⟩ have) lots of luck and all of it bad; [lim.] (I ⟨you etc⟩) can't win for losing; things are going from bad to worse.

М-5 • ТАКИ́М МАКА́РОМ highly coll [NP$_{instrum}$; Invar; adv; fixed WO] 1. in the following manner or fashion: this way; this is how; like this; || таким же макаром ≃ in the (exact) same way.

Действовать тут надо таким макаром: сначала обсуди это дело у себя в отделе, а потом уже поговори с директором. This is how you should handle it: first discuss the matter in your department and then bring it up with the director.

2. that is the state of affairs (usu. used to sum up what had been previously said): that's the way it is ⟨goes⟩; that's about the size of it; that's how things stand.

[Жарков:] Вот, брат… таким макаром… Двух жизней не проживёшь, так хоть одну дожить не по-собачьи (Розов 4). [Zh.:] Well, that's about the size of it, mate…. You can't live twice, so make sure the life you do live is a decent one (4a).

М-6 • МАЛ, ДА УДА́Л; МА́ЛЕНЬКИЙ, ДА УДА́ЛЕНЬКИЙ [saying; often used predicatively] small in size but very good, excellent (said of a very young person who is very smart, a small person who is very brave etc; also said of a thing, a place etc that is small in size but excellent, striking in quality): ≃ good things ⟨the best things⟩ come in small packages; dynamite comes in small packages; small head, big ideas ⟨brain⟩; [lim.] small is beautiful; big buckets can be filled at small streams; little pigeons can carry great messages.

М-7 • МАЛ МАЛА́ МЕ́НЬШЕ coll [AdjP; Invar; usu. detached postmodif; fixed WO] 1. (of many small children) all are very young—the oldest is young and the others even younger: one smaller ⟨younger⟩ than the other; (all small,) each (one) smaller than the next; (all young,) each (one) younger than the next.

«Вдовой уже взял её, с троими детьми, мал мала меньше» (Достоевский 3). "When I married her she was already a widow with three children, each one smaller than the next" (3b).

2. (of many small objects) all are small—the largest is small and the others are even smaller: one smaller than the other; each (one) smaller than the next.

М-8 • ОТ МА́ЛА ДО ВЕЛИ́КА coll [PrepP; Invar; usu. nonagreeing postmodif; usu. used after все, все люди etc; fixed WO] 1. everyone regardless of age, absolutely everyone: young and old (alike); both young and old; from the youngest to the oldest; from the oldest to the youngest.

Шёл [Прокофий] с ней за арбой с имуществом по хутору — высыпали на улицу все от мала до велика (Шолохов 2). As he [Prokofy] walked with her behind a wagon carrying all their belongings, the whole village, young and old, came out to watch (2a).

2. every member (of a certain group, profession etc) regardless of his status, degree of talent etc: (both) great and small; great and small alike.

«Это и есть новое зрение, то самое, о котором вот уже пятьдесят лет говорят все художники от мала до велика» (Каверин 2). "It's the new vision which every artist, both great and small, has been talking about for the past fifty years" (2a).

М-9 • ПО МА́ЛЕНЬКОЙ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. играть, ходить ~ (in refer. to a card game) (to play) for small amounts of money: (play) for small stakes.

2. выпить, пропустить ~ (to drink) a small amount of alcohol: have (just) a drop; take a nip; wet one's whistle.

Дядя Лазарь работал со мной на обувной фабрике, в ОТК, по-прежнему попивал, не валялся в канаве, но прикладывался по маленькой, без этой маленькой не мог работать… (Рыбаков 1). Uncle Lazar worked with me at the factory, he still drank as before, not that you'd find him in a ditch, but he had to have a drop or he couldn't work… (1a).

М-10 • ПО МА́ЛЕНЬКОМУ ⟨ПО-МА́ЛЕНЬКОМУ⟩; ПО МА́ЛОМУ ДЕ́ЛУ euph, coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv; usu. with хотеть, нужно, сходить etc] to urinate: go ⟨do⟩ number one; take a leak; make water.

«Вот это квас! Аж дух зашибает. Погоди, бабка, не уноси. Сейчас я сбегаю по малому делу, ещё выпью, а то уже некуда, под завязку» (Войнович 5). "That's kvass. Takes your breath away. Hold on, don't take it away. I'll go run and take a leak and then I'll have some more. There isn't room for another drop in me right now" (5a).

М-11 • РАЗЛЮЛИ́ МАЛИ́НА highly coll, approv [NP; usu. subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. житьё, жизнь) or adv; also used as Interj; fixed WO] (sth. is) very good, wonderful; (life or living conditions in some place) could not be better; (sth. is going, is done etc) very well, wonderfully: bliss-out ⟨blissout⟩; super(-duper); terrific; hunky-dory; great; dandy; sheer ⟨pure⟩ bliss.

М-12 • МА́ЛО ЛИ [AdvP; Invar; adv or premodif] 1. ~ кто, что, где, когда, как, какой и т.п. many different people, things, places, times, ways, kinds etc (and it may not be especially relevant what precisely they all are; in some contexts the speaker shifts the emphasis to this aspect of irrelevance, esp. when he is irritated by a question, sees no need to specify sth. etc): all kinds ⟨sorts⟩ of people ⟨things, ways, places etc⟩; in all kinds ⟨sorts⟩ of ways ⟨places etc⟩; at all different times ⟨places etc⟩; all different kinds ⟨ways⟩; plenty of (different) people ⟨places etc⟩; lots ⟨any number⟩ of people ⟨places etc⟩; you never know ⟨who knows, (there's) no telling⟩ who ⟨what etc⟩; [with the emphasis on the unimportance of specifics] what difference does it make who ⟨where etc⟩?; it doesn't matter ⟨as if it matters, as if it could matter, what does it matter⟩ who etc; who cares what etc.

Мало ли что с ней случалось в жизни: болезни, выздоровления, поездки, разные встречи, любовь… (Залыгин 1). All sorts of things had happened in her life: illnesses, recoveries, journeys, various meetings, love… (1a). ♦ «Что я разве друг его какой?.. или родственник? Правда, мы жили долго под одною кровлей… Да мало ли с кем я не жил?..» (Лермонтов 1). "I'm not a friend of his am I, or a relation? True, we lived a good while under the same roof—but then I've lived with plenty of different people in my time" (1c). ♦ Она попросила домашних окликнуть его, узнать, куда это он заторопился, но никто не стал его окликать: мало ли куда человек идёт! (Искандер 4) She asked the others to hail him, find out where he was off to in such a hurry, but no one bothered: as if it could matter where the man was going! (4a).

2. ~ кого-чего [usu. in exclamations] a great deal: many; lots of; plenty of; no end of; [lim.] as if there weren't ⟨one didn't have etc⟩ enough…

Можно иметь диплом и быть дубиной. Мало ли примеров! (Трифонов 1). One could have a degree and still be a fool. There were plenty of examples of that around! (1a).

М-13 • МА́ЛО ЛИ ЧТО coll [Invar; fixed WO] 1. [used in a rejoinder, usu. foll. by a predic that is a repetition of the predic from the interlocutor's preceding remark] it is inconsequential: it ⟨that⟩ makes no difference; as if it matters (that ⟨what⟩…)!; it doesn't matter (that ⟨what⟩…); what of it?; so what?; so what if person X does ⟨has, is etc⟩?

2. [usu. indep. sent] (s.o. takes a precautionary measure, acts in a cautious manner, prepares himself etc because) any number of things (usu. undesirable) might occur: you never know; anything could happen.

Катерине он советовал сбыть всё [всю картошку]… Но три куля Катерина всё-таки оставила — мало ли что! (Распутин 4). He suggested that Katerina sell all of hers [her potatoes]…. But Katerina still kept three bags—you never know! (4a).

М-14 • МА́ЛО ТОГО́ [AdvP; Invar; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] besides that, apart from that, further: moreover; more than that; (and) what's more; (and) not only that; as if that were not enough.

…Сам Николай Гаврилович [Чернышевский] был человек громадного, всестороннего ума, громадной творческой воли… Мало того, я утверждаю, что критик он был превосходный, — вдумчивый, честный, смелый… (Набоков 1). …Nikolai Gavrilovich Chernyshevski himself was a man with a vast, versatile mind, with enormous, creative willpower…. Moreover I maintain that he was a superb critic—penetrating, honest, brave… (1a).

М-15 • МА́ЛО ТОГО́ ЧТО… (, ЕЩЁ И…) [coord Conj] apart from, in addition to: not only… (but…); it is not enough that… (you ⟨he, it etc⟩ also…); not simply… (but) …as well.

…Перебежал на Запад скульптор Игорёха Серебро… Мало того что перебежал, ещё и снял штаны перед всем миром, и оказалось — не эллин, не бог, оказались под штанами замшелые ляжки старого стукача (Аксёнов 6). …The sculptor Igor Serebro had defected to the West…. And not only had he defected, but he had also stripped before the eyes of the whole world and revealed… not the figure of a Greek god but the hairy thighs of an old stool pigeon, a longtime secret informer for the KGB (6a).

М-16 • МА́ЛО ЧТО [Invar; subj or obj; fixed WO] a (very) small quantity or amount: not (very) much (at all); (very) little; hardly anything; [lim.] (very) few [NPs]; hardly any [NPs].

Басню декламировали с выражением… пожалуй, в стиле Малого театра (хоть мы, будучи одесскими мальчиками, мало что о нём знали) (Олеша 3). We recited the fable with expression… perhaps even in the style of the Maly Theater (although being Odessa schoolboys, we didn't know very much about that) (3a).

М-17 • БЕЗ МА́ЛОГО coll; БЕЗ МА́ЛА substand [PrepP; these forms only; usu. used with a quantit NP as nonagreeing modif] a little less than (the amount, number etc named): almost; just about; nearly; slightly less than; just under; a little short of; a bit less than; practically.

…Он объяснил себе свои предчувствия так, что слишком давно ничего не писал «своего», уже, без малого, год, даже больше года… (Битов 2). …He explained his premonitions by telling himself that it was too long since he had written anything of his own, almost a year already, even more than a year (2a). ♦ «В чём же вы провинились?» — «Да не мы… Соседи. Нам заодно досталось…» — «А те что?» — «Да без малого все семь смертных грехов» (Пастернак 1). "What have you done?" "We didn't do anything, it was our neighbors; we got it too for good measure…" "And what crime had they committed?" "Just about all the seven deadly sins…" (1a).

М-18 • СА́МАЯ МА́ЛОСТЬ coll [NP; fixed WO] 1. ~ (чего) [subj or obj] a very small amount (of sth.): a tiny ⟨the tiniest⟩ bit; just a tad; hardly any.

2. [accus only; adv] to a small extent: a tiny ⟨the tiniest⟩ bit; (just) barely; hardly at all; a little (bit).

Она [Наталья] неотрывно глядела на Мятлева. Тёмные, глубокие, прекрасные её глаза немного пугали его, уж так, едваедва, самую малость (Окуджава 2). She [Natalya] stared intently at Myatlev. Her dark, deep, lovely eyes frightened him—just barely, the tiniest… bit (2a).

М-19 • МА́ЛЫЕ МИ́РА СЕГО́ obs [NP; pl only; fixed WO] people of low social status: the lowly (of this world); those of little importance.

М-20 • ДО́БРЫЙ ⟨СЛА́ВНЫЙ⟩ МА́ЛЫЙ coll [NP; sing only; usu. subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, слыть etc (subj: human, male); fixed WO] a good, pleasant, well-meaning person (although, usu., in no way remarkable): good ⟨nice, decent⟩ fellow ⟨man⟩; good-natured (fellow ⟨guy etc⟩); splendid fellow; fine chap; regular guy.

«Твой отец добрый малый, — промолвил Базаров, — но он человек отставной, его песенка спета» (Тургенев 2). "Your father's a good man," Bazarov said, "but he's antiquated; his song's been sung" (2g). ♦ [Тузенбах:] По-видимому, [Вершинин] славный малый. Не глуп — это несомненно (Чехов 5). [T.:] [Vershinin] seems to be a nice fellow. Not stupid, that's certain (5a). ♦ Он был добрый малый, но ветрен и беспутен до крайности. Главною его слабостью была страсть к прекрасному полу; нередко за свои нежности получал он толчки, от которых охал по целым суткам (Пушкин 2). He was good-natured, but flighty and extremely wayward. His chief weakness was a passion for the fair sex; all too often, however, his tender advances were parried by blows that set him moaning and groaning for days on end (2c).

М-21 • МА́ЛЬЧИК ДЛЯ БИТЬЯ́ [NP; fixed WO] a person blamed for the faults or misdeeds of others: whipping boy; fall guy.

М-22 • МА́ЛЬЧИК С ПА́ЛЬЧИК folk [NP; sing only; only мальчик declines; fixed WO] a tiny boy (in folk tales one who acts wisely and resourcefully): boy as big as a thumb; boy the size of a thumb. Cf. Tom Thumb.

Обо всём этом я думаю, когда дед рассказывает мне сказки. Он долго рассказывает. Разные есть — смешные есть, особенно про мальчика с пальчик по имени Чыпалак… (Айтматов 1). I think about all this when grandfather tells me tales. He tells long, long ones. He has all kinds—funny ones, especially about the boy the size of a thumb called Chipalak… (1b).

М-23 • КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ МАМА́Й ПРОШЁЛ coll [как etc + VP$_{subj}$; these forms only; fixed WO] there is complete disorder, terrible devastation (in some place): it's as if an army had marched through (some place); (some place) looks like a war zone; (it's) complete havoc (in some place); (some place) looks as if ⟨like⟩ it's been hit ⟨struck⟩ by a tornado.

М-24 • НА МАНЕ́Р coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. ~ какой in a certain fashion (as specified), according to the fashion or custom of (some place or time): in the [AdjP] fashion ⟨manner, style⟩; after the [AdjP] fashion ⟨manner⟩; à la; || на русский ⟨французский и т.п.⟩ манер ≃ Russian-style ⟨French-style etc⟩.

…Волос они на голове не носили ни хохлами, ни буклями, ни на манер чёрт меня побери, как говорят французы; волосы у них были или низко подстрижены, или прилизаны… (Гоголь 3). They did not wear their hair in a long forelock, nor in curls, nor in the devil-may-care style—as the French call it; they wore it short-cropped or slicked down… (3e).

2. ~ кого-чего similar to, resembling s.o. or sth.: like s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; in imitation of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩.

Постепенно упорядочили свою деятельность внуки Карла Маркса, кропоткинцы, энгельсовцы и им подобные, за исключением буйной корпорации детей лейтенанта Шмидта, которую, на манер польского сейма, вечно раздирала анархия (Ильф и Петров 2). Little by little, order was established among the grandchildren of Karl Marx, the Kropotkins, the Engelses, and others. The only exception was the unruly guild of Lieutenant Schmidt's children, which, like the Polish parliament, was always torn by anarchy (2d). ♦ …[Три девушки] стали настраивать свои чонгури… Потом по знаку одной из них они [девушки] ударили по струнам — и полилась мелодия, которую они тут же подхватили голосами и запели на манер старинных горных песен без слов (Искандер 6). …[The three girls] began tuning their chonguris…. Then one of them gave a signal and they began to play. Their voices immediately took up the melody on the strings and they began singing in imitation of the mountaineer's old-fashioned song without words (6a).

М-25 • МА́НИЯ ВЕЛИ́ЧИЯ [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a delusional and obsessive conviction of one's own great importance: megalomania; delusion(s) of grandeur ⟨greatness⟩; || у X-а мания величия ≃ X is a megalomaniac.

М-26 • МА́ННА НЕБЕ́СНАЯ [NP; sing only; fixed WO] sth. desired, much needed, long-awaited that s.o. receives (usu. unexpectedly): manna from heaven.

После этих посещений на нас вдруг свалилась манна небесная — меня пригласили в горжилотдел «для переговоров об улучшении квартирных условий» (Гинзбург 2). After these visits came manna from heaven: I was invited to the town housing department to "discuss an improvement in your accomodations" (2a).

М-27 • ПИТА́ТЬСЯ МА́ННОЙ НЕБЕ́СНОЙ coll, humor [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to eat almost nothing: X питается манной небесной ≃ X lives on air.

Ты так похудела! Ты что, питаешься манной небесной? You've gotten so thin! What are you doing, living on air?

М-28 • КАК МА́ННЫ НЕБЕ́СНОЙ ждать кого-чего, жаждать чего и т.п. [как + NP; Invar; adv (intensif); fixed WO] (to wait for s.o. or sth.) with great impatience, desire, (to crave sth.) intensely: X ждёт Y-а как манны небесной ≃ X is waiting for Y like manna from heaven; X (just) can't wait for Y; X is just ⟨simply⟩ dying for ⟨to get⟩ thing Y; X is yearning for thing Y.

М-29 • КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ ПО МАНОВЕ́НИЮ ⟨ПО МА́НИЮ obs⟩ ВОЛШЕ́БНОГО ЖЕ́ЗЛА lit; КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ ПО МАНОВЕ́НИЮ ВОЛШЕ́БНОЙ ПА́ЛОЧКИ [как etc. + PrepP; these forms only; adv; usu. used with pfv verbs; fixed WO] very quickly, with ease, without difficulty: (as if ⟨though⟩) with a wave of a ⟨one's⟩ magic wand; as if by magic.

Она [Александрина] решила дождаться вечера, а дождавшись, торопливо побежала к Москве-реке… Но чья-то сильная рука помешала ей осуществить трагическое намерение. Человек, спасший её, оказался профессором медицины. Он дал ей выплакаться, девичье горе недолговечно, и вот перед ней, как по мановению волшебной палочки, открылась дивная страна… Он предложил Александрине поселиться в его доме, где у неё будет своя комната и все права члена семьи (Окуджава 2). She [Alexandrina] decided to wait for evening and then, when it came, ran to the Moscow River…. But someone's strong hand kept her from realizing her tragic plan. The man who saved her was a professor of medicine. He let her have her cry—a young girl's sorrow is not long-lasting—and with the wave of a magic wand, a new world opened before her…. He invited Alexandrina to live in his house, where she would have her own room and all the rights of a member of the family (2a).

М-30 • НАВОДИ́ТЬ/НАВЕСТИ́ (на себя) МАРАФЕ́Т coll [VP; subj: human] (more often of women) to make one's appearance neater or more attractive: X наводит на себя марафет ≃ X is sprucing himself up; X is freshening up; woman X is fixing her face.

Проснувшись… [Аркадий] переоделся в гражданское, навёл на себя всяческий блеск и марафет — и был таков (Залыгин 1). On waking… he [Arkady] changed into civilian clothes, spruced himself up and was gone (1a).

М-31 • ВЫ́СШЕЙ ⟨ПЕ́РВОЙ⟩ МА́РКИ coll [NP_{gen}; these forms only; nonagreeing postmodif; fixed WO] (usu. of some negative quality or phenomenon) to or of the highest degree: of the first ⟨highest⟩ order; of the first water; of ⟨in⟩ the first degree; first-class [NP]; [lim.] of the worst type.

Насчёт газеты. Прямо завтра с утра: позвонить куда нужно, написать, свезти, безобразие вопиющее, вредительство высшей марки… (Трифонов 1). As far as the newspaper sketch was concerned, he must start in right away, the next morning. He should write it up, make phone calls wherever necessary, and deliver it in person. It was a crying shame, sabotage of the highest order… (1a).

М-32 • ПОД МА́РКОЙ чего [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] (to do sth.) concealing one's true motives by adopting a false cover, acting in an insincere manner etc (as specified): under the guise ⟨the pretext⟩ of.

Сосед был человек неважнецкий. Комнату занял нахраписто после войны под маркой того, что инвалид (Трифонов 1). This neighbor was not a very nice man. He had seized his own one-room apartment right after the war, and rather highhandedly, under the guise of being a disabled veteran (1a).

М-33 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ ⟨ВЫДЕ́РЖИВАТЬ⟩ МА́РКУ [VP; subj: human] to display the standards of behavior required by some group or specific to some category of people, thus maintaining the reputation of that group or confirming one's membership in that category of people: X держит марку ≃ X keeps up appearances; X upholds his reputation (as…); [lim.] X upholds the reputation ⟨the high standards⟩ of (some group etc).

[Бакченин:] Я марку держу: бедные вы, говорю, вот я живу — как бог! Но тебе скажу откровенно: нехорошо так жить (Панова 1). [B.:] I keep up appearances: you poor fellows, I say, look how I live—like a god! But let me tell you frankly, my love, living like that is no good (1a).

М-34 • ПОД МА́СКОЙ ⟨ПОД ЛИЧИ́НОЙ⟩ кого-чего [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] hiding one's true identity, motives etc by pretending to be s.o. or sth. one is not: under the guise ⟨the cover⟩ of; under ⟨behind, beneath⟩ a ⟨the⟩ mask of; disguised as; the cover of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ conceals…

«Органами следствия установлено, что под личиной рядового Чонкина скрывался матёрый враг нашего строя, представитель высшей дворянской аристократии князь Голицын» (Войнович 4). "Our investigative organs have established that the cover of Private Chonkin concealed a sworn enemy of our way of life, a representative of the high court aristocracy, Prince Golitsyn" (4a).

М-35 • НАДЕВА́ТЬ/НАДЕ́ТЬ (на себя) МА́СКУ ⟨ЛИЧИ́НУ⟩; НОСИ́ТЬ МА́СКУ ⟨ЛИЧИ́НУ⟩ all rather lit [VP; subj: human] to conceal one's true self, pretend to be s.o. or sth. one is not: X надевает (на себя) маску ≃ X wears a mask; X plays a role ⟨a part⟩.

М-36 • СБРА́СЫВАТЬ/СБРО́СИТЬ (с себя) МА́СКУ; СНИМА́ТЬ/СНЯТЬ МА́СКУ ⟨ЛИЧИ́НУ⟩ all rather lit [VP; subj: human] to reveal who or what one really is, stop pretending: X сбросил маску ≃ X took ⟨threw⟩ off his mask; X dropped the pretense.

[Львов:] Полноте, кого вы хотите одурачить? Сбросьте маску (Чехов 4). [L.:] Enough of that! Whom are you trying to fool? Drop this pretense (4a).

М-37 • СРЫВА́ТЬ/СОРВА́ТЬ ⟨СНИМА́ТЬ/СНЯТЬ⟩ МА́СКУ ⟨МА́СКИ⟩ с кого all rather lit [VP; subj: usu. human; often after надо, должен etc] to show who, what, or what kind of person s.o. really is: X сорвёт с Y-а маску ≃ X will strip ⟨rip, tear⟩ off Y's mask; X will show Y for what Y really is.

Полная измена Гримма… Всё упиралось в Гримма — и важно было сейчас же ошельмовать его, разоблачить, сорвать маску (Солженицын 5). Grimm was an out-and-out traitor…. He blocked their way completely: it was urgently necessary to ruin his reputation, expose him, strip off his mask (5a).

М-38 • ПОДЛИВА́ТЬ/ПОДЛИ́ТЬ МА́СЛА В ОГО́НЬ [VP; subj: human or abstr; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to intensify a feeling (often negative), a mood, s.o.'s interest in s.o. or sth. etc: X подлил масла в огонь ≃ X added fuel to the fire ⟨the flames⟩; X poured oil on the fire ⟨the flames⟩; X fanned the flames; X threw gasoline on the fire.

Теперь все были против него [Василия]. Теперь уж его никто не защищал, только подливали масла в огонь… (Аллилуева 1). Everyone… was against Vasily now. Not only did no one come forward in his defense, but everyone added fuel to the flames (1a).

М-39 • МА́СЛО МА́СЛЯНОЕ [NP; fixed WO] the repetition of sth. already said in different words without clarifying anything: (it's like saying) salt is salty ⟨water is wet etc⟩.

Люблю, когда моих детей хвалят, — это мне как маслом по сердцу. I love it when people praise my kids—it's like music to my ears.

М-41 • КАК ПО МА́СЛУ идти, получаться, течь и т.п. coll [как + PrepP; Invar; adv] (of affairs, undertakings etc)

(to move along, proceed) very smoothly, without any difficulties or hindrances: without a hitch; swimmingly; like clockwork; like a well-oiled machine; [in past contexts only] (things) could not have gone better.

Пружины разбитого матраца кусали его, как блохи. Он не чувствовал этого. Он ещё неясно представлял себе, что последует вслед за получением ордеров, но был уверен, что тогда всё пойдёт как по маслу… (Ильф и Петров 1). The springs of the battered mattress nipped him like fleas, but he did not feel them. He still only had a vague idea of what would follow once the orders had been obtained, but was sure everything would go swimmingly (1a).

М-42 • В (О́БЩЕЙ) МА́ССЕ; В МА́ССЕ СВОЕ́Й [PrepP; these forms only; usu. refers to count nouns and collect nouns народ, публика etc; usu. sent adv] 1. in the overwhelming greater number of cases, the overwhelmingly larger portion (of some group is…): most (of the) [NP]; in the main; for the most part; the majority (of).

…Соколовы в массе своей трезвенники. Улыбки у них не встретишь (Коротюков 1). Most Sokolovs were teetotalers. They never smiled (1a). ♦ Мелькали гимназические шинели со светлыми пуговицами… но в массе преобладали солдатско-офицерские (Шолохов 3). An occasional gymnasium greatcoat with light-coloured buttons… was to be seen among them, but most of the column wore officers' and soldiers' greatcoats (3a).

2. considered generally, without taking details into account: on the whole; by and large; mostly; (taken) in the mass.

Народ в массе своей недостаточно информирован. On the whole, the public is not well enough informed. ♦ [Захар:] Среди рабочих есть очень любопытные фигуры, но в массе — я соглашаюсь — они очень распущенны… (Горький 1). [Z.:] There are some very interesting individuals among the workers, but taken in the mass, I agree, they're unruly and dissolute (1a).

…Заместитель начальника полиции, точно исполняя приказ своего начальника, лично открыл камеру, в которой сидел дядя Сандро, и выпустил его, сказав при этом: «Катись к едрёной матери, пока сторож в сознании» (Искандер 3). …The deputy chief of police, executing his chief's order with precision, personally opened the door to Uncle Sandro's cell and released him, saying, "Get the hell out of here while the watchman's still conscious" (3a).

М-49 • ВЫСО́КИЕ МАТЕ́РИИ lit [NP; pl only; fixed WO] intellectual topics for discussion: lofty topics ⟨matters⟩; abstract matters ⟨arguments⟩.

…Пора оставить высокие материи и попробовать сдвинуть с места сюжет (Искандер 4). It is time to abandon lofty topics… and try, despite all, to get the plot moving (4a).

М-50 • БЛАГИ́М МА́ТОМ кричать, орать, вопить и т.п. coll [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv (intensif); fixed WO] (to shout, yell etc) very loudly, furiously: X орал благим матом ≃ X was yelling ⟨screaming⟩ at the top of his lungs ⟨voice⟩; X was yelling ⟨shouting, screaming⟩ his head off; X was screaming bloody murder; X was screaming ⟨yelling⟩ with all his might; X was screaming to high heaven.

Дикий, отчаянный вопль донёсся оттуда. Потом увидели и самого Федьку. Бежит что есть мочи по пожне, кричит благим матом… (Абрамов 1). A wild, desperate wail had issued forth. Then they saw Fedka himself, running for all he was worth across the field, yelling at the top of his lungs (1a).

М-51 • ПО МА́ТУШКЕ ⟨ПО МА́ТЕРИ⟩ ругать(ся), обругать кого coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to curse, swear) using abusive, obscene words: call s.o. unprintable names ⟨every name in the book⟩; swear like a trooper; swear obscenely; cuss ⟨curse, swear⟩ a blue streak.

«В моём и Зины присутствии пёс (если псом, конечно, можно назвать) обругал профессора Преображенского по матери»

М-52 • В ЧЁМ ⟨КАК⟩ МАТЬ РОДИЛА́ highly coll [these forms only; fixed WO] 1. ~ остаться, оставить кого и т.п. [subj-compl with copula (subj: human), obj-compl with оставить etc (obj: human), or detached modif] (to remain, leave s.o. etc) without any clothes on: in one’s birthday suit; (as) naked as the day one was born; in the altogether; stark naked; in the buff; (as) naked as a baby; without a stitch of clothing (on); naked as a jaybird.

«Ну, добежали [собаки] и в одну минуту спустили с меня всё моё рваньё. Остался в чём мать родила» (Шолохов 1). “They [the dogs] ran up to me, and in a moment they’d torn all my rags off me. I was left in my birthday suit” (1a). ♦ Нас голых, в чём мать родила, перед мытьём стригли в коридоре (Марченко 1). Naked as the day we were born, we had to wait there in the corridor to be shorn before going on to get washed (1a).

2. ~ оставить, пустить кого и т.п. [usu. obj-compl with оставить etc (obj: human)] (to leave s.o.) without money, without any means (usu. in contexts of robbing s.o., winning all s.o.’s money at cards, taking possession of all s.o.’s property by deceitful means etc): without a penny to one’s ⟨s.o.’s⟩ name.

М-53 • ЁБ ТВОЮ́ ⟨ВА́ШУ⟩ МАТЬ; иди, катись, послать кого К ЕБЕ́НЕ ⟨ЁБАНОЙ⟩ МА́ТЕРИ ⟨БА́БУШКЕ⟩ absolute taboo [these forms only; Interj or adv; fixed WO] a very strong expletive («ёб» is considered unprintable and is usu. replaced by dots in printed matter): fuck your mother; fuck you; you motherfucking piece of shit.

Дядя Сандро повернулся, и тот [его соперник] выстрелил. «… твою мать! — крикнул ему дядя Сандро сгоряча, — если ты думаешь меня одной пулей уложить!» (Искандер 3). Uncle Sandro turned, and the shot rang out. “F—k your mother,” Uncle Sandro screamed furiously, “if you think you can do me in with one bullet!” (3a).

М-54 • МАТЬ РОДНА́Я НЕ УЗНА́ЕТ (кого) highly coll [VP_{subj}; Invar; usu. subord clause after избить, отделать кого так, что…; fixed WO] (to beat s.o.) to the point where he is unrecognizable: (beat s.o. so bad) his own mother wouldn’t recognize him; (beat s.o.) to a pulp.

М-55 • МА́ТЬ ТВОЮ ⟨его и т.п.⟩ ЗА́ НОГУ! substand [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] a mild expletive expressing annoyance, indignation or surprise, delight: (God) damn you ⟨him etc⟩!; [annoyance only] screw that ⟨him etc⟩!; [surprise only] well, I’ll be damned ⟨a monkey’s uncle⟩!

М-56 • МАТЬ ЧЕСТНА́Я! highly coll [Interj; Invar; fixed WO] used to express amazement, admiration, fear, irritation etc: Mother of God!; Holy Mother!; heavens!; good Lord!; oh my God!

М-57 • ПОКАЗА́ТЬ КУ́ЗЬКИНУ МАТЬ кому highly coll [VP; subj: human; most often 1st pers, fut or subjunctive (used as a threat); the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to punish s.o. harshly: X покажет Y-у кузькину мать ≃ X will fix Y’s wagon; X will make it ⟨things⟩ hot for Y; X will show Y who’s boss; X will give ⟨show⟩ Y what for; X’ll have Y’s ass.

«Эх, — дед даже застонал во тьме, — мне бы на такую-то гору взобраться [, как Сталин], я бы показал кой-кому кузькину мать!» (Максимов 2). “Ah”—here the old man actually groaned in the darkness—“now if I’d gotten to the top of the heap the way Stalin has, I’d show a few people who’s boss” (2a).

М-58 • (ТАК) ТВОЮ ⟨ВАШУ⟩ МА́ТЬ; МА́ТЬ ТВОЮ ПЕРЕМА́ТЬ; В БО́ГА (ДУ́ШУ) МАТЬ all vulg [Interj] an expletive expressing intense anger, resentment, frustration etc: son of a bitch!; fuck you!; motherfucker(s)!; fucking ⟨motherfucking⟩ [NP].

«Тьфу ты, мать твою так!» — товарищ Коба, рассердившись, плюнул ему в лицо (Войнович 5). “You son of a bitch!” Enraged, Comrade Koba spat in his face (5a). ♦ «Но кто такие? Неужели же Петлюра? Не может этого быть». — «…Я думаю, что это местные мужички — богоносцы достоевские!.. у-у… вашу мать!» (Булгаков 3). “But who were they? Surely they weren’t Petlyura’s men? It’s impossible.” “…I think they were some local peasants—Dostoevsky’s ‘holy Russia’ in revolt. Ugh—motherfuckers…” (3a).

М-59 • ОДНИ́М ⟨ЕДИ́НЫМ⟩ МА́ХОМ; С ОДНОГО́ ⟨ЕДИ́НОГО⟩ МА́ХУ; В ОДИ́Н МА́Х all coll [$NP_{instrum}$ (1st var.) or PrepP; these forms only; adv; more often used with pfv verbs; fixed WO] very quickly, without any pauses, and usu. in one motion: in one fell swoop; with ⟨in, at⟩ one stroke; with a single movement; [lim.] in one leap; with one ⟨a single⟩ blow; [with the emphasis on speed] in a flash; [in refer. to drinking] at one go; in one ⟨a single⟩ gulp.

Когда я отмечаю своё неумение писать, то я имею в виду составление фразы. Мне очень трудно написать фразу одним, так сказать, махом, в особенности если фраза создаётся для определения каких-либо отвлечённых понятий (Олеша 3). When I mention my inability to write, I have in mind the composing of sentences. It is very difficult for me to write a sentence in one stroke, so to speak, especially if the sentence is intended to define an abstract idea (3a). ♦ Щедрый иностранец в один мах проскользнул через целый марш лестницы вниз… (Булгаков 9). In one leap the generous stranger had jumped down a whole flight of stairs… (9b). ♦ «„Что хочешь, то и говори“, — отвечает [Алёша] и одним махом, как водку, выпивает свой компот и уходит к себе» (Искандер 5). “‘Tell her whatever you want,’ he [Alyosha] answers, and he downs his fruit compote in one gulp, like vodka, and goes to his room” (5a).

М-60 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ МА́ХУ coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv past; if impfv, usu. denotes a repeated action] to make an error in thinking or conduct: X дал маху ≃ X blundered ⟨made a blunder⟩; X slipped up; X messed (it) up; X pulled a boner; [lim.] X fell short of the mark; X let the chance slip by.

«„…Чем вы объясните, что за пятнадцать лет дети царя не выросли?” Тут помощники Большеусого растерялись, покраснели, побледнели, не знали, что сказать. Тут-то они докумекали, что второпях дали маху…» (Искандер 3). “‘How do you explain the fact that in fifteen years the czar’s children haven’t grown up?’ The Big Mustache’s aides were flustered, they turned red, turned white, didn't know what to say. Now they caught on that in their hurry they'd made a blunder…" (3a).

М-61 • С МА́ХУ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. ~ бросить что, ударить кого и т.п. Also: СО ВСЕГО́ МА́ХУ ⟨-а⟩ coll (to throw sth., hit s.o. etc) with great force: with all one's might; as hard as one can; [in refer. to throwing sth.] fling ⟨hurl⟩ sth.

[Егорша] постоял под порогом, цыкнул слюной и вдруг со всего маха бросил на серёдку избы глухаря (Абрамов 1). ♦ He [Egorsha] stood at the door, spat—Phthat!—and suddenly flung down a grouse into the middle of the floor… (1a).

2. Also: СО ВСЕГО́ МА́ХУ ⟨-а⟩ coll (of a moving person, animal, vehicle etc) while moving or running very fast: (while going ⟨running etc⟩) at full ⟨top⟩ speed; at a dead run.

3. quickly, without contemplation: right off (the bat); right away; straight off; [lim.] off the top of one's head; on impulse; rashly.

Дай мне подумать, я с маху ответить на такой вопрос не могу. Give me a second to think; I can't answer a question like this off the top of my head.

М-62 • В МГНОВЕ́НИЕ ⟨-ье⟩ О́КА; В ОДНО́ МГНОВЕ́НИЕ ⟨-ье⟩ coll; В ОДНО́ МГНОВЕ́НИЕ ⟨-ье⟩ О́КА obsoles [PrepP; these forms only; adv; usu. used with pfv verbs; fixed WO] extremely quickly, instantaneously: in the twinkling ⟨the wink, the blink⟩ of an eye; as fast as you can blink an eye; instantly; in a split second.

Чуткий нос его [Ноздрёва] слышал за несколько десятков вёрст, где была ярмарка со всякими съездами; он уж в одно мгновенье ока был там… (Гоголь 3). His [Nozdryov's] sensitive nose could smell out a fair, an assembly, or a ball for miles around: and in the twinkling of an eye he was there… (3a).

М- 63 • ДЛЯ МЕ́БЕЛИ быть$_{ø}$, находиться, сидеть и т.п. coll, disapprov [PrepP; Invar; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] (of a person who is) not actively participating, not doing anything useful while others are occupied, busy doing sth. etc: X тут (стоит ⟨сидит и т. п.⟩) для мебели ≃ X is (sits ⟨stands etc⟩) just for decoration; X sits around looking pretty; X (just) sits ⟨stands etc⟩ there like a potted plant.

М-64 • МЕДВЕ́ДЬ ⟨СЛОН⟩ НА́ УХО НАСТУПИ́Л кому coll, usu. humor [VP$_{subj}$; these forms only; fixed WO] s.o. has absolutely no ear for music: X-у медведь на ухо наступил ≃ X has a tin ear; X is tone-deaf; X can't carry a tune ⟨couldn't carry a tune in a bushel basket etc⟩.

М-65 • КАК МЕЛ ⟨СТЕНА́, СТЕ́НКА⟩ белый, бледный, побледнеть, стать белым и т.п. [как + NP; these forms only; modif or adv (intensif)] (to be, turn) extremely pale (from fear, sickness, sudden bad news etc): (as) white as chalk; chalk-white; (s.o.'s face turned ⟨s.o. went⟩) white; (as) white as the wall one leans against ⟨behind one etc⟩; (as) white ⟨pale⟩ as a sheet.

Третий… присел на корточки возле убитого и заглянул ему в лицо. В тени оно представилось смотрящему белым, как мел, и каким-то одухотворённо красивым (Булгаков 9). The third man crouched down beside the body and gazed at the dead man's face. In the shadows it looked as white as chalk and had a kind of spiritual beauty (9c).

М-66 • СИДЕ́ТЬ НА МЕЛИ́; НА МЕЛИ́ быть$_{ø}$, оказаться и т.п. both coll [VP (1st var.) or PrepP, Invar, subj-compl with copula (2nd var.); subj: human] to be (be left etc) with very little or no money: X сидит на мели ≃ X is (almost ⟨practically, flat etc⟩) broke; X is (really) short of ⟨on⟩ cash; X is without ⟨does not have⟩ a kopeck ⟨a penny, a cent etc⟩ to his name; X is pressed ⟨hard up⟩ for cash; X is (completely ⟨practically etc⟩) without means.

Теперь мы сами удивлялись, куда ушли все деньги и почему мы сразу на мели (Гинзбург 2). And now we were ourselves astonished at where all the money had gone; all at once we were without means (2a).

М-67 • ПО МЕЛОЧА́М; ПО МЕ́ЛОЧИ [PrepP; these forms only; usu. adv or nonagreeing postmodif] 1. in little amounts: in small quantities ⟨amounts, sums⟩; small quantities ⟨amounts, sums⟩ of (sth.); должать по мелочам ≃ incur ⟨rack up etc⟩ small debts.

2. usu. кое-что, кое-чего и т.п. ~ some unimportant, inconsequential matters: (some) trifles ⟨trivial matters, little things⟩.

Он много важного имел сообщить хозяину: что поезд ещё не пришёл, но когда придёт, то не будет не встречен, кто-нибудь из собак обязательно там караулит, что, в общем, пока устроились на первое время и живут дружно, ну и ещё кое-чего по мелочи (Владимов 1). He had a great many important things to tell Master: that the train had not come yet, but that when it did come at least one of the dogs would certainly be on duty to meet it; that in general the dogs had settled down fairly well for the time being and were keeping together… and a few other more trivial matters (1a).

М-68 • РАЗМЕ́НИВАТЬ/РАЗМЕНЯ́ТЬ НА МЕ́ЛОЧИ ⟨НА (ВСЯ́КУЮ) МЕ́ЛОЧЬ, НА МЕ́ЛКУЮ МОНЕ́ТУ⟩ что; ТРА́ТИТЬ/ИСТРА́ТИТЬ ⟨РАСТРА́ТИТЬ⟩ ПО МЕ́ЛОЧИ ⟨ПО МЕЛОЧА́М⟩ [VP; subj: human] to expend (one's talent, abilities etc) on unimportant matters, waste (one's life): X разменял Y на мелочи ≃ X threw away his Y; X frittered away his Y; X poured his Y down the drain; [lim.] X wasted his Y on trifles; Y was frittered away over trifles.

pend one's talent, abilities etc on unimportant matters, for nothing: X разменялся на мелкую монету ≃ X wasted ⟨squandered⟩ his talent ⟨his gifts etc⟩ on trifles; X frittered away his talent ⟨his life etc⟩.

«Где же тут человек? Где его целость? Куда он скрылся, как разменялся на всякую мелочь?» (Гончаров 1). "Where is the real man? Where is his integrity? Where has he hidden himself, and why is he squandering his gifts on trifles?" (1b).

2. to be occupied with unimportant, nonessential matters instead of things that are important: X разменивается на мелочи ≃ X is ⟨gets⟩ caught up with matters of secondary importance.

М-70 • МЕ́ЛОЧЬ ПУЗА́ТАЯ coll, humor (esp. when applied to children or animals) or derog [NP; may refer to a group or to one person or animal; fixed WO] (of young children, small dogs, cubs, baby birds etc; also of people, groups, countries etc) small, insignificant, unimportant (and, in some cases, disparaging): pip-squeak; small fry; squirt; [lim.] runt; [of a small-sized person] pint-size(d) [NP]; half-pint; shrimp; [of a country] a (little ⟨third-rate⟩ pip-squeak of a country.

Детям спать пора. А ну-ка, мелочь пузатая, почистить зубы и в постель! It's time for the kids to go to bed. Well now, you little pip-squeaks, brush your teeth and off to bed with you! ♦ Он большой начальник, мы рядом с ним мелочь пузатая. He's the big boss. Compared to him, we're small fry.

М-71 • САДИ́ТЬСЯ/СЕСТЬ НА МЕЛЬ coll [VP; subj: usu. human or collect; usu. pfv] to get into a very troublesome, difficult situation (usu. because of a lack of funds or other material resources): X сел на мель ≃ X got into trouble; X got into a tight spot; X got into a fix ⟨a predicament, a bind⟩.

М-72 • САЖА́ТЬ/ПОСАДИ́ТЬ НА МЕЛЬ кого-что coll [VP; subj: human; obj: human or collect; usu. pfv] to put s.o. (or some organization) in a very troublesome, difficult position (usu. because of a lack of funds or other material resources): X посадил Y-а на мель ≃ X got Y into trouble; X put Y in a tight spot; X put ⟨got⟩ Y into a fix ⟨a predicament, a bind⟩.

М-73 • ВЕТРЯНА́Я МЕ́ЛЬНИЦА highly coll, disapprov [NP; sing only; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or obj-compl with называть, считать кого (obj: human)] a lightheaded, shallow person: airhead; featherbrain.

М-74 • СРАЖА́ТЬСЯ ⟨ВОЕВА́ТЬ⟩ С ВЕТРЯНЫ́МИ МЕ́ЛЬНИЦАМИ [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to expend one's strength, abilities uselessly, fighting imaginary or unimportant enemies or wrongs (while believing them to be real or important): X сражается с ветряными мельницами ≃ X tilts at windmills.

[Иванов:] Был я молодым, горячим, искренним, неглупым… сражался с ветряными мельницами, бился лбом об стены… (Чехов 4). [I.:] I used to be young, eager, sincere, intelligent…. I tilted at windmills and banged my head against brick walls… (4b).

М-75 • СА́МОЕ МЕ́НЬШЕЕ ⟨МА́ЛОЕ⟩ [AdjP; these forms only; used as a restr marker; fixed WO] not less than (the amount or thing named): at least; at the very least; nothing short of.

Это ведь не шутка — самовольно, вопреки райкому снять человека с лесозаготовок. Самое малое — строгач [slang = строгий выговор] обеспечен (Абрамов 1). After all, it was no joke to go against the First Secretary and take someone off logging duty without authorization. At the very least you would be called on the carpet… (1a).

М-76 • ВЫ́СШАЯ МЕ́РА (НАКАЗА́НИЯ) euph [NP; fixed WO] the death penalty: supreme penalty ⟨measure of punishment⟩; capital punishment ⟨sentence⟩; || приговорённый к высшей мере ≃ condemned ⟨sentenced⟩ to death ⟨to be shot, to face a firing squad⟩.

И как медленно он читает. Перевернул страницу. Сейчас… Вот сейчас скажет: «К высшей мере… » Опять шорох листьев. На секунду кажется, что это всё в кино (Гинзбург 1). How slowly he read! He turned over the page. Here it comes… any moment now he would utter the words "supreme penalty…" Again I heard the trees rustling. For a moment I felt as if all this were part of a film (1a). ♦ «Стрельников схвачен, приговорён к высшей мере и приговор приведён в исполнение» (Пастернак 1). "Strelnikov has been captured, condemned to death, and shot" (1a). "Strelnikov has been seized, given a capital sentence, and the sentence has been carried out" (1b).

М-77 • В ПО́ЛНОЙ МЕ́РЕ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] entirely: fully; totally; completely; wholly; in full ⟨the fullest⟩ measure; [lim.] (realize ⟨know, assess etc⟩) the full extent (of sth.).

Неизвестно даже, был ли он истинный революционер, то есть сознавал ли в полной мере задачи и цели [революции] (Трифонов 1). It wasn't even clear whether he had been a genuine revolutionary—that is, whether he had been fully aware of the goals and purposes of the revolution (1a).

М-78 • НИ В КО́ЕЙ ⟨НИ В КАКО́Й⟩ МЕ́РЕ [PrepP; these forms only; adv; used with neg verbs; fixed WO] absolutely not: in no way; not in any way whatever ⟨whatsoever⟩; by no means; not at all; not in the least.

Один из бесчисленных злопыхателей, ненавидевших моего героя, утверждал много лет спустя, что в Орлеане всякий осёл может получить учёную степень, были бы только у осла деньги. Однако это неверно. Осёл степени не получит, да и мой герой ни в какой мере не походил на осла (Булгаков 5). One of the innumerable slanderers who hated my hero asserted many years later that any ass could have received a learned degree in Orléans, provided he had money. This, however, is not true. An ass could not receive any degrees, nor did my hero resemble an ass in any way whatever (5a).

М-79 • ПО КРА́ЙНЕЙ МЕ́РЕ [PrepP; Invar; fixed WO] 1. Also: ПО КРА́ЙНОСТИ obs [usu. sent adv (parenth)] to the extent of (what is stated), if nothing more: at least; at any rate.

«Дело заключается в следующем: хотя мы и не можем обнаружить — в данное время, по крайней мере, — каких-либо его [Га-Ноцри] поклонников или последователей, тем не менее ручаться, что их совсем нет, нельзя» (Булгаков 9). "The point is this: although we cannot find any of his [Ha-Nozri's] admirers or followers—at least at this time—no one can guarantee that there are none" (9a).

2. [used as a restr marker; often used with a quantit NP] not less (and perhaps more) than: at least; at the very least.

Кирила Петрович гордился сим прекрасным заведением и никогда не упускал случая похвастаться оным перед своими гостями, из коих каждый осматривал его по крайней мере уже в двадцатый раз (Пушкин 1). Kirila Petrovich was proud of this superb establishment, and never let slip an opportunity to boast of it before his guests, all of whom had inspected it at least twenty times already (1b).

М-80 • ПО МЕ́НЬШЕЙ МЕ́РЕ [PrepP; Invar; fixed WO] 1. [sent adv (usu. parenth)] this much, if not more, being true: to say the (very) least; to put it mildly ⟨gently, lightly⟩.

«…Но при чём тут Чернышевский?» — «Упражнение в стрельбе», — сказал Фёдор Константинович. «Ответ по меньшей мере загадочный», — заметил инженер Керн… (Набоков 1). "…But what's the point of Chernyshevski?" "Firing practice," said Fyodor. "An answer which is, to say the least, enigmatic," remarked the engineer Kern… (1a).

2. [used as a restr marker; usu. used with a quantit NP] not less (and perhaps more) than: at least; at the very least.

Итого восемь сотен по меньшей мере уплачено (Терц 8). All in all they must have paid eight hundred rubles at the very least (8a).

М-81 • ПО МЕ́РЕ чего [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] 1. (used to denote the gradual progression of an action expressed predominantly by a deverbal noun) in conjunction or proportion with (the action denoted by the deverbal noun): as; as (sth.) progresses; (the…,) the…; in measure with; whenever.

Рифмы по мере моей охоты за ними сложились у меня в практическую систему несколько карточного порядка (Набоков 1). As my hunt for them progressed, rhymes settled down into a practical system somewhat on the order of a card index (1a). ♦ …По мере приближения к Москве [Ростов] приходил всё более и более в нетерпение (Толстой 5). …[Rostov] grew more and more impatient the nearer they got to Moscow (5a).

2. ~ сил, надобности и т.п. to the degree that (one's ability, strength etc allows, the situation demands etc): по мере сил ≃ as much as one can; to the extent of one's abilities ⟨powers⟩; to the best of one's ability; || по мере надобности ≃ as need dictates; if ⟨as⟩ need be.

«Раз тюремщики вершат правое дело — твоя обязанность помогать им по мере сил» (Солженицын 3). "Since our jailers are in the right, it's your duty to help them as much as you can" (3a).

М-82 • ПО МЕ́РЕ ВОЗМО́ЖНОСТИ; ПО ВОЗМО́ЖНОСТИ; ПО СИ́ЛЕ ВОЗМО́ЖНОСТИ lit [PrepP; these forms only; sent adv (occas. parenth); fixed WO] to whatever degree is possible, one can etc: to whatever extent (is) possible; to whatever extent one can; as far ⟨much etc⟩ as possible; as far as one can ⟨is able to⟩ (do so); as best (as) one can; to the best of one's ability ⟨abilities⟩.

…Я избирал себе путь многолетнего молчания и скрытого труда. По возможности не делать ни одного общественного шага, дать себя забыть (о, если бы забыли!..) (Солженицын 2). …I had chosen for many years ahead the way of silence and clandestine labor. As far as possible, I would not take a single public step. I would let people forget me (how I longed to be forgotten!) (2a). ♦ «Вы изволите говорить, что статья моя неясна; я готов её вам разъяснить, по возможности» (Достоевский 3). "You take the liberty of saying that my article is not clear; I'm quite prepared to explain it to you to the best of my ability (3a).

М-83 • ПО МЕ́РЕ ТОГО́ КАК… [subord Conj, correlative] while (some action is developing) and in proportion to (its development): as; as (sth.) progresses; the…, the…

По мере того как кортеж приближался, толпы глуповцев расступались и давали дорогу (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). As the cortege drew near, the crowds parted and the Foolovites made way (1a). ♦ По мере того как бричка близилась к крыльцу, глаза его делались веселее и улыбка раздвигалась более и более (Гоголь 3). The nearer the carriage drew to the front steps the merrier his eyes grew and the broader the smile (3a).

М-84 • МЕ́РЗОСТЬ ЗАПУСТЕ́НИЯ obs, lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a state of total ruin, waste, decay: utter desolation ⟨devastation⟩.

М-85 • КАК СИ́ВЫЙ МЕ́РИН substand [как + NP; Invar; fixed WO] 1. врёт, брешет ~ [adv (intensif)] (one tells lies) shamelessly, unscrupulously: (one lies) through ⟨in⟩ one's teeth; (one lies) like a trooper ⟨a rug⟩; (one is) an out-and-out ⟨a barefaced⟩ liar.

«Вы понимаете, о чём я говорю?» — «Да откровенно говоря, нет…» — «…Фантастика всё это… Никакого удава в горах нет и никогда не было…» — «Постойте, постойте, — сказал я, — так, значит, Потапов врёт?» — «Значит, брешет наш Потапов как сивый мерин…» (Домбровский 1). "Do you see what I'm driving at?" "Well, to be quite honest, no I don't." "…The whole story is pure science-fiction. There is no boa-constrictor up in those hills and there never was…." "Just a minute," I said. "This means that Potapov must be lying." "Of course. Our Potapov is lying like a trooper…" (1a). ♦ Мы знали, что он врёт как сивый мерин, но Соне это было интересно… (Рыбаков 1). We knew he was an out-and-out liar, but Sonya found it interesting… (1a).

2. глуп, глупа ~ [modif (intensif)] (stupid) to the extreme: as dumb as an ox; as dumb ⟨stupid⟩ as they come.

[Почтмейстер (читает):] «Оригиналы страшные. От смеху ты бы умер. Ты, я знаю, пишешь статейки; помести их в свою литературу. Во-первых: городничий — глуп, как сивый мерин…» (Гоголь 4). [Postmaster, reads:] "What oddballs! You'd die laughing. Why not put them into some of those sketches you write for the papers? Take the mayor—as dumb as an ox…" (4f).

М-86 • КАК МЁРТВОМУ ПРИПА́РКИ ⟨-а⟩ поможет, нужен и т.п. coll [как + NP; these forms only; adv (neg intensif); fixed WO] not at all (helpful), absolutely not (needed): (need sth.) like a hole in the head; (need sth.) as much as a cat needs two tails; (be ⟨do s.o.⟩) no good at all.

М-87 • В МЕ́РУ [PrepP; Invar] 1. ~ чего [Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] in accordance with: to the extent of; within the limits of; || в меру своих сил ⟨способностей, разумения⟩ ≃ [in refer. to exerting maximum effort] as best one can; to the best of one's ability ⟨abilities⟩.

2. ~ каков, как [modif or adv] (sth. is present) to a moderate, appropriate, or acceptable degree (used to express the speaker's opinion that sth. he considers positive is present to a sufficient degree, sth. he considers negative is not present to an excessive degree, or sth. about which he makes no value judgment is present to an average degree): moderately; fairly; rather; reasonably.

…Он [полковник] был в меру высок и в меру дороден… (Гинзбург 2). He [the Colonel] was moderately tall and moderately portly… (2a). ♦ …Все веселились вовсю, танцевали под любопытную, в меру модерновую музыку… (Залыгин 1). …All were busy enjoying themselves dancing to some curious, fairly modern music… (1a).

3. [adv] with temperance, within reasonable limits: in moderation; [lim.] not (taking ⟨carrying⟩ sth.) too far.

…Всё делалось в меру, как того требуют обычаи и собственное желание (Искандер 3). Everything was done in moderation, as dictated by custom and personal inclination (3a).

М-88 • ЗНАТЬ МЕ́РУ [VP; subj: human; pres or past] (usu. in refer. to doing things that can be harmful, embarrassing etc when done excessively) to realize when one has reached a reasonable, sensible limit and be able to stop at that limit: X знает меру ≃ X knows when to stop; X knows where to draw the line; X observes limits; || Neg X ни в чём не знает меры ≃ X does things ⟨everything⟩ without moderation; X does nothing in moderation; X goes ⟨carries things⟩ too far.

«А всё почему пьём?.. Я так считаю: пьём потому, что теперь такая необходимость появилась — пить»… — «Если бы меру знать, половины того, что она [выпивка] с нами творит, не было бы» (Распутин 3). "Why do we drink?… I reckon we drink because these days we have a need for it."… "If we knew when to stop, the stuff wouldn't do us half the damage it does" (3a). ♦ [Иванов:] …Я спешил расходовать себя на одну только молодость, пьянел, возбуждался, работал; не знал меры (Чехов 4). [I.:] I lost no time in expending myself in my youth. I was overwrought, drank, worked, did everything without moderation (4a).

М-89 • НЕ В МЕ́РУ [PrepP; Invar; adv or modif] more than necessary, appropriate etc: immoderately; excessively; beyond the accepted norm; [as modif only] too; [as adv only] too much; (go) too far (in sth.); exceed the limits (in doing sth.).

М-90 • БЕЗ МЕ́РЫ [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. пить, курить и т.п. ~ (to drink, smoke etc) immoderately, consuming inordinate quantities: far too much; far more than one should; to excess; excessively; without measure; [lim.] excessive consumption (of sth.).

«…Обращаю ваше внимание на кокаин, который вы… нюхаете без меры» (Пастернак 1). "…I must really draw your attention to your excessive consumption of cocaine" (1a).

[Лидочка:] Послушайте, Мишель; я хочу, чтоб вы меня ужасно любили… без меры… как я вас люблю (Сухово-Кобылин 2). [L.:] Michel, listen—I want you to love me terribly… beyond measure… the way I love you (2b).

М-91 • КРА́ЙНИЕ МЕ́РЫ [NP; pl only; fixed WO] forceful preventive, punitive, or contrary action: drastic ⟨extreme, extraordinary⟩ measures.

М-92 • ПРИНИМА́ТЬ/ПРИНЯ́ТЬ МЕ́РЫ [VP; subj: human or collect] to carry out a series of actions (that should produce a certain result): X принял меры ≃ X took (appropriate) measures ⟨steps⟩; X took action (on sth.); X did something (about it); [lim.] X took (some) precautions;|| X примет крутые меры ≃ X will take drastic ⟨bold⟩ measures ⟨steps⟩; X will crack down (on s.o.).

В Учреждение, возглавляемое капитаном Милягой, граждане почти всегда писали письма без обратного адреса… В таких письмах содержались обычно мелкие доносы… К чести Учреждения надо сказать, что оно принимало меры далеко не по каждому такому сигналу, иначе на воле не осталось бы ни одного человека (Войнович 2). Citizens almost always wrote letters to the Institution headed by Milyaga without a return address…. As a rule, such letters contained petty denunciations…. It must be said, to the Institution's credit, that very few such letters ever caused it to take measures; otherwise there would not have been a single person left free in the country (2a). ♦ [Михаил:] Ну, завод закрыт. Но на всякий случай надо принять меры… (Горький 1). [M.:] Well, the factory's closed. But we'd better take some precautions, just in case (1b).

М-93 • СВЕРХ ⟨СВЫ́ШЕ⟩ (ВСЯ́КОЙ) МЕ́РЫ [PrepP; these forms only; modif. or adv] 1. Also: ЧЕРЕЗ ⟨ЧРЕЗ⟩ МЕ́РУ obs to a greater extent than is necessary, permissible, acceptable etc: beyond (all) measure; overly; excessively; exceedingly; more than one should; [lim.] impossibly.

Я, как только выпил, почувствовал, что пьянею сверх всякой меры и что все остальные — тоже… (Ерофеев 1). As soon as I had finished drinking I felt that I was getting drunk beyond measure—and all the others, too (1a).

2. любить, ненавидеть и т.п. кого ~ (to love, hate s.o. etc) with extreme intensity: beyond (all) measure; no end; (s.o.'s love ⟨hate etc⟩) knows no end ⟨bounds⟩; [lim.] beyond all reason.

Пётр Петрович [Лужин] презирал и ненавидел его [Лебезятникова] даже сверх меры, почти с того самого дня, как у него поселился… (Достоевский 3). …Pyotr Petrovich despised and hated him [Lebezyatnikov], even beyond measure, and had done so almost from the very day he came to stay with him… (3c). …He [Mr. Luzhin] had despised and hated him [Lebezyatnikov], beyond all reason even, almost from the very day he had moved in with him… (3a).

М-94 • ВЗЯТЬ ⟨РВАНУ́ТЬ coll⟩ С МЕ́СТА [VP; subj: human or a noun denoting a vehicle or a horse] to begin moving suddenly and with great speed from a complete stop: X взял с места ≃ X tore ⟨sped, bolted⟩ off from a standing start; [when it would be redundant to indicate that the motion is begun from a complete stop] X tore ⟨sped, bolted⟩ off (down the road ⟨the track etc⟩).

Володька сел за руль, дуднул, рванул с места (Аксёнов 3). Volodya climbed up behind the wheel, revved up the motor and tore off down the road (3a).

М-95 • ЖИВО́ГО МЕ́СТА НЕТ ⟨НЕ ОСТА́ЛОСЬ⟩ coll [VP$_{subj/gen}$] 1. ~ на ком s.o. is severely beaten, disfigured: на X-е живого места нет ≃ X is beaten black-and-blue; X is black-and-blue all over; X is bruised from head to foot; X is beaten to a pulp.

2. s.o. is so covered with dirt (tattoos etc) or sth. is so covered with filth (drawings, holes etc) that nothing of his or its original appearance remains: на X-е живого места нет ≃ there isn't a clean ⟨clear etc⟩ spot ⟨place⟩ to be seen on

X; there isn't a single ⟨isn't one⟩ patch on X where [NP denoting the original surface] is visible.

…Воркута весь разрисован [татуировками], живого места нет ни на лице, ни на теле (Марченко 1). …Vorkuta was absolutely smothered in tattoos, with not a clear place to be seen either on his face or body (1a).

М-96 • МЕСТА́ НЕ СТОЛЬ ОТДАЛЁННЫЕ [NP; pl only; fixed WO] a distant place to which a person is sent as a form of punishment (in prerevolutionary Russia, usu. Siberia; now the idiom is used more broadly): (a place of) exile ⟨banishment⟩; (exile s.o. to) distant provinces ⟨remote areas of the country⟩.

Много лет прошло, прежде чем бывшего генерала вернули из мест не столь отдалённых… (Максимов 3). Many years went by before they allowed the ex-general to return from banishment… (3a).

М-97 • НЕ НАХОДИ́ТЬ ⟨НЕ МОЧЬ НАЙТИ́⟩ (СЕБЕ́) МЕ́СТА (от чего) coll [VP; subj: human] to be extremely worried, anxious, restless (often in fear for a loved one's safety, in anticipation of an important event etc): X не находил себе места (от волнения ⟨тревоги и т.п.⟩) ≃ X was beside himself (with worry ⟨anxiety etc⟩); X couldn't find any peace; X nearly went out of his mind (with worry etc); X couldn't rest for worry ⟨worrying, fretting etc⟩.

[Коля:] Ты что?! Мать места себе не находит… (Розов 2). [K.:] What do you think you're doing?! Mum's been beside herself with worry (2a). ♦ С этим [с преступлениями] всё кончено, они с Сударем не могли себе найти места от стыда и раскаяния, они даже думали прийти и покаяться, попросить, чтобы их простили… (Семёнов 1). …This [their criminal activity] was all over now, he and Squire could not rest for shame and repentance, they had even thought of coming and owning up, of begging to be pardoned… (1a).

М-98 • НЕ СОЙТИ́ МНЕ ⟨НАМ⟩ С (Э́ТОГО) МЕ́СТА!; (ЧТОБ) НЕ СОЙТИ́ ⟨НЕ ВСТАТЬ⟩ (МНЕ ⟨НАМ⟩) С (Э́ТОГО) МЕ́СТА! highly coll [Interj; these forms only] an oath used by the speaker(s) to emphasize the truth of a statement: may I ⟨we⟩ die on the spot (if…); may lightning strike me ⟨us⟩ (dead) (if…); may I ⟨we⟩ be rooted to the spot (if…).

Мне нравилось менять серебро у неё [кассирши], а не в автомате: то ахнешь… насчёт погоды, то пошутишь по адресу женского пола, а однажды, не сойти мне с этого места, я преподнёс ей гвоздику (Аксёнов 6). I like changing my silver with her [the cashier] instead of in a machine: You can grumble about the weather, or make jokes about the female sex, and once, may I be rooted to the spot if I'm lying, I gave her a carnation (6a).

М-99 • НЕ СХОДЯ́ С МЕ́СТА coll [Verbal Adv; Invar; adv; more often used with pfv verbs; fixed WO] 1. immediately, without delay: (right) on the spot; [in past and future contexts only] (right) then and there; [in present contexts only] (right) here and now.

Требовалось тут же, не сходя с места, изобрести обыкновенные объяснения явлений необыкновенных (Булгаков 9). …He felt obliged to invent at once, right on the spot, some ordinary explanation for extraordinary events (9a). ♦ Да, взметнулась волна горя при страшном известии о Михаиле Александровиче. Кто-то суетился, кричал, что необходимо сейчас же, тут же, не сходя с места, составить какую-то коллективную телеграмму и немедленно послать её (Булгаков 9). A wave of grief surged up at the terrible news about Mikhail Alexandrovich. Someone fussed around shouting that they must all immediately, here and now, without delay compose a collective telegram and send it off (9b).

2. at one time, in one try: in one go; at ⟨in⟩ one ⟨a single⟩ stroke; in a single breath ⟨gulp etc⟩; at ⟨in⟩ one fell swoop.

Торт был такой вкусный, что я съел три куска не сходя с места. The cake was so good I ate three pieces at one go.

М-100 • НЕТ МЕ́СТА кому-чему среди кого, где [VP; impers; usu. pres] s.o. or sth. is rejected (by some group, in some organization, at some place) as being alien, harmful, sth. is regarded as intolerable: X-у нет места среди Y-ов ⟨в месте Z⟩ ≃ there is no place ⟨room⟩ for X among Ys ⟨in place Z⟩; place Z has ⟨can have⟩ no room for (people ⟨things⟩ like) X; thing X is uncalled-for among Ys ⟨in place Z⟩.

«…Предательству у нас нет прощения, а предателям нет и не должно быть места на нашей земле» (Войнович 4). "…We have no forgiveness for treason and there is no place for traitors in our land, nor should there be" (4a).

М-101 • НИ С МЕ́СТА coll [PrepP; Invar] 1. [indep. sent] (used as a command) stand still, do not make the slightest movement: don't move!; stay where you are!; stay put!; freeze!

«Отрезвел я, когда они закрыли дверь кассы и длинный, вытащив наган, сказал: „Руки вверх, ни с места!"» (Семёнов 1). "I sobered up when they closed the door of the bank and the tall one pulled out a revolver and said: 'Hands up! Don't move! '" (1a).

2. [predic (subj: human, animal, or a noun denoting a vehicle)] to remain in the same position, not move from one's or its place: X — ни с места ≃ X won't ⟨can't⟩ move an inch; X won't budge (an inch).

«Ужасные бестии эти азиаты! Вы думаете, они помогают, что кричат? А чёрт их разберёт, что они кричат? Быки-то их понимают; запрягите хоть двадцать, так коли они крикнут по-своему, быки всё ни с места… Ужасные плуты!» (Лермонтов 1). "They're terrific rogues, these Asiatics! You don't think their yelling helps much, do you? You can't tell what the devil they're saying. But the oxen understand them all right; hitch up twenty of the beasts if you wish and they won't budge once those fellows begin yelling in their tongue…. Terrific cheats, they are" (1b).

3. [predic (subj: abstr or human)] (of work, matters etc) not to show any advancement, be in the same state as previously: X ни с места ≃ X is making no progress ⟨headway⟩; X is getting nowhere; there is ⟨person Y is making⟩ absolutely no progress with thing X; X is at a (complete) standstill.

[Муромский:] …Пять месяцев я здесь живу… — а дело ни с места! (Сухово-Кобылин 1). [M.:] Here I am, five months already… and there's been absolutely no progress with the case! (1a).

М-102 • С МЕ́СТА В КАРЬЕ́Р coll, occas. humor [PrepP; Invar; adv; usu. used with verbs in the past tense; fixed WO] (to begin doing sth.) without delay, immediately: right away; straightaway; at once; right off the bat; lose no time (in doing sth.); without wasting a moment ⟨a minute, a second⟩; in no time at all; [lim.] (right) then and there.

У таких [людей] любовь и спорт — одно и то же, вот он и начал брать очередной рекорд с места в карьер (Залыгин 1). To him and his type, love and sport were one and the same thing, and he lost no time in attacking the next record (1a). ♦ Юлька вбегает с шумом, с возгласами, с раскрытыми объятиями. С места в карьер отдаётся воспоминаниям (Гинзбург 2). Julia bounced in with cries of joy and open arms. In no time at all she was pouring out reminiscences (2a).

М-103 • СДВИ́НУТЬ С МЕ́СТА [VP; subj: human] 1. ~ кого [often neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing не сдвинешь] to rouse s.o. to act, do sth.: X-а с места не сдвинешь ≃ you can't ⟨it's hard to⟩ get X going ⟨moving, started⟩.

2. ~ что to set sth. in operation, in motion: X сдвинет Y с места ≃ X will get Y going ⟨moving forward⟩; X will get things started; X will start ⟨get⟩ the ball rolling; X will get the show on the road; [lim.] X will jump-start Y.

Подобными размышлениями, однако, не сдвинешь с места повествование (Аксёнов 6). Reflections of this sort, however, will not get the narrative moving forward (6a).

М-104 • СТА́ВИТЬ/ПОСТА́ВИТЬ ВСЁ НА СВОЙ МЕСТА́ ⟨НА (СВОЁ) МЕ́СТО⟩ [VP; subj: usu. human or abstr] (in refer. to misunderstandings between people, jumbled ideas, facts taken out of context etc) to introduce clarity into a complex situation, explain it in a logical way, show the interconnection between different aspects of a matter etc: X поставил всё на свои места ≃ X put everything in its rightful ⟨proper⟩ place; X sorted things ⟨it all⟩ out; X cleared things ⟨everything etc⟩ up; [lim.] X set the record straight; X set things right.

«История всё… поставит на своё место» (Солженицын 2). "History will put all things… in their rightful places" (2a). ♦ «У него не будет ничего своего. Он ничего не придумает, ничего не предпримет, — думал князь Андрей, — но он всё выслушает, всё запомнит, всё поставит на своё место, ничему полезному не помешает и ничего вредного не позволит» (Толстой 6). "He will put nothing forward of his own. He will devise nothing, undertake nothing," thought Prince Andrei, "but he will listen to everything, remember everything, put everything in its proper place, and will neither stand in the way of anything beneficial nor accede to anything detrimental" (6a).

М-105 • ВСЁ СТАНО́ВИТСЯ/СТА́ЛО ⟨ВСТА́ЛО⟩ НА СВОЙ МЕСТА́ ⟨НА (СВОЁ) МЕ́СТО⟩ [VP_{subj}; usu. pfv; usu. this WO] 1. things are developing toward, have reached, or have gone back to a point where the situation is considered normalized, is as expected, desired etc: всё стало на свои места ≃ everything fell into place ⟨sorted itself out⟩; [when things return to their previous, normal state] everything returned ⟨went back⟩ to normal; things got back on course ⟨track⟩.

«Вы знаете, Оленька, — мягким кошачьим голоском говорила эта огромная заплывшая жиром туша, — разрешите мне показать этот роман вышестоящему лицу. Вполне возможно, всё станет на своё место» (Ивинская 1). "I tell you what, Olenka," she said in a soft, purring voice—she was a woman of enormous bulk, covered in rolls of fat—"let me show the novel to someone high up. It is quite possible that everything will then fall into place" (1a).

2. (in refer. to s.o.'s understanding of the interconnection between various facts, phenomena etc) everything becomes clear and explainable: всё стало на свои места ≃ everything fell into place; all (of) the pieces of the puzzle came together.

И вдруг всё стало на свои места. «Так вот что он имел в виду! — подумал Виктор про Голема. — Умные и все на подбор талантливые… Тогда что же это выходит? Тогда выходит, что они уже не люди. Зурзмансор мне просто баки забивал» (Стругацкие 1). And suddenly everything fell into place. "So that's what he has in mind!" Victor thought, remembering Golem. "Intelligent and talented, every single one of them. And what does it lead to? That they're not human anymore. Zurzmansor was just pulling the wool over my eyes" (1a).

3. (in refer. to the normalization of a person's visual perception of reality, temporarily distorted by dizziness, confusion etc) everything is again perceived by s.o. as it exists in reality: everything returned ⟨went back⟩ to normal.

М-106 • НА МЕСТА́Х [PrepP; Invar; adv or nonagreeing postmodif] in the outlying regions, provincial organizations, institutions (as opposed to the central regions, organizations, institutions): at the local level; in the provinces; locally; [when used as postmodif] local [NP].

Ей [власти] требовались «на местах» точные и механизированные исполнители приказов… (Мандельштам 2). The sort of people now wanted down below, "at the local level," were efficient robots who automatically obeyed orders… (2a). ♦ Докладчик… прямо сказал, что пример с цыганами — это очень интересный пример, поскольку, с одной стороны, они живут без прописки и неизвестно, где их искать, но, с другой стороны, советская власть на местах предоставляет им прописку и постоянную работу (Львов 1). The speaker… replied that the example of the gypsies was a very interesting one since, on the one hand, they weren't registered and no one knew where to find them, while, on the other hand, the local branches of the Soviet government were offering them both registration and permanent work (1a).

М-107 • ВСЁ НА (СВОЁМ) МЕ́СТЕ у кого highly coll, approv [VP_{subj} with быть$_{ø}$; usu. pres, rare past; fixed WO] (usu. of a woman) having an attractive physique, well-proportioned, well-built: у X-а всё на месте ≃ X has everything in all the right places; X is really built.

М-108 • ЗАСТЫВА́ТЬ/ЗАСТЫ́ТЬ НА МЕ́СТЕ [VP; fixed WO] 1. Also: ЗАМИРА́ТЬ/ЗАМЕРЕ́ТЬ НА МЕ́СТЕ [subj: usu. human, animal, or, less often, a noun denoting a vehicle] to cease moving abruptly and remain completely still: X замер на месте ≃ X stopped dead; X stopped (dead) in his ⟨its⟩ tracks; X came to a dead halt ⟨stop⟩; [of a person or animal only] X froze on the spot; X froze (in his tracks); X was ⟨found himself⟩ frozen ⟨rooted, glued⟩ to the spot.

Несколько человек из числа тех, что оказались неподалёку… замерли на месте… (Акунин 8). Several of those who happened to be close at hand… froze on the spot… (8a).

2. [subj: usu. abstr or collect] (of life, a business, economic situation, project etc) to cease developing, making progress; fail to advance: X застыл на месте ≃ [when the focus is on the state of affairs; in past contexts] X was making no headway; X was getting nowhere (fast); X was at a standstill; X stood still; [when the focus is on the transition to that state of affairs] X has come to a standstill ⟨a screeching halt⟩; [of temperature] X has leveled off.

Жизнь советских людей вообще была скучной, а в те годы и вовсе застыла на месте (Войнович 7). The life lived by Soviet people was boring in any case, but in those years it stood completely still (7a).

М-109 • НА МЕ́СТЕ[1] [PrepP; Invar] 1. [adv] right there where sth. is happening: on the spot; at the scene (of sth.).

«…Неужели ты всё это тогда же так на месте и обдумал?» — воскликнул Иван Фёдорович вне себя от удивления (Достоевский 2). "…Can you possibly have thought of all that right there on the spot?" Ivan Fyodorovich exclaimed, beside himself with astonishment (2a).

2. [usu. subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, оказаться, бывать etc (subj: human or concr)] in the room or place where a person works and should be; in the place where an item should be: X на месте ≃ X is in place; person X is in (his office); person X is at his desk ⟨station⟩; [lim.] X is where he ⟨it etc⟩ is supposed to be.

Как раз именно полковник Добренький, которого никогда не бывает на месте, [лейтенанту] и нужен (Войнович 4). …It was precisely Colonel Dobrenky, who was never in, with whom he [the lieutenant] needed to speak (4a). ♦ Майор, против обыкновения, оказался на месте (Максимов 1). For once the major was in his office (1a).

3. ~ чьём, кого [adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: human; subjunctive only)] (if s.o. were) in another person's situation: будь X ⟨если бы X был⟩ на месте Y-а ≃ (if X were) in Y's place ⟨shoes, position⟩ (X would…); [1st person only] if I were you.

…Его лицо ничего не выражало особенного, и мне стало досадно: я бы на его месте умер с горя (Лермонтов 1). …His face showed nothing in particular, and that annoyed me. If I'd been in his place, I'd have died of grief (1c). ♦ «…А я бы на вашем месте поостерёгся…» (Стругацкие 3). "I'd be worried if I were you" (3a).

4. уложить, убить и т.п. кого ~ [adv] Also: КЛАСТЬ/ ПОЛОЖИ́ТЬ НА МЕ́СТЕ [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv; fixed WO] to kill s.o. outright, immediately: X уложил Y-а на месте ≃ X killed Y on the spot; X killed Y where Y stood; [lim.] X blasted Y on the spot.

…Он пригласил к себе старшего помощника для объяснений и убил его на месте (Богданов 1). …He summoned his assistant for an explanation and killed him on the spot (1a).

М-110 • НА МЕ́СТЕ[2]; НА СВОЁМ МЕ́СТЕ [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] a person who is engaged in work or activities that suit his abilities, vocation: X на (своём) месте ≃ X is the right man in the right place; X is the right man for the job; X is in his right ⟨proper⟩ place; X is right ⟨exactly⟩ where he belongs; X is in his element; || Neg X не на своём месте ≃ X is the wrong man for the job; X is not in his right ⟨proper⟩ place; X is out of place ⟨out of his element⟩.

Экспериментатором он быть не мог — только теоретиком, но здесь уж он был на месте (Грекова 2). He could not conduct experiments, he had to confine himself to theoretical work, but here he was the right man in the right place (2a).

М-111 • НА МЕ́СТЕ ПРЕСТУПЛЕ́НИЯ поймать, застать, накрыть кого и т.п. often humor [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] at the very moment when sth. reprehensible is being carried out: X-а поймали ~ ≃ X was caught red-handed ⟨in the act⟩; X was discovered at the scene of the crime; X was caught with his hand in the cookie jar ⟨in the till⟩.

[Осип:] В законе написано, что только тогда пойдёшь в Сибирь, когда на тебя обстоятельно докажут или на месте преступления поймают… (Чехов 1). [О.:] …According to the law you can only be sent to Siberia if you're proved guilty or if you're caught red-handed (1a). ♦ Она [Мария] только на секунду остановилась и прошла в кухню. Кузьме стало противно и стыдно, будто эти деньги он украл у Марии и она застала его на месте преступления (Распутин 1). She [Maria] stopped for only an instant on her way to the kitchen, but her presence made Kuzma feel miserable and ashamed, as if he were stealing from her and she had caught him in the act (1a).

М-112 • НА ПУСТО́М ⟨ГО́ЛОМ⟩ МЕ́СТЕ [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] 1. ~ начинать to start sth. at the very beginning, from nothing: (start) from scratch; [lim.] (start) with a clean slate.

[Бакченин:] Мне на голом месте начинать. Я должен быть свободен, чтоб заставить себя заниматься, заставить сидеть над книгами в Публичке, вообще переключиться с этой жизни на ту… (Панова 1). [B.:] I need to start with a clean slate. I have to be free in order to make myself work, to make myself sit over books in the public library, to switch over from this life to the one I want… (1a).

2. возникнуть, появиться и т.п. ~ [often neg] (usu. of a cultural phenomenon, school of thought etc) (to emerge, spring etc) in isolation from and not founded on any already existing (phenomenon, school of thought etc): out of nowhere; in a vacuum; in vacuo.

…Много позже искусство христианской Европы строилось… не на пустом месте и не на греко-латинском фундаменте только, но на базе местных, древнеязыческих форм, чутких и восприимчивых к голосу новой эстетики именно соединением крайностей красоты и гротеска (Терц 3). …The much later art of Christian Europe arose not in vacuo and not on Greco-Latin foundations alone but on the basis of ancient pagan forms of its own, which proved entirely consonant with the aesthetics of the new era for the very reason that they already combined the extremes of the beautiful and the grotesque (3a).

3. coll without any cause: for no apparent reason; for no reason at all; || Neg не на пустом месте ≃ for good reason.

Ссоры вспыхивали зря, на пустом месте… (Мандельштам 2). [context transl] Our squabbles were about nothing at all… (2a).

М-113 • НА РО́ВНОМ МЕ́СТЕ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] unexpectedly, for no apparent reason: suddenly; all of a sudden; out of the blue; just; just like that; for no reason at all.

Подполковник Лужин не относился к числу людей, не умеющих владеть собой, но когда ему на стол положили это сообщение в расшифрованном виде, он сказал: «Ого!.. Чудовищная удача!.. Чудовищная удача! И найти такое на ровном месте!» (Войнович 4). Lieutenant Colonel Luzhin was not to be numbered among those unable to control themselves, but when this communiqué had been deciphered and placed on his desk he said, "Oho!… A monstrous piece of luck…. A monstrous piece of luck. And to find it just like that!" (4a).

М-114 • ПРОВАЛИ́ТЬСЯ (МНЕ) НА (Э́ТОМ) МЕ́СТЕ; ЧТОБ МНЕ ПРОВАЛИ́ТЬСЯ НА (Э́ТОМ) МЕ́СТЕ; ПРОВАЛИ́СЬ Я all highly coll [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] an oath used by the speaker to emphasize the truth of a statement: I swear it!; (I) swear to God!; honest to God!; may the earth swallow me up (right here) (if…); may I fall through the ground (if…); may lightning strike me (dead) (if…).

«Знаешь, что я затеяла? Родить ребёнка». Вера обомлела. «Да что ты?! Врёшь!» — «Провалиться мне на этом месте» (Грекова 3). "Know what? I'm going to have a child." Vera was stunned. "Come on! That's not true." "Swear to God" (3a).

М-115 • СТОЯ́ТЬ ⟨ТОПТА́ТЬСЯ coll, ОСТАВА́ТЬСЯ⟩ НА (ОДНО́М) МЕ́СТЕ [VP; subj: human, collect, or abstr] (of a person or group) to act, do sth. ineffectively, not make progress; (of an abstract notion, often life, work etc) not to develop, not improve: X стоит ⟨топчется⟩ на месте ≃ X is making no headway; X is getting nowhere (fast); person X is spinning his wheels; person X is marking time; person X is on a treadmill; thing X is static ⟨at a standstill⟩.

…Знаешь, чего нам не хватает? Движения. Мы топчемся на месте (Зиновьев 1). "…Do you know what we lack? We lack movement. We're just marking time" (1a).

М-116 • ТЁПЛОЕ ⟨ТЁПЛЕНЬКОЕ⟩ МЕСТЕ́ЧКО ⟨МЕ́СТО⟩ coll [NP; usu. subj or obj; fixed WO] a job that is lucrative or otherwise advantageous: cushy job ⟨position⟩; soft job; comfortable (little) job.

[Глумов:] Но и здесь можно добиться тёплого места и богатой невесты, — с меня и довольно (Островский 9). [G.:] But even here it should be possible to get a cushy job and a rich bride. That's all I want (9a).

M-117 • БОЛЬНО́Е МЕ́СТО (чьё, для кого, кого, у кого) [NP; sing only; usu. obj or compl of copula with subj: inanim; fixed WO] a very sensitive, vulnerable aspect (of s.o. or sth.); a matter that causes s.o. (or a group of people) feelings of grief, anxiety, resentment: sore spot ⟨point⟩; sensitive ⟨tender, vulnerable⟩ spot; [lim.] what troubles s.o. most; || задеть кого за больное место ≃ touch ⟨hit⟩ a (raw) nerve; hit s.o. where it hurts (most) ⟨where it hurts him the most⟩.

…Что касается национальности, то отношение к ней… было больным его [Пастернака] местом. Не то чтобы он её стеснялся — этого не было. Но, являясь по духу глубоко русским поэтом, он терялся и не знал, что делать и что говорить, когда оказывалось, что его еврейское происхождение никогда не забывают и никогда не прощают (Ивинская 1). The matter of his origins… was a sore point with him [Pasternak]. It wasn't that he was embarrassed by them—there was no question of this. But as a Russian poet to the core of his being, he was at a loss what to do or say whenever he was brought up against the fact that his Jewish descent would never be forgotten or forgiven (1a). ♦ [Маша:] Чего вы от него хотите? Чтобы он в гениях числился? Главные роли играл? Как вам не стыдно долбить его в больное место! (Розов 1). [M.:] What do you want of him? To be a genius? To play only the leading roles? Aren't you all ashamed to keep hitting him where it hurts most! (1a).

M-118 • ЗЛА́ЧНОЕ МЕ́СТО humor or iron [NP; fixed WO except when used as VP_{subj} with copula] 1. a place where there is much drinking, indulgence in debauchery: bawdy place; seedy hangout ⟨joint⟩; [lim.] bawdyhouse.

«Хочу вас предупредить, девушка вы молодая, а место тут злачное» (Гинзбург 1). "What I wanted to say is that you had better watch out here. You're a young girl and this is a bawdy place" (1a).

2. coll. a place where alcoholic drinks are served: drinking joint; pub.

M-119 • ЗНАТЬ СВОЁ МЕ́СТО occas. derog [VP; subj: human; often imper or infin with надо, должен etc; more often this WO] to act or behave in keeping with one's (usu. humble) position: X знает своё место ≃ X knows his place; || Imper знай своё место ≃ remember your place!; remember who you are!; [lim.] that will teach you a lesson.

«Помни, что ты дрянь; я принимаю тебя потому только, что нет никого лучше; а приехала какая-нибудь княжна Юзякина — ты знай своё место, стой у порога» (Гоголь 3). "Remember that you are rubbish and nothing else; I receive you because there is no one better around, but if some Princess Uzyakin is visiting me, you'd better remember your place and stand at the door" (3c). ♦ …Офицер ударил Остапа наотмашь хлыстом поперёк лица и крикнул: «Знай своё место, мужик!» (Паустовский 1). …The officer struck Ostap across the face with his whip, shouting "You lout! Remember who you are!" (1a).

M-120 • ИМЕ́ТЬ МЕ́СТО lit [VP; subj: abstr] 1. to be, be present: X имел место ≃ X existed; X had a ⟨its⟩ place.

Некоторые довольно интеллигентные люди, замечая отдельные недостатки, которые всё ещё имеют место в нашей стране, думают: а что если слегка потеснить большевиков, чтобы в дальнейшем, устранив эти недостатки, перестать их теснить? (Искандер 4). There are certain rather well-informed people who notice the isolated shortcomings that still exist in our country and think: What if we crowd the Bolsheviks a little, with the idea that we'll stop crowding them in the future, when we've eliminated these deficiencies? (4a).

2. to happen: X имел место ≃ X took place; X came to pass; X occurred; [lim.] X was made ⟨done etc⟩.

Главным развлечением в этом монотонном существовании была баня, которая, как говорится, имела место каждые десять дней (Максимов 2). The chief distraction in this monotonous existence was the bath, which took place every ten days (2a).

M-121 • МЕ́СТО ⟨ПУНКТ⟩ НАЗНАЧЕ́НИЯ [NP; fixed WO] the place to which s.o. or sth. travels, is sent, etc, and which is the end point of the journey: destination.

M-122 • МЕ́СТО ПОД СО́ЛНЦЕМ lit [NP; sing only; subj or obj; fixed WO] 1. a visible position in society, among other people: place in the sun.

Глядя на них, мирно покуривающих у распахнутого окошка, Антонина позавидовала мужской доле. Сила мышц или знание ремесла уже обеспечивали им место под солнцем (Максимов 3). Watching the men resting and smoking by the window, Antonina found herself envying their lot. Muscular strength, or knowledge of a craft, ensured them their place in the sun (3a).

2. the right to exist: (have) a place in this world.

M-123 • МО́КРОЕ МЕ́СТО ОСТА́НЕТСЯ от кого; МО́КРОГО МЕ́СТА НЕ ОСТА́НЕТСЯ both highly coll [VP_{subj} or $VP_{subj/gen}$] (often used as a threat) s.o. will be completely destroyed, defeated, cruelly punished: от X-а мокрое место останется ≃ (X will be beaten up so bad) there won't be anything left of him; X will be pulverized; person Y will make mincemeat out of X; person Y will wipe ⟨mop⟩ the floor with X; person Y will chew X up and spit him out.

M-124 • НА МЕ́СТО положить, поставить что [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to put sth.) in the place where it should be: (put sth.) in its (proper) place; (put sth.) back (in place); (put sth.) where it belongs.

[Аркадий:] Положи [галстук] на место, слышишь? [Андрей:] Не кричи, отец занимается. Тихо! (Розов 1). [Arkady:] Put it [the necktie] back, do you hear?! [Andrei:] Don't shout. Father is working. Sh-h-h! (1a).

M-125 • НЕ МЕ́СТО где, often здесь, тут [NP; impers predic with $быть_{ø}$; usu. pres] 1. ~ кому it is inappropriate, wrong for s.o. to be in the place or among the people in question: X-у здесь не место ≃ this is not the place for X; this is no place for X.

[Львов:] Ну, зачем, спрашивается, вы привезли меня сюда, к этим коршунам? Не место тут для нас с вами! (Чехов 4). [L.:] And why, I should like to know, have you brought me here to this nest of vultures? This is no place for either of us (4a).

2. ~ чему, что делать [also used as subj-compl with $быть_{ø}$ (subj: infin)] sth. (or doing sth.) is not appropriate in some place: здесь не место X-у ⟨делать X⟩ ≃ this ⟨here⟩ is not the (proper) place for X ⟨to do X⟩; this is no place for X ⟨for doing X⟩.

Тут не место распространяться о литературной деятельности младшего [из них]. Скажем только, что он был топорно груб и топорно наивен… (Набоков 1). This is not the place to enlarge upon the literary activities of the younger man. Let us merely say that he was uncouthly crude and uncouthly naïve… (1a).

М-126 • НЕ МЕ́СТО КРА́СИТ ЧЕЛОВЕ́КА, А ЧЕЛОВЕ́К МЕ́СТО [saying] it is not a person's position at the workplace that is important, but the person's qualities, abilities etc: ≃ the position ⟨the job⟩ doesn't make the man, the man makes the position ⟨the job⟩.

М-127 • О́БЩЕЕ МЕ́СТО lit, usu. disapprov [NP; usu. obj or subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. это); fixed WO] a hackneyed expression, truism: commonplace; platitude; worn-out phrase.

[Иванов:] Полюбил, разлюбил, не хозяин своим чувствам — всё это общие места, избитые фразы, которыми не поможешь… (Чехов 4). [I.:] Falling in love, falling out of love, not master of my feelings—all platitudes, trite phrases, which do not help… (4a).

М-128 • ОТХО́ЖЕЕ МЕ́СТО coll [NP; fixed WO] an outdoor toilet that is not connected to the sewer: outhouse; privy; latrine; pit toilet.

…В девять часов вечера [он] покушал в молочной столовой творога и оладьев [dial = оладий]. На чай опять дал восемь копеек и спросил, где тут отхожее место. Оно оказалось на дворе (Акунин 4). …At nine o'clock in the evening he dined on cottage cheese and pancakes in the dairy dining hall. Once again he left an eight-kopeck tip, then asked where the privy was. It turned out to be in the yard (4a).

М-129 • ПУСТО́Е МЕ́СТО (для кого) coll, usu. derog [NP; sing only; usu. subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human) or obj-compl with считать кого и т.п. (obj: human); fixed WO] a person who does nothing beneficial, makes no worthwhile contribution (to some job, project etc), or who is of no significance (to s.o.): X (для Y-а) пустое место ≃ [in refer. to s.o.'s unsuitability for some job, lack of productivity etc] X is useless; X is of no use to Y; [in refer. to s.o.'s—often the speaker's—low estimation of or belittling attitude toward the person in question] X is ⟨Y considers X⟩ a nonentity ⟨a nobody, a nothing⟩; [in refer. to s.o.'s—often the speaker's—indifference toward, lack of caring about or respect for the person in question] X means nothing (at all) to Y.

М-130 • СВЯ́ТО МЕ́СТО ПУ́СТО НЕ БЫВА́ЕТ [saying] there will always be someone to fill a vacancy: ≃ nature abhors a vacuum; pedestals don't stay empty for long.

Из Новосибирска меня отправили в Тайшет, там были огромные лагеря для 58-ой статьи. Но когда я туда приехал, оказалось, что там уже не осталось ни одного политического лагеря. Три дня назад ушёл последний спецэшелон в Мордовию. Свято место пусто не бывает: тайшетские лагеря сразу же стали заполняться бытовиками-уголовниками (Марченко 1). From Novosibirsk I was sent to Taishet, where there used to be enormous camps for politicals. But when I arrived there turned out to be not a single one left. Three days earlier the last special convoy had left for Mordovia. Nature abhors a vacuum, however, and the Taishet camps immediately began to fill with criminal cons (1a).

М-131 • СЛА́БОЕ ⟨УЯЗВИ́МОЕ⟩ МЕ́СТО (чьё, кого-чего, у кого-чего) [NP; fixed WO] s.o.'s most vulnerable area or shortcoming, or the weakest aspect of sth.: weak spot ⟨point⟩; soft spot; chink (in s.o.'s armor).

И ещё было много других замечательных указов. Но во всей архитектурной системе их он [Сталин] находил-таки последнее время одно слабое место — и постепенно зрел в голове его новый важный указ (Солженицын 3). There had been many other remarkable edicts. However, he [Stalin] still found one weak spot in the whole architectonic system, and gradually an important new edict was ripening in his mind (3a).

М-132 • СТА́ВИТЬ/ПОСТА́ВИТЬ НА (СВОЁ) МЕ́СТО кого; УКА́ЗЫВАТЬ/УКАЗА́ТЬ кому ЕГО́ ⟨ЕЁ⟩ МЕ́СТО [VP; subj: human] to point out to s.o. (usu. in an abrupt manner) that he is acting improperly, taking liberties etc; to remind s.o. of his low rank or position: X поставил Y-а на место ≃ X put Y in Y's place; X showed Y Y's place; X cut Y down to size; X pulled ⟨knocked⟩ Y off Y's high horse.

Нике в этих словах почудились какие-то шпильки. Ну, конечно, она [Надя] ставит его на место, напоминая ему, как он ещё мал (Пастернак 1). Nika thought there was a hidden barb in those words. Naturally, she [Nadia] was putting him in his place, reminding him he was a baby (1a).

М-133 • СТА́ВИТЬ/ПОСТА́ВИТЬ СЕБЯ́ НА МЕ́СТО чьё, кого; СТАНОВИ́ТЬСЯ/СТАТЬ ⟨ВСТАТЬ⟩ НА МЕ́СТО чьё, кого [VP; subj: human; 2nd var., usu. pfv imper] to (try to) imagine o.s. in someone else's situation: X поставил себя на место Y-а ≃ X put himself in Y's place ⟨shoes⟩.

«…Ты на минуту встань на моё место. Представь, что тебе приносят пулю и говорят: вот доказательство, что ты убил человека» (Тендряков 1). "…Put yourself in my place for a moment. Imagine that someone brings you a bullet, and says: 'Here is the evidence that you have killed a man'" (1a).

М-134 • У́ЗКОЕ МЕ́СТО (чьё, кого, в чём) [NP; often subj-compl with copula (subj: abstr or concr); fixed WO] the weakest, most vulnerable aspect of sth.: weak ⟨trouble⟩ spot; weak link (in the chain).

Санитарные условия на заводе — наше узкое место. Нужно ещё многое сделать. Sanitary conditions at the factory remain a trouble spot for us. Much still needs to be done.

М-135 • УСТУПА́ТЬ/УСТУПИ́ТЬ МЕ́СТО [VP; fixed WO] 1. кому [subj: human] to yield, voluntarily, one's place on a bus or train, a committee, a sports team, the podium etc to another: X уступил место Y-у ≃ X gave up ⟨offered⟩ his seat to Y; [in refer. to a sports team etc] X gave up his place ⟨spot, position⟩ to Y; [in refer. to a committee] X gave up his position ⟨seat (on a committee)⟩ to Y; || X уступил Y-у место за рулём ≃ X yielded ⟨ceded⟩ the driver's seat to Y; || [when used figuratively] X уступил Y-у место ≃ X yielded ⟨ceded his place⟩ to Y.

«Я хотел только сказать, — начал он медленно, — что я так люблю тебя, так люблю, что если б…» Он медлил. «Ну?» — нетерпеливо спросила она. «Что, если б ты полюбила теперь другого и он был бы способнее сделать тебя счастливой, я бы… молча проглотил своё горе и уступил ему место» (Гончаров 1). "I just wanted to say," he began slowly, "that I love you so much, I love you so much that if—" He hesitated. "Well?" she asked impatiently. "That if you came to love someone else now and he was more capable of making you happy, I would… swallow my grief in silence and cede my place" (1d).

2. чему [subj: abstr] to be supplanted by something else: X уступил место Y-у ≃ X gave way to Y; X was replaced by Y; X yielded to Y; X took a back seat to Y.

Что же случилось? Должно быть, он поужинал или полежал на спине, и поэтическое настроение уступило место каким-то ужасам (Гончаров 1). What can have happened? Most probably he had eaten late or slept on his back and his lyrical mood had given way to nightmares (1c). What had happened? He must have eaten supper or lain on his back, and his poetic mood had yielded to these horrors (1d).

М-169 • СДАВА́ТЬСЯ/СДА́ТЬСЯ НА МИ́ЛОСТЬ кого, usu. победителя [VP; subj: human or collect] to give in (to one’s conqueror, enemy etc) unreservedly, making no demands and setting no conditions: X сдался на милость Y-а ≃ X surrendered unconditionally (to Y); X surrendered himself to the mercies of Y; X threw himself upon the mercy of Y.

…Накануне того дня, как ей уехать из санатория, Соискатель поднял руки вверх: «Сдаюсь! На милость победителя!» (Залыгин 1). …On the eve of her departure from the sanatorium the Challenger put up his hands: “I surrender! Unconditionally!” (1a). ♦ …Ему [Сталину] трудно было поверить сейчас, что ровно пять лет назад, в эту же пору… Москва всерьёз готовилась сдаться на милость победителя… (Максимов 1). He [Stalin] could hardly believe now that exactly five years earlier, at this time of year, Moscow was seriously considering throwing herself upon the mercy of her conqueror… (1a).

М-170 • СДЕ́ЛАЙ(ТЕ) МИ́ЛОСТЬ; СДЕ́ЛАЙ(ТЕ) (ТАКО́Е) ОДОЛЖЕ́НИЕ all old-fash, coll [VP_{imper}; these forms only; usu. indep. clause; fixed WO] 1. used to express a polite, sometimes persistent, entreaty (which is actually a demand in disguise): (would you ⟨could you, please, do⟩) be so good ⟨kind⟩ as to; would ⟨will, could⟩ you please (do sth.); kindly (do sth.); do me a favor (and do sth.); do me the favor of (doing sth.); [lim.] be a good fellow (and do sth.).

«Пётр Петрович, сделайте милость, уйдите!» (Достоевский 3). “Mr. Luzhin, please be so kind as to leave!” (3a). ♦ [Лопахин:] Погодите, господа, сделайте милость, у меня в голове помутилось, говорить не могу… (Чехов 2). [L.:] Kindly wait a moment, ladies and gentlemen, my head is swimming, I can’t talk… (2a).

2. used to express polite assent to a request or proposition: please do; go (right) ahead; (do) as you wish; very well; [lim.] help yourself; you’re welcome to it; be my guest.

И если хочешь учиться, то, пожалуйста, сделай одолжение, учись на здоровье… (Рыбаков 1). …You want to study? Then go ahead, study to your heart’s content! (1a).

[Лебедев:] Скажи на милость, за каким это лешим ты зачастил к Марфутке? (Чехов 4). [L.:] Will you please tell me why the devil you go to Marfutka’s so often? (4a).

2. [sent adv (parenth)] used to add emphasis, often irony, to a statement or rhetorical question: for heaven's ⟨goodness'⟩ sake; (who ⟨where etc⟩) in the world; (what ⟨where etc⟩) in God's name.

«И, скажи на милость, откуда эта детская похвальба у меня взялась? Не утерпел-таки, сообщил [Ирине], что полковник обещал меня к награде представить…» (Шолохов 1). "For goodness' sake, where had I picked up that childish trick of bragging! All the same, I couldn't keep it to myself, I told her [Irina] the colonel had promised to recommend me for an award" (1a).

3. [Interj] used to express one's surprise, bewilderment, dissatisfaction etc at s.o.'s statement, actions etc: good heavens ⟨grief, gracious, Lord⟩!; (well) I'll be darned!; how do you like that!; you don't say (so)!; well, what do you know!; well, I never!

«…Я вёшенская, дедушка», — вспыхнув от радости, сказала Аксинья. — «Скажи на милость!» — воскликнул старик (Шолохов 5). "…I'm from Vyoshenskaya too, Grandad," Aksinya said, flushing with joy. "You don't say so!" the old man exclaimed (5a).

М-172 • ЯВИ́(ТЕ) ⟨СДЕ́ЛАЙ(ТЕ)⟩ БО́ЖЕСКУЮ МИ́ЛОСТЬ obs [VP_{imper}; these forms only; indep. clause; usu. this WO] used to express an emphatic or humble request: for heaven's ⟨God's, Christ's, pity's, mercy's⟩ sake; for the love of God.

«Нет, уж вы, юноша, кокарду снимите, сделайте божескую милость» (Сологуб 1). "…No, you'd best take off the cockade, young man, for Heaven's sake" (1a).

М-173 • БО́ЖЬЕЙ МИ́ЛОСТЬЮ; ОТ БО́ГА [$NP_{instrum}$ or PrepP; these forms only; usu. nonagreeing postmodif] (of a person) gifted, naturally talented (in some area or field): (one has) a God-given talent (for sth.); a natural-born [NP]; a born [NP]; (one is) the finest [NP] God ever made ⟨created⟩; (one is) a brilliant [NP]—a gift from God [lim.] (one is) a natural.

Он блестящий врач, хирург милостью божьей. He is a brilliant doctor, a born surgeon. ♦ «Видите ли, Лаэрт Терпсихоров (это, разумеется, сценический псевдоним) — один из моих самых занятных пациентов. Он был актёром — гениальным, что называется, от Бога. Играя в спектакле, совершенно перевоплощался в персонажа. Публика и критики были в восторге (Акунин 2). "You see, Laertes Terpsichorov (naturally, that is his stage name) is one of my most interesting patients. He used to be an actor, and a brilliant one—a gift from God, as they say. When he acted in a play, he was completely transformed into the character he played. The public and the critics adored him" (2a).

М-174 • МИ́ЛЫЕ БРАНЯ́ТСЯ — ТО́ЛЬКО ТЕ́ШАТСЯ [saying] when people who love each other quarrel, their arguments are not serious, they will soon make up: ≃ it's only a lover's quarrel ⟨tiff⟩; lovers' quarrels are soon mended; the quarrel of lovers is the renewal of love.

Несколько зная язык, он [Васильев] писал статью начерно, оставляя проблемы, вкрапливая русские фразы и требуя от Фёдора Константиновича дословного перевода своих передовичных словец: …чудеса в решете… пришла беда — растворяй ворота… милые бранятся — только тешатся… (Набоков 1). Having a smattering of the language, he [Vasiliev] wrote his article out in rough, with gaps and Russian phrases interspersed, and demanded from Fyodor a literal translation of the usual phrases found in leaders: …wonders never cease… troubles never come singly… it's only a lover's tiff… (1a).

М-175 • С МИ́ЛЫМ РАЙ И В ШАЛАШЕ́ [saying] when you are with the one you love, you can be happy in any place, any living situation (even if less than ideal): ≃ a cottage is a castle for those in love; love makes a cottage a castle.

Через три дня они поженились. С милым рай и в шалаше. Ей было восемнадцать лет, ему двадцать. Поселились они в крохотной Димкиной комнатке на пятом этаже, которую он снимал, поссорившись с отцом, крупным инженером (Некрасов 1). Three days later they were married. A cottage is a castle for those in love. She was eighteen, he was twenty. They settled down in the minute fifth-floor room which Dimka had rented since quarreling with his father, a famous engineer (1a).

М-176 • КИ́СЛАЯ МИ́НА [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a displeased expression on one's face: long ⟨wry⟩ face; sour expression; || X сделал кислую мину ≃ X made a wry face; X pulled a long face.

Судья сидела или сидел или сидело за столом с кислой миной… (Аксёнов 6). The judge (he, she, or it) was sitting behind a table with a sour expression… (6a).

М-177 • В МИНИАТЮ́РЕ [PrepP; Invar; usu. nonagreeing modif] (some place, thing, event etc is similar to the place, thing, event etc named) except much smaller in size or scale: a [NP] in miniature; a small-scale [NP]; a smaller ⟨tiny⟩ version of a [NP].

М-178 • ДЕ́ЛАТЬ/СДЕ́ЛАТЬ ХОРО́ШУЮ ⟨ВЕСЁЛУЮ⟩ МИ́НУ ПРИ ПЛОХО́Й ИГРЕ́ [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] to mask one's annoyance, discontent, failure with the appearance of tranquillity, happiness: X делает хорошую мину при плохой игре ≃ X puts up a bold front; X puts a good face on things ⟨on a bad business⟩; X grins and bears it.

Теперь же, ввязавшись в него [дело Синявского и Даниэля], [власти] делали хорошую мину при плохой игре, полностью игнорируя общественное мнение (Буковский 1). Once having blundered into it [the Sinyavsky and Daniel case], they [the authorities] put up a bold front to cover the stupidity of the Sinyavsky and Daniel arrests and totally ignored world public opinion (1a).

М-179 • ПОДВОДИ́ТЬ/ПОДВЕСТИ́ ⟨ПОДКЛА́ДЫВАТЬ/ ПОДЛОЖИ́ТЬ⟩ МИ́НУ ⟨МИ́НЫ⟩ под кого coll [VP; subj: human] to make trouble for s.o. stealthily, do a vile thing to s.o.; acting in secret, to undermine s.o.'s position at work or in society: X подложил мину под Y-а ≃ X played a dirty trick on Y; X did a nasty thing to Y.

Мы так ждали лета, а оно пролетело как одна минута. We couldn't wait for summer, and then it was over before we knew it.

М-182 • МИНУ́ТА В МИНУ́ТУ; СЕКУ́НДА В СЕКУ́НДУ [NP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] exactly, precisely at a fixed time: to the minute; on the dot; right on time; at… sharp; on the nose.

Каждый гость мог записать в книгу, когда разбудить его завтра. Будили минута в минуту… (Грекова 3). Each guest could write in a book when he was to be awakened the next day, and the staff would wake him on the dot… (3a).

М-183 • НА МИНУ́ТОЧКУ coll [PrepP; this form only] 1. [adv; usu. used with pfv verbs] for a very short length of time: (for) a moment; for one (single) moment ⟨minute⟩; for a ⟨one⟩ brief moment; for a short time; not (for) more than a minute.

Видит бог, дело прошлое, я изо всех сил крепился и наконец, как это бывает на собраниях, если сидишь где-нибудь в задних рядах, решил на минуточку прикорнуть, с тем чтобы потом очнуться с посвежевшей головой (Искандер 3). Goodness knows, it doesn't matter any more; I resisted with all my might and at last, as happens at meetings if you sit anywhere in the back rows, I decided to lean back a moment in order to awake with my mind refreshed (3a).

2. iron or humor [sent adv (parenth)] (used to emphasize a discrepancy, contrast, a part of a statement etc) in connection with what is being discussed: by the way; incidentally; by the bye; come to think of it; just imagine; [lim.] can you imagine?; fancy that.

Ну, высказался ты директору, отвёл душу. А ведь он тебя, на минуточку, может и уволить. So, you spoke your mind with the director, you blew off steam. But he, incidentally, can fire you.

М-184 • В ДО́БРУЮ МИНУ́ТУ obs [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] when (a person is) in a good mood: (catch s.o. when he is) in a good ⟨the right⟩ frame of mind; (catch s.o.) in the right mood ⟨at the right moment⟩.

М-185 • В (ОДНУ́) МИНУ́ТУ [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] instantaneously, very quickly: immediately; at once; right away; in no time (flat); in a flash ⟨a jiffy, a wink, a moment, an instant, a heartbeat⟩.

Читателей было, разумеется, гораздо больше, чем советчиков, и книги [Мандельштама] раскупались в одну минуту… (Мандельштам 2). There were of course many more readers than advisers, and M[andelstam]'s books were always sold out immediately… (2a).

М-186 • В ПЕ́РВУЮ МИНУ́ТУ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] in the beginning: at first; initially.

В первую минуту я не понял, на что он намекает. At first I didn't understand what he was hinting at.

М-188 • НИ НА МИНУ́ТУ [PrepP; Invar; adv; used with negated verbs] not for the shortest amount of time: not (even) for a minute ⟨a second⟩; not for one minute ⟨second⟩; not for a (single) moment; not for an instant; never (for a moment ⟨an instant⟩); [with more than one subj] neither… nor… for a minute ⟨a second, a moment, an instant⟩.

Если появляется где-то поблизости жеребёнок, то мул старается ни на минуту от него не отходить… (Искандер 3). If a foal appears somewhere nearby, the mule tries not to leave his side even for a minute… (3a). ♦ Ни одна из нас ни на минуту не закрывала рта (Гинзбург 1). No one stopped talking for a second (1a).

М-189 • ОДНУ́ МИНУ́ТУ ⟨МИНУ́ТКУ, МИНУ́ТОЧКУ, СЕКУ́НДУ, СЕКУ́НДОЧКУ⟩! coll [indep. sent; these forms only; fixed WO] a request to wait a little, stop etc: just a moment ⟨a minute⟩!; one moment!; wait a minute!; [lim.] wait for me ⟨us⟩!

М-190 • СИЮ́ МИНУ́ТУ ⟨МИНУ́ТКУ, СЕКУ́НДУ⟩ [NP_{accus}; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] 1. immediately: this (very) minute ⟨second, instant⟩; at once; right now.

Филипп Филиппович навалился на дверь ванной, но та не поддавалась. «Открыть сию секунду!» (Булгаков 10). Philip Philippovich threw himself against the bathroom door, but it would not give. "Open up this very second!" (10a). ♦ [Любовь Андреевна:] Уходите, Яша, ступайте… [Яша:] Сейчас уйду. Сию минуту… (Чехов 2). [L.A.:] Go away, Yasha, run along. [Ya.:] I'm going, right away. This very instant (2a).

2. now, at this moment: this minute ⟨second⟩; at this very moment.

Какой-нибудь пустяк, 5.000 рублей, например, задатку, профессор может получить сию же минуту… (Булгаков 10). A trifling advance, say, five thousand rubles, can be placed at the professor's disposal at this very moment… (10a).

М-191 • НИ МИНУ́ТЫ ⟨НИ СЕКУ́НДЫ⟩ не сомневаться, не колебаться, не думать и т.п. [NP_{gen}; these forms only; used with negated verbs; usu. used with impfv verbs] not (to doubt sth., hesitate, assume sth. etc) even for the shortest moment: not (for) a minute ⟨a moment, an instant⟩; without any ⟨a moment's⟩ (hesitation ⟨delay etc⟩).

…Законная власть ни минуты не сомневалась, что Козырь всегда оставался лучшею и солиднейшею поддержкой её (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). …The regime in power did not for a moment doubt that Hotspur had always been its best and most solid support (1a).

М-192 • С МИНУ́ТЫ НА МИНУ́ТУ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (sth. will take place, s.o. will arrive etc) very soon, momentarily: any minute ⟨moment, time⟩ now; any minute; at any moment.

«Кстати, где она?» — «Ждём с минуты на минуту», — сказал Дон Рипат и, поклонившись, отошёл (Стругацкие 4). "By the way, where is she?" "We expect her any moment now," answered Don Ripat, who then bowed and walked away (4a).

М-193 • МИР ПРА́ХУ чьему, кого lit [indep. sent; Invar; fixed WO] (used as a wish to s.o. who has died) may s.o. lie peacefully: мир праху Х-а ≃ may X rest in peace; God rest X's soul.

Так завершила свои дни пани Янжвецкая. Достойная, гордая оказалась женщина. Мир праху её! (Рыбаков 1). That's how Madame Yanzhvetska ended her days. She had been a proud and worthy woman, may she rest in peace (1a).

М-194 • МИР ТЕ́СЕН coll [usu. indep. sent; Invar; more often this WO] no matter where one is he may meet or hear about s.o. whom he knows or who is in some way connected with people or events in his past (often said when meeting an acquaintance unexpectedly): it's a small world; small world!; the world is a small place.

Эйдлин — известный китаист… И Сергей Сергеевич китаист, ученик Эйдлина. Кроме того, как вы помните, Сергей Сергеевич личный друг Николая Т. Федоренко. А Николай Т. Федоренко тоже, кроме всего прочего, китаист. И если вы достанете сборник Восемнадцать стихотворений Мао Цзэ-дуна… то там вы прочтёте «перевод под редакцией Н. Федоренко и Л. Эйдлина». Вот как тесен мир! (Войнович 3). Eidlin is a well-known Sinologist. And Sergei Sergeevich is also a Sinologist, Eidlin's student. Besides that, as you remember, Sergei Sergeevich is a personal friend of Nikolai T. Fedorenko. And Nikolai T. Fedorenko is also, besides everything else, a Sinologist. If you look at Eighteen Poems by Mao Tse-tung… you will see "Translation edited by N. Fedorenko and L. Eidlin." Small world! (3a).

М-195 • ПЕРЕВЕРНУ́ТЬ ВЕСЬ МИР ⟨СВЕТ⟩ [VP; subj: human; usu. fut or infin with готов, решил etc] to do everything possible, make every effort (to achieve or obtain sth.): Х перевернёт весь мир ≃ X will move heaven and earth; X will accomplish ⟨do⟩ the impossible; X will turn the world upside down.

…[Митя] решил перевернуть весь мир, если надо, но непременно эти три тысячи отдать Катерине Ивановне во что бы то ни стало и прежде всего (Достоевский 1). …He [Mitya] decided to turn the whole world upside down, if need be, but to be sure to return the three thousand to Katerina Ivanovna at all costs and before all else (1a).

М-196 • УХОДИ́ТЬ/УЙТИ́ ⟨ПЕРЕСЕЛЯ́ТЬСЯ/ПЕРЕСЕЛИ́ТЬСЯ, ОТБЫВА́ТЬ/ОТБЫ́ТЬ⟩ В ЛУ́ЧШИЙ ⟨В ИНО́Й, В ДРУГО́Й⟩ МИР obs, elev [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] to die: Х ушёл в лучший мир ≃ X has gone to a better ⟨to the next⟩ world; X has left this world.

Писатели, выступавшие в 1958 году на собрании, обещали роману «Доктор Живаго» место на свалке истории. С тех пор прошло двадцать семь лет. Давно умер создатель романа. Ушли в мир иной многие из его гонителей (Войнович 1). The writers who spoke out at the meeting in 1958 promised the author of Doctor Zhivago a place on the garbage dump of history. Since then, twenty-six years have passed, and the creator of the novel died quite some time ago. Many of his persecutors have gone to the next world as well (1a).

М-197 • ХУДО́Й МИР ЛУ́ЧШЕ ДО́БРОЙ ССО́РЫ [saying] usu. said when deciding not to allow strained relations to develop into a full-fledged conflict: ≃ a bad peace is better than a good quarrel; better a bad peace than a good quarrel; a lean compromise is better than a fat lawsuit; a bad peace is better than a good victory.

М-198 • НЕ ОТ МИ́РА СЕГО́ [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing modif or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human), pres or past; fixed WO] a person who is a dreamer, who is not pragmatic or caught up in the worries of everyday life (and who may behave unusually and, occas., eccentrically): Х не от мира сего ≃ X is not of this world; X lives in a ⟨some⟩ dream world; X lives in another world; X is out of touch with reality.

Он вспомнил про Полет. Вывезти её невозможно… Но как ей объяснить? Она не от мира сего… Будет плакать… (Эренбург 4). He remembered Paulette. It was impossible to take her with him…. But how could he explain it to her? She was not of this world. She would only start to weep (4a). ♦ В минуты тишины жильцы дома обсуждали, не торопясь и обстоятельно, наружность радистки. Батраков, который, казалось, был не от мира сего да к тому же и близорук, обнаружил осведомлённость во всех статьях Катиной красоты (Гроссман 2). During the few quiet moments, the men engaged in a long and detailed discussion of Katya's physical appearance. The short-sighted Batrakov, who had always seemed to live in another world, turned out to be surprisingly interested (2a).

М-215 • темно КАК В МОГИ́ЛЕ ⟨В ГРОБУ́, В СКЛЕ́ПЕ, В ПО́ГРЕБЕ, В ША́ХТЕ⟩ где [как + PrepP; these forms only; modif (intensif)] (it is) completely dark (at some place): (as) dark as the grave ⟨a cave, a coal mine, a black hole⟩; [in older texts] (as) dark as a cellar ⟨vault⟩.

Для прочности мы ещё набросали на дрова земли, для маскировки обложили дёрном, так что получился внушительный и ярко приметный холм, под которым, если опустить входной люк, было глухо и темно, как в могиле (Кузнецов 1). To make the whole thing as solid as possible, we covered the wood with dirt, and the dirt with cakes of grassy sod by way of camouflage. As a result, we had a fairly impressive and striking hillock, underneath which, when the hatch at the entrance was in place, everything was as quiet and dark as a grave (1a).

М-216 • НАЙТИ́ (СЕБЕ́) МОГИ́ЛУ; НАЙТИ́ СМЕРТЬ ⟨(СВОЙ) КОНЕ́Ц, КОНЧИ́НУ⟩ lit [VP; subj: human or collect] to die, perish, be killed (usu. in refer. to death in battle, or accidental or unnatural death): X нашёл себе могилу ≃ X met his death; X found his grave; X met his end ⟨fate, doom⟩.

«…Лучшие дивизии врага и лучшие части его авиации уже разбиты и нашли себе могилу на полях сражения…» (Войнович 2). "…The enemy's best divisions and the best units of his air force have already been smashed and have found their graves on the field of battle…" (2a).

М-217 • РЫТЬ ⟨КОПА́ТЬ⟩ МОГИ́ЛУ кому-чему [VP; subj: human or collect] to work toward the destruction of s.o. or sth.: X роет могилу Y-у ≃ X is digging a grave for person Y ⟨the grave of thing Y⟩.

[Болоснин:] …Роя могилу своей собственной империи, они [англичане] обманом обезоруживали нас и — отдавали большевикам! (Солженицын 9). [B.:] …While they [the English] were digging the grave of their own Empire, they disarmed us by deception and gave us up to the Bolsheviks (9a).

М-218 • РЫТЬ ⟨КОПА́ТЬ⟩ СЕБЕ́ МОГИ́ЛУ [VP; subj: human] to do sth. that will result in grave consequences for o.s.: X роет себе могилу ≃ X is digging his own grave; X is driving nails into his own coffin.

Тот, кто упрямится, будет сметён более хитрыми соперниками в борьбе за власть, но тот, кто делает эту уступку, неизбежно и парадоксально, против своей воли роет… себе могилу (Стругацкие 4). Those who resist will be swept away by cleverer rivals in the battle for power; those, on the other hand, who agree to make such concessions, will be digging their own graves against their own will—inescapably and paradoxically (4a).

М-219 • СВОДИ́ТЬ/СВЕСТИ́ ⟨ЗАГНА́ТЬ, УЛОЖИ́ТЬ both coll⟩ В МОГИ́ЛУ кого [VP; subj: human or abstr; usu. pfv fut or past] to cause s.o. to die a premature death (by burdening, worrying, harrassing etc him greatly): X сведёт Y-а в могилу ≃ X will drive ⟨send⟩ Y to Y's ⟨to an early⟩ grave; X will be the death of Y (yet).

pared to kill the dogs, if she could decide to end her grandmother's life just like that—and she really did almost send the old woman to her grave—that means she really had fallen in love, and her love had no bounds…" (6a).

М-220 • СМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ⟩ В МОГИ́ЛУ ⟨В ГРОБ⟩ coll [VP; subj: human, usu. sing; pres or past] (of a sick or very old person) to be near the end of one's life, close to death: X в могилу смотрит ≃ X has one foot in the grave; X is knocking at death's door; X is living on borrowed time.

М-221 • СХОДИ́ТЬ/СОЙТИ́ В МОГИ́ЛУ ⟨В ГРОБ⟩; ЛЕЧЬ В МОГИ́ЛУ ⟨В ГРОБ⟩; ЛОЖИ́ТЬСЯ/ЛЕЧЬ В ЗЕ́МЛЮ; УЙТИ́ В МОГИ́ЛУ ⟨В ЗЕ́МЛЮ⟩ all rather elev [VP; subj: human] to die: X сошёл в могилу ≃ X went to his grave; X went to his final resting place; X went to (his) eternal rest; X laid his bones to rest; X lay in his grave; [in limited contexts with subj: pl] Xs died off.

Несколько раз, со слезами на глазах, графиня говорила сыну, что теперь, когда обе дочери её пристроены, — её единственное желание состоит в том, чтобы видеть его женатым. Она говорила, что легла бы в гроб спокойною, ежели бы это было (Толстой 5). On several occasions, with tears in her eyes, the Countess had told her son that now that both of her daughters were settled, her only wish was to see him married. She said she could go to her grave content if this were accomplished (5a).

М-222 • УНОСИ́ТЬ/УНЕСТИ́ (С СОБО́Й) В МОГИ́ЛУ что [VP; subj: human] to die without conveying sth. (usu. a secret or important message), without managing to accomplish sth.: X унёс Y с собой в могилу ≃ X carried ⟨took⟩ Y to the grave (with him).

М-223 • ДО (СА́МОЙ) МОГИ́ЛЫ [PrepP; these forms only; adv or nonagreeing postmodif] to the end of one's life: till the grave; to the ⟨one's very⟩ grave; to ⟨till⟩ one's dying day; till (the day) one dies; until death; [as modif] lifelong; everlasting.

[Нароков:] Я всю жизнь поклонялся красоте и буду ей поклоняться до могилы… (Островский 11). [N.:] All my life I've worshipped beauty and I shall worship it till the grave… (11a). ♦ «…До могилы ты один останешься в моём сердце» (Пушкин 2). "…Till my dying day, you alone shall remain in my heart" (2b).

М-224 • НЕ МОГУ́ ЗНАТЬ obs, now humor [sent; Invar; fixed WO] (a respectful negative reply) I cannot answer because I do not know the answer: that I wouldn't know (, sir); I wouldn't ⟨don't⟩ know, sir; [lim.] that I daren't judge (, sir).

«…Я его [щенка] вычёсывал». — «А отчего же блохи?» — «Не могу знать» (Гоголь 3). "I did comb him [the puppy] out, sir." "Why does he have fleas then?" "I wouldn't know, sir" (3c).

М-225 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ МО́ДУ coll [VP; subj: human; often foll. by infin] to adopt a certain life style, habit etc (usu. a disagreeable one from the speaker's point of view), start doing sth. habitually: X взял моду делать Y ≃ X took to doing Y; X got into the habit of doing Y; X picked up the habit of doing Y.

Последнее время моя сестра взяла моду вставать после полудня. Lately my sister has taken to getting up after noon.

М-226 • ВЫХОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЙТИ ИЗ МО́ДЫ [VP; subj: usu. concr or abstr] (of clothes, footwear etc; more broadly, of societal preferences, prevailing views etc) to cease to be popular, cease to be favored by members of a certain group or professsion etc: X вышел из моды ≃ X has gone ⟨passed⟩ out of fashion ⟨style, vogue⟩; X has become unfashionable ⟨old-fashioned⟩; X is no longer in fashion ⟨style, vogue⟩; X is out; [lim.] X has lost its cachet ⟨glamor, prestige etc⟩; || что в моде и что вышло из моды? ≃ what's in and what's out (of fashion ⟨of style⟩)?; || вышедший из моды ≃ unfashionable; old-fashioned.

…Тальберг очень сердился при каждом разговоре о политике… Таким образом, разговоры вышли из моды сами собой (Булгаков 3). …Any discussion of politics made Talberg so angry… Thus, discussions went out of fashion of their own accord (3b). ♦ …Дуэли давно отшумели и вышли из моды, и поэтому всё происходящее напоминало игру и не могло не вызывать улыбки (Окуджава 2). …Duels had long lost their cachet, and therefore the entire incident was like a game and almost ludicrous… (2a).

М-227 • С МОЁ ⟨С НА́ШЕ, С ТВОЁ, С ВА́ШЕ⟩ пожить, испытать и т.п. coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv; used with pfv verbs] (to live) to the extent that I (we, you) have, (to experience) the number of things that I (we, you) have: поживи с моё ≃ (when you've lived ⟨when you've been kicking around the world etc⟩) as long as I have; (when you've seen ⟨done etc⟩) as much as I have; (wait) till you're my age; (when you're as old) as me; (when you've been through) what I have; || Neg не с твоё ≃ (a lot) more than you (have ⟨did etc⟩).

М-228 • Е́ЛЕ МОЖА́ХУ ⟨-ом⟩ obs, humor [orig. VP; these forms only; fixed WO] 1. [subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or adv] in a very drunken state: staggering drunk; feeling no pain; three sheets to the wind.

2. [adv] (to do sth.) with difficulty, almost not (be able to do sth.): barely; only just.

Зимнюю сессию он одолел «еле можахом», с хвостами, затевал разговор об академическом отпуске, даже пошёл без моего ведома в поликлинику, надеясь получить у врачей справку для отпуска, но там ему намылили шею (Трифонов 5). He had barely made it through the fall semester (as it was, he had a couple of incompletes) and was starting to talk about taking a leave of absence. Without my knowledge he had even gone to the policlinic, hoping to get a leave of absence on medical grounds; instead he had gotten a good scolding (5a).

В течение года, может быть двух, происходили столкновения, ссоры, драки, случилось даже убийство… (Федин 1). In the course of a year, maybe two, there occurred clashes, quarrels, fights, and even murder took place… (1a). ♦ В другое время и при других обстоятельствах подобные слухи, может быть, не обратили бы на себя никакого внимания… (Гоголь 3). At another time and under different circumstances such rumors might not have attracted attention (3c). At another time, under different circumstances, it is possible that these rumors wouldn't have had such an impact (3e).

2. used in sentences expressing urging, prompting etc (occas. in order to soften the categorical nature of the prompting): perhaps; maybe; why not (do sth.); why don't you ⟨we etc⟩ (do sth.).

Лёнька спросил: «Может быть, немного посидим?» — «Это ночью», — ответил Садчиков. «Ноги отваливаются» (Семёнов 1). Lyonka said: "Perhaps we can sit down for a while?" "Tonight," replied Sadchikov. "My legs are dropping off" (1a).

М-230 • НЕ МО́ЖЕТ БЫТЬ!; БЫ́ТЬ НЕ МО́ЖЕТ! [Interj; these forms only] an exclamation expressing doubt of sth., distrust in sth., amazement bordering on incredulity: impossible!; that couldn't ⟨can't⟩ be!; it couldn't ⟨can't⟩ be true!; you don't say!; unbelievable!

«А ты знаешь, что этот депутат не далее как вчера политическое убежище попросил?» — «Не может, — режиссёр говорит, — быть!» (Войнович 1). "Are you aware that this deputy only yesterday requested political asylum in the West?" "That can't be!" says the director (1a).

М-231 • КАК МО́ЖНО… [Invar; premodif; foll. by compar form of Adv; the resulting phrase is adv] to the utmost possible extent, exceedingly: as [AdvP] as possible; as [AdvP] as one can.

Я часто наводил разговор на «Господина из Сан-Франциско», желая как можно больше услышать от Бунина о том, как и почему написан им этот необыкновенный рассказ… (Катаев 3). I often worked the conversation round to The Gentleman from San Francisco because I wanted to hear as much as possible from Bunin about how and why he had written this amazing story… (3a).

М-232 • КАК (Э́ТО) МО́ЖНО!; РА́ЗВЕ МО́ЖНО! coll [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] (used to express sharp disagreement, strong objection) that is utterly impossible, I cannot believe you could even suggest (say, think) such a thing: (it's) out of the question; (it's) impossible!; no way!; [lim.] how could I ⟨he etc⟩ (do that)!

«Всё же [ты] не дал [жене] перекрасить черкеску», — напомнил дядя Сандро шутку Теймыра-головореза. «Как можно», — сказал Аслан горделиво… (Искандер 5). "You haven't let her [your wife] dye your cherkeska," Uncle Sandro said, recalling the cutthroat Temyr's joke. "Impossible," Aslan said proudly… (5a).

М-233 • ДО МО́ЗГА КОСТЕ́Й [PrepP; Invar; fixed WO] 1. [nonagreeing modif] (one is a certain type of person) entirely, in every way: (a [NP]) to the (very) marrow of one's bones; (a [NP]) to the core; every inch (a ⟨the⟩ [NP]); (a [NP]) through and through; [lim.] (an) out-and-out ([NP]).

«Парамошина я знаю, пролетарий до мозга костей» (Максимов 3). "I know Paramoshin, he's a proletarian to the marrow of his bones" (3a).

2. [adv] to an extreme degree: to the marrow of one's bones; to the bone ⟨the marrow, the core⟩; through and through; || робеть и т.п. ~ ≃ be scared out of one's wits; feel painfully shy.

М-234 • МОЗГА́ ЗА МОЗГУ́ ЗАХО́ДИТ/ЗАШЛА́ у кого substand [VP_{subj}; usu. impfv; usu. this WO] s.o. can no longer think coherently (often from excessively stressful, mentally taxing work, exhaustion etc): у Х-а мозга за мозгу заходит ≃ X can't think straight; X's brain is fried.

М-235 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ПО МОЗГА́М кому highly coll [VP; subj: human] to scold, curse s.o. rudely: Х дал Y-у по мозгам ≃ X lashed out at Y; X gave it to Y good; X settled Y's hash; X chewed ⟨bawled⟩ Y out.

Оказывается, полчаса назад окончился худсовет и старик всем дал по мозгам — директору, заму, второму режиссёру! (Трифонов 1). It seemed that a meeting of the theater council had adjourned just half an hour ago and the old man lashed out at all of them—at the executive director and his assistant, and at the assistant artistic director! (1a).

М-236 • ПОЛУЧА́ТЬ/ПОЛУЧИ́ТЬ ПО МОЗГА́М highly coll [VP; subj: human] to be rudely scolded, reprimanded: Х получил по мозгам ≃ X got it good; X got ⟨caught⟩ it in the neck.

«А знаешь, всё-таки жаль Евдокимова». — «Жаль, — согласился Игорь, — но он сам виноват [, что нарисовал карикатуру на декана]… У декана никто всё равно „профессора" не отобрал и не отберёт — хоть сто карикатур рисуй! — а Евдокимов крепко получил по мозгам, что и следовало ожидать с самого начала» (Ерофеев 3). "You know, it really is too bad about Evdokimov." "It is," agreed Igor, "but it's his own fault [that he drew a caricature of the Dean]…. No one took away the Dean's full professorship and no one's going to take it away—not even if you do one hundred such cartoons!—and Evdokimov got it right in the neck, which could have been predicted" (3a).

М-237 • ШЕВЕЛИ́ТЬ/ПОШЕВЕЛИ́ТЬ ⟨ШЕВЕЛЬНУ́ТЬ⟩ МОЗГА́МИ highly coll; ШЕВЕЛИ́ТЬ/ПОШЕВЕЛИ́ТЬ МОЗГО́Й substand; ВОРО́ЧАТЬ МОЗГА́МИ substand [VP; subj: human; often infin with надо or нужно, or imper] to think hard (trying to understand, come up with etc sth.): пошевели мозгами ≃ use your brain ⟨head, noodle etc⟩; set your mind to it; (you'd better) rack your brains; put on your thinking cap.

М-238 • ВПРАВЛЯ́ТЬ/ВПРА́ВИТЬ ⟨ВКРУ́ЧИВАТЬ/ВКРУТИ́ТЬ⟩ МОЗГИ́ кому slang [VP; subj: human or collect] to make s.o. behave more prudently, carefully by using severe measures: Х вправил Y-у мозги ≃ X set Y straight; X knocked some sense into Y's head; X put ⟨set⟩ Y right; X brought Y to his senses; [lim.] X gave Y a thorough shaking-up.

Стоя уже в дверях, Абарчук проговорил: «Я ещё приду к тебе… Я тебе вправлю мозги, теперь я буду твоим учителем» (Гроссман 2). Abarchuk was standing in the doorway when he finished. “I’ll come and see you again. I’ll put you right. I’ll be your teacher now” (2a).

М-239 • ДАВИ́ТЬ НА МОЗГИ́ кому slang [VP; subj: human; often neg imper] to try to force s.o. to relinquish his point of view and accept s.o. else’s: X давит Y-у на мозги ≃ X is trying to brainwash ⟨to sway⟩ Y; X is trying to change Y’s mind.

«Излагай и другие версии, другие точки зрения. И не мешай мне самому судить, выбирать. Не дави на мозги» (Копелев 1). “Tell me other versions, other points of view. And don’t interfere with my making my own judgments and choices. Don’t try to brainwash me” (1a).

М-240 • КА́ПАТЬ НА МОЗГИ́ (кому) slang, disapprov [VP; subj: human] to assert sth. over and over to s.o., repeating it continually; to admonish s.o. endlessly: X капает Y-у на мозги ≃ X is (getting) on Y’s back ⟨case⟩; X is pestering ⟨bugging⟩ Y.

«Он тут… нам на мозги капает, а ты и вздыхаешь: вот, дескать, божий человек. А этот божий человек небось ряху нагел» (Абрамов 1). “Here he is getting on our backs, and you just sigh and say, ‘There’s a simple man of God.’ Well, this man of God managed to stuff his face pretty good (1a).

М-241 • КРУТИ́ТЬ/ЗАКРУТИ́ТЬ МОЗГИ́ кому substand [VP; subj: human] 1. to (try to) deceive, confuse s.o.: X крутит Y-у мозги ≃ X is trying to fast-talk Y; X is trying to put one over on Y; X is muddling ⟨addling⟩ Y.

2. to cause s.o. to fall in love with one, win s.o.’s affections: X закрутил(а) мозги мужчине Y-у ⟨женщине Y⟩ ≃ X turned Y’s head; X swept Y off his ⟨her⟩ feet.

М-242 • КУРИ́НЫЕ ⟨ЦЫПЛЯ́ЧЬИ⟩ МОЗГИ́ (у кого) highly coll, derog [NP; pl only] (s.o. has) limited mental capabilities, (is) unintelligent: birdbrain ⟨pinhead, pea brain, lamebrain⟩; (s.o. is) birdbrained ⟨pinheaded, peabrained, lamebrained⟩.

«Владька, где там твой старый хрыч?.. Мать его в железку… мозги набекрень» (Максимов 2). “And what about that old fogey of yours, Vlad?… God damn him, the old crackpot” (2a).

М-244 • ПРОМЫВА́ТЬ/ПРОМЫ́ТЬ МОЗГИ́ кому coll [VP; subj: human] 1. [often 3rd pers pl with indef. refer.] to indoctrinate s.o. forcibly with political, social, religious etc beliefs that differ from or are contrary to his own: X-у промывают мозги ≃ X is being brainwashed. ○ ПРОМЫ́ВКА МОЗГО́В [NP; sing only; fixed WO] ≃ brainwashing.

2. to scold s.o. severely: X промыл Y-у мозги ≃ X raked ⟨hauled⟩ Y over the coals; X took Y to task; X called Y on the carpet.

…У Гангута как раз по приказу Комитета смыли фильм, на который потрачено было два года; как раз вызывали его на промывку мозгов в Союз, как раз не пустили на фестиваль в Канн… (Аксёнов 7). Gangut’s latest film, a two-year project, had just been rejected by the censors; he had just been hauled over the coals by the Film Makers’ Union; he had just been refused permission to go to Cannes… (7a).

М-245 • ПУ́ДРИТЬ/ЗАПУ́ДРИТЬ МОЗГИ́ кому slang [VP; subj: human] to try to deceive or mislead s.o.: X пудрит Y-у мозги ≃ X is bullshitting ⟨fast-talking⟩ Y; X is trying to dupe ⟨to con⟩ Y; X is throwing dust in Y’s eyes; X is trying to muddle Y ⟨Y’s brain⟩; X is feeding Y a bunch of malarkey ⟨a load of crap etc⟩.

Тотчас женский голос сердито выпалил: «Почему долго не открывал?!» Зарванцев что-то зашептал, но женщина, громко засмеявшись, оборвала его: «Не пудри мозги! Бабу, наверно, привёл?» (Чернёнок 1). Immediately a woman’s voice shouted angrily: “Why did it take you so long?” Zarvantsev whispered something, but the woman, laughing noisily, cut him off. “Don’t bullshit me! You must have a woman in here!” (1a).

М-246 • НАСТУПА́ТЬ/НАСТУПИ́ТЬ НА (ЛЮБИ́МУЮ ⟨БОЛЬНУ́Ю⟩) МОЗО́ЛЬ кому coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv past; if impfv, usu. infin with не надо, не стоит etc or neg imper] to mention sth. that bothers, hurts, or offends s.o. intensely: X наступил Y-у на любимую мозоль ≃ X touched Y on a raw spot; X hit ⟨touched⟩ Y’s sore spot; X hit ⟨touched⟩ a nerve.

[Нина:] Ваша жизнь прекрасна! [Тригорин:] Что же в ней особенно хорошего?.. Вы, как говорится, наступили на мою самую любимую мозоль, и вот я начинаю волноваться и немного сердиться. Впрочем, давайте говорить (Чехов 6). [N.:] Your life must be wonderful! [T.:] Must it? What is there particularly good about it?… I’m afraid you’ve touched me on a raw spot, and I’m beginning to get worked up and a little cross. However, let’s talk (6b).

М-247 • ВА́ШИМИ ⟨ТВОИ́МИ⟩ МОЛИ́ТВАМИ old-fash, coll, humor [$NP_{instrum}$; these forms only; usu. used as indep. sent; fixed WO] (used as an answer to a question about one’s or s.o.’s health, state of affairs etc) everything is well: can’t complain; no complaints; not bad, thank you for asking.

М-248 • ЗОЛОТА́Я МОЛОДЁЖЬ disapprov [NP; fixed WO] (usu. in refer. to the offspring of famous, socially prominent individuals occupying high-level positions) wealthy, fashionably dressed young people leading vain and idle lives (whose parents are usu. famous, hold high positions etc): the gilded youth.

Про арестованного г-на Ф. сообщалось, что это человек из высшего общества, представитель золотой молодёжи. (Акунин 3). Concerning the prisoner, Mr. F., it was reported that he was a member of the gilded youth from the very highest social circles… (3a).

< Loan translation of the French jeunesse dorée. The phrase was coined in the late 18th cent., around the time of the French Revolution. Initially used in reference to the counterrevolutionary offspring of the petty bourgeoisie, it later lost its political overtones.

М-249 • МОЛОДЕ́Ц ПРОТИВ ⟨СРЕДИ⟩ ОВЕ́Ц (, А ПРОТИВ МОЛОДЦА́ И САМ ОВЦА́) [saying; often only the first half of the saying is used] some person is brave only when confronting those weaker, lower in rank etc than himself: ≃ a lion among sheep (, a sheep among lions).

М-250 • МО́ЛОДО-ЗЕ́ЛЕНО coll, often condes or disapprov [sent; Invar] s.o. is naïve, inexperienced in sth., lacking in seriousness because of his youth (said condescendingly when a person's behavior or words make his youth or inexperience obvious; also said to excuse youth's desire for fun): (when) you're young, you're green; you're ⟨he's etc⟩ too young to know any better; you're ⟨he's etc⟩ young and green.

Девушка молча вышла. Капитан [милиции] кивнул в её сторону и сказал: «Обижаются за профилактику, а потом сами прибегают и жалуются: „Изнасиловали! Ограбили!“»… — «Молодо-зелено», — сказал я (Искандер 6). The girl went out without saying a word. The [police] captain nodded in her direction and remarked: "They're offended when we take precautionary measures, and yet later on they themselves come running in to complain: 'He raped me! He robbed me!'"… "I suppose they're too young to know any better," I said (6a).

М-251 • НЕ ПЁРВОЙ МО́ЛОДОСТИ [NP_{gen}; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or nonagreeing postmodif; fixed WO] middle-aged, not young: not ⟨no longer⟩ in one's first youth; not ⟨no longer⟩ (so) very young; past one's prime; getting on in years.

Улыбка у неё открытая, обольстительная… красивая улыбка. Губы красивые. И женщина пикантная, пухленькая, лицо румяное, хотя не первой молодости (Трифонов 6). Her smile is open, alluring… A beautiful smile. Beautiful lips. A tasty morsel of a woman; chubby, a rosy complexion, though not in her first youth (6a).

М-252 • ПО МО́ЛОДОСТИ ЛЕТ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] as a result of a person's youth and insufficient experience: because of (one's) youthful inexperience; being young and inexperienced ⟨naïve, immature⟩; because ⟨on account⟩ of one's youth.

Самый младший сын, Луи, конечно, стремился вслед за старшими в театр и не попал ещё в него только по молодости лет — ему было около тринадцати (Булгаков 5). The youngest, Louis, naturally had his heart set on following the others into the theater, and was not actively engaged in it only because of his youth—he was only thirteen (5a).

М-253 • ВТОРА́Я МО́ЛОДОСТЬ [NP; fixed WO] 1. a new surge of physical and spiritual forces that one feels at a mature age: second youth; [lim.] (whole) new lease on life.

…Эти рисунки [Георгия Максимовича] выставлялись не раз, были репродукции, даже почтовые открытки, — и в жизни Георгия Максимовича наступил своего рода ренессанс, вторая молодость… (Трифонов 3). …These drawings [by Georgii Maximovich] were exhibited several times, were reproduced in print and even made into postcards—and Georgii Maximovich underwent a kind of renaissance, a second youth… (3a).

2. widespread recognition, appreciation of sth. that for some period had fallen into oblivion: renewed popularity; second heyday ⟨life⟩; [lim.] (make) a comeback.

Книга эта, пользовавшаяся большим успехом у современников, а потом на много лет забытая, сейчас живёт второй молодостью. This book, which enjoyed great success in its day and was then forgotten for many years, is now enjoying renewed popularity.

М-254 • ИЗ МОЛОДЫ́Х, ДА РА́ННИЙ; МОЛОДО́Й ДА РА́ННИЙ both coll, often disapprov or humor [PrepP or AdjP; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human), or detached modif; fixed WO] (of a person who gets ahead in some field or business at a young age, more often by behaving in a way that the speaker considers bad, deplorable, unacceptable etc) s.o. is young and moving ahead (too) fast and (too) aggressively: X из молодых да ранний ⟨-яя⟩ ≃ X is a young upstart; X has come ⟨wants to go⟩ too far too fast; X is a brash young fellow ⟨young woman⟩; X is a young man ⟨a young woman⟩ in a hurry.

…Имелись сведения, что он коллекционирует картины. И хотя точно никто не знал, какого характера работы он выбирает для своих коллекций, было подозрение, что он из молодых да ранний (Искандер 4). …There were reports that he was collecting art. Although no one knew exactly what sort of work he was choosing for his collection, it was suspected that he was a brash young fellow (4a).

М-255 • (ТО́ЛЬКО) ПТИ́ЧЬЕГО МОЛОКА́ НЕТ ⟨НЕДОСТАЁТ, НЕ ХВАТА́ЕТ⟩ coll [$VP_{subj/gen}$ or VP, impers; pres or past] there is everything that anyone could wish for, entirely enough, a complete abundance: there is literally ⟨absolutely⟩ everything anyone could want; you name it, he's ⟨they've, etc⟩ got it; there is everything under the sun.

М-256 • ОБЖЁГШИСЬ ⟨ОБЖЁГСЯ⟩ НА МОЛОКЕ́, ДУ́ЕШЬ ⟨БУ́ДЕШЬ ДУТЬ⟩ И НА́ ВОДУ [saying] a person who has experienced troubles, suffered failure etc becomes excessively cautious when similar circumstances arise again: ≃ the scalded cat ⟨dog⟩ fears (even) cold water; once bitten, twice shy.

[author's usage] «…Он далеко не глуп. Какие он мне давал полезные советы… особенно… насчёт отношений к женщинам». — «Ага! На своём молоке обжёгся, на чужую воду дует. Знаем мы это!» (Тургенев 2). "…He's far from being stupid. What useful advice he has given me, especially… especially in regard to relations with women." "Aha! a scalded cat fears cold water, we know that!" (2b).

М-257 • МОЛОКО́ НА ГУБА́Х НЕ ОБСО́ХЛО у кого; МА́ТЕРИНО ⟨МАТЕРИ́НСКОЕ⟩ МОЛОКО́ НА ГУБА́Х НЕ ОБСО́ХЛО all highly coll, often derog [VP_{subj}; these forms only; fixed WO] s.o. is still very young, inexperienced, immature: у X-а молоко на губах не обсохло ≃ X is (still) wet behind the ears; X is (still) green ⟨a greenhorn⟩; X is barely out of diapers.

М-258 • ВСА́СЫВАТЬ/ВСОСА́ТЬ ⟨ВПИ́ТЫВАТЬ/ВПИТА́ТЬ и т.п.⟩ С МОЛОКО́М МА́ТЕРИ что [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to learn sth. well during one's earliest years: X всосал Y с молоком матери ≃ X imbibed ⟨absorbed⟩ Y with his mother's milk; X drank Y in with his mother's milk; X learned ⟨was suckled on⟩ Y at his mother's breast; X was nurtured on his mother's milk with Y.

В них ещё говорит былой испуг и ужас перед разбушевавшейся стихией, хотя по возрасту большинство любителей порядка не могли в зрелом состоянии видеть стихию. Испуг они всосали с молоком матери (Мандельштам 2). These champions of order talk as they do because of the fear and horror once inspired in them by the elemental fury of popular revolution—though most of them were still at a tender age when it happened. They were suckled on fear of it at their mothers' breasts (2a).

М-259 • С МОЛОТКА́ продать, пустить что, пойти obs [PrepP; Invar; usu. adv] (to sell sth., be sold) by public auction: (bring sth. ⟨sth. went, sth. came⟩) under the hammer; (put sth. up ⟨be put up⟩) for auction; auction sth. ⟨be auctioned⟩ off; (be sold) at auction; [lim.] (sell sth. ⟨be sold⟩) to the highest bidder.

Она писала, что ежели Николай не приедет и не возьмётся за дело, то всё имение пойдёт с молотка и все пойдут по миру (Толстой 5). She wrote that if he [Nikolai] did not come and take matters in hand their whole estate would be sold at auction and they would all be left beggars (5a).

М-260 • МЕЖДУ МО́ЛОТОМ И НАКОВА́ЛЬНЕЙ rather lit [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: human, collect, or abstr); fixed WO] in a difficult, dangerous situation when trouble threatens from both sides: between a rock and a hard place ⟨spot⟩; between the devil and the deep blue sea.

М-261 • ГРОБОВО́Е МОЛЧА́НИЕ [NP; fixed WO except when used as VP_{subj} with copula] the complete absence of any sound, total silence: dead(ly) silence ⟨hush⟩; deathly silence ⟨hush⟩.

«Истинное чудо, что нынче-то удалось замолчать этакую небывальщину… Да и удалось ли?» Воцарилось гробовое молчание (Акунин 1). "It is a genuine miracle that this time we have managed to hush up such a fantastic case… But have we really managed?" A deadly silence fell (1a).

М-262 • МОЛЧА́НИЕ — ЗНАК СОГЛА́СИЯ [saying] when a person is silent, it implies that he agrees (usu. said when a question is left unanswered, which allows the assumption that the response is affirmative): ≃ silence is a sign of consent; silence gives ⟨means⟩ consent.

М-263 • ХРАНИ́ТЬ МОЛЧА́НИЕ lit [VP; subj: human or collect; fixed WO] to be silent (usu. in a situation when some reaction is expected): X хранит молчание ≃ X remains ⟨keeps⟩ silent; X maintains silence; X preserves his ⟨its⟩ silence.

…Печать хранит молчание (это — для Запада, чтобы к травле не привлекалось внимание), а на закрытых собраниях и инструктажах ораторы по единой команде произносят многозначительно и уверенно любую ложь о неугодном человеке (Солженицын 2). …The press preserves its silence (for the benefit of the West—why draw attention to the witch hunt?), while speakers at public meetings and closed briefing sessions, obeying a single command, authoritatively and confidently utter any lie they please about the undesirable in question (2a).

М-264 • ОБХОДИ́ТЬ/ОБОЙТИ́ ⟨ПРОХОДИ́ТЬ/ПРОЙТИ́ rare⟩ МОЛЧА́НИЕМ что [VP; subj: human or collect] to make no mention of sth. deliberately: X обошёл Y молчанием ≃ X passed Y over ⟨over Y⟩ in silence.

Тема эта неприятна, но обойти её молчанием я не могу, ибо в злонамеренно искажённых слухах она получила превратное толкование (Ивинская 1). This is not a pleasant matter, but I cannot pass it over in silence, if only on account of all the false and malicious rumors which circulated about it at the time (1a).

М-265 • ИГРА́ТЬ В МОЛЧА́НКУ ⟨В МОЛЧА́НКИ⟩ coll [VP; subj: human] to keep silent, avoid conversation (occas. out of resentment, spite etc): X играет в молчанку ≃ X is playing ⟨keeping⟩ silent; X isn't talking ⟨won't talk etc⟩; X won't say a word; [lim.] (it's as if) X has taken a vow of silence; X is playing dumb. ○ ИГРА́ В МОЛЧА́НКУ [NP] ≃ a game of silence.

Поднявшись на второй этаж и подойдя к седьмому номеру, он [Фигурин] услышал внутри какой-то шум и приник ухом к двери. «Ну что, — услышал он звонкий голос, — будем играть в молчанку? Не выйдет! Если я захочу, у меня рыба заговорит!» (Войнович 4). Figurin walked up to the second floor. Hearing some sort of noise from inside [room number 7], he pressed his ear against the door. "What, are we going to play silent here?" said a ringing voice. "It won't work! I can make a fish talk if I want to!" (4a). ♦ Садчиков изучающе разглядывал Сударя. Потом весело спросил: «Ну, в м-молчанку играть долго будем?» — «До конца» (Семёнов 1). Sadchikov inspected Squire closely. Then he asked cheerfully: "Well, will we be p-playing dumb for very long?" "To the end" (1a).

М-266 • В ЛЮБО́Й МОМЕ́НТ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] at all times: any time; always.

Володя в любой момент готов помочь друзьям. Volodya is always ready to help his friends.

М-267 • В МОМЕ́НТ highly coll; В ОДИ́Н МОМЕ́НТ coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv] very quickly, immediately: right away; in no time flat; at once; in a flash.

Хочешь контрамарку в театр? Я тебе это в один момент устрою. Do you want a free ticket to the theater? I can get you one in no time flat.

М-268 • ЛОВИ́ТЬ МОМЕ́НТ [VP; subj: human; often imper or infin with надо, нужно etc] not to miss a favorable opportunity: X-у надо ловить момент ≃ X should take advantage of it ⟨the opportunity⟩; X should seize the moment ⟨the opportunity⟩; X should jump at the chance.

М-269 • В ЧУЖО́Й МОНАСТЫ́РЬ СО СВОИ́М УСТА́ВОМ НЕ ХО́ДЯТ [saying] when you are at some place other than your own home (office, country etc), you should follow the rules, order, customs that exist there: ≃ when in Rome, do as the Romans do.

М-270 • ПОДВОДИ́ТЬ/ПОДВЕСТИ́ ПОД МОНАСТЫ́РЬ кого coll, occas. humor [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv (often fut)] to cause s.o. or o.s. a great deal of trouble, put s.o. or o.s. in an extremely difficult situation (often unintentionally): X подведёт Y-а ⟨себя⟩ под монастырь ≃ X will get Y ⟨himself⟩ into hot water ⟨into a jam, into a lot of trou- ble⟩; [lim.] X will do Y a bad turn; X will put Y ⟨X will be⟩ on the spot.

«Эх, Ваня, Ваня… Придумал тоже коммунию… Подведёшь ты себя под монастырь, поздно окажется» (Максимов 1). "Oh, Vanya, Vanya…. Some commune you've set up…. You'll get yourself into a lot of trouble and it'll be too late" (1a). ♦ Работники скупки и домовой лавки, которые были ограблены… пришли в управление для того, чтобы опознать одного из грабителей. В кабинете у Садчикова посадили трёх парней, приглашённых студентов-практикантов из университета. Студенты всё время улыбались и весело переглядывались — это была их первая практика. Садчиков сказал: «Вы это, х-хлопцы, бросьте. Мы сейчас приведём т-того парня, так ему не до улыбок. Ясно? Вы его так сраз-зу под монастырь подведёте» (Семёнов 1). The staff of the pawnshop that had been robbed… had come to headquarters in order to identify one of the thieves. Three students doing their practical work at the university had been invited to Sadchikov's office. They smiled and looked at one another cheerfully the whole time—this was their first case. Sadchikov said: "Right, pack it up, l-lads. We're going to bring the other b-boy in now and he doesn't feel much like laughing. Got it? This way you'll p-put him on the spot right away" (1a).

М-271 • ХОДЯ́ЧАЯ МОНЕ́ТА [NP; sing only; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: abstr); fixed WO] sth. that is widely prevalent, has become banal: a commonplace; standard fare.

М-272 • ПЛАТИ́ТЬ ⟨ОТПЛА́ЧИВАТЬ⟩/ОТПЛАТИ́ТЬ⟩ ТОЙ ЖЕ МОНЕ́ТОЙ кому [VP; subj: human] to respond to s.o.'s actions, behavior by treating him in the same way (often in refer. to an offense, a hostile action etc): X отплатил Y-у той же монетой ≃ X repaid Y ⟨paid Y back⟩ in his own coin ⟨in kind⟩; X gave Y a taste of Y's own medicine; X returned the compliment; [lim.] Y was ⟨got⟩ hoist with ⟨by⟩ his own petard.

Вы хотите мне отплатить тою же монетою, кольнуть моё самолюбие, — вам не удастся! (Лермонтов 1). You want to repay me in my own coin, to prick my vanity—you will not succeed (1a).

М-273 • ПРИНИМА́ТЬ/ПРИНЯ́ТЬ ЗА ЧИ́СТУЮ МОНЕ́ТУ что [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] to accept sth. (often sth. that should be treated with skepticism, mistrust) as correct, true: X принял Y за чистую монету ≃ X took Y at face value; X took Y in good faith.

Дядя Сандро сразу заметил, что хозяин и его семья ему обрадовались, хотя истинную причину этой радости он понял гораздо позже. Но тогда он её принял за чистую монету (Искандер 3). Uncle Sandro noticed immediately that the man and his family were glad to see him, although he did not understand the true reason for their gladness until much later. For the moment he took it at face value… (3a).

М-274 • (И) РАЗОШЛИ́СЬ КАК В МО́РЕ КОРАБЛИ́ often humor [sent; past only; fixed WO] (of couples, friends, political allies etc who) separated, broke off a relationship, dissolved an alliance etc when differences arose between them or new interests developed: we ⟨they etc⟩ parted like ships at sea; we ⟨they etc⟩ parted like ships (passing) in the night.

Остап понял, что пора уходить. «Обниматься некогда, — сказал он, — прощай, любимая! Мы разошлись, как в море корабли». — «Караул!!» — завопила вдова. Но Остап уже был в конце коридора (Ильф и Петров 1). Ostap realized it was time to go. "I've no time to kiss you," he said. "Good-bye, beloved. We've parted like ships at sea." "Help!" screeched the widow. But Ostap was already at the end of the corridor (1a).

М-275 • МО́РЕ ПО КОЛЕ́НО ⟨-а obs⟩ кому coll, often humor [NP; these forms only; usu. VP_{subj} with быть$_{ø}$; fixed WO] (used to characterize a brave, reckless person) nothing frightens s.o.: X-у море по колено ≃ X is a daredevil; X is scared of nothing; X is a devil-may-care person ⟨man etc⟩; X feels equal to anything; [in refer. to bravery induced by drinking] X is full of drunken bravado. Cf. X is all Dutch courage.

Он на всё и на всех плевал, всех крыл матом — и начальство и зэков, ему море было по колено (Марченко 1). He didn't give a damn about anything or anyone—he cursed the lot of them, admin and cons alike, he was scared of nothing (1a).

М-276 • РАЗЛИВА́ННОЕ МО́РЕ coll [NP; sing only] 1. ~ чего an abundance (of wine, champagne, vodka etc, usu. at a party): (the wine ⟨the champagne etc⟩ is) flowing like water ⟨like a fountain, in rivers, freely⟩; (some place) is awash (in champagne ⟨wine etc⟩).

2. Also: РАЗЛИВНО́Е МО́РЕ obs a lively gathering where large amounts of alcohol are served: drinking party; party where the wine ⟨the beer etc⟩ flows like water ⟨like a fountain, in rivers, freely⟩.

[Миловзоров:] У них там пир горой, разливанное море. Тот говорит: «Со мной, господин Незнамов, выпьемте!» Другой говорит — со мной! (Островский 3). [M.:] …The feasting is at its height, the wine is flowing in rivers. "Here, have a drink with me, Neznamov," says one; "No, with me," says another… (3a).

М-277 • МОРО́З ПО КО́ЖЕ ⟨ПО СПИНЕ́⟩ ПОДИРА́ЕТ ⟨ДЕРЁТ⟩/ПОДРА́Л ⟨ПРОДИРА́ЕТ/ПРОДРА́Л, ИДЁТ/ПОШЁЛ, ПРОХО́ДИТ/ПРОШЁЛ, ПРОБЕГА́ЕТ/ПРОБЕЖА́Л⟩ у кого (от чего) coll [VP_{subj}; usu. pres or past] s.o. experiences an unpleasant sensation, a chill runs through s.o.'s body from fright, strong fear, anxiety etc: у X-а пробежал мороз по коже (от Y-а) ≃ a cold shiver ran down X's spine; Y sent cold shivers up ⟨down, running up and down⟩ X's spine; X's flesh ⟨skin⟩ crawled; X's flesh crept; Y made X's flesh crawl ⟨creep⟩; Y gave X the creeps.

Он живо представил себе отсутствие себя в этой жизни… Всё вокруг преобразилось для него и показалось чем-то страшным и угрожающим. Мороз пробежал по его спине (Толстой 6). He pictured the world without himself…. Everything around him underwent a sudden transformation and seemed to him sinister and menacing. A cold shiver ran down his spine (6a). ♦ «…Он поднял голову и засмеялся… У меня мороз пробежал по коже от этого смеха…» (Лермонтов 1). "…He looked up and laughed…. That laugh sent cold shivers running up and down my spine…" (1b).

М-278 • ЖДАТЬ У МО́РЯ ПОГО́ДЫ; СИДЕ́ТЬ У МО́РЯ И ⟨ДА⟩ ЖДАТЬ ПОГО́ДЫ all coll [VP; subj: human; often infin with приходится, не могу etc; usu. this WO] to wait for sth. passively, not undertaking any action: X ждёт у моря погоды ≃ X sits around ⟨about⟩ waiting for things to take care of themselves ⟨for sth. to happen⟩; X is ⟨sits around⟩ waiting for the sun to shine.

[Маша:] Безнадёжная любовь — это только в романах. Пустяки. Не нужно только распускать себя и всё чего-то ждать, ждать у моря погоды… (Чехов 6). [M.:] It's only in novels you read about unhappy love. It's nothing. The only sensible thing is not to brood over it, not to sit about waiting for something to happen (6b).

М-279 • (И) МОСКВА́ НЕ СРА́ЗУ ⟨НЕ ВДРУГ⟩ СТРО́ИЛАСЬ [saying] any great undertaking starts out small, gradually gaining in scope: ≃ Rome wasn't built in a day; an oak is not felled with one stroke; the longest journey begins with the first step.

М-280 • МОСКВА́ ОТ КОПЕ́ЕЧНОЙ СВЕ́ЧКИ СГОРЕ́ЛА ⟨ЗАГОРЕ́ЛАСЬ⟩ [saying] great troubles can result from insignificant things: ≃ all it takes is a match to set a forest afire; a mighty fire begins with a straw; a penny candle set Moscow on fire.

«Как? Вы не шутя думаете сладить, сладить с целым народом?» — «От копеечной свечи, вы знаете, Москва сгорела», — ответил Базаров (Тургенев 2). "What? Do you seriously think you can take on the whole nation?" "A penny candle, you know, set Moscow on fire," Bazarov responded (2c).

М-281 • МОСКВА́ СЛЕЗА́М НЕ ВЕ́РИТ [saying] tears, complaints, repentance etc will not arouse sympathy, cannot wash away or justify a wrongdoing, are useless: Moscow doesn't believe in tears; tears won't help.

«Физиономия у тебя больно бодрая». — «От характера». — «Ш-шутник». — «От положения. В моём положении только и шутить». — «В твоём положении плакать надо, Ромин». — «Москва слезам не верит» (Семёнов 1). "The expression on your face looks terribly cheerful." "That's my character." "You're a j-joker." "That's my situation. All one can do is joke in my situation." "In your situation you should be crying, Romin." "Moscow doesn't believe in tears" (1a).

М-282 • ДО МОСКВЫ́ НЕ ПЕРЕВЕ́ШАЕШЬ ⟨НЕ ПЕРЕВЕ́ШАТЬ⟩ кого-чего obs [these forms only; quantit subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj/gen: usu. human, concr, or count abstr), pres only; fixed WO] very many, a great number of (people or things that, in most cases, the speaker considers useless): a great deal of; more than you know what to do with.

М-283 • ПЕРЕКИ́ДЫВАТЬ/ПЕРЕКИ́НУТЬ ⟨ПЕРЕБРА́СЫВАТЬ/ПЕРЕБРО́СИТЬ⟩ МОСТ откуда куда, от чего к чему, (из чего) во что, между чем [VP; subj: usu. human] to tie (two phenomena, time periods, movements etc) together (pointing out what unites them, showing the inherent similarities between them etc): X перебросил мост от Y-а к Z-у ≃ X built ⟨threw etc⟩ a bridge across ⟨between⟩ Y and Z; || X перебросил мост в Z ≃ X built a bridge into Z.

Цивилизация Лаолы-Лиал, привнесённая на молодую планету, будет продолжаться во времени, и, может быть, именно тогда удастся, наконец, перекинуть мост в антимир? (Обухова 1). Transferred to a young planet, the civilization of Laola-Lyal would continue to exist in time. And then perhaps it would at last succeed in building a bridge into the antiworld (1a).

М-284 • ГРАНИ́ТЬ МОСТОВУ́Ю obs, highly coll [VP; subj: human] 1. to walk much, for a long time over streets, roads etc (usu. covering a great distance, often when carrying out necessary errands): X гранил мостовую ≃ X measured ⟨covered⟩ the versts ⟨the miles⟩ on foot; X tramped along; [lim.] X trudged over the pavement.

[Устинья Наумовна:] Ну, уж хлопотала, хлопотала я для тебя, Аграфена Кондратьевна, гранила, гранила мостовую-то, да уж и выкопала жениха… (Островский 10). [V.K.:] Now, I've been bustling about, bustling about for you, Agrafena Kondratyevna; trudging, trudging over the pavement, and at last I've grubbed up a suitable man… (10b).

2. to roam or lounge about with nothing to do, be idle: X гранит мостовую ≃ X is traipsing ⟨strolling⟩ about; X is hanging around doing nothing; X is lazing around (doing nothing).

Должность у Козелкова была не мудрёная: выйти в двенадцать часов из дому в департамент, там потереться около столов и рассказать пару скандалёзных анекдотов, от трёх до пяти погранить мостовую на Невском… (Салтыков-Щедрин 2). Kozelkov's job as a civil servant was not what you might call an arduous one: he left home at noon for his office, spent a few hours there chatting amiably to other departmental chiefs and telling them a few smutty stories, from three to five he strolled about on the Nevsky Avenue… (2a).

М-285 • НАВОДИ́ТЬ/НАВЕСТИ́ МОСТЫ́ media [VP; subj: human (usu. pl) or collect; often infin with надо, пытаются etc] to establish contacts with the government of another country or with a certain organization, group etc: X-ы пытаются навести мосты ≃ Xs are trying to build bridges; Xs are trying to establish relations ⟨contacts, ties⟩.

М-286 • ОБРАСТА́ТЬ/ОБРАСТИ́ ⟨ЗАРАСТА́ТЬ/ЗАРАСТИ́⟩ МО́ХОМ coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human] to become provincial, unsophisticated, backward: X оброс мохом ≃ X became moss-grown; [lim.] X fell ⟨lagged⟩ behind the times; X stopped changing with the times.

М-287 • МОЧА́ В ГО́ЛОВУ УДА́РИЛА кому highly coll, derog [VP$_{subj}$; this form only; the verb may take the initial position, otherwise fixed WO] s.o.'s behavior, actions etc are foolishly illogical or abnormal: X-у моча в голову ударила ≃ X is ⟨must be⟩ crazy ⟨off his rocker, off his nut, out of his mind⟩; X must have lost his wits ⟨his marbles⟩.

Как? возмущался Марлен Михайлович. Даже без всякого классового сознания, без ненависти к победоносным массам, а только лишь из чистого любопытства гнусный аристократишка отвернул исторический процесс, просто моча ему в голову ударила (Аксёнов 7). How could it be? the young Marlen Mikhailovich would ask himself, bewildered. Without a drop of class consciousness, without a trace of hatred for the victorious masses, with no more than a morbid sense of curiosity, this ratty little aristocrat changed the course of world history. He must have been crazy, out of his mind (7a).

М-288 • ЖЕВА́ТЬ МОЧА́ЛКУ ⟨МОЧА́ЛО⟩ highly coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human] to repeat one and the same thing in a tedious and irksome manner: X жевал мочалку ≃ X droned on and on; X repeated the same (old) stuff ⟨thing⟩ over and over again; X rehashed the same thing again and again.

Доклад он сделал совсем неинтересный, опять мочалку жевал. His paper wasn't at all interesting; he just repeated the same thing over and over again.

М-289 • МО́ЧИ ⟨МО́ЧЕНЬКИ folk⟩ (чьей) НЕ́Т ⟨НЕ СТА́ЛО⟩ substand [VP$_{subj/gen}$; usu. foll. by infin] s.o. absolutely does not have the emotional or physical strength, endurance etc (to do or tolerate sth.): мочи (Х-овой) нет ≃ X can't take ⟨bear, stand, face⟩ it ⟨this⟩ (anymore); X can't take any more; X hasn't (got) the strength (to do ⟨tolerate etc⟩ sth.); X has (got) no strength left.

«…Мочи нет, — сказал Ильин… — И чулки, и рубашка, и под меня подтекло. Пойду искать приюта. Кажется, дождик полегче» (Толстой 6). "I can't stand this anymore," said Ilyin…. "Stockings, shirt, everything—soaked through! I'm off to look for another shelter. The rain seems to have lessened" (6a).

М-290 • ЧТО ЕСТЬ ⟨БЫ́ЛО⟩ МО́ЧИ ⟨СИ́ЛЫ, СИЛ⟩; ВО ВСЮ МОЧЬ; ИЗО ВСЕЙ МО́ЧИ all coll [AdvP or PrepP; these forms only; adv (intensif); more often used with impfv verbs; fixed WO] 1. (to do sth.) with the utmost possible exertion, intensity: with all one's might; as hard as one can; for all one is worth.

…Остервенясь, он раз десять сразу, из всей мочи, дёрнул в колокольчик (Достоевский 3). …Enraged, he pulled at the bell with all his might about a dozen times (3b).

2. бежать, мчаться и т.п. ~ (to run, race etc) very fast: at full ⟨top⟩ speed; (at) full tilt; for all one is worth; as fast as one can; as fast as one's legs can carry one.

Он подбежал к нам, остановился, сопел — как воздушный насос — и не мог сказать ни слова: должно быть, бежал во всю мочь (Замятин 1). He rushed up to us, stopped, his breath hissing like an air pump, unable to say a word. He must have run at top speed (1a). ♦ Я обернулся к площади и увидел Максима Максимыча, бегущего что было мочи… (Лермонтов 1). I turned towards the square and saw Maxim Maximych running as fast as his legs could carry him (1c).

3. кричать, орать, гудеть и т.п. ~ (to shout, yell, blare etc) very loudly: at the top of one's voice ⟨lungs⟩; with all one's ⟨its⟩ might; [of a radio, television etc] (at) full blast.

Забавно: даже здесь петухи пели иначе, чем в Атамановке, они здесь действительно пели, а не горланили что есть мочи, как в его родной деревне (Распутин 2). It was amusing: the roosters crowed differently here than they did in Atamanovka, singing instead of screaming at the top of their lungs (2a). ♦ Гармошки… заскрежетали во всю мочь… (Владимов 1). The accordions were bellowing away at full blast… (1a).

М-291 • ТРЯХНУ́ТЬ МОШНО́Й ⟨КАРМА́НОМ, КАЗНО́Й⟩ substand [VP; subj: human] to spend a great deal of money, usu. in order to flaunt one's wealth: X тряхнул мошной ≃ X flashed his wallet; X (really) threw (his) money around; X shot the works.

М-294 • ПОКРЫ́Т(О) МРА́КОМ НЕИЗВЕ́СТНОСТИ lit, often humor [AdjP; subj-compl with copula (subj: abstr, often это or a clause); fixed WO] sth. is concealed, not made known: это покрыто мраком неизвестности ≃ this is veiled in obscurity; this is hidden behind a veil of obscurity; this is shrouded in secrecy ⟨mystery⟩.

М-295 • МУДРЕНО́ ЛИ (, что…) [Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. a clause, occas. infin); usu. the main clause in a complex sent foll. by a что-clause] is it astonishing, strange?: is it any wonder ⟨surprise⟩ (that…)?; is it (really) surprising (that…)?; no wonder (that…).

Таковы были эти «великие партии», лицом к лицу с которыми очутился Дмитрий Павлыч Козелков. Мудрено ли, что, с непривычки, он почувствовал себя в этом обществе и маленьким и слабеньким (Салтыков-Щедрин 2). These were the great parties with whom Dmitry Pavlych Kozelkov now found himself face to face. No wonder that, being unaccustomed to this sort of thing, he felt small and insignificant in their society (2a).

М-296 • НЕ МУДРЕНО́ (, что…) [Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. a clause, occas. infin); usu. the main clause in a complex sent foll. by a что-clause; may be used as an indep. sent] it is natural, completely understandable: (it's) no wonder (that…); (it's) small wonder (that…); it's not surprising (that…); it comes as no surprise (that…); it's only natural (that…); you can see why…

Дядя Митя был и старше-то отца всего лет на десять, а что без зубов — то не мудрено, рассуждал Лёва… (Битов 2). Uncle Mitya was only about ten years older than Father, and if his teeth were gone it was no wonder, Lyova reasoned… (2a).

М-297 • МУДРЁНОГО НЕТ; ЧТО МУДРЁНОГО both coll [$VP_{subj/gen}$ (1st var.); VP_{subj} with быть$_{ø}$ (2nd var.)] there is nothing surprising about sth., it is entirely possible: it's no wonder; that comes as no surprise; it's not surprising; it's only natural.

«…Нет ничего мудрёного, что лица, получившие такое воспитание, оказываются неспособными выражать свои мысли связно и последовательно…» (Салтыков-Щедрин 2). "It is… no wonder that persons who have received such an education find it difficult to express their thoughts with any clarity or coherence…" (2a).

М-298 • НА ВСЯ́КОГО ⟨КА́ЖДОГО⟩ МУДРЕЦА́ ДОВО́ЛЬНО ПРОСТОТЫ́ [saying] even intelligent people can lack foresight, do stupid things: ≃ even a wise man stumbles.

[Глумов:] Вас возмутил мой дневник. Как он попал к вам в руки, я не знаю. На всякого мудреца довольно простоты (Островский 9). [В.:] You feel hurt because of what I said about you in my diary. I don't know how you got hold of it, but even a wise man stumbles (9a).

М-306 • ПЕРЕМЕ́ЛЕТСЯ — МУКА́ БУ́ДЕТ [saying] things will smooth out, all troubles will pass (usu. said to encourage a person who is upset by what is happening, who is experiencing difficulties etc): ≃ it will all come out in the wash; it will all come (out) right in the end; it will all work out in the end.

…Николай принёс мне обед, и когда я разговорился с ним о том, что я наделал и что ожидает меня, он сказал: «Эх, сударь! Не тужите, перемелется, мука будет» (Толстой 2). …Nikolai brought me my dinner, and when I got into conversation with him about what I had done and what awaited me, he said: "Ah, master, don't brood about it, it will all come out in the wash" (2b).

М-307 • МУ́КИ ТАНТА́ЛА; ТАНТА́ЛОВЫ МУ́КИ both lit [NP; pl only; fixed WO (1st var.)] suffering caused by the knowledge that some desired object, goal is within reach yet unattainable: the torments of Tantalus.

До мельчайших подробностей помню день 1 сентября 1935 года, когда я, снятая партколлегией с преподавательской работы, заперлась в своей комнате, испытывая поистине танталовы муки (Гинзбург 1). I remember in the utmost detail the 1st of September 1935, when, having been dismissed from my teaching job, I shut myself up in my room and went through the torments of Tantalus (1a).

< In Greek mythology Tantalus, a king of Phrygia, was condemned by the gods for his crimes to sit chin-deep in water without ever being able to reach the food and drink that appeared in front of him.

Что-то у детей подозрительно тихо. Закрылись у себя в комнате час назад — и ни мур-мур. The kids are suspiciously quiet. They locked themselves in their room an hour ago, and there hasn't been a peep out of them since.

2. ~ в чём [subj: human] to understand, know absolutely nothing (about sth.): X в Y-е ни мур-мур ≃ X doesn't know a damn(ed) thing about Y; X doesn't know beans ⟨the first thing⟩ about Y; X doesn't have the faintest ⟨foggiest⟩ idea about Y.

Перегорели пробки, а сам я их починить не могу, я в этом деле ни мур-мур. The fuses blew, but I can't fix them. I don't know beans about that sort of thing.

М-310 • МУРА́ШКИ БЕ́ГАЮТ ⟨БЕГУ́Т⟩/ЗАБЕ́ГАЛИ ⟨ПО́ЛЗАЮТ, ПОЛЗУ́Т/ПОПОЛЗЛИ́, ПОБЕЖА́ЛИ, ПРОБЕЖА́ЛИ, ПОШЛИ́, ЗАПО́ЛЗАЛИ⟩ ПО СПИНЕ́ ⟨ПО ТЕ́ЛУ, ПО КО́ЖЕ⟩ (у кого) coll [VP$_{subj}$] s.o. feels a chill caused by fear, anxiety, the cold etc: у X-а мурашки бегают по спине ≃ shivers run ⟨a chill runs⟩ up ⟨down, up and down⟩ X's spine; X has (got) shivers running up ⟨down, up and down⟩ his spine; it sends shivers up ⟨down, up and down⟩ X's spine; it gives X the creeps ⟨the willies, the shudders⟩; X feels tingles down his ⟨the⟩ spine; it makes X's skin crawl; it makes X's flesh creep.

М-311 • РАЗВОДИ́ТЬ МУРУ́ slang [VP; subj: human; often infin with хватит, перестань etc and in questions] to talk about, pay too much attention to, or devote too much time to insignificant matters: X муру разводит ≃ X is wasting his time on that nonsense ⟨garbage⟩.

М-312 • ДО БЕ́ЛЫХ МУХ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] until the weather turns freezing and the snow begins to fall: till the snow falls ⟨flies⟩; till the snowflakes fall.

М-313 • КАК СО́ННАЯ МУ́ХА coll [как + NP; nom only; adv] languidly, unhurriedly: like a sleepy fly.

И в то утро она не дала мне спать… Потом мы, как сонные мухи… завтракали на веранде (Лимонов 1). Even that morning she wouldn't let me sleep…. Then, like sleepy flies… we had breakfast on the veranda (1a).

М-314 • КАКА́Я МУ́ХА УКУСИ́ЛА кого coll [VP_{subj}; Invar; usu. used as a question or subord clause; fixed WO] s.o. is annoyed, angry, in a bad mood, behaving strangely without any apparent reason: какая муха укусила X-а? ≃ what's bugging ⟨eating⟩ X?; what's got(ten) into X?; what's come over X?; what's with X?

Однажды я неожиданно застал их в ожесточённом споре. Вся семья, включая старую бабку, спорила о Ленине… На следующий день зашёл я к ним опять — и опять застал их в споре о Ленине. Что за чёрт, какая их муха укусила? (Буковский 1). One day I was surprised to find the entire family, including the ancient grandmother, engaged in a violent argument about Lenin…. The following day I saw them again, and again they were arguing about Lenin. What the devil had got into them? (1a).

М-315 • будто ⟨словно, точно⟩ МУ́ХА УКУСИ́ЛА кого coll [VP_{subj}; Invar; fixed WO] s.o. is acting so strangely that it seems as though sth. has suddenly happened to him: X-а будто муха укусила ≃ something is ⟨must be⟩ bugging ⟨eating⟩ X; something has got(ten) into X; something has come over X.

М-316 • СЛЫ́ШНО, КАК МУ́ХА ПРОЛЕТИ́Т coll [complex sent; fixed WO] there is absolute quiet: you could hear ⟨have heard⟩ a pin drop.

«И вы говорите, что у него, точно, люди умирают в большом количестве?» — «Как мухи мрут» (Гоголь 3). "Do you really mean that his people are dying in great numbers?" "They're dropping like flies" (3e).

М-321 • КАК МУ́ХИ ⟨ПЧЁЛЫ⟩ НА МЁД слетаться к кому, на кого-что, лететь/налететь (на кого-что) и т.п.; липнуть КАК МУ́ХИ К МЁДУ к кому-чему all coll [как + NP; these forms only; adv or sent adv] (of a large number of people who) descend upon a certain person or place, feeling a strong attraction to that person or place: X-ы слетаются к Y-у ~ ≃ Xs flock ⟨are attracted, are drawn⟩ to Y like bees ⟨flies⟩ to honey; Xs swarm to Y like flies (on)to honey.

Вообще, семнадцатый год был неприятный год: слишком много митингов, кто красивей врёт, того и на руках носят… И откуда их налетело, краснобаев, как мухи на мёд? (Солженицын 3). Altogether 1917 had been an unpleasant year: too many meetings, eloquent ranters were carried on the crowd's shoulders… Where had they all come from, those nimble-tongued ninnies, swarming like flies onto honey? (3b).

М-322 • МУ́ХИ ДО́ХНУТ ⟨МРУТ⟩ coll [VP_{subj}; these forms only; fixed WO] it is unbearably boring (at some place): you're bored to death ⟨to tears⟩; you climb the walls from boredom; you (could) die of boredom.

«Пойдёшь со мной к Силиным?» — «Нет, я лучше телевизор посмотрю. У них всегда скука, мухи дохнут». "Are you coming to the Silins' with me?" "No, I'd rather watch TV. It's always so dull there—you could die of boredom."

М-323 • МУ́ХИ НЕ ОБИ́ДИТ coll, approv [VP; subj: human; usu. fut, occas. past; fixed WO] one is very gentle, inoffensive: X мухи не обидит ≃ X wouldn't hurt ⟨harm⟩ a fly; X wouldn't hurt a flea.

«Ты видишь ли, я его [князя Андрея] давно знаю, и Машеньку, твою золовку, люблю. Золовки — колотовки, ну а уж эта мухи не обидит» (Толстой 5). "I have known him [Prince Andrei] a long time, you see, and I am very fond of Masha, your future sister-in-law. Sisters-in-law are troublemakers they say. But Masha wouldn't hurt a fly" (5a).

М-324 • ПОД МУ́ХОЙ highly coll [PrepP; Invar; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] in an intoxicated (usu. mildly intoxicated) state: X был под мухой ≃ X was under the influence; X was (a little) tipsy ⟨high, tight⟩; X had (had) one ⟨a few⟩ too many; X was feeling good ⟨no pain⟩.

Он же под мухой, ему нельзя садиться за руль. He's a little tipsy—he shouldn't be allowed behind the wheel. ♦ …Блин кто-то под мухой на голову надел вместо кепки (Евтушенко 2). …Someone who'd had one too many put a blin on his head instead of a cap (2a).

…Я могу узнать время… например, рассматривая свою руку, усыпанную уже довольно крупными коричневыми пятнышками старости… и я вижу неотвратимое разрушение своего тела, и когда я протягивал ей свою руку, то подумал: «Без четверти вечность». Вероятно, она прочитала мои мысли, потому что сказала: «Сорок лет» — и ввела меня в свой дом (Катаев 2). …I can get a sense of time… by looking, for example, at my hand, already covered with the large brown spots of old age, and thus actually seeing the relentless deterioration of my body. When I held out my hand to her, I thought "It's a quarter to eternity." She must have read my thoughts, because she said: "It's forty years." Then she led me into her house (2a).

М-331 • ЗА́ДНЯЯ МЫСЛЬ; often БЕЗ (ВСЯ́КОЙ) ЗА́ДНЕЙ МЫ́СЛИ ⟨БЕЗ (ВСЯ́КИХ) ЗА́ДНИХ МЫ́СЛЕЙ⟩ [NP, subj or obj (1st var.) or PrepP, adv (2nd var.); fixed WO] a secret intention, design: ulterior ⟨hidden⟩ motive; || без всякой задней мысли ≃ without any ulterior ⟨hidden⟩ motive(s) (whatsoever); without the slightest ⟨least⟩ ulterior motive; without the least hidden motive.

Я тоже на неё [тётку] сильно обижался, даже не на окрик, а на то, что меня заподозрили в «нарочном», а я был совсем без задней мысли, никогда бы ничего не сделал назло или нарочно… (Битов 1). I, too, was terribly offended by her [Auntie]. Not for yelling at me, but for suspecting me of "doing it on purpose," when I hadn't the slightest ulterior motive and would never do anything bad on purpose (1a).

М-332 • НАВОДИ́ТЬ/НАВЕСТИ́ кого НА МЫСЛЬ (какую) [VP; subj: human or abstr; often foll. by a что-clause; usu. this WO] to suggest a certain idea to s.o., influence s.o. to think a certain way: X навёл Y-а на [AdjP] мысль ≃ X put a [AdjP] thought ⟨idea⟩ into Y's head ⟨mind⟩; || X навёл Y-а на мысль, что… ≃ X put the thought ⟨the idea⟩ into Y's mind that…; X prompted Y to think ⟨suggest, conclude etc⟩ that…; thing X gave rise to the thought that…; [lim.] thing X led Y to the conclusion that….

М-333 • Э́ТО МЫСЛЬ ⟨ИДЕ́Я⟩! coll [indep. sent; these forms only; fixed WO] now you are saying the right thing (often said when reacting to a good suggestion, esp. after one or more unsatisfactory suggestions, or to a suggested course of action in a complicated situation, when expressing agreement with s.o.'s statement etc): (now) that's a thought!; now you're talking!; (now) that's an idea ⟨a good idea⟩; [lim.] that's right!

М-335 • СОБИРА́ТЬСЯ/СОБРА́ТЬСЯ С МЫ́СЛЯМИ [VP; subj: human] to regain control over one's thoughts and one's ability to concentrate on the matter at hand (often after having been frightened, having experienced some strong emotion etc): X собрался с мыслями ≃ X collected ⟨gathered⟩ his thoughts.

«А сейчас я… помолчу, соберусь с мыслями, попробую отогнать страхи» (Пастернак 1). "Now… I'll keep quiet and collect my thoughts and try to forget my anxieties" (1a).

М-336 • В МЫ́СЛЯХ называть, произносить и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to say, name etc sth.) mentally: in one's mind; inwardly; to oneself.

В мыслях она произносила все те слова, которые не решалась ему сказать при встрече. In her mind she said everything that she couldn't bring herself to say to him in person.

М-337 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ В МЫ́СЛЯХ [VP; subj: human] 1. ~ кого-что to remember, think about s.o. or sth. constantly: X держит в мыслях Y-а ≃ X keeps thinking about Y; X dwells on thing Y; X returns ⟨keeps returning⟩ to thoughts of Y.

2. Neg в мыслях не держать что not (even) to have had some idea, the idea to do sth., or the intention of doing sth.: X Y-а (и) в мыслях не держал ≃ it never (even) occurred to X (to do Y); X never (even) thought of doing Y; the thought ⟨Y⟩ never (even) crossed X's mind.

«Я. Вы позволяете себе поучать меня… Катакази. Помилуйте, и в мыслях не держал» (Окуджава 2). I: You are permitting yourself to lecture me. Katakazi: Forgive me, it never even occurred to me (2a).

М-338 • И В МЫ́СЛЯХ ⟨В УМЕ́⟩ НЕТ у кого чего or что (с)делать; В МЫ́СЛЯХ НЕ ИМЕ́ТЬ чего, less often кого [VP; impers (1st var.) or with subj: human (2nd var.); pres or past; fixed WO] it is not and never was s.o.'s intent to do sth., some idea or the idea to do sth. never came into s.o.'s head: у X-а и в мыслях не было Y-а ⟨сделать Y⟩ ≃ Y ⟨the thought of (doing) Y⟩ never (even) occurred to X; Y ⟨doing Y⟩ never (even) crossed X's mind; the thought (of doing Y) never entered X's mind; Y ⟨doing Y⟩ was the last thing that would (ever) enter X's mind; Y ⟨doing Y⟩ was the furthest thing from X's mind; X never (even) thought of Y ⟨doing Y⟩; X did not have any ⟨the remotest⟩ intention of doing Y ⟨to do Y⟩.

M-339 • НЕ МЫТЬЁМ, ТАК КА́ТАНЬЕМ highly coll [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to achieve or try to achieve sth.) by resorting to any means necessary, one way or another: by hook or by crook; by fair means or foul; [lim.] beg, borrow, or steal.

«Они-то как раз и сделали так, что отменили тридцать лет моей жизни, вернув меня в прежнюю точку. Мол, это ошибка, что я жил эти тридцать лет так, как я их жил. А я их уже не проживу иначе. Не мытьём — так катаньем: не вышло отменить в тебе твою жизнь, посадив, отменим — отпустив» (Битов 2). "That's just what they did, they voided thirty years of my life, by returning me to the previous point. It's a mistake, they say, that I lived those thirty years the way I did. I'm not about to live them over again differently. By hook or by crook: it didn't work to void your life by putting you away, we'll void it by releasing you" (2a).

M-340 • НЕ МЫЧИ́Т, НЕ ТЕ́ЛИТСЯ highly coll, rather rude [VP; subj: human; usu. 3rd pers; pres only; fixed WO] one does not act in a situation where some action is necessary, expected of him etc: X не мычит (и) не телится ≃ X is dragging his feet; X is hanging back; [lim.] X is sitting on the fence.

M-341 • ПОД МЫ́ШКОЙ ⟨ПОД МЫ́ШКАМИ⟩ нести, держать что и т.п.; ПОД МЫ́ШКУ ⟨ПОД МЫ́ШКИ⟩ класть, совать что и т.п. [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to carry, hold, put, tuck sth.) under the inner part of the upper arm: under one's arm.

Наконец отец взял под мышку свои чертежи и уехал работать на Горьковский автозавод (Кузнецов 1). Father at last gathered his blueprints under his arm and set off for a job at the Gorky Automobile Plant (1a).

M-342 • КАК МЫШЬ[1] притаиться, затаиться и т.п. coll [как + NP; Invar; usu. adv] (to hide, sit etc) very quietly: (as) quiet as a mouse.

В день, когда он [Мандельштам] сочинял эти стихи, я не догадалась, что он работает, потому что он лежал тихо, как мышь (Мандельштам 1). On the day he [Mandelstam] was composing this poem, I didn't realize he was working, because he was lying as quiet as a mouse (1a).

M-343 • КАК МЫШЬ[2] мокрый coll [как + NP; Invar; modif] extremely (wet): sopping wet; drenched; soaked through; soaked (to the skin); (look) like a drowned rat.

M-344 • КАК МЫШЬ НА КРУПУ́ надулся, дуется coll [как + NP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (s.o. looks) offended, (is) dissatisfied with sth.: X дуется как мышь на крупу ≃ X looks ⟨is⟩ sullen; X is sulking ⟨pouting, moping⟩; X is in a pout; X has pulled ⟨made⟩ a long face.

«Ты погляди на него, он же никогда не улыбнётся. Всё время, как мышь на крупу, дуется» (Копелев 1). "Take a look at him, he never smiles. All the time, he's so sullen, always huffy" (1a).

M-345 • беден, нищ КАК ЦЕРКО́ВНАЯ МЫШЬ ⟨КРЫ́СА⟩ coll [как + NP; Invar; modif; fixed WO] very, extremely (poor): (as) poor as a church mouse.

Служащий метро Обри был на редкость уродлив и нищ, как церковная крыса… (Эренбург 4). Aubry, a subway employee, was exceedingly ugly and poor as a church mouse (4a).

M-346 • НА МЯКИ́НЕ НЕ ПРОВЕДЁШЬ кого highly coll [VP; neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing only; fixed WO] you cannot trick, outwit s.o.: X-а на мякине не проведёшь ≃ you can't fool X; you have to get up pretty early in the morning to fool X; you can't pull the wool over X's eyes.

M-347 • ПУ́ШЕЧНОЕ МЯ́СО [NP; fixed WO] soldiers considered as expendable war material: cannon fodder.

«Он [Сталин] ещё надеялся на массы, на классовую борьбу, на китайское пушечное мясо» (Копелев 1). "He [Stalin] still counted on the masses, on the class struggle, on the Chinese cannon fodder" (1a).

M-348 • С МЯ́СОМ вырвать, оторвать что coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to tear, rip a button, hook etc off) together with a piece of the material to which it is attached: along with (some of) the material; taking a piece of the fabric with it.

Н

Н-1 • БИТЬ/ЗАБИ́ТЬ ⟨УДАРЯ́ТЬ/УДА́РИТЬ⟩ В НАБА́Т lit; БИТЬ НАБА́Т obs [VP; subj: human; often infin with надо or imper] to draw general attention persistently to sth. alarming, to impending danger: X бьёт в набат ≃ X sounds ⟨raises⟩ the alarm.

Считая себя обязанным уберечь Россию от всеобщей, как он выражался устно, евреизации, а письменно — сионизации, Васька бил в набат, писал письма в ЦК КПСС, в Президиум Верховного Совета СССР, в Союз писателей, в Академию наук и в газеты (Войнович 6). Considering it his moral obligation to guard Russia from what he referred to in private as universal Hebraization (but in print, Zionization), Vaska sounded the alarm. He wrote letters to the Communist Party Central Committee, the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet of the USSR, the Writer's Union, the Academy of Sciences, and the newspapers (6a).

Н-2 • БИТКО́М НАБИ́ТЬ что (кем-чем); БИТКО́М НАБИ́ТЬСЯ куда [VP; subj: human; usu. past passive Part битком набит(ый)] (often refers to a large number of people in some place) to overfill some place (space, container etc): место X битком набито (Y-ами) ≃ place X is filled ⟨crammed, full⟩ to overflowing ⟨to capacity⟩ (with Ys); X is packed tight (with Ys); place X is packed ⟨jammed⟩ to the rafters (with Ys); X is jammed full (of Ys); X is crammed ⟨crowded, jam-packed, bursting (at the seams)⟩ (with Ys); X is chock-full (of Ys).

…[Пастернак] читал «Антония и Клеопатру». Небольшое помещение битком набито… (Гладков 1). …[Pasternak] gave a reading of Antony and Cleopatra. The small room was packed tight with people… (1a).

Н-3 • НАБО́Р СЛОВ [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a combination of words or phrases that the speaker considers to be devoid of meaning or substance: mere ⟨empty⟩ verbiage; empty words.

Н-4 • ВО ВСЕЙ (СВОЕ́Й) НАГОТЕ́ представить, изобразить что, предстать перед кем и т.п. lit [PrepP; these forms only; adv or nonagreeing postmodif; своей can take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] (to present sth., portray sth., sth. appears etc) exactly as sth. is in reality, not positively embellished in any way: unvarnished and unadorned; (paint sth.) in its true colors.

Н-5 • В НАГРА́ДУ [PrepP; Invar; adv] as an expression of s.o.'s gratitude (for sth.), as recompense (for sth.): in ⟨as a⟩ reward; as a token of s.o.'s appreciation; in thanks.

Н-6 • В НАДЕ́ЖДЕ на что; В НАДЕ́ЖДЕ, (что…) [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] wishing for and expecting sth.: hoping for ⟨that, to⟩; with the hope that; in hopes that; in the hope of ⟨that⟩.

Они [молодые интеллигентные люди] несли куда следует стихи Мандельштама или доносы на сослуживца в надежде, что за это напечатают их собственные опусы или повысят их по службе (Мандельштам 1). They [young people of education] took copies of M[andelstam]'s verse to the police, or denounced colleagues in the hope of getting their own writings published, or of being promoted in their work (1a).

Н-7 • ПИТА́ТЬ НАДЕ́ЖДУ ⟨-ы⟩ (на что) [VP; subj: human] to have a hope: X питает надежду (на Y) ≃ X harbors ⟨cherishes, entertains⟩ the hope (that Y will happen); X hopes for Y.

Инстинкт самосохранения был слишком силён, именно тот инстинкт, который заставляет осуждённого на казнь питать надежды, которым никогда не суждено сбыться (Салтыков-Щедрин 2). [context transl] His instinct for self-preservation was too strong, the same instinct which fills a man sentenced to death with hopes which are destined never to be fulfilled (2a).

Н-8 • ПОДАВА́ТЬ/ПОДА́ТЬ НАДЕ́ЖДУ (кому на что) [VP; subj: usu. human, collect, or abstr; надежду is sing only; usu. this WO] to give s.o. reason to hope (for sth.): X подаёт Y-у надежду (на Z) ≃ X gives Y hope for ⟨of⟩ Z; X stirred up hope in Y (that…); X aroused hope in Y; X got Y's hopes up; X advanced Y's hope for Z.

Н-9 • ВОЗЛАГА́ТЬ НАДЕ́ЖДЫ на кого-что [VP; subj: human; надежды is pl only] to expect sth. good, favorable (from some person or thing): X возлагает надежды на Y-а ≃ X places (his) hope in ⟨on⟩ Y; X sets ⟨pins, puts⟩ his hopes on Y; [lim.] X's hope is that…

Н.И. Грудинина вновь рассказала о том, как Бродский занимался в её семинаре молодых поэтов, и какие надежды она возлагает на него… (Эткинд 1). N.I. Grudinina recounted once again how Brodsky had worked in her seminar for young poets and what hopes she had placed in him… (1a).

Н-10 • ПОДАВА́ТЬ (БОЛЬШИ́Е) НАДЕ́ЖДЫ [VP; subj: human; надежды is pl only] to display great potential in some area: X подаёт (большие) надежды ≃ X shows (great) promise; X is very promising; || подающий (большие) надежды ≃ a (very) promising [NP]; a [NP] of (great) promise; [lim.] an up-and-coming [NP].

Тесть играл [в биллиард] лучше. Сказывалась многолетняя практика, а Игорь, по сравнению с Александром Ивановичем, был почти совсем новичок, хотя и подающий надежды (Ерофеев 3). His father-in-law was a better [billiards] player. He had many years of practice under his belt, and Igor, by comparison, was a novice, albeit a novice who showed promise (3a).

Н-11 • КТО ⟨КУ́ДА⟩ НА́ДО euph, coll [NP or AdvP; used as subj, obj, or adv, depending on the first component; fixed WO] the person, people, or organization wielding influence or power in the area in question (often the authorities, political police, e.g., the KGB in the former Soviet Union, etc): (to etc) the right people ⟨place, quarters⟩; (to ⟨at etc⟩) the proper quarters.

У этого Учреждения создалась такая репутация, что оно всё видит, всё слышит, всё знает, и если чего не так, оно уже тут как тут. Оттого и говорили в народе: будешь слишком умным, попадёшь Куда Надо; будешь много болтать, попадёшь Куда Надо (Войнович 2). This institution acquired the reputation of seeing everything, hearing everything, knowing everything, and, if something was out of line, the Institution would be there in a flash. For this reason people would say, If you're too smart, you'll end up in the Right Place; if you chatter too much, you'll end up in the Right Place (2a).

Н-12 • НА́ДО ЖЕ!; ВЕДЬ НА́ДО ЖЕ!; (ВЕДЬ) Э́ТО ЖЕ НА́ДО!; НА́ДО ЖЕ ТАК! all coll [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] used to express surprise, disbelief, displeasure etc: what do you know!; wouldn't you know (it)!; good heavens!; well, I'll be!; you don't say!; go figure!; well, fancy that!; (just) think of it!; who would have guessed ⟨thought it⟩!; who would believe it?!; what are things coming to!; well now!; well, well; [lim.] what will they think of next!; my eye!; of all people!; just my luck!

Н-13 • ЧТО НА́ДО highly coll [Invar] 1. [usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human, concr, or abstr)] very good, excellent: first-rate; topnotch; the best there is; you couldn't ask for better ⟨for a better [NP]⟩; a whiz-bang ([NP]); [lim.] just what one needs.

Через несколько минут мы были на шоссе. Сергей показывал класс — скорость была что надо! (Аксёнов 1). Within a few minutes we were on the highway. Sergei was showing his stuff—speed was just what we needed! (1a).

2. [adv] (to do sth.) very well, excellently: superbly; wonderfully (well); incredibly; smashingly; [lim.] (be) a hell of a [NP]; || работать ~ ≃ (do) a hell of a job.

Сергееву не жаль было потраченных денег: дом был построен что надо. Sergeev didn't regret the money he'd spent on building the house: it came out wonderfully.

Н-14 • ПО КАЗЁННОЙ НА́ДОБНОСТИ obs [PrepP; Invar; adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: human); fixed WO] in conjunction with some official matters: on official business.

Я им объяснил, что я офицер, еду в действующий отряд по казённой надобности… (Лермонтов 1). I explained that I was an officer on my way to a line unit on official business… (1b).

Н-15 • НЕ НАДЫ́ШИТСЯ на кого; НЕ МО́ЖЕТ НАДЫША́ТЬСЯ [VP; subj: human; 3rd pers only (1st var.); used in pres. or past contexts] to love s.o. intensely and show him constant attention and caring: X не надышится на Y-а ≃ X dotes on Y; Y is the apple of X's eye; X loves Y to distraction.

Вообще она [Анна Савишна] младшую дочку, наверно, от жалости, больше любила. Зато Верочка — папина радость, отец на неё не надышится (Грекова 3). Because she pitied her, Anna Savishna probably loved her younger daughter more. But Vera was her father's joy, the apple of his eye (3a).

Н-16 • ОДНО́ НАЗВА́НИЕ (, что…); (ОДНО́) ТО́ЛЬКО НАЗВА́НИЕ all coll; ТО́ЛЬКО (ОДНА́) СЛА́ВА, что…; ОДНА́ СЛА́ВА [NP; sing only; often the main clause in a complex sent; usu. this WO] (in refer. to the discrepancy between what s.o. or sth. is called and what he or it actually is) a person, thing, phenomenon etc does not fit his or its name: s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ is a [NP] in name only; s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ doesn't deserve to be called a [NP]; (it's) not what you could call a real [NP]; [lim.] only the name (of a [NP]) remains ⟨is left⟩.

«Нынче мало ли французов этих побрали; а сапог… ни на одном настоящих нет, так, одно названье», — начал один из солдат новый разговор (Толстой 7). "Plenty of Frenchies taken today, but not what you could call a real pair of boots on a one of 'em," said a soldier, introducing a new topic of conversation (7a).

Н-17 • КАК НАЗЛО́ coll [как + AdvP; Invar; adv; often parenth; fixed WO] (used to express annoyance, chagrin) unfortunately, as if meaning to thwart s.o.'s plans: as (ill ⟨bad⟩) luck would have it; as if in spite; as if to spite s.o.

Он стал припоминать, чем бы подковырнуть Кязыма. Но как назло сейчас ничего не мог припомнить (Искандер 5). He began trying to remember some way of catching Kyazym out. But at the moment, as ill luck would have it, he couldn't remember a thing (5a).

Н-18 • ТАК НАЗЫВА́ЕМЫЙ [AdjP; modif; fixed WO] 1. called thus (used before a little-known, rarely used, or unusual word or phrase): so-called; [lim.] what is called.

Не забудем, что летописец преимущественно ведёт речь о так называемой черни… (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). Let us not forget that the chronicler is speaking primarily of the so-called common people… (1a).

2. (used, usu. sarcastically, to express the speaker's scornful attitude toward s.o. or sth.) incorrectly or undeservedly called thus: so-called; [lim.] what is called.

Н-19 • ЧТО НАЗЫВА́ЕТСЯ coll [Invar; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] as s.o. or sth. is commonly called, as is commonly said: as they say; what one calls ⟨would call⟩…; what they call…; [lim.] as the saying goes.

Эти ребята не знали многого, что знают их материковские ровесники. Они были, что называется, недоразвиты (Гинзбург 2). These children knew a lot less than their mainland counterparts. They were what one calls backward (2a).

Н-20 • ПО НАЙТИЮ (СВЫ́ШЕ) lit [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] based on or guided by instinct, often in the form of a sudden insight: intuitively; by intuition; on a sudden intuition; in a flash of insight.

А она к нему приближается, глядит на него и… по наитию… распознаёт, что человек-то совсем особенный, вовсе не такой, как все… (Залыгин 1). And here she was, drawing near, looking at him and, intuitively, … seeing that he was completely unlike everybody else… (1a).

Н-21 • НАЙТИ́ (САМОГО́) СЕБЯ́ [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] to discover one's special role in life: X нашёл себя ≃ X found himself; X found his calling; X found his purpose (in life).

Был один из первых вечеров весны, когда, познакомившись с Мишо, она [Дениз] смутно почувствовала начало своего освобождения. А теперь осенний дождь стучал ночь напролёт о чердачное оконце. Нужны были все события этого лета, беседы с Мишо, долгие размышления, чтобы Дениз наконец-то нашла себя (Эренбург 4). It was on one of the early spring evenings after she [Denise] had first met Michaud that she vaguely felt the beginning of her emancipation. And now the autumn rain pattered all through the night on the little attic window. It had [taken] all the events of the summer, the conversations with Michaud, and long solitary reflections to help Denise to find herself at last (4a).

Н-22 • ПРО́СТО ⟨ПРЯ́МО, ВОТ, СУ́ЩЕЕ, ЧИ́СТОЕ, ЧТО ЗА, БО́ЖЬЕ⟩ НАКАЗА́НИЕ; НАКАЗА́НИЕ ГОСПО́ДНЕ(Е) ⟨БО́ЖЕСКОЕ, КАКО́Е-ТО⟩; НАКАЗА́НИЕ МНЕ с кем-чем all coll [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] (used to express irritation, anger etc) s.o. or sth. is awfully troublesome: what a nuisance ⟨a pain (in the neck)⟩!; (it's) a downright ⟨the perfect⟩ nuisance!; (it's) a real pain (in the neck)!; [lim.] what did I ⟨we⟩ do to deserve this!

Н-23 • С НАЛЁТА ⟨-У⟩ coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv] 1. ~ удариться обо что, ударить кого-что, схватить что и т.п. Also: С НАБЕ́ГА (to bump into sth., kick s.o. or sth., grab sth. etc) while in full motion, without stopping (esp. when flying, running etc): (fly ⟨run, crash etc⟩) right into (s.o. ⟨sth.⟩); [in refer. to very fast motion only] (at) full speed; (at) full tilt; [of birds etc only] in full flight; [esp. of birds, insects etc diving or plunging downward] swoop(ing) down on; with a swoop; swoop (and strike ⟨strike against, hit etc⟩ sth.).

Проснувшаяся муха вдруг с налёта ударилась об стекло и жалобно зажужжала (Достоевский 3). An awakened fly suddenly swooped and struck against the window, buzzing plaintively (3c). A fly that had woken up suddenly swooped and beat against the windowpane, buzzing plaintively (3d).

2. ~ понимать что, овладевать чем и т.п. (to understand, master sth. etc) immediately, without encountering any difficulties: in a flash; right away; right off the bat.

Ему долго объяснять не надо, он всё с налёта понимает. You don't have to give him a long explanation, he picks up everything right off the bat.

3. occas. disapprov ~ решать что, судить о чём и т.п. (to decide, judge etc sth.) without due consideration or preparation: on the spur of the moment; without stopping to think; [lim.] rashly; on impulse.

Н-24 • ТО́НКИЙ НАМЁК НА ТО́ЛСТОЕ ОБСТОЯ́ТЕЛЬСТВО ⟨НА ТО́ЛСТЫЕ ОБСТОЯ́ТЕЛЬСТВА⟩ coll, iron or humor [NP; fixed WO] a rather plain allusion to sth. evident: subtle reference to a glaring fact; hint at the obvious.

Редактор сказал, что его время ценится очень высоко. Но, хотя это был явно тонкий намёк на толстое обстоятельство, навязчивый посетитель не уходил. The editor said that his time was very valuable. However, even though this was clearly a subtle reference to a glaring fact, his irksome visitor did not leave.

Н-25 • НЕ НА ТОГО́ ⟨ТАКО́ГО⟩ НАПА́Л highly coll; НЕ НА ТАКО́ВСКОГО НАПА́Л substand [sent; past only; fixed WO] one (often the interlocutor) is underestimating the person with whom he is dealing (usu. the speaker): you've ⟨they've etc⟩ picked the wrong person ⟨guy, gal etc⟩ (to fool around with); you ⟨they etc⟩ are messing with the wrong person ⟨guy, gal etc⟩; [lim.] I'm not that sort (of person); you ⟨he etc⟩ mustn't take me for a fool; I am ⟨he is etc⟩ no pushover.

Пароход медленно плыл по направлению к пристани. The steamship moved slowly toward the dock.

…К сирени Пётр Александрович относился почему-то не так бережно и ревниво, как ко многим цветам, разрешал ломать её, отсаживал кустами, дарил направо и налево… (Трифонов 1).

For some reason… Pyotr Alexandrovich was less jealous and protective of his lilacs than of his many other flowers. He would transplant them from one place to another, allow others to cut off branches, and would himself give them away right and left… (1a).

Н-28 • ВОЗВОДИ́ТЬ/ВОЗВЕСТИ́ НАПРА́СЛИНУ на кого coll [VP; subj: human] to tell damaging or unflattering lies about s.o. (or o.s.), accuse s.o. (or o.s.) unjustly: X возвёл напраслину на Y-а ⟨на себя⟩ ≃ X slandered ⟨maligned, vilified etc⟩ Y ⟨himself⟩; X made a false accusation against Y ⟨himself⟩; X gave Y a bum rap.

[author's usage] [Беркутов:] Я долго говорил с Горецким и в город с ним ездил. Он тебя обманул. Ему понадобились деньги, он и сказал напраслину на себя (Островский 5). [B.:] I had a long talk with Goretsky, and drove to town with him…. He deceived you. He needed the money, so he just made a false accusation against himself (5a).

Н-29 • НАПУСКА́ТЬ/НАПУСТИ́ТЬ НА СЕБЯ́ что coll [VP; subj: human; obj: usu. важность, строгость] to attempt purposely to display a certain characteristic or quality (usu. importance or strictness): X напускает на себя Y ≃ X assumes an air of Y; || X напускает на себя важность ≃ X puts on ⟨gives himself⟩ airs; X assumes an important air; X acts ⟨looks⟩ high-and-mighty; X acts snooty ⟨uppity, all-important⟩; || X напускает на себя строгость ≃ X makes himself out to be strict; X tries to look strict.

…К воротам дома подъехала принадлежавшая госпоже Хохлаковой карета. Штабс-капитан, ждавший всё утро доктора, сломя голову бросился к воротам встречать его. Маменька подобралась и напустила на себя важности (Достоевский 1). …A carriage belonging to Madame Khokhlakov drove up to the gates of the house. The captain, who had been expecting the doctor all morning, madly rushed out to meet him. Mama pulled herself together and assumed an important air (1a).

Н-30 • НАРАВНЕ́ С кем-чем [AdvP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] similarly to, equally with: just as; the same as; on a par ⟨level⟩ with; [lim.] in the same fashion as; along with.

Н-31 • НА ⟨ВО⟩ ВЕСЬ НАРО́Д кричать, объявлять и т.п. obs [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to shout, announce sth.) publicly, so that everyone can hear it: (shout sth.) from the housetops ⟨the rooftops⟩; (shout sth.) for all to hear; (tell) the whole world.

[Городничий:] Всем объяви, чтобы все знали. Кричи во весь народ… (Гоголь 4). [Mayor:] Tell them all. Let them all know it. Shout it from the housetops! (4c).

Н-32 • ПРИ ВСЁМ ЧЕСТНО́М НАРО́ДЕ; ПРИ (ВСЁМ) НАРО́ДЕ; ПРИ ВСЕЙ ЧЕСТНО́Й КОМПА́НИИ all coll, often humor [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] publicly, in the presence of everyone: for all to see ⟨to hear, to know⟩; in front of everyone ⟨of everybody, of the whole world⟩; in public.

Ну, выпил я рюмку до прихода гостей, ну и что? Зачем говорить об этом сейчас, при всём честном народе? So I took a drink before the guests arrived, big deal. Why do you have to bring it up now, in front of everyone?

Н-33 • КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ НАРО́ЧНО coll [как etc + AdvP; these forms only; adv; often parenth; fixed WO] (used to express annoyance, chagrin) unfortunately, as if intentionally to disrupt s.o.'s plans: as (ill ⟨bad⟩) luck would have it; as if ⟨though⟩ on purpose; as if by design; as if in spite; as if to spite s.o.

Как нарочно, это случилось в ту самую пору, когда страсть к законодательству приняла в нашем отечестве размеры чуть-чуть не опасные… (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). As luck would have it, this happened at the time when the passion for lawmaking had assumed almost dangerous proportions in our fatherland (1a). ♦ [Анна Андреевна:] Экая досада! как нарочно, ни души! (Гоголь 4). [A.A.:] Oh, it's so annoying! Not a soul about—as if to spite me (4f).

Н-34 • С НАСКО́КА ⟨-у⟩ [PrepP; these forms only; adv] 1. while in full motion, without stopping (esp. when galloping, running etc): (gallop ⟨run etc⟩) right into (sth.); [in refer. to very fast motion only] at full ⟨top⟩ speed; (at) full tilt; (at a) full gallop; at a dead run; [esp. of a rider grasping, hitting etc s.o. or sth. while riding fast] swoop(ing) down on.

Лошадь с наскока врезалась в забор и сбросила всадника. The horse crashed into the fence at full tilt and sent its rider flying.

2. coll, occas. disapprov ~ судить о чём, решать что и т.п. (to judge, decide etc sth.) without due consideration or preparation, without thinking it through: (make) a rash judgment ⟨decision etc⟩; without stopping to think; [lim.] at first glance; on impulse.

Не суди с наскока! Этот конфликт сложнее, чем он кажется. Don't make a rash judgment! This conflict is more complicated than it seems. ♦ «В таком деле с наскоку не разберёшься» (Чернёнок 1). "In a case like this, you can't figure anything out at first glance" (1a).

Н-35 • ВТОРА́Я НАТУ́РА [NP; sing only; subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: usu. abstr. or infin); fixed WO] sth. (or doing sth.) has become a deeply ingrained habit for, or characteristic tendency in, s.o.: second nature.

Н-36 • ШИРО́КАЯ НАТУ́РА ⟨ДУША́⟩ coll [NP; sing only; often subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: human); fixed WO] a person who is generous, magnanimous, does everything expansively, willingly shares what he has with others etc: X — широкая натура ≃ X has a generous nature; X does things in a big way.

Широкая натура, ей было… приятно, что я кормлю эту ораву… (Рыбаков 1). She had a generous nature, so she liked the fact that I was feeding the whole crowd (1a).

Н-37 • ДЛЯ НАЧА́ЛА coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] as a beginning, initially: for a start; to start (with); for starters; as a starter; to begin with; [lim.] one starts ⟨begins⟩ by (doing sth.).

«Вот ваш бюджет — три миллиона. Для начала хватит?» (Аксёнов 12). "Here's your budget—three million. Will that be enough for a start?" (12a). ♦ «Ты представляешь себе, какой поднимется шум, когда кто-нибудь из них для начала преподнесёт читающей публике „Ревизора" или, на самый худой конец, „Евгения Онегина"!» (Булгаков 9). Just imagine what a sensation it will be when, for starters, one of them presents the reading public with an Inspector General, or, at the very least, a Eugene Onegin!" (9c). "Can you imagine the furore when one of them will, as a starter, present the reading public with an Inspector General or, if worst comes to worst, a Yevgeny Onegin?" (9a).

Н-38 • БРАТЬ (СВОЁ) НАЧА́ЛО где, из чего [VP; subj: река, дорога etc, the name of a river, road etc, or abstr; pres or past; usu. this WO] (of a river, road etc) to have its beginning, originate (in some place); (of a method, idea etc) to derive (from sth.): X берёт начало в месте ⟨около места и т.п.⟩ Y ≃ [of a river, road etc] X begins ⟨originates⟩ in ⟨at, near etc⟩ place Y; [of a river only] X rises in ⟨springs from, flows from⟩ Y; X has its source ⟨origin⟩ in Y; ‖ X берёт начало из Y-а ≃ [of a method, idea etc] X arises ⟨stems, springs⟩ from Y; X has its source ⟨origin⟩ in Y; X goes back to Y.

Волга берёт начало на Валдайской возвышенности. The Volga flows from the Valdai Hills. ♦ Новый уклад пользовался старыми представлениями и фразеологией, берущими своё начало ещё из дореволюционного становления большевистского крыла социал-демократической партии (Гроссман 2). …It [this new social order] still made use of [notions and] phraseology that went back to the beginning of the twentieth century and the formation of the Bolshevik wing of the Social Democratic Party (2a).

Н-39 • ВЕСТИ́ (СВОЁ) НАЧА́ЛО от кого-чего [VP; subj: human (usu. pl), collect, or abstr; pres or past] (of a family) to originate (in some ancestor or ancestors); (of a phenomenon) to originate (in some phenomenon in the past): X ведёт (своё) начало от Y-а ≃ X begins ⟨starts⟩ with Y; X derives from Y; thing X has its beginning(s) in Y; [in refer. to a line of descent only] family X descends from Y; family X traces its roots ⟨ancestry⟩ back to Y.

Н-40 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ⟨КЛАСТЬ/ПОЛОЖИ́ТЬ⟩ НАЧА́ЛО чему [VP; subj: human, abstract, or concr; more often pfv; usu. this WO] to initiate sth., be the source, beginning point of sth.: X дал начало Y-у ≃ X started ⟨originated⟩ Y; thing X gave rise to Y; [lim.] thing X was the starting point of Y.

Его работы положили начало новому направлению в лингвистике. His works gave rise to a new school of linguistics.

Н-41 • ХОРО́ШЕЕ ⟨ДО́БРОЕ⟩ НАЧА́ЛО ПОЛДЕ́ЛА ОТКАЧА́ЛО [saying] a good start in some endeavor ensures a good outcome: ≃ well begun is half done; the first blow ⟨a good beginning⟩ is half the battle; a good beginning makes a good ending.

Н-42 • ПОД НАЧА́ЛОМ чьим, (у) кого быть$_{ø}$, работать, служить и т.п.; ПОД НАЧА́ЛО чьё, кого, (к) кому ⟨ПОД НАЧА́Л чей, кого, (к) кому obs⟩ попасть, поступить, отдать кого и т.п. [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human or collect) or adv] (to be, work, serve, fall, be put etc) under s.o.'s supervision: under s.o.'s ⟨one's⟩ authority ⟨control, direction⟩; [lim.] (work ⟨serve⟩) under s.o.; (serve) under s.o.'s command; (be) under s.o.'s orders.

Он часто хвастал: «Вот я буду инспектором. Вы тут киснуть будете, а у меня под началом два уезда будут. А то и три. Ого-го!» (Сологуб 1). "Yes," he often boasted, "I shall be an inspector. You'll be wasting away here, while I'll have two districts under my authority. And then perhaps three. Ho, ho, ho!" (1a). ♦ Неужто не слыхали? Шестопалов. Квартирные вопросы решает. Я под его началом тринадцать лет прослужил (Терц 5). Never heard of him?… Shestopalov. Fellow who arbitrates housing problems. I worked under him for thirteen years (5a).

Н-43 • ПО НАЧА́ЛЬСТВУ доносить, посылать что и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to report, send sth. etc) to those in higher positions of authority, to a higher department: (inform ⟨report to, report sth. to etc⟩) the authorities; (inform ⟨report to etc⟩) the ⟨one's⟩ higher-ups; (send a report etc) up the line.

…Как человек обязательный, [штаб-офицер] телеграфировал о происшедшем случае по начальству… (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). [The state solicitor], as an obliging man, telegraphed the authorities regarding the incident… (1a).

Н-44 • НАЧИНА́ТЬ/НАЧА́ТЬ ИЗДАЛЕКА́ [VP; subj: human] to begin telling, relating sth. in an indirect, circuitous manner, not getting to the point immediately: X начал издалека ≃ X began in a (somewhat) roundabout way; X started with something entirely unrelated.

Дельце, о котором просил хозяин, касалось его сбежавшей жены. Начал он издалека, говоря, что он уже не мальчик, чтобы есть что попало и как попало, а человек в летах, и ему нужен человек, который мог бы приготовить и подать ему пищу (Искандер 4). The favor that [our host] Omar had requested concerned his runaway wife. He began in a roundabout way, saying that he was no longer a boy, to eat any old thing fixed any old way; he was a man getting on in years, he needed a person who could prepare and serve his food for him (4a).

Н-45 • НАЧИНА́Я С ⟨ОТ⟩ кого-чего [Prep; these forms only; the resulting PrepP is adv] beginning with s.o. or sth., or beginning at some date or time: from… on up ⟨on down⟩; from… (down to); starting with ⟨from⟩; [in refer. to dates, times etc] since.

Да они [учёные люди] и делаются учёными, считал он, начиная от всяких там писарей, именно для того, чтобы отойти от физической работы и от жизни под открытым небом (Искандер 4). That was why they [learned men] became learned, he believed, from all those wretched clerks on up: precisely in order to get away from manual labor and life under the open sky (4a). ♦ Начиная с 1968 года мне здесь неоднократно объясняли, что я поставил своё перо на службу каким-то разведкам… (Войнович 3). Since 1968… it had been repeatedly explained to me in this office that I had placed my pen at the service of some sort of intelligence agency… (3a).

Н-47 • И НА́ШИМ И ВА́ШИМ служить, угождать и т.п. coll, disapprov [NP_{dat}; indir obj or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); fixed WO] (to serve, try to please etc) two different sides at the same time (in refer. to a person who, for selfish, mercenary reasons or from a lack of principles, is trying to oblige two people, groups etc that have different opinions, views, agendas): X служит и нашим и вашим ≃ X serves two masters; X works for both sides; X works both sides of the street; X plies his trade on both sides of the street; X has a foot in both camps; X butters his bread on both sides; X runs with the hare and hunts with the hounds.

[Белоботников:] И нарядчику не доверяйте, он и нашим и вашим (Солженицын 8). [B.:] And don't trust that work allocator…. He works for both sides (8a).

Н-48 • (КАК ⟨КАК БУ́ДТО, БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩) С НЕ́БА СВАЛИ́ТЬСЯ ⟨УПА́СТЬ⟩ coll [(как etc +) VP; usu. past; usu. this WO] 1. [subj: human, abstr, or concr] to appear, occur unexpectedly, suddenly: X как с неба свалился ≃ X appeared ⟨came⟩ (as if) out of the blue; X came ⟨sprang up⟩ (from) out of nowhere; X appeared ⟨came⟩ like a bolt from the blue.

Среди всех этих толков и пересудов, вдруг как с неба упала повестка, приглашавшая именитейших представителей глуповской интеллигенции, в такой-то день и час, прибыть к градоначальнику для внушения (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). Suddenly, amid all this talk and gossip, out of the blue came a notice summoning the most distinguished representatives of Foolov's intelligentsia to appear at such-and-such a day and hour at the town governor's for reprimand (1a).

2. [subj: human; most often 2nd pers] not to know things that are obvious, understood by all: ты что, с неба свалился? ≃ where (on earth) have you been all this time?; did you fall out of the skies?; are you ⟨what are you,⟩ from another planet?; have you been living in a cave (all your life)?

«Мы из оккупированной местности. Нам в городе прописки нету…» — «Вам сейчас сколько? Семнадцать? Девятнадцать? Так при немцах вам было восемь лет! Не больше! Столько, сколько Лёльке сейчас! — закричала я. — Какое же это может иметь значение?» Она не удостоила меня ответом. «А ты что, с неба свалилась? — выражала её спина. — Старая дура» (Чуковская 2). "…We're from occupied territory. They won't even give us permission to live in town…." "How old are you now? Seventeen? Nineteen? So when the Germans were here you were eight! Not more! As old as Lyolka is now!" I shouted. "How can that have any importance now?" She didn't deign to answer. "Where on earth have you been all this time, you old fool?" was what her back seemed to say (2a).

3. [subj: concr or abstr] to be obtained, found unexpectedly, coming as a pleasant surprise: X (как) с неба упал ≃ X appeared ⟨happened⟩ as if by magic; X came ⟨seemed to come⟩ out of the blue; X (just) landed ⟨fell⟩ in Y's lap; [lim.] (it's as if ⟨though⟩) X fell from heaven ⟨the sky⟩.

«Ну что бы с нами было теперь, Дуня, без этих трёх тысяч! Господи, точно с неба упали!» (Достоевский 3). "Where would we be now, Dunya, without those three thousand roubles! Lord, just as though they fell from heaven!" (3c).

Н-49 • СОЙТИ́ ⟨ПА́ДАТЬ/УПА́СТЬ⟩ С НЕ́БА НА ЗЕ́МЛЮ; СПУСКА́ТЬСЯ/СПУСТИ́ТЬСЯ (С НЕ́БА) НА ЗЕ́МЛЮ [VP; subj: human; more often pfv; often infin with пора, надо etc or imper; usu. this WO] to free o.s. from illusions, come to a proper understanding of reality: сойди с неба на землю ≃ come down to earth ⟨from the clouds⟩; get your head out of the clouds.

«На одной чаше весов вы — ссыльный контрреволюционер, на другой — председатель колхоза, он сила, власть, хозяин их судьбы. За кого они будут свидетельствовать? Спуститесь с небес, Панкратов, и правильно оцените своё положение» (Рыбаков 2). "So, on one side of the scales there's you, an exiled counterrevolutionary, and on the other side there's the chairman of the kolhoz, the power, the authority, the keeper of their fate. For whom will they testify? Come down from the clouds, Pankratov, and try to evaluate your position realistically" (2a).

Н-50 • НА СЕДЬМО́М НЕ́БЕ быть$_{ø}$, чувствовать себя [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or adv; fixed WO] (to be, feel) boundlessly happy: (be) in seventh heaven; (be) on cloud nine; (be) (sitting) on top of the world; (be) walking ⟨treading⟩ on air.

[Шабельский:] А ваш этот тупой лекарь почувствовал бы себя… на седьмом небе, если бы судьба дала ему случай, во имя принципа и общечеловеческих идеалов, хватить меня публично по рылу и под микитки (Чехов 4). [Sh.:] But that dimwitted leech of yours… he'd be in seventh heaven if only fate would give him a chance—in the name of principle and humanitarian ideals—publicly to give me a rap in the snout or a poke in the ribs (4a).

Н-51 • ПРЕВОЗНОСИ́ТЬ/ПРЕВОЗНЕСТИ́ ⟨ВОЗНОСИ́ТЬ/ВОЗНЕСТИ́⟩ ДО НЕБЕ́С кого-что lit [VP; subj: human] to praise s.o. or sth. excessively: X превозносил Y-а до небес ≃ X was praising ⟨lauding⟩ Y to the skies ⟨to high heaven, to the heavens⟩; X was lavishing ⟨showering⟩ praises on Y.

[Жарков:] Где ты столько лет пропадал, когда меня и в газетах, и по радио до небес превозносили? (Розов 4). [Zh.:] Where were you hiding all those years when they were praising me to the skies in the newspapers and on the radio? (4a). ♦ «Сталин тридцать лет стоял во главе государства, мы его до небес возносили» (Войнович 7). "Stalin stood at the head of the state for thirty years, we lauded him to the skies" (7a).

Н-52 • ЧЁРНАЯ НЕБЛАГОДА́РНОСТЬ [NP; fixed WO] utter lack of appreciation for s.o.'s kindness: base ⟨black, rank, gross⟩ ingratitude.

Мне запретят видеть солнце, гулять по городу, сидеть в кафе… Дадут ещё немного еды и водки и в очередной раз напомнят о моей чёрной неблагодарности. Скажут, что я хочу слишком многого… (Гальего 1). They'll bar me from seeing the sun, roaming through the city, sitting in a café… They'll give me a little more food and vodka and remind me yet again about my black ingratitude. They'll say I want too much… (1a).

Н-53 • (КАК) НЕ́БО И ЗЕМЛЯ́ coll [(как +) NP; these forms only; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human, abstr, or concr, usu. pl); usu. this WO] (to be) not at all alike, complete opposites: X и Y — это (как) небо и земля ≃ X and Y are like ⟨as different as⟩ heaven and earth; X and Y are like ⟨as different as⟩ day and night ⟨night and day⟩; there's a world of difference between X and Y.

«Вот так жизнь и устроена, что рядом с Евгением Николаевичем живёт Петька Ларионов, а они друг дружке как небо и земля» (Распутин 1). "Funny thing: there's Evgeny Nikolaevich living next door to Piotr Larionov, and the two of them as different as heaven and earth" (1a). ♦ Скажу вам как специалист: на обувной фабрике склад готовой продукции и склад сырья — это небо и земля (Рыбаков 1). I'd like to say something, as an expert. In a shoe factory, the finished goods store and the raw material store are as different as day and night (1a).

Н-54 • КАК НЕ́БО ОТ ЗЕМЛИ́ отличаться coll [как + NP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to differ) very much, sharply: X отличается от Y-а как небо от земли ≃ X and Y are as different as heaven and earth ⟨as night and day⟩; X is the exact ⟨the very⟩ opposite of Y; X is poles apart from Y; X and Y are poles ⟨worlds⟩ apart.

who's the very opposite of you and who you know yourself is a bad character" (3a). "I don't understand, father, that a man with a heart of gold like yours can go on receiving a person who is poles apart from you and whom you yourself know to be a bad character" (3d).

Н-55 • НЕ́БО КОПТИ́ТЬ; КОПТИ́ТЬ СВЕТ both coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human] to live aimlessly, doing nothing useful: X небо коптит ≃ X is wasting ⟨frittering⟩ his life away; X is idling away his life. ○ КОПТИ́ТЕЛЬ НЕ́БА obs [NP] ≃ idler; loafer.

Так как уже не мало есть на белом свете людей, которые коптят небо, то почему ж и Тентетникову не коптить его? (Гоголь 3). …Since there are not a few people in the wide world who idle away their lives, why shouldn't Tentetnikov do the same? (3c).

Н-56 • НЕ́БО С ⟨В⟩ ОВЧИ́НКУ КА́ЖЕТСЯ/ПОКАЗА́ЛОСЬ кому highly coll [VP_{subj}; usu. pfv.; usu. this WO] (in refer. to a short-lived, intense sensation) s.o. experiences extreme fear, intolerable pain etc: X-у небо с овчинку показалось ≃ X thought ⟨felt like⟩ he was going to die (on the spot); X felt as if the sky were about to come crashing down on his head ⟨on him⟩; X felt like the world was closing in on him; [in refer. to fear only] X was frightened ⟨scared⟩ out of his wits.

«Струсил ты, признайся, когда молодцы мои накинули тебе верёвку на шею? Я чаю, небо с овчинку показалось…» (Пушкин 2). "You got scared, didn't you, when my lads threw the rope around your neck? Frightened out of your wits, weren't you?" (2a).

Н-57 • С НЕБОЛЬШИ́М [PrepP; Invar; postmodif; usu. used after a Num or quantit NP] (used in making an approximate estimation of s.o.'s age, the size or quantity of sth. etc) with a small excess, slightly more than the amount just named: a little over ⟨more than⟩; just over; [Num]-odd; [lim.] … plus; … and then some; [in refer. to time only] a little past…

Подумать только, лишь десять лет с небольшим проходит, и уже объяснять надо, как могло быть такое, как мог быть такой Лёва! (Битов 2). Just think, it's only been a little over ten years, and already we have to explain how such a thing could have happened, how there could be such a Lyova! (2a). ♦ Добрые кони в полчаса с небольшим пронесли Чичикова чрез десятивёрстное пространство… (Гоголь 3). In just over half an hour the excellent horses transported Chichikov over the seven miles… (3a).

Н-58 • МЕЖДУ НЕ́БОМ И ЗЕМЛЁЙ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: human); fixed WO] 1. жить, пребывать и т.п. ~ to live without shelter, not to have permanent housing: X жил между небом и землёй ≃ X lived ⟨was⟩ without a roof over his head; X was homeless.

2. висеть, находиться и т.п. ~ to be in a state of uncertainty, be in an unsettled state: X висит между небом и землёй ≃ X is (hanging ⟨sitting etc⟩) in limbo; X doesn't know where he stands.

Кажется, мне хотелось, чтобы уже все… узнали, чтобы всё для всех стало ясно, чтобы я перестал висеть между небом и землей (Аржак 2). It seems I wanted everyone to find out—wanted everything to come out into the open, so that I wouldn't have to go on hanging in this limbo (2a).

Н-59 • ПОД ОТКРЫ́ТЫМ НЕ́БОМ [PrepP; Invar; adv or nonagreeing postmodif; fixed WO] outside of a building or shelter: under the open sky; in the open air; out in the open; outdoors; out of doors; [lim.] without shelter; without a roof over one's ⟨s.o.'s⟩ head.

…Немцы не хотят впускать в оккупированную зону беженцев. Пленных заставляют выполнять тяжёлые работы. Раненых держат под открытым небом (Эренбург 4). …The Germans were unwilling to let the refugees enter the occupied area. They were forcing the prisoners to carry on heavy labour and keeping the wounded out in the open (4a).

Н-60 • НЕ́БУ ЖА́РКО highly coll [impers predic with $быть_{ø}$, стать; often used as a subord clause after так…, что or такой…, что; fixed WO] s.o. does sth. in the most intense, energetic way possible (used to emphasize the highest degree of intensity of an action): like you wouldn't believe; like gangbusters.

Н-61 • В БЛАЖЕ́ННОМ НЕВЕ́ДЕНИИ пребывать, находиться, оставаться и т.п. iron [PrepP; Invar; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human); fixed WO] one knows nothing, does not suspect anything (about a problem or misfortune of which one should be aware): X пребывает в блаженном неведении ≃ X is in a state of blissful ignorance; X lives in (a state of) blissful ignorance; X is ⟨lives⟩ in a fool's paradise; [lim.] X is happily oblivious to reality ⟨to the fact that…⟩.

Жена ему открыто изменяет, а он пребывает в блаженном неведении. His wife is openly cheating on him, but he lives on in blissful ignorance.

Н-62 • ДО НЕВЕРОЯ́ТНОСТИ ⟨НЕВЕРОЯ́ТИЯ⟩ [PrepP; these forms only; usu. modif or adv (intensif)] extremely, to the highest degree: incredibly; unbelievably; beyond belief; in the ⟨to an⟩ extreme.

…Глуповцы насеяли горчицы и персидской ромашки столько, что цена на эти продукты упала до невероятности (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). …The Glupovites sowed so much mustard and feverfew that their market price fell to an unbelievably low level (1b).

Н-63 • ХРИСТО́ВА НЕВЕ́СТА obs [NP] 1. a nun: bride of Christ.

«Правду Вы сказали тогда: нет во мне монашеского таланта — смиренно Бога за людей молить. Из всех Христовых невест я самая непутёвая» (Акунин 4). "You spoke the truth when you said that I do not have the nun's talent of praying to God for people. Of all Christ's brides I am the most wayward" (4a).

2. a dead girl: dead maiden.

3. an aging woman who has never been married: old maid; spinster.

Н-64 • НЕВЕ́СТКЕ В ОТМЕ́СТКУ highly coll [Invar; usu. adv; fixed WO] (to do sth.) in order to offend, embarrass etc s.o. who previously did the same to one; as an act of revenge: (in order) to even the score; (in order) to give s.o. a taste of his own medicine; (in order) to get back at s.o.; (in order) to pay s.o. back in kind ⟨in his own coin⟩.

Он опять вовремя не позвонил, и она решила — невестке в отместку — уйти из дому на весь вечер. Again he didn't call when he'd promised to, so she decided to even the score by going out for the whole evening.

Снилась ему широкая река… Над ней стоял тяжёлый пар, и все сотрудники института, невзирая на положение и возраст, должны были плыть через неё, для сдачи норм ГТО (Битов 2). He dreamed of a wide river…. A heavy vapor hung over it, and everyone at the institute, position and age notwithstanding, was supposed to swim across, in order to pass the Komsomol fitness test (2a).

< See Н-65.

Н-67 • НЕВЗИРА́Я НИ НА ЧТО [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] despite everything, whatever the circumstances may be: no matter what; in spite of everything; regardless; regardless of anything ⟨everything, what happens etc⟩.

Как-то он [Иван] сказал писателю, чтобы тот перестал записывать и держал бы в уме свои жизненные наблюдения. Но тот ответил, что всё равно будет записывать, что бы Иван с ним ни сделал, пусть он его хоть побьёт, но он писатель и будет записывать, невзирая ни на что (Аксёнов 1). Once he [Ivan] told the writer to stop writing things down and to store his observations on life in his head. But this guy said he'd keep writing things down anyway, whatever Ivan did to him, even if Ivan beat him, he was a writer and would write things down no matter what (1a).

Н-68 • ВОТ ⟨ЧТО ЗА, Э́КА(Я), КАКА́Я⟩ НЕ́ВИДАЛЬ ⟨НЕВИДА́ЛЬЩИНА obs⟩! coll, iron [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] there is nothing special, nothing extraordinary (about s.o. or sth.): what's so great about that!; aren't you ⟨isn't he etc⟩ a wonder!; big deal!; [lim.] some prize!

«Замолчи, надоело слушать, как твой батя в семьдесят лет женился на молоденькой. Экая невидаль!» — сказала Шура… (Коротюков 1). "Oh, shut up. I'm sick and tired of hearing how your old man married some young thing at the age of seventy. What's so great about that?" Shura said… (1a).

Н-69 • ОСКОРБЛЁННАЯ ⟨УГНЕТЁННАЯ⟩ НЕВИ́ННОСТЬ [NP; usu. obj or nonagreeing postmodif; fixed WO] a person who presents himself as one wrongly offended, insulted: (put on airs of) injured ⟨wounded⟩ innocence; (portray o.s. as) an injured ⟨insulted⟩ innocent; (portray o.s. as) a victim ⟨an innocent victim⟩.

Покритиковали тебя за дело, и нечего разыгрывать из себя оскорблённую невинность. They criticized you with good reason, so there's no need to put on airs of injured innocence.

Н-70 • ДО НЕВОЗМО́ЖНОСТИ [PrepP; Invar; modif or adv (intensif)] to the highest possible degree, above all measure: beyond belief; (quite) remarkably; [with AdjP & AdvP] extremely; exceedingly; unbelievably; incredibly; impossibly; unimaginably; [with AdjP & VP] to an ⟨in the⟩ extreme; || раздражать кого ~ ≃irritate s.o. to no end; || бесить кого ~ ≃ drive s.o. absolutely ⟨totally⟩ crazy ⟨nuts⟩; || ~ много спама ≃ an impossible ⟨unbelievable⟩ amount of spam.

Раньше было незаметно, а сейчас бросалось в глаза; до чего ж бедность! Какие-то железные сетки на козлах вместо кроватей, столы и шкафы из крашеной фанеры, плетёный топчан, ещё что-то плетёное, ветхое до невозможности (Трифонов 4). It hadn't been noticeable before, but now it struck the eye: what shabbiness! Some iron bedsprings on a sawhorse instead of a bed, tables and cupboards of painted plywood, a wicker trestle bed, another wicker object, impossibly dilapidated (4a).

Н-71 • ЗА НЕВОЗМО́ЖНОСТЬЮ чего or что делать [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] because the action in question cannot be accomplished or the state in question cannot continue: because it is impossible (to do sth.); because of the impossibility (of sth. ⟨of doing sth., to do sth.⟩); owing to the impossibility (of sth. ⟨of doing sth.⟩).

Полиция немножко для виду поищет и закроет дело за невозможностью раскрытия (Акунин 6). For the sake of appearances the police would search for a while and then close the case because it was impossible to solve (6a).

Н-72 • КАК НЕДОРЕ́ЗАННЫЙ орать coll, rude [как + NP; Invar; adv (intensif)] (to yell, shout) very loudly, complaining bitterly, scolding s.o. etc: scream bloody murder; (scream) in a wild voice; shout ⟨yell⟩ o.s. hoarse; (scream ⟨yell⟩) one's head off; howl (with pain ⟨in agony⟩); scream ⟨shout, wail⟩ like a banshee.

Н-73 • НЕТ НЕДОСТА́ТКА в ком-чём [$VP_{subj/gen}$] some people (things etc) are present, available etc in sufficient quantity: в X-ах нет недостатка ≃ there is no lack ⟨shortage⟩ of Xs.

Несколько дней спустя состоялся бал у губернатора… Народу было пропасть, и в кавалерах не было недостатка… (Тургенев 2). A few days later the governor's ball took place…. There were crowds of people and no lack of men for dancing-partners… (2c).

Н-74 • НЕЖДА́ННО-НЕГА́ДАННО появиться, наступить и т.п. coll [AdvP; Invar; adv; more often used with pfv verbs] (to appear, arrive etc) suddenly, unexpectedly: all of a sudden; (suddenly,) out of the blue; most unexpectedly.

Вдруг, нежданно-негаданно, среди всех хлопот, ещё одно событие: приехал Таля, Виталий Петрович, санаторский знакомый (Грекова 3). Then, out of the blue, along with all these worries, something else happened. Talya arrived, Vitaly Petrovich… the man from the sanatorium (3a).

Н-75 • ТЕЛЯ́ЧЬИ НЕ́ЖНОСТИ coll, often condes or derog [NP; pl only; fixed WO] an excessive or inappropriate expression of tender feelings, sentimentality: sloppy ⟨mushy⟩ sentimentality; sentimental slop; lovey-dovey stuff.

«…Примечаю, что в мальчике развивается какая-то чувствительность, сентиментальность, а я, знаете, решительный враг всяких телячьих нежностей, с самого моего рождения» (Достоевский 1). "…I noticed that a sort of tenderness, sensitivity, was developing in the boy, and, you know, I am decidedly the enemy of all sentimental slop, and have been since the day I was born" (1a).

Н-76 • НЕЗАВИ́СИМО ОТ кого-чего [Prep; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] without consideration of, not contingent upon (s.o. or sth.): regardless of; irrespective of; in dependent(ly) of; [lim.] no matter (who ⟨what etc⟩).

Вмешиваться в литературу, поправлять писателей… или даже запрещать ими сочинённое могут все, кому не лень, независимо от уровня их компетенции (Войнович 1). Anyone who feels like it, regardless of his degree of competence, can intervene in literature, correct writers… or even ban their works (1a). ♦ Каждый милиционер знает, что с водителя «Запорожца» можно содрать рубль всегда… Владелец «Волги»… может оказаться довольно важной персоной, его лучше и вовсе не трогать. А уж «чайкам» и «зилам» надо честь отдавать независимо от того, кто в них сидит (Войнович 1). Every policeman knows he can always squeeze a ruble out of the driver of a Zaporozhets…. The person behind the wheel of a Volga could… prove important and is better

Н-77 • НЕЗАВИ́СИМО ОТ ТОГО́ ЧТО [subord Conj, concessive] without consideration of the fact that, not contingent upon the fact that: regardless of (the fact that); irrespective of (the fact that); [lim.] independent of (the fact that).

Н-78 • ЗА НЕИМЕ́НИЕМ кого-чего; ПО НЕИМЕ́НИЮ obs [PrepP; these forms only; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] because of the absence of (s.o. or sth.): for want ⟨lack⟩ of; lacking; in the absence of; there is no…, so…; having no ⟨not having any⟩… || за неимением лучшего ≃ for want of anything ⟨something⟩ better; lacking anything ⟨something⟩ better; for want of a better [NP]; lacking a better [NP].

За неимением комнаты для проезжающих на станции, нам отвели ночлег в дымной сакле (Лермонтов 1). For lack of a room at the station for those passing through, we were given lodging in a smoky hut (1e). In the absence of a room for travelers at the post station, we were assigned night quarters in a smoky native hut (1a).

Н-79 • ДА́ЛЬШЕ НЕ́КУДА; ДА́ЛЬШЕ Е́ХАТЬ ⟨ИДТИ́⟩ НЕ́КУДА all coll [these forms only; predic (impers or with subj: human, abstr, or a clause); may be used as a subord clause or indep. remark; fixed WO] some person (thing, the way sth. is done etc) is as bad as he or it could possibly be: X — дальше ехать некуда ≃ X couldn't be worse; it's a case of the worst possible X; X gives (a) new meaning to the word "bad"; X is the worst ⟨the pits⟩; it ⟨thing X⟩ beats all ⟨everything⟩; that ⟨X⟩ (really) takes the cake!; [when used as an indep. remark] what next!; that's the limit!

Непосредственное начальство Филармона Ивановича вскочило, едва взгляд наивысшего начальства прикоснулся к нему, и быстро сказало, что вопрос ясен, поведение — дальше некуда… (Вахтин 1). Philharmon Ivanovich's immediate boss jumped up as the top boss's gaze passed over him and quickly said that this was clearly a case of the worst possible conduct… (1a). ♦ «Подтёлков твой — из каких? Вахмистр?.. Ого! Одних со мной чинов. Вот это так!.. Дожи-ли… Дальше некуда!» (Шолохов 3). "Your Podtyolkov—what is he? A sergeant-major?… Oho! The same rank as me. Well, well!… The things we've lived to see…. What next!" (3a).

Н-80 • КАК НЕЛЬЗЯ́… coll [AdvP; Invar; modif; foll. by the compar form of Adv; fixed WO] (used for maximum intensification of an adverb) exceedingly: как нельзя [compar AdvP] ≃ as… as possible; || как нельзя лучше ≃ as well as possible; as well as can ⟨could⟩ be; perfectly; in the best possible way; marvelously well; (it) couldn't be better; || как нельзя хуже ≃ as bad(ly) as can ⟨could⟩ be; horribly; in the worst possible way; terribly bad; it couldn't be worse; || как нельзя больше ⟨более⟩ ≃ [with a verb] completely; absolutely; fully; perfectly; [lim.] as nearly as possible; || как нельзя более [AdjP or AdvP] ≃ extremely; couldn't be ⟨have been⟩ more…; to the greatest degree; exceptionally.

Все силы её [Наташи] с самого утра были устремлены на то, чтоб они все: она, мама, Соня — были одеты как нельзя лучше (Толстой 5). …All her [Natasha's] energies had been directed to insuring that they all—herself, Mamma, and Sonya—should be as well dressed as possible (5a). ♦ Жизнь Бунина в этих барских комнатах… как нельзя больше соответствовала моему представлению об аристократе, столбовом дворянине, российском академике, человеке безукоризненного вкуса (Катаев 3). Bunin's life in these lordly apartments… corresponded as nearly as possible to my conception of an aristocrat, a nobleman, a Russian Academician, a man of irreproachable taste (3a).

Н-81 • КАК НЕЛЬЗЯ́ (БО́ЛЕЕ) КСТА́ТИ coll [AdvP; Invar; adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. abstr. or human); may be used as indep. sent; fixed WO] at the most appropriate moment, very appropriately: just at the right time; at the perfect time; perfect timing; just the thing ⟨the person⟩ I ⟨you⟩ need; the right thing at the right time; (sth.) couldn't happen ⟨come etc⟩ at a better time; just in time; most opportunely.

«Отец просил передать, что он вчера послал тебе денежный перевод». — «Как нельзя кстати». "Dad asked me to tell you that he sent you a money order yesterday." "Perfect timing!" ♦ Окончание строительства пришлось как нельзя более кстати, потому что прежний зал для судебных заседаний не смог бы вместить даже самых почётных гостей, прибывших на процесс (Акунин 6). The completion of the construction work could not have come at a better time, because previously the courtroom could not have held even the most distinguished guests who had arrived for the trial (6a).

Н-82 • НЕЛЬЗЯ́ НЕ… [Invar; used as impers predic with быть$_{ø}$; foll. by infin] one has to (do sth.): one can't help but; one cannot but; one can't not; one can't help (doing sth.); it is impossible not to.

Ваши доводы так убедительны, что с ними нельзя не согласиться. Your arguments are so convincing that one can't help but agree with them.

Н-83 • В НЕМИ́ЛОСТИ у кого быть$_{ø}$; ВПАДА́ТЬ/ВПАСТЬ ⟨ПОПАДА́ТЬ/ПОПА́СТЬ⟩ В НЕМИ́ЛОСТЬ к кому, у кого [PrepP, Invar, subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (1st var.) or VP; subj: human] 1. to be or become regarded by one's sovereign or superior with strong disapproval, scorn etc: X в немилости у Y-а ⟨X впал в немилость к Y-у⟩ ≃ X is ⟨has fallen⟩ out of favor with Y; X is in disfavor ⟨disgrace⟩; X has fallen into disfavor (with Y); X has incurred Y's disfavor.

[Дед Гришака] участвовал в турецкой кампании 1877 года, состоял ординарцем при генерале Гурко, попал в немилость и был отослан в полк (Шолохов 2). He [Grandad Grishaka] had taken part in the campaign against the Turks in 1877. At one time he had been orderly to General Gurko, but had fallen out of favor and been sent back to his regiment (2a).

2. to lose, no longer enjoy s.o.'s amiable feelings toward one or favorable opinion of one: X в немилости у Y-а ⟨X впал в немилость к Y-у⟩ ≃ X has lost Y's favor; X is ⟨has fallen⟩ out of favor with Y; [lim.] X is ⟨has gotten⟩ in Y's bad books.

…На тонком лице графа Малевского постоянно бродила какая-то недобрая улыбка; он действительно впал в немилость у Зинаиды и с особенным стараньем подслуживался старой княгине… (Тургенев 3). An unpleasant smile roved continually over Count Malevsky's thin features. The Count certainly had fallen out of favor with Zinaida and now waited diligently on the old princess… (3c).

Н-84 • КАК НЕПРИКА́ЯННЫЙ ходит, бродит, болтается и т.п. coll [как + AdjP; nom only; adv] (of a person) (one wanders, roams about etc) in a confused, bewildered manner, as if unsure of what he should do: like a lost soul; as if one has lost his bearings.

Митя забыл взять ключи и до возвращения родителей бродил по окрестным улицам как неприкаянный. Mitya forgot his keys and ended up roaming around the neighborhood like a lost soul until his parents got home.

Н-85 • ИГРА́ТЬ/ПОИГРА́ТЬ НА НЕ́РВАХ чьих, (у) кого coll [VP; subj: human] to irritate s.o. (often intentionally): X играет у Y-а на нервах ≃ X is getting ⟨grating⟩ on Y's nerves.

[Бусыгин:] Ты дрыхнул, а мы всю ночь играли друг у друга на нервах (Вампилов 4). [B.:] While you were snoozing we were getting on each other's nerves, all night long (4a).

Н-86 • ДЕ́ЙСТВОВАТЬ ⟨ПОДЕ́ЙСТВОВАТЬ⟩ НА НЕ́РВЫ кому [VP; subj: usu. human or abstr] to irritate, disturb s.o.: X действует Y-у на нервы ≃ X gets ⟨grates, wears⟩ on Y's nerves; X chafes Y's nerves; X gets under Y's skin; X has an effect on Y's nerves; thing X frays Y's ⟨the⟩ nerves.

Одна из машинисток, Зоя Викторовна, сильно действовала Ольге Петровне на нервы: ошибки чуть ли не в каждом слове, нахально курит и болтает во время работы (Чуковская 1). One of the typists, Zoya Viktorovna, really got on Olga Petrovna's nerves: she made a mistake in almost every word, smoked in an insolent manner and chattered all the time she was working (1a).

Н-87 • ТРА́ТИТЬ/ПОТРА́ТИТЬ НЕ́РВЫ coll [VP; subj: human; often infin with не надо, нечего etc or neg imper] to be nervous, wear o.s. out through excessive worry: X тратит нервы ≃ X is (over)straining his nerves; X is expending (his) nervous energy; || нечего нервы тратить ≃ save wear and tear on your nerves; give your nerves a rest.

Обидней всего бесцельно тратить нервы и силу доводов не на конференции, не в брошюре, не в споре с важным партийным противником, а просто так, на губошлёпа, который и не думает серьёзно того, что говорит (Солженицын 5). Nothing was more vexatious than expending his nervous energy and his cogency in argument not at a conference, in a pamphlet, in debate with an important party opponent, but, for no good reason, on a lout who didn't even mean what he was saying (5a).

Н-88 • ТРЕПА́ТЬ/ИСТРЕПА́ТЬ ⟨ПОТРЕПА́ТЬ, ПО́РТИТЬ/ИСПО́РТИТЬ⟩ НЕ́РВЫ coll [VP] 1. ~ кому. Also: МОТА́ТЬ/ИЗМОТА́ТЬ ⟨ВЫМА́ТЫВАТЬ/ВЫМОТАТЬ⟩ НЕ́РВЫ coll [subj: human or collect] to make s.o. very nervous, upset, worried etc: X треплет Y-у нервы ≃ X makes Y a nervous wreck; X makes a nervous wreck (out) of Y; X plays havoc with Y's nerves; X wears Y out (with his demands ⟨pestering etc⟩); X shatters ⟨frazzles⟩ Y's nerves.

[Угаров:] Уважаемые соседи! Вы видите перед собой человека, который буквально за полчаса истрепал нам все нервы (Вампилов 1). [U.:] Dear neighbors! You see before you a man, who in the course of half an hour, has literally made nervous wrecks out of us (1b).

Зачем ты треплешь себе нервы из-за таких пустяков? Why make yourself a nervous wreck over such trifles? ♦ …«Это прямо стало невыносимым, с этими людьми какие угодно нервы испортишь!» (Платонов 1). [context transl] "It's become simply unbearable, the strongest nerves will wear out with these people!" (1a).

Н-89 • КАК НЕРОДНО́Й coll, often humor [как + NP; Invar; adv] (of s.o. who) looks distant, reserved, behaves as if he were not part of the group in question, as if he were unacquainted with the interlocutor or other participants etc: like a ⟨some kind of⟩ stranger ⟨an outsider⟩; as if you don't ⟨he doesn't etc⟩ belong; as if you are ⟨he is etc⟩ not one of our ⟨their etc⟩ own.

Ну что ты стоишь как неродной? Не стесняйся, тут все свои. Well, why are you standing there like some kind of stranger? Don't be shy—we're all friends here

Н-90 • НЕСМОТРЯ́ НА что [Prep; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] notwithstanding: despite; in spite of; regardless of; || несмотря на свой ум ⟨свой талант, своё богатство и т.п.⟩ ≃ for all one's brains ⟨talent, wealth etc⟩; smart ⟨talented, rich etc⟩ as one is.

…Дядя Сандро стал думать, но несмотря на его изощрённый ум, на этот раз ничего не придумывалось (Искандер 3). Uncle Sandro began to think, but this time, despite his keen intellect, nothing came to him (3a).

Н-91 • НЕСМОТРЯ́ НА ТО ЧТО [subord Conj, concessive] notwithstanding the fact that: despite ⟨in spite of, regardless of⟩ the fact that; (even) though; [lim.] ignoring the fact that.

…Вопрос об изнеженности, инфантильности или физическом вырождении сам по себе отпадает, несмотря на то что она [княгиня] была чистокровным потомком сванских князей (Искандер 3). …The question of her being effete, infantile, or physically degenerate simply does not arise, despite the fact that she [the princess] was a full-blooded descendant of the princes of Svanetia (3a).

Н-92 • НЕСМОТРЯ́ НИ НА ЧТО [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] under any circumstances, despite all obstacles: despite everything ⟨all⟩; in spite of everything; regardless; regardless of anything ⟨everything, what happens etc⟩; no matter what; [lim.] against all (the) odds.

Любой из них расхохотался бы, если б узнал, что человек в сползающих брюках и без единой театральной интонации, тот самый человек, которого к ним приводят под конвоем в любой час дня и ночи, не сомневается, несмотря ни на что, в своём праве на свободные стихи (Мандельштам 1). Any one of them would have laughed out loud at the idea that a man who could be brought before them under guard at any time of the day or night, who had to hold up his trousers with his hands and spoke without the slightest attempt at theatrical effects—that such a man might have no doubt, despite everything, of his right to express himself freely in poetry (1a). ♦ …Полюби мать Гайка, она ушла бы за ним на край света, несмотря ни на что и вопреки всему… (Рыбаков 1). …If mother had loved Gaik she would have followed him to the ends of the earth, regardless and in spite of everything… (1a).

Н-93 • К ⟨ПО⟩ НЕСЧА́СТЬЮ; НА НЕСЧА́СТЬЕ [PrepP; these forms only; sent adv (parenth)] regrettably, to s.o.'s misfortune etc: unfortunately; unluckily; unhappily; alas.

[Воротынцев:] …У нас — не партия. К счастью или к несчастью, никогда не было партии (Солженицын 9). [V.:] We're not a party. Fortunately, or unfortunately, we never were a party (9a). ♦ Идеалом стала математическая логика, но, к несчастью, только на словах (Мандельштам 2). Their ideal was logic of a mathematical kind, though they only paid lip service to it, alas (2a).

Н-94 • ДВА́ДЦАТЬ ДВА ⟨ТРИ́ДЦАТЬ ТРИ⟩ НЕСЧА́СТЬЯ coll, humor [NP; Invar; fixed WO] a person experiencing a long period of bad luck, a series of failures: a walking disaster ⟨catastrophe⟩; [lim.] trouble and he ⟨she etc⟩ are never far apart; an accident ⟨a disaster⟩ waiting to happen.

[source] [Дуняша:] Человек он несчастливый, каждый день что-нибудь. Его так и дразнят у нас: двадцать два несчастья… (Чехов 2). [context transl] [D.:] …He's an unlucky fellow: every day something happens to him. They tease him about it around here; they call him Two-and-twenty Troubles (2a). ♦ …Ева вдобавок и не беременеет, а это уже тридцать три несчастья (Эппель 1). …On top of everything else she doesn't get pregnant, and she is already a walking disaster (1a).

Н-95 • А ТО НЕ́Т! highly coll [Interj; fixed WO] used to express the speaker's definitive positive reaction to a preceding question or statement: of course!; surely!; sure thing!; certainly!; absolutely!; no doubt about it!; that's right!; [lim.] I'm afraid so!; what else!

«Я тебя устроила на работу». — «Как? Куда?» — «В гостиницу „Салют", дежурной по этажу». — «А я справлюсь?» — «А то нет!» (Грекова 3). "I've found you a job." "How?… Where?" "At the Hotel Salute, as a floor attendant." "Can I do it?" "Of course!" (3a). ♦ [Валентина:] Не ври, Павел. [Пашка:] Я вру? [Валентина:] А то нет. Ты меня испытываешь (Вампилов 2). [V.:] Don't lie, Pavel. [P.:] Me, lying? [V.:] What else. You're just testing me (2b).

Н-96 • НЕ́Т И ⟨ДА⟩ НЕ́Т кого-чего coll [VP; subj/gen: usu. human, abstr, or concr; pres or past; often preceded by всё; fixed WO] (usu. of s.o. or sth. eagerly awaited) (a person, thing, or phenomenon) has not appeared, come, been seen etc (yet): X-а нет и нет ≃ there's (still) no sign of X; X has not materialized; [lim.] thing X has eluded person Y.

Мы ждём Петю с утра, а его всё нет и нет. We've been waiting for Petya since morning, but there's still no sign of him. ♦ …Хотя он, старик, при ней и хотя он всё перетерпит ради дочери, счастья материнского ей всё нет да нет… (Айтматов 1). …Although he, the old man, was with her and would endure everything for his own daughter's sake, the happiness of motherhood simply eluded her (1b).

Н-97 • НЕ́Т КАК НЕ́Т кого-чего coll [VP; subj/gen: human, concr, or abstr; pres only; may be used in past, present, and future contexts; fixed WO] s.o. or sth. is already gone or has not appeared yet: X-а нет как нет ≃ X is nowhere to be found; X is nowhere in sight; there's no sign of X; [of a person or thing that is gone only] X has disappeared ⟨vanished⟩ (into thin air).

Его кто-то отвлёк, и он на секунду выпустил руку девочки. Оглянулся — а её нет как нет. Somebody distracted him and he let go of the little girl's hand for a moment. When he turned around, she was nowhere in sight.

Н-98 • НЕТ-НЕТ ДА И…; НЕТ-НЕТ ДА ⟨И⟩… all coll [Particle; these forms only; fixed WO] periodically, sometimes, at irregular intervals: from time to time; (every) once in a while; (every) now and then ⟨again⟩; every so often; occasionally; [lim.] an occasional [NP].

Нюра, идя следом, нет-нет да и поглядывала украдкой на нового своего знакомого (Войнович 2). Every once in a while, as she followed behind him, Nyura would steal a glance at her new acquaintance (2a). ♦ Влад нет-нет да сходит туда, в тот двор, и теперь (Максимов 2). Even now Vlad still occasionally passes by and goes into that courtyard (2a).

Н-99 • ДО НЕУЗНАВА́ЕМОСТИ [PrepP; Invar; adv] to the point where the person or thing in question cannot be recognized: beyond (all) recognition.

За ним, натягивая подол рубахи на порванную штанину, гнётся Лагутин, третий — тамбовец Игнат, следующий — Ванька Болдырев, изменившийся до неузнаваемости, постаревший, по меньшей мере, на двадцать лет (Шолохов 3). Next to him stood Lagutin, leaning over to pull the hem of his vest over his torn trouser leg. The third was Ignat, the man from Tambov, and next to him was Vanka Boldyrev, who had changed beyond recognition and looked at least twenty years older (3a).

Н-100 • НИКА́К НЕ́Т [sent; Invar; fixed WO] 1. mil a negative reply to a question posed by s.o. of higher rank: no, sir; certainly ⟨absolutely, of course⟩ not, sir; by no means, sir.

…[Я] ещё раз, у одного из выходящих, спросил: «Это Усад, да?» А он, (совсем неожиданно) вытянулся передо мной в струнку и рявкнул: «Никак нет!!» (Ерофеев 1). …[I] again asked one of the passengers getting off: "This is Usad, right?" And (quite unexpectedly) he snapped to attention in front of me and bellowed: "No, sir!" (1a).

2. obs a respectful reply to some question (usu. by a person of low rank, status etc): no, sir ⟨ma'am⟩; not at all, sir ⟨ma'am⟩; by no means (, sir ⟨ma'am⟩).

Н-101 • БЕЗ НИКАКИ́Х coll [PrepP; Invar] 1. [usu. the concluding clause in a compound sent; usu. used after a verb denoting a command that should be carried out] (used to emphasize the categorical nature of an order) no objection or discussion will be tolerated: and no arguments ⟨back talk⟩; and that's that; and that's final; and I ⟨he etc⟩ won't take no for an answer; and I don't mean maybe; and no (ifs, ands, or) buts about it.

Ну-ка, быстро за работу, без никаких! All right, hurry up and get to work, and no arguments!

2. [adv] freely, without waiting for an invitation, asking permission, or going through any formalities: without ceremony; you don't need an invitation ⟨an excuse⟩.

Мы всегда дома, заходите запросто, без никаких. We're always home, just drop in, you don't need an invitation.

Н-102 • И НИКАКИ́Х! coll [Invar; usu. the concluding clause in a compound sent; usu. used after a verb denoting a command, decision etc that should be carried out] (used to emphasize the categorical nature of an order, the finality of a decision etc) no objection or discussion will be tolerated: and no arguments ⟨back talk⟩; and that's that; and that's final; and that's the end of it; and I ⟨he etc⟩ won't take no for an answer; and I don't mean maybe; and I won't hear of anything else; [when used as a command] and no (ifs, ands, or) buts about it.

[Сарафанов:] Володя! Я за то, чтобы ты у нас жил — и никаких (Вампилов 4). [S.:] Volodya! I want you to live with us and no arguments (4b). ♦ [Дергачёв (грозно):] Обслужить клиента, и никаких! (Вампилов 2). [D. (threateningly):] Serve the customer, and no back talk! (2b).

Н-103 • КАК НИКОГДА́ [как + AdvP; Invar] 1. [adv or modif (intensif)] (the emotion, action etc in question is) more intense than at any other time or under any other circumstances: as ⟨like⟩ never before; more than ever before; [compar form] than ever (before); [compar form]

Майор Ершов знал лагерную жизнь… Здесь, в лагере, он, как никогда за тридцать три года своей жизни, переживал ощущение собственной силы (Гроссман 2). Major Yershov knew what camp life was like… Now, more than ever before in the thirty-three years of his life, he had a sense of his own strength (2a).

2. [modif (intensif)] to an extreme degree (good, well, efficient(ly), poor(ly) etc. as expressed by AdjP or AdvP): extremely; extraordinarily; exceptionally; exceedingly; totally; utterly; || важно как никогда ≃ vital; critical; crucial.

Н-104 • КАК НИ́ТКА С ИГО́ЛКОЙ coll [как + NP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human, pl); fixed WO] (usu. of two people) (we, you, they are) inseparable: X и Y как нитка с иголкой ≃ X and Y are like each other's shadows; X and Y are like (Siamese) twins.

Н-105 • ШИ́ТО ⟨-ый и т.п.⟩ БЕ́ЛЫМИ НИ́ТКАМИ [AdjP; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. всё, это, всё это, or occas. abstr) or (full form only) modif (often detached); usu. this WO] (sth. is) poorly, clumsily concealed: (that can be) easily seen through; obvious to anyone; poorly disguised; transparent; [of a story, excuse etc] (sth.) sounds shaky.

Н-106 • ПО НИ́ТКЕ ⟨НИ́ТОЧКЕ⟩ разобрать, перебрать что obs [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to analyze sth.) paying attention to even the smallest details: down to the last detail; in great detail; (subject sth. to) minute scrutiny.

Н-107 • ДО (ПОСЛЕ́ДНЕЙ) НИ́ТКИ [PrepP; these forms only; adv] 1. промок(нуть), вымокнуть и т.п. ~ coll (to be, get etc) thoroughly wet: X промок до нитки ≃ X was ⟨got⟩ soaked to the skin; X was ⟨got⟩ drenched ⟨soaked⟩ to the bone; X was ⟨got⟩ wet to the bone; X was ⟨got⟩ sopping ⟨soaking⟩ wet.

В трёх верстах от станции стало накрапывать, и через минуту проливной дождь вымочил меня до последней нитки (Пушкин 3). Three versts from the posting-station at , a light drizzle began; a minute later it had changed to a driving rain and I was soaked to the skin (3b).

Костю заметил Бейлис, главный бильярдист Москвы, ввёл в лучшие бильярдные, где обыгрывались «фраера», денежные провинциалы, командировочные с казёнными деньгами. С ними Костя был беспощаден, заманивал первым лёгким выигрышем, а потом раздевал до нитки (Рыбаков 2). He [Kostya] had been spotted by Beilis, the top billiards player in Moscow. Beilis took him to the best billiards halls, where they hustled freeloaders, moneyed provincials visiting Moscow on government funds. Kostya was merciless with them. He would con them by losing the first game and then fleece them down to their last kopeck (2a).

3. рассказать что, разобрать кого-что, разобраться в ком-чём, помнить что и т.п. ~ substand (to tell, analyze, remember etc sth.) completely, thoroughly, including the small details: (down) to the minutest ⟨the smallest, the tiniest, the last⟩ detail; in every detail.

Н-108 • (НИ ОДНО́Й) СУХО́Й ⟨ЖИВО́Й⟩ НИ́ТКИ НЕТ ⟨НЕ ОСТА́ЛОСЬ⟩ на ком coll [VP$_{subj/gen}$] s.o. has gotten thoroughly wet: на X-е сухой нитки нет ≃ X is ⟨has gotten⟩ soaked to the skin; X is ⟨has gotten⟩ drenched to the bone; X is ⟨has gotten⟩ sopping ⟨soaking⟩ wet; there isn't a dry stitch ⟨spot⟩ on X; X doesn't have a dry stitch on him.

Н-109 • НА ЖИВУ́Ю НИ́ТКУ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] 1. сшить, сметать что ~ to sew sth. together lightly, just so it holds together: baste; tack; stitch together loosely.

В то время как она [Наташа], надев смётанный на живую нитку ещё без рукавов лиф и загибая голову, гляделась в зеркало, как сидит спинка, она услыхала в гостиной оживлённые звуки голоса отца и другого, женского голоса… (Толстой 5). She [Natasha] had just put on a bodice that was basted together but still without sleeves, and was turning her head to see in the glass how it fitted, when she heard in the drawing room the animated sounds of her father's voice and another's—a woman's… (5a).

Шагали, шагали и натолкнулись на занесённые снегом развалины — цель нашего путешествия — остатки кирпичного завода. Он был сотворён «на живую нитку», по-лагерному (Иоффе 1). We walked on and on and finally came upon the snow-covered ruins, the goal of our journey—the remains of the brickworks. It had been constructed in camp-style—hastily… (1a).

Н-110 • АРИА́ДНИНА НИТЬ; НИТЬ АРИА́ДНЫ both lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] sth. that helps s.o. find a way out of a difficult situation or solve a difficult problem: Ariadne's thread ⟨clew, clue⟩.

< According to Greek myth, Ariadne, a daughter of Minos of Crete, gave Theseus a ball of thread, by which he traced his way out of the labyrinth.

Н-111 • ПУТЕВО́ДНАЯ НИТЬ lit [NP; sing only; often subj-compl with copula (subj: abstr); fixed WO] sth. that helps a person determine the best approach to a given situation, that serves as a guide in some matter: guiding thread.

…По тому инстинктивному чувству, которым один человек угадывает мысли другого и которое служит путеводною нитью разговора, Катенька поняла, что мне больно её равнодушие… (Толстой 2). …By the instinctive feeling with which one human being guesses another's thoughts, and which serves as the guiding thread of conversation, Katya understood that her indifference hurt me (2a).

Н-112 • ПРОХОДИ́ТЬ ⟨ТЯНУ́ТЬСЯ⟩ КРА́СНОЙ НИ́ТЬЮ через что, где lit [VP; subj: abstr] to be fundamental to and pervade sth.: X проходит красной нитью через Y ≃ X runs (like a thread) through Y; X is a central ⟨recurrent⟩ theme ⟨motif⟩ of ⟨in⟩ Y.

…Его [Осноса] неверие в силу личности и преклонение перед силой организации… проходило красной нитью через всё, что он писал… (Амальрик 1). …He [Osnos] lacked faith in the individual and showed deference to organizations. This trait ran like a thread through his writings… (1a).

Н-113 • ИЗ НИЧЕГО́ сделать, создать что и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; obj] (to make, create etc sth.) from nothing or from sth. insignificant: from (next to) nothing; out of (next to) nothing.

«Любовь к отцу, не оправданная отцом, есть нелепость, есть невозможность. Нельзя создать любовь из ничего, из ничего только бог творит» (Достоевский 2). "Love for a father that is not justified by the father is an absurdity, an impossibility. Love cannot be created out of nothing: only God creates out of nothing" (2a).

Н-114 • НИЧЕГО́ СЕБЕ́ coll [Invar; fixed WO] 1. [adv] well enough (although usu. not extremely well): not (so) badly; not too ⟨half⟩ badly; all right.

[Наташа (мельком глядится в зеркало, поправляется):] Кажется, причёсана ничего себе… (Чехов 5). [N. (she steals a glance at herself in the mirror and tidies herself up):] My hair seems to be all right… (5c).

2. [subj-compl with copula (subj: any noun) or nonagreeing modif] quite good: not (so) bad; not a bad [NP]; not too ⟨half⟩ bad; not bad at all; [in refer. to appearance] (quite) good-looking; [as a positive response to a question about some quality, property etc] quite.

[Брат Сила:] Он ничего себе малый. Первоначально он мне не понравился, но теперь я вижу, что он добрый католик (Булгаков 8). [Brother Force:] He's not a bad fellow. At first I didn't like him, but now I see that he's a good Catholic (8a). ♦ Бунин несколько задержался на этом стихотворении… а затем наверху страницы поставил моим обгрызанным карандашом птичку, по-видимому означавшую, что стихи ничего себе, во всяком случае — «верные» (Катаев 3). Bunin paused for a while over this poem… and then with my chewed stump of pencil put a tick at the top of the page which seemed to indicate that the poem was not too bad, at any rate "true" (3a).

3. [nonagreeing modif] used to express the speaker's ironic reaction toward, indignation at, or disagreement with a stated or implied positive evaluation of s.o. or sth.: some [NP]; [NP] indeed!; a fine [NP] (one is ⟨one has got etc⟩!; [NP], my foot!

«Почему [декан] Янсон не явился на разбор дела?» — «Болен». — «Болен… А где директор института?» Баулин пожал плечами. «Не пришла». — «Ничего себе организация», — усмехнулся Столпер… (Рыбаков 2). "Why hasn't Janson [the dean] turned up for the hearing?" "He's ill." "Ill. And what about the director of the institute?" Baulin shrugged his shoulders. "She didn't come." "Some organization!" Stolper sneered (2a). ♦ «…Разве ему недостаточно было пролистать нашу подшивку?» — спросил я. «А что такого, — сказал Автандил Автандилович, — подумаешь, два-три материала». Ничего себе два-три! Но я не стал затрагивать эту болезненную тему (Искандер 4). "…Wouldn't it have been enough for him to go through our files?" I asked. "But what's there?" Avtandil Avtandilovich said. "Imagine—two or three articles." Two or three, indeed! But I was not about to broach that painful subject (4a).

4. [Interj] used ironically to express indignation at, disapproval of, disagreement with etc sth.: (just) great!; not bad!; well, well!; pretty good!; I like that!; you're ⟨you must be, you've got to be⟩ kidding!

Н-115 • В НОВИ́НКУ кому coll [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: abstr or concr)] sth. is new and little known or completely unknown (to s.o.): X был Y-у в новинку ≃ X was (something of) a novelty for ⟨to⟩ Y; X was new to Y; X was a new experience for Y.

Мы слишком привыкли, что из спички вылетает огонь, а детям всё это в новинку. И что собаки лают, а петухи — поют… (Терц 3). We are more than accustomed to fire leaping out of a match, but for children it is something of a novelty—as are dogs barking and cocks crowing… (3a).

Н-116 • ПО НО́ВОЙ начинать, делать что и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to begin sth., do sth. etc) over again (sometimes differently than before): start up again; (start) all over again; [lim.] here we go again.

Когда они храпят, кажется, что работают три перфоратора. Причём комедия: как один перестанет храпеть, так и второй прекращает и третий — стоп! А по новой начинают тоже одновременно (Аксёнов 1). When they snore, it's like three jackhammers going. And they do a comedy bit: as soon as one ceases to snore, the second one stops, and—Cut!—the third's out. And they start up again simultaneously, too (1a).

Н-117 • ВО́Т (ЕЩЁ) НО́ВОСТИ ⟨НО́ВОСТЬ⟩!; (Э́ТО ЕЩЁ) ЧТО ЗА НО́ВОСТИ ⟨НО́ВОСТЬ⟩! all coll, disapprov [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] used to express unpleasant surprise, indignation etc in connection with sth. just heard, learned: that's news to me!; that's a new one!; what next!; you've ⟨he's etc⟩ got to be kidding; well, how do you like that!; well, you don't say!; [lim.] absolutely not!

Н-118 • БЕЗ ЗА́ДНИХ НОГ [PrepP; Invar; fixed WO] 1. быть$_0$, остаться, вернуться и т.п. ~ highly coll. Also: БЕЗ НОГ coll [subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] (to be, come back etc) exhausted, unable to move (because of walking, work etc): X был ~ ≃ X was dead on his feet; X was dropping in his tracks; X was ready to drop; X was dead beat ⟨dead tired, dog-tired⟩; X was bushed ⟨worn out etc⟩; X had worn himself out; [lim.] X was tuckered out.

…На похоронах из жильцов, званых на похороны… никто почти не был… Пётр Петрович Лужин, например, самый, можно сказать, солиднейший из всех жильцов, не явился… Не пришёл тоже и толстый подполковник (в сущности, отставной штабс-капитан), но оказалось, что он «без задних ног» ещё со вчерашнего утра (Достоевский 3). …Of the lodgers that had been invited to the funeral… practically nobody had attended…. Pyotr Petrovich Luzhin, for example, the most respectable, one might say, of all the lodgers, had not put in an appearance…. A stout lieutenant colonel (in reality a retired second lieutenant) had not come either, but it turned out he had been "dead beat" since yesterday morning (3a).

2. coll спать ~ [adv] (to sleep) very soundly: X спит ~ ≃ X is fast ⟨sound⟩ asleep; X is sleeping like a log; X is dead to the world.

Н-119 • ВАЛИ́ТЬ ⟨СВА́ЛИВАТЬ/СВАЛИ́ТЬ⟩ С НОГ кого [VP] 1. Also: СБИВА́ТЬ/СБИТЬ ⟨СШИБА́ТЬ/СШИБИ́ТЬ coll⟩ С НОГ [subj: anim or удар, ветер etc; more often pfv] to knock s.o. to the ground: X свалил Y-а с ног ≃ X knocked Y over ⟨off his feet⟩; X sent Y flying; X bowled Y over; X toppled ⟨felled⟩ Y; person X hurled Y to the ground; X laid Y low.

Генералы и маршалы, как школьники на перемену, толпясь и чуть ли не сбивая друг друга с ног, ринулись в открытые двери (Войнович 4). Like schoolboys at recess the generals and the marshals dashed for the open doors, crowding together and almost knocking each other over (4a). ♦ …Меня сшибли было с ног, но я встал и вместе с мятежниками вошёл в крепость (Пушкин 2). …I was hurled to the ground, but I got up again and entered the fortress with the rebels (2b).

2. [subj: abstr; occas. impers] (of illness, tiredness etc) to cause s.o. to lie down, fall sick; to weaken s.o., rob s.o. of his strength: X валит Y-а с ног ≃ X knocks Y out; Y can barely ⟨hardly, scarcely⟩ stand up; X forces Y to take to his bed; Y is too tired ⟨ill, sick etc⟩ to move.

Вспышка туберкулёза была настолько острой, что меня валило с ног (Мандельштам 2). My tuberculosis had suddenly got so bad again that I could scarcely stand up (2a).

Н-120 • ВАЛИ́ТЬСЯ/СВАЛИ́ТЬСЯ ⟨ПА́ДАТЬ⟩ С НОГ (от чего) coll [VP; subj: human or, rare, animal; more often impfv] to be unable to stand on one's legs as a result of extreme fatigue, illness etc: X валился с ног ≃ X was ready to drop ⟨to collapse⟩; X was dead on his feet; X could hardly stand ⟨stay⟩ on his feet; X was dropping ⟨collapsing⟩ (from exhaustion etc); X was dropping in his tracks; X was dead tired ⟨dog-tired⟩.

[Зилов:] Нельзя так много работать. Мы не лошади. Я падаю с ног (Вампилов 5). [Z.:] It's no good working as hard as that. We're not cart-horses. I'm dead on my feet (5a).

Н-121 • НЕ ЧУ́ВСТВОВАТЬ ⟨НЕ СЛЫ́ШАТЬ coll, НЕ ЧУ́ЯТЬ coll⟩ НОГ ПОД СОБО́Й [VP; subj: human; pres or past] 1. [usu. Verbal Adv не слыша, не чуя etc] to run very fast: X бежал, не чуя ног под собой ≃ X was running at full speed ⟨at breakneck speed, (at) full tilt, as fast as his legs could carry him⟩; || X бегал, не чуя ног (под собой) ≃ X was flying about.

2. to be extremely tired, exhausted (from much walking, running, difficult labor etc): X ног под собой не слышал ≃ X was ready to drop ⟨collapse⟩; X was dead on his feet; X was dropping in his tracks; X was dead tired; [lim.] X was tuckered out.

Весь день ей некогда было передохнуть, и к вечеру она ног под собой не чуяла. She didn't have a chance to take a break all day and by evening was ready to collapse.

3. to be very happy, be in ecstasy (over sth.): X ног под собой не чует ≃ X is walking ⟨treading⟩ on air; X is beside himself (with joy etc).

Прошло несколько окрыляющих мгновений, я шагал по дорожке сквера, не чувствуя под собой ног, и чем дольше я шёл, тем очевидней становилось моё спасение, и я двигался вперёд ликующими шагами (Искандер 4). Several encouraging instants went by. I strode down the garden path, treading on air. The longer I walked, the more obvious it became that I was safe, and I moved forward with exulting steps (4a).

Н-122 • С НОГ НА́ ГОЛОВУ ставить, переворачивать что, переворачиваться, встать и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; usu. adv; fixed WO] (in refer. to a state of affairs, s.o.'s understanding of sth. etc) (to present sth., sth. is perceived etc) as being opposite to what it is in reality, (to interpret sth., sth. is interpreted etc) as having a meaning opposite to what was intended: (stand ⟨turn⟩ sth.) on its head; (stand ⟨turn⟩ sth.) upside down (on its head); [lim.] (get ⟨have⟩ sth.) all backward; (put) the cart before the horse.

«По себе помню, как это страшно, если мир с ног на голову переворачивается» (Акунин 2). "I know from my own experience how terrifying it is when the whole world is turned upside down" (2a).

Н-123 • СБИВА́ТЬСЯ/СБИ́ТЬСЯ С НОГ coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv past] to bustle about to the point of exhaustion (doing chores, looking for s.o. or sth. etc); to become exhausted (from bustling about doing chores, looking for s.o. or sth. etc): X с ног сбился ≃ X ran his legs ⟨feet⟩ off; X was ready to drop ⟨collapse⟩; X wore ⟨knocked⟩ himself out; X ran himself ragged.

На больших высотах небоскрёбов вдоль бульвара 20 Января с первыми лучами солнца появились красные и трёхцветные флаги… Царило радостное возбуждение… Полиция сбилась с ног, стараясь очистить главную улицу… (Аксёнов 7). Up and down the skyscrapers lining the Boulevard of the Twentieth of January the first rays of sun were joined by red flags and tricolors…. The mood was one of joyous excitement…. The police were running their legs off trying to clear [the main thoroughfare]… (7a).

Осмотрелась в доме престарелых. Всё хорошо, крыша над головой есть, еда. Одно плохо — всё хорошо, пока ноги держат. Если сляжешь, подойти будет некому (Гальего 1). She looked around her, in the old folks' home. Everything was fine, she had a roof over her head and food. The only drawback was that it was all fine only as long as her legs held out. If you took to your bed here, no one was going to come to you (1a).

Н-159 • НО́ГИ ПОДКА́ШИВАЮТСЯ/ПОДКОСИ́ЛИСЬ у кого ⟨ОТКАЗА́ЛИ кому⟩ [VP_{subj}] s.o.'s legs lose their strength, become shaky, fail to support him because of intense alarm, fear, amazement etc: у X-а подкосились ноги ≃ X's legs gave way (under him); X's legs buckled under him; X's legs wouldn't hold him up; X's legs refused to function; X's legs went weak; X went weak in the knees.

Радость [встречи с сыном] произвела в больном слишком сильное потрясение, он ослабел, ноги под ним подкосились… (Пушкин 1). The joy of seeing his son was too much of a shock for the sick man: he grew faint, his legs gave way under him… (1a).

Н-160 • ПА́ДАТЬ/УПА́СТЬ ⟨ПАСТЬ obs⟩ В НО́ГИ кому ⟨К НОГА́М чьим, кого obs, НА КОЛЕ́НИ перед кем⟩ [VP; subj: human] to beg s.o. for sth. humbly (sometimes kneeling): X упал Y-у в ноги ≃ X threw ⟨flung⟩ himself at Y's feet; X fell ⟨knelt⟩ at Y's feet; X went down on his knees before ⟨to⟩ Y.

Я упаду ему в ноги, думает Смайльс Гендон, и попрошу у него защиты против моих обидчиков, лишивших меня наследства (Олеша 3). I shall fall at his feet, Miles Hendon thinks, and beg for his protection from those who have offended me and deprived me of my legacy (3a).

Дед разорился, промотал всё состояние, играя в карты; снова поднялся было на ноги, но пожар слизал всё, и Сергею Платоновичу пришлось начинать сызнова (Шолохов 2). The grandfather, who had squandered one fortune at cards, was only just beginning to get back onto his feet again when the fire took everything, and Sergei Platonovich had to make a fresh start (2a).

Н-168 • УНОСИ́ТЬ/УНЕСТИ́ НО́ГИ coll [VP; subj: human or animal; if pfv, usu. past (often after еле, едва, насилу); if impfv, often imper or infin with надо, пора, пришлось etc] to leave hurriedly, flee (usu. to escape danger): X унёс ноги ≃ X cleared out; X took to his heels; X hightailed it (out of some place); [with the focus on the outcome] X got away with his skin; X got out in one piece; ‖ X еле ⟨едва, насилу⟩ ноги унёс ≃ X escaped ⟨got away⟩ by the skin of his teeth; X had a narrow escape; X had ⟨it was⟩ a close shave.

Молодые люди, с которыми она знакомилась, танцевала и гуляла, все как один выявляли намерение — …получить удовольствие и унести ноги (Солженицын 10). The young men she met all danced and went for walks with the same aim in mind;… have their fun and then clear out (10a). ♦ Она подняла крик и вырвала у меня газету. Покупка, яблоки или морковь, я уж не помню, рассыпались по тротуару. Я не стала нечего собирать и была рада, что удалось унести ноги (Мандельштам 2). She raised a great hue and cry and snatched the newspaper from me. The things I had wrapped in it—apples or carrots, I don't remember which—were scattered all over the pavement. I didn't wait to pick them up and was glad to get away with my skin (2a). ♦ «Да вот хоть черкесы, — продолжал он: — как напьются бузы на свадьбе или на похоронах, так и пошла рубка. Я раз насилу ноги унёс…» (Лермонтов 1). "Yes, you take the Cherkesses," he continued, "they get drunk on their booze at a wedding or a funeral and that's when the slaughter starts. I had a narrow escape once…" (1d).

Это была борьба наследников, а пострадали люди и книга Ахматовой, которая пошла под нож (Мандельштам 2). It was all part of a struggle between the heirs to the throne, and people were sacrificed to it, as was Akhmatova's book—which was pulped (2a).

Н-194 • ТОЧИ́ТЬ НОЖ на кого [VP; subj: human or collect] 1. Also: ТОЧИ́ТЬ НОЖИ́ to prepare for an armed attack, for war: X-ы точат ножи на Y-ов ≃ Xs are taking up arms against Ys; Xs are mustering their forces.

2. coll to be planning to do sth. bad, dirty, evil to s.o.: X точит нож на Y-а ≃ X has it in for Y; X is cooking up trouble for Y; X is plotting ⟨hatching a plot⟩ against Y.

Н-195 • БЕЗ НОЖА́ РЕ́ЗАТЬ/ЗАРЕ́ЗАТЬ кого highly coll [VP; subj: human; usu. 2nd or 3rd pers; fixed WO] to put s.o. in an extremely difficult position: X Y-а без ножа зарезал ≃ X put Y in a tight spot ⟨on the spot⟩; X got ⟨left, landed⟩ Y in a fix ⟨in a jam⟩.

Н-196 • НА НОЖА́Х с кем coll [PrepP; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); if there is no prep obj, subj: pl] one is on extremely hostile terms with s.o.: X с Y-ом на ножах ≃ X and Y are at loggerheads ⟨at daggers drawn, at swords' points⟩; X is bitterly at odds with Y.

…Коновницын нахмурился частью от головной усилившейся боли, частью от неприятной, пришедшей ему в голову мысли о том, как теперь взволнуется всё это гнездо штабных, влиятельных людей при этом известии, в особенности Бенигсен, после Тарутина бывший на ножах с Кутузовым… (Толстой 7). …Konovnitsyn frowned—partly from an increased pain in his head and partly at the unpleasant thought that occurred to him, of how all that nest of influential men on the staff would be stirred up by this news, especially Bennigsen, who ever since Tarutino had been at daggers drawn with Kutuzov… (7b).

Н-197 • КО́ЗЬЯ НО́ЖКА coll [NP; subj or obj; fixed WO] a homemade, funnel-shaped cigarette: hand-rolled ⟨hand-made⟩ cigarette.

Н-198 • ПОДСТАВЛЯ́ТЬ/ПОДСТА́ВИТЬ НО́ЖКУ ⟨НО́ГУ, ПОДНО́ЖКУ⟩ кому; ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ПОДНО́ЖКУ all coll [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] 1. to stick one's foot out so that s.o. stumbles over it: X подставил Y-у ножку ≃ X tripped Y (up).

[extended usage] Меня не любят вещи. Мебель норовит подставить мне ножку (Олеша 2). Things don't like me. Furniture tries to trip me up… (2a).

2. to harm s.o. intentionally and in an underhand way: X подставил Y-у ножку ≃ X tripped Y up; [lim.] X stabbed Y in the back.

«Он добрый малый!» — сказал Обломов… «Такой обязательный, — прибавил Судьбинский, — и нет этого, знаешь, чтоб выслужиться, подгадить, подставить ногу, опередить… всё делает, что может» (Гончаров 1). "A good fellow!" said Oblomov… "So obliging," added Sudbinsky, "and not the kind of toady who will stab you in the back or try to trip you up; not at all pushy and always ready to help" (1c).

Н-199 • КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ НОЖО́М ОТРЕ́ЗАЛО; КАК ОТРЕ́ЗАЛО all coll [как etc + VP; impers; these forms only; fixed WO] (in refer. to a relationship, friendship etc, or in refer. to some continuing action) sth. ceased abruptly: (sth.) suddenly stopped ⟨ended⟩; (sth.) came to a sudden ⟨an abrupt⟩ halt; (s.o.) suddenly stopped doing sth.

Раньше он часто звонил, а после этого разговора о политике — как ножом отрезало. He used to call all the time, but after that conversation about politics he suddenly stopped calling altogether.

Н-200 • сказал КАК НОЖО́М ОТРЕ́ЗАЛ; сказал КАК ОТРЕ́ЗАЛ ⟨ОТРУБИ́Л, ОБРЕ́ЗАЛ⟩ all coll [VP; subj: human] to say sth. sharply, categorically, in a tone that does not permit objection: X как ножом отрезал ≃ X said (sth.) brusquely ⟨flatly, with finality⟩.

Но Константин Иванович… на этот раз даже головы в его [Влада] сторону не поднял, сказал, как отрезал: «Нету у тебя здесь ничего, уважаемый» (Максимов 2). This time, however… Konstantin Ivanovich did not even look up as Vlad walked in, and said brusquely: "Nothing for you here, my friend" (2a).

Н-201 • КАК ⟨СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ НОЖО́М РЕЗАНУ́ТЬ ⟨РЕЗНУ́ТЬ obs, ПОЛОСНУ́ТЬ⟩ ПО́ СЕРДЦУ кого; КАК ⟨СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ НОЖО́М РЕЗАНУ́ТЬ ⟨РЕЗНУ́ТЬ obs, ПОЛОСНУ́ТЬ⟩; ПОЛОСНУ́ТЬ ⟨РЕЗАНУ́ТЬ⟩ ПО́ СЕРДЦУ all coll [VP; subj: usu. abstr (often слова, известие, крик etc); often impers] to cause s.o. sudden intense emotional pain: X как ножом резанул Y-а по сердцу ≃ X was like a knife in Y's heart; || Y-а как ножом по сердцу полоснуло ≃ it was as if someone had thrust ⟨stuck⟩ a knife into Y's heart; it was as if someone had stabbed Y in the heart; Y felt a stab to the heart.

[Анисья:] Веришь ли, тётушка, как сказали мне, что женить его, как ножом по сердцу полоснуло меня. Думаю, в сердце она у него (Толстой 1). [A.:] I tell you, Matryona, when I heard that he was going to be married, it was as if someone had stuck a knife into my heart. I can't help thinking that he's in love with her (1c).

Н-202 • ПОД НОЖО́М умереть, лежать, быть$_{ø}$; ПОД НО́Ж ложиться, лечь [PrepP; these forms only; adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] (to die) during surgery, (to be) in surgery etc: (die ⟨be, go etc⟩) under the ⟨s.o.'s⟩ knife.

«Вы изволите быть недовольным, что вас превратили в человека?.. Вы, может быть, предпочитаете снова бегать по помойкам?..» — «Да что вы всё попрекаете — помойка, помойка. Я свой кусок хлеба добывал. А если бы я у вас помер под ножом? Вы что на это выразите, товарищ?» (Булгаков 11). "Is it your pleasure to complain because you have been transformed into a man?… Perhaps you prefer to root around in garbage bins again?…" "Why are you throwing it up all the time—garbage and garbage. I came by my piece of bread honestly. And if I'd died under your knife? What will you say to that, comrade?" (11a).

Н-203 • (как) С НОЖО́М К ГО́РЛУ приставать, приступать (к кому) highly coll [PrepP; Invar; adv (intensif); fixed WO] (to bother s.o. by demanding or requesting sth.) persistently and obtrusively: X пристаёт к Y-у с ножом к горлу ≃ X is badgering ⟨hounding, harrying⟩ Y; X is bugging Y to death; X is on Y's back ⟨case⟩ (to do sth.).

Н-204 • НЕ ПО НОЗДРЕ́ substand, rude [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: any noun)] not to appeal to s.o. at all, to vex s.o.: X Y-у не по ноздре ≃ Y can't stand ⟨stomach⟩ X; Y thinks X is a pain in the ass.

Н-205 • НОЛЬ ⟨НУЛЬ⟩ БЕЗ ПА́ЛОЧКИ (для кого, перед кем); КРУ́ГЛЫЙ ⟨СОВЕРШЕ́ННЫЙ⟩ НОЛЬ all highly coll [NP; sing only; usu. subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); fixed WO] a person who is considered by another or others to be of no value, worth nothing: a big (fat) zero ⟨nothing⟩; absolutely worthless; a complete nonentity; less than nothing; || X перед Y-ом ноль без палочки ≃ X is nothing (as) compared to Y; X isn't even in Y's league.

«Вот тогда я поняла: первое для советской власти — план. Выполни план!.. Первое дело — государство. А люди — нуль без палочки» (Гроссман 1). So then I understood: the most important thing for the Soviet government was the plan! Fulfill the plan!… The state comes first, and people are a big zero (1a).

Н-206 • НОЛЬ ВНИМА́НИЯ (на кого-что); НОЛЬ ВНИМА́НИЯ, ФУНТ ПРЕЗРЕ́НИЯ both coll [NP; sing only; used as predic with subj: human; may be used with pl subj; fixed WO] to pay no attention to, completely disregard s.o. or sth. (sometimes in a pointed manner): X на Y-а — ноль внимания ≃ X doesn't pay any ⟨the slightest (bit of)⟩ attention to Y; X pays no heed to Y; X completely ignores

Y; Y gets zero ⟨no⟩ attention (from X); X won't ⟨doesn't⟩ give Y the time of day; [lim.] X snubs Y.

Н-207 • ПОД НОЛЬ ⟨НУЛЬ⟩ стричь кого [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to cut, shave off s.o.'s hair) down to the scalp: X постриг Y-а под ноль ≃ person X cut off all (of) Y's hair.

Н-208 • ВЫКИ́ДЫВАТЬ/ВЫ́КИНУТЬ ⟨ОТКА́ЛЫВАТЬ/ОТКОЛО́ТЬ, ВЫБРА́СЫВАТЬ/ВЫ́БРОСИТЬ⟩ НО́МЕР ⟨НОМЕРА́⟩ coll [VP; subj: human, occas. жизнь; variants with номер usu. pfv, variants with номера usu. impfv] to do sth. unexpected, unusual, often ridiculous: X выкинул номер ≃ X pulled a trick ⟨a stunt⟩; X sprang a surprise.

…Спустя десять дней [жена Смолянова] Марта выкинула номер. Хотела из окна прыгнуть из новой квартиры на шестом этаже (Трифонов 1). Ten days later his [Smolyanov's] wife Marta had pulled a stunt of her own and had tried to jump out of the window of their new, sixth-floor apartment (1a).

Н-209 • НО́МЕР ОДИ́Н coll [NP; sing only; usu. Nonagreeing postmodif; fixed WO] 1. (of a person) the most important, influential etc: [NP] number one; main ⟨chief, principal etc⟩ [NP].

После того, как меня сделали завотделом, я стал для Мышкина врагом номер один. After I was made head of the department, I became enemy number one for Myshkin.

2. проблема, обязанность, обязательство и т.п. ~ the most urgent, pressing, important etc (problem, duty, obligation etc): number one [NP]; first and foremost [NP]; primary [NP]; || задача номер один ≃ top priority.

Близилась суровая зима, и обеспечить посёлок теплом было для строителей задачей номер один. A severe winter was on the way, and the builders' top priority was to provide heat for the settlement.

Н-210 • ПУСТО́Й НО́МЕР coll [NP; sing only; subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: abstr or concr, often это); fixed WO] sth. is futile, will produce no results: X — пустой номер ≃ X is a waste of time; X won't work ⟨help, do the trick etc⟩; X is useless.

…Первым делом надо было Вику прописать… Как ни обучала Вера [обаянием] начальника паспортного стола — не помогало. Письмо народной артистки Куниной тоже оказалось пустым номером (Грекова 3). First of all Vika had to be registered in her [Vera's] house…. No matter how Vera sparkled at the director of the passport bureau it didn't help. A letter from People's Artist Kunina also didn't do the trick (3a).

Н-211 • (Э́ТОТ) НО́МЕР НЕ ПРОЙДЁТ ⟨НЕ ВЫ́ЙДЕТ, НЕ УДА́СТСЯ⟩; Э́ТИ ШТУ́ЧКИ НЕ ПРОЙДУ́Т; ЭТО НЕ ПРОЙДЁТ all coll [sent; fixed WO] (the plan, scheme etc in question) will not succeed, will not produce the desired result(s): it ⟨this trick etc⟩ won't work; he ⟨you etc⟩ can't pull it off; he ⟨you etc⟩ won't get away with that; he ⟨you etc⟩ won't get by with that sort of game; nothing doing!

Хлебовводов начал орать, что эти штучки не пройдут, что он деньги даром получать не желает и что он не позволит коменданту отправить коту под хвост четыре часа рабочего времени (Стругацкие 3). Khlebovvodov began shouting that these tricks would not work, that he did not wish to take money for nothing, and that he would not allow the commandant to flush four hours of work time down the tubes (3a).

Н-212 • НА ОДИ́ННАДЦАТОМ НО́МЕРЕ добираться, передвигаться и т.п.; ОДИ́ННАДЦАТЫМ НО́МЕРОМ both coll, humor [PrepP or $NP_{instrum}$; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to get, go somewhere) on foot: (on) one's (own two) feet ⟨pins⟩; (on) one's own two legs; under one's own power ⟨steam⟩; hoof ⟨foot⟩ it; [lim.] on ⟨by⟩ shanks' mare.

«Мамаша, — спросил Садчиков лифтёршу, — а у вас к-кабина вниз ходит?» — «Ещё чего! — ответила лифтёрша. — …Только вверх, а оттеда [ungrammat = оттуда] — одиннадцатым номером» (Семёнов 1). "Dearie," said Sadchikov to the lift woman, "does your lift go down from here?" "Not on yer life!" replied the lift woman. "…Only up. Yer comes down on yer feet" (1a).

Н-213 • В НО́РМЕ [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: abstr, often всё, or human)] a person or thing is in his or its customary state: X в норме ≃ X is ⟨seems⟩ normal; person X is his usual self.

Не то чтобы я опьянел — сказалось, должно быть, долгое воздержание, — голова работала ясно, всё было в норме, кроме одного пункта, как в мире Кафки, где всё достоверно, кроме какого-нибудь одного обстоятельства: того, например, что Замза превратился в насекомое (Трифонов 5). Not that it made me drunk (here my previous long abstention must have played a role), for my head was functioning clearly and everything seemed normal except for one thing, as in Kafka, where everything is true to life except for one particular circumstance—Gregor Samsa's transformation into an insect, for example (5a).

Н-214 • ВХОДИ́ТЬ/ВОЙТИ́ ⟨ПРИХОДИ́ТЬ/ПРИЙТИ́⟩ В НО́РМУ [VP; subj: abstr, often всё, or human; usu. pfv] to return to one's or its usual state: X вошёл в норму ≃ X was ⟨went⟩ back to normal; X returned to normal.

«Да, нам предстоит пережить несколько тяжёлых дней. А потом всё войдёт в норму…» (Эренбург 4). "Yes, the next few days will be critical for us. But afterwards everything will go back to normal" (4a).

Н-215 • С НО́РОВОМ highly coll [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing modif or subj-compl with copula (subj: human or лошадь, мул etc)] self-willed, obstinate: headstrong; willful; [lim.] pigheaded; [of a horse, mule] restive; balky.

Н-216 • БРОСА́ТЬСЯ/БРО́СИТЬСЯ ⟨БИТЬ, УДАРЯ́ТЬ/УДА́РИТЬ⟩ В НОС (кому) [VP] 1. Also: УДАРЯ́ЕТ/УДА́РИЛО В НОС чем [subj: a noun denoting smell; var. with чем impers] (of a sharp, unpleasant smell) to be sharply felt: X бросился (Y-у) в нос ≃ X struck ⟨stung⟩ Y's nostrils; X assaulted the nose; Y was hit by the smell of X.

Сейдахмат покачивался, улыбаясь сам себе. И когда он подошёл ближе, в нос [мальчику] ударил спиртной запах (Айтматов 1). He [Seidakhmat] swayed on his feet, smiling to himself. And when he came nearer, the smell of alcohol struck the boy's nostrils (1a).

2. coll, often disapprov [subj: abstr or concr] (to be intended) to attract attention, be striking: X бьёт (Y-у) в нос ≃ X is glaring; X hits you in the face; [lim.] X makes Y ⟨you, one⟩ sit up and take notice.

Когда входишь к ним в дом, роскошь бьёт в нос. When you walk into their house, the luxuriousness of it hits you in the face. ♦ Он сшил себе новую пару платья и хвастался, что на днях откроет в Глупове такой магазин, что самому Винтергальтеру в нос бросится (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). He had a new suit made and boasted that any day now he would open such a store in Foolov that Winterhalter himself would have to sit up and take notice (1a).

Н-217 • В НОС говорить, произносить и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to speak, pronounce sth. etc) nasally: (speak ⟨talk etc⟩) through one's nose.

Не жаловали на Чёрной [лестнице]… аспирантов, в подражание декану говорящих немного в нос… (Ерофеев 3). The [Back] Stairway also had no use for the graduate students who talked through their noses in order to ape the Dean… (3a).

Н-218 • ВЕ́ШАТЬ/ПОВЕ́СИТЬ НОС coll; ВЕ́ШАТЬ ПОВЕ́СИТЬ НОС НА КВИ́НТУ obs, coll [VP; subj: human] to become upset, disheartened, dejected: X повесил нос ≃ X was ⟨looked⟩ down in the mouth; X was down in the dumps; X was downhearted; X lost heart; X was in ⟨fell into⟩ a funk; || Neg Imper не вешай нос(а) ≃ don't get so down in the mouth; keep your chin up.

«Что нос повесил?» — спросил он (Кузнецов 1). "Why so down in the mouth?" he asked (1a). ♦ [Устинья Наумовна:] Что вы невеселы — носы повесили? (Островский 10). [U.N.:] What are you gloomy and down in the dumps for? (10b). ♦ [Боркин:] Господа, что же вы это в самом деле носы повесили? (Чехов 4). [B.:] Really, why so downhearted anyway, all of you…? (4b).

Н-219 • ВОДИ́ТЬ ЗА́ НОС кого coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human] to deceive, delude s.o. intentionally, often by promising sth. and then not keeping one's promise: X водил Y-а за нос ≃ X was leading Y on; X was leading Y up ⟨down⟩ the garden path; X was stringing Y along; X was taking Y for a ride; X was giving Y the runaround; X was misleading Y.

[Ипполит:] Сегодня, Надя, в последний час старого года, я намерен поставить вопрос ребром. Хватить водить меня за нос! [Надя:] Чем ты недоволен? [Ипполит:] Своим холостым положением. И я предлагаю… [Надя (перебивает):] Сядь! (Брагинский и Рязанов 1). [I.:] Today, Nadya, in the last hour of the old year, I intend to put the question squarely. No more leading me on like this! [N.:] What's wrong? [I.:] My bachelor status. And I propose… [N. (interrupting):] Please, sit down (1a).

Н-220 • ВОРОТИ́ТЬ/ОТВОРОТИ́ТЬ НОС от кого-чего highly coll; ВОРОТИ́ТЬ/ОТВОРОТИ́ТЬ МО́РДУ ⟨РО́ЖУ, РЫ́ЛО⟩ substand, rude [VP; subj: human] 1. to stop looking at s.o. or sth. (usu. because one finds him or it disagreeable, unappealing etc): X воротит нос от Y-а ≃ X turns away from Y.

2. [impfv only] to regard s.o. or sth. with scorn: X воротит нос от Y-а ≃ X turns up his nose at Y; X looks down his nose at Y; X has nothing but contempt for Y; [lim.] X won't have anything to do with Y.

В те благословенные времена советская молодёжь не воротила нос от советских же символов (Войнович 1). In those hallowed days, Soviet youth did not turn up its nose at Soviet symbols (1a).

3. to refuse s.o. or sth. with disdain: X воротит нос от Y-а ≃ X turns up his nose at Y; X sniffs at Y.

И женщины, те самые женщины, которые ещё недавно воротили нос от мяса, толпой сбились у прилавка… (Абрамов 1). And the women—the very same women who but a moment before had turned up their noses at this meat—came thronging around the counter (1a).

Н-221 • ВЫСО́ВЫВАТЬ/ВЫ́СУНУТЬ НОС coll [VP; subj: human; if impfv, usu. neg] 1. ~ откуда to poke one's head just barely out of some place, just enough to see out: X высунул нос из места Y ≃ X poked his nose out of place Y; X stuck ⟨poked⟩ his head out of place Y.

…Ничто не ускользало от свежего, тонкого вниманья, и, высунувши нос из походной телеги своей, я глядел и на невиданный дотоле покрой какого-нибудь сюртука, и на деревянные ящики с гвоздями… с изюмом и мылом, мелькавшие из дверей овощной лавки… (Гоголь 3). …Nothing escaped my fresh, keen observation, and poking my nose out of my traveling cart, I would stare at a novel cut of a coat never seen before; at the wooden boxes filled with nails… or with raisins, or with soap—all glimpsed through the doors of grocery stores… (3c).

Знаю я эти места, бывал и там. Сейчас там небось носа не высунешь, метёт! (Аксёнов 1). I know those parts, I've been up there. I bet right now it's snowing so hard there you can't poke your nose out (1a).

Н-222 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ НОС ПО́ ВЕ́ТРУ coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human or collect] to adjust, accommodate o.s. to the circumstances by changing one's behavior, convictions etc unscrupulously: X держит нос по ветру ≃ X follows ⟨trims his sails to⟩ the prevailing winds; X goes as the wind blows; X tacks with the wind.

Толе при любом начальстве будет хорошо, он умеет держать нос по ветру. No matter who his boss is, Tolya will do fine: he knows how to trim his sails to the prevailing wind. ♦ Он [Вадим] удивительно умел держать нос по ветру, всегда тянулся к более сильным… (Рыбаков 2). Vadim was remarkably good at tacking with the wind, and he had always been drawn to stronger personalities (2a).

Н-223 • ЗАДИРА́ТЬ ⟨ДРАТЬ⟩/ЗАДРА́ТЬ ⟨ПОДНИМА́ТЬ/ПОДНЯ́ТЬ⟩ НОС (перед кем) highly coll, disapprov [VP: subj: human] to think too highly of o.s., behave arrogantly (toward s.o.): X задирает нос ≃ X puts on ⟨gives himself⟩ airs; X has his nose in the air; X has ⟨gets⟩ a swelled head; X acts high and mighty; [lim.] there's no talking to X.

Егорша с первых слов начал задирать нос… Он, видите ли, отпускник, а не просто там на побывку после сплава домой пришёл, и потому намерен отдыхать культурно, ибо его здоровье — это уж не его здоровье, а здоровье рабочего класса (Абрамов 1). From his very first words Egorsha started putting on airs…. You see, he was on official leave—not the same as mere time off at home after timber floating—and was therefore intending to relax in a civilized manner, since his health was not his health, but the health of the working class (1a).

Н-224 • НАТЯНУ́ТЬ ⟨НАСТА́ВИТЬ, НАКЛЕ́ИТЬ⟩ НОС кому highly coll [VP; subj: human] 1. to deceive, dupe s.o.: X натянул Y-у нос ≃ X pulled a fast one on Y; X pulled the wool over Y's eyes.

2. to disgrace s.o. by having done sth. faster and better: X натянул Y-у нос ≃ X beat Y to it ⟨to the punch, to the draw⟩; X went Y one better.

Н-225 • НОС КАРТО́ШКОЙ [NP; usu. sing; fixed WO] a bulging nose, shaped like a bulb: bulbous nose.

Н-226 • НО́С НЕ ДОРО́С у кого highly coll [VP_{subj}; Invar; fixed WO] s.o. is (still) not old and/or experienced enough (to do, undertake, handle etc sth.): у Х-а (ещё) нос не дорос ≃ X is (still) wet behind the ears; X is (still) too green; X is (still) too young.

Начальник, улыбаясь, сказал Сергею, что ему требуются опытные электрики и что до такой работы у него, вчерашнего школьника, нос пока не дорос. Smiling, the boss said to Sergei that he needed experienced electricians, and that Sergei, just out of school, was too green for that kind of work.

Н-227 • ПОД НО́С ⟨ПО́Д НОС⟩ бормотать, бубнить, бурчать и т.п. coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to mumble, mutter) very quietly, almost inaudibly: under one's breath; to oneself; [lim.] into one's beard.

Работники Учреждения шли по утрам мимо Нюры и скрывались за этой таинственной дверью… Знакомым Нюра кивала головой и издалека кричала: «Эй, здравствуй!» Одни из них вздрагивали, недоуменно смотрели на Нюру и пробурчав что-то себе под нос, двигались дальше (Войнович 4). The workers of the Institution walked past Nyura in the morning and then disappeared through that mysterious door…. Nyura nodded to those she knew and shouted from a distance: "Hey, how are you?" Some of them would wince, look puzzled at Nyura, and, having muttered something under their breath, keep moving (4a).

Н-228 • ПОКА́ЗЫВАТЬ/ПОКАЗА́ТЬ НОС ⟨НОСЫ́⟩ (кому) obs, coll [VP; subj: human] to make a derisive gesture, tease s.o. by spreading the fingers of one hand and touching the thumb to the tip of the nose, keeping the four fingers straight up: Х показал Y-у нос ≃ X thumbed his nose at Y.

Н-229 • С ГУ́ЛЬКИН ⟨С ВОРОБЬИ́НЫЙ⟩ НОС coll [PrepP; these forms only] 1. кого-чего ~ [quantit subj-compl with $быть_{ø}$ (subj/gen: usu. abstr or subj: infin) or adv (quantif)] very little (more often in cases when the amount is considered inadequate): almost no; hardly any; (only) a little ⟨tiny⟩ bit; (just) a smidgen.

Работы там осталось с гулькин нос, мы за полчаса всё сделаем. There's hardly any work left, we'll have everything finished in half an hour.

2. [nonagreeing modif or subj-compl with copula (subj: concr or abstr)] very small (in size, amount etc): (teeny) tiny; negligible; minuscule; (amount to) a hairbreadth ⟨a hair's-breadth etc⟩.

Н-230 • СОВА́ТЬ/СУ́НУТЬ ПО́Д НОС ⟨В НОС⟩ кому что highly coll [VP; subj: human] to give, offer, show sth. to s.o. disrespectfully, rudely: Х сунул Y Z-у в нос ≃ X shoved ⟨pushed, stuck⟩ Y under Z's nose; X shoved ⟨stuck, thrust⟩ Y in Z's face.

…Им [хозяйкам] в нос совали бумажку и говорили: «Видите, записано?!» (Рыбаков 1). Kusiel would shove the notes in their [the customers'] faces and say "Look, it's written down!" (1a).

Н-231 • СОВА́ТЬ/СУ́НУТЬ (СВОЙ) НОС куда, во что, often во всё, в чьи дела, не в своё дело, куда не следует, куда не просят и т.п.; СОВА́ТЬСЯ/СУ́НУТЬСЯ СО СВОИ́М НО́СОМ all highly coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human] to interfere, meddle in sth. in which one should not: Х суёт свой нос в Y ⟨во всё, не в своё дело и т.п.⟩ ≃ X sticks his nose in(to) Y; X pokes his nose in where he has no business; X sticks ⟨pokes⟩ his nose where it doesn't belong ⟨where it isn't wanted⟩; || Neg Imper не суй нос в дела Z-а ⟨в чужие дела⟩ ≃ get your nose out of Z's ⟨other people's⟩ affairs; butt out of Z's ⟨other people's⟩ business.

Напоминание об отце [Влада], её муже, всякий раз выводило мать из равновесия… «Тот во всё нос совал, и этот туда же» (Максимов 2). Any reminder of her husband, Vlad's father, invariably threw Fedosya off balance…. "His father was always poking his nose in where he had no business, and now his son's doing the same" (2a).

Н-232 • УТЕРЕ́ТЬ НОС кому highly coll [VP; subj: human] to outdo s.o., prove one's superiority in sth.: Х утёр нос Y-у ≃ X showed Y up; X got the better of Y; X was one up on Y; X one-upped Y; [lim.] X tweaked Y's nose.

Эх, многим бы нос утёр, показал бы, кто он есть! (Айтматов 1). Oh, he'd get the better of lots of people, he'd show them who he was (1b). ♦ «Печатается. Сотрудничает… С портретом. И уполномоченному нос утёр… Он теперь старше его по чину…» (Битов 2). "He gets published. A contributor… with his picture. And he's one up on the official—he outranks him now" (2a).

[Астров:] Все они, наши добрые знакомые, мелко мыслят, мелко чувствуют и не видят дальше своего носа — просто-напросто глупы (Чехов 3). [A.:] So many of our friends have petty thoughts and petty feelings and can't see beyond their noses. They're plain stupid (3b).

H-237 • НЕ КАЗА́ТЬ ⟨НЕ ПОКА́ЗЫВАТЬ⟩/НЕ ПОКАЗА́ТЬ НО́СА ⟨-у⟩ coll [VP; subj: human; may be used without negation to convey the opposite meaning] 1. ~ (куда, к кому) not to visit s.o. or go to some place: X (к Y-у) носа не кажет ≃ X doesn't show his face (at Y's place); X keeps away (from Y).

«…Мне на службу носа нельзя будет показать, я и так уже третий день не езжу» (Булгаков 11). "…I won't be able to show my face at the office. I haven't gone in for three days as it is" (11a).

2. ~ откуда not to leave or look out of some place or kind of lodging: X носа не показывал (из места Y) ≃ X didn't poke his nose out ⟨outside, outside the house, outside (of) place Y⟩; X didn't poke his nose out of doors ⟨of the house etc⟩.

В тот день под вечер ударил вдруг ветер сан-ташский, оттуда, с хребта поднебесного. Обрушился шквалом… Кое-как успели загнать скотину, убрать кое-что со двора, кое-как успели дров побольше наносить в дом. А потом уже и носа из дому не показывали (Айтматов 1). Towards evening of that same day, the San-Tash wind suddenly struck from up high on the mountain ridge which reached the sky. It whipped up into a tornado…. Somehow, they managed to drive in the cattle and take in a few things from the yard; somehow they were able to carry an extra supply of firewood into the house. After this, no one poked his nose outside the house (1b).

H-238 • КЛЕВА́ТЬ ⟨ПОКЛЁВЫВАТЬ⟩ НО́СОМ coll [VP; subj: human; носом remains sing even when used with pl subj; fixed WO] (in refer. to a strong desire to sleep) to hang one's head, having dozed off for an instant: X клевал носом ≃ X was ⟨kept⟩ nodding (off ⟨off to sleep⟩); X was ⟨kept⟩ nodding drowsily.

А когда Павел Петрович доказывал, что лекарства нужны лишь для того, чтобы «пробудить природу от сна», ей неизменно представлялась старая дама в пенсне, вроде Агнии Петровны, которая клюёт носом на скамейке в саду… (Каверин 1). And when Pavel Petrovich said that medicine was necessary only in order to "rouse Nature from sleep," she invariably pictured to herself an old lady in pince-nez, like Agnia Petrovna, who was nodding on a bench in the garden… (1a).

H-239 • КРУТИ́ТЬ НО́СОМ highly coll [VP; subj: human; носом remains sing even when used with pl subj] to express dissatisfaction, disdain, reject sth. (sometimes in a capricious manner): X крутит носом ≃ X is too picky ⟨finicky etc⟩; X turns up his nose (at sth.); [usu. of children] X is ⟨gets⟩ fussy.

Я без работы уже год, и в моём положении крутить носом не приходится — нужно браться за любую работу. I've been out of work for a year already, and in my situation you can't be too picky—you've got to take any job you can find.

H-240 • НО́СОМ ⟨НОС⟩ К НО́СУ coll [NP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] 1. ~ столкнуться, встретиться. Also: НОС В НОС ⟨С НО́СОМ⟩ obs (to meet, run into one another) right up close, facing one another: (bump into s.o.) nose to nose; (meet) face to face.

«Ну, а дальше сталкиваются оба эти мошенника на Шан-Зелизе, нос к носу…» (Булгаков 12). "Well, after that both rogues met face to face on the Champs Élysées" (12a).

2. увидеть кого-что и т.п. ~ (to see s.o. or sth.) at close proximity: (see s.o. ⟨sth.⟩) up close; (be) face to face (with s.o. ⟨sth.⟩).

Дома никто ничего не знал о случившемся, люди ничего не знали о том, что происходит у них под носом (Искандер 1). At home no one knew anything about what had happened; people didn't know anything about what was happening right under their very noses (1a).

H-242 • С НО́СОМ остаться, оставить кого coll [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with остаться (subj: human) or obj-compl with оставить (obj: human); usu. used with pfv past] (to be left or leave s.o.) without sth. a person or group had hoped for or counted on: (be left ⟨leave s.o.⟩) high and dry ⟨empty-handed, out in the cold, holding the bag⟩; (get) nothing for one's pains; (leave s.o.) with nothing to show for it.

Он увлёкся Аней всерьёз, а она оставила его с носом и вышла замуж за другого. He fell hard for Anya, but she left him out in the cold and married someone else.

H-243 • ТЫ́КАТЬ/ТКНУТЬ НО́СОМ кого во что highly coll [VP; subj: human] to point out in a rude manner sth. done poorly, carelessly in order to embarrass, humiliate, and/or edify s.o.: X тычет Y-а носом в Z ≃ X rubs Y's nose in Z ⟨in it⟩.

…Все те, кто не высказался столь определённо, начнут с радостью тыкать тебя носом в собственную определённость… (Битов 2). …All those who didn't express themselves so definitely will start gleefully rubbing your nose in your own definiteness… (2a).

H-244 • ХЛЮ́ПАТЬ/ХЛЮ́ПНУТЬ ⟨ШМЫ́ГАТЬ/ШМЫГНУ́ТЬ⟩ НО́СОМ coll [VP; subj: human] to draw air noisily in through the nose (usu. when crying, afflicted with a cold etc): X хлюпает носом ≃ X sniffs ⟨snuffles, sniffles⟩.

H-245 • В НОСУ́ КОВЫРЯ́ТЬ substand [VP; subj: human] to idle, loaf about (usu. on the job): X в носу ковыряет ≃ X sits around with his finger in ⟨up⟩ his nose; X lazes about; X sits on his butt ⟨duff⟩.

sure⟩ that you don't forget it; remember once and for all (that…); (you'd better) get it into your head (that…); don't you dare ⟨ever⟩ forget it!; you'd better remember!; tie a string around your finger if you have to, but remember this ⟨that…⟩.

«Мы вам доверяем, но постольку-поскольку… Ваше предательство не скоро забудется. Пусть это зарубят себе на носу все, кто переметнулся осенью к красным…» (Шолохов 5). "We trust you, but only so far…. Your treachery will not soon be forgotten. And those who went over to the Reds last autumn had better get that into their heads!" (5a).

Н-247 • НА НОСУ́ coll [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. abstr)] sth. will happen (ensue etc) in the immediate future, very soon: X на носу ≃ X is just ⟨right⟩ around the corner; X is close ⟨near⟩ at hand; X is almost here; X is (almost) on top of us ⟨upon us⟩; X will be here in no time; X is coming (up); it's almost (time for) X.

«Праздник на носу, жена велела продуктов купить» (Войнович 5). "The holiday's almost here and my wife wants me to do some shopping for her" (5a). ♦ [Лопахин:] И вишнёвый сад и землю необходимо отдать в аренду под дачи, сделать это теперь же, поскорее, — аукцион на носу! (Чехов 2). [L.:] The cherry orchard and the rest of the land must be leased out for summer cottages. You must act at once, without delay, the auction's almost on top of us (2c). [L.:] Lease both the cherry orchard and the land for summer cottages, and do it now, without delay! The auction will be here in no time (2b).

Н-249 • ЩЁЛКАТЬ/ЩЁЛКНУТЬ ⟨ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ, СТУ́КАТЬ/СТУ́КНУТЬ⟩ ПО́ НОСУ кого coll; УДАРЯ́ТЬ/УДА́РИТЬ ПО́ НОСУ obs [VP; subj: human or жизнь; usu. pfv] to reprimand or punish s.o. in such a way as to embarrass him, humble him, remind him of his inferior position, and/or ensure that he does not act similarly again: X щёлкнул Y-а по носу ≃ X snapped his fingers in Y's face; X cut Y down to size; X rapped Y on the knuckles; [lim.] X pulled ⟨knocked⟩ Y off Y's high horse.

[Шпигельский:] Как я ни ломаюсь перед господами… по носу меня ещё никто не щёлкнул (Тургенев 1). [Sh.:] No matter how funny I appear in the presence of other people… no one ever dares to snap his fingers in my face (1e).

Н-250 • КАК ⟨СЛО́ВНО⟩ ПО НО́ТАМ разыгрывать(ся), идти coll [как etc + PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to do sth., bring sth. about, sth. proceeds) without difficulty, easily, as if by a previously conceived plan: всё было разыграно ~ ≃ everything ⟨things⟩ went swimmingly ⟨superbly, smoothly, like clockwork⟩; everything went ⟨was carried off⟩ without a hitch.

Задача перед Владом стояла нехитрая: отвлечь внимание старухи на себя, пока напарник будет шарить под её прилавком… Всё разыгрывалось, словно по нотам (Максимов 2). The job that Vlad had to do was not difficult: to distract the old woman's attention while his partner rifled her supplies under the counter…. The operation went like clockwork (2a).

Н-251 • ЧИТА́ТЬ/ПРОЧИТА́ТЬ НОТА́ЦИЮ ⟨МОРА́ЛЬ, ПРО́ПОВЕДЬ, НАСТАВЛЕ́НИЕ и т.п.⟩ кому [VP; subj: human] to reprove, admonish s.o., tell s.o. how to behave (usu. in a long-winded fashion): X прочитал Y-у нотацию ≃ X lectured ⟨preached to⟩ Y; X preached ⟨gave⟩ Y a sermon; X gave Y a good talking-to; [lim.] X moralized.

…В отличие от Мальковой Дьяков не стал читать ему нотации по поводу брата… (Рыбаков 1). Unlike Malkova, Dyakov did not lecture him about his brother… (1a).

Н-252 • (И) НЕ НОЧЕВА́Л где, в чём coll [VP; subj: abstr; past only] sth. is completely absent (in some place, literary work, piece of artwork etc): X и не ночевал (в Y-е) ≃ there isn't the slightest ⟨the least⟩ bit of X (in Y); there isn't the slightest trace ⟨hint⟩ of X (in Y); Y is totally lacking in X.

И эту мазню вы называете живописью? Искусство тут и не ночевало. You call these smudges art? There's not the slightest trace of art in them.

Н-253 • ДО́БРОЙ ⟨СПОКО́ЙНОЙ, ПОКО́ЙНОЙ obs⟩ НО́ЧИ [formula phrase; these forms only; also used as obj of желать/пожелать; fixed WO] used as a parting wish before one or s.o. goes to bed: good night.

Легко и порывисто бросилась она к нему, замерла подле кресла, осторожно дотронулась до пиджака, прошептала: «Покойной ночи» (Федин 1). Lightly and impetuously she dashed over to him, stood stock still beside the armchair, carefully touched his jacket and whispered: "Good night" (1a).

Н-254 • НЕ К НО́ЧИ БУДЬ СКА́ЗАНО ⟨ПОМЯ́НУТ⟩ coll; НЕ К НО́ЧИ СКАЗА́ТЬ obs, coll [parenth clause; these forms only; fixed WO] (of s.o. or sth. frightful, dangerous etc) it is better not to mention s.o. or sth.: it would be better left unmentioned; I shouldn't even bring it up.

Н-255 • ВАРФОЛОМЕ́ЕВСКАЯ НОЧЬ lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] the slaughter, annihilation of masses of (usually defenseless) people: bloodbath; wholesale massacre ⟨slaughter⟩.

< The phrase derives from, and originally referred to, a real historical event, the massacre of French Huguenots by Roman Catholic mobs on the night of Aug. 24, 1572, the eve of St. Bartholomew's Day.

Н-256 • мрачный КАК НОЧЬ вернуться, ходить и т.п. [как + NP; Invar; modif (intensif) or subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] (to return, walk around etc) sullen, despondent, in a very bad mood: (as) gloomy as night.

Н-257 • НА́ НОЧЬ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] before a person goes to sleep, before bedtime: before going to bed ⟨to sleep⟩; before turning in (for the night).

Персиков около полуночи приехал на Пречистенку и лёг спать, почитав ещё на ночь в кровати какую-то английскую статью в журнале «Зоологический Вестник», полученном из Лондона (Булгаков 10). Around midnight Persikov came home to Prechistenka and went to bed. Before going to sleep he read in bed an English article in the magazine News of Zoology, which he received from London (10b).

…Вдруг звонок в дверь. Иду открывать, мысленно по дороге чертыхаясь: кого ещё там нелёгкая на ночь глядя принесла?

Н-259 • СВОЯ́ НО́ША НЕ ТЯ́НЕТ [saying] things that a person does or chooses to do for himself, his family etc do not seem burdensome, tiresome etc: ≃ a burden of your own ⟨of your own choice, that you choose⟩ is not felt; your own burden doesn't hurt you; burdens you choose don't weigh you down.

Чем дальше, тем чаще старуха отдыхала, прикладываясь мешком к близлежащим заборам. Однако ж, говорят, своя ноша не тянет (Войнович 2). The farther she went, the more often the old woman stopped to rest, leaning the sack against the nearest fence. However, as the saying goes, burdens you choose don't weigh you down (2a).

Н-260 • КАК ТЕБЕ́ ⟨ВАМ⟩ Э́ТО НРА́ВИТСЯ?! coll [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] used to express disapproval, a negative reaction to some action or phenomenon etc: (well,) how do you like that!; well, what do you know!; that ⟨this⟩ beats everything ⟨all⟩!; (well,) what do you make of that!; I can't believe this!

Нет, как вам это нравится! Уроки в школе он прогуливает, а родителям врёт, что всё в порядке. Well, what do you make of that! He skips classes and lies to his parents, saying everything's fine.

Н-261 • ПО НРА́ВУ кому coll [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, прийтись (subj: usu. abstr or human); more often neg] a person (phenomenon etc) is pleasing, appealing to s.o.: X Y-у по нраву ≃ X suits Y; X is to Y's liking; X is Y's cup of tea; Y took a fancy ⟨a shine⟩ to X; || Neg X Y-у не по нраву ≃ X rubs Y the wrong way; Y has no taste for thing X; thing X goes against Y's grain; Y doesn't care for X.

…Физически не может советская власть выпустить на свободу хоть листик один, который им не по нраву (Солженицын 2). …It is impossible, physically impossible, for the Soviet regime to release so much as a single sheet of paper that is not to its liking (2a).

Н-262 • (А) НУ́-КА coll [Interj; fixed WO] used (usu. with a command) to induce s.o. to action: come on; all right now.

Тётушка… достаёт таз, ставит его у наших ног и приказывает: «А ну-ка, ноги мыть!» (Искандер 4). Auntie… fetches a basin, sets it at our feet and orders, "All right now, wash your feet!" (4a).

Н-263 • НУ ДА́! coll [Interj; Invar; fixed WO] 1. used to express agreement, affirmation, understanding etc in response to a question or statement: yes, indeed; of course; [lim.] why, so it is; [usu. as an acknowledgment of a reminder] oh, that.

[Анна Андреевна:] …Кто ж бы это такой был? [Марья Антоновна:] Это Добчинский, маменька. [Анна Андреевна:] Какой Добчинский?.. Совсем не Добчинский… [Марья Антоновна:] Право, маменька, Добчинский. [Анна Андреевна:] Ну вот: нарочно, чтобы только поспорить. Говорят тебе — не Добчинский. [Марья Антоновна:] …Видите, что Добчинский. [Анна Андреевна:] Ну да, Добчинский, теперь я вижу (Гоголь 4). [A.A.:] Whoever could it be? [M.A.:] It's Mr Dobbin, Mummy. [A.A.:] Mr Dobbin indeed?… Certainly not Mr Dobbin…. [M.A.:] It's Mr Dobbin, Mummy, it really is. [A.A.:] There now, you said that deliberately, simply for the sake of argument. I tell you it is not Mr Dobbin. [M.A.:] …You can see it is Mr Dobbin. [A.A.:] Why, so it is, it's Mr Dobbin. I can see now… (4b).

2. iron used to express disbelief, incredulity, objection etc: oh (yeah), sure!; oh, right; of course; …my foot!

[Васенька:] Встретимся завтра! Один раз! На полчаса! На прощанье!.. [Макарская:] Ну да! От тебя потом не отвяжешься (Вампилов 4). [V.:] We'll meet tomorrow! Just once! For half an hour! For the last time!… [M.:] Oh, sure! And there'll be no getting rid of you afterwards (4a).

быть. Дело, сам понимаешь, ответственное, а указания нет…» — …«А ты, если по малой нужде идёшь, ширинку сам расстёгиваешь или тоже указания дожидаешь?» (Войнович 2). “We didn’t know what to do. You know yourself this is a national matter, and there’ve been no instructions…” …“And when you go take a leak, do you unbutton your fly yourself or do you wait for instructions?” (2a).

Н-268 • ЧТО ЗА НУЖДА́ (, что…) obs [Invar; often main clause in a complex sent; fixed WO] sth. is irrelevant: what does it matter?; what of it?; it doesn’t matter.

Перечитывая эту страницу, я замечаю, что далеко отвлёкся от своего предмета… Но что за нужда?.. Ведь этот журнал пишу я для себя… (Лермонтов 1). On re-reading this page, I notice that I have strayed far from my subject…. But what does it matter?… I write this journal for myself… (1a). Reading over this page I notice that I have digressed far from my subject. But what of it? For I am writing this journal for myself… (1b).

Н-269 • ПО НУЖДЕ́ ⟨НУ́ЖНОМУ ДЕ́ЛУ⟩ выйти, отойти, отлучиться и т.п.; СПРАВЛЯ́ТЬ/СПРА́ВИТЬ НУЖДУ́ all highly coll [PrepP or VP; subj: human or animal; often infin. with нужно, надо, пойти etc] (to go away, leave momentarily etc) to urinate or move one’s bowels: X-у надо выйти по нужде ≃ X needs to relieve himself ⟨to do the necessary, to visit the facilities⟩; || справить малую нужду ≃ take a leak; (go) tinkle; make water; || справить большую нужду ≃ do ⟨go do⟩ one’s business.

Валерий Бутонов, вышедший среди ночи в уборную, справил свою нужду, не доходя до дощатого домика, в обескураженную неожиданной теплой поливкой помидорную рассаду (Улицкая 1). Valerii Butonov came out into the night to relieve himself and, rather than bothering to walk all the way to the little planked house, disconcerted the tomato seedlings by giving them an unexpected warm watering (1a).

Н-270 • НУЖДЫ́ МА́ЛО кому (до чего) obs [Invar; impers predic with быть$_{ø}$; usu. pres] s.o. is indifferent to, not interested in or concerned about sth.: X-у (до Y-а) нужды мало ≃ X doesn’t care (about Y); Y is of little ⟨no⟩ interest ⟨concern⟩ to X; what does X care (about Y)?

Гриша рассвирепел. «Ты чо [nonstand = что], психованная, чо ли? И отец твой психованный, и ты… Нужна ты мне!» (Евтушенко 2). Grisha was furious. “Are you crazy? Your father is crazy, and so are you…. Who needs you?” (2a). ♦ «Ты вот по-оскорбляй меня…» — «Да кто тебя оскорбляет? Нужна ты мне!» (Распутин 1). [context transl] “All you’re looking for’s a chance to insult me.” “Who’s insulting you? As if I’d take the trouble” (1a).

Н-273 • О́ЧЕНЬ ⟨КУДА́ КАК⟩ НУ́ЖНО (!) coll, iron [Interj or impers predic; these forms only; fixed WO] (used to express a scornful attitude toward sth., a contemptuous refusal of some suggestion, advice etc) it is completely unnecessary (to do sth.): who needs that!; why bother!; what for!; why should I ⟨he etc⟩ (do sth.)!; what need is there…?; I ⟨you etc⟩ don’t want…; that’s just what I need!; a lot of good that does!

«Куда как нужно тратить лишние деньги и нанимать мусье, как будто и своих людей не стало!» (Пушкин 2). “What need is there to throw away money hiring this mounseer, as if there weren’t enough of our own folk?” (2a). ♦ [Полина Андреевна:] Жалко мне тебя, Машенька. [Маша:] Очень нужно! [Полина Андреевна:] Сердце моё за тебя переболело (Чехов 6). [P.A.:] I’m sorry for you, Mashenka. [M.:] A lot of good that does! [P.A.:] My heart aches for you (6a).

Н-274 • СВОДИ́ТЬ/СВЕСТИ́ К НУЛЮ́ что [VP; subj: abstr or human] to reduce sth. to the point of having no importance, role, meaning etc at all: X сводит Y к нулю ≃ X reduces Y to nothing; thing X nullifies ⟨negates⟩ Y.

Н-275 • СВОДИ́ТЬСЯ/СВЕСТИ́СЬ К НУЛЮ́ [VP; subj: abstr] to be diminished to the point of having no importance, role, meaning etc at all: X свёлся к нулю ≃ X was reduced to nothing; [lim.] X was (completely) lost.

Н-276 • НАЧИНА́ТЬ/НАЧА́ТЬ С НУЛЯ́ [VP; subj: human or collect] to begin doing sth. from the most rudimentary point, not using or relying on anything done or prepared earlier (occas. after a previous failed attempt): X начал с нуля ≃ X started from scratch; X started (all over again) from nothing ⟨from the beginning⟩.

«Наша литература это сконцентрированный душевный опыт народа, и пренебречь им — значит начинать с нуля…» (Гладков 1). “Our literature is the concentrated spiritual experience of the nation, and to ignore it means to start all over again from nothing…” (1a).

Н-277 • ПО НУТРУ́ кому highly coll [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. abstr or human); more often neg] to please s.o., appeal to s.o.: X Y-у ~ ≃ X is to Y’s liking; X is Y’s cup of tea; X turns Y on; X goes over big with Y; || Neg X Y-у не по нутру ≃ X rubs Y the wrong way; X doesn’t sit too well with Y; X leaves Y cold ⟨flat⟩; thing X isn’t Y’s thing; [lim.] thing X goes against Y’s grain.

…Говоря сравнительно, жить было всё-таки легко, и эта лёгкость в особенности приходилась по нутру так называемым смердам (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). …Comparatively speaking, life was still easy, and this ease was particularly to the liking of the so-called peasants (1a). ♦ Словом, кому-то Сидоров пришёлся не по нутру… состряпали дело, написали фельетон, ошельмовали порядочных людей, десять человек, в том числе и моего отца (Рыбаков 1). In short, Sidorov had rubbed someone… the wrong way… the case was cooked up, and the article written to defame decent people, ten in all, including my father (1a).

Легко, что Твардовскому эта вещь не понравилась. Да если б дело кончалось тем, что «Новый мир» отклонял пьесу и предо-ставлял мне свободу с нею. Не тут-то было! Не так понимал Твардовский моё обещание и наше с ним сотрудничество ныне, и присно, и во веки веков (Солженицын 2). I can easily believe that Tvardovsky genuinely did not like the piece. There the matter should have ended—with Novy Mir rejecting the play and leaving me free to do what I liked with it. Nothing of the kind! That was not how Tvardovsky understood my promise and saw our collaboration now, in days to come, and to the end of time (2a).

Н-279 • РАСПУСКА́ТЬ/РАСПУСТИ́ТЬ НЮ́НИ highly coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human] 1. to be or begin crying: X распустил нюни ≃ X started ⟨was, burst out⟩ crying; X burst into tears; X turned on the tears ⟨the waterworks⟩.

Хватит плакать! Крохотная царапина, а ты нюни распустил. Enough of your crying! A tiny little scratch and you turn on the waterworks.

2. to complain about sth. in an annoying manner, displaying a lack of resolve to right the situation about which one is complaining etc: X распускает нюни ≃ X starts ⟨is⟩ whining ⟨sniveling, whimpering, bellyaching⟩.

[Кабанов:] …Что я за несчастный такой человек на свет рождён, что не могу вам угодить ничем. [Кабанова:] Что ты сиротой-то прикидываешься! Что ты нюни-то распустил? (Островский 6). [K.:] Only what I'd like to know is what did I do to deserve it? Why can't I do anything to please you? [K-a:] Don't pretend to be such a poor helpless creature! What are you sniveling about? (6c).

Н-280 • (И) НЕ НЮ́ХАЛ чего coll [VP; subj: human; past only] one is entirely unfamiliar with sth., has no knowledge of sth., has never experienced sth. etc (sometimes used as a condescending or scornful appraisal of a person with little or no experience in some area): X Y-а и не нюхал ≃ X knows nothing about Y; X is ignorant of Y; [lim.] X hasn't tasted Y.

Сегодняшние националисты… и не нюхали Хомякова и славянофилов, которые отлично знали, что движущая сила — общество, а не государство, которому следует только осторожно поддерживать порядок и не душить общество (Мандельштам 2). …Our latter-day nationalists… are ignorant of Khomiakov and the other Slavophiles who all knew very well that society is the prime motive force, and that in keeping order the state should be careful not to stifle it (2a).

Н-281 • НЮ́ХОМ ЧУ́ЯТЬ ⟨ЧУ́ВСТВОВАТЬ⟩ что; НО́СОМ ЧУ́ЯТЬ ⟨ЧУ́ВСТВОВАТЬ⟩; ЧУ́ВСТВОВАТЬ ⟨ПОНИМА́ТЬ, ЧУ́ЯТЬ⟩ НУТРО́М all coll [VP; subj: human; fixed WO (var. with нюхом)] to be aware of, know, foresee sth. by intuition: X нюхом чует Y ≃ X senses Y; X has a (good ⟨real, keen⟩) nose (for…); X realizes ⟨knows, feels, senses⟩ instinctively (that…); X can tell (that…); X can tell by some sixth sense (that…); X feels it in his bones; X feels ⟨has a feeling⟩ in his bones (that…); X has a gut feeling (that…); [in refer. to trouble, danger, a scandal etc] X sniffs Y (ahead); || [1st pers sing only] нюхом чую ≃ something tells me.

Впрочем, человек он несимпатичный… Изо всех сил изображает джентльмена, но меня не проведёшь — я дурную породу носом чувствую (Акунин 7). He is, however, not a very likeable individual… He tries his hardest to play the gentleman, but I am not so easily duped. I have a keen nose for low breeding (7a).

Н-282 • У СЕМИ́ НЯ́НЕК ДИТЯ́ БЕЗ ГЛА́ЗУ [saying] a matter suffers when several people are in charge of it (because each wants to handle it his own way, each expects s.o. else to handle it, or there is a general lack of coordination among those in charge): ≃ too many cooks spoil the broth ⟨the soup⟩; everybody's business is nobody's business.

Вскоре после манифеста семнадцатого октября задумана была большая демонстрация от Тверской заставы к Калужской. Это было начинание в духе пословицы «у семи нянек дитя без глазу» (Пастернак 1). Soon after the manifesto of October 17th several revolutionary organizations called for a big demonstration. The route was from Tver Gate to the Kaluga Gate at the other end of the town. But this was a case of too many cooks spoiling the broth (1a).

О-1 • ПО́РТИТЬ/ИСПО́РТИТЬ (всю) ОБЕ́ДНЮ ⟨МУ́ЗЫКУ⟩ кому coll [VP; subj: human or, less often, abstr] to hinder, harm s.o. in some matter, upset s.o.'s plans: X испортил Y-у всю обедню ≃ X ruined things ⟨the whole thing⟩ for Y; X upset Y's ⟨the⟩ applecart; X spiked Y's guns; X cooked Y's goose; X screwed ⟨messed⟩ things up for Y.

[Косых:] Вчера объявил маленький шлем на трефах, а взял большой. Только опять этот Барабанов мне всю музыку испортил!.. Покажи он, мерзавец, туза, я объявил бы большой шлем… (Чехов 4). [К.:] Yesterday I declared a little slam in clubs and got a grand slam. But once again friend Barabanov cooked my goose…. If the swine had shown his ace I'd have declared a grand slam… (4b).

О-2 • НЕ ОБЕРЁШЬСЯ чего, usu. хлопот, неприятностей, греха, стыда, сраму и т.п. (с кем-чем) coll [VP; neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing only] there will be a great deal of sth. (usu. trouble with some person or matter), s.o. will feel a great degree (of shame with regard to some matter etc): Y-ов не оберёшься ≃ there will be no end (or limit) to (the) Ys; there will be endless Ys; Ys will be endless ⟨inexhaustible⟩; || хлопот (с X-ом) не оберёшься ≃ there will be ⟨you'll have⟩ no end of trouble (with X); there will be ⟨you'll get involved in⟩ endless trouble (with X); [lim.] X could ⟨is going to⟩ be (a lot of) trouble; || стыда ⟨сраму, позора⟩ не оберёшься ≃ you won't know where to hide for shame; you'll never live it down; you'd be too ashamed; || страхов не оберёшься ≃ your fear will know no bounds.

Председатель тревожно прислушался к новым интонациям в голосе посетителя. «А вдруг припадочный? — подумал он. — Хлопот с ним не оберёшься» (Ильф и Петров 2). The chairman noticed the change in the visitor's tone with alarm. "What if he's an epileptic?" he thought. "He could be a lot of trouble" (2d). ♦ «Николаич, — сказал „дед". — Ты же позора не оберёшься. Если ты сети выручишь, а людей — оставишь. На всю жизнь позора» (Владимов 2). "Nikolayich," said the Chief. "You'll never live it down, if you save your nets but abandon a shipload of fellow human beings. You'll be disgraced for the rest of your life" (2a).

О-3 • В ОБИ́ДЕ на кого [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); often neg] to feel annoyed, displeased with s.o., feel o.s. aggrieved: X на Y-а в обиде ≃ X is offended (by Y's words ⟨by what Y did etc⟩); X has taken offense ⟨umbrage⟩ at Y ⟨at Y's words etc⟩; X feels resentment toward Y; X resents Y's actions ⟨what Y did etc⟩; X is peeved at Y; || Neg X не будет на Y-а в обиде ≃ X won't mind.

…Молчал всесильный Парвус. Да он справедливо мог быть и в обиде. А не исключено: испытывал Ленина нервы, усилял свою позицию выжиданием (Солженицын 5). …The all-powerful Parvus said nothing. Of course, he had every right to be offended. And it was quite possible that he was testing Lenin's nerves, and holding out to strengthen his own position (5a).

О-4 • НЕ В ОБИ́ДУ ⟨НЕ ВО ГНЕВ obs, lit⟩ БУДЬ СКА́ЗАНО (кому) coll [these forms only; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] offense should not be taken at what I said or am about to say: no offense meant ⟨intended⟩; no harm meant; no insult intended; don't take it ⟨this⟩ the wrong way, but…; don't take this amiss, but…; no offense, but… ; if you don't mind my saying so.

«Послушай, Юрочка, что Анфим Ефимович говорит. Между прочим, не во гнев вам будь сказано, имя отчество у вас — язык сломаешь» (Пастернак 1). "Listen to what Anfim Efimovich told me, Yurochka, and by the way, if you don't mind my saying so, Anfim Efimovich, your name is a real tongue-twister!" (1a).

О-5 • НЕ ДАВА́ТЬ/НЕ ДАТЬ В ОБИ́ДУ кого [VP; subj: human or collect] not to allow s.o. to be injured, wronged in any way: X не даст Y-а в обиду ≃ X will not let anyone harm ⟨hurt, insult etc⟩ Y; X will make sure ⟨see to it⟩ that no (possible) harm comes to Y; X will not see Y harmed ⟨insulted etc⟩; X will not let Y be ⟨allow Y to be⟩ hurt ⟨insulted etc⟩; X will not allow any harm to come to Y.

«И давайте сразу договоримся: я вас в обиду не дам — только вы должны во всём меня слушаться» (Михайловская 1). "Let's have an understanding: I will not let anyone harm you, but you must do what I say" (1a). ♦ «Я попрошу Алексея, чтобы тебя не дали в обиду» (Булгаков 3). "I shall ask Alexei to make sure that no possible harm comes to you" (3a).

О-6 • НЕ ДАВА́ТЬСЯ/НЕ ДА́ТЬСЯ ⟨НЕ ДАВА́ТЬ/НЕ ДАТЬ СЕБЯ́⟩ В ОБИ́ДУ (кому) [VP; subj: human or collect] not to allow o.s. to be harmed, to know how to defend or protect o.s.: X себя в обиду не даёт ≃ X stands ⟨knows how to stand⟩ up for himself; X can look after ⟨out for⟩ himself; X doesn't let anyone push him around.

Старуха не боялась за Люсю, верила, что она себя в обиду не даст — не такой она человек (Распутин 3). On Liusia's account she [the old lady] had nothing to fear. She knew Liusia could look after herself, she was that type (3a).

О-7 • БЕЗ ОБИНЯКО́В говорить, спрашивать и т.п. coll; БЕЗ (ВСЯ́КИХ) ОКОЛИ́ЧНОСТЕЙ obs [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to speak or ask sth.) directly, openly, without allusiveness: without beating around ⟨about⟩ the bush; in no uncertain terms; in so many words; not mincing (one's) words; pulling no punches; [lim.] getting down to brass tacks; getting ⟨coming⟩ straight to the point.

«Скажите, Карамазов, вы ужасно меня презираете? — отрезал вдруг Коля… — Сделайте одолжение, без обиняков» (Достоевский 1). "Tell me, Karamazov, do you despise me terribly?" Kolya suddenly blurted out…. "Kindly tell me, without beating around the bush" (1a).

О-8 • ВХОДИ́ТЬ/ВОЙТИ́ В ОБИХО́Д ⟨В УПОТРЕБЛЕ́НИЕ⟩ [VP; subj: abstr or, rare, concr] to begin to be used: X вошёл в обиход ≃ X has come into use; X has begun to be utilized; [used with abstr subjects only] X has gained currency; X has become current.

О-9 • ВЫХОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЙТИ ⟨ИСЧЕЗА́ТЬ/ИСЧЕ́ЗНУТЬ⟩ ИЗ ОБИХО́ДА; ВЫХОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЙТИ ИЗ УПОТРЕБЛЕ́НИЯ [VP; subj: abstr or, rare, concr] to cease being used: X вышел из употребления ≃ X is no longer used ⟨in use⟩; X is no longer utilized; X has fallen into disuse ⟨desuetude⟩; X has gone out of use ⟨practice⟩; X disappeared from common use; X is ⟨has become⟩ out-of-date ⟨obsolete⟩; [used with abstr subjects only]; X is no longer

current; X has lost currency; || вышедший из обихода ≃ obsolete; outdated; outmoded; passé.

Даже застенчивое название Дымки исчезло из обихода, заменилось внушительным — Дымковское строительство (Тендряков 1). Even the modest name of Dymki disappeared from common use and was replaced by the grander sounding "Dymki Project" (1a).

O-10 • ВИТА́ТЬ ⟨ПАРИ́ТЬ⟩ В ОБЛАКА́Х ⟨В ЭМПИРЕ́ЯХ lit, МЕ́ЖДУ НЕ́БОМ И ЗЕМЛЁЙ⟩; УНОСИ́ТЬСЯ В ОБЛАКА́ ⟨К ОБЛАКА́М⟩ [VP; subj: human] to be distanced, detached from reality (either by daydreaming etc, or by viewing a situation unrealistically): X витает в облаках ≃ X has ⟨is with⟩ his head in the clouds; || Neg X не витает в облаках ≃ X has his feet (planted firmly) on the ground.

«Витает он где-то там в своих эмпиреях, а его вдруг на землю спустят и спрашивают: а что вы, милейший, думаете относительно, скажем, левого уклонизма или правого оппортунизма?» (Войнович 4). "There he is with his head in the clouds, and suddenly they bring him back to earth and ask him: So, my good man, what are your thoughts regarding, say, leftist deviation or right-wing opportunism?" (4a). ♦ «Вот я вчера говорила с Кочкуровым, вы ведь знаете, он не витает в облаках (Гроссман 2). "I was talking to Kochkurov yesterday. You know what he's like—he's certainly got his feet on the ground" (2a).

O-11 • СПУСТИ́ТЬСЯ С ОБЛАКО́В coll [VP; subj: human] 1. Also: СВАЛИ́ТЬСЯ ⟨УПА́СТЬ⟩ С ОБЛАКО́В coll [often past after как, будто, словно, точно] to appear, arrive very suddenly: X как с облаков свалился ≃ X appeared out of the blue ⟨out of nowhere, out of thin air⟩; it is as though X fell from the sky.

2. [usu. infin with пора, нужно etc] to stop being out of touch with reality and start to live, think, look upon a situation etc realistically, practically: пора X-у спуститься с облаков ≃ it's time for X to come down to earth ⟨to get his head out of the clouds⟩.

O-12 • В О́БЛАСТИ чего [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] in the (specified) sphere of (work, activity, human interest etc): in the area ⟨the field, the realm, the domain⟩ of; in; [lim.] as far as… goes; where… is concerned.

…В отличие от прочих областей общественности, в области кладбищенского дела старый режим прогнил, так сказать, не насквозь, а только частью… (Федин 1). …Unlike other areas of public life, in the area of cemetery affairs the old regime was not rotten, so to speak, all through, but only partially… (1a).

O-13 • это ИЗ О́БЛАСТИ ФАНТА́СТИКИ [subj: abstr., often это, or infin.; fixed WO] sth. imaginary and, from the speaker's viewpoint, unrealizable: that's pure fantasy ⟨fiction⟩; you ⟨they etc⟩ are ⟨must be⟩ (pipe)dreaming!

Ваша идея неосуществима, это из области фантастики. Your idea won't work—you're dreaming!

O-14 • ОТХОДИ́ТЬ/ОТОЙТИ́ ⟨УХОДИ́ТЬ/УЙТИ́⟩ В О́БЛАСТЬ ПРЕДА́НИЯ ⟨ПРЕДА́НИЙ, ВОСПОМИНА́НИЙ⟩ lit [VP; subj: abstr; fixed WO] to cease to exist or be used, pass out of existence, disappear: X отошёл в область преданий ≃ X is ⟨has become⟩ a thing of the past; X has passed into oblivion.

O-15 • знать кого КАК ОБЛУ́ПЛЕННОГО highly coll [как + NP; obj-controlled; adv] (to know s.o.) very well: X знает Y-а как облупленного ≃ X knows Y inside out ⟨through and through⟩.

…Немца этого я знал, как облупленного, равно как и он меня (Попов 1). I knew this German inside out, just like he knew me (1a).

O-16 • ОПТИ́ЧЕСКИЙ ОБМА́Н [NP; sing only; fixed WO] 1. special. Also: ОБМА́Н ЗРЕ́НИЯ a visually perceived image that represents the perceived object differently from the way it is in reality: optical illusion; [lim.] trick of (the) light.

Мечте, загадочному, таинственному не было места в его душе. То, что не подвергалось анализу опыта, практической истины, было в глазах его оптический обман… (Гончаров 1). There was no room for the mystical, the mysterious, the illusory in his temperament. Anything that did not stand the test of practical experience or the scrutiny of analysis he rejected as an optical illusion… (1c).

O-17 • ПА́ДАТЬ/УПА́СТЬ В О́БМОРОК [VP; subj: human] to lose consciousness: X упал в обморок ≃ X fainted (away); X fell in a (dead) faint; X fell into a swoon; X swooned; X passed out.

Сам он, окончив речь свою, поспешно вышел и, повторяю, почти упал в другой комнате в обморок (Достоевский 2). He himself, having finished his speech, left hastily and, I repeat, nearly fainted in the next room (2a).

O-18 • В ОБНИ́МКУ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. ~ (с кем) ходить, гулять и т.п. (of persons, usu. two, walking, strolling etc) each having an arm around the shoulder or waist of the other (or those on either side of one): with one's arm around s.o.; with one's arms (a)round each other ⟨one another⟩.

[Женя:] Мама! Весь сыр-бор из-за того, что они шли в обнимку. Теперь все так ходят (Рощин 1). [Zh.:] Mother! All this fuss because they've been seen with their arms round each other. Everybody does that now (1b).

2. ~ держать, брать что (to hold, take hold of sth.) with both arms (around it): (hold ⟨grab⟩ sth.) around the middle with one's arms; (have) both ⟨one's⟩ arms wrapped around sth.

O-19 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ В ОБОРО́Т ⟨В РАБО́ТУ⟩ кого coll [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] 1. to put great pressure on s.o. in order to make him act as one desires: X взял Y-а в оборот ≃ X turned ⟨put⟩ the heat on Y; X took Y in hand; X got after Y; [lim.] X twisted Y's arm.

Ту поэзию, которую заслуживают лишь немногие, обычно убивают или ещё хуже — поэта берут в оборот, запугивают и заставляют исправиться. Именно это сделали у нас с Заболоцким (Мандельштам 2). Poets "deserved" only by the few are generally killed off or—even worse—taken in hand and browbeaten into "mending their ways." This is what happened to Zabolotski (2a).

2. to reprimand, scold s.o. (for sth.): X взял Y-а в оборот ≃ X took Y to task; X gave Y a (good) talking-to ⟨dressing-down⟩; X dressed Y down; X gave Y what for.

O-20 • ПРИНИМА́ТЬ/ПРИНЯ́ТЬ какой ОБОРО́Т [VP; subj: abstr, often дело, события, всё это etc] (of a situation, events etc) to develop or change in a certain direction (as specified by the modifier): X принял дурной ⟨серьёзный, неожиданный и т.п.⟩ оборот ≃ X took a bad ⟨serious, unexpected etc⟩ turn; [with дурной, плохой etc only] X took a turn for the worse.

В его голосе чувствовалось и удивление, и беспокойство, что дело может принять неожиданный оборот… (Войнович 4). Surprise, and anxiety that things might take an unexpected turn, could be heard in his voice… (4a). ♦ «Будем надеяться, что дело вашего отца не примет дурного оборота…» (Рыбаков 1). "Let's hope your father's case doesn't take a turn for the worse" (1a).

O-21 • ПУСКА́ТЬ/ПУСТИ́ТЬ В ОБОРО́Т что [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] 1. special ~ деньги, капитал to put (money) into commercial-industrial operations with the goal of receiving profits: X пустил деньги в оборот ≃ X invested money.

[3-й гость:] Процентные бумаги дают весьма немного дивиденда, а пускать деньги в оборот чрезвычайно опасно (Чехов 4). [Third Guest:] Interest-bearing securities yield exceedingly small returns, and to invest money is extraordinarily dangerous (4a).

2. coll to utilize sth.: X пустил Y в оборот ≃ X made use of Y; X put Y to use; X used Y.

«Когда же жить? — спрашивал он опять самого себя. — Когда же, наконец, пускать в оборот этот капитал знаний, из которых большая часть ещё ни на что не понадобится в жизни?» (Гончаров 1). "When am I to live?" he used to ask himself. "When shall I ever be permitted to make use of this store of knowledge, most of which will serve no purpose in my life?" (1b).

3. Also: ВВОДИ́ТЬ/ВВЕСТИ́ В ОБОРО́Т; ПУСКА́ТЬ/ПУСТИ́ТЬ В ОБРАЩЕ́НИЕ to bring sth. into general, widespread use: X ввёл Y в оборот ≃ X started (using) Y; X put ⟨introduced⟩ Y into (widespread) circulation; X put Y into use.

…Всё, что мог, он [Горький] уже совершил. Образец для подражания следующим поколениям соцреалистов — роман «Мать» — уже написал. Ленина и Сталина прославил. И свою знаменитую фразу «Если враг не сдаётся — его уничтожают» уже пустил в обращение (Войнович 1). [context transl] He [Gorky] had already accomplished all he was capable of. He had already written Mother, the novel that would serve as the model for coming generations of socialist realists. He had sung the praises of Lenin and Stalin. And his most famous phrase "If the enemy does not surrender, he is wiped out" was already in circulation (1a).

O-22 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ ЗА ОБРАЗЕ́Ц кого-что [VP; subj: human or collect] considering s.o. or sth. worthy of emulation, to try to imitate him or it: X взял Y-а за образец ≃ X followed the example of Y ⟨Y's example⟩; X took thing Y for ⟨as⟩ a model; X (re)structured sth. on the model ⟨pattern⟩ of Y; X chose person Y as a role model.

Стихотворение это, написанное красивым круглым почерком на тонком почтовом листе, понравилось мне по трогательному чувству, которым оно проникнуто; я тотчас же выучил его наизусть и решился взять за образец (Толстой 2). This composition, inscribed in a handsome rounded hand on a thin sheet of notepaper, appealed to me by virtue of the touching sentiments with which it was imbued; I immediately learned it off by heart and decided to take it for a model (2b).

O-23 • ГЛА́ВНЫМ О́БРАЗОМ [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv or sent adv (occas. parenth); fixed WO] basically: mainly; chiefly; essentially; for the most part; primarily; mostly; [when used in conjunction with a clause of purpose; in limited contexts] one's main goal ⟨objective, object⟩ (in doing sth. is…); with the main goal ⟨objective, object⟩ (of doing sth.…).

…Чехов, как большинство его современников, был чужд изобразительному искусству и понимал культуру главным образом как просвещение (Терц 3). …Like most of his contemporaries, Chekhov was indifferent to the visual arts and understood culture mainly as education (3a). ♦ По иным донесениям из прошлого, он [Чернышевский] посетил Герцена главным образом для того, чтобы переговорить об издании «Современника» за границей… (Набоков 1). According to certain reports from the past his [Chernyshevsky's] main object in visiting Herzen was to discuss the publishing of The Contemporary abroad… (1a).

O-24 • КАКИ́М О́БРАЗОМ [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv; fixed WO] in what manner: how; in what way; [lim.] by what means; the way (s.o. does sth. ⟨sth. happens⟩).

«От меня зависит, как сложится ваша участь», — холодно произнёс обер-лейтенант. «Каким образом?» (Федин 1). "It depends on me how your future turns out," said the Ober-lieutenant coldly. "How?" (1a).

O-25 • НЕ́КОТОРЫМ О́БРАЗОМ [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv or modif; fixed WO] in some manner or measure: in a ⟨some⟩ way; after a fashion; to some ⟨a certain⟩ extent ⟨degree⟩; somewhat.

…Он ещё не может знать, не подозревает о существовании этих фактов, но эти факты тем не менее существуют сами по себе и существуют, некоторым образом, в его незнании (Битов 2). …He cannot yet know about and does not suspect the existence of these facts, yet the facts nevertheless exist independently and also exist, after a fashion, in his ignorance (2a).

O-26 • НИКО́ИМ О́БРАЗОМ coll; НИКАКИ́М О́БРАЗОМ [$NP_{instrum}$; these forms only; adv; used with negated verbs; fixed WO] not under any circumstances, not at all: in no way; by no means; not by any manner of means; not by a long shot; absolutely not; [when used as an indep. remark] (that's) (absolutely) impossible.

И человек с искажённым от горя лицом вынужден был отказаться от своих попыток прорваться к повозкам, с которых уже сняли столбы. Эти попытки ни к чему не привели бы, кроме того, что он был бы схвачен, а быть задержанным в этот день никоим образом не входило в его план (Булгаков 9). And the man, his face contorted with grief, was compelled to abandon his attempts to break through to the carts, from which the posts had already been taken. These attempts would have resulted in nothing but his capture, and it was certainly in no way part of his plan to be arrested that day (9a).

O-27 • РА́ВНЫМ О́БРАЗОМ [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar] 1. Also: В РА́ВНОЙ МЕ́РЕ ⟨СТЕ́ПЕНИ⟩ lit [PrepP; modif; foll. by AdvP or AdjP] to an equal degree: equally; just as.

Великий комбинатор не любил ксендзов. В равной степени он отрицательно относился к раввинам, далай-ламам, муэдзинам, шаманам и прочим служителям культа (Ильф и Петров 2). The smooth operator didn't like Catholic priests. He took an equally dim view of rabbis, dalai lamas, popes, muezzins, medicine men, and other such ministers of religious worship (2a).

2. [sent adv] used to liken a statement to the preceding statement: similarly; likewise; [lim.] by the same token.

«…Мы остереглись проговориться Петру Петровичу [Лужину] хоть о чём-нибудь из этих дальнейших мечтаний наших и, главное, о том, что ты будешь его компаньоном… Равным образом ни я, ни Дуня ни полслова ещё не говорили с ним о крепкой надежде нашей, что он поможет нам способствовать тебе деньгами, пока ты в университете…» (Достоевский 3). "…We have been careful not to let slip a word to Mr. Luzhin about any part of these dreams of ours for the future, and especially about you becoming his partner…. Similarly, neither I nor Dunya have said a word to him yet about our confident hope that he will help us to supply you with funds while you are at the university" (3a).

О-28 • ТАКИ́М О́БРАЗОМ [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; fixed WO] 1. [adv] in the fashion or manner indicated or implied: so; (in) this ⟨that⟩ way; thus; like this ⟨that⟩; in such a way.

Дом стоял таким образом, что один конец веранды нависал над обрывом, поросшим непроходимыми зарослями ежевики и терновника (Искандер 3). The house was so situated that one end of the veranda hung over a precipice overgrown with impassable thickets of blackberries and blackthorn (3a).

2. [sent adv (parenth)] used to introduce a deduction, conclusion: thus; consequently; therefore; accordingly; hence; (and) so.

«…Сейчас мы тебя отправим к камеру. Но имей в виду следующее: я скажу Сударю, что ты молчишь и, таким образом, берёшь на себя роль главаря банды» (Семёнов 1). "…We'll send you down to the cells now. But bear this in mind: I shall tell Squire that you're refusing to talk and are thus taking on the role of gang leader" (1a).

О-29 • ПО О́БРАЗУ ⟨ОБРАЗЦУ́⟩ И ПОДО́БИЮ чьему, кого obsoles [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] patterned after s.o. or sth., using s.o. or sth. as an example: in the image and likeness ⟨semblance⟩ of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; in s.o.'s image and likeness; in s.o.'s image ⟨likeness⟩.

Повторяем: вся эта тяга к стиху, созданному по образу и подобию определённых социально-экономических богов, была в Чернышевском бессознательна… (Набоков 1). Let us repeat: all this leaning toward a line created in the image and likeness of definite socio-economic gods was unconscious on Chernyshevski's part… (1a).

О-30 • ПО О́БРАЗУ ПЕ́ШЕГО ХОЖДЕ́НИЯ obs, humor [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] walking: on ⟨by⟩ shanks' mare.

О-31 • ВСЁ ОБРАЗУ́ЕТСЯ/ОБРАЗОВА́ЛОСЬ coll [VP_{subj}; these forms only; fixed WO] the difficulties will be resolved, the situation will clear itself up: it ⟨things⟩ will (all) come (out) right in the end; it ⟨things⟩ will (all) work out in the end; everything will be all right; things will smooth out; it ⟨things⟩ will (all) come together.

«Всё образуется. Ведь я, Варвара Андреевна, не амбициозен и всегда готов признать свою ошибку» (Акунин 5). "Everything will be all right, Varvara Andreevna. I'm not proud and I'm always willing to admit my mistakes" (5a).

О-32 • ПО ОБРАЗЦУ́ кого-чего [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] as s.o. or sth. else (does, is organized etc): on ⟨after, upon, following⟩ the model of; on ⟨after, following⟩ the pattern of; modeled after; (patterned ⟨presented etc⟩) on the example of.

Второй этаж дома у них сделан по образцу городских квартир. The second floor of their house is modeled after city apartments. ♦ Днём с приятным ровным гудением бегали трамваи с жёлтыми соломенными пухлыми сиденьями, по образцу заграничных (Булгаков 3). In the daytime, the streetcars with their soft yellow straw seats, on the foreign example, sped along with a pleasant steady hum (3b).

О-33 • В ОБРЕ́З (чего у кого) [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj/gen: usu. a noun denoting time or money) or adv (quantif)] (there is, s.o. has etc) barely an adequate amount, no extra: just ⟨barely⟩ enough; just barely enough; none ⟨no [NP]⟩ to spare; || у X-а времени в обрез ≃ X is short of time; X doesn't have much time; X is pressed for time; there is no time to lose; time is short.

[Алексей:] Помнишь, когда вы у нас жили, отца в армию взяли?.. Ну, не вернулся он… Денег — в обрез. Я и задумал подработать (Розов 1). [A.:] Do you remember, when all of you stayed with us?—they drafted Father into the army…. Well, he never came back…. Money—there was none to spare. So I decided to help out—do odd jobs after school (1a). ♦ «Хотите взглянуть [на лагерь]?»… — «Разве что взглянуть, — неуверенно уступил он соблазну. — Только не задерживаться, времени у меня в обрез» (Максимов 1). "D'you want to take a look [at the camp]?"… "Well, we could have a look, I suppose," he said, succumbing to the temptation. "But we mustn't delay. I'm very pressed for time" (1a).

О-34 • НЕ ОБСЕ́ВОК В ПО́ЛЕ substand [NP; subj-compl with $быть_{ø}$ (subj: human), pres only; used without negation to convey the opposite meaning; fixed WO] one is not a nonentity, not worse than others: X не обсевок в поле ≃ X is not a nobody; X is no worse than anyone else; X is no slouch.

О-35 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ ПОД ОБСТРЕ́Л кого-что [VP; subj: human or collect] to (begin to) criticize s.o. or sth. harshly, sharply: X взял Y-а под обстрел ≃ Y came under fire from X; X began attacking ⟨firing away at⟩ Y; X opened fire on Y; X blasted Y.

О-36 • В ОБТЯ́ЖКУ [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing postmodif or adv] (a piece of clothing that) hugs the body, fits or is made to fit tightly: close-fitting; snug-fitting; [lim.] skintight.

Московское платье оказалось превосходно: коричневые полуфрачки с бронзовыми пуговками были сшиты в обтяжку — не так, как в деревне нам шивали, на рост… (Толстой 2). Our Moscow clothes turned out to be superb: the brown dress coats had bronze buttons and were made close-fitting—not like they had been made in the country, with room for you to grow (2b).

О-37 • (УДАРЯ́ТЬ ⟨БИТЬ rare⟩/УДА́РИТЬ) КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ О́БУХОМ ПО ГОЛОВЕ́ coll [VP or как etc + NP (subj-compl with $быть_{ø}$); subj: usu. abstr; fixed WO] (of an unexpected piece of news, event etc) to shock s.o. greatly: X был (для Y-а) как обухом по голове ≃ X hit Y like a thunderbolt ⟨a bolt of lightning, a ton of bricks⟩; X was (like) a body blow (to Y); Y was stunned by X.

Оба эти подонка… стали давать против меня показания. Чего только они не врали!.. Вышел я от следователя как убитый… Будто обухом по голове была для меня вся эта история (Буковский 1). …These two rats began giving evidence against me. The bullshit they talked!… I left the investigator's office poleaxed…. This whole business had been a body blow (1a).

О-38 • В ОБХО́Д [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. ~ (чего) идти, двигаться и т.п. Also: поехать, отправиться и т.п. В ОБЪЕ́ЗД (to go, travel somewhere) by an indirect route (that takes longer than the direct route): make a detour; go ⟨take⟩ a ⟨the⟩ roundabout way; go ⟨take⟩ the long way (around); [lim.] skirt sth.

…[Бородавкин] вынужден был отступить от горы с уроном. Пошли в обход, но здесь наткнулись на болото, которого никто не подозревал (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). …[Wartkin] was forced to retreat from the mountain with casualties. They started to make a detour, but now they ran up against a swamp, the existence of which no one had suspected (1a).

2. ~ кого-чего идти, двигаться и т.п. mil (to go, maneuver) around the flank (of an opposing military unit): outflank(ing).

…Мюрат, желая загладить свою ошибку, тотчас же двинул свои войска на центр и в обход обоих флангов, надеясь ещё до вечера и до прибытия императора раздавить ничтожный, стоявший перед ним отряд (Толстой 4). Murat… anxious to make amends for his error, instantly moved his forces to attack the center and outflank both Russian wings, hoping before evening, and before the arrival of the Emperor, to crush the insignificant detachment facing him (4a).

3. ~ закона, правил и т.п. avoiding the observance of (the law, rules, regulations etc): in contravention of the law ⟨the rules etc⟩; (by) going against ⟨skirting, getting around, sidestepping⟩ the law ⟨the rules etc⟩.

Фалина назначили директором в обход Петрова, хотя Петров был гораздо опытнее его. In appointing Falin director, they passed over Petrov, even though Petrov was far more experienced. ♦ Только такой романтический болван, как один титулярный советник (кстати, произведённый в это звание в обход других более достойных людей) мог всерьёз поверить в роковую страсть на кастильский манер (Акунин 8). Only a romantic blockhead such as a certain titular counselor (who had, in fact, been promoted to that rank over the heads of other, more worthy individuals) could have seriously believed in a fatal passion in the Castilian style! (8a).

О-39 • НЕ ИМЕТЬ НИЧЕГО́ О́БЩЕГО с кем-чем; НЕТ НИЧЕГО́ О́БЩЕГО у кого-чего с кем-чем [VP, subj: usu. human or abstr (1st var.); $VP_{subj/gen}$ (2nd var.)] not to be associated with or conditioned by s.o. or sth.: X не имеет ничего общего с Y-ом ≃ X has nothing to do with Y; thing X bears no relation to thing Y; thing X has no connection with thing Y; thing X isn't connected with thing Y.

Мерин сказал, что распределение людей по социальной иерархии не имеет ничего общего с умственными способностями (Зиновьев 1). Gelding said that the positions allocated to people on the social ladder bore no relation to their intellectual capabilities (1a).

О-40 • В О́БЩЕМ [PrepP; Invar; sent adv (often parenth)] generally speaking, considering everything together, taking everything important into consideration: on the whole; by and large; all in all; all things considered; in general; [lim.] in sum; taken as a whole; taking everything together ⟨into account⟩; [when summarizing] in short; put simply.

[Астров:] Переходим к третьей части: картина уезда в настоящем… От прежних выселков, хуторков, скитов, мельниц и следа нет. В общем, картина постепенного и несомненного вырождения… (Чехов 3). [A.:] Now let's go to the third section: a map of the district as it is today…. There's not a trace of the settlements, farms, hermitages, water mills. On the whole it is a picture of gradual and unmistakable degeneration… (3a). ♦ [Нина:] Сегодня я вас познакомлю. Он [мой жених] хороший парень. [Бусыгин:] Я представляю. Наверно, он большой и добрый… Волевой, целеустремлённый. В общем, за ним ты — как за каменной стеной (Вампилов 4). [N.:] I'll introduce you to him [my fiancé] today. He's a good boy. [B.:] I can imagine. I expect he's big, and generous…. Put simply, in him you'll have a tower of strength to protect you (4a).

О-41 • В О́БЩЕМ И ЦЕ́ЛОМ [PrepP; Invar; sent adv (often parenth); fixed WO] in general, in essence, without considering all the particulars, details: on the whole; all in all; by and large; generally speaking.

…Валерий Кирпиченко не обращал на него особого внимания. Понятно, фамилию эту знал и личность была знакомая — электрик Банин, но в общем и целом человек это был незаметный, несмотря на весь шум, который вокруг него поднимали по праздникам (Аксёнов 5). …Kirpichenko never took much notice of him. He knew the name, of course, and he knew who the fellow was—Banin, the electrician—but by and large he didn't stand out in a crowd despite all the fuss kicked up about him on the big holidays (5a).

О-42 • С РАСПРОСТЁРТЫМИ ОБЪЯ́ТИЯМИ принимать, встречать кого coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to receive, welcome s.o.) warmly, cordially: with open arms.

С большим мастерством, с живостью изложения необыкновенной (её можно почти принять за сострадание), Страннолюбский описывает его [Чернышевского] водворение на жительство в Астрахани. Никто не встречал его с распростёртыми объятиями… (Набоков 1). With great mastery and with the utmost vividness of exposition (it might almost be taken for compassion) Strannolyubski describes his [Chernyshevski's] installation in his Astrakhan residence. No one met him with open arms… (1a).

О-43 • В ОБЪЯ́ТИЯХ МОРФЕ́Я быть$_{ø}$, находиться; В ОБЪЯ́ТИЯ МОРФЕ́Я ⟨К МОРФЕ́Ю⟩ пора и т.п. old-fash, elev [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula with subj: human (1st var.) or adv; fixed WO] (to be) asleep, (it is time to go) to sleep: be (nestled) in ⟨fall into⟩ the arms of Morpheus; be in the Land of Nod.

Базаров начал зевать. «Я полагаю, пора путешественникам в объятия к Морфею», — заметил Василий Иванович (Тургенев 2). Bazarov began to yawn. "I suppose it's time our travelers were nestled in the arms of Morpheus," observed Vasily Ivanovich (2g). Bazarov began to yawn. "I suppose it is time for our travellers to fall into the arms of Morpheus," observed Vassily Ivanych (2c).

О-44 • ДУШИ́ТЬ/ЗАДУШИ́ТЬ В ОБЪЯ́ТИЯХ кого [VP; subj: human] to embrace s.o. firmly, with emotion: X душил Y-а в объятиях ≃ X smothered Y with embraces.

[Лидия:] Теперь уж, когда мне придёт в голову задушить тебя в своих объятиях, так я задушу (Островский 4). [L.:] And now, when I take it into my head to smother you with embraces, I'm going to do it (4a).

О-45 • ПО ОБЫКНОВЕ́НИЮ; ПО СВО́ЕМУ ОБЫКНОВЕ́НИЮ [PrepP; these forms only; sent adv (often parenth)] as is always the case, as s.o. or sth. always does: as usual; as always; as is one's habit ⟨custom, wont, way⟩; following one's usual habit of (doing sth.); [lim.] one's ⟨its⟩ usual…; [when used disapprovingly or ironically] true to form (, one did sth.).

[Павлин:] Газеты же, по обыкновению, лгут! (Горький 2). [P.:] The papers are lying, as usual (2a). ♦ …Судя по грохоту кастрюль, доносившемуся из кухни, можно было допустить, что Бегемот находится именно там, валяя дурака, по своему обыкновению (Булгаков 9). Judging… from the crash of pots and pans coming from the kitchen, it could be deduced that Behemoth was there, playing the fool, as was his habit (9c).

О-46 • ПРО́ТИВ ОБЫКНОВЕ́НИЯ; ВОПРЕКИ́ ОБЫКНОВЕ́НИЮ [PrepP; Invar; sent adv (often parenth)] in contrast to what is usually the case, what s.o. or sth. usually does etc: contrary to usual…; contrary to one's custom ⟨habit⟩; contrary to (one's) usual ⟨normal⟩ practice; contrary to routine ⟨normal, standard⟩ procedure; …which is quite unusual for s.o.; [lim.] for once; unusually [AdvP or AdjP].

Илья Ильич [Обломов] проснулся, против обыкновения, очень рано, часов в восемь (Гончаров 1). Oblomov, contrary to his custom, had woken up very early—about eight o'clock (1a). Ilya Ilich had awoken very early, contrary to habit, at about eight o'clock (1d). Ilya Ilyich had woken up at about eight o'clock, an unusually early hour for him (1c). ♦ Майор, против обыкновения, оказался на месте (Максимов 1). For once the major was in his office (1a).

О-47 • ВМЕНЯ́ТЬ/ВМЕНИ́ТЬ В ОБЯ́ЗАННОСТЬ кому что or что делать [VP; subj: human] to obligate s.o. or o.s. to do sth.: X вменил Y-у ⟨себе⟩ в обязанность делать Z ≃ X made it Y's ⟨X's⟩ duty to do Z; X imposed on Y ⟨on himself⟩ a duty to do Z; X considered it Y's ⟨X's⟩ obligation ⟨duty⟩ to do Z; X considered it an obligation ⟨a duty⟩ to do Z; [lim.] X made it a requirement that Y do Z.

Повторяю: я вменил себе в обязанность писать, ничего не утаивая (Замятин 1). I repeat: I have made it my duty to write without concealing anything (1a). ♦ Как когда-то ей самой Шунечка, она вменяла своим женщинам улыбку в обязанность, в служебный долг (Грекова 3). As Shunechka had done to her, she imposed on her women a duty to smile as part of their work (3a).

О-48 • ОТДЕЛЯ́ТЬ/ОТДЕЛИ́ТЬ ОВЕ́Ц ОТ КО́ЗЛИЩ lit [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] to separate the good from the bad, the useful from the harmful (may refer to people): separate the sheep from the goats; make a distinction between the sheep and the goats.

…Именно люди двадцатых годов начали аккуратно отделять овец от козлищ, своих от чужих, сторонников «нового» от тех, кто ещё не забыл самых примитивных правил общежития (Мандельштам 1). It was the people of the twenties who first began to make a neat distinction between the sheep and the goats, between "us" and "them," between upholders of the "new" and those still mindful of the basic rules that governed human relations in the past (1a).

О-49 • ОВЛАДЕВА́ТЬ/ОВЛАДЕ́ТЬ СОБО́Й; СПРАВЛЯ́ТЬСЯ/СПРА́ВИТЬСЯ С СОБО́Й [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to overcome one's agitation, nervousness, distress etc and gain control of o.s.: X овладел собой ≃ X recovered his self-control; X composed ⟨collected⟩ himself; X regained control of himself ⟨his composure⟩; X took himself in hand; X pulled himself together; X got a grip on himself.

…Иван Фёдорович, по-видимому, совсем уже успел овладеть собой (Достоевский 2). …Ivan Fyodorovich had now apparently managed to regain control of himself (2a).

О-50 • ВСЯ́КОМУ ⟨КА́ЖДОМУ⟩ О́ВОЩУ СВОЁ ВРЕ́МЯ [saying] there is a proper time for all undertakings: ≃ everything in its season; there's a (right) time for everything.

О-51 • ЗАБЛУ́ДШАЯ ОВЦА́ ⟨ОВЕ́ЧКА⟩ lit [NP: usu. sing] a person who has strayed from a righteous way of life: lost sheep; sheep that has gone astray.

< From the Bible (Matt. 18:12, Luke 15:4–6).

О-52 • (ОДНА́) ПАРШИ́ВАЯ ОВЦА́ ВСЁ СТА́ДО ПО́РТИТ [saying] a bad person has a harmful effect on the group to which he belongs or creates a bad impression of the group he represents: ≃ one rotten ⟨bad⟩ apple spoils the whole barrel; one scabby sheep infects the whole flock.

О-53 • С ПАРШИ́ВОЙ ОВЦЫ́ ХОТЬ ШЕ́РСТИ КЛОК [saying] you might as well take whatever you can get from s.o., even though it is unsatisfactory etc, because you will not get anything better and you will be the one to lose out by refusing it (said with disdain about s.o. who produces sth. inferior, is inferior in some way etc): ≃ even a mangy sheep is good for a little wool; something is better than nothing; half a loaf is better than none.

О-54 • ОВЧИ́НКА ВЫ́ДЕЛКИ НЕ СТО́ИТ [saying] the matter in question is not worth the time, energy, resources spent on it: ≃ the game isn't worth the candle; it's more trouble than it's worth; it's not worth the trouble; it won't pay.

Относись к своей работе как ко всякой работе, дающей средства существования, но не вкладывай в неё душу. Овчинка выделки не стоит (Зиновьев 2). Consider your work like any job that keeps you in food, but don't try to put your soul into it. The game isn't worth the candle (2a).

О-55 • ПОЛУЧА́ТЬ/ПОЛУЧИ́ТЬ ОГЛА́СКУ [VP; subj: abstr (often дело, история etc)] to become known to a lot of people: X получил огласку ≃ X became widely known; X became public knowledge; [lim.] X was publicized.

Все знали… что дело это получило всероссийскую огласку, но всё-таки не представляли себе, что оно до такой уже жгучей, до такой раздражительной степени потрясло всех и каждого… (Достоевский 2). Everyone… knew that the case had been publicized all over Russia, but even so they never imagined that it had shaken all and sundry to such a burning, such an intense degree… (2a).

О-56 • КАК ОГЛАШЕ́ННЫЙ ⟨ОШАЛЕ́ЛЫЙ⟩ highly coll, disapprov [как + AdjP; nom only; adv (intensif)] 1. орать, кричать ~ (to yell, shout) very loudly, furiously, hysterically: (shout ⟨scream⟩) like mad ⟨crazy⟩; (yell ⟨scream⟩) one's head off; (scream) like a banshee ⟨the dickens⟩; scream bloody murder ⟨as if possessed⟩.

2. бежать, носиться, метаться и т.п. ~ to run, run around, race in a panicky fashion, as if one has lost his mind: (run ⟨rush about etc⟩) like mad ⟨crazy⟩; (run ⟨rush around etc⟩) like a madman ⟨a madwoman⟩; (run ⟨rush about etc⟩) like one possessed.

О-57 • ПОВОРА́ЧИВАТЬ/ПОВЕРНУ́ТЬ ⟨ПОВОРОТИ́ТЬ⟩ ОГЛО́БЛИ (НАЗА́Д) highly coll [VP; subj: human] 1. rude when addressed to the interlocutor to set off back in the direction from which one came, leave some place (usu. with the implication that one has failed, or is about to fail, to accomplish what one set out to do): X повернул оглобли ≃ X went back (where he came from); X (gave it up and) turned back; X turned back empty-handed; [lim.] X turned tail.

[Подхалюзин:] А то вон, что сватался за Алимпияду Самсоновну, благородный-то, — и оглобли назад поворотил (Островский 10). [P.:] As for that noble's courting Olimpiada Samsonovna—why he's turned tail already (10b).

2. [imper only; fixed WO] rude go away, leave immediately: поворачивай оглобли! ≃ clear out!; scram!; make yourself scarce!; beat it!; get lost!; buzz ⟨bug⟩ off!

3. to retreat from one's former position, renounce one's former convictions, go back on one's promise(s) etc: X повернул оглобли ≃ X did ⟨made⟩ an about-face; X backpedaled; X changed his tune.

О-58 • БЕЗ ОГЛЯ́ДКИ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. бежать, убегать и т.п. ~ (to run, run away etc) very quickly and without turning around to look behind one: (fast and) without a backward glance; (fast and) without looking back; with abandon.

Орозкул встал, подтянул штаны и, боясь оглянуться, затрусил прочь… Но Кулубек остановил его: «Стой! Мы тебе скажем последнее слово. У тебя никогда не будет детей. Ты злой и негодный человек… Уходи — и чтобы навсегда. А ну быстрее!» Орозкул побежал без оглядки (Айтматов 1). Orozkul stood up, pulled up his trousers, and, afraid to glance back, ran away at a quick trot…. But Kulubek stopped him: "Wait! We'll say to you one final word. You will never have any children. You are an evil and worthless man…. Go from here—forever. Double quick!" Orozkul ran off without a backward glance (1a).

2. (to make a decision, set out upon a course of action etc) resolutely, without vacillation: without looking back; without a backward glance; without any hesitation; without a second thought; without thinking twice.

3. предаваться чему, делать что и т.п. ~ (to do sth.) unrestrainedly, forgetting all else, (indulge in sth.) without limiting o.s. etc: unreservedly; without restraint ⟨reserve⟩; (give o.s.) completely (to sth.).

4. любить кого, верить кому ~ (to love s.o.) to the greatest possible extent, (to trust s.o.) fully and completely: without any reservations; without reservation; unreservedly; unconditionally.

…Любить она [Кира] умела, как любят сейчас на Земле, — спокойно и без оглядки… (Стругацкие 4). Kyra was capable of true love, the way women on Earth would love—quiet and without any reservations (4a).

5. imprudently, without due consideration: carelessly; recklessly; rashly; thoughtlessly; indiscriminately.

Вместе с Ахматовой он [Мандельштам] выдумал игру: у каждого из них есть кучка талонов на признание поэтов, но она — жмот, сквалыга — свои талоны бережёт, а он истратил последний на старика Звенигородского и просит взаймы хоть один, хоть половинку… Она действительно свои талоны берегла, а в старости стала раздавать их без оглядки — направо и налево (Мандельштам 2). He [Mandelstam] and Akhmatova even invented a game: each of them had a certain number of tokens to be expended on the recognition of poets—but while she was tightfisted and hung on to her tokens for all she was worth, he spent his last one on old Zvenigorodski, and then had to beg her to "lend" him one, or even half of one…. Having hoarded them up so jealously, in her old age Akhmatova began to hand out her tokens indiscriminately, right, left, and center (2a).

О-59 • С ОГЛЯ́ДКОЙ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to do sth.) cautiously, warily: looking over one's shoulder; with a perpetual glance over one's shoulder; with caution; discreetly; with care; circumspectly.

Огромное большинство, миллионы людей, оплакивали Сталина и в рыданиях спрашивали друг друга: что же теперь будет? Другие радовались, но — молча, недоверчиво и с оглядкой. И лишь немногие рисковали выражать свою радость открыто (Ивинская 1). The vast majority, millions of people, wept for Stalin and asked each other through sobs: what will happen now? Others rejoiced—but in silence, furtively, and looking over their shoulders. Only very few were bold enough to give open expression to their joy (1a).

О-60 • ОГЛЯНУ́ТЬСЯ НЕ УСПЕ́ЕШЬ ⟨НЕ УСПЕ́ЕТ и т.п.⟩, (как…) coll [VP; subj: human; often fut gener. 2nd pers sing не успеешь] (sth. will happen, take place etc) very quickly, almost immediately: before you know it; before you have time to look around; before you can turn ⟨look⟩ around.

Она сказала Андрею в тот разговор, когда он пристал с расспросами, что человек живёт на свете всего ничего. И верно, не успеешь оглянуться — жизнь прошла (Распутин 4). She had told Andrei when he was pestering her with questions that man lives almost no time at all. And it was true—before you knew it, life was over (4a).

О-61 • МЕЖДУ ⟨МЕЖ⟩ ДВУХ ОГНЕ́Й coll [PrepP; these forms only; usu. adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: human, collect, or, rare, abstr); fixed WO] (to be, find o.s.) in a difficult situation, when danger or trouble threatens from both sides: between two fires; between a rock and a hard place; between the devil and the deep blue sea; caught in the crossfire.

«Жена совершенно права. И без вас не сладко. Собачья жизнь, сумасшедший дом. Всё время меж двух огней…» (Пастернак 1). "My wife is quite right. Things are bad enough without you. It's a dog's life, a madhouse. I am caught between two fires" (1a). ♦ «Он [Андрей] оказался меж двух огней. Подозрение сверху и подозрение снизу…» (Аксёнов 12). "He's [Andrei is] caught between a rock and a hard place. Suspicion from above and suspicion from below…" (12a).

О-62 • ГОРИ́ ОГНЁМ кто-что; ГОРИ́ (ОНО́) СИ́НИМ ⟨Я́СНЫМ⟩ ОГНЁМ ⟨ПЛА́МЕНЕМ⟩; ГОРИ́ (ОНО́ ⟨ВСЁ⟩) ПРА́ХОМ all coll [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] used to express indignation, resentment, annoyance: to ⟨the⟩ hell with s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; I don't give a damn ⟨a hoot⟩ about s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; damn s.o. ⟨sth., it all⟩.

…Возможность поохотиться за живым умыкателем девушки вызвала в нём [Тенделе] прилив такого бескорыстного азарта, что он остался совершенно холоден к возможности получения патефона… «Гори огнём ваш патефон! — даже прикрикнул он на них. — Вы что, не видите, что творится?» (Искандер 3). The opportunity to go hunting for the live abductor of a maiden roused him [Tendel] to such unselfish fervor that he remained completely cold to the opportunity to acquire a phonograph…. "To hell with your phonograph!" he even shouted at them. "Don't you see what's happening?" (3a).

О-63 • ДНЁМ С ОГНЁМ не найти, не найдёшь, не сыскать, не сыщешь, поискать и т.п. кого-что or чего coll [AdvP; Invar; adv; usu. used with infin or neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing не найдёшь etc; fixed WO] (of a person with remarkable qualities or qualifications, or a thing rarely come across or difficult to obtain) rare, almost impossible to find even when much effort is put into searching: X-а ⟨такого or таких, как X,⟩ днём с огнём не найдёшь ≃ Xs ⟨people like X, things like X⟩ are hard to find ⟨(as) scarce as hen's teeth⟩; never in the world will you find another X ⟨another ([NP]) like X⟩; try as you may ⟨might⟩ you'll never find another X ⟨another ([NP]) like X⟩; [lim.] person X is one in a million; you can't get thing X for love (n)or money.

«Ну и бедна ж ты бедами, мать! Гляди, как Бог тебя милует. Днём с огнём таких поискать» (Пастернак 1). "Well, you are poor in sorrows, my dear. See how merciful God has been to you! Such as you are hard to find" (1a). ♦ Днём с огнём не сыщешь другого такого человека, который умел бы так держать себя в руках (Искандер 3). Never in the world will you find another man with the self-control that he has (3a).

О-64 • ИГРА́ТЬ ⟨ШУТИ́ТЬ⟩ С ОГНЁМ [VP; subj: human] to act imprudently, do things that may bring about dangerous consequences: X играет с огнём ≃ X is playing with fire; X is courting disaster; X is flirting with danger ⟨disaster⟩; X is inviting trouble.

«…У людей такой отчаянной жизни иногда бывает желание поиграть с огнём и попытать судьбу» (Паустовский 1). "…People who live desperate lives often want to play with fire and tempt their fate" (1b).

О-65 • ОГНЁМ И МЕЧО́М покорить кого-что и т.п. lit [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to conquer, vanquish) brutally: with fire and sword; ruthlessly; mercilessly; raining death on s.o.

О-66 • ПРЕДАВА́ТЬ/ПРЕДА́ТЬ ОГНЮ́ что lit [subj: human or collect] to burn sth.: X-ы предали Y огню ≃ Xs set fire to Y; Xs torched ⟨put a torch to⟩ Y.

Несколько троек, наполненных разбойниками, разъезжали днём по всей губернии, останавливали путешественников и почту, приезжали в села, грабили помещичьи дома и предавали их огню (Пушкин 1). Several troikas, filled with brigands, roamed the whole province in broad daylight, holding up travellers and mail-coaches, driving down into the villages and robbing and setting fire to the houses of the landowners (1b). All over the province, in broad daylight, brigands were driving about in troikas, stopping travellers and mail-coaches, entering villages, pillaging and torching the houses of landowners (1c).

О-67 • ПРЕДАВА́ТЬ/ПРЕДА́ТЬ ОГНЮ́ И МЕЧУ́ кого-что lit [VP; subj: human or collect; obj: usu. землю, страну etc] to ravage sth. mercilessly, destroying and burning everything: X-ы предали Y огню и мечу ≃ Xs wreaked destruction upon Y; Xs laid Y waste with fire and sword; Xs reduced Y to rubble and ashes.

«…Ты идёшь со своими сотнями, как Тарас Бульба… и всё предаёшь огню и мечу и казаков волнуешь. Ты остепенись, пожалуйста, пленных смерти не предавай, а направляй к нам» (Шолохов 4). "…You are riding with your squadrons like Taras Bulba… laying everything waste with fire and sword, and alarming the Cossacks. Steady up, please and stop putting prisoners to death; send them to us instead" (4a).

О-68 • попасть ИЗ ОГНЯ́ (ДА) В ПО́ЛЫМЯ [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to get) out of one difficult situation, condition etc and (fall) into an equally difficult or more difficult one: ≃ out of the frying pan (and) into the fire.

Мы были остановлены караульными. На вопрос: кто едет? — ямщик отвечал громогласно: «Государев кум со своею хозяюшкою». Вдруг толпа гусаров окружила нас с ужасною бранью. «Выходи, бесов кум!» — сказал мне усастый вахмистр… Вахмистр повёл меня к майору. Савельич от меня не отставал, поговаривая про себя: «Вот тебе и государев кум! Из огня да в полымя…» (Пушкин 2). We were stopped by the sentries. To the challenge, "Who goes there?" our driver replied in a thunderous voice, "The Sovereign's trusty friend with his bride." Suddenly a throng of hussars surrounded us, swearing frightfully. "Get out of there, devil's trusty friend!" the sergeant said to me…. The sergeant proceeded to conduct me to the major. Savelich followed right behind me, muttering to himself, "So much for the Sovereign's trusty friend! Out of the frying pan into the fire!" (2a).

О-69 • КАК ⟨ПУ́ЩЕ obs⟩ ОГНЯ́ бояться кого-чего coll [как + NP; these forms only; adv (intensif)] (to fear s.o. or sth.) very intensely: X боится Y-а как огня ≃ X fears Y like the plague ⟨like the very devil⟩; X is scared stiff of Y; X lives in mortal fear of Y.

Борис Григорьевич боялся её [Зайцеву] как огня. Зайцева была из тех администраторов, которые свою малую, временную власть над людьми воспринимают как великую, вечную (Грекова 3). Boris Grigorievich feared her [Zaitseva] like the plague. Zaitseva was one of those administrators who perceive their limited temporary power over people as great and permanent… (3a).

О-70 • НА ОГОНЁК к кому зайти, заглянуть, забежать coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to call on s.o.) while passing by his home, having seen by his lighted window(s) that he is home (occas. may refer to one's calling on s.o. at his office after hours etc): X зашёл к Y-у на огонёк ≃ X saw Y's light(s) ⟨the light in Y's window⟩ and dropped in ⟨decided to drop in etc⟩.

…[Михаил] хлопнул калиткой, топнул сапогами по мосткам… и первый раз не ползком, не на четвереньках, а как мужчина, с распрямлённой спиной поднялся на крыльцо… Он сказал: «Шёл мимо — давай, думаю, на огонёк…» (Абрамов 1). He [Mikhail] banged the gate, stamped his boots on the plank footpath… and for the first time went up to the porch, not crawling on all fours, but standing up straight like a man…. He said, "I was just passing by and I saw the light in the window, so…" (1a).

О-71 • (ИДТИ́/ПОЙТИ́) В ОГО́НЬ И В ВО́ДУ за кого-что, за кем coll [VP or PrepP (used as predic); subj: human or collect; often used with готов; fixed WO] to perform selfless acts without hesitation, despite personal risk or danger (out of devotion to some person, cause etc): X готов за Y-а в огонь и в воду ≃ X would go through fire and water for Y; X would go through hell and ⟨or⟩ high water for Y; X would go to hell and back for Y.

…За каких-нибудь двадцать-тридцать минут Подрезов так накалил молодняк, что тот готов был ради него и в огонь, и в воду (Абрамов 1). …Within twenty or thirty minutes, Podrezov had the young men so revved up that they were ready to go through fire and water for him (1a).

О-72 • ПРОЙТИ́ (СКВОЗЬ ⟨ЧЕРЕЗ, И⟩) ОГО́НЬ И ВО́ДУ ⟨ОГНИ́ И ВО́ДЫ⟩ (И МЕ́ДНЫЕ ТРУ́БЫ) coll [VP; subj: human; usu. past; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] (of a person who, in the course of a difficult or complex life, has acquired vast life experience; occas. of a person with a tarnished reputation, undiscriminating sexual experiences etc) to experience, endure much: X прошёл огонь и воду (и медные трубы) ≃ X has been ⟨gone⟩ through fire and water; X has survived fire and water; X has been through the mill ⟨through it all, through hell, through the wringer⟩; X has been there and back; [lim.] there's nothing X doesn't know.

Осталась она [при немцах] потому, что как пострадавшая от Советской власти ждала себе от немцев много хорошего и, пройдя огни и воды и медные трубы… решила, что и здесь не пропадёт (Рыбаков 1). She had stayed behind because she thought that, as someone who had suffered under Soviet rule, she could do well for herself with the Germans, and as she had already survived fire and water… she thought she would survive this, too (1a).

О-73 • С ОГОНЬКО́М coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to do sth.) with enthusiasm, animation: with zest ⟨verve⟩.

…А как работали, разве так, как теперь? С огоньком работали, с душой (Суслов 1). And how they worked, not at all like now! They worked with zest, with spirit (1a).

О-74 • ОГОРО́Д ГОРОДИ́ТЬ coll [VP; subj: human; usu. infin with для чего, стоит ли, не стоит, незачем etc; fixed WO] to undertake some bothersome and unnecessary matter: не надо было огород городить ≃ I ⟨we etc⟩ shouldn't have started the whole thing ⟨bothered, made a fuss etc⟩ (in the first place); ‖ зачем огород городить? ≃ why go to the trouble ⟨make a fuss etc⟩?

О-75 • В ОГОРО́ДЕ БУЗИНА́, А В КИ́ЕВЕ ДЯ́ДЬКА [saying] there is no logical connection between the various things s.o. is saying: ≃ you're mixing apples and oranges; that's (mixing) apples and oranges.

…Все, как один, остались скорбно сидеть в своём классе, не поднимаясь в кабинет физики… (Битов 2). …One and all were still sitting mournfully in the classroom, not going up to the physics lab (2a). ♦ Женщины, стоявшие со мной в очереди, в разговоры старались не ввязываться. Все как одна утверждали, что их мужей взяли по ошибке и скоро выпустят… (Мандельштам 1). The women who stood in line with me tried not to get drawn into conversation. They all, without exception, said that their husbands had been arrested by mistake and would soon be released (1a).

О-81 • ОДИ́Н ЗА ВСЕХ, ВСЕ ЗА ОДНОГО́; ВСЕ ЗА ОДНОГО́, ОДИ́Н ЗА ВСЕХ [saying] each person (within a certain group) supports, defends, and feels bound by friendship to the others: ≃ all for one and one for all.

«У них все за одного, один за всех. Знаешь, что у них на выпускном жетоне будет написано: „Счастье — в жизни, а жизнь — в работе "» (Каверин 1). "They're all for one and one for all. You know, the motto on their leaving certificates is: 'Happiness comes from life, and life from work'" (1a).

О-82 • ОДИ́Н ЗА ДРУГИ́М [NP; fixed WO] each following the one in front of him or it: one after another ⟨the other⟩; one by one.

Опять шли гуськом тени одна за другой, всё шли, всё шли… (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). Again the shadows walked one after another in single file, kept walking, kept walking… (1a).

О-83 • ОДИ́Н К ОДНОМУ́[1] ⟨В ОДНОГО́, В ОДИ́Н⟩; ОДНА́ К ОДНО́Й ⟨В ОДНУ́⟩; ОДНО́ К ОДНОМУ́ ⟨В ОДНО́⟩ all coll, usu. approv [NP; these forms only; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human, animal, or concr, pl) or detached modif; fixed WO] (usu. in refer. to the physical features of some people, animals, or things) all are exceptional, or (when a particular quality is specified) all possess the positive quality in question to a great degree: one better than the other ⟨the next⟩; first-class ⟨topnotch⟩, every one of them; all equally good; you won't find a better bunch ⟨group etc⟩; each ⟨one⟩ more [AdjP] than the next.

Сверх одного, по-настоящему стреляющего пистолета, были у нас две деревянные модели, которые я сделал с отцовского пистолета «ТТ» один к одному, миллиметр к миллиметру и выкрасил в чёрную блестящую краску (Лимонов 1). In addition to one pistol that really fired, we had two wooden models that I had fashioned after my father's TT pistol, exactly like it, millimeter for millimeter, and painted a shiny black (1a).

O-85 • ОДИ́Н НА ОДИ́Н (с кем-чем) [NP; Invar; fixed WO] 1. остаться (с кем-чем), поговорить (с кем) ~ и т.п. [subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or adv] (to remain with s.o. or sth., have a talk with s.o. etc) in private, without others: alone (with s.o. ⟨sth.⟩); one on one.

Я снова останусь один на один со своим героем… (Аржак 2). Again I'll remain alone with my hero… (2a).

Дедушка был один на один с десятком рассвирепевших ломовых извозчиков, которые готовы были своими ломами сделать из него котлету (Рыбаков 1). Grandfather was alone against ten infuriated wagon-drivers who intended to use their crowbars to turn him into mincemeat (1a).

O-86 • ОДИ́Н-ОДИНЁХОНЕК ⟨-ОДИНЁШЕНЕК⟩; ОДНА́-ОДИНЁХОНЬКА ⟨-ОДИНЁШЕНЬКА⟩ all coll [AdjP; usu. nom; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or detached modif] absolutely and completely alone: all alone; all by one's lonesome; all by o.s.

Бывало, он меня не замечает, а я стою у двери и думаю: «Бедный, бедный старик! Нас много, мы играем, нам весело, а он — один-одинёшенек…» (Толстой 2). Sometimes he did not notice me and I would stand at the door and think. Poor, poor old man! There are lots of us, we can play and it's fun for us, but he—he's all alone…" (2b).

O-87 • В ОДИНО́ЧКУ [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. separately, not with others, apart from others: alone; by itself ⟨himself etc⟩; singly; [in limited contexts; of people only] in solitude.

Выйдя из лесу, они увидели стоявший в одиночку дом. Coming out of the woods, they caught sight of a house standing by itself. ♦ Одно время начальник лагеря ещё такой приказ издал: никаким заключённым в одиночку по зоне не ходить (Солженицын 7). At one time the camp commandant had given orders that zeks were not to walk about the camp singly (7c).

2. by one's own efforts, without the participation of or help from others: (all) alone; on one's own; by o.s.; single-handed(ly); [lim.] go it alone; make one's own way ⟨do one's own thing etc⟩.

Ему не нужна поддержка начальства, ему не нужна любовь друзей, душевная общность с женой, он умеет воевать в одиночку (Гроссман 2). No, he didn't need the authorities' support, his friends' affection or his wife's understanding; he could fight on alone (2a). ♦ «За обедом Марья Ивановна сказала Жене: «Евгения Николаевна, если разрешите, я могу пойти вместе с вами… Вдвоём как-то легче». Женя смутилась, ответила: «Нет, нет, спасибо большое, уж эти дела надо делать в одиночку» (Гроссман 2). While they were eating, Marya Ivanovna said to Yevgenia: "Let me go with you, Yevgenia Nikolaevna…. It's always easier with someone else." Yevgenia looked very embarrassed. "No, no," she said, "but thank you very much. There are things one has to do on one's own…" (2a).

O-88 • ОДНО́ К ОДНОМУ́ coll [NP; Invar; indep. clause or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: всё), pres only; fixed WO] (this is a case in which) one trouble is coming right after another: (it's) one thing after another; (it's) one thing ⟨trouble⟩ on top of another; [lim.] it never rains but it pours; troubles never come singly.

[Василиса:] Гошка!.. (Плачет.) [Егор:] Что ты? [Василиса:] Я боюсь. [Егор:] За Марию? [Василиса:] И за неё, и… ох, как всё одно к одному!.. За тебя тоже боюсь (Салынский 1). [V.:] Yegor! (Bursts into tears.) [Y.:] What's the matter? [V.:] I'm afraid. [Y.:] For Maria? [V.:] For her too and—oh, troubles never come singly. I'm afraid for you too (1a).

O-90 • ПО ОДНОМУ́ [PrepP; Invar; adv] singly, not all together, following in succession: one by one; one at a time; [lim.] in single file.

Альбом держат в кабинете Куненко, впускают туда по одному членов правления и запирают снаружи каждого на десять минут (Аксёнов 12). The album was kept in Kunenko's office, and they let in one member of the Union board at a time for ten minutes and locked the door from the outside (12a).

O-91 • В ОДНОЧА́СЬЕ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] in a very short period of time, almost instantly: overnight; in no time (at all); in nothing ⟨no time⟩ flat; suddenly; all of a sudden; at once; just like that; [when impulsiveness is emphasized] on the spur of the moment.

Сама Анна Фёдоровна осталась… без матери, когда Мур в одночасье бросила доктора Шторха по мгновенному вдохновению, выйдя однажды из дому и как бы забыв вернуться (Улицкая 2). Anna herself was… left without a mother, when Mour ditched Doctor Storch on the spur of the moment, walking out of the house one day and seemingly just forgetting to come back (2a).

О-92 • НА СМЕ́РТНОМ ОДРЕ́ elev; НА ОДРЕ́ СМЕ́РТИ obs [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human), obj-compl with найти, застать кого (obj: human), or sent adv; fixed WO] when s.o. is dying, in a state close to death: on one's ⟨s.o.'s⟩ deathbed.

Поздно, поздно переучивать человека на смертном одре (Абрамов 1). It's too late to re-educate a man, when he's on his deathbed (1a).

О-93 • БО́ЖИЙ ОДУВА́НЧИК coll, iron [NP; fixed WO] a very old, frail person (usu. said condescendingly, although not unkindly; more often of a woman): (nice) little old lady ⟨man⟩; old granny ⟨grandpa⟩.

О-94 • СВЕРХ ⟨ПРОТИВ⟩ (ВСЯ́КОГО) ОЖИДА́НИЯ ⟨(ВСЯ́КИХ) ОЖИДА́НИЙ⟩; ВОПРЕКИ́ (ВСЯ́КОМУ) ОЖИДА́НИЮ ⟨(ВСЯ́КИМ) ОЖИДА́НИЯМ⟩ [PrepP; these forms only; sent adv (parenth)] in spite of or exceeding what is expected: contrary to (all) expectation(s); against all (one's) expectations.

Митька лоснился сдерживаемой радостью. Торжество сквозило в каждом его движении. Сотник против ожидания показался Григорию нимало не сконфуженным… (Шолохов 2). Mitka was glistening with restrained joy. Triumph surged through every movement. Contrary to expectations, the lieutenant seemed not in the least put out… (2a).

О-95 • О́Й ЛИ? highly coll [Interj; Invar] used in reaction to a statement to show that one doubts, disbelieves, is skeptical of, or does not entirely agree with it (in some cases surprise is expressed as well): (oh,) really ⟨yeah⟩?; is that so?; you don't say (so)!; I'm not so sure (about that); [lim.] is it ⟨do you, have they etc⟩?

Нам так нужно, и мы в этом не виноваты. Не виноваты? Ой ли? (Аксёнов 6). That is what we need, and it is not our fault. Not our fault? Really? (6a). ♦ [Вера:] В таком случае вы можете ему сказать… что я готова за него замуж выйти. [Шпигельский (с радостным изумлением):] Ой ли? (Тургенев 1). [V.:] Then, you can tell him… that I am willing to marry him. [Sh. (with joyful amazement):] You don't say so! (1a). ♦ [Мелания:] Притворяется он сумасшедшим. Притворяется… [Ксения:] Ой ли? (Горький 2). [M.:] He's pretending to be mad. Just pretending…. [K.:] I'm not so sure (2a).

О-96 • НЕДРЕМА́ННОЕ О́КО iron [NP; sing only] a vigilant observation (formerly often used in relation to political police, it came to refer to censors, the KGB etc during the Soviet period): watchful ⟨vigilant⟩ eye; unslumbering ⟨unblinking⟩ eye.

…[Посреди толпы] недреманным оком бодрствовал неустрашимый штаб-офицер (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). …[Among the crowd] the intrepid staff-officer was keeping vigil with watchful eye (1a).

О-97 • О́КО ЗА О́КО (, ЗУБ ЗА ЗУБ) lit [usu. indep. sent; fixed WO] an insult, injury is avenged in the same way, a punishment is as cruel as the crime: an eye for an eye (and a tooth for a tooth).

«Неужели, Юра, трудно понять, что если всегда „око за око", то кровь никогда не кончится» (Максимов 3). "Surely it isn't so hard to understand, Yura, that if it's always 'an eye for an eye' there'll never be an end to bloodshed" (3a).

О-98 • (ХОТЬ) ВИ́ДИТ О́КО, ДА ЗУБ НЕЙМЁТ [indep. sent; fixed WO] the thing one strongly desires is or seems to be near, yet is not attainable: so near and yet so far.

< From Ivan Krylov's fable Fox and the Grapes («Лисица и Виноград»), 1808.

О-99 • В ОКРУЖЕ́НИИ [PrepP; Invar; Prep, used with pl or collect nouns; the resulting PrepP is adv] 1. ~ кого together with or encircled by (other people): surrounded by; flanked by; accompanied by; in the company of.

Тогда Маргарита опять увидела Воланда. Он шёл в окружении Абадонны, Азазелло и ещё нескольких похожих на Абадонну… (Булгаков 9). Then Margarita again caught sight of Woland. He was walking, surrounded by Abaddon, Azazello, and several others who resembled Abaddon… (9c).

2. ~ чего having (some things) around (s.o. or sth.): among; in the midst ⟨middle⟩ of; surrounded by; amid; with… all around (s.o. ⟨sth.⟩).

Коттедж стоял далеко от дороги, в окружении берёз. The cottage was set back from the road and surrounded by birches. ♦ «Представляю себе: лежу я в гробу прекрасная и бледная, вся в окружении белых роз…» (Акунин 8). "I imagine myself lying there in my coffin, all pale and beautiful, with white roses all around me" (8a).

О-100 • О́ЛУХ ЦАРЯ́ НЕБЕ́СНОГО highly coll, derog, occas. humor [NP; fixed WO] a very stupid, dull-witted person: birdbrain; blockhead; half-wit; numskull.

О-101 • ТИ́ХИЙ О́МУТ [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a quiet, secretive person who has the capacity for deep thoughts, emotional experiences, unexpected actions etc: still waters (run deep).

< From the saying «В тихом омуте черти водятся». See O-102.

О-102 • В ТИ́ХОМ О́МУТЕ ЧЕ́РТИ ВО́ДЯТСЯ [saying] a quiet, secretive person is capable of deeds that might seem unexpected of him: ≃ still waters run deep.

«Одинцова очень мила — бесспорно, но она так холодно и строго себя держит, что…» — «В тихом омуте… ты знаешь!» — подхватил Базаров (Тургенев 2). "Madame Odintsov is very charming—there is no doubt about that—but so cold and reserved that…" "Still waters… you know," put in Bazarov (2c). "Odintsova is very nice—no doubt, but her behavior's so cold and severe that…" "Still waters run deep, you know!" Bazarov interrupted" (2g).

О-103 • СО ВСЕ́МИ ОНЁРАМИ obs, humor [PrepP; Invar; postmodif or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: abstr or concr); fixed WO] having, possessing, displaying etc every possible desirable feature (characteristic, aspect etc): with all the trimmings; with everything one could possibly want; with the works.

< «Онёр» (from the French honneur) was a high trump card in some card games. The word is used in this idiom only.

О-104 • ИЗ ДРУГО́Й ⟨НЕ ИЗ ТОЙ⟩ О́ПЕРЫ coll [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. это); fixed WO] sth. is not related to the matter at hand: это из другой оперы ≃ that's another ⟨a different⟩ story; that's a different matter ⟨thing⟩.

«А та девушка, с которой вы… которая вас… которую я…» — пробормотал Толя. «Это… совсем из другой оперы», — суховато ответил Гурченко… (Аксёнов 6). "And that girl, who you… who you… whom I…" mumbled Tolya. "That… is quite another story," Gurchenko answered curtly… (6a).

О-105 • НЕ ПОДДАВА́ТЬСЯ ОПИСА́НИЮ [VP; subj: abstr] to be so strong, exceptional, far beyond the limits of the ordinary that it cannot be described: X не поддаётся описанию ≃ X beggars ⟨defies⟩ description; X is beyond description; words cannot describe ⟨express⟩ X.

Действие смертей и в особенности Суринамской жабы на Персикова не поддаётся описанию (Булгаков 10). The effect of the deaths, especially that of the Surinam toad, upon Persikov defies description (10a). The effect of the deaths, especially that of the Surinam toad, on Persikov is beyond description (10b).

О-106 • КАК ОПЛЁВАННЫЙ стоит, сидит, ходит, остался и т. п. highly coll [как + AdjP; nom only; adv] (of a person who feels) deeply (and usu. undeservedly) embarrassed, offended, insulted: (X стоял ⟨сидел и т. п.⟩) как оплёванный ≃ (X was standing ⟨sitting etc⟩ there) feeling deeply ⟨bitterly, totally etc⟩ humiliated; terribly ⟨horribly⟩ slighted; crushingly snubbed; feeling (as if he's been) chewed up and spit ⟨spat⟩ out.

«Он, наверно, выписывал немецкий журнал „Ярбух фюр психоаналитик унд психопатологик“», — высказал предположение неполноценный усач. Берлага стоял как оплёванный. А знатоки так и сыпали мудрёными выражениями из области теории и практики психоанализа (Ильф и Петров 2). The quasi-man with the mustache suggested, "He probably subscribed to that German journal, Jahrbuch für Psychoanalytische und Psychopathologische Forschungen." Berlaga stood there, completely humiliated, while the experts showered him with learned phrases from the theory and practice of psychoanalysis (2c).

О-107 • ГО́РЬКИЙ О́ПЫТ; often наученный, прийти к чему ГО́РЬКИМ О́ПЫТОМ; убедиться НА (СВОЁМ) ГО́РЬКОМ О́ПЫТЕ [NP, sing only, or PrepP (adv); fixed WO] (through) difficult experiences: (learn sth. by ⟨become wise from⟩) (one's) bitter experience; (find sth. out) the hard way; (learn sth. in) the school of hard knocks.

«Вы меня понимаете?» — «Отлично понимаю, — серьёзно ответил Стравинский и, коснувшись колена поэта, добавил: — не волнуйтесь и продолжайте». — «Продолжаю», — сказал Иван, стараясь попасть в тон Стравинскому и зная уже по горькому опыту, что лишь спокойствие поможет ему… (Булгаков 9). "Do you understand me?" "I understand very well," Stravinsky answered seriously and, touching the poet's knee, he added: "Don't get upset. Continue please." "I will continue," said Ivan, trying to strike the same tone and knowing from bitter experience that only a calm approach could help him (9a).

О-108 • ОПЯ́ТЬ ДВА́ДЦАТЬ ПЯТЬ! coll [Interj; Invar; fixed WO] (in refer. to sth. tiresome, constantly repeated) again the same thing: here we go again!; there you go again!; back to square one!; not again!; the same (old) thing ⟨question etc⟩ over and over (again)!

«Я бы тебя выпорол, да вот дядя Илья не хочет. А за это ты нам с дядей Ильёй должна принести чего-нибудь закусить. Поняла?» — «Поняла». — «Ни холеры ты не поняла». — «Я мамке скажу, она даст». — «Опять двадцать пять. Опять она мамке скажет. Да ты без мамки-то не можешь, что ли?» (Распутин 3). "I'd give you a good spanking, but Uncle Ilia doesn't want me to. So in return you can bring me and Uncle Ilia something to eat. Got that?" "Yes." "Like hell you have." "I'll tell Mummy, and she'll give me something." "Here we go again! Telling Mummy again. Can't you do it without telling Mummy?" (3a).

О-109 • ОПЯ́ТЬ ЖЕ coll [AdvP; Invar; sent adv (parenth)] in addition to sth. (just mentioned): and then (again); what's more; on top of that; and besides.

«Ведь случись скандал, он конченый человек. Я британские обычаи знаю — в обществе ему никто руки не подаст, хоть обвесься орденами с головы до ног. Опять же два убийства — это не шутки» (Акунин 5). "After all, if there is a scandal, he's finished. I know how the British are about such things—no one in society will ever offer him their hand again, even if he is covered with medals from head to foot. And then again, two murders is no laughing matter" (5a).

О-110 • ОРЁЛ ИЛИ РЕ́ШКА? [indep sent; fixed WO] the question asked when playing pitch-and-toss (орлянка): heads or tails?

О-111 • РАЗДЕ́ЛЫВАТЬ/РАЗДЕ́ЛАТЬ ⟨ОТДЕ́ЛЫВАТЬ/ ОТДЕ́ЛАТЬ⟩ ПОД ОРЕ́Х coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] 1. ~ кого to scold s.o. severely, criticize s.o. mercilessly: X разделал Y-а под орех ≃ X gave it to Y hot ⟨but good⟩; X gave Y a going-over ⟨a good dressing-down⟩; X cut ⟨picked⟩ Y to pieces; X let Y have it (with both barrels).

Дело разбиралось в клубе, на собрании городской комсомольской ячейки. Я отлично помню Лёву на трибуне — разделал несчастного Зяму под орех (Рыбаков 1). The case was dealt with at the club at a meeting of the town Komsomol cell. I can remember Lyova on the platform perfectly, as he gave the wretched Zyama a going-over… (1a).

2. ~ кого-что [obj: usu. pl or collect] to defeat (the enemy, an athletic team, a competitor etc) overwhelmingly: X-ы разделали Y-ов под орех ≃ Xs crushed ⟨routed, creamed, licked⟩ Ys; Xs made mincemeat out of Ys; Xs wiped ⟨mopped⟩ (up) the floor with Ys.

3. ~ что to do sth. thoroughly, well: X разделал Y под орех ≃ X did a splendid ⟨fine, crackerjack⟩ job (with ⟨on⟩ Y).

О-112 • НА ОРЕ́ХИ достанется, попадёт, будет кому (от кого), задать кому coll; НА КАЛАЧИ́ obs [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (s.o. will be scolded, punished, or to scold, punish s.o.) severely (occas. used in refer. to driving an opponent hard or being driven hard in a military conflict, athletic competition etc): X-у достанется на орехи (от Y-а) ⟨Y задаст X-у на орехи⟩ ≃ X will (really) get it; X will be in for it; X will catch hell (for sth.); X will take ⟨get⟩ his lumps; Y will make it hot for X; Y will give X what for ⟨a going-over, a good dressing-down⟩; Y will let X have it (with both barrels).

«Я тоже шёпотом: „Любовник, что ли, скребётся?“ — „Какой любовник? Реваз, кажется, раньше времени из поездки вернулся. Будет теперь мне на орехи — замучил старик проверками“» (Чернёнок 1). "I whisper back, 'Is that your lover scratching at the door?' 'What lover? I think Revaz is back from his trip earlier than planned. I'll really get it now—the old man is exhausting me with his suspicions'" (1a). ♦ [Лебедев:] Только смотри и виду не подавай, что у меня занял [деньги], храни тебя бог! А то достанется мне на орехи от кружовенного варенья! (Чехов 4). [L.:] Only mind you don't let on that you borrowed it [the money] from me—God help you—or Madame Gooseberry-Jam will make it hot for me! (4a).

О-113 • ЩЁЛКАТЬ КАК ОРЕ́ХИ ⟨ОРЕ́ШКИ⟩ что coll [VP; subj: human; obj: pl] to solve (problems, crossword puzzles etc) easily and quickly: X щёлкает Y-и как орехи ≃ X cracks ⟨solves⟩ Ys just like that; X breezes ⟨whizzes⟩ right through Ys; [lim.] Ys are a snap ⟨as easy as pie⟩ for X.

По части кроссвордов я с тобой соревноваться не могу, ты ведь щёлкаешь их как орехи. I can't compete with you when it comes to crossword puzzles—you whiz right through them.

О-114 • КРЁПКИЙ ⟨ТВЁРДЫЙ⟩ ОРЕ́ШЕК ⟨ОРЕ́Х⟩ coll [NP; sing only] 1. a person who is unbending, difficult to deal with, convince, subjugate etc: tough cookie ⟨nut, customer⟩; hard nut (to crack).

«Напрасно вы упорствуете… Ответьте нам на один вопрос, и мы отпустим вас в камеру отдыхать. Так всё-таки кто же вас заслал в деревню Красное?» — «Кому надо, тот знает», — сказал Чонкин, отдуваясь. Словно кувалдой дали ему в подбородок… «Крепкий орешек», — потирая ушибленную руку, задумчиво сказал полковник (Войнович 4). "There's no point in resisting…. Answer one question and we'll let you go rest in your cell. Who sent you to the village of Krasnoye?" "That's known by who's supposed to know," said Chonkin, panting. The next punch hit his chin like a sledgehammer…. "A tough nut," said the colonel pensively, rubbing his bruised hand (4a).

2. (of a matter, concept) difficult to understand, (of a problem) difficult to solve, (of an undertaking) difficult to accomplish, (of a fortress, city etc) difficult to capture etc: tough ⟨hard⟩ nut to crack.

О-115 • БРА́ТЬСЯ/ВЗЯ́ТЬСЯ ЗА ОРУ́ЖИЕ [VP; subj: human or collect] to begin an armed struggle: X-ы взялись за оружие ≃ Xs took up arms; Xs went to war.

Плохи времена, подумал дядя Сандро, если этот табачник взялся за оружие (Искандер 3). Times are bad, thought Uncle Sandro, if this tobacco grower has taken up arms (3a).

О-116 • НОСИ́ТЬ ОРУ́ЖИЕ [VP; subj: human; usu. infin. after способный, уметь etc] (to be able, know how etc) to use arms and (be in adequate physical condition) to put that ability to use: X способен носить оружие ≃ X is able to bear ⟨capable of bearing⟩ arms.

На сходе постановили мобилизовать всех способных носить оружие, от шестнадцати до семидесяти лет (Шолохов 4). At a village meeting it was decided to mobilise everyone capable of bearing arms, from the age of sixteen to seventy (4a).

О-117 • СКЛА́ДЫВАТЬ/СЛОЖИ́ТЬ ОРУ́ЖИЕ [VP; subj: human or collect] 1. Also: КЛАСТЬ/ПОЛОЖИ́ТЬ ⟨БРОСА́ТЬ/БРО́СИТЬ⟩ ОРУ́ЖИЕ to cease armed resistance, surrender: X-ы сложили оружие ≃ Xs laid down (their) arms.

«Русская армия под угрозой окружения с фланга и тыла сложила оружие» (Солженицын 1). "The Russian army laid down its arms under threat of encirclement from the flank and the rear" (1a).

2. to stop fighting for sth., abandon some course of action, admit defeat: X сложил оружие ≃ X gave up (the fight ⟨the struggle etc⟩).

Письмо с отказом, полученное Хлебцевичем на этот раз, было уже чрезвычайно резким и даже несколько угрожающим… Невероятно, но факт: Хлебцевич не сложил оружия и после этого (Владимиров 1). The letter rejecting his proposal which Khlebtsevich received this time was extremely abrupt and even threatening in character…. However unlikely it may seem in Soviet conditions, Khlebstevich still did not give up even after this refusal (1a).

О-118 • БИТЬ кого ⟨БОРО́ТЬСЯ с кем⟩ ЕГО́ ЖЕ ⟨ЕГО́ СО́БСТВЕННЫМ⟩ ОРУ́ЖИЕМ [VP; subj: human; obj: usu. противника, врага etc] to achieve superiority over an opponent by employing his own arguments, methods etc: X бил Y-а его же оружием ≃ X fought Y with Y's own weapon(s); X used Y's own weapons against him; X beat Y at Y's own game; X turned the tables on Y; [lim.] fight fire with fire.

…Пытаясь бороться с врагами их же оружием, то есть, в свою очередь, предавая их, Лёве никак не удавалось переиграть их, перещеголять в предательстве (Битов 2). …Although he tried to fight his enemies with their own weapon, that is, betrayed them in his turn, Lyova simply could not outplay them, outdo them in treachery (2a).

О-119 • БРЯЦА́ТЬ ⟨ПОТРЯСА́ТЬ⟩ ОРУ́ЖИЕМ lit [VP; subj: human or collect] to threaten with military action, attack; by extension to threaten with hostile actions: X-ы начали бряцать оружием ≃ Xs began to brandish weapons ⟨to rattle their sabers⟩. ○ БРЯЦА́НИЕ ОРУ́ЖИЕМ [NP] ≃ saber-rattling.

«Это легко бряцать оружием, когда подписано перемирие» (Эренбург 1). "It's easy to brandish weapons when an armistice has been signed" (1a).

О-120 • ПЕТЬ ⟨ВОСКЛИЦА́ТЬ, ВОЗДАВА́ТЬ⟩ ОСА́ННУ кому-чему obs, lit [VP; subj: human] to extol s.o.: X пел осанну Y-у ≃ X sang hosannas to Y.

О-121 • БУРИДА́НОВ ОСЁЛ lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] an extremely indecisive person who is unable to choose between two equally desirable options: Buridan's ass.

< The idiom derives from the name of Jean Buridan, a French philosopher of the 14th cent., who wrote not about an ass but about a dog who, although dying of hunger, could not choose between two equidistant piles of food.

О-122 • КАК ОСЁЛ ⟨МУЛ⟩ упрямый, упереться coll [как + NP; nom only; adv] (to be) very stubborn, (to resist) strongly: (as) stubborn as a mule; (balk) like a mule.

Он был добр и человеколюбив, лечил бедных больных и крестьян даром, сам ходил в их конуры и избы и оставлял деньги на лекарство, но притом был и упрям, как мул. Сбить его с его идеи, если она засела у него в голове, было невозможно (Достоевский 2). He was kind and philanthropic, treated poor patients and peasants for nothing, visited their hovels and cottages himself, and left them money for medications, yet for all that he was stubborn as a mule. Once an idea had lodged itself in his head, it was impossible to shake it out of him (2a).

О-123 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ОСЕ́ЧКУ (в чём) coll [VP; subj: human or abstr] (of a person) to make a blunder, do sth. foolish, (of a method, approach etc) to fail, go wrong: X дал осечку ≃ person X goofed ⟨slipped up etc⟩; thing X went wrong ⟨fell flat, misfired etc⟩; (doing sth.) wasn't one of person X's better ⟨smarter⟩ moves ⟨ideas⟩; (doing sth.) wasn't a smart thing to do ⟨a smart move etc⟩; X missed the mark ⟨was wide of the mark etc⟩.

Правда, в последние годы, то ли под влиянием радиации, то ли ещё что, но негритянские гены, между нами говоря, стали не те. Осечки дают. Нет-нет да и появится смуглячок (Искандер 4). True, in recent years, whether under the influence of radiation, or whatever, Negro genes aren't what they used to be, just between us. They misfire. Every once in a while you get a little brown-skinned baby (4a).

О-124 • НАБИВА́ТЬ/НАБИ́ТЬ ОСКО́МИНУ coll [VP; usu. pfv] 1. (чем) [subj: usu. human] to get an astringent sensation in one's mouth from sth. sour, tart (often unripe apples, berries etc): X набил оскомину (Y-ами) ≃ X had a bitter taste in his mouth (from Ys); Ys left (X with) a bitter taste in X's mouth; Ys made X's mouth pucker; X set his teeth on edge (with Ys); Ys set ⟨put⟩ X's teeth on edge.

«Они должны понять, что мы только можем проиграть, действуя наступательно…» — думал Кутузов. Он знал, что не надо срывать яблока, пока оно зелено. Оно само упадёт, когда будет зрело, а сорвёшь зелено, испортишь яблоко… и сам оскомину набьёшь (Толстой 7). "They must see," he [Kutuzov] thought, "that we can only lose by taking the offensive…" He knew the apple must not be picked while it is still green. It will fall of itself when ripe, but if you pick it unripe you spoil the apple… and set your teeth on edge (7a).

«Парады, встречи, караулы — вся эта дворцовая служба набила мне оскомину» (Шолохов 2). "I am sick and tired of the whole business of service at court with its parades, receptions, changing of the guard and so on" (2a).

О-125 • ВАЛАА́МОВА ОСЛИ́ЦА (ЗАГОВОРИ́ЛА) lit [NP (sing only) or VP_{subj} (usu. indep. clause)] a meek, quiet person who unexpectedly begins to protest sth. or express his opinion about sth.: Balaam's ass (has begun to speak).

«Ну, теперь тебе удовольствие будет, и именно на твою тему. Насмеёшься. У нас валаамова ослица заговорила, да как говорит-то, как говорит!» Валаамовою ослицей оказался лакей Смердяков (Достоевский 1). "Well, now you're going to have some fun, and precisely in your line. You'll laugh your head off. Balaam's ass, here, has started to talk, and what a talker, what a talker!" Balaam's ass turned out to be the lackey Smerdyakov (1a).

< From the Bible (Num. 22:27–28).

О-126 • НА КАКО́М ОСНОВА́НИИ? [PrepP; Invar; sent adv or subord Conj; fixed WO] why? with what justification?: on what basis ⟨grounds⟩?; for what reason?; on account of what?

«На каком основании я арестован?» (Семёнов 1). "…On what basis have I been arrested?" (1a). ♦ «На каком же основании вы были так щедры к господину Ракитину?» (Достоевский 2). "And on what grounds were you so generous to Mr. Rakitin?" (2a).

О-127 • НА ОСНОВА́НИИ чего, каком; НА ОСНО́ВЕ чего, какой [PrepP; these forms only; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] stemming, proceeding from sth., founded on sth.: on the basis ⟨the strength⟩ of; based on; on the ground(s) of ⟨that…⟩; assuming sth. as the basis; on a [AdjP] basis; on [AdjP] grounds; [lim.] on account of.

Рекомендации по этому вопросу разработаны на основе мнения экспертов. Recommendations on this issue have been formulated on the basis of expert opinions. ♦ Фашизм пришёл к идее уничтожения целых слоёв населения, национальных и расовых объединений на основе того, что вероятность скрытого и явного противодействия в этих слоях и прослойках выше, чем в других группах или слоях (Гроссман 2). Fascism arrived at the idea of the liquidation of entire strata of the population, of entire nations and races, on the grounds that there was a greater probability of overt or covert opposition among these groupings than among others… (2a).

О-128 • ДО ОСНОВА́НИЯ разрушить что, истребить, потрясти кого-что и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to destroy some group of people, some phenomenon etc) completely, (to shock s.o.) profoundly etc: разрушить ⟨истребить⟩ ~ ≃ totally ⟨utterly⟩ destroy ⟨ruin, annihilate⟩ s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; wipe out s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; [lim.] raze ⟨level⟩ sth. (to the ground); destroy sth. to its ⟨the⟩ roots; ‖ потрясти ~ ≃ shake sth. to its foundations; shake s.o. badly.

…Ошибка [Ивана] Грозного была не в том, что он казнил бояр, а в том, что мало казнил, не истребил четыре главных боярских рода до самого основания (Рыбаков 2). …Ivan's mistake was not that he punished them [the nobles], but that he didn't punish them enough, he did not destroy the four main noble clans right down to their roots (2a).

О-129 • НЕ БЕЗ ОСНОВА́НИЯ [PrepP; Invar; adv] not accidentally, having a rational cause: not without (good) reason; with good reason.

…[Хачик] всё заталкивал крупного мужчину поближе к мощному кактусу, а тот пугливо озирался, не без основания опасаясь напороться на него… (Искандер 5). …He [Khachik] kept jostling a big man closer to a mighty cactus, while the man looked back fearfully, afraid of running into it, and with good reason… (5a).

О-130 • ЛЕЖА́ТЬ В ОСНО́ВЕ чего; ЛОЖИ́ТЬСЯ/ЛЕЧЬ В ОСНО́ВУ чего [VP; subj : abstr] to be or become the main principle, guiding idea of sth.: X лежит в основе ⟨лёг в основу⟩ Y-а ≃ X is ⟨has become⟩ the basis of ⟨for⟩ Y; X has formed the basis of Y; X has served as the basis for Y; X underlies Y; X is ⟨has become⟩ the essential principle of Y; Y is ⟨has become⟩ based on X.

Мысль, внезапно поразившая ночью на улице Штрума, легла в основу новой теории (Гроссман 2). Victor's sudden inspiration, the idea that had come to him on the street that night, formed the basis of an entirely new theory (2a).

О-131 • В ОСНОВНО́М [PrepP; Invar; adv or sent adv (parenth)] 1. (applicable) in more cases than not, (done) to a greater extent than not etc: basically; mainly; in the main; for the most part; mostly; on the whole; by and large.

…В основном подписывались [под заявлением] охотно. Одни из чувства справедливости, другие из хорошего отношения к автору этих строк, третьи из ненависти к Турганову и Иванько (Войнович 3). …On the whole they signed [the petition] gladly. Some out of a sense of justice, others out of regard for the author, still others out of hatred for Turganov and Ivanko (3a).

2. predominantly: mainly; mostly; primarily.

О-132 • КЛАСТЬ/ПОЛОЖИ́ТЬ что В ОСНО́ВУ чего; БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ что ЗА ОСНО́ВУ (чего); ПРИНИМА́ТЬ/ПРИНЯ́ТЬ ЗА ОСНО́ВУ что [VP; subj: human or collect] to use sth. as the main premise, foundation: X положил Y в основу Z-а ≃ X used ⟨assumed⟩ Y as the basis of ⟨for⟩ Z; X made Y ⟨X used Y as⟩ the basic premise of Z; X used Y as the essential principle of Z.

В основу рассказа автор положил реальное событие, изменив лишь время и место действия. The author used real events as the basis for the story, changing only the time and place of the action.

О-133 • ЗАКЛА́ДЫВАТЬ/ЗАЛОЖИ́ТЬ ОСНО́ВЫ ⟨ОСНО́ВУ, ФУНДА́МЕНТ⟩ чего lit [VP; subj: human or abstr] to set down the fundamental basis for, formulate the underlying principles of (a scientific discipline, artistic movement etc): X заложил основы Y-а ≃ X laid the foundation ⟨the basis, the groundwork⟩ for Y; X paved the way for Y; thing X set the stage for Y.

О-134 • НИЧЕГО́ ОСО́БЕННОГО [NP; Invar; indep. sent or obj; fixed WO] (of a person's appearance or specific quality, an impression made by a person or thing, an event etc) not in any way above the average, not at all outstanding: nothing special ⟨much⟩; nothing out of the ordinary; nothing extraordinary ⟨exceptional, unusual⟩ (about…); nothing to write home about.

Вроде бы англичанка и англичанка, ничего особенного... (Акунин 7) She appeared to be a typical Englishwoman, nothing out of the ordinary... (7a). ♦ Проходит месяц, другой, и получаю от Сони письмо… И на конверте обратный адрес. Ничего особенного, а всё же письмо! Значит, не всё кончено, не интрижка, не дачный роман (Рыбаков 1). A month or two went by and I received a letter from Sonya… Nothing special, but it was a letter, all the same, and she had written her address on the envelope. So it wasn't all over, it hadn't been an infatuation or a summer fling (1a).

О-135 • В ОСО́БЕННОСТИ [PrepP; Invar; adv (used as restr marker) or sent adv] most of all: in particular; particularly; especially; above all; [after a negation] certainly not.

Странная вещь сердце человеческое вообще, и женское в особенности! (Лермонтов 1). The human heart is a funny thing, particularly the heart of a woman (1c).

О-136 • СЧАСТЛИ́ВО ОСТАВА́ТЬСЯ! coll [formula phrase; Invar; fixed WO] used to wish those staying behind well when departing: all the best; take care (of yourself); [lim.] good luck (to you); lots of luck.

…Подбежал весёлый солдат, прося огоньку в пехоту. «Огоньку горяченького в пехоту! Счастливо оставаться, землячки, благодарим за огонёк…» — говорил он, унося куда-то в темноту краснеющуюся головешку (Толстой 4). …A cheerful soldier ran up begging a little fire for the infantry. "A nice little hot torch for the infantry! Good luck to you, fellow countrymen. Thanks for the fire…" said he carrying away into the darkness a glowing stick (4b).

О-137 • ОСТАВЛЯ́ТЬ/ОСТА́ВИТЬ ЗА СОБО́Й [VP] 1. ~ кого-что obsoles. Also: ОСТАВЛЯ́ТЬ/ОСТА́ВИТЬ ПОЗАДИ́ СЕБЯ́ obsoles [subj and obj: usu. human or collect, occas. a noun denoting the result of s.o.'s endeavors, creative efforts etc] to outdo, excel s.o. or sth.: X оставил за собой Y-а ≃ X left Y far behind; X left Y in the dust; X surpassed ⟨outdistanced, outstripped, bested⟩ Y.

2. ~ что [subj: human] to retain sth. for o.s.: X оставил Y за собой ≃ X kept Y (for himself); X reserved ⟨saved⟩ Y for himself; X set Y aside for himself.

«…Скажите, что я, по обстоятельствам, не могу оставить квартиры за собой…» (Гончаров 1). "…Tell him that because of changed circumstances I cannot keep the flat…" (1a).

О-138 • (кому) НИЧЕГО́ (ДРУГО́ГО) НЕ ОСТАЁТСЯ/НЕ ОСТА́НЕТСЯ (, как…) [$VP_{subj/gen}$; impers; if past, usu. impfv; if fut, usu. pfv; fixed WO (var. without другого)] there is only one possible course of action (left) for s.o. to take: X-у ничего не остаётся, как… ≃ X has no (other) choice ⟨alternative⟩ but…; there is nothing (left) for X (to do) but…

Ей читали их [письма] только по разу, а то и совсем не читали, в двух-трёх словах передавали то, что в них было, и всё, и старухе ничего не оставалось, как обходиться этой малостью (Распутин 3). These [letters] were read to her once only, if that. Often she got no more than a summary of the contents in two or three words, and she [the old lady] had no choice but to make do with this (3a).

О-139 • НЕ ОСТАНА́ВЛИВАТЬСЯ/НЕ ОСТАНОВИ́ТЬСЯ ПЕРЕД чем [VP; subj: human or collect; neg only; often foll. by тем, чтобы-clause] not to vacillate about committing some act—often reprehensible, extreme, or criminal in nature—in pursuit of one's goals: X не остановился перед Y-ом ⟨перед тем, чтобы сделать Y⟩ ≃ X did not stop at (doing) Y; X did not hesitate to do Y; X had no qualms ⟨compunctions, second thoughts⟩ about doing Y; X was (fully) prepared to do Y; X didn't let Y stop him; [lim.] X was not above doing Y; || X ни перед чем не остановится ≃ X will stop at nothing.

О-140 • ОСТАНО́ВКА ЗА кем-чем [NP; Invar; the resulting phrase is VP_{subj} with $быть_{ø}$] there is a delay because of s.o. or sth. (because s.o. or sth. is missing, unavailable etc): остановка за X-ом ≃ the only ⟨the one⟩ thing stopping us ⟨them etc⟩ is X; the only thing holding us ⟨them etc⟩ up is X; the only difficulty ⟨problem, snag, hitch⟩ is X.

[Ольга:] …Только растёт и крепнет одна мечта… [Ирина:] Уехать в Москву… Только вот остановка за бедной Машей. [Ольга:] Маша будет приезжать в Москву на всё лето, каждый год (Чехов 5). [O.:] …Just one dream grows stronger and stronger…. [I.:] To go to Moscow…. The one thing that stops us is poor Masha. [O.:] Masha will be coming to Moscow for the whole summer every year (5c).

О-141 • БЕЗ ОСТА́ТКА [PrepP; Invar; modif or adv; often after весь, целиком, полностью etc] entirely: fully; completely; || отдаваться чему ~ ≃ hold nothing back; withhold nothing ⟨not the slightest bit etc⟩; || исчезнуть ~ ≃ vanish ⟨disappear⟩ without a trace.

Я был весь, без остатка, поглощён рассматриванием спелого красного цветка… (Катаев 3). I became entirely absorbed in examining the ripe red flower… (3a). ♦ Он жил убеждённостью в нужности, необходимости своей работы, которой отдавался целиком, весь без остатка (Ерофеев 3). He lived by the conviction of the necessity of his work, to which he gave himself completely, withholding not the slightest bit (3a).

О-142 • С ОСТЕРВЕНЕ́НИЕМ работать, спорить, драться и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to work, argue, fight, do sth.) in a wildly excited fashion, in a state of uncontrolled frenzy: frantically; furiously; frenziedly; ferociously; like crazy ⟨mad⟩; like a madman ⟨a madwoman, a maniac⟩.

Особенно сильно чесалось тело ночью. Даренский просыпался и с остервенением долго драл ногтями кожу на груди (Гроссман 2). It was worst of all at night. He would wake up and scratch furiously at his chest (2a).

О-143 • ЗАДАВА́ТЬ/ЗАДА́ТЬ ⟨ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ⟩ ОСТРА́СТКУ кому obs, coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] to frighten s.o. severely through harsh reprimands, threats, punishment etc with the goal of preventing him from acting in a reprehensible, undesirable etc manner: X задал Y-у острастку ≃ X put the fear of God into Y; X gave Y a good scare; X instilled fear into Y; X read Y the riot act.

[Хлестаков:] О! Я шутить не люблю. Я им [чиновникам] всем задал острастку. Меня сам государственный совет боится (Гоголь 4). [Kh.:] Oh! I'm not one to play games! I put the fear of God into every last one of them [the officials]! Even the cabinet is scared stiff of me (4f).

О-144 • ХОДИ́ТЬ ПО ОСТРИЮ́ ⟨ПО ЛЕ́ЗВИЮ⟩ НОЖА́ [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to take a great risk, do sth. that might have dangerous consequences for o.s.: X ходит по острию ножа ≃ X is walking a tightrope; X is living ⟨sitting⟩ on a razor's edge; X is (skating) on thin ice.

Работая одновременно на две разведки, он ходил по острию ножа: каждую минуту боялся разоблачения. Working simultaneously for two intelligence agencies, he was walking a tightrope: he lived in constant fear of exposure.

О-145 • ХОТЬ ОТБАВЛЯ́Й кого-чего (у кого) coll [хоть + VP_{imper}; Invar; quantit subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj/gen: any common noun), more often pres; fixed WO] a large or excessive number or amount of (people, some type of person, things, some substance etc): X-ов (у Y-а) хоть отбавляй ≃ there are ⟨Y has⟩ more than enough Xs; there are ⟨Y has⟩ plenty of Xs; there is ⟨Y has⟩ an abundance of Xs; there are ⟨Y has⟩ Xs galore; Y has enough and to spare of Xs; there is no end of Xs; there are Xs everywhere.

Добился… он [Митька] офицерского чина, да не так, как Григорий Мелехов, рискуя головой и бесшабашно геройствуя. Чтобы выслужиться в карательном отряде, от человека требовались иные качества… А качеств этих у Митьки было хоть отбавляй… (Шолохов 5). …[Mitka] had acquired officer's rank, and not like Grigory Melekhov, by risking his neck in reckless exploits. Meritorious service in a punitive detachment required other qualities…. And Mitka had enough and to spare of such qualities (5a).

О-146 • СДЕ́ЛАТЬ ОТБИВНУ́Ю из кого; СДЕ́ЛАТЬ (ОТБИВНУ́Ю) КОТЛЕ́ТУ; ФАРШ СДЕ́ЛАТЬ all highly coll [VP; subj: human] to beat s.o. severely: X сделает из Y-а отбивную ≃ X will turn Y into mincemeat; X will make mincemeat out of Y; X will beat Y black and blue ⟨to a pulp⟩.

О-147 • БИТЬ/ЗАБИ́ТЬ ⟨ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ⟩ ОТБО́Й coll [VP; subj: human] to relinquish a previous decision, plan, opinion etc: X бьёт отбой ≃ X beats a retreat; X backs down ⟨out⟩; X changes his tune; X backpedals; [lim.] X pulls ⟨draws⟩ in his horns.

Они [Аксёновы] прислали мне смятенное письмо, в котором… били отбой насчёт приезда Васи… Хотя за последние два года он донимал их своим своевольным поведением и они сами требовали, чтобы я взяла его к себе, но теперь, когда дело перешло в практическую плоскость, им стало страшно отпускать его в такой дальний путь (Гинзбург 2). They [the Aksyonovs] sent me an embarrassed letter in which they… changed their tune on the subject of Vasya. Although over the past two years he had almost worn them down with his wayward behavior and they themselves had demanded that I take him off their hands, now that it had become a practical possibility they were afraid to send him on such a long journey (2a).

2. See О-147 БИТЬ/ЗАБИ́ТЬ ОТБО́Й.

О-149 • ОТБО́Я ⟨-ю⟩ НЕТ (у кого) от кого coll [VP, impers] there are more than enough or too many of a certain type or category of people: (у X-а) от Y-ов отбоя нет ≃ X has no end of Ys; there is no end to the Ys; [lim.] X has to beat (the) Ys off with a stick; X can't fight off the Ys; there is no coping with the Ys.

…[Дедушка был] красавец, много разъезжал, привык к холостой жизни и, понимаете, к какой холостой жизни, от женщин у него отбоя не было… (Рыбаков 1). …He [grandfather] was a very handsome man, who had travelled a lot and become accustomed to the bachelor life, and what a bachelor life! He'd had no end of women… (1a).

О-150 • ДО ОТВА́ЛА ⟨-у⟩ есть, наедаться, кормить кого coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to eat or feed s.o.) to the point where one or s.o. can eat no more: to the bursting point; || X наелся ~ ≃ X gorged ⟨stuffed⟩ himself; X (ate until he) was (as) full as a tick; || X накормил Y-а ~ ≃ X stuffed Y with food; X stuffed Y to the limit.

Совсем ещё недавно [Орозкул] сидел в гостях, пил кумыс, ел мясо до отвала (Айтматов 1). Just a short while ago he [Orozkul] had been sitting with friends, drinking koumyss and gorging himself on meat (1a).

О-151 • В ОТВЕ́Т [PrepP; Invar] 1. [adv] (to say, write, or do sth.) in one's turn, as an answer or reaction to another's words, a rejoinder to a remark etc: in reply; in response; in return; in ⟨for⟩ answer; [lim.] one's answer is (to do sth.).

Расхаживая по роскошным паркам, чуть тронутым августовской желтизной, госпожа де Кальвимон трогательно пожаловалась принцу на то, что в замке нет никаких развечений. Принц в ответ сказал всё, что полагается говорить в таких случаях, то есть что желания госпожи являются для него законом… (Булгаков 5). Strolling through the magnificent parks, barely touched by the yellow of August, Madame de Calvimont complained to the Prince about the absence of any entertainments in the château. In reply, the Prince said everything that is commonly said on such occasions, namely that to him the lady's wishes were law (5a).

2. [predic] (s.o.) answers: (s.o. says sth., s.o.'s voice is heard etc) in reply; (s.o.) replies.

Но это оказался вовсе не Тальберг. Три двери прогремели, и глухо на лестнице прозвучал Николкин удивлённый голос. Голос в ответ. За голосами по лестнице стали переваливаться кованые сапоги и приклад (Булгаков 3). But it wasn't Talberg at all. Three doors rattled, and Nikolka's astonished voice was heard on the stairs. A voice in reply. Studded soles and a rifle butt started clambering up the stairs behind the voices (3b).

3. ~ на что [Prep] reacting to sth. (verbally, by a gesture, or by an action): in reply ⟨response, answer⟩ to; [lim.] replying ⟨responding, reacting⟩ to.

Допустив малодушие — пошевелив плащ, прокуратор оставил его и забегал по балкону… На одном из поворотов он круто остановился и свистнул. В ответ на этот свист в сумерках загремел низкий лай, и из сада выскочил на балкон гигантский остроухий пёс серой шерсти, в ошейнике с золочёными бляшками (Булгаков 9). Letting faintheartedness get the best of him, and shifting the cloak, the procurator left it lying there and began pacing around the balcony… On one of his turns about the balcony he stopped abruptly and whistled. In reply to his whistle a low growl sounded in the shadows, and a gigantic gray dog with pointed ears and a gold-studded collar bounded onto the balcony from the garden (9c).

О-152 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ ОТВЕ́Т (перед кем, за что); ДАВА́ТЬ ОТВЕ́Т кому [VP; subj: human; usu. fut or infin (with придётся, умей etc)] to be accountable to s.o. for sth., (to be required or choose to) bear responsibility for sth. etc: X будет держать ответ (перед Y-ом за Z) ≃ X will (have to) answer (to Y) for Z; X will be held responsible (to Y) for Z.

Возможно, ещё придётся держать ответ в какой-нибудь инстанции за «срыв мероприятия». Это, впрочем, меньше всего меня пугало (Грекова 1). Perhaps I'll be held responsible to some higher-up or other for "undermining an organized activity." That was the least of my worries (1b).

О-153 • НИ ОТВЕ́ТА НИ ПРИВЕ́ТА от кого coll [NP_{gen}; Invar; used as subj/gen with не быть$_{ø}$; fixed WO] no news, information, response has been received from s.o. (usu. s.o. who was expected to have kept in touch, answered an inquiry etc): от X-а ни ответа ни привета ≃ there's been no word from X; person Y hasn't heard a word ⟨a thing⟩ from X.

Он обещал писать, но пока ни ответа ни привета. He promised to write, but so far there hasn't been a word from him.

О-154 • В ОТВЕ́ТЕ (за кого-что) [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human or collect)] one bears responsibility for s.o. or sth.: X в ответе за Y-а ≃ X is responsible ⟨accountable⟩ (for Y); X has to answer for Y; X is answerable for Y.

«…Я знать ничего не знаю… Ты и Затёртый были свидетелями, вы и в ответе!» (Гончаров 1). "…I know nothing about it…. You and Zatyorty were the witnesses, you're responsible" (1b).

О-155 • ПРИЗЫВА́ТЬ/ПРИЗВА́ТЬ К ОТВЕ́ТУ кого-что [VP; subj and obj: human or collect; often pfv fut or pfv infin with нужно, следует, предложить, требовать etc or in a чтобы-clause] to hold a person or organization responsible for sth.: X призовёт Y-а к ответу ≃ X will call ⟨hold⟩ Y to account; X will hold Y accountable (for sth.); X will make Y answer (for sth.); X will hold ⟨make⟩ Y answerable (for sth.); X will bring Y to book (concerning sth.).

«…Сами они уже не уважаемые члены общества, но воришки, коих суд и полиция в любой миг могут призвать к ответу» (Акунин 6). "…They themselves are not respectable members of society but petty thieves who can be called to account at any moment by the courts and the police" (6a).

О-156 • ДЛЯ ОТВО́ДА ГЛАЗ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. concr or abstr); fixed WO] in order to distract attention from sth., mislead s.o.: as a diversionary move ⟨tactic, maneuver⟩; as a smoke screen; (in order) to divert attention from sth.; [lim.] (using sth.) as a front; just to fool s.o.; || X был для отвода глаз ≃ X was a diversionary move ⟨tactic, maneuver⟩; X was a smoke screen; [lim.] X was a front.

В сетку для отвода глаз бросаете кусок мыла «Кармен»… но в секции детских игрушек берёте огромную резиновую рыбу, выпускаете из неё воздух, затычку прячете себе за щеку, а плоскую рыбу — себе под свитер (Аксёнов 6). As a diversionary move you throw into your basket a piece of Carmen brand soap… but in the children's toy section you pick up an enormous rubber fish, let the air out of it, then hide the plug in your mouth and the flattened fish under your sweater (6a).

О-157 • С ПО́ЛНОЙ ОТДА́ЧЕЙ (СИЛ) работать, трудиться и т. п. [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to work, do sth.) putting forth every effort possible: (work etc) with total dedication; wholeheartedly; zealously; || X работает ⟨играет и т. п.⟩ с полной отдачей ≃ X is giving it his all ⟨his best shot⟩; X is going all out.

С неохотой подчинился Джованни отцу — заставил-таки его старик работать с полной отдачей (Улицкая 1). Giovanni submitted reluctantly to his father. The old man… forced him to work with total dedication (1a).

О-158 • БЕЗ ОТДА́ЧИ брать, занимать, давать что coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to take, borrow sth.) without planning to return it, (to give sth. to s.o.) without asking him to return it: [in refer. to taking, borrowing sth.] never returning it ⟨them⟩; never intending to return it ⟨them⟩; with no intention of returning it ⟨them⟩; [in refer. to money only] with no intention ⟨notion⟩ of repaying it; [in refer. to giving sth.] for good; for keeps.

Он был убеждён, что… он сотворён богом так, что должен жить в тридцать тысяч дохода и занимать всегда высшее положение в обществе. Он так твёрдо верил в это, что, глядя на него, и другие были убеждены в этом и не отказывали ему ни в высшем положении в свете, ни в деньгах, которые он, очевидно без отдачи, занимал у встречного и поперечного (Толстой 5). He believed that… God had created him to spend thirty thousand a year and always to occupy a prominent position in society. He was so firmly convinced of this that looking at him others were persuaded of it too, and refused him neither a leading place in society nor the money he borrowed right and left, obviously with no notion of repaying it (5a).

О-159 • ДЁШЕВО ⟨ЛЕГКО́, СЧА́СТЛИВО⟩ ОТДЕ́ЛАТЬСЯ coll [VP; subj: human; more often past; fixed WO] to avoid or extricate o.s. from a disagreeable or dangerous situation without incurring significant trouble, losses, repercussions etc: X дёшево отделался ≃ X got off (pretty ⟨so etc⟩) easy ⟨easily⟩; X got off lightly ⟨cheap(ly)⟩; [lim.] X had a lucky escape.

Только не думайте, что вы дёшево отделались. Я ещё сердита. «Сейчас же убрать со стола!» — крикнула я… (Грекова 1). But you're not getting off that easy. I'm still mad. "Clear the table this minute!" I shouted… (1b). ♦ Он [дядя Сандро] ехал на грузовике вместе со своими земляками на какие-то большие похороны в селе Атары. Навстречу им мчался грузовик, возвращавший людей с этих же похорон… Машины столкнулись. К счастью, никогда не убило, но было много раненых. Дядя Сандро сравнительно легко отделался, он вывихнул ногу и потерял один зуб (Искандер 3). He [Uncle Sandro] was riding in a truck with friends from home, on the way to a big funeral in the village of Atary. A truck bringing people back from the same funeral came hurtling toward them…. The trucks collided. Luckily no one was killed, but many people were hurt. Uncle Sandro got off comparatively lightly: he dislocated his foot and lost one tooth (3a).

О-160 • В ⟨ПО⟩ ОТДЕ́ЛЬНОСТИ [PrepP; these forms only; adv or modif] singly, independently: (taken) separately; individually.

Все движения на свете в отдельности были рассчитанно-трезвы, а в общей сложности безотчётно пьяны общим потоком жизни, который объединял их (Пастернак 1). Every motion in the world taken separately was calculated and purposeful, but, taken together, they were spontaneously intoxicated with the general stream of life which united them all (1a). ♦ Кривошлыков протянул через стол заготовленный ультиматум Военно-революционного комитета, но Каледин, отстраняя бумагу движением белой ладони, твёрдо сказал: «Нет смысла терять время на ознакомление каждого члена правительства в отдельности с этим документом. Потрудитесь прочитать вслух ваш ультиматум» (Шолохов 3). Krivoshlykov held out the prepared text of the Military-Revolutionary Committee's ultimatum, but Kaledin brushed it aside with a white hand and said firmly, "There's no need for each member of the government to see this document separately. That would be a waste of time. Kindly read out your ultimatum" (3a).

О-161 • НЕ ДАВА́ТЬ НИ О́ТДЫХА ⟨-у⟩ НИ СРО́КА ⟨-у⟩ кому obs, coll [VP; subj: usu. human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] not to give s.o. any time or opportunity at all to rest, relax etc (by forcing him to work nonstop, pestering him continually etc): X не давал Y-у ни отдыха ни срока ≃ X didn't give Y a moment's peace ⟨a moment's rest⟩.

О-162 • НА ЗАСЛУ́ЖЕННОМ О́ТДЫХЕ быть$_{ø}$, находиться; НА ЗАСЛУ́ЖЕННЫЙ О́ТДЫХ уйти, отправиться и т.п. О-163 • НЕ ОТКАЖИ́(ТЕ) что сделать [formula phrase; these forms only] (used as part of a polite request) please agree (to do sth.): (please) be so kind ⟨good⟩ (as to…).

О-164 • НЕ ОТКАЖУ́СЬ; НЕ ОТКАЗА́ЛСЯ БЫ coll [VP; 1st pers fut or subjunctive only; often foll. by infin] (usu. used as a response to an invitation or offer to participate in sth., to help o.s. to sth. etc) I am (or we are) not averse to and would even quite enjoy (doing sth.): I ⟨we⟩ wouldn't mind…; don't mind if I ⟨we⟩ do; I ⟨we⟩ won't ⟨can't⟩ say no (to that); how can I ⟨we⟩ say no ⟨refuse, pass that up⟩?; I ⟨we⟩ won't turn that down ⟨pass that up⟩.

«Чаю хотите?» — «Спасибо, не откажусь». "Would you like some tea?" "Thanks, don't mind if I do."

О-165 • БЕЗ ОТКА́ЗА действовать, работать [PrepP; Invar; adv] (of a machine, mechanism etc) (to work, run etc) very well, without problems: (run) smoothly; (work ⟨run⟩) perfectly ⟨fine etc⟩.

Хотя эти часы и старые, а работают без отказа. This watch may be old, but it runs perfectly.

О-166 • ДО ОТКА́ЗА coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] to the limit: набить ⟨забить, заполнить что, быть$_{ø}$ набитым и т.п.⟩ ~ ≃ fill sth. ⟨be filled, pack sth., be packed etc⟩ to capacity; fill sth. ⟨be filled etc⟩ to overflowing ⟨to bursting, to the bursting point, to the brim⟩; pack sth. ⟨be packed etc⟩ tight ⟨as tight as it will go⟩; cram sth. ⟨be crammed⟩; [in refer. to a room, dwelling etc only] pack sth. ⟨be packed⟩ to the rafters; || нажать (на) что, открутить, закрутить что ~ ≃ (push ⟨press⟩ sth. down etc) all the way; (push ⟨press⟩ sth. down etc) as far as it will ⟨can⟩ go; (turn sth. on) full blast; (turn sth.) all the way on ⟨off⟩.

Вокзал был полон, перрон забит людьми до отказа (Рыбаков 2). The station was crowded and the platform was packed to capacity (2a). ♦ …[Таня] открутила до отказа все краны. В рёве воды разделась и встала перед зеркалом (Аксёнов 7). …[Tanya] turned on the taps full blast. To the roar of the water she pulled off her clothes and picked herself up in front of the full-length mirror (7a).

О-167 • НЕЛЬЗЯ́ ОТКАЗА́ТЬ кому в чём coll; НЕЛЬЗЯ́ ОТНЯ́ТЬ у кого что or чего obs; НЕ ОТКА́ЖЕШЬ кому в чём coll; НЕ ОТНИ́МЕШЬ что or чего у кого coll [impers predic with быть$_{ø}$, pres or past (variants with нельзя), or neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing (variants with не)] one cannot help but recognize, admit that s.o. has a certain quality: X-у нельзя отказать в Y-е ≃ one cannot deny X Y; there's no denying that X has Y ⟨is [AdjP]⟩; you can't take that away from X; you can't say X is not [AdjP].

Ему нельзя было отказать в недюжинной эрудиции, которая… могла покорить собеседника… (Ерофеев 3). One couldn't deny him the remarkable erudition with which he was able to overwhelm anyone he talked to… (3a). ♦ «Что ты, не знаешь своей жены? Хозяйственная баба. Этого у неё не отнимешь. И уж если на то пошло, так с лесозаготовками у неё не хуже было, чем у других. А даже лучше» (Абрамов 1). "Don't you know your own wife? She's an efficient woman: that you can't take away from her. And while we're on the subject, her timber production was no worse than anyone else's. Better even" (1a).

О-168 • НИ В ЧЁМ СЕБЕ́ НЕ ОТКА́ЗЫВАТЬ [VP; subj: human] not to limit o.s. in anything, to live in grand style: X ни в чём себе не отказывает ≃ X denies himself nothing; X does not refuse himself anything; X spares no expense to gratify his fancies ⟨desires etc⟩; [lim.] X doesn't have to deny ⟨to refuse⟩ himself anything.

Там у ней [Одинцовой] был великолепный, отлично убранный дом, прекрасный сад с оранжереями: покойный Одинцов ни в чём себе не отказывал (Тургенев 2). There she [Mme Odintsov] was mistress of a magnificent, excellently appointed house with a beautiful garden and conservatories: the late Odintsov had denied himself nothing (2e). There she [Mme Odintsov] had a magnificent, splendidly furnished house and a beautiful garden, with conservatories; her late husband had spared no expense to gratify his fancies (2b).

О-169 • ОТКА́ЗЫВАТЬ СЕБЕ́ в чём [VP; subj: human] to limit o.s. in sth.: X отказывает себе в Y-е ≃ X denies himself Y.

Их сердца наполнялись гордостью. Вот она, их страна, ударная бригада мирового пролетариата… Да, они живут по карточкам, отказывают себе во всём, зато они строят новый мир (Рыбаков 2). Their hearts swelled with pride. This was their country, the shock brigade of the world proletariat…. True, they had ration cards and denied themselves everything, but they were building a new world (2a).

О-170 • НЕ ОТКЛА́ДЫВАЙ НА ЗА́ВТРА ТО, ЧТО МО́ЖНО ⟨МО́ЖЕШЬ⟩ СДЕ́ЛАТЬ СЕГО́ДНЯ [saying] (usu. said as advice to s.o. to overcome his laziness or reluctance to do sth.) do what you have to do right away: don't put off till tomorrow what you can do today.

О-171 • КАТИ́ТЬСЯ/ПОКАТИ́ТЬСЯ ПОД ОТКО́С [VP] 1. Also: ИДТИ́/ПОЙТИ́ ПОД ОТКО́С [subj: usu. abstr, often дела, всё] to deteriorate sharply, collapse: X катится под откос ≃ X is on the road to ruin; X is falling apart; X is going to pot ⟨to ruin⟩; [of plans, s.o.'s career etc] X пошёл под откос ≃ X got derailed.

Боже мой, мне стало страшно, что жизнь моя вдруг пойдёт под откос! (Аксёнов 1). Suddenly I was terrified—my God, my life is about to get derailed! (1a).

2. [subj: human] to deteriorate morally: X покатился под откос ≃ X went downhill ⟨wrong, astray⟩.

О-172 • В ОТКРЫ́ТУЮ действовать, говорить что, смеяться над кем-чем, врать и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to act, speak etc) overtly, hiding nothing, (to laugh at s.o. or sth., lie etc) in an unconcealed manner: openly; || действовать ~ ≃ operate out in the open; [lim.] show one's hand; || говорить ~ ≃ speak candidly ⟨frankly, straight from the shoulder, outright etc⟩; || смеяться над кем-чем ~ ≃ laugh out loud at s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; laugh one's head off (at s.o.'s expense); || врать ~ ≃ lie through ⟨in⟩ one's teeth; tell bold-faced lies.

…Он в открытую на худсовете выступал против смоляновской пьесы… (Трифонов 1). …He had openly spoken out against Smolyanov's play at meetings of the theater council… (1a). ♦ «Остров наводнён агентурой. Си-Ай-Эй и Ка-Ге-Бэ действуют чуть ли не в открытую» (Аксёнов 7). "The Island is flooded with agents. The CIA and KGB operate quite out in the open…" (7a).

О-173 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ НА О́ТКУП что [VP; subj: human] 1. obs to receive exclusive rights to use or hold sth. in exchange for money: X взял на откуп У ≃ X farmed Y.

2. coll to take for o.s. exclusive control over and responsibility for sth. (a project, assignment etc): X взял на откуп Y ≃ X took over Y; X claimed Y (for himself).

Мне не удастся поработать над этим проектом: его взял на откуп старший инженер. I'm not going to be able to work on that project: the senior engineer has claimed it.

О-174 • ОТДАВА́ТЬ/ОТДА́ТЬ НА О́ТКУП что (кому) [VP; subj: human] 1. obs to give s.o. exclusive rights to use or hold sth. in exchange for money: X отдал Y на откуп ≃ X farmed ⟨leased⟩ Y (out).

[Боркин:] Еду сейчас к вам, а на реке у вас мужики с лозняка кору дерут. Отчего вы лозняк на откуп не отдадите? (Чехов 4). [B.:] As I was on my way here, I saw some peasants stripping the bark off your willow bushes along the river. Why don't you lease out those willow bushes? (4a).

2. coll to pass sth. (a project, assignment, responsibility for sth. etc) to s.o. such that he alone will handle it: X отдал Y на откуп Z-у ≃ X turned ⟨handed⟩ Y over to Z; X gave ⟨assigned, relegated etc⟩ Y to Z; X farmed out Y to Z; [lim.] X gave Z exclusive rights to Y.

Производства новый директор не знал, работать не любил и всё руководство заводом фактически отдал на откуп главному инженеру. The new supervisor didn't know production, didn't like to work, and virtually turned over management of the factory to the chief engineer.

О-175 • НА ОТЛЁТЕ [PrepP; Invar] 1. [adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: concr)] located at some distance away (from sth.), set apart: off at a distance; (standing) off by itself.

Мы пошли к дому, стоявшему на отлёте. We started walking toward the house standing off at a distance.

2. держать, нести что ~ [adv] (to hold, carry sth.) in one's hand(s) at a distance from one's body: (hold sth. out) at arm's length; (hold ⟨carry⟩ sth.) in one's outstretched hand(s).

Держа трость на отлёте, он учтиво поклонился дамам. Holding his cane out at arm's length, he courteously bowed to the ladies.

3. держаться ~ [adv] (of a person) (to remain) separate, isolated from others, not (to associate) with others: X держался на отлёте ≃ X kept his distance ⟨maintained a distance⟩; X kept to himself; X kept ⟨held himself⟩ aloof.

Он всегда держится на отлёте — не знаю, от застенчивости это или от самомнения. He always keeps aloof—I don't know if it's out of shyness or conceit.

О-176 • В ОТЛИ́ЧИЕ ОТ кого-чего [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] as distinct from: unlike; in contrast to; as opposed to; [lim.] as compared to.

…[Щупов] не берёт взяток или берёт не со всех, в отличие от старого директора, который на том и погорел, что брал без разбору (Войнович 6). …[Shchupov] didn't take bribes, or at least he didn't take them indiscriminately—unlike the old director, whose downfall, indeed, had been that he took bribes from everyone (6a).

О-177 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ОТЛУ́П кому highly coll, often humor [VP; subj: human or collect] to reject outright s.o.'s request, claim, marriage proposal etc (usu. used in refer. to an employment situation or love relationship): X дал Y-у отлуп ≃ X sent Y packing ⟨about Y's business⟩; X gave Y the brush-off; X turned thumbs down on Y ⟨gave thumbs down to Y⟩; Y got a flat rejection from X; X gave Y the (old) heave-ho ⟨the ax, the boot⟩; [in refer. to breaking off one's relationship with one's lover, spouse etc] X told Y to hit the road.

О-178 • ПОЛУЧА́ТЬ/ПОЛУЧИ́ТЬ ОТЛУ́П highly coll, often humor [VP; subj: human or collect] to be rejected outright after making a request, claim, marriage proposal etc (usu. used in ref. to an employment situation or love relationship): X получил отлуп ≃ X was sent packing ⟨about his business⟩; X got the brush-off; X got ⟨was given⟩ the thumbs down; X got a flat rejection; X got the (old) heave-ho ⟨the ax, the boot⟩; [in refer. to being rejected by one's lover, spouse etc] X was told to hit the road.

О-179 • В ОТМЕ́СТКУ (за что) coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to do sth.) in redress (for an injury, insult etc): in ⟨by way of⟩ revenge; in retaliation; to pay s.o. back; to get back at s.o.

С пьяным упорством я противоречу Надеину в отместку за его слова о русских (Коротюков 1). I contradicted Nadein with drunken obstinacy to pay him back for what he had said about Russians (1a).

О-180 • В НЕ́КОТОРОМ ОТНОШЕ́НИИ; В НЕ́КОТОРЫХ ОТНОШЕ́НИЯХ [PrepP; these forms only; usu. sent adv; fixed WO] to a certain extent, from a certain point of view: in certain ⟨some⟩ respects ⟨ways⟩; in a way; in a (certain) sense.

В некоторых отношениях и судьба их была одинакова: оба женились по любви, оба скоро овдовели, у обоих оставалось по ребёнку (Пушкин 1). In certain respects, even fate had treated them similarly: both had married for love and soon lost their wives; and each was left with a child (1a). In some respects their fates had been similar: both had married for love, both had soon been widowed and each had been left with a single child (1c).

О-181 • В ОТНОШЕ́НИИ кого-чего; ПО ОТНОШЕ́НИЮ к кому-чему [PrepP; these forms only; the resulting PrepP is adv] regarding: in relation to; with respect ⟨regard⟩ to; concerning; [lim.] in reference to; || вести

Просто ей, как и всем в доме, надо было узнать, что делать с этой новостью, как вести себя дальше по отношению к Тали (Искандер 3). Like everyone else in the house, she simply had to find out what to do with this news, how to behave from now on in relation to Tali (3a). ♦ «Не скорость вызывает опьянение, а опьянение — есть скорость!» — провозгласил Лёва… Что-то есть точное в лёвином определении «опьянения», по крайней мере, в отношении самого Лёвы… (Битов 2). "Speed does not cause drunkenness. Drunkenness is speed!" Lyova proclaimed…. There is something exact about Lyova's definition of "drunkenness," at least with respect to Lyova himself (2a).

O-182 • ВЫЯСНЯ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЯСНИТЬ ОТНОШЕ́НИЯ (с кем) coll [VP; subj: human] to discuss and resolve the problem spots in an interpersonal relationship, air and get over mutual resentments: X и Y выясняют отношения ≃ X and Y are sorting out ⟨clarifying⟩ their relationship; || X-у и Y-у надо выяснить отношения ≃ X and Y must clear the air; X and Y need to have it out.

«Семья тем и отличается от канцелярии, что в ней не ведутся протоколы и акты происшествий. Кроме того, выяснять отношения сейчас, а тем более прошлые отношения — поздно» (Залыгин 1). "The difference between a family and an office is that in a family you don't keep minutes and detailed records. Besides, it's too late now for us to sort out our relationship, let alone our past relationship" (1a).

O-183 • ВО ВСЕХ ОТНОШЕ́НИЯХ [PrepP; Invar; usu. modif; fixed WO] in all aspects: in every respect ⟨way⟩; in all respects.

«Ну, слушайте же, что такое эти мёртвые души», — сказала дама приятная во всех отношениях… (Гоголь 3). "Very well, then, listen to what sort of thing these dead souls are," said the lady who was agreeable in all respects… (3b).

O-184 • ВО МНО́ГИХ ОТНОШЕ́НИЯХ [PrepP; Invar; modif, adv, or sent adv] with regard to many characteristics or particulars: in many respects; in many ways; [lim.] on many points; || ~ легче ⟨лучше, проще и т. п.⟩ ≃ in many ways easier ⟨better, simpler etc⟩; easier ⟨better, simpler⟩ in many respects ⟨ways⟩.

…Во многих отношениях цирк был совершенно таким же, как прочие советские учреждения… (Улицкая 1). …In many respects the circus was exactly the same as other Soviet institutions… (1a).

O-185 • ОТОРВИ́ ДА ⟨И⟩ БРОСЬ ⟨ВЫ́БРОСЬ⟩ highly coll [Invar; subj-compl with быть$_0$ (subj: human); fixed WO] (more often of a female) one is adroit, smart, daring: X — оторви да брось ≃ X is one helluva ⟨hell of a⟩ gal ⟨guy⟩; X is quite a gal ⟨a guy⟩; X is a real firecracker ⟨dynamo⟩.

O-186 • КЛАСТЬ/ПОЛОЖИ́ТЬ ⟨НАКЛА́ДЫВАТЬ/НАЛОЖИ́ТЬ⟩ ОТПЕЧА́ТОК ⟨ПЕЧА́ТЬ obsoles⟩ на кого-что; ОСТАВЛЯ́ТЬ/ОСТА́ВИТЬ ОТПЕЧА́ТОК ⟨ПЕЧА́ТЬ obsoles⟩ на ком-чём [VP; subj: abstr; usu. pfv; usu. this WO] to leave a noticeable trace (on s.o. or sth.): X наложил отпечаток на Y-а ≃ X left its ⟨a⟩ mark on Y; X left ⟨set⟩ its ⟨an⟩ imprint on Y; X had an ⟨its⟩ effect on Y; X set ⟨put, stamped⟩ a ⟨its⟩ seal on Y; Y was marked by X.

Он [Захар] принадлежал двум эпохам, и обе положили на него печать свою (Гончаров 1). He [Zakhar] belonged to two different epochs, and each of them had left its mark on him (1a). ♦ Присутствие Ольги на всё в доме налагало свой отпечаток (Шолохов 4). Olga's presence had its effect on the whole household (4a).

O-187 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ОТПО́Р кому-чему [VP; subj: human or collect] 1. to repulse s.o.'s attack: X-ы дали отпор Y-ам ≃ Xs drove ⟨beat⟩ back Ys; Xs repelled Ys; Xs sent Ys on their way.

«Бог милостив: солдат у нас довольно, пороху много, пушку я вычистил. Авось дадим отпор Пугачёву» (Пушкин 2). "The Lord is merciful: we have enough soldiers and plenty of powder, and I've cleaned out the cannon. With a little luck we'll drive back Pugachev" (2a). "God is merciful. We have soldiers enough, plenty of powder, and I've cleaned out the cannon. Maybe we'll be able to send Pugachov on his way" (2c).

2. to offer resistance to s.o.'s actions or words: X дал отпор Y-у ≃ X fought back; X repulsed ⟨rebuffed⟩ Y.

…Жена его всем своим обликом выразила готовность дать отпор явно приближающемуся, но ещё недостаточно приблизившемуся оскорблению её рода (Искандер 5). …His wife's whole attitude expressed preparedness to repulse the obviously nearing, but as yet insufficiently near, insult to her clan (5a).

O-188 • ОТРЫВА́ТЬ/ОТОРВА́ТЬ ОТ СЕБЯ́ (что) coll [VP; subj: human; usu. impfv] to sacrifice sth. one needs in order to give it to or share it with another: X отрывает от себя Y ≃ X deprives himself (of Y); X shares what little he has (with s.o.); X shares his little bit of Y (with s.o.); X gives up Y (for someone else).

O-189 • НЕ ОТРЫВА́ЯСЬ [Verbal Adv; Invar; adv] 1. ~ смотреть, глядеть на кого-что, следить за кем-чем (to look at s.o. or sth.) intently, constantly, without looking away: X не отрываясь смотрел на Y-а ≃ X kept ⟨was⟩ staring at Y; X fixed his eyes ⟨had his eyes fixed⟩ on Y; X did not take his eyes off Y; X gazed fixedly at Y; X watched Y ⟨stared at Y⟩ intently.

…Борисов хлопнул [гипсовый бюст] Сталина по голове и затряс рукой от боли, но тут же выражение боли на его лице сменилось выражением смертельного страха… Он раскрыл рот и смотрел на Голубева не отрываясь, словно загипнотизированный. А тот и сам до смерти перепугался (Войнович 2). …Borisov whacked [the plaster bust of] Stalin on the head, then shook his hand in pain. Instantly, the expression of pain on his face changed into one of mortal fear…. He opened his mouth and stared at Golubev as if hypnotized. Golubev, meanwhile, was scared to death himself (2a).

2. работать, читать, играть, пить и т.п. ~ (to work, read, play an instrument, drink alcohol etc) continuously, without interruption: nonstop; without stopping ⟨ceasing, cease, pause, a break⟩; [lim.] without (a ⟨any⟩) letup; [of reading only] (read through) without putting it ⟨the book⟩ down; || выпить не отрываясь ≃ drink in ⟨at⟩ one go; drink ⟨drain⟩ in one draft; drink straight down.

Книжка оказалась увлекательной, и я читал её три часа не отрываясь, пока не закончил. The book proved to be quite engaging, and I read it without putting it down for three hours until I finished it. ♦ Он взял стакан, пальцы дрожали, и осушил его не отрываясь (Домбровский 2). He took the glass, fingers trembling, and drained it in one draught (2a).

O-190 • В ОТРЫ́ВЕ от чего [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] separately (from sth.): in isolation from; [lim.] ignoring.

Нельзя анализировать эту работу в отрыве от основных философских течений того времени. One can't analyze this work ignoring the basic philosophical movements of the time.

О-191 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ОТСТА́ВКУ кому coll [VP; subj: human, more often female] to break off one's relationship with one's sweetheart or lover: X дала отставку Y-у ≃ X dropped ⟨jilted, dumped⟩ Y; X gave Y the ax ⟨the boot, the heave-ho, the air, the gate⟩; X broke up with Y; X told Y to hit the road.

О-192 • ПОДАВА́ТЬ/ПОДА́ТЬ В ОТСТА́ВКУ [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] to submit a written notification about leaving one's position or retiring from one's job: X подал в отставку ≃ X submitted ⟨filed, sent, turned in⟩ his resignation (papers ⟨letter⟩); X filed ⟨tendered⟩ his resignation; [in refer. to retirement] X filed for retirement; X submitted ⟨filed, turned in, put in⟩ his retirement papers; [in military contexts] X sent in his papers.

Носачевский подал в отставку по собственной воле и уехал из К. навсегда, ибо оставаться не было никакой возможности (Акунин 2). Nosachevsky voluntarily submitted his resignation and left K–, for it was quite impossible for him to stay there (2a).

О-193 • ПОЛУЧА́ТЬ/ПОЛУЧИ́ТЬ ОТСТА́ВКУ coll [VP; subj: human] to be rejected by one's sweetheart or lover: X получил отставку ≃ X got jilted ⟨dumped⟩; X got the ax ⟨the boot, the heave-ho, the air, the gate⟩; X was told to hit the road.

О-194 • ЛИРИ́ЧЕСКОЕ ОТСТУПЛЕ́НИЕ lit, occas. humor [NP; fixed WO] a divergence from the theme of a lecture, speech, story etc. that allows the speaker or narrator to express some emotion: lyrical digression.

О-195 • ОТСУ́ТСТВИЕ ВСЯ́КОГО ПРИСУ́ТСТВИЯ often humor [NP; fixed WO] the state of being mentally absent from what is going on around one: (s.o. is) out of it; (s.o. is) out to lunch; (s.o. is) off in space; there's nobody home.

О-196 • БЛИСТА́ТЬ (СВОИ́М) ОТСУ́ТСТВИЕМ lit, iron [VP; subj: human, abstr, or concr] to be noticeably absent from somewhere, draw attention to o.s. or itself by being absent: X блистал своим отсутствием ≃ X was conspicuous by his ⟨its⟩ absence; X was conspicuously absent.

< Loan translation of the French briller par son absence. Original source: Tacitus (A.D. c55–c120), Annals. English source: Lord John Russell, Speech to the electors of the City of London, 1859.

О-197 • ЗА ОТСУ́ТСТВИЕМ [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] 1. ~ кого in connection with a person's temporary absence from a given place at a given time: in the absence of.

«Я для пущей важности написал на конверте „Его высокоблагородию статскому советнику Бриллингу… либо, за отсутствием оного, его превосходительству господину оберполицеймейстеру“» (Акунин 8). "In order to emphasize its importance I wrote on the envelope: 'To be delivered to His Honor State Counselor Brilling..., or in his absence to His Excellency the Chief of Police'" (8a).

2. ~ кого-чего in connection with the unavailability, complete absence of a person or thing: for lack ⟨want⟩ of; in the absence of.

…За отсутствием пристойной обуви я носила нелепые казанские сапожки с киевской ярмарки (Мандельштам 2). …For want of proper shoes, I was wearing a grotesque pair of Kazan boots which I had bought at the Kiev fair… (2a).

О-198 • ОТДАВА́ТЬ/ОТДА́ТЬ ⟨ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ⟩ СЕБЕ́ ОТЧЁТ в чём [VP; subj: human; more often impfv; often foll. by в том, что; fixed WO] to comprehend, apprehend sth.: X отдаёт себе отчёт в том, что… ≃ X realizes ⟨understands, knows, is aware⟩ that…; || Neg X не отдаёт себе отчёта в том, что… ≃ X has no idea…

Она вот ни разу не видела, чтобы пьяный приставал к милиционеру, значит, прекрасно отдаёт себе отчёт в том, что ему… можно и выгодно, а что — нет! (Залыгин 1). She'd never seen a drunkard pestering a policeman: that meant they knew perfectly well what they could do, what was worth trying, and what wasn't (1a). ♦ Письмо писала молодая сиделка. Руки её дрожали, она не отдавала себе отчёта в том, что делает… (Федин 1). A young nurse was writing a letter. Her hands were trembling and she was not aware of what she was doing… (1a).

О-199 • НА ОТШИ́БЕ coll [PrepP; Invar] 1. (чего) [adv, subj-compl with copula (subj: concr), or nonagreeing postmodif; may be foll. by the name of a place (rare)] set apart, quite a distance away (from some place): at a distance from; in an out-of-the-way place ⟨part of town etc⟩; far off; far away (from); way over ⟨out⟩ there; in a secluded ⟨remote⟩ spot ⟨place⟩; [usu. after another adverbial] out on its own; [lim.] an isolated [NP].

Дом престарелых. Не общежитие, не больница. Прочный забор из железобетонных плит, стальные ворота. Дом расположен на отшибе города (Гальего 1). The old folks' home. Not a boarding house or a hospital. A sturdy wall of reinforced concrete slabs and a steel gate. Located in an out-of-the-way part of town (1a). ♦ Жил он [Камуг] немного на отшибе, поблизости от леса (Искандер 5). Kamug lived in a rather secluded spot, near the forest (5a). ♦ Пройдя часть пути берегом Тёпы, поднялся он к стоявшим на отшибе амбарам… (Войнович 4). Going part of the way along the banks of the Tyopa, he then climbed up to a spot where a few isolated barns stood (4a).

Наконец, Зинаида схватила его в охапку и больше не выпустила (Терц 4). Finally Zinaida threw her arms around him and wouldn't let him go (4a).

О-201 • О́ХИ ДА ⟨И⟩ ВЗДО́ХИ coll [NP; pl only; fixed WO] complaints, lamentations: moans and groans; moaning and groaning.

Он вздыхал, проклинал себя, ворочался с боку на бок, искал виноватого и не находил. Охи и вздохи его достигли даже до ушей Захара (Гончаров 1). He sighed, cursed himself, turned from side to side, looked for someone to blame and could not find anyone. His moans and groans even reached Zakhar's ears (1a).

О-202 • ОХО́ТА ПУ́ЩЕ НЕВО́ЛИ [saying] when one does sth. willingly and for one's own pleasure it does not seem difficult, burdensome etc (said when a person undertakes sth. that others might consider unpleasant, too labor-intensive etc): ≃ when you do something by choice ⟨for fun⟩ it doesn't seem hard; work you enjoy never feels too hard; [lim.] a willing horse needs no spur.

О-203 • В ОХО́ТКУ substand [PrepP; Invar] 1. [adv] (to do sth.) willingly, enthusiastically: gladly; with pleasure; (be) keen (on doing sth.); || Neg не в охотку ≃ (be) none too eager ⟨anxious⟩ (to do sth.); [lim.] have to be begged.

[Фирс:] Прежде у нас на балах танцевали генералы, бароны, адмиралы, а теперь посылаем за почтовым чиновником и начальником станции, да и те не в охотку идут (Чехов 2). [F.:] In the old days there were generals, barons, admirals dancing at our parties, and now we send for the post-office clerk and the station-master, and even they are none too anxious to come (2d). [F.:] Time was we had generals and barons and admirals at our parties, and now who do we get? The postmaster, the stationmaster. And even they have to be begged (2b).

2. ~ кому [usu. subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: concr, abstr, or infin)] sth. (or doing sth.) gives s.o. pleasure, a feeling of satisfaction: X Y-у в охотку ≃ Y likes ⟨enjoys, fancies⟩ (doing) X; Y gets a kick out of (doing) X.

«Думаю, дай достану [грибы], может, кому в охотку придутся. Кушайте, если нравятся» (Распутин 3). "So I thought I'd get them [the mushrooms] out, in case anybody fancied them. Help yourselves if you like them" (3a).

О-204 • В ОХО́ТУ highly coll [PrepP; Invar] 1. (to do sth.) with enjoyment: with pleasure; willingly; with a willing heart.

«А Марья Афанасьевна была супруга поистине золотая. В своё время из светских чаровниц враз перестроилась в матери-командирши, а после и в помещицы. И всё без притворства, от души и в охоту» (Акунин 6). "And Marya Afanasievna was an absolute treasure as a wife. She had made the change from high-society charmer to mother and commander's wife and later to lady of the manor in stride. All with absolute sincerity and with a willing heart" (6a).

2. ~ кому [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: infin)] doing sth. is pleasant for s.o.: X-у делать Y в охоту ≃ X likes doing Y; X does Y willingly.

«…Я разобрала сегодня ваши чулки, — сказала она… — У вас некому разбирать, а мне в охоту» (Гончаров 1). "I've just been sorting your stockings," she said…. "it's not as if you had someone to sort them for you, and anyway, I like doing it" (1c).

О-205 • ОТБИВА́ТЬ/ОТБИ́ТЬ ОХО́ТУ у кого к чему or что делать coll [VP; subj: abstr or human; more often pfv] to cause s.o. to lose the desire to do sth.: X отбил у Y-а охоту делать Z ≃ X killed ⟨squelched⟩ Y's desire ⟨cured Y of the desire⟩ to do Z; X made Y lose interest in doing Z; X made Y lose Y's taste for doing Z; X discouraged Y's inclination to do Z.

…Знакомство с русской историей могло бы давно отбить охоту искать какую-то руку справедливости, какой-то высший вселенский смысл в цепи русских бед… (Солженицын 2). An acquaintance with Russian history might long ago have discouraged any inclination to look for the hand of justice, or for some higher cosmic meaning, in the tale of Russia's woes… (2a).

О-206 • ОХУ́ЛКИ ⟨ПОХУ́ЛЫ⟩ НА́ РУКУ НЕ КЛАСТЬ ⟨НЕ ПОЛОЖИ́ТЬ⟩ obs [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the initial position, otherwise, fixed WO] not to overlook one's own interests, not to fail to exploit an opportunity from which one might gain sth.: X охулки на руку не кладёт ≃ X doesn't let an opportunity pass him by; X doesn't pass up ⟨miss out on⟩ an opportunity; X doesn't lose sight of his own interests.

О-207 • НАТЯ́ГИВАТЬ/НАТЯНУ́ТЬ ОЦЕ́НКУ ⟨ОТМЕ́ТКУ⟩ кому [VP; subj: human] to give a student a higher grade than deserved: X натянул Y-у оценку ≃ X gave Y an undeservedly ⟨undeserved, unmerited, unearned⟩ high grade ⟨mark⟩; X inflated ⟨was generous with⟩ Y's grade; X gave Y an undeserved ⟨unmerited, unearned, inflated⟩ A ⟨B etc.⟩ grade; X adjusted Y's grade upwards; [when giving a passing grade to a failing student] X gave Y a (questionable) passing ⟨pass⟩ grade ⟨mark⟩.

Поскольку он был спортивной гордостью школы, то преподаватели, скривившись, ставили ему сильно натянутые тройки без особых пререканий (Улицкая 1). Since he was the sports star of the school his teachers usually bit the bullet and awarded him highly questionable pass marks without too much trouble (1a).

О-208 • СО ВСЕЙ ⟨С ПО́ЛНОЙ⟩ ОЧЕВИ́ДНОСТЬЮ свидетельствует, показывает, вытекает, следует и т.п. [PrepP; these forms only; adv] completely, without leaving any doubt: (most) convincingly; beyond the shadow of a doubt; perfectly; totally; fully; || из этого со всей очевидностью следует… ⟨это ~ свидетельствует… и т.п.⟩ ≃ it ⟨this⟩ makes it perfectly obvious that… ; || почувствовать ⟨понять и т.п.⟩ со всей очевидностью ≃ feel ⟨realize etc⟩ full force.

«Видите, господа? У него маленькие руки. Он просто не смог бы достаточно крепко ухватить этот увесистый статив, чтобы нанести удар такой мощи. Отсюда со всей очевидностью следует, что Аркадия Сергеевича Поджио убил не он» (Акунин 6). "You see, gentlemen? He has small hands. He simply could not have had a strong enough grip on this weighty tripod to strike a blow of such great force. From which it is perfectly obvious that he did not kill Arkadii Sergeevich Poggio" (6a). ♦ «Товарищи!» — повторил он и почувствовал, что не может сказать дальше ни слова. Только сейчас до него дошло со всей очевидностью, что именно произошло, какое горе свалилось на всех и на него в том числе (Войнович 2). "Comrades!" he repeated, feeling he could not say another word, for it was only at that moment that he was struck full force by everything that had occurred, the grief that had come down on them all, himself included (2a).

О-209 • НА О́ЧЕРЕДИ [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$] 1. [subj: human] (to be) first in order of succession: X на очереди ≃ X's turn is next; X is next (in line ⟨on the list etc⟩).

Двоих из нашего отдела уже уволили, я на очереди. Two people from our department have already been fired, and I'm next on the list.

2. Also: СТОЯ́ТЬ НА О́ЧЕРЕДИ [VP; subj: human] to be included on a list (to receive sth.): X стоит на очереди ≃ X is on a ⟨the⟩ waiting list.

«Когда вам поставят телефон?» — «Кто знает? Мы уже год стоим на очереди». "When will you be getting a telephone?" "Who knows? We've been on the waiting list for a year now."

О-210 • ПО О́ЧЕРЕДИ [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. in succession: in turn; one after another ⟨the other⟩.

Он по очереди обошёл всех обывателей, и хотя молча, но благосклонно принял от них всё, что следует (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). He made the rounds of all the townsfolk in turn and silently but graciously received from them all that was required (1a).

2. alternately: take ⟨taking⟩ turns; by turns.

Персиков забыл о своих амёбах и в течение полутора часа по очереди с Ивановым припадал к стеклу микроскопа (Булгаков 10). Persikov forgot his amoebas and for the next hour and a half took turns with Ivanov at the microscope lens (10a).

О-211 • В ПЕ́РВУЮ О́ЧЕРЕДЬ ⟨ГО́ЛОВУ coll⟩ [PrepP; these forms only; adv or sent adv (often parenth); fixed WO] 1. before (doing) anything else: first of all; in the first place; first (off); the first thing (one does is…); (be) the first to…; (do sth.) first; (s.o.'s) first (job ⟨assignment etc⟩).

«Уж коли ты такой большой начальник, то председателя-то в первую очередь менять надо…» — «Да, не мешало бы», — с ухмылкой протянул Михаил (Абрамов 1). "If you're such a big shot, then the Chairman should be the first to go…" "Yes, it wouldn't hurt." Mikhail smirked (1a).

2. mainly: most of all; above all.

«Во-первых, ты уже начинал этот разговор, правда же? Много раз начинал. А во-вторых, это нужно всем нам, и в первую очередь твоей маме» (Трифонов 4). "In the first place, you began this conversation already didn't you? You started it many times. Secondly, this is necessary for all of us, most of all for your mama" (4a).

О-212 • В СВОЮ́ О́ЧЕРЕДЬ ⟨В СВОЙ ЧЕРЁД obs⟩ [PrepP; these forms only; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] used to show that the action in question follows another action in series and is similar to that action in nature or effect: in one's ⟨its⟩ turn; in turn; [lim.] for one's part.

…Имел он в виду вот что: замолви у меньшевиков за меня словечко, а я в свою очередь прикушу язык, что ты сюда приезжал с военной тайной (Искандер 3). What he had in mind was this: Put in a word for me with the Mensheviks, and I in turn will hold my tongue about your coming here with a military secret (3a).

О-213 • НЕ В ПОСЛЕ́ДНЮЮ О́ЧЕРЕДЬ [PrepP; Invar; usu. sent adv, occas. parenth] to a substantial degree: in no small measure; to no small extent; not least of all.

«У меня есть основания подозревать каждого из присутствующих, и не в последнюю очередь вас» (Акунин 7). "I have grounds to suspect every person here, and not least of all you" (7a).

О-214 • СТА́ВИТЬ/ПОСТА́ВИТЬ НА О́ЧЕРЕДЬ кого [VP; subj: human; usu. 3rd pers pl with indef. refer.] to include s.o. on a list (to receive sth.): X-а поставили на очередь ≃ X ⟨X's name⟩ was put on a ⟨the⟩ waiting list.

Нас поставили на очередь на квартиру. We were put on the waiting list for an apartment.

О-215 • СТАНОВИ́ТЬСЯ/СТАТЬ ⟨ВСТАВА́ТЬ/ВСТАТЬ⟩ НА О́ЧЕРЕДЬ [VP] 1. ~ (на что) [subj: human] to include one's name on a list (to receive sth.): X стал на очередь ≃ X put himself ⟨his name⟩ (down) on a ⟨the⟩ waiting list; X added his name to a ⟨the⟩ waiting list.

Мы подумываем о покупке машины, уже стали на очередь. We're thinking about buying a car and have already put our name on the waiting list.

2. [subj: abstr] (of a question, problem) to become urgent, demanding a quick resolution: на очередь стал X ≃ X became first on the agenda; X became top priority; X came to demand immediate action; X became s.o.'s first priority ⟨most pressing concern⟩; [lim.] s.o.'s next concern was…

Когда почва была достаточно взрыхлена учтивым обращением и народ отдохнул от просвещения, тогда, сама собой, стала на очередь потребность в законодательстве (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). When the ground had been sufficiently broken by courteous treatment, and when the people had had some respite from enlightenment, naturally, the next concern was for legislation (1b).

О-216 • СМЕЖИ́ТЬ О́ЧИ obs, elev; СМЕЖИ́ТЬ ГЛАЗА́ obs [VP; subj: human] 1. to fall asleep: X смежил глаза ≃ X nodded ⟨drifted⟩ off; X slipped off to dreamland ⟨the land of dreams, the land of Nod⟩.

2. to die: X смежил очи ≃ X closed his eyes for the last time; X took his last sleep; X breathed his last.

О-217 • ДЛЯ ОЧИ́СТКИ СО́ВЕСТИ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] in order to avoid or eliminate feelings of remorse, guilt: (in order) to clear ⟨appease⟩ one's conscience; for the sake of one's (own) conscience.

Кончилось тем, что Лена заставила его пообещать, что он завтра же с работы позвонит [тёще] Вере Лазаревне и мягко, деликатно… пригласит в Павлиново. Они, конечно, не приедут, потому что люди очень гордые. Но позвонить нужно. Для очистки совести (Трифонов 4). It ended with Lena making him promise that he'd call [his mother-in-law] Vera Lazarevna from work the next day, and gently, delicately… invite them to Pavlinovo. Of course, they wouldn't come, because they were very proud people. But he should call. To clear his conscience (4a).

Сейчас, желая согреться, он притиснул к себе Таисию Рыжикову и пытался застегнуть у неё на спине пуговицы своего пальто. «Таська, я тебе сегодня палку брошу? Палку брошу?» — гнусавил он (Аксёнов 6). Right now, longing to warm himself, he had clasped Taisia Ryzhikova to his body and was trying to button up his overcoat behind her back. "Hey, Taska, shall I give you a hot rod today? Hows about a hot rod?" he said in a nasal whine (6a).

П-12 • ПЕРЕГИБА́ТЬ/ПЕРЕГНУ́ТЬ ПА́ЛКУ coll [VP; subj: human] to do sth. to an excessive degree, past the point that is considered reasonable, acceptable etc: X перегнул палку ≃ X went ⟨carried it⟩ to extremes; X went overboard ⟨too far⟩; X overstepped the mark; X overdid it; [in refer. to flattery] X laid it on too thick.

«Скажите, серьёзно ли всё это? Не перегнули ли в этот раз палку Додичка и Володичка?» (Лившиц 1). "Tell me, is all this serious? Haven't Dodichka and Volodichka gone a bit too far?" (1a).

П-13 • ПА́ЛОЧКА-ВЫРУЧА́ЛОЧКА coll, humor [NP; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human or, rare, collect); in refer. to either a man or a woman] a person (or, occas., a group) who invariably comes to rescue, is always ready to help another to find a way out of a difficult situation: magic wand; lifesaver; rescuer; ministering angel; savior; (s.o.) always saves the day; (s.o.) always comes to the ⟨my, our etc⟩ aid.

Когда что-то не в порядке с компьютером, я звоню Саше: он моя палочка-выручалочка. Whenever something goes wrong with the computer, I call Sasha—he is my lifesaver.

П-14 • ПА́ЛЬМА ПЕ́РВЕНСТВА lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] full superiority (in some skill) or undisputed victory (in achieving sth. over one's opponent): the palm (of supremacy); || пальма первенства принадлежала X-у ≃ X bore ⟨carried off⟩ the palm; || X уступил Y-у ⟨Y отбил у X-а⟩ пальму первенства ≃ X yielded the palm to Y; Y captured the palm.

«…Я согласен включить его в проект, поделить с ним лавры, отдать ему, наконец, пальму первенства» (Михайловская 1). "…I am ready to include him in the project, to share the laurels with him, even ready to give him the palm of supremacy" (1a).

П-15 • ВЫСА́СЫВАТЬ/ВЫ́СОСАТЬ ИЗ ПА́ЛЬЦА что coll, often disapprov [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to say or assert sth. that is not based in fact, that one creates in his mind: X высосал Y из пальца ≃ X cooked ⟨dreamed, made⟩ up Y; X concocted Y; [lim.] X pulled ⟨spun⟩ Y out of thin air; X pulled Y out of a hat; || Y высосан из пальца ≃ Y is a total ⟨complete⟩ fabrication; Y is cut ⟨made⟩ out of whole cloth.

…Спустя месяц я вышла из [тюремной] больницы, допросы пошли своим чередом, хотя обвинения следователь [Семёнов] уже высасывал из пальца, очевидно нагоняя себе требуемые часы (Ивинская 1). …After a month in the prison hospital, my interrogation was resumed and went on in the same old way—though Semionov, apparently trying to make up for lost time, now began to invent new accusations, spinning them out of thin air (1a). ♦ Я часто думал, почему в Союзе писателей так много бывших (и не только бывших) работников карательных служб. И понял: потому что они действительно писатели. Сколько ими создано сюжетов, высосанных из пальца! (Войнович 3). I often wondered why there were so many former (and not just former) punitive-service employees in the Writers' Union. And now I understood: because they really are writers. How many plots they've created, complete fabrications! (3a).

П-16 • ОБВОДИ́ТЬ/ОБВЕСТИ́ ⟨ОБВЕРТЕ́ТЬ, ОБВЕРНУ́ТЬ⟩ ВОКРУ́Г ⟨КРУГО́М⟩ ПА́ЛЬЦА кого coll [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to deceive s.o. skillfully, adroitly: X обвёл Y-а вокруг пальца ≃ X took Y for a ride; X put ⟨slipped⟩ one over on Y; X bamboozled ⟨hoodwinked, duped etc⟩ Y; X pulled the wool over Y's eyes; [lim.] X made Y look like an ass ⟨a fool, a jerk etc⟩; Y came out looking like an ass ⟨a fool, a jerk etc⟩.

Ловко мы их [органы] обвели вокруг пальца, говорил Правдец своему Другу. Да, говорил Друг, это у нас не отнимешь! Тюремный опыт не пропал даром (Зиновьев 1). "We've really taken them [the secret police] for a ride," Truth-teller said to his Friend. "Yes," said Friend, "no-one can deny us that! Our prison experience has been of some use after all" (1a).

П-17 • ПА́ЛЬЦА ⟨ПА́ЛЕЦ⟩ В РОТ НЕ КЛАДИ́ кому coll [VP_{imper}; these forms only; fixed WO] s.o. should be dealt with very carefully (because he is cunning, quick to take advantage of another's negligence or gullibility, cannot be trusted etc): X-у пальца в рот не клади ≃ you have to be on your guard with X; X is not someone to mess around ⟨to trifle, to fool⟩ with; X is not (a man ⟨a woman⟩) to be trifled ⟨messed⟩ with; you can't ⟨I wouldn't etc⟩ trust X an inch.

«Что вы скажете насчёт Сноудена?» — «Я скажу вам откровенно, — отвечала панама, — Сноудену пальца в рот не клади» (Ильф и Петров 2). "What's your take on Snowden?" "I'll tell it to you straight: Snowden is not to be trifled with," the panama answered (2c). "…What do you think of Snowden?" "I tell you straight," replied the Panama, "I wouldn't trust him an inch" (2a).

П-18 • ПО ПА́ЛЬЦАМ МО́ЖНО ПЕРЕСЧИТА́ТЬ ⟨ПЕРЕЧЕ́СТЬ, СОСЧИТА́ТЬ, СЧЕСТЬ⟩ кого-что coll [VP; quantit impers predic with $быть_ø$] (the people or things in question) are very few: X-ов по пальцам можно пересчитать ≃ you can count Xs on the fingers of one hand ⟨on your fingers⟩.

Да и сегодня можно ещё по пальцам пересчитать примеры, когда литераторы отказывались бы публиковать свои произведения — не хочу вместо преследуемого, не хочу дать мерзавцу, стоящему во главе журнала, и т.д. (Орлова 1). Even today you could still count the examples on your fingers where writers would refuse to publish their works, saying "I don't want to do so in place of a person who is being persecuted, I won't give in to the villain who is at the head of the journal" and so forth (1a).

П-19 • ПЛЫТЬ ⟨УПЛЫВА́ТЬ/УПЛЫ́ТЬ, УХОДИ́ТЬ/УЙТИ́⟩ МЕЖДУ ⟨МЕЖ⟩ ПА́ЛЬЦАМИ ⟨МЕ́ЖДУ ПА́ЛЬЦЕВ, СКВОЗЬ ПА́ЛЬЦЫ⟩; ПРОХОДИ́ТЬ/ПРОЙТИ́ МЕЖДУ РУК all coll [VP; subj: a noun denoting money, means] to be spent or wasted quickly and unnoticeably: X уплыл между пальцами ≃ X slipped through ⟨between⟩ Y's fingers.

П-20 • ПРОСКА́КИВАТЬ/ПРОСКОЧИ́ТЬ ⟨ПРОСКА́ЛЬЗЫВАТЬ/ПРОСКОЛЬЗНУ́ТЬ⟩ МЕЖДУ ПА́ЛЬЦАМИ ⟨МЕЖДУ ПА́ЛЬЦЕВ, МЕЖДУ РУК(А́МИ)⟩ (у кого); ПРОСКА́КИВАТЬ/ПРОСКОЧИ́ТЬ СКВОЗЬ ПА́ЛЬЦЫ; УХОДИ́ТЬ/УЙТИ́ МЕЖДУ РУК all coll [VP; subj: human or collect] to break away or escape adroitly: X про-скочил у Y-а между пальцами ≃ X slipped through Y's fingers.

«Вы со всею массой своею обрушились на несчастного Мортье при одной дивизии, и этот Мортье уходит у вас между рук? Где же победа?» (Толстой 4). "You with all your forces fall upon the unfortunate Mortier with his one division, and he slips through your fingers. Where's the victory?" (4a).

П-21 • КАК СВОЙ ПЯТЬ ПА́ЛЬЦЕВ знать кого-что coll [как + NP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to know s.o. or sth.) very well: (know sth.) like the back ⟨the palm⟩ of one's hand; (know s.o. ⟨sth.⟩) inside out.

Слава спросил: «Город хорошо знаешь?» — «Как свои пять пальцев» (Чернёнок 1). Slava asked, "Do you know the city well?" "Like the back of my hand" (1a).

П-22 • ПА́ЛЬЦЕМ НЕ ТРО́ГАТЬ/НЕ ТРО́НУТЬ кого coll [VP; subj: human; more often pfv; used without negation to convey the opposite meaning (often infin with verbs of prohibition); usu. this WO] not to cause s.o. any physical harm (by hitting, beating etc him): X Y-а пальцем не тронул ≃ X didn't (so much as) lay a finger ⟨a hand⟩ on Y; X never laid a finger ⟨a hand⟩ on Y; X didn't touch Y.

Сыновей дедушка иногда избивал до полусмерти, но единственную дочь свою, Рахиль, как я уже говорил, ни разу пальцем не тронул (Рыбаков 1). Sometimes grandfather beat his sons till they were nearly half-dead, but he had never so much as laid a finger on his daughter, as I have already mentioned (1a).

П-23 • ПА́ЛЬЦЕМ НЕ (ПО)ШЕВЕЛЬНУ́ТЬ ⟨НЕ ПОШЕВЕЛИ́ТЬ, НЕ ДВИ́НУТЬ⟩ coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human; used without negation to convey the opposite meaning] not to make even the slightest effort (toward achieving some goal, helping s.o. etc): X пальцем не шевельнул ≃ X didn't lift a finger; X didn't do a thing; X didn't make a (single) move.

Незадолго до своего отъезда Хлебников пожаловался, что не хочет уезжать, но вынужден из-за отсутствия жилья… Хлебников согласился бы и на тёмный угол. Только никто ради него не пошевелил пальцем (Мандельштам 2). Not long before he went away, Khlebnikov complained that he didn't want to leave, but was forced to for lack of a roof over his head…. Khlebnikov would have settled for any dark corner. Nobody, however, lifted a finger to help him (2a).

П-24 • ПОКА́ЗЫВАТЬ ⟨УКА́ЗЫВАТЬ, ТЫ́КАТЬ⟩ ПА́ЛЬЦЕМ ⟨-ами⟩ (на кого-что); ТЫ́КАТЬ ПА́ЛЬЦЕМ ⟨-ами⟩ в кого all coll, disapprov [VP; subj and obj: human or collect] to censure s.o. (or some organization, group etc) openly, publicly, drawing general attention to the object of blame: X показывает пальцем на Y-а ≃ X points a ⟨the, his⟩ finger at Y.

В двадцатых годах все понемногу учили Мандельштама, в тридцатых на него показывали пальцами, а он жил, поплёвывая, в окружении дикарей и делал своё дело (Мандельштам 2). In the twenties everybody tried to reason with M[andelstam], but in the thirties they were already pointing their fingers at him; not concealing his distaste, he went on living among the barbarians and did what he had to do (2a).

П-25 • ПОПАДА́ТЬ/ПОПА́СТЬ ПА́ЛЬЦЕМ В НЕ́БО coll, usu. humor or iron [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv past] to give an answer, make a supposition etc that turns out to be incorrect, erroneous, absurd etc: X попал пальцем в небо ≃ X was wide of the mark; X was way off (the mark); X was (way) out in left field.

[Почтмейстер:] А что думаю? война с турками будет. [Аммос Фёдорович:] В одно слово! Я сам то же думал. [Городничий:] Да, оба пальцем в небо попали! (Гоголь 4). [Postmaster:] What do I think? Why, there's going to be a war with the Turks. [A.F.:] Just what I said! I thought the same myself. [Mayor:] And both wide of the mark (4c).

П-26 • ОБЖЕ́ЧЬ СЕБЕ́ ПА́ЛЬЦЫ ⟨РУ́КИ⟩ на чём coll [VP; subj: human] to get in trouble or suffer loss or failure because of a miscalculation, one's foolishness etc: X обжёг себе пальцы на Y-е ≃ X got burned (doing Y); X burned his fingers (by) doing Y; X had ⟨got⟩ his fingers burned.

Сергей уже обжёг себе пальцы на покупке краденого мотоцикла и больше ни о каких сделках, связанных с чёрным рынком, даже слышать не хотел. After getting burned buying a stolen motorcyle, Sergey didn't even want to hear about any more black-market deals.

П-27 • ПРОПУСКА́ТЬ/ПРОПУСТИ́ТЬ СКВОЗЬ ПА́ЛЬЦЫ что coll [VP; subj: human] 1. (in refer. to sth. reprehensible, offensive etc) to ignore sth. intentionally: X пропустил Y сквозь пальцы ≃ X overlooked Y; X shrugged Y off; X let Y go (by).

Он много прощал или, лучше, пропускал сквозь пальцы… (Герцен 1). He was ready to forgive much, or rather to overlook it… (1a).

2. Also: ПРОПУСКА́ТЬ/ПРОПУСТИ́ТЬ МИМО РУК coll (in refer. to a good opportunity, chance etc) to fail to take advantage of sth.: X пропустил Y сквозь пальцы ≃ X let Y slip through his fingers; X let Y pass him by; Y slipped through X's fingers; X missed out on Y.

П-28 • СМОТРЕ́ТЬ/ПОСМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ/ПОГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ⟩ СКВОЗЬ ПА́ЛЬЦЫ на что, rare на кого coll [VP; subj: human or collect; usu. impfv; usu. this WO] (in refer. to s.o.'s reprehensible, illegal, annoying etc actions or behavior) intentionally not to react to sth., as if accepting it by allowing it to go on: X смотрит на Y сквозь пальцы ≃ X turns a blind eye to Y; X closes ⟨shuts⟩ his eyes to Y; X looks the other way; X winks at Y; X deliberately overlooks Y; [lim.] X takes a lenient view of Y; X doesn't check (up) on Y.

«Неужели начальство не знает про эти тепловые ямы?» — «Отлично знает, но смотрит сквозь пальцы» (Аксёнов 6). "Surely the bosses at the top know about these heating tunnels, don't they?" "Of course they know, but they turn a blind eye to them" (6a). ♦ Единственная лазейка для склоки — соседский донос о непрописанном жильце, но начальство стало смотреть на это сквозь пальцы — время переменилось (Мандельштам 1). The only scope left for trouble-making is for a neighbor to denounce a tenant who lives without a permit, but the authorities have begun to take a lenient view of such cases. Times have changed (1a).

П-29 • ПА́ЛЬЧИКИ ОБЛИ́ЖЕШЬ ⟨-ете⟩ coll [VP; fut, gener. 2nd pers only; fixed WO] 1. [indep. sent or predic (subj: a noun denoting some type of food, drink etc)] sth. is very tasty, appetizing: X — пальчики оближешь ≃ X will make your mouth water; X is mouth-watering ⟨scrumptious⟩; you'll drool over X; X is finger-lickin' good.

…Хотя главной их пищей была бульба-картофель, но из картофеля они готовили вкуснейшие блюда: бульба со шкварками, бульба с грибами, бульба с кислым молоком… А драники — картофельные оладьи с мёдом, сметаной или грибами — пальчики оближешь! (Рыбаков 1). …Though their staple food was potatoes, they made them into the most delicious dishes, like potatoes with crackling, potatoes with mushrooms, potatoes with sour milk, and as for their potato fritters with honey, or sour cream, or mushrooms, we used to drool over them! (1a).

2. [indep. sent or predic (subj: usu. concrete or human, female)] sth. is enticing, alluring; (of an attractive woman referred to in a conversation between men) some woman is very beautiful and desirable: X — пальчики оближешь ≃ X will make your mouth water; you'll smack ⟨lick⟩ your lips (when you see X); X will make you lick your chops.

«Рабинович-то твой у нас теперь обитает. Переселили. Ну, и глаз у тебя, прокурор!.. Снайпер! Робин Гуд! Тиль Уленшпигель!» Воровато оглядевшись, он [Скромных] почти уткнулся губами в прокурорскую шею. «Помнишь, намекал ты… ещё в сентябре? Я сразу догадался… Копнули мы поглубже и, говоря между нами, дельце получилось — пальчики оближешь» (Терц 7). "Your Rabinovich case has come my way. He's been turned over to us. I'll say you've got a good eye, Globov. You're a real sniper! A Robin Hood! A Tyll Eulenspiegel." Throwing a stealthy look over his shoulder, Skromnykh almost nuzzled the Prosecutor's neck. "Remember what you hinted at… as far back as September? I guessed what you were getting at at once. And now we've dug a little deeper: between you and me, we've got a case to make your mouth water" (7a). ♦ [Дулебов:] А я вам, вместо Негиной, выпишу актрису настоящую… Пальчики оближете (Островский 11). [D.:] And I'll send for a real actress to take Negina's place…. You'll smack your lips when you see her (11a).

П-30 • БЕЗ ПА́МЯТИ coll [PrepP; Invar] 1. [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, лежать (subj: human)] one is, lies in a state of unconsciousness: X был без памяти ≃ X was unconscious; X was out cold.

«Когда дым рассеялся, на земле лежала раненая лошадь, и возле неё Бэла… Бедняжка, она лежала неподвижно, и кровь лилась из раны ручьями… Она была без памяти» (Лермонтов 1). "When the smoke had cleared, the wounded horse lay on the ground, and beside it lay Bela…. Poor little thing, she was lying motionless, and blood poured out of her wound in streams…. She was unconscious" (1a).

2. любить кого-что, быть$_{ø}$ влюблённым (в кого), увлечься кем-чем и т.п. ~ [adv (intensif)] (to love s.o., be enamored of s.o. or sth.) very strongly, passionately: (be) head over heels in love with s.o.; love s.o. madly ⟨to distraction⟩; (be) madly in love with s.o.; (be) crazy about s.o. ⟨sth.⟩.

Целомудренный и застенчивый Николай… был без памяти влюблён в дочь управляющего одной из экономий (Лившиц 1). …The chaste and shy Nikolai… was head over heels in love with the daughter of the manager of one of the estates (1a).

3. ~ от кого-чего [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human)] one is enraptured by s.o. or sth.: X был без памяти от Y-а ≃ X was enchanted ⟨delighted, carried away⟩ by Y; X lost his head over person Y; X was ecstatic about thing Y; X was in raptures over Y; X was wild about Y; X went nuts over Y.

В немного времени он [Чичиков] совершенно успел очаровать их. Помещик Манилов… был от него без памяти (Гоголь 3). It did not take him [Chichikov] long to charm both of them completely. Landowner Manilov… simply lost his head over Chichikov (3c). ♦ Нет, ничего он парень. Я, если честно, таких рослых и румяных не люблю. Девки от них без памяти, а чего, спрашивается? Не в росте ведь дело… (Стругацкие 5). To tell the truth, I don't like guys who are that tall and rosy-cheeked. Women go nuts over them, and I don't know why. Height is not the important thing (5a).

4. бежать, нестись и т.п. ~ [adv] (of a person or animal) (to run, race etc) very fast, impetuously, not paying attention to anything around one: like one possessed; like mad; at breakneck speed; like a bat out of hell.

Пётр схватил конверт и без памяти помчался домой. Pyotr grabbed the envelope and raced home at breakneck speed.

П-31 • БЛАЖЁННОЙ ⟨СВЕ́ТЛОЙ, НЕЗАБВЕ́ННОЙ ПА́МЯТИ⟩ obs, lit [NP$_{gen}$; these forms only; nonagreeing modif; foll. by a personal noun, often a person's name] (of a deceased person) remembered with respect and love: of blessed ⟨hallowed, happy⟩ memory.

…Между Кресс̀е и Покленом произошёл серьёзнейший разговор. Передавать его не стану. Воскликну лишь: о светлой памяти Людовик Кресс̀е! (Булгаков 5). …A most serious conversation took place between Cressé and Poquelin. I shall not repeat it to you. I shall merely exclaim: Oh, Louis Cressé of hallowed memory! (5a).

П-32 • ВСПЛЫВА́ТЬ/ВСПЛЫ́ТЬ В ПА́МЯТИ чьей, кого [VP; subj: usu. abstr] to be recollected by s.o.: X всплыл в Y-овой памяти ≃ X came back to Y; Y's mind returned to X; Y recalled X.

Он долго не мог заснуть: в его памяти всплывала сцена на вокзале. It took him a long time to get to sleep: his mind kept returning to the events at the train station.

П-33 • ВЫЖИВА́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЖИТЬ ИЗ ПА́МЯТИ coll [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to become forgetful because of old age, be unable to remember things: X выжил из памяти ≃ X has lost his memory.

П-34 • ВЫЧЁРКИВАТЬ/ВЫ́ЧЕРКНУТЬ ИЗ ПА́МЯТИ кого-что [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] to forget or make o.s. forget s.o. or sth., stop thinking about s.o. or sth.: X вычеркнул Y-а из памяти ≃ X erased ⟨effaced⟩ Y from X's memory; X erased ⟨obliterated, blotted out⟩ all memory of Y; X excised Y from X's mind.

Не хотелось больше этой боли, этой судороги, когда человек, на которого ты полагался, которого любил, вдруг малодушно предавал тебя и нужно было навсегда вычеркнуть его из памяти (Буковский 1). I could no longer face the pain and turmoil when a person you had relied on and loved suddenly turned coward and betrayed you, and you had to excise him from your mind forever (1a).

П-35 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ В ПА́МЯТИ кого-что [VP; subj: human] to retain s.o. or sth. in one's memory and/or constantly think of s.o. or sth.: X держит Y-а в памяти ≃ X keeps Y in X's memory; [lim.] X returns to thoughts of Y; X remembers Y.

Те [очевидцы], что остались, рассказывают по-разному, а некоторые и вовсе не помнят. Да, по правде сказать, и не такой это случай, чтоб держать его в памяти столько времени (Войнович 2). Those [eyewitnesses] that are [left] tell all kinds of different stories and some can't remember anything at all. Besides, to tell the truth, it was not the kind of incident you'd remember for that long a time (2a).

П-36 • НА ПА́МЯТИ чьей, кого [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. abstr, human, or collect)] during s.o.'s lifetime, so that he himself has been a witness to sth. and remembers what happened at the time: на X-овой памяти ≃ in ⟨within⟩ X's memory ⟨recollection⟩; X can recall ⟨remember⟩; [lim.] in ⟨within⟩ living memory.

Я думаю о своём роде, о его и своей судьбе… У нас было пять ветвей, все мужские. Четыре из них прекратились при моей жизни, на моей памяти (Федин 1). I think of my family, of its fate and my own… We had five branches, all male. Four of them came to an end during my lifetime, within my memory (1a).

П-37 • НЕДО́БРОЙ ⟨ПЕЧА́ЛЬНОЙ⟩ ПА́МЯТИ lit [NP_{gen}; these forms only; nonagreeing modif; often foll. by a personal or collect noun] (of the deceased who is) remembered disapprovingly; (of sth. that) once existed but then disappeared, leaving unpleasant memories: of cursed memory; of ill repute; whom ⟨which⟩ no one cares to remember.

П-38 • ПО ПА́МЯТИ читать, рисовать, записывать что и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to recite, paint, write down etc sth.) without referring to the text, the original, or the source, but rather relying on one's recollection of it: from memory.

Тут Лёва написал ещё много отвлечённых от Тютчева страниц… Мы не можем восстановить по памяти, но там было несколько примечательно разумных страниц психологических обоснований… (Битов 2). Here without reference to Tyutchev, Lyova wrote a good many more pages…. We can't re-create them from memory, but there were several remarkably judicious pages of psychological substantiation… (2a).

П-39 • ПО СТА́РОЙ ПА́МЯТИ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to do sth.) because of pleasant or sentimental memories of times past (usu. related to an old friendship, an old love, or old traditions); (occas., to do sth.) as a result of a routine one followed in the past: for old times' ⟨time's, memories'⟩ sake; [lim.] by ⟨from⟩ force of habit; force of habit (makes s.o. do sth.); out of old habit.

[Кай:] Появилась в половине одиннадцатого… Вся в снегу. «Приюти, говорит, по старой памяти — девочка у меня в пути захворала…» (Арбузов 2). [K.:] She turned up at ten-thirty… She was covered with snow. "Take me in—for old times' sake," she said. "My little girl fell ill on the journey…" (2a). ♦ По старой памяти потянуло меня на Старую площадь (Зиновьев 2). Force of habit pulled me back to the Old Square (2a).

П-40 • РЫ́ТЬСЯ/ПОРЫ́ТЬСЯ ⟨КОПА́ТЬСЯ/ПОКОПА́ТЬСЯ⟩ В ПА́МЯТИ [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to think concentratedly in an effort to remember or recall sth.: X порылся в памяти ≃ X jogged ⟨searched⟩ his memory; X dug (down) deep into his memory; X rummaged through his memory.

«Советую вам подумать, Панкратов… Мы вас щадим, поймите. И оцените. Покопайтесь в памяти, покопайтесь!» (Рыбаков 2). "I advise you to think seriously, Pankratov…. We're being merciful with you, you must understand that. And you ought to appreciate it. Dig into your memory, dig deep!" (2a).

П-41 • В ПА́МЯТЬ кого-чего [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] in honor of s.o. or sth., in order to preserve the memory of s.o. or sth.: in memory of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; in commemoration of sth.; to commemorate sth.

Рядом справа был муж, которого она почему-то всегда называла Мансуровым, а иногда, то ли в насмешку, то ли в память давно минувших лет их островной жизни, — Мансуровым-Курильским (Залыгин 1). On her right was her husband, whom she habitually called Mansurov, but sometimes Mansurov-Kurilsky. This was half in fun and half in memory of the long-gone days when they lived on the Kurile Islands (1a). ♦ «Я посадил дерево в память о том, что вы меня не любили» (Олеша 1). "I planted this tree to commemorate the fact that you didn't love me" (1a).

П-42 • ВЕ́ЧНАЯ ПА́МЯТЬ кому [indep. clause; fixed WO] a wish that the deceased always be remembered (usu. for his good deeds, noteworthy acts, great feats etc): вечная память X-у ≃ may X's memory live (on) forever; may X never be forgotten; let us never forget X; let X be remembered forever.

…Много девушек-связисток осталось в сталинградской земле, вечная им память! (Рыбаков 1). A lot of the girls in the signals were left behind in the soil of Stalingrad. May they never be forgotten (1a).

< The closing words of a funeral service.

П-43 • ВРЕЗА́ТЬСЯ/ВРЕ́ЗАТЬСЯ В ПА́МЯТЬ кому, чью, кого ⟨В ПА́МЯТИ чьей⟩ [VP; subj: usu. abstr or concr; usu. pfv] to be or become fixed firmly in s.o.'s memory: X вре́зался Y-у в память ≃ X is ⟨has become⟩ etched (indelibly) in Y's memory ⟨mind⟩; X has etched itself into Y's memory ⟨mind⟩; X is ⟨has become⟩ engraved in Y's memory ⟨mind⟩; X is imprinted ⟨has imprinted itself⟩ on Y's memory ⟨mind⟩; X has stuck in Y's mind.

Текстуально его слов я не помню, но смысл врезался мне в память… (Мандельштам 2). I do not remember the exact form of what he said but the sense is etched in my memory… (2a).

П-44 • ЕСЛИ ПА́МЯТЬ НЕ ИЗМЕНЯ́ЕТ кому coll [subord clause; Invar; used in direct or indirect speech] used to indicate that although the speaker thinks that what he is about to say is correct, he might have remembered it incorrectly: если мне не изменяет память ≃ if (my) memory doesn't fail ⟨deceive⟩ me; if (my) memory serves me correctly ⟨right⟩.

П-45 • КОРО́ТКАЯ ПА́МЯТЬ (у кого); ДЕ́ВИЧЬЯ ПА́МЯТЬ coll; ДЫРЯ́ВАЯ ⟨КУРИ́НАЯ, ПТИ́ЧЬЯ obs⟩ ПА́МЯТЬ coll [NP; usu. used as VP_{subj} with copula] (s.o. has) a bad memory, (is) forgetful: у X-а короткая память ≃ X has a short ⟨a lousy etc⟩ memory; X has a head ⟨a brain, a memory⟩ like a sieve.

П-46 • НА ПА́МЯТЬ[1] знать, читать, цитировать и т.п. что coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to know, recite, quote etc sth.) without looking at the text, having memorized it beforehand: знать ⟨заучивать⟩ что ~ ≃ know ⟨learn⟩ sth. by heart ⟨by rote⟩; || читать ⟨рассказывать, цитировать⟩ что ~ ≃ recite ⟨narrate, quote⟩ sth. from memory.

Все они чтили незабвенную память Н.М. Карамзина, любили Жуковского, знали на память Крылова… (Герцен 1). They all cherished the never-to-be-forgotten memory of N.M. Karamzin, loved Zhukovsky, knew Krylov by heart… (1a). ♦ За десять дней до приезда в Россию он [Маринетти] выпустил манифест… и теперь цитировал из него на память наиболее хлёсткие места (Лившиц 1). Ten days before his arrival in Russia, he [Marinetti] had published the manifesto… and now he quoted from memory its most trenchant passages (1a).

П-47 • НА ПА́МЯТЬ[2] давать, дарить, принимать что и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to give or receive a gift) that is intended to remind the recipient in the future of s.o. or sth. special, dear etc to him in the past: as a memento ⟨a souvenir, a keepsake, a remembrance⟩; to remember s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ by.

«Пусть она [колода карт] останется у вас на память!» — прокричал Фагот (Булгаков 9). "Keep it [the deck of cards] as a memento!" cried Fagot (9a). ♦ [Нина:] Я прошу вас принять от меня на память вот этот маленький медальон (Чехов 6). [N.:] I'd like you to have this little medallion as a keepsake (6b).

П-48 • НА СВЕ́ЖУЮ ПА́МЯТЬ записать, пересказать что и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to write sth. down, retell sth. etc) while one still remembers it clearly, has not yet forgotten it: while sth. is still fresh in one's memory ⟨mind⟩; before one forgets sth.

Надо на свежую память записать эти анекдоты, а то забуду. I must jot down these jokes while they're still fresh in my memory, otherwise I'll forget them.

П-49 • ПРИВО́ДИТ НА ПА́МЯТЬ ⟨НА УМ⟩ кому что obs [VP; subj: usu. abstr] (some occurrence, situation, fact etc) causes s.o. to recall (some other occurrence, situation, fact etc): X приводит Y-у на память Z ≃ X reminds Y of Z; X makes Y think of Z; X brings to mind Z; X brings back memories of Z; X calls Z to mind.

Всегда бывает в январе несколько дней, похожих на весну — собственно, не то чтобы похожих на весну, а таких дней, которые вдруг приводят тебе на память облик весны (Олеша 3). In January there are always several springlike days,—actually, they don't so much resemble spring as suddenly remind you of what it is like (3a).

П-50 • ПРИХОДИ́ТЬ/ПРИЙТИ́ НА ПА́МЯТЬ кому [VP; subj: any noun] to be recollected by s.o.: Y-у пришёл на память X ≃ Y recalled ⟨remembered⟩ X; X came back to Y; X came to mind.

…При первом упоминании о Байбакове, всем пришло на память его странное поведение и таинственные ночные походы его в квартиру градоначальника… (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). …At the mention of Baibakov everyone recalled his strange behaviour and his mysterious nocturnal visits to the governor's apartment… (1b). …At the first mention of Dormousov, everyone remembered his strange behavior and his mysterious nocturnal expeditions to the town governor's apartment… (1a).

П-51 • ПАН ИЛИ ПРОПА́Л; И́ЛИ ⟨ЛИ́БО⟩ ПАН, И́ЛИ ⟨ЛИ́БО⟩ ПРОПА́Л [saying] (used to express a person's determination to risk everything in the hope of achieving success, obtaining sth. etc) either one will achieve all one wishes for, gain everything, or he will suffer total failure and lose everything: ≃ (it's) all ⟨neck⟩ or nothing; (it's) sink or swim; [lim.] it will make me ⟨you etc⟩ or break me ⟨you etc⟩.

В «поиске», когда захватывающая группа в пять-шесть человек кидается в немецкую траншею, вообще не до хитростей — тут уж либо пан, либо пропал, а подержишься, побережёшься, погубишь и себя, и всех (Распутин 2). When a party of five or six men throws itself at a German trench, there's no time for niceties anyway—it's all sink or swim, and if you hold back and try to cover yourself you'll destroy yourself and the others too (2a).

П-52 • ИДТИ́/ПОЙТИ́ ⟨ВЫХОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЙТИ⟩ НА ПАНЕ́ЛЬ; РАБО́ТАТЬ НА ПАНЕ́ЛИ all coll [VP; subj: human, female] to be or become a prostitute: X пошла на панель ≃ X became a streetwalker; X started turning tricks; X started ⟨took to⟩ selling herself (on the streets); || X работает на панели ≃ X is a streetwalker; X walks the streets; X turns tricks; X is selling herself (on the streets).

«Я с ней как с порядочной, а она меня обзывает, дрянь! Школу не успела кончить, уже на панель пошла, а меня обзывает!» (Рыбаков 2). "I spoke to her like a civilized woman, but she had to call me names, the slut! She hasn't even left school yet, and she's already turning tricks" (2a).

П-53 • СБИВА́ТЬ/СБИТЬ С ПАНТАЛЫ́КУ кого highly coll [VP; subj: human or abstr] 1. Also: СБИВА́ТЬ/СБИ́ТЬ С ПАХВЕ́Й obs to perplex s.o., throw s.o. into confusion: X сбил Y-а с панталыку ≃ X muddled ⟨befuddled⟩ Y; X got Y muddled ⟨rattled, flustered, all mixed up, all shook up⟩.

«Я, — говорил Персиков, — не могу понять вот чего: почему нужна такая спешность и секрет?» — «Вы, профессор, меня уже сбили с панталыку… вы же знаете, что куры все издохли до единой». — «Ну так что из этого? — завопил Персиков, — что же, вы хотите их воскресить моментально, что ли?» (Булгаков 10). "I cannot understand one thing," said Persikov. "Why is such rushing and secrecy necessary?" "You have already got me muddled, professor…. You know that every last chicken has died off?" "Well, what about it?" shrieked Persikov. "Do you want to resurrect them instantly, or what?" (10b).

2. to induce s.o. to change his behavior for the worse, drive s.o. to do sth. wrong (by serving as a bad example or exerting some influence over him): X сбил Y-а с панталыку ≃ X led Y off the straight and narrow; X knocked Y off course; X led Y astray ⟨down the wrong path⟩.

П-54 • СБИВА́ТЬСЯ/СБИ́ТЬСЯ С ПАНТАЛЫ́КУ highly coll [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] 1. Also: СБИВА́ТЬСЯ/СБИ́ТЬСЯ С ПАХВЕ́Й obs to become perplexed, not know what to do: X сбился с панталыку ≃ X got ⟨was⟩ muddled ⟨befuddled, rattled, flustered⟩; X got ⟨was⟩ all mixed up.

2. (often in refer. to moral deterioration) to change one's behavior for the worse: X сбился с панталыку ≃ X strayed from the straight and narrow; X got ⟨was⟩ knocked off course; X went astray ⟨wrong⟩; X went ⟨slid⟩ downhill.

Когда у человека наступает полоса невезения и он, как говорят, сбивается с панталыку, — кому какое дело! Вылезай сам (Трифонов 5). When you're overtaken by a streak of bad luck and are knocked off course, so to speak, who wants anything to do with you! It's your problem—you take care of it (5a).

П-55 • ПАНЫ́ ДЕРУ́ТСЯ, А У ХЛО́ПЦЕВ ⟨ХОЛО́ПОВ⟩ ЧУБЫ́ ТРЕЩА́Т ⟨БОЛЯ́Т⟩ [saying] when those in power, the superiors, are in conflict, it is the common people, the subordinates, who suffer: ≃ the poor man always gets the blame; when (the) masters fall out, their men get the clout.

Несколько зная язык, он писал статью начерно, оставляя пробелы, вкрапливая русские фразы и требуя от Фёдора Константиновича дословного перевода своих передовичных словец: …чудеса в решете… пришла беда — растворяй ворота… паны дерутся — у хлопцев чубы болят… (Набоков 1). Having a smattering of the language, he wrote his article out in rough, with gaps and Russian phrases interspersed, and demanded from Fyodor a literal translation of the usual phrases found in leaders: …wonders never cease… troubles never come singly… the poor man always gets the blame… (1a). ♦ [author's usage] Штокман… обрисовал борьбу капиталистических государств за рынки и колонии. В конце его возмущённо перебил Иван Алексеевич. «Погоди, а мы-то тут при чём?» — …«Ты не будь дитём [ungrammat = дитятею, ребёнком], — язвил Валет, — старая поговорка: „Паны дерутся, а у холопов чубы трясутся“» (Шолохов 2). Stokman described the struggle between the capitalist countries for markets and colonies. Before he could finish, Ivan interrupted indignantly, "But what has this got to do with us?"… "Don't talk like a kid," Knave

П-56 • СВЯТЁЕ ПА́ПЫ РИ́МСКОГО lit, iron [AdjP; subj-compl with хотеть быть, пытаться стать, хотеть казаться etc (subj: human); fixed WO] (of a person whose actions and behavior are viewed as hypocritical; to want or try to impress others as) morally superior, more ideologically pure, walking a higher moral ground than the average person: X хочет быть святее папы римского ⟨Папы Римского⟩ ≃ X wants to be holier than the Pope ⟨more Catholic than the Pope⟩; X wants ⟨is trying⟩ to outpope the Pope; [lim.] X is holier-than-thou, isn't he?

П-57 • НЕ ПА́РА кому [NP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); usu. pres] one does not suit s.o. in some respect, with regard to certain qualities (often in refer. to suitability for marriage in terms of social or financial status, age, appearance etc): X Y-у не пара ≃ X is not a (good) match for Y; X is not right ⟨not the right match⟩ for Y; X is no match ⟨mate⟩ for Y; X and Y are a mismatch; X is not the man ⟨the woman⟩ for Y; [lim.] X is not Y's equal; X is not meant for Y.

Наш замполит, капитан Сазонов, — типичный замполит, тупой, обрюзгший, с красной бычьей шеей и глазами навыкате, — был особенно ревнив… А она [его жена] — молоденькая, хрупкая, изящная, совсем ему не пара… (Буковский 1). Captain Sazonov, a typical commissar—stupid, flabby, with a red bull neck and bulging eyes—was the most jealous of all…. She [his wife]—youthful, fragile, graceful—seemed not at all the right match for him… (1a).

П-58 • ПА́РА ПУСТЯКО́В (для кого) coll [NP; sing only; subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: infin or abstr, often это); usu. pres; fixed WO] sth. or to do sth. is very easy: child's play; a piece of cake; a cinch; (as) easy as pie; a snap; no sweat; it's like shooting fish in a barrel.

Петя тебе починит утюг, для него это пара пустяков. Petya will fix your iron, that's a piece of cake for him.

П-59 • В ПО́ЛНОМ ⟨ВО ВСЁМ, ПРИ ВСЁМ⟩ ПАРА́ДЕ; ПРИ (ПО́ЛНОМ) ПАРА́ДЕ all coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); fixed WO] in attractive (festive or official) clothing: all dressed up; in full-dress uniform; in full regalia; dressed to kill; dressed to the nines; all decked out.

[Нина (Смотрит в окно.):] Васенька, иди полюбуйся. Наталья при всём параде (Вампилов 4). [N. (Looking out of window.):] Vasenka, there's Natalia. Dressed to kill. Come and feast your eyes on her (4a).

П-60 • КОМА́НДОВАТЬ ПАРА́ДОМ coll [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to exercise control over everything, be the boss: X командует парадом ≃ X runs the (whole) show; X is in charge; X calls the shots; [of a woman who controls her husband and makes all the decisions] X wears the pants (in the family).

Сильной личностью считалась мать, командовала парадом она, властная, категоричная, неуступчивая… (Рыбаков 1). Mother seemed to have the stronger personality, she was the one in charge, authoritative, assertive, unyielding… (1a).

П-61 • ПОД ПАРА́МИ [PrepP; Invar] 1. [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, стоять etc (subj: паровоз, пароход)] (a locomotive or ship is) ready to set out (upon some course): X стоял ~ ≃ X was under steam; X had steam up.

2. substand [adv or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human)] in a drunken state (more often a slightly drunken one): X был под парами ≃ X was (a little) fuzzy ⟨tipsy, high, tight⟩; X had had a few.

П-62 • НА ВСЕХ ПАРА́Х [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. ~ идти, мчаться и т.п. (of a train, ship etc) (to go, race) at full capacity: under a full head of steam; at full steam ⟨throttle⟩; full steam ⟨speed⟩ ahead; [of a ship or boat] under full sail.

…[Коля] предложил, что он, ночью, когда придёт одиннадцатичасовой поезд, ляжет между рельсами ничком и пролежит недвижно, пока поезд пронесётся над ним на всех парах (Достоевский 1). …[Kolya] offered to lie face down between the rails that night when the eleven o'clock train came, and to lie there without moving while the train passed over him at full steam (1a).

2. ~ лететь, мчаться, нестись и т.п. (куда) coll. Also: НА ВСЕХ ПАРУСА́Х (to race, run toward some place or, when used figuratively, advance toward some goal) with great speed, with the utmost effort: under full sail; at full ⟨top⟩ speed; at full throttle; full speed ahead.

Главное то, что у меня объявился свой капитал, а потому и пустился я жить в своё удовольствие, со всем юным стремлением, без удержу, поплыл на всех парусах (Достоевский 1). The chief thing was that I had come into my own money, and with that I threw myself into a life of pleasure, with all the impetuousness of youth, without restraint, under full sail (1a).

3. coll Also: НА ВСЕХ ПАРУСА́Х (to do sth.) very quickly: on the double; in short order; posthaste.

П-63 • В ПА́РЕ с кем coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (in refer. to two people) (to do sth.) with someone else in a coordinated, cooperative fashion: together; team up (with s.o.); [lim.] as a team; [often in tennis, badminton etc] (be) partners (with s.o.); (play) doubles (with another team etc).

Когда мы, в блокадную зиму, пилили с ней [тёткой] в паре дрова… она, пятидесятилетняя, точно так сердилась на меня, пятилетнего, как сейчас (Битов 1). During the winter of the blockade of Leningrad, when she [Auntie] and I were sawing wood together… she, fifty years old, lost her temper at me, a five-year-old, in exactly the same way as now (1a).

П-64 • ПЕ́РВЫЙ ПА́РЕНЬ НА ДЕРЕ́ВНЕ ⟨НА СЕЛЕ́⟩ coll, iron or humor [NP; sing only; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, nom or instrum (subj: human) or obj-compl with считать кого etc (obj: human)] a man who stands out among a small group (often a group of which the speaker has a low opinion; often used in refer. to a man's popularity among a group of women): cock of the walk ⟨the village⟩; king of the hill; [lim.] a big fish ⟨frog⟩ in a little ⟨small⟩ pond.

Им [офицерским женам] тоже скучно в тесном офицерском посёлке, расположенном обычно рядом с лагерем, вдали от больших населённых пунктов. Развлечений никаких, даже кино нет… Одна надежда — завести роман в лагере, с зэком помоложе. Разумеется, избраннику завидует весь лагерь, и он ходит гоголем — первый парень на деревне (Буковский 1). They [the officers' wives] too found life boring, for in the cramped officers' quarters, which were usually situated next to the camp and far away from any population centers, there were no amusements, not even a movie…. Their only distraction was to start a romance with one of the young cons in the camp. Of course, the entire camp would be green with envy at the lucky fellow, and he would strut like a bantam—the cock of the village (1a).

П-65 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ ПАРИ́ [VP; subj: human; often foll. by a что-clause] 1. ~ (с кем, на что, в чём) to stake or pledge sth. on the outcome of a yet undecided matter, usu. in return for a similar pledge by another or others: X держал пари (с Y-ом) (что…) ≃ X made a bet ⟨a wager⟩ (with Y) (that…); X bet ⟨wagered⟩ (that…); X wagered his money (on…).

[Шабельский:] Я с ним пари дорогой держал, что, как приедем, Зюзюшка сейчас же начнёт угощать нас кружовенным вареньем… (Чехов 4). [Sh.:] I made a bet with him on the way here that as soon as we arrived Zyuzyushka would start serving the gooseberry jam… (4a).

2. держу пари [this form only] I assure you, I am ready to swear that…: I (will) bet ⟨wager⟩ (that…); I'm ready to bet ⟨wager⟩ (that…); I'll wager my money (on…).

«Знаешь ли что? — сказал я ему: — я пари держу, что она не знает, что ты юнкер…» (Лермонтов 1). "Do you know what?" I said to him, "I bet she does not know that you are a cadet…" (1a). "You know what," said I, "I'll wager she does not know you are a cadet…" (1b).

П-66 • ПАРИ́Ж СТО́ИТ МЕ́ССЫ ⟨ОБЕ́ДНИ obs⟩ lit [indep sent; fixed WO] attaining an important goal warrants sacrificing personal convictions, even when this leads to strong denunciation: Paris is well worth a mass.

< Loan translation of the French Paris vaut bien une messe. These words are commonly attributed to Henry IV (1553–1610), also known as Henry of Navarre, who reigned as king of France from 1589 to 1610. Formerly the leader of the Huguenots, Henry IV became the nominal king of France in 1589. He converted from Protestantism to Roman Catholicism in 1593 in order to become the official King of France in 1594. Some contemporary historians, who maintain his conversion was not merely politically motivated, question the attribution of this phrase to the successful and popular king.

П-67 • ДЫМИ́ТЬ КАК ПАРОВО́З coll [VP; subj: human] to smoke a lot, incessantly: X дымит как паровоз ≃ X smokes like a chimney ⟨like you wouldn't believe⟩; X puffs away furiously.

П-68 • БЕЖА́ТЬ ВПЕРЕДИ́ ПАРОВО́ЗА coll, usu. disapprov or iron [VP; subj: human or collect; often infin with хотеть, любить, не будем, зачем, стремление etc; fixed WO] to begin doing sth. too soon, too eagerly, with excessive enthusiasm: X всегда бежит впереди паровоза ≃ X is always jumping the gun.

Ситуация на работе сложная, поэтому лучше сидеть тихо и не бежать впереди паровоза. The situation at work is complicated, so it's better to sit tight instead of jumping the gun.

П-69 • С ЛЁГКИМ ПА́РОМ! coll [formula phrase; Invar; fixed WO] a greeting to s.o. who just took a bath, often at a public bathhouse: hope you enjoyed your bath!; hope you had a good bath!

[Лукашин:] Я понимаю, ванна в каждой квартире — это правильно, это удобно, это цивилизация. Но процесс мытья, который в бане звучит как торжественный обряд, в ванне — просто смывание грязи. И хорошие поздравительные слова — с лёгком паром — они же к ванне неприменимы: какой может быть в ванной пар? [Александр:] Ты прав, баня очищает (Брагинский и Рязанов 1). [L.:] Yes, having your own bathroom, it's the proper thing, I know. It's convenient, it's civilisation. But having a good steam in the public baths is a ritual. At home it's just a matter of getting the dirt off. And that traditional greeting people give you when you come home from the baths—"I hope you enjoyed your bath!" It just doesn't apply to home bathing. What kind of steam can you get in a bathroom! [A.:] You're right, the bathhouse is a place of purification… (1a).

П-70 • молчать, отмалчиваться КАК ПАРТИЗА́Н (НА ДОПРО́СЕ) coll, humor [как + NP; Invar; adv] (to keep silence about sth.) absolutely, steadfastly: X молчал как партизан ≃ X remained ⟨was (as)⟩ silent as the grave; X would ⟨did⟩ not say ⟨utter⟩ a word; X would not let a word escape him; wild horses couldn't ⟨wouldn't⟩ drag it out of X.

На вопросы журналистов он не отвечал, молчал как партизан. He didn't answer any of the journalist's questions—he remained silent as the grave.

П-71 • ЗАДАВА́ТЬ/ЗАДА́ТЬ ПА́РУ кому highly coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] to scold or rebuke s.o. severely: X задал Y-у пару ≃ X let Y have it (with both barrels); X gave Y hell; X gave Y what for; X bawled ⟨chewed⟩ Y out.

П-72 • НА ПА́РУ (с кем) coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (in refer. to two people) (to do sth.) with someone else: together; the two of us ⟨you, them⟩; team up (with s.o.).

…Мы с Боликом пошли на пару в кинотеатр на Крещатике на «Праздник святого Иоргена» (Кузнецов 1). So Bolik and I went off together to the cinema on the Kreshchatik to see a funny film called St. Jorgen's Day (1b). The two of us, Bolik and I, went to the movie theater on Kreshchatik to see St. Jorgen's Day (1a).

П-73 • НА ПА́РУ СЛОВ позвать, вызвать кого и т.п.; НА ДВА СЛО́ВА; НА ПОЛСЛО́ВА all coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to call, invite etc s.o.) for a brief conversation: ты мне нужен ⟨можно тебя (попросить), пойдём-ка и т.п.⟩ ~ ≃ I need ⟨I want, I must have, can I have etc⟩ a word (or two) with you; I'd like to have a couple of words ⟨a few words⟩ with you; let's (go ⟨go and⟩) talk (for) a bit.

Тальберг… глянул на часы и неожиданно добавил: «Елена, пойдём-ка на пару слов…» Елена торопливо ушла вслед за ним на половину Тальбергов в спальню… (Булгаков 3). Talberg… glanced at his watch and added unexpectedly: "Elena, I must have a word with you in our room…." Elena hastily followed him out into the bedroom in the Talbergs' half of the apartment… (3a).

П-74 • ПОД ПА́РУ кому coll [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human)] one suits s.o. in some respect or with regard to certain qualities (often in refer. to how a spouse or potential spouse is suited for his or her mate in terms of social status, age, appearance etc): X Y-у под пару ≃ X is a good match for Y; X and Y are well matched ⟨suited⟩; X and Y make a good couple.

[Шпигельский:] …Мы друг другу нравимся. И в других отношениях мы тоже под пару (Тургенев 1). [Sh.:] …We like each other. And in other respects too we are well matched (1a). [Sh.:] …We like each other, and in other regards we are also well suited (1b).

П-75 • СКАЗА́ТЬ ПА́РУ ТЁПЛЫХ СЛОВ кому coll, iron or humor [VP; subj: human] to scold, reprimand s.o. with harsh words: X скажет Y-у пару тёплых слов ≃ X will give Y a piece of X's mind; X will tell Y a thing or two; X will have a few choice words for Y; Y is (really) going to hear it from X.

П-76 • КВАСНО́Й ПАТРИОТИ́ЗМ lit [NP; fixed WO] unquestioning dedication to, and indiscriminate praise of, everything native, even outmoded lifestyles, manners, and traditions: blind patriotism; jingoism; [lim.] hurrah patriotism; tub-thumping nationalism.

«И, знаешь, в моём сознании с царских времён антисемитизм связан с квасным патриотизмом людей из Союза Михаила Архангела» (Гроссман 2). "And one thing—ever since the time of the Tsars I've associated anti-Semitism with the jingoism of people from the Union of Michael the Archangel" (2a).

< From Prince Pyotr Vyazemsky's Letters from Paris («Письма из Парижа»), 1827. Vyazemsky coined the phrase «квасной патриотизм» to convey the meaning of the French phrase du patriotisme d'antichambre. The popular Russian beverage "kvass" («квас») was known in Europe.

П-77 • (И) МЫ ПАХА́ЛИ coll [sent; these forms only; may be used of one person or several people; fixed WO] said mockingly of a person who claims to have helped in some work but actually did little or nothing: he ⟨she etc⟩ was a big help!; some ⟨big⟩ help he ⟨she etc⟩ was!; [lim.] we worked hard, didn't we?

«Тимченко утверждает, что работал вместе с вами над проектом». — «Он-то? И мы пахали! Да он ровно ничего не сделал». "Timchenko insists he worked on this project with you." "Him? Some help he was! He did absolutely nothing."

< From Ivan Dmitriev's fable "The Fly" («Муха»), 1803.

П-78 • (И) НЕ ПА́ХНЕТ чем coll [VP; impers; pres or past] sth. is completely absent (and there are no indications that it will appear): X-ом и не пахнет ≃ there isn't (even) a trace ⟨a hint, a sign⟩ of X.

То они в Загорск, то в Суздаль, то на Святые Горы. И всё поближе к монахам, к старине… Нет, конечно, никакой верой в настоящем смысле тут и не пахло, а вот как: томление духа… И даже, пожалуй, мода (Трифонов 5). Sometimes they went to Zagorsk, sometimes to Suzdal, and sometimes to Svyatye Gory. Ever closer to the monks and to antiquity…. No, in this case, of course, there wasn't even a trace of faith in the real sense of the word, but rather a certain spiritual weariness…. Perhaps too, it was even a question of fashion (5a).

П-79 • ПЛО́ХО ⟨НЕХОРОШО́, ДУ́РНО⟩ ПА́ХНЕТ coll [VP; subj: abstr; pres or past; fixed WO] sth. seems suspicious, does not bode well: X плохо пахнет ≃ X smells fishy; there's something fishy about X; X doesn't smell right; I smell a rat.

[Атуева:] Этот маркёр… такой игрок на бильярде, что, может, первый по всему городу… и играет он с одним важным, очень важным лицом… Этот теперь маркёр во время игры-то всякие ему… историйки и подпускает, да вдруг и об деле каком ввернёт, — и, видите, многие лица через этого маркёра успели. [Нелькин:] Ну, нет, Анна Антоновна, — это что-то нехорошо пахнет (Сухово-Кобылин 1). [А.:] …This marker… is perhaps the best billiard player in the whole city…. He happens to play billiards with one important, one very important person…. Now when they play, this marker tells him all kinds of little stories and this way can raise some important issue when he wants. There are a number of people who've made out very well on account of this marker. [N.:] Anna Antonovna, it just doesn't smell right to me (1a).

П-80 • НА ПАЯ́Х (с кем) [PrepP; Invar; adv, subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human), or nonagreeing modif] (to undertake some venture) collaboratively, contributing funds and/or labor to it: go shares on sth.; share sth.; (do sth.) jointly ⟨as partners⟩; (be in sth.) together; || на равных паях ≃ (a venture ⟨sth. is undertaken etc⟩) with equal shares; (undertake sth.) in equal shares; [when there are exactly two participants] with ⟨in⟩ half shares.

Со Ставровыми Пряслины жили коммуной, считай, всю войну… Они держали на паях корову, сообща заготовляли сено, дрова, выручали друг дружку едой (Абрамов 1). Throughout the war… the Pryaslins and the Stavrovs had lived as a little commune: they shared a cow, laid in hay and firewood together and helped each other out with food (1a).

П-81 • НАЖИМА́ТЬ/НАЖА́ТЬ НА ВСЕ ПЕДА́ЛИ coll; НАЖИМА́ТЬ/НАЖА́ТЬ (НА) ВСЕ ПРУЖИ́НЫ obs, coll [VP; subj: human] to make every effort and exploit every available possibility (in order to attain sth. or achieve some goal): X нажимает на все педали ≃ X is pulling out all the stops; X is giving it his all ⟨everything he's got⟩; X is going all out; X is doing his utmost; [in refer. to one's use of personal influence or connections to obtain sth.] X is pulling strings ⟨wires⟩.

Чтобы получить выгодный государственный заказ, Панкин нажимал на все педали: звонил знакомым чиновникам, давал взятки и даже пригласил влиятельную секретаршу замминистра в ресторан. In order to get a profitable government contract, Pankin pulled out all the stops: he called some officials he knew, greased a few palms, and even invited the deputy minister's influential secretary out to dinner.

П-82 • (КАК БУ́ДТО ⟨СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩) ПЕЛЕНА́ ПА́ДАЕТ/УПА́ЛА ⟨СПАДА́ЕТ/СПА́ЛА⟩ (С ГЛАЗ чьих); (КАК БУ́ДТО ⟨СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩) ПОКРО́В ПА́ДАЕТ/УПА́Л ⟨СПАДА́ЕТ/СПАЛ⟩ (С ГЛАЗ чьих) all lit [VP$_{subj}$; usu. pfv] s.o. suddenly becomes aware of the truth and realizes that he had been mistaken: пелена упала с X-овых глаз ≃ (it is as if) the scales fell from X's eyes; (it is as if) the veil was lifted ⟨fell away⟩ from X's eyes; (it is as if) a blindfold had been taken ⟨removed⟩ from X's eyes.

«…Я вдруг вспомнила слова Наины Георгиевны, произнесённые в последний вечер… Никто из присутствующих этих слов не понял, да и привыкли все, что княжна любит выражаться загадочно. Но сейчас у меня словно пелена с глаз спала» (Акунин 6). "…I suddenly recalled the words that Naina Georgievna spoke on that last evening… Nobody present at the time understood those words, and they were all accustomed to the princess's predilection for expressing herself mysteriously. But now it is as if a veil has been lifted from my eyes" (6a).

П-83 • В ПЕЛЁНКАХ coll [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula or adv] 1. [subj: human] in one's infancy: in the cradle; in diapers; [lim.] when one was wetting his diapers.

2. Also: В КОЛЫБЕ́ЛИ lit [subj: abstr] in an embryonic state, in its initial period of development: in its infancy; in its earliest stages of development; in the earliest stages of its development.

П-84 • ВЫХОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЙТИ ИЗ ПЕЛЁНОК coll [VP; usu. pfv; subj: human] to become an adult (old enough to make one's own decisions, run one's own life etc): X вышел из пелёнок ≃ X is (all) grown up; X is a big boy ⟨girl⟩ (now); X isn't a kid ⟨a baby⟩ anymore.

Митя давно уже вышел из пелёнок, а ты с ним по-прежнему разговариваешь как с маленьким. Mitya's been grown up for a long time, but you still talk to him as if he were a kid.

П-85 • С ⟨ОТ⟩ ПЕЛЁНОК coll; С ⟨ОТ⟩ ПЕЛЁН obs; С ⟨ОТ⟩ КОЛЫБЕ́ЛИ lit [PrepP; these forms only; adv] from an extremely early age: from the cradle; from the day one was born; from one's (very) infancy; from one's earliest childhood; while still in diapers.

«Я спрашиваю: о чём люди — с самых пелёнок — молились, мечтали, мучились?» (Замятин 1). "I ask you: what did people—from their very infancy—pray for, dream about, long for?" (1a).

П-86 • вернуться К СВОЙМ ⟨РОДНЫМ⟩ ПЕНА́ТАМ usu. humor or stylized [PrepP; these forms only; adv] to return home (often after an absence): return to hearth and home; come ⟨go⟩ back to one's homestead.

< In Roman mythology, Penates were household deities.

П-87 • СНИМА́ТЬ/СНЯТЬ ПЕ́НКИ (с чего) coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human or collect; usu. impfv] to take for o.s. the benefits from or the best part of sth. (usu. without having earned it or having any right to it; often in cases where one benefits from another's labor): X снимает пенки ≃ X laps up the cream; X skims the cream (off Y); [in cases where one benefits from another's labor only] X reaps the benefits.

«Собаку Савранских будут снимать в телерекламе». — «Они неплохо устроились: собака будет работать, а Савранские — снимать пенки!» "The Savransky's dog is going to be in a TV commercial." "Not a bad setup: the dog will work and the Savranskys will reap the benefits!"

П-88 • С ПЕ́НОЙ У РТА доказывать, утверждать что, спорить и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv; used with impfv verbs; fixed WO] (to assert sth., argue etc) vehemently, passionately: with fervor ⟨zeal⟩; heatedly; aggressively; furiously.

«Дементьев сильно эволюционировал за десять лет». — «Да где ж эволюционировал, если с пеной у рта бился против „Ивана Денисовича"?» (Солженицын 2). [context transl] "Dementyev has developed a lot in the last ten years." "How can you say that when he fought tooth and nail against Ivan Denisovich?" (2a).

П-89 • КАК ПЕНЬ стоять, сидеть, молчать и т.п. highly coll, disapprov, rude when used in direct address [как + NP; Invar; adv; may be used with pl subj] (to stand, sit etc somewhere) not saying or doing anything, not showing any interest in or understanding of what is going on etc: X стоял ⟨сидел, молчал⟩ как пень ≃ X was standing ⟨sitting⟩ (there) like a dummy; X was just sitting ⟨standing⟩ there (doing ⟨saying⟩ nothing).

П-90 • ПЕНЬ БЕРЁЗОВЫЙ highly coll, rude [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a dull-witted, dumb person: blockhead; numskull; dolt.

П-91 • ЧЕ́РЕЗ ПЕНЬ КОЛО́ДУ ⟨ПЕНЬ-КОЛО́ДУ⟩ coll, disapprov [PrepP; these forms only; adv; usu. used with impfv verbs; fixed WO] 1. делать, рассказывать и т.п. что ~ (to do sth.) negligently, carelessly, or (to narrate, tell etc sth.) in an irregular fashion: any old ⟨which⟩ way; haphazardly; in a slipshod manner; [lim.] stumble (along); [in refer. to narrating a story etc only] stumble over.

Новые рабочие оказались ленивыми и неквалифицированными: всё, что им поручалось, они делали через пень колоду. The new workers turned out to be lazy and incompetent: they did everything assigned to them in a slipshod manner.

2. идти, развиваться ~ (of the way some work, project, enterprise etc is going) in an uneven fashion, not as smoothly, quickly, or efficiently as desired: limp (along).

П-92 • ПЕНЯ́ТЬ НА СЕБЯ́ [VP; subj: human; usu. imper пеняй(те) or пусть пеняет ⟨пеняют⟩; fixed WO] (usu. used in the imperative as a warning or threat that if the person in question does not do what he should, what he is ordered to etc, he will have to bear the consequences) to be solely at fault (for the outcome): пеняй ⟨пеняйте⟩ на себя ≃ you ⟨you'll⟩ have only yourself ⟨yourselves⟩ to blame; you can only blame yourself ⟨yourselves⟩; don't ⟨you can't⟩ blame me; you'll be in for it.

«Уводи сирот в свой далёкий край. Но если погибнут они в пути дальнем, если убьют их разбойники встречные, если чёрной неблагодарностью отплатят тебе твои дети людские, — пеняй на себя» (Айтматов 1). "Lead the orphans away to your distant parts. But if they die on the long journey, if they are killed by brigands who cross your path, if your human children repay you with black ingratitude—you have only yourself to blame" (1b).

П-93 • ВОЗРОДИ́ТЬСЯ ИЗ ПЕ́ПЛА lit, elev [VP; subj: concr] (of sth. that has been destroyed, burned, pillaged etc) to reappear in its former condition: X возродился из пепла ≃ X rose from the ashes.

Роман Булгакова [«Мастер и Маргарита»] вышел как бы из небытия, возродился из пепла, подтверждая тем самым главную надежду автора, что рукописи не горят (Войнович 1). Bulgakov's novel [The Master and Margarita] seemed to return from oblivion, to rise from the ashes, thereby confirming the author's principal hope—that manuscripts don't burn (1a).

П-94 • ВЫХОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЙТИ ИЗ-ПОД ПЕРА́ чьего, кого lit [VP; subj: a noun denoting a written piece] to be written by s.o.: X вышел из-под пера Y-а ≃ X issued ⟨came, flowed⟩ from Y's pen.

Все эти награды он [Федин] получил лишь многократно доказав, что как писатель он полностью кончился и из-под его пера никогда не выйдет ни одной живой строчки (Войнович 1). He [Fedin] was presented all those awards only after demonstrating many times over that he was utterly finished as a writer and that a single living line would never issue from his pen (1a).

П-95 • НЕ ТЫ ⟨я, он и т.п.⟩ ПЕ́РВЫЙ, НЕ ТЫ ⟨я, он и т.п.⟩ ПОСЛЕ́ДНИЙ [sent; fixed WO] you are (I am etc) not the only person in the world who has ever gone through, or will ever go through, the experience in question (often used to console s.o. or o.s. during a painful or unpleasant experience): you're ⟨I'm, he's etc⟩ not the first and you ⟨I, he etc⟩ won't be the last.

Она согласилась на аборт ради него… Всё на свете повторяется и будет повторяться миллион раз, не она первая, не она последняя, обычное женское дело (Рыбаков 2). She agreed to have an abortion for his sake…. Everything in life repeats itself and will go on repeating itself a million times over, she wasn't the first and wouldn't be the last, it was a normal female thing (2a).

П-96 • НЕТ ПЕРЕВО́ДА кому-чему obs [VP; impers] certain categories of people (types of animals, kinds of objects etc) are available in large numbers or quantities: X-ам нет перевода ≃ there's no end to the Xs; there's no lack of Xs; there's an abundance of Xs.

П-97 • ДВОРЦО́ВЫЙ ПЕРЕВОРО́Т [NP; fixed WO] the sudden and usu. nonviolent overthrow of a ruler, government, leadership of an institution etc from within by individuals occupying positions of power: palace revolution; coup (d'état).

А незадолго до прибытия Руматы великолепно законспирированный друг-конфидент кайсанского тирана… произвёл дворцовый переворот, узурпировал власть, в течение двух месяцев пытался внедрить Золотой Век… (Стругацкие 4). And shortly before Rumata's arrival on this planet, the most powerful fellow conspirator, confidant of the Tyrant of Kaisan… had staged a palace revolution… had seized power and tried to introduce the Golden Age within two months… (4a).

П-98 • ПЕРЕЖИВА́ТЬ/ПЕРЕЖИ́ТЬ (САМОГО́) СЕБЯ́ [VP; usu. pfv] 1. lit [subj: human] (of a person who had a great impact on society, intellectual life etc) to retain significance and be remembered after death: X переживёт себя ≃ X will live on (in people's memories); X will not be forgotten.

2. [subj: human or abstr] (of a person) to lose significance during one's own lifetime; (of an idea, method etc) to become dated: X пережил себя ≃ X has outlived his ⟨its⟩ usefulness; X has had his ⟨its⟩ day; person X has become a has-been; thing X has become passé.

П-99 • ПЕРЕКАТИ́-ПО́ЛЕ coll [NP; usu. subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human)] a person who is prone to constantly changing his place of residence or work: rolling stone.

«Наших товарищей предупредили, что Еврейская лига обороны хочет устроить беспорядки, постарается сорвать митинг», — сказала Кэрол усмехаясь, испытующе поглядывая на нас с Александром. Мне-то что, я перекати-поле, я русский украинец, есть во мне осетинская кровь и татарская, я только и ищу приключений, а вот Александр — еврей… (Лимонов 1). "Our comrades have been warned that the Jewish Defense League wants to start a riot, they're going to try and break up the meeting," Carol said with a grin, glancing searchingly at Alexander and me. What did I care, I was a rolling stone, a Russian Ukrainian; I had both Ossetian and Tatar blood in me, all I sought was adventure. But Alexander was a Jew… (1a).

< From the name of a desert plant ("tumbleweed") that breaks off at the root when mature and is blown about by the wind.

П-100 • КРИЧА́ТЬ ⟨ТВЕРДИ́ТЬ, ТРЕЗВОНИ́ТЬ и т.п.⟩ НА ВСЕХ ПЕРЕКРЁСТКАХ ⟨НА КА́ЖДОМ УГЛУ́, НА ВСЕХ УГЛА́Х⟩ (о ком-чём) coll, occas. derog or condes [VP; subj: human] to say or tell sth. over and over again, repeat sth. insistently, at every opportunity and for all to hear: X кричит ⟨твердит⟩ (об Y-е) на всех перекрёстках ≃ X shouts about Y from the rooftops ⟨from the housetops, on every street corner⟩; X shouts ⟨keeps shouting⟩ from the rooftops ⟨from the housetops, from every corner⟩ that…; X broadcasts (the fact) that…; X talks about Y on every street corner ⟨at every turn, all over the place⟩; X claims ⟨insists etc) at ever turn that…

«Мы оба считаем, что об этом надо кричать на всех перекрёстках, а когда доходит до дела, вдруг вспоминаем о дисциплине и принимаемся послушно играть на руку всем этим вождистам, либералам, просветителям…» (Стругацкие 2). "Both you and I believe that it must be shouted from the rooftops, but when it comes time to act, we suddenly remember about discipline and play docilely into the hands of our great leaders, those outstanding liberals, those pillars of enlightenment" (2a). ♦ «Только хочу совет дать, ты эту пулю при себе храни, а не шуми о ней на всех углах» (Тендряков 1). "But I'd like to give you one piece of advice: keep that bullet to yourself, and don't go talking about it all over the place" (1a). ♦ «Как же вам не стыдно смотреть людям в глаза? Ведь вы же на каждом углу… твердите, что вы коммунист» (Войнович 3). "How can you look people in the eye! And you insist at every turn that you are a Communist" (3a).

П-101 • ПЕРЕЛА́МЫВАТЬ/ПЕРЕЛОМИ́ТЬ СЕБЯ́ [VP; subj: human; more often pfv, esp. pfv infin with хотел, пытался, не мог etc] 1. to compel o.s. to act in a different fashion, change one's conduct, habits etc: X не может переломить себя ≃ X cannot force himself to change ⟨to act differently⟩; X cannot change his (own) nature.

2. to suppress, conquer some feeling, mood: X переломил себя ≃ X overcame ⟨mastered⟩ his emotions; X got a grip on himself; X got hold of himself; X restrained himself.

Сочувствую вашему горю, но всё же вам надо переломить себя и вернуться к работе. I sympathize with your sorrow, but all the same, you've got to get a grip on yourself and go back to work.

П-102 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ В ПЕРЕПЛЁТ кого coll [VP; subj: human] to force s.o. to act as one desires by putting pressure on him, reprimanding him etc: X взял Y-а в переплёт ≃ X got tough with Y; X cracked down on Y; X came down hard on Y.

За два месяца до соревнований тренер взял нас в переплёт и тренировал нас по восемь часов в день. Starting two months before the competition, the coach got tough with us and made us train eight hours a day.

П-103 • ПОПАДА́ТЬ/ПОПА́СТЬ В ПЕРЕПЛЁТ ⟨В ПЕРЕДЕ́ЛКУ, В ПЕРЕДРЯ́ГУ⟩; БЫВА́ТЬ/ПОБЫВА́ТЬ В ПЕРЕПЛЁТЕ ⟨В ПЕРЕПЛЁТАХ, В ПЕРЕДЕ́ЛКЕ, В ПЕРЕДЕ́ЛКАХ, В ПЕРЕДРЯ́ГЕ, В ПЕРЕДРЯ́ГАХ⟩ all coll [VP; subj: human; usu. past] to find o.s. in a difficult, unpleasant, or dangerous situation: X попал в переплёт ≃ X got ⟨ran⟩ into trouble; X landed in trouble; X got into a scrape ⟨a mess⟩; X got ⟨was⟩ in a jam ⟨a fix⟩; X was ⟨ended up⟩ in a tight spot ⟨corner⟩; [lim.] X found himselft out on a limb.

«За Клавдию Лукьяновну не беспокойся. Она… бывала и не в таких переплётах» (Рыбаков 2). "Don't worry on her [Klavdya's] account…. She's been in worse scrapes than this" (2a). ♦ «Скажи, — Дудырев приподнялся на локте, повернувшись к Семёну, — ты вот во всяких переделках бывал, шестьдесят медведей свалил, случалось тебе… испугаться до беспамятства?» (Тендряков 1). "Tell me," Dudyrev asked Simon, leaning over to him on his elbow, "you've been in a tight corner many a time—after all you've brought down sixty bears—have you ever lost your head from fright?" (1a).

П-104 • С ПЕРЕПО́Я ⟨-ю⟩ highly coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv] as a result of or after heavy drinking: (being) dead drunk; (after) having gotten drunk; (being) in a drunken state; (being) hung over; from ⟨after⟩ a binge; from ⟨after⟩ a hangover.

Орозкул ступал важно, по-хозяйски. Шёл, отдуваясь, посапывая, и строго поглядывал по сторонам. И хоть болела с перепоя голова, он испытывал мстительное удовлетворение (Айтматов 1). Orozkul strode on with an air of importance and proprietorship. Puffing and panting, he looked severely all around him as he moved. And although his head ached from his binge, he was enjoying the satisfaction of revenge (1b).

П-105 • С ПЕРЕПУ́ГУ coll [PrepP; Invar; sent adv] (one does sth.) reacting to a feeling of extreme and sudden fear: in ⟨out of⟩ fright; out of fear; frightened (enough to do sth.); in panic.

«Вы знаете этого человека?» — кивнул лейтенант на неподвижно распластанное тело. «Не знаком!» — прокричал Волков, прикусив с перепугу язык. «Как не знаком?» — удивился лейтенант (Войнович 2). "Do you know this man?" The lieutenant nodded at the body sprawled motionless on the floor. “Never met him!” cried Volkov, biting his tongue in fright. “What do you mean?” The lieutenant was amazed (2a).

П-106 • ЧЁРТОВА ПЕ́РЕЧНИЦА highly coll, rude [NP; usu. sing; usu. used as vocative or appos] an abusive expression (now used more frequently of or in addressing a shrewish old woman): old hag ⟨bag, witch, shrew, fart⟩.

П-107 • ВОЗВОДИ́ТЬ/ВОЗВЕСТИ́ В ПЕРЛ СОЗДА́НИЯ что obs, elev [VP; subj: human] to present or transform sth. in such a way as to make it outstanding, exceptionally beautiful etc: X возвёл Y в перл создания ≃ X transformed Y into a pearl ⟨a gem, a jewel⟩ of creation; X turned ⟨transformed⟩ Y into a work of art.

…Много нужно глубины душевной, дабы озарить картину, взятую из презренной жизни, и возвести её в перл созданья… (Гоголь 3). …Great spiritual depth is required to illumine a picture drawn from ignoble life and transform it into a pearl of creation… (3a).

П-108 • БО́ЙКОЕ ПЕРО́ (у кого) [NP; sing only; usu. VP_{subj} with $быть_{ø}$ or obj of иметь] (s.o. has) the ability to write easily and well: у X-а бойкое перо ≃ X wields a clever pen; X has a lively pen.

«Тут он немножко кольнул вас. Но сознайтесь, какое бойкое перо» (Гоголь 3). “Here he has a go at you a little. But you must admit he wields a clever pen!” (3a). “That’s a slight dig at you. But you must confess that he has a lively pen!” (3d).

П-109 • БРА́ТЬСЯ/ВЗЯ́ТЬСЯ ЗА ПЕРО́ [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to begin or begin trying to write sth.: X взялся за перо ≃ X put pen to paper; X took up his pen; X took to writing (sth.).

Я не берусь за перо, ставя себе задачу написать «антисоветское» или «советское». Я пишу своё (Марченко 2). In putting pen to paper I do not aim to write anything “anti-Soviet” or “Soviet.” I write my own way (2a).

П-110 • ВСТА́ВИТЬ ПЕРО́ (В БОК) кому slang [VP; subj: human] 1. to inflict a wound to the torso with a sharp implement (usu. a knife or knife-like weapon), often suddenly, killing or seriously wounding the victim: X вставил перо Y-у ≃ X stabbed Y (to death); X thrust a knife into Y; X jabbed his knife ⟨dagger etc⟩ into Y; X shivved Y.

2. to do sth. mean to or make a caustic remark about one’s adversary, the object of one’s contempt or derision etc: X вставил перо Y-у ≃ X did Y dirt; X played a dirty ⟨nasty, mean⟩ trick on Y; X got in a jab at Y; X made a dig at Y.

«Баба, — спрашивал Антон студентом, — а почему во всей русской литературе ничего про это нет? Про это загибанье [визитных карточек] справа, слева, вниз…» — «А ты б хотел, чтобы вам это объяснял ваш босяк [in refer. to Максим Горький]?» — вмешивался дед, не упускавший случая вставить перо пролетарскому писателю (Чудаков 1). “Grandma,” Anton asked her during his student years, “why isn’t there anything about that anywhere in Russian literature? All this bending of corners [of the visiting cards] on the left or the right…” “Are you saying,” Grandfather interjected, “that you’d like all that explained to you by your Vagabond?” Grandfather never missed an opportunity to get in a jab at the proletarian writer (1a).

П-111 • ВЛАДЕ́ТЬ ПЕРО́М [VP; subj: human] to have the ability to write skillfully and eloquently: X владеет пером ≃ X wields a skillful pen; X is a master of the pen ⟨of the written word⟩; X has a mastery of the pen.

[Крутицкий:] Коли хочешь приносить пользу, умей владеть пером (Островский 9). [K.:] If you want to be useful, you must know how to wield a skillful pen (9c).

П-112 • ПОД ПЕРО́М чьим, кого [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] when described by s.o., in s.o.’s written works: when written about ⟨when penned⟩ by s.o.; (coming) from the pen of s.o.; in s.o.’s writing(s); in the writings of s.o.

И эти старые, изношенные пугала из гегелизма правой стороны пришлось-то мне ещё раз увидеть под пером Прудона! (Герцен 2). And to think that I should meet these old, shabby bogeys from right-wing Hegelianism in the writings of Proudhon! (2a).

П-113 • ЧТО НАПИ́САНО ПЕРО́М, ТОГО́ НЕ ВЫРУБИШЬ ТОПОРО́М [saying] when some statement has been put in writing (and read by others), it cannot be changed (said when great importance is attributed to what has been written): ≃ that which is written with a pen cannot be cut out with an ax(e); a written word cannot be hewn out with an ax(e); a word that has been written down cannot be cut out with an ax(e); the written word remains.

«Всё, что на бумаге, это уже не личное слово. Что написано пером, того не вырубить топором» (Айтматов 2). “Once a thought is down on paper, it’s no longer personal. That which is written with a pen cannot be cut out with an axe” (2a).

П-114 • ПЕРСО́НА ГРА́ТА [NP; only персона declines; fixed WO] a diplomatic representative whose candidacy is approved by the government of the country where he will be accredited; by extension a person who is fully accepted and trusted by those in the circles in question: persona grata.

«Я вам назову десяток имён римских вольноотпущенников, которые стали потом персонами грата» (Гинзбург 2). “I can quote you a dozen examples of released Roman slaves who later became personae gratae” (2a).

П-115 • ПЕРСО́НА НОН ГРА́ТА [NP; only персона declines; fixed WO] a diplomatic representative who is declared untrustworthy by the government of the country where he is accredited; by extension a person who is not accepted or trusted by those in the circles in question: persona non grata.

П-116 • СО́БСТВЕННОЙ ПЕРСО́НОЙ [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; nonagreeing postmodif] personally, oneself: in person; in the flesh; …himself ⟨herself⟩; [lim.] (as) big ⟨large⟩ as life.

При виде Лучникова он [человек] поднялся. Это был генерал барон фон Витте собственной персоной (Аксёнов 7). The man stood up as Luchnikov got out of the car. It was General von Witte in person (7a).

П-117 • В ПЕРСПЕКТИ́ВЕ [PrepP; Invar; usu. sent adv or subj-compl with $быть_{ø}$ (subj: abstr or это, всё etc)] not too far off in the future: in prospect; in ⟨for⟩ the future; || в краткосрочной ⟨ближней, ближайшей и т.п.⟩ перспективе ≃ in the near term ⟨future⟩; in the short ⟨shorter⟩ run; || в (более) отдалённой перспективе ≃ in the (more) distant future; in the long ⟨longer⟩ run.

Но сегодня Штальбе ему доверяет, а завтра спокойно отправит в лес на расстрел… Благоволение Штальбе — выигрыш временный, в перспективе он ничего не даёт (Рыбаков 1). Yes, Stalbe trusted him today, but tomorrow, without batting an eyelid, he could send him into the forest to be shot. …Stalbe's goodwill was only a temporary gain, it offered nothing for the future (1a).

П-118 • один, одна, одни КАК ПЕРСТ [как + NP; Invar; modif of один etc] 1. (one is) completely alone, without family, relatives: (all) alone (in the world); without kith or kin.

[Золотуев:] Давай-ка ты ко мне… Я ведь один, ты знаешь. Один как перст (Вампилов 3). [Z:] Why don't you come with me… I'm alone, you know. All alone (3b).

2. (one is) in a state of complete solitude: (all) alone; alone as can be; all by oneself.

«Беспредельная, вихрям открытая равнина. И мы одни как перст. Нас за ночь снегом занесёт, к утру не откопаемся» (Пастернак 1). "Just think!—alone on a boundless, wind-swept plain! If we were snowed under in the night we couldn't dig ourselves out in the morning!" (1a).

П-119 • ПЕРСТ СУДЬБЫ́ ⟨РО́КА, ПРОВИДЕ́НИЯ, БО́ЖИЙ, СВЫ́ШЕ⟩ obs, lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] divine forces (that preordain and actualize a crucial, deciding event in s.o.'s life): the finger of fate; the finger ⟨the hand⟩ of God; fate.

«Он просто шёл, глядя прямо перед собой круглыми, преданными глазами, и — всё, а перст судьбы указывал вдруг на него, и его вызывали в отдел кадров или в партком» (Ерофеев 3). "He just kept on looking straight ahead with those wide-open, dedicated eyes of his, and that was all, when suddenly the finger of fate pointed to him, and they called him into the Cadres Office or into the Party Committee" (3a).

П-120 • ПРИНАДЛЕЖА́ТЬ ПЕРУ́ кого, чьему lit [VP; subj: a noun denoting a written piece; fixed WO] to be written by s.o., be the product of s.o.'s literary efforts: X принадлежит перу Y-а ≃ X came ⟨issued, flowed⟩ from Y's pen.

Зная, что Карл Иваныч любил списывать стишки, я стал потихоньку рыться в его бумагах и в числе немецких стихотворений нашёл одно русское, принадлежащее, должно быть, собственно его перу (Толстой 2). Knowing that Karl Ivanich liked to copy verses, I began going through his papers on the sly and among a number of German poems found one in Russian that must have come from his own pen (2b).

П-121 • ЗАДАВА́ТЬ/ЗАДА́ТЬ ПЕ́РЦУ кому highly coll [VP] 1. Also: ЗАДАВА́ТЬ/ЗАДА́ТЬ ⟨ПОКА́ЗЫВАТЬ/ПОКАЗА́ТЬ⟩ ФЕ́ФЕРУ ⟨ПФЕ́ФЕРУ⟩ obs, coll [subj: human] to reprimand s.o. harshly, take severe disciplinary measures: X задаст Y-у перцу ≃ X will make it hot for Y; X will give it to Y good; X will show ⟨fix⟩ Y; X will give Y hell ⟨what for⟩; X will chew Y out.

[Городничий:] …Теперь же я задам перцу всем этим охотникам подавать просьбы и доносы (Гоголь 4). [Mayor:] …I'll show 'em, I'll show all those who fell over themselves to lodge complaints and denunciations against me (4c).

2. [subj: human or collect] to defeat s.o. overwhelmingly (usu. a military adversary): X-ы задали Y-ам перцу ≃ Xs routed ⟨crushed, clobbered⟩ Ys; Xs ran Ys into the ground.

П-122 • В БЕ́ЛЫХ ПЕРЧА́ТКАХ [PrepP; Invar; adv; usu. used with negated verbs] (to do sth.) cautiously, trying to avoid cruel, severe, or unethical measures: (one ⟨you⟩ can't do sth.) without getting one's ⟨your⟩ hands dirty; (one ⟨you⟩ can't do sth.) without taking one's ⟨your⟩ gloves off; (one ⟨you⟩ can't do sth.) wearing kid gloves.

Оправдывая террор, они постоянно повторяли: «Не надо бояться крови! Революцию нельзя делать в белых перчатках!» Justifying the terror, they never tired of repeating, "Don't shrink from bloodshed! You can't make revolutions without getting your hands dirty!"

П-123 • КАК ПЕРЧА́ТКИ менять кого-что (usu. женщин, партнёров etc; by extension министров, правительства, кумиров; убеждения; интерьеры, машины etc) iron or humor [как + NP; Invar; adv] to change frequently and usu. irresponsibly (initially менять женщин как перчатки, in refer. to a man's numerous brief and casual affairs): X-ы меняют Y-ов ~ ≃ Xs change Ys like they change underwear ⟨socks, sheets⟩.

П-124 • БРОСА́ТЬ/БРО́СИТЬ ПЕРЧА́ТКУ [VP; subj: human] 1. ~ кому obs to challenge s.o. to a duel: X бросил перчатку Y-у ≃ X threw ⟨flung⟩ down the gauntlet ⟨the glove⟩ (to Y).

2. ~ кому-чему lit [obj: usu. human or collect] to challenge s.o. to sth. (often a contest): X бросил Y-у перчатку ≃ X threw ⟨flung⟩ down the gauntlet ⟨the glove⟩.

Где, в каком углу современного Запада найдёте вы такие группы отшельников мысли, схимников науки, фанатиков убеждений, у которых седеют волосы, а стремленья вечно юны? Где? Укажите — я бросаю смело перчатку… (Герцен 2). Where, in what corner of the Western world of to-day, will you find such groups of anchorites of thought, of ascetics of learning, of fanatics of conviction, whose hair is turning grey but whose enthusiasms are for ever young? Where? Point to them. I boldly throw down the glove… (2a).

П-125 • ПОДНИМА́ТЬ/ПОДНЯ́ТЬ ПЕРЧА́ТКУ [VP; subj: human] 1. obs to accept a challenge to a duel: X поднял перчатку ≃ X took ⟨picked⟩ up the gauntlet ⟨the glove⟩.

2. to accept a challenge to enter into a contest with s.o.: X поднял перчатку ≃ X took ⟨picked⟩ up the gauntlet ⟨the glove⟩; X took up the challenge.

Оказалось, то, что мы принимали за описку или даже ошибку, было ложной, вредной, но всё-таки системой взглядов, а с системой надо бороться, и мы подымаем перчатку, брошенную из-за хребта (Искандер 6). It turns out that what we assumed to be a slip of the pen or a simple confusion of terms was actually the false and harmful manifestation of a whole system of beliefs. And since it is always the system itself one might fight, we hereby take up the gauntlet flung down from beyond the mountains (6a).

П-126 • ЧИ́СТИТЬ/ПОЧИ́СТИТЬ ПЁРЫШКИ coll [VP; subj: human, usu. female; usu. impfv] to spend time making o.s. look pretty: X чистит пёрышки ≃ X is preening her feathers; X is primping (herself).

Чистить пёрышки — Варино любимое занятие, она может часами сидеть перед зеркалом. Preening her feathers is Varya's favorite pastime. She can sit in front of the mirror for hours.

П-127 • лёгкий КАК ПЁРЫШКО ⟨ПУХ, ПУШИ́НКА⟩ coll [как + NP; these forms only; modif] (of various objects, fabrics, baked goods etc) very lightweight: (as) light as a feather ⟨as down⟩; featherlight; feathery (light).

П-128 • ПЕ́СЕНКА ⟨ПЕ́СНЯ⟩ СПЕ́ТА чья coll [VP_{subj} with быть$_{ø}$; fixed WO] s.o.'s career, success, well-being, or life has ended or is about to end (usu. as a result of unfavorable circumstances): Х-ова песенка спета ≃ X's song is over ⟨has ended, has been sung⟩; X is finished ⟨done for⟩; X's number ⟨time⟩ is up; it's all over for X; [lim.] X's goose is cooked; X has had it ⟨his day⟩.

«Твой отец добрый малый, — промолвил Базаров, — но он человек отставной, его песенка спета» (Тургенев 2). "Your father's a good man," Bazarov said, "but he's antiquated; his song's been sung" (2g). "Your father's a good man," said Bazarov, "but he's old-fashioned, he's had his day" (2c).

П-129 • СТРО́ИТЬ/ПОСТРО́ИТЬ НА ПЕСКЕ́ ⟨НА ПЕСЦЕ́ obs⟩ ⟨что⟩ [VP; subj: human] (usu. in refer. to a plan, project, theory etc) to base sth. on unreliable facts, approaches etc: Х строит Y на песке ≃ X builds Y on sand ⟨on shaky ground, on a shaky foundation⟩; [lim.] doing sth. is making bricks without straw.

…Оказывалось, что Бородавкин поспел как раз кстати, чтобы спасти погибавшую цивилизацию. Страсть строить на «песце» была доведена в нём почти до исступления (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). …It turned out that Wartkin had arrived just in time to save a perishing civilization. In him, the passion to build on sand amounted almost to a frenzy (1a).

П-130 • ИЗ ПЕ́СНИ СЛО́ВА НЕ ВЫ́КИНЕШЬ [saying] you should tell the whole (oftentimes unpleasant) truth without leaving out any part that makes you feel ashamed, may offend the listener(s) etc: ≃ there is no escaping ⟨avoiding, getting around⟩ the truth; there is no getting away from it; there is no escaping ⟨avoiding⟩ it; you have to tell it like it is; the whole truth must be told.

Впоследствии, перечитав вещь, он ужаснётся её местечковой сентиментальности, многословию и профессиональному убожеству, но из песни слова не выкинешь, именно ей дано было сыграть решающую в его судьбе роль… (Максимов 2). On rereading it much later he was to be appalled by its small-town sentimentality, its prolixity and literary mediocrity, but there is no getting away from it—this particular book was to play a decisive role in his destiny… (2a).

П-131 • ПЕТЬ/СПЕТЬ ⟨ЗАПЕ́ТЬ⟩ ДРУГУ́Ю ПЕ́СНЮ [VP; subj: human or collect; usu. this WO] to retract one's position, reverse one's decision, go back on one's promise etc: Х запел другую песню ≃ X began ⟨started⟩ singing another ⟨a different⟩ tune; X changed his tune.

П-132 • ТЯНУ́ТЬ ⟨ПЕТЬ⟩ ОДНУ́ И ТУ ЖЕ ⟨ВСЁ ТУ ЖЕ⟩ ПЕ́СНЮ coll [VP; subj: human] to repeat very often or incessantly the same opinion, judgment etc: Х тянет одну и ту же песню ≃ X keeps singing the same song; X keeps harping on the same string ⟨thing, subject⟩; X keeps repeating the same thing over and over; X keeps playing the same tune.

Два месяца пытаюсь добиться от директора ответа, а он всё тянет одну и ту же песню: ждите, вопрос ещё не решён. I've been trying to get an answer from the director for two months now, but he keeps playing the same tune: you've got to wait, nothing has been decided yet.

П-133 • ДО́ЛГАЯ ⟨ДЛИ́ННАЯ⟩ ПЕ́СНЯ coll [NP; sing only; usu. subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. infin, a clause, or это), usu. pres; more often this WO] sth. that cannot be done or told quickly, that requires an extended period of time for its completion: это долгая песня ≃ [of undertakings] that ⟨it⟩ will be a long-drawn-out process; that ⟨it⟩ will drag out ⟨on⟩ a long time; [of narration] that's ⟨it's⟩ a long story.

«…Ты расскажи, как это тебя из части отпустили?» — «Это — песня длинная, после расскажу», — уклончиво ответил Прохор… (Шолохов 5). "…Tell me… how was it you got permission to leave your unit?" "That's a long story, I'll tell you later," Prokhor replied evasively… (5a).

П-134 • ЛЕБЕДИ́НАЯ ПЕ́СНЯ ⟨ПЕСНЬ⟩ чья, кого lit [NP; sing only; usu. this WO] the last (and often most significant) act or work of a writer, artist etc, the last expression of his talent: swan song.

Я честно обещал покончить с писательской страстью, от которой мы все так долго страдали. И непременно покончу, как только напишу последнюю вещь — свою лебединую песнь (Терц 4). I had honestly promised to end the writing craze from which we had all suffered so long. And I definitely do intend to finish with it as soon as I've written my last work—my swan song (4a).

< From a popular belief that a swan sings only once in its lifetime—as it is dying.

П-135 • СТА́РАЯ ⟨ПРЕ́ЖНЯЯ, ВСЁ ТА ЖЕ⟩ ПЕ́СНЯ coll [NP; sing only; fixed WO] sth. that has already been said or done repeatedly: the same old story ⟨song, tune⟩; the same old song and dance.

[Армандо:] А ты как? Женишься на своей Лауре. Старая песня, чёрт её побери (Погодин 1). [A.:] So, what will you do? You'll marry your Laura. Same old story, goddamn it (1a).

П-136 • КАК ПЕСО́К МОРСКО́Й; КАК ⟨ЧТО⟩ ПЕСКУ́ МОРСКО́ГО кого-чего [как + NP; these forms only; adv (var. with песок) or quantit subj-compl with copula, subj/-gen: any common noun (var. with песку); fixed WO] (to increase) to large amounts; (some people or things are) available in large numbers or quantities: (multiply etc) like the sands of the sea; (be ⟨become⟩) as numerous as the sands of the sea.

«…Показания умножились, как песок морской!» (Достоевский 2). "…The evidence has multiplied like the sands of the sea!" (2a).

П-137 • ПЕСО́К ⟨ТРУХА́⟩ СЫ́ПЛЕТСЯ (из кого) coll [VP_{subj}; usu. this WO] (s.o.) is very old, decrepit, and near the end of his life: из Х-а песок сыплется ≃ X is on his last legs.

«Каков он из себя? Очень стар?» — «Лет восемьдесят». — «Однако же и движется, бодр?..» — «Песок сыплется…» (Гоголь 3). "…What does he look like? Is he very old?" "About eighty." "But he can still move about, eh? He's in good health, isn't he?…" "He's on his last legs" (3a).

П-138 • ПРОТИРА́ТЬ/ПРОТЕРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ПРОДИРА́ТЬ/ПРОДРА́ТЬ, ПРОБИРА́ТЬ/ПРОБРА́ТЬ⟩ С ПЕСО́ЧКОМ ⟨С ПЕСКО́М⟩ кого highly coll [VP; subj: human] to reprimand s.o. severely: Х протрёт Y-а с песочком ≃ X will let Y have it (but good); X will rake Y over the coals: X will tear Y to shreds; X will chew Y out.

П-139 • В ПЕТЛЕ́ оказаться, очутиться и т.п.; В ПЕ́ТЛЮ́ попасть и т.п. [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or adv] (to find o.s., wind up etc) in a hopeless, desperate situation: X оказался в петле ≃ X had a noose around his neck; X was trapped.

П-140 • МЕТА́ТЬ ПЕ́ТЛИ obs, coll [VP; subj: human] to confuse and/or deceive s.o. intentionally: X мечет петли ≃ X weaves a tangled web; X weaves a web of deceit.

П-141 • ЗАТЯНУ́ТЬ ПЕТЛЮ́ НА ШЕ́Е чьей, (у) кого ⟨НА СВОЁЙ ШЕ́Е⟩ [VP; subj and obj: human or collect] to make one's own or s.o.'s desperate situation entirely hopeless: X затянул петлю на шее Y-а ≃ X fastened ⟨tightened⟩ the noose around person Y's neck; X fastened ⟨tightened⟩ the noose around ⟨on⟩ group Y.

П-142 • ЛЕ́ЗТЬ/ПОЛЕ́ЗТЬ В ПЕ́ТЛЮ [VP] 1. [subj: human] to expose o.s. knowingly to serious danger; to get o.s. into serious trouble: X лезет в петлю ≃ X puts ⟨sticks⟩ his head in a ⟨the⟩ noose; X risks his neck; X puts his head on the (chopping) block.

П-143 • НАДЕВА́ТЬ/НАДЕ́ТЬ ⟨НАКИ́ДЫВАТЬ/НАКИ́НУТЬ⟩ ПЕ́ТЛЮ́ НА СЕБЯ́ ⟨СЕБЕ́ НА ШЕ́Ю, НА ШЕ́Ю кому⟩ [VP; subj: human] to create an extremely difficult, hopeless situation for o.s. or another: X надел петлю на себя ⟨Y-у на шею⟩≃ X put a noose around his ⟨Y's⟩ neck; X stuck his (own) neck ⟨Y's neck⟩ in the ⟨a⟩ noose; X slipped a noose on himself ⟨on Y⟩.

Да вот что: не потому ли Парвус так и старается, чтоб именно — Ленина замарать с собою вместе? Вот такой индивидуально-семейной поездкой накинуть петлю — а потом и в руки взять? а потом и условия диктовать — как революцию вести? (Солженицын 5). Perhaps that was it: perhaps Parvus was going to so much trouble simply so that Lenin would be tarred with the same brush? Perhaps Parvus had arranged this individual and family journey to slip a noose on him and then take him in hand? Dictate conditions, tell him how to conduct the revolution? (5a).

П-144 • ХОТЬ В ПЕ́ТЛЮ ЛЕЗЬ ⟨ПОЛЕЗА́Й⟩ coll [хоть + VP_{imper}; these forms only; usu. subord clause; fixed WO] (used to express despair, one's inability to find a way out of a difficult, hopeless situation) one feels absolutely desperate: one might ⟨may⟩ as well go (and) hang o.s.; one could hang ⟨kill⟩ o.s.

[Один из купцов:] Такого городничего никогда ещё… не было. Такие обиды чинит, что описать нельзя. Постоем совсем заморил, хоть в петлю полезай (Гоголь 4). [Merchant:] Never before… has there been such a Prefect. The outrages that he commits are quite indescribable. His billeting has been the ruin of us—we may as well go and hang ourselves (4b).

П-145 • ПЕТЛЯ́ ЗАТЯ́ГИВАЕТСЯ ⟨СЖИМА́ЕТСЯ⟩ вокруг кого; ПЕТЛЯ́ НА (чьей) ШЕ́Е ЗАТЯ́ГИВАЕТСЯ [VP_{subj}; obj: human or collect] s.o.'s or one's own desperate situation becomes entirely hopeless: петля вокруг X-а затягивается ≃ the noose is tightening around X ⟨X's neck⟩.

Я чувствую, что назревают грозные события, петля вокруг меня затягивается (Акунин 7) I have the feeling something terrible is about to happen; the noose is tightening around me (7a).

П-146 • ЖА́РЕНЫЙ ПЕТУ́Х НЕ КЛЕВА́Л/НЕ КЛЮ́НУЛ (В ЗА́ДНИЦУ substand, rude ⟨В ЖО́ПУ taboo⟩) кого highly coll [VP_{subj}; used without negation to convey the opposite meaning; when used without negation, usu. pfv; when used with negation, usu. impfv] s.o. has not yet encountered real difficulties or ordeals in life: X-а жареный петух не клевал ≃ X has never even had a taste of trouble; X has never been through hard times; X has never had to struggle; X has had it easy; X doesn't know anything about life; || X-а жареный петух клюнул ≃ X came upon ⟨fell upon, got hit with⟩ hard times.

«Слушай ты, мыслитель… тебя ещё, видно, жареный петух в задницу не клевал, так я устрою: каждый клевок девять грамм, понял?» (Максимов 1). "Listen, philosopher…. If you don't know anything about life yet, then I'll teach you, and each lesson will have nine grams of lead in it, is that clear?" (1a).

П-147 • КРА́СНЫЙ ПЕТУ́Х coll, rather folk [NP; usu. sing; fixed WO] arson: torching.

П-148 • ПУСКА́ТЬ/ПУСТИ́ТЬ ⟨ПОДПУСКА́ТЬ/ПОДПУСТИ́ТЬ⟩ (КРА́СНОГО) ПЕТУХА́ (кому, по чему, на что) coll [VP; subj: human] to commit arson: X пустил красного петуха Y-у ≃ X put Y's house ⟨Y's estate etc⟩ to the torch; X set fire to Y's house ⟨Y's estate etc⟩; X set Y's house ⟨Y's estate etc⟩ on fire; X put a match ⟨a light⟩ to Y's house ⟨Y's estate etc⟩; || X пустил красного петуха по деревне ⟨по поместью и т.п.⟩ ≃ X put the village ⟨the estate etc⟩ to the torch; X set fire to the village ⟨the estate etc⟩; X set the village ⟨the estate etc⟩ on fire; X put a match ⟨a light⟩ to the village ⟨the estate etc⟩.

Лежал [на кладбище] прадед Ардабьева, сосланный когда-то со Владимирщины за «красного петуха», подпущенного помещику (Евтушенко 1). Here [in the cemetery] lay Ardabiev's great-grandfather, exiled at some time from Vladimir province for setting fire to his landlord's estate (1a).

П-149 • ПУСКА́ТЬ/ПУСТИ́ТЬ ⟨ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ⟩ ПЕТУХА́ coll [VP; subj: human or голос (var. with давать/дать only); more often pfv] having strained one's vocal cords on a high note (while singing, shouting, or speaking in a high voice), to emit a squeaking sound: X пустил петуха ≃ X's voice broke ⟨cracked⟩; X let out a squeak.

…На более высокой и пронзительной ноте брала она следующий куплет песни, и казалось, сейчас сорвётся и даст петуха, но не срывалась (Войнович 4). …At the highest and most piercing note she began the second couplet of the song and it seemed that any moment her voice would catch and break, but it did not (4a).

П-150 • С ПЕТУХА́МИ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. ложиться, засыпать ~ (to go to bed) very early in the evening: (go to bed) with the chickens ⟨the sun⟩.

Не звони ему так поздно: он обычно ложится спать с петухами. Don't call him so late at night: he usually goes to bed with the sun.

2. вставать, просыпаться ~ (to rise, wake up) before daybreak or very early in the morning: with the cock's crow; at cockcrow; with the chickens ⟨the sun⟩; with the birds; at the crack ⟨the break⟩ of dawn.

…В лагере мы жили в конюшне, на другой её половине — соседи-лошади… Ложимся с курами, встаём с петухами (Иоффе 1). …In one of the camps we lived in the stables, horses were our neighbors in the other half…. We went to bed with the hens and rose at cockcrow (1a).

П-151 • ДО (ПЕ́РВЫХ ⟨ВТОРЫ́Х, ТРЕ́ТЬИХ⟩) ПЕТУХО́В coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv] 1. ~ сидеть, говорить и т.п. Also: ДО ПО́ЗДНИХ ПЕТУХО́В obs (to stay up, keep talking etc) very late into the night or until the break of day: till (first ⟨second, third⟩) cockcrow; till the cock crows; till cock's crow; till the small hours; till the wee hours (of the morning); till daybreak ⟨dawn⟩.

2. вставать, просыпаться ~ (to rise, wake up) very early in the morning, while it is still dark: before cockcrow ⟨the cock's crow⟩; before dawn ⟨daybreak⟩.

< From the method of telling time based on the crowing of roosters. Traditionally first cockcrow, «первые петухи», is the earliest cockcrow after midnight; second cockcrow, «вторые петухи», is sometime after first cockcrow and before daybreak; and third cockcrow, «третьи петухи», is right at daybreak.

П-152 • ПО́СЛЕ ПЕ́РВЫХ ⟨ВТОРЫ́Х, ТРЕ́ТЬИХ⟩ ПЕТУХО́В возвращаться, приходить и т.п. coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to return, come etc) very late at night or very early in the morning: in the wee ⟨small⟩ hours (of the morning); after (first ⟨second, third⟩) cockcrow; after the cock's crow.

…В ночь [Дарья] куда-то исчезла и вернулась только после первых петухов (Шолохов 5). That night she [Darya] took herself off somewhere and returned only after first cockcrow (5a).

П-153 • НЕ́ БЫЛО ПЕЧА́ЛИ, (ТАК) ЧЁРТИ НАКАЧА́ЛИ [saying; often only the first half of the saying is used] this new problem, trouble, complication etc is very annoying, aggravating, and I have more than enough problems without it: ≃ that's the last thing I ⟨we etc⟩ need!; just what I ⟨we etc⟩ need!; as if I ⟨we etc⟩ didn't have enough problems ⟨enough to do, enough to worry about⟩ already ⟨as it is⟩!

«Экзамен опять перенесли». — «Ну вот, не было печали». "They've postponed the exam again." "Oh, great, that's the last thing I need!"

П-154 • КАКА́Я ⟨ЧТО ЗА⟩ ПЕЧА́ЛЬ кому highly coll [indep. clause; fixed WO] it does not concern s.o. (and there is no reason why s.o. should be interested in it): X-у какая печаль ≃ what's that got to do with X?; what business is that of X's?; what's it to X?; that's no business of X's; that's none of X's business.

[Подхалюзин:] …Зачем это вы к нам больно часто повадились? [Устинья Наумовна:] А тебе что за печаль! (Островский 10). [P.:] …Why do you come here to us so confoundedly often? [U.N.:] What's that to you? (10b). [P.:] …Why is it you're in the habit of coming here so much? [U.N.:] Why, that's no business of yours! (10a).

П-155 • КА́ИНОВА ПЕЧА́ТЬ; ПЕЧА́ТЬ КА́ИНА; КА́ИНОВО КЛЕЙМО́ all lit [NP; sing only] an imprint or external sign of criminality: the mark of Cain.

…В генеральской прессе, более верной идеям партии, чем сама партия, разъяснили армейским политрукам, что: «нобелевская премия [присуждённая Солженицыну] есть каинова печать за предательство своего народа» (Солженицын 2). …The generals' press, which is more faithful to the ideas of the Party than the Party itself, explained… for the benefit of political officers in the army that "the Nobel Prize [awarded to Solzhenitsyn] is the mark of Cain for betraying his people" (2a).

П-156 • ЗА СЕМЬЮ́ ПЕЧА́ТЯМИ (храниться, находиться и т.п.) lit [PrepP; Invar; adv, subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. abstr), or nonagreeing postmodif] (to be, remain etc) beyond the scope of s.o.'s comprehension, completely inaccessible to s.o.: sealed with seven seals; under lock and key; behind seven veils.

Если бы знать, куда дело загнётся! Но Глебов всегда был в чём-то туг и недальновиден. Сложные ходы, которые потом обнаружились, были для него тайной за семью печатями (Трифонов 2). If only he had known where it would all lead! But in some things Glebov was a little slow-witted, somewhat lacking in foresight. To him, the complex situation in which he was later embroiled remained a mystery sealed with seven seals (2a).

< (?) From the Bible (Rev. 5:1).

П-157 • ВСЕ́МИ ПЕЧЁНКАМИ ненавидеть, презирать кого-что и т.п. substand [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv (intensif); fixed WO] (to hate, despise etc s.o. or sth.) very intensely: more than anything ⟨anyone⟩ (in the world); with all one's guts; with a (purple) passion; [lim.] hate s.o.'s guts.

Свою соседку Дарья ненавидит всеми печёнками и никогда не упускает возможности сделать ей какую-нибудь гадость. Darya hates her neighbor with a passion and never misses a chance to do something nasty to her.

П-158 • СИДЕ́ТЬ В ПЕЧЁНКАХ у кого highly coll, rude [VP; subj: any noun] to be extremely annoying, aggravating etc to s.o.: X сидит у Y-а в печёнках ≃ Y has had it up to here with X; Y is fed up with X; Y is sick to death of X.

[Хороших:] У меня этот твой ремонт в печёнках уже сидит (Вампилов 2). [Kh.:] …I'm fed up with these repairs (2a). ♦ Толпа баб и мужиков ругалась и посылала куда следует терпение, сидевшее у них в печёнках (Мандельштам 2). This crowd of working folk went on swearing and cursing about "patience"—they were sick to death of it… (2a).

П-159 • ОТ ПЕ́ЧКИ начинать, делать что coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to do sth.) over, starting from the beginning: (start) from square one; (be) back to square one; (start) from scratch; (go) back to the drawing board; (start ⟨do sth.⟩) all over again.

…Хотя нас вправе упрекнуть (уже упрекнули), что мы способны рассказывать лишь всё по порядку, «от печки», мы считаем это правильным, то есть иначе не можем (Битов 2). Although people are within their rights to reproach us (they already have) for being capable of telling things only in order, "from square one," we consider this correct; i.e., we can't do it any other way (2a).

П-160 • ПЕ́ЧКИ-ЛА́ВОЧКИ substand [NP; pl only] 1. trifles, unimportant things: this and that; nothing in particular.

«О чём вы с ней говорили?» — подозрительно спросил Паниковский. «Так, ни о чём, печки-лавочки», — ответил Остап (Ильф и Петров 2). "What were you talking about?" asked Panikovsky suspiciously. "Oh, nothing much, this and that," replied Ostap (2d).

2. (to engage in) empty talk: (engage in) idle chatter; (be) chattering ⟨gabbing, chitchatting, yakking etc⟩; chatter away.

Хватит печки-лавочки разводить, пора за дело приниматься. Quit your yakking, it's time to get down to work.

3. ~ у кого с кем a close acquaintanceship: buddy-buddy relationship; getting chummy (with s.o.).

П-161 • ТАНЦЕВА́ТЬ ОТ ПЕ́ЧКИ coll [VP; subj: human] to begin at the beginning, from the simplest point, and follow the usual routine: X танцует от печки ≃ X starts ⟨takes it⟩ from step one ⟨square one⟩; [lim.] X starts over ⟨goes through it again⟩ from the beginning; X takes it from the top ⟨starts over⟩ again; X starts all over; X goes back to the drawing board ⟨to square one⟩; it's back to the old drawing board!

Аудитория была совсем не подготовлена, и лектору пришлось танцевать от печки и объяснять самые элементарные вещи. The audience didn't have a clue about the subject of the talk, and the speaker had to take it from square one, spelling out the basics.

П-162 • В ПИ́КУ кому сделать, сказать что coll [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] (to do or say sth.) in order to annoy s.o.: (just ⟨in order⟩) to spite ⟨irritate, pique⟩ s.o.; (in order) to get a rise out of s.o.; (in order) to get under s.o.'s skin; (in order) to get s.o.'s goat.

Безусловно, эти назначения санкционированы. Вероятно, сделаны даже по прямому указанию Сталина для «выкорчёвывания остатков оппозиции» в пику ему, Кирову, — не хочешь делать сам, сделаем без тебя… (Рыбаков 2). These appointments had undoubtedly been approved. Probably they had been made on Stalin's instructions to "root out the remains of the opposition" and to spite Kirov: you won't do it yourself, so we'll do it for you (2a).

П-163 • ВЫ́СШИЙ ПИЛОТА́Ж [NP; fixed WO] 1. aviation skillful flying maneuvers: aerobatics; stunt flying.

2. (чего) [occas. used as Interj] sth. done expertly: remarkable ⟨dazzling etc⟩ achievement ⟨accomplishment⟩; classy ⟨first-rate, first-class, topnotch etc⟩ job ⟨performance⟩; the ultimate ⟨the height of⟩ [NP]; [when used as Interj] that's the ultimate!

П-164 • ЗОЛОТИ́ТЬ/ПОЗОЛОТИ́ТЬ ПИЛЮ́ЛЮ lit; ПОДСЛАСТИ́ТЬ ПИЛЮ́ЛЮ [VP; subj: human] to make an unpleasant thing somewhat more tolerable for s.o.: X позолотил пилюлю ≃ X sugared ⟨sugarcoated, sweetened, coated, gilded⟩ the pill; X sweetened the medicine.

Он [Маяковский] был очень строг со мной, как и со всеми, высказывал своё мнение о моих вещах, если они ему не нравились, не золотя пилюли: «Читал ваш рассказ. Никогда подобной скуки не читал!» (Олеша 3). He [Mayakovsky] was very strict with me, just as he was with everybody, and outspoken in his opinion of those things of mine he didn't like, never sugaring the pill. "I read your story. I've never read anything so boring!" (3a).

П-165 • ПОДНОСИ́ТЬ/ПОДНЕСТИ́ ⟨ПРЕПОДНОСИ́ТЬ/ПРЕПОДНЕСТИ́⟩ ПИЛЮ́ЛЮ ⟨-и⟩ кому [VP; subj: human] to say or do sth. unpleasant, offensive, hurtful etc to s.o.: X поднёс Y-у пилюлю ≃ X got Y where it hurts; X gave Y a bitter pill to swallow.

П-166 • ПРОГЛОТИ́ТЬ ⟨СЪЕСТЬ⟩ ПИЛЮ́ЛЮ [VP; subj: human] to endure an offense or insult without protest: X проглотил пилюлю ≃ X swallowed ⟨pocketed⟩ the insult ⟨the dig etc⟩; X just took it; X took it lying down.

П-167 • ГО́РЬКАЯ ПИЛЮ́ЛЯ; ПИЛЮ́ЛЯ ГОРЬКА́ both lit [NP; sing only; VP_{subj} with copula (2nd var.)] sth. unpleasant or painful for s.o. (that s.o. must accept, come to terms with etc): a bitter pill (for s.o.) (to swallow).

«Я наконец сказал ей [матери], что вы, мол, меня понять не можете; мы, мол, принадлежим к двум различным поколениям. Она ужасно обиделась, а я подумал: что делать? Пилюля горька — а проглотить её нужно» (Тургенев 2). "At last I said to her, 'Of course, you cannot understand me: we belong to two different generations,' I said. She was dreadfully offended but I thought to myself, 'It can't be helped. It is a bitter pill but she must swallow it'" (2c).

П-168 • ВАЛТАСА́РОВ ПИР ⟨ВАЛТАСА́РОВО ПИ́РШЕСТВО⟩ obs, lit [NP; sing only] a carefree existence in the face of danger, inevitable ruin: Belshazzar's feast.

< From the Bible (Dan. 5).

П-169 • ЛУКУ́ЛЛОВ(СКИЙ) ПИР lit [NP] a rich, lavish feast: Lucullan feast.

< From Lucullus, a Roman general famous for lavish feasts.

П-170 • ПИР ГОРО́Й coll; ПИР НА ВЕСЬ МИР coll, rather folk [NP; sing only; usu. subj or obj; fixed WO] a festive celebration with copious amounts of food and drink: a feast of feasts; a lavish ⟨sumptuous, real⟩ feast ⟨banquet⟩; a feast fit for a king; a feast such as the world has never seen.

Началась почти оргия, пир на весь мир (Достоевский 1). What began then was almost an orgy, a feast of feasts (1a). ♦ Всё время их пребывания на барском дворе шёл пир горой у прислуги… (Герцен 1). All the time they stayed in the master's courtyard the servants kept up a sumptuous banquet… (1a).

П-171 • ПИРОВА́ЛИ — ВЕСЕЛИ́ЛИСЬ, ПОСЧИТА́ЛИ — ПРОСЛЕЗИ́ЛИСЬ [saying] when indulging in pleasure, excesses, or luxury, remember that one way or another you will have to pay for it: ≃ after the feast comes the reckoning.

П-172 • ВОТ КАКИ́Е ПИРОГИ́ coll [sent; Invar; fixed WO] (used to round off a story) that is what the situation is (more often in refer. to sad circumstances, a distressing situation etc): that's how it is; that's the situation ⟨the deal, the story etc⟩.

Стал он выпивать, сначала — понемногу, потом — всё больше и больше, а теперь его за пьянство с работы уволили. Вот какие пироги… He started hitting the bottle—only a little at first, but then more and more—and now they've fired him for drunkenness. That's the story.

П-173 • В ЧУЖО́М ПИРУ́ ПОХМЕ́ЛЬЕ [NP; fixed WO] a trouble for s.o. brought about by the fault of another or others: ≃ pay(ing) with a hangover for the feasting of others; pay(ing) ⟨suffer(ing)⟩ for someone else's sin(s)

⟨transgression(s), crime(s) etc⟩; [lim.] (be) a scapegoat for someone else.

«Вот что случилось: Азамат вбежал туда в разорванном бешмете, говоря, что Казбич хотел его зарезать. Все выскочили, схватились за ружья — и пошла потеха… „Плохое дело в чужом пиру похмелье, — сказал я Григорью Александровичу, поймав его за руку, — не лучше ли нам поскорее убраться?“» (Лермонтов 1). “Here’s what had happened: Azamat had burst in, his beshmet torn, saying that Kazbich had wanted to cut his throat. Everybody dashed out, grabbed their rifles—and the sport began!… ‘It is no fun to pay with a hangover for the feasting of others,’ said I to Pechorin, catching him by the arm. ‘Hadn’t we better clear out at once? ’” (1a).

П-174 • НЕ ПРО МЕНЯ́ ⟨тебя и т.п.⟩ ПИ́САНО ⟨-ы⟩ highly coll [predic (impers or with subj: abstr or concr, often это); fixed WO] to be beyond my (your etc) understanding: это не про меня писано ≃ this is (way) above ⟨over⟩ my head; this is too deep for me; this is beyond ⟨outside⟩ my ken.

Я и не пытаюсь разобраться в этих компьютерных программах — не про меня писано. I don’t even try to understand these computer programs—they’re way over my head.

П-175 • КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ ПО ПИ́САНОМУ coll [как etc + PrepP; these forms only; adv] 1. говорить, рассказывать и т.п. ~ (to talk, tell a story etc) glibly, fluently, smoothly: like ⟨as if⟩ reading (from ⟨out of⟩) a book ⟨a script⟩.

«Давно ли слова не могла сказать, и вот, пожалуйста, вовсю разговорилась. Прямо как по-писаному чешешь» (Распутин 3). “A moment ago you couldn’t get a word out, and now look at you rattling away! Like you was reading a book!” (3a).

2. идти, происходить и т.п. ~ (to go, proceed etc) as expected, as it is supposed to, without any complications: without a hitch; like clockwork; according to script ⟨plan⟩; just as it should.

…Лошади, чуя близкий дом… пошли свежо, шибко. Встречавшиеся казаки кланялись, с базов и из окон куреней из-под ладоней глядели бабы… Всё шло гладко, как по-писаному (Шолохов 3). The horses, sensing that home was near, stepped out spiritedly…. Passing Cossacks bowed their heads. Women shaded their eyes and looked out of the houses and the yards…. Everything was just as it should be (3a).

П-176 • КАК ПИ́ТЬ ДАТЬ ⟨ДАСТ, ДАДУ́Т both obs⟩ coll [как + VP; these forms only; usu. used as adv; usu. used with verbs in pfv fut or, less often, subjunctive; fixed WO] (used to emphasize that an action will occur, a situation will be etc precisely as predicted or stated) certainly, without a doubt: (that’s) for (dead) sure ⟨certain⟩; as sure as sure can be; (there are) no two ways about it; no doubt ⟨question⟩ about it; you can count on ⟨be sure of⟩ that.

П-177 • ПИШИ́ ПРОПА́ЛО coll [indep. clause; Invar; fixed WO] (if sth. mentioned in the immediately preceding context comes about or has come about, then) failure, loss is inevitable: it’s hopeless; that’s the end; it’s as good as lost ⟨done for⟩; you can forget it; you ⟨we etc⟩ might as well write sth. ⟨s.o.⟩ off as a (total) loss; [lim.] you ⟨we etc⟩ have had it.

Фаина считала, что [Ольге] нужно срочно искать мужа: «Не будь дурой. Сергея не вернёшь, а себя погубишь. Имей в виду, у тебя времени в обрез: год, два, потом пиши пропало» (Трифонов 3). Faina thought Olga should start looking for another husband at once: “Don’t be a fool. You can’t bring Sergei back, and you’re destroying yourself. Bear in mind that you don’t have much time—a year or two, and after that you can forget it” (3a).

П-178 • СИДЕ́ТЬ НА ПИ́ЩЕ ⟨ВКУША́ТЬ ОТ ПИ́ЩИ⟩ СВЯТО́ГО АНТО́НИЯ obs, lit, often humor [VP; subj: human] to live in a half-starved condition: X сидит на пище святого Антония ≃ X lives on air ⟨on next to nothing⟩; X is on starvation rations; [lim.] X is fasting for the sins of mankind.

< From the name of the Christian ascetic St. Anthony of Thebes, who lived on roots and grasses in the desert.

П-179 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ПИ́ЩУ чему, для чего [VP; subj: abstr or human] to contribute to an increase in (s.o.’s curiosity, interest in sth. etc) or to the dissemination of (rumors, gossip etc): X дал пищу Y-у ≃ X sowed ⟨nourished, invited, aroused, gave rise to⟩ Y; X gave (person Z) ammunition for Y; [in refer. to rumors, gossip] X set tongues wagging; X set rumors flying.

Я спросила его [Абдуллина], что мне делать: оставаться в партии на таком положении, когда у тебя не хотят принимать взносов? Или положить билет на стол, дав этим новую пищу обвинениям? (Гинзбург 1). I asked Abdullin what I should do: stay in the party although my dues were being refused, or turn my card in and thereby invite fresh accusations (1a). ♦ [Павел Михайлович:] Ты позволяешь себе какие-то глупейшие, мальчишеские выходки, домой не ходишь заводишь в городе роман, даёшь пищу сплетне… (Погодин 1). [P.M.:] You pull some of the stupidest, little-boy pranks, don’t go home, have an affair in town, set rumors flying… (1a).

П-180 • пристать, прицепиться (к кому) КАК ПИЯ́ВКА coll [как + NP; nom only; adv (intensif)] (to attach o.s. to another, bothering him with requests, seeking favors from him, forcing one’s attentions on him etc) without letting go: stick ⟨cling⟩ like a leech; cling like a bur.

П-181 • МЕ́ЛКО ПЛА́ВАТЬ coll, rather derog [VP; subj: human; pres or, rare, past; fixed WO] 1. to lack sufficient ability, knowledge, experience etc to do sth. (usu. to accomplish sth. significant): X мелко плавает ≃ X doesn’t have what it takes (for sth.); X is not the right caliber (for sth.); X is out of ⟨beyond⟩ his depth (in sth.).

2. to be considered insignificant by the speaker (usu. because of one’s minor official position or low social status): X мелко плавает ≃ X is a ⟨one of the⟩ small fry; X is a nobody ⟨a nonentity⟩; || Neg X не из мелко плавающих ≃ X isn’t just anybody.

[Войницев:] Отчего ты с ним редко беседуешь? Это человек не из мелко плавающих, малый развитой и слишком нескучный! (Чехов 1). [V.:] …Why do you avoid him? He’s not just anybody, you know. He’s a most intelligent fellow, and far from boring (1a).

П-182 • НА ЗА́ДНЕМ ПЛА́НЕ быть$_{ø}$; НА ЗА́ДНИЙ ПЛА́Н отойти, отодвинуть что и т.п. [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. abstr or human) or adv] (to occupy, fade to etc) an unimportant, insignificant position: X — на заднем плане ≃ X is in the background; thing X is low on person Y's list of priorities; || X отошёл ⟨был отодвинут⟩ на задний план ≃ X receded ⟨was pushed⟩ into the background; X took ⟨had to take⟩ a back seat; X was overshadowed.

Политика отодвинула в нём [Сталине] все другие человеческие интересы на задний план — и так было всю жизнь (Аллилуева 2). Politics pushed all other human interests into the background, and it remained that way all his [Stalin's] life (2a).

П-183 • ОПУСКА́ТЬ/ОПУСТИ́ТЬ ⟨СНИЖА́ТЬ/СНИЗИТЬ⟩ ПЛА́НКУ (чего) media [VP; subj: human, collect, or abstr] to reduce existing requirements, criteria etc in such a way as to make them less challenging, less difficult to meet: X-ы опустили планку (Y-ов) ≃ Xs lowered the bar ⟨the standard, the level⟩ (of Ys).

П-184 • ПОДНИМА́ТЬ/ПОДНЯ́ТЬ ПЛА́НКУ (чего) media [VP; subj: human, collect, or abstr] to elevate existing requirements, criteria etc in such a way as to make them more challenging, more difficult to meet: X-ы подняли планку (Y-ов) ≃ Xs raised ⟨set⟩ the bar (of ⟨on⟩ Ys) higher; Xs raised the standard ⟨the level⟩ (of Ys).

П-185 • ПЕРЕМЕНИ́ТЬ ⟨СМЕНИ́ТЬ⟩ ПЛАСТИ́НКУ highly coll, rude when used in direct address [VP; subj: human; often imper] to move on to a new subject of conversation: X переменил пластинку ≃ X changed ⟨switched⟩ the subject ⟨the topic (of conversation)⟩; X switched topics.

Послушай, сколько можно говорить об одном и том же! Перемени пластинку! Listen, how long can you go on talking about the same thing! Change the subject!

П-186 • ПЛАСТИ́НКУ ЗАЕ́ЛО у кого coll, disapprov [VP$_{impers}$; Invar] used, usu. in the form of a question, when a person keeps repeating one and the same thing, thus annoying the interlocutor: у тебя что, пластинку заело? ≃ (hey,) you sound like a broken record.

П-187 • ЛЕЖА́ТЬ ПЛАСТО́М ⟨КАК ПЛАСТ⟩ coll [VP; subj: human] (usu. of a person who is sick or very tired) to lie completely immobile: X лежит пластом ≃ X is flat on his back.

Теперь им совсем плохо, лежат пластом и до утра… на людях появиться не смогут (Стругацкие 3). Now they were quite ill, flat on their backs, and could not appear in public before morning (3a).

П-188 • СТОЯ́ТЬ НА ПЛАТФО́РМЕ чего, какой media, rather offic [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to adhere to certain views, to a certain teaching or movement: X стоит на платформе Y-а ≃ X is a supporter of Y; X stands for Y; || X стоит на иной платформе ≃ X is in a different camp; X is of a different school of thought.

«Не важно, верите вы в бога или нет… Точно так же не имеет значения — монархист вы или учредиловец, или просто казак, стоящий на платформе самостийности» (Шолохов 5). "It doesn't matter whether you believe in God or not…. Nor does it matter whether you're a monarchist or a supporter of the Constituent Assembly, or simply a Cossack who stands for self-government" (5a).

П-189 • БЕРЕГИ́ (ПЛА́ТЬЕ СНО́ВУ, А) ЧЕСТЬ СМО́ЛОДУ [saying] (used as advice to young people) value your honor and good name from your youth (just as you ought to take care of clothing when it is new): ≃ (take care of your clothes while they're still new,) cherish your honor from a tender age; take care (of your clothes when they're new and) of your honor when you are young.

«Служи верно, кому присягнёшь; слушайся начальников; за их лаской не гоняйся; на службу на напрашивайся; от службы не отговаривайся; и помни пословицу: береги платье снову, а честь смолоду» (Пушкин 2). "Serve faithfully the Sovereign to whom you swear allegiance; obey your superiors; don't curry favor with them; don't volunteer for duty, but don't shirk it either; and remember the proverb, 'Take care of your clothes while they're still new; cherish your honor from a tender age'" (2a).

П-190 • ХОТЬ ПЛАЧЬ coll [хоть + VP$_{imper}$; Invar; usu. subord clause; fixed WO] (used to express despair at one's inability to find a way out of a terrible situation) this is unbearably upsetting, depressing etc: it's enough to make you cry; I ⟨you⟩ could (just) cry; I ⟨you⟩ could scream.

«Разное [я] в жизни испытала; вашего брата — мужиков — должна бы уж хорошо знать. А вот влюбилась, хоть плачь, хоть головой об стенку…» (Копелев 1). "I've seen a lot in life; I should know you men well by know. But I'm in love; I could cry, beat my head against the wall" (1a).

П-191 • ПЛЕВА́ТЬ Я ХОТЕ́Л ⟨less often хочу и т.п.⟩ на кого-что substand [VP$_{subj}$; usu. past (хотел etc) which may be used in pres contexts; fixed WO] (used to express one's absolute indifference to or disdain for s.o. or sth.) I am (you are etc) not at all interested in or concerned about s.o. or sth.: плевать X хотел на Y-а ≃ X couldn't ⟨could⟩ care less about Y; what does X care about ⟨for⟩ Y; X doesn't give a damn ⟨a hoot, a tinker's damn, a rap, a shit etc⟩ about Y; X doesn't give a good goddamn about Y; to hell with Y; [lim.] you ⟨he etc⟩ can stuff Y.

«…Мы плевать хотели на марксизм и монархизм, на Возрождение и на Идею Общей Судьбы!» (Аксёнов 7). "What do we care for Marxism or monarchism, the resurrection of Holy Russia or the Idea of a Common Fate?" (7a). ♦ [Зилов:] Кого вы тут обманываете? И для чего? Ради приличия?.. Так вот, плевать я хотел на ваши приличия. Слышите? Ваши приличия мне опротивели (Вампилов 5). [Z.:] Who are you trying to fool? And why bother? For the sake of decency?… You can stuff your decency. Do you hear? I'm sick to death of your decency (5a).

П-192 • ОТДЕЛЯ́ТЬ/ОТДЕЛИ́ТЬ ПЛЕ́ВЕЛЫ ОТ ПШЕНИ́ЦЫ ⟨ЗЁРНА ОТ ПЛЕ́ВЕЛ⟩ lit [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to separate what is valuable from what is worthless: X отделил плевелы от пшеницы ≃ X separated ⟨sifted⟩ the wheat ⟨the grain⟩ from the chaff.

< From the Bible (Matt. 13:24–30).

П-193 • ПЛЕВКА́ НЕ СТО́ИТ highly coll [VP; pres or past] 1. derog [subj: human] one is completely lacking merit, value: X плевка не стоит ≃ X is worthless ⟨trash⟩.

2. [subj: abstr or concr] sth. is very insignificant, not worth paying attention to: X плевка не стоит ≃ X isn't worth worrying (your head) about.

П-194 • ПЛЕТЕ́НИЕ СЛОВЕ́С lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a loquacious, pretentious style (of speaking or writing that usu. hides a lack of content): verbal pyrotechnics.

Что вам сказать о его лекции? Плетение словес, но никакой глубины. What can I say about his lecture? All verbal pyrotechnics and no real substance.

П-195 • ПЛЕ́ТЬЮ НЕ ВЫ́ШИБЕШЬ что из кого highly coll [VP; neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing only; fixed WO] it is impossible to make s.o. relinquish the habit, idea, prejudice etc in question: из X-а Y плетью не вышибешь ≃ you couldn't beat ⟨thrash⟩ Y out of X (with a whip ⟨a stick⟩).

[Маврикий:] Чёрт знает, до шести лет казалось забавным, что он называет меня Маврушкой. А теперь плетью не вышибешь (Солженицын 11). [M.:] Damn it, until he was six it was amusing to hear him call me Maury. But now you couldn't thrash it out of him with a whip (11a).

П-196 • ПЛЕ́ТЬЮ О́БУХА НЕ ПЕРЕШИБЁШЬ [saying] it is useless to oppose great force or fight a more powerful opponent (said when a person is forced to accept sth. that has been imposed by a stronger party, resign himself to circumstances): ≃ you can't chop wood with a penknife; you can't fight guns with sticks; you can't fight a howitzer with a peashooter; there's no arguing with a big fist.

«Надо в чём-то уступить советской власти!.. Плетью обуха не перешибёшь» (Солженицын 2). "…You must make some concessions to the Soviet regime…. You can't fight a howitzer with a peashooter" (2a).

П-197 • С ПЛЕЧ ⟨С РУК obs⟩ ДОЛО́Й coll [these forms only; predic (impers or with subj: abstr); can be used in past, pres, and fut contexts; fixed WO] (in refer. to freeing o.s. from certain obligations, concerns, usu. upon conclusion of the matter in question) there is no need to worry about sth., burden o.s. with sth. anymore: (X) с плеч долой ≃ [in past contexts] X ⟨it⟩ was off person Y's shoulders ⟨back, mind⟩; Y got X ⟨it⟩ off his back.

Странная мысль пришла ему вдруг: встать сейчас, подойти к Никодиму Фомичу и рассказать ему всё вчерашнее, всё до последней подробности… «Не обдумать ли хоть минуту? — пронеслось в его голове. — Нет, лучше и не думая, и с плеч долой!» (Достоевский 3). A strange thought suddenly came to him: to get up now, go over to Nikodim Fomich, and tell him all about yesterday, down to the last detail…. "Shouldn't I at least think it over for a moment?" raced through his head. "No, better do it without thinking, just to get it off my back!" (3c).

П-198 • СБРА́СЫВАТЬ/СБРО́СИТЬ ⟨СВА́ЛИВАТЬ/СВАЛИ́ТЬ, СКИ́ДЫВАТЬ/СКИ́НУТЬ, СТРЯ́ХИВАТЬ/СТРЯХНУ́ТЬ⟩ С ПЛЕЧ что coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] to free o.s. of some burden: X сбросил Y с плеч ≃ X got Y off his back ⟨shoulders⟩; X got rid of Y; X got Y out of the way; [lim.] X shed ⟨cast off, shook off⟩ the burden of…

«Я, по правде сказать, буду очень рад свалить с своих плеч это неприятное дело» (Герцен 2). "…To tell you the truth, I shall be very glad to get this unpleasant affair off my shoulders" (2a).

П-199 • СВА́ЛИВАТЬСЯ/СВАЛИ́ТЬСЯ С ПЛЕЧ чьих, кого coll [VP; subj: abstr (usu. обуза, тяжесть, ноша etc); more often pfv] (of a burden, usu. an unwanted one) to cease being s.o.'s concern, responsibility etc: X свалился с Y-овых плеч ≃ X fell from Y's shoulders; Y was free of X.

Он ждал, что лицо Аксиньи будет отмечено волнением, но когда коляска, резко шурша, поравнялась с воротами и он с дрожью в сердце взглянул направо и увидел Аксинью, — его поразило лицо её, сдержанно-весёлое, улыбающееся. У него словно тяжесть свалилась с плеч, он успокоился, кивнул на приветствие (Шолохов 4). He had expected Aksinya's face to betray her emotion, but when the carriage swept in through the gate and he glanced at her in trepidation, he was struck by the calm and smiling cheerfulness of her expression. A huge weight fell from his shoulders and he nodded a greeting (4a).

П-200 • СПИ́ХИВАТЬ/СПИХНУ́ТЬ С ПЛЕЧ ⟨С ШЕ́И⟩ что highly coll [VP; subj: human] to rid o.s. of sth. burdensome, unpleasant: X спихнул Y с плеч ≃ X got Y off X's back; X got Y over (and done) with.

Сергей понимал, что серьёзного разговора с деканом не избежать, и хотел поскорее спихнуть с плеч это неприятное дело. Sergei understood that there was no getting around a serious conversation with the dean, and he wanted to get it over with as soon as possible.

П-201 • С ПЛЕЧА́ отвечать, осуждать и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to answer, condemn s.o. or sth. etc) right away, without thinking: (condemn ⟨judge, reject⟩) out of hand; (answer) rashly; (decide) on the spur of the moment.

[author's usage] …Решено было, что Капа расскажет ей о письме Миная, о Родичеве и Гузуне всё, как оно есть… Как она воспримет эту историю?.. Не осудит ли с беззаботного плеча? (Солженицын 10). It had been decided that Kapa should tell her about Minai's letter and the whole truth about Rodichev and Guzun …. How would she react?… Mightn't she condemn them thoughtlessly, out of hand? (10a).

П-202 • С БА́РСКОГО ПЛЕЧА́ coll [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing postmodif or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: a noun denoting an article of clothing)] (an article of clothing that) belonged to one's master or mistress: a hand-me-down from one's master ⟨mistress⟩; one's master's ⟨mistress's⟩ hand-me-down clothes; the master's ⟨mistress's⟩ castoff(s); from ⟨part of⟩ one's master's ⟨mistress's⟩ wardrobe; (a coat ⟨dress etc⟩) once ⟨at one time⟩ one's master's ⟨one's mistress's⟩.

Чемодан внесли кучер Селифан… и лакей Петрушка, малый лет тридцати, в просторном подержанном сюртуке, как видно, с барского плеча… (Гоголь 3). The trunk was brought in by the joint efforts of Selifan the coachman… and the valet Petrushka, a fellow of thirty or so, wearing a very loose, well-worn coat, evidently a hand-me-down from his master… (3e). The trunk was brought in by Selifan, the coachman… and Petrushka, the valet, a fellow of about thirty, wearing a shabby loose frock coat (apparently at one time his master's)… (3c).

П-203 • С ЧУЖО́ГО ПЛЕЧА́ coll [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing postmodif or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: a noun denoting a piece of clothing); fixed WO] (a piece of clothing) worn formerly by another, usu. not the right size for the person wearing it: a hand-me-down (jacket ⟨dress etc⟩); a secondhand (jacket ⟨dress etc⟩); (a jacket ⟨dress etc⟩) off someone else's back; someone else's castoff(s); other people's castoffs; [lim.] a borrowed (jacket ⟨dress etc⟩).

…Пришёл кособокий мужичок в пиджаке с чужого плеча… (Трифонов 6). A lopsided fellow came along wearing a hand-me-down jacket… (6a). ♦ Всё на девчонке не впору, с чужого плеча, с чужой ноги: большие валенки, большой, не по росту, засаленный, с оборванными пуговицами ватник, большой чёрный платок, повязанный крест на крест, так, что узел приходится впереди, чуть повыше колен (Чуковская 2). Nothing the little girl was wearing fitted her. Her clothes were other people's castoffs. She had on large felt boots, a grease-stained padded jacket with the buttons torn off and a large black shawl fastened cross-wise so that the knot came in front, a little higher than the knees (2a).

П-204 • СО ВСЕГО́ ПЛЕЧА́ ударять, бить и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to strike, hit etc s.o. or sth.) with a powerful, sweeping movement of one's whole arm: with a full swing of the ⟨one's⟩ arm; straight from the shoulder.

Иван махнул топором со всего плеча и вместо сухой ветки срубил всю яблоньку. Ivan swung the ax straight from the shoulder, and instead of chopping off the dead branch, took down the whole apple tree.

П-205 • СО СВОЕГО́ ПЛЕЧА́ coll [PrepP; Invar; non-agreeing postmodif or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: a noun denoting an article of clothing)] (an article of clothing that) belonged to, was worn by a person who gives it to another: X подарил Y-у одежду со своего плеча ≃ X gave Y clothes from X's own wardrobe ⟨off X's own back⟩.

«Ваше благородие! Отец наш вам жалует лошадь и шубу с своего плеча…» (Пушкин 2). "Your Honour! Our Father favours you with this horse, and a fur coat off his own back" (2c).

П-206 • ЗА ПЛЕЧА́МИ [PrepP; Invar] 1. ~ чьими, у кого [the resulting PrepP is subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, остаться etc (subj: abstr) or obj-compl with иметь (obj: abstr)] sth. is part of a person's past experience: X у Y-а за плечами ≃ X is behind Y; Y has X behind him; Y has X under Y's belt; [of sth. unpleasant whose consequences are still felt] X is still around Y's neck.

Я совсем не хочу сказать, что была такая уж умная, но за моими плечами был печальный опыт лагеря… (Ивинская 1). I am far from wanting to claim I was being all that farsighted, but I had the sad experience of the camp behind me… (1a).

2. ~ (у кого) [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, стоять etc (subj: abstr)] (usu. of sth. unwelcome, dangerous; often of death) sth. is impending, about to happen: X за плечами ≃ X is (close) at hand; X is not far off; X is just around the corner.

Страшный, кровавый бой, не предсказывавший ничего доброго, был за плечами (Герцен 2). A fearful, bloody conflict, foreboding nothing good was at hand (2a).

П-207 • ПОЖИМА́ТЬ/ПОЖА́ТЬ ПЛЕЧА́МИ [VP; subj: human] to raise and lower one's shoulders as a sign that one does not understand sth., know the answer to some question etc: X пожал плечами ≃ X shrugged (his shoulders).

Филипп Филиппович… вгляделся в Шарикова и спросил: «Позвольте узнать, что вы можете сказать по поводу прочитанного». Шариков пожал плечами. «Да не согласен я» (Булгаков 11). Philip Philipovich… stared at Sharikov and asked: "What comment can you make on what you've read?" Sharikov shrugged. "I don't agree" (11b).

П-208 • ВИСЕ́ТЬ ⟨СИДЕ́ТЬ⟩ НА ПЛЕЧА́Х (у) кого highly coll [VP; subj: human or collect] to follow close behind s.o. and be about to overtake s.o.: X висел у Y-а на плечах ≃ X was right on top of Y; X was (right) on Y's heels ⟨tail⟩.

Он бежал не оглядываясь, но чувствовал, что те парни висят у него на плечах. He ran without looking back but could feel that the other guys were right on his heels.

П-209 • ВЫНОСИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́НЕСТИ ⟨ВЫВОЗИ́ТЬ/ВЫВЕЗТИ⟩ НА (СВОИ́Х ⟨СО́БСТВЕННЫХ⟩) ПЛЕЧА́Х ⟨НА СЕБЕ́ coll, НА СВОЁМ or НА СО́БСТВЕННОМ ГОРБУ́ coll⟩ что [VP; subj: human] (in refer. to something burdensome, difficult) to cope with sth. independently, without anyone's help: X вынесет Y на своих плечах ≃ X will bear the responsibility ⟨the burden etc⟩ of Y all alone ⟨all by himself⟩; X will shoulder the responsibility for Y all by himself; X will bear the responsibility for Y on his (own) shoulders; X will do ⟨take care of etc⟩ Y single-handed(ly) ⟨by himself⟩.

Он никогда не острил бесцельно, ради красного словца. Он делал это по заданиям юмористических журналов. На своих плечах он выносил ответственнейшие кампании, снабжал темами для рисунков и фельетонов большинство московских сатирических журналов (Ильф и Петров 1). He never made them [jokes] without reason, just for the effect. He made them to order for humorous journals. On his shoulders he bore the responsibility for highly important campaigns, and supplied most of the Moscow satirical journals with subjects for cartoons and humorous anecdotes (1a). ♦ И после такой жизни на него [Захара] вдруг навалили тяжёлую обузу выносить на плечах службу целого дома! (Гончаров 1). And after such a life, he [Zakhar] was suddenly burdened with the heavy task of doing the work of a whole household single-handed! (1a).

П-210 • ЛЕЖА́ТЬ НА ПЛЕЧА́Х чьих, (у) кого; НА ПЛЕЧА́Х [VP or PrepP (Invar, used as subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$); subj: abstr] to be s.o.'s (usu. burdensome) responsibility, demanding much time, work, care etc from s.o.: X лежит на Y-овых плечах ≃ X rests ⟨lies, is etc⟩ on Y's shoulders; X rests ⟨falls⟩ on Y.

Всё бремя ответственности теперь на её плечах, и отступать некуда (Акунин 2). The entire burden of responsibility now lay on her shoulders, and she had nowhere to retreat (2a).

П-211 • НА ПЛЕЧА́Х (у) кого ворваться, вступить куда, идти и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] (to follow) right behind (a retreating enemy); (to enter into a city, town etc) right behind (the enemy who failed to defend it and retreated into it): right ⟨hot⟩ on s.o.'s heels ⟨tail⟩; (right) on top of s.o.; (closely) pursuing s.o.

Два полка были сметены и бежали, бросая оружие. На плечах их шёл полк немецких гусар (Шолохов 2). The two regiments were mown down and fled, abandoning their arms. They were pursued by a regiment of German hussars (2a).

П-212 • ВЗВА́ЛИВАТЬ/ВЗВАЛИ́ТЬ что НА ПЛЕ́ЧИ чьи, кого, кому [VP; subj: human] (in refer. to burdensome tasks, work, concerns etc) to make some person responsible for sth., make some person handle sth.: X взвалил Y на Z-овы плечи ≃ X burdened Z with Y; X placed ⟨laid⟩ Y on Z's shoulders; X heaped ⟨piled⟩ Y on(to) Z's shoulders; ‖ X взвалил Y себе на плечи ⟨на свои плечи⟩ ≃ X shouldered ⟨took on⟩ Y.

…Он [Никандров] к её непониманию прибавил ещё и своё собственное: проблемы Чертёжников и Конструкторов, вопрос о личном КПД [коэффициенте полезного действия], если на то пошло — об античности, да мало ли чего он… неизменно взваливал на её плечи? (Залыгин 1). …To her imperfect understanding he [Nikandrov] had added his own: his problems of draughtsmen and designers, the question of his personal performance coefficient, the question of antiquity, if it came to that, and many other problems which he invariably heaped on to her shoulders (1a).

П-213 • ЛОЖИ́ТЬСЯ/ЛЕЧЬ ⟨СВА́ЛИВАТЬСЯ/СВАЛИ́ТЬСЯ coll⟩ НА ПЛЕ́ЧИ чьи, кого, кому [VP; subj: abstr; usu. pfv] (of sth. burdensome) to become the object of s.o.'s concern, become s.o.'s responsibility: X лёг на Y-овы плечи ≃ X fell ⟨rested⟩ on Y's shoulders; Y was burdened with X.

Долгие годы она вела хозяйство, воспитывала детей, во всём старалась угодить своенравной свекрови. Вся тяжесть полевых работ ложилась на её худые плечи (Шолохов 5). Year after year she had run the farm, brought up the children, and done all she could to please her harsh-tempered mother-in-law. All the burden of the field work rested on her thin shoulders (5a).

П-214 • ПЕРЕКЛА́ДЫВАТЬ/ПЕРЕЛОЖИ́ТЬ что НА ПЛЕ́ЧИ чьи, кого, кому [VP; subj: human or collect] to shift (the blame, responsibility etc for sth.) to another person, thereby freeing o.s. from it: X перекладывает Y на Z-овы плечи ≃ X shifts Y (on)to Z ⟨(on)to Z's shoulders⟩; X puts Y on Z.

«Каждый платит за своё». — «Нет, за кровь платят все! Поэтому мы — евреи — обязаны нести ношу своей национальной ответственности сами, а не перекладывать-таки её на плечи других» (Максимов 3). "Each man pays his own personal debt." "Not for bloodshed—everybody pays for that. So we Jews must share the burden of our national responsibility and not try to shift it onto other people's shoulders" (3a).

П-215 • ПЛЕЧО́М ⟨ПЛЕЧО́⟩ К ПЛЕЧУ́; ПЛЕЧО́ В ⟨О⟩ ПЛЕЧО́ [these forms only; adv] 1. идти, стоять, сидеть и т.п. ~ (to go, stand, sit etc) alongside s.o.: shoulder to shoulder; side by side.

Потом он по-солдатски поправил ногу и пошёл плечом к плечу с monsieur Перси (Федин 1). Then he got into step like a soldier and walked shoulder to shoulder with Monsieur Percy (1a).

2. жить, работать, бороться и т.п. ~ (to live, work, fight etc) together, as like-minded people: shoulder to shoulder; side by side; cheek by jowl.

«Я человек широких взглядов, я вполне могу представить себе, что когда-нибудь стану работать с вами плечом к плечу…» (Стругацкие 4). "I am a man of broad views, and I can well imagine that some day we will work together, standing shoulder to shoulder…" (4a).

П-216 • ПО ПЛЕЧУ́ кому coll [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing modif or subj-compl with быть$_0$, оказаться (subj: usu. abstr, often дело, работа, задача etc)] (sth. is) within the range of s.o.'s abilities, achievable by or understandable to s.o.: X Y-у по плечу ≃ X is within Y's grasp ⟨reach⟩; Y is capable of doing ⟨handling etc⟩ X; Y can handle ⟨do etc⟩ X; Y is equal to the task ⟨the work, the job etc⟩; || Neg X Y-у не по плечу ≃ X is too big ⟨much⟩ for Y; Y is out of his depth in ⟨with⟩ X; X is beyond Y; X is over Y's head; Y is not up to X.

Для творческой личности, говорит Неврастеник самому себе, самая большая трагедия — невозможность сделать дело, которое, как чувствует личность, ей по плечу (Зиновьев 1). For a creative person, said Neurasthenic to himself, the greatest tragedy is not to be able to do what he believes himself capable of (1a). ♦ Многие хотели бы видеть его, Кирова, на посту Генсека — ему это не нужно, не по плечу, он не теоретик, он практик революции (Рыбаков 2). A lot of people would like to see him, Kirov, in the post of general secretary, but he didn't want it, he wasn't up to it. He wasn't a theoretician, he was one of the practical organizers of the Revolution (2a).

П-217 • ПОХЛО́ПЫВАТЬ ПО ПЛЕЧУ́ кого coll [VP; subj: human] to relate to s.o. in an overly familiar, patronizing way: X похлопывает Y-а по плечу ≃ X pats Y on the head; X treats Y condescendingly.

То, что вы занимаете более высокую должность, ещё не даёт вам права похлопывать меня по плечу. Just because you have a more important job than I do doesn't give you the right to pat me on the head.

П-218 • ЗАПРЕ́ТНЫЙ ПЛОД lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] sth. tempting, desirable, but prohibited: forbidden fruit.

Я даже секретные материалы перестал просматривать. Сначала было интересно. Всё-таки запретный плод. Потом я убедился, что это такая же серость и скукота, как и всё то, что публикуется официально (Зиновьев 1). "I've even stopped looking at secret documents. It was interesting at first, forbidden fruit after all. But eventually I realised that it was all as drab and tedious as everything that is published officially…" (1a).

< From the Biblical account (Gen. 2:16–17) involving the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, whose fruit God forbade Adam and Eve to eat.

П-219 • ПОЖИНА́ТЬ/ПОЖА́ТЬ ПЛОДЫ́ (чего) lit; ВКУША́ТЬ/ВКУСИ́ТЬ ПЛОДЫ́ elev [VP; subj: human] to enjoy the results (or, in ironic usage, face the unpleasant repercussions) of sth. done, accomplished, achieved: X пожинает плоды Y-а ≃ X reaps the fruit(s) ⟨the benefits⟩ of Y; X reaps his reward; [in refer. to unpleasant repercussions only] X reaps the consequences of Y; X has to live with the consequences of Y; || X пожинает плоды чужого труда ≃ X reaps the fruit(s) of another's labor(s); X reaps where he hasn't sown.

[Глумов:] Вы видите, что мне некогда, год я должен сердобольно ухаживать за больной, а потом могу пожинать плоды трудов своих… (Островский 4). [G.:] You see, I haven't any time to lose. For a year I must watch over my invalid tenderly, but afterwards I can reap the fruits of my labors… (4a). ♦ Он и тогда это понимал, и тогда почувствовал, что совершил ошибку, теперь пожинает её плоды (Рыбаков 2). He'd realized it then—he'd sensed that he'd made a mistake—and now he was having to live with its consequences (2a).

< The variant «вкушать/вкусить плоды» is related to the Biblical «вкушать плоды дел своих», "eat the fruit of their doings" (Isa. 3:10).

П-220 • КАТИ́ТЬСЯ/ПОКАТИ́ТЬСЯ ⟨ПОКАТИ́ТЬ, ИДТИ́/ПОЙТИ́⟩ ПО НАКЛО́ННОЙ ПЛО́СКОСТИ lit; КАТИ́ТЬСЯ/ПОКАТИ́ТЬСЯ ПО СКО́ЛЬЗКОЙ ДОРО́ЖКЕ coll [VP; subj: human] to decline rapidly in a moral and spiritual sense: X катится по наклонной плоскости ≃ X is sliding ⟨going⟩ downhill; X has gone wrong; [lim.] X will ⟨is going to⟩ end up in the gutter.

Она говорила себе: — А если бы она была замужем? Чем бы это отличалось?.. Как ему не стыдно валяться в ногах у неё и умолять: «Так не может продолжаться. Подумай, что я с тобой сделал. Ты катишься по наклонной плоскости. Давай откроемся матери. Я женюсь на тебе» (Пастернак 1). What if she were married, she asked herself, what difference would it make?… How can he not be ashamed to grovel at her feet and plead with her? "We can't go on like this. Think what I have done to you! You will end up in the gutter. We must tell your mother. I'll marry you" (1a).

П-221 • ВО ПЛОТИ́ lit [PrepP; Invar; usu. nonagreeing postmodif] in bodily form: in the flesh; || дьявол во плоти ≃ Satan ⟨the devil⟩ incarnate; Satan ⟨the devil⟩ in the flesh.

«Эта… девица — это дочка моя-с, Нина Николаевна-с, забыл я вам её представить — ангел божий во плоти…» (Достоевский 1). "This… girl here—she's my daughter, sir, Nina Nikolaevna, I forgot to introduce her to you—is God's angel in the flesh…" (1a).

П-222 • ВХОДИ́ТЬ/ВОЙТИ́ В ПЛОТЬ И КРОВЬ чью, кого [VP; subj: abstr] (of an attitude, mode of behavior etc) to become fixed in s.o., become a permanent part of s.o.'s life, personality etc: X вошёл в плоть и кровь Y-а ≃ X became second nature to Y; X became (a) part of Y.

Ужаснее всего это нескончаемое притворство и двуличие, входящее в плоть и кровь советского человека уже со школьной скамьи (Аллилуева 2). The ugliest feature of Soviet life was the endless dissimulation and double-facedness infused into the Soviet people from their schoolroom days, so that it became almost second nature (2a).

П-223 • ОБЛЕКА́ТЬ/ОБЛЕ́ЧЬ В ПЛОТЬ (И КРОВЬ) что; ОБЛЕКА́ТЬ/ОБЛЕ́ЧЬ ПЛО́ТЬЮ (И КРО́ВЬЮ) all lit [VP; subj: human] to express sth. (an idea, artistic concept etc) in a concrete, definite form: X облёк Y в плоть и кровь ≃ X gave form and substance to Y; X brought Y to life.

П-224 • ОБЛЕКА́ТЬСЯ/ОБЛЕ́ЧЬСЯ В ПЛОТЬ (И КРОВЬ); ОБЛЕКА́ТЬСЯ/ОБЛЕ́ЧЬСЯ ПЛО́ТЬЮ (И КРО́ВЬЮ) all lit [VP; subj: abstr] (of an idea, artistic concept etc) to acquire a concrete, definite form: X облёкся в плоть и кровь ≃ X took a tangible ⟨discernible etc⟩ form; X came ⟨sprang⟩ to life ⟨into being⟩.

П-225 • ПЛОТЬ ОТ ПЛО́ТИ (И КРОВЬ ОТ КРО́ВИ ⟨И КОСТЬ ОТ КО́СТИ⟩); КОСТЬ ОТ КО́СТИ; КРОВЬ ОТ КРО́ВИ all elev [NP; these forms only; usu. subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ or appos; can be used with pl subj; WO within the плоть…, кровь…, and кость… components is fixed, but the components as units may be transposed] 1. ~ чьей, кого. Also: ПЛОТЬ И КРОВЬ чья, кого [subj: human] (in refer. to a blood relationship) s.o.'s own child: s.o.'s (own) flesh and blood; (the) flesh of s.o.'s flesh (and bone of s.o.'s bone).

«Божественный и святейший старец! — вскричал он, указывая на Ивана Фёдоровича. — Это мой сын, плоть от плоти моей, любимейшая плоть моя!» (Достоевский 1). "Divine and most holy elder!" he cried, pointing at Ivan Fyodorovich, "this is my son, the flesh of my flesh, my own dear flesh!" (1a).

2. ~ кого-чего, чьей. Also: ПЛОТЬ И КРОВЬ кого-чего, чья [subj and obj: human or collect; if obj: human, usu. pl] a person (or group of people) that is related ideologically, spiritually etc to a group or movement that came before and is therefore viewed as its ideological heir(s): flesh and blood of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; flesh of the flesh (and blood of the blood) of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩.

Почему же… они так быстро капитулировали?.. А загадки никакой нет. Просто они плоть от плоти и кровь от крови этого общества (Зиновьев 1). …Why did they capitulate so quickly?… But there's really no mystery about it. They are simply the flesh and blood of this society (1a).

П-226 • ПЛЮ́НУТЬ ⟨НАПЛЕВА́ТЬ⟩ И ⟨ДА⟩ РАСТЕРЕ́ТЬ substand [VP; fixed WO] 1. [subj: human; usu. impers] (in refer. to sth. that the speaker considers not worth s.o.'s or, occas., one's own time or attention) to disregard sth. completely, not pay any attention to sth.: плюнь и разотри ≃ pay it no mind; forget it; don't trouble yourself about it.

2. [infin only; used as subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. abstr)] sth. is unimportant, insignificant, undeserving of attention, not worth worrying about how it can be accomplished: X — плюнуть и растереть ≃ X is no big deal ⟨thing⟩; X is not even worth mentioning ⟨talking about⟩; X doesn't amount to a hill of beans; X is a snap.

А если разобраться, что такое для сталкера пять часов? Плюнуть и растереть. А двенадцать часов не хочешь? А двое суток не хочешь? (Стругацкие 5). But if you think about it, what's five hours to a stalker? A snap. How about twelve? Or how about two days? (5a).

3. кому (на кого-что) [infin only; used as subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: any noun) or impers] used to express an extremely scornful attitude toward s.o. or sth.: X Y-у ⟨Y-у на X-а, Y-у на X⟩ наплевать и растереть ≃ Y doesn't give a damn ⟨a tinker's damn, a hoot, a shit, a rat's ass⟩ about X; X can go to hell.

П-227 • ПЛИ́НУТЬ НЕ́ГДЕ ⟨НЕ́КУДА⟩ highly coll [these forms only; usu. impers predic with быть$_{ø}$] some place is so full of people or things that there is absolutely no free space: one can hardly ⟨barely⟩ move ⟨breathe⟩; there's barely ⟨scarcely, hardly⟩ room to move ⟨to breathe⟩; there's no room to spit; there isn't room to swing a cat.

…[Моя бабушка] родилась и выросла в селе Деремезна Обуховского уезда, в проклятущей халупе, где, как и в дедовой семье, некуда было плюнуть из-за детей (Кузнецов 1). …[My grandmother] was born and grew up in the village of Deremezna in the Obukhov district in a godforsaken old shack, with scarcely room to move because of all the children (1b).

П-228 • КУДА́ НИ ПЛЮНЬ substand [subord clause; Invar; fixed WO] everywhere, all around: wherever you look ⟨turn⟩; everywhere you look ⟨turn⟩.

«…У нас музыкой заправляют евреи… Да, да, это все знают. Куда ни плюнь, какой-нибудь Ойстрах или Гилельс…» (Копелев 1). "…The Jews are running our music. Yes, everyone knows that. Wherever you look, there's some Oistrakh or Gilels" (1a).

П-229 • НА ПОБЕГУ́ШКАХ coll [PrepP; Invar] 1. [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, находиться (subj: human), obj-compl with держать (obj: human), or nonagreeing postmodif of мальчик, девочка] one performs minor services, small tasks for s.o.; (to have s.o.) perform minor services, small tasks for one: X (у Y-а) на побегушках ≃ X runs errands (for Y); X fetches and carries (for Y); X does (all) the legwork for Y; X is an errand boy ⟨girl⟩; X is a gofer; ‖ Y держит X-а на побегушках ≃ Y keeps X running errands; Y has made an errand boy ⟨an errand girl, a gofer⟩ out of X; ‖ мальчик ⟨девочка⟩ на побегушках ≃ errand boy ⟨girl⟩; gofer.

Тут старуха стала ругаться, что Скороход не чтит абхазские обычаи, по которым старого человека надо уважать, а не держать его на побегушках (Искандер 5). Now the old woman began to scold, saying that Highspeed didn't revere Abkhazian custom, according to which an old person must be respected and not be kept running errands (5a).

2. ~ у кого [the resulting PrepP is subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, состоять etc (subj: human)] one is under s.o.'s influence or control, fulfills s.o.'s desires, whims without question: X у Y-а на побегушках ≃ X is at Y's beck and call; X is at Y's service; X waits on Y hand and foot.

Дома всем заправляют жена и тёща, он у них на побегушках. His wife and mother-in-law run everything at home: he's at their beck and call.

П-230 • ПИ́РРОВА ПОБЕ́ДА lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a victory in which the victor's losses are so great that they outweigh or overshadow any gain: Pyrrhic victory.

< From the name of King Pyrrhus of Epirus, who defeated the Romans in 279 B.C. but at such great cost that he exclaimed, "One more such victory and Pyrrhus is undone."

П-231 • ПОБЕДИ́ТЕЛЕЙ НЕ СУ́ДЯТ lit [sent; fixed WO] if a person achieves success or is victorious no one criticizes his means or methods (even if they are unscrupulous): victors need never explain; success is never blamed.

< Attributed to Catherine the Great.

П-232 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ⟨ДЕ́ЛАТЬ/СДЕ́ЛАТЬ⟩ ПОБЛА́ЖКУ ⟨-и⟩ кому coll; ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ПОТА́ЧКУ obs, coll; ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ПОВА́ДКУ obs, substand [VP; subj: usu. human] to react to sth. (s.o.'s undesirable, underhanded etc behavior or action) mildly, be lenient with s.o.: X дал Y-у поблажку ≃ X let Y get away with it; X gave Y a break; X made an allowance ⟨allowances⟩ for Y; X went ⟨took it⟩ easy on Y; X made a concession to Y; X showed Y indulgence; X let Y have Y's (own) way; X let Y take liberties with…; || Neg X не даёт Y-у поблажек ≃ X doesn't let Y have an easy time of it; X is tough on Y.

…Дедушка сам работал не разгибая спины, и от других требовал того же, никому… не давал поблажки: ни сыновьям, ни внукам, ни подмастерьям, ни зятю… (Рыбаков 1). Grandfather himself worked without let-up and he demanded the same of the others. He made no allowances for anybody, neither his sons and grandsons, nor his workmen, nor his son-in-law… (1a). ♦ «А это на что похоже, что вчера только восемь фунтов пшена отпустила, опять спрашивают… А я пшена не отпущу… Нет, я потачки за барское добро не дам. Ну виданное ли это дело — восемь фунтов?» (Толстой 2). "And what sort of game is this? Only yesterday I let them have eight pounds of rice and now they're asking for more!… I'm not giving you any more rice…. No, I'm not letting anybody take liberties with the master's things. Well, who ever heard of such a thing—eight pounds?" (2b).

П-233 • МАМА́ЕВО ПОБО́ИЩЕ occas. humor [NP; sing only; fixed WO] 1. a heated, uncontrolled, and often violent quarrel or fight (in which one side clearly defeats the other): brawl; fracas. Cf. donnybrook.

2. large-scale layoffs, dismissals, expulsions etc: mass firings ⟨expulsions etc⟩; || X устроил мамаево побоище ≃ X purged the place ⟨the department etc⟩.

Новый управляющий устроил настоящее мамаево побоище: уволил двух своих заместителей, заменил почти всех начальников отделов и вынудил главного инженера уйти на пенсию. The new director purged the place: he fired two of his assistant directors, replaced almost all of the department heads, and forced the chief engineer into retirement.

< From the name of the Tartar khan Mamai, defeated by the Russians in 1380 on the Kulikovo Field.

П-234 • женщина, девица и т.п. ЛЁГКОГО ПОВЕДЕ́НИЯ euph [NP_{gen}; Invar; nonagreeing postmodif; fixed WO] a woman who enters into chance, short-lived relations with men: woman of easy virtue; easy woman.

П-235 • С КЕМ ПОВЕДЁШЬСЯ, ОТ ТОГО́ И НАБЕРЁШЬСЯ [saying; occas. only the first half of the saying is used] you unwittingly adopt the views, habits of a person with whom you socialize or are on friendly terms: ≃ he who ⟨that⟩ lies down with dogs gets up with fleas; he who ⟨that⟩ lives with a cripple learns how to limp; you cannot touch pitch without being defiled; [when only the first half of the saying is used] it's catching.

[Леонидик:] Он любит тебя. Он сам сказал мне это. [Лика:] Ого!.. Берёшь пример с настоящего мужчины? [Леонидик:] С кем поведёшься… (Арбузов 4). [Leonidik:] He loves you. He told me. [Lika:] Oh! So you're behaving like a real man! [Leonidik:] It's catching… (4a).

П-236 • ТАК Я ⟨мы⟩ ТЕБЕ́ ⟨вам, ему и т.п.⟩ И ПОВЕ́РИЛ ⟨-ла, -ли⟩ coll [formula phrase; fixed WO] what you are (he is etc) saying is not credible: (just) who do you think you're fooling ⟨kidding, bluffing⟩!; why should I believe ⟨trust⟩ you ⟨that⟩?!; you really expect me to believe you ⟨that⟩, don't you?!; (you) expect me to believe that?

[Виктория:] Да говорят вам, он свихнулся! Неужели вы до сих пор не видите? [Марина:] Вижу, не волнуйся! Я его, паршивца, насквозь вижу! С ума он сошёл, надо же! Так я вам и поверила! [Виктория:] Нет, с вами бесполезно. (Вампилов 1). [V.:] I'm telling you, he's not right in his head! Can't you see it yet? [M.:] Oh, I see! I see, don't you worry! I can see right through him, the dirty louse! Went crazy, my eye! Just who do you think you're fooling! [V.:] It's no use talking to you (1b).

П-237 • НА ПОВЕ́РКУ [PrepP; Invar; usu. sent adv] (used when emphasizing that the real nature of s.o. or sth., when allowed to reveal itself and/or when inspected more closely, differs from what it appears to be at first) in actuality: in (actual) fact; actually; in reality; || на поверку оказалось ⟨вышло и т.п.⟩, что… ≃ on closer inspection it turned out that…; when put to a test.

«…Надо очень чётко и честно определять людские поступки, и тогда то, что нам кажется глупостью, может на поверку оказаться либо преступлением, либо узкомыслием» (Семёнов 1). "…One must weigh people's actions extremely carefully and honestly, so that what to us looks like stupidity may turn out on closer inspection to be either narrow-mindedness or a crime" (1a). ♦ Рюхин тяжело дышал, был красен и думал только об одном, что он отогрел у себя на груди змею, что он принял участие в том, кто оказался на поверку злобным врагом (Булгаков 9). Ryukhin was red, breathing heavily, and thinking of only one thing, that he had nursed a viper to his breast and shown kindness to someone who turned out to be a vicious enemy when put to the test (9c).

П-238 • КАК ⟨КУДА́⟩ НИ ПОВЕРНИ́(ТЕ) ⟨НИ ПОВОРОТИ́(ТЕ) obsoles⟩ coll; КАК НИ ПОСМОТРИ́ coll [subord clause; these forms only; fixed WO] no matter which assumption you make or which approach you take: whichever way you look at it; no matter how ⟨which way⟩ you look at it.

Словом, куда ни повороти, [Чичиков] был очень порядочный человек (Гоголь 3). In short, whichever way you looked at it, he [Chichikov] was a man of utmost respectability and honesty (3a).

П-239 • ПОВЕРНУ́ТЬСЯ ⟨ПОВОРОТИ́ТЬСЯ obs⟩ НЕ́ГДЕ; НЕ ПОВЕРНЁШЬСЯ; НЕ ПОВЕРНУ́ТЬСЯ all coll [these forms only; impers predic with $быть_{ø}$ (variants with infin) or neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing; var. не повернуться can be used as quantit subj-compl with $быть_{ø}$ (subj/gen: людей, народу etc)] some place is so full of people or things that there is no free space: there's no room to move ⟨to turn around⟩; one can hardly ⟨barely⟩ move ⟨breathe⟩; there's hardly ⟨barely, scarcely⟩ room to move ⟨to breathe⟩; there's nowhere to turn; there isn't room to swing a cat.

В комнате, где помимо кровати, стояли ещё топчан, четыре стула и обеденный стол, тоже негде было повернуться: оба подоконника и пол, не говоря уже про стол и стулья, были заложены красками, бумагой и стеклянными табличками (Львов 1). There was also nowhere to turn in the room itself, which contained a trundle bed in addition to a regular bed, four chairs, and a dining table; both windowsills and the floor, not to mention the table and chairs, were piled with paints, paper, and small squares of glass… (1a).

П-240 • СКОЛЬЗИ́ТЬ ПО ПОВЕ́РХНОСТИ (чего) often disapprov [VP; subj: human] to have only a superficial idea about some matter, not delve deeply into the essence of sth.: X скользит по поверхности (Y-а) ≃ X skims ⟨scratches⟩ the surface (of Y); X does not go below the surface (of Y); X does not get to the heart of the matter ⟨the question etc⟩.

Сначала создаётся впечатление, что автор изучил проблему глубоко, но вчитавшись в статью, понимаешь, что он лишь скользит по поверхности. At first you get the impression that the author has thorougly explored the problem, but when you read the article carefully you see that he has just skimmed the surface.

П-241 • ВСПЛЫВА́ТЬ/ВСПЛЫТЬ ⟨ВЫПЛЫВА́ТЬ/ВЫ́ПЛЫТЬ⟩ НА ПОВЕ́РХНОСТЬ; ВСПЛЫВА́ТЬ/ВСПЛЫТЬ ⟨ВЫПЛЫВА́ТЬ/ВЫ́ПЛЫТЬ⟩ НАРУ́ЖУ [VP; subj: usu. abstr] to emerge (suddenly), be revealed, become clear (may refer to sth. reprehensible that s.o. wishes to hide): X всплыл на поверхность ≃ X surfaced; X came out; X came ⟨rose, sprang etc⟩ to the surface; X came up; X came to light; [lim.] X cropped up; [of sth. reprehensible] X leaked out.

…Стали всплывать на поверхность подозрительные Венечкины финансовые отчёты, фальшивые командировки… (Аксёнов 12). …Various suspicious things began to surface: [Venechka] Probkin's financial reports, faked business trips… (12a). ♦ …Их [стукачей] заверяли, что их деятельность никогда не выплывет наружу, не станет явной (Мандельштам 1). …They [the informers] were always assured that nothing about their activities would ever leak out or become public knowledge (1a).

П-242 • ПОВЕ́СТКА ДНЯ [NP; sing only; fixed WO] 1. Also: ПОРЯ́ДОК ДНЯ a list of questions or subjects for discussion at a meeting; by extension an informal list or plan of things to be done, addressed etc: agenda; order ⟨business⟩ of the day; [in limited contexts, extended usage only] schedule of events.

Согласно повестке дня, за Крамовым должен был выступить какой-то профессор Горский… (Каверин 1). According to the agenda, a certain Professor Gorsky was due to speak after Kramov… (1a).

2. на повестке дня быть$_{ø}$, стоять; ставить что на повестку дня; снимать что с повестки дня (to be, be made etc) a priority: (be on ⟨put sth. on, take sth. off⟩) the agenda; (be) the order of the day.

«Вы, русские, — странный народ… Готовы до бесконечности спорить о вещах и вопросах, которые в цивилизованном мире давно решены и сняты, как у вас говорят, с повестки дня…» (Максимов 2). "You Russians are a strange people…. You are prepared to argue endlessly about things which in the civilized world have long since been resolved and have been, as you put it, taken off the agenda…" (2a).

П-243 • С ПОВИ́ННОЙ приходить, являться и т.п.; С ПОВИ́ННОЙ ГОЛОВО́Й [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or, rare, nonagreeing postmodif] (to come to s.o., show up etc) conceding that one is guilty and often repenting of one's wrongdoing, crime etc: confess(ing) ⟨acknowledge, acknowledging⟩ one's guilt; confess and plead guilty; with an admission of one's guilt; owning up (to one's guilt ⟨crime etc⟩); [lim.] (come) cap ⟨hat⟩ in hand; [usu. of a criminal] turn o.s. in; give o.s. up (and plead guilty).

На вопросы же, что именно побудило его явиться с повинною, [Раскольников] отвечал, что чистосердечное раскаяние (Достоевский 3). And to the question of what precisely had prompted him to come and confess his guilt, he [Raskolnikov] answered directly that it was sincere repentance (3c). ♦ «Вы не хотите принять во внимание, что я явился с повинной» (Войнович 4). "You won't take into consideration that I've turned myself in" (4a).

П-244 • ПРИНОСИ́ТЬ/ПРИНЕСТИ́ ПОВИ́ННУЮ (ГО́ЛОВУ *obs) (кому) [VP; subj: human] to acknowledge one's guilt, usu. expressing repentance: X принёс повинную ≃ X (humbly) confessed his guilt; [lim.] X came cap ⟨hat⟩ in hand; [usu. of a criminal] X gave himself up; X turned himself in.

…Увидев, что правда на стороне головотяпов, [кособрюхие] принесли повинную (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). Only when they [the Skewbellies] saw that right was on the side of the Knockheads did they give themselves up (1a).

П-245 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ⟨ПОДАВА́ТЬ/ПОДА́ТЬ⟩ ПО́ВОД (кому) (к чему, что делать) [VP; subj: human or abstr (слова, поведение etc)] to cause s.o. to act or think in a specific way: X даёт (Y-у) повод (к Z-у ⟨делать Z⟩) ≃ X gives Y reason (to do Z); X gives Y cause ⟨grounds⟩ for Z ⟨to do Z⟩; X arouses Z in Y.

«…Каких же последствий вы опасаетесь?» — «В гимназии разврат начнётся», — сказал Передонов. Хрипач нахмурился и сказал: «Вы слишком далеко заходите. Всё, что вы мне до сих пор сказали, не даёт мне ни малейшего повода разделять ваши подозрения» (Сологуб 1). "What consequences are you afraid of?" "Depravity will begin in the gymnasium," said Peredonov. Khripach frowned. "You go too far," he said. "Nothing that you have said to me so far gives me the slightest cause to share your suspicions" (1a).

П-246 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ НА КОРО́ТКОМ ПОВОДКЕ́ кого coll [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] (often in refer. to relations between spouses) to keep s.o. in subordination, not letting him freely exercise his will or act on his own initiative: X держал Y-а на коротком поводке ≃ X kept Y on a short leash; X kept a tight rein on Y.

Это только кажется, что Игорь даёт жене полную свободу — на самом деле он держит её на коротком поводке. It just looks like Igor gives his wife absolute freedom; in reality he keeps her on a short leash.

П-247 • ИДТИ́/ПОЙТИ́ НА ПОВОДУ́ у кого; ХОДИ́ТЬ НА ПОВОДУ́; НА ПОВОДУ́ all coll [VP or PrepP (Invar, used as subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$); subj: human] to submit fully to s.o., not act on one's own initiative: X идёт на поводу у Y-а ≃ X lets Y lead X by the nose; X follows Y's tastes ⟨every whim etc⟩; X lets Y ⟨allows Y to⟩ push X around; X lets himself ⟨allows himself to⟩ be run by Y; [lim.] X listens to Y.

«Ну да… — задумчиво сказал Слава. — Это все, конечно, бабы… Эх, эти бабы! Ну, конечно, я представляю теперь всё несколько иначе… Но Солженицын не пошёл бы у баб на поводу…» (Ивинская 1). "Yes, I see…" Slava said thoughtfully. "It was all because of women, naturally…. God, these women! Well, of course, that gives me a rather different picture…. But Solzhenitsyn would never have allowed himself to be run by women…" (1a).

П-248 • ПО ПО́ВОДУ [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is usu. adv] 1. ~ кого-чего in refer. to s.o. or sth., with respect to s.o. or sth.: concerning; regarding; about; in

⟨with⟩ regard to; in connection with; apropos of; [lim.] on; over; on the subject of; [as part of an indep. remark, often preceded by это] it has to do with…; [as part of an indep. remark, often preceded by что-то, что-нибудь etc] something (having) to do with…

Председатель, обратившись к подсудимому, спросил: не имеет ли он чего заметить по поводу данных показаний? (Достоевский 2). The judge, addressing the defendant, asked whether he had anything to say concerning the present testimony (2a). ♦ «Что вас привело к нам?» — «Самсонов». — «Леонид?» — «Да». — «Что-нибудь по поводу собаки?» (Семёнов 1). "What brings you here?" "Samsonov." "Lyonka? Leonid?" "Yes." "Something to do with the dog?" (1a).

2. ~ чего for the reason specified: because of; on account of.

Его прооперировали в срочном порядке по поводу аппендицита. He had an emergency operation on account of appendicitis.

П-249 • ПО ПО́ВОДУ И БЕЗ ПО́ВОДА [PrepP; adv, sent adv, or nonagreeing modif; fixed WO] whether there is justification (for doing sth.) or not: with or without reason; for good reason or for no reason (at all); [lim.] apropos of anything or nothing; just because (one feels like it); (just) for the sake ⟨the fun, the hell⟩ of it; ‖ по всякому ⟨любому⟩ поводу и без всякого повода ≃ on any excuse or none at all.

Дома в Москве уже всё было по-зимнему… Зима была ни при чём, но когда он избавится, когда я избавлюсь, избавлюсь ли вообще и надо ль избавляться от этих мириад строк и стихов, которые толпятся в голове и непрошено всплывают по всякому поводу и без всякого повода (Чудаков 1). Back in Moscow it looked altogether like winter again… Winter had nothing to do with it, but when would he be free, when will I be free, will I ever be free—and should I even try to get free—of those myriad lines of prose and verse that fill my head and come to mind apropos of anything or nothing? (1a).

П-250 • ПОВОРО́Т ⟨РАЗВОРО́Т⟩ НА СТО ВО́СЕМЬДЕСЯТ ГРА́ДУСОВ media or coll [NP; sing only; usu. this WO] a sudden reversal of s.o.'s attitude, position, opinion etc: about-face; flip-flop; 180-degree turn; (turn around) 180 degrees.

Тут, наконец, до Марлена Михайловича дошло: вот она — главная причина сегодняшнего высокого совещания. Обеспокоены «поворотом на 180 градусов», перепугались, как бы не отплыл от них в недосягаемые дали Остров Крым, как бы не отняли того, что давно уже считалось личной собственностью (Аксёнов 7). In a flash Marlen Mikhailovich realized what the meeting was for. They were upset by the aboutface, concerned that the Island of Crimea would float out of their reach, that they would be robbed of what they had long considered their due (7a).

П-251 • ЛЁГЧЕ ⟨ПОЛЁГЧЕ⟩ НА ПОВОРО́ТАХ! highly coll, impol [imper sent; these forms only; fixed WO] (used as a warning or threat) be more careful of what you do, say etc: (you'd better) watch what you're saying ⟨doing⟩!; (you'd better) watch your tongue ⟨step⟩!; tone it down (a bit)!; go easy.

Каждый раз, когда сын говорит мне, что ему предстоит объяснение с женой, я всегда даю один и тот же совет: «Легче на поворотах». Every time my son tells me he needs to clear the air with his wife, I give him one and the same piece of advice: Go easy.

П-252 • ПОВТОРЕ́НИЕ — МАТЬ УЧЕ́НИЯ [saying] the way to master sth. is by constantly repeating or practicing it: ≃ practice makes perfect; it's dogged that does it.

П-253 • В ТРИ ПОГИ́БЕЛИ ⟨В ДУГУ́, В ТРИ ДУГИ́⟩ согнуться, скорчиться и т.п. coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to bend, stoop down etc) very low (often because of pain): X согнулся в три погибели ≃ X bent double; [when caused by pain only] X doubled up.

Согнувшись в три погибели, она пыталась сдвинуть с места свою перегруженную тележку (Зиновьев 2). She was bent double trying to heave her overloaded cart (2a). ♦ Тут Запятаев согнулся в три погибели, схватился за живот и мелко затрясся, словно в припадке (Войнович 4). Zapyataev doubled up and clutched his stomach, trembling slightly as if having a fit (4a).

П-254 • ПОГИ́БЕЛИ ⟨ПРО́ПАСТИ⟩ на кого-что НЕТ! substand, rude [these forms only; the resulting phrase is used as Interj] used to express indignation, annoyance at s.o. or sth.: погибели на X-а нет! ≃ (God) damn X!; [lim.] X will be the death of me!; will I ⟨we⟩ never be rid of X!

Григорий с досадой сказал: «Ты, бабушка, лучше дай косу…» Старуха сурово глянула на Григория и отвернулась. «Ступай сам возьми, она, никак, под сараем висит»… Когда [Григорий] проходил мимо старухи, [он] отчётливо слышал, как та проговорила: «Погибели на вас, проклятых, нету!» К этому было не привыкать Григорию. Он давно видел, с каким настроением встречают их жители хуторов (Шолохов 5). Grigory said irritably, "You'd better give me that scythe, Granny…." The old woman looked hard at Grigory and turned away. "Go and get it yourself. It must be hanging up in the shed."… As he [Grigory] walked past the woman, [he] distinctly heard her say, "Will we never be rid of you, spongers!" This was nothing new for Grigory. He had long been aware of the attitude to them in the villages (5a).

П-255 • КАК (Я) ПОГЛЯЖУ́ coll [VP_{subj}; these forms only; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] as it appears to me, as can be deduced (from sth.): as far as I can see ⟨tell⟩; it looks ⟨seems⟩ to me; as I see it; by the look of it; [lim.] I see.

Помахав руками, что должно было, по-видимому, означать утреннюю зарядку, Росляков сказал: «Слава, ты чувствуешь, какой здесь воздух?» — «Дымный, — сказал Костенко, — не будь идеалистом». — «Ты чёрствый человек, старина». — «А ты сегодня что-то слишком, как я погляжу, радостный» (Семёнов 1). Waving his arms about, which, evidently, was supposed to serve him as morning exercises, Roslyakov said: "Slava, can you smell the air here?" "Smoggy," said Kostyenko, "don't be an idealist." "You're a hard man, oldster." "And you're a bit too cheerful as far as I can see" (1a).

П-256 • НИ ПРИ КАКО́Й ПОГО́ДЕ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv or sent adv; used with negated verbs; fixed WO] not for any reason, regardless of what the circumstances may be: under no circumstances ⟨condition(s)⟩ (whatsoever); not under any circumstances ⟨condition(s)⟩; on no account; not on any account; there is no way (one would ⟨could⟩ do sth.).

Уверяю вас, он не будет участвовать в этой афере ни при какой погоде. I can assure you that he won't get involved in this scam under any circumstances.

П-257 • ДЕ́ЛАТЬ ПОГО́ДУ coll [VP; subj: human, concr, or abstr, usu. pl; often neg] to have the deciding influence on sth., be of primary importance: X-ы делают погоду ≃ Xs have ⟨play⟩ the leading ⟨key, crucial⟩ role (in sth.); [of people only] Xs carry ⟨have⟩ weight; [lim.] Xs call the shots ⟨the tune⟩; [in refer. to the moral, intellectual etc atmosphere in some organization, within some group etc] Xs create the climate; ‖ Neg X-ы не делают погоды ≃ Xs don't count; Xs cut no ice.

Среди людей, крутившихся тогда у Маяка [coll = площади Маяковского], много ещё было всякого рода неомарксистов и неокоммунистов, однако они уже не делали погоды. Эта тенденция отмирала, уходила в прошлое… Власти давно не считались с авторитетами, вывешенными на партийном фасаде, а исходили из своих конъюнктурных соображений (Буковский 1). Among the people circulating in Mayakovsky Square at that time were a lot of neo-Marxists and neo-Communists of various kinds, but they no longer counted. That tendency was dying out and receding into the past…. The authorities had long since ceased to take note of the prophets displayed on the party facade and were guided by considerations of their own self-interest (1a).

П-258 • НЕМНО́ГО ⟨ЧУТЬ⟩ ПОГОДЯ́; НЕМНО́ГО СПУСТЯ́ coll [Verbal Adv (variants with погодя) or PrepP (last var.); these forms only; adv; fixed WO] after a short period of time, soon: a little (while) later; in a short ⟨little⟩ while; in a bit.

Ливень стал утихать, ветер разогнал тучи, и немного погодя на небе снова засияло солнце. The downpour began to let up, the wind dispersed the clouds, and in a short while the sun shone again in the sky.

П-259 • ПОГРЕБА́ТЬ/ПОГРЕСТИ́ СЕБЯ́ ЗА́ЖИВО ⟨В ЧЕТЫРЁХ СТЕНА́Х⟩ [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to renounce life and society, lead the life of a hermit: X погрёб себя заживо ⟨в четырёх стенах⟩ ≃ X turned his back on the world; X shut himself away; X confined himself within four walls.

П-260 • И ПОДА́ВНО coll [AdvP; Invar; used as Particle; fixed WO] (used to show that what was said to be true of some person, thing, action etc in the preceding context is) even more true (of the person, thing, action etc stated in conjunction with the idiom): even more; so much the more (so); all the more; [with negated verb] certainly… not; so much the less; there's no way…

«Уходи, Виктор, и не показывайся мне больше на глаза, не доводи до краю, если мне своей жизни не жалко, то твоей и подавно…» (Максимов 1). "Go away, Viktor, and don't let me ever set eyes on you again. Don't push me too far. If my own life is unimportant to me, then so much the more so is yours…" (1a). ♦ «Докторская нам не светит, а в Академию и подавно мы никогда не попадём» (Зиновьев 2). [context transl] "We haven't got much chance of a doctorate, and it's not even worth thinking about the Academy" (2a).

П-261 • НЕ ПОДА́РОК; НЕ ПОДА́РОЧЕК both coll [NP; these forms only; subj-compl with быть$_0$] 1. [subj: human] a person who is not easy to have dealings with: X — не подарок ≃ X is no prize; X is tough ⟨no fun⟩ to deal with; X is no gift to mankind ⟨humanity⟩; X is no pushover; X is a tough customer; [lim.] X is going to be trouble.

Стёпа был хорошо известен в театральных кругах Москвы, и все знали, что человек этот — не подарочек. Но всё-таки то, что рассказывал администратор про него, даже и для Стёпы было чересчур (Булгаков 9). Styopa had a reputation in Moscow theatrical circles, and everybody knew that the man was no gift to humanity. Nevertheless, what the house manager was telling about him was too much even for Styopa (9a).

2. [subj: abstr or infin] sth. (or doing sth.) is unpleasant, undesirable: X — не подарок ≃ X isn't what I ⟨you⟩ would call luck ⟨fun⟩; X isn't my ⟨our⟩ idea of fun ⟨of fun and games, of a good time⟩; X is no picnic.

«Родители уехали, а меня оставили с младшими братьями. Это, я тебе скажу, не подарок!» — «Я тебе сочувствую». "My parents are out of town and I'm stuck watching my little brothers. I tell you, it's not what you'd call fun!" "You have my sympathy."

П-262 • ПОДА́РОК С НЕ́БА coll [NP; sing only] sth. unexpected and very much desired: godsend; stroke of fortune; like pennies from heaven.

«Она умна, — повторил он, — мила, образованна, на нашего брата и не посмотрит. Ах… — прибавил он, вдруг обращаясь ко мне, — вот чудесная мысль, поддержите честь вятского общества, поволочитесь за ней… ну, знаете, вы из Москвы, в ссылке, верно, пишете стихи — это вам с неба подарок» (Герцен 1). "She is intelligent," he repeated, "nice, cultured…. She won't look at fellows like us. Ah…" he added, suddenly turning to me, "there's a happy thought; you must keep up the honour of Vyatka society and get up a flirtation with her…. Why, you are from Moscow, you know, and in exile; no doubt you write verses. She's a godsend for you" (1a).

П-263 • С ПОДА́ЧИ чьей, кого coll [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] acting in accordance with s.o.'s suggestion, idea, recommendation: on s.o.'s advice; at s.o.'s suggestion; on a tip from s.o.; (it was) s.o.'s idea (that…); [lim.] at s.o.'s urging.

Я решил с Васиной подачи написать об этом инциденте в редакцию местной газеты. I decided at Vasya's suggestion to write a letter to the editor of the local paper about this incident.

П-264 • (КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩) НА ПОДБО́Р coll, often approv [(как etc) + PrepP; these forms only; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human, animal, or concr, pl), modif, or detached modif (variants with как etc); fixed WO] (usu. in refer. to positive physical qualities; when no particular quality is specified, implies generally positive features) (the people, animals, or things in question are) all equally exceptional, or all in possession of the specified quality to an equally high degree: they look as if they were handpicked ⟨specially chosen⟩; the pick of the crop ⟨the lot etc⟩; first-rate ⟨first-class, topnotch etc⟩ (, every single one of them); a choice ⟨first-rate etc⟩ selection; as pretty ⟨good-looking etc⟩ as they come; one prettier ⟨better-looking etc⟩ than the next; pretty ⟨good-looking etc⟩, every single one of them.

На баскетбол [в лагере] собирается множество болельщиков, играют классные команды литовцев, латышей, эстонцев, — ребята как на подбор, молодые, рослые, ловкие (Марченко 1). The basketball always used to attract large numbers of spectators: there were high class teams of Lithuanians, Latvians and Estonians, lads who were the pick of the camp, young, tall and agile (1a).

П-265 • ПОДГРЕБА́ТЬ ⟨ГРЕСТИ́⟩/ПОДГРЕСТИ́ ПОД СЕБЯ́ (что) recent, coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human or collect; obj: usu. деньги, власть, земли etc, often всё] to appropriate (money, public funds etc), gain (power, lands etc), strengthen one's influence (on governments, countries etc), usu. by means of force or by unscrupulous methods: X подгрёб под себя Y ≃ X grabbed ⟨seized⟩ (control of) Y; X took possession ⟨control⟩ of Y; X took over Y; X consolidated his ⟨its⟩ influence in ⟨over⟩ Y; X brought his ⟨its⟩ influence to bear on group Y; group X brought group Y into its orbit.

П-266 • НИЧЕГО́ НЕ ПОДЕ́ЛАЕШЬ ⟨НЕ ПОПИ́ШЕШЬ coll⟩ [sent; these forms only; fixed WO] there is no way out of some unpleasant situation or difficult circumstance, so you must reconcile yourself to the way things are: there's nothing to be done about it; there's nothing you ⟨I etc⟩ can do (about it); it can't be helped; there's no help for it; you ⟨I etc⟩ can't help it; there's no way around it; resign yourself ⟨I have to resign myself etc⟩ to it.

[Ирина:] Мама в Москве погребена. [Ольга:] В Ново-Девичьем… [Маша:] Представьте, я уж начинаю забывать её лицо. Так и о нас не будут помнить. Забудут. [Вершинин:] Да. Забудут. Такова уж судьба наша, ничего не поделаешь (Чехов 5). [I.:] Mama is buried in Moscow. [O.:] In the New Virgin Cemetery… [M.:] Can you imagine? I'm beginning to forget her face. People won't remember us either. We'll all be forgotten. [V.:] Yes, we'll be forgotten. That's the way things are. There's nothing we can do about it (5d).

П-267 • ЧТО (ЖЕ) ПОДЕ́ЛАЕШЬ; ЧТО (ЖЕ) ПОДЕ́ЛАТЬ ⟨ДЕ́ЛАТЬ⟩ all coll [sent; these forms only; used as indep. clause; fixed WO] you must reconcile yourself to the way things are (because there is nothing you can do to change them): what can you ⟨we etc⟩ do?; you ⟨I etc⟩ can't help it; there's no help for it; it can't be helped.

Кажется, я повторяюсь, слишком часто упоминая верхний ярус этого ресторана. Но что делать, в нашем городе так мало осталось уютных мест… (Искандер 5). I'm repeating myself, I think, mentioning the upper deck of this restaurant too often. But there's no help for it, we have so few cozy spots left in our city… (5a).

П-268 • НИЧЕГО́ НЕ ПОДЕ́ЛАТЬ с кем-чем; НИЧЕГО́ НЕЛЬЗЯ́ ⟨не могу и т.п.⟩ ПОДЕ́ЛАТЬ all coll [predic; impers or with subj: human (var. with не могу etc)] it is impossible to make s.o. behave correctly, make sth. work right, or, in refer. to o.s., regulate one's own thoughts, feelings etc: X не может ничего с Y-ом поделать ⟨с Y-ом ничего нельзя поделать⟩ ≃ X can't handle ⟨cope with⟩ Y; X can't get anywhere with Y; X can't do anything ⟨a thing⟩ with Y; there's no coping with Y; X can't control person Y; || X не может ничего с собой поделать ≃ X can't control ⟨cope with⟩ his feelings ⟨emotions etc⟩; X can't help it; X can't do anything ⟨a thing⟩ with himself.

…Варя выбрала этот путь ещё в школе: мальчишки, губная помада, тряпки. Нина и тогда ничего не могла с ней поделать, ничего не может сделать и сейчас (Рыбаков 2). …Varya had chosen her life while still at school. She had gone out with lots of boys, used lipstick, spent all her money on clothes. Even then Nina had been unable to control her, and she certainly couldn't now (2a).

П-269 • ПОДЖИ́ЛКИ ТРЯСУ́ТСЯ/ЗАТРЯСЛИ́СЬ (у кого от чего) coll [VP_{subj}; usu. this WO] s.o. experiences great fear, anxiety, trepidation etc: у X-а затряслись поджилки ≃ X was shaking ⟨quaking⟩ in his shoes ⟨boots⟩; X's knees were shaking; X's knees were knocking (together); X went weak in the knees.

«Я так взволновалась! — воскликнула Маргарита, — это случилось так неожиданно». — «Ничего в этом нет неожиданного», — возразил Азазелло, а Коровьев завыл и заныл: «Как же не взволноваться? У меня у самого поджилки затряслись!» (Булгаков 9). "I had such a shock!" exclaimed Margarita, "it happened so unexpectedly!" "There was nothing unexpected about it," Azazello objected, and Koroviev whined, "Of course she was shocked. Why, even I was shaking in my shoes!" (9b).

П-270 • (ВОТ) ПОДИ́ (Ж) ТЫ!; (ВОТ) ПОДИ́ Ж!; (А ⟨ДА⟩) ВОТ ПОДИ́ (Ж) ТЫ! all coll [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] used to express surprise, disbelief, bewilderment etc (upon encountering, realizing, or learning of the occurrence of sth. unexpected; the var. поди ты usu. expresses strong surprise, amazement): what do you know!; just think ⟨imagine⟩!; just think of it!; who would have thought (it)!; would ⟨can⟩ you believe it?!; go figure!; if that don't beat all!; well I'll be!; [lim.] Good Lord, fancy…!; (just) look at him ⟨her etc⟩.

…На первом же собрании бабы завопили в один голос: «Лука-ши-на!» Толку из этого вопля, казалось тогда, никакого не будет, ибо всем давно известно, что такие дела не тут, не в деревенском клубе, бывшей церкви, решаются, а немножко повыше… А вот поди ты: услыхали, видно, бабий вопль наверху (Абрамов 1). At the very first meeting, the women yelled in unison, "Lu-u-ka-shin for chairman!" It looked then as if the yelling would be of no use whatever, for it was known long ago to everyone that such affairs are decided not in the village club—a former church—but a bit higher up…. But who would have thought it! Upstairs, they apparently did hear the women's yell (1b).

П-271 • КАК ПОДКО́ШЕННЫЙ упал, свалился, рухнул и т.п. coll [как + AdjP; nom only; adv] (of a person) (one fell, dropped etc) in a single motion, as if dead: X упал ~ ≃ X dropped on the spot; X collapsed as if he had been shot ⟨cut down⟩; X fell to the ground as though mown down.

Укороченное тело Жикина дёрнулось, и самодельная тележка, к которой он был приторочен ремнями, с размаху ударила вертухая по ногам чуть ниже колен. Тот рухнул как подкошенный… (Войнович 4). …Zhikin's abbreviated body gave a twitch and his homemade cart, to which he was strapped with belts, struck the other guard full force just below the knee. The guard collapsed as if he'd been shot… (4a).

П-272 • НЕ ПОДМА́ЖЕШЬ — НЕ ПОЕ́ДЕШЬ [saying] if you do not give a bribe, you will not get what you want, nothing will be done for you: ≃ wheels don't run without oil; you have to grease s.o.'s palm to make things happen; no silver, no servant; you get along by going along.

«Добывайте командировку, — говорил ему носильщик в белом фартуке. — Надо каждый день наведываться. Поезда теперь редкость, дело случая. И само собой разумеется… (носильщик потёр большой палец о два соседних)… Мучицы там или чего-нибудь. Не подмажешь — не поедешь» (Пастернак 1). "You must get a priority," a porter in a white apron told him. "Then you must come every day to ask if there is a train. Trains are rare nowadays, it's a question of luck. And of course" (he rubbed two fingers with his thumb) "a little flour or something…. Wheels don't run without oil, you know…" (1a).

П-273 • КАК ⟨КАК БУ́ДТО, БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ ПОДМЕНИ́ЛИ кого-что coll [VP; 3rd pers pl with indef. refer. only; obj: usu. human or collect] (in refer. to s.o.'s personality, behavior, appearance etc) a drastic change came over s.o.: X-а словно подменили ≃ X became a different person ⟨man, woman⟩; X changed completely; [in refer. to a positive change only] X became ⟨was like⟩ a new man ⟨woman etc⟩.

Исподволь наблюдая за Деменским, Бирюков подметил характерную деталь: как только разговор зашёл о Степнадзе, Юрия Павловича будто подменили (Чернёнок 1). Observing Demensky, Birukov noted a characteristic detail: as soon as the conversation touched on Stepnadze, Yuri Pavlovich became a different man (1a).

П-274 • В ПОДМЁТКИ НЕ ГОДИ́ТСЯ ⟨НЕ СТА́НЕТ obs⟩ кому-чему coll, rather derog [VP; subj: human, abstr, or concr; pres or past only (1st var.); fut only (2nd var.)] (used when contrasting two people, things etc either on a general basis or with regard to a specific quality) one person or thing is so much worse than the other that they cannot even be compared: X Y-у в подмётки не годится ≃ X cannot hold a candle to Y; X doesn't come close to Y; person X isn't fit to tie person Y's shoelaces ⟨bootlaces⟩; person X isn't fit to shine person Y's shoes; [lim.] person Y has more [NP] in his little finger than person X has in his whole body; (there's) absolutely no comparison.

Конечно, есть люди, может быть, красивее Сони, у них длинные косы, голубые глаза, какие-нибудь особенные ресницы, но всё это ерунда. Потому что они Соне в подмётки не годятся (Трифонов 2). Naturally there are girls who are maybe prettier than Sonya, who have long braids, blue eyes and long eyelashes, but none of that matters. Because not one of them can hold a candle to Sonya (2a).

П-275 • ПОДНИМА́Й ⟨ПОДЫМА́Й⟩ ВЫ́ШЕ ⟨ПОВЫ́ШЕ⟩! coll [VP_{imper}; these forms only; fixed WO] (often used in response to an inquiry or guess regarding the status, worth etc of s.o. or sth.) you have underestimated and should have assumed better, s.o. or sth. is of higher status, greater worth etc than you think: don't sell me ⟨him, it etc⟩ short; guess ⟨try⟩ again; I'm ⟨he is etc⟩ a notch ⟨a peg, a step⟩ or two higher than that; I have ⟨he has etc⟩ gone ⟨advanced⟩ even higher than that; [lim.] keep going.

«Ты всё там же, по-прежнему замдиректора?» — «Поднимай выше, я теперь директор». "Are you still working there as the deputy director?" "Guess again—I'm the director now." ♦ Жаль, не пошёл по военной линии, получился бы отличный полковой командир. А то поднимай выше — дивизионный генерал (Акунин 2). A pity you didn't go in for a military career—you'd have made a fine regimental commander. Or something even higher than that—a divisional general (2a).

П-276 • ПОДО́БНО ТОМУ́ КАК [subord Conj; introduces a compar clause] in the same way that: just as; the way…

«Писать стихи надо каждый день, подобно тому как скрипач или пианист непременно должен каждый день без пропусков по нескольку часов играть на своём инструменте. В противном случае ваш талант неизбежно оскудеет, высохнет, подобно колодцу, откуда долгое время не берут воду» (Катаев 3). "One must write poetry every day, just as a violinist or a pianist must play every day on his instrument for several hours without fail. If not, your talent will stagnate and run dry, like a well from which no water is drawn" (3a).

П-277 • НИЧЕГО́ ПОДО́БНОГО! coll [Interj; Invar; fixed WO] (used by the speaker to express his firm denial of or disagreement with sth.) that is positively not so: nothing of the kind ⟨sort⟩!; no such thing!; not at all!; absolutely not!; not on your life!; far from it.

Маргарита побледнела и отшатнулась. «…Вы хотите меня арестовать?» — «Ничего подобного», — воскликнул рыжий… (Булгаков 9). Margarita paled and edged away. "…Have you come to arrest me?" "Nothing of the sort!" exclaimed the man with red hair (9b). Margarita turned pale and recoiled. "… Have you come to arrest me?" "Not at all," exclaimed the redhead (9c).

П-278 • И ТОМУ́ ПОДО́БНОЕ, may be abbreviated in writing to и т.п. lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] (used at the end of a list to indicate that more objects or phenomena could be included) and other similar things: and so on; and so forth (and so on); and the ⟨such⟩ like; et cetera; etc.; and things of that sort; and more of the same; and more to that effect.

Колотилось сердце, и набегали всякие слова, злые, справедливые, которые не были сказаны. А почему Милютина, которая в театре без году неделя?.. — и так далее и тому подобное (Трифонов 1). Her heart was pounding, and all of the just and nasty things that she had left unsaid came rushing to mind. And why should Milyutina, who was completely new in the theater?…—and so forth and so on (1a). ♦ [Надзиратель] ушёл, пришёл с дежурным офицером: «Выходи! Почему безобразничаешь? Карцера захотел? На этап не отправим», — и тому подобное (Марченко 2). He [the guard] went away and came back with the duty officer. "Come on out! What are you cuttin up for? You want the punishment cell? We won't ship you out of here…" And more to that effect (2a).

П-279 • ПОДОБРУ́-ПОЗДОРО́ВУ ⟨ПОДОБРУ́ ДА ПОЗДОРО́ВУ⟩ coll [AdvP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] 1. жить, поживать, добраться куда и т.п. ~ obs (to live, be living, make one's way to some place etc) without problems or difficulties: (just ⟨perfectly⟩) fine; [in refer. to how a person is doing at a given moment only] (be) quite well; [in refer. to traveling only] (get somewhere) safe and sound ⟨without mishap⟩.

2. уйти, убраться ~ (to leave some place, go away) voluntarily and at a prudent time, while the situation is still calm (before a scandal erupts, sth. dangerous happens, or one is forced to leave): while the going ⟨the getting⟩ is good; while there's still time; while one is still in one piece; before it's too late.

[Скотинин:] Да эдак и до меня доберутся… Уберусь же я отсюда подобру-поздорову (Фонвизин 1). [S.:] If they'll keep this up they'll get to me also…. I'd better get out of here while the going's good (1a).

П-280 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ПОДПИ́СКУ coll [VP; subj: human; often foll. by infin or a что-clause; often neg] to promise sth. firmly, commit o.s. to do sth.: X подписки не давал ≃ X didn't solemnly swear (to do sth.); X didn't sign a declaration promising (to do sth.); X didn't sign any paper saying (that he would do sth.).

При рождении я не давал подписки одобрять всё то, что они натворили (Зиновьев 1). I didn't sign a declaration the day I was born promising to approve of everything they do (1a).

П-281 • В ПОДПИ́ТИИ coll [PrepP; Invar; usu. subj-compl with $быть_{ø}$, приходить etc (subj: human)] in a drunken state: drunk; under the influence; feeling one's liquor.

Он рассказал жене и дочери случай, который они обе знали ещё с довоенных времён, — Сталин ночью появился в метро, он был в легком подпитии, сел рядом с молодой женщиной, спросил её: «Чем бы я мог вам помочь?» (Гроссман 2). He told [his wife and daughter] a story they had all known even before the war. One night Stalin appeared in the metro, slightly drunk, sat beside a young woman, and asked: "What can I do for you?" (2a).

П-282 • ВДАВА́ТЬСЯ ⟨ВХОДИ́ТЬ⟩ В ПОДРО́БНОСТИ [VP; subj: human; often infin with не будем, не надо, не хочу etc or neg Verbal Adv не вдаваясь…, не входя…; Verbal Adv has fixed WO] to address or discuss each minute aspect of something: X не вдавался ⟨не стал вдаваться⟩ в подробности ≃ X didn't go into detail ⟨into the details, into the particulars⟩; || не вдаваясь в подробности ≃ without going into detail ⟨into the details, into the particulars⟩; omitting the details.

Из Житомира прокурор послал владыке краткий отчёт о случившемся, не вдаваясь, однако, в подробности — не по телеграфу же (Акунин 4). The public prosecutor had sent the bishop a short report from Zhitomir without, however, going into the details—they were not for the telegraph service (4a).

П-283 • ПОДРУ́ГА ЖИ́ЗНИ obsoles, now usu. humor [NP; sing only; fixed WO] wife: companion on the road of life; partner ⟨woman⟩ to share one's ⟨s.o.'s⟩ life (with).

[Яичница:] …Служу коллежским асессором, любим начальниками, подчинённые слушаются, недостаёт только одного: подруги жизни (Гоголь 1). [Omelet:] …I am a collegiate assessor, beloved by my superiors, obeyed by my subordinates. I lack only a companion on the road of life (1b).

П-284 • ПО́ДСТУПА ⟨-у⟩ НЕТ к кому obsoles, coll [VP; impers; fixed WO] it is impossible to address, speak with, or gain access to s.o. (because he is angry, arrogant, occupies an important position etc): к Х-у подступа нет ≃ there's no getting near ⟨talking to, approaching⟩ X; X is impossible to approach; X is totally unapproachable ⟨inaccessible⟩; you can't get near ⟨within ten feet of⟩ X; [lim.] you'd be afraid to go ⟨get⟩ near X.

П-285 • НЕ ⟨НЕЛЬЗЯ́, СТРА́ШНО⟩ ПОДСТУПИ́ТЬСЯ; НЕ ПОДСТУ́ПИШЬСЯ all coll [VP; impers predic with быть$_{ø}$ (variants with подступиться) or neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing (last var.); these forms only] 1. к чему ~ sth. is too expensive for s.o. to be able to afford: к Х-у не подступиться ≃ X is out of (my ⟨your etc⟩) reach; X is beyond my ⟨your etc⟩ means; X is too much ⟨rich⟩ for my ⟨your etc⟩ pocket(book).

Квартиры в этом райное стоят так дорого, что не подступишься. Apartments in this neighborhood are so expensive, they're out of our reach.

2. к кому ~ it is impossible to address or gain access to s.o. (because of his importance, high position, arrogance etc): к Х-у не подступиться ≃ you can't get near ⟨within ten feet of⟩ X; there's no getting near ⟨talking to, approaching⟩ X; X is impossible to approach; X is totally unapproachable ⟨inaccessible⟩; [lim.] you'd be afraid to go ⟨get⟩ near X.

Чернов теперь такой важный — не подступишься. Раньше я запросто заходил к нему в кабинет, а теперь надо у секретарши записываться. Chernov has gotten to be such a big shot that you can't get near him. I used to just drop by his office and see him, but now you've got to make an appointment through his secretary.

П-286 • ÉСЛИ ПОДУ́МАТЬ [Invar; sent adv (parenth)] concerning the matter at hand, if you consider the substance of the situation: come to think of it; if you think about it; when ⟨if⟩ it comes (right) down to it ⟨that⟩; when ⟨if⟩ it comes to it ⟨that⟩.

Хальб спросил, какие изменения появились в отношениях между офицерами и солдатами на переднем крае. «Если подумать, — сказал Ленард, — я не вижу разницы между мыслями полковника и солдатской философией» (Гроссман 2). Chalb asked if there had been any changes in the relations between officers and soldiers in the front line. "When it comes down to it," said Lenard, "I can't really see much difference between the thoughts of a colonel and the thoughts of the privates" (2a).

П-287 • КТО БЫ МОГ ПОДУ́МАТЬ!; КТО БЫ ПОДУ́МАЛ! both coll [sent; these forms only; used as Interj or indep. clause foll. by a что-clause; fixed WO] it is hard to believe (that the situation has turned out this way), no one could ever have predicted (that things would turn out this way): who would (ever) have thought?; who could have imagined?; it's hard to believe!; I never would have guessed!; (just) imagine!; [used as Interj only] what do you know!; go figure!; imagine that!; incredible!

[Сарафанов:] Нина! У меня никакого сомнения! Он твой брат!.. Боже мой… Ну кто бы мог подумать? (Вампилов 4). [S.:] Nina! I don't have any doubts at all! He's your brother!… My God…. Well, who would ever have thought? (4b).

П-288 • МО́ЖНО ПОДУ́МАТЬ iron [Invar; sent adv (parenth) or the main clause in a complex sent (foll. by a что- or будто-clause); fixed WO] one may think (that the action or situation in question is as stated while in fact it does not correspond with the reality): you'd ⟨one would⟩ think; (it) makes you ⟨one⟩ think; as if ⟨though⟩.

«Озёрлаг, Луглаг, Степлаг, Камышлаг…» — «Можно подумать, в МВД сидит непризнанный поэт. На поэму не разгонится, на стихотворение не соберётся, так даёт поэтические названия лагерям» (Солженицын 3). "Ozerlag, Luglag, Steplag, Kamyshlag…. " "Makes you think there's some unrecognized poet sitting in the Ministry of State Security. He hasn't got the stamina for whole poems, can't get it together, so he thinks up poetic names for prison camps" (3b).

П-289 • ПОДУ́МАТЬ ТО́ЛЬКО!; (НЕТ,) ТЫ ТО́ЛЬКО ПОДУ́МАЙ ⟨ВЫ ТО́ЛЬКО ПОДУ́МАЙТЕ⟩! all coll [sent; these forms only; used as Interj or indep. clause; fixed WO] this is absolutely amazing, totally unexpected, hard to believe (sometimes said ironically, often accompanied by naming the cause of one's surprise): just think ⟨imagine⟩!; imagine (that ⟨it⟩)!; (just) think of it!; would ⟨can⟩ you believe it!; fancy ⟨look at⟩ that!; the very idea (of it)!

Кто вступал через эту арку? Войска Елизаветы Петровны? Этого я не видел, хотя эти сроки очень сжаты. Подумать только, я родился через семьдесят девять лет после смерти Наполеона! (Олеша 3). Who marched under that arch? The troops of Elizaveta Petrovna? That I didn't see, although these periods are very close together. Just imagine, I was born a mere seventy-nine years after the death of Napoleon! (3a).

П-290 • И НЕ ПОДУ́МАЮ ⟨-ешь и т.п.⟩ coll [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] (used as a response to a suggestion, request etc) I will not (do sth.), I do not intend to (do sth.): no way (would I do sth.); no chance; nothing doing!; [usu. when the speaker is wounded, insulted, or outraged by the interlocutor's suggestion] I wouldn't dream ⟨think⟩ of it ⟨of doing such a thing etc⟩.

Съезд открылся ровно через десять минут после того, как мы заняли чьи-то чужие кресла… [Машка] стала писать знакомым студентам анонимные записки, глупые, но довольно смешные. «Кто это?» — спросила она, когда Митя, которого я до сих пор не видела, появился на эстраде… Я ответила: «Доктор Львов». — «Ты его знаешь?». — «Немного»… — «Давай напишем ему… А потом ты нас познакомишь». — «И не подумаю». — «Не познакомишь?». — «Да нет, могу познакомить, но зачем же писать?» (Каверин 1). The Congress began exactly ten minutes after we had taken somebody else's seats…. [Mashka] began to write anonymous notes to students she knew. It was silly, but quite funny. "Who's that?" she asked, when Mitya, whom I hadn't seen until then, appeared on the dais…. "Dr. Lvov," I replied. "Do you know him?" "A little."… "Let's write to him…. Then later on you'll introduce me to him." "I wouldn't think of doing such a thing." "What, you won't introduce me?" "Why, yes, perhaps, but why should I write to him?" (1a).

П-291 • НА ПОДХВА́ТЕ (у кого) coll [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human)] one performs minor services, small tasks for s.o.: Х (у Y-а) на подхвате ≃ X runs errands (for Y); X fetches and carries (for Y); X is on hand to help (Y); X does (all) the legwork for Y; X is an errand boy ⟨girl⟩; X is a gofer.

Обучение лаптёжному мастерству на этом закончилось. Успешливей пошло со столярным делом, когда летом Гурка строил Саввиным летнюю кухню, а Антон был на подхвате. Тут-то он и прошёл полный курс чистовой обработки дерева… (Чудаков 1). That was the end of the bast shoe weaving lessons. Things went better with cabinet making, when Gurka came over to build the Savvins a summer kitchen, and Anton was on hand to help. This time he got a full course in wood finishing… (1a).

П-292 • НА ПОДХО́ДЕ [PrepP; Invar] 1. (к чему) [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. human or concr) or adv] when moving toward sth., close to the destination: X был на подходе (к Y-у) ≃ X was approaching ⟨nearing⟩ Y; X was making his ⟨its⟩ approach (to Y); || [when used as adv] when approaching ⟨nearing⟩ Y; when on his ⟨its⟩ way to Y.

Ещё поражались турецким артиллеристам, которые продемонстрировали сатанинскую меткость и расстреляли колонны ещё на подходе, прежде чем батальоны успели развернуться для атаки (Акунин 5). They were also amazed at the satanic precision demonstrated by the Turkish gunners, who had shelled columns while they were still making their approach, before the battalions had even been deployed for the attack (5a).

2. [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. concr, abstr, the name of a season or holiday etc, occas. human] sth. will occur in the near future, it is almost time (for s.o. to do or experience sth., for sth. to happen etc): X на подходе ≃ thing X is close ⟨near⟩; it's almost time for X; thing X is approaching ⟨on the way⟩; thing X is coming (up ⟨soon⟩); thing X is almost here; thing X is not far off (now); thing X is just ⟨right⟩ around the corner; person X's time ⟨turn⟩ is coming; X is next; || [of an imminent childbirth] person X is about to be born ⟨is on the way, will be born any minute⟩.

П-293 • ЛЁГОК ⟨ЛЁГКИЙ⟩ НА ПОДЪЁМ coll [AdjP; subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or modif (long-form var. only)] 1. a person who is ready to go anywhere at any time: X лёгок на подъём ≃ X is always ready to get up and go; X can ⟨will⟩ go at the drop of a hat; [lim.] X is always ready to pack up and go.

Он молод, лёгок на подъём, ему ничего не стоит переехать на новое место. He is young and always ready to pack up and go; moving to a new place is nothing to him.

2. a person who readily undertakes or engages in various activities, who is quick to seize the opportunity to participate in sth.: X лёгок на подъём ≃ X is ready and willing; X is quick off the mark.

…Есть роды, где часто рождаются мудрые, а есть роды, где часто рождаются хитрые, и есть роды, лёгкие на подъём… (Искандер 5). There were clans where the wise were often born, and there were clans where the sly were often born, and there were clans that were quick off the mark… (5a).

П-294 • ТЯЖЁЛ ⟨ТЯЖЁЛЫЙ⟩ НА ПОДЪЁМ coll [AdjP; subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or modif (long-form var. only)] 1. a person who is inactive, does not move about readily, does not like to go out anywhere: X тяжёл на подъём ≃ X is hard to get moving; it's hard to get X off his derrière ⟨rear end etc⟩; X is slow-moving ⟨sluggish⟩.

Он тяжёл на подъём, его даже в кино трудно вытащить. It's hard to get him off his derrière, even to go to the movies.

2. a person who gets down to work on things slowly and with great reluctance: X тяжёл на подъём ≃ X has a hard time getting going ⟨started⟩; X is a slow starter; X is slow at the gate; X is slow off the blocks ⟨the mark⟩.

Он тяжёл на подъём, но если уж возьмётся за что-нибудь, то делает добросовестно. He's a slow starter, but when he finally gets down to something he does it conscientiously.

П-295 • ПО́ЕЗД УШЁЛ coll [VP$_{subj}$; Invar; fixed WO] it is too late for s.o. to do sth. (in general or with respect to a specific occasion), s.o. failed to avail himself of an opportunity: I've ⟨he's etc⟩ missed the boat; I've ⟨he's etc⟩ missed out ⟨missed his chance⟩.

П-296 • ДОБРО́ ПОЖА́ЛОВАТЬ! [formula phrase; Invar; fixed WO] a greeting to a person who is arriving, or an invitation to come in or, occas., to come over: welcome (to you); please come in; come right in; [as an invitation to come over and visit] you're welcome to come over ⟨come to our place, stop by etc⟩.

«А, Пётр Андреич! — сказал он, увидя меня, — добро пожаловать! Как это вас бог принёс?» (Пушкин 2). "Ah, Pyotr Andreich!" he said. "Welcome! But why has God sent you here, may I ask?" (2c). "Ah, Petr Andreich," said he, as he saw me, "come right in. What good fortune brings you here?" (2a).

П-297 • КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ НА ПОЖА́Р бежать, мчаться и т.п. coll [как etc + PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to run, race) very fast, headlong, rushing madly: as if (going) to a fire; like mad ⟨hell, the devil⟩; (ride ⟨go⟩) hell-for-leather ⟨hellbent⟩; || не беги как на пожар ≃ where's the fire?

Затем ещё одна делегатка — Анфиса Петровна. Эта прискакала верхом, как на пожар. «Ох, всё думала — опоздаю» (Абрамов 1). Then another delegate arrived: Anfisa Petrovna. Galloping along on horseback, as if to a fire. "Oof! I kept thinking I'd be late" (1a).

П-298 • НЕ НА ПОЖА́Р (кому) coll [PrepP; Invar; impers predic] there is no reason for s.o. to hurry: (X-у) не на пожар ≃ X is not going to a fire; X is in no rush ⟨hurry⟩; what's the rush ⟨the hurry⟩?; there's no rush ⟨hurry⟩; [lim.] where's the fire?

«Остановите троллейбус!» — крикнул Арон Маркович… «Да не кричите вы! — рассердился водитель. — Будет остановка, и выйдете. Нечего панику пороть. Не на пожар!» (Семёнов 1). "Stop the bus!" cried Aron Markovich…. "Stop shouting!" said the driver angrily. "There'll be a bus stop soon and then you can get out. There's no need to get in a panic. You're not going to a fire!" (1a).

П-299 • ПОЖИВЁМ — УВИ́ДИМ [saying] time will show how things will turn out (said when a person does not have sufficient basis to judge sth. or does not want to express his opinion on sth. that is unclear at present and will become obvious only in the future): ≃ we shall see (what we shall see); (only) time will tell; wait and see; we'll see what happens.

При всей его дикости, письмо [письмо-донос трёх литераторов в партийные органы] вызвало чуткую реакцию наверху. Требования «подлинных советских ленинградцев» были частично удовлетворены… Директора [Дома Маяковского] попросту сняли. Был также изменён состав комиссии по работе с молодыми литераторами… Единственное, чего не удалось добиться авторам письма, — так это привлечения молодых литераторов к уголовной ответственности. А впрочем, поживём — увидим (Довлатов 1). …Despite its crudeness, this letter [a denunciation submitted to the Party Organs by three writers] evoked a sympathetic response from the higher-ups. The demands of the "genuine Soviet Leningraders" were satisfied in part…. The director [of Mayakovsky House] was simply removed from office. The staff of the commission that worked with young writers was also changed…. The only thing that the authors of the letter didn't manage to accomplish was the institution of criminal proceedings against the young writers. However, we shall see what we shall see (1a).

П-300 • С ВА́ШЕГО ПОЗВОЛЕ́НИЯ ⟨РАЗРЕШЕ́НИЯ⟩ [these forms only; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] 1. used to add politeness to a statement, sometimes a statement of intent: if you'll allow ⟨permit⟩ me (to ask ⟨say so etc⟩); if I may (say so etc); with your permission; [lim.] by your leave.

[Кудимов (наливает всем шампанского):] С вашего разрешения — за вас, за наше знакомство (Вампилов 4). [K. (Pouring champagne for everyone):] With your permission—to you, to our meeting (4b).

2. used to add sarcastic politeness to a statement (often one of a shocking, offensive etc nature) or to a response (usu. when responding to a question whose answer is obvious): if you please.

Там остановились вдруг среди толпы и уставились вглубь [кафе] «Куполи» два белоснежных животных — коза и лама… «Это ещё что такое?» — вскричал Огородников. — «Коза и лама, с вашего позволения» (Аксёнов 12). Suddenly two snow-white animals stopped in the crowd and stared into the café—a nanny goat and a llama…. "And what's this!?" cried Ogorodnikov. "A goat and a llama, if you please" (12a).

П-301 • С ПОЗВОЛЕ́НИЯ СКАЗА́ТЬ [Invar; sent adv (parenth); usu. precedes the word or phrase to which it refers; fixed WO] 1. (an apologetic expression warning the listener that sth. rude, pointed, not quite proper will be said next) I apologize for what I am about to say: pardon ⟨if you don't mind⟩ my saying so; if I may say so; if I may be so bold.

2. used by the speaker to express his negative, disdainful attitude toward s.o. or sth., his opinion that s.o. or sth. does not deserve his or its name: so-called; if I ⟨you⟩ could (even) call it ⟨him etc⟩ that; if such it ⟨he etc⟩ may be called.

«Горько и обидно, что какие-то слизняки правят страной. Безволие, слабохарактерность, неумение, нерешительность, зачастую простая подлость — вот что руководит действиями этого, с позволения сказать, „правительства“» (Шолохов 3). "It is a bitter shame that the country should be ruled by such worms. Lack of will, lack of character, of ability, of resolution, and even downright treachery—these are the qualities that determine the actions of this 'government,' if such it may be called" (3a).

П-302 • ЕСЛИ ПОЗВО́ЛИТЕ [Invar; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] used to add politeness to a statement of intention and, at the same time, request the interlocutor's consent: if you don't mind; if it ⟨that⟩ would be all right; if I may; if you'll permit ⟨allow⟩ me.

Я, если позволите, позвоню в Москву. I'm going to call Moscow, if that would be all right. ♦ «Много, много испытал я на своём веку. Вот, например, если позволите, я вам расскажу любопытный эпизод чумы в Бессарабии» (Тургенев 2). "I have had many, many experiences in my life. For example, if you will allow me, I will tell you a curious episode of the plague in Bessarabia" (2b).

П-303 • ПОЗВОЛЯ́ТЬ/ПОЗВО́ЛИТЬ СЕБЕ́ [VP] 1. [subj: human; foll. by infin; pfv fut 1st pers sing only; fixed WO] used in formal speech or writing to introduce, in a courteous fashion, a question, statement, objection etc: (я) позволю себе (сказать ⟨заметить, предложить, предположить и т.п.⟩ ≃ I'll take the liberty of saying ⟨mentioning, suggesting, assuming etc⟩); I venture (to say ⟨to remark, a suggestion, an assumption etc⟩; I'll permit myself to say ⟨to suggest etc⟩; allow me to say ⟨to mention etc⟩; if you'll allow me (to say ⟨to mention, to suggest etc⟩); if I might say ⟨mention, suggest etc⟩; ‖ (я) позволю себе смелость [+ infin.] ≃ may I ⟨if I may⟩ be so bold as to…; ‖ (я) позволю себе не согласиться с… ≃ I beg to differ (with)…; I am afraid I cannot agree ⟨I have to disagree⟩ with…

«И вообще я позволю себе смелость посоветовать вам, Маргарита Николаевна, никогда и ничего не бояться» (Булгаков 9). "And, in general, may I be so bold as to offer you some advice, Margarita Nikolayevna, never ever be afraid of anything" (9c). ♦ «Я всего лишь хотел доказать, что по сравнению с этим какие-то там уколы — сущий пустяк». — «Опять-таки позволю себе с вами не согласиться…» (Акунин 7). "I only wished to demonstrate that in comparison with that a few injections are child's play." "Once again, I am afraid I cannot agree with you—" (7a).

2. ~ кого-что [subj: human or collect] to be able to bear the cost of sth.: X может позволить себе Y ≃ X can afford Y; X can spare the price ⟨cost⟩ of Y; Y is within X's means.

В этом году мы не можем позволить себе поездку в Европу. This year we can't afford a trip to Europe.

3. [subj: human or collect] to be able to do or manage sth. without undesirable consequence or harmful effect: X не может позволить себе Y ≃ X can't allow himself to…; X can't afford (to do) Y (without paying for it ⟨without paying a price for it⟩); [lim.] X can't get away with (doing) Y; X can't indulge in (doing) Y.

Дети больших начальников, генералов, министров, членов ЦК жили совсем другой жизнью и могли себе позволять гораздо больше, чем другие их однокашники (Войнович 7). The children of the big bosses, generals, ministers and Central Committee members lived an entirely different life and could get away with a great deal more than their classmates (7a).

П-304 • СА́МОЕ ПО́ЗДНЕЕ coll [Invar; adv (occas. parenth)] used when indicating or calculating the latest possible time or moment of completion for some action or event: at the (very) latest; [lim.] in no case later than (the time indicated).

Елена говорит в тревоге. Вот несчастье. Муж должен был вернуться самое позднее, слышите ли, — самое позднее, сегодня в три часа дня, а сейчас уже десять (Булгаков 3). Elena spoke anxiously. This was a disaster. Her husband was supposed to have been back this afternoon at three o'clock at the very latest—Do you hear? The very latest—and it was now ten (3b).

П-305 • НЕ ПОЗДОРО́ВИТСЯ кому coll [VP; impers; usu. fut or subjunctive] (usu. used as a threat or warning) very unpleasant things, troubles are awaiting s.o. (often because of his wrongdoing): X-у не поздоровится ≃ X is (really) going to get ⟨to catch⟩ it; X will be in big trouble; X will get what's coming to him; X will be in for it; X is going to have it rough; there will be hell ⟨the devil⟩ to pay.

Если Родионов начнёт давать правдивые показания, то многим городским руководителям не поздоровится. If Rodionov starts giving truthful testimony, quite a few city officials are going to be in big trouble.

П-306 • С ЧЕМ ВАС И ПОЗДРАВЛЯ́Ю ⟨-ем⟩ coll, iron or humor [sent; these forms only; fixed WO] an expression of congratulations to s.o. on account of sth. unpleasant, unenviable (some failure, trouble, nuisance etc): lucky you!; aren't you the lucky one(s)!; (isn't that) just great!; (oh,) congratulations!

«Нам пришлось съехаться со свекровью». — «С чем вас и поздравляю». "We had to move in with my mother-in-law." "Lucky you!"

П-307 • СТАНОВИ́ТЬСЯ/СТАТЬ ⟨ВСТАТЬ⟩ В ПО́ЗУ [VP; subj: human] 1. ~ (какую). Also: ПРИНИМА́ТЬ/ ПРИНЯ́ТЬ ПО́ЗУ [more often pfv] to assume a purposely affected stance, usu. in order to make an impression on s.o.: X принял позу ≃ X struck ⟨assumed⟩ a pose ⟨an attitude⟩.

…Какой-то несостоявшийся артист, встав в позу, читал с выражением поэму Маяковского «Хорошо» (Войнович 4). …Some failed actor, striking a pose, was reciting Mayakovsky's poem "It's Good" with genuine emotion (4a).

2. ~ кого, какую lit to adopt the traits and mannerisms of a type of person one is not and try to create for o.s. the reputation of being that type of person: X становится в позу [NP] ≃ X assumes ⟨takes on⟩ the role of a [NP]; X strikes the pose of a [NP]; X acts ⟨plays⟩ the part of a [NP]; X makes himself out to be a [NP].

Тактические соображения не раз заставляли бывшего парт-аппаратчика Демидова становиться в позу демократа. More than once tactical considerations forced former apparatchik Demidov to assume the role of a democrat.

3. ~ кого, какую, often в позу обиженного, оскорблённого etc to act as if one were the victim of some great offense, displaying one's hurt (or feigned hurt) in an exaggerated manner: X становится в позу обиженного ≃ X assumes an offended ⟨injured etc⟩ air; X strikes an injured ⟨a wounded⟩ pose; X acts offended ⟨injured, wounded etc⟩; X takes great offense.

Илье показалось что его родители были недостаточно любезны с его невестой. Он стал в позу обиженного и перестал звонить им. It seemed to Ilya that his parents weren't nice enough to his fiancée. He took great offense and stopped calling them.

П-308 • ПОИ́ТЬ И КОРМИ́ТЬ ⟨ПОИ́ТЬ-КОРМИ́ТЬ⟩ кого highly coll [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to support s.o., have s.o. as one's dependent: X поил и кормил Y-а ≃ X fed and kept Y. ○ ПОИ́ЛЕЦ И КОРМИ́ЛЕЦ ⟨ПОИ́ЛЕЦ-КОРМИ́ЛЕЦ, ПОИ́ЛИЦА И КОРМИ́ЛИЦА, ПОИ́ЛИЦА-КОРМИ́ЛИЦА⟩ obs [NP] ≃ breadwinner.

«А сколько мои родители престарелые получают — это тебе известно, товарищ Ганичев? Нет? А кто их поит-кормит? Давай обсудим и этот вопрос…» (Абрамов 1). "And how much do my aged parents get? Do you happen to know that, Comrade Ganichev? No? And who feeds them and keeps them? Let's discuss that matter" (1a).

П-309 • (ТАК) НЕ ПОЙДЁТ! coll [these forms only; indep. sent or clause; fixed WO] (used to express the speaker's opinion that) the current situation or the implemented or suggested course of action is unacceptable: that's no good!; that ⟨this⟩ won't work ⟨wash, do⟩!; that's not going to work!; that will never work!; no way!

«А вы что ж? Нет, так не пойдёт! Желаете счастья зятю и дочери, а сами не пьёте», — упрекнул Кокетай засмущавшегося деда Момуна. «Ну разве что за счастье, я что ж», — заторопился старик. На удивление всем, он ахнул до дна почти полный стакан водки… (Айтматов 1). "But what about you? No, no, that will not do! You toast to the happiness of your daughter and your son-in-law and then don't drink yourself," Koketay reproached the embarrassed Momun. "Well, if it's to happiness, sure…" he mumbled hurriedly. And, to everyone's surprise, he gulped down almost a full glass in a single breath (1a).

П-310 • ДАЛЕКО́ ПОЙТИ́ ⟨УЙТИ́ rare⟩ coll, approv or iron [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] to achieve great success, a high position in life, or attain great results in sth. (when used ironically refers to success achieved through unethical means or in criminal circles): X далеко пойдёт ≃ X will go far; X will go a long way.

Маргарита Антоновна гордилась Вериным возвышением, как лично своей заслугой: «Я говорила, вы далеко пойдёте! У меня на это нюх!» (Грекова 3). Margarita Antonovna was proud of Vera's promotion, took personal credit for it, remarking, "I said you'd go far! I've got a flair for that!" (3a).

П-311 • ПОКА́ ЧТО coll [AdvP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] 1. at the present time, regardless of what may happen later: for the time being; for the present; for the moment; for now; right now.

Секретарь поднял свиток, решил пока что ничего не записывать и ничему не удивляться (Булгаков 9). The secretary picked up the scroll, decided not to write anything down for the time being and not to be surprised at anything (9c).

2. concurrently with (the action, activity etc mentioned in the preceding context): in the meantime; meanwhile; during all this.

…Полгода понадобилось «Крохоткам», чтобы достичь Европы, — для того же, чтоб о случившемся доложили вверх по медлительным нашим инстанциям… — ещё 8 месяцев… А пока что произошла «малая октябрьская» — сбросили Никиту [Хрущёва] (Солженицын 2). …If it had taken the "Miniatures" six months to reach Europe, it took another eight months for a report on this event to make its way upward through the various levels of our dilatory bureaucracy. In the meantime, the "Little October Revolution" had taken place: Khrushchev had been thrown overboard (2a).

3. Also: ПОКА́ ЕЩЁ up to and including the present: so ⟨thus⟩ far; as yet; as of now; up till now; (right now s.o. ⟨sth.⟩) still…; [with a negated predic only] yet.

Опыты эти пока что реальных результатов не давали, хотя некоторые характерные признаки пукса [гибрида картофеля с помидором] стали уже проявляться: листья и стебли на нём были вроде картофельные, зато корни точь-в-точь помидорные (Войнович 2). So far these experiments had not produced any actual results, although certain characteristics of the PATS [a hybrid of the potato and the tomato] had started to appear: the leaves and stems were potato-like, while the roots were letter-perfect tomato (2a). ♦ «А что, жена уже родила?» — спросил он. «Нет, она пока что не родила» (Войнович 3). "What, did your wife give birth already?" he asked. "No, she hasn't yet" (3a).

П-312 • МА́ЛО НЕ ПОКА́ЖЕТСЯ (кому) coll [VP; impers; usu. fut; fixed WO] 1. [also past and subjunctive] the consequences of some action or characteristic will be most undesirable, such that they could not be worse, more frightening, more unpleasant etc: it will be worse than anyone ⟨we, you etc⟩ can ⟨could⟩ imagine; you ⟨I etc⟩ can't imagine anything worse ⟨a worse scenario⟩; one will ⟨you'll⟩ wish it had never happened; it will be bad beyond belief.

Если крайне правые придут к власти, никому мало не покажется. If the extreme right comes into power, it will be worse than anyone could imagine.

2. [also subjunctive] used as a threat to cause harm to s.o.: (X-у) мало не покажется ≃ X ⟨one⟩ will wish he had never been born; [when the speaker threatens to inflict what he considers a well-deserved punishment] X will get what is coming to him ⟨what he asked for, what he deserves⟩; X will rue the day.

Ежели проговоришься, схлопочешь у меня — мало не покажется! If you spill the beans, you're going to get it. You'll wish you'd never been born.

П-313 • ПОКА́ЗЫВАТЬ/ПОКАЗА́ТЬ СЕБЯ́ [VP; subj: human, collect, or animal; more often pfv] to demonstrate one's (usu. positive) qualities, abilities in full measure: X покажет себя ≃ person X will show (you ⟨them⟩) who he is; X will show (you ⟨them⟩) what he is capable of ⟨what he can do⟩; X will show (you ⟨them⟩) what kind of man ⟨woman etc⟩ he ⟨she⟩ is; X will show (you ⟨them⟩) the stuff he is made of; [of a person only; with an emphasis on one's desire to make a positive impression on s.o.] X will show himself in the best possible light; X will put his best foot forward; || X умеет показать себя ≃ [lim.] X knows how to sell himself.

«Попробуй он слегка верхушек какой-нибудь науки… [он] ещё, пожалуй, скажет потом: «Дай-ка себя покажу! Да такое выдумает мудрёное постановление, что многим придётся солоно…» (Гоголь 3). "If a man like that acquires a smattering of some science… he may even say to himself, 'I'll show them who I am,' and invent such a sage law that many people will smart for it…" (3c).

П-314 • ВОЗВОДИ́ТЬ/ВОЗВЕСТИ́ ПОКЛЁП на кого [VP; subj: human] to tell lies about s.o. (or o.s.), accuse s.o. (or o.s.) falsely: X возвёл поклёп на Y-а ⟨на себя⟩ ≃ X made a false accusation against Y ⟨himself⟩; X slandered ⟨slurred⟩ Y ⟨himself⟩.

[Арина Пантелеймоновна:] Да ведь она [Фёкла] лгунья, мой свет. (Те же и Фёкла.) [Фекла:] Ан нет, Арина Пантелеймоновна, грех вам понапрасну поклёп возводить (Гоголь 1). [A.:] But she's [Fiokla is] a liar, you know, my love. (Enter Fiokla.) [F.:] Oh no, Arina Panteleimonovna, it's… bad of you to slander me for nothing (1c).

П-315 • НА ПОКЛО́Н ⟨С ПОКЛО́НОМ obs⟩ к кому идти, ходить, ехать и т.п. [PrepP; these forms only; adv] 1. obs (to come to s.o.) expressing one's devotion, deference: X пошёл на поклон к Y-у ≃ X went to pay his respects ⟨homage⟩ to Y.

Он избрал филологический факультет. Мать ходила на поклон к профессорам, дабы их задобрить… (Набоков 1). He chose the philological faculty. His mother went to pay her respects to the professors in order to cajole them… (1a).

2. coll (to address s.o.) with a humble request, asking for help, patronage etc: X пойдёт на поклон к Y-у ≃ X will go begging to Y; X will come to Y cap ⟨hat⟩ in hand; X will go to Y to seek favor.

В Москву он [Маленков] ни разу не ездил «на поклон» и «прощения» не просил (Аллилуева 2). He [Malenkov] never once came to Moscow to seek favor, nor did he ever beg forgiveness (2a).

П-316 • КЛАСТЬ ПОКЛО́НЫ obs [VP; subj: human] to bend toward the ground (often down low, usu. when praying): X клал поклоны ≃ X bowed (to the ground).

По всей церкви слышно было, как казак Свербигуз клал поклоны (Гоголь 5). All over the church one could hear the Cossack Sverbiguz bowing to the ground (5a).

П-317 • НА ПОКО́Е obsoles [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, жить etc (subj: human)] (to be, live) at rest, not working (because of advanced age): in retirement.

П-318 • ОСТАВЛЯ́ТЬ/ОСТА́ВИТЬ В ПОКО́Е кого-что [VP; subj: human; obj: more often human] to cease disturbing s.o. or sth., stop pestering s.o.: X оставил Y-а в покое ≃ X left person Y in peace; X left ⟨let⟩ Y alone; X did not bother person Y anymore; X let Y be.

[Нина:] Давайте, давайте, оправдывайте его [Васеньку], защищайте. Если хотите, чтобы он совсем рехнулся… [Васенька:] Я с ума хочу сходить, понятно тебе? Сходить с ума и ни о чём не думать! И оставь меня в покое! (Уходит в другую комнату.) (Вампилов 4). [Nina:] Go ahead, go ahead and agree with him [Vasenka], defend him. If you want him to go completely crazy…. [Vasenka:] I want to go nuts, understand? Go nuts and not think about anything! So leave me alone! (He goes into the other room.) (4b).

П-319 • ВЕ́ЧНЫЙ ПОКО́Й lit [NP; sing only] 1. peace after death: eternal rest; everlasting peace.

«Ты, великий, если ты есть, прости нас и прими захоронение раба твоего Казангапа с милостью, и если он того заслуживает, определи его душу на вечный покой» (Айтматов 2). "You, oh great one, if You exist, forgive us and in your mercy accept the burial of your Kazangap and, if he deserved it, grant his soul everlasting peace" (2a).

2. ~ кому [the resulting phrase is used as indep. sent] let the deceased be at peace: may he ⟨she⟩ rest in peace; God rest his ⟨her⟩ soul.

П-320 • НА ПОКО́Й [PrepP; Invar] 1. (кому) пора, надо, можно и т.п. ~ [adv (with the infin implied)] (it is time to, one should, one can etc) go to sleep: (X-у) пора на покой ≃ (it's) time (for X) to turn in ⟨to get some rest, to get some sleep⟩; now to bed; (it's) time for bed.

[Любовь Андреевна:] Кофе выпит, можно на покой (Чехов 2). [L.A.:] That's the end of the coffee. Time for bed (2b).

2. уйти, удалиться, пора и т.п. ~ [adv] to stop working (at one's job) because of advanced age: X ушёл на покой ≃ X retired; X went into retirement; || X-у пора на покой ≃ X should retire; it's time X retired; [lim.] X is overdue for retirement.

…Конферансье ушёл на покой и начал жить на свои сбережения, которых, по его скромному подсчёту, должно было хватить ему на пятнадцать лет (Булгаков 9). …The master of ceremonies retired and went to live on his savings, which, according to his modest calculations, should last him for fifteen years (9a). …He [the emcee] went into retirement and began living on his savings, which, according to his modest calculations, would last him for fifteen years (9c).

3. пора, можно и т.п. ~ [adv (with the infin implied)] (it is time for s.o.) to die: X-у пора на покой ≃ X's time has come (to die).

Смерть не страшила старуху: она давно свыклась с мыслью, что пора на покой. Death didn't frighten the old woman: she had long been used to the idea that her time had come.

П-321 • ИЗ ПОКОЛЕ́НИЯ В ПОКОЛЕ́НИЕ; ОТ ПОКОЛЕ́НИЯ К ПОКОЛЕ́НИЮ передавать, передаваться, переходить; передача и т.п. [PrepP; these forms only; fixed WO] 1. (of hereditary traits) (be transmitted ⟨be passed, pass down, pass on etc⟩) from parents to children, from the elder to the younger generation: from generation to generation; from one generation to the next; generation after generation; through the generations; for generations.

2. (of cultural heritage, traditions, crafts passed down) (be transmitted ⟨be passed (down), be handed down, pass on, continue etc⟩) from the older to the younger: from genera- tion to generation; from one generation to the next; generation after generation; through (the) generations; for generations (to come).

Таков был первый дебют глуповского либерализма. Несмотря, однако ж, на неудачу, «дурные страсти» не умерли, а образовали традицию, которая переходила преемственно из поколения в поколение и при всех последующих градоначальниках (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). Such was the debut of Foolovian liberalism. In spite of misfortune, however, the "evil passions" did not die but formed a tradition, which passed in succession from generation to generation under all subsequent town governors (1a).

П-322 • ПОКО́НЧИТЬ С СОБО́Й; ПОКО́НЧИТЬ (СЧЁТЫ) С ЖИ́ЗНЬЮ lit; ПОКО́НЧИТЬ (ЖИЗНЬ) САМОУБИ́ЙСТВОМ [VP; subj: human] to kill o.s.: X покончил с собой ≃ X committed suicide; X took his (own) life; X did away with himself; X finished himself off.

Оставшись одна, Соня тотчас же стала мучиться от страха при мысли, что, может быть, действительно он покончит самоубийством (Достоевский 3). Left alone, Sonya immediately began to be tormented by fear at the thought that he might indeed commit suicide (3c).

П-323 • ПОКОРИ́ТЕЛЬ ⟨ПОКОРИ́ТЕЛЬНИЦА⟩ СЕРДЕ́Ц humor or iron [NP; fixed WO] a person who enjoys success with members of the opposite sex: conqueror of women's ⟨men's⟩ hearts; heartbreaker; [of a man only] lady-killer; ladies' ⟨lady's⟩ man; heartthrob; Romeo; [of a woman only] siren; femme fatale.

…Почти все дамы, по крайней мере огромнейшее большинство их, стояли за Митю и за оправдание его. Может быть, главное, потому, что о нём составилось представление как о покорителе женских сердец (Достоевский 2). …Almost all the ladies, at least the great majority of them, favored Mitya and his acquittal. Mainly, perhaps, because an idea had been formed of him as a conqueror of women's hearts (2a).

П-324 • НЕ ДАВА́ТЬ ПОКО́Я ⟨-ю⟩ кому [VP; subj: human or abstr] to disturb, worry s.o. unremittingly: X не даёт Y-у покоя ≃ X gives Y no peace ⟨rest⟩; X doesn't give Y a moment's peace ⟨rest⟩; person X doesn't ⟨won't⟩ leave ⟨let⟩ Y alone (for a second ⟨a moment etc⟩; X haunts Y.

В первые дни Семён опасался, что Митягин покою не даст — каждый день будет приходить и жаловаться (Тендряков 1). For the first few days Simon feared that Mityagin would give him no peace—that he would come round every day and whine (1a).

П-325 • НЕ ЗНАТЬ ⟨НЕ НАХОДИ́ТЬ/НЕ НАЙТИ́ (себе), НЕ ВИ́ДЕТЬ⟩ ПОКО́Я ⟨-ю⟩ [VP; subj: human] to be in a nervous state, experience constant anxiety: X не знает покоя ≃ X knows no peace; X is unable to find peace of mind.

[Дом] много раз перестраивали, по плану отца. Должно быть, он просто не находил себе покоя… То ему не хватало солнца, то нужна была тенистая терраса; если был один этаж — пристраивали второй, а если их было два — то один сносили… (Аллилуева 1). My father had it [the house] rebuilt over and over again. Probably he was just unable to find peace of mind…. Either there was too little sunshine for him or it needed a terrace in the shade. If there was one floor it needed two, and if there were two, well, better tear one down (1a).

П-326 • ПОД ПОКРО́ВОМ чего, often ночи, темноты [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] masked by sth., using sth. as concealment, as a disguise: under cover ⟨a cloak, a veil, a blanket⟩ of; hidden by a shroud of; under the guise of; || под покровом тайны ≃ under a cloak ⟨a shroud⟩ of secrecy; under cover of secrecy.

П-327 • НА ОДИ́Н ПОКРО́Й; ОДНОГО́ ПОКРО́Я both coll [PrepP or NP_{gen}; these forms only; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human, concr, or count abstr, pl), adv (1st var.), or nonagreeing modif; fixed WO] (two or more people, things etc are) very similar or identical to one another in some respect (esp. in regard to shortcomings): (все) X-ы ⟨X-ы и Y-и и т.п.⟩ на один покрой ≃ Xs ⟨Xs and Ys⟩ are all alike; [of people only] Xs ⟨Xs and Ys⟩ are (all) cut from the same cloth; Xs ⟨Xs and Ys⟩ are cast in the same mold; Xs ⟨Xs and Ys⟩ are birds ⟨all⟩ of a feather; Xs ⟨Xs and Ys⟩ are (all) of the same ilk; [of things only] Xs ⟨Xs and Ys⟩ are all done ⟨written etc⟩ in the same style.

«Кажется, я имел случай изучить эту породу людей — их столько к тебе ходит, — все на один покрой» (Толстой 2). "I think I've had occasion enough to get to know this breed by now—so many of them come to you—and they're all of a feather" (2b).

П-328 • СТА́РОГО ⟨СТАРИ́ННОГО⟩ ПОКРО́Я [NP_{gen}; Invar; nonagreeing modif; fixed WO] a person who has old-fashioned ways, adheres to old-fashioned ideas and beliefs etc: of the old school ⟨stamp⟩.

Для московского света, Пьер был самым милым, добрым, умным, весёлым, великодушным чудаком, рассеянным и душевным, русским, старого покроя, барином (Толстой 5). In the eyes of Moscow society, Pierre was the nicest and kindest of men, the brightest and jolliest, the most generous of eccentrics, a harebrained and warm-hearted Russian gentleman of the old school (5c).

П-329 • ПОКУШЕ́НИЕ ⟨ПОПЫ́ТКА⟩ С НЕГО́ДНЫМИ СРЕ́ДСТВАМИ rather lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] an attempt to do sth. without sufficient resources, means etc (with the implication that it is doomed to fail): exercise in futility; fruitless exercise; futile ⟨hopeless⟩ attempt; [lim.] fool's errand.

Когда Костя начал звонить Алле каждый день и посылать ей цветы, все думали, что это покушение с негодными средствами. Но не прошло и трёх месяцев, как она вышла за него замуж. When Kostya started calling Alla every day and sending her flowers, everyone thought it was an exercise in futility. But before three months were up, she had married him.

П-330 • СИ́ЛЬНЫЙ ПОЛ [NP; sing only; fixed WO] men: the stronger ⟨sterner⟩ sex.

П-331 • СЛА́БЫЙ ⟨НЕ́ЖНЫЙ, ПРЕКРА́СНЫЙ⟩ ПОЛ [NP; sing only; fixed WO] women: the fair ⟨weaker⟩ sex.

Он был добрый малый, но ветрен и беспутен до крайности. Главною его слабостью была страсть к прекрасному полу; нередко за свои нежности получал он толчки, от которых охал по целым суткам (Пушкин 2). He was good-natured, but flighty and extremely wayward. His chief weakness was a passion for the fair sex; all too often, however, his tender advances were parried by blows that set him moaning and groaning for days on end (2c).

П-332 • ОДИ́Н В ПО́ЛЕ НЕ ВО́ИН [saying] a person undertaking or trying to carry out sth. alone encounters endless difficulties, has trouble coping, cannot do everything himself: ≃ one's as good as none; one body is nobody; one man can't win a war; one man does not make a team; [lim.] there is strength in numbers.

П-333 • ПО́ЛЕ БРА́НИ elev; ПО́ЛЕ ЧЕ́СТИ obs, elev; ПО́ЛЕ БИ́ТВЫ ⟨СРАЖЕ́НИЯ, БО́Я⟩ [NP; only поле сражения is used in pl; fixed WO] the territory on which a battle takes place: field of battle; battlefield; battleground.

…Едва ли не в эту самую эпоху сложилась знаменитая пословица: шапками закидаем! — которая впоследствии долгое время служила девизом глуповских подвигов на поле брани (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). The famous saying "It's in the bag!"—which afterwards served for a long time as the motto for Foolovian exploits on the field of battle—must have arisen in this period (1a).

П-334 • ПО́ЛЕ ЗРЕ́НИЯ чьё, кого [NP; sing only; fixed WO] 1. the area or expanse perceived by the eye: field ⟨range⟩ of vision; visual field; || в поле зрения ≃ in sight; within view.

Четыре орудия поочерёдно слали снаряды туда, за поваленные ряды пшеницы, но, сверх Григорьева ожидания, орудийный огонь не внёс заметного замешательства в цепи красных, — они отходили неспешно, организованно и уже выпадали из поля зрения сотни, спускаясь за перевал в балку (Шолохов 4). The four guns, one after the other, sent their shells across the swathes of wheat, but to Grigory's surprise the artillery fire caused no noticeable confusion in the Red lines. They fell back in an unhurried, orderly fashion and disappeared from the squadron's field of vision into a ravine (4a).

2. (in refer. to a person's being in, disappearing from, removing himself from etc) s.o.'s area of interest, concern, attention etc: X держал Y-а в поле зрения ⟨не упускал Y-а из поля зрения⟩ ≃ X kept track of Y; X kept an eye ⟨kept tabs⟩ on Y; || X упустил Y-а из поля зрения ≃ X lost touch with Y; X lost track of Y; X fell out of touch with Y; || Y исчез из X-ова поля зрения ≃ Y stopped communicating (with X) altogether; Y stopped writing ⟨calling⟩ (X) altogether; Y fell out of touch with X; Y dropped out of sight; Y disappeared from view.

Родственники Марата по материнской линии, оказывается, всё время держали его в поле своего зрения… (Искандер 2). Marat's relatives on his mother's side, it turned out, constantly kept an eye on him… (2a). И тут отец сделал, как говорила мама, второй умный шаг в своей жизни (первый, понятно, был — женитьба на ней) — уехал из Москвы. Тогда говорили: НКВД найдёт везде. Отец понял: не найдёт. Не будут искать. Не смогут — слишком много дел в столице. И — исчез из поля зрения (Чудаков 1). At this point Father did what Mama always called the second smart thing he ever did in his life (the first, of course, was marrying her), and moved us out of Moscow. At the time everyone was saying that the NKVD would find you anywhere. But Father understood: no, they wouldn't. They wouldn't even look for you. They couldn't: they had their hands full in the capital. And so he disappeared from view (1a).

П-335 • ЧЕМ МОГУ́ БЫТЬ ПОЛЕ́ЗЕН?; ЧЕМ МОГУ́ СЛУЖИ́ТЬ (ВАМ)? [formula phrase; fixed WO] used when asking the interlocutor if the speaker can help him in any way: what can I do for you?; is there anything I can do for you?; (how) can ⟨may⟩ I help you?; how can I be of help?; how can I be of service to you?

Ошеломлённый буфетчик неожиданно услышал тяжёлый бас: «Ну-с, чем я вам могу быть полезен?» (Булгаков 9). Suddenly the stupefied barman heard a deep bass voice: "Well sir, and what can I do for you?" (9b). The stunned bartender suddenly heard a deep bass say, "Well, sir, how can I help you?" (9c).

П-336 • ПОЛИ́ТИКА КНУТА́ И ПРЯ́НИКА [NP; fixed WO] tactics combining (the threat of) punishment and (the promise of) reward: carrot-and-stick policy.

Правительства всегда и везде проводят политику кнута и пряника. Кнут вы получили. Теперь ждите пряник (Зиновьев 1). "Governments always and everywhere have used carrot and stick policies. You've had your share of the stick. Now you're waiting for a bit of carrot to come your way" (1a).

< This phrase became commonly used in Russian after the publication of The Golden Calf («Золотой телёнок»), by Ilya Ilf and Evgeny Petrov, 1931 (ch. 12).

П-337 • С ПОЛИ́ЧНЫМ поймать, задержать кого, попасться и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to catch s.o., be caught etc) at the scene of a crime with indisputable evidence: X поймал Y-а с поличным ≃ X caught Y red-handed; X caught Y in the act (of doing sth.); [in refer. to stealing only] X caught Y with Y's hand in the cookie jar ⟨in the till⟩.

Полковник Емышев… украл двести казённых рублей, но, пойманный с поличным, вынужден был их вернуть и уйти с работы… (Войнович 3). Colonel Emyshev stole two hundred rubles of state funds, but, caught red-handed, he was forced to return them and leave work… (3a).

П-338 • НА́ШЕГО ⟨В НА́ШЕМ⟩ ПОЛКУ́ ПРИ́БЫЛО coll [sent; these forms only; fixed WO] (in refer. to a group or type of people sharing a common cause, belief etc) with this addition or these additions there are more of us now, there is an increase in people like us: our ranks have grown ⟨swelled⟩; our numbers have grown ⟨increased⟩; that's a gain for our side; there is a new recruit ⟨there are new recruits⟩ to our ranks; [lim.] reinforcements have arrived.

[Беркутов:] Разумеется, я душою всегда буду с вами, в вашей партии. [Мурзавецкая:] Ну, так мы тебя и запишем; значит, нашего полку прибыло (Островский 5). [B.:] Of course, I shall always be in sympathy with you; one of your party. [M.:] Well, then, we'll register you; that means a gain for our side. (5a).

П-339 • ДА И ПО́ЛНО obs, coll [Invar; usu. the concluding clause in a compound sent; fixed WO] used to add emphasis and a note of finality to the word or phrase with which it is used (that word or phrase itself generally summarizes what came before): and that's all there is to it; and that's the ⟨a⟩ fact; in a word.

«А вот у хрыча Черевика нет совести, видно, и на полшеляга: сказал да и назад… Ну, его и винить нечего, он пень, да и полно» (Гоголь 5). "But it seems that old grumbler Cherevik has not a half pint of conscience: he gave his word, but he has taken it back…. Well, it is no good blaming him: he is a blockhead and that's the fact (5a).

«Вы уж простите меня, владыко, за эту лекцию, я к ней прибег для полноты картины» (Акунин 4). "I beg your pardon for this lecture, Your Eminence, I have only given it in order to paint the full picture" (4a).

П-341 • ОТ ПОЛНОТЫ́ ДУШИ́ ⟨СЕ́РДЦА, ЧУ́ВСТВ(А)⟩ [PrepP; these forms only; adv] from an excess of emotion: from ⟨out of⟩ the fullness of one's heart; from (a) fullness of heart; from a plentitude ⟨an abundance⟩ of feeling.

[Городничий:] У меня уж такой нрав: гостеприимство с самого детства; особливо если гость просвещённый человек. Не подумайте, чтобы я говорил это из лести. Нет, не имею этого порока, от полноты души выражаюсь (Гоголь 4). [Mayor:] That's my disposition, hospitable from my childhood, especially if the guest is a man of culture. Don't think I'm saying this in flattery: no, I haven't that vice; I am expressing myself out of the fullness of my heart (4d).

П-342 • ДРАЖА́ЙШАЯ ПОЛОВИ́НА obs, humor; МОЯ́ ⟨ТВОЯ, ЕГО, ЕЁ⟩ ПОЛОВИ́НА humor [NP; fixed WO] a wife or, rarely, a husband as viewed in relation to her or his spouse: one's better half.

П-343 • ВХОДИ́ТЬ/ВОЙТИ́ В ПОЛОЖЕ́НИЕ чьё, кого [VP; subj: human; often pfv imper or infin with надо, стараться etc; fixed WO] to identify o.s. with another, understand his problems, situation, motives etc and relate to him with full attention and empathy: войди(те) в Х-ово положение ≃ put yourself in X's place ⟨position, shoes⟩; put yourself in the position ⟨place⟩ of X; try to see X's side of it; try to understand X's position; look at it from X's perspective ⟨point of view, position⟩.

[Нина (Полине Андреевне):] Отказать Ирине Николаевне, знаменитой артистке!.. Просто невероятно! [Полина Андреевна (в отчаянии):] Что я могу? Войдите в моё положение: что я могу? (Чехов 6). [Nina (to Polina):] Saying no to a famous actress like Irina Nikolaevna!… It's unbelievable! [Polina (in despair):] But what can I do? Put yourself in my place. What can I do? (6d). [Nina (to Polina Andreyevna):] To refuse Irina Nikolayevna, the famous actress!… It's simply unbelievable! [Polina Andreyevna (in despair):] What can I do? Look at it from my position: what can I do? (6c).

П-344 • ЛО́ЖНОЕ ПОЛОЖЕ́НИЕ [NP; sing only; fixed WO] an uncomfortable situation: awkward ⟨embarrassing, false⟩ position.

«[Вы] поступили неправильно… поставили сержанта Токареву в ложное положение, но, принимая во внимание, что вы боевой офицер, я это дело прекращаю…» (Рыбаков 1). "You acted improperly…. You placed Sergeant Tokareva in a false position, but in view of the fact that you're a combat officer, I'm closing the case" (1a).

П-345 • ПИ́КОВОЕ ПОЛОЖЕ́НИЕ highly coll [NP; sing only; fixed WO except when used as VP_{subj} with copula] a difficult, troublesome situation: sticky ⟨tough, tricky⟩ situation; (person X is in) a mess ⟨a tight spot, a bind, a pickle⟩.

«Она [Лиля] потребовала книгу стихов Блока с автографом. „Но как же я это сделаю, если я с Блоком, в сущности, даже не знаком. Тем более — футурист, а он — символист…" — „Это ваше дело". Положение пиковое, но если Лиличка велела… о чём тут может быть речь?..» (Катаев 3). "…What she [Lilya] wanted was a signed copy of Blok. 'But how can I do that when I don't even know Blok properly? Specially as I'm a futurist and he's a symbolist…' 'That's your business.' Well, I was in a tough spot, but if that was what Lilichka wanted…. That was that" (3a).

П-346 • ПОЛОЖЕ́НИЕ ВЕЩЕ́Й [NP; sing only; usu. subj or obj] the situation, circumstances: the state of affairs; the lay of the land; the way things are; [often after каково] how things are; how the land lies.

«Я понимаю, тебе очень тяжело. Но я хочу, чтобы ты ясно представила себе положение вещей» (Рыбаков 2). "I know it's very hard for you, but I want you to have a clear understanding of the way things are" (2a).

П-347 • ПОЛОЖЕ́НИЕ ХУ́ЖЕ ГУБЕРНА́ТОРСКОГО humor [VP_{subj} with $быть_{ø}$; usu. pres; fixed WO] the situation is extremely unpleasant, difficult etc: this is ⟨things are in⟩ a fine mess; it's about as bad as it can get; s.o. is up the creek (without a paddle); a most awkward predicament; woeful ⟨sorry⟩ plight; s.o. is in a (very) sticky situation.

< According to academician Viktor Vinogradov, «губернатор» is an old term from horse-breeding jargon for a male horse that was used to excite a mare before she was mated with a stallion of good breeding. He points out, though, that 19th-cent. writers assumed the phrase to be based on the office of a "governor," the common meaning of «губернатор».

П-348 • СПАСА́ТЬ/СПАСТИ́ ПОЛОЖЕ́НИЕ [VP; subj: human; more often pfv past] to set right or smooth over a difficult, uncomfortable, tense etc situation or find a way of getting o.s. or another out of such a situation: Х спас положение ≃ X remedied the situation; X saved the day; [lim.] X found ⟨gave person Y⟩ a way out ⟨an escape hatch⟩.

В гостиной явно нарастало напряжение, спорящие, казалось, готовы были вцепиться друг в друга, но тут вбежал плачущий ребёнок, отвлёк внимание и тем спас положение. The tension in the living room was clearly building, and it seemed as if the individuals arguing were about to sink their teeth into each other, when suddenly a child ran in crying, diverting everyone's attention and thus saving the day.

П-349 • В ПОЛОЖЕ́НИИ euph; В ИНТЕРЕ́СНОМ ПОЛОЖЕ́НИИ obsoles, euph [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with $быть_{ø}$ (subj: human, female); fixed WO] one is pregnant: Х в (интересном) положении ≃ X is in the ⟨a⟩ family way; X is expecting; X is with child.

Пишу в какую-то инстанцию письмо. Показываю одному из своих доброжелателей, вижу — он недоволен. «Ну зачем вы пишете в требовательном тоне? Просите. Расскажите, что вы из рабочих… что жена в положении…» (Войнович 3). I wrote a letter to some office; I showed it to one of my well-wishers and saw that he was not pleased. "Why do you write in a demanding tone? Request. Tell them you're from the working class… that your wife is expecting…" (3a).

П-350 • ВЫХОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЙТИ ИЗ ПОЛОЖЕ́НИЯ [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to find a means of escape from a situation that is difficult, unpleasant, awkward etc: Х вышел из положения ≃ X found a way out (of the situation); X found an escape hatch; X got out of the ⟨his⟩ situation; X extricated himself from the predicament; X remedied the situation; ‖ Х умело ⟨с честью и т.п.⟩ вышел из незавидного ⟨неловкого и т.п.⟩ положения ≃ X emerged deftly ⟨with honor etc⟩ from an unenviable ⟨embarrassing etc⟩ situation. ○ ВЫХОД ИЗ ПОЛОЖЕ́НИЯ [NP] ≃ way out.

Один мой родственник, узнав о моих невзгодах, специально приехал из провинции ко мне, чтобы научить меня, как выйти из положения (Войнович 1). Learning of my troubles, a relative of mine made a special trip from the provinces to advise me on how to get out of my situation (1a). ♦ Она [тётушка Хрисула] имела в виду, что даже поймав осквернённый инжир, Деспина могла с честью выйти из этого положения, просто перебросив этот инжир ей, тётушке Хрисуле (Искандер 5). She [Auntie Chrysoula] meant that even after catching the defiled fig, Despina could have remedied the situation honorably, simply by throwing the fig to her, Auntie Chrysoula (5a).

П-351 • ДО ПОЛОЖЕ́НИЯ РИЗ [PrepP; Invar; fixed WO] 1. напиться, пьян и т.п. ~ coll [adv (intensif) or modif] (to get or be) extremely (drunk): X напился ~ ≃ X was ⟨got⟩ dead ⟨blind, stone⟩ drunk; X drank himself under the table ⟨into a stupor⟩.

И этого секретаря… удалось заполучить однажды на дачу к нашим знакомым в Снегири — там он надрался до положения риз, всем надоел… (Трифонов 5). We subsequently managed to get this secretary out to the dacha of some friends of ours in Snegiri, where he proceeded to get stone drunk and to antagonize absolutely everyone (5a).

2. obs [adv (intensif)] to an extreme degree: (do sth.) to the limit; (love ⟨hate⟩) terribly; (fight) to the finish; (fight ⟨fight (out) the quarrel etc⟩) to the bitter end.

[Глагольев 2:] Правду ли говорят, что она… любит деньги до положения риз? (Чехов 1). [G.:] Is it true that she loves money? I mean, terribly? (1a). ♦ «Ах, Аркадий! Сделай одолжение, поссоримся раз хорошенько — до положения риз, до истребления» (Тургенев 2). "Oh, Arkady! Do me a favor, let's have a real quarrel once and for all—to the bitter end, to the death" (2g).

П-352 • КАК ПОЛО́ЖЕНО [как + AdjP; Invar; sent adv (parenth)] (sth. is done, to do sth) in the acceptable, customary fashion: as (it) is proper ⟨appropriate, fitting, suitable⟩; the way it is ⟨it should be, it is supposed to be⟩ done; as one is supposed to (do); [lim.] de rigueur.

Докторша подкатывалась к дипломату по всей слоновьей науке британского обольщения… Начала миссис Труффо, как положено, с погоды: «Здесь, в южных широтах, солнце светит так ярко!» (Акунин 7). The doctor's wife had executed her lumbering approach to the diplomat with all the elephantine grace of a typical British seduction… Mrs. Truffo began, as was proper, with the weather. "The sun is so very bright in these southern latitudes!" (7a).

П-353 • КАК ПОЛОТНО́ ⟨СКА́ТЕРТЬ⟩ бледный, белый, побледнеть [как + NP; these forms only; modif or adv (intensif)] (to be, turn) very pale: (as) white ⟨pale⟩ as a sheet; (as) white as paper.

Малов, бледный как полотно, сделал отчаянное усилие овладеть шумом и не мог; студенты вскочили на лавки (Герцен 1). Malov, white as a sheet, made a desperate effort to control the uproar but could not; the students jumped on to the benches (1a).

П-354 • РАСКЛА́ДЫВАТЬ/РАЗЛОЖИ́ТЬ ПО ПО́ЛОЧКАМ ⟨ПО ПО́ЛКАМ⟩ что coll [VP; subj: human; obj: идеи, мысли, явления, материал, often всё] to arrange sth. according to a well-thought-out system, in strict order: X разложил Y-и по полочкам ≃ X organized ⟨categorized⟩ Ys; X sorted Ys out; X put Ys in order; X arranged Ys systematically.

Каким образом мы, полгода назад употреблявшие слово «футуризм» лишь в виде бранной клички, не только нацепили её на себя, но даже отрицали за кем бы то ни было право пользоваться этим ярлыком? Сыграла ли тут роль статья Брюсова в «Русской мысли», где он… разложил по полкам весь оказавшийся у него в руках, ещё немногочисленный к тому времени материал наших сборников?.. (Лившиц 1). How was it that we, who six months before had used the word "Futurism" only as a term of abuse, had not only appropriated it for ourselves, but denied anyone [else] the right to use the label? Had Briusov's article in Russian Thought played a role in the matter? In the article Bruisov… had categorized all the material in our miscellanies (which was not very much)… (1a).

П-355 • НА ПОЛПУТИ́ ⟨НА ПОЛДОРО́ГЕ⟩ остановиться, бросить что и т.п. [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to come to a stop) in the middle of sth., not having achieved the desired result; (to give up some undertaking, activity etc) in the middle, without bringing it to completion: (stop ⟨abandon sth.⟩) halfway ⟨midway⟩; (stop ⟨quit⟩) halfway through; (leave sth.) half-finished.

Что я мог сказать Марату? Что рок никогда не останавливается на полпути, а всегда до конца доводит свой безжалостный замысел? (Искандер 2). What could I say to Marat? That Fate never stops halfway, but always carries its pitiless design to the end! (2a).

П-356 • ЗАВОДИ́ТЬСЯ/ЗАВЕСТИ́СЬ С ПОЛУОБОРО́ТА ⟨С ПОЛ-ОБОРО́ТА, С ОДНОГО́ ОБОРО́ТА⟩ highly coll [VP; subj: human] to become easily angered, lose one's self-control quickly, react temperamentally to criticism: X завёлся с пол-оборота ≃ X went off half-cocked; X flew off the handle; || X всегда заводится с пол-оборота ≃ X is quick to fly off the handle; X has a short fuse.

Ведь я знаю: искренним или фальшивым выглядит собеседник, тактичен он или хам, заводится с пол-оборота или проявляет терпимость, — всё равно всё это ложь, ложь и лицемерие (Марченко 2). I know that, regardless of how sincere or hypocritical the official may look, whether he is tactful or uncouth, whether he goes off half-cocked or keeps his cool—it is all a lie anyway—a lie and a sham (2a).

П-357 • С ПОЛУСЛО́ВА ⟨С ПОЛСЛО́ВА coll⟩ понимать кого-что, схватывать что [PrepP; these forms only; adv; more often used with impfv verbs] (of a person) (to understand s.o. or sth., grasp sth.) at once, from the first words spoken, from just a hint: X понимает всё ~ ≃ X picks up on everything ⟨understands everything, gets the point⟩ at a word ⟨right away etc⟩; || X понимает Y-а ~ ≃ X catches person Y's meaning at once ⟨right away etc⟩; X understands person Y immediately ⟨right away etc⟩; || X и Y понимают друг друга ~ ≃ X and Y don't need to spell everything out.

Да, её муж стар и не очень красив, у него лысина, брюшко, но с ним легко и просто, он всё понимает с полуслова… (Некрасов 1). Yes, her husband was old and not very good-looking, he was bald, he had a paunch, but life with him was easy and simple; he understood everything at a word… (1a).

П-358 • НА ПОЛУСЛО́ВЕ ⟨НА ПОЛСЛО́ВЕ coll⟩ замолчать, остановиться, оборвать кого и т.п. [PrepP; these forms only; adv; more often used with pfv verbs] (of a person) (to cease talking, interrupt s.o. etc) at the very start or in the middle of a conversation, speech etc: X замолчал ~ ≃ X stopped ⟨broke off, checked himself⟩ in midsentence ⟨in midword, in midflow, in midspeech, in the middle of a sentence, in the middle of a word⟩; || X оборвал Y-а ~ ≃ X cut Y off (in midsentence ⟨in midword, in the middle of a sentence, in the middle of a word⟩); X cut Y short (in the middle of what Y was saying ⟨in the middle of Y's speech etc⟩.

Говорили все трое, и все трое замолкли на полуслове, как только я появился в дверях… (Искандер 5). All three were talking, and all three stopped in midsentence as soon as I appeared in the doorway… (5a). ♦ Лёва чуть не плакал: что сделали с человеком! Но сдержался, заговорил о другом, сильно издалека… Дед прервал Лёву на полуслове (Битов 2). Lyova all but wept: what had they done to the man! But he contained himself and started talking about something else, in a very roundabout way…. Grandfather cut Lyova short (2a).

П-359 • ДО ПОЛУСМЕ́РТИ [PrepP; Invar; adv (intensif) or modif] intensely, to a very high degree: избить кого ~ ≃ beat s.o. half ⟨almost⟩ to death; beat s.o. till he is (nearly) half-dead; beat s.o. to within an inch of his life; || испугать кого ~ ≃ scare s.o. (half) to death; scare the wits ⟨the living daylights⟩ out of s.o.; || испугаться ~ ≃ be scared (half) to death; be scared stiff ⟨out of one's wits⟩; || устать ⟨измучиться⟩ ~ ≃ be ⟨get⟩ dead tired; be ready to drop.

Бездетность-то и заставляла Настёну терпеть всё… Лишь однажды, когда Андрей, попрекая её, сказал что-то совсем уж невыносимое, она… ответила, что неизвестно ещё, кто из них причина — она или он, других мужиков она не пробовала. Он избил её до полусмерти (Распутин 2). And it was barrenness that made Nastyona bear it all…. Only once, when Andrei, berating her, said something completely unbearable, she replied that it wasn't clear yet whose fault it was—hers or his, since she hadn't tried other men yet. He beat her half to death (2a). ♦ Сударь помнил, как отец, загнав его в угол, избил до полусмерти (Семёнов 1). Squire remembered how his father would drive him into a corner and beat him to within an inch of his life (1a).

П-360 • ИЗ-ПОД ПОЛЫ́ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. продавать, покупать, торговать ~ (in refer. to the illegal sale or purchase of sth.) (to sell, buy sth., trade) secretly, stealthily: (from) under the counter; on the black market.

Жители Савёлова работали на заводе, а кормились рекой — рыбачили и из-под полы продавали рыбу (Мандельштам 1). The inhabitants of Savelovo worked mainly at the nearby factory, but they got a livelihood from the river by catching fish and selling it on the black market (1a).

2. (to do sth.) furtively, secretly: in secret; under cover; on the sly; [lim.] underhanded(ly); underhand.

Мы видели её [статью] однажды на кафедре, уже жёлтую, с потрёпанными ушами… Она там хранилась, по-видимому, как беспрецедентный случай. Ею гордились, не перечитывая, и кое-кому, из-под полы, показывали (Битов 2). We saw it [the article] once at the department, already yellow and dog-eared. It was apparently being preserved there as an unprecedented case. They were proud of it, although they didn't reread it, and they showed it to a few people on the sly (2a).

П-361 • ИЗ ПОЛЫ́ В ПОЛУ́ дать, передать, получить что obs, coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (in buying and selling, to give or receive sth.) right to or from another with no intermediary: personally; in person; directly.

П-362 • В ПО́ЛЬЗУ чью, кого-чего [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] 1. (often in refer. to the outcome of a trial, vote, sports competition etc) with the result favoring, being positive for some person or group: in favor of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; in s.o.'s favor; to s.o.'s advantage; [lim.] favorable to s.o.

«Ну что ты беспокоишься, — сказал он. — Собрание решило в твою пользу, значит всё в порядке» (Войнович 3). "Well, what are you worried about?" he said. "The assembly decided in your favor, that means everything's all right" (3a).

2. so that s.o. or sth. will benefit or profit: in favor of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; for the sake ⟨the benefit⟩ of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; for s.o.'s benefit; in the interests of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; in ⟨on⟩ behalf of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩.

[Войницкий:] Имение это не было бы куплено, если бы я не отказался от наследства в пользу сестры, которую горячо любил. Мало того, я десять лет работал, как вол, и выплатил весь долг… (Чехов 3). [V.:] … The estate would never have been bought if I hadn't given up my share of the inheritance in favor of my sister whom I dearly loved. What's more, I worked like an ox for ten years and paid off the entire debt (3a). ♦ Наша публика похожа на провинциала, который, подслушав разговор двух дипломатов, принадлежащих к враждебным дворам, остался бы уверен, что каждый из них обманывает своё правительство в пользу взаимной, нежнейшей дружбы (Лермонтов 1). Our reading public is like some country bumpkin who hears a conversation between two diplomats from opposing courts and goes away convinced that each is betraying his government for the sake of an intimate mutual friendship (1c). Our public resembles a provincial who, upon overhearing the conversation of two diplomats belonging to two warring Courts, is convinced that each envoy is betraying his government in the interests of a most tender mutual friendship (1a).

3. in defense of, backing s.o. or sth. (some measure, opinion etc): in support ⟨favor⟩ of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; [lim.] (be disposed ⟨be inclined, incline etc⟩) toward sth.

Публика начала даже склоняться в пользу того мнения, что вся эта история есть не что иное, как выдумка праздных людей… (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). The assemblage even began to incline toward the opinion that this whole incident was no more than the fabrication of idle people… (1a).

4. расположить кого в свою пользу or в пользу чью, кого to evoke a favorable attitude toward o.s. or s.o.: [of a person] X расположил Y-а в свою пользу ≃ X gained ⟨won⟩ Y's support ⟨favor⟩; X won Y over; X got into Y's good books ⟨good graces⟩; || Y расположен в X-ову пользу ≃ Y is well-disposed toward X; Y looks favorably upon X; X is in Y's good books ⟨good graces⟩; || X расположил Y-а в Z-ову пользу ≃ X gained ⟨won⟩ Z the support of Y; X made Y look favorably upon Z; X helped Z get into Y's good books ⟨good graces⟩; || [of a person's qualities] X-ова скромность ⟨откровенность и т.п.⟩ располагает в его пользу ≃ X's modesty ⟨frankness etc⟩ produces a favorable impression; || Neg X-ово упрямство ⟨бахвальство и т.п.⟩ не располагает в его пользу ≃ X's obstinacy ⟨bragging etc⟩ works against him.

Помочь тебе может только Семён Михайлович. Поговори с ним, постарайся расположить его в свою пользу. The only one who can help you is Semyon Mikhailovich. Talk to him, and try to win his support. ♦ Её манера вести себя не располагает в её пользу: она слишком заносчива и самоуверенна. The way she behaves works against her: she's too arrogant and self-assured.

П-363 • В ПО́ЛЬЗУ БЕ́ДНЫХ coll, iron [PrepP; Invar; adv, nonagreeing modif (of разговор, занятие etc), or subj-compl with copula (subj: abstr, often всё это); fixed WO] (to do sth.) uselessly, producing no positive, constructive results; useless (talk, work etc); sth. is useless: (do sth.) in vain; (do sth. ⟨sth. is⟩) to no avail; (sth. is) an exercise in futility; futile ([NP]); [of talk only] (nothing but) palaver; a lot of hot air.

Городской совет с утра до вечера обсуждает, как улучшить жизнь горожан, но всё это разговоры в пользу бедных: у городских властей нет денег. The municipal council discusses from morning till night how to improve citizens' lives, but all their talking is an exercise in futility: the city government is penniless.

П-364 • ГОВОРИ́ТЬ ⟨СВИДЕ́ТЕЛЬСТВОВАТЬ⟩ В ПО́ЛЬЗУ чью, кого-чего [VP; subj: abstr] to serve as evidence of the positive qualities of s.o. or sth.: X говорит в пользу Y-а ≃ X speaks well of Y; X is to person Y's credit; || Neg X не говорит в пользу Y-а ≃ [lim.] X does nothing to improve Y's reputation ⟨the reputation of Y⟩.

Она [аристократия] существовала, оказалось, лишь в своей классовой принадлежности, у неё не было идеи… У неё ничего не оказалось, когда у неё отняли принадлежность к классу. И то, что не все были враги, тоже не говорит в её пользу (Битов

2). They [the aristocrats] turned out to have existed only in their class affiliation, they lacked an idea…. There was nothing left to them when their class affiliation was taken away. Nor does it speak well of the aristocracy that they were not all enemies (2a).

П-365 • НА ПО́ЛЬЗУ [PrepP; Invar] 1. кому-чему [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, идти, пойти etc (subj: abstr or concr)] sth. is beneficial for some person or thing: X (идёт) Y-у ~ ≃ X is good for Y; X does Y good; X helps Y; X is ⟨works out⟩ to Y's advantage; Y benefits from X; [lim.] it's for Y's own good; || Neg X не идёт Y-у ~ ≃ [of food, climate etc] X doesn't agree with person Y.

…Пиво Ефим, конечно, пьёт и пьёт много, в этом он себе не отказывает, и пей, пей, Фима, если тебе на пользу (Аксёнов 6). …Yefim, of course, drank beer and drank a lot of it—he never deprived himself of this—so OK, drink, Yefim, drink, if it does you good (6a). ♦ …Наташка молодец. Правда, она держит Антона под каблуком. Но это ему на пользу (Зиновьев 2). …Natasha is wonderful. It's true she keeps Anton under her thumb, but it's for his own good (2a).

2. кого-чего [Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] in order to benefit s.o. or sth.: for the good ⟨benefit⟩ of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; to the benefit ⟨advantage⟩ of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩.

Он хорошо поработал на пользу фирмы, за что и получил повышение. He worked hard for the good of the company, so they promoted him.

П-366 • ПОЛЮБИ́ТЕ НАС ЧЁРНЕНЬКИМИ, А БЕ́ЛЕНЬКИМИ ВСЯ́КИЙ ПОЛЮ́БИТ [saying] accept, appreciate, love us just as we are, with our shortcomings because we cannot and/or do not want to change: ≃ take us as you find us; take us as we are; accept us for what we are.

П-367 • ОДНОГО́ ⟨ТОГО́ ЖЕ, СВОЕГО́, НА́ШЕГО и т.п.⟩ ПО́ЛЯ Я́ГОДА ⟨Я́ГОДЫ, Я́ГОДКИ⟩ coll [NP; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); pres only; fixed WO] (in refer. to personality traits, behaviors etc, often negative ones) s.o. is very similar to another (named or implied) person; two or more persons are very similar to each other: X и Y одного поля ягоды ≃ X and Y are birds of a feather; X and Y are two of a kind; X and Y are tarred with the same brush; X and Y are cast in the same mold; X and Y are of the same ilk ⟨stripe⟩; || Neg X — не нашего поля ягода ≃ X is cast in a different mold (from us); X is of a different breed (from us); X is a bird of a different feather (from us).

Понимает она хоть капельку Ирунчика или нисколько? Одного они с нею поля ягоды или с разных планет? (Залыгин 1). Had she an ounce of understanding for Irunchik, or none at all? Were they birds of a feather, or were they from different planets? (1a).

П-368 • ПОМАТРО́СИЛ И БРО́СИЛ highly coll [VP; subj: human, male (usu. omitted); more often past; fixed WO] a man has had a short and casual affair with a woman and then left her: you've ⟨he's⟩ had your ⟨his⟩ fun, and now it's good-bye; love 'em and leave 'em; use them and lose them.

«Так, Лашков, так, Вася, — отчеканила она. — Так. Выходит, о шкуре своей печёшься? А я как?.. Как я? Поматросил и бросил. Наше вам, мол, с кисточкой? Спасибо, Вася, только временить и ждать тебя я не собираюсь» (Максимов 3). "All right, Lashkov, all right, Vasilii," she said slowly and distinctly. "Right. So you're worried about your own skin, are you? And what about me?… What about me? You've had your fun, and now it's good-bye and good luck? Thanks, Vasilii, but I won't be hanging around to wait for you…" (3a).

П-369 • ДО ПОМЕША́ТЕЛЬСТВА увлечён, влюблён, скуп, упрям и т.п.; любить и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv or modif (intensif)] utterly (infatuated), totally (in love), extremely (stingy, stubborn etc), to the point of forgetting all else: to the point of madness; madly (in love ⟨infatuated⟩); maddeningly (stubborn ⟨obstinate, stingy etc⟩).

Низкорослая, тщедушная собака с бесстрашием до самозабвения, с упрямством до помешательства… продолжала преследовать могучего озлобленного зверя… (Тендряков 1). This small, puny dog, utterly fearless and obstinate to the point of madness, …continued to harass the huge enraged brute… (1a).

П-370 • И ПОМИ́НА ⟨-у⟩ НЕТ о ком-чём obs [NP$_{gen}$; these forms only; used as subj/gen] 1. (s.o. or sth. is) not discussed or referred to at all in conversation: об X-е и помину не было ≃ X was not even mentioned ⟨made mention of⟩; no mention was made of X; not a word was said about X; there wasn't any allusion to X.

…Опять Анисья заговорила носом, что «она в первый раз от хозяйки слышит о свадьбе, что в разговорах с ней даже помину не было, да и свадьбы нет, и статочное ли дело?» (Гончаров 1). …Again Anisya's nose proclaimed that this was the first time she had ever heard the landlady speak of a wedding; that it had never even been mentioned between them; and there was no wedding, was there, and how could such a thing be possible? (1b). …Once again Anisya's nose started wagging and protesting that no, it was the first time she had heard the landlady mention a wedding, that there had never been the slightest allusion to such a thing in their conversations and in any case there wasn't any wedding, it was out of the question (1c).

2. (s.o. or sth. is) completely absent, entirely missing, nonexistent etc: об X-е и помину не было ≃ there was no sign of X; there was not even ⟨not so much as⟩ a hint ⟨a trace etc⟩ of X.

П-371 • ПОМИНА́Й КАК ЗВА́ЛИ coll [Invar; predic or indep. clause; usu. follows one or more predicates having the same subj; used in pres, past, and future contexts; fixed WO] 1. ~ (кого) [impers or with subj: human] s.o. died, perished or will die, perish: (X-а) поминай как звали ≃ [in past contexts] that was the end of X; that was the end of the road (for X); it was all over (for X).

«…Или, может, и сам [ты], лежа на полатях, думал, думал, да ни с того, ни с другого заворотил в кабак, а потом прямо в прорубь, и поминай как звали» (Гоголь 3). "Or perhaps you took to brooding lying at night on your bunk over the oven, and then suddenly, for no reason whatsoever, after a stop at a tavern, headed straight for the river, jumped into a hole in the ice, and that was the end of you" (3c).

2. Also: МИ́ТЬКОЙ ЗВА́ЛИ substand [impers or with subj: human (both variants) or animal (var. with поминай only)] s.o. disappeared and has not been seen since, or will disappear and not be seen again: X ушёл ⟨уехал и т.п.⟩ и поминай как звали ≃ X left ⟨took off etc⟩ and that's the last we ⟨I etc⟩ ever saw of him; X left etc and we ⟨I etc⟩ haven't seen him since; X left ⟨disappeared etc⟩, never to return ⟨never to be seen again, never to be heard of again⟩; [lim.] X disappeared and was never heard from again.

После смерти матери Михаил уехал из родной деревни — и поминай как звали. After his mother's death Mikhail left his native village, never to return.

3. [used as a clause] (in refer. to sth. mentioned in the preceding context that has been lost, stolen, borrowed etc) sth. was never seen again or will never be seen again: [in past contexts] (and) that's the last we ⟨I etc⟩ (ever) saw of it; (and) we ⟨I etc⟩ never saw it again; (and) we ⟨I etc⟩ haven't seen it since; it disappeared without a trace; [lim.] it had vanished into thin air.

«Дай, Захар, фрак, не упрямься!» — «Не дам! — холодно отвечал Захар. — Пусть прежде они принесут назад жилет да нашу рубашку… Взяли вот этак же на именины, да и поминай как звали…» (Гончаров 1). "Don't be obstinate, Zakhar, bring the coat." "I won't!" Zakhar answered coldly. "Let him first return your waistcoat and shirt… He borrowed them to go to a birthday party and we've never seen them since" (1a).

П-372 • (И) В ПОМИ́НЕ нет, не осталось кого-чего (где, у кого) coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (s.o. or sth. is) completely absent, entirely missing etc: X-а и в помине не было ≃ there was no sign of X; there was not even ⟨not so much as⟩ a hint ⟨a trace⟩ of X; there was no ⟨not the slightest⟩ hint ⟨trace⟩ of X; [lim.] there wasn't even a mention of X; [in refer. to a specific character trait] person Y didn't possess ⟨have⟩ any X at all; [in refer. to a false account, invented story etc] person Y made it ⟨things⟩ up out of thin air.

Впервые чувство отщепенства зародилось у Мандельштама в двадцатые годы. В ранних стихах его нет и в помине… (Мандельштам 2). The feeling that he was an outsider first came to M[andelstam] in the twenties…. There is no sign of it in his early verse (2a). ♦ Естественно, что никаких шашлыков здесь и в помине не было… (Попов 1). Naturally there wasn't even a hint of any shashlik here (1a).

П-373 • ЛЁГОК ⟨ЛЁГКИЙ⟩ НА ПОМИ́НЕ coll [AdjP; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, subj: human (usu. short-form var.) or detached modif (long-form var.); fixed WO] s.o. appears suddenly (and usu. unexpectedly) just as or right after he is mentioned or thought of: speak ⟨talk⟩ of the devil.

[Каретников:] А ну-ка, почему-ка Свидерского нет? Ему бы надлежало быть… (В калитку входит Свидерский Леонид Казимирович…) Лёгок на помине! (Арбузов 1). [K.:] And why isn't Svidersky here? He should be among those present…. (Leonid Svidersky enters by the garden gate…) [K.:] Talk of the devil! (1a).

П-374 • НЕ ПО́МНИТЬ СЕБЯ́ (от радости, от счастья, от ярости, от боли и т.п.) coll; СЕБЯ́ НЕ СЛЫ́ШАТЬ obs [VP; subj: human] to be gripped by intense emotion, not be in control of one's behavior, actions etc (as the result of great joy, passion, pain etc): X не помнил себя (от Y-а) ≃ X was beside himself (with Y); X forgot himself; X didn't know ⟨had no idea⟩ what he was doing; X got carried away; X got ⟨was⟩ out of control; X lost control of himself.

Мария Вениаминовна долго играла Шопена; Б.Л. [Пастернак] был особенно возбуждён музыкой, глаза его блестели. А я себя не помнила от счастья (Ивинская 1). Maria Veniaminovna played Chopin for a long time. B.L. [Pasternak] was particularly affected by the music and his eyes shone. I was beside myself with happiness (1a). ♦ …Виктор тоже закричал, не помня себя от ужаса при мысли о том, что сейчас произойдёт (Стругацкие 1). Victor also started to shout, forgetting himself in horrified awareness of what was about to happen (1a).

П-375 • ВЫБРА́СЫВАТЬ/ВЫ́БРОСИТЬ НА ПОМО́ЙКУ кого-что highly coll [VP; subj: human] to rid o.s. of an unwanted person or thing, usu. in a harsh manner: X выбросил Y-а на помойку ≃ X relegated Y to the ash heap ⟨pile⟩; X dumped ⟨ditched⟩ Y; X threw ⟨tossed, kicked⟩ Y out; [in refer. to firing] X sacked person Y; X gave person Y the boot ⟨the sack, the ax⟩.

Мне больно, что он так опустился. Он мой старый друг, а старых друзей не выбрасывают на помойку. It hurts me to see how he's let himself go. He's an old friend, and you don't relegate old friends to the ash heap.

П-376 • НЕ ПОМО́РЩИВШИСЬ сделать что, often выпить [Verbal Adv; Invar; adv; usu. used with pfv verbs] (to do sth., complete an action) showing no effort, concern, or emotion, as if there were nothing unusual about it: without batting an eye ⟨an eyelid, an eyelash⟩; not batting an eye ⟨an eyelid, an eyelash⟩; without turning a hair; without (even) flinching; without so much as a grimace; [in refer. to a ruthless, dishonorable etc action] showing no scruples; without (any) hesitation.

П-377 • ВОДИ́ТЬ ⟨ДЕРЖА́ТЬ⟩ НА ПОМОЧА́Х кого [VP; subj: human] to control and, often, overprotect s.o., not giving him the freedom to act independently: X водит Y-а на помочах ≃ X keeps Y on a (short) leash; X won't let Y fly on his own; X won't let Y become his own person; [of a woman dominating her husband, son etc] X has ⟨keeps⟩ Y tied to her apron strings.

Слушай, твоему сыну уже за тридцать, а ты всё его на помочах держишь. Он без тебя шагу ступить не может. Listen, your son is already over thirty, and still you keep him tied to your apron strings. He can't make a move without you.

< «Помочи» are straps used to support a toddler under the arms when he or she is learning to walk.

П-378 • ХОДИ́ТЬ НА ПОМОЧА́Х у кого; НА ПОМОЧА́Х [VP or PrepP (Invar, used as subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$); subj: human] to submit to the wishes or leadership of another because of one's own lack of confidence, independence etc: X ходит у Y-а на помочах ≃ X is on Y's leash; [of a man dominated by his wife, mother etc] X is tied to Y's apron strings.

< See П-377.

П-379 • ПРИ ПО́МОЩИ ⟨С ПО́МОЩЬЮ⟩ чего [PrepP; these forms only; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] utilizing sth. by way of assistance: with the help ⟨aid⟩ of; (by) using.

В это время дамы отошли от колодца и поравнялись с нами. Грушницкий успел принять драматическую позу с помощью костыля и громко отвечал мне по-французски… (Лермонтов 1). At that moment the ladies moved away from the well and drew even with us. Grushnitsky managed to strike a dramatic pose with the help of his crutch and answered me loudly in French… (1e). At this point the ladies moved away from the well and came level with us. With the aid of his crutch Grushnitsky struck a dramatic pose and answered me loudly in French… (1c).

П-380 • С (БОЛЬШО́Й) ПО́МПОЙ [PrepP; sent adv; fixed WO] (to conduct or celebrate a public event, make a public announcement or appearance etc) with impressive ceremony, striving for maximum effect: with great fanfare; with great ⟨much⟩ pomp (and ceremony ⟨circumstance⟩); with pomp and style; with (a) flourish; with much éclat.

П-381 • (ВОТ) Э́ТО Я ПОНИМА́Ю! coll [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] (used to express approval, delight, encouragement etc) that is wonderful, this is an outstanding (person, accomplishment etc): you can't beat that ⟨this⟩!; that's ⟨this is⟩ great!; (now) that's ⟨this is⟩ what I call…!

«Сегодня у нас на десерт будет наполеон». — «Вот это я понимаю!» "Today for dessert we're having napoleons." "That's what I call dessert!"

П-382 • КАК ПОНОМА́РЬ читать, бубнить, твердить и т.п. disapprov [как + NP; Invar; adv] (to read aloud, mumble, say sth. etc) monotonously, unexpressively: in a monotone (voice); droning (on and on); as monotonously as ever.

П-383 • СЛОВЕ́СНЫЙ ПОНО́С derog [NP; fixed WO] excessive, superfluous, and frequently incoherent flow of words in speech or writing, usu. of unimportant content: verbal diarrhea; diarrhea of the mouth; logorrhea ⟨logorrhoea⟩; running off at the mouth; unnecessary verbiage; (his ⟨her, your etc⟩ running off at the mouth; [lim.] bloviation.

«И заткнись, пожалуйста. Ты сейчас не человек, понял? Ты сейчас машина, рычаг мой…» Тут я спохватился, что меня, похоже, тоже словесный понос одолевать начинает. «Всё, — говорю. — Ни слова больше» (Стругацкие 5). “And shut up, please, you’re not a human being now, do you understand? You are a machine, my steering wheel.” I suddenly realized that I was running off at the mouth. “Enough. Not another word” (5a).

П-384 • ДЛЯ ПО́НТА ⟨-у⟩ slang, orig. camp slang [PrepP; Invar; adv] for effect, in order to produce an impression on those watching: for show; (in order) to show off; (in order) to make a splash.

«Антонина Валерьяновна, не вы ли у меня взяли лупу? Нельзя ли попросить на минутку?» Лупа была ему абсолютно не нужна… но делалось это… для понта, и Нержин внутренне хохотал… (Солженицын 3). “Antonina Valeryanovna, was it you who took the magnifying glass? Could I please have it a moment?” He had absolutely no need of the magnifying glass… but this was done… for show, and Nerzhin laughed inwardly… (3a).

П-385 • НИ ЗА ПОНЮ́ШКУ ⟨ПОНЮ́Х⟩ ТАБАКУ́ пропасть, погибнуть, погубить кого etc highly coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv; more often used with pfv verbs] (to die, be killed, have one’s career destroyed etc, or to kill s.o., destroy s.o.’s career etc) purposelessly, futilely, needlessly: (all) for naught ⟨for nothing⟩; in vain; to no purpose; for no (good) reason.

И там… на песке жгли костёр. Смолянов говорил, что там ютится шпана, ходить опасно. Вот если сейчас спуститься вниз — свободно прирежут, ни за понюх табаку (Трифонов 1). Down on the sand… someone had lighted a campfire. Smolyanov told her that this was a gathering place for various criminal types and that the area was unsafe. And if they were to venture down there right now, somebody might knife them—just like that, for no good reason (1a).

П-386 • ПОНЯ́ТИЕ РАСТЯЖИ́МОЕ [NP; often subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: abstr)] sth. that cannot be defined with precision: loose notion ⟨concept⟩; relative concept.

«Он говорит, что купил машину недорого». — «Недорого — это понятие растяжимое. То, что для него недорого, нам не по карману». “He says that he bought the car for a reasonable price.” “‘Reasonable price’ is a relative concept. What he considers a reasonable price may be beyond our means.”

П-387 • С ПОНЯ́ТИЕМ coll [PrepP; Invar] 1. [nonagreeing postmodif or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human or animal)] knowledgeable, competent, clever: X (парень) с понятием ≃ X has plenty ⟨a lot⟩ on the ball; X is no dummy ⟨slouch⟩; X is (really) smart; X is a smart [NP]; X knows his onions ⟨stuff⟩; [lim.] X is a man ⟨a woman etc⟩ with ideas.

Карько — конь с понятием. Самый трудный перевал… просадил без остановки (Абрамов 1). Blacky is a smart horse. The hardest pass… he made without a stop (1a). ♦ [Большов:] …Он малый с понятием, да и капиталец есть (Островский 10). [B.:] He’s a youngster with ideas; and besides, he has a little money (10a).

2. [adv] (one does sth., sth. is done) competently: expertly; effectively; adeptly; cleverly; solidly; with finesse; (one’s work is) (rock) solid; (one does) a pro ⟨first-rate⟩ job.

П-388 • БЕЗ ПОНЯ́ТИЯ coll [PrepP; Invar] 1. [nonagreeing modif or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human or animal)] (of a person who) does not understand things, situations etc: X (человек) без понятия ≃ X has no understanding of (sth.); X (just) doesn’t get it; X is a bit lacking in understanding; X is clueless; || X не без понятия ≃ X is not without understanding; X gets it alright.

2. [used as a response to a question about sth. specific] I do not know: I have (absolutely) no idea ⟨clue⟩; I don’t have a clue; I haven’t ⟨don’t have⟩ the foggiest (idea ⟨notion, clue⟩); I haven’t (got) ⟨I don’t have⟩ the slightest ⟨the faintest⟩ idea ⟨notion, clue⟩; I can’t even begin to guess.

П-389 • НЕ ИМЕ́ТЬ ПОНЯ́ТИЯ (о чём or что…, где…, зачем… и т.п.) coll [VP; subj: human] not to know (some fact) or not to have any knowledge (in some area): X не имел понятия ≃ X had no idea ⟨notion⟩; X didn’t have ⟨hadn’t⟩ the slightest ⟨the foggiest, the faintest⟩ (idea ⟨notion⟩); X didn’t have a clue ⟨the first clue, the faintest clue⟩; X was clueless; || X не имеет понятия об Y-е ≃ X doesn’t know a thing about Y; X is clueless when it comes to Y; || [when used as a response only] понятия не имею! ≃ beats me!; you got me!; don’t ask me!; not a glimmer!

Он [отец Алексей] сел за зелёный стол с умеренным изъявлением удовольствия и кончил тем, что обыграл Базарова на два рубля пятьдесят копеек ассигнациями: в доме Арины Власьевны и понятия не имели о счёте на серебро… (Тургенев 2). He [Father Aleksei] sat down at the green card table, an expression of moderate satisfaction on his face, and ended up winning two rubles fifty copecks in paper money from Bazarov: in Arina Vlasevna’s house there was no notion whatever of reckoning in silver… (2g).

П-390 • КАКО́В ПОП, ТАКО́В И ПРИХО́Д [saying] as a leader behaves, so do his subordinates, followers etc: ≃ judge the flock by its priest; like priest, like people; like master, like man.

«А что ты делал в моём саду?» — «Малину крал», — отвечал мальчик с большим равнодушием. «Ага, слуга в барина, каков поп, таков и приход…» (Пушкин 1). “What were you doing in my garden?” “I was stealing raspberries,” the boy replied with great equanimity. “Aha! Like master, like servant. Judge the flock by its priest” (1b).

П-391 • КОМУ́ ПОП, КОМУ́ ПОПАДЬЯ́, А КОМУ́ ПОПО́ВА ДО́ЧКА; КТО ЛЮ́БИТ ПОПА́, (А) КТО ПОПАДЬЮ, (А) КТО ПОПО́ВУ ДО́ЧКУ [saying; often only кому поп, кому попадья is used] people enjoy different things, everyone has his own taste: ≃ every man to his taste; each to his own taste; there is no accounting for tastes; one man's meat is another man's poison.

«На вкусы нет закона: кто любит попа, а кто попадью, говорит пословица» (Гоголь 3). "Every man to his taste; what's one man's meat is another man's poison, as the proverb has it" (3b).

П-392 • НА ПОПА́ поставить что, стать highly coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (usu. of or in refer. to oblong objects) (to put sth., stand etc) in a vertical position: поставить что на попа ≃ set sth. (up) on end; set ⟨stand⟩ sth. (up) on its end; upend sth.; stand sth. up; stand ⟨prop, place⟩ sth. upright; || стать на попа ≃ stand ⟨stay⟩ upright.

«Баллон с кислородом надо поднять на четвёртый этаж…» Баллоны лежали возле подъезда в грязи. Я поднял с земли щепку, поставил баллон на попа и очистил его немного (Войнович 5). "The oxygen cylinder has to be hoisted up to the fourth floor…." The cylinders were lying in the mud near the entrance. I upended the cylinder, then picked up a piece of wood from the ground and used it to scrape off some of the mud (5a).

П-393 • ПЕ́РВЫЙ ПОПА́ВШИЙСЯ ⟨ПОПА́ВШИЙ substand⟩ [AdjP (used as modif) or NP; fixed WO] whatever person or thing happens to be closest by, soonest available, easiest to reach, most readily obtainable etc: the first [NP] (that) one comes across; the first [NP] one sees ⟨meets, runs into, can get one's hands on etc⟩; the first [NP] one happens to see ⟨to meet, to come across etc⟩; the first [NP] that comes to hand; the first [NP] who ⟨that⟩ turns up; the first [NP] to come along; the first available [NP]; [of sth. recalled, thought of] the first [NP] that comes to mind.

…[Пьер] взял первую попавшуюся с полки книгу (это были Записки Цезаря) и принялся, облокотившись, читать её из середины (Толстой 4). …[Pierre] took from the shelf the first book that came to hand (it was Caesar's Commentaries), and, propping his head on his elbow, commenced reading it from the middle (4a).

П-394 • ПОПАДА́ТЬ/ПОПА́СТЬ ⟨ПОПАДА́ТЬСЯ/ПОПА́СТЬСЯ obs⟩ ВПРОСА́К coll [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to end up in an uncomfortable, embarrassing, disadvantageous situation because of one's mistake or one's ignorance of sth.: X попал впросак ≃ X put his foot in it ⟨in his mouth⟩; X made a gaffe ⟨a blunder⟩; X made a fool of himself.

Мне захотелось спросить, зачем Катыку отличаться хоть чем-нибудь от других, но чтобы не попасть впросак, я промолчала (Каверин 1). I would have liked to ask why Katyk wanted to make himself different from the others in some way, but I kept quiet for fear I should put my foot in it (1a).

< Originally, «попадать в просак». «Просак» was a machine used for making ropes. Workers' clothes often got drawn into it, thus putting them in an awkward, potentially dangerous position.

П-395 • ГДЕ ⟨КУДА́⟩ ПОПА́ЛО coll; ГДЕ ⟨КУДА́⟩ НИ ПОПА́ЛО highly coll; ГДЕ ⟨КУДА́⟩ ПРИДЁТСЯ [AdvP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] in or to any place, not one specifically or carefully chosen (when said critically, expresses the speaker's opinion that not selecting carefully is negligent, unacceptable etc): wherever (one happens to be ⟨sth. ends up etc⟩); anywhere (one wants ⟨feels like etc⟩); anywhere at all; it doesn't matter (where); any old place; [often when said critically] just anywhere; God knows where; || разбежаться ⟨побежать и т.п.⟩ куда попало ≃ scatter ⟨run etc⟩ in all (different) directions; scatter ⟨run etc⟩ every which way.

…В моё время… люди изданные на Западе книги не только у себя дома на семь замков запершись читали, а где попало, в том числе и в общественном транспорте (Войнович 1). …In my time… people did not read books published in the West only at home with every lock on every door locked, but indulged wherever they happened to be, even on public transportation (1a). ♦ Первое время Илья совал бумаги куда придётся… А потом увидел — надо наводить порядок, иначе запутаешься (Абрамов 1). At first Ilya had shoved his papers any old place…. But then he realized that he needed to organize things or there'd be a muddle (1a).

П-396 • КАК ПОПА́ЛО coll; КАК НИ ПОПА́ЛО highly coll; КАК ПРИДЁТСЯ [AdvP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] in any way, not paying particular attention to how, and, often, not paying attention to the quality of the results of the action (usu. said critically to expresses the speaker's opinion that the action should have been carried out more diligently, with more care, and that the result should have been better): any which ⟨old⟩ way; haphazardly; carelessly; [lim.] at random; [when said critically only] God knows how.

Одевается [Гартвиг] как попало. Чаще всего он появлялся в нашем доме в каких-то полутуристских-полуспортивных обносках… (Трифонов 5). He [Gartvig] dresses any which way. Most of the time he appeared at our apartment in some sort of old gym or hiking clothes… (5a). ♦ Отделы карательных органов использовали своих агентов по назначению, а не как попало (Мандельштам 2). The various departments of the security services used their agents according to their qualifications, not just at random (2a).

П-397 • КАКО́Й ПОПА́ЛО coll; КАКО́Й НИ ПОПА́ЛО highly coll; КАКО́Й ПРИДЁТСЯ [AdvP; modif; fixed WO] any one, not one specifically or carefully chosen (when said critically, expresses the speaker's opinion that not selecting carefully is negligent, unacceptable etc): whichever (one) (s.o. sees first ⟨s.o. wants etc⟩); whichever (one) comes to hand; any one ⟨kind⟩ (at all); it doesn't matter (which one ⟨what kind⟩); [often when said critically] just any one ⟨kind⟩; God knows what kind.

«Какую сковородку взять?» — «Какую попало». "Which frying pan should I use?" "Whichever one comes to hand."

П-398 • КОГДА́ ПОПА́ЛО coll; КОГДА́ НИ ПОПА́ЛО highly coll; КОГДА́ ПРИДЁТСЯ [AdvP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] at any time, not one specifically or carefully chosen (when said critically, expresses the speaker's opinion that not selecting carefully is negligent, unacceptable etc): whenever (one feels like it ⟨one gets around to it, one happens to think of it, it's convenient etc⟩); anytime (one wants etc); it doesn't matter (when); [usu. when said critically] just anytime; God knows when ⟨at God knows what hour etc⟩.

«Я всегда встаю в семь утра. А ты?» — «А я — когда попало, мне ведь на работу ходить не нужно». "I get up at seven o'clock every morning. How about you?" "I get up whenever I feel like it; after all, I don't have to go to work."

П-399 • КТО ПОПА́ЛО coll; КТО НИ ПОПА́ЛО highly coll; КТО ПРИДЁТСЯ [NP; fixed WO] any person, not one specifically or carefully chosen (when said critically, expresses the speaker's opinion that not selecting carefully is negligent, unacceptable etc): whoever (happens to be available ⟨happens to be there etc⟩); who(m)ever (s.o. sees first ⟨s.o. can find etc⟩); anyone ⟨anybody⟩ (s.o. can find ⟨who happens to be there etc⟩); anyone s.o. happens across; it doesn't matter (who); [lim.] anyone and everyone; (ask ⟨punish etc⟩ people) at random; [usu. when said critically] just anyone ⟨anybody⟩; God knows who.

«Как же так? — спросила Вика. — Ты пришла с нами, а танцуешь с кем попало» (Рыбаков 2). "What are you doing?" Vika asked. "You came here with us, but you're dancing with anyone who asks you" (2a). ♦ «…Народ какой-то пошёл слабонервный. И чего они нас [КГБ] боятся? Мы же кого попало не хватаем, а только по ордеру» (Войнович 2). "People's nerves are starting to go. Why are they so afraid of us [the KGB]? We just don't grab anybody we bump into, there's got to be a warrant" (2a).

П-400 • ОТКУ́ДА ПОПА́ЛО coll; ОТКУ́ДА НИ ПОПА́ЛО highly coll; ОТКУ́ДА ПРИДЁТСЯ [AdvP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] from any place, not one specifically or carefully chosen (when said critically, expresses the speaker's opinion that not selecting carefully is negligent, unacceptable etc): from wherever (one can get it ⟨one wants etc⟩); from anywhere ⟨anyplace⟩ (one wants ⟨one can get it etc⟩); from anywhere ⟨anyplace⟩ at all; it doesn't matter where from ⟨from where⟩; from any old place; [usu. when said critically] from just anywhere; from God knows where.

«…Я, видишь ли, любитель и собиратель некоторых фактиков и, веришь ли, записываю и собираю из газет и рассказов, откуда попало, некоторого рода анекдотики…» (Достоевский 1). "…You see, I'm an amateur and collector of certain little facts; I copy them down from newspapers and stories, from wherever, and save them—would you believe it?—certain kinds of little anecdotes" (1a).

П-401 • ЧТО ПОПА́ЛО coll; ЧТО НИ ПОПА́ЛО highly coll; ЧТО ПРИДЁТСЯ [NP; fixed WO] anything, not sth. specifically or carefully chosen (when said critically, expresses the speaker's opinion that not selecting carefully is negligent, unacceptable etc): whatever (comes to hand ⟨is handy etc⟩); anything (one can get hold of ⟨that comes to hand etc⟩); it doesn't matter (what); any old thing; [lim.] anything and everything; (take ⟨use etc⟩ things) at random; [with verbs of speaking] (say etc) whatever ⟨anything that⟩ comes to mind; whatever comes ⟨pops⟩ into s.o.'s head; [usu. when said critically] just anything; God knows what.

…Наиболее отважные и сильные жители местечка снабжены особыми бляхами с соответствующим номером, чтобы в случае пожара не метаться, не хватать что попало, а бежать к месту бедствия со своим инструментом (Искандер 3). …The town's bravest and strongest inhabitants were provided with special nameplates with corresponding numbers, so that in the event of a fire they would not cast about, seizing whatever came to hand, but would run to the scene of the disaster with their own implements (3a). ♦ …Он [Чернышевский] делал вид, что несёт что попало, ради одной пустой и тёмной болтовни, — но в полосах и пятнах слов, в словесном камуфляже, вдруг проскакивала нужная мысль (Набоков 1). …Chernyshevski would pretend he was chattering about anything that came to mind, just for the sake of incoherent and vacant prattle—but suddenly, striped and spotted with words, dressed in verbal camouflage, the important idea he wished to convey would slip through (1a).

П-402 • ПО́ПКА ДУРА́К coll [formula phrase; Invar; fixed WO] the words taught to and commonly said by talking parrots: Polly wants a cracker!

…Вдруг попугай ударил клювом в клетку и первый раз в жизни заговорил человечьим голосом. «Дожились!» — сказал он сардонически… Мадам Грицацуева-Бендер в страхе кинулась к дверям. Вдогонку ей полилась горячая, сбивчивая речь… После бегства вдовы попугай оправил на себе манишку и сказал те слова, которые у него безуспешно пытались вырвать люди в течение тридцати лет: «Попка дурак!» (Ильф и Петров 1). …Suddenly the parrot pecked the cage and spoke in a human voice for the first time in its life. "Oh, what we've come to!" it said sardonically… Madame Gritsatsueva-Bender threw herself at the door in a panic. A passionate, halting speech poured out after her… After the widow's flight the parrot straightened its dicky and said the words everyone had been trying vainly to wrest from it for the past thirty years: "Polly want a cracker!" (1b).

П-403 • ТЫ ⟨он и т.п.⟩ У МЕНЯ́ ПОПЛЯ́ШЕШЬ ⟨-ет и т.п.⟩ coll [VP_{subj}: fut only; usu. this WO] (used as a threat) I will punish you (him etc), make things difficult for you (him etc): X у меня попляшет ≃ I'll give X what for; I'll give it to X (good); X'll get ⟨catch⟩ it from me; I'll teach X a lesson he'll never forget; I'll get X for it ⟨this, that⟩.

Не могу даже описать, что дальше было с Ефимом. Он вскакивал, бегал по комнате, размахивал руками, бормотал что-то вроде того, что кто-то у него теперь попляшет… (Войнович 6). It's difficult to describe what happened next. Yefim kept jumping up, running around the room and waving his arms, and muttering something to the effect that now he would give that so-and-so what for (6a).

П-404 • ИДТИ́/ПОЙТИ́ НА ПОПРА́ВКУ [VP] 1. [subj: human or здоровье, состояние etc] to (begin to) recuperate: X ⟨здоровье X-а⟩ идёт на поправку ≃ X is getting better; person X is getting back on his feet; person X is (well) on his ⟨the⟩ way to recovery; X's health is taking a turn for the better; X is on the mend; X is recovering.

«Как узнал я от сестры Христины, что ты, на меня сославшись, уехала куда-то, да как понял, что ты умыслила, сразу моё здоровье на поправку пошло» (Акунин 2). "As soon as I heard from Sister Christina that you had gone away somewhere, allegedly at my request, I realized what your intentions were and my health immediately took a turn for the better" (2a).

2. [subj: abstr, often дела] to become better: X идёт на поправку ≃ X is improving ⟨getting better⟩; X is moving ⟨headed⟩ in the right direction.

П-405 • ПРОТИВ чего НЕ ПОПРЁШЬ [VP; neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing; fixed WO] when one comes up against something over which he has no control, one must reconcile o.s. to it: против X-а не попрёшь ≃ there's nothing you ⟨one⟩ can do about X; you can't defy ⟨fight, challenge, take on, argue away, change etc⟩ X; you (just) have to accept ⟨deal with⟩ X; [usu. of rules, regulations etc] you can't flout X.

Извините, я долго задержался на этом, но у людей слабость говорить о своём деле. У кого что болит, тот о том и говорит, хотя, может быть, другого твои болячки не интересуют. Скажу только одно: обувь должна сохранить стопу такой, какой её создала природа. В идеале каждый человек должен иметь свою колодку. Но против прогресса не попрёшь, а прогресс — это массовое производство (Рыбаков 1). I'm sorry for going on about it, but then, everybody likes to talk about their profession, or as the saying goes, you talk about what ails you, though maybe your problems are not so interesting to anyone else. I would just like to say one more thing, and that is that shoes should maintain the natural shape of the foot. Ideally everyone should have their own last, but you can't flout progress, and progress means mass production (1a).

П-406 • КАК ПОПУГА́Й ⟨ПО́ПКА coll⟩ derog [как + NP; these forms only; adv] 1. повторять, твердить (одно и то же), заладить и т.п. ~ (to repeat sth., usu. another's words) endlessly, mechanically, without thinking, often without any attempt to form one's own opinion: (repeat ⟨echo⟩ s.o.'s words, talk) like a parrot ⟨parrot fashion⟩; parrot s.o.'s words.

2. вызубрить, выучить и т.п. ~ to memorize by repetition without paying attention to content: memorize ⟨learn⟩ by rote; learn parrot fashion.

П-407 • ПОПЫ́ТКА НЕ ПЫ́ТКА (, А СПРО́С НЕ БЕДА́) [saying; usu. only the first half of the saying is used] one can go ahead and try sth., nothing bad will happen (said when it is considered worthwhile to try sth., even if success is not guaranteed): ≃ (there's) no harm in trying; it wouldn't ⟨won't⟩ hurt to try; nothing ventured, nothing gained.

П-408 • (ИДТИ́/ПОЙТИ́) НА ПОПЯ́ТНЫЙ ⟨НА ПОПЯ́ТНУЮ, НА ПОПЯ́ТНЫЙ ДВО́Р obs⟩ coll [VP or PrepP (these forms only, used as predic); subj: human] to retreat from a decision made earlier, go back on an agreement, retract consent already given etc: X (пошёл) на попятный ≃ X backed out ⟨off, down⟩; X went back (on his word ⟨promise⟩); X backpedaled ⟨backtracked⟩; X beat a hasty retreat.

…Никто всерьёз эти слова не принял: где же председателю колхоза свою дорогу торить? Хорошо уж и то, что слова не побоялся сказать. И Михаил тут не был исключением. Он был тоже уверен, что за ночь Лукашин одумается, пойдёт на попятный, — и кто укорит его за это? (Абрамов 1). …No one took what he said seriously: how could a kolkhoz Chairman blaze his own trail? It was enough that he had even dared to open his mouth. And Mikhail thought no differently. He too was sure that Lukashin would think better of it by the next day and back down. And who would blame him? (1a). ♦ «Ну вот видишь, вот уж и нечестно с твоей стороны: слово дал, да и на попятный двор» (Гоголь 3). "There, you see, that's not fair of you: you have given me your word of honor, and now you are going back on it" (3c).

П-409 • ДО КАКИ́Х ⟨КОТО́РЫХ⟩ ПОР [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] 1. until what time, for how much more time: (for) how long; until ⟨till⟩ when; how much longer; [lim.] when (will one stop doing sth.).

[Анна Петровна:] Скажите: до каких пор будут ненавидеть меня отец и мать? (Чехов 4). [A.P.:] Tell me: how long will my father and mother go on hating me? (4a). [A.P.:] Tell me, when will my mother and father stop hating me? (4b).

2. coll (in refer. to s.o.'s reading, memorizing etc sth.) up to what point: up to where ⟨what page, what part etc⟩; how far (one has gotten ⟨read up to etc⟩).

Когда я спросил его, до каких пор он прочитал конспект, он сказал, что ещё даже не начинал его. When I asked him how far he had gotten in reading that abstract, he said he hadn't even started it.

П-410 • ДО СИХ ПО́Р ⟨ДО́ СИХ ПОР⟩ [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] 1. Also: ДО СЕЙ ПОРЫ́; ПО СЮ ПО́РУ both obs until the present time: to this day; until ⟨till, up till, up to⟩ now; to date; thus ⟨so⟩ far; up to the present day ⟨time⟩; hitherto; heretofore; still; (as) yet; [lim.] even now; [with negated predic] never.

«До сих пор, как вспомню, не могу удержаться от смеха» (Войнович 4). "To this day when I think of it I can't help laughing" (4a). ♦ …Если сказать правду, то до сих пор никаких иных отношений с женщинами, кроме заочных, у него [Алтынника] не было (Войнович 5). …If the truth be told, thus far Altinnik's relations with women had been confined to the mail (5a). ♦ «…Слушайте, я буду читать: „Только что вышедшая книга стихов до сих пор неизвестного автора, Фёдора Годунова-Чердынцева, кажется нам явлением столь ярким, поэтический талант автора столь несомненен". Знаете что, оборвём на этом…» (Набоков 1). "…Listen to this—I'm going to read it to you: 'The newly published collection of poems by the hitherto unknown author Fyodor Godunov-Cherdyntsev strikes one as such a brilliant phenomenon, and the poetic talent of the author is so indisputable…' You know what, I shan't go on…" (1a).

2. (in refer. to s.o.'s reading, memorizing etc sth.) up to this place: up to here; up to this point; this far; this much.

Я ещё не кончил статью, прочитал только до сих пор. I haven't finished the article yet. I've only read up to here.

П-411 • ДО ТЕХ ПОР [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] until that time: until ⟨till, up till⟩ then; till ⟨up to⟩ that moment; thus far.

Фёдор Павлович ложился по ночам очень поздно, часа в три, в четыре утра, а до тех пор всё, бывало, ходит по комнате или сидит в креслах и думает (Достоевский 1). Fyodor Pavlovich went to bed very late, at about three or four o'clock in the morning, and until then would pace around the room or sit in his armchair and think (1a).

П-412 • ДО ТЕХ ПОР ПОКА́ [subord Conj, temporal] up to the time when (the action in process ceases or the state in question changes): as ⟨so⟩ long as; [lim.] (up) to the point where; [after a negated predic] until.

Он сказал, что войны наши с Бонапартом до тех пор будут несчастливы, пока мы будем искать союзов с немцами и будем соваться в европейские дела… (Толстой 5). He said that our wars with Bonaparte would be disastrous so long as we sought alliances with the Germans and meddled in European affairs… (5a). ♦ [Кушак:] (Саяпину.) Но выговор вы всё-таки получите. Впредь никогда и ничего не подписывайте до тех пор, пока не прочтёте внимательнейшим образом. Это азбучная истина (Вампилов 5). [K.:] (To Sayapin) But it's going on your record all the same. In the future, never sign anything until you've read it over very carefully. That's the most elementary rule (5b).

П-413 • ДО ТЕХ ПОР ПОКА́ НЕ [subord Conj, temporal] up to the time when (sth. happens): until; (up) until the time when ⟨that⟩; [lim.] until after.

«Скажи ему, что он не уедет отсюда до тех пор, пока не вылечит мне девчонку!..» (Шолохов 2). "Tell him he won't leave here until he cures the girl for me!…" (2a). ♦ …Его коллега Н. скрылся в неизвестном направлении и не появлялся до тех пор, пока сбор подписей не был закончен… (Войнович 3). …His colleague N. disappeared and didn't reappear until after the collection of signatures was completed… (3a).

П-414 • С ДА́ВНИХ ⟨ДАВНИ́ШНИХ rare⟩ ПОР [PrepP; these forms only; adv; usu. used with impfv verbs; fixed WO] beginning long ago and continuing to the present day or to the moment indicated: from long ago; from a long, long time ago; from olden ⟨bygone, former⟩ days; from way back when; from early on; from days gone by; from the old ⟨the earliest⟩ days; for a long time; for ages ⟨years⟩; forever.

«Крымова этого, ещё когда он приезжал в Киев, помню, неясный. Понатыкано у него связей и с правыми и с троцкистами с самых давних времён» (Гроссман 2). "Yes, that Kry-mov… I remember him from his visit to Kiev—a dubious character. He's been mixed up for years with all kinds of Trotskyists and Bukharinites" (2a).

П-415 • С КАКИ́Х ⟨КОТО́РЫХ⟩ ПОР [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] from what time: since when; [lim.] (for) how long (one has been…).

«Да у вас по контракту нанята квартира?» — спросил Алексеев, оглядывая комнату с потолка до полу. «Да, только срок контракту вышел; я всё это время платил помесячно… не помню только, с которых пор» (Гончаров 1). "Have you got a lease?" inquired Alekseyev, surveying the room from floor to ceiling. "Yes, but it has expired, and I've been paying the rent by the month ever since…. I've forgotten since when" (1b).

П-416 • С НЕ́КОТОРЫХ ПОР [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] beginning from a certain unspecified time, from a certain point in time: for (quite) some time (now); for (quite) a while (now); [lim.] a while ago.

В сельпо из сосудов на полках стояли вазы только ночные. И с некоторых пор у соседей во время обеда в центре стола красовался зелёный горшок с ручкой, из которого хозяйка разливала суп (Чудаков 1). The only vessels on sale at the local general stores were chamber pots. And so for some time our neighbors had been serving soup at lunch from a green pot with a handle (1a).

П-417 • С ТЕХ ПОР; С ТОЙ ПОРЫ́ [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] beginning with the specified moment or period of time: ever since; since then ⟨that time etc⟩; from then ⟨that time etc⟩ on; after that.

«Ты бы подстригся, молодец», — сказал он [Шунечка] однажды. Вовус поглядел непочтительно… С тех пор он больше для Шунечки не существовал (Грекова 3). "You ought to get a haircut, young fellow," he [Shunechka] once said. Vovus looked at him scornfully…. From that time on he ceased to exist for Shunechka (3a).

П-418 • С ТЕХ ПОР КАК [subord Conj, temporal] from the time that, in the period following the time when: (ever) since; since ⟨from⟩ the time (that); [lim.] after.

Прошло несколько дней с тех пор, как исчезло ведомство капитана Миляги, но в районе никто этого не заметил (Войнович 2). Several days had passed since Captain Milyaga's department had vanished, but nobody in the district seemed to notice (2a).

П-419 • С Э́ТИХ ПОР; С Э́ТОЙ ПОРЫ́ [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] beginning with this or that moment or period of time (as specified): ever since; since then ⟨that time etc⟩; from then ⟨that time etc⟩ on; from that ⟨this⟩ moment on.

…Глуповцам это дело не прошло даром. Как и водится, бригадирские грехи прежде всего отразились на них. Всё изменилось с этих пор в Глупове (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). This affair was not without consequence for the Foolovites…. As usual, the brigadier's sins were visited first of all upon them. From that time on, everything was changed in Foolov (1a).

П-420 • НА ПЕ́РВЫХ ПОРА́Х [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] during the initial period (of some activity, process, s.o.'s stay somewhere etc): at ⟨in⟩ the (very) beginning; at first; at the start ⟨the outset⟩; in the early days; early on.

Я до того испугался неожиданного появления отца, что даже на первых порах не заметил, откуда он шёл и куда исчез (Тургенев 3). I was so frightened by my father's unexpected appearance that at first I did not even notice whence he had come or where he went (3c). ♦ «Не могу врать…» — «Надо научиться»… Но на первых порах я была не очень понятливой ученицей… (Гинзбург 1). "Well, I can't tell lies." "Then you had better learn, hadn't you?"… At the start I showed little talent… (1a).

П-421 • В СА́МОЙ ⟨ВО ВСЕЙ⟩ ПОРЕ́; В ПОРЕ́ all obs, coll [PrepP; these forms only; nonagreeing modif or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); fixed WO] at the point in one's life when one is most vigorous, attractive etc: X в самой поре ≃ X is in the (very) prime of life; X is in his prime; [mainly of women] X is in full bloom.

[Вера:] Разве в его лета ещё женятся? [Наталья Петровна:] Да что ты думаешь? Сколько ему лет? Ему пятидесяти лет нету. Он в самой поре (Тургенев 1). [V.:] At his age, do men still marry? [N.P.:] What do you think? How old is he? He isn't fifty yet. He is in the very prime of life (1b).

П-422 • НЕ ПОЯВЛЯ́ТЬСЯ ⟨НЕ ПОКА́ЗЫВАТЬСЯ⟩ НА ПОРО́Г coll [VP; subj: human] not to come to s.o.'s home for a long time (because one has quarreled with s.o., is too busy, no longer wants to see s.o. etc): X не появляется на порог ≃ X never visits Y; X never comes ⟨goes⟩ to see Y; [lim.] X doesn't set foot in ⟨show his face at⟩ Y's house ⟨home etc⟩.

Мы с Максимом поссорились, с тех пор он не появляется на порог. Maksim and I had a falling-out, and he hasn't shown his face at my house since.

П-423 • НЕ ПУСКА́ТЬ/НЕ ПУСТИ́ТЬ НА ПОРО́Г кого coll [VP; subj: human] not to allow s.o. into one's house: X не пустит Y-а на порог ≃ X won't let Y set foot in X's house ⟨home etc⟩; X won't let Y in the door (of his house etc); X won't have Y in X's home; X won't allow Y over X's threshold; X won't let Y (so much as) cross X's threshold.

«А дочь свою и не думай приводить к нам. На порог не пущу…» (Айтматов 1). "And don't have any ideas about taking your daughter in with us. I won't let her set foot in here…" (1b). ♦ Эти товарищи — управители наши, Юриных родителей на порог не пускают (Рыбаков 2). …The comrades, the bosses and managers… wouldn't let Yuri's parents so much as cross their threshold… (2a).

П-424 • ПЕРЕСТУПА́ТЬ/ПЕРЕСТУПИ́ТЬ ⟨ПЕРЕХОДИ́ТЬ/ПЕРЕЙТИ́, ПЕРЕША́ГИВАТЬ/ ПЕРЕШАГНУ́ТЬ⟩ (ЧЕРЕЗ) ПОРО́Г чей, чего, какой [VP; subj: human or, rare, чья нога; often neg or infin with verbs of prohibition] to appear at s.o.'s house, office etc or enter some place: X не переступит Y-ова порога ⟨порога места Z⟩ ≃ X will not cross ⟨step across⟩ Y's threshold ⟨the threshold of place Z⟩; X will not cross ⟨step across⟩ the threshold of Y's house ⟨office etc⟩; X will not set foot in Y's home ⟨office etc⟩.

«Можешь покупать этот дом, но ни я в него ни ногой, ни ты никогда не переступишь порога моего дома!» (Искандер 3). "You can buy this house, but I will never set foot in it, nor will you ever cross the threshold of my house!" (3a).

П-425 • ОТВЕРГА́ТЬ/ОТВЕ́РГНУТЬ ⟨ОТМЕТА́ТЬ/ОТМЕСТИ́⟩ С ПОРО́ГА что [VP; subj: human or collect] to reject sth. (s.o.'s ideas, suggestions etc) without discussing it, without listening to all the available information and supporting arguments: X отверг Y с порога ≃ X dismissed ⟨rejected⟩ Y out of hand ⟨outright, altogether⟩; X dismissed Y right off the bat; X dismissed ⟨rejected⟩ Y as unworthy ⟨not worthy⟩ of consideration; X completely ⟨totally⟩ spurned Y; X dismissed person Z's arguments ⟨objections etc⟩ without hearing Z out.

Не отметай с порога его аргументы, выслушай его. Don't dismiss his arguments out of hand, hear him out. ♦ «А театр? Театр двадцатого века?» — пошёл в наступление Антон, держа в резерве МХАТ, который дед любил, был на премьере «Вишнёвого сада». Но резервы вводить не пришлось — дед с порога отверг театр как таковой. «Что театр? Площадное искусство. Подчинено зрелищности, подмосткам» (Чудаков 1). "What about theater—twentieth-century theater?" Anton now took the offensive, holding in reserve the Moscow Art Theater, which he knew Grandfather had loved (he'd attended the opening night of Cherry Orchard). But he never got the chance to bring in his reserves: Grandfather dismissed theater altogether. "What's theater? Art for the masses. Completely given over to spectacle, to the gallery" (1a).

П-426 • С ПОРО́ГА ляпнуть, выпалить что и т.п. highly coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to say sth., break the news etc) immediately upon one's arrival at some place: right away; immediately; right off the bat.

Во всём человек хладнокровный и рассудительный, вот с этой только бабьей манерой Капа никогда не могла расстаться: если что новое — хорошее ли, плохое, обязательно ляпнуть с порога (Солженицын 10). Kapa was a cool and reasonable person except for one feminine habit which she could do nothing about: whenever there was news, good or bad, she immediately let the cat out of the bag (10a).

П-427 • У ПОРО́ГА [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, стоять (subj: abstr)] near, soon to come: X у порога ≃ X is close ⟨near⟩ at hand; X is on the doorstep; X is just (a)round the corner; X is (knocking) at s.o.'s ⟨the⟩ door.

Зима уже стояла у порога. Winter was already close at hand.

П-428 • НА ПОРО́ГЕ lit [PrepP; Invar] 1. ~ чего [the resulting PrepP is adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: human or collect)] in the period or stage immediately preceding sth.: on the threshold ⟨the verge, the brink⟩ of; || на пороге смерти ≃ at death's door; on the brink ⟨threshold⟩ of death.

Абрам Менделевич стал ему рассказывать, что мы находимся «на пороге открытия новой науки»… (Копелев 1). Abram Mendelevich began telling him that we were "on the threshold of discovering a new science…" (1a). ♦ [Андрей:] Итак, Кавалеров, мы находимся на пороге великих событий (Олеша 6). [A.:] So, Kavalerov, we're on the verge of great things, eh? (6a).

2. [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, стоять (subj: abstr)] very near, very soon to come: X на пороге ≃ X is very close ⟨near⟩ at hand; X is right on the doorstep; X is just (a)round the corner; X is (knocking) at s.o.'s ⟨the⟩ door.

Потеплело, растаял снег — весна была на пороге. It got warmer and the snow melted—spring was just around the corner.

П-429 • ОБИВА́ТЬ/ОБИ́ТЬ ⟨ПООБИВА́ТЬ/ПООБИ́ТЬ rare⟩ ПОРО́ГИ (чьи) ⟨ПОРО́Г (чей)⟩ (чего, у кого, где); ОБИВА́ТЬ/ОБИ́ТЬ ⟨ПООБИВА́ТЬ/ПООБИ́ТЬ rare⟩ ВСЕ ПОРО́ГИ ⟨ВЕСЬ ПОРО́Г⟩ (у кого, где) all coll [VP; subj: human; usu. impfv] (usu. in refer. to trying to obtain sth. important for one's job or career from one's superior(s) or some organization(s); may refer to a person trying to get a job, a man trying to gain the affection of a woman etc) to go to some place(s) repeatedly, persistently requesting sth.: X обивает пороги ≃ X beats down doors; || X обивает Y-ов порог ≃ X haunts ⟨hangs around⟩ Y's door(way); || X обивает пороги редакций ⟨школ и т.п.⟩ ≃ X haunts the door(way)s of various editorial ⟨principals' etc⟩ offices; X haunts (the) editors' ⟨(the) principals' etc⟩ offices; X runs from from one editorial ⟨principal's etc⟩ office to another; X pesters every editor ⟨principal etc⟩ (in town).

«Я конечно, напишу…» — «Напишу! Ты весь в этом. Не писать надо, а ехать, лично просить, пороги обивать!» (Стругацкие 1). "Of course I'll write—" "You'll write! That's just like you. It's not writing you have to do, you have to go there, ask in person, beat down doors" (1a).

П-430 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ ПО́РОХ СУХО́Й lit [VP; subj: human, usu. pl, or collect] (of soldiers, an army etc) to be prepared to defend (one's country, cause etc) at any moment: X-ы держат порох сухим ≃ Xs keep their powder dry.

< Attributed to Oliver Cromwell, addressing his troops as they prepared to cross a stream or river before battle, possibly the Battle of Edgehill in Oct. 1642. The reference is presumably to gunpowder, which would be useless if wet.

П-431 • ЕСТЬ ЕЩЁ ПО́РОХ В ПОРОХОВНИ́ЦАХ [sent; Invar; fixed WO] in spite of a person's advanced age, he is still active, full of energy, able to accomplish things etc (used by the speaker to express surprise or admiration when an old person accomplishes sth. he was not expected to be able to do; also, used by an old person himself to express satisfaction upon accomplishing sth., or to reassure those who question his abilities): ≃ there is life in the old dog ⟨boy, girl⟩ yet; one still has a lot of steam.

< From Nikolai Gogol's Taras Bulba («Тарас Бульба»), the revised version of 1842.

П-432 • ТРА́ТИТЬ ⟨ИЗВОДИ́ТЬ⟩ ПО́РОХ даром, зря, попусту и т.п. (на что) coll [VP; subj: human] to waste energy in vain, for nothing, say or argue sth. in vain: X даром тратит порох ≃ X is wasting his time ⟨his breath⟩; X is wasting steam.

«Ты болен?» — спросил его на другой день один из пулемётчиков. — «Нет». — «А что ж ты? Тоскуешь?» — «Нет». — «Ну, давай закурим. Её [Анну], браток, теперь не воротишь. Не трать на это дело пороху» (Шолохов 3). "Are you ill?" one of the machine-gunners asked him the next day. "No." "What's up then? Missing her [Anna]?" "No." "Well, let's have a smoke. You can't bring her back now, mate. It's no good wasting steam on that" (3a).

П-433 • (НИ) СИНЬ ⟨СИ́НЯ⟩ ПО́РОХА нет, не осталось, не оставить и т.п. obs [NP$_{gen}$; these forms only; subj or obj; fixed WO] (there is, there remained, to leave etc) absolutely nothing: nothing (at all); not a single thing ⟨piece, item etc⟩; absolutely nil; [lim.] not a single one.

«Сказано, порядок чтоб был, не езди никто из домов, чтобы ни синь пороха не вывозить…» (Толстой 6). "Everythin' under control, they says, no one leaves, nothin' moves out…" (6c). "We're told there's to be order, nobody's to leave their houses, so as not a single crumb gets taken away…"(6d).

П-434 • ПО́РОХА ⟨-у⟩ НЕ ВЫ́ДУМАЕТ coll [VP; subj: human; 3rd pers fut only; fixed WO] one is ordinary, unimaginative, not very gifted: X пороха не выдумает ≃ X won't set the world on fire; X is no bright light ⟨no genius, no worldbeater⟩.

Пороха Фомичёв не выдумает, но он трудолюбив, услужлив и честен. Fomichov won't set the world on fire, but he's hard-working, obliging, and honest.

П-435 • ПА́ХНЕТ/ЗАПА́ХЛО ПО́РОХОМ [VP; impers] war is imminent: there is a smell of gunpowder in the air; things smell of gunpowder; war is in the air.

«Когда порохом запахло, когда [Сталин] почуял опасность, так вспомнил про Россию, про русских полководцев и про Александра Невского…» (Копелев 1). "When things smelled of gunpowder, when he [Stalin] sensed danger, he remembered Russia, and Russian military leaders, and Alexander Nevsky…" (1a).

П-436 • НЮ́ХАТЬ/ПОНЮ́ХАТЬ ⟨НАНЮ́ХАТЬСЯ⟩ ПО́РОХУ ⟨-а⟩ coll [VP; subj: human; often neg] to participate in fighting a war, be in battle(s): X понюхал пороху ≃ X has smelled ⟨tasted⟩ gunpowder; X has seen combat ⟨action⟩; X knows the smell of gunpowder; X got a whiff of gunpowder; [lim.] X has gotten used to the smell of gunpowder.

«Нет, пускай послужит он в армии, да потянет лямку, да понюхает пороху, да будет солдат…» (Пушкин 2). "No, let him serve in the real army. Let him toil and sweat and smell gunpowder. Let him be a true soldier…" (2c). "No, let him serve in the army, let him learn to sweat and get used to the smell of gunpowder, let him become a soldier…" (2a).

П-437 • ПО́РОХУ ⟨-а⟩ НЕ ХВАТА́ЕТ/НЕ ХВАТИ́ЛО у кого coll [VP; impers; often used with infin] s.o. does not have the courage, energy, will etc to accomplish sth.: у X-а пороху не хватает ≃ X hasn't got the guts ⟨the stomach, the gumption, the stamina, the strength, the courage⟩ (to do sth.); X hasn't got it in him (to do sth.); X doesn't have what it takes.

Рита… сказала, что боится за себя, за то, что не хватит пороха ухаживать за больной… (Трифонов 5). …Rita went on to say that she was worried on her own account, that she wouldn't have the strength to take care of a sick person… (5a).

П-438 • СТЕРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ИСТЕРЕ́ТЬ⟩ В (МЕ́ЛКИЙ) ПОРОШО́К кого coll [VP; subj: human or collect; often pfv fut, used as a threat] (in refer. to killing s.o., or ruining s.o.'s career, social standing etc) to deal with s.o. harshly or destroy s.o.: X сотрёт Y-а в порошок ≃ X will make mincemeat of Y; X will pulverize Y; X will grind Y to ⟨into⟩ dust; X will grind Y into the dust; X will be utterly ruthless with Y.

Каждый дом, квартира… деревня, не говоря уж о городах и областях, получили своего верховода (сначала их было по несколько, потом один брал верх), который распоряжался, инструктировал, отдавал приказания и обязательно грозил стереть сопротивляющегося в порошок (Мандельштам 2). Every house, apartment, and village, not to mention every town and province, had its little tyrant (at first there would be several, until a single one took over), who gave orders and instructions, threatening always to "make mincemeat" of anyone who resisted (2a).

П-439 • ЖИВО́Й ПОРТРЕ́Т кого [NP; sing only; usu. subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: human)] (in refer. to physical appearance) one is an exact likeness (of someone else): the living image of; the spitting ⟨spit and⟩ image of; a carbon copy of; the very picture of.

Этот мальчик — живой портрет отца. That boy is the spitting image of his father.

П-440 • В СА́МУЮ ПО́РУ coll [PrepP; Invar; usu. subj-compl with copula; fixed WO] 1. ~ (кому) [subj: concr, abstr, or infin; occas. used as nonagreeing modif] sth. is timely, sth. happens at the appropriate time, exactly when wanted, needed etc: (it's ⟨this would be etc⟩) just the right time ⟨just the right moment, the perfect time, the perfect moment⟩; at just the right time ⟨just the right moment, the perfect time, the perfect moment⟩; (sth.) couldn't have come at a better time; || X-у было бы в самую пору сделать Y ≃ this would be a perfect time for X to do Y; this would be just the time for X to do Y.

Сама же Людмила Афанасьевна и подвела его [Орещенкова] к этому рассуждению рассказом о сыне. И так как с сыном оставалось не решено, то ей бы в самую пору сейчас слушать и думать, как это всё отнести к сыну (Солженицын 10). He [Oreshchenkov] had embarked on this topic because of Lyudmila Afanasyevna's own talk of her son. Since she was having trouble with her son, this would be just the time for her to hear this and ponder how to apply it to her son's case (10b).

2. ~ кому быть$_{о}$, прийтись и т.п. [subj: a noun denoting footwear, an item of clothing etc] sth. is exactly s.o.'s size: X Y-у в самую пору ≃ X is just Y's size; X is just the right size for Y; X fits Y perfectly; X is a perfect fit; it's as if X were made to measure.

Сапоги были девочке в самую пору. The boots were just the girl's size.

П-441 • В ТУ ПО́РУ obs [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] at the time or moment in the past specified by the context: at that time.

…В ту пору он у нас слишком уж даже выделанно напрашивался на свою роль шута, любил выскакивать и веселить господ, с видимым равенством конечно, но на деле совершенным пред ними хамом (Достоевский 1). …At that time he was even overzealously establishing himself as a buffoon, and loved to pop up and amuse the gentlemen, ostensibly as an equal, of course, though in reality he was an absolute boor beside them (1a).

П-442 • НА ТУ ПО́РУ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] at the time specified or implied by the context: at that ⟨the⟩ moment ⟨time⟩; at that particular moment ⟨time⟩; at that point in time; just then.

Но и лестница на ту пору стояла совсем пустая; все двери были заперты; никого-то не встретилось (Достоевский 3). But the stairway also happened to be quite empty at the time; all the doors were shut; he met no one (3d). But at that particular time the stairway was quite deserted; all the doors were shut; no one was about (3c).

П-443 • НЕ В ПО́РУ old-fash [PrepP; Invar; adv or sent adv; fixed WO] at an inconvenient time: at the wrong time; at an inopportune moment; inopportunely; (sth. is) ill-timed; at an ill-chosen time; (s.o.) has chosen a bad ⟨the wrong⟩ time (for sth.).

И точно ли там заключается это странное слово «нельзя», которое, с самой минуты своего вступления в помпадуры, он считал упразднённым и о котором так не в пору напомнил ему правитель канцелярии? (Салтыков-Щедрин 2). Was it really true that that strange word "forbidden," which he considered as nonexistent from the moment he had entered upon his office and of which the chief secretary had reminded him so inopportunely,—was it really true that it was actually used there? (2a).

П-444 • ОБ Э́ТУ ПО́РУ; О ТУ ПО́РУ both obs [PrepP; these forms only; adv or sent adv; 2nd var. used in past contexts only; fixed WO] at or by the present time or moment, or at or by the specified time or moment in the past: at ⟨by⟩ this time; [in past contexts] at ⟨by⟩ that time; (just) about that ⟨the same⟩ time.

[Отец] повёз его в Петербург, как только ему минул восемнадцатый год, и поместил его в университет. Кстати, брат его о ту пору вышел офицером в гвардейский полк (Тургенев 2). [His father] brought him to Petersburg as soon as he turned eighteen and enrolled him in the university. By the way, just about the same time, his brother became an officer in a guards regiment (2g).

П-445 • КРУГОВА́Я ПОРУ́КА [NP; sing only] 1. joint responsibility of all members of a group for the actions of the group as a whole or the actions of its individual members: collective ⟨mutual⟩ responsibility; responsibility for each other; mutual guarantee.

«Ну, насчёт общины, — промолвил он, — поговорите лучше с вашим братцем. Он теперь, кажется, изведал на деле, что такое община, круговая порука, трезвость и тому подобные штучки» (Тургенев 2). “Well, as far as the peasant commune’s concerned,” he said, “you really ought to talk to your brother. I think he’s found out by now what sort of thing the commune is, with its collective responsibility, sobriety, and other such customs” (2g).

2. mutual support and concealment (often among participants in improper or criminal matters): covering (up) for each other ⟨one another⟩; vouching for each other ⟨one another⟩.

Нам трудно понять и расценить действия этих людей [следователей]… Несомненно только одно: всякий замкнутый изолированный круг развивается, подобно блатарям, по своим законам и вопреки интересам общества в целом. Такой круг… соблюдает круговую поруку (до поры до времени), хранит тайны, избегает общения с посторонними, а иногда по непонятным причинам уничтожает друг друга (Мандельштам 2). It was hard for us to interpret the actions of these people [the investigators]…. But there is no doubt that, like any other isolated, exclusive caste—the professional criminals, for example—they lived by their own laws, contemptuous of the interests of society as a whole. Closed societies of this kind… cover up for each other (as long as it suits them), guard their secrets, avoid contact with outsiders, and sometimes, for obscure reasons, engage in mutual destruction (2a).

П-446 • НА ПОРУ́КИ взять, отдать, выпустить кого [PrepP; Invar; adv] responsibility (taken by a person, group, or organization) for s.o.’s, usu. an offender’s, good behavior: X взял Y-а ~ ≃ X stood surety for Y; X took ⟨accepted⟩ responsibility for Y; X took Y on probation; || Y-а выпустили ~ ≃ Y was granted ⟨released on⟩ probation.

Дзержинский ещё не отступился от старого стиля. Он принял О. М[андельштама] запросто и предложил взять брата на поруки (Мандельштам 1). Dzerzhinski had not yet given up the old ways. He received M[andelstam] in simple fashion and suggested he stand surety for his brother… (1a). ♦ Дядя был исключён из партии, снят с должности завгара [заведующего гаражом], осуждён на год за злостное хулиганство, однако взят на поруки из уважения к фронтовым и трудовым заслугам… (Евтушенко 2). Uncle was expelled from the party, fired from his job as head of the garage, and sentenced to a year in jail for malicious hooliganism. However, he was granted probation in view of his wartime and labor record (2a).

П-447 • ДО ПОРЫ́ ДО ВРЕ́МЕНИ; ДО ПОРЫ́ obs [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] for the meantime, until a moment when the situation changes, some opportunity arises etc: for the time being; for the present; for a time; [lim.] until the right time; until the time is right; until such time as s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ is needed; as long as it suits (s.o.); for now.

Никаких работ, связанных с ракетами, этим людям до поры до времени не поручали (Владимиров 1). For the time being they were not given any work connected with rockets (1a). ♦ Как было уже сказано, он поддерживал ровный огонь своей репутации и до поры это даже отдавало игрой, почти искусством… (Битов 2). As has already been said, he maintained the steady flame of his reputation, and for a time this even smacked of a game, almost an art… (2a).

П-448 • ДЛЯ ПОРЯ́ДКА ⟨-У⟩ coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: abstr)] for the observance of form: for appearance’ ⟨form’s, propriety’s⟩ sake; for the sake of appearances ⟨convention, propriety⟩; as a formality; [lim.] (just) to do things properly ⟨right⟩.

По коридору бегают надзиратели, гремят ключами, заглядывают в глазок. «Не спать, не спать, в карцер захотели?» — это Озерову и Шорохову, больше для порядка (ведь они дремлют сидя, а не лёжа) (Марченко 1). The warders were running along the corridor, rattling their keys and looking into the peepholes: “No more sleep, no more sleep, is it the cooler you want?” This was addressed to Ozerov and Shorokhov, but more for form’s sake than anything else; they were dozing sitting up and not lying down (1a).

П-449 • НА ДВА ⟨ТРИ, ДВА-ТРИ⟩ ПОРЯ́ДКА; НА НЕ́СКОЛЬКО ПОРЯ́ДКОВ [PrepP; these forms only; adv or modif (intensif); used with compar forms of Adj or Adv and with verbs denoting quantitative or qualitative change] in a very significant way, very considerably: by several ⟨a few etc⟩ orders of magnitude; vastly; enormously; immensely; incomparably; immeasurably; tremendously.

Василий Илларионович, посмеиваясь, говорил, что Ленин, придумывая свой социализм, рассчитывал именно на таких простецов-энтузиастов, но ошибся на несколько порядков, их хватило только на бревно, которое они тащили вместе с вождём на коммунистическом субботнике (Чудаков 1). Vasily Illarionovich used to joke that when Lenin was drawing up his plans for socialism, he was counting on simple, selfless enthusiasts just like Father to make it all work, but he miscalculated their numbers by a few orders of magnitude—there were only enough people like that to heft a log or two together with Lenin himself on the odd Communist subbotnik (1a).

П-450 • В ОБЯЗА́ТЕЛЬНОМ ПОРЯ́ДКЕ offic [PrepP; Invar; usu. sent adv; fixed WO] (sth. is done, sth. happens) unfailingly, for certain, as part of the accepted procedure: (do sth.) without fail; be obligated ⟨required⟩ (to do sth.); it is mandatory (for s.o. to do sth. ⟨that sth. be done etc⟩); it is an absolute must (for s.o. to do sth. ⟨that sth. be done⟩; || [with должен, надо] should most definitely ⟨assuredly⟩ (do sth).

П-451 • В ПОЖА́РНОМ ПОРЯ́ДКЕ coll, often humor [PrepP; Invar; adv] urgently, fast, very quickly: on the double; as quickly ⟨soon⟩ as possible; in short order; in no time flat; posthaste.

Отчёт мне приходится писать в пожарном порядке: завтра приедет ревизор, времени остаётся меньше суток. I’ve got to write the report in no time flat: the inspector’s coming tomorrow, and there’s less than twenty-four hours left.

П-452 • В ПОРЯ́ДКЕ[1]; В ПО́ЛНОМ ПОРЯ́ДКЕ [PrepP; these forms only] 1. ~ быть$_{ø}$, оказаться, содержаться, содержать что и т.п. [subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. concr) or obj-compl with содержать etc (obj: usu. concr)] (to be, keep sth. etc) in proper condition or order: X в (полном) порядке ≃ X is in (good ⟨perfect⟩) order; X is perfectly in order; X is in good shape; [lim.] X is (working ⟨running etc⟩) fine; || Neg X был не в порядке ≃ X was out of order ⟨commission⟩; X wasn't functioning ⟨working⟩ (properly); X was ⟨went⟩ on the blink ⟨the fritz⟩.

Он [комиссар] повернулся к журналистам. «Ваши документы»… — «У нас документы в полном порядке, товарищ комиссар» (Паустовский 1). He [the commissar] turned to the journalists. "Your documents."… "Our documents are completely in order, Comrade Commissar" (1b).

2. [subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] one is well, in good physical or psychological condition, not experiencing difficulties etc: X в порядке ≃ X is all right ⟨OK⟩; X is doing fine; X is in (perfectly) good shape.

«Скажи, Фима, ты вообще-то в порядке?» — он положил руку на плечо старому товарищу (Аксёнов 12). "Tell me, Fima, are you all right in general?" He put his hand on his old friend's shoulder (12a).

3. всё ~ (у кого) (с кем-чем) [subj-compl with copula (subj: всё)] everything is satisfactory, things are going smoothly, without problems: (у X-а) всё в порядке ≃ everything is all right ⟨(just) fine⟩ (with X); things are going fine (for X); everything is in order; || у X-а всё в порядке с Y-ом ≃ as far as thing Y goes ⟨is concerned⟩, X is doing fine ⟨is in good shape, is all right⟩; || Neg у X-а с Y-ом не всё в порядке ≃ X has a problem ⟨some problems etc⟩ with Y ⟨in thing Y⟩.

«Ничего, Любаша!.. Всё будет в порядке!.. Вы у меня будете жить хорошо» (Шукшин 1). "Don't worry, Lyubasha!… Everything will turn out all right!… You'll have a good life with me…" (1a). ♦ «Ты же знаешь, я не секретарь союза писателей, не член партии и с пятым пунктом у меня не всё в порядке» (Войнович 6). "You know I'm not a secretary of the Writers' Union. I'm not a Party member. And I have a slight problem in the ethnic origin area" (6a).

П-453 • В ПОРЯ́ДКЕ[2] чего offic [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] 1. in the capacity or function of, serving as: by way of; as.

Комитет постановил в порядке наказания исключить эту спортсменку из сборной команды страны. As punishment, the committee decided to remove the athlete from the national team.

2. following sth., in accordance with sth.: in keeping with; as ⟨because it is⟩ part of; in the course of.

Лабазов сказал, что стихи он читает только в порядке служебных обязанностей (Эренбург 1). Labazov said he read poems only because it was part of his duties (1a).

П-454 • В ПОРЯ́ДКЕ ВЕЩЁЙ [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: abstr, often это, всё это); fixed WO] some happening (behavior etc) is usual, natural, normal: это ~ ≃ it's in the nature of things; it's (in) the (natural) order of things; it's quite ⟨only⟩ natural; that's the way things go ⟨happen⟩; [lim.] that's ⟨it's⟩ as it should be.

Но, думал Григорий Иванович, если Алексей будет у меня всякий день, то Бетси должна же будет в него влюбиться. Это в порядке вещей. Время всё сладит (Пушкин 3). But, thought Grigorii Ivanovich, if Aleksei started coming over every day, Liza would be bound to fall in love with him. That was in the nature of things: time is the best matchmaker (3a). ♦ [Дорн:] Если в обществе любят артистов и относятся к ним иначе, чем, например, к купцам, то это в порядке вещей (Чехов 6). [D.:] If actors are liked in society and treated differently from—shall I say?—tradespeople, it's as it should be (6b).

П-455 • В ПОРЯ́ДКЕ ЖИВО́Й О́ЧЕРЕДИ (обслуживать кого, продавать что и т.п.) coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to serve, sell to etc customers) in the order in which they come: first come, first served; on a first-come, first-served basis; (people will be served ⟨waited on etc⟩) in the order in which they come.

Над кассой висело объявление: «Билеты продаются в порядке живой очереди». A sign hung over the ticket window: "Tickets are sold on a first-come, first-served basis."

П-456 • В РАБО́ЧЕМ ПОРЯ́ДКЕ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to solve some problem, settle some question etc) while continuing to engage in one's normal work duties, in the framework of the normal work routine, without taking any special measures: along the way; as one goes; in the regular ⟨normal etc⟩ course of (one's) work.

«Не будем терять времени, — сказал главный инженер, закрывая совещание, — завтра утром начинаем монтаж. Вопросы техники безопасности будем решать в рабочем порядке». "Let's not waste time on this now," said the chief engineer, ending the meeting. "Tomorrow we'll start installing the equipment, and decide questions regarding safety measures as we go."

П-457 • В СРО́ЧНОМ ⟨СПЕ́ШНОМ⟩ ПОРЯ́ДКЕ [PrepP; these forms only; sent adv; fixed WO] (of sth. that requires immediate action) quickly, without delay or procrastination: as a matter of (great) urgency; urgently; in short order; [lim.] rush ⟨push⟩ sth. through.

Не успеет он проработать вопросик и пробежать три ступеньки, как его снова подхватывают, уводят к окну или в тёмный коридор, или в какой-нибудь пустынный закоулок, где неряха завхоз набросал пустые ящики, и что-то ему втолковывают, чего-то добиваются, на чём-то настаивают и просят что-то провернуть в срочном порядке (Ильф и Петров 2). No sooner does he go over the little issue and bound up three stair-steps than he's caught once more, and led over to a window, or a dark corridor, or some dusty nook the lazy director of maintenance has been dumping empty boxes into, where people start convincing him of something, or persuading him to do something, or insisting on something, or asking him to bypass procedure and push something through (2c).

П-458 • СВОЙМ ПОРЯ́ДКОМ идти, пойти, делать что и т.п. coll [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv; fixed WO] in the normal, expected manner (in some cases, with events occurring in their usual succession): (go ⟨go on⟩) as usual ⟨as always, the same as usual, the same as always, just as before⟩; (take ⟨resume, pursue⟩) its normal ⟨usual⟩ course; [lim.] (be) business as usual.

Прошло около двух недель. Жизнь в Марьине текла своим порядком: Аркадий сибаритствовал, Базаров работал (Тургенев 2). About a fortnight passed. Life at Maryino pursued its normal course: Arkady gave himself up to luxurious living and Bazarov worked (2c).

П-459 • Я́ВОЧНЫМ ПОРЯ́ДКОМ ⟨ПУТЁМ⟩ [$NP_{instrum}$; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to do sth.) without receiving authorization beforehand: without advance permission; [lim.] just go ahead and do sth.

П-460 • ПО ПОРЯ́ДКУ (рассказывать, описывать что и т.п.) [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to tell a story, describe sth. etc) presenting things in a logical sequence (and, in the case of a story, in the order in which events occurred): in (its ⟨the⟩ proper) order; in sequence; step by step; (recount etc sth.) in the order in which sth. happened ⟨in chronological order⟩; (tell a story etc) properly, from the beginning; || Neg не ~ ≃ out of order.

…Хотя нас вправе упрекнуть (уже упрекнули), что мы способны рассказывать лишь всё по порядку, «от печки», мы

считаем это правильным, то есть иначе не можем (Битов 2). Although people are within their rights to reproach us (they already have) for being capable of telling things only in order, "from square one," we consider this correct; i.e., we can't do it any other way (2a).

П-461 • ПРИЗЫВА́ТЬ/ПРИЗВА́ТЬ К ПОРЯ́ДКУ кого [VP; subj: human; often pfv infin with надо, пора etc] to make s.o. stop doing sth. objectionable, wrong, or illegal: X призвал Y-а к порядку ≃ X got Y in line; X set Y straight; X put ⟨kept⟩ Y in Y's place; [at a meeting, public gathering, at court] X called Y to order.

«Скворцы» встрепенулись и, считая предмет исчерпанным, вознамерились было, по обыкновению, шутки шутить, но Собачкин призвал их к порядку… (Салтыков-Щедрин 2). The "starlings" stirred in their seats and, thinking the subject exhausted, were about to resume their usual occupation of exchanging jokes, but Sobachkin called them to order (2a).

П-462 • НА ПОРЯ́ДОК [PrepP; Invar; adv or modif (intensif); used with compar forms of Adj or Adv and with verbs denoting quantitative or qualitative change] considerably, in a significant way: by an order of magnitude; significantly; substantially; appreciably; notably; a lot; much; (much) more; far.

«Они проделали довольно большую работу: спасали восточных рабочих, пытались подкармливать военнопленных в лагерях, помогали оттуда удирать тем, кто ещё мог двигаться, снабжали документами „остарбайтер", а потом бежавшие давали себя поймать и попадали в лагеря восточных рабочих, которые были на порядок терпимее…» (Гранин 1). "They were doing important work: saving Eastern laborers, trying to get food to POWs, helping those who could still move to escape from the camps, giving them Ostarbeiter documents so that they could allow themselves to be recaptured and sent to the camps for Eastern laborers, which were more bearable than the other prison camps" (1a).

П-463 • ПРИВОДИ́ТЬ/ПРИВЕСТИ́ В ПОРЯ́ДОК что [VP; subj: human] to arrange sth. in an organized fashion: X привёл Y в порядок ≃ X put ⟨set⟩ Y in order; X brought order to Y; [lim.] X neatened ⟨tidied⟩ up Y; || [in refer. to putting scattered or misplaced things where each of them belongs] X привёл Y-и в порядок ≃ X put Ys in place ⟨in their proper places⟩; || X привёл свои мысли в порядок ≃ X composed his thoughts.

«Господин сотник, что это за чёрт? Приведите свой взвод в порядок» (Шолохов 2). "What the devil are you doing, Lieutenant! Put your troop in order!" (2a). ♦ [Брудастый] назначен был впопыхах и имел в голове некоторое особливое устройство, за что и прозван был «Органчиком». Это не мешало ему, впрочем, привести в порядок недоимки, запущенные его предместником (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). [Wolfbound] was appointed in haste and had in his head a certain peculiar device, because of which he was nicknamed Music Box. This did not prevent him, however, from bringing order to the tax arrears, which had been neglected by his predecessor (1a).

П-464 • ПРИВОДИ́ТЬ/ПРИВЕСТИ́ СЕБЯ́ В ПОРЯ́ДОК [VP; subj: human] to neaten one's appearance: X привёл себя в порядок ≃ X tidied ⟨spruced⟩ himself up; X freshened (himself) up; [in limited contexts; of a woman] X привела себя в порядок ≃ X fixed her makeup.

Помятое лицо с нездоровой сероватой кожей, припухшие веки, мутные глаза. Он как будто только что проснулся после попойки и ещё не успел привести себя в порядок (Лившиц 1). The flabby face with its unhealthy, greyish skin, the puffy eyelids, the lackluster eyes. It was as though he had just woken up after a binge and had not yet managed to tidy himself up (1a).

П-465 • ЧТО ПОСЕ́ЕШЬ, ТО И ПОЖНЁШЬ [saying] the way you treat others is the way you will be treated: ≃ as ye sow, so shall ye reap; as you do unto others, so they will do unto you; [lim.] you have made your bed, now (you must) lie in ⟨on⟩ it.

«Господи… — трясясь от негодования, причитала мать [Влада]. — …Ты скоро вгонишь меня в гроб раньше времени, негодяй!.. Сил моих больше нет!» Тётка, сурово поджав губы, молчала. Её неприязнь к Владу уравновешивалась сейчас торжеством над золовкой: мол… что посеешь, то и пожнёшь (Максимов 2). "Lord…" his [Vlad's] mother wailed, shaking with indignation. "…You'll drive me to an early grave, you little horror!… I've reached the end of my tether!" His aunt, her lips pressed sternly together, said nothing. Her dislike of Vlad was now equalled by the sense of triumph over her sister-in-law:… as ye sow, so shall ye reap (2a).

П-466 • ДО ПОСИНЕ́НИЯ кричать, орать, спорить, зубрить что и т.п. highly coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; usu. used with impfv verbs] (to shout, yell, argue, cram for an exam etc) very intensely for a long period of time, until one is very tired or very tired of doing it (occas. with the implication that one's efforts fail to produce the desired results): (do sth.) till one is about to drop ⟨till one drops⟩; (do sth.) till one can't do it anymore; (do sth.) to the point of exhaustion ⟨till one is exhausted⟩; [with verbs of speech only] till ⟨until⟩ one is blue in the face.

«Как твой дед проводит время?» — «Спорит с соседом о политике до посинения». "How does your grandfather spend his time?" "He argues about politics with his neighbor till they're both blue in the face."

П-467 • ДО ПОСЛЕ́ДНЕГО [PrepP; Invar] 1. биться, сражаться и т.п. ~ [adv] (to fight, struggle, continue doing sth. etc) as long as one's strength lasts, exerting every effort, and, in military contexts, to the point of sacrificing one's life: to the last; to the bitter end; to the (very) end; [lim.] to the last man.

А что, правда: остаться [в России] и биться до последнего? И будь что будет? (Солженицын 2). What, then, should I do? Stay on [in Russia] and fight to the last? Come what may? (2a).

2. usu. всё до последнего [postmodif] all (of sth.) without exception: absolutely (everything); every last (thing ⟨detail etc⟩).

Он ничего от неё не утаил, рассказал всё до последнего. He held nothing back; he told her every last detail.

П-468 • ОСТАВЛЯ́ТЬ/ОСТА́ВИТЬ БЕЗ ПОСЛЕ́ДСТВИЙ что [VP; subj: human or collect; usu. pfv] to disregard (a complaint, a reprehensible action etc) without taking appropriate measures: X оставил Y без последствий ≃ X took no action ⟨didn't take action⟩ on Y; X didn't address ⟨act on⟩ Y; X failed to address ⟨act on⟩ Y; X ignored Y; X did nothing about Y.

Получалось, что сестра Пелагия давеча была права: без последствий произошедшее оставить невозможно (Акунин 2). It turned out that Sister Pelagia had been right the day before: after what had happened it was impossible not to take action (2a).

П-469 • ОСТА́ТЬСЯ ⟨ОБОЙТИ́СЬ, ПРОЙТИ́⟩ БЕЗ ПОСЛЕ́ДСТВИЙ [VP; subj: abstr] (of some act, usu. a reprehensible action, offense, complaint etc) to result in no consequences: X остался без последствий ≃ no action was taken on X; X was ⟨remained⟩ without consequences ⟨consequence⟩; there were no ill effects after X; there were no aftereffects following X; X passed without repercussions; person Y escaped without paying the consequences; || Neg X не остался без последствий ≃ X was not ⟨did not remain⟩ without sequel ⟨consequence(s), repercussions⟩; [lim.] X had its consequences ⟨consequence⟩; X took its toll (on s.o. ⟨sth.⟩); that was not the end of it.

[Кушак:] Мне очень жаль, но на этот раз действительно не обойтись без последствий (Вампилов 5). [K.:] Much as I regret it, this cannot be allowed to pass without repercussions (5a). [K.:] I'm very sorry, but this time they can't escape without paying the consequences (5b).

П-470 • ВХОДИ́ТЬ/ВОЙТИ́ В ПОСЛО́ВИЦУ ⟨В ПОГОВО́РКУ⟩ [VP; subj: usu. abstr; usu. pfv] (usu. of some quality manifest in a person or thing to a very high degree) to become widely known, commonly referred to: X вошёл в пословицу ≃ X is ⟨has become⟩ proverbial ⟨legendary⟩; person X's [NP] made him a living legend.

Одним из первых был взят директор туберкулёзного института профессор Аксянцев, старый член партии. Следом за ним ректор университета Векслин, чья безоглядная преданность партии вошла в Казани в поговорку (Гинзбург 1). One of the first [to be arrested] was Professor Aksyantsev, an old Party member and the head of the Tuberculosis Institute. The next to go was the rector of the university, Vekslin, whose selfless devotion to the Party was proverbial (1b).

П-471 • ПОСТАНО́ВКА ВОПРО́СА [NP; sing only; fixed WO] the manner in which an issue is formulated: a way to pose ⟨of posing⟩ the question ⟨the issue⟩; a way to state ⟨of stating⟩ the matter ⟨the issue⟩; a way to put ⟨of putting⟩ the question ⟨the issue⟩; statement of the matter ⟨the issue, the question⟩; the way the question ⟨matter, issue⟩ is stated ⟨put⟩.

«Да, человек смертен, но это было бы ещё полбеды. Плохо то, что он иногда внезапно смертен, вот в чём фокус! И вообще не может сказать, что он будет делать в сегодняшний вечер». — «Какая-то нелепая постановка вопроса… — помыслил Берлиоз … (Булгаков 9). "Yes, man is mortal, but that isn't so bad. What's bad is that sometimes he's unexpectedly mortal, that's the rub! And, in general, he can't even say in the morning what he'll be doing that very same night." "What an absurd way of posing the question…" thought Berlioz… (9c).

П-472 • СЛЕЧЬ В ПОСТЕ́ЛЬ [VP; subj: human] to become so sick that one has to stay in bed: X слёг в постель ≃ X took to his bed; X fell ill (and took to his bed); X was ⟨became⟩ bedridden.

Его мать так огорчилась тайным браком, что слегла в постель и умерла… (Герцен 2). His mother was so chagrined at the secret marriage that she took to her bed and died… (2a).

П-473 • ПОСТО́ЛЬКУ, ПОСКО́ЛЬКУ [subord Conj, correlative] to the extent that: insofar ⟨in so far⟩ as.

[Серебряков:] …Я стар, болен и потому нахожу своевременным регулировать свои имущественные отношения постольку, поскольку они касаются моей семьи (Чехов 3). [S.:] I'm old and ill, so it seems to me high time to put my property and affairs in order in so far as they affect my family (3c).

П-474 • ПОСТО́ЛЬКУ-ПОСКО́ЛЬКУ coll [AdvP; Invar; adv] (in refer. to a person) (to do sth.) not in full measure (may refer to s.o.'s having only a limited knowledge of sth., doing a job without exerting maximum effort, being unwilling to trust another fully etc): to some degree; up to a point; only so far; not put a lot of effort into (doing sth.).

«Мы вам доверяем, но постольку-поскольку… Ваше предательство не скоро забудется…» — «Ну, и мы вам послужим постольку-поскольку!» — с холодным бешенством подумал… Григорий (Шолохов 5). "We trust you, but only so far…. Your treachery will not soon be forgotten…." "Then we'll serve you only so far," Grigory reflected with cold fury… (5a).

П-475 • ПОСТОЯ́ТЬ ЗА СЕБЯ́ coll [VP; subj: human; often infin with уметь, мочь, готов etc] to defend o.s. against attack, opposition, criticism, etc: X умеет постоять за себя ≃ X can ⟨knows how to⟩ stand ⟨stick⟩ up for himself; X can look after ⟨take care of⟩ himself; [lim.] X is man ⟨woman⟩ enough to stand ⟨stick⟩ up for himself ⟨herself⟩.

«Не связывайся, Фатима. Сама за себя постою» (Пастернак 1). "Don't you meddle in this, Fatima, I can look after myself" (1a). ♦ Мальчики в училище дразнили Иосифа: отец не мог постоять за себя (Рыбаков 2). The boys in school [teased Josef], saying that his father hadn't been man enough to stand up for himself (2a).

П-476 • (НАШ) ПОСТРЁЛ ВЕЗДЕ́ ПОСПЕ́Л [saying] said (either disapprovingly or, less often, humorously and approvingly) of an enterprising, clever person who is involved in everything, and who learns of and acts on new developments before others do: ≃ he ⟨she⟩ has a finger in every pie; he ⟨she⟩ beats everyone to the punch; he ⟨she⟩ gets in on everything.

«Хорош мальчик! Вдруг из отцовских сорока сделал тысяч триста капиталу, и в службе за надворного перевалился, и учёный… Пострел везде поспел!» (Гончаров 1). "Oh, he's a fine fellow! He suddenly turns a capital of forty thousand into three hundred thousand, manages to become a court councilor and a man of learning… He has a finger in every pie" (1b).

П-477 • ПОСЫЛА́ТЬ/ПОСЛА́ТЬ (КУДА́) ПОДА́ЛЬШЕ кого; ПОСЫЛА́ТЬ/ПОСЛА́ТЬ КУДА́ СЛЕ́ДУЕТ all highly coll [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to tell s.o. to stop bothering one and go away: X послал Y-а подальше ≃ X told Y to go to hell ⟨to blazes⟩; X told Y where to go ⟨to head⟩; X told Y to get lost; X sent Y packing ⟨on Y's way⟩.

«…Если мы не найдём общего языка, если вы меня пошлёте сейчас подальше, я и это пойму, поверьте…» (Аксёнов 7). "…If we, shall we say, fail to find a common language, if you tell me to go to blazes, I'll understand, believe me" (7a). ♦ Если бы мне здесь за каждую «пустышку» по два оклада платили, я бы Эрнеста давным-давно подальше послал (Стругацкие 5). If I could get two months' pay for every empty, I could have sent Ernest packing a long time ago (5a).

П-478 • НА ПОСЫ́ЛКАХ (у кого) obsoles, coll [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or obj-compl with держать (obj: human)] one performs minor services, small tasks for s.o.; (to have s.o.) perform minor services, small tasks for one: X у Y-а на посылках ≃ X runs errands for Y; X is Y's errand boy ⟨girl⟩; X fetches and carries for Y; [lim.] X is at Y's beck and call.

«Так, видно, этот Кирила Петрович у вас делает что хочет?» — «И вестимо, барин: …исправник у него на посылках» (Пушкин 1). "So evidently this Kirila Petrovich does just what he likes in these parts?" "Aye, so he does, young master: …the police superintendent is his errand boy" (1a). "So this Kirila Petrovich seems to do as he pleases round here?" "That's the truth, master. …The police captain's at his beck and call" (1c).

П-479 • ВГОНЯ́ТЬ/ВОГНА́ТЬ В ПОТ кого coll [VP; subj: human] 1. [usu. impfv] (often in refer. to physical labor) to compel s.o. to work a lot and very intensely: X вогнял Y-а в пот ≃ X worked Y hard ⟨into the ground⟩; X made Y work very hard; X pushed Y to the limit; X drove Y hard ⟨relentlessly⟩.

До сдачи проекта оставались считанные дни, и Нефедов не только сам работал по шестнадцать часов в сутки, но вогнял в пот даже самых ленивых своих подчинённых. There were precious few days left before the project was due, and not only did Nefedov himself work sixteen hours a day, he pushed even the laziest of his workers to the limit.

2. to cause s.o. to feel extremely agitated, disquieted etc: X вогнал Y-а в пот ≃ X made Y very nervous; X got Y all nervous; X made Y sweat; X threw Y into a panic.

П-480 • ПОТ ПРОШИ́Б кого (от чего); ПО́ТОМ ПРОШИ́БЛО кого both coll [VP_{subj} (1st var.) or VP_{impers} (2nd var.); pfv only] to begin perspiring (from hard work, nervousness, fear etc): X-а пот прошиб ⟨потом прошибло⟩ ≃ [past context] X broke out in a sweat; X broke into a sweat; X started sweating; X began to sweat; X was (literally ⟨actually⟩) sweating; [lim.] X began sweating bullets.

[Кречинский:] (Сочиняет письмо, перечитывает, марает, опять пишет) Вот работка: даже пот прошиб. (Отирает лицо и пробегает письмо.) (Сухово-Кобылин 2). [K. :] (Composes the letter, reads it over, crosses out, writes again.) This is what I call real work; why I've even started sweating. (Wipes his face and quickly peruses the letter.) (2b).

П-481 • ПРОЛИВА́ТЬ/ПРОЛИ́ТЬ ПОТ coll; ПРОЛИ́ТЬ СЕМЬ ПОТО́В coll; УМЫВА́ТЬСЯ ПО́ТОМ substand [VP; subj: human] to work until exhausted: X проливает пот ≃ X sweats and slaves ⟨strains⟩; [lim.] X lives by the sweat of his brow.

[Софья Егоровна:] Мы будем людьми, Мишель! Мы будем есть свой хлеб, мы будем проливать пот, натирать мозоли… (Чехов 1). [S.Ye.:] We'll be decent people, Michael. We shall eat our own bread. We shall live by the sweat of our own brows. We shall have calloused hands (1a).

П-482 • ДО КРОВА́ВОГО ПО́ТА работать и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (in refer. to physically taxing work) (to work) to the point of complete exhaustion: X работал ~ ≃ X worked till he sweated blood; X worked till he dropped.

П-483 • ДО СЕДЬМО́ГО ⟨ДЕСЯ́ТОГО⟩ ПО́ТА работать, трудиться, работа и т.п. coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv or nonagreeing modif; fixed WO] (more often in refer. to physical labor) (to work) until one is extremely tired, fatigued: X работал до седьмого пота ≃ X worked himself into a lather; X sweated his guts out working; X toiled and sweated; X worked ⟨toiled etc⟩ until he was ⟨got⟩ good and sweaty; X worked himself into the ground.

После службы, после колхоза все копались на своих огородах до темноты; заборов не было — только межа; подходили, здоровались, разговаривали… И — работа до седьмого пота; вся любовь к земле, полю, пашне, вся древняя поэзия земледельческого труда переместилась на огород (Чудаков 1). Everyone would come back from their offices or the collective farm and work in their gardens until nightfall. There were no fences: you'd walk up to the owners of the neighboring plot, greet them, converse for a while… and then work until you were good and sweaty. All natural love for the earth, for fields, for land under plough—all the ancient poetry of agricultural toil was invested in those garden plots (1a).

П-484 • В ПО́ТЕ ЛИЦА́ работать, трудиться и т.п.; В ПО́ТЕ ЛИЦА́ СВОЕГО́ obs [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to work) with great zeal, applying all one's strength and energy: by the sweat of one's brow.

[Ирина:] Человек должен трудиться, работать в поте лица, кто бы он ни был… (Чехов 5). [I.:] Man must work, he must toil by the sweat of his brow, no matter who he is… (5a).

< From the Bible: "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread…" (Gen. 3:19).

П-485 • БЛУЖДА́ТЬ ⟨БРОДИ́ТЬ⟩ В ПОТЁМКАХ coll [VP; subj: human] to try to understand sth. or find the correct solution to some problem without having the necessary experience or information: X блуждает в потёмках ≃ X is (groping ⟨fumbling⟩) in the dark.

«Ты нам всё по совести рассказывай!» — «Мы тут в потёмках блукаем [Ukrainian = блуждаем]» (Шолохов 3). "Tell us the truth." "We're all in the dark here" (3b).

П-486 • В ПОТЁМКАХ coll [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] one is completely uninformed about a specific situation or occurrence, is lacking knowledge or understanding of a specific subject etc: X был в потёмках ≃ X was in the dark; X was lost ⟨at a loss, at sea⟩.

Спасибо, что вы мне рассказали правду о том, что произошло. Всё это время я была в потёмках. Thank you for telling me the truth about what happened. All this time I was in the dark.

П-487 • ДО ПОТЕ́РИ СОЗНА́НИЯ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] to an extremely high degree: like mad ⟨crazy⟩; || зубрить ~ ≃ cram till one drops; study to the point of exhaustion; || злить ⟨раздражать⟩ кого ~ ≃ vex ⟨irritate⟩ s.o. no end; || устать ~ ≃ be dead tired ⟨dog-tired⟩; || влюбиться (в кого) ~ ≃ fall madly in love (with s.o.); fall head over heels for s.o.; || напугать кого ~ ≃ scare ⟨frighten⟩ s.o. out of his wits; scare s.o. stiff ⟨silly⟩; scare the pants off s.o.

П-488 • ЧЬЯ ПОТЕ́РЯ, МОЯ́ НАХО́ДКА coll, cliché [sent; Invar; fixed WO] (said, usu. by children, when finding sth.; usu. the person who finds the lost object does not show anyone what he has found) the person who finds a lost thing has the right to keep it: finders keepers (, losers weepers).

П-489 • КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ ПОТЕ́РЯННЫЙ ходить, бродить, глядеть и т.п. coll [как etc + AdjP; nom only; adv] (to walk around, wander etc) in an unsettled, distressed, confused state, (to look) unsettled, distressed, confused: like a lost soul; like a man ⟨a woman⟩ distraught; [lim.] with a lost look; out of one's senses.

На жилищных — стояли ряды бараков… громадных, длинных, одинаковых бараков. Попадались палатки. Попадались землянки. Тоже большие и тоже одинаковые. Она бродила среди них как потерянная (Катаев 1). At the habitation sectors stood rows of barracks… huge, long barracks, all alike; occasionally, tents; occasionally, sod huts—also large and also all alike. She wandered among them like a lost soul (1a).

П-490 • ПОШЛА́ ПОТЕ́ХА! highly coll [sent; fixed WO] some boisterous, impetuous action began: (then) the fun

⟨the excitement, the trouble⟩ began; (and) the fun was on; (then) all hell broke loose; [lim.] and the sport began.

«Через две минуты уж в сакле был ужасный гвалт… Все выскочили, схватились за ружья — и пошла потеха. Крик, шум, выстрелы…» (Лермонтов 1). “Two minutes later a terriffic uproar broke out in the hut…. Everybody rushed out and went for their rifles—and the fun was on! There was screaming and shouting and shots were fired…” (1b). “Two minutes later, there was a terrible uproar indoors…. Everybody dashed out, grabbed their rifles—and the sport began! There was shouting, noise, rifle shots…” (1a).

П-491 • СЕМЬ ⟨ДЕ́СЯТЬ⟩ ПОТО́В СГОНЯ́ТЬ/СОГНА́ТЬ ⟨СПУСКА́ТЬ/СПУСТИ́ТЬ⟩ coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv; usu. this WO] 1. ~ с кого to wear out, exhaust s.o. with hard work: X с Y-а семь потов сгонит ≃ X will work Y till Y drops; X will work Y to the point of exhaustion ⟨into the ground⟩; X will make Y sweat blood.

Семь потов сгоню, но сделаю из тебя настоящего мастера. I’ll work you into the ground, but I’ll make a real master craftsman of you.

2. (usu. in refer. to physical labor or athletics) to expend an enormous amount of effort: X семь потов спустил ≃ X knocked himself out; X did sth. till he dropped; X sweated blood.

Когда Харламов начал полнеть, он стал тренироваться ежедневно, сгоняя на каждой тренировке по семь потов. When Kharlamov began to put on weight, he started working out every day, and would knock himself out at each training session.

П-492 • СЕМЬ ⟨ДЕ́СЯТЬ⟩ ПОТО́В СОШЛО́ с кого coll [VP_{subj}; usu. this WO] s.o. made a tremendous effort, exerted an enormous amount of energy, exhausted himself (in accomplishing sth.): с X-а семь потов сошло ≃ X sweated blood; X knocked himself out; X did sth. till he dropped.

«Однажды у нас пропала лошадь… Часа два шли мы по её следу, пока не увидели её на таком выступе, откуда она сама спуститься не могла… Семь потов с нас сошло, пока мы её оттуда выволокли и пригнали обратно» (Искандер 3). “One time one of our horses got lost…. We followed the tracks for two hours until we saw him on a ledge he couldn’t get down from by himself…. We sweated blood dragging him out of there and driving him back” (3a).

П-493 • отдать на ПОТО́К И РАЗГРАБЛЕ́НИЕ что; предать ПОТО́КУ И РАЗГРАБЛЕ́НИЮ что both obs, lit [NP; fixed WO] complete destruction and widespread looting (of some place, country etc): X-ы отдали Y на поток и разграбление ≃ Xs surrendered Y to be ravaged and plundered ⟨pillaged and ruined⟩; || X-ы предали Y потоку и разграблению ≃ Xs ravaged and plundered ⟨pillaged and ruined⟩ Y.

< In Old Russia «поток» was punishment that allowed for the property of the punished person or group to be plundered.

П-494 • С ПОТОЛКА́ взять, сказать что coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to say, claim etc sth.) without any factual basis, evidence etc: X взял Y ~ ≃ X got Y (from) out of the blue; X pulled Y from out of nowhere; X pulled ⟨made up⟩ Y out of thin air; Y came out of thin air; X was talking through his hat; X got ⟨came up with⟩ Y off the top of X’s head.

В передовой его [редактора Ермолкина] всегда интересовали не тема, не содержание, не, скажем, стиль изложения, его интересовало только, чтобы слово «Сталин» упоминалось не меньше двенадцати раз… Почему он взял минимальным это число, а не какое другое, просто ли с потолка или чутьё подсказывало, сказать трудно, но было именно так (Войнович 4). It was never the editorial’s theme, content, or, shall we say, its expository style which interested him [Editor Ermolkin]; all that interested him was that the word “Stalin” be mentioned no less than twelve times…. Why he selected this as the minimum and not some other amount, whether he got it from out of the blue or was following some hint, is difficult to say, but in any case, that was how it was (4a).

П-495 • ПЛЕВА́ТЬ ⟨ПОПЛЁВЫВАТЬ⟩ В ПОТОЛО́К coll [VP; subj: human] to idle, do absolutely nothing: X плюёт в потолок ≃ X goofs off; X loafs; X twiddles his thumbs; X sits around on his butt.

Варвара жаловалась на сына: «Не знаю, что с ним делать. Работать не хочет, целыми днями плюёт в потолок». Varvara complained about her son: “I don’t know what to do with him. He doesn’t want to work, and he spends whole days goofing off.”

П-496 • ОБЛИВА́ТЬСЯ/ОБЛИ́ТЬСЯ ПО́ТОМ [VP; subj: human] to be or become wet from perspiring too much (usu. from strenuous work, strong emotion etc): X обливается потом ≃ X is drenched ⟨soaked⟩ in ⟨with⟩ sweat; X is bathed in sweat; X is dripping with sweat; X is sweating ⟨perspiring⟩ profusely; || обливаясь потом ≃ all covered in ⟨with⟩ sweat; all perspired; all soaked ⟨drenched, bathed⟩ in sweat; drenched in ⟨with⟩ perspiration.

Когда повозки стали подниматься на холм, Яков Михайлович сделал себе послабление. Видел, что после возвышенности дорога спускается в лощину, и рассудил: умный в гору не пойдёт, умный гору обойдёт. Чем зря потом обливаться, лучше обойти холм лужком-низиной (Акунин 4). When the carts started climbing up a hill, Yakov Mikhailovich allowed himself a little indulgence. He could see that after the hill the road ran down into a hollow, and he thought: The clever man doesn’t climb a hill, the clever man goes around it. Why get himself soaking in sweat when he could walk around the hill on the low ground? (4a).

П-497 • ПО́ТОМ И КРО́ВЬЮ добывать что доставаться и т.п. coll [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv; fixed WO] at the cost of great effort, much work etc: (achieve sth. by ⟨cost s.o. etc⟩) a lot of blood and sweat ⟨blood, sweat, and tears⟩; (achieve ⟨get⟩ sth.) by one’s own sweat and blood.

[Варравин:] Состояние?! — А что, вы как думаете, — оно мне даром пришло — а? Потом да кровью пришло оно мне! (Сухово-Кобылин 1). [V.:] Fortune?! What, do you think I got mine for nothing? Well? I got it by my own sweat and blood! (1a).

П-498 • А ПОТОМУ́ [subord Conj; resultative] as a consequence of something that happened earlier: and therefore; which is (the reason) why; and that’s why; and so; and as a result (of that); and because of that.

Не брал Ксаверий Феофилактович мзды, не то что другие полицианты, а потому каменных палат не нажил и, выйдя на пенсию, поселился в скромном замоскворецком домишке с огородом (Акунин 3). Unlike other police officers, Xavier Feofilaktovich did not take bribes, and therefore he never earned enough to buy himself a stone mansion, and when he retired he had settled in a modest house with a vegetable garden in the Zamoskvorechie district (3a).

П-499 • ПОТОМУ́ ЧТО ⟨КАК substand⟩; ОТТОГО́ ЧТО [subord Conj; introduces a clause of reason] for the reason that: because; as; for; since.

«Третий закон: спишь с начальством, не показывай вида, потому как начальники меняются…» (Максимов 3). “Third Commandment: If you sleep with the boss, don’t make it so obvious, because bosses come and go" (3a). ♦ «Я стал читать, учиться — науки также надоели; я видел, что ни слава, ни счастье от них не зависят нисколько, потому что самые счастливые люди — невежды…» (Лермонтов 1). "I began to read and to study, but wearied of learning too; I saw that neither fame, nor happiness depended on it in the slightest, for the happiest people were the ignorant…" (1b).

П-500 • ПО́СЛЕ НАС ХОТЬ ПОТО́П coll, cliché [sent; Invar; fixed WO] I or we do not care what may come later as long as life is good for us: after us, the deluge.

< Loan translation of the French Après nous, le déluge, widely attributed to Madame de Pompadour, mistress of King Louis XV of France. Some sources attribute the phrase to the King himself.

П-501 • ДО ПОТО́ПА coll, usu. humor or iron [PrepP; Invar; adv] very long ago: way back when; before the flood.

«Посмотри, что я нашла в бабушкином сундуке!» — «Такие платья, должно быть, до потопа носили». "Look what I found in Grandma's old trunk!" "They must have worn dresses like that way back when."

< Referring to the Biblical account of the Deluge (Gen. 7, 8).

П-502 • С ⟨СО ВСЕ́МИ⟩ ПОТРОХА́МИ highly coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv; usu. used with pfv verbs] in full, completely, with everything there is: lock, stock, and barrel; body and soul; hook, line, and sinker; bag and baggage; || продать кого со всеми потрохами ≃ sell s.o. out; sell s.o. down the river.

Сговориться с Лурье мне было нетрудно, ибо сговариваться, правду сказать, было не о чем: я без колебаний отдавал ему на съедение всего Баха с потрохами… (Лившиц 1). I had no problem in reaching an agreement with Lourié because to tell the truth, there was nothing to reach an agreement about. I could safely leave Bach, lock, stock and barrel to his mercy… (1a).

П-503 • ДО (СА́МЫХ) ПОТРОХО́В промёрзнуть, промокнуть, потрясти кого и т.п. highly coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv (intensif); used with pfv verbs] very thoroughly, extremely: промёрзнуть ~ ≃ get chilled to the bone ⟨to the marrow, right through⟩; || промокнуть ~ ≃ get soaked to the skin; get soaked through; get drenched to the bone; || потрясти ~ ≃ shock the hell out of s.o.

День был холодный, и мы промёрзли до самых потрохов. It was a cold day, and we got chilled to the bone.

П-504 • ПРОДАВА́ТЬ/ПРОДА́ТЬ ЗА ⟨ПРОМЕНЯ́ТЬ НА⟩ ЧЕЧЕВИ́ЧНУЮ ПОХЛЁБКУ кого-что; ПРОДАВА́ТЬСЯ/ПРОДА́ТЬСЯ ЗА ЧЕЧЕВИ́ЧНУЮ ПОХЛЁБКУ all lit, derog [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to betray s.o. or some important cause for a meager reward, out of petty self-interest: X продал Y-а за чечевичную похлёбку ≃ X sold Y for a mess of pottage.

…Врачу в лагере труднее, чем всем прочим смертным, сохранить душу живую, не продать за чечевичную похлёбку совесть, жизнь тысяч товарищей (Гинзбург 1). …[In camp,] it was harder for a doctor than for anyone else to keep his integrity and resist selling the lives of thousands of his fellow-prisoners for a mess of pottage (1a).

< From the Biblical account (Gen. 25: 29–34) of how Esau sold his birthright to his brother Jacob for a pottage of lentils.

П-505 • С ПОХО́ДОМ взвесить, продать highly coll [PrepP; Invar; adv or nonagreeing modif (when used with a quantit NP)] (to weigh sth. out, sell sth.) adding a small surplus (for no extra charge): giving s.o. a little extra for good measure; a generous [quantit NP]; (weigh sth. out etc) generously; (give ⟨sell⟩ s.o.) [quantit NP] and then some; (be) far from stingy (in weighing out sth.).

Приятно покупать мёд на пасеке. Пасечник не только мёдом угостит, но и взвесит с походом. It's nice to buy honey at an apiary. The beekeeper not only treats you to some honey, but, when weighing out your purchase, gives you a little extra for good measure.

П-506 • НА КОГО́ ⟨НА ЧТО⟩ ПОХО́Ж coll [AdjP; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$, стать (subj: human, usu. pers pronoun); fixed WO] (of a person who looks sloppy, unhealthy, frozen etc) s.o. looks worse than usual and/or worse than he should: на кого X похож! ≃ what a state X is in!; X looks a sight!; what a sight X is!; just look at X!

Митя, на кого ты похож! Где ты так выпачкался? Mitya, just look at you! Where did you get so dirty?

П-507 • НА ЧТО Э́ТО ПОХО́ЖЕ? coll [sent (with быть$_{ø}$); usu. pres or fut; fixed WO] (used to express indignation, resentment, reproach etc) what kind of behavior or action is this?: whoever heard (of) the like?; whoever heard of such a thing?; what (sort of game) is this?; what do you ⟨they etc⟩ think you ⟨they etc⟩ are doing?; [lim.] what will ⟨did⟩ it look like?; what sort of situation is this ⟨would that be etc⟩?

[Городничий:] А, Степан Ильич, скажите ради бога, куда вы запропастились? На что это похоже? (Гоголь 4). [Mayor:] Ah, Stepan Ilyich! Say, for God's sake, where've you been hiding out? Whoever heard the like! (4d).

П-508 • НЕ ПОХО́ЖЕ на кого coll [AdjP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: infin or это] doing sth. is not typical, characteristic of s.o.: это не похоже на X-а ≃ that's unlike ⟨not like⟩ X; that's not the X I know; that's out of character for X.

[Варвара Капитоновна:] Никому ничего не сказать. Так не похоже на Борю (Розов 3). [V.K.:] Not telling anybody anything. That's not like Borya (3a).

П-509 • ПОХО́ЖЕ (НА ТО), ЧТО… coll [these forms only; impers predic with быть$_{ø}$; fixed WO] apparently, evidently: it looks like; it looks as if; (it's) as if; it seems that.

Похоже на то, что он на меня нынче смотрит только лишь как на лидера группы… (Аксёнов 12). It looks as if he sees me now as only the leader of the new group… (12a). ♦ В Москве шли холодные дожди, похоже было на то, что лето уже прошло и не вернётся… (Бунин 1). Cold rain was falling in Moscow, as if summer were already over and would not return… (1a).

П-510 • (Э́ТО) НИ НА ЧТО НЕ ПОХО́ЖЕ! coll [usu. indep. sent; fixed WO] (used to express indignation, anger, or a sharply negative attitude toward some action or occurrence) this is very bad, no good at all: this is (absolutely) unheard of!; I've never seen ⟨heard (of)⟩ anything like it!; that's ⟨it's⟩ beyond anything ⟨everything⟩!; it's unthinkable!; this is outrageous; this is (just) too much.

«…Это ни на что не похоже; хоть бы ты побранил свою жену. Что это? Как сумасшедшая без тебя. Ничего не видит, не помнит…» (Толстой 7). "…I never saw anything like it; you really must give your wife a good scolding! She is like one possessed without you. No eyes for anything, forgets everything" (7a).

П-511 • ВОЗДУ́ШНЫЙ ПОЦЕЛУ́Й (послать кому) [NP; usu. obj; fixed WO] a gesture used to represent a kiss, made by moving one's hand toward one's lips and then in the direction of s.o.: X послал Y-у воздушный поцелуй ≃ X blew Y a kiss.

Статный австрийский офицер со спортсменской выправкой шёл под конвоем на вокзал. Ему улыбнулись две барышни, гулявшие по перрону. Он на ходу очень ловко раскланялся и послал им воздушный поцелуй (Шолохов 2). A fine-looking Austrian officer with the bearing of an athlete was being taken under guard to the station building. Two young ladies strolling along the platform smiled at him. He managed a very neat bow without stopping and blew them a kiss (2a).

П-512 • ИУ́ДИН ПОЦЕЛУ́Й; ИУ́ДИНО ЛОБЗА́НИЕ; ПОЦЕЛУ́Й ИУ́ДЫ all lit, derog [NP; fixed WO] betrayal hypocritically concealed by outward friendliness: Judas kiss; kiss of Judas.

< From the Bible (Matt. 26:48–49, Mark 14:44–45, Luke 22: 47–48).

П-513 • ПО́ЧВА ⟨ЗЕМЛЯ́⟩ УХО́ДИТ/УШЛА́ ⟨УСКОЛЬЗА́ЕТ/УСКОЛЬЗНУ́ЛА, УПЛЫВА́ЕТ/УПЛЫЛА́⟩ ИЗ-ПОД НОГ чьих, (у) кого; ПО́ЧВА КОЛЕ́БЛЕТСЯ/ЗАКОЛЕБА́ЛАСЬ ПОД НОГА́МИ чьими, у кого [VP_{subj}] s.o.'s position is becoming extremely tenuous, unstable, s.o. is losing confidence in himself, in his chances to achieve success in sth.: почва уходит у X-а из-под ног ≃ the ground is giving way ⟨is slipping (out) from⟩ beneath X's feet; the ground is giving way under X; the rug is being pulled out from under X.

…Когда последний огонёк Узловска исчез за срезом оконного проёма и сырая ночь вплотную приникла к стеклу, он почувствовал, что земля уходит у него из-под ног (Максимов 3). …When he had watched from his carriage window as the last light [of Uzlovsk] disappeared and the damp darkness pressed in against the glass, he had felt that the ground was giving way beneath his feet (3a).

П-514 • НА ПО́ЧВЕ чего [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] 1. by reason of sth., as a consequence of sth.: on the grounds of; on account of; because of; due ⟨owing⟩ to; (resulting) from.

На почве вызовов [в политическую полицию] у людей развились две болезни: одни подозревали во всяком человеке стукача, другие боялись, что их примут за стукача (Мандельштам 1). Because of this system of "interviews [with the secret police]," people developed two kinds of phobia—some suspected that everybody they met was an informer, others that they might be taken for one (1a).

2. having its base in (sth.): on the basis of; based on; basing itself on (the fact that…); rooted ⟨grounded⟩ in.

Этот вывод сделан на почве тщательно проведённых экспериментов. This conclusion was drawn on the basis of carefully conducted experiments.

П-515 • СТОЯ́ТЬ НА ТВЁРДОЙ ⟨РЕА́ЛЬНОЙ⟩ ПО́ЧВЕ; ИМЕ́ТЬ (ТВЁРДУЮ) ПО́ЧВУ ПОД НОГА́МИ all lit [VP; subj: human] to be in a secure position, have a basis allowing one to feel secure: X стоит на твёрдой почве ≃ X is (standing) on solid ⟨firm⟩ ground; X has a firm footing.

Получив постоянную работу, Карпов ощутил, что стоит на твёрдой почве. Once he got a steady job, Karpov felt that he was on solid ground.

П-516 • ВЫБИВА́ТЬ/ВЫ́БИТЬ ⟨ВЫШИБА́ТЬ/ВЫ́ШИБИТЬ⟩ ПО́ЧВУ ИЗ-ПОД НОГ чьих, (у) кого [VP; subj: human or, less often, abstr] to undermine s.o.'s sense of security, undercut s.o.'s plans, arguments etc, make precarious s.o.'s position in life or in some situation etc: X выбил у Y-а почву из-под ног ≃ X cut the ground (out) from under Y ⟨Y's feet⟩; [often in refer. to withholding or withdrawing support from s.o.] X pulled the rug out from under Y; [usu. in refer. to undercutting s.o.'s arguments in a debate, negotiations etc] X left Y without a leg to stand on.

Разрешив банкам обмен денег, правительство выбило почву из-под ног спекулянтов валютой. By permitting banks to change money, the government cut the ground out from under speculators in hard currency.

П-517 • ЗОНДИ́РОВАТЬ/ПОЗОНДИ́РОВАТЬ ⟨ПРОЗОНДИ́РОВАТЬ⟩ ПО́ЧВУ lit [VP; subj: human] to (try to) find out about sth. beforehand (usu. in order to determine ahead of time the chances for success): X зондирует почву ≃ X tests ⟨explores⟩ the ground; X tests the waters; X sounds ⟨feels, checks⟩ out the possibilites; X puts out feelers.

По прибытии нашем в роту нас медленно ощупывали, заранее стараясь определить, какое количество жизненных благ можно от нас получить… Мы, со своей стороны, тоже зондировали почву… (Лившиц 1). When one of us arrived in the company, they mentally felt us over, trying to predetermine the number of earthly blessings which they could extract from us…. For our part we also explored the ground… (1a).

П-518 • ИМЕ́ТЬ ПОД СОБО́Й ПО́ЧВУ (какую) lit [VP; subj: abstr (подозрение, опасение, заключение etc); usu. neg] (of a suspicion, apprehension, conclusion etc) to have a rational basis: X имеет под собой почву ≃ X is grounded in fact; X is well-founded ⟨well-grounded⟩; X has a firm ⟨solid⟩ basis; || Neg X не имеет под собой почвы ≃ X is groundless ⟨ungrounded, unfounded, without foundation⟩; there is no basis for X.

…Я думаю, что утверждение некоторых очевидцев, что скот села Анхара, проявляя массовое ясновиденье, предсказывал бой, не имеет под собой серьёзной научной почвы (Искандер 3). …I do not think there is any serious scientific basis for the claim of some eyewitnesses that the livestock of the village of Ankhara displayed mass clairvoyance and foretold the battle (3a).

П-519 • ПОДГОТА́ВЛИВАТЬ/ПОДГОТО́ВИТЬ ⟨РАСЧИЩА́ТЬ/РАСЧИ́СТИТЬ и т.п.⟩ ПО́ЧВУ для чего lit [VP; subj: human or abstr] to prepare the conditions that allow for sth.: X подготовил почву для Y-а ≃ X prepared ⟨laid⟩ the ground for Y; X prepared ⟨paved⟩ the way for Y; X set the stage for Y.

[author's usage] Понятие «развитие», очевидно, прочно связалось с позитивистами — Контом, Стюартом Миллем и всеми теми, кого читали и чтили люди поколения его [Мандельштама] матери, и кто пробил у нас почву для марксизма (Мандельштам 1). For him [Mandelstam], the concept of "development" was evidently firmly associated with the positivists—Comte, Stuart Mill and others, read and revered by people of his mother's generation, who had prepared the way for Marxism (1a).

П-520 • ПРОЩУ́ПЫВАТЬ/ПРОЩУ́ПАТЬ ⟨НАЩУ́ПЫВАТЬ/НАЩУ́ПАТЬ⟩ ПО́ЧВУ (для чего) coll [VP; subj: human] to (try to) find out what the situation is, what the circumstances are (usu. in order to see whether they are conducive to the realization of one's goals): X прощупывает почву ≃ X is testing the waters; X is putting out feelers; X is feeling ⟨checking⟩ out the situation; X is getting the lay of the land; X is exploring ⟨testing⟩ the ground; [lim.] X is sounding ⟨feeling⟩ person Y out.

Он хочет выяснить, поддержим ли мы его, поэтому и задаёт столько вопросов. Прощупывает почву. He wants to find out whether or not we'll support him, that's why he's asking so many questions. He's testing the waters.

П-521 • ТЕРЯ́ТЬ/ПОТЕРЯ́ТЬ ПО́ЧВУ ⟨ЗЕ́МЛЮ⟩ ПОД НОГА́МИ ⟨ИЗ-ПОД НОГ, ПОД СОБО́Й⟩ [VP; subj: human] to lose one's sense of security, lose confidence in o.s. etc (often as a result of having lost one's social position, job etc): X потерял почву под ногами ≃ the ground slipped (out) from ⟨gave way⟩ beneath X's feet; X felt the ground slipping (out) from ⟨giving way⟩ beneath his feet; X felt the ground slipping (out) from under his feet; X felt the ground slipping away (from) under him ⟨his feet⟩.

Красивая роль руководителя народного чувства так понравилась Растопчину, он так сжился с нею, что… необходимость оставления Москвы без всякого героического эффекта застала его врасплох, и он вдруг потерял из-под ног почву, на которой стоял, и решительно не знал, что ему делать (Толстой 6). The illustrious role of leader of popular feeling so delighted Rostopchin, and he had grown so accustomed to it, that the necessity of… surrendering Moscow with no heroic display of any kind took him unawares, and he suddenly felt the ground slipping away from under him and was utterly at a loss to know what to do (6a).

П-522 • ПОЧЁМ ЗРЯ́ ругать, бранить кого, ругаться, лупить, бить кого, врать и т.п. highly coll [AdvP; Invar; adv (intensif); usu. used with impfv verbs; fixed WO] (to berate s.o., swear, beat s.o., lie etc) to an extreme degree, to the utmost extent: ругать ⟨бранить и т.п.⟩ кого ~ ≃ curse s.o. for all one is worth; curse ⟨chew⟩ s.o. out; abuse s.o. in every way one can; || ругаться ⟨браниться⟩ ~ ≃ turn the air blue; curse ⟨cuss⟩ a blue streak; curse for all one is worth; || бить кого ~ ≃ give s.o. a good beating ⟨thrashing⟩; beat s.o. black and blue; || врать ~ ≃ lie like a rug.

…В середине лета Константин Иванович пал духом, клянёт правительство почём зря (Трифонов 6). …By midsummer Konstantin Ivanovich had grown despondent and was cursing the government for all he was worth (6a).

П-523 • ПО-ЧЁРНОМУ ругаться, пить, воровать, врать и т.п. coll [AdvP; adv (intensif)] to do sth. bad (often illegal) to an extreme degree: (swear, steal, lie, drink etc) like you wouldn't believe ⟨like there's no tomorrow, like it's going out of style⟩; || пить ~ ≃ hit the bottle (really) hard; be a heavy drinker; be ⟨become⟩ a (hopeless) lush ⟨drunk⟩; be ⟨become⟩ an inveterate drunkard ⟨a downright alcoholic, an out-and-out alcoholic etc⟩; || ругаться ~ ≃ drop f-words ⟨f-bombs⟩ left and right; swear ⟨curse⟩ left and right; swear like a trooper ⟨sailor⟩; have a mouth like a sewer; || воровать ~ ≃ steal anything that isn't nailed ⟨tied⟩ down; || врать ~ ≃ lie like a rug.

Жена его через несколько лет уехала на заработки на Север, оставив ему детей, как выяснилось, насовсем; он нашёл вторую, которая тоже курила и пила уже по-чёрному (Чудаков 1). After a few years, his wife left to do a stint of higher-paying work up North, leaving him with the kids—for good, as it turned out. He remarried; his second wife was also a smoker, and a downright alcoholic (1a).

П-524 • ОТДАВА́ТЬ/ОТДА́ТЬ ПОСЛЕ́ДНИЕ ПО́ЧЕСТИ ⟨ПОСЛЕ́ДНЮЮ ПО́ЧЕСТЬ⟩ кому [VP; subj: human (often pl); fixed WO] to observe the accepted rituals or render military funeral honors when interring the deceased or those fallen in battle: X-ы отдали Y-у последние почести ≃ Xs paid their last ⟨final⟩ tribute ⟨respects⟩ to Y.

П-525 • ПОЧЁТ И УВАЖЕ́НИЕ obsoles [formula phrase; Invar; fixed WO] a salutation upon meeting: good day ⟨morning, evening, afternoon⟩; how do you do; greetings; my compliments.

П-526 • В ПОЧЁТЕ (у кого, где) [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$; prep obj: usu. pl or collect] 1. [subj: human] one enjoys the respect of s.o. (usu. some group, community etc): X ~ (у Y-ов) ≃ Ys hold X in high esteem ⟨regard⟩; X is held in high esteem ⟨regard⟩ (by Ys); X is highly regarded ⟨esteemed, respected⟩ (by Ys); || Neg X (у Y-ов) не ~ ≃ X is viewed with disfavor (by Ys); Ys don't think much of X; X doesn't get much respect (from Ys).

Специалисты высокого класса у нас в почёте. We hold first-rate specialists in high esteem.

2. [subj: abstr] sth. is considered worth practicing, a worthwhile undertaking, is respected, supported, recognized: X ~ (у Y-ов) ≃ X is well-regarded ⟨highly regarded⟩ (by Ys); X is popular ⟨enjoys (much) popularity⟩ (with Ys); [lim.] X has an honored part to play; || Neg X (у Y-ов) не ~ ≃ Ys don't think much of X; X is looked down upon (by Ys).

Огромное значение имело бы исследование количества доносов по периодам и распределение доносителей по возрасту. Существенно также качество и стиль доноса. К сожалению, социологические исследования у нас не в почёте (Мандельштам 2). A study of the number of denunciations by periods and by age of their authors would have enormous importance. The question of their quality and style would also repay investigation. But, alas, sociological studies are not well regarded in this country (2a). ♦ «Ошибки у нас бывают, — ещё Ленин говорил, не ошибается тот, кто ничего не делает, — но на ошибках учимся, критика и самокритика у нас в почёте…» (Максимов 1). "We do make mistakes, of course. Only those who do nothing make no mistakes, as Lenin said. But we learn from our mistakes. Criticism and self-criticism have an honoured part to play here…" (1a).

П-527 • МОЁ ⟨НА́ШЕ⟩ ПОЧТЕ́НИЕ[1] (кому); НИЖА́ЙШЕЕ ПОЧТЕ́НИЕ all obsoles [formula phrase; these forms only; fixed WO] a salutation used upon meeting or parting: [upon meeting] good day ⟨morning, evening, afternoon⟩; my respects; my compliments; greetings!; how do you do; [when parting] (my) regards; good day (to you); have a good ⟨pleasant⟩ day.

[Городничий:] Желаю здравствовать! [Хлестаков:] Моё почтение… (Гоголь 4). [Mayor:] How do you do, Sir! [Kh.:] My respects… (4b). ♦ [Сахатов:] Да, да. Моё почтение! (Уходит с лёгким поклоном.) (Толстой 3). [S.:] Good day to you, then. (Gives a small bow, and turns to go) (3b).

П-528 • МОЁ ПОЧТЕ́НИЕ[2] obsoles [NP; Invar] 1. approv [usu. subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: any common noun)] sth. is absolutely amazing, unbelievable: X — моё почтение ≃ X is really something!; X is (really) something else!; X is like nothing you've ever seen ⟨tasted etc⟩ before; [lim.] I take off my hat to X.

«…Признаюсь, не люблю я также винтовок черкесских; они как-то нашему брату неприличны, — приклад маленький, того

и гляди нос обожжёт… Зато уж шашки у них — просто моё почтение!..» (Лермонтов 1). “I must say, I also do not like Circassian rifles. Somehow, they don’t seem to be suitable for the likes of us: the butt is so small you have to be careful not to get your nose burnt…. But then, those swords they have—ah, they’re really something!” (1a). “I must admit I don’t like the Cherkess rifles either; they are a bit inconvenient for the likes of us; the butt is so small that unless you watch out you may get your nose scorched…. Their sabres now are a different matter—I take my hat off to them!” (1b).

2. obsoles, iron [Interj or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. infin); pres only] (used to express one’s refusal to do sth., usu. sth. unpleasant, that is proposed, suggested, or requested by another) I absolutely will not do it: thanks, but no thanks!; no way!

Ехать в такой ливень на другой конец города — это уж моё почтение! Go all the way across town in a downpour like this? Thanks, but no thanks!

П-529 • С ПОЧТЕ́НИЕМ быть$_{ø}$ у кого, явиться к кому и т.п.; ЗАСВИДЕ́ТЕЛЬСТВОВАТЬ (СВОЁ) ПОЧТЕ́НИЕ кому both obs [PrepP, Invar, adv (1st var.); VP, subj: human (2nd var.)] (to visit s.o.) as an expression of one’s high regard for him: X был с почтением у Y-а ≃ X paid his respects to Y.

Весь следующий день посвящён был визитам; приезжий отправился делать визиты всем городским сановникам. Был с почтением у губернатора… Потом отправился к вице-губернатору, потом был у прокурора… (Гоголь 3). All the next day was devoted to calls. The newcomer set out on a round of visits to all the high officials in town. He paid his respects to the Governor…. Then [he] called on the Vice-Governor, on the Public Prosecutor… (3c).

П-530 • С СОВЕРШЕ́ННЫМ ⟨СОВЕРШЕ́ННЕЙШИМ, ГЛУБО́КИМ, НИЖА́ЙШИМ⟩ ПОЧТЕ́НИЕМ; ПРИМИ́ТЕ УВЕРЕ́НИЯ В СОВЕРШЕ́ННОМ ⟨СОВЕРШЕ́ННЕЙШЕМ⟩ ПОЧТЕ́НИИ all obs [formula phrase; these forms only; fixed WO] (a polite closing formula in a letter to s.o.) with an expression of my great respect for you: respectfully yours; with deepest respect.

П-531 • ПОЧТИ́ ЧТО coll [AdvP; Invar; modif or adv; fixed WO] nearly: almost; all but; practically; virtually; [lim.] hardly.

Писатели его [Лукина] ценили за то, что он, умея составлять бумаги, сам не лез в писатели, а мог бы, потому что в своём жанре равных себе не знал и вообще был почти что гений (Войнович 6). The writers appreciated Lukin because despite his skill with forms, he did not try to be a writer himself. But he could have been, because in the genre of forms he knew no equal, in fact the man was practically a genius (6a).

П-532 • ÉСЛИ (УЖ) НА ТО ПОШЛО́; ÉЖЕЛИ ⟨КО́ЛИ, КОЛЬ⟩ (УЖ) НА ТО ПОШЛО́ all coll [subord clause; these forms only; уж may take the initial position, otherwise fixed WO] since the topic has been raised, I would like to say…; the topic under discussion prompts me to say… (occas. the statement in question expresses sth. that the speaker refrained from saying earlier but now feels a responsibility or desire to interject; occas. it presents a contrast with a previous statement or with a commonly held idea, belief etc): since ⟨while, now that⟩ we’re on the subject ⟨the topic⟩; speaking of that; [lim.] for that matter; come to think of it; come to that.

«Что ты, не знаешь своей жены? Хозяйственная баба. Этого у неё не отнимешь. И уж если на то пошло, так с лесозаготовками у неё не хуже было, чем у других. А даже лучше» (Абрамов 1). “Don’t you know your own wife? She’s an efficient woman: that you can’t take away from her. And while we’re on the subject, her timber production was no worse than anyone else’s. Better even” (1a). ♦ Нет, Нюрок — не учитель! Если на то пошло, у Ирины Викторовны никогда не было учителя, не нашлось во всём белом свете. Одни только советники, консультанты, наставники, вожатые, воспитатели, тренеры, инструкторы, секретари и председатели, а учителя — ни одного! (Залыгин 1). No, Niurok was no teacher. Come to think of it, Irina Viktorovna had never had a teacher. She’d never found one in all the world. Only advisers, consultants, mentors, guides, trainers, instructors, secretaries, and chairmen—never a teacher (1a).

П-533 • ЗАТКНУ́ТЬ ЗА ПО́ЯС ⟨ЗА́ ПОЯС obsoles⟩ кого coll, approv [VP; subj: human; usu. fut] to surpass or be superior to another or others in some area or with regard to some quality: X Y-а заткнёт за пояс ≃ X will ⟨can⟩ outshine ⟨outdo, beat⟩ Y; X will ⟨can⟩ run circles ⟨rings⟩ around Y; X is a damn(ed) sight more intelligent ⟨beautiful etc⟩ than Y; X is twice as smart ⟨talented etc⟩ as Y; [lim.] X will put Y to shame.

«Я поставлю полные баллы во всех науках тому, кто ни аза не знает, да ведёт себя похвально; а в ком я вижу дурной дух да насмешливость, я тому нуль, хотя он Солона заткни за пояс!» (Гоголь 3). “I shall give full marks in all subjects to the boy who, even if he does not know his ABC[s], behaves properly; but if I see a wrong and scoffing spirit in anyone, I shall give him a nought, though he be twice as wise as Solon!” (3d).

П-534 • ЗАТЯ́ГИВАТЬ/ЗАТЯНУ́ТЬ ПОЯС ⟨ПОЯСА́⟩ (ПОТУ́ЖЕ) [VP; subj: human or collect; often infin with придётся, надо etc] to limit one’s expenses, prepare for financial hardships, food shortages etc: X-у придётся затянуть пояс ≃ X will have to tighten ⟨pull in⟩ his belt; X will have to pull ⟨take⟩ his belt in (a notch).

[Аглая] там же разъяснила, что наш русский народ терпеливый, он ещё туже затянет пояс, он временно перестрадает, зато памятник, воздвигнутый им, останется на века (Войнович 7). [Aglaya] also explained that our Russian people are long-suffering, they would tighten their belts still further, they would suffer in the short term, but the monument erected by them would endure forever (7a).

П-535 • КЛА́НЯТЬСЯ/ПОКЛОНИ́ТЬСЯ В ПО́ЯС (кому) [VP; subj: human] 1. obs to make a low bow before s.o.: X поклонился Y-у в пояс ≃ X bowed at ⟨from⟩ the waist (to Y); X bowed low to Y.

«За оговор и за злобу мою простите». — «Бог простит», — ответил Раскольников, и как только произнёс это, мещанин поклонился ему, но уже не земно, а в пояс… (Достоевский 3). “Forgive me for slandering you and for having such evil thoughts.” “God will forgive you,” replied Raskolnikov, and as soon as he said it, the furrier bowed again, but not to the floor this time, merely at the waist… (3a).

2. to express deep gratitude: X поклонится Y-у в пояс ≃ X will bow down to the ground to Y.

А может, Лизка и права, подумал вдруг Михаил. Может, и надо было спасибо [Анфисе] сказать… Нет, голубушка, мысленно сказал Михаил и стиснул зубы… Ты суд надо мной да над Варварой устроила, а я принародно в пояс тебе кланяться? (Абрамов 1). Maybe Lizka was right, Mikhail suddenly thought. Maybe they should have thanked her [Anfisa]…. No, my dear, thought Mikhail, gritting his teeth…. You make an example of Varvara and me, and you expect me to bow down to the ground to you in front of everyone? (1a).

П-536 • удар, бить НИ́ЖЕ ПО́ЯСА coll [AdvP; Invar; usu. nonagreeing postmodif or adv; fixed WO] (of an action, remark etc) (sth. that is) unfair, cowardly, or unsporting; (do sth.) against the rules of fairness, justice: удар ~ ≃ a blow ⟨a hit⟩ below the belt; low blow; cheap shot; || бить ~ ≃ hit below the belt.

Карикатура была совершенно правильная… Но в такой момент, когда повсюду открыто говорили о восстановлении норм, это был удар ниже пояса (Зиновьев 1). The cartoon was completely accurate… But at a time when everyone everywhere was talking openly about the re-establishment of legality and democracy, it was a blow below the belt (1a).

П-537 • ВСТУПА́ТЬ/ВСТУПИ́ТЬ ⟨ВХОДИ́ТЬ/ВОЙТИ́⟩ В СВОИ́ ПРАВА́ [VP; subj: abstr] to manifest itself in full measure, at full strength: X вступил в свои права ≃ X came into its own; X appeared in full force; X asserted itself; X burst forth.

На гумнах на минуту приостанавливалась работа… а потом снова начинали глухо погромыхивать на токах каменные катки, понукали лошадей и быков мальчишки-погонычи, гремели веялки, трудовой день вступал в свои неотъемлемые права (Шолохов 5). For a minute the work on the threshing floors would cease… and then the stone rollers would resume their thudding, the boy drivers would urge on the horses and oxen, the winnowers would clatter, and the working day would come into its own again (5a).

П-538 • КАЧА́ТЬ ПРАВА́ coll, disapprov, orig. camp and prison slang [VP; subj: human] to demand that the law, the rules etc be observed, demand that one be given or allowed sth. that is (or that he considers) his by right: X качал права ≃ X stuck ⟨stood⟩ up for his rights; X pushed ⟨shouted⟩ for his rights.

Паек этих тысячу не одну переполучал Шухов в тюрьмах и в лагерях, и хоть ни одной из них на весах проверить не пришлось, и хоть шуметь и качать права он, как человек робкий, не смел, но всякому арестанту и Шухову давно понятно, что, честно вешая, в хлоборезке не удержишься (Солженицын 7). Shukhov had had thousands of these rations in prisons and camps, and though he'd never had a chance to weigh a single one of them on a scale and he was always too shy to stick up for his rights, he and every other prisoner had known a long time that the people who cut up and issued your bread wouldn't last long if they gave you honest rations (7a).

П-539 • НА ПРАВА́Х кого [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] 1. in the position of: as; in the capacity of.

Михаил на правах хозяина первый поднял рюмку… (Распутин 3). Mikhail, as host, raised his glass first… (3a).

2. utilizing the rights, privileges etc specific to one's position: exercising one's rights as; as; on the strength of (being a [NP] ⟨having done sth. etc⟩).

Юный негодяй был влюблён в княгиню и тоже торчал у неё день и ночь, кажется, на правах соседа или дальнего родственника со стороны мужа (Искандер 3). The young reprobate was in love with the princess and had also been hanging around her day and night, exercising his rights as a neighbor, I believe, or a distant relative on the husband's side (3a).

П-540 • НА ПТИ́ЧЬИХ ПРАВА́Х жить, существовать и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to be, live etc somewhere) without sanction, authorization, stability, or the guarantee of permanence: without any right (to be there); (live) on sufferance; without an official say-so ⟨OK⟩; without (official) permission; without any authorization.

«Человек он странный, больной… Часто днём ему надо прилечь, а где он тут может? Он говорит: если б хоть свой угол, хоть маленькая верандочка…» — «Ну и?.. Что дальше?» — «Он говорит: больше сил нет. На птичьих правах… Понимаешь, он на пределе…» (Трифонов 6). "He's a strange, sick man. He often needs to have a rest during the day, and where can he here? He says if only he had his own corner or a little veranda…." "So? What else?" "He says he can't bear it anymore. This living on sufferance…. Do you understand? He's at the end of his tether" (6a).

П-541 • НА РА́ВНЫХ ПРАВА́Х [PrepP; Invar; adv or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); fixed WO] (to do sth.) sharing equal status with another or others, (to be) of equal status with another or others: on an equal footing; on the same footing; on equal terms; as an equal; (be) equal.

«Прежде так купцы писали: честь имеем сообщить, что в наш торговый дом на равных правах вошёл Иван Иваныч Сидоров» (Федин 1). "Once merchants used to write: We have the honor to inform you that Ivan Ivanich Sidorov has entered our firm on an equal footing" (1a).

П-542 • (ВЕЛИ́КАЯ) СЕРМЯ́ЖНАЯ ПРА́ВДА iron or humor in contemp. usage [NP; sing only; fixed WO] the truth (which, it was formerly believed, could be found among plain folk): (great) homespun truth.

Дружбу Нержина с дворником Спиридоном Рубин и Сологдин благодушно называли «хождением в народ» и поисками той самой великой сермяжной правды, которую ещё до Нержина тщетно искали Гоголь, Некрасов, Герцен, славянофилы, народники, Достоевский, Лев Толстой и, наконец, Васисуалий Лоханкин (Солженицын 3). Nerzhin's friendship with the janitor Spiridon was referred to by Rubin and Sologdin as "going to the people." In their view, Nerzhin was seeking that same great homespun truth which before his time had been sought in vain by Gogol, Nekrasov, Herzen, the Slavophiles, the "People's Will" revolutionaries, Dostoevsky, Lev Tolstoi, and, last of all, Vasisualy Lokhankin (3a).

< This phrase became popular in its ironic usage after the publication of The Golden Calf («Золотой телёнок»), by Ilya Ilf and Evgeny Petrov, 1931, ch. 13.

П-543 • И ТО ПРА́ВДА coll [sent; Invar; fixed WO] (used to express agreement with the interlocutor, or, occas., with one's own thought or statement) that is correct: it's ⟨that's, 'tis⟩ true (enough); (that's) quite right; [when expressing agreement with the interlocutor only] you're right; you've got a point (there).

«Сам ты рассуди, — отвечал я ему, — можно ли было при твоих людях объявить, что дочь Миронова жива. Да они бы её загрызли. Ничто её бы не спасло!» — «И то правда», — сказал, смеясь, Пугачёв (Пушкин 2). "Judge for yourself," I answered him: "could I have declared in front of your men that Captain Mironov's daughter was still alive? They would have torn her to pieces. Nothing would have saved her!" "That's true enough!" said Pugachev, laughing (2b).

П-544 • НЕ ПРА́ВДА ЛИ? coll [Invar; usu. used to form a question out of an affirm or neg statement; may be in the initial position; fixed WO] (what I said or am about to say) is correct, is it not?: isn't that so ⟨right, true⟩?; don't you agree?; (am I) right?; [after an affirm statement] don't you think (so)?; isn't it?; don't ⟨haven't, aren't etc⟩ you ⟨they etc⟩?; [after a neg statement] is it?; do ⟨have, are etc⟩ you ⟨they etc⟩?; [when used in the initial position] isn't it true that…?

«Положение становится неловким. Разрешить его мог бы только полицейский чиновник, не правда ли?» (Федин 1). "The situation is becoming awkward. It could be saved only by a police official, isn't that so?" (1a). ♦ [Колесов:] Живописный уголок, не правда ли? (Вампилов 3). [К.:] A picturesque corner, don't you think? (3a).

П-545 • ПРА́ВДА ГЛАЗА́ КО́ЛЕТ [saying] it is unpleasant to hear the disagreeable truth (said when a person tries to object to fair, just criticism): ≃ the truth hurts; the truth tastes bitter; nothing hurts like the truth; it stings because it's true.

[Клава:] Ты мне тут обиды не строй! Правда-то глаза колет!.. (Рощин 2). [K.:] Don't make like you're insulted! The truth hurts, doesn't it!… (2a).

П-546 • ТВОЯ́ ⟨ВА́ША⟩ ПРА́ВДА obsoles, coll [NP; these forms only; used as indep. clause] you are correct: you're (quite) right; right you are; what you say is right ⟨true⟩; true enough.

«Насчёт него [Ильи], твоя правда, брат, клеймо на нём, печать каинова, не жилец он…» (Максимов 1). "As for him [Ilya], you are right, brother, he has the brand on him, the mark of Cain; he is not long for this world" (1a).

П-547 • ЧТО ПРА́ВДА, ТО ПРА́ВДА coll [sent; Invar; fixed WO] (used to express agreement or to emphasize the accuracy of a statement) that really is so: what's true is true; the truth is the truth; that's true; there's no denying it; how very true.

Привык к Людмиле, присушился, что правда, то правда (Трифонов 1). He had gotten used to Liudmila, had become attached to her—there was no denying it (1a).

П-548 • (всеми, всякими, разными и т.п.) ПРА́ВДАМИ И НЕПРА́ВДАМИ [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv; fixed WO] not hesitating to employ any (often unscrupulous) methods: by hook or by crook; by fair means or foul; one way or another; go(ing) to any length(s).

У Иры Егеревой было 50 рублей. Её отец, известный в Казани профессор строительного института, какими-то правдами и неправдами добился передачи их дочке (Гинзбург 1). Ira had fifty roubles which her father, a professor at the institute of civil engineering, had managed, by hook or by crook, to get to her (1a). ♦ В пристрастном освещении Клыкачёва Степанов предстал человеком кляузным, скрытным, всеми правдами и неправдами выращивающим трёх сыновей (Солженицын 3). In Klykachev's prejudiced view, Stepanov was a furtive slanderer who would go to any lengths to fix things for his three sons (3a).

П-549 • ПО ПРА́ВДЕ говорить, сказать, ответить и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to say sth., answer etc) sincerely, openly: (tell) the truth; (tell ⟨say etc⟩) sth.) in all honesty; (tell sth. ⟨respond etc⟩) honestly ⟨truthfully, frankly⟩.

«Одно, что тяжело для меня, — я тебе по правде скажу, André, — это образ мыслей отца в религиозном отношении» (Толстой 4). "The only thing that is hard for me—I'll tell you the truth, Andrei—is Father's attitude to religion" (4a).

П-550 • ПО ПРА́ВДЕ ГОВОРЯ́ ⟨СКАЗА́ТЬ⟩; ПРА́ВДУ ГОВОРЯ́ ⟨СКАЗА́ТЬ⟩ all coll [these forms only; sent adv (parenth); usu. this WO (last var.)] (used to emphasize the truthfulness or correctness of a statement) speaking candidly, frankly: to tell (you) the truth; if the truth be told; truth to tell; to be (quite) honest ⟨frank⟩.

«…Она [твоя невеста] же тебя просто умыкнула! По правде сказать, тебя бы надо было посадить на лошадь с женским седлом!» (Искандер 5). "She [your bride] abducted you! Truth to tell, it's you we should put on the horse with the woman's saddle!" (5a).

П-551 • СМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ/ВЗГЛЯНУ́ТЬ⟩ ПРА́ВДЕ В ГЛАЗА́ ⟨В ЛИЦО́⟩ [VP; subj: human or collect; often infin with надо, нужно, будем etc] to see things or evaluate facts as they really are, look at things clearly, soberly: надо смотреть правде в глаза ≃ we ⟨you etc⟩ must look (the) truth (straight) in the eye ⟨the face⟩; we ⟨you etc⟩ must face (up to) the truth; we ⟨you etc⟩ must look the facts in the face; we ⟨you etc⟩ must face (the) facts; we ⟨you etc⟩ must face up to reality; we ⟨you etc⟩ must confront the truth; [lim.] let's ⟨you might as well etc⟩ face it.

[Трофимов:] Продано ли сегодня имение или не продано — не всё ли равно? С ним давно уже покончено, нет поворота назад, заросла дорожка… Надо хоть раз в жизни взглянуть правде прямо в глаза (Чехов 2). [T.:] Does it really matter whether the estate is sold today or not? It's all over and done with, dead and buried. You can't turn back the clock… For once in your life look truth in the face (2b).

П-552 • РЕ́ЗАТЬ ⟨ГОВОРИ́ТЬ и т.п.⟩ ПРА́ВДУ-МА́ТКУ (В ГЛАЗА́) substand; РЕ́ЗАТЬ ПРА́ВДУ В ГЛАЗА́ coll [VP; subj: human] to express o.s. openly, confront s.o. with the truth: X режет правду-матку ≃ X speaks straight from the shoulder; X tells the truth to your face; X gives it to you straight; X tells it like it is; X calls a spade a spade.

Она любила «резать правду-матку», не признавала «никаких экивоков» и «сантиментов с сахаром» (Гинзбург 2). She loved to "call a spade a spade," scorned all "quibbles" and "sugary sentiments" (2a).

П-553 • В СВОЁМ ПРА́ВЕ [PrepP; subj-compl with $быть_{ø}$, чувствовать себя (subj: human or collect); fixed WO] to be entitled to do sth. and have justification for doing it: be (well) within one's rights (to do sth.); have the right (to do sth); have a perfect right (to do sth.); [in contexts which include the use of substandard language in direct speech] be in one's rights.

«Забавляйтесь с женщинами подобными моей супруге — с этими вы в своём праве, они знают, чего вы хотите от них. Они вооружены против вас тем же опытом разврата…» (Толстой 5). "Go and amuse yourself with women like my wife. You're within your rights there—they know what you want from them. They're armed against you because they've experienced the same kind of depravity…" (5c).

П-554 • ПО ВСЕМ ПРА́ВИЛАМ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] in the accepted, proper, accustomed manner: by ⟨according to, following⟩ (all) the rules; by ⟨according to⟩ the book; following ⟨according to⟩ procedure; the way it's supposed to be done ⟨handled etc⟩; in the customary fashion.

«Чисел не ставим, с числом бумага станет недействительной», — отозвался кот, подмахнул бумагу, откуда-то добыл печать, по всем правилам подышал на неё, оттиснул на бумаге слово «уплочено» и вручил бумагу Николаю Ивановичу (Булгаков 9). "We never put in dates. A date will make the document invalid," said the tom, signing the paper with a flourish. Then he took a seal from somewhere, breathed on it according to all rules, printed the word "Paid" on the paper and handed it to Nikolay Ivanovich (9a). "We won't put in the date, otherwise the document will be null and void," retorted the cat, scribbling his signature. He got a seal from somewhere, breathed on it in the customary fashion, affixed a seal saying "paid," and handed the paper to Nikolai Ivanovich (9c).

П-555 • ПО ВСЕМ ПРА́ВИЛАМ ИСКУ́ССТВА [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to do sth.) very skillfully, in masterly fashion: using ⟨drawing upon⟩ all the secrets ⟨the tricks⟩ of the trade; (do sth.) like a pro; have (got) it down to a fine art ⟨a science⟩.

Подсиживать своих сотрудников он умеет! Он это делает по всем правилам искусства. He really knows how to scheme against his coworkers! He has it down to a science.

П-556 • НЕ В чьих ПРА́ВИЛАХ [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: abstr, often это, or infin); usu. pres or past] sth. is in contradiction with s.o.'s values, standards etc: X не в Y-овых правилах ≃ X is ⟨goes⟩ against Y's principles ⟨convictions⟩; X is against Y's rules.

[Негина:] Я не желаю получать подарков, это не в моих правилах (Островский 11). [N.:] …I don't want to receive gifts; it's against my principles (11a).

П-557 • КАК ПРА́ВИЛО [как + NP; Invar; sent adv (parenth)] commonly, almost always: as a (general) rule; usually; generally; [lim.] typically.

…Своих лучших работниц Андриолли умел ценить… Тем более что, как правило, они попусту не беспокоили его ненужными просьбами (Войнович 5). Andriolli knew how to value his best workers…. All the more so since, as a rule, they didn't pester him with useless requests (5a).

П-558 • ПОЛОЖИ́ТЬ ⟨ПОСТА́ВИТЬ, ВЗЯТЬ⟩ (СЕБЕ́) ЗА ПРА́ВИЛО; ПОЛОЖИ́ТЬ ⟨ПОСТА́ВИТЬ, ВЗЯТЬ⟩ (СЕБЕ́) ПРА́ВИЛОМ [VP; subj: human; foll. by infin] to make it one's principle, custom (to do sth.): X поставил себе за правило (делать Y) ≃ X made it a rule (to do Y); X made a point (of doing Y).

Главный, по-видимому, поставил себе за правило соглашаться со всем и радоваться всему, что бы ни говорили ему окружающие, и выражать это словами «славно, славно…» (Булгаков 9). The chief had evidently made it a rule to agree with everything and to rejoice in everything his companions said to him, and to express this with the words, "Fine, fine…" (9a).

П-559 • ПО ПРА́ВУ[1] [PrepP; Invar; adv] justifiably, deservedly: by right(s); rightly; rightfully; (have) every right (to do sth.); legitimately.

Они хотят только привилегий, которые, как они думают, принадлежат им по праву (Зиновьев 1). "They want only the privileges which they believe are theirs by right" (1a).

П-560 • ПО ПРА́ВУ[2] [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] 1. ~ кого utilizing the prerogatives or entitlements specific to one's position: exercising one's rights as; as; on the strength of (being a [NP]); it is one's privilege as (s.o.'s [NP]).

«Хорошо, что ты приехал, Сергей Миронович», — говорил Сталин, усаживаясь по праву хозяина во главе стола… (Рыбаков 2). As the host Stalin sat at the head of the table. "I'm glad you came, Sergei Mironovich" (2a).

2. ~ чего owing to sth., because of sth.: by right ⟨virtue⟩ of; on the strength of.

…[Харлампо] отрицательным движением головы показывал, что он не собирается таким коварным путём овладеть любимой девушкой. Возможно, тут сказывалась его затаённая под лавиной унижений гордость, его уверенность, что он, столько прождавший, в конце концов, законным путём получит то, что принадлежит ему по праву любви (Искандер 5). …[Harlampo] shook his head again to show that he had no intention of using such guile to possess the girl he loved. This may have been his pride showing through, buried though it was under an avalanche of humiliations—his conviction that in the end, having waited so long, he would receive by legal means what belonged to him by right of love (5a).

П-561 • ОТПРАВЛЯ́ТЬ/ОТПРА́ВИТЬ К ПРА́ОТЦАМ кого obs, lit [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv; usu. this WO] to kill s.o.: X отправил Y-а к праотцам ≃ X sent Y to kingdom come ⟨to the great beyond, to meet Y's Maker⟩.

П-562 • ОТПРАВЛЯ́ТЬСЯ/ОТПРА́ВИТЬСЯ К ПРА́ОТЦАМ obs, lit [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv; usu. this WO] to die: X отправился к праотцам ≃ X joined his ancestors ⟨forefathers⟩; X went to the great beyond; X met his Maker.

[author's usage] [Епиходов:] Долголетний Фирс, по моему окончательному мнению, в починку не годится, ему надо к праотцам (Чехов 2). [E.:] The venerable Fiers, according to my conclusive opinion, is not worth mending, he ought to join his forefathers (2a).

П-563 • ОТРЯСТИ́ ⟨ОТРЯХНУ́ТЬ⟩ ПРАХ чего ОТ ⟨С⟩ (СВОИ́Х) НОГ lit [VP; subj: human] to break with sth. decisively and forever, renounce sth.: X отряхнул прах Y-а от своих ног ≃ X shook the dust of Y from ⟨off⟩ his feet.

Таким было её возвращение на эту планету, в прежний мир, прах которого, ей казалось, она уже давным-давно отряхнула со своих ног (Залыгин 1). Such was her return to this planet, to the world whose dust she thought she had long since shaken off her feet (1a).

< From the Bible (Matt. 10:14, Mark 6:11 et al.).

П-564 • ПОВЕРГА́ТЬ/ПОВЕ́РГНУТЬ ⟨ПРЕВРАЩА́ТЬ/ПРЕВРАТИ́ТЬ, ОБРАЩА́ТЬ/ОБРАТИ́ТЬ⟩ В ПРАХ кого-что obs, lit [VP; subj: usu. human, collect, or, rare, abstr] to eradicate, put an end to the existence of s.o. or sth.: X поверг Y-а в прах ≃ X reduced thing Y to ashes ⟨to dust⟩; X completely destroyed ⟨annihilated, obliterated⟩ Y.

П-565 • ПОВЕРГА́ТЬСЯ/ПОВЕ́РГНУТЬСЯ В ПРАХ obs, lit [VP] 1. [subj: usu. human] to collapse and die: X повергся в прах ≃ X fell down dead.

2. ~ перед кем [subj: human or collect] to yield completely to s.o., showing one's full submission, admitting utter defeat: X повергся в прах перед Y-ом ≃ X prostrated himself before Y.

П-566 • ПРЕВРАЩА́ТЬСЯ/ПРЕВРАТИ́ТЬСЯ ⟨ОБРАЩА́ТЬСЯ/ОБРАТИ́ТЬСЯ⟩ В ПРАХ lit [VP; subj: usu. collect, concr, or abstr] to cease to exist, be eradicated: X превратился в прах ≃ X turned ⟨was reduced⟩ to dust; [lim.] X was reduced to ashes; X was completely destroyed ⟨annihilated, obliterated⟩.

Я знала теперь, что сколько бы ни пытался грешный жестокий человек утвердить свою власть на земле, рано или поздно правда восторжествует и былая слава превратится в прах (Аллилуева 2). Now I knew that no matter how much sinful, cruel man might strengthen his power on earth, sooner or later Truth would triumph and the past glory would turn to dust (2a).

П-567 • ИДТИ́/ПОЙТИ́ ⟨РАССЫПА́ТЬСЯ/РАССЫ́ПАТЬСЯ, РАЗЛЕТА́ТЬСЯ/РАЗЛЕТЕ́ТЬСЯ, ЛЕТЕ́ТЬ/ПОЛЕТЕ́ТЬ⟩ ПРА́ХОМ [VP; more often pfv] 1. [subj: abstr (надежды, планы, дела, жизнь etc, often всё), or заведение, предприятие etc; more often this WO] (of hopes, plans, affairs, s.o.'s life etc, or an establishment, a business etc) to collapse totally, suffer failure: X пошёл прахом ≃ X went to rack and ruin; X went down the tube(s); X went ⟨fell⟩ to pieces; [lim.] X went to the dogs; X went up in smoke; [of plans, hopes etc only] X came to nothing ⟨to naught⟩.

Говорят, именно в тот год дела его пошли прахом (Искандер 3). They say that his affairs went to rack and ruin that year (3a).

2. [subj: a quantit NP denoting a period of time] to pass without yielding hoped-for results: X пойдёт прахом ≃ X will go ⟨be⟩ (all) for nothing ⟨naught⟩; X will count for nothing; X will go down the drain.

…Сделай я что-нибудь политически скандальное, меня начисто выметут из ибанской [nonce word] истории. Двадцать лет труда пойдёт прахом (Зиновьев 1). …If I do anything politically scandalous I'll simply be swept out of the history of Ibansk. Twenty years of work will go for nothing (1a).

П-568 • ПРЕВОЗМОГА́ТЬ/ПРЕВОЗМО́ЧЬ ⟨ПЕРЕСИ́ЛИВАТЬ/ПЕРЕСИ́ЛИТЬ⟩ СЕБЯ́ [VP; subj: human] to gain control of one's feelings, conquer some desire, force o.s. to disregard an oppressive emotional or physical state etc: X превозмог себя ≃ X took himself in hand; X took ⟨got⟩ hold of himself; X overcame his nervousness ⟨apathy, fear etc⟩; X mastered his feelings; X conquered his fear ⟨distaste etc⟩; [lim.] X made an effort (and did sth.).

Ему лень было встать и умыться, — сказывалась нажитая за дорогу усталость. Пересилив себя, он встал, позвал вестового (Шолохов 3). He felt too lazy to get up and wash. The effects of the journey were begining to tell. Making an effort, he rose and called his batman (3a).

П-569 • ПРЕВОСХОДИ́ТЬ/ПРЕВЗОЙТИ́ (САМОГО́) СЕБЯ́ [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] to do sth. better than before or better than could have been expected: X превзошёл самого себя ≃ X surpassed ⟨outdid⟩ himself; [lim.] X exceeded my ⟨our, everybody's etc⟩ expectations.

Ответы диктовал Тюфяев, он превзошёл себя в этом деле (Герцен 1). Tyufyayev dictated the answers; he surpassed himself on this occasion (1a).

П-570 • ПРЕВРА́ТНОСТИ СУДЬБЫ́ lit [NP; pl. only; fixed WO] unpredictable, inexplicable changes that are beyond human control: vagaries ⟨twists, whims, vicissitudes⟩ of fate.

Но сочинение не могло остаться без конца. Не миновать было обращаться к деду… Дед сказал, что можно ограничиться одной фразой общего характера, и тут же такую фразу предложил: „Приятель в моих делах также принимал живейшее участие, оказывая мне всяческую помощь, и во всех превратностях судьбы на него можно было положиться вполне". При этом дед особенно хмурил брови — как всегда, когда усиливался не рассмеяться… Через два дня Клавдия Петровна, раздавая сочинения, спросила: «Антон, а какие превратности судьбы ты имел в виду?» (Чудаков 1). But I couldn't leave my composition unfinished. There was nothing to do but ask Grandfather for help. …He said only that he would round things off with a single sentence confined to generalities, and even suggested one on the spot: "For his part, my companion also took the most charitable interest in my affairs, rendering me all manner of assistance, and in every vicissitude of fate one could trust in him implicitly." As he said this, Grandfather frowned with particular ferocity, as he always did when he was trying his hardest not to burst out laughing… When Klavdiya Petrovna handed back our compositions two days later, she asked me: "Tell me, Anton, what vicissitudes of fate were you thinking of when you wrote that?" (1a).

П-571 • ПРЕВЫ́ШЕ ВСЕГО́ lit [AdvP; Invar; fixed WO] 1. любить, ценить, ставить кого-что и т.п. [adv] (to love, value, appreciate etc s.o. or sth.) to a greater extent than (one loves, values, appreciates etc) all others: more than anyone ⟨anything⟩; most of all.

Превыше всего он ценил в людях порядочность и умение держать слово. What he valued more than anything in people was their decency and their ability to be true to their word.

2. [subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. abstr or collect)] sth. is more important (to s.o.) than anything else: (be) most important (of all); (come) before all else; [lim.] (be ⟨have⟩) top priority.

«Только тут я сообразил, что меня обманули. Объегорили подло, мелко, предательски. У кого на моём месте не опустились бы руки, но я человек долга, долг для меня превыше всего» (Максимов 2). "It was only then that I realized I had been cheated. I had been basely, pettily, treacherously swindled. Anyone in my place would have given up the struggle, but I am a man of duty; with me, duty comes before all else" (2a).

П-572 • В ПРЕДВКУШЕ́НИИ чего [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is sent adv] eagerly expecting sth. pleasant: in (eager) anticipation ⟨expectation⟩ of; anticipating…; looking forward to…

Речь великого комбинатора произвела огромное впечатление. Козлевич бросал на командора преданные взгляды. Балаганов растирал ладонями свои рыжие вихры и заливался смехом. Паниковский, в предвкушении безопасной наживы, кричал «ура» (Ильф и Петров 2). The smooth operator's speech made an enormous impression. Kozlevich threw the commander several devoted glances. Balaganov rubbed his red forelocks with his palms, dissolving in laughter. Panikovsky, anticipating risk-free profits, shouted "Hooray!" (2c).

П-573 • ПРЕДЕ́Л МЕЧТА́НИЙ coll [NP; sing only; usu. subj or subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: usu. abstr); fixed WO] sth. one hopes for with all his heart: the dream of one's life; s.o.'s real dream; [of a hope] a dream come true; [when used as subj-compl] more than one could ever hope for ⟨dream (of)⟩.

В Петербурге у дедушки с семьёй была небольшая четырёхкомнатная квартира, — такие квартиры кажутся нашим теперешним профессорам пределом мечтаний… (Аллилуева 1). My grandfather and his family had a four-room apartment in St. Petersburg. It wasn't large, but it would be as much as a Soviet professor could dream of today (1a).

П-574 • ДО ПРЕДЕ́ЛА какой, каков [PrepP; Invar; modif] very, extremely: utterly; exceedingly; absolutely; completely; to the highest ⟨the nth⟩ degree.

Всегда поглощённый какими-нибудь идеями, Уманский был рассеян до предела (Гинзбург 2). Umansky was always absorbed in some idea to the exclusion of everything else, and he was utterly absent-minded (2a).

П-575 • В РАЗУ́МНЫХ ПРЕДЕ́ЛАХ; В ПРЕДЕ́ЛАХ РАЗУ́МНОГО [PrepP; these forms only; fixed WO] 1. [adv or sent adv] (do sth.) avoiding extremes, exercising reasonable judgment: within reasonable ⟨proper⟩ limits; within the bounds of good sense; within reason; (doing sth., acting) reasonably; [of drinking, exercising etc] in moderation.

Считают, что красное вино полезно для организма (если пить в разумных пределах, конечно). They say that red wine is good for your health (if, of course, you drink it in moderation).

2. [subj-compl with copula; subj: nouns denoting or affecting monetary values] not too excessive: reasonable; fair; within range; [of prices only] right; not (too) exorbitant ⟨high⟩.

Машина хорошая. Я её куплю, если цена будет в разумных пределах. The car is nice. I'll buy it if the price is right.

П-576 • НА ПРЕДЕ́ЛЕ [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$] 1. [subj: нервы, терпение, силы etc] s.o.'s nerves are stressed, patience is tried, strength is depleted to the utmost degree (such that s.o. feels that he is about to break down, lose control etc): (be) about to give out; (be) at the breaking point; (be) strained to the limit; (be) stretched to their ⟨its⟩ limit.

От всех этих неприятностей у него началась бессонница, нервы его были на пределе. All these troubles had given him insomnia, and his nerves were at the breaking point.

2. [subj: human] one is extremely irritated, upset etc and is about to break down: X на пределе ≃ X is at the breaking point; X can't take any more; X has reached ⟨is at⟩ the end of his rope ⟨tether⟩; X has (about ⟨just about⟩) had it.

«Человек он странный, больной… Часто днём ему надо прилечь, а где он тут может? Он говорит: если б хоть свой угол, хоть маленькая верандочка…» — «Ну и?.. Что дальше?» — «Он говорит: больше сил нет. На птичьих правах… Понимаешь, он на пределе…» (Трифонов 6). "He's a strange, sick man. He often needs to have a rest during the day, and where can he here? He says if only he had his own corner or a little veranda…." "So? What else?" "He says he can't bear it anymore. This living on sufferance…. Do you understand? He's at the end of his tether" (6a).

П-577 • БЕЗ (ВСЯ́КИХ) ПРЕДИСЛО́ВИЙ сказать, приступить к делу, начать делать что и т.п. [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to say sth., get to the business at hand, begin doing sth. etc) without any preliminary introduction: with no preamble (whatsoever); without (any) preamble; without any preliminaries; without the slightest preamble; [lim.] getting ⟨coming⟩ straight to the point; without beating around ⟨about⟩ the bush; || [when used as a command or request] get to the point!; cut to the chase!; let's dispense with the preliminaries.

Без всяких предисловий он скроил мрачное лицо, сдвинул брови и заговорил ненатуральным голосом, косясь на золотой колокольчик… (Булгаков 9). With no preamble whatsoever, he assumed a gloomy-looking expression, raised his eyebrows, and while looking at the gold bell out of the corner of his eye, began reciting in an unnatural voice… (9c).

П-578 • ПОД ПРЕДЛО́ГОМ чего, каким [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] putting forward sth. as one's ostensible reason, intention, goal etc (for undertaking the action in question): on ⟨under⟩ the pretext of; under the guise of.

Ну, в общем, вам понятно, что это за субъект. Вот я и придумал: возьму его с собой под предлогом ночного променада, полезного для пищеварения (Акунин 2). Well, anyway, you can see the sort of man he is. And so I had the idea of taking him with me under the guise of a nighttime promenade for the sake of the digestion (2a).

П-579 • ДЕ́ЛАТЬ/СДЕ́ЛАТЬ ПРЕДЛОЖЕ́НИЕ кому [VP; subj: human, male] to ask (a woman) to become one's wife: X сделал предложение женщине Y ≃ X proposed to Y; X asked for Y's hand in marriage.

…Кто такой я и кто такая она? Я сапожник… А она актриса… Как в таких условиях я мог сделать ей предложение? (Рыбаков 1). …What was I and what was she? I was a shoemaker… whereas she was an actress…. How could I possibly propose to her in those circumstances? (1a).

П-580 • НА КАКО́Й ПРЕДМЕ́Т? [PrepP; Invar; sent adv or subord Conj; fixed WO] why?: what for ⟨about⟩?; for what reason ⟨purpose⟩?; to what end?

«Я очень прошу выдать мне удостоверение, — заговорил, дико оглядываясь, Николай Иванович, но с большим упорством, — о том, где я провёл предыдущую ночь». — «На какой предмет?» — сурово спросил кот. (Булгаков 9). "Please give me a certificate," began Nikolai Ivanovich, looking around wildly, but speaking with great insistence, "stating where I spent last night." "For what purpose?" asked the cat sternly (9c).

П-581 • НА ПРЕДМЕ́Т чего rather offic [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] with the aim of: for ⟨with⟩ the purpose of; with the object of; for; (in order) to; to the end that… ⟨of doing sth⟩.

«Я очень прошу выдать мне удостоверение, — заговорил, дико оглядываясь, Николай Иванович, но с большим упорством, — о том, где я провёл предыдущую ночь». — «На какой предмет?» — сурово спросил кот. «На предмет представления милиции и супруге», — твёрдо сказал Николай Иванович (Булгаков 9). "I beg you to give me a certificate," Nikolay Ivanovich said, looking around him wildly, but nevertheless with great insistence, "stating where I spent last night." "To what end?" the tom asked sternly. "To the end of presenting it to my wife," Nikolay Ivanovich said firmly (9a).

П-582 • НА Э́ТОТ ⟨ТОТ, СЕЙ⟩ ПРЕДМЕ́Т obs, now humor [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] about this (or that), for this (or that), in this (or that) case: concerning ⟨regarding, as regards, in regard to⟩ this ⟨that⟩; on this ⟨that⟩ score; on that subject; to this ⟨that⟩ end.

«Насчёт моей болезни падучей-с осведомитесь всего лучше, сударь, у докторов здешних: истинная ли была со мной али не истинная, а мне и говорить вам больше на сей предмет нечего» (Достоевский 2). "As regards my falling sickness, sir, you would do best, good sir, to consult the doctors here, concerning the question of whether it was a real attack or not a real one, but as for myself I have nothing more to tell you on that subject" (2b).

П-583 • ПРЕДОСТАВЛЯ́ТЬ/ПРЕДОСТА́ВИТЬ САМОМУ́ СЕБЕ́ кого [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv passive Part предоставлен(ный) or 3rd pers pl with indef. refer.] 1. to leave s.o. to do for himself and to act at his own discretion (may be said approvingly or disapprovingly): X был предоставлен самому себе ≃ X was (left) on his own; X was left to fend for himself; X was left to his own devices ⟨resources⟩; X was allowed to do as he liked ⟨pleased⟩.

За столом Антонину уже ждали. Ей мгновенно очистили место, пододвинули хлебницу и, предоставляя её самой себе, занялись едой (Максимов 3). At the table everybody was waiting for Antonina. They instantly cleared a space, pushed over the bread basket, then left her to fend for herself and busied themselves with their food (3a).

П-584 • ПРЕДСТА́ВЬ ⟨ПРЕДСТА́ВЬТЕ⟩ СЕБЕ́ [these forms only; fixed WO] 1. Also: МО́ЖЕШЬ ⟨МО́ЖЕТЕ⟩ СЕБЕ́ ПРЕДСТА́ВИТЬ [sent adv (parenth)] used to emphasize the most unusual, interesting, shocking etc part of a statement: (just) imagine; can you imagine (it ⟨that⟩)?; can't you see; picture it; just fancy; fancy that; [lim.] of all things ⟨people etc⟩.

«У меня неожиданно завёлся друг. Да, да, представьте себе, я в общем не склонен сходиться с людьми, обладаю чёртовой странностью: схожусь с людьми туго, недоверчив, подозрителен. И — представьте себе, при этом обязательно ко мне проникает в душу кто-нибудь непредвиденный, неожиданный и внешне-то чёрт знает на что похожий, и он-то мне больше всех и понравится» (Булгаков 9). “I suddenly made a friend. Yes, yes, imagine, I don’t make friends easily as a rule, due to a devilish peculiarity of mine: it’s a strain for me to be with people, and I’m distrustful and suspicious. But—imagine, despite all that, some unlikely, unexpected fellow, who looks like the devil knows what, will unfailingly make his way into my heart, and he’ll be the one I like more than anyone else” (9c).

2. [Particle] certainly, of course (used as a response to a да-нет question): indeed ⟨actually⟩ I am ⟨I don’t, he did etc⟩; you bet!; you’d better believe it!; sure I am ⟨I will etc⟩; believe it or not, I am ⟨he does etc⟩.

«Правда, что вы с Юлей развелись?» — «Представь себе». “Is it true that you and Yulia are divorced?” “You’d better believe it!”

П-585 • КТО ПРЕДУПРЕЖДЁН, ТОТ ВООРУЖЁН [saying] advance knowledge of sth. that is going to happen in the future (usu. sth. dangerous, unpleasant etc) helps one prepare to deal with it: ≃ forewarned is forearmed; [lim.] a word to the wise is enough ⟨sufficient⟩.

«М-да, теперь если кто-то из этой троицы Потрошитель, голыми руками не возьмёшь. Кто предупреждён, тот вооружён» (Акунин 1). “Yes, if one of our threesome is the Ripper it won’t be so easy to catch him—or her—now. Forewarned is forearmed” (1a).

П-586 • ПО ПРЕИМУ́ЩЕСТВУ rather lit [PrepP; Invar; adv or modif] chiefly, basically: mainly; primarily; mostly; for the most part; predominantly.

Что касается до внутреннего содержания «Летописца», то оно по преимуществу фантастическое… (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). As concerns the Chronicle’s subject matter, it is for the most part fantastical… (1a).

П-587 • В ПРЕТЕ́НЗИИ на кого [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); often neg] one is (or feels) offended by s.o., is displeased with s.o.: X на Y-а не в претензии ≃ X doesn’t bear Y a grudge; X doesn’t bear a grudge against Y; X doesn’t hold ⟨have⟩ a grudge ⟨anything⟩ against Y; X doesn’t harbor any bad feelings toward Y; X doesn’t resent Y.

«Вы продолжаете шутить… Но после любезной готовности, оказанной вами, я не имею права быть на вас в претензии…» (Тургенев 2). “You still persist in jesting…. But after the courteous disposition you have evinced I have no grounds for bearing a grudge…” (2a). ♦ [Кречинский:] Я человек прямой: дело объяснится просто, и никто из нас в претензии не будет (Сухово-Кобылин 2). [К.:] I am a straightforward person. The matter will be cleared up and no grudges held (2a). ♦ «Пришлось вас побеспокоить, Маргарита Николаевна и мастер, — заговорил Воланд после некоторого молчания, — но вы не будьте на меня в претензии» (Булгаков 9). “We were forced to upset you a little, Margarita Nikolayevna and Master,” began Woland after a brief pause, “but please don’t hold a grudge” (9c). “We had to trouble you, Margarita Nikolayevna and Master,” said Woland after a silence. “But don’t resent me for it” (9a).

П-588 • ПРИБАВЛЕ́НИЕ СЕМЕ́ЙСТВА coll, often humor [NP; sing only; usu. subj or obj; fixed WO] the birth of a child in a family: addition to the ⟨s.o.’s⟩ family; new arrival in the family.

У вас, я слышал, прибавление семейства. Мальчик или девочка? I heard you’ve got an addition to the family. Is it a boy or a girl?

П-589 • КЛАСТЬ/ПОЛОЖИ́ТЬ С ПРИБО́РОМ на кого-что vulg [VP; subj: human] to reject s.o. or sth. with disdain: X кладёт на Y-а с прибором ≃ X couldn’t ⟨doesn’t⟩ give a shit ⟨a good goddamn⟩ about Y; X spits on Y; || X положил на Y-а с прибором ≃ X told person Y to eat shit ⟨go to hell⟩; X told person Y to head in ⟨where to go⟩; || я кладу на тебя ⟨на него и т.п.⟩ с прибором ≃ shit on you ⟨him, it etc⟩; screw you ⟨him, it etc⟩; to hell with you ⟨him, it etc⟩; he etc can eat shit (for all I care).

«Пей степенно, ты же в офицерском чине». — «Я на этот чин кладу с прибором!» (Шолохов 5). “Drink with dignity, man, you’ve got officer’s rank, ye know.” “Shit on that rank!” (5a).

П-590 • С ПРИВЕ́ТОМ[1] highly coll [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing modif or subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] odd, having rather bizarre ideas and/or behaviors, slightly crazy: X — (парень) с приветом ≃ X is a little touched (in the head); X is an oddball; X has a few screws loose; X is a bit daffy; X has bats in his belfry.

П-591 • С ПРИВЕ́ТОМ[2] highly coll [PrepP; Invar; predic; subj: human; introduced by Conj «и»; used after one or more predicates having the same subject] (in refer. to one’s leaving, abandoning, or foresaking some person, place, job etc in an abrupt manner, without giving any explanation, fulfilling one’s obligations etc) one’s association, contact, dealings etc (with s.o. or sth.) are over: (and) that’s the end of it; (and) he ⟨she etc⟩ calls it quits; (and) it’s “so long” (forever); (and) some person ⟨place, job etc⟩ is history; (and) he ⟨she etc⟩ runs in the opposite direction; (and) he ⟨she etc⟩ takes off.

[extended usage] «А кто за каждую копейку дрожит, у того их [денег] не будет». — «Как же не будет, если он их не бросает зря на ветер, не пропивает, как ты?» — «А так. Они [деньги] поймут, что он жмот, и — с приветом!» (Распутин 1). “A person who counts every kopeck’ll never have money.” “Why won’t he if he doesn’t throw it away and doesn’t drink it up like you do?” “Well, he won’t, I tell you. Money’ll see he’s stingy and run in the opposite direction” (1a).

П-592 • ПРИВОДИ́ТЬ/ПРИВЕСТИ́ В СЕБЯ́ кого [VP; subj: usu. human or abstr; more often pfv] 1. to bring s.o. out of an unconscious state: X привёл Y-а в себя ≃ X brought Y (a)round ⟨to⟩; X restored Y ⟨brought Y back⟩ to consciousness; X revived Y.

Она была без памяти. Мы… перевязали рану как можно туже; напрасно Печорин целовал её холодные чубы — ничто не могло привести её в себя (Лермонтов 1). She was unconscious. We… tied the wound as tightly as we could; Pechorin kissed her cold lips without response—nothing could bring her around (1d). She was unconscious. We… bandaged the wound as tightly as we could. In vain Pechorin kissed her cold lips; nothing could bring her back to consciousness (1b).

2. to bring s.o. back to a normal state of attention, composure etc (may refer to a person who is temporarily upset, lost in thought, fantasizing etc): X привёл Y-а в себя ≃ X brought Y back to reality; X brought Y to Y’s senses; X snapped ⟨brought⟩ Y out of it; [lim.] X calmed Y down.

Он глубоко задумался, и даже громкий стук в дверь не привёл его в себя. He was lost in thought, and even a loud knock at the door didn’t snap him out of it.

П-593 • НЕ ПРИВЫКА́ТЬ (кому) (к чему or что делать); НЕ ПРИВЫКА́ТЬ СТАТЬ both coll [these forms only; impers predic with быть$_{ø}$; usu. pres; fixed WO] s.o. is accustomed to sth., sth. is not novel for s.o.: X-у не привыкать ≃ X is used to it; it's nothing new to ⟨for⟩ X; it's not new to X.

«Ну что ж! Хоть ещё не Цицерон, но уже лучше вчерашнего. Он, видите ли, на воле был председателем колхоза. Так что к речам ему не привыкать… Не горюй, Бриткин! Скоро заговоришь! Только тренируйся больше» (Гинзбург 2). "Well, well! Not quite Cicero yet, but an improvement on yesterday! He was, you see, a collective farm chairman before he got here. So he's quite used to making speeches…. Don't take it too hard, Britkin. You'll soon be able to talk. But you must get in a bit more practice" (2a).

П-594 • ПРИВЫ́ЧКА — ВТОРА́Я НАТУ́РА [saying] a longtime behavior that has become routine for or customary to s.o. is so much a part of him that it is hard to change or alter it: ≃ custom ⟨habit⟩ is a second nature; old habits die hard; [when used to justify one's actions] (one did sth.) from ⟨out of⟩ force of habit.

П-595 • ВХОДИ́ТЬ/ВОЙТИ́ В ПРИВЫ́ЧКУ (чью, у кого) [VP; subj: abstr or infin] to become habitual, routine: X вошёл (у Y-а) в привычку ≃ X became (a) habit (with Y); X became a matter of course (for Y).

Беспартийных никто… не заставляет высказываться. А партийный или комсомолец обязан выступать и — вошло уже в привычку — думая одно, говорить вслух другое (Аллилуева 2). People not belonging to the Party… were not called upon to express an opinion; but Party members and Komsomols were in duty bound to stand up and express themselves. It had become a habit with them to express one opinion aloud while convinced of something quite different (2a).

П-596 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ НА ПРИ́ВЯЗИ кого coll [VP; subj: human] to restrict s.o.'s independence, not allow s.o. to act on his own initiative: X держит Y-а на привязи ≃ X keeps Y on a (short) leash; X keeps Y in leading strings; X keeps a tight rein on Y.

Добрая душа Михеич. Не он — Настёне в эти годы пришлось бы совсем худо. Семёновна готова держать её на привязи… (Распутин 2). Mikheyich was a kind soul…. If not for him, Nastyona's life would have been miserable all those years. Semyonovna was ready to keep her on a leash… (2a).

П-597 • В ПРИДА́ЧУ [PrepP; Invar; used as Particle or sent adv] in addition to (what has been named): to boot; as well; on top of that; thrown in; into the bargain; for good measure.

«Кулак, кулак! — подумал про себя Чичиков, — да ещё и бестия в придачу!» (Гоголь 3). "A tightfisted fellow and a low-down beast to boot," Chichikov thought to himself (3c). ♦ «Всего мне довелось увидеть на своём веку: и сумы, и тюрьмы, с войной в придачу» (Максимов 1). "I've seen all kinds of things in my life: begging and prisons and the war as well" (1a).

П-598 • НАРО́ЧНО НЕ ПРИДУ́МАЕШЬ [Invar; usu. indep. sent or subj-compl with copula (subj: abst or concr); fixed WO] sth. is extremely unusual, bizarre, hard to imagine: you couldn't make this up (if you tried); you can't make this stuff up; you won't ⟨wouldn't⟩ believe it's for real ⟨it's true⟩; so [AdjP or AdvP] that you wouldn't believe; [when used as an Interj] unbelievable! ⟨incredible!, inconceivable!⟩.

П-599 • С ПРИ́ДУРЬЮ coll [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing modif or subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] 1. slightly stupid: a bit dense ⟨silly⟩; a bit weak in the head; not too bright.

[Городничий:] Не извольте гневаться, ваше превосходительство, она [моя жена] немного с придурью… (Гоголь 4). [Mayor:] I do beseech Your Excellency not to be annoyed. She's [my wife is] a little bit silly… (4b).

2. Also: С ДУ́РЬЮ highly coll eccentric, having bizarre ideas, slightly mad: a bit touched (in the head); not quite right (in the head); a bit odd ⟨off⟩; slightly nuts ⟨crazy, daft⟩; one of those weird types; an odd bird ⟨duck, sort⟩.

Иленька был добрый, очень честный и весьма неглупый молодой человек, но он был то, что называется малый с дурью… (Толстой 2). Ilinka was a kind, very honorable, and not in the least stupid young man, but he was what was called a bit touched… (2b).

П-600 • С ПРИДЫХА́НИЕМ говорить, произносить чьё имя и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] to say sth., pronounce s.o.'s name etc with excessive sentiment (usu. used in oral or written accounts of s.o.'s actions to express the speaker's or writer's somewhat condescending or sarcastic attitude): (say sth., speak, utter s.o.'s name) so ⟨so-o-o-o⟩ gushingly ⟨affectedly, effusively⟩; (speak ⟨utter⟩ s.o.'s name) with (such ⟨su-u-u-uch⟩) (genuine) feeling; (speak ⟨utter⟩ s.o.'s name) with such ⟨su-u-u-uch⟩ reverence ⟨adoration, special emphasis⟩; gush over s.o.

П-601 • СКВОЗЬ ⟨ЧЕРЕЗ⟩ ПРИ́ЗМУ чего смотреть, глядеть, оценивать и т.п. lit [PrepP; these forms only; the resulting PrepP is adv] (to look at, appraise etc sth.) from a specific point of view, taking into account certain factors: through the prism of.

П-602 • ПОДАВА́ТЬ/ПОДА́ТЬ ПРИ́ЗНАКИ ЖИ́ЗНИ [VP; often neg] 1. [subj: human] to give some indication that one is alive: X не подавал признаков жизни ≃ X showed ⟨gave⟩ no sign(s) of life.

Они [противники] лежали в грязи и все, кроме рыжего, не подавали признаков жизни (Войнович 2). They [the enemies] were all lying in the mud now and, with the exception of the one with the red hair, gave no signs of life (2a).

2. [subj: human, collect, or concr associated with human activity] to be or become noticeably active, actively involved in (the activity specified or implied): X не подавал признаков жизни ≃ X gave ⟨showed⟩ no sign(s) of life; X didn't make his presence known ⟨felt⟩; X betrayed no signs of life.

…[Жена Серго] тихонечко стушевалась где-то в углу комнаты, между кроватью и шкафом, до самого конца не подавая оттуда признаков жизни (Максимов 1). …[Sergo's wife] melted quietly away into a corner of the room between the bed and the cupboard, giving no sign of life until the very end (1a). ♦ С Садовой сообщали, что проклятая квартира опять подала признаки жизни в ней (Булгаков 9). It was reported from Sadovaya that the infernal apartment was again showing signs of life (9a).

П-603 • ПО О́БЩЕМУ ⟨ВСЕО́БЩЕМУ⟩ ПРИЗНА́НИЮ [PrepP; these forms only; sent adv (parenth)] as is generally recognized or accepted: (s.o. or sth. is) generally ⟨universally⟩ acknowledged (to be… ⟨to do* etc⟩); (s.o. or sth. is) commonly recognized as…; according to the general ⟨common, widely held⟩ view ⟨opinion⟩.

Бубенцов, по всеобщему признанию, выказал себя работником талантливым и неутомимым (Акунин 6). …Bubentsov was universally acknowledged to have demonstrated that he was a talented and indefatigable worker (6a).

П-604 • ПРИЗНА́ТЬСЯ СКАЗА́ТЬ obs, coll; НА́ДО ⟨НУ́ЖНО⟩ ПРИЗНА́ТЬСЯ [these forms only; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] speaking honestly, I must say frankly: I ⟨we⟩ must admit; to tell (you) the truth; truth to tell; if the truth be told; to be (perfectly ⟨quite⟩) honest; frankly (speaking); [lim.] I ⟨we⟩ must ⟨have to⟩ confess.

«Да, мне пора!» — произнёс он, взявшись за шляпу. «А чайку?» — «Нет, уж чайку пусть лучше когда-нибудь в другое время». — «…Я, признаться сказать, не охотник до чаю: напиток дорогой, да и цена на сахар поднялась немилосердная» (Гоголь 3). “Yes, it’s time I went!” he said, reaching for his hat.” “And what about tea?” “No thank you, sir, I’d rather have a cup of tea with you some other time.” “…To tell you the truth, I don’t really care for tea very much myself: it’s an expensive beverage and, besides, the price of sugar has gone up cruelly” (3a).

П-605 • ЧТО ПРИКА́ЖЕТЕ ДЕ́ЛАТЬ (кому с кем-чем)? [VP_{subj}; this form only; usu. used as a rhetorical question or, less often, as a sent adv (parenth); may be preceded by «а», «но» etc; fixed WO] what can be done under the circumstances to resolve the situation?: what am I ⟨is he etc⟩ supposed to do?; what (, may I ask,) can ⟨could⟩ I ⟨he* etc⟩ do?; what, pray tell, can ⟨could⟩ I ⟨he* etc⟩ do?; what would you have me ⟨him* etc⟩ do ⟨to do⟩?; what should I ⟨he* etc⟩ do?

«„Ну нет, говорит, вы уж тут это ваше рукоприкладство оставьте!“ А? что прикажете делать? Добродушный старикан» (Булгаков 3). “‘No,’ he says, ‘as long as you’re here, you can quit your beating!’ Eh? What was I supposed to do? He’s a good-natured old fellow” (3b).

П-606 • ПРИКАЗА́ТЬ ⟨ВЕЛЕ́ТЬ⟩ ДО́ЛГО ЖИТЬ [VP; usu. past] 1. [subj: human] to die: X приказал долго жить ≃ X went to his final ⟨eternal⟩ rest; X passed away ⟨on⟩; X took leave of ⟨departed⟩ this world; X breathed his last.

Одним утром Матвей взошёл ко мне в спальню с вестью, что старик Р. «приказал долго жить» (Герцен 1). One morning Matvey came into my bedroom with the news that old R— “had passed away” (1a).

2. coll, often humor [subj: collect, concr, or abstr] to cease to exist or function: X приказал долго жить ≃ X died (out); X went out of existence; X is no more.

Этот журнал больше не издаётся. Он просуществовал три года и приказал долго жить. That magazine is no longer published. It survived for three years, then went out of existence.

П-607 • НА ПРИКО́ЛЕ [PrepP; Invar; usu. subj-compl with copula] 1. nautical [subj: a noun denoting a ship, a vessel] sth. is secured by cables, anchors etc: X на приколе ≃ X is moored; X is ⟨lies⟩ at anchor.

2. [subj: a noun denoting a car, a piece of machinery, equipment] sth. is inactive, not in operation: X (стоит) на приколе ≃ X is idle ⟨laid up, not in use⟩.

«Райкомовская легковуха [substand = легковая машина] зимой на приколе — не сидеть же тебе сложа руки» (Абрамов 1). “The District Committee jalopy is laid up in the winter, and you can’t just sit twiddling your thumbs” (1a).

П-608 • ИЗ-ПОД ПРИЛА́ВКА торговать, продавать и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (in refer. to the illegal sale or purchase of sth. in a store) (to sell, buy etc sth.) secretly, stealthily: under the counter.

Через некоторое время ему предложили прекратить продажу в кофейне горячительных напитков, одновременно расширив ассортимент прохладительных. Алихан согласился, но схитрил, продолжая из-под прилавка продавать горячительные напитки (Искандер 3). After a while he was ordered to discontinue the sale of hard liquor in the coffeehouse and at the same time broaden his assortment of soft drinks. Ali Khan consented, but dissembled, continuing to sell hard liquor under the counter (3a).

П-609 • БЕСПЛА́ТНОЕ ПРИЛОЖЕ́НИЕ coll [NP; sing only; obj or subj-compl with copula (subj: human or concr); fixed WO] an unwanted person (or thing) that accompanies a welcome or expected person (or thing) and must be tolerated: “(added) bonus”; an extra; (as) part of the package ⟨the deal⟩; [lim.] fifth wheel; “fringe benefit.”

Если ты собираешься приглашать Антона, то приготовься к тому, что он приведёт с собой в качестве бесплатного приложения всю свою компанию. If you’re planning on inviting Anton, be prepared to have him bring his whole gang along as an “added bonus.”

П-610 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ ПРИМЕ́Р с кого [VP; subj: human] to do sth. as another or others do it, emulate s.o.: X взял пример с Y-а ≃ X followed Y’s example; X took ⟨used⟩ Y as an example; X took a lesson ⟨his cue⟩ from Y; X took a leaf ⟨a page⟩ from ⟨out of⟩ Y’s book; X took ⟨followed⟩ Y’s lead; X modeled ⟨patterned⟩ himself after Y; [lim.] X followed suit.

«Она [ваша книга] знакомит нас с настоящими героями, с которых хочется брать пример» (Войнович 6). “It [your book] acquaints us with real heroes, whose example we want to follow” (6a).

П-611 • НЕ В ПРИМЕ́Р coll [PrepP; Invar] 1. ~ кому-чему [the resulting PrepP is adv; a person may be contrasted only with a person, an object only with an object etc] in contrast to (and usu. better than) s.o. or sth., not as s.o. or sth.: unlike; not like; [lim.] as distinct from; the same cannot be said of ⟨for⟩.

…Мы были сначала в полном отчаянии — где взять здесь, в тайге, новые шприцы? А потом Погребной с ветпункта выручил. У него, оказывается, большой запас был, не в пример нам (Гинзбург 2). We had despaired at first of finding any new needles out in the taiga; but then Pogrebnoy, from the veterinary station, had come to our rescue. Unlike us, as it turned out, he had a large stock of needles (2a).

2. [premodif; foll. by compar form of Adj or Adv, more often denoting a positive quality] considerably (better, more interesting etc): (ever so) much; (by) far; incomparably; a great deal; a lot.

В первый раз свободно вздохнули глуповцы и поняли, что жить «без утеснения» не в пример лучше, чем жить «с утеснением» (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). For the first time the Foolovites drew free breath and realized that to live “without oppression” was far better than to live “with oppression” (1a).

П-612 • ПОДАВА́ТЬ/ПОДА́ТЬ ⟨ПОКА́ЗЫВАТЬ/ПОКАЗА́ТЬ⟩ ПРИМЕ́Р кому [VP; subj: human or collect] to behave in such a way as to be an example for others: X подаёт пример Y-у ≃ X serves as an example to Y; X sets an example ⟨a standard⟩ for Y; X is ⟨serves as⟩ a role model for Y.

[Ликки:] Личным мужеством твоим ты должен показать пример гвардейцам! (Булгаков 1). [L.:] You must set an example for the guardsmen with your own bravery! (1a).

П-613 • СТА́ВИТЬ/ПОСТА́ВИТЬ В ПРИМЕ́Р кого (кому) [VP; subj: human; often 3rd pers pl with indef. refer.; fixed WO] to use s.o., s.o.’s behavior, accomplishments etc as a model to be emulated: X-а ставят Y-у в пример ≃ X is held up ⟨they hold X up⟩ to Y as an example.

Власти одобряли его как очень хорошего мастера, в совершенстве освоившего метод социалистического реализма. Его ценили, ставили в пример другим… (Войнович 7). The authorities had given him their seal of approval as a truly fine artist who had completely mastered the method of socialist realism. They valued him and held him up as an example to others… (7a).

П-614 • ДЛЯ ПРИМЕ́РА [PrepP; Invar; adv] in order to deter others (from doing the action in question or anything similar): as an example to others ⟨to the others, to the rest etc⟩.

Узнав, что девятиклассники зло подшутили над учителем физики, директор школы решила во что бы то ни стало найти зачинщиков и для примера строго наказать их. When she learned that some ninth-graders had played a dirty trick on their physics teacher, the principal decided to do whatever it took to find out the instigators and then to punish them severely as an example to the others.

П-615 • К ПРИМЕ́РУ; К ПРИМЕ́РУ СКАЗА́ТЬ ⟨ГОВОРЯ́⟩ coll [these forms only; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] as an illustration (of the point in question): for example; for instance; as an example.

«У меня есть о чём вспомнить. Разве вы, Андрей Васильевич, слышали когда-нибудь, к примеру, о Ледовом походе?» (Максимов 3). “I’ve got plenty to look back on. Have you ever heard, for instance, of the Icy March, Andrei Vasilievich?” (3a).

П-616 • ДУРНЫ́Е ПРИМЕ́РЫ ЗАРАЗИ́ТЕЛЬНЫ ⟨ДУРНО́Й ПРИМЕ́Р ЗАРАЗИ́ТЕЛЕН⟩ [saying] s.o.’s misbehavior provokes others to act in a similar manner: ≃ bad habits ⟨deeds⟩ are contagious ⟨catch on⟩; misbehavior is contagious ⟨catches on⟩; monkey see, monkey do; [lim.] it’s catching.

П-617 • ИМЕ́ТЬ ⟨ДЕРЖА́ТЬ⟩ НА ПРИМЕ́ТЕ кого-что [VP; subj: human] to have noticed s.o. or sth. and usu. to maintain an ongoing interest in him or it, keep one’s attention on him or it, factor him or it into one’s plans etc: X держит Y-а на примете ≃ X is keeping Y in mind; X has his eye on Y; [lim.] X knows ⟨happens to know⟩ (of) Y.

Ему будет очень приятно работать со мной в клопиной подкомиссии, он давно меня держит на примете, он вообще всегда держит на примете нашу чудесную, талантливую молодёжь (Стругацкие 3). He would be very happy working with me in the bedbug subcommittee, he had long had me in mind, and in general he always had our wonderful, talented youth in mind (3a).

П-618 • НА ПРИМЕ́ТЕ у кого быть, быть$_{ø}$, иметься [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: human, collect, concr, or count abstr)] a person (thing etc) has been noticed by s.o., brought to the attention of s.o. etc, and usu. is the object of his ongoing interest, attention, plans etc: у Y-а есть на примете один ⟨такой и т.п.⟩ X ≃ Y has an ⟨a certain, one⟩ X in mind; Y has his eye on an X ⟨a certain X, one X (that…) etc⟩; Y knows of an ⟨one etc⟩ X; there’s this one ⟨a certain⟩ X who(m) ⟨that⟩ Y has his eye on (who ⟨that⟩…); ‖ (этот) X у Y-а давно на примете ≃ Y has had an ⟨his⟩ eye on (this ⟨that⟩) X for (quite) some time ⟨for quite a while (now) etc⟩.

[Отрадина:] А не разбогатею, так, может быть, и без приданого добрый человек возьмёт. Как ты думаешь? У меня такой есть на примете (Островский 3). [O.:] Well, if I don’t get rich perhaps some good man will have me anyway. Don’t you think he might? I have a certain person in mind (3a). ♦ «В Ташкент махнём… Там у меня есть кой-чего на примете» (Максимов 2). “We’ll go to Tashkent. Got my eye on a job there” (2a).

П-619 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ НА ПРИМЕ́ТУ кого-что [VP; subj: human] to notice s.o. or sth., pay special attention to s.o. or sth.: X возьмёт Y-а на примету ≃ X will take notice ⟨note⟩ of Y; X will keep an eye on Y; X will make a mental note of thing Y.

П-620 • ПО ПРИНАДЛЕ́ЖНОСТИ отправить, передать что и т.п. offic [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to dispatch, transmit etc sth.) to where it belongs: to the proper ⟨right⟩ party ⟨quarter, place etc⟩.

В отделе перевозки Сергееву сказали, что передадут доставленный им пакет по принадлежности. In the shipping department they told Sergeev that they’d pass on to the proper quarter the package he had delivered.

П-621 • ПРИНЦЕ́ССА НА ГОРО́ШИНЕ iron [NP; sing only; fixed WO] (usu. of a young girl or woman) excessively sensitive to even minor discomfort or inconvenience: (be, behave) like a ⟨some⟩ princess on a pea; (be, behave) like a ⟨some⟩ (little) princess; fussy ⟨pampered⟩ (little) thing; [lim.] (behave like, think that one is etc) a ⟨some⟩ (little) prima donna.

< From the Russian translation of Hans Christian Andersen’s “The Real Princess” (also translated as “The Princess and the Pea”).

П-622 • ВОЗВОДИ́ТЬ/ВОЗВЕСТИ́ В ПРИ́НЦИП что [VP; subj: human or collect; obj: abstr; fixed WO] to make sth. a fundamental rule governing one’s activities, policy, personal behavior etc: X возвёл в принцип Y ≃ X made Y a matter of principle; X made it X’s principle (to do Y); X raised Y to a principle; [lim.] X made a doctrine out of Y.

«Существование их равняется несуществованию, ибо необеспеченность, возведённая в принцип, вполне равняется обеспеченности» (Салтыков-Щедрин 2). “Their existence equals their non-existence, for insecurity raised to a principle is quite indistinguishable from security” (2a).

П-623 • ИЗ ПРИ́НЦИПА [PrepP; Invar; adv] because of one’s commitment to some idea, belief etc: on principle; as a matter of principle; for reasons of principle; out of principle.

Полесов стоял в очередях главным образом из принципа. Денег у него не было, и купить он всё равно ничего не мог (Ильф и Петров 1). Polesov was standing in line mostly out of principle. He didn't have any money and couldn't buy anything anyway (1b).

П-624 • В ПРИ́НЦИПЕ [PrepP; Invar; adv] with regard to the essence, the basic nature of sth.: in principle; in theory; in general; generally; basically.

Она училась радоваться не только в принципе — это легко и просто… она радовалась и деталям, и прямо-таки микроскопическим подробностям своего совместного существования с Рыцарем… (Залыгин 1). She schooled herself to rejoice not only in theory—that was easy…. She rejoiced at the practical details, the tiny, microscopic details of her life with her Knight… (1a).

П-625 • СБО́КУ ПРИПЁКА ⟨-у⟩; СБО́КУ-ПРИПЁКУ both coll [AdvP; these forms only; fixed WO] 1. [adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. human or concr)] entirely unneeded, superfluous, not belonging (to the matter, event, or group in question): X был сбоку припёка ≃ X was totally unnecessary ⟨entirely out of place etc⟩; person X was an appendage ⟨extra baggage, a fifth wheel⟩; X was just a makeweight.

Мы собрались на аэродроме. Я говорю: «Мы»! Уж я-то был сбоку припёка, случайно прихваченный человечек (Олеша 2). We gathered at the airfield. I say "we," but I myself was just an appendage, somebody brought along by sheer chance (2a). ♦ «Зыбин — птица крупная. Он не болтун, он деятель…. И деятельность свою он начал рано. Вот это дело с изнасилованием студентки…»… — «Да не можем, не можем мы ему это предъявлять, — ворчливо сказал Гуляев… — Он вообще тут сбоку припёка: заступился за товарища, и всё. Его тогда же отпустили» (Домбровский 2). "Zybin is a big fish. He's not a blabbermouth, he's an activist. And he began his active career early. That business of the raped student…"… "But we can't charge him on that, we just can't," growled Gulyaev… "He was just a makeweight in the affair; stuck up for his friend, that's all. They let him go at the time, didn't they?" (2a).

2. сказать, сделать что ~ obs [adv] (to say or do sth.) rashly, without sufficient basis or obvious reason: out of the blue; all of a sudden.

[Подколёсин:] Ну, да как же ты хочешь, не поговоря прежде ни о чём, вдруг сказать сбоку-припёку: сударыня, дайте я на вас женюсь! (Гоголь 1). [P.:] Well, how do you expect me, without any previous introduction, to say to her suddenly, out of the blue, "Young lady, let's get married" (1a).

П-626 • В ПРИРО́ДЕ ⟨НАТУ́РЕ obs⟩ ВЕЩЕ́Й [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: abstr, often это, это всё); fixed WO] some happening (behavior etc) is natural, normal, expected: X в природе вещей ≃ X is in the nature ⟨the order⟩ of things.

«Енюшка, Енюшка», — раздался трепещущий женский голос. Дверь распахнулась, и на пороге показалась кругленькая, низенькая старушка… Пухлые её ручки мгновенно обвились вокруг его [Базарова] шеи, голова прижалась к его груди, и всё замолкло. Только слышались её прерывистые всхлипыванья… «Ну да, конечно, это всё в натуре вещей», — промолвил Василий Иваныч… (Тургенев 2). "Enyusha, Enyusha," a trembling woman's voice exclaimed. The door flew open and on the threshold appeared a squat, short old woman… Her plump arms were instantly entwined around his neck, her head pressed to his chest, and there was complete silence. The only sound was that of her intermittent sobbing… "Well, yes, of course, it's all in the nature of things," Vasily Ivanych said… (2g).

П-627 • ОТ ПРИРО́ДЫ [PrepP; Invar; modif or adv] by innate characteristics: by nature; naturally; from birth; born [AdjP or NP]; [lim.] nature gives ⟨grants⟩ s.o. sth.

…Белокурые волосы, вьющиеся от природы, так живописно обрисовывали его бледный, благородный лоб… (Лермонтов 1). …His fair hair, wavy by nature, framed, so picturesquely, his pale, noble brow… (1a). ♦ И так человеку от природы дано стремление уйти от праха, от уничтожения, от небытия через серьёзное дело жизни (Искандер 3). And so nature grants man the drive to escape from dust, annihilation, nonexistence, by means of a serious lifework (3a).

П-628 • В ⟨ЗА⟩ ОДИ́Н ПРИСЕ́СТ ⟨ПРИЁМ⟩ coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to do sth.) all at one time, during one (usu. short) period of time: at ⟨in⟩ one sitting; at a single sitting; at a stretch; at ⟨in⟩ one go.

Я сказал ему, что большое и сложное по содержанию стихотворение, вернее, маленькая поэма, кажется написанной одним дыханием, в один присест, залпом (Гладков 1). I said that the poem, long and complex though it was, seemed to have been written at one go, at a single sitting, without pausing for breath (1a).

П-629 • С ПРИСТРА́СТИЕМ[1] осматривать, проверять и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to examine, check etc sth.) very thoroughly, paying particular attention to detail (often, looking for faults): painstakingly; captiously; (go over sth.) with a fine-tooth(ed) comb.

В конце смены мастер с пристрастием осмотрел каждую деталь, сделанную молодым рабочим, и остался доволен результатом. At the end of the shift the foreman painstakingly examined every part the young worker had made and was satisfied with the results.

П-630 • допрос, допрашивать С ПРИСТРА́СТИЕМ[2] [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing postmodif or adv] 1. obs (an interrogation, to interrogate s.o.) with the application of torture: with (the use of) torture; under torture; [when used in contemporary texts] enhanced interrogation; [when trying to minimize or understate the situation in order to stave off a public outcry] intensive interrogation; interrogate intensively.

Преступника изловили и стали допрашивать с пристрастием… (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). They nabbed the offender and began interrogating him under torture… (1a).

2. usu. humor thorough, captious (questioning), (to question s.o.) thoroughly, painstakingly etc: допрос ~ ≃ third degree; (thorough ⟨painstaking etc⟩) cross-examination; || допрашивать ~ ≃ give s.o. the third degree; cross-examine; grill.

Денщик, допрошенный с пристрастием, повторил то же самое… (Искандер 3). Under cross-examination the orderly repeated the story… (3a).

П-631 • ПРИ́СТУПУ ⟨-а⟩ НЕТ obs, coll [VP; impers] 1. ~ к кому it is impossible to address, speak with, or gain access to s.o. (because of his important position, bad mood, quick temper etc): к X-у приступу нет ≃ there's no approaching ⟨getting near, talking to⟩ X; you cannot get near ⟨within ten feet of⟩ X; X is impossible to approach; X is totally unapproachable ⟨inaccessible⟩; [lim.] you don't dare get near ⟨close to⟩ X.

[Тарелкин:] Что же с Муромским-то делать? [Варравин:] Приказал; вы его нрав знаете. [Тарелкин:] Однако это всегда в ваших руках было. [Варравин:] И приступу нет (Сухово-Кобылин 1). [T.:] But what's to be done with Muromsky? [V.:] The prince gave an order—and you know his temper. [T.:] But the case was always in your hands. [V.:] There's no approaching him further on the matter (1a).

2. ~ к чему it is impossible (for s.o.) to buy, acquire sth. because of its high cost: к X-у приступу нет ≃ X is be- yond person Y's means; [lim.] X is priced out of the market ⟨out of reach⟩.

П-632 • ПРИСУ́ТСТВИЕ ДУ́ХА [NP; sing only; fixed WO] the ability to remain levelheaded, in command of one's thoughts and actions (esp. under stressful, dangerous etc circumstances): presence of mind; composure; || сохранять присутствие духа ⟨не терять присутствия духа⟩ ≃ remain ⟨be⟩ calm and collected; maintain one's composure.

Привязав лошадь у Нюриной калитки, председатель Голубев поднялся на крыльцо. Нельзя сказать, чтобы он при этом сохранял полное присутствие духа, скорее наоборот, он входил в Нюрин дом, испытывая, примерно, такое волнение, как входя к первому секретарю райкома (Войнович 2). Chairman Golubev tied his horse to Nyura's gate and climbed up to the porch. It cannot be said he maintained complete composure; quite the contrary, he was entering Nyura's house with the same sort of trepidation he'd experienced when going in to see the First Secretary of the District Committee (2a).

< Loan translation the French présence d'esprit.

П-633 • О ПРИСУ́ТСТВУЮЩИХ НЕ ГОВОРЯ́Т [saying] used when the speaker, after having expressed some criticism, wants to assure his listeners that the criticism does not apply to them: present company excepted ⟨excluded⟩.

П-634 • ПРИ́ТЧА ВО ЯЗЫ́ЦЕХ lit [NP; sing only; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human or abstr); fixed WO] a subject of general conversation, mockery, gossip etc: the talk of the town ⟨village, office etc⟩; (some place is) abuzz with the story (of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩); [lim.] the scandal of the neighborhood.

Их скандальный развод стал притчей во языцех. Their scandalous divorce has become the talk of the town.

< From the Bible (Deut. 28:37): "And thou shalt become an astonishment, a proverb, and a byword, among all nations whither the Lord shall lead thee." «Во языцех» is the Church Slavonic form of the locative plural of «язык».

П-635 • СО́ЛОНО ⟨ХУ́ДО⟩ ПРИХО́ДИТСЯ/ПРИШЛО́СЬ кому; СО́ЛОНО ДОСТА́ЛОСЬ all coll [VP; impers] s.o. is faced with a difficult situation (often one that results in some kind of suffering, punishment, defeat etc): X-у солоно придётся ≃ X will have his fair share of troubles; X will have it rough; X is in for it ⟨for hard times, for a rough ride⟩; X will suffer greatly ⟨a great deal, intensely etc⟩; [lim.] X will be in a pickle; X will smart for it.

В 1647 году комедианты пришли в город Бордо, провинцию Гиень… Считалось, что Гиенью правил Бернар де Ногаре, герцог д'Эпернон. Однако все знали, что действительным губернатором этой провинции была некая госпожа по имени Нанон де Лартиг, и худо приходилось Гиени при этой даме (Булгаков 5). In 1647 the company came to the city of Bordeaux, in the province of Guienne… Officially, Guienne was governed by Bernard de Nogaret, Duc d'Épernon. However, everybody knew that the real governor of the province was a certain Ninon de Lartiges, and Guienne suffered a great deal at the hands of this lady (5a).

П-636 • ТУ́ГО ⟨КРУ́ТО⟩ ПРИХО́ДИТСЯ/ПРИШЛО́СЬ кому coll [VP; impers] s.o. finds himself in a difficult situation (often in refer. to having to work very hard to make a living, learn sth., accomplish sth. etc): X-у туго придётся ≃ things will be difficult ⟨rough, tight etc⟩ for X; X will have a hard ⟨rough, tough etc⟩ time; X will have it rough ⟨tough⟩; X will have his share of troubles; X is in for a rough time ⟨a rough ride⟩; [in refer. to financial hardships only] X will be hard up.

Уходя из дома, она [Людмила] не взяла с собой кружку, не взяла хлеба; казалось, что она всю дорогу не будет ни есть, ни пить. Но на пароходе… ей мучительно захотелось есть, и Людмила поняла, что ей круто придётся (Гроссман 2). She [Lyudmila] hadn't brought a mug or even any bread; she had thought she wouldn't want to eat or drink during the journey. On the steamer, however, she had felt desperately hungry… and had realized that things were going to be difficult (2a).

П-637 • ПРИХОДИ́ТЬ/ПРИЙТИ́ В СЕБЯ́ [VP; subj: human] 1. ~ (от чего) to return to a conscious state (after having been unconscious) or to a fully alert state (after having been very drunk, very drowsy etc): X пришёл в себя ≃ [in refer. to returning to consciousness] X came to his senses; X came to (himself); X came (a)round; X regained consciousness; [after being drunk] X sobered up; [after drowsiness] X roused himself; X brightened ⟨perked⟩ up again; || X пришёл в себя от Y-а ≃ Y brought X around ⟨to⟩; Y revived X.

Отогревшись у мельничного костра, Харлампо пришёл в себя… (Искандер 5). When he was warmed up beside the mill fire, Harlampo regained consciousness… (5a).

2. [more often pfv] to come out of a state of intense nervousness, fright, worry, surprise etc, settle down: X пришёл в себя ≃ X calmed down; X pulled himself together; X regained ⟨recovered⟩ his composure; X was ⟨became⟩ himself ⟨his old self⟩ again; X felt more like himself (again); X came to his senses; X recovered (from a shock etc); X got over it ⟨the shock etc⟩.

Рвацкий меня изумил, а я Рвацкого испугал… когда я объяснил, что пришёл подписать договор с ним на печатание моего романа в издаваемом им журнале. Но тем не менее он быстро пришёл в себя… (Булгаков 12). If Rvatsky astonished me, I clearly terrified Rvatsky… when I explained that I had come to sign a contract with him for my novel which was going to be printed in the magazine he published. However, he quickly pulled himself together… (12a). Rvatsky astonished me, but I startled Rvatsky… when I explained that I had come to sign a contract with him for the printing of my novel in the journal that he published. But nonetheless, he rapidly recovered his composure… (12b).

3. to overcome one's fatigue by taking a short rest: X пришёл в себя ≃ X caught his breath; X rested up; [lim.] X got his bearings.

…Войдя в избу, Михаил поставил на пол плетённую из бересты корзину… «Самовар ставить или баню затоплять?» — спросила она [мать]. «Погоди маленько. Дай в себя прийти» (Абрамов 1). When he got inside, Mikhail put down his birch-bark basket…. "Shall I put on the samovar or heat up the bathhouse?" she [his mother] asked. "Wait a bit. Give me some time to get my bearings" (1a).

П-638 • ПРИХОДИ́ТЬСЯ/ПРИЙТИ́СЬ КСТА́ТИ [VP; subj: concr, abstr, or, rare, human; usu. pfv] to turn out to be needed, appropriate etc and/or to come about, appear at the right moment: X пришёлся кстати ≃ X came at the perfect time; X couldn't have come at a better time; X was just what one needed (at the ⟨that⟩ moment); thing X came in handy; thing X couldn't have been more timely.

Перевод, присланный родителями, пришёлся кстати, так как Оле даже нечем было заплатить за квартиру. The money order her parents sent was just what Olya needed, because she didn't even have money to pay the rent.

П-639 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ НА ПРИЦЕ́Л ⟨НА МУ́ШКУ coll⟩ кого-что [VP; subj: human] 1. to aim a weapon at s.o. or sth.: X взял Y-а на мушку ≃ X took aim at Y; X got ⟨had⟩ Y (lined up) in X's sights; X drew a bead on Y.

Лейтенант скомандовал взять на прицел два окна с правой стороны дома. The lieutenant ordered his men to take aim at two windows on the right side of the house.

2. to direct one's attention to s.o. or sth., pay special attention to s.o. or sth.: X возьмёт Y-а на прицел ≃ X will keep an eye on Y; X will take note of Y.

Гроссмейстер заметил незаурядные способности рыжего мальчика и взял его на прицел. The grand master noticed that the red-haired boy had remarkable talent and started keeping an eye on him.

П-640 • ДА́ЛЬНИЙ ⟨ДАЛЁКИЙ⟩ ПРИЦЕ́Л [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a far-reaching plan, project etc: distant aim in view; long-range goal; || с дальним прицелом ≃ with an eye toward the future; with a long-range goal in mind.

Ну а если уж вспоминать, так в разное время бывали и ещё какие-то, в общем-то, довольно милые Добровольцы, они её [Ирину Викторовну] встречали, провожали, сопровождали… Но всё это — корректно и бескорыстно, без дальнего… прицела (Залыгин 1). Having once started reminiscing she [Irina Viktorovna] recalled that there'd also been a number of quite likable Volunteers at various times. They'd met her and accompanied her here and there…. All this was done correctly and with no thought of gain, without any…distant aim in view (1a).

П-641 • ПО ПРИЧИ́НЕ чего [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] owing to: because (of); on account of; by reason of; the reason being.

[Телегин:] Жена моя бежала от меня на другой день после свадьбы с любимым человеком по причине моей непривлекательной наружности (Чехов 3). [T.:] My wife ran away with the man she loved the day after our wedding, the reason being my unprepossessing appearance (3a).

П-642 • С ТЕБЯ́ ⟨С ВАС, С НЕГО́ etc⟩ ПРИЧИТА́ЕТСЯ ⟨ПРИХО́ДИТСЯ⟩ coll, humor [indep. sent; fixed WO] (used to address s.o. who has just experienced a joyful event) you (he etc.) should treat me (us) to refreshments: now you ⟨he etc⟩ can treat me ⟨us⟩ to…; you owe ⟨he owes etc⟩ me ⟨us⟩ a treat; you owe ⟨he owes etc⟩ me ⟨us⟩ a drink ⟨a bottle (of wine), a dinner etc⟩.

П-643 • ДО ВТОРО́ГО ПРИШЕ́СТВИЯ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] for a very long time, endlessly, forever: until the Second Coming; till doomsday; till kingdom come.

< From the Christian doctrine of Christ's future return to earth.

П-644 • ПРО́БА ПЕРА́ [NP; sing only; fixed WO] s.o.'s first attempt at writing a literary work: test of the pen; [lim.] literary debut; beginner's exercise; first effort.

Упорнее всего Твардовский и редакция добивались: а что у меня есть ещё?.. Пробегая мои похороненные от 1948-го года пласты, я выбирал, что ж им назвать. Едучи сюда, я не готовился ничего больше открывать, но что-то было надо, трудно было убедить их, что «Иван Денисович» написан как первая проба пера (Солженицын 2). The question to which Tvardovsky and his colleagues most persistently returned was: "What else have you to offer?…" Mentally running through the layers secreted over the years since 1948, I selected things I could mention to them. On my way there, I had meant to reveal nothing else, but I couldn't keep it up: it would have been difficult to convince them that Ivan Denisovich was a beginner's exercise (2a).

П-645 • КАК ПРО́БКА глуп(ый) coll [как + NP; Invar; modif (intensif)] extremely (stupid): (as) dumb ⟨dense, thickheaded⟩ as they come; (as) dumb as an ox; (as) thick as a brick.

«Как тебе понравился Зоин муж?» — «Хорош собой, но глуп как пробка». "How did you like Zoya's husband?" "He's good-looking, but dumb as they come."

П-646 • ПРО́БКОЙ ⟨КАК ПРО́БКА (ИЗ БУТЫ́ЛКИ)⟩ ВЫ́ЛЕТЕТЬ ⟨ВЫ́СКОЧИТЬ⟩ откуда coll [VP; subj: human] to run or walk out of some place very quickly, headlong: X пробкой вылетел из места Y ≃ X dashed ⟨flew, came flying⟩ out of place Y like a shot; X shot out of place Y (like a rocket).

Поняв, что отец в плохом настроении, Дима пробкой вылетел из комнаты. Realizing that his father was in a bad mood, Dima shot out of the room.

П-647 • НА ПРО́БУ взять, дать что и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to take, give etc sth.) for examination, trial, or appraisal: as a sample; on trial; to try ⟨test⟩.

А.Т. [Твардовский] дал ему [Лебедеву, советнику Хрущёва] на пробу только четверть романа, сказав: «Первая часть. Над остальными работает» (Солженицын 2). A.T. [Tvardovsky] gave him [Lebedev, Khrushchev's adviser] only a quarter of the novel as a sample, telling him, "This is Part One. He's working on the rest" (2a).

П-648 • ПРО́БУ ⟨-ы⟩ СТА́ВИТЬ НЕ́ГДЕ ⟨НЕ́КУДА⟩ (на ком) highly coll [these forms only; impers predic with быть$_ø$] (of a person who displays a high degree of the specified, usu. negative, quality or is involved in some disreputable activity) s.o. is a complete, absolute (scoundrel, cheat etc): на X-е пробу ставить негде ≃ X is as bad ⟨rotten etc⟩ as they come; X is a downright ⟨an out-and-out, a shameless, a notorious⟩ [NP].

Все они жулики, пробу ставить негде. They're all a bunch of cheats—as bad as they come. ♦ Тут же помчался он в Росфото, весь оставшийся вечер колобродил там от стола к столу, торчал в баре, рассказывая брежневские анекдоты завзятым стукачам, и девочку подклеил — пробы негде ставить, известную всем сотрудницу Виолетту (Аксёнов 12). [context transl] He rushed over to Rosfoto, the Photographers' Club, and spent the rest of the evening table-hopping, hanging around the bar, telling Brezhnev jokes to inveterate stoolies, and then picked up a girl—everyone's fingerprints all over her, the well-known plant Violetta (12a).

П-649 • ВЫ́СШЕЙ ⟨ВЫСО́КОЙ, ЧИ́СТОЙ⟩ ПРО́БЫ [NP$_{gen}$; these forms only; nonagreeing modif; fixed WO] (s.o. or sth.) embodying the type or quality specified to the highest possible degree: of a high ⟨the highest⟩ order; of the first water; of the highest caliber; first-rate; first-class; [of a positive type or quality only] sterling [NP].

Этот на вид приличный человек оказался мошенником высшей пробы. This respectable-looking man turned out to be a first-class scoundrel.

П-650 • НИ́ЗШЕЙ ⟨НИ́ЗКОЙ⟩ ПРО́БЫ derog [NP$_{gen}$; these forms only; nonagreeing modif; fixed WO] (of a person's professional qualifications, ethical standards etc, or of the quality of a work of literature, art etc) of very low quality, base, devoid of merit etc: of the worst ⟨lowest, basest⟩ type ⟨kind, sort⟩.

Это не поэт, а версификатор низкой пробы. He's no poet; he's a rhymster of the worst sort.

П-651 • ЧТО́Б ТЫ ⟨ОН* и т.п.⟩ ПРОВАЛИ́ЛСЯ! highly coll, rude [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] used to express one's annoyance, irritation, exasperation directed at s.o. or sth.: damn you ⟨him, it* etc⟩!; screw you ⟨him, it* etc⟩!; to ⟨the⟩ hell with you ⟨him, it* etc⟩!; blast you ⟨him, it* etc⟩!

Полчаса ищу ключ, чтоб он провалился! I've been looking for that key for half an hour, damn it!

П-652 • НА ПРО́ВОДЕ coll [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human or collect)] (the person or organization named) is making or receiving a telephone call: X на проводе ≃ [when said by the caller] this is X calling (for s.o.); it's X on the line; [when the recipient of the call answers the phone and confirms that the caller has reached the right party] speaking; this is X; this is he ⟨she⟩; (this is) X speaking; [when a third party answers the phone and relays the caller's name to the recipient] X is on the line ⟨on the phone⟩; it's X calling ⟨on the line⟩; it's X for you.

«Быстро! К телефону! Таскан на проводе! Третий раз уже звонит… С ума сходит…» (Гинзбург 2). "Quick! The telephone! Taskan's on the line. It's the third time he's called… He's going out of his mind…" (2a).

П-653 • ДА́ЛЬНИЕ ⟨ДО́ЛГИЕ⟩ ПРО́ВОДЫ — ЛИ́ШНИЕ СЛЁЗЫ [saying] if a person spends a long time saying good-bye to s.o. or seeing s.o. off, he is sure to become upset: ≃ long partings mean a lot of tears; the longer the good-bye ⟨the goodbye, the leave-taking⟩, the more the tears.

Григорий… попрощался с родными… «Ну, дальние проводы — лишние слёзы. Прощайте!» — дрогнувшим голосом сказал Григорий и подошёл к коню (Шолохов 5). Grigory… said goodbye to his family…. "Well, long partings mean a lot of tears. Goodbye!" Grigory said with a quiver in his voice, and walked to his horse (5a).

П-654 • ПО ПО́ЛНОЙ ПРОГРА́ММЕ; ПО ПО́ЛНОЙ both coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv, sent adv, or nonagreeing modif] (to do sth.) intensely, fully, realizing every possibility: in a big way; at full scale; going all out; going great guns; to the max; a full-scale [NP]; || болеть ~ ≃ be sick all over; be totally sick; || выпить ~ ≃ drink to one's heart's content; drink hearty; || гонять на экамене кого ~ ≃ grill s.o. mercilessly ⟨relentlessly⟩; || жить ~ ≃ (live life) to the fullest; || избить, изувечить кого ~ ≃ beat ⟨thrash⟩ s.o. within an inch of s.o.'s life; || наказать кого ~ ≃ give s.o. the full treatment ⟨the works⟩; give it to s.o. (but) good; || обследование ~ ≃ a most thorough examination; || отпраздновать, отметить что ~ ≃ live ⟨whoop⟩ it up; have the time of one's life; celebrate in a big way; || раскрутить кого, сделать рекламу кому ~ ≃ tout s.o. highly ⟨heavily⟩; create a blaze of publicity for s.o.'s shows ⟨films* etc⟩; launch a full-scale publicity campaign for s.o.'s shows ⟨films* etc⟩; || спросить с кого, призвать к ответу кого ~ ≃ hold s.o. fully accountable.

П-655 • В ПРОДОЛЖЕ́НИЕ чего [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] 1. throughout the duration, continuance of sth.: during; throughout; all through; for; over; in ⟨over⟩ the course of; for ⟨over⟩ the space of; || в продолжение всего дня ⟨целого года и т.п.⟩ ≃ all day ⟨year* etc⟩ long; || в продолжение длительного времени ≃ for so long.

В продолжение ужина Грушницкий шептался и перемигивался с драгунским капитаном (Лермонтов 1). During the supper Grushnitski kept whispering and exchanging winks with the Captain of Dragoons (1a). All through supper Grushnitsky was whispering and exchanging winks with the dragoon captain (1c). ♦ Удаление Степана Богдановича из Варьете не доставило Римскому той радости, о которой он так жадно мечтал в продолжение нескольких лет (Булгаков 9). The removal of Stepan Bogdanovich from the Variety Theater did not bring Rimsky the joy of which he had dreamed so ardently for several years (9a).

2. as a continuation or extension of sth.: continuing sth.; as a follow-up to; following up on sth.; as a sequel to; in continuation of.

В продолжение нашего недавнего разговора он прислал мне письмо с газетными вырезками. Following up on our recent conversation, he sent me a letter with newspaper clippings.

П-656 • НЕ ПРОДОХНЁШЬ; НЕ ПРОДОХНУ́ТЬ; ПРОДОХНУ́ТЬ НЕЛЬЗЯ́ all coll [VP; neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing or impers predic with быть$_{ø}$ (variants with продохнуть)] it is impossible to breathe (in some place because the air is stuffy, there is a bad smell etc): you ⟨one⟩ can hardly breathe; it's hard to breathe; there isn't a breath of (fresh) air (in some place).

Ну и накурили они здесь — не продохнёшь. Well, they certainly smoked their fill of cigarettes here—you can hardly breathe.

П-657 • НА ПРОИЗВО́Л СУДЬБЫ́ бросить, оставить, покинуть кого [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to leave, abandon s.o.) unattended, without help or support: (leave s.o.) to ⟨at⟩ the mercy of fate; (abandon s.o.) to the mercy ⟨the whims, the vagaries⟩ of fate; (leave s.o.) to his fate.

…Собака, которая привязана к будке, находится даже в более выгодном положении, её хотя бы кормят только за то, что она собака, а его, Ивана, оставили на произвол судьбы и неизвестно, собираются забрать или нет (Войнович 2). …Even a dog tied to a doghouse was better off than Chonkin because it, at least, gets fed because it's a dog, while he, Ivan [Chonkin], had been abandoned to the whims of fate—who knew if they had any intention of ever coming to get him? (2a).

П-658 • КАК ПРО́КЛЯТЫЙ работать, заниматься и т.п. highly coll [как + AdjP; nom only; adv (intensif)] (to work, study etc) without rest and exerting great effort: like mad; like the dickens; like one possessed; (study) one's brains out.

Вдруг Рита сказала: «Между прочим, дорогие друзья, хотя Герасим Иванович отличный преподаватель, но прежде всего Кирка помог себе сам. Он занимался как проклятый. Совершенно как проклятый» (Трифонов 5). Suddenly Rita broke in, "By the way, dear friends, although it's true that Gerasim Ivanovich is an excellent teacher, Kirka got in [the institute] thanks to his own efforts more than anything else. He studied like mad, he really did" (5a).

П-659 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ⟨ДЕ́ЛАТЬ/СДЕ́ЛАТЬ, ДОПУСКА́ТЬ/ДОПУСТИ́ТЬ⟩ ПРО́МАХ ⟨ПРОМА́ШКУ coll⟩ [VP; subj: human] to do or say the wrong thing because of bad judgment, a mistake etc: X дал промах ≃ X slipped up; X made a slip ⟨a blunder, a (big) mistake⟩; X tripped ⟨got tripped⟩ up; X put his foot in it ⟨in his mouth⟩; [lim.] X missed his chance.

«Но уж тогда разрешите — я ещё разик у вас надымлю. Или мне выйти?» (Выйти ему?! Прозрачно! Понял, что промах дал, теперь хочет смыться.) «Нет-нет, курите здесь. Я люблю табачный дым» (Солженицын 4). "Well, in that case, may I have another smoke here? Or should I step outside?" (Go outside?! How blatant. He realises he's made a slip, so now he wants to clear off.) "No, no. Smoke here. I like tobacco smoke" (4a). ♦ Он [царь Николай] не думал, что род учителей может оказаться таким гордым. И тут он дал промашку (Искандер 5). Не [Czar Nicholas] didn't think a clan of teachers could be so proud. That was a big mistake (5a).

П-660 • (малый, парень и т.п.) НЕ ПРО́МАХ coll [NP; Invar; nonagreeing postmodif or, less often, subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human)] a bright, clever person who lets no opportunity slip by, who knows how to look after his interests: X малый не промах ≃ X is no ⟨nobody's⟩ fool; X is pretty smart; X is a smart cookie; X knows what's what; X knows his way around; X is a sharp man ⟨woman etc⟩; you can't fool ⟨put anything over on⟩ X.

«…Чего ты боишься?» — «Как чего боюсь, батюшка Кирила Петрович, а Дубровского-то; того и гляди попадёшься ему в лапы. Он малый не промах, никому не спустит…» (Пушкин 1). "What are you afraid of?" "What indeed, dear sir Kirila Petrovich! Dubrovskii, that's what! You can never tell when you might fall into his clutches. He's nobody's fool: he doesn't let people off lightly…" (1a).

П-661 • ПРОМЕДЛЕ́НИЕ СМЕ́РТИ ПОДО́БНО [saying] delaying immediate action may lead to failure, defeat, death: ≃ (any) procrastination can ⟨could⟩ be fatal ⟨fateful, calamitous⟩.

В сущности, сыщику без коляски с рысаками никак невозможно. Хорошо «Боярская» на Покровке, но ведь оттуда ещё на Яузу к приказчику Кукину топать — это верных полчаса. Тут промедление смерти подобно… (Акунин 8). …The very idea of a detective without a carriage and trotters was simply impossible as a matter of principle. Thank goodness the Boyar Hotel was on Pokrovka Street, but trudging on from there to the shopkeeper Kukin's place on the Yauza would take half an hour for certain. Any procrastination now could well be fatal… (8a).

< The phrase (in a slightly more dated version) was used by Peter the Great in a letter to the Senate before the Pruth Campaign of 1711 during the Russo-Turkish war.

П-662 • ГДЕ НА́ША НЕ ПРОПАДА́ЛА ⟨ГДЕ НА́ШЕ НЕ ПРОПАДА́ЛО⟩! [saying] said when s.o. (usu. the speaker himself) is about to undertake sth. that either involves risk or is not sensible, well-advised: ≃ I'll take that risk ⟨that chance⟩!; I'll risk it!; I've ⟨you've etc⟩ got nothing to lose; what do I ⟨you etc⟩ have to lose!; nothing ventured, nothing gained!; we ⟨you⟩ only live once; (there's) no harm in trying!; what the hell!; here goes nothing!

[Маша:] Выпью рюмочку винца! Эх ма… где наша не пропадала! (Чехов 5). [M.:] I'll have a little glass of wine. Why not… we only live once! (5a).

П-663 • НЕ ПРОПАДЁТ за кем coll [VP; impers; this form only] 1. Also: НЕ ЗАРЖАВЕ́ЕТ за кем highly coll [fut or subjunctive] what was borrowed or spent will be reimbursed, returned by s.o.: за X-ом не пропадёт ≃ X will pay person Y back; X will make it up to person Y; X will get it back to person Y; (the money etc) will be safe in X's hands; X will make it good.

У меня тоже попросил пятёрку один знакомый парень, шофёр из партии Айрапета. «За мной не заржавеет», — сказал он (Аксёнов 1). Someone I knew asked me for a five-spot, too—a driver from Airapet's party. "I'll get it back to you," he said (1a).

2. s.o. will respond to another's actions or behavior by treating him in the same way (often in refer. to an offense, injury etc; often used by the speaker as a threat): за мной не пропадёт ≃ I'll pay him ⟨her etc⟩ back (in kind); [in refer. to harm, injury etc] I'll pay him ⟨her etc⟩ back with interest; I'll give him ⟨her etc⟩ a taste of his ⟨her etc⟩ own medicine; I'll get even with ⟨get back at⟩ him ⟨her etc⟩.

То, что он сделал, — это предательство. Я ему этого не забуду и не прощу. За мной не пропадёт. What he did is treachery. I won't forgive and forget. I'll get back at him.

П-664 • ПРОПАДИ́ ты ⟨он, она, оно (всё), они (все), всё⟩ ПРО́ПАДОМ; ПРОПАДИ́ТЕ вы (все) ПРО́ПАДОМ; ПРОПАДА́Й всё ПРО́ПАДОМ all coll [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] used to express extreme displeasure with, or annoyance, irritation at, s.o. or sth.: пропади X пропадом! ≃ to hell ⟨to blazes⟩ with X!; person X can go to hell ⟨to blazes⟩!; person X can drop dead!; damn X ⟨it all⟩!; blast it!; the devil take X!

«Ах, жизнь артиста! Фраки, манишки, овации, медали, репортёры! Тьфу! Пропади всё это пропадом!» (Семёнов 1). "Oh, the life of a musician! Tailcoats, cuffs, ovations, medals, reporters! Pah! To blazes with the lot of it!" (1a).

П-665 • ЧЁРТОВА ПРО́ПАСТЬ ⟨ГИ́БЕЛЬ obs⟩ (кого-чего) highly coll [NP; sing only; usu. obj or subj; quantif; fixed WO] very many, a huge amount: one ⟨a⟩ hell of a lot (of); a ton ⟨tons⟩ (of); piles ⟨heaps⟩ of.

«Будь только на твоей стороне счастие, ты можешь выиграть чёртову пропасть» (Гоголь 3). "…If luck's on your side, you can win a hell of a lot" (3a).

П-666 • НА ПРОПО́Й ДУШИ́ obs, humor [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (in refer. to money given to s.o. to buy alcohol) for drinking: so (that) s.o. can (go) drown his sorrows ⟨troubles⟩.

П-667 • ПРОПИСА́ТЬ ПРОПО́РЦИЮ кому obs, substand [VP; subj: human] to give s.o. a whipping, a thrashing: X пропишет Y-у пропорцию ≃ X will tan Y's hide; X will beat ⟨knock⟩ the tar out of Y; X will let Y have it; X will give Y a hiding ⟨a (good) licking⟩.

П-668 • КАК В ПРО́РВУ highly coll [как + PrepP; Invar; adv or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. a noun denoting money, efforts etc)] (usu. in refer. to appreciable amounts of money, energy etc spent on sth.) sth. is completely wasted, has no perceptible results: it's money ⟨a lot of effort etc⟩ down the drain ⟨the tubes⟩; [lim.] (it's) like throwing it ⟨sth.⟩ down a well ⟨into a bottomless pit⟩.

«…Им сто твоих зарплат не хватит, дели — не дели, всё равно не насытишь, как в прорву…» (Иоффе 1). "You could pay them a hundred times over, share everything you've got with them, and they'd never be satisfied. It's like throwing it down a well!" (1a).

П-669 • КАК ИЗ ПРО́РВЫ highly coll [как + PrepP; Invar; adv] in large amounts, in abundance: in an endless stream; as if they ⟨it⟩ would never end ⟨stop⟩.

Неприятности сыпались на меня как из прорвы. Troubles rained down on me in an endless stream.

П-670 • НЕТ ⟨НЕСТЬ⟩ ПРОРО́КА В ОТЕ́ЧЕСТВЕ СВОЁМ ⟨В СВОЁМ ОТЕ́ЧЕСТВЕ⟩ lit [sent; fixed WO] a great, outstanding person is recognized and accepted by everyone except those closest to him—his own countrymen, associates, family etc; by extension may refer to a remarkable idea, invention etc: a prophet is not without honor, save in his own country; a man is not a prophet in his own country.

…Мне пришёл в голову вопрос: почему Дмитрий… имевший всегда перед глазами милую, любящую Софью Ивановну, вдруг страстно полюбил непонятную Любовь Сергеевну… Видно, справедливо изречение: «Нет пророка в отечестве своём» (Толстой 2). …It occurred to me to ask myself: why was it that Dmitri… who had the sweet loving Sofya Ivanovna constantly before his eyes, why had he fallen passionately in love with the incomprehensible Lyubov Sergeyevna…? Clearly there is truth in the saying that a prophet is not without honor, save in his own country (2b).

П-671 • ПОСЛЕ́ДНЕЕ ПРОСТИ́ послать, сказать кому lit [NP; usu. obj; fixed WO] (to say, send s.o.) a final parting word, (say) good-bye forever: (say ⟨send⟩) a ⟨one's⟩ last ⟨final⟩ farewell; (say) one's last good-bye ⟨goodbye, good-by⟩.

Настало время сказать последнее прости городу Бишофсбергу (Федин 1). The time has come to say our last good-by to the city of Bischofsberg (1a).

П-672 • ПРО́СТО ТА́К [AdvP; Invar; usu. adv; usu. this WO] without having any special reason, aim, or intention: for no reason (at all); for no good ⟨particular⟩ reason; without a reason; without any particular aim in mind; (just) for the sake ⟨the fun, the hell⟩ of it; just because (one feels like it); [lim.] just (do sth.).

Персональное дело это такое дело, когда большой коллектив людей собирается в кучу, чтоб в порядке внутривидовой борьбы удушить одного из себе подобных сдуру, по злобе или же просто так (Войнович 4). A personal case is when a large human group closes ranks in the course of an interspecific struggle, to suffocate one of its members, out of sheer foolishness, out of malice, or for no reason at all (4a). ♦ «Тали, — спросил он, увидев её, — тебя за чем-нибудь прислали?»… — «Нет, — сказала она, — я просто так…» (Искандер 3). "Tali," he asked when he saw her, "did they send you for something?"… "No," she said, "I just came" (3a).

П-673 • ПРО́ЩЕ ПРОСТО́ГО coll [AdvP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: usu infin or это); fixed WO] doing sth. is very easy, very simple: это ⟨сделать X⟩ ~ ≃ it's as easy as pie (to do X); it's ⟨doing X is⟩ as easy as one, two, three ⟨as can be⟩; nothing could be simpler ⟨easier⟩ than doing X; it's ⟨doing X is⟩ the easiest ⟨simplest⟩ thing in the world ⟨on earth⟩.

«Дураку понятно, Сивого засудить проще простого: …у [его] мамаши сумку потерпевшей изъяли…» (Чернёнок 1). "Even a fool can see that it's as easy as pie to put Vasya Sivy away:… the victim's purse was found at his mother's…" (1a). ♦ «Ну с талантами, знаете ли, расправляться проще простого» (Войнович 4). "But, you know, nothing could be simpler than making short work of talented people" (4a).

П-674 • (О) СВЯТА́Я ПРОСТОТА́! [Interj; these forms only; often used when responding to the interlocutor's statement, suggestion etc] how naïve you are (he is etc): (oh,) blessed innocence; oh holy simplicity!

«Значит, надо обязательно обманывать кого-то?» — «О святая простота!» — говорит Юрка… (Михайловская 1). "Does that mean that deception is necessary?" "Oh, blessed innocence," says Yuri… (1a).

П-675 • ПРОСТОТА́ ХУ́ЖЕ ВОРОВСТВА́ [saying] an excess of naïveté leads to trouble, causes problems: simplicity is worse than robbery ⟨thievery⟩.

…Я навсегда усвоил себе несколько бунинских рекомендаций: такт, точность, краткость, простота, но разумеется, — и Бунин это подчёркивал много раз, — он говорил не о той простоте, которая хуже воровства, а о простоте как следствии очень большой работы над фразой, над отдельным словом… (Катаев 3). I… resolved to be guided always by Bunin's recommendations concerning tact, precision, brevity and simplicity, but, as Bunin often emphasized, he was talking not about that simplicity which, as the saying goes, is worse than robbery, but about the simplicity that comes from intensive work on a phrase or a particular word… (3a).

П-676 • ПО ⟨В⟩ ПРОСТОТЕ́ ДУШЕ́ВНОЙ ⟨ДУШИ́, (СВОЕГО́) СЕ́РДЦА obs⟩; ПО ПРОСТОТЕ́ СЕРДЕ́ЧНОЙ [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] out of a lack of sophistication, because of one's trusting nature: in the simplicity of one's soul ⟨heart⟩; in one's naïveté ⟨innocence⟩; naïvely.

Они в простоте души понимали и приводили в исполнение единственное употребление капиталов — держать их в сундуке (Гончаров 1). In the simplicity of their souls they understood and practiced only one method of handling capital—that of keeping it in a chest (1b). ♦ «Анатолий Овчинников напросился проводить меня после спектакля… По простоте душевной впустила в квартиру и до трёх часов не могла выпроводить» (Чернёнок 1). "Anatoly Ovchinnikov asked to take me home after the opera…. I naively let him into the apartment and couldn't get him out until three" (1a).

П-677 • БЕЗ ПРО́СЫПА ⟨-у⟩ highly coll [PrepP; these forms only] 1. спать, дрыхнуть ~ [adv] (to sleep) soundly and without waking up (usu. for a long time): (sleep) like a log; (sleep) [Num] hours straight.

«Ну, брат, ты дрыхнешь, как пожарник в рейхстаге: вторые сутки без просыпу» (Алешковский 1). "Well, bud, I'd say you've been snoozing like a fireman at the Reichstag. Forty-eight hours straight" (1a).

2. пить, пьянствовать ~ [adv] (to drink alcohol) constantly, never sobering up: (be drunk) all the time; (drink) nonstop.

Возник вопрос: какую надобность мог иметь градоначальник в Байбакове, который, кроме того что пил без просыпа, был ещё и явный прелюбодей? (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). The question arose, What need could the town governor have of Dormousov, who in addition to being drunk all the time was also an overt adulterer? (1a).

3. rare пьян ~ [modif (intensif)] extremely (drunk): dead ⟨blind⟩ drunk; stewed ⟨lit, tanked⟩ to the gills; drunk as a skunk.

П-678 • НЕ ПРОСЫХА́ТЬ substand [VP; subj: human; usu. pres or past] to drink alcohol all the time, always be drunk: X не просыхает ≃ X never dries out ⟨sobers up⟩; X drinks nonstop.

«…[Владимир] в сельпо оформился шофером… Так с того дня у Симки и сидит в закутке, нарядов нет, не просыхает…»

(Аксёнов 3). "…He [Vladimir] signed on as a driver at the village general store…. But since then he's been on a binge over at Simka's hole-in-the-wall. There are no orders to fill and he won't sober up" (3a).

П-679 • В ПРОТИВОВЕ́С кому-чему lit [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] unlike and in opposition to s.o. or sth.: in contrast to; as distinct from.

«События требуют работать с уверенностью и отрадным сознанием исполняемого долга, когда знаешь, что Круг — верховный выразитель воли Дона — тебе доверяет, когда, в противовес большевистской распущенности и анархии, будут установлены твёрдые правовые нормы» (Шолохов 4). "Events demand that I should work with confidence and a joyful sense of performing my duty, a sense that I can have only when I know that the Council—the supreme expression of the will of the Don—trusts me, when in contrast to Bolshevik dissipation and anarchy there are firmly established legal standards" (4a).

П-680 • В ПРОТИВОПОЛО́ЖНОСТЬ кому-чему [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] marked by lack of similarity, different (from s.o. or sth. else): in contrast to (s.o.); by contrast; by contrast with (sth.); as opposed to (s.o. ⟨sth.⟩); unlike (s.o. ⟨sth.⟩); [lim.] contrary to (sth.); (be ⟨being⟩) the opposite of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; [usu. used parenthetically between two juxtaposed elements] on the other hand.

…Римский с самого утра находился в дурном расположении духа, а Варенуха, в противоположность ему, был очень оживлён и как-то особенно беспокойно деятелен (Булгаков 9). Rimsky had been in a bad mood all morning. Varenukha, by contrast, was extremely cheerful and lively, if somewhat nervous (9b). Rimsky… had been in a foul mood since morning. Varenukha, on the other hand, was very animated and somehow especially restless and energetic (9c).

П-681 • НА ПРОТЯЖЕ́НИИ чего [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] over a certain (as specified) period of time or throughout the duration of sth.: over; in ⟨over⟩ the course of; over a period of; during (the course of); ; [lim.] within a span of; throughout; for.

Были ли случаи на протяжении двух тысячелетий, когда свобода, человечность пользовались антисемитизмом как средством своей борьбы? Может быть, и были, но я не знаю таких (Гроссман 2). In the course of two millennia, have there ever been occasions when the forces of freedom and humanitarianism made use of anti-Semitism as a tool in their struggles? Possibly, but I do not know of them (2a).

П-682 • ПРОФЕ́ССОР КИ́СЛЫХ ЩЕЙ highly coll [NP; usu. sing; often used as Interj; fixed WO] used to express an ironic or humorous attitude toward a person who demonstrates that he knows a lot or makes a pretense of having considerable knowledge, but, in the speaker's opinion, has little or none; when said of a real professor, used to underscore what the speaker considers a lack of professional qualifications, academic expertise etc: some expert he ⟨she⟩ is!; what ⟨he is, she is, you are⟩ a poor excuse for a professor!; [of a real professor] fine kind of professor ⟨scholar etc⟩ he ⟨she⟩ is!; a fine professor ⟨scholar etc⟩ he ⟨she⟩ is!; || называть кого профессором кислых щей ≃ call s.o. a know-it-all.

Ох, и поиздевалась же она надо мной: мол, профессор, а анкету правильно заполнить не может! Профессор кислых щей! (Зиновьев 2). Oh, and then she had a really good go at me. Look at you, a professor, and you can't even fill a form in properly! Fine kind of professor you are! (2a). ♦ Улицу Антон любил, но она была к нему сурова: дразнила профессором кислых щей, била — за отказ признать, что удавы бывают в сто метров длиной или что камни растут (Чудаков 1). Anton loved the Street, but the Street treated him harshly. It teased him, called him a know-it-all and beat him up—for refusing to admit that boa constrictors can reach a hundred meters in length, or that stones grow (1a).

П-683 • С ПРОХЛА́ДЦЕЙ coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv] 1. (to do sth.) unhurriedly, without zeal, enthusiasm etc: halfheartedly; at a leisurely pace; without making much effort; taking one's time.

«Хорошего сварщика из Павла не получится, — сказал мастер. — Профессию нашу он не любит, работает с прохладцей». "Pavel will never make a good welder," said the foreman. "He doesn't like our trade and works halfheartedly."

2. относиться к кому-чему ~ (to relate to s.o. or sth.) indifferently: X относится к Y-у ~ ≃ X is cool toward person Y; X is not particularly fond of Y; thing Y doesn't particularly appeal to X.

П-684 • НЕ ДАВА́ТЬ/НЕ ДАТЬ ПРОХО́ДА ⟨-у⟩ кому coll [VP; subj: human; usu. impfv; if pfv, fut only] to bother s.o. incessantly with endless requests, nagging etc: X Y-у прохода не даёт ≃ X gives Y no peace; X doesn't give Y a moment's ⟨a minute's⟩ peace; X doesn't leave ⟨never leaves⟩ Y alone; X pesters Y; X is after Y all the time; X never lets up (on Y); X won't let Y be; Y can't get rid of X; Y can't get X off Y's back.

«Ах, какая пыль!.. Ты и здесь хочешь такой же беспорядок завести: пыль, паутину? Нет; извини, я не позволю! И так Ольга Сергеевна мне проходу не даёт: „Вы любите, говорит, сор“» (Гончаров 1). "Oh, what dust!… Do you intend to have the same disorder here—dust, cobwebs? No, I shall not permit it. As it is, Olga Sergeyevna gives me no peace: 'You must like dirt,' she says" (1b). ♦ [Кабанов:] Вот видишь ты, вот всегда мне за тебя достаётся от маменьки!.. Проходу не даёт — всё за тебя (Островский 6). [K.:] There now, you see the way I keep on catching it from Mama over you…. [She] never lets up—all on your account (6d).

П-685 • (НЕТ) НИ ПРОХО́ДА, НИ ПРОЕ́ЗДА где, куда; НИ ПРОЙТИ́ НИ ПРОЕ́ХАТЬ [$VP_{subj/gen}$ (1st var.); impers sent with $быть_{ø}$ (2nd var.); fixed WO] it is impossible to reach or move around some place (usu. because it is flooded, there are no roads or the roads are inaccessible etc): roads are (virtually ⟨completely, totally⟩) impassable.

По Набережной в распутицу было ни пройти ни проехать. Но зато летом проезжая её часть покрывалась подушкой мягкой, как пух, пыли (Чудаков 1). During the muddy season, Embankment Street was completely impassable. But in the summer the roadway was covered by a cushion of dust soft as down (1a).

П-686 • ПРОХО́ДА ⟨-у⟩ НЕТ coll [VP; impers] 1. ~ (кому от кого-чего) s.o. is constantly bothered by another, cannot rid himself of another or of another's badgering, ridicule etc: X-у от Y-а прохода нет ≃ Y doesn't give X a moment's peace; X can't get rid of Y; X can't find refuge from Y; || прохода от Y-а нет ≃ there's no getting rid of Y; there's no end to Y's nagging ⟨pestering etc⟩; || X-у прохода нет ≃ X doesn't have a moment's peace; X doesn't have any peace at all.

[Таня:] …Всякий пристаёт; хоть бы Григорий Михайлыч, проходу от него нету (Толстой 3). [T.:] …Every man is after me. Take Grigori Mikhailych, for example—there's no getting rid of him (3a). ♦ «Мне скоро проходу не будет. Все пальцем показывают» (Абрамов 1). "Soon I won't have any peace at all. Everyone's pointing a finger at me" (1a).

2. ~ от кого disapprov there are a great number of, too many (people of a certain type): от Х-ов прохода нет ≃ there are tons of Xs; we ⟨you, they⟩ are swamped ⟨overrun⟩ with Xs.

Везде одни бюрократы, прохода от них нет. There are bureaucrats everywhere—we're swamped with them.

П-687 • (ВСЁ) Э́ТО МЫ УЖЕ́ ПРОХОДИ́ЛИ often iron [sent; these forms only; fixed WO] the idea, suggestion, argument etc in question is not new, we have already had that experience: been there, done that; we've been there ⟨here⟩ already; now that sounds familiar; we've traveled ⟨been down⟩ this road before; this is old hat; we've covered this ground already; we've heard all this before.

П-688 • НЕ ПРОХО́ДИТ/НЕ ПРОШЁЛ ДА́РОМ [VP; subj: usu. count abstr] 1. ~ (для кого) [more often pfv past] some event (period of time etc) produces certain results, has certain consequences, brings about certain changes etc: Х не прошёл (для Y-а) даром ≃ X was not in vain ⟨not for nothing, not for naught⟩; X left its mark (on Y); [lim.] Y hasn't wasted X; X has been of some use.

…Долгая привычка спать на казённом диване не прошла даром… (Войнович 4). …His old habit of sleeping on the office couch had left its mark (4a).

2. ~ кому. Also: ТАК НЕ ПРОХО́ДИТ/НЕ ПРОШЛО́ [subj: often это or это дело, эти слова etc; usu. pfv fut; var. with так has fixed WO] s.o.'s reprehensible action (words etc) will definitely result in unpleasant consequences or punishment for him: Х ⟨это⟩ Y-у даром не пройдёт ≃ Y won't get away with X ⟨it⟩; Y will (have to) pay for X ⟨it, this⟩; Y will not get off scot-free; X will not be without consequence (for Y); [lim.] X will not be easily forgotten; person Z can't let it pass.

«Ты лжёшь, мерзавец! — вскричал я в бешенстве, — ты лжёшь самым бесстыдным образом». Швабрин переменился в лице. «Это тебе так не пройдёт», — сказал он… (Пушкин 2). "You're lying, scoundrel!" I exclaimed in a rage. "You're lying in the most shameless manner." Shvabrin changed color. "You are not going to get away with that," he said… (2a). "You're lying!" I exclaimed furiously. "You're a shameless liar." Shvabrin paled. "I can't let that pass," he said… (2c). ♦ …Глуповцам это дело не прошло даром (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). This affair was not without consequence for the Foolovites… (1a).

П-689 • ПРОХОДИ́ТЬ/ПРОЙТИ́ МИ́МО [VP; more often pfv; if impfv, often imper; fixed WO] 1. ~ (кого-чего) [subj: human or collect] (often in refer. to negative phenomena, facts) to disregard s.o. or sth., not pay attention to sth., remain uninvolved: Х прошёл мимо Y-а ≃ X ignored Y; X passed Y over ⟨by⟩; X chose not to see Y; [lim.] X overlooked Y; X pretended Y didn't exist.

«Если бы эту брошюру написал рядовой историк, то можно было бы пройти мимо: историки могут ошибаться… Но ведь эту брошюру написал не рядовой историк, а один из руководителей партии и государства» (Рыбаков 2). "If an ordinary historian had written it [this pamphlet], one could have ignored it. Historians often make mistakes…. But this pamphlet was not written by an ordinary historian, it was written by one of the leaders of the Party and state" (2a).

…Несмотря на то, что все начальники отделов кадров только тем и занимаются, что вчитываются в анкеты, выискивая несоответствия и изъяны в биографии сотрудников того или иного учреждения, иногда самые невероятные нелепости проходят мимо их бдительного ока (Войнович 1). …Despite the fact that all personnel managers do nothing but pore over questionnaires seeking out inconsistencies and flaws in the biographies of employees of one institution or another, the most incredible absurdities do sometimes slip past their watchful eyes (1a).

3. ~ кого-чего [subj: human] (often in refer. to not recognizing a potential spouse) having failed to recognize the merits, worth etc of s.o. or sth., to pay no attention to, not follow up on etc s.o. or sth. and thereby lose him or it: Х прошёл мимо Y-а ≃ X passed Y by; X let Y slip through X's fingers.

«Чуть было не прошёл мимо великого начинания». «А что, если бы прошли?» — говорил я. «Не говори», — отвечал Платон Самсонович и снова вздрагивал (Искандер 6). "To think that I almost let this great undertaking slip through my fingers!" "Well, and what if you had?" I would ask. "Don't even suggest such a thing," he would answer, wincing once again (6a).

4. ~ чего [subj: human] not to address or discuss (some problem, question etc): Х прошёл мимо Y-а ≃ X passed over Y in silence; X made no mention of Y; X didn't touch (on ⟨upon⟩) Y.

Докладчика критиковали за то, что он прошёл мимо основной проблемы — финансирования проекта. The speaker was criticized for not touching upon the fundamental problem—how to finance the project.

П-690 • ПОМИ́МО ВСЕГО́ ПРО́ЧЕГО; ПОМИ́МО ВСЕГО́ [PrepP; these forms only; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] along with sth. (mentioned in the preceding context or implied): besides (that); in addition to other things ⟨reasons etc⟩; along with other things ⟨with everything else⟩; in addition (to all else); on top of everything else; apart from everything else; among other things; also.

«Изумительно! — воскликнул непрошеный собеседник и, почему-то воровски оглянувшись и приглушив свой низкий голос, сказал: — Простите мою навязчивость, но я так понял, что вы, помимо всего прочего, ещё и не верите в бога? — он сделал испуганные глаза и прибавил: — Клянусь, я никому не скажу» (Булгаков 9). "Astonishing!" exclaimed the uninvited companion. Then, for some strange reason, he threw a furtive glance over his shoulder like a thief, and, hushing his low voice still further, he said, "Forgive my importunity, but I understood that, in addition to all else, you don't believe in God either?" He opened his eyes wide with mock fright and added, "I swear I will not tell anyone!" (9a).

П-691 • И ПРО́ЧЕЕ (И ПРО́ЧЕЕ) ⟨И ПРО́ЧАЯ (И ПРО́ЧАЯ) obs⟩, may be abbreviated in writing to и пр. (и пр.) or и проч. (и проч.) [NP; these forms only] (used at the end of a list to indicate that more objects or phenomena could be included) and other similar things: and so on (and so forth ⟨on⟩); and so forth (and so on); and the like; and such like; and things of that sort; and more to that effect; et cetera; etc.

На дело Карамазовых, как оказалось потом, он [председатель суда] смотрел довольно горячо, но лишь в общем смысле. Его занимало явление, классификация его, взгляд на него как на продукт наших социальных основ, как на характеристику русского элемента, и проч., и проч. (Достоевский 2). He [the presiding judge] took, as it turned out later, a rather passionate view of the Karamazov case, but only in a general sense. He was concerned with the phenomenon, its classification, seeing it as a product of our social principles, as characteristic of the Russian element, and so on and so forth (2a).

П-692 • МЕЖДУ ПРО́ЧИМ [PrepP; Invar; fixed WO] 1. сказать, заметить и т.п. ~ [adv] (to say, mention etc sth.) without making it sound overly important, without putting special emphasis on it: casually; in passing; [lim.] (s.o.'s response sounds etc) casual; as if ⟨though⟩ it is nothing special.

Лет через сто мы узнаем, кто был настоящий учёный в наше время и что действительно ценного было открыто… Но это я сказал так, между прочим (Зиновьев 1). In a hundred years we shall know who in our time were real scientists and what was discovered of real value…. But I'm just saying that in passing (1a).

2. [sent adv (parenth)] in connection with or in addition to what has been said: by the way; apropos of that; incidentally; come to think of it.

Какая печальная история, юноша, как понятны мне ваши чувства, чувства ученика, потерявшего любимого учителя. Что-то похожее было, между прочим, и в моей жизни (Соколов 1). What a sad story, lad, how well I understand your feelings, the feelings of a student who has lost his favorite teacher. Something similar happened, by the way, in my own life (1a).

П-693 • НЕ ПРОЧЬ coll [Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); usu. foll. by (pfv) infin] s.o. has no objections to, and would even rather enjoy (doing sth.): X не прочь сделать Y ≃ X doesn't ⟨wouldn't⟩ mind (doing) Y; X is not averse ⟨opposed⟩ to (doing) Y; X is (kind of ⟨quite⟩) willing to do Y; X doesn't seem to mind (doing Y); X seems quite willing ⟨ready⟩ to do Y.

Даже сосед, кажется, не прочь сегодня поддержать беседу (Михайловская 1). It seems that even the neighbor wouldn't mind joining in the conversation today (1a).

П-694 • ОТХОДИ́ТЬ/ОТОЙТИ́ ⟨УХОДИ́ТЬ/УЙТИ́, КА́НУТЬ⟩ В ПРО́ШЛОЕ [VP; subj: abstr] no longer to exist or be current: X отошёл в прошлое ≃ X is ⟨has become⟩ a thing of the past; X is all in the past; X is ⟨has become⟩ ancient history; X has passed into history; X has disappeared into the past.

Теперь, после тридцать девятого [года], деятельность этих людей уже, вроде бы, отошла в прошлое (Гинзбург 2). In the post-1939 period the activity of these people had, it seemed, become a thing of the past (2a).

П-695 • ПРОШУ́ ВАС [formula phrase; Invar; fixed WO] used as a polite invitation (to come in, go first, do sth): please; I beg you (to do sth.); if you please; [lim.] pray (do sth.); [when inviting s.o. to enter one's home, office etc] come in please; [when communicating by gesture that s.o. is to enter, exit etc first] after you.

«Полночь приближается, мессир». — «А, хорошо. — Воланд обратился к Маргарите: — Итак, прошу вас! Заранее благодарю вас. Не теряйтесь и ничего не бойтесь. Ничего не пейте, кроме воды, а то вы разомлеете и вам будет трудно. Пора!» (Булгаков 9). "Midnight is approaching, Messire." "Ah, very good." Woland turned to Margarita: "And so, if you please… I thank you beforehand. Don't become flustered and don't be afraid of anything. Drink nothing but water, otherwise you'll get groggy and it will be hard for you. It's time!" (9d)

П-696 • ПРОШУ́ ⟨ПРО́СИМ⟩ ЛЮБИ́ТЬ И ⟨ДА⟩ ЖА́ЛОВАТЬ obsoles [formula phrase; these forms only; fixed WO] I (or we) ask that you show s.o. favor, pay attention to s.o. (used when introducing s.o.—or, less often, o.s.—to another person): please give him ⟨her, them⟩ a warm welcome!; please make him ⟨her, them⟩ feel welcome; I hope you will ⟨we shall⟩ become ⟨be⟩ (good) friends.

«А это, — прибавила она, обращаясь ко мне и указывая поочерёдно на гостей, — граф Малевский, доктор Лушин, поэт Майданов… Прошу любить да жаловать» (Тургенев 3). "And these," she added, turning to me and pointing to each one of her guests in turn, "are Count Malevsky, Dr. Lushin, the poet Maydanov…. I hope you will all be good friends" (3a).

П-697 • ПРОШУ́ ПОКО́РНО[1]; ПОКО́РНЕЙШЕ ПРОШУ́ both obs [formula phrase; these forms only; often foll. by infin] (used when addressing s.o. with a polite request, invitation etc) I kindly request that you…: (please) be so kind as to (do sth.); I should be greatly obliged if you would (do sth); I beg of you (to do sth.); I humbly beg you (to do sth.).

«Покорнейше прошу — оцепите всех этих граждан, сделайте обыск и проверьте у них документы» (Паустовский 1). "I humbly beg you—cordon off all these citizens, search them, check their documents" (1b).

П-698 • ПРОШУ́ ПОКО́РНО! [2] coll [Interj; Invar; fixed WO] used to express bewilderment, indignation, surprise colored by indignation etc: if you please; how do you like that!; who would believe it?; just imagine!; think of it!; I ask you!; would ⟨can⟩ you believe it?

«Прошу покорно, Ольга, девочка! По ниточке, бывало, ходила. Что с ней?» (Гончаров 1). "A child, if you please, a little girl who used to be at my beck and call! What is the matter with her?" (1b). "Who would believe it? Olga, a little girl like that; she used to be so docile and obedient, and now… what's happened to her?" (1c).

П-699 • НА ПРОЩА́НИЕ [PrepP; Invar; adv] right before or while parting company with s.o.: at ⟨in⟩ parting; when saying ⟨one said⟩ good-bye ⟨goodbye⟩ (to s.o.); (do sth.) as a way of saying good-bye; as one is ⟨was⟩ leaving; by way of (a) farewell; [lim.] in farewell; || помахать рукой ~ ≃ wave good-bye; || поцеловать кого ~ ≃ kiss s.o. good-bye; || сказать друг другу несколько слов ~ ≃ say a few words of good-bye; exchange a few parting words; || ничего не сказать ~ ≃ say nothing by way of good-bye ⟨farewell⟩; not say even a word of good-bye.

…Я приуныл, считая, что навсегда провалился в глазах Бунина и хорошего поэта из меня не выйдет, тем более что на прощание он не сказал мне ничего обнадёживающего (Катаев 3). …I felt despondent at the thought that I had failed in the eyes of Bunin and would never make a good poet, particularly since he had nothing encouraging to say to me in parting (3a).

П-700 • ПРОШУ́ ПРОЩЕ́НИЯ coll [Invar; fixed WO; used as formula phrase or sent adv (parenth)] 1. used to attract s.o.'s attention when addressing him: excuse ⟨pardon⟩ me.

2. used as a polite form when requesting s.o.'s forbearance, forgiveness etc for a minor infraction, for having troubled him for assistance etc: I beg your pardon; excuse ⟨pardon⟩ me; (I'm) so sorry; you'll have to excuse me.

«Прошу прощения! я, кажется, вас побеспокоил. Пожалуйте, садитесь сюда! Прошу!» (Гоголь 3). "I beg your pardon. I believe I've inconvenienced you. Please, be seated! Here, I beg you!" (3c).

3. used to request the listener's indulgence, while warning him that the speaker is about to use inappropriate language, mention sth. that is inappropriate under the circumstances etc: (if you'll) pardon the ⟨my⟩ expression; excuse the expression; (if you'll) pardon my language; if you'll forgive me (for saying so); begging your pardon. Cf. excuse ⟨pardon⟩ my French.

«У нас двое посторонних: красавица, которая хнычет и умоляет, чтобы её оставили при госпоже, и кроме того, с ней, прошу прощения, её боров» (Булгаков 9). "Two outsiders have appeared: a beautiful woman who keeps whimpering and begs permission to stay with her mistress, and also her, pardon my expression, hog" (9c). "…We've got two strangers here: a beauty who is whimpering and pleading to be allowed to stay with her lady, and with her, begging your pardon, there is also her hog" (9d).

4. used to ask the interlocutor to repeat what he just said when failing to make out or understand him: pardon (me)?; I beg your pardon?; excuse me?; I'm sorry?

П-701 • ПРОЯВЛЯ́ТЬ/ПРОЯВИ́ТЬ СЕБЯ́ [VP] 1. [subj: usu. human or collect] to demonstrate one's abilities or potential (when used without an adv usu. implies positive qualities, unless the context specifies otherwise): X проявил себя (очень хорошо ⟨замечательно и т.п.⟩) ≃ X showed ⟨proved⟩ his worth; X proved ⟨distinguished⟩ himself (in ⟨at⟩ sth.); [lim.] X shined (in sth.); X made a name for himself (in sth.); X handled sth. in a remarkable way; X acquitted himself very well.

Ведь не скажешь про него, что паровоз изобрёл или атомное ядро расщепил, а хоть что-нибудь сделал, проявил себя, и за то спасибо (Войнович 2). Of course you can't say that he invented the steam engine or split the atom, but at least he did something, he proved his worth, and thanks be for that (2a).

2. ~ кем-чем or как + NP [subj: usu. human or collect] to turn out to be such as indicated: X проявил себя Y-ом ⟨как Y⟩ ≃ X proved ⟨showed, demonstrated⟩ himself (to be) Y; X revealed himself as ⟨to be⟩ Y.

«„Докладываю, что за время службы в Тифлисском жандармском управлении с января 1872 г. по сентябрь 1876 г. подполковник Иван Казанзаки проявил себя дельным, энергичным работником…“» (Акунин 5). "'I beg to report that during his term of duty in the Tiflis office of the gendarmes from January 1872 to September 1876, inclusive, Ivan Kazanzaki proved himself to be a capable and energetic worker…'" (5a).

3. [subj: abstr] to become easily noticeable: X проявил себя ≃ X manifested itself; X made itself felt ⟨known⟩; [lim.] X emerged.

Его талант проявил себя очень рано. His talent emerged at a very early age.

П-702 • (ХОТЬ) ПРУД ПРУДИ́ кого-чего, rare кем-чем coll [хоть + VP_{imper}; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj/gen: any common noun) or adv (quantif); fixed WO] (s.o. has or in some place there is) a surplus or a lot of (people or things): X-ов у Y-а ⟨в месте Z⟩ хоть пруд пруди ≃ person Y has more Xs than he knows what to do with; place Z is swarming ⟨crawling⟩ with Xs; there are scores of Xs in place Z; Xs are as plentiful as fish in the sea in place Z; person Y has Xs in spades ⟨Xs galore, Xs enough and to spare⟩; there are Xs in spades ⟨Xs galore, Xs enough and to spare⟩ in place Z.

…В докладной записке для Теоретика он писал, что известность Мазилы на Западе имеет скорее политический характер, так как художников таких на Западе пруд пруди (Зиновьев 1). …In a brief report to Theoretician he wrote that Dauber's fame in the West was largely political, because the West had more artists like him than they knew what to do with (1a). ♦ «Да таких колхозниц и колхозников у нас хоть пруд пруди» (Абрамов 1). "If it's kolkhozniki like her you're talking about, we've got them in spades" (1a).

П-703 • ВО ВСЮ ПРЫТЬ бежать, мчаться, скакать, пуститься, понестись и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to run, race etc) very fast, at maximum speed: (run ⟨race, take off etc⟩) at top ⟨full⟩ speed; (run ⟨race, set off, run off etc⟩) (at) full tilt; (race ⟨tear along, dart off etc⟩) as fast as one can ⟨as fast as one's legs can carry one⟩; (run ⟨race⟩ etc) for dear life; [in refer. to horses] (ride ⟨start off etc⟩) at (a) full gallop.

О приближении третьей стадии Паниковский, вероятно, догадывался, потому что бежал во всю прыть. От страха он не выпускал гуся, и это вызывало в преследователях сильное раздражение (Ильф и Петров 2). Panikovsky probably suspected the approach of the third stage, since he was running for dear life. He clutched the goose tight from fear, provoking extreme annoyance from his pursuers (2c). Panikovsky apparently knew that the third phase was coming. He was running as fast as he could. He was so frightened that he kept holding on to the goose, which irritated his pursuers to no end (2d).

П-704 • ОТКУ́ДА ПРЫТЬ ВЗЯЛА́СЬ (у кого) coll [VP_{subj}; past only; usu. used as indep. clause; usu. this WO] (in refer. to s.o.'s sudden display of vigor, nerve etc) what is the source of this unexpected energy, strength, readiness to do sth. etc?: откуда (у X-а) прыть взялась? ≃ where did X get this sudden burst ⟨charge⟩ of energy?; where did X get the spunk ⟨the pluck, the gumption, the pep⟩ (, I wonder)?

Откуда только взялось прыти? Он вскочил и отбежал в середину бойлерной (Аксёнов 6). Where did he get this sudden burst of energy? He jumped to his feet and ran into the middle of the boiler room (6a).

П-705 • ИГРА́ТЬ В ПРЯ́ТКИ ⟨В ЖМУ́РКИ⟩ с кем coll [VP; subj: human] to hide the truth by being evasive and/or pretending not to know it: X играет с Y-ом в прятки ≃ X is playing games ⟨hide-and-seek⟩ with Y; [lim.] X is beating around the bush; ○ ИГРА́ В ПРЯ́ТКИ ⟨В ЖМУ́РКИ⟩ [NP] ≃ hide-and-seek.

«Ну, в прятки нам с вами играть или говорить открыто?» — «Конечно, открыто» (Семёнов 1). "Well, shall we play hide-and-seek with you or speak openly?" "Openly, of course" (1a).

П-706 • ПСУ ⟨СОБА́КЕ, КОБЕЛЮ́ rude, КО́ШКЕ, КОТУ́⟩ ПОД ХВОСТ (выбросить, выкинуть что и т.п.; пойти и т.п.) highly coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: abstr, often всё); fixed WO] (in refer. to or of time, money, energy, work etc) (to spend sth., waste sth., be wasted etc) for nothing, to no purpose: (go) to waste; (flush sth. ⟨go etc⟩) down the tube(s) ⟨the drain, the toilet⟩; (be) shot to hell; (be) a goddamn(ed) waste of time ⟨money, energy etc⟩.

Хлебовводов начал орать, что… он не позволит коменданту отправить коту под хвост четыре часа рабочего времени (Стругацкие 3). Khlebovvodov began shouting that…he would not allow the commandant to flush four hours of work time down the tubes (3a). ♦ «Значит, все решения Двадцатого съезда выброшены коту под хвост?» (Аксёнов 12). "Does that mean that all the decisions of the Twentieth Congress are shot to hell?" (12a).

П-707 • РА́НО ПТА́ШЕЧКА ЗАПЕ́ЛА, КАК БЫ КО́ШЕЧКА НЕ СЪЕ́ЛА [saying] it is too early to rejoice, things may end up badly: ≃ laugh before breakfast and you'll cry before supper.

П-708 • РА́ННЯЯ ПТА́ШКА coll, approv [NP; often subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); usu. this WO] a person who gets up early in the morning: early bird; early riser.

П-709 • ЖЕЛТОРО́ТЫЙ ПТЕНЕ́Ц occas. condes or derog [NP; obj, appos, or subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: human)] a very young, naïve, inexperienced person: greenhorn; tenderfoot; pup; (one is) (still) wet behind the ears.

У нас тут народ опытный, ты рядом с ними — желторотый птенец. Our people are experienced; compared to them, you're still wet behind the ears.

П-710 • ВА́ЖНАЯ ПТИ́ЦА coll [NP; more often sing; often subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: human); fixed WO] a person who has a high, important post, great authority etc: big shot ⟨wheel⟩; heavy hitter; bigwig; [when used sarcastically as Interj, usu. after подумаешь, тоже мне etc] isn't he ⟨isn't she, aren't we⟩ a hotshot!; some big shot ⟨heavy hitter etc⟩ (he ⟨she⟩ is)!

[Таня:] Хозяин дачи важный человек? [Колесов:] Да, он важная птица (Вампилов 3). [T.:] Is the owner of this place someone important? [K.:] Yes, he's a big shot (3b).

П-711 • ВИДНА́ ПТИ́ЦА ПО ПОЛЁТУ; ВИ́ДНО ⟨ВИДА́ТЬ⟩ ПТИ́ЦУ ⟨СО́КОЛА⟩ ПО ПОЛЁТУ usu. disapprov [saying] you can tell by a person's behavior, actions, looks, and/or deeds what kind of person he is: ≃ we know ⟨can tell⟩ a bird by its flight; the bird is known by his note ⟨his song⟩; you can tell a leopard by its spots.

«Вы, я знаю, привыкли к роскоши, к удовольствиям, но и великие мира сего не гнушаются провести короткое время под кровом хижины». — «Помилуйте, — возопил Аркадий, — какой же я великий мира сего? И к роскоши я не привык». — «Позвольте, позвольте, — возразил с любезной ужимкой Василий Иванович. — Я хоть теперь и сдан в архив, а тоже потёрся в свете — узнаю птицу по полёту» (Тургенев 2). "You, I know, are accustomed to luxury and enjoyment, but even the great ones of this world would not disdain to spend a short time under a cottage roof." "Good heavens," protested Arkady, "as though I were one of the great ones of this world! And I'm not accustomed to luxury either." "Pardon me, pardon me," Vassily Ivanych retorted with a polite simper. "Though I'm a back number now, I have knocked about the place in my time—I know a bird by its flight" (2c).

П-712 • ВО́ЛЬНАЯ ПТИ́ЦА ⟨ПТА́ШКА coll⟩ [NP; more often sing; often subj-compl with copula, nom or, rare, instrum (subj: human); usu. this WO] a person who has no constraints on his actions, who can do whatever he wants to: (as) free as a bird ⟨as the wind⟩; free man ⟨woman⟩; one's own master.

…Виолет не могла нарадоваться: отец сиял… «С сегодняшнего дня я вольная птица» (Эренбург 4). …Violette was unable to contain her joy; her father was radiant…. "From today I'm as free as a bird," he said (4a).

П-713 • жить КАК ПТИ́ЦА ⟨ПТИ́ЧКА⟩ НЕБЕ́СНАЯ [как + NP; nom only; adv; fixed WO] (to live) without worrying about the future, free of responsibility and obligations: (be ⟨live⟩) carefree as a (little) bird; (be ⟨live⟩) without a care in the world; (be) happy-go-lucky.

П-714 • ПТИ́ЦА ВЫСО́КОГО ПОЛЁТА coll [NP; often subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: human)] an influential person who occupies a prominent position in society: big shot; big wheel; bigwig; big gun; heavy hitter; (be) flying high.

[ГородничиЙ:] …Какие мы с тобою теперь птицы сделались! а, Анна Андреевна? Высокого полёта… (Гоголь 4). [Mayor:] …We've turned into a fine pair. Eh, Anna Andreyevna? We're flying high now… (4f).

П-715 • ПТИ́ЦА НИ́ЗКОГО ⟨НЕВЫСО́КОГО⟩ ПОЛЁТА; НЕВЕЛИКА́ ПТИ́ЦА all coll, condes or rather derog [NP; usu. subj-compl with copula, variants with полёта—nom or instrum, last var.—nom only (subj: human)] a person whose social status, position at work, rank etc is low, or is considered by the speaker to be low: small fry; small potatoes; little fish; (being a [NP] etc is) no big deal.

«Игорь днями мне заявил: „Третий секретарь — подумаешь, невелика птица"» (Гроссман 2). "Igor said to me the other day, 'Third secretary—that's no big deal'" (2a).

П-716 • СИ́НЯЯ ПТИ́ЦА lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] sth. that embodies the concept of happiness for s.o.: bluebird of happiness.

< The Russian phrase is a translation of the title of Maurice Maeterlinck's play L'Oiseau bleu, which premiered at the Moscow Art Theater in Sept. 1908.

П-717 • ПТИ́ЦЫ ОДНО́ГО ПОЛЁТА coll [NP; pl only; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human, pl); fixed WO] (two or more people are) very similar in some respect (with regard to views, status, qualities, behavior etc; often in refer. to negative qualities, reprehensible behavior etc): X и Y птицы одного полёта ≃ X and Y are birds of a feather; X and Y are two of a kind; X and Y are tarred with the same brush; X and Y are cast in the same mold; X and Y are of the same ilk ⟨stripe⟩.

П-718 • ИГРА́ТЬ ⟨РАБО́ТАТЬ coll⟩ НА ПУ́БЛИКУ [VP; subj: human] to behave consciously in an unnatural or not entirely appropriate manner in order to make a certain impression on those observing: X играл на публику ≃ X played to his ⟨an⟩ audience; X kept ⟨had⟩ one eye on the gallery; X put on a show (for s.o.).

П-719 • ЗАСТЁГНУТ(ЫЙ) НА ВСЕ ПУ́ГОВИЦЫ [AdjP; detached modif (var. with full-form Part) or subj-compl with copula with subj: human (both variants); fixed WO] (one is) official, cool, stern (in his manner of conduct): (be) stiff ⟨standoffish, starchy⟩.

П-720 • ПУД ⟨МНО́ГО, КУЛЬ⟩ СО́ЛИ СЪЕСТЬ с кем coll [VP; subj: human; often infin with надо] having had extensive (usu. close) contact with s.o., to understand him and his character thoroughly: X с Y-ом пуд соли съел ≃ (having spent so much time with Y,) X knows ⟨has gotten to know⟩ Y really well; X has spent years ⟨a lot of time⟩ with Y (and knows him very well); X has eaten the proverbial peck of salt with Y.

«Ты видел Зиновьева и Каменева только на трибунах съездов, я с ними пуд соли съел…» (Рыбаков 2). "You've only seen Zinoviev and Kamenev on the platform at congresses, whereas I've spent years with them…" (2a).

< From the saying «Чтобы узнать человека, надо с ним пуд соли съесть» ("A man must eat a peck of salt with his friend before he knows him"). See Ч-56.

П-721 • ОТ ПУ́ЗА есть, наесться, давать что и т.п. substand [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to eat, allow s.o. to eat etc) until one (or s.o.) is completely satiated, satisfied, can eat no more: наесться ~ ≃ eat a bellyful; eat one's fill; fill one's belly; eat as much as one wants; eat till one is stuffed; || накормить кого ~ ≃ feed s.o. as much as s.o. wants ⟨can eat⟩; feed s.o. till s.o. is stuffed; [lim.] fill ⟨stuff⟩ s.o.'s belly.

…Дядя Сандро поручал мне, если я к нему приходил в сезон, только собирать фрукты. «Можешь есть от пуза», — говорил он… (Искандер 3). …Uncle Sandro merely commissioned me to pick fruit if I came to him in season. "You can eat a bellyful," he would say… (3a). ♦ «А япошки сытые… Им от пуза дают» (Гинзбург 2). "The Japs, though, are well fed…. They're allowed to eat their fill" (2a).

П-722 • ДУ́ТЫЙ ПУЗЫ́РЬ coll, derog [NP; sing only; often subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); fixed WO] a person who has, in the speaker's opinion, an exaggeratedly positive reputation in his field, profession etc: X — дутый пузырь ≃ X is a fake ⟨a phony, a sham⟩; X is made too much of.

П-723 • ЛО́ПНУТЬ КАК МЫ́ЛЬНЫЙ ПУЗЫ́РЬ coll [VP; subj: abstr (план, затея, надежда etc); fixed WO] (of a plan, undertaking, hope etc) to fail or fall through completely: X лопнул как мыльный пузырь ≃ X fell ⟨went⟩ to pieces; X went up in smoke; X burst like a soap bubble.

…Допроси хоть одного из этих иностранцев — он тут же доказал бы, что деньги разменял в Госбанке СССР, и этот зловещий фарс лопнул бы как мыльный пузырь (Ивинская 1). …If any of these foreigners had been questioned, he would immediately have been able to prove that he had obtained the rubles from the State Bank, and the whole wicked farce would have burst like a soap bubble (1a).

П-724 • МЫ́ЛЬНЫЙ ПУЗЫ́РЬ coll, disapprov [NP; sing only; often subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: human); fixed WO] a person who seemed impressive, but actually turned out to be insignificant, worthless: soap bubble; empty vessel.

[Войницкий:] Я обожал этого профессора, этого жалкого подагрика… Я гордился им и его наукой, я жил, я дышал им! Всё, что он писал и изрекал, казалось мне гениальным… Боже, а теперь? Вот он в отставке, и теперь виден весь итог его жизни: после него не останется ни одной страницы труда, он совершенно неизвестен, он ничто! Мыльный пузырь! (Чехов 3). [V.:] I idolized that pitiful, gout ridden professor… I took pride in him and his learning. I lived, I breathed him. Every word he wrote or uttered sounded brilliant to me… Good God, and now? Now that he's retired, I see what his life really amounts to. Not a page of anything he's written will survive him. He's a complete unknown, a nobody, a soap bubble! (3b).

П-725 • ПУ́ЛЕЙ ⟨СТРЕЛО́Й⟩ ВЫЛЕТА́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЛЕТЕТЬ откуда coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] to run or walk out of some place very quickly, headlong: X пулей вылетел из места Y ≃ X shot out of place Y; X dashed ⟨flew etc⟩ out of place Y like a shot.

На доклад секретарши Сурков пулей вылетел из кабинета. Он кинулся ко мне и спросил, кем я прихожусь Мандельштаму (Мандельштам 2). As soon as his secretary told him [Surkov] I was there, he shot out of his office, raced up to me and asked how I was related to M[andelstam] (2a).

П-726 • ОТЛИВА́ТЬ ⟨ЛИТЬ⟩/ОТЛИ́ТЬ ПУ́ЛИ ⟨ПУ́ЛЮ⟩ highly coll [VP; subj: human; variants with пули are usu. impfv, variants with пулю are usu. pfv] 1. to lie shamelessly, brazenly: X пули отливает ≃ X is spinning yarns; X is giving ⟨telling⟩ person Y cock-and-bull stories; X is telling tall tales; X is piling it on.

[Городничий:] Прошу посмотреть, какие пули отливает! И старика-отца приплёл! (Гоголь 4). [Mayor:] Listen to the yarns he's spinning! He's even tangling up his old daddy! (4d). [Mayor:] Listen to him pile it on! He's even dragged in his father! (4f).

2. to say or do sth. unusual, unexpected, often funny: X пули отливает ≃ X is cutting up; X is pulling (some) funny business.

П-727 • ПУСКА́ТЬ/ПУСТИ́ТЬ (СЕБЕ́) ПУ́ЛЮ В ЛОБ coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to commit suicide by shooting o.s.: X пустил себе пулю в лоб ≃ X put a bullet through his head ⟨his brain⟩; X put a gun to his head; X blew his brains out.

«У нас, я помню, один подполковник тоже ожидал полковничьей папахи, а когда не дали, пустил себе пулю в лоб» (Войнович 6). "I remember we had a lieutenant colonel who was expecting a hat too—a colonel's papakha. When they didn't give him one, he put a bullet through his head" (6a).

П-728 • ХОТЬ ПУ́ЛЮ В ЛОБ coll [хоть + NP; Invar; usu. subord clause (often introduced by что) or Interj; fixed WO] used to express despair when one finds o.s. in such a difficult, hopeless situation that one feels like killing o.s.: I ⟨he feels like he etc⟩ might as well put a bullet through my ⟨his etc⟩ head ⟨brain⟩; I ⟨he feels like he etc⟩ might as well shoot myself ⟨himself etc⟩ (and be done with it).

[Иванов:] Что же со мною?.. Откуда во мне эта слабость? Что стало с моими нервами?.. Просто хоть пулю в лоб!.. (Чехов 4). [I.:] What's the matter with me?… Where does my weakness come from? What's happened to my nerves?… I might as well shoot myself and be done with it (4b).

П-729 • КУЛЬМИНАЦИО́ННЫЙ ПУНКТ чего; КУЛЬМИНАЦИО́ННАЯ ТО́ЧКА both lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] the climax, acme of sth.: high point; culmination; peak.

П-730 • ПО ПУ́НКТАМ; ПУНКТ ЗА ПУ́НКТОМ объяснять, рассказывать и т.п. [these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to explain, tell etc sth.) in detail and in a logical sequence: point by point; step by step; item by item.

Присяжные совещались ровно час… Помню, как присяжные вступили в залу. Наконец-то! Не привожу вопросов по пунктам, да я их и забыл (Достоевский 2). The jury deliberated for exactly an hour…. I remember how the jury filed into the courtroom. At last! I omit giving the questions point by point, besides I've forgotten them (2a).

П-731 • ПУП ЗЕМЛИ́ [NP; sing only; often subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. human or collect); may be used with pl subj; fixed WO] (said sarcastically of s.o. who considers himself or is considered) more important than everyone else, above all the rest, better than the rest: X считает, что он пуп земли ≃ X thinks he's the center ⟨the hub⟩ of the universe; X thinks he's God's gift to the world ⟨to mankind⟩; X thinks the world revolves around him; X looks down his nose at the rest of the world; || X считает, что Y — пуп земли ≃ X thinks the sun rises and sets in ⟨on⟩ Y.

"Of course, he does have a terrible personality. He's an egoist, he thinks he's the center of the universe. But he's a knowledgeable, experienced doctor" (1a).

П-732 • ПУСКА́ТЬСЯ/ПУСТИ́ТЬСЯ ⟨БРОСА́ТЬСЯ/БРО́СИТЬСЯ, КИДА́ТЬСЯ/КИ́НУТЬСЯ⟩ НАУТЁК coll [VP; subj: human or animal] to take off, fleeing from s.o. or sth. (danger, pursuers etc): X пустился наутёк ≃ X took to his heels; X turned tail (and ran); X dashed away; X made a run for it.

Два волка неожиданно выскочили из ольшаника, и все лошади и ослы бросились наутёк (Искандер 3). Two wolves suddenly sprang out of an alder thicket, and all the horses and donkeys took to their heels (3a).

П-733 • ПЕРЕЛИВА́ТЬ ⟨ПЕРЕСЫПА́ТЬ obs⟩ ИЗ ПУСТО́ГО В ПОРО́ЖНЕЕ coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to spend time unproductively, occupying o.s. with unnecessary, useless activities or carrying on empty, pointless conversations: X переливает из пустого в порожнее ≃ X is milling the wind ⟨pouring water through a sieve, beating the air; pouring one empty glass into another⟩; [in refer. to empty conversations only] X is shooting the breeze; X is engaged in idle chatter.

[Войницкий:] Человек ровно двадцать пять лет читает и пишет об искусстве, ровно ничего не понимая в искусстве… Двадцать пять лет читает и пишет о том, что умным давно уже известно, а для глупых неинтересно: значит, двадцать пять лет переливает из пустого в порожнее (Чехов 3). [V.:] …A man lectures and writes about art for exactly twenty-five years, and understands exactly nothing about it…. Twenty-five years lecturing and writing about what intelligent people already know and stupid people aren't interested in—which means twenty-five years of milling the wind (3a).

П-734 • ПУСТЬ ⟨ПУСКА́Й⟩ СЕБЕ́; ПУСТЬ ⟨ПУСКА́Й⟩ ЕГО́ ⟨ЕЁ, ИХ⟩ [Particle; these forms only; often foll. by a finite verb form; fixed WO] (used to express the speaker's indifference to, acceptance of, or consent to another's action) one may do or continue to do sth.: let him ⟨her, them⟩ (do sth. ⟨keep doing sth.⟩).

«Услышат… хозяйка подумает, что я в самом деле хочу уехать…» — «Ну, так что ж? Пусть её думает!» (Гончаров 1). "They may hear you…. My landlady may think… that I really mean to go away." "Well, what of it? Let her!" (1b).

П-735 • ПУСТЬ ТА́К coll [sent; Invar; fixed WO] used to express concession, agreement etc: maybe so; could be; you ⟨he etc⟩ may be right ⟨may have a point there⟩; perhaps you're ⟨he is etc⟩ right; [when replying to a statement that contains a negation] maybe not.

«Да, ты возьмёшь меня: вдвоём мы сделаем всё. Один ты не сумеешь, не захочешь!» — «Пусть так; но ты расстроишься и, может быть, надолго» (Гончаров 1). "You will take me: together we can do everything. You won't be able to do it alone—you won't want to!" "You may be right; but you will be upset, and perhaps for a long time" (1b).

П-736 • ПУТЁВКА В ЖИЗНЬ rather lit or media [NP; sing only; often obj of давать/дать; fixed WO] sth. (an institution, organization, s.o.'s support etc) that helps a person to begin functioning independently and successfully, sth. (s.o.'s professional approval, backing etc) that helps (a project, undertaking etc) to be implemented, adopted, developed etc: (give s.o. ⟨sth.⟩) a start in life.

П-737 • БЕЗ ПУТИ́ бранить, ругать кого и т.п. obs, substand [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to scold, berate s.o.) without any reason or justification: for no reason at all; for nothing.

П-738 • НА ЛО́ЖНОМ ПУТИ́ ⟨НА ЛО́ЖНОЙ ДОРО́ГЕ⟩ быть$_{ø}$, стоять, находиться; НА ЛО́ЖНЫЙ ПУТЬ ⟨НА ЛО́ЖНУЮ ДОРО́ГУ⟩ стать; ПО ЛО́ЖНОМУ ПУТИ́ ⟨ПО ЛО́ЖНОЙ ДОРО́ГЕ⟩ идти [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human or collect) or adv; fixed WO] (in refer. to the course one is following in one's investigation, research, life etc; when in refer. to the course of one's life, implies moral deterioration) one is going or has started going amiss, on a faulty, incorrect etc course: X стоит на ложном пути ≃ X is on ⟨has taken⟩ the wrong track ⟨path⟩; X is ⟨has gotten⟩ on a false track ⟨path⟩; X has gone astray.

Он и не думал сомневаться в самом масонстве, но подозревал, что русское масонство пошло по ложному пути и отклонилось от своего источника (Толстой 5). He never thought of doubting Freemasonry itself, but suspected that Russian Masonry had got onto a false track and had deviated from its original principles (5a).

П-739 • НА ПЛОХО́М ⟨ДУРНО́М⟩ ПУТИ́ ⟨НА ПЛОХО́Й or ДУРНО́Й ДОРО́ГЕ or ДОРО́ЖКЕ⟩ быть$_{ø}$, стоять; НА ПЛОХО́Й ⟨ДУРНО́Й⟩ ПУТЬ ⟨НА ПЛОХУ́Ю or ДУРНУ́Ю ДОРО́ГУ or ДОРО́ЖКУ⟩ стать [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or adv; fixed WO] one is leading or has begun to lead an improper, disreputable life style, one is behaving or has begun to behave reprehensibly: X стоит на плохом пути ≃ X is going ⟨sliding⟩ downhill; || X стал на дурной путь ≃ X went wrong ⟨astray⟩.

П-740 • НА ПРА́ВИЛЬНОМ ПУТИ́ ⟨НА ПРА́ВИЛЬНОЙ ДОРО́ГЕ⟩ быть$_{ø}$, стоять; НА ПРА́ВИЛЬНЫЙ ПУТЬ ⟨НА ПРА́ВИЛЬНУЮ ДОРО́ГУ⟩ стать, выйти; ПО ПРА́ВИЛЬНОМУ ПУТИ́ ⟨ПО ПРА́ВИЛЬНОЙ ДОРО́ГЕ⟩ идти [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or adv; fixed WO] (in refer. to the course one is following in one's research, investigation, life etc; when in refer. to the course of one's life, implies moral virtue, upstandingness etc) one is going or has started to go on the correct, proper etc course: X на правильном пути ≃ X is on the right track ⟨on a good path⟩; X has taken the correct path ⟨course⟩; X is doing the right thing; [when contrasting s.o.'s present behavior with his former behavior] X has mended his ways.

[Бусыгин:] Папа, о чём ты грустишь? Людям нужна музыка, когда они веселятся и тоскуют. Где ещё быть музыканту, если не на танцах и похоронах? По-моему, ты на правильном пути (Вампилов 4). [B.:] What are you looking so sad about, Dad? People need music when they're happy and when they're sad. Where's a musician's place, if not at dances and funerals? I reckon you're doing the right thing (4a).

П-741 • НА ПУТИ́ [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] 1. ~ к чему moving toward the specified goal, developing in the specified direction: on the path to ⟨toward, towards⟩; on a path leading to; on the road to; heading toward.

«Многим пришлось пережить мучительную ломку на пути к политической зрелости…» (Войнович 4). "Many of us had to experience an agonizing spiritual crisis on the path to political maturity…" (4a).

2. ~ чего [usu. foll. by a deverbal noun] in the field named: in the area ⟨realm, arena, sphere⟩ of.

Они добились больших успехов на пути разработки новых методов. They made significant strides in the arena of new method development.

П-742 • НА ХОРО́ШЕМ ПУТИ́ ⟨НА ХОРО́ШЕЙ ДОРО́ГЕ⟩ быть$_{ø}$, стоять; НА ХОРО́ШИЙ ПУТЬ ⟨НА ХОРО́ШУЮ ДОРО́ГУ⟩ стать, выйти; ПО ХОРО́ШЕМУ ПУТИ́ ⟨ПО ХОРО́ШЕЙ ДОРО́ГЕ⟩ идти [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or adv; fixed WO] one is leading or has begun to lead a respectable, reputable lifestyle, one is behaving or has begun to behave upstandingly, in a morally virtuous manner: X на хорошем пути ≃ X is on the right track ⟨on a good path⟩; [when contrasting s.o.'s present behavior with his former behavior] X has mended his ways.

«Ну теперь, после такого вашего признания, я верую, что вы искренни и сердцем добры. Если не дойдёте до счастия, то всегда помните, что вы на хорошей дороге, и постарайтесь с неё не сходить» (Достоевский 1). "Well, now, after such a confession from you, I believe that you are sincere and good at heart. If you do not attain happiness, always remember that you are on a good path, and try not to leave it" (1a).

П-743 • НЕИСПОВЕДИ́МЫ ПУТИ́ ГОСПО́ДНИ lit [sent; неисповедимы may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] things that happen in life are determined by God or, as some see it, fate etc and therefore are unpredictable and often impossible to understand: mysterious are the ways of the Lord; the ways of the Lord are inscrutable ⟨unfathomable, unknowable⟩; God ⟨the Lord⟩ moves in mysterious ways; the will of heaven ⟨God⟩ is mysterious and not easily discovered; life is mysterious ⟨unpredictable⟩.

«Из всех неисповедимых путей Господа, наверное, самый неисповедимый привёл тебя в полувымершую семью московских мастеровых из бывших крестьян, к девочке, почти подростку, с которой ты зачал родословную новой фамилии, гремучего симбиоза славянских и библейских кровей» (Максимов 2). "Of all the mysterious ways of the Lord, perhaps the most inscrutable was that which brought you into this half-extinct Moscow working-class family of erstwhile peasants, to marry a girl, still almost a child, with whom you founded a new branch of the family tree, a fierce symbiosis of Slavic and Hebraic blood…" (2a).

< Cf. the Bible, "How unsearchable are His [God's] judgments, and His ways past finding out!" (Rom. 11:33).

П-744 • ОТКРЫ́ТЫ ВСЕ ПУТИ́ ⟨ДОРО́ГИ⟩ перед кем, кому, or для кого [VP$_{subj}$ with быть$_{ø}$] s.o. has unlimited opportunities to realize his potential in life, in his career etc: перед Х-ом открыты все пути ≃ all roads ⟨doors, paths⟩ are open to ⟨before⟩ X; [lim.] life is X's for the taking.

«Это был лучший из моих помощников, моё доверенное лицо! Он сделал блестящую карьеру, перед ним были открыты все дороги!» (Акунин 8). "He was my finest assistant, my trusted deputy! He had made a brilliant career—all roads were open to him!" (8a).

П-745 • ПУТИ́ ⟨ДОРО́ГИ⟩ чьи, кого РАСХО́ДЯТСЯ/РАЗОШЛИ́СЬ [VP$_{subj}$] contact or close relations with s.o. are ending (because of a dissimilarity of views, interests etc): наши пути разошлись ≃ our ways parted; our paths diverged; we went our separate ways; we reached a ⟨the⟩ parting of the ways; we parted company; we drifted apart.

«Романтик сказал бы: я чувствую, что наши дороги начинают расходиться, а я просто говорю, что мы друг другу приелись» (Тургенев 2). "A romantic would say, 'I feel our paths are beginning to diverge'; while I merely say, we're fed up with each other" (2g). "A romanti[ci]st would say: I feel that we have reached the parting of the ways, but I merely say that we are fed up with each other" (2a).

П-746 • СБИВА́ТЬ/СБИТЬ С ПУТИ́ ⟨С ПУТИ́ И́СТИННОГО, С ПУТИ́ И́СТИНЫ, С ДОРО́ГИ⟩ кого; СОВРАЩА́ТЬ/СОВРАТИ́ТЬ С ПУТИ́ (И́СТИННОГО) all disapprov [VP; subj: human] to induce s.o. to change his behavior for the worse, incite s.o. to do wrong: Х сбивает Y-а с пути ≃ X leads Y astray; X tempts Y to abandon the straight and narrow.

Мало того что он сам законченный алкоголик — он и других с пути сбивает. Not only is he himself an inveterate drinker, but he leads others astray as well.

П-747 • СБИВА́ТЬСЯ/СБИ́ТЬСЯ С ПУТИ́ ⟨С ДОРО́ГИ⟩ [VP; subj: human] 1. to become lost: Х сбился с дороги ≃ X lost his way ⟨bearings⟩; X got lost.

«Кто стучит?..» — «Приезжие, матушка, пусти переночевать», — произнёс Чичиков. «…Здесь тебе не постоялый двор, помещица живёт». — «Что ж делать, матушка: видишь, с дороги сбились. Не ночевать же в такое время в степи» (Гоголь 3). "Who's knocking?…" "We are travelers, my good woman; put us up for the night," said Chichikov. "…This is not an inn; a lady landowner lives here." "What are we to do, my good woman? We got lost. We can't spend the whole night in the open steppe, can we?" (3c).

2. disapprov. Also: СБИВА́ТЬСЯ/СБИ́ТЬСЯ С ПУТИ́ И́СТИННОГО ⟨И́СТИНЫ⟩ to begin to follow a disreputable lifestyle, lean toward wrong persuasions, be headed for sth. bad: Х сбился с пути ≃ X went astray; X strayed from the true path ⟨from the straight and narrow, from the path of righteousness⟩; X slipped from the right path.

Я выкрикивала именно те могущественные банальности, которые могли тронуть её сердце. О материнских слезах… О том, что чужой ребёнок никому не нужен… И о том, что сирота может сбиться с пути… (Гинзбург 2). I found myself shouting out precisely the powerful clichés that could move her heart. A mother's tears…. Nobody wants someone else's child…. An orphan can so easily go astray… (2a).

П-748 • СТАНОВИ́ТЬСЯ/СТАТЬ ⟨ВСТАТЬ, СТОЯ́ТЬ⟩ ПОПЕРЁК ПУТИ́ ⟨ДОРО́ГИ⟩ кому, у кого; СТАНОВИ́ТЬСЯ/СТАТЬ ⟨ВСТАТЬ, СТОЯ́ТЬ⟩ НА ПУТИ́ чьём ⟨НА ДОРО́ГЕ чьей⟩, (у) кого coll [VP; subj: human] to impede, hamper s.o.'s progress (usu. toward the attainment of some goal) intentionally: Х стал Y-у поперёк пути ≃ X got ⟨stood, was⟩ in Y's way; X stood in the way of Y; X blocked Y's path; Y's growth ⟨advancement, promotion etc⟩ is blocked by X.

«…На пути их [молодых коммунистов] роста, их продвижения стоят старые зиновьевские кадры, которые, естественно, двигают своих…» (Рыбаков 2). "…Their [the young Communists'] own growth and progress is being blocked by the old Zinovievite establishment, who naturally advance their own people…" (2a).

П-749 • СЧАСТЛИ́ВОГО ⟨ДО́БРОГО⟩ ПУТИ́!; СЧАСТЛИ́ВЫЙ ПУТЬ!; ДО́БРЫЙ ПУТЬ!; ПУТЬ ДО́БРЫЙ! all coll [formula phrase; these forms only; variants with пути are also used as obj of желать/пожелать; fixed WO] a wish for a successful trip, journey to a person who is leaving: have a good ⟨safe, nice⟩ trip!; have a safe journey!; bon voyage!; Godspeed ⟨good speed⟩ (to you)!; I wish you a pleasant ⟨safe⟩ journey; [lim.] good luck!

«Прощайте, Пётр Андреич, сокол наш ясный!.. Счастливый путь, и дай бог вам обоим счастия!» (Пушкин 2). "Farewell, Petr Andreich, my brave falcon!… Have a safe journey, and may God grant happiness to you both!" (2a). ♦ «Доброго вам пути, раз вы спешите» (Искандер 5). "Goodspeed to you, if you're in a hurry" (5a).

П-750 • В ДО́БРЫЙ ПУТЬ! [formula phrase; Invar; fixed WO] used to wish s.o. success, prosperity, usu. before beginning some important undertaking or setting out on a trip: good luck (to you)!; the best of luck!; all the best!; I wish you luck!; [as a wish for a successful trip only] have a good ⟨safe, nice⟩ trip; have a safe journey!; Godspeed ⟨good speed⟩ (to you)!

П-751 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ ПУТЬ куда coll, rather folk [VP; subj: human; often used in questions] to move in the direction of (some place): X держал путь в место Y ≃ X was headed ⟨bound⟩ for place Y; X was heading for place Y; X was making ⟨wending⟩ his way to place Y; X was off to place Y; || X держал путь дальше (через лес и т.п.) ≃ X traveled ⟨continued⟩ on (through the woods etc).

«Куда, бабуля, путь держишь?» — «В город, милок, в город…» (Войнович 4). "Where are you headed, old woman?" "To town, dearies, to town" (4a). ♦ «Путники, куда путь держите?» — спросил Джамхух (Искандер 5). "Travelers, where are you bound for?" Jamkhoukh asked (5a).

П-752 • ЗАКА́ЗЫВАТЬ/ЗАКАЗА́ТЬ ПУТЬ ⟨ДОРО́ГУ, (ВСЕ) ПУТИ́⟩ кому куда coll [VP; subj: human; often passive short-form Part путь заказан etc] to deny s.o. access to a certain place, make it impossible for s.o. to go to that place: X заказал Y-у путь в место Z ≃ X shut the doors (of place Z) to Y (forever); X barred Y from place Z; || Y-у в место Z ⟨к X-у⟩ пути заказаны ≃ (access to) place Z is barred ⟨off limits⟩ to Y; X's door ⟨the door to place Z⟩ is shut to Y; Y is not welcome ⟨not allowed⟩ in place Z ⟨at X's place, in X's office etc⟩.

Он сидел здесь, куда обычному лагернику путь был заказан, он курил и беседовал — да с кем ещё! — с самим Главным хозяином (Владимов 1). He was sitting there, in a place that was strictly off limits to ordinary prisoners, smoking and talking with—of all people!—the Chief Master himself (1a).

П-753 • ЗАКО́НЧИТЬ ⟨ЗАВЕРШИ́ТЬ⟩ СВОЙ ЗЕМНО́Й ПУТЬ elev [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to pass away: X закончил свой земной путь ≃ X finished ⟨completed, concluded, came to the end of⟩ his earthly journey.

Жили в том ските всегда только трое особенно заслуженных старцев, и для ново-араратских монахов не было выше чести, чем завершить свой земной путь в тамошних пещерах, на костях прежних праведников (Акунин 2). The hermitage has always been inhabited by three especially distinguished monks, and there has never been any greater honor for the monks of New Ararat than to complete their earthly journey in the caves there, on the bones of the righteous men who have preceded them (2a).

П-754 • НАПРАВЛЯ́ТЬ/НАПРА́ВИТЬ ПУТЬ ⟨СТОПЫ́ obs, lit, ШАГИ́ obs⟩ куда, к кому-чему [VP; subj: human] to move in the direction of (some place, s.o.'s home, or some person): X направляет свой путь в место Z ≃ X directs his steps toward Z; X makes ⟨wends⟩ his way toward Z; X is headed for Z; || X направляет свой путь к Y-у ≃ X directs his steps toward Y; X makes ⟨wends⟩ his way toward Y; X goes up to Y.

Наконец Козелков явился весь радостный и словно даже светящийся. Он прямо направил стопы к баронессе… (Салтыков-Щедрин 2). Kozelkov arrived at last, looking almost radiant with happiness. He went straight up to the baroness… (2a).

П-755 • НАСТАВЛЯ́ТЬ/НАСТА́ВИТЬ ⟨НАПРАВЛЯ́ТЬ/НАПРА́ВИТЬ, ОБРАЩА́ТЬ/ОБРАТИ́ТЬ⟩ НА ПУТЬ И́СТИНЫ ⟨И́СТИННЫЙ⟩ кого lit, often iron in contemp. usage [VP; subj: human] to point out repeatedly to s.o. the right way to do sth. (often in refer. to living a respectable life), induce s.o. to change his behavior for the better etc: X наставил Y-а на путь истины ≃ X set ⟨put⟩ Y on the right path ⟨track⟩; X set Y on ⟨turned Y onto⟩ the path of truth; X set Y right; [in refer. to lifestyle only] X set Y on the path of righteousness; X set ⟨put⟩ Y on the straight and narrow.

Обе тётушки души в ней [Вике] не чаяли. Каждая по-своему наставляла её на путь истинный… (Грекова 3). Both "aunties" adored her [Vika]. Each in her own way tried to set Vika on the right path… (3a).

П-756 • ОБРАТИ́ТЬСЯ НА ПУТЬ И́СТИНЫ ⟨И́СТИННЫЙ⟩ obs [VP; subj: human] to return to a proper, righteous way of life or form of behavior: X обратился на путь истины ≃ X got back on the right path ⟨track⟩; X returned to the path of truth ⟨of righteousness⟩; X returned to ⟨got back on⟩ the straight and narrow.

В это время обратились на путь истины многие из прежних чиновников и были вновь приняты на службу (Гоголь 3). At this time many of the officials employed formerly returned to the path of righteousness and were accepted back into service (3c).

П-757 • ОКО́ЛЬНЫЙ ⟨ОБХОДНО́Й⟩ ПУТЬ; often действовать, идти и т.п. ОКО́ЛЬНЫМ ⟨ОБХОДНЫ́М⟩ ПУТЁМ or ОКО́ЛЬНЫМИ ⟨ОБХОДНЫ́МИ⟩ ПУТЯ́МИ [NP; fixed WO] an indirect and, in some cases, cunning, underhanded approach to achieving some goal or end: roundabout way ⟨approach⟩.

П-758 • ПОСЛЕ́ДНИЙ ПУТЬ [NP; sing only; fixed WO] s.o.'s burial procession: s.o.'s final ⟨last⟩ journey; || проводить кого в последний путь ≃ accompany s.o. ⟨the deceased⟩ on his final ⟨last⟩ journey.

Даже на расстоянии Маргарита разглядела, что лица стоящих в похоронной машине людей, сопровождающих покойника в последний путь, какие-то странно растерянные (Булгаков 9). Even from a distance Margarita could tell that the faces of those standing in the hearse accompanying the deceased on his last journey looked strangely perplexed (9c).

П-759 • СТАНОВИ́ТЬСЯ/СТАТЬ ⟨ВСТАВА́ТЬ/ВСТАТЬ, ВСТУПА́ТЬ/ВСТУПИ́ТЬ⟩ НА ПУТЬ чего, какой [VP; subj: human or collect; indir obj: abstr; fixed WO] to begin to act in a certain way (as specified), pursue a certain course of action: X вступил на путь Y-а ≃ X took ⟨embarked on, set out on⟩ the path of Y; [lim.] X took up the ⟨a⟩ life of Y; || X вступил на [AdjP] путь ≃ X took ⟨embarked on, set out on⟩ a [AdjP] path.

Сообщая об этом по инстанциям, Васька понимал, на какой опасный путь он вступил… (Войнович 6). Reporting all this to the authorities, Vaska understood how dangerous was the path he had embarked on (6a).

П-760 • В ПУХ И (В) ПРАХ; В ПУХ both coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv (intensif); fixed WO] 1. Also: В ПРАХ coll completely, utterly, thoroughly: разбить ⟨разгромить⟩ кого-что ~ ≃ wipe s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ out; tear s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ to pieces; demolish ⟨destroy⟩ s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; crush and defeat s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; beat s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ (all) hollow; || разругать ⟨раскритиковать, разнести⟩ кого-что ~ ≃ tear s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ to shreds; pick s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ to pieces; smash s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ to smithereens; || разругаться с кем ~ ≃ have a bad falling-out with s.o.; || проиграться ⟨разориться⟩ ~ ≃ lose one's shirt; lose everything one has; be cleaned out; be completely ruined; || обыграть кого ~ ≃ clean s.o. out; ruin s.o. completely.

2. разодеться, расфрантиться, нарядиться и т.п. ~ (to dress) very smartly, splendidly: (be) dressed to kill ⟨to the hilt, to the nines⟩; (dress) in one's finest; (be dressed) in all one's finery; (be) all decked out; (be) all dressed up.

…[Амалия Ивановна] была вся разодета хоть и в траур, но во всё новое, в шёлковое, в пух и прах, и гордилась этим (Достоевский 3). …She [Mme Lippewechsel] was all dressed up and although in mourning, everything she wore was new and silken; she was in all her finery and proud of it (3a).

П-761 • ПУХ И ⟨ДА⟩ ПЕ́РЬЯ ЛЕТЯ́Т/ПОЛЕТЯ́Т (от кого) coll [VP_{subj}; usu. pres or pfv fut] s.o. gets soundly defeated (in an argument, quarrel etc): от X-а пух да перья полетят ≃ X will take a beating; X will get his lumps; X will get the stuffing knocked out of him.

П-762 • НИ ПУ́ХА (тебе ⟨вам⟩) НИ ПЕРА́ coll [formula phrase; Invar; also used as obj of желать/пожелать; fixed WO] (a wish for success, luck in sth.) may things go well for you: good luck!; break a leg!; (wish s.o. the) best of luck.

«Сегодня в Тарасовке на загородном филиале стадиона со вторым „Спартаком" играем. В семь часов. Хочешь — приезжай». — «Я за Любкой еду». — …«Ну, пока», — сказал Алик. «Пока. Ни пуха тебе, ни пера» (Семёнов 1). "We're playing Spartak Reserves today at the suburban stadium in Tarasovka. At seven o'clock. You can come along if you want to." "I'm going to fetch Lyubka."… "Well, so long," said Alec. "So long. Good luck…" (1a).

< Originally a wish of luck to a hunter setting out after wild fowl. The use of the negative (i.e., «ни пуха ни пера»—"neither fluff nor feathers") was based on the superstition that openly wishing success would jinx the hunt.

П-763 • ИЗ ПУ́ШКИ ⟨ПУ́ШЕК⟩ ПО ВОРОБЬЯ́М СТРЕЛЯ́ТЬ ⟨ПАЛИ́ТЬ, БИТЬ⟩ [VP; subj: human] to waste a lot of strength, energy on sth. that does not require or justify such effort (and yields insignificant results): X стреляет из пушки по воробьям ≃ X is using a cannon to kill ⟨scatter⟩ sparrows; X is swatting a fly with a sledgehammer; X is using a cannon to kill a mosquito ⟨a gnat⟩; X is cracking a nut with a sledgehammer; X is shooting squirrels with an elephant gun; wouldn't you say it's overkill?

Зачем тратить столько тяжеловесных доказательств на такую незначительную идею? Зачем стрелять из пушки по воробьям? Why waste so many weighty arguments on such an insignificant idea? Why swat a fly with a sledgehammer?

П-764 • КАК ИЗ ПУ́ШКИ явиться, быть готовым и т.п. coll [как + PrepP; Invar; adv; usu. used after another adv indicating a point in time] (to come, be ready etc) right on time, exactly at the specified time: on the dot; on the button.

Собираемся в шесть, всем быть как из пушки. We'll meet at six—everyone be there on the dot.

П-765 • ПУ́ШКОЙ НЕ ПРОШИБЁШЬ ⟨НЕ ПРОБЬЁШЬ⟩ coll [VP; neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing only; fixed WO] 1. there are a great number of people (in some place): X-ов в месте Y — пушкой не прошибёшь ≃ there is an army of Xs in place Y; there are tons ⟨scores etc⟩ of Xs in place Y.

2. ~ кого. Also: ИЗ ПУ́ШКИ НЕ ПРОШИБЁШЬ ⟨НЕ ПРОБЬЁШЬ⟩ coll (in refer. to s.o.'s stubbornness, unwillingness etc to do sth.) you cannot convince or influence s.o. (to do sth.): X-а пушкой не прошибёшь ≃ X can't be budged.

П-766 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ НА ПУ́ШКУ ⟨НА БО́ГА rare⟩ кого highly coll [VP; subj: human; more often impfv] to (try to) deceive s.o., represent a situation in a false manner (usu. in order to get sth. from s.o.; occas. resorting to threats, intimidation): X берёт Y-а на пушку ≃ X is trying to trick ⟨con, bluff⟩ Y; X is taking Y for a ride; X is pulling ⟨trying to pull⟩ the wool over Y's eyes; X is trying to put ⟨slip⟩ something over on Y; X is trying to trap Y; X is laying a trap for Y; [lim.] X is trying to browbeat ⟨to bully⟩ Y.

«Кто был у мамаши?» — «После вас — Звонкова». — «…Чего она припёрлась?» — «Вы ведь ей звонили». Почти минуту Сипенятин сидел остолбенело. Затем, сглотнув слюну, криво усмехнулся: «На пушку берёшь, инспектор?» (Чернёнок 1). "Who was at my mother's?" "After you, Zvonkova." "…What did she come over for?" "You called her." For a minute Sipeniatin sat in stunned silence. Then, swallowing hard, he smiled crookedly. "Are you trying to trap me, inspector?" (1a).

П-767 • КАК ПЧЁЛКА трудиться coll [как + NP; nom only; adv (intensif)] (to work) much and willingly, (busy o.s. with sth.) eagerly: be (as) busy as a bee.

П-768 • СДУВА́ТЬ ПЫЛИ́НКИ с кого [VP; subj: human] to treat s.o. with excessive care and attention, in an overprotective fashion: X пылинки сдувает с Y-а ≃ X fusses over Y; X coddles ⟨dotes on⟩ Y; [lim.] X dances attendance on Y; [usu. in refer. to a husband's attitude toward his wife] X waits on Y hand and foot; X caters to Y's every whim.

П-769 • В ПЫЛУ́ сражения, битвы, спора и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] at the most intense moment (of a fight, quarrel etc): in the heat of (the battle ⟨an argument, a debate etc⟩); at the height of (the battle ⟨the debate etc⟩); in the excitement of (the battle ⟨the argument etc⟩); in the heat of the moment; || в пылу гнева ≃ in a fit ⟨a moment⟩ of anger ⟨rage⟩.

«Извините меня, что я в пылу нашего спора забыл представить себя вам» (Булгаков 9). "Excuse me… but in the heat of our discussion I neglected to introduce myself" (9c).

П-770 • С ПЫ́ЛУ, С ЖА́РУ coll [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing modif, subj-compl with copula or obj-compl with подать etc (subj or obj: a noun denoting baked, cooked, fried etc food)] freshly baked, just cooked, roasted, fried etc and still very hot: sizzling ⟨piping, steaming⟩ hot; straight from the oven ⟨the pot etc⟩; hot off the stove ⟨the griddle, the fire⟩.

Перед камином в пентхаузе [у Лучникова] в тот вечер собралось семь или восемь друзей, одноклассников. Они ели шашлыки, доставленные с пылу с жару из подвалов «Курьера»… (Аксёнов 7). Seven or eight of his classmates had come together that evening before the fire in Luchnikov's penthouse. They were eating shish kebab delivered sizzling hot from the Courier's basement kitchens… (7a).

П-771 • ПУСКА́ТЬ/ПУСТИ́ТЬ ПЫЛЬ В ГЛАЗА́ кому coll [VP; subj: human] to represent o.s. or one's affairs in a falsely advantageous light (by boasting, exaggerating, doing sth. flashy etc) in an attempt to fool others: X пускает Y-у пыль в глаза ≃ X is trying to impress Y (with…); X is trying to pass himself off as rich ⟨important etc⟩ (in front of Y); [in refer. to speaking only] X is spinning Y a fine yarn; X is laying it on thick (to Y); [only when the surrounding context makes it clear that what is displayed does not reflect the true state of affairs] X is showing ⟨trying to show⟩ off (to Y); X is making ⟨trying to make⟩ a splash; X is putting ⟨trying to put⟩ on the dog; X is dazzling ⟨trying to dazzle⟩ Y; X is engaged in window dressing; X is cutting ⟨trying to cut⟩ a swath.

Петрушка пустил Григорию пыль в глаза своею бывалостью в разных местах; Григорий же осадил его сразу Петербургом, в котором Петрушка не был (Гоголь 3). Petrushka tried to impress Grigory with having been in all sorts of places, but Grigory at once floored him with Petersburg, a place Petrushka had never visited (3a). ♦ …На свадьбе его сына впервые в нашем городе появился автомобиль, специально выписал его из Чернигова или из Гомеля, не знаю уж откуда, любил пустить пыль в глаза (Рыбаков 1). At his son's wedding the first automobile in town made its appearance, specially ordered from Chernigov, or Gomel, I'm not sure which—anyway, he loved to show off (1a).

П-772 • ПЫЛЬ СТОЛБО́М [NP; Invar; fixed WO] 1. a large amount of dust rising upward: pillar ⟨cloud, column⟩ of dust.

Проходили через Глупов войска пешие, проходили войска конные. «Куда, голубчики?» — с волнением спрашивал Бородавкин солдатиков. Но солдатики в трубы трубили, песни пели… пыль столбом на улицах поднимали, и всё проходили, всё проходили (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). The troops passed through Foolov, foot troops, mounted troops. "Where are you going, my dears?" Wartkin would ask the soldiers in agitation. But the soldiers blew their horns, sang their songs… raised pillars of dust in the streets, and passed on, passed on (1a).

2. где ~ [usu. VP_{subj} with $быть_{ø}$] some place is full of noise, uproar, disorder, turmoil: в месте X пыль столбом ≃ there is pandemonium in place X; all hell has broken loose in place X; place X is a three-ring(ed) circus.

П-773 • НЕ ПЫ́ЛЬНАЯ работа (у кого) highly coll [AdjP; fem sing only; subj-compl with $быть_{ø}$ (subj: работа)] work that does not demand a great expenditure of effort: у X-а работа не пыльная ≃ X has a cushy job; X doesn't have a tough job; X's job is a cinch ⟨a piece of cake, no sweat⟩.

Вообще у них, у этих астрономов, работа, как мне показалось, не пыльная (Аксёнов 1). It struck me that on the whole they do not have a tough job, these astronomers (1a).

П-774 • СЕМИ́ ⟨СЕМЬ rare⟩ ПЯ́ДЕЙ ⟨ПЯДЕ́Й obsoles, ПЯДЕ́НЬ obs, ПЯДЕ́НЕЙ obs⟩ ВО ЛБУ coll [NP_{gen} or NP; these forms only; usu. subj-compl with $быть_{ø}$, subj: human (var. with семи); var. with семь is used as subj with $быть_{ø}$ or obj of иметь; usu. condit будь кто семи пядей во лбу; fixed WO] one is very intelligent, quick-witted, has remarkable abilities: будь X семи пядей во лбу ≃ be X ⟨even if X were⟩ a genius ⟨a real brain, the smartest man in the world⟩; be X ⟨even if X were⟩ (as) wise as an owl ⟨(as) shrewd as a fox, (as) wise as Solomon, (as) smart as a whip⟩; X may have the devil's own cunning.

«Кто из моих людей смеет обижать сироту? — закричал он. — Будь он семи пядень во лбу, а от суда моего на уйдёт» (Пушкин 2). "Who among my men dares mistreat an orphan?" he cried. "Be he as shrewd as a fox, he won't escape my judgment!" (2a). "Which of my men dares to ill-treat an orphan?" he cried. "He may have the devil's own cunning, but he won't escape my justice" (2c).

< «Пядь» is an old unit of length equal to the distance between the tips of the thumb and the index finger when they are extended.

П-775 • ДО ПЯТ coll [PrepP; Invar; usu. nonagreeing modif] (of a skirt, dress, coat etc) very long, almost reaching the ground: down to one's ankles ⟨heels⟩; reaching to one's ⟨the⟩ heels; ankle-length.

«И ты знаешь, смех какой — моё лучшее платье забраковали, говорят на сцену нельзя выходить, звонили в театр, привезли другое, чудное, до пят» (Солженицын 3). "And do you know, it was really funny they said my best dress was no good; I couldn't go on the platform in that. So they rang the theater and got another one sent, a lovely one, down to my heels" (3b).

П-776 • АХИЛЛЕ́СОВА ПЯТА́ ⟨ПЯ́ТКА⟩ чья, кого-чего, у кого lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a point or area that is particularly weak or vulnerable: Achilles heel.

Отсутствие ясно сознанной цели — вот ахиллесова пята всех администраторов, получавших воспитание у Дюссо… (Салтыков-Щедрин 2). The absence of a clearly defined purpose is the Achilles heel of every administrator educated at Dusseau's… (2a).

< From the Greek legend of Achilles, whose heel was the only vulnerable point on his body.

П-777 • ПО ПЯТА́М [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. идти, следовать, гнаться и т.п. ~ чьим, кого, за кем (to follow, race after s.o.) closely, persistently: (follow ⟨be⟩) on ⟨at⟩ s.o.'s heels; (follow s.o.) closely; (follow) close behind s.o.; dog s.o.'s footsteps; [lim.] tail s.o.

«Ваше высокопреосвященство, что же это вы тут богослужение устроили? Драпать надо! Корпус идёт за нами по пятам!..» (Булгаков 2). "Your Eminence, what's the idea of this sacred service now? We've got to clear out! The Reds are on our heels!.." (2a). ♦ «Я пойду вперёд, — продолжала Низа, — но ты не иди по моим пятам, а отделись от меня» (Булгаков 9). "I'll go first," Niza went on, "but don't follow close behind me, go separately" (9b).

2. ходить ~ за кем not to leave s.o., to stay close to s.o. all the time, annoying, irritating him with one's presence: (be ⟨follow⟩) on ⟨at⟩ s.o.'s heels; follow s.o. around; breathe down s.o.'s neck.

[Макарская:] …Я хочу, чтобы ты меня больше не ждал, не следил за мной, не ходил по пятам. Потому что из этого ничего не выйдет… (Вампилов 4). [M.:] …I don't want you to wait for me anymore, or follow me, or be on my heels all the time. Because nothing's going to come of all this… (4b).

П-778 • НА ПЯТАЧО́К ПУЧО́К кого-чего (у кого or где) coll [PrepP; Invar; quantit compl with copula (subj/gen: any common noun); fixed WO] plentiful (so plentiful that the items lose their value): X-ов у Y-а ⟨в месте Z⟩ — на пятачок пучок ≃ Xs are a dime a dozen in place Z; Y has more Xs than he knows what to do with.

П-779 • ЛИЗА́ТЬ ПЯ́ТКИ ⟨НО́ГИ, САПОГИ́, РУ́КИ⟩ кому, у кого highly coll, derog [VP; subj: human] to fawn on, cringe and grovel before s.o.: X лижет пятки Y-у ≃ X licks Y's boots ⟨shoes, feet⟩.

[extended usage] [Нелькин:] Разве все они [честные люди] должны кланяться силе, лизать сапоги у насилия? (Сухово-Кобылин 1). [N.:] Must all of them [honest people] submit to force, and lick the boots of oppression? (1a).

П-780 • НАСТУПА́ТЬ/НАСТУПИ́ТЬ НА ПЯ́ТКИ кому coll [VP; usu. impfv] 1. [subj: human, collect, or animal] to be following s.o. very closely and be about to come even with him: X наступал Y-у на пятки ≃ X was hard on Y's heels; X was (close) at Y's heels; X was close behind Y; X was catching up with ⟨to⟩ Y.

Его преследователям удалось сократить расстояние, они уже наступали ему на пятки. His pursuers managed to close in on him —they were already at his heels.

2. [subj: human or collect] to be about to reach a skill level equal to another's in some activity: X наступает Y-у на пятки ≃ X is catching up with ⟨to⟩ Y; X is gaining on Y; X is close behind Y; X ⟨X's work, X's performance etc⟩ is becoming as good as Y ⟨Y's⟩; X is right ⟨close⟩ at Y's heels; X is hard on Y's heels.

П-781 • ПОКА́ЗЫВАТЬ/ПОКАЗА́ТЬ ПЯ́ТКИ coll [VP; subj: human] to run away, flee: X показал пятки ≃ X showed a clean pair of heels; X took to his heels.

Мы хотели было тут и расположиться со своими лекарствами, но вдруг из какого-то подъезда выскочил милиционер и побежал к нам по туннелю, заливисто свистя… Мы улепетнули от стража, показали ему… пятки (Аксёнов 6). We were about to settle down and spread out our supply of medication then and there, when suddenly a policeman leaped out of a doorway and ran down the tunnel toward us, loudly blowing his whistle…. We bolted and showed this guardian of the law a clean pair of heels (6a).

П-782 • СМА́ЗЫВАТЬ/СМА́ЗАТЬ ⟨ПОДМА́ЗЫВАТЬ/ ПОДМА́ЗАТЬ, НАМА́ЗЫВАТЬ/НАМА́ЗАТЬ⟩ ПЯ́ТКИ (САЛО́М) highly coll [VP; subj: human, often pl] to run away, flee (often from an enemy): X-ы смазали пятки салом ≃ Xs greased their heels; Xs took to their heels; Xs took flight; Xs headed for the hills; Xs beat a hasty retreat.

[Мышлаевский:] И пойду, и буду служить. Да! [Студзинский:] Почему?! [Мышлаевский:] А вот почему! Потому! Потому что у Петлюры, вы говорили, сколько? Двести тысяч! Вот эти двести тысяч пятки салом подмазали и дуют при одном слове «большевики» (Булгаков 4). [M.:] And I'll go, and I'll serve. Sure! [S.:] Why? [M.:] Here's why! Because! Because Petlyura has—how many did you say?—two hundred thousand! And here these two hundred thousand have greased their heels and faded away just on the mention of the word "Bolsheviks" (4b).

П-783 • ТО́ЛЬКО ПЯ́ТКИ СВЕРКА́ЮТ/ЗАСВЕРКА́ЛИ (у кого); СВЕРКА́ТЬ/ЗАСВЕРКА́ТЬ ПЯ́ТКАМИ both coll [VP_{subj} (often after помчался, понёсся и т.п.; if a verb of motion is not present, it is implied; 1st var.); VP, subj: human (2nd var.)] s.o. runs away (or to run away) very quickly: у X-а ⟨X помчался и т.п.,⟩ только пятки засверкали ≃ X took off like greased lightning; X was ⟨took⟩ off like a shot; X showed a clean pair of heels; X took to his heels (out of there).

Когда ребята увидели сторожа, у них только пятки заверкали. When the kids caught sight of the guard they took off like greased lightning.

П-784 • СЕМЬ ПЯ́ТНИЦ НА НЕДЕ́ЛЕ у кого coll, often disapprov [NP; Invar; used as VP_{subj} with быть$_{ø}$, usu. pres or past; fixed WO] s.o. often, easily, and sometimes irresponsibly reverses his decisions, opinions, plans etc: у X-а семь пятниц на неделе ≃ X says ⟨does⟩ one thing one day ⟨minute⟩ and another the next; with X it's one thing one day and something else the next; one minute X says ⟨does⟩ something, the next minute—something else altogether; X is as fickle as they come; X changes his mind at the drop of a hat; X is always changing his mind; [lim.] X blows hot and cold (about ⟨over⟩ sth.); it (all) depends when ⟨what day of the week⟩ you ask X; it (all) depends (on) how X is feeling that day; rain before seven, clear ⟨fine⟩ before eleven; [when used as Interj] change of heart again!

[Липочка:] Ах, если бы вы знали, Лазарь Елизарыч, какое мне житьё здесь! У маменьки семь пятниц на неделе… (Островский 10). [L.:] Oh, if you knew, Lazar Elizarych, what my life here is like! Mamma says one thing one day, and another the next… (10b).

П-785 • БЕ́ЛОЕ ПЯТНО́ [NP; often pl; fixed WO] 1. often ~ на карте, на земле an unmapped or unexplored territory: blank; blank spot (on the map); uncharted area.

Казалось бы, наша планета исследована вдоль и поперёк, и всё же на её карте ещё есть белые пятна. It would seem that our planet has been studied inside out, and yet there are still uncharted areas on the map.

2. ~ (в чём) an unexplored problem, undecided question: blank; unsolved problem; gap in one's knowledge (of sth.).

Несмотря на большие успехи, достигнутые в последние годы, в вирусологии пока есть белые пятна. Despite great advances made over the past few years, there are still blanks in the field of virology.

П-786 • РОДИ́МОЕ ПЯТНО́ [NP; fixed WO] 1. a spot, blemish on a person's skin that was there at birth: birthmark.

Некоторым прозорливым гражданам показалось странным, что большое родимое пятно, бывшее несколько дней тому назад на правой щеке градоначальника, теперь очутилось на левой (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). Some sagacious citizens thought it strange that a large birthmark, which a few days ago had been on the town governor's right cheek, was now on the left (1a).

2. ~ чего a remnant of sth.: mark; vestige.

Сегодня, чем старше человек, тем прочнее в него въелись «родимые пятна» прошлой эпохи (Мандельштам 2). Nowadays, the older a man is, the more he bears the marks of the past (2a).

П-787 • ТЁМНОЕ ⟨ЧЁРНОЕ⟩ ПЯТНО́ [NP; fixed WO] a shameful, discreditable action, mode of behavior etc (usu. in s.o.'s past): black spot ⟨mark⟩; blemish; a stain ⟨blot⟩ on s.o.'s character ⟨reputation⟩; [lim.] blot on s.o.'s escutcheon.

Чтобы такой человек и не присосался к правящей партии, это казалось мне совершенно невероятным. Если он этого не сделал, значит были серьёзные причины… Моральных преград для вступления в партию у него, разумеется, нет и быть не могло. Значит, в его биографии были какие-то тёмные пятна, которые и партия считает тёмными (Войнович 3). That such a person had not attached himself to the ruling party seemed completely incredible to me. If he did not do so, it meant there were serious reasons…. He did not have, and could not have had, of course, any moral objections to joining the Party. That meant there were some black spots on his record that even the Party considered black (3a).

П-788 • С ПЯ́ТОГО НА ДЕСЯ́ТОЕ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] 1. рассказывать, пересказывать ~ и т.п. Also: ПЯ́ТОЕ ЧЕРЕЗ ДЕСЯ́ТОЕ coll (to tell, recount sth.) in a disorganized, nonsequential manner: (jump ⟨skip⟩) from one point ⟨thing⟩ to another; (tell sth.) in a mixed-up ⟨confused, jumbled etc⟩ way.

Что ты перескакиваешь с пятого на десятое? Начни сначала и изложи всё последовательно и детально. Why do you keep jumping from one thing to another? Start from the beginning and tell everything in order, with all the details.

2. Also: ЧЕРЕЗ ПЯ́ТОЕ НА ДЕСЯ́ТОЕ coll (to do sth.) in a careless, disorderly fashion: in a slipshod manner ⟨fashion⟩; any old way; poorly; sloppily.

Дочка наша учится хорошо, а сын — с пятого на десятое, больше футболом интересуется. Our daughter does well in school, but our son does poorly. He's more interested in soccer.

3. ~ понимать, знать и т.п. Also: ИЗ ПЯ́ТОГО В ДЕСЯ́ТОЕ coll (to understand, know etc) a little bit, only certain parts of sth.: (to understand ⟨know⟩) bits and pieces; (understand) snatches (here and there).

«Ты всё понимаешь, когда смотришь французские фильмы?» — «Честно говоря, с пятого на десятое». "When you watch French films, do you understand everything they say?" "To tell you the truth, I only catch bits and pieces."

П-789 • ПОД ПЯТО́Й чьей, (у) кого быть$_{о}$, находиться, жить и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human or collect) or adv] (to be, live etc) under s.o.'s control, domination, yoke: under s.o.'s heel ⟨thumb⟩; under the heel ⟨the thumb⟩ of s.o.; in s.o.'s power.

В доме он был всегда под пятой у женщин — у сестёр, у жены (Аллилуева 2). At home he had always been under the thumb of women—his sisters, his wife (2a).

Р

Р-1 • РАБ БО́ЖИЙ; РАБА́ БО́ЖИЯ ⟨БО́ЖЬЯ⟩ all obs [NP; usu. sing; usu. this WO] 1. a person as a subject of God: God's creature; God's servant; servant of God ⟨of our Lord⟩; [of a woman] handmaid ⟨handmaiden⟩ of the Lord.

«Человек не раб Божий, но и не царь природы — обе формулировки одинаково нелепы…» (Горенштейн 1). "Man is not a servant of God, but neither is he the lord of nature. The two formulas are equally absurd…" (1a). ♦ «Что, раба Божья, вознамерилась помереть?» —строго спросил он у лежащей… (Акунин 6). "What's this, handmaid of the Lord, have you decided to die?" he asked the woman in the bed severely… (6a).

2. iron or humor simply a human being (usu. used in refer. to a person who has to submit to s.o.'s will, to some circumstances etc): God's servant.

[Расплюев:] Свезут тебя… в Преображенскую и посадят тебя, раба божия, на цепуру (Сухово-Кобылин 2). [R.:] They'll take you… to the madhouse and keep you, God's servant, on a chain… (2a).

Р-2 • ЕГИ́ПЕТСКАЯ РАБО́ТА; ЕГИ́ПЕТСКИЙ ТРУД both obs [NP; sing only] very hard, exhausting labor: slave labor; backbreaking labor.

< From the Biblical account of the hard labor the Israelites were forced to do while enslaved in Egypt (Ex. 1–2).

Р-3 • РАБО́ТА ⟨ДЕ́ЛО⟩ НЕ ВО́ЛК ⟨НЕ МЕДВЕ́ДЬ⟩, В ЛЕ́С НЕ УЙДЁТ ⟨НЕ УБЕЖИ́Т⟩ [saying] the work in question (or any work) is not so urgent that it cannot be put off: ≃ the work isn't going anywhere; the work will still be there (tomorrow); [lim.] don't do today what you can put off till tomorrow.

Р-4 • КТО НЕ РАБО́ТАЕТ, ТОТ НЕ ЕСТ [saying] a person must earn his living: ≃ he who does not work, neither should ⟨shall⟩ he eat; he who will ⟨does⟩ not work shall not eat; those who will not work shall not eat.

< From the Bible: "For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat" (II Thess. 3:10). During the Soviet era, the saying became one of the key mottos of socialism.

Р-5 • РАБО́ТАТЬ НАД СОБО́Й [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] to try to better o.s. in some area (by adding to one's credentials, furthering one's education etc): X работает над собой ≃ X is improving ⟨trying to improve⟩ himself; X is working (hard) at self-improvement; X is broadening his horizons.

«Желание работать над собой и постоянное воспоминание о вас, фрейлейн Мари, не покидают меня…» (Федин 1). "The desire to improve myself, and the constant memory of you, Fräulein Marie, never leave me…" (1a).

Р-6 • ГОРЕ́ТЬ НА РАБО́ТЕ coll, usu. humor or iron [VP: subj: human] to devote o.s. completely to one's work, sparing no effort: X горит на работе ≃ X lives for (his) work; X is married to his job ⟨work, career⟩.

«Да перестань же ты, Марлен, всё время думать о делах, — одёрнул себя Кузенков. — …Тебе ли уподобляться замшелым «трезорам», которые по тогдашнему выражению «горели на работе», а проку от которых было чуть, одна лишь кровь и пакость. Ты современный человек» (Аксёнов 7). Can't you ever stop thinking about work? said Kuzenkov to himself reproachfully…. You don't want to be like the moss-backed old guard that lived for work and got nothing in return but blood, sweat, and tears. You're a man of the present (7a).

Р-7 • РАВНО́ КАК (И); РА́ВНО И all lit [subord Conj, compar-connective] used to liken two persons, phenomena, actions etc: just as ⟨like⟩; as well as; and likewise; and… too; [when the likened items are subjects or objects] both… and…; [when used with negations (the second negation may be elided)] nor; just as… not.

Римский утверждал, что никакой Геллы в окне у себя в кабинете ночью он не видел, равно как и Варенухи, а просто ему сделалось дурно и в беспамятстве он уехал в Ленинград (Булгаков 9). Rimsky maintained that he had not seen any Hella in his office window that night, just as he he had not seen Varenukha, but that he had simply felt unwell and gone to Leningrad in a daze (9c).

Р-8 • ВЫВОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ВЕСТИ ИЗ РАВНОВЕ́СИЯ кого [VP; subj: usu. abstr, occas. human; fixed WO] to cause s.o. to lose his poise, bearing, self-control: X вывел Y-а из равновесия ≃ X deprived Y of Y's composure; X made Y lose Y's composure ⟨equilibrium, self-control⟩; thing X got Y bent out of shape: X made Y lose ⟨blow⟩ Y's cool; X made Y lose Y's temper; X got Y's dander up; thing X got Y's back up; X upset Y; X made Y forget himself.

«Ты с им [ungrammat = ним] давно живёшь?» Нюра попыталась улыбнуться. «Ваня, ты это шутейно, да?» Этот вопрос почему-то совершенно вывел его из равновесия. «Я вот тебе дам шутейно! — Он замахнулся прикладом. — Говори, стерва, когда ты с им снюхалась?» (Войнович 2). "You been sleeping with him a long time or what?" Nyura attempted a smile. "Vanya, you're just making a joke, aren't you?" For some reason her question entirely deprived him of his composure. "I'll show you who's joking!" Chonkin threatened her with the butt of his rifle. "Tell me, you bitch, when you started carrying on with him!" (2a).

Р-9 • НА РА́ВНЫХ говорить, держать себя с кем, работать, разговор и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv, nonagreeing modif, or subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. human)] (to speak, conduct o.s., work etc with s.o.) as one equal with another or as if one were equal to another (in terms of age, position, social status etc); (a conversation is held, discussion takes place etc) with all parties being equal or treating each other as such: as equals; as if ⟨though⟩ we ⟨you, they⟩ were equals; on equal terms; on an equal footing ⟨basis⟩.

Зачем сблизился с Тимофеем? Зачем поехал с ним на сенокос? От них надо подальше, а он раскис, держался на равных… (Рыбаков 2). Why did he have to get to know Timofei? Why had he gone haymaking with him? He ought to have kept himself at a distance, whereas he had relaxed, he'd behaved as if they were equals… (2a).

Р-10 • ПРИ ПРО́ЧИХ РА́ВНЫХ [PrepP; Invar; sent adv; fixed WO] provided that all other facts or circumstances taken into consideration make no difference: other ⟨all⟩ things being equal.

Два издательства проявляют интерес к моей книге. При прочих равных я, пожалуй, предпочёл бы «Аврору». Two publishers have shown interest in my book. All things being equal, I would probably prefer Aurora.

P-11 • (И) СА́М НЕ РАД; НЕ РАД all coll [AdjP; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); often foll. by a что-clause] one laments sth. that happened through one's own fault or with one's participation: X и сам был не рад ≃ X could have kicked himself (for having done sth.); X was none too happy with himself (for having done sth.); X wished (that) he hadn't (done sth.); X (really) regretted (having done sth.).

Я и сам не рад, что последовал совету Никиты. I could kick myself for having followed Nikita's advice. ♦ Глебов был уж не рад, что затеял разговор (Трифонов 2). Glebov wished that he had not started the conversation (2a).

P-12 • МА́ЛО РА́ДОСТИ (кому от кого-чего) coll [Invar; impers predic or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: infin)] sth. «Почему ты мне освобождения не подписал от работы?» — «Ты ведь здоров, я не имею права». — «Не подпишешь?» — «Коля, милый, клянусь тебе, я бы с радостью, но не могу» (Гроссман 2). "Why wouldn't you sign the form to release me from work?" "I don't have the right. You're in excellent health." "Are you going to sign?" "Kolya, my friend, I swear I'd be only too glad to, but I can't" (2a).

P-18 • НА РА́ДОСТЯХ ⟨РА́ДОСТИ⟩ coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv] thanks to or because of one's elevated mood (on the occasion of a joyful event): in one's joy ⟨rejoicing⟩; from sheer joy; in celebration; to celebrate; elated (, one does sth.).

«Постой-ка, угощу тебя», — бессвязно бормотала она, доставая из сундука хранившуюся с давнишних пор бутылку самогона. Прохор присел, разгладил усы. «Ты-то выпьешь со мной на радостях?» — спросил он (Шолохов 5). "Just a minute, I've got something here for you…" she mumbled, rummaging in the chest for a bottle of home-brew that she had been keeping for many a long day. Prokhor sat down and stroked his moustache. "You'll have one with me to celebrate, won't you?" he asked (5a).

P-19 • ВХОДИ́ТЬ/ВОЙТИ́ ⟨ПРИХОДИ́ТЬ/ПРИЙТИ́, ВПАДА́ТЬ/ВПАСТЬ⟩ В РАЖ coll [VP; subj: human] to become so angry or excited that one cannot control o.s.: X вошёл в раж ≃ X got all worked up; X blew his cool ⟨top, stack⟩; [in refer. to anger only] X got hot under the collar; X went ⟨flew⟩ into (a fit of) rage; X worked himself (up) into a fury ⟨rage⟩; a fit of rage overcame X.

Но мы опять входили в раж, в злобный какой-то запал, ничего не видели вокруг (Владимов 2). Soon, though, we had worked ourselves up into a fury, a mood of angry obsession in which we no longer noticed what was going on around us (2a).

P-20 • В КОТО́РЫЙ РАЗ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (s.o. does sth., sth. happens) one more time after too many times (often used to convey irritation): for the umpteenth time; once more ⟨again⟩; yet again; [lim.] how many times.

«Смена времён года — в который раз! Сколько можно!» (Битов 2). "The changing of the seasons—for the umpteenth time! Not again!" (2a).

Расстреливали и своих и чужих без разбору (Мандельштам 2). They were always shooting friend and foe indiscriminately (2a).

Р-50 • С РАЗБО́РОМ [PrepP; Invar; adv] showing preference for certain people or things over others: discriminately; selectively; (be) choosy (about sth.); [lim.] pick and choose.

Попасть в этот кооператив трудно, туда принимают с разбором. It’s difficult to get into that cooperative; they’re choosy about whom they accept.

Р-51 • К ША́ПОЧНОМУ РАЗБО́РУ прийти, явиться, попасть и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to arrive, appear etc) at the very end or conclusion of sth.: when ⟨(just) as, not…till⟩ the show is over; when it’s all over (but the shouting); when ⟨as⟩ things are coming to a close; when everybody is leaving ⟨is getting ready to leave⟩; at the tail end (of a party ⟨a meeting etc⟩).

«Отправляю тебя первым пароходом…» — «Выходит, прочие к шапочному разбору поспеют?» (Максимов 1). “I’m sending you in the first ship…” “Does that mean the others won’t get there till the show is over?” (1a).

Р-52 • РА́ЗВЕ ЧТО ⟨ТО́ЛЬКО, ЛИШЬ, ВОТ⟩ 1. [Particle] except for, or possibly except for (the specified thing, person, event etc): except (perhaps ⟨maybe⟩); [lim.] but only.

«Мы прочно засели там в железном доте. Железный — так мы его называли, думали, нас ничто оттуда не вышибет. Разве что — приказ захватить город» (Михайловская 1). “We sat there secure in an iron pillbox. We called it iron because we thought nothing could get us out of it, except perhaps an order to seize the city” (1a).

2. [subord Conj; restr-concessive] except, or possibly except, in the named situation, set of circumstances etc: except (perhaps ⟨maybe⟩) when ⟨if, that⟩; [lim.] unless.

«…Я из квартиры не выеду, ни под каким нажимом. Разве что меня вместе с беременной женой вынесут на руках» (Войнович 3). "…I will not move out of that apartment under any sort of pressure. Except maybe if they carry me and my pregnant wife out in their arms" (3a).

Р-53 • (ВОТ) И ВЕСЬ РАЗГОВО́Р ⟨СКАЗ⟩; ВОТ (ТЕБЕ́ ⟨ВАМ⟩) И ВЕСЬ РАЗГОВО́Р ⟨СКАЗ⟩ all coll [usu. indep. clause; these forms only; fixed WO] (used to emphasize that the preceding statement has exhausted, concluded the topic) there is nothing more to talk about, this is the end of the conversation: and that's that; that's all there is to it; case closed.

Являются два полицая, приказывают отцу следовать за ними. Куда? В комендатуру… Отец пытается отговориться… но полицаи ничего не желают знать — приказано доставить Ивановского в комендатуру, и весь разговор! (Рыбаков 1). Two policemen turned up and told father to come with them. Where to? To the commandant's…. Father tried to talk himself out of it… but the police wouldn't have any of it, they'd been ordered to deliver Ivanovsky to the commandant, and that was that! (1a).

Р-54 • ДРУГО́Й РАЗГОВО́Р coll [NP; sing only; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. это, occas. any noun or a clause); fixed WO] that changes (or would change) the situation (entirely): that's another ⟨a different⟩ story (altogether); that's (quite) another ⟨a different⟩ matter; that's different ⟨something else altogether⟩; [in fut and condit clauses] things ⟨everything, it⟩ will ⟨would⟩ be different.

[Говорящий — кот] «Я напудрил усы, вот и всё. Другой разговор был бы, если б я побрился! Бритый кот — это действительно уж безобразие, тысячу раз готов признать это» (Булгаков 9). [The speaker is a cat] "I powdered my whiskers, that's all! It would be different if I had shaved! A shaven tom would indeed be outrageous, I agree a thousand times" (9a). "All I did was powder my whiskers! It would be a different matter if I had shaved! A shaved cat—now that really would be an abomination, I couldn't agree more" (9c).

Р-55 • КРУ́ПНЫЙ РАЗГОВО́Р [NP; sing only; fixed WO] straightforward, usu. confrontational and unpleasant conversation (with s.o.): (very) serious talk; sharp ⟨harsh⟩ words; heated ⟨sharp⟩ exchange (of words); || у X-а с Y-ом будет крупный разговор ≃ X will have words with Y; [in refer. to a reprimand given by a superior to a subordinate] X will give it to Y (but good); X will give Y a (good) tongue-lashing ⟨dressing-down, talking-to⟩.

В то время, покуда великий комбинатор пиратствовал на море, Генрих Мария Заузе, подстерёгший все-таки Полыхаева и имевший с ним весьма крупный разговор, вышел из «Геркулеса» в полном недоумении (Ильф и Петров 2) While the grand strategist plundered the waves, Heinrich Maria Sause finally ambushed Polykhaev and had a very serious talk with him. He left the Hercules totally bewildered (2d).

Р-56 • ПЕРЕВОДИ́ТЬ/ПЕРЕВЕСТИ́ РАЗГОВО́Р НА ДРУГО́Е ⟨НА ДРУГУ́Ю ТЕ́МУ⟩ [VP; subj: human] to drop a topic and begin talking about sth. different: X перевёл разговор на другое ≃ X changed the subject.

Открывай планету, называй её собственным именем, определяй физические характеристики… [Школьники] будут взирать на тебя с почтительностью, но учитель при встрече спросит только: «Ты всё ещё в ГСП [Группе Свободного Поиска]?» — и переведёт разговор на другую тему… (Стругацкие 2). Discover a planet, name it after yourself, determine its physical characteristics…. [The school kids] would gaze at you in awe. But your old teacher would ask only: "Are you still with the IRU [Independent Reconnaissance Unit]?" Then he'd change the subject… (2a).

Р-57 • РАЗГОВО́Р КОРО́ТКИЙ у кого с кем; ШУ́ТКИ КОРО́ТКИЕ ⟨КО́РОТКИ⟩ all coll [VP$_{subj}$ with быть$_{ø}$; fixed WO (var. with short-form Adj)] (may refer to dealing with one person, a group of people, people of a given type etc) s.o. deals with another or others in an abrupt and decisive manner, not wasting time on conversations or explanations: у X-а с Y-ом разговор короткий ≃ X takes swift action with Y; X takes quick, firm action with Y; X doesn't waste ⟨mince⟩ words with Y.

«С прогульщиками у меня разговор короткий, — сказал декан. — За шесть пропущенных без уважительных причин занятий снимаю со стипендии». "I take swift action with students who cut classes," said the dean. "Six cuts without a good reason, and I pull your stipend."

Р-58 • ЧТО ЗА РАЗГОВО́Р!; КАКО́Й (МО́ЖЕТ БЫТЬ) РАЗГОВО́Р!; О ЧЁМ РАЗГОВО́Р ⟨РЕЧЬ⟩! all coll [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] (often used in answer to a question, request etc) it is completely understood and agreed to, certainly: of course!; it ⟨that⟩ goes without saying; what question can there be?; [lim.] (there's) no need to even ask.

«Это [генерал Корнилов] кристальной честности человек, и только он один в состоянии поставить Россию на ноги… Какой может быть разговор? Всякий порядочный человек за Корнилова!» (Шолохов 3). He [General Kornilov] is a man of perfect integrity and he and he alone is capable of putting Russia on her feet again…. What question can there be? Every decent person is bound to support Kornilov" (3a).

Р-59 • И РАЗГОВО́РА ⟨-У⟩ НЕТ ⟨БЫТЬ НЕ МО́ЖЕТ⟩ (о чём) coll [VP; impers; pres only; fixed WO] 1. sth. is impossible, ruled out altogether: об X-е и разговора быть не может ≃ X is out of the question; there is ⟨can be⟩ no question of X; [lim.] that isn't even up ⟨a matter⟩ for discussion.

Главный инженер сказал мне, что о том, чтобы перевести меня на работу в Москву, и разговора быть не может. «Вы нужны нам здесь». The chief engineer told me that my being transferred to Moscow was out of the question. "We need you here."

2. yes, certainly: no question!; (what a question ⟨what are you talking about⟩,) of course one will ⟨can etc⟩!; (but) of course!

«Ты думаешь, он справится?» — «И разговору нет!» "Do you think he can manage?" "What a question! Of course he can!"

Р-60 • БЕЗ ВСЯ́КИХ РАЗГОВО́РОВ; БЕЗ ВСЯ́КОГО РАЗГОВО́РА both coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] 1. (to do sth.) without raising any objections: without any arguments; [in direct address] and no arguments ⟨back talk⟩; and no ifs, ands, or buts; and no guff; [lim.] and I don't want to hear any back talk.

Вам дали приказ — вот и выполняйте без всяких разговоров. You were ordered to do something, so do it—and no arguments.

2. (to do sth. to s.o.) quickly and decisively, without wasting time on discussion, explanations etc: without wasting words; wasting no time on talk; [lim.] without (even) giving s.o. time to object ⟨explain (himself) etc⟩).

Когда Антон в третий раз опоздал на работу, бригадир уволил его без всяких разговоров. The third time Anton was late to work, the foreman fired him without even giving him time to object.

P-61 • С РАЗГО́НА ⟨-у⟩ [PrepP; these forms only; adv] while in full motion, having gained speed: [of a means of transportation] (while) barreling along; (while going ⟨moving etc⟩) at full ⟨high⟩ speed; (while going) full tilt; [of a person or animal] at a dead run; [the equivalent incorporates both the idiom and the verb it collocates with] slam ⟨crash⟩ into.

Машина с разгона врезалась в сарай. The car slammed into the shed at high speed. ♦ Я обиженно отвернулся от него, чтобы снова забыться. Но тут меня кто-то с разгона трахнул головой по спине (Ерофеев 1). I turned away, offended, in order to drop off again. But, here, someone slammed with a crushing blow of his head into my back (1a).

P-62 • В РАЗГО́НЕ coll [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: human or a noun denoting a means of transportation, pl)] some people are not in their offices, workplaces etc, but out doing things (taking care of small tasks, attending meetings etc); some trucks (buses etc) are not in their garages or parking lots, but out being used (making deliveries, running their routes etc): X-ы в разгоне ≃ [of people] Xs are out on ⟨running⟩ errands; Xs are running about ⟨around⟩; Xs are tied up elsewhere; [of means of transportation] Xs are in use; Xs are (out) on the road.

Никого из моих помощников сейчас нет: все в разгоне. None of my assistants are here now—they're all out on errands.

P-63 • НЕ РАЗГО́НИШЬСЯ coll [VP; neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing only] (used in refer. to the impossiblity of undertaking or implementing sth. under the existing circumstances, with the available funds etc) only very little can be done: you can't do much; there isn't much you can do; you can't get anywhere ⟨very far⟩.

Ей приходится экономить, на её зарплату не разгонишься. She has to cut corners because you can't get very far on her salary.

P-64 • С ⟨СО ВСЕГО́⟩ РАЗМА́ХА ⟨-у⟩ [PrepP; these forms only; adv] 1. with great power or momentum: with all one's might; hard; as hard as one can; full force.

После этого он повернулся к мальчику… и с размаху сильно шлёпнул его ладонью по голове (Искандер 5). After that he turned to the boy… and slapped his head with all his might (5a).

2. while already in motion, having gained speed: [of a vehicle] (while) barreling along; (while going ⟨moving⟩ etc⟩) at full ⟨high⟩ speed; (while going) (at) full tilt; (while going) full throttle; [of a person or animal] at a dead run.

Санки с размаху налетели на пень, и мы все вывалились в снег. The sled barreled into the tree stump at full tilt, and we all fell off into the snow.

P-65 • С РАЗМА́ХОМ [PrepP; Invar; adv] to a great degree or measure, impressively, grandly: on a grand ⟨large⟩ scale; in a big way; in grand style; [lim.] think ⟨plan etc⟩ big.

Но прежде чем делать модели, нужна теория. Будут разрабатывать математический аппарат. Пойдут симпозиумы, конгрессы и т.п. Создадут институты. Делать, как говорится, так по-большому! У нас всё с размахом делается (Зиновьев 1). "But before you make your models, you have to have a theory. So they'll have to develop a conceptual mathematical scheme. There'll be conferences and congresses and so on. Institutes will be founded. If the thing's going to be done at all, it had better be done on a grand scale. We always think big" (1a).

P-66 • ПО ЗРЕ́ЛОМ РАЗМЫШЛЕ́НИИ [PrepP; Invar; sent adv; fixed WO] after having considered sth. anew: upon ⟨on⟩ serious ⟨mature, sober⟩ reflection; after giving it serious thought; after careful consideration; having thought it over.

«Я нарочно распространил слух, что уехал, а сам остался ещё на несколько дней, чтобы дать вам и Ларисе Фёдоровне время по-новому передумать затронутые нами вопросы, и по зрелом размышлении прийти, может быть, к менее опрометчивому решению» (Пастернак 1). "I purposely spread the rumor that I had left, and stayed for a few more days, to give you and Larissa Fyodorovna time to rethink the questions we had touched upon and on mature reflection perhaps come to a less reckless decision" (1b).

P-67 • РАЗМЯГЧЕ́НИЕ МО́ЗГА ⟨МОЗГО́В coll⟩ [NP; fixed WO] a person's temporary inability to think logically, react appropriately, understand sth. (because of extreme fatigue, unbearable heat, excessive drinking etc; also a more permanent condition associated with advanced age): softening of the brain; loss of mind ⟨mental faculties⟩; feeble-mindedness; [of old age] dotage; || у него что, размягчение мозгов? ≃ has his brain softened?; has he lost his mind ⟨his senses, his wits⟩, or what?; is he out of his mind?; what, is his mind gone ⟨has he gone soft in the head⟩?; [of old age] has he outlived his wits?

…Люди, подобные Негодяеву, всегда отчаянные теоретики и предполагают в смерде одну способность: быть твёрдым в бедствиях. Поэтому они отнимали у смерда кашу и бросали собакам. Теперь этот взгляд значительно изменился, чему, конечно, не в малой степени содействовало и размягчение мозгов — тогдашняя модная болезнь (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). …People like Sonovabitchev are always ghastly theoreticians and assume that the peasant has a single ability: to be steadfast in disaster. Therefore they had taken away the peasants' kasha and thrown it to the dogs. Now this view had changed considerably, a change which was promoted in no small degree, of course, by softening of the brain—a then-stylish illness (1a).

< Orig. a medical term denoting degeneration of cerebral tissues, presently used to describe everyday situations.

P-68 • БОЛЬША́Я РА́ЗНИЦА [NP; sing only; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: это, infin, or subord clause or clauses); fixed WO] some circumstance (action etc) is entirely different from another previously mentioned circumstance (action etc): это большая разница ≃ (there's ⟨it makes⟩) a big ⟨great⟩ difference; it ⟨that⟩ makes all the difference; that's ⟨it's⟩ totally different.

«Не понимаю тебя. Годы без них обходился, ничего про них не знал, не тужил. А теперь не сегодня-завтра с ними свидишься, и чем радоваться, панихиду по них поёшь». — «То прежде, а то теперь, большая разница» (Пастернак 1). "I don't understand you. For years you've been doing without them, didn't know about them, didn't grieve. And now, when you may see them any day, instead of being glad, you sing a dirge for them." " That was then, but this is now—a big difference" (1b).

P-69 • КАКА́Я РА́ЗНИЦА *(кому)? [NP; Invar; usu. indep. clause; fixed WO] does it really make any difference?: what's the difference?; what difference does it (really) make?; what do I ⟨you etc⟩ care?; [lim.] isn't it all the same anyway?

Ирина Викторовна тотчас выгнала Мишеля из комнаты No 475, причём, будто бы оговорившись, назвала его Анатолем… Он возмутился, а Ирина Викторовна сказала ему, махнув рукой: «Да ну, не всё ли равно? Мишель, Анатоль — какая разница?» (Залыгин 1). Irina Viktorovna lost no time in driving Michel out of Room 475. In a deliberate slip of the tongue she called him Anatole…. He bridled, but Irina Viktorovna simply waved her hand and said, "Come on! What does it matter? Michel or Anatole—what's the difference?" (1a). ♦ …В сущности, какая разница, на двадцать лет раньше ли, позже ли родился и умер Державин?.. (Терц 3). …What difference does it really make whether Derzhavin died twenty years earlier or later than he did?… (3a). ♦ Ах, какая тебе разница, кто он… не всё ли равно! (Битов 2). Oh, what do you care who it was—what does it matter! (2a).

Р-70 • БЕЗ РА́ЗНИЦЫ (кому) coll [PrepP; subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. это or a clause) or impers predic with быть$_{ø}$] (the difference between two or more options is) not important (to the person in question): X-у (это) ~ ≃ it doesn't matter (to X); it makes no ⟨it doesn't make any⟩ difference (to X); it's all the same (to X); X doesn't care; it (all) comes (down) to the same thing; it all amounts to the same thing; [as a response to a question] no difference.

«Когда я „кия" крикну, нажми клавишу». — «Какую?» — «А без разницы» (Пелевин 1). "When I shout 'kiyai,' press a key." "Which one?" "It doesn't matter" (1a).

Р-71 • ДВЕ БОЛЬШИ́Е РА́ЗНИЦЫ coll [NP; pl only; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: any two common nouns, infinitives, or clauses), usu. pres; fixed WO] two people (things, or phenomena, or two groups of people, things, or phenomena) are totally different, defy comparison: X и Y — две большие разницы ≃ there is a big ⟨great⟩ difference between X and Y; there is a world of difference between X and Y; thing X and thing Y are two very ⟨totally⟩ different things.

«Она [Варвара] и мои сёстры — это… две большие разницы. Бойкие барышни, живые… Да и молодые, — самая старшая втрое моложе твоей Варвары» (Сологуб 1). "She [Varvara] and my sisters? Listen here… there is a great difference between them. They [my sisters] are lively young ladies, full of pep…. And they are young, why, the very oldest is three times younger than your Varvara" (1a).

Р-72 • РА́ЗНЫЕ РА́ЗНОСТИ ⟨РА́ЗНАЯ РА́ЗНОСТЬ⟩ [NP; fixed WO] 1. [obj or subj] miscellaneous things, objects, phenomena etc perceived as a conglomeration of items: all sorts ⟨kinds⟩ of stuff ⟨things, goods etc⟩; a variety of things ⟨sundries, sights etc⟩; highly varied assortment ⟨set etc⟩; (various ⟨random⟩ and) sundry things; [of material objects only] (all kinds ⟨sorts⟩ of) sundries; (all kinds of) odds and ends; all manner of things.

…Мальчик перевёл бинокль на свой двор. Куры, индюшки с индюшатами, топор, прислонённый к чурбаку, дымящий самовар и разные разности на подворье оказались такими невероятно большими, так близко они находились, что мальчик невольно протянул к ним руку (Айтматов 1). …The lad shifted the binoculars to his own yard. Chickens, turkeys and turkey-poults, an axe leaning against a block, a smoking samovar and all kinds of stuff cluttered around the house—all these things became so unbelievably big and seemed so close that the lad involuntarily reached out his hand to them (1b). ♦ Вот и лес отвалился, остался где-то сзади, и река ушла куда-то в сторону, навстречу грузовику сыпалась разная разность: какие-то заборы с караульными будками и штабеля дров, высоченные столбы и какие-то мачты, а на мачтах нанизанные катушки, груды щебня, земля, исполосованная каналами, — словом, чувствовалось, что вот-вот она, Москва, тут же, вон за поворотом, и сейчас навалится и охватит (Булгаков 9). And now the wood receded, remained far behind, and the river veered off somewhere. A variety of sights rushed out helter-skelter to meet the truck: fences with sentry boxes, stacks of wood, tremendously high poles and masts with spools strung on them, piles of rubble, earth slashed with canals. The traveler felt that Moscow was right there, around the corner; in a moment it would pile itself upon him, suck him in (9a).

2. [usu. pl; used as direct or prep obj, mainly with verbs of speaking] various topics, subjects of conversation, ideas, thoughts etc: all sorts ⟨kinds, manner⟩ of things; various (and sundry) things; anything and everything; this and that; [lim.] everything under the sun.

Старушки любили посидеть на солнышке, поговорить о разных разностях. The old women loved to sit in the sun and talk about various and sundry things. ♦ Вадим рассуждал о разных разностях, перескакивал с оправдания Димитрова на постановку «Мёртвых душ» во МХАТе, с «нового курса» Рузвельта на смерть Луначарского в Ментоне (Рыбаков 2). Vadim was holding forth on everything under the sun, jumping from the Reichstag fire to the new production of Dead Souls at the Moscow Arts, from Roosevelt's New Deal to the death of Lunacharsky in Menton (2a).

Р-73 • РА́ЗОМ ⟨ТО⟩ ГУ́СТО, РА́ЗОМ ⟨ТО⟩ ПУ́СТО; СЕГО́ДНЯ ГУ́СТО, А ЗА́ВТРА ПУ́СТО [saying] there is either a lot of sth. or none at all: ≃ (it's) feast or famine; (it's) either feast or famine ⟨a feast or a famine⟩.

Р-74 • ЧТОБ ТЕБЯ́ ⟨ЕГО́ и т.п.⟩ РАЗОРВА́ЛО!; ЧТО́Б ТЕБЯ́ ⟨ЕГО́ и т.п.⟩! all highly coll, rude [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] (used to express one's anger, indignation at s.o.) may terrible things happen to you: чтоб тебя разорвало! ≃ damn ⟨darn, blast⟩ you!; (you can) go to hell!; the ⟨to⟩ hell with you!; the devil take you!; may you burn ⟨fry⟩ in hell!

Собаки с раздирающим душу визгом бросились на него [медведя] и отскочили… «Ах, чтоб тебя!» — с болью крикнул Семён (Тендряков 1). The dogs flung themselves at the bear with ear-splitting yelps, but fell back at once. "Damn you," Simon shouted with exasperation (1a). ♦ «Захар!» — кликнул Обломов. «О, чтоб вас там!»… (Гончаров 1). "Zakhar!" Oblomov called. "Oh, the devil take you!"… (1a).

Р-75 • ХОТЬ (ПОПОЛА́М) РАЗОРВИ́СЬ coll [хоть + VP$_{imper}$; these forms only; fixed WO] 1. [usu. subord clause] whatever you do, however much you try, you cannot attain the desired result: no matter how hard you try; try as you might; try as hard as you like; knock yourself out.

Асеев записал слова Есенина: «Никто тебя знать не будет, если не писать лирики: на фунт помолу нужен фунт навозу — вот что нужно. А без славы ничего не будет, хоть ты пополам разорвись — тебя не услышат» (Гладков 1). Aseyev wrote down his [Yesenin's] remarks word for word: "If you don't write lyrics, no one will ever know you: for every pound of flour, you need a pound of dung. Without fame, you won't get anywhere, try as hard as you like—no one will listen" (1a).

2. [usu. impers predic] (used when s.o. has to do several things at once, be in several places at the same time) it is very difficult for s.o. to cope with all the things he has to do simultaneously: I have ⟨he has etc⟩ only got two hands (, after all); there is only one of me ⟨him etc⟩.

«Хозяйство, дети — всё на мне, — жаловалась Мария, — всё приходится самой делать. Хоть разорвись…» "It's all on my shoulders," Maria complained, "the housework, the kids. I have to do everything myself, and I've only got two hands after all."

Р-76 • В ДРУГО́М ⟨ИНО́М⟩ РАЗРЕ́ЗЕ coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv] differently (than indicated or implied): in a different light ⟨way, sense⟩; from another ⟨a different⟩ angle.

P-77 • В РАЗРЕ́ЗЕ чего, каком coll [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] (when looked at) from the indicated perspective, in the indicated respect: in a [AdjP] light ⟨way⟩; from a [AdjP] angle.

Ваша точка зрения мне ясна. Теперь давайте посмотрим на эту проблему в другом разрезе. I understand your point of view, but now let's look at this problem from another angle.

P-78 • В ТАКО́М РАЗРЕ́ЗЕ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] in the fashion indicated or implied: (in) that ⟨this⟩ way; like that ⟨this⟩; in such a way; thus.

P-79 • НИ РА́ЗУ НЕ… [Invar; adv] not at any time, not on any occasion: never (once); (never,) not once; not a single time.

…Надо отдать ему должное, ни разу в жизни он ещё не был так тонок, точен, чуток — так умён (Битов 2). …To give him his due, he had never in his life been so subtle, exact, sensitive—so intelligent (2a). ♦ Митя хоть и знал этого купца в лицо, но знаком с ним не был и даже ни разу не говорил с ним (Достоевский 1). Though Mitya knew the merchant by sight, he was not acquainted with him and had never once spoken to him (1a). ♦ «Вон бери пример, здесь старуха одна едет, она за всю жизнь ни разу на своего старика не крикнула» (Распутин 1). "You ought to take a lesson from that old lady in our compartment. She's never yelled at her old man in her life, not once…" (1a).

P-80 • ПО МОЕМУ́ ⟨ТВОЕМУ́, ЕГО́* и т.п.⟩ РАЗУМЕ́НИЮ coll [PrepP; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] as I (you etc) understand the issue in question: as I ⟨you, etc⟩ see it; the way I ⟨you etc⟩ see it; in my ⟨your etc⟩ opinion ⟨perception, view, judgment⟩; to my ⟨your etc⟩ way of thinking; [1st pers only] to my mind.

Мужний высокий чин и большую должность она считала как бы себе принадлежащими и умела стребовать всё положенное ей, по её разумению (Улицкая 1). She regarded her husband's high rank and senior position as effectively her own private property and was fully capable of demanding all that, in her perception, was her due (1a). ♦ Я отвечал Пугачёву: Слушай; скажу тебе всю правду. Рассуди, могу ли я признать в тебе государя? Ты человек смышлёный: ты сам увидел бы, что я лукавствую. «Кто же я таков, по твоему разумению?» — «Бог тебя знает; но кто бы ты ни был, ты шутишь опасную шутку» (Пушкин 2). "Listen," I replied, "I shall tell you the whole truth. Judge for yourself: how can I acknowledge you as my sovereign? You're no fool—you'd see straight through me." "Who am I then, in your judgment?" "God alone knows. But whoever you may be, you're playing a dangerous game" (2c).

P-81 • ПО СВОЕМУ́ РАЗУМЕ́НИЮ действовать, поступать [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to pursue) what one considers the best course of action: do what ⟨act as⟩ one thinks ⟨deems⟩ best; do as one sees fit.

«Вы, Антон Антонович, напишите брату, и пусть он с государем побеседует… А ты, Матвей, действуй по своему разумению» (Акунин 6). "Anton Antonovich, write to your brother, let him have a word with the emperor… And you, Matvei, act as you think best" (6a).

P-82 • (И) РАД БЫ В РАЙ, ДА ГРЕХИ́ НЕ ПУСКА́ЮТ [saying] s.o. (usu. the speaker) would like to do sth., but cannot for reasons beyond his control: ≃ I would if I could (, but I can't so I won't ⟨shan't⟩).

[author's usage] «Документы?» Паспорт свой Влад подавал уже безо всякой надежды. И действительно, слегка полистав серую книжицу, кадровик безо всякого выражения обронил: «Не пойдёт… Рад бы в рай, да, сам понимаешь, начальство мне оформление твоё не санкционирует…» (Максимов 2). [context transl] "Papers?" Vlad handed over his passport, but without hope. As he had expected, having flipped through the gray booklet the man gave it back with an expressionless face and said: "No good…. Myself, I'd be happy to take you on, but you know how it is: my boss would never allow you to sign on…" (2a).

P-83 • РАЙ ЗЕМНО́Й [NP; sing only; usu. this WO] a beautiful place where one can feel happy and at peace: paradise ⟨heaven⟩ on earth; (a real) paradise.

P-84 • В РАЙО́НЕ чего [PrepP; Invar; Prep] 1. [the resulting PrepP is adv] near (some place): in the area of; not far from; in the vicinity of.

«Знаете, готовится наше наступление в районе заводов, собраны такие силы, каких тут никогда ещё не бывало» (Гроссман 2). "We're preparing an offensive in the area of the factories… There's never been such a concentration of forces" (2a). ♦ «Моя охрана упустила его вечером на базаре после того, как он покинул дворец Каифы. Как это произошло, не постигаю. Этого ещё не было в моей жизни. Он был взят под наблюдение тотчас же после нашего разговора. Но в районе базара он переложился куда-то, сделал такую странную петлю, что бесследно ушёл» (Булгаков 9). "My men lost him this evening in the marketplace after he had left Kaifa's palace. How that happened, I do not know. It has never happened to me before. He was put under observation right after our talk. But in the vicinity of the marketplace he got away and covered his tracks so thoroughly that he vanished without a trace" (9c).

2. coll [the resulting PrepP is adv or modif] (of time or, less often, percentage, age etc) fairly close to (the figure indicated): about; around; approximately; in the neighborhood of; [lim.] nearly.

P-85 • КАК РА́К красный, покраснеть coll [как + NP; Invar; adv (intensif)] (to be, grow) very (red in the face): (be ⟨turn⟩) (as) red as a beet ⟨a lobster⟩; (turn ⟨flush⟩) beet red; (blush) furiously ⟨scarlet, beet red⟩.

Увидев Наташу, Николай Иванович обомлел. Несколько справившись с собою, весь красный как рак, он объявил, что счёл долгом поднять рубашечку, лично принести её… (Булгаков 9). Nikolai Ivanovich took one look at Natasha and was stupefied. Red as a lobster, he managed to regain his composure somewhat, and announced that he felt it was his duty to pick up the chemise and return it in person... (9c).

P-86 • КАК РАК НА МЕЛИ́ сидеть, оказаться и т.п. coll [как + NP; Invar; adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: human); fixed WO] (to be, find o.s.) in a very difficult position: in a tight spot; in a (real) jam ⟨fix, pickle, pinch⟩; up the creek (without a paddle).

P-87 • КОГДА́ ⟨ПОКА́⟩ РАК (НА ГОРЕ́) СВИ́СТНЕТ highly coll [subord clause; adv] in the very distant future if at all, probably never: when hell freezes over; on a cold day in hell ⟨in July⟩; when pigs fly; when ⟨not until⟩ the cows come home.

«Как ты думаешь, когда он вернёт деньги?» — «Когда рак свистнет». "When do you think he'll pay me back?" "When hell freezes over."

P-88 • ЗНАТЬ, ГДЕ РА́КИ ЗИМУ́ЮТ coll [VP; subj: human; pres or past; only знать conjugates; fixed WO] to be clever, sometimes sly, and know how to act to one's own advantage: X знает, где раки зимуют ≃ X knows the score ⟨what's what, his way around⟩; X knows how to look out for himself ⟨for number one⟩; X knows on which side his bread is buttered.

P-89 • ПОКАЗА́ТЬ, ГДЕ РА́КИ ЗИМУ́ЮТ кому coll [VP; subj: human; most often 1st pers, fut; only показать conjugates; fixed WO] (often used as a threat) to make things very unpleasant for s.o. (by punishing him, proving him wrong, showing one's superiority etc): X покажет Y-у, где раки зимуют ≃ X will show Y a thing or two ⟨what's what, what X can do⟩; X will give Y something to remember X by; Y will know better when X is through ⟨done⟩ with him.

«Ничего, Иосиф! — воскликнул Ворошилов, потрясённый тем, что вождь не только понимает его обиды, но и ставит их рядом со своими, — ты им ещё покажешь, где раки зимуют…» (Искандер 3). "Never mind, Iosif!" Voroshilov exclaimed, electrified by the fact that the Leader not only understood his hurt feelings but placed them on a level with his own. "You'll show them a thing or two" (3a).

P-90 • УЗНА́ТЬ, ГДЕ РА́КИ ЗИМУ́ЮТ coll [VP; subj: human; usu. 2nd or 3rd pers, fut; only узнать conjugates; fixed WO] 1. to (begin to) experience serious difficulties, misfortune: X узнает, где раки зимуют ≃ X will find out what real trouble is ⟨what tough sledding is all about⟩; X will get a taste of real hardship ⟨trouble⟩; X is in for a rough ride.

2. (used as a threat or warning) to be punished severely: X узнает, где раки зимуют ≃ X will get what's coming to him; person Y will give X something to remember Y by; person Y will show X a thing or two ⟨what's what⟩.

«Руки у меня связаны, — горько жаловался он [градоначальник] глуповцам, — а то узнали бы вы у меня, где раки зимуют!» (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). "My hands are tied," he [the governor] complained bitterly to the Glupovites. "Otherwise I'd give you something to remember me by!" (1b).

P-91 • В РА́МКАХ чего [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] including only (what is indicated): within the framework ⟨bounds, limits, context⟩ of.

«Учтите, вас провоцируют на незаконные действия. Не поддавайтесь на провокацию. Действуйте исключительно в рамках закона» (Войнович 3). "Watch it, they'll get you to do something illegal. Don't yield to provocation. Act exclusively within the limits of the law" (3a). ♦ Большевистское поколение гражданской войны не верило в ценность свободы личности, свободы слова и печати в рамках буржуазной России (Гроссман 1). That Bolshevik generation of the Civil War did not believe in freedom of the individual, freedom of speech, freedom of the press —not in the context of bourgeois Russia (1a).

P-92 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ СЕБЯ́ В РА́МКАХ ⟨В ГРАНИ́ЦАХ obs⟩ (ПРИЛИ́ЧИЯ) [VP; subj: human] to conduct o.s. in a restrained, correct manner, not go beyond the accepted rules in one's behavior: X держит себя в рамках (приличия) ≃ X does not overstep his bounds ⟨limits⟩; X adheres to ⟨does not overstep⟩ the bounds of propriety; X keeps himself (with)in (certain) bounds; X stays within (certain) limits ⟨bounds⟩; X does not cross the line (of acceptable behavior).

«По-моему, — сказал Виктор, — у культурных людей гораздо больше оснований напиваться, чем у некультурных». — «Возможно, — согласился Павор. — Однако культурный человек обязан держать себя в рамках» (Стругацкие 1). "In my opinion," said Victor, "civilized people have far more reason to get drunk than uncivilized ones." "Possibly," said Pavor. "Except that a civilized person is obliged to keep himself in certain bounds" (1a).

P-93 • ВЫХОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЙТИ ЗА РА́МКИ чего [VP; subj: any common noun; fixed WO] to go beyond the indicated standard or specified guidelines: X вышел за рамки Y-а ≃ X went beyond ⟨outside⟩ the bounds of Y; X exceeded ⟨went beyond⟩ the limits ⟨bounds⟩ of Y; X went beyond ⟨outside⟩ the confines of Y; [with inanim subjects only] X extended beyond the confines ⟨the realm⟩ of Y; || Neg X не выходит за рамки Y-а ≃ X remains ⟨stays⟩ within the bounds ⟨confines⟩ of Y.

Потом, когда я останусь в своей единственной комнате и тут же надо будет работать, и тут же будет плакать ребёнок, я смогу утешиться тем, что я не вышел за рамки закона (Войнович 3). Later on, when I'm still in my single room and have to work there and listen to the baby cry, I'll be able to take comfort in the fact that I didn't go beyond the limits of the law (3a).

P-94 • ВЫХОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЙТИ ЗА РА́МКИ ПРИЛИ́ЧИЯ ⟨ПРИЛИ́ЧИЙ⟩ [VP; subj: human or abstr (поведение, поступок etc); often neg; fixed WO] to be impertinent or do something impertinent, sth. that is considered inappropriate, is not in keeping with societal norms of behavior: X выходит за рамки приличия ≃ X oversteps ⟨crosses, goes beyond, transgresses, breaches⟩ the bounds of propriety; X is outside ⟨person X does not stay within⟩ the bounds of (due) propriety; thing X is not conducted ⟨done etc⟩ within the bounds of (due) propriety; thing X is a breach of civility; X is beyond the pale.

Генерал учтиво покивал, но, странное дело, посматривал на молодого человека не без жалости. Эраст Петрович над этим ломать голову не стал — со временем разъяснится — и снова обернулся к князю. Тот тоже вовсю участвовал в этом безмолвном, но, впрочем, не выходившим за рамки приличий смотринном ритуале (Акунин 3). The general nodded courteously, and yet the glance he cast at the young man seemed strangely tinged with pity. Erast Petrovich did not allow this to bother him—everything would be made clear in good time—and he turned back to the prince, who was also participating in this silent ritual of mutual inspection, conducted circumspectly within the bounds of due propriety (3a).

P-95 • ВОЗВОДИ́ТЬ/ВОЗВЕСТИ́ кого-что В РАНГ кого-чего lit [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to assign s.o. or sth. to a higher position or standing than he or it occupies: X возвёл Y в ранг Z-а ≃ X elevated ⟨raised, promoted⟩ Y to the rank ⟨status, level⟩ of Z; X made Z out of Y; X elevated ⟨raised, promoted⟩ Y's status to the Z level; [lim.] X promoted Y to serve as Z.

Зачем вы возводите слухи в ранг абсолютной истины? Why do you elevate mere rumor to absolute truth status? ♦ Мы разложили на полу постель, табуретку возвели в ранг стола, и я пошёл искать щепки для плиты (Кузнецов 1). We made our bed in the corner, promoted a stool to the rank of a table; and I went off to look for wood to heat the stove (1a). We made a bed on the floor, promoted the stool to serve as a table, and I went off to find some sticks for fire (1b).

P-96 • В РА́НГЕ кого-чего [PrepP; Invar; Prep] in the function of: as; in the capacity ⟨role⟩ of.

Не примкнув ни к одной из сторон, он выступил в ранге посредника и сумел уладить конфликт. Not siding with either party, he functioned as mediator and was able to resolve the conflict.

P-97 • ПО РАНЖИ́РУ [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. obs (of people) in ascending or descending order based upon height, size: according to height ⟨size⟩; in size order ⟨order of size⟩; by height ⟨size⟩.

И дед принялся рассказывать хорошо известную мальчику историю, как выстроили их, трудармейцев, привезённых с разных концов страны, в длиннющий строй по ранжиру, и оказалось, что киргизы почти все в самом конце… (Айтматов 1). And grandfather fell to telling the story, well known to the lad, of how they, the labour-soldiers who'd been transported there from various corners of the country, were set out in a long, long line according to height. It turned out that the Kirghizians were almost all at the very end… (1b).

2. in order based on seniority, rank, or significance: according to rank ⟨seniority, status⟩; by rank ⟨seniority⟩; in order of importance; in accordance with their ⟨our, your⟩ importance ⟨status etc⟩.

Ну что ж… пора выстроить по ранжиру должностных лиц, вступивших по такому ерундовому делу на путь прямого нарушения… советских законов (Войнович 3). Well, now it's time… to arrange in order of importance the public servants who, over such a trivial matter, headed toward direct violation of Soviet law… (3a).

P-98 • СА́МОЕ РА́ННЕЕ [AdjP; Invar; used as a restr marker; fixed WO] used when indicating or calculating the earliest possible time for some action or event to begin or occur: at the (very) earliest; [lim.] in no case earlier than (the time indicated).

Мы вернёмся в среду вечером самое раннее, а скорее всего в четверг. We'll be coming back Wednesday evening at the earliest, but more likely on Thursday.

P-99 • РА́НО ИЛИ ПО́ЗДНО [AdvP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (sth. will certainly happen, come to pass etc) sometime in the future: sooner or later; in the end; ultimately.

Тайное рано или поздно становится явным, говорит Мазила (Зиновьев 1). "Sooner or later secrets become widely known," said Dauber (1a).

P-100 • БЕРЕДИ́ТЬ/РАЗБЕРЕДИ́ТЬ (старую ⟨душевную, сердечную⟩) РА́НУ чью, кого, кому, в ком; БЕРЕДИ́ТЬ/РАЗБЕРЕДИ́ТЬ РА́НЫ [VP; subj: human or abstr] to hurt s.o. by saying or doing sth. that is particularly painful to him: X бередит Y-ову рану ≃ X is rubbing salt in Y's ⟨the⟩ wound; X is twisting a ⟨the⟩ knife in Y's wound; || X разбередил Y-овы старые раны ≃ X rubbed salt in Y's old wounds; X reopened Y's old wounds ⟨sores⟩.

Он… мирно и с сочувствием расспрашивал об отношениях с женой, не бередя моих ран, а так, как бы между прочим (Лимонов 1). In a peaceful and sympathetic way he inquired about my relationship with my wife, not to reopen my wounds, he just asked, as if in passing (1a).

P-101 • РАСПОЛОЖЕ́НИЕ ⟨СОСТОЯ́НИЕ⟩ ДУ́ХА rather lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a temporary disposition, state of one's feelings: frame ⟨state⟩ of mind; mood; spirits; humor.

А Чичиков в довольном расположении духа сидел в своей бричке, катившейся давно по столбовой дороге (Гоголь 3). As for Chichikov, he was in a contented frame of mind, sitting in his britska, which had for some time been rolling along the highroad (3c).

P-102 • В РАСПОРЯЖЕ́НИИ чьём, кого-чего быть$_{ø}$, находиться; В своём РАСПОРЯЖЕ́НИИ иметь кого-что; В РАСПОРЯЖЕ́НИЕ чьё, кого-чего поступать, являться; давать, получать, предоставлять кого-что и т.п. В первых числах августа смотритель получил приказ откомандировать Кошевого в распоряжение станичного правления (Шолохов 4). …In the early days of August the overseer received orders to put Koshevoi at the disposal of the stanitsa authorities (4a).

P-103 • РАСПРА́ВА КОРО́ТКАЯ ⟨КОРОТКА́⟩ у кого (с кем); РАСЧЁТ КОРО́ТКИЙ all coll [VP$_{subj}$ with быть$_{ø}$; fixed WO (var. with short-form Adj)] s.o. takes quick and decisive punitive action (with another or others) (may refer to a one-time action or to the way s.o. generally treats a specific person or type of person): у X-а с Y-ом расправа будет короткая ≃ X will make short work of Y; with X, justice will be swiftly executed; with X, retribution will be swift; || у X-а с такими, как Y, расправа короткая ≃ X makes short work of people like Y; X has a quick way of handling ⟨dealing with⟩ people like Y; with X, justice is quickly executed; with X, retribution is swift.

У него [батюшки] расправа была коротка. Он тотчас потребовал каналью француза. Доложили, что мусье давал мне свой урок. Батюшка пошёл в мою комнату. В это время Бопре спал на кровати сном невинности… Батюшка за ворот приподнял его с кровати, вытолкал из дверей и в тот же день прогнал со двора… (Пушкин 2). With him [my father], justice was swiftly executed. He instantly sent for that rogue, the Frenchman. He was informed that "Monsoo" was giving me my lesson. My father went up to my room. At that moment Beaupré was on the bed, sleeping the sleep of the innocent…. My father lifted him off the bed by his collar, pushed him out of the door and banished him from the premises that very same day… (2b).

P-104 • НА РАСПУ́ТЬЕ; НА ПЕРЕПУ́ТЬЕ [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human), adv, or nonagreeing modif] to be undecided, not know how to act at a time when one must make a decision: (be) in a quandary; [in refer. to a crucial decision only] (be ⟨stand⟩) at a ⟨the⟩ crossroads.

Новое поколение писателей романов не пишет, но оно стоит на распутье, потому что мысль не созревает… (Мандельштам 2). The new generation of prose writers has renounced the novel, but they are in a quandary because no new ideas have crystallized… (2a).

P-105 • В РАССРО́ЧКУ покупать, продавать что и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to buy or sell sth., paying for it or receiving payment) on a gradual basis: on an ⟨the⟩ installment plan; in installments; on time.

На телевизор у нас деньги есть, а мебель придётся купить в рассрочку. We have the money for a TV, but we'll have to buy furniture on the installment plan.

Р-106 • С РАССТАНО́ВКОЙ ⟨less common С РАССТАНО́ВКАМИ⟩ сказать, произнести, спросить и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] making stops between words or phrases when speaking (usu. in order to add importance to what one is saying): (say sth., speak) slowly ⟨unhurriedly⟩ and deliberately; (speak, utter sth.) with pauses (between words); pausing between words; (speak, say sth.) in measured tones; (utter, pronounce, ask sth.) emphatically ⟨with (emphasis and) deliberation⟩.

«Вы так разочарованы?» — спросил Базаров. «Нет, — промолвила с расстановкой Одинцова, — но я не удовлетворена» (Тургенев 2). "Are you that disenchanted?" Bazarov asked. "No," Odintsova replied slowly and deliberately, "but I'm not satisfied" (2g).

Р-107 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ НА (ПОЧТИ́ТЕЛЬНОМ ⟨ИЗВЕ́СТНОМ⟩) РАССТОЯ́НИИ кого; ДЕРЖА́ТЬ В ПОЧТИ́ТЕЛЬНОМ ⟨ИЗВЕ́СТНОМ⟩ ОТДАЛЕ́НИИ rare [VP; subj: human] to keep s.o. from becoming too close to or friendly with oneself: X держит Y-а на (почтительном) расстоянии ≃ X keeps Y at arm's length ⟨at a (respectable) distance⟩; X doesn't let Y get too close.

У Рины знакомых здесь было не меньше, чем у Кости. Компанейская, со всеми ладила, но умела держать людей на расстоянии (Рыбаков 2). Rina knew as many people as did Kostya. A companionable girl, she was on good terms with everyone, but she also knew how to keep people at arm's length (2a).

Р-108 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬСЯ НА (ПОЧТИ́ТЕЛЬНОМ ⟨ИЗВЕ́СТНОМ⟩) РАССТОЯ́НИИ от кого; ДЕРЖА́ТЬСЯ В ПОЧТИ́ТЕЛЬНОМ ⟨ИЗВЕ́СТНОМ⟩ ОТДА́ЛЕНИИ rare [VP; subj: human] to avoid becoming too close to or friendly with s.o.: X держится от Y-а на (почтительном) расстоянии ≃ X keeps his ⟨a safe, a respectable⟩ distance from Y; X steers clear of Y; X gives Y a wide berth.

После одной кулачной истории я держался от него на расстоянии (Довлатов 1). After one incident of fisticuffs I learned to keep my distance from him… (1a).

Р-109 • РАССУ́ДОК ⟨УМ, РА́ЗУМ⟩ (у) кого, чей ПОМРАЧИ́ЛСЯ (от чего) lit [VP_{subj}; past only] s.o. lost (permanently or temporarily) the ability to think clearly: у X-а помрачился рассудок (от Y-а) ≃ X's mind ⟨thinking⟩ got ⟨became, was⟩ clouded; X's mind came ⟨was⟩ unhinged; X's brain ⟨mind, thinking⟩ was addled; Y clouded X's mind ⟨thinking⟩; Y unhinged X's mind. ○ ПОМРАЧЕ́НИЕ РАССУ́ДКА ⟨УМА́, РА́ЗУМА⟩ [NP] ≃ clouding ⟨unhinging⟩ of the mind.

«О, мадам, вы даже не представляете себе, насколько тщательно их [драгоценности] искал новый раджа! …У бедняги от алчности помрачился рассудок» (Акунин 7). "Oh, madam, you cannot even imagine how thoroughly the new rajah searched for them [the jewels]. …Greed unhinged the poor man's mind" (7a).

Р-110 • ТЕПЛИ́ЧНОЕ ⟨ОРАНЖЕРЕ́ЙНОЕ⟩ РАСТЕ́НИЕ; ТЕПЛИ́ЧНЫЙ ЦВЕТО́К usu. disapprov [NP; sing only; usu. this WO] a spoiled, overprotected person who is ill-suited for life (as a result of his upbringing, way of life etc): hothouse flower.

Её невестка оказалась тепличным растением: не умеет ни готовить, ни убирать. It turns out that her daughter-in-law is a hothouse flower: she can neither cook nor clean.

Р-111 • РАСТИ́ НАД СОБО́Й highly coll, humor or iron [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to work, make an effort to improve one's standing, status, cultural level etc: X растёт над собой ≃ X is working ⟨trying⟩ to improve ⟨to better⟩ himself; [lim.] X is trying to get culture; [of o.s., in response to the interlocutor's remark, praise etc] we're trying; we're doing our best ⟨the best we can, what little we can⟩.

…Вот посмотрите, за один только год сколько скопил полных собраний, не у каждого потомственного интеллигента найдёшь… Может, вы думаете, дорогая, что я эти книжки-то солю? Читаю, дорогая, вникаю, даже делаю выписки. Постоянно приходится расти над собой, жизнь подсказывает (Аксёнов 12). [context transl] "…Take a look, think how many complete collections I got in just one year, not every hereditary intellectual would have so many…. Maybe you think I just salt these books away, darling? I read them, darling, delve, even take notes. You have to keep growing, life tells you that" (12a).

Р-112 • ВЫВОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ВЕСТИ ⟨ПУСКА́ТЬ/ПУСТИ́ТЬ, СПИ́СЫВАТЬ/СПИСА́ТЬ⟩ В РАСХО́Д кого coll; ПУСКА́ТЬ/ПУСТИ́ТЬ В РАСПЫ́Л кого highly coll [VP; subj: human] to execute s.o. by shooting him: X вывел Y-а в расход ≃ X liquidated ⟨shot⟩ Y; X did away with Y; X finished Y off.

«Привезли вчера дюжину абреков, — продолжал добродушный чекист, — похоже — пустят в расход…» (Искандер 3). "They brought in a dozen abreks [rebel outlaws] yesterday," the good-natured Chekist went on. "Looks like they're going to liquidate them" (3a).

Р-113 • ВВОДИ́ТЬ/ВВЕСТИ́ В РАСХО́Д(Ы) ⟨В ИЗДЕ́РЖКИ⟩ кого; ВВОДИ́ТЬ/ВВЕСТИ́ ⟨ВГОНЯ́ТЬ/ВОГНА́ТЬ⟩ В УБЫ́ТОК coll [VP: subj: human or abstr] to cause s.o. to spend money: X ввёл Y-а в расход ≃ X put Y out of pocket; X caused Y expense; X put Y to expense; [lim.] person X ran up Y's bill ⟨tab etc⟩.

«…Мы оба женимся, я на твоей бывшей невесте, а ты на этой… как её?» — «Шазине?!»… — «Да, — сказал дядя Сандро неумолимо… — Твои родственники ждут тебя с невестой, а получится, что ты ввёл их в расходы ради того, чтобы женить своего друга» (Искандер 5). "We're both getting married, I to your former bride and you to this—what's her name?" "Shazina?!"… "Yes," Uncle Sandro said relentlessly…. "Your relatives are expecting you with a bride, and it will look as if you've put them out of pocket to get your friend married" (5a).

Р-114 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ РАСЧЁТ coll [VP; subj: human] to leave one's job: X взял расчёт ≃ X quit (his job); X packed it in.

…Я с этого вторника не работаю у вас, беру расчёт (Соколов 1). …As of this Tuesday I'm not working there any more, I'm quitting (1a).

Р-115 • ПРИНИМА́ТЬ/ПРИНЯ́ТЬ ⟨БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ⟩ В РАСЧЁТ кого-что [VP; subj: human or collect] to consider s.o. or sth. in one's calculations, estimations, plans etc: X принимает в расчёт Y-а ≃ X takes Y into consideration; X gives consideration to Y; X takes thing Y into account; X takes account of thing Y; X makes allowances for Y; X allows for thing Y; X bears it in mind (that…); [lim.] X gives some weight to thing Y; X has person Y in mind; ‖ Neg X не принимает Y-а ⟨Y⟩ в расчёт ≃ X ignores Y.

«Вы можете в Москве в два дня сделать дело, честное слово! Вы верите мне?..» — «Надо принять в расчёт дорогу!» (Федин 1). "You can do your business in Moscow in two days, take my word for it! D'you believe me?…" "The journey has to be taken into account!" (1a).

P-116 • В РАСЧЁТЕ[1] (с кем) coll [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human)] not obliged or indebted to s.o. in any way: X с Y-ом в расчёте ≃ X and Y are even; X is (all) square with Y; X doesn't owe Y ⟨Y doesn't owe X⟩ a thing; [in refer. to money only] X doesn't owe Y ⟨Y doesn't owe X⟩ a kopeck ⟨a penny, a cent⟩.

«Колька пошутил, просто пошутил, ты его ударил. Всё, в расчёте. Хватит» (Гальего 1). "Kolka was joking, just joking, and you hit him. You're even. That's enough" (1a).

2. ~ для кого, кому [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: abstr)] sth. is intolerable (for s.o.): X для Y-а ~ ≃ X is more than Y can take ⟨bear, stand⟩; X turns Y's stomach; Y finds X unbearable; Y dreads X more than anything in the world.

«Да ты вникнул ли хорошенько, что значит переехать — а?..» — «И так не вникнул!» — смиренно отвечал Захар, готовый во всём согласиться с барином, лишь бы не доводить дела до патетических сцен, которые были для него хуже горькой редьки (Гончаров 1). "Have you really grasped what it means to move—hah?…" "I guess, I haven't," Zakhar replied humbly, ready to agree with anything to avoid another of those "pathetic" scenes, which he found unbearable (1b). "…Do you really have any idea of what it means to move?…" "Alright, I don't," Zakhar conceded meekly, more than ready to agree with his master on any subject if only to avoid the kind of harrowing scene he dreaded more than anything in the world (1c).

О том, чтобы Мольера хоронить по церковному обряду, не могло быть и речи. Грешный комедиант умер без покаяния и не отрёкшись от своей осуждаемой церковью профессии… (Булгаков 5). Burying Molière with the appropriate Church rites was out of the question. The sinful comedian died without a last confession and without repudiating his profession, which was condemned by the Church (5a).

P-144 • ВЕСТИ́ РЕЧЬ к чему, often к тому, что… [VP; subj: human] to have some goal or end in mind when saying sth.: к чему X ведёт речь? ≃ what is X getting ⟨driving⟩

Дед Момун глянул на него из угла, где сидел скорбный и тихий, и ничего не сказал, точно не понимал, о чём идёт речь (Айтматов 1). Grandfather Momun looked at him from the corner where he was sitting, mournful and silent. He said nothing, as if he did not understand what the boy was talking about (1b).

P-146 • РЕЧЬ ⟨ДЕ́ЛО⟩ ИДЁТ о ком-чём [VP_{subj}; fixed WO] the issue here is…: речь идёт об X-е ≃ what is involved here is X; it is a question ⟨a matter⟩ of X; the matter ⟨the question⟩ concerns ⟨involves⟩ X; this means X; the question ⟨the matter⟩ centers on X; the reference is to X.

[Михаил (волнуется):] …Давайте говорить серьёзно. Речь идёт о деле, а не о справедливости… (Горький 1). [M. (agitated):] …Can't we talk seriously? It's a question of good business practice, not of justice… (1b).

P-147 • СОЛОМО́НОВО РЕШЕ́НИЕ [NP; usu. sing; fixed WO] an unusually wise decision or ruling: a decision ⟨a judgment⟩ worthy of Solomon; a Solomon-like decision ⟨solution etc⟩; a decision as wise as (any of) Solomon's; Solomonic judgment.

Украинский ЦК, который в 1957 году возглавил Н. Подгорный, видимо, проценты посчитал, нашёл их неубедительными, и было принято соломоново решение: чтобы навсегда покончить с разговорами — уничтожить Бабий Яр и забыть о нём. Так началась вторая попытка вычеркнуть Бабий Яр из истории (Кузнецов 1). …The Ukrainian Central Committee, headed in 1957 by Nikolai Podgorny, apparently worked out the percentages, found them unconvincing and arrived at a Solomon-like solution—to put a stop once and for all to talk about Babi Yar, to destroy it and forget all about it. That marked the beginning of the second attempt to erase Babi Yar from history (1b).

< From the Bible (based on the parable in I Kings, 3:16–28).

Where is it?… [Galina:]

Let me go!… [Zilov:] Oh, of course. You're in a hurry… You can't wait to make a cuckold of me… (5a).

2. [subj: human, male] to take a man's wife as one's lover (thus humiliating, offending that man): X наставил Y-у рога ≃ X cuckolded Y; X fooled around with Y's wife.

Р-155 • ОБЛА́МЫВАТЬ/ОБЛОМА́ТЬ ⟨СЛОМА́ТЬ, СЛОМИ́ТЬ⟩ РОГА́ кому highly coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] to curb s.o.'s actions, suppress s.o., force s.o. to submit: X Y-у обломал рога ≃ X brought Y to heel; X put Y in Y's place.

Р-156 • ПО РОГА́М prison and camp slang [PrepP; Invar; usu. nonagreeing postmodif] removal of the rights of citizenship: disfranchisement; disenfranchisement.

«Вот я шестой год [в заключении] разменял. Имею… пятнадцать наличными и пять по рогам» (Копелев 1). "Now I've just finished my sixth year [of imprisonment]. I have fifteen years plus five of disenfranchisement" (1a).

Р-157 • СТА́ВИТЬ РОГА́ТКИ кому-чему coll [VP; subj: human or collect; obj: usu. human or collect] to (try to) impede s.o.'s efforts to accomplish sth., hinder an undertaking deliberately: X ставит Y-у рогатки ≃ X is tripping ⟨trying to trip⟩ Y up; X is upsetting ⟨trying to upset⟩ Y's applecart; X is putting hurdles ⟨obstacles⟩ in Y's way; X is getting in the way of thing Y.

Власти постоянно ставят рогатки коммерческим предприятиям: то ссуды не дают, то налоги повышают. The government is constantly putting hurdles in the way of commercial enterprises: one minute it refuses them loans, the next it raises their taxes.

Р-158 • ВСЯ́КОГО ⟨РА́ЗНОГО, РАЗЛИ́ЧНОГО⟩ РО́ДА [NP_{gen}; these forms only; nonagreeing modif; fixed WO] of all sorts: all kinds ⟨sorts, types⟩ of; of all kinds; of every kind ⟨sort⟩; any kind ⟨sort, type⟩ of.

[Грекова:] Вы так привыкли к разного рода резкостям, что мои слова едва ли будут вам в диковинку… (Чехов 1). [G.:] You're so used to all kinds of rudeness, I doubt if what I say will surprise you at all (1b).

Р-159 • ИЗ РО́ДА В РОД [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] from one generation to the next, by heritage: from generation to generation; generation after generation; for generations; through (the) generations.

«Это умение очень тонкое, которое из рода в род передаётся» (Каверин 1). "It's a very subtle skill, handed down from generation to generation" (1a).

Р-160 • ОСО́БОГО РО́ДА [NP_{gen}; Invar; nonagreeing modif; fixed WO] of a distinctive, singular type: a special ⟨particular⟩ type ⟨kind⟩ of.

Он с значительным видом сиживал в кабинете за этим чтением, сперва возложенным на себя как обязанность, а потом сделавшимся привычным занятием, доставлявшим ему особого рода удовольствие… (Толстой 7). He would sit in his study with a grave air, reading—a task he first imposed upon himself as a duty, but which afterwards became a habit affording him a special kind of pleasure… (7b).

Р-161 • СВОЕГО́ РО́ДА [NP_{gen}; Invar; nonagreeing modif; fixed WO] to a certain extent, from a certain standpoint: in a sense; in a way; in one's ⟨its⟩ (own) way; a kind ⟨a sort⟩ of; of a sort; of sorts; something of a…

Этические построения Чернышевского — своего рода попытка построить всё тот же перпетуум-мобиле, где двигатель-материя движет другую материю (Набоков 1). Chernyshevski's ethical structures are in their own way an attempt to construct the same old "perpetual motion" machine, where matter moves other matter (1a).

Р-162 • ТАКО́ГО ⟨ПОДО́БНОГО⟩ РО́ДА [NP_{gen}; these forms only; nonagreeing modif; fixed WO] of a comparable type, nature, quality, degree etc: such; of this ⟨that, a similar⟩ kind ⟨type, sort⟩; this ⟨that⟩ kind ⟨type, sort⟩ of; like this ⟨that⟩; similar; [lim.] of this nature.

Автор должен признаться, что весьма завидует аппетиту и желудку такого рода людей (Гоголь 3). The author must admit that he is quite envious of the appetite and digestion of this sort of people (3c). ♦ Подобного рода свидетельств у меня… очень много… (Салтыков-Щедрин 2). I possess a great deal of evidence of this nature… (2a).

Р-163 • В НЕ́КОТОРОМ РО́ДЕ [PrepP; Invar; usu. nonagreeing modif or adv; fixed WO] to a certain degree, in some respect: in a ⟨some⟩ way; in a certain sense; a kind ⟨sort⟩ of; of sorts; something of a [NP]; to some ⟨a certain⟩ extent; after a fashion; in a manner (of speaking).

«Но любишь ли ты меня?» — «То, что говорю, и есть в некотором роде объяснение в любви», — ответил Фёдор Константинович. «Мне мало „некоторого рода“» (Набоков 1). "But do you love me?" "What I am saying is in fact a kind of declaration of love," replied Fyodor. "A 'kind of' is not enough" (1a). ♦ Я стал в некотором роде знаменитостью… (Катаев 3). I had become something of a celebrity… (3a).

Р-164 • В СВОЁМ РО́ДЕ [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing modif; fixed WO] to a certain extent and in a way specific to the person, thing, or phenomenon in question: in one's ⟨its⟩ (own) way.

«Какой я вам коллега, — буркнул я. — Я художник». — «И я художник, — подхватил он. — Художник в своём роде» (Аржак 2). "What do you mean 'colleague'?" I growled. "I'm an artist." "So am I," he said. "An artist in my own way" (2a).

Р-165 • В Э́ТОМ ⟨ТАКО́М⟩ РО́ДЕ [PrepP; these forms only; usu. nonagreeing modif; often after что-то, нечто, что-нибудь etc; fixed WO] somewhat similar (to what has been mentioned in the preceding context): (something) like that; (something) of the ⟨this, that⟩ kind ⟨sort⟩; (something) to that effect; (something) of that nature; (something) along that line ⟨those lines⟩; [lim.] in a similar ⟨in the same⟩ vein.

«Вопросник. Беру словечко на вооружение. Кратко и точно. У вас, наверное, есть ещё в таком роде, вы ж газетный работник» (Иоффе 1). "'Questionnaire.' I'm going to adopt this word. Brief and exact. You probably have a few more like that—after all, you are a journalist" (1a).

Р-166 • ЕДИ́НСТВЕННЫЙ В СВОЁМ РО́ДЕ [AdjP; modif or subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: any common noun); fixed WO] inimitable, singular: the only one ⟨[NP]⟩ of its ⟨his etc⟩ kind; one of a kind; in a class by itself ⟨himself etc⟩; unique.

Кто он был, этот безумный человек, единственный в своём роде писатель в мировой литературе?.. (Олеша 3). Who was he, that mad person, the only writer of his kind in world literature?.. (3a).

Р-167 • НЕ РОДИ́СЬ КРАСИ́ВЫМ ⟨КРАСИ́В⟩, А РОДИ́СЬ СЧАСТЛИ́ВЫМ ⟨СЧАСТЛИ́В⟩ [saying] a person who is born lucky is more fortunate than a person who is born beautiful: ≃ it is luck, not looks, that counts.

Р-168 • НЕ ПО́МНЯЩИЙ РОДСТВА́ [AdjP; modif] 1. obs (a person) without a family (said of a person who does not have a family or who refuses to provide information about his family): without any roots; not knowing one's roots; without (kith or) kin.

[Незнамов:] …Что же я за фигуру буду представлять из себя? Бродяга, не помнящий родства, и человек без определённых занятий! (Островский 3). [N.:] What will become of me then—a tramp without kith or kin or a worthy occupation? (3a).

2. Also: ИВА́Н, НЕ ПО́МНЯЩИЙ РОДСТВА́ (a person) who has broken with the environment in which he was raised and has become indifferent to or even scornful of it: denying one's roots ⟨origins⟩.

< Originally, a legal term in old Russia applied to vagrants who had no passports.

Р-169 • БЕЗ РО́ДУ, БЕЗ ПЛЕ́МЕНИ; БЕЗ РО́ДУ И (БЕЗ) ПЛЕ́МЕНИ [PrepP; these forms only; nonagreeing modif or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); fixed WO] 1. obs lowly, from a socially disadvantaged background: of low ⟨humble⟩ birth; of humble origin; of low ⟨mean⟩ parentage.

2. without family or loved ones: without (kith or) kin; without kinfolk ⟨kindred⟩; alone in the world; all alone.

Заигрались они [дети], не заметили, как зашли глубоко в чащу. А когда услышали шум и крики побоища и кинулись назад, то не застали в живых ни отцов, ни матерей своих, ни братьев, ни сестёр. Остались дети без роду, без племени (Айтматов 1). In the excitement of their game, they [the children] had gone deeper and deeper into the thickets. Hearing the din and noise of the attack, they rushed back, but found nobody alive—neither their fathers, nor their mothers, nor their brothers and sisters. The children remained without kith or kin (1a).

Р-170 • НА РОДУ́ НАПИ́САНО кому, у кого coll [AdjP; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: infin or a clause); usu. this WO] sth. is predestined, preordained for s.o.: Х-у на роду написано ≃ X is destined ⟨fated⟩ to…; that ⟨it⟩ is X's fate ⟨destiny⟩; it was X's fate ⟨destiny⟩ from birth; (that's the way) it was meant to be; it was in the cards; [lim.] that's the way nature meant it to be; [in refer. to troubles, misfortunes etc] X is doomed ⟨was doomed from the day he was born⟩ to…

«Ведь есть, право, этакие люди, у которых на роду написано, что с ними должны случаться разные необыкновенные вещи» (Лермонтов 1). "…After all, some people are fated to have unusual things happen to them" (1c). ♦ «А если сторож умрёт?» — спросил принц, стараясь постигнуть психологию поступка молодого аборигена. «Значит, так у него на роду написано», — ответил дядя Сандро… (Искандер 3). "And if the watchman dies?" the prince asked, trying to grasp the psychology of what the young aborigine had done. "Well, it was in the cards," Uncle Sandro replied (3a).

Р-171 • НИ РО́ДУ НИ ПЛЕ́МЕНИ нет у кого, не иметь coll [NP$_{gen}$; Invar; used as subj/gen or obj; fixed WO] (s.o. has) no family or loved ones: (s.o. has) neither kith nor kin; (s.o. has) no kinfolk ⟨kindred⟩; (s.o. is) alone in the world.

Р-172 • О́Т РОДУ [PrepP; Invar; used as a restr marker] 1. used with a quantifier to denote s.o.'s age (the idiom may be omitted in translation): [Num] years of age; [Num] years ⟨months etc⟩ old.

Между тем 17 ноября 1861 г., имея двадцать пять лет от роду, Добролюбов скончался (Набоков 1). Meanwhile, on November 17, 1861, at twenty-five years of age, Dobrolyubov died (1a).

2. coll throughout one's entire life: in (all) one's life; [when used with a negated verb only] never in all one's born days.

«Вы счастливы в игре», — сказал я Вуличу… «В первый раз от роду», — отвечал он… (Лермонтов 1). "You've got gambler's luck," I said to Vulich. "For once in my life," he said… (1c). ♦ «Этакого дурака я ещё от роду не видывал…» (Гоголь 3). "I've never met a fool like that in all my life," said Chichikov (3a). "Never in all my born days have I seen such a fool" said Chichikov (3b).

Р-173 • ПО РОЖДЕ́НИЮ [PrepP; Invar; usu. sent adv or nonagreeing modif] 1. by descent: by birth ⟨parentage, extraction, lineage⟩; (person X comes) from a line ⟨a family⟩ of [NPs].

Но при всех своих достоинствах товарищ Дзержинский был барин по рождению… И при всех своих достоинствах товарищ Дзержинский, надо сказать, не лишён был некоторого позёрства… (Рыбаков 2). For all his qualities, Comrade Dzerzhinsky had been an aristocrat by birth…. And for all his qualities, it had to be said, Comrade Dzerzhinsky was not entirely free of posturing… (2a).

2. with regard to one's birthplace: by birth; (person X) was born in…

По рождению я москвич, но всю жизнь живу в Петербурге. I'm a Muscovite by birth, but I've lived in St. Petersburg all my life.

Р-174 • ОСТА́ЛИСЬ РО́ЖКИ ДА НО́ЖКИ от кого-чего coll [VP$_{subj}$; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] practically nothing is left of s.o. or sth.: от Х-а остались рожки да ножки ≃ only bits and pieces (of X) remained ⟨were left⟩; virtually ⟨next to⟩ nothing was left of X; [lim.] nothing was left of animal/person X but the bones and the beak.

Мать, Анна Савишна, поселилась у Ларичевых с тех пор, как в одну из вёсен полой водой смыло под обрыв старую хату… «Ремонтировать бесполезно», — сказал Ларичев и… распорядился: «Взять вещи, какие остались, маму — к нам». Анна Савишна что-то говорила про «инструмент» — пианино… Александр Иванович её высмеял — от «инструмента» остались рожки да ножки. Мать покорилась (Грекова 3). Anna Savishna had moved in with the Larichevs one spring when the flood waters had washed the old house over the cliff…. "No use fixing it," Larichev had said. "Take whatever is left, she's coming to live with us." Anna Savishna said something about the "instrument," the upright piano…. Alexander Ivanovich made fun of her—only bits and pieces of the instrument remained—and Anna Savishna gave in (3a).

Р-175 • КАКО́ГО РОЖНА́ substand, rude [NP$_{gen}$; Invar; fixed WO] 1. ~ надо, нужно, не хватает кому и т.п. [obj] what is it (that s.o. needs or that is lacking for s.o.): what the hell ⟨in hell, the blazes, in blazes, the devil⟩ does s.o. want ⟨need⟩?

[Рита:] Уж [если] твой Валя им нехорош — не знаю, какого ещё рожна надо! (Рощин 1). [R.:] If your Valia isn't good enough for them—I don't know what the hell they need! (1a).

2. [adv] why, what for: why on earth ⟨the hell, in hell, in blazes, the devil⟩?; what the hell ⟨in blazes, the devil⟩ for?

Р-176 • ПЕРЕ́ТЬ/ПОПЕРЕ́ТЬ ПРО́ТИВ РОЖНА́ substand; ПРАТЬ ПРО́ТИВ РОЖНА́ obs [VP; subj: human;

Каким образом мы, полгода назад употреблявшие слово «футуризм» лишь в виде бранной клички, не только нацепили её на себя, но даже отрицали за кем бы то ни было право пользоваться этим ярлыком? Сыграла ли тут роль статья Брюсова в «Русской мысли»?.. Или, окинув хозяйским оком создавшееся положение, решил смекалистый Давид [Бурлюк], что против рожна не попрёшь, что упорствовать дальше, отказываясь от навязываемой нам клички, значило бы вносить только лишний сумбур в понятия широкой публики и… оттолкнуть её от себя (Лившиц 1). How was it that we, who six months before had used the word "Futurism" only as a term of abuse, had not only appropriated it for ourselves, but denied anyone [else] the right to use the label? Had Briusov's article in Russian Thought played a role in the matter?… Or did clever David [Burliuk] cast a proprietary eye round the real situation and decide that we couldn't swim against the tide, that to reject a name which had been foisted upon us would only make the public more confused and antagonistic? (1a).

< «Рожон» (obs) is a pointed stake.

Р-177 • ЛЕЗТЬ ⟨ИДТИ́⟩/ПОЛЕ́ЗТЬ НА РОЖО́Н coll; ПЕРЕ́ТЬ/ПОПЕРЕ́ТЬ НА РОЖО́Н substand [VP; subj: human] to undertake sth. risky, potentially dangerous: X лезет на рожон ≃ X is taking a (big) risk; X is sticking his neck out; X is going out on a limb; X is risking his neck; [in refer. to rash behavior] X is acting recklessly ⟨foolhardily⟩; X is asking ⟨begging⟩ for trouble; || Neg Imper не лезь на рожон ≃ play it ⟨things⟩ safe; don't take any chances.

«Ты, я считаю, с самого начала повёл это дело неправильно. Полез на рожон, стал угрожать» (Войнович 3). "I think that you conducted this affair improperly from the very beginning. Went out on a limb, used threats" (3a).

[Лука Лукич:] Вот ещё на днях, когда зашёл было в класс наш предводитель, он скроил такую рожу, какой я никогда ещё не видывал (Гоголь 4). [L.L.:] Only the other day when our marshal of nobility came into the classroom he made a face the like of which I never saw before! (4c).

Р-179 • РО́ЖУ КРИВИ́ТЬ/СКРИВИ́ТЬ substand [VP; subj: human] to distort one's facial expression (showing disgust, dissatisfaction, or contempt for s.o. or sth.): X рожу скривил ≃ X made a puss; X screwed up his face; X pulled a face.

Свет божьего дня не понравился ему — он поглядел на небо и скривил рожу, затем сплюнул и направился неверным шагом к сарайчику (Владимов 2). God's good daylight did not please him at all; he pulled a face as he looked up at the sky, then spat and made off unsteadily for the little wooden shed in the yard (2a).

Р-180 • В РО́ЗНИЦУ продавать, покупать что [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to sell or buy sth.) as individual units or in small quantitites: retail; by the piece.

Это не магазин, а склад, здесь ничего в розницу не продают. This isn't a store, it's a warehouse. Nothing is sold by the piece here.

Р-181 • НЕТ РО́ЗЫ БЕЗ ШИПО́В [saying] anything that is attractive or good also has its bad side: ≃ (there's) no rose without a thorn; (there are) no roses without thorns; every rose has its thorn.

«Там, внизу [на Земле], льётся кровь, — сказал я, — а здесь вчерашний работник в роли спокойного созерцателя». — «Кровь льётся там ради лучшего будущего», — отвечал Нэтти (Богданов 1). "Back there [on Earth] blood is being spilled," I said, "yet here stands yesterday's revolutionary in the role of a calm observer." "Blood is being shed for the sake of a better future," replied Netti (1a).

Р-183 • ВЫХОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЙТИ ИЗ РО́ЛИ [VP; subj: human] to stop pretending (that one is a certain type of person), stop affecting a certain quality, emotion etc: X вышел из роли ≃ X abandoned the ⟨his⟩ role; X relinquished his role; || Neg X не выходил из роли ≃ X remained in character.

Я старался понравиться княгине, шутил, заставляя её несколько раз смеяться от души; княжне также не раз хотелось похохотать, но она удерживалась, чтоб не выйти из принятой роли… (Лермонтов 1). I did my best to charm the old princess, told jokes and made her laugh heartily several times; her daughter too wanted to laugh more than once, but she suppressed the desire so as not to abandon the role she [had] assumed… (1b).

Р-184 • НЕ ИГРА́ТЬ (НИКАКО́Й) РО́ЛИ [VP; subj: usu. abstr, often это] to be insignificant: X не играет никакой роли ≃ X is of no importance; X is of no consequence (at all); X is unimportant ⟨inconsequential⟩; X hardly matters; X doesn't mean a thing; [lim.] X is beside the point.

«Смотри, все ведущие идеологические посты заняли наши люди». — «Это не играет роли. Они… будут действовать в силу обстоятельств, а не в силу личных симпатий и антипатий…» (Зиновьев 2). "Look, all the important posts went to our people." "That's of no consequence at all…. They'll act according to circumstances, not because of any personal sympathies or antipathies…" (2a).

Р-185 • ВХОДИ́ТЬ/ВОЙТИ́ ⟨ВЖИВА́ТЬСЯ/ВЖИ́ТЬСЯ⟩ В РОЛЬ [VP; subj: human] 1. to (begin to) portray a character in a play, movie etc naturally and convincingly, transform o.s. into that character: X вошёл в роль ≃ X got into his role ⟨part⟩; X got into character; X inhabited the character; X immersed himself in the role; X entered into the role; X got the feel of his part; X grew into the role.

«Дело в том, что из-за патологического недоразвития личности этот актёр так вживался в каждую очередную роль, что не расставался с нею и в повседневной жизни, додумывая за автора, импровизируя, изобретая новые ситуации и реплики» (Акунин 2). “Owing to his pathologically underdeveloped personality this actor used to immerse himself so deeply in his latest role that he even carried it with him into everyday life, extending the author’s ideas, improvising, inventing new situations and lines” (2a).

2. ~ кого, чью, какую to (begin to) conduct o.s. in accordance with one’s position or function in a given situation, milieu etc: X вошёл в роль Y-а ≃ X got ⟨fell, grew⟩ into the role of Y; X assumed the role of Y; X played the ⟨his⟩ role of Y; X adapted to his role as Y; || X снова вошёл в роль Y-а ≃ X resumed his role of Y.

Евгений Устинович мешал ему входить в новую роль тридцатилетнего молодого человека (Дудинцев 1). …[Evgeni Ustinovich] hampered him in playing his new role of young man of thirty (1a).

P-186 • ВЫДЕ́РЖИВАТЬ/ВЫ́ДЕРЖАТЬ РОЛЬ (кого, какую) [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] not to deviate from one’s chosen or outlined mode of conduct: X выдержал роль (Y-а) ≃ X kept up his role (as Y); X played his part ⟨the part of Y⟩ to the end; X did not depart from his role as Y ⟨from the role of Y⟩; || Neg X не выдержал роли ≃ X failed to keep up his role.

«Я совсем не могла обедать, — сказала она. — Я думала, что не выдержу эту страшную роль до конца» (Каверин 2). “I could eat nothing at dinner,” she said. “I thought I should never endure playing this ghastly part to the end” (2a).

P-187 • ИГРА́ТЬ ПЕ́РВУЮ РОЛЬ coll [VP; subj: human] to be the most important, influential, or noticeable person: X играет первую роль ≃ X is number one; X plays ⟨has⟩ the key role; X plays the leading role.

Ася привыкла всегда и везде играть первую роль и не могла примириться с тем, что на новой работе она всего лишь рядовой сотрудник. Asya was used to being number one always and everywhere, and couldn’t accept the fact that at her new job she was just another employee.

P-188 • ИГРА́ТЬ/СЫГРА́ТЬ РОЛЬ [VP] 1. ~ какую (в чём) [subj: human, collect, or abstr] to have a certain (as specified) meaning, significance, influence etc: X играет [AdjP] роль (в Y-е) ≃ X plays a [AdjP] role ⟨part⟩ (in Y); [in limited contexts, with большую, огромную etc] X is very ⟨enormously etc⟩ important; X plays a critical ⟨crucial, vital etc⟩ role (in sth.).

…Когда случается провожать старого или встречать нового начальника, то я всегда при этом играю видную роль (Салтыков-Щедрин 2). …Whenever we have to bid farewell to one of our chiefs, or extend a loyal welcome to a new one, I always play an important part in these proceedings (2a).

2. [subj: human, collect, or abstr; used without a modif; impfv only] to be of considerable significance: X играет роль ≃ X plays a leading ⟨an important⟩ role ⟨part⟩; X really matters ⟨counts⟩; X has ⟨exerts⟩ influence.

…Вероятно, Станкевичу говорили о том, что он… может занять в обществе почётное место, что он призван, по богатству и рождению, играть роль… (Герцен 2). …Stankevich had probably been told that… he could occupy an honourable position in society, that he was called by wealth and birth to play an important part… (2a).

3. ~ кого-чего [subj: human, collect, or abstr] to be or act in the capacity of s.o. or sth.: X играл роль Y-а ≃ X played the part ⟨the role⟩ of Y.

…С той поры сколько раз уже я играл роль топора в руках судьбы! (Лермонтов 1). How often since then have I played the role of an axe in the hands of fate! (1b).

4. ~ (кого, rare чего, какую). Also: РАЗЫ́ГРЫВАТЬ/РАЗЫГРА́ТЬ РОЛЬ [subj: human] to pretend to be what one is not, act unnaturally: X играет роль ≃ X is playing a role ⟨a part⟩; X is putting on an act; X is acting a part; X is playacting; || Neg X не играл (никакой) роли ≃ X adopted no pose.

Кутузов никогда не говорил… о жертвах, которые он приносит отечеству, о том, что он намерен совершить или совершил: он вообще ничего не говорил о себе, не играл никакой роли, казался всегда самым простым и обыкновенным человеком… (Толстой 7). Kutuzov never talked of… the sacrifices he was making for the fatherland, or of what he meant to or had done: in general he said nothing about himself, adopted no pose, always appeared to be the simplest and most ordinary of men… (7a).

P-189 • ПОМЕНЯ́ТЬСЯ РОЛЯ́МИ (с кем) [VP; subj: human (pl if there is no prep obj), collect, or abstr] to exchange places (with another person, group, or phenomenon): X и Y поменялись ролями ⟨X поменялся ролями с Y-ом⟩ ≃ X and Y have traded ⟨switched, swapped⟩ roles ⟨places⟩; X and Y have exchanged roles; X has traded ⟨switched, swapped⟩ roles ⟨places⟩ with Y; the roles are reversed; X’s and Y’s roles have been reversed; [lim.] the shoe is on the other foot; X has turned the tables on Y.

А! господин Грушницкий! ваша мистификация вам не удастся… мы поменяемся ролями: теперь мне придётся отыскивать на вашем бледном лице признаки тайного страха (Лермонтов 1). Ah, Grushnitsky, your ruse won’t work. The roles will be reversed—it’ll be I who studies your pale face for the marks of hidden fear (1c).

P-190 • НА ВТОРЫ́Х РОЛЯ́Х [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or obj-compl with держать (obj: human); fixed WO] (to be or keep s.o.) in a position of secondary importance: (play) a supporting role; (be ⟨keep s.o.⟩) in a subordinate position.

И хотя со временем бабушка освоилась с хозяйством и с семьёй, но она так и осталась на вторых ролях (Рыбаков 1). …And although in time she [Grandmother] learned to cope with the house and the family, she always played a supporting role (1a).

P-191 • НА ПЕ́РВЫХ РОЛЯ́Х [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or obj-compl with держать (obj: human); fixed WO] (to be or keep s.o.) in an important, influential position: (play) a key role; (be ⟨keep s.o.⟩) in a key position ⟨role⟩.

Вопрос, почему Строковский держит Поляшко в институте, да ещё на первых ролях, никогда не сходил с повестки дня кулуарных разговоров (Залыгин 1). A constant theme of corridor gossip was why Strokovsky kept Poliashko at the institute and in a key position (1a).

P-192 • КРУТИ́ТЬ/ЗАКРУТИ́ТЬ ⟨ПОКРУТИ́ТЬ⟩ РОМА́Н ⟨ЛЮБО́ВЬ⟩ с кем highly coll [VP; subj: human] to have an amorous relationship with s.o.: X крутит роман с Y-ом ≃ X has something ⟨a thing⟩ going with Y; X is fooling around with Y.

P-193 • МА́КОВОЙ РОСИ́НКИ ⟨НИ (МА́КОВОЙ) РОСИ́НКИ, НИЧЕГО́⟩ ВО РТУ НЕ́ БЫЛО (у кого) coll [$VP_{subj/gen}$; past only] s.o. has not eaten anything at all: у X-а маковой росинки во рту не было ≃ X hasn’t had ⟨touched, eaten⟩ a thing; X hasn’t eaten a bite ⟨a scrap of food⟩; X hasn’t had a (single) bite (to eat); X hasn’t had a morsel of food; X has had nothing whatsoever.

[Астров:] Возился я целый день, не присел, маковой росинки во рту не было… (Чехов 3). [A.:] I ran around all day, didn't sit down for a minute, didn't eat a thing (3b). [A.:] I was on the go all day—didn't so much as sit down or have a bite to eat… (3c). [A.:] I was on the move all day, didn't sit down or have a morsel of food… (3a).

P-194 • НИ (МА́КОВОЙ) РОСИ́НКИ не дать кому, не получить и т.п. coll [NP_{gen}; these forms only; fixed WO] (to give, get etc) absolutely nothing: not a (blessed) thing; [in refer. to food or drinks only] not a drop ⟨a morsel, a bite to eat⟩.

[Баян:] …До свадьбы задатком стакан и ни росинки больше, а работу выполнят, тогда хоть из горлышка (Маяковский 1). [Oleg Bard:] I'll give them one glass in advance before the wedding and not a drop more. When they've done their job, they can drink straight out of the bottle, if they like (1a).

P-195 • (НИ) НА МА́КОВУЮ РОСИ́НКУ coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv (intensif); used with negated predic; fixed WO] (not even) in the smallest amount or to the smallest degree: (not) at all; (not) a ⟨one⟩ bit.

Лгун он, ему на маковую росинку нельзя верить. He's a liar, don't believe him one bit.

P-196 • ПОЗВОЛЯ́ТЬ/ПОЗВО́ЛИТЬ (СЕБЕ́) РО́СКОШЬ [VP; subj: human; foll. by infin] to treat o.s. to sth. expensive, extravagant, or beyond what is really necessary: X позволил себе роскошь (сделать Y) ≃ X permitted ⟨allowed⟩ himself the luxury of (doing Y).

Восемнадцать лет как Майер — мастер, но всё ещё не может позволить себе роскоши отоплять все комнаты своей мансарды… (Федин 1). Maier had been a foreman eighteen years, but he still could not permit himself the luxury of heating all the rooms of his mansard… (1a).

P-197 • ЗОЛОТЫ́Е РО́ССЫПИ чего [NP; pl only; fixed WO] a rich and abundant source of sth. desired, valuable: gold mine (of); treasure trove (of); mother lode (of); wellspring (of); || душ золотые россыпи ≃ people's finest qualities.

Тюрьма, особенно одиночная, наоборот, возвышала людей, очищала их нравственно, раскрывала все глубинные алмазы и золотые россыпи души (Гинзбург 1). Prison, and especially solitary confinement, ennobled and purified human beings, bringing to the surface their finest qualities, however deeply hidden (1a).

P-198 • В РОСТ[1] [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing modif or adv] (of a portrait, photograph etc, or to paint, photograph etc s.o.) capturing the entire figure: портрет ⟨фотография и т.п.⟩ X-а в рост ≃ а full-length portrait ⟨photograph etc⟩ of X; || написать портрет X-а в рост ≃ paint a full-length portrait of X; || сфотографировать X-а в рост ≃ take a full-length picture of X; photograph X full-length.

«Ты вот что, Аркадий, ты первым делом, как наденут форму, — пришли нам фото. Понял?» — …«В рост фото или в рост и ещё — анфас?» (Залыгин 1). "You know what, Arkady? As soon as you get into uniform, send us a photo, first thing. Okay?"… "A full-length shot, or one full-length and one head-and-shoulders?" (1a).

P-199 • В РОСТ[2] давать, отдавать, пускать деньги [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to lend money) on the condition that the borrower pay for the use of the borrowed money: (lend money) on interest; (lend money and) charge interest.

Жила она уединённо, питаясь скудною пищею, отдавая в рост деньги… (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). She lived in seclusion, on a meager diet, lending money on interest… (1a).

P-200 • ВО ВЕСЬ РОСТ; В ПО́ЛНЫЙ РОСТ [PrepP; these forms only] 1. (в)стать, стоять, подниматься, вытягиваться и т.п. ~ [adv] (to raise o.s. up, stretch o.s. out etc) to a fully straight position, (to hold o.s.) erect: (stand up ⟨draw o.s. up, rise⟩) to one's full height; (stretch out) full length.

Он поднялся во весь рост и с криком: «За родину! За Сталина! Ура!» — размахивая пистолетом, побежал навстречу танкам (Войнович 4). He drew himself up to his full height and yelled: "For the motherland! For Stalin! Hurrah!" Brandishing his pistol, he began running straight for the tanks (4a).

2. [nonagreeing modif or adv] (of a portrait, photograph etc, or to paint, photograph etc s.o.) capturing the entire figure: портрет ⟨фотография и т.п.⟩ X-а во весь рост ≃ a full-length portrait ⟨photograph etc⟩ of X; || написать портрет X-а во весь рост ≃ paint a full-length portrait of X; || сфотографировать X-а во весь рост ≃ take a full-length picture of X; photograph X full-length.

На стене висел портрет хозяйки дома во весь рост. On the wall there was a full-length portrait of the lady of the house.

3. упасть, грохнуться, рухнуть ~ [adv]. Also: РАСТЯНУ́ТЬСЯ ВО ВЕСЬ РОСТ [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] (losing one's footing, being pushed or knocked down etc) to fall down suddenly, at one's full length: X растянулся во весь рост ≃ X went sprawling; X fell ⟨went sprawling⟩ full length; X measured his length; X fell flat; X fell ⟨tumbled⟩ headlong.

Споткнулся о толстый, вьющийся по земле стебель, грохнулся во весь рост (Акунин 2). He stumbled over a thick stem trailing across the ground and fell full length (2a).

4. ~ вставать, подниматься и т.п. [adv] (usu. of a question, problem, threat etc) (to arise, present itself etc) in all its seriousness or urgency: (arise etc) in all its magnitude ⟨immensity⟩; (assume) its true, overwhelming proportions ⟨dimensions⟩; [lim.] in full measure.

Это его всегдашнее бессилие что-либо знать о Фаине снова подступило в полный рост… (Битов 2). Again his everlasting powerlessness to know anything about Faina came over him in full measure… (2a).

5. lit [adv] (of a people, a hero, death etc) displaying to the utmost extent one's or its great might, importance etc: (tower) to one's ⟨its⟩ full height; (rise) to one's ⟨its⟩ full stature; (arise) in all one's greatness.

…К самой войне все участники прежней относились пренебрежительно: и размах, и силы, и потери — всё в сравнении с германской войной было игрушечно. Одна лишь чёрная смерть, так же, как и на полях Пруссии, вставала во весь свой рост, пугала и понуждала по-животному оберегаться (Шолохов 4). All those who had taken part in the previous war treated this one with scorn; the scale, the forces involved, the losses were all of toylike dimensions compared with the war against the Germans. Only death was the same as on the fields of Prussia, ever towering to its full height and frightening men into defending themselves like animals (4a).

P-201 • РОСТ В РО́СТ [Invar; detached modif or subj-compl with copula (subj: human, pl); fixed WO] (usu. of tall people) equally tall: (exactly) the same height; the exact same height.

Ребята в нашей баскетбольной команде как на подбор: рост в рост. The guys on our basketball team look as if they were handpicked: they are exactly the same height.

Р-202 • ПО РО́СТУ (кому) [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing modif or subj-compl with copula (subj: a noun denoting an item of clothing)] in correspondence with a person's size: (just) s.o.'s ⟨the right⟩ size; || Neg не по росту ≃ not s.o.'s size; the wrong size; || большой ⟨маленький⟩, не по росту ≃ too big ⟨small⟩ (for s.o.).

По безлюдному отрезку улицы двигались навстречу мне две фигуры — мужская и женская. Мужская была неестественно расширившаяся от шубы явно не по росту… (Олеша 3). Two figures, a man's and a woman's, were moving toward me along a deserted section of street. The man's figure was rendered unnaturally broad by a fur coat manifestly the wrong size… (3a).

Р-203 • (ОДНИ́М ⟨ЕДИ́НЫМ⟩) РО́СЧЕРКОМ ПЕРА́ погубить кого-что, решить что, уволить кого и т.п.; ПО ОДНОМУ́ ⟨ЕДИ́НОМУ⟩ РО́СЧЕРКУ ПЕРА́ [$NP_{instrum}$ or PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (usu. used to characterize actions that result in undesirable consequences) (to destroy s.o. or sth., decide sth., fire s.o. etc) abruptly, without due deliberation, simply by signing a mandate: with one ⟨a single⟩ stroke of the pen; at a ⟨one⟩ stroke of the pen.

Решения принимаются быстро, и там, где зимой раздумывают, взвешивают, обсуждают, летом решают одним росчерком пера (Михайловская 1). Decisions are made quickly, and whereas in the wintertime they think about it, weigh it, discuss it, in summer the decisions are made with one stroke of the pen (1a).

Р-204 • В РОТ НЕ БРА́ТЬ coll [VP; subj: human] 1. ~ чего to refrain totally from eating certain foods or drinking certain beverages: X Y-а в рот не берёт ≃ X never touches ⟨eats, drinks, goes near⟩ Y; X won't touch ⟨eat, drink, go near⟩ Y; X stays away from Y; X steers clear of Y; [in refer. to alcohol only] X won't touch a drop (of Y); X never lets Y pass ⟨touch⟩ his lips; X never touches the stuff; X is a teetotaler.

Женившись, он в рот не брал водки. Раньше-то пил много (Семёнов 1). Once he was married he didn't touch a drop of vodka. Before he had been a heavy drinker (1a).

2. usu. ничего ~ not to eat or drink anything: X ничего в рот не брал ≃ X hasn't touched a thing ⟨a bite⟩; X hasn't had anything ⟨a thing⟩ (to eat or drink); X hasn't had a bite to eat.

Р-205 • В РОТ НЕ ВОЗЬМЁШЬ; В РОТ НЕЛЬЗЯ́ ВЗЯТЬ coll [VP; these forms only; neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing (1st var.) or impers predic with $быть_{ø}$ (2nd var.)] sth. is extremely unpalatable, not suitable for eating: you don't dare touch it; you can't eat it; it's inedible ⟨not fit to eat⟩.

Мясо так подгорело, что в рот нельзя взять. This meat is so burnt you can't eat it.

Р-206 • ВО ВЕСЬ РОТ [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. улыбаться, зевать и т.п. ~ coll (to smile) very widely, (to yawn) with one's mouth open wide: улыбаться ~ ≃ (grin) from ear to ear; (smile) ear-to-ear; (smile) nice and wide; (have) a broad grin (on one's face); (grin) showing all one's teeth; || зевать ~ ≃ (give) a big ⟨long, wide⟩ yawn; (yawn) widely; [in refer. to excessive yawning] yawn one's head off. Cf. (grin) like a Cheshire cat.

«Открываю дверцу, пропускаю красулечку, а она мне во весь рот улыбается» (Искандер 2). "I open the door, let the peach in, and the whole time she's smiling nice and wide to me" (2a).

2. кричать, орать ~ highly coll (to yell) very loudly: (shout) one's head off; (shout) at the top of one's voice ⟨lungs⟩.

«Хотел об вашем здоровье узнать», — робко сказал Василий. «Издохну скоро, вот какое моё здоровье», — ещё с большим гневом, во весь рот прокричала Агафья Михайловна (Толстой 2). "I wanted to ask how you were," said Vasily timidly. "I'll kick the bucket soon, that's how I am," shouted Gasha at the top of her voice, still more angry than before (2b).

Р-207 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ РОТ НА ЗАМКЕ́ coll; РОТ НА ЗАМО́К coll; РОТО́К НА ЗАМО́К rather folk [VP, subj: human (1st var.), often imper; NP, usu. used as imper (variants without держать); fixed WO (2nd and 3rd variants)] to keep quiet, keep a secret, not blab sth.: держи рот на замке ≃ keep your mouth ⟨trap⟩ shut; button your lip; keep a lid on it; clam up.

«Допустим, арестовали мы Клонова. А он — рот на замок и молчит… В расчёте на своих покровителей. Что тогда будем делать?» — «Совершенно резонная постановка вопроса», — кивнул коллежский асессор… (Акунин 3). "Let us say we have arrested Klonov. But he just clams up and won't say a word… Relying on his patrons to protect him. Then what are we going to do?" "A perfectly reasonable way to state the matter," said the collegiate assessor… (3a).

Р-208 • ЗАМА́ЗЫВАТЬ/ЗАМА́ЗАТЬ РОТ кому (чем) highly coll [VP; subj: human] to force s.o. to keep silent about sth. (generally by using bribery or flattery): X замазал Y-у рот (Z-ом) ≃ X kept Y from talking (by means of Z); X shut Y up ⟨silenced Y⟩ (with Z); [in refer. to bribery only] X bought Y off ⟨bought Y's silence⟩; X gave ⟨paid⟩ Y hush money.

Продавец против заведующей не пойдёт, она ему взяткой рот замазала. The salesman won't say anything against the manager—she silenced him with a bribe.

Р-209 • ЗАТЫКА́ТЬ/ЗАТКНУ́ТЬ ⟨ЗАКРЫВА́ТЬ/ЗАКРЫ́ТЬ, ЗАЖИМА́ТЬ/ЗАЖА́ТЬ⟩ РОТ кому highly coll [VP; subj: human] to force s.o. to be silent, prevent s.o. from speaking or voicing his opinion: X заткнул рот Y-у ≃ X shut Y up; X shut ⟨stopped⟩ Y's mouth; X gagged ⟨silenced⟩ Y; X muzzled Y; X put a muzzle on Y.

Младший продавец, когда начали продавать мёд из запасной бочки, видно, кое о чём догадался… Шалико никак не мог решить — заткнуть ему рот парой тридцаток или не стоит унижаться? (Искандер 4). The junior salesman must have caught on when they began selling honey from the reserved barrel…. Shaliko could not decide: should he stop the man's mouth with a pair of thirty-ruble bills, or was it worth demeaning himself? (4a).

Р-210 • ЛИ́ШНИЙ РОТ coll [NP; fixed WO] a person who cannot provide for himself and is a burden to those who have to feed and keep him: extra mouth to feed.

И без того обездоленная слухами о своём классовом происхождении, совесть его окончательно замолкла и в распрях его страстей уже не принимала никакого участия, как бедная родственница, лишний рот, незаметно устраивалась где-нибудь в уголке, чтобы не слишком попадаться на глаза… (Искандер 3). His conscience, which had already been harassed and impoverished anyway by rumors about its class origin, was silenced for good and took no sides in the feuding among his passions—like a poor female relative, an extra mouth to feed, who fixes herself up in some out-of-the-way corner lest she invite too much attention… (3a).

Р-211 • НА ЧУЖО́Й РОТ ПУ́ГОВИЦЫ НЕ НАШЬЁШЬ [saying] you cannot force others to be silent (said when gossip or rumors about a person are being circulated): ≃ people will talk; you ⟨one⟩ can't stop people from talking.

«На днях покровский пономарь сказал на крестинах у нашего старосты: полно вам гулять; вот ужо приберёт вас к рукам Кирила Петрович. Микита кузнец и сказал ему: и, полно, Савельич, не печаль кума, не мути гостей…; да ведь на чужой рот пуговицы не нашьёшь» (Пушкин 1). "Just the other day the sacristan from Pokrovskoe said at a christening held at our elder's house: 'The good times are over: you'll see what it's like when Kirila Petrovich takes you in hand.' Mikita the blacksmith answered him. 'Enough of that, Savelich,' he says, 'don't sadden the godfather, don't upset the guests….' But people will talk" (1a).

Р-212 • хлопот, забот и т.п. ПО́ЛОН РОТ у кого coll [Invar; quantit subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj/gen: хлопот, забот etc), usu. pres; fixed WO] s.o. has very many (obligations, cares etc): у Х-а хлопот ~ ≃ X has his hands full; [lim.] X is up to his neck ⟨ears⟩ in jobs ⟨work etc⟩; X has too much on his plate; || у Х-а своих ⟨и без того⟩ забот полон рот ≃ X has enough to do ⟨handle etc⟩ as it is; X has enough to worry about without you ⟨all this etc⟩.

С потьминской пересылки меня направили в 10-ый лагерь… У новичка в лагере хлопот полон рот: надо найти место в бараке, получить койку, тюфяк, подушку, одеяло, постельные принадлежности, форменную спецовку для работы… (Марченко 1). From the Potma transit prison I was directed to camp number ten…. A novice in camp is up to his ears in jobs. First he has to find himself a place in a hut and get himself a cot, straw mattress, pillow, blanket and bedding, and regulation overalls for work… (1a).

Р-213 • РАЗЕВА́ТЬ/РАЗЙНУТЬ РОТ ⟨РТЫ⟩ highly coll; РАСКРЫВА́ТЬ/РАСКРЫ́ТЬ ⟨ОТКРЫВАТЬ/ОТКРЫ́ТЬ⟩ РОТ ⟨РТЫ⟩ coll [VP; subj: human] 1. to begin to speak, say sth., express one's opinion etc: Х рот разинул ≃ X opened his mouth; || Neg [in cases where one or more speakers monopolize the conversation] Х не мог рта раскрыть ≃ X couldn't get a word in edgewise.

«Владимир Андреевич наш молодой барин», — сказал голос из толпы. «Кто там смел рот разинуть, — сказал грозно исправник, — какой барин, какой Владимир Андреевич? барин ваш Кирила Петрович Троекуров…» (Пушкин 1). "Vladimir Andreevich is our young master," said a voice from the crowd. "Who was that? Who dared to open his mouth?" asked the police captain threateningly. "Young master? Vladimir Andreevich? Your master is Kirila Petrovich Troekurov" (1c).

2. to get distracted from what one should be doing or paying attention to at the given moment: Х разинул рот ≃ X was napping ⟨spacing out⟩; || чего рот разинул? ≃ why are you standing ⟨sitting etc⟩ there with your mouth open?; why are you standing ⟨sitting etc⟩ there gaping?; || Neg Imper не разевай рот! ≃ wake up!; get with it!

3. to be utterly amazed and show one's amazement: Х рот разинул ≃ X's mouth fell open; X's jaw dropped (in amazement); X gasped; X gaped with open mouth; [lim.] X was knocked ⟨thrown⟩ for a loop; || Х стоял разинув рот ⟨с разинутым ртом⟩ ≃ X stood there with his mouth open; X stood there with (his) mouth agape.

[Расплюев:] А сколько ты мне, например, говорит, Иуда, дашь денег под это детище?.. Того так и шелохнуло, и рот разинул… (Сухово-Кобылин 2). [R.:] And how much would you give me, Judas, he says, on this little trinket? That stirred him so, his mouth fell open (2b). ♦ …Недоимок накопилось такое множество, что местный казначей, заглянув в казённый ящик, разинул рот… (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). …Such an amount of taxes went uncollected that when the local treasurer looked into the treasury cashbox, his jaw dropped in amazement… (1b).

4. [often pfv Verbal Adv with слушать] to become totally absorbed in listening to s.o.: Х слушал раскрыв ⟨разинув⟩ рот ≃ X listened open-mouthed ⟨with open mouth, with his mouth wide open⟩.

Коротеев… любит пощеголять своими знаниями, ему лестно, что Лена слушает его раскрыв рот… (Эренбург 3). Dmitry [Koroteyev] was… fond of showing off his knowledge, it flattered him to have Lena listening to him open-mouthed (3a).

Р-214 • РАЗЖЁВЫВАТЬ/РАЗЖЕВА́ТЬ И В РОТ КЛАСТЬ/ПОЛОЖИ́ТЬ (что) кому coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] to explain sth. to s.o. in the simplest and most detailed way possible: Х разжевал Y и Z-у в рот положил ≃ X spelled Y out for Z; X spoon-fed Y to Z.

Р-215 • РАССТЕГНУ́ТЬ РОТ ⟨ГЛО́ТКУ⟩ substand, rude [VP; subj: human] 1. to begin to talk, chatter, sing, swear etc: Х рот расстегнул ≃ X opened his mouth ⟨trap, big mouth, big fat mouth, big yap etc⟩.

2. ~ кому to force s.o. to start talking, singing etc: Х Y-у рот расстегнёт ≃ X will make Y open his mouth; [lim.] X will force ⟨squeeze⟩ it out of Y.

Р-216 • РОТ ДО УШЕ́Й (у кого) coll [NP; fixed WO] 1. a large mouth: whale ⟨cavern⟩ of a mouth.

2. s.o. is laughing or smiling in such a manner that his mouth seems to stretch all the way to his ears: (у Х-а) ~ ≃ X is grinning from ear to ear. Cf. X is grinning like a Cheshire cat.

Р-217 • СМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ⟩ В РОТ кому coll [VP; subj: human] 1. to watch, usu. hungrily and with envy, while another eats: Х Y-у в рот смотрит ≃ X stares (hungrily) at Y's mouth; X watches Y's every bite.

Костанжогло не любил, чтобы лакеи слушали господские разговоры, а ещё более, чтобы глядели ему в рот в то время, когда он ест (Гоголь 3). …[Kostanzhoglo] did not like to have the flunkies listening to the masters' talk and, still more, he disliked having them staring at his mouth every time he took a bite (3b).

2. to listen to s.o. very attentively, eagerly: Х смотрит Y-у в рот ≃ X hangs on Y's every word; X listens spellbound (to Y); X listens to Y with rapt attention.

…Она ему в рот смотрела, что бы он ни говорил… Она всё как бы ждала (это Лёва прекрасно чувствовал), чтобы он напомнил о том вечере… (Битов 2). She listened spellbound no matter what he said…. She seemed to keep waiting (Lyova was well aware of this) for him to remind her of the other evening… (2a).

Р-218 • ЗОЛОТА́Я РО́ТА obsoles, coll, iron [NP; the collect noun рота—sing only; fixed WO] derelicts (in extended contemporary usage, occas. applied to the new Russian oligarchs): bums; tramps; hobos; [when used in direct address; sarcastic] golden boys

plied Ostap. “Well, golden boys, back to work! We have to find the defendant.” Panikovsky was sent to the Hercules, Balaganov to Koreiko’s place. Ostap himself rushed to the train stations (2d).

< According to M. I. Mikhelson, «Русская мысль и речь. Своё и чужое. Опыт русской фразеологии» (St. Petersburg: 1912) and other sources, in 19th cent. literature the phrase began to be applied to the best of swindlers and more broadly to déclassé elements in general. Initially, in Imperial Russia, it applied to a company of criminals.

Р-219 • НА ЧУЖО́Й ⟨НА ВСЯ́КИЙ⟩ РОТО́К НЕ НАКИ́НЕШЬ ПЛАТО́К [saying] you cannot make others be silent (said when gossip or rumors about a person are being circulated): ≃ you ⟨one⟩ can’t stop people from talking; people will talk.

«Про меня в городе всякий вздор мелют, — угрюмо говорил Передонов, — чего и не было, наплетут». — «На чужой роток не накинешь платок, — сказал хозяин, — а впрочем, в наших палестинах, известно, кумушкам что и делать, как не язычки чесать» (Сологуб 1). “They’re spreading all sorts of nonsense about me in the town,” said Peredonov sullenly, “and they make up things that never happened.” “You can’t stop people from talking,” said the host, “and besides, it is well known that the scandalmongers in our provincial Palestines have nothing to do but wag their tongues” (1a).

Р-220 • МИ́МО РТА ПРОШЛО́ ⟨ПРОЛЕТЕ́ЛО⟩ coll [VP; subj: abstr (usu. omitted); these forms only] sth. evaded s.o.: мимо рта прошло ≃ person X didn’t get it; it passed person X by; person X missed out on it.

Р-221 • НЕ ЗАКРЫВА́ТЬ РТА [VP; subj: human; impfv only] to be saying sth. or singing continuously, uninterruptedly: X не закрывал рта ≃ X was talking ⟨singing⟩ nonstop; X never stopped talking ⟨singing⟩; X was talking ⟨singing⟩ without a break.

Ни одна из нас ни на минуту не закрывала рта. Слушателей в этом разговоре не было. Не было и темы беседы. Каждая говорила о своём с того самого момента, как товарный состав тронулся от Ярославля (Гинзбург 1). None of us stopped talking for a single moment. No one listened to anyone else, and there was no common theme: each of us talked about her own affairs from the moment the train left Yaroslavl (1a).

Р-222 • ТА́ЯТЬ ВО РТУ, usu. (так и) ТА́ЕТ ВО РТУ coll [VP; subj: a noun denoting some food, esp. sth. baked; usu. pres or past] sth. is very delicious: X (так и) тает во рту ≃ X melts in your mouth; X is scrumptious ⟨divine, out of this world⟩.

Гречневая каша с грибами и жареным луком так и таяла во рту. The buckwheat kasha with mushrooms and fried onions was out of this world.

Р-223 • РУБА́ХА-ПА́РЕНЬ highly coll [NP; sing only; obj, appos, or subj-compl with copula (subj: human, male)] a sociable, easygoing, friendly and open person: regular guy; outgoing fellow; happy-go-lucky sort (of fellow ⟨of guy⟩); hail-fellow well met ⟨hail-fellow-well-met⟩.

Овчинников производил двоякое впечатление. С одной стороны — это был рубаха-парень… с другой — амурные похождения и постоянные выпивки Анатолия Николаевича… были так густо переплетены, что он, наверное, и сам не мог разобраться, где говорит правду, а где сочиняет (Чернёнок 1). Ovchinnikov made an ambiguous impression. On the one hand, he was a hail-fellow-well-met…. On the other hand, the amorous adventures and constant drinking of Anatoly Nikolaevich were such a part of him that probably he himself couldn’t tell anymore when he was telling the truth and when he was lying (1a).

Р-224 • СВОЯ́ РУБА́ШКА ⟨РУБА́ХА⟩ БЛИ́ЖЕ К ТЕ́ЛУ [saying] one’s own well-being (or the well-being of those dear to one) is more important than other people’s interests (when said of o.s., usu. used to justify one’s actions; when said of another, usu. used disapprovingly): ≃ charity begins at home; self loves itself best; self comes first; people look out for number one; people look out for their own skins first; men value their own skins more than those ⟨that⟩ of others.

…Ни один из его клевретов — ни Бунина, ни Кулешов, ни Козловский — не подняли руку в его защиту. Почему? А потому что своя рубашка ближе к телу. Они за уважаемого только до тех пор, пока сила на его стороне (Войнович 3). …Not one of his minions—not Bunina, not Kuleshov, not Kozlovsky—raised a hand in his defense. Why not? Why, because charity begins at home. They were for their respected colleague only as long as he had the power (3a).

Р-225 • В ОДНО́Й РУБА́ШКЕ ⟨БЕЗ РУБА́ШКИ⟩ остаться, оставить кого obsoles, coll [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with остаться (subj: human) or obj-compl with оставить (obj: human)] (to be brought or bring s.o. to) a state of financial ruin, (to reduce s.o. or be reduced to) poverty: X оставил Y-а в одной рубашке ≃ X left Y with nothing but the shirt on Y’s back; X took Y to the cleaners; || Y остался в одной рубашке ≃ Y was left with nothing but the shirt on his back; Y lost his shirt; Y got taken to the cleaners.

Эти шулера обыграли его дочиста, в одной рубашке оставили. Those card sharks cleaned him out, left him with nothing but the shirt on his back.

Р-226 • РОДИ́ТЬСЯ В РУБА́ШКЕ ⟨В СОРО́ЧКЕ⟩ coll, occas. humor [VP; subj: human; usu. past] to be lucky: X родился в рубашке ≃ X was born under a lucky star; X was born lucky. Cf. have the luck of the Irish.

«Может быть, вы в сорочке родились, если это вам так сойдёт» (Солженицын 2). “If you get away with this, you must have been born under a lucky star” (2a).

< According to popular belief a baby born with a caul («в рубашке», «в сорочке») will succeed in everything he or she does.

Р-227 • ДО (ПОСЛЕ́ДНЕЙ) РУБА́ШКИ спустить, проиграть(ся), отдать что и т.п. obsoles, coll [PrepP; these forms only; usu. adv or postmodif; fixed WO] (to lose, give up etc) absolutely everything: X спустил всё до последней рубашки ≃ X lost ⟨gave up, pawned etc⟩ everything down to his last shirt; X lost his shirt.

[Нелькин:] Вам больше делать нечего: отдавайте!!. Отдавайте, Пётр Константинович, отдавайте всё; — до рубашки!.. (Сухово-Кобылин 1). [N.:] There’s nothing more you can do: give them what they want!!… Give them everything, Pyotr Konstantinovich, everything—down to your last shirt!… (1a).

Р-228 • НАДЕВА́ТЬ/НАДЕ́ТЬ СМИРИ́ТЕЛЬНУЮ РУБА́ШКУ ⟨РУБА́ХУ⟩ на кого [VP; subj: human; often 3rd pers pl with indef. refer.] to put a stop to s.o.’s disruptive, objectionable behavior: X наденет на Y-а смирительную рубашку ≃ X will straitjacket ⟨shackle⟩ Y; X will bring Y to heel; [lim.] X will muzzle Y.

Р-229 • СНИМА́ТЬ/СНЯ́ТЬ (ПОСЛЕ́ДНЮЮ) РУБА́ШКУ с кого coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] to ruin s.o., reduce s.o. to poverty: X с Y-а последнюю рубашку снимет ≃ X will take Y's last penny; X will clean Y out; X will send Y to the poorhouse.

Р-230 • СНЯТЬ (С СЕБЯ́) ПОСЛЕ́ДНЮЮ РУБА́ШКУ ⟨РУБА́ХУ⟩ (для кого); ОТДА́ТЬ (С СЕБЯ́) ПОСЛЕ́ДНЮЮ РУБА́ШКУ ⟨РУБА́ХУ⟩ (кому) all coll [VP; subj: human; often infin with готов] (to be willing) to share what little one has: X готов последнюю рубашку снять с себя для Y-а ≃ X would give Y the shirt off X's back; X would share his last penny with Y.

«Ведь наверное когда-нибудь кому-нибудь ты помог, протянул руку, вытащил кого-нибудь из воды или огня или последнюю отдал рубаху?» (Войнович 4). "You must have helped somebody some time, lent a hand, pulled somebody out of the water or from a fire, or given someone the shirt off your back?" (4a).

Р-231 • НА РУБЕЖЕ́ чего [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv or sent adv] (used with nouns denoting periods of time) at the time of transition from one period of time to another: at the turn of; || на рубеже XIX и XX вв ≃ at the turn of the 20th century; || на рубеже третьего тысячелетия ≃ at the turn of the third millennium; на рубеже десятилетий ≃ toward the end of the decade; at decade's end; || на рубеже 80–90 годов XX века ≃ at the end of the 1980s; in the late 1980s (and early 1990s); in the late 80s, early 90s; на рубеже 1940–1941 годов ≃ in late 1940 (and early 1941); toward the end of 1940; || на рубеже дня и ночи ≃ between ⟨at the junction of⟩ day and night.

Среди бела дня, при ярком солнечном свете начали обстоятельно, с самого начала, разыгрывать ту историю, которая произошла в сумерках, на рубеже ночи и утра (Тендряков 1). In broad daylight, with the sun shining brightly, they began to unravel in every detail the story of what had happened in the dim light between night and morning (1a).

Р-232 • ЗА РУБЕЖО́М ⟨ЗА КОРДО́НОМ⟩; ЗА РУБЕ́Ж ⟨ЗА КОРДО́Н⟩; ИЗ-ЗА РУБЕЖА́ ⟨ИЗ-ЗА КОРДО́НА⟩ [PrepP; these forms only; adv, nonagreeing modif, or subj-compl with copula (1st var., subj: human, a noun denoting an enterprise etc)] in, to, or from a foreign country or countries: (be ⟨go, return from etc⟩) abroad ⟨overseas⟩; in ⟨to, from⟩ other countries; in ⟨to, from⟩ foreign lands; [lim.] beyond the frontiers ⟨bounds, boundaries, borders⟩ of one's own country.

Теперь ясно: Сталин знал о том, что за рубежом начали интересоваться физиками, разрабатывающими ядерные явления (Гроссман 2). One thing was quite clear: Stalin knew about the importance attributed to nuclear physics in other countries (2a).

Р-233 • ПЕРЕЙТИ́ РУБИКО́Н lit [VP; subj: human] to make an important decision that cannot be reversed and that determines the course of future events: X перешёл Рубикон ≃ X crossed ⟨passed⟩ the Rubicon.

Я встряхнулся. Я снова выпятил челюсть и решительно двинулся к двери прямо. Эдик шёл рядом со мной. «Рубикон перейдён!» — заявил я и пнул дверь ногой (Стругацкие 3). I got myself together. I stuck out my jaw again and resolutely strode toward the middle door. Eddie walked next to me. "The Rubicon is crossed!" I announced and kicked the door (3a).

< From the name of the river Rubicon, which Julius Caesar crossed in 49 B.C., thus starting the civil war that changed the history of Rome.

Р-234 • РУБИ́ТЬ СПЛЕЧА́ coll [VP; subj: human; more often pres, neg imper, or infin with нельзя, не надо, не стоит etc] 1. to speak directly, bluntly, without regard for anyone or anything: X рубит сплеча ≃ X speaks straight from the shoulder ⟨straight out⟩; X shoots from the hip; X calls a spade a spade; X doesn't mince words; X tells it like it is.

И в своих показаниях, и в письмах, и на суде, и в сделанных после суда заявлениях оба держались по-разному: Якир рубил сплеча, как бы сознавая, что терять ему уже нечего, Красин… подводил подо всё определённую философию (Амальрик 1). Each behaved somewhat differently from the other, however, in his recantation, in letters, in court, and in issuing statements after the trial. Yakir, as though realizing that he had nothing to lose, spoke straight out. But Krasin… attributed his actions to a well-defined philosophy (1a).

2. to act in an impetuous and rash manner, not troubling o.s. to think things over: X рубит сплеча ≃ X acts recklessly ⟨impulsively, on impulse⟩; X leaps before he looks; X goes off half-cocked; || Neg Imper не руби сплеча ≃ look before you leap; don't do anything hasty ⟨rash⟩.

«Подозреваю, что записи в бухгалтерских книгах подделал Кузнецов. Нужно срочно принять меры». — «Не руби сплеча. Подожди, пока у тебя будут доказательства». "I suspect it was Kuznetsov who falsified the records in the account books. We must take immediate action." "Look before you leap. Wait until you have some evidence."

Р-235 • НЕ ИМЕ́Й СТО РУБЛЕ́Й, (А) ИМЕ́Й СТО ДРУЗЕ́Й [saying] it is better to have many friends than to have much money (said when friends and acquaintances come to a person's aid in a time of trouble; occas. said when a friend does a person a great favor): ≃ where your friends are, there your riches are; they are rich who have true friends; [lim.] it's always good to have a friend in court.

Р-236 • БИТЬ РУБЛЁМ кого coll [VP; subj: human or collect; often infin with надо, следует, можно etc] to penalize s.o. financially, usu. for failing to work up to the required standard, for working poorly or making mistakes, and also for violating rules and regulations or breaking the law: X будет бить Y-а рублём ≃ X will dock Y ⟨Y's pay⟩; [when imposing a fine] X will fine ⟨slap a fine on⟩ Y.

Р-237 • ДЛИ́ННЫЙ РУБЛЬ; usu. ехать, гнаться, охотиться и т.п. ЗА ДЛИ́ННЫМ РУБЛЁМ coll, often disapprov [NP (sing only) or PrepP (Invar); usu. prep obj; fixed WO] a large amount of money earned quickly and easily: (make) a fast buck; (make ⟨earn⟩) big money ⟨bucks⟩; (chase after ⟨be on the lookout for⟩) easy money; (chase) the big bucks ⟨money⟩.

«Мы с Доменико, кореш у меня там был, итальянец, в Аргентину намыливались за длинным рублём и приехали в Рому» (Аксёнов 6). "I had a pal called Domenico, an Italian, and we were in Rome, on our way to Argentina to make a fast buck" (6a). ♦ «…Сюда всё больше шпана, рвачи, золотая рота за длинным рублём налетела…» (Максимов 1). "…Most of the people we get here these days are riff-raff, rabble, tramps on the lookout for easy money" (1a).

Р-238 • РУГА́ТЕЛЬСКИ РУГА́ТЬ кого coll [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to curse s.o. profusely: X ругательски ругал Y-а ≃ X cursed Y out; X cursed Y up one side and down the other; X cursed Y up and down.

Если случалось, что он приносил домой не всю зарплату, жена его ругательски ругала. If he ever brought home less than his entire wages, his wife would curse him up one side and down the other.

Р-239 • В РУЖЬЁ! mil [PrepP; Invar] 1. стать, встать и т.п. ~ [subj-compl with copula (subj: human pl or a noun denoting a unit of ground forces)] (to get) in formation with weapons in hand: X-ы стали в ружьё ≃ Xs came to arms ⟨to the ready⟩; Xs prepared for combat ⟨for battle⟩.

Роте была дана команда стать в ружьё. The company was given the order to prepare for battle.

2. поставить, поднять кого-что ~ [obj-compl with поставить, поднять (obj: human or a noun denoting a unit of ground forces)] (to bring) to a state of military preparedness: X поднял Y-ов в ружьё ≃ X placed Ys on combat ⟨battle⟩ alert; X called Ys to arms.

По сигналу тревоги капитан поднял роту в ружьё. When the alarm was sounded, the captain placed his company on combat alert.

3. [indep. sent] used as a command to make ready for battle: to arms!

Кто-то заливисто и испуганно кричал возле дверей: «В ружьё!.. В ружьё!..» (Шолохов 3). Someone shouted wildly at the door, "To arms!… To arms!" (3a).

4. стоять ~ obs [subj-compl with стоять (subj: human, usu. pl, or a noun denoting a unit of ground forces)] (to be) in a state of battle readiness: on alert; at the ready; under arms; ready for battle.

Мы пошли на вал… Там уже толпились все жители крепости. Гарнизон стоял в ружьё (Пушкин 2). We made our way to the rampart…. All the inhabitants of the fortress were already crowded there. The garrison was under arms (2b).

Р-240 • ПОД РУЖЬЁ mil [PrepP; Invar] 1. поставить, призвать кого и т.п. ~ [obj-compl with поставить etc (obj: human pl or collect)] (to call s.o. up) for military service: X поставил Y-ов под ружьё ≃ X called Ys to active duty ⟨service⟩; X placed Ys under arms; X called Ys to arms.

Когда началась война, всех запасников призвали под ружьё. When the war started, all reservists were called to active duty.

2. поставить кого ~ obs [obj-compl with поставить (obj: human or collect)] (in refer. to a soldier in the Imperial army) (to punish a soldier by) making him stand for a certain period of time fully armed and in full marching gear: X-а поставили под ружьё ≃ X was ordered to stand punishment in full combat gear.

3. стоять ~ [subj-compl with стоять (subj: human or collect)] (of a soldier in the Imperial army) (to stand) for a certain period of time fully armed and in full marching gear as a form of punishment: X стоял под ружьём ≃ X stood punishment in full combat gear.

Р-242 • БЕЗ РУК! coll [indep. sent; Invar] (used as a command) do not touch (me, him, her): (keep your) hands off!

Р-243 • ВА́ЛИТСЯ ИЗ РУК (у кого) coll [VP; subj: всё, работа, дело etc; usu. pres or past] everything (or some work, project etc) is coming out badly for s.o. because he lacks the appropriate mood, cannot concentrate on what he is doing etc: (у X-а) всё ⟨работа⟩ валится из рук ≃ X can't do anything right; X can't do the simplest thing; X's work isn't coming out right; X is making a mess of everything; X can't put his mind to anything ⟨to his work⟩.

Я изнывал в отсутствие Зинаиды: ничего мне на ум не шло, всё из рук валилось, я по целым дням напряжённо думал о ней… (Тургенев 3). In Zinaida's absence I pined: I could not concentrate; I could not do the simplest thing. For whole days I did nothing but think intensely about her (3b).

Р-244 • ВЫПУСКА́ТЬ/ВЫ́ПУСТИТЬ ИЗ РУК [VP: subj: human] 1. ~ что [often neg] to part with sth., give sth. away: X не выпустит Y из рук ≃ X won't let Y out of his hands; X won't let go of Y; X won't let Y go; X won't give Y up.

Павел Иванович как-то особенно не любил выпускать из рук денег. Если ж настояла крайняя необходимость, то всё-таки, казалось ему, лучше выдать деньги завтра, а не сегодня (Гоголь 3). Pavel Ivanovich somehow had a particular aversion to letting money out of his hands. Even if there was an urgent necessity to do so, it still seemed to him that it would be better to pay the money tomorrow and not today (3c).

2. ~ кого-что to allow s.o. or sth. that is available to one to escape one, fail to make use of or avail o.s. of sth., s.o.'s services etc: X выпустил Y из рук ≃ X let Y slip through his fingers; X let Y slip ⟨pass him⟩ by; X failed to take advantage of thing Y.

Тебе предлагали квартиру в центре Москвы за полцены, и ты отказался? Как ты мог выпустить из рук такую возможность! They offered you an apartment in the center of Moscow for half price and you turned it down? How could you let an opportunity like that slip through your fingers?

Р-245 • ИЗ ВТОРЫ́Х ⟨ТРЕ́ТЬИХ⟩ РУК сведения, информация; узнать, получить, купить что [PrepP; these forms only; nonagreeing modif or adv; fixed WO] (to get information, find sth. out, buy sth. etc) through an intermediary or intermediaries, not directly (from the original source, owner etc): secondhand; at second ⟨third⟩ hand; through a third party.

Я передаю рассказ, полученный мною из вторых, точнее, из третьих рук… (Мандельштам 2). …I have the story at second, or, rather, at third hand… (2a).

Р-246 • ИЗ ПЕ́РВЫХ РУК сведения, информация; узнать, получить, купить что [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing modif or adv; fixed WO] (to get information, find sth. out, buy sth. etc) without an intermediary, directly (from the original source, owner etc): [in refer. to information] firsthand; at first hand; (straight) from the horse's mouth; [in refer. to purchasing sth.] straight from the owner.

«Когда тронемся, неизвестно, может, через час, а может, через месяц…» — «Тронемся в восемнадцать ноль-ноль… Не пяль глаза, у меня сведения из первых рук» (Максимов 3). "There's no knowing when we'll get away from here…. It may be an hour and it may be a month." "We'll be off at eighteen hundred hours…. No need to stare like that. I've got firsthand information" (3a).

Р-247 • ИЗ РУК В РУ́КИ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] 1. передавать, отдавать что кому и т.п. ~ (to deliver, give sth. to s.o. etc) directly: X отдал Y-у Z ~ ≃ person X handed Z over to Y (in person); person X handed Z in

(in person); person X delivered Z into Y's hands; [lim.] Y got Z direct from the source.

Теперь он… смело шёл Куда Надо (правда, с чёрного всё-таки хода) и передавал написанное из рук в руки (Войнович 4). Now he… went bravely to the Right Place (though he did make use of the rear entrance) to hand in what he had written (4a). ♦ «Здравствуй, брат мой Иван, получил твоё письмо… из рук в руки…» (Максимов 1). "Hail, my brother Ivan! I have received your letter…. It was delivered into my hands" (1a).

2. ходить, переходить, передаваться ~ (to pass, be passed) from one person to another, from some people to others: X передаётся из рук в руки ≃ X passes ⟨is passed⟩ from hand to hand; X is passed around; X goes ⟨is passed⟩ from one person to another ⟨to the next⟩; X makes the rounds; [lim.] X changes hands.

В описанной уже выше баньке за семью печатями «Курьер» со статьёй «Ничтожество» переходил из рук в руки (Аксёнов 7). Back in the bathhouse-behind-the-seven-locks outside Moscow the issue of the Courier containing the "Nonentity" article was making the rounds (7a).

…Сталин говорил с ним грубо, упрекал Берию в том, что руководимая им служба работает из рук вон плохо… (Войнович 4). …Stalin had spoken harshly to him…, reproaching Beria that his organization could not be doing any worse… (4a). ♦ Из всего выходило, что дела Андрея из рук вон плохи… (Максимов 3). What it all came to was that Andrei was in a very bad way… (3a).

2. это (же ⟨уж, совсем и т.п.⟩) ~! [Interj] this is entirely unacceptable, cannot be tolerated: that's ⟨this is⟩ (really) too much!; that's the limit!; that's ⟨this is⟩ unthinkable ⟨beyond anything⟩!

Снял мой полицейский офицер сапоги… «Вытрясите их и вычистите». — «Это из рук вон!» (Герцен 2). My police-officer took off the boots. "Knock the dirt off and polish them." "That's really too much!" (2a).

Р-249 • КАК БЕЗ РУК без кого-чего coll [как + PrepP; Invar; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] one is unable to cope, incapable of doing anything without s.o. or sth.: X без Y-а как без рук ≃ X is lost ⟨helpless⟩ without Y.

Меня сняли с работы. «Без всякого объяснения причин, — взволнованно сообщала мне моя заведующая [заведующая детским садом]… — Как без рук остаёмся», — продолжала сокрушаться она… (Гинзбург 2). I was dismissed from my job. "Without any explanation," as my kindergarten head told me. She was very upset about it…. "We'll be lost without you," she went on (2a).

Р-250 • НЕ ВЫПУСКА́ТЬ ИЗ РУК что, чего [VP; subj: human] (in refer. to an activity associated with what is specified by the object) to be very immersed in and do a lot of a certain activity: X не выпускает Y ⟨Y-а⟩ из рук ≃ X doesn't let Y out of X's hand; X never puts Y down; X always has Y in X's hand.

С пятнадцати лет [Егорша] топор из рук не выпускает (Абрамов 1). He [Egorsha] hadn't let his ax out of his hand since the age of fifteen (1a).

Р-251 • НЕ ВЫПУСКА́ТЬ ИЗ РУК ОРУ́ЖИЯ ⟨МЕЧА́ obs⟩ lit [VP; subj: human, usu. pl] to be vigilant, prepared for battle at any moment: X-ы не выпускают из рук оружия ≃ Xs (always) have one hand on their swords; Xs are armed and ready.

Р-252 • НЕ ПОКЛАДА́Я РУК работать, трудиться и т.п. [Verbal Adv; Invar; adv; used with impfv verbs; fixed WO] (to work, do sth.) diligently, without stopping: nonstop; without respite ⟨a break, a moment's rest⟩; without taking a moment off; tirelessly; [equivalents incorporate the verb] one's hands are never still for a moment; one keeps his nose to the grindstone.

Лара работала не покладая рук и была счастлива (Пастернак 1). She [Lara] worked without respite and was happy (1a). ♦ [Кузьмин:] Обещаю вам работать не покладая рук за двоих, за десятерых (Розов 3). [K.:] I promise you to work tirelessly, to do the work of two, of ten (3a).

Р-253 • ОТБИВА́ТЬСЯ/ОТБИ́ТЬСЯ ОТ РУК coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv past] to cease obeying s.o., submitting to s.o.'s authority; (often of children) to begin behaving willfully: X отбился от рук ≃ X is ⟨has gotten⟩ out of hand ⟨out of control⟩; X is ⟨has gotten to be⟩ (quite) unmanageable.

«Деспина!» — предупреждала её тётушка Хрисула и, обращаясь к тёте Нуце, говорила, что Деспина здесь в Чегеме совсем отбилась от рук, ошалев от встречи с Харлампо (Искандер 5). "Despina!" Auntie Chrysoula warned. Turning to Aunt Noutsa, she would say that Despina had gotten completely out of hand here in Chegem, she'd been unbalanced by her meeting with Harlampo (5a).

Р-254 • С РУК покупать, доставать что; продавать, продажа и т.п. ~ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv or nonagreeing postmodif] (to buy, obtain, sell sth. etc) independently, outside of an established store or trading network: directly; privately; [lim.] on the black market.

В букинистических магазинах этот хлам, по-моему, не продаётся. Доставала с рук… (Трифонов 5). I don't think they sell such rubbish in secondhand bookstores; she must have obtained them from certain individuals directly… (5a). ♦ Никогда отец не ворчал, если деньги шли на то, чтоб хорошо одевалась Алла. Доставали вещи с рук… (Солженицын 10). Her father had never grumbled if money was spent on dressing Alla well. They got things on the black market… (10a). ♦ Торговал он с рук разной, необходимой в казачьем обиходе рухлядью… и два раза в год ездил в Воронеж, будто за товаром, а на самом деле доносил, что в станице пока-де спокойно и казаки нового злодейства не умышляют (Шолохов 2). [context transl] He traded in various odds and ends that were of use to Cossacks… and twice a year he travelled to Voronezh ostensibly to replenish his stocks, but actually to report that the stanitsa was calm and the Cossacks were not plotting any fresh mischief (2a).

Р-255 • С РУК НА́ РУКИ сдавать, передавать кого-что (кому) [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to give s.o. or sth.) straight to s.o., (to place s.o. or sth.) right in s.o.'s custody:

X сдал Y-а ~ Z-у ≃ X handed ⟨gave⟩ Y directly to Z; X handed Y over (personally) to Z.

Мы проговорили чуть не до утра. Я проводил Антона домой и передал его с рук на руки Наташе (Зиновьев 2). We went on talking until just before dawn. I walked Anton home and handed him over to Natasha (2a).

Р-256 • СБЫВА́ТЬ/СБЫ́ТЬ С РУК coll [VP; subj: human] 1. ~ что. Also: СПУСКА́ТЬ/СПУСТИ́ТЬ С РУК coll to sell sth. (often sth. that is hard to sell): X сбыл Y с рук ≃ X got Y off X's hands; X got rid of Y.

«Ну, жинка, а я нашёл жениха дочке!» — «Дурень, дурень!.. Где ж таки ты видел, где ж таки ты слышал, чтобы добрый человек бегал теперь за женихами? Ты подумал бы лучше, как пшеницу с рук сбыть…» (Гоголь 5). "Well, wife, I have found a husband for my daughter!" "You are a fool—a fool!… Whoever has seen, whoever has heard of such a thing as a decent man running after husbands at a time like this? You had much better be thinking how to get your wheat off your hands" (5a).

2. ~ кого-что [often pfv infin with хотеть, стараться, рад etc] to rid or free o.s. of s.o. or sth. burdensome, needless: X сбыл Y-а с рук ≃ X got Y off X's hands; X got rid of Y; X got person Y out of X's hair.

«Тебе бы только [ребёнка] с рук сбыть, бабка называется!» — разъярилась Клавдия (Трифонов 2). "You just want to get the child off your hands. Call yourself a grandmother!" said Klavdia in fury (2a).

Пока он крал, делал всякие сделки и махинации да набивал себе карман, никто его не трогал, всё ему с рук сходило (Буковский 1). While he was stealing, fixing deals and other illicit operations, and filling his pockets, nobody touched him and he got away scot-free (1a).

2. ~ как obs [subj: usu. count abstr] (of some matter, undertaking etc) to transpire or come out (as specified, usu. well): X сошёл с рук [AdvP] ≃ X passed ⟨came, went⟩ off [AdvP].

…Хозяин, оставшись один, усталый, бросается на софу и благодарит небо за то, что вечер сошёл с рук без неприятностей (Герцен 2). …The host as soon as he is alone throws himself exhausted on the sofa and thanks heaven that the evening has passed off without unpleasantness (2a).

3. obs, substand [subj: concrete] to be gotten rid of through selling: X сошёл с рук ≃ X was sold; X was off person Y's hands.

Р-259 • УСКОЛЬЗА́ТЬ/УСКОЛЬЗНУ́ТЬ ИЗ РУК чьих, кого [VP] 1. [subj: human or collect] to avoid capture successfully after almost having been caught: X ускользнул из рук Y-а ≃ X slipped through Y's fingers; X slipped away from Y.

2. [subj: abstr or concr] not to be, or to discontinue to be, available to, attainable by etc s.o.: X ускользает из рук Y-а ≃ X is slipping out of Y's hands ⟨grasp⟩; X is slipping through Y's fingers; X is slipping away from Y.

Тренер отчётливо видел, что победа ускользает из их рук. The coach saw clearly that victory was slipping out of their grasp.

Р-260 • УХОДИ́ТЬ/УЙТИ́ ИЗ РУК чьих, кого [VP] 1. [subj: concr] to discontinue being in s.o.'s possession or at s.o.'s disposal: X ушёл из Y-овых рук ≃ X slipped away from Y; X slipped out of Y's hands ⟨grasp⟩.

2. [subj: usu. human] to liberate o.s. from s.o. who has the power to control one, dictate one's future etc: X ушёл из рук Y-а ≃ X slipped out of Y's hands; X slipped through Y's fingers; X escaped ⟨got away⟩ from Y.

Р-261 • БОЛЬША́Я РУКА́ obsoles, coll [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a person who is influential by virtue of his position: big wheel; very important person ⟨VIP⟩; (one who) carries a lot of weight.

Р-262 • ВЕ́РНАЯ РУКА́ у кого [NP; sing only; VP_{subj} with $быть_{ø}$, pres or past] (of a person who) does not hesitate, waver, or err when shooting, fencing, painting etc.: у X-а верная рука ≃ X has a sure hand; X's hand never falters.

Убивая, Ахимас был спокоен и огорчался, только если смерть не была мгновенной. Но такое случалось редко — рука у него была верная (Акунин 3). Achimas killed calmly and was only distressed if the death was not instantaneous. But that rarely happened—he had a sure hand (3a).

Р-263 • ЛЕ́ВАЯ РУКА́ НЕ ЗНА́ЕТ ⟨НЕ ВЕ́ДАЕТ⟩, ЧТО ДЕ́ЛАЕТ ПРА́ВАЯ; ПРА́ВАЯ РУКА́ НЕ ЗНА́ЕТ ⟨НЕ ВЕ́ДАЕТ⟩, ЧТО ДЕ́ЛАЕТ ЛЕ́ВАЯ [complex sent; pres or past] disapprov there is lack of communication and coordination between members of a group, organization etc: the left hand doesn't know what the right (hand) is doing; the right hand doesn't know what the left (hand) is doing.

Дегтярь… обратился к Малой: на каком основании она, как староста кружка, допустила к занятиям гражданина Чеперуху, который решением товарищеского суда выселяется из нашего дома и города Одессы? Клава Ивановна ответила тут же: если бы человека присудили к расстрелу — тогда другое дело, а так от занятия ему будет только польза. «Значит, — сказал Иона Овсеич, — правая рука не знает, что делает левая…» (Львов 1). Degtyar… turned to Malaya, the leader of the study group, and asked on what basis she had allowed Citizen Cheperukha to participate after he had been expelled from the building and the city of Odessa by a decision of a Comrades' Court? "If he had been sentenced to death that would be another matter," she replied, "but, as it is, the class can only do him good." "So the right hand doesn't know what the left is doing," said Iona Ovseich (1a).

Р-264 • ЛЁГКАЯ РУКА́ у кого coll, approv [NP; sing only; usu. VP_{subj} with copula, pres or past] s.o. has skill, ability, and/or luck that makes him successful in what he undertakes: у X-а лёгкая рука ≃ X has a magic touch; [lim.] X is clever (at sth.); [in refer. to financial success] X has the Midas touch.

У Веры была лёгкая рука на полноту, умела так скроить, чтобы скрыть изъяны фигуры (Грекова 3). Vera was clever at dealing with stoutness, at cutting fabric to hide the defects of a figure (3a).

P-265 • НЕ РУКА́ кому obs [NP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: usu. infin)] 1. doing sth. is not suited to s.o.'s plans, purposes, tastes etc: делать X Y-у не рука ≃ it doesn't suit Y to do X; [lim.] it is inconvenient for Y to do X.

[Митя:] …Я к другому-то месту и не пойду. [Гуслин:] Отчего же не пойдёшь? Вот у Разлюляевых жить хорошо — люди богатые и добрые. [Митя:] Нет, Яша, не рука! (Островский 2). [M.:] …I won't go to another place. [G.:] Why won't you go? There at the Razlyulyayevs' it's very nice—the people are rich and kind. [M.:] No, Yasha, that doesn't suit me! (2a).

2. doing sth. is not to s.o.'s advantage: делать X Y-у не рука ≃ it is not in Y's (best) interests to do X; it wouldn't serve Y's (best) interests to do X.

3. doing sth. is improper, unbefitting for s.o.: делать X Y-у не рука ≃ it is unbecoming ⟨not right⟩ for Y to do X; it doesn't suit Y to do X.

P-266 • ПРА́ВАЯ РУКА́ чья, кого, у кого [NP; sing only; subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: human) or appos; fixed WO] a person of great value and usefulness to s.o., s.o.'s most trusted assistant: X — правая рука Y-а ≃ X is Y's right hand ⟨arm⟩; X is Y's right-hand man ⟨woman⟩.

[Соня:] Илья Ильич — наш помощник, правая рука (Чехов 3). [S.:] Ilya Ilyich is our helper, our right hand (3a). [S.:] Ilya Ilyich is a great help to us. He's our right-hand man (3b).

P-267 • РУКА́ НАБИ́ТА чья, у кого (в чём, на чём) coll [VP$_{subj}$ with быть$_{ø}$] s.o. has skill, experience, or mastery in sth.: у X-а (в Y-е) рука набита ≃ X is a practiced hand (at Y); X is an old hand (at Y).

Вот сила — Сталин! Его потому и зовут хозяином. Его рука ни разу не дрогнула, в нём не было интеллигентской дряблости Бухарина (Гроссман 2). Stalin… was a man of true strength. It wasn't for nothing he was known as "the boss." His hand had never trembled—he had none of Bukharin's flabby intellectuality (2a).

P-269 • РУКА́ НЕ ПОДНИМА́ЕТСЯ ⟨НЕ ПОДНИМА́ЕТСЯ⟩/НЕ ПОДНЯЛА́СЬ у кого coll [VP$_{subj}$; used without negation, usu. in questions, to convey the opposite meaning] 1. ~ на кого s.o. lacks the resolve to hit, beat, or kill another: у X-а на Y-а рука не поднимается ≃ X can't bring himself to hit ⟨kill etc⟩ Y; X doesn't have the heart ⟨doesn't have it in him⟩ to hit ⟨kill etc⟩ Y; X can't lift a hand against Y.

«…Когда забирали его в плен, можно было бы кокнуть, а уж после как-то рука у меня не подымалась…» (Шолохов 5). [context transl] "…When we captured him, I could have cut him down, but afterwards somehow I couldn't do it in cold blood…" (5a).

2. Also: РУКА́ НЕ НАЛЕГА́ЕТ/НЕ НАЛЕГЛА́ obs [used with the infin of another verb] s.o. lacks the resolve (to do sth.): у X-а рука не поднимается сделать Y ≃ X can't bring himself to do Y; X doesn't have the heart ⟨the courage⟩ to do Y.

…Обезображивать такого красавца, как [верблюд] Каранар, — прокалывать ему ноздри… — [у Едигея] рука не поднималась (Айтматов 2). …To spoil such a handsome beast as [the camel] Karanar—to pierce his nostrils…. Yedigei could not bring himself to do that (2a).

Он поднялся со скамеечки, и мы втроём, рука об руку, пошли вдоль улицы Первого мая (Стругацкие 3). He got up from the bench and the three of us went down First of May Street arm in arm (3a).

2. жить, работать (с кем) и т.п. ~. Also: РУКА́ В РУ́КУ obs; РУКА́ С РУКО́Й obs (to live, work etc) together, as associates, as comrades: hand in hand; shoulder to shoulder; [lim.] hand in ⟨and⟩ glove.

«Рука с рукой мы пойдём в бой против тех, кто порабощал трудящихся в течение целых столетий!» (Шолохов 3). "Shoulder to shoulder we will go into action against those who have been enslaving the working people for centuries!" (3a).

3. идти ~ с чем (to be) connected, closely related (to sth.): (go) hand in hand (with sth.).

В его творчестве теория шла рука об руку с практикой… (Лившиц 1). In his creative work theory went hand in hand with practice (1a).

P-271 • РУКА́ РУ́КУ МО́ЕТ [saying] two parties cover for or assist each other in certain matters (which are, or are considered by the speaker to be, dishonest, reprehensible, undesirable etc): ≃ one hand washes the other; you scratch my back and I'll scratch yours; you ⟨they etc⟩ all look after each other ⟨one another⟩; honor among thieves.

Справедливого и беспристрастного чиновничества никогда и нигде не бывало, не привилось оно и в Заволжье. И «своему человечку» у нас радеют, неприятелей при случае притесняют, и рука руку моет (Акунин 6). There has never been an entirely just and impartial bureaucracy, and one did not take root in Zavolzhie, either. In these parts, too, people "look after their own" and oppress their enemies when they get the chance, and scratch the back of the person who has scratched theirs (6a).

< Loan translation of the Latin Manus manum lavat.

P-272 • СВОЯ́ РУКА́ ВЛАДЫ́КА [saying] the person in question is in a position to do as he sees fit or deems necessary because he is fully in charge of sth. (often said critically when a person acts arbitrarily, willfully, or in a stubborn manner): ≃ I'm ⟨he's etc⟩ the boss; what I say ⟨he says etc⟩ goes; [lim.] I'm ⟨he's etc⟩ in the driver's seat ⟨in the saddle⟩; I rule ⟨he rules etc⟩ the roost; I call my ⟨he calls his etc⟩ own shots; my ⟨his etc⟩ word is law.

Наш директор ни с кем не считается, действует по принципу «Своя рука владыка». Our director does exactly as he pleases, acting on the principle "What I say goes."

P-273 • СИ́ЛЬНАЯ РУКА́ (у кого, где) coll [NP; sing only; fixed WO] an influential patron: friend in high places; friend at court; s.o. to pull strings for one.

P-274 • ТВЁРДАЯ РУКА́ (у кого) [NP; sing only] a decisive person's ability to bend others to his will, keep things under control etc: (someone ⟨a person etc⟩ with) a strong ⟨firm⟩ hand; s.o.'s strong ⟨firm⟩ hand.

Положение у нас на заводе тяжёлое. Чтобы исправить его, нужна твёрдая рука. Things at the factory are in a critical state. In order to correct them we need someone with a firm hand.

Р-275 • ТЯЖЁЛАЯ РУКА́ у кого coll [NP: sing only; usu. VP_{subj} with copula] 1. s.o. delivers hard blows when hitting another: у Х-а тяжёлая рука ≃ X has a heavy hand.

«Бью его теперь, что неделя. А рука тяжёлая у меня» (Солженицын 6). "I beat him every week now. And I've got a heavy hand" (6a).

2. a person who brings failure to any endeavor in which he engages: у Х-а тяжёлая рука ≃ X is bad luck; X is a jinx.

Р-276 • В РУКА́В смеяться, хихикать и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to laugh) inwardly, to o.s.: (laugh) up ⟨in⟩ one's sleeve.

Игорь [Серебро] был автором знаменитой галереи портретов под лаконичным названием «Отцы». Это были портреты отечественной аристократии: доярка, металлург, партработник, хлопковод, генерал, писатель… Никакого гротеска, иронии… идеальная бронза, фотографически точные портреты, придраться невозможно, но… люди, знающие Серебро, а таких по Москве было немало, хихикали в рукава и перемигивались — вот, мол, паноптикум, вот, мол, воткнул им Серебро, пусть на себя посмотрят… (Аксёнов 6). Igor [Serebro] was the creator of a famous series of busts that went by the laconic general title of Fathers. These were portraits of typical representatives of the Soviet aristocracy: a milkmaid, a metalworker, a Party official, a cotton grower, a general, a writer. There was nothing grotesque about them, nothing ironic… nothing but ideal bronze, photographically exact portraits to which no one could possibly object. But… people who knew Serebro, and there were quite a few of them around Moscow, laughed up their sleeves and exchanged winks. "What a collection! Serebro has really stuck the knife into them, now let them look at themselves" (6a).

Р-277 • ЗАСУЧИ́В РУКАВА́ взяться за что, работать и т.п. coll [Verbal Adv; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (of a person) (to get to work, to work etc) diligently, energetically: засучив рукава, Х взялся ⟨принялся⟩ за дело ⟨работу и т.п.⟩ ≃ X rolled up his sleeves and got down to work ⟨to the job etc⟩; X buckled ⟨knuckled⟩ down to work.

Ольга Васильевна сказала, что паники, собственно, нет, [Сергею] надо спокойно всё обдумать, учесть замечания, переделать, что необходимо и с чем ты внутренне согласен, — словом, взяться засучив рукава, но не поддаваться слабости (Трифонов 3). Olga said that there was, in fact, no panic; what Sergei had to do was to think it all over calmly, to take note of the adverse comments, to revise whatever was necessary and whatever, in his own view, was genuinely in need of revision—in other words, to roll up his sleeves and get down to the job but not give way to weakness (3a).

Р-278 • СПУСТЯ́ РУКАВА́ coll, disapprov [Verbal Adv; Invar; adv; more often used with impfv verbs] (to do sth.) carelessly, haphazardly, without an honest attempt: any old way; in a slipshod manner; sloppily; halfheartedly; slapdash; lazily.

«Другие люди к работе относятся спустя рукава, лишь бы день до вечера, а Федоша… для него, понимаете, семья на втором месте, а на первом работа» (Войнович 4). "Other people work any old way, just put in their time, but Fedosha… for him, you see, the family is second, work comes first" (4a).

< «Спустя» is the old form of the short active participle of the verb «спустить»; the corresponding modern form is the perfective verbal adverb «спустив».

Р-279 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ В ЕЖО́ВЫХ РУКАВИ́ЦАХ ⟨БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ В ЕЖО́ВЫЕ РУКАВИ́ЦЫ⟩ кого coll [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to keep or assume strict control over s.o., subjugate, oppress s.o.: Х держит Y-а в ежовых рукавицах ≃ X keeps a tight rein on Y; X keeps Y in an iron grip; X rules Y with an iron hand ⟨fist, rod⟩; X rules Y with a rod of iron; X controls Y with a heavy hand; [lim.] X runs a tight ship; X holds Y in a mailed fist.

По правде сказать, он [Мандельштам] держал меня в ежовых рукавицах, а я побаивалась его, но виду не показывала и всё пыталась не то чтобы соскользнуть, но ускользнуть хоть на часок (Мандельштам 2). To tell the truth, he [Mandelstam] kept a very tight rein on me, and indeed I was rather frightened of him, but I did not show it and kept trying not so much to escape as to slip away for an hour or so (2a).

Р-280 • ЕЖО́ВЫЕ РУКАВИ́ЦЫ coll [NP; pl only; fixed WO] very strict, oppressive treatment: iron hand ⟨fist, rod, rule⟩; rod of iron; tight rein; mailed fist.

В то время ещё ничего не было достоверно известно ни о коммунистах, ни о социалистах, ни о так называемых нивелляторах вообще. Тем не менее нивелляторство существовало, и притом в самых обширных размерах. Были… нивелляторы «бараньего рога», нивелляторы «ежовых рукавиц» и проч. и проч. (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). At that time nothing was yet known for certain about either communists, socialists, or so-called levelers in general. Nevertheless, leveling existed, and on a very vast scale. There were… levelers of "knuckling under," levelers of "the rod of iron," and so forth (1a).

Р-281 • БИТЬ ⟨УДАРЯ́ТЬ/УДА́РИТЬ⟩ ПО РУКА́М old-fash, coll [VP; subj: human, usu. pl] to come to an agreement, usu. sealing it by shaking hands: Х и Y ударили по рукам ≃ X and Y struck a bargain ⟨made a deal⟩; [when a handshake accompanies or replaces a spoken agreement] X and Y shook (hands) on it.

Потом татары поталалакают по-своему, набавят, княгиня сбавит, ударят по рукам… (Пильняк 1). Then the Tatars will gabble in their own language, increase the amount, the Princess will reduce it, they'll strike a bargain… (1a).

Р-282 • ГУЛЯ́ТЬ ПО РУКА́М coll [VP; subj: concr] to be passed from one person to another (for inspection, familiarization): Х гуляет по рукам ≃ X is passed ⟨handed⟩ around; X is passed from hand to hand; X is going ⟨making⟩ the rounds.

Всем хотелось рассмотреть шкатулку, и она пошла гулять по рукам. Everyone wanted to examine the little box, so it was passed around.

Р-283 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ ПО РУКА́М кому coll [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to reprimand or punish s.o., thereby bringing a decisive, abrupt end to s.o.'s actions: Х дал Y-у по рукам ≃ X gave Y a slap on the wrist; X rapped Y's knuckles.

«Брось свои институтские штучки. Я тебе не позволю, я тебе дам по рукам!» (Аксёнов 1). "Quit your college-kid tricks. I won't let you, you'll get your knuckles rapped" (1a).

Р-284 • ПО РУКА́М! coll [PrepP; Invar; usu. indep. sent] (said when two parties make a deal or reach an agreement) let us consider the matter decided (and shake hands to finalize it): it's ⟨let's call it⟩ a deal!; let's shake (hands) on it!; [in questions] shall we shake (hands) on it?; shall we call it a deal?

«А пойдёшь за меня?» — «Ещё погожу. Вот семьдесят стукнет, честное слово, выйду». — «Значит, по рукам?» (Грекова 3). "So will you marry me?" "I'll still wait. When I'm seventy I'll marry you." "Shake on it?" (3a).

Р-285 • ПОЛУЧА́ТЬ/ПОЛУЧИ́ТЬ ПО РУКА́М coll [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to be reprimanded or punished, and be forced to discontinue some action: X получил по рукам ≃ X got his hand ⟨wrist⟩ slapped; X got his knuckles rapped; X got a rap on ⟨over⟩ the knuckles.

«Мы вам здесь клуб Петёфи устроить не дадим! Здесь вам не Венгрия! По рукам получите, господин Пантелей!» (Аксёнов 6). "We won't let you start a seditious Petöfi-style Writers' Club here! This isn't Hungary, you know! You'll get a rap over the knuckles, Mr. Pantelei!" (6a).

Р-286 • ПРИБИРА́ТЬ/ПРИБРА́ТЬ К РУКА́М [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] 1. ~ кого to make s.o. submit to o.s. (esp. when trying to make him change his behavior): X прибрал Y-а к рукам ≃ X took Y in hand; X gained the upper hand (over Y).

Была у него хозяйка, да вот он, видно, не сумел прибрать её к рукам… (Искандер 4). He had a wife, but he must have failed to gain the upper hand over her… (4a).

2. ~ что disapprov (in refer. to sth. that one has no right to) to appropriate sth., take sth. into one's possession willfully: X прибрал Y к рукам ≃ X got ⟨laid⟩ his hands on Y; X seized Y; [in refer. to power, a business etc] X took over Y (completely); X secured Y; [in refer. to power only] X took hold of Y; [in refer. to money, goods etc only] X helped himself to Y; [lim.] X pocketed ⟨swiped⟩ Y.

[author's usage] Взято было тут же тысяча пятьсот человек пленных, тридцать восемь орудий, знамёна и, что важнее всего для казаков, лошади, сёдла, одеяла и различные предметы. Со всем этим надо было обойтись, прибрать к рукам пленных, пушки, поделить добычу… (Толстой 7). Fifteen hundred prisoners and thirty-eight guns were taken on the spot, besides standards and, most important to the Cossacks, horses, saddles, horsecloths, and the like. All this had to be dealt with, the prisoners and guns secured, the booty divided… (7a).

Р-287 • ПУСКА́ТЬ/ПУСТИ́ТЬ ПО РУКА́М что [VP; subj: human] to cause sth. to pass from one person to another: X пустил Y по рукам ≃ X circulated Y from hand to hand; X passed Y around; X passed Y (on) to other people; || Y пустили по рукам ≃ Y was passed from hand to hand.

Прежде чем передать эту книжку издателю, я пустил её по рукам… (Войнович 3). Before turning this book over to be published, I circulated it from hand to hand… (3a).

Р-288 • СВЯ́ЗЫВАТЬ ⟨ВЯЗА́ТЬ⟩/СВЯЗА́ТЬ ⟨СКО́ВЫВАТЬ/СКОВА́ТЬ, СПУ́ТЫВАТЬ/СПУ́ТАТЬ⟩ ПО РУКА́М И (ПО) НОГА́М кого; СВЯ́ЗЫВАТЬ/СВЯЗА́ТЬ РУ́КИ кому [VP; subj: human or abstr; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to deprive s.o. of the freedom to act as he wishes, restrict s.o.'s actions: X связывает Y-а по рукам и (по) ногам ≃ X ties ⟨binds⟩ Y hand and foot; X ties Y's hands; || у Y-а связаны руки ≃ Y's hands are tied.

«Я, право, — говаривала, например, m-me Прово, — на месте барыни просто взяла бы да и уехала в Штутгарт…» — «Разумеется, — добавляла Вера Артамоновна, — да вот что связало по рукам и ногам», — и она указывала спичками чулка на меня (Герцен 1). "If I were in the mistress's place," Madame Proveau would say, for instance, "I would simply go straight back to Stuttgart…." "To be sure," Vera Artamonovna would assent, "but that's what ties her, hand and foot," and she would point with her knitting-needle towards me (1a).

Р-289 • ХОДИ́ТЬ/ПОЙТИ́ ПО РУКА́М[1] [VP; subj: concr, often a noun denoting a written or printed work; more often impfv; fixed WO] to be passed from one person to another: X ходил по рукам ≃ X was passed from hand to hand; X was passed ⟨handed⟩ around; X was going ⟨making⟩ the rounds; X (was) circulated.

Тогда же я прочла «Разговоры со Сталиным» Милована Джиласа. Австралийское издание этой книги… кто-то привёз в Москву, и она ходила по рукам (Аллилуева 2). It was at this time that I read Milovan Djilas' Conversations with Stalin. Someone had brought to Moscow the Australian version of this book, and it was passed from hand to hand (2a).

Р-290 • ХОДИ́ТЬ/ПОЙТИ́ ПО РУКА́М[2] coll [VP; subj: human, female; usu. pfv] to have sexual relations with one man after another: X пошла по рукам ≃ X began ⟨has been⟩ sleeping around; X went ⟨has been going⟩ from one man to another; [lim.] X began ⟨has been⟩ living off men.

«Мать, говорит, воровка, по магазинам промышляет, а она сама с пятнадцати по рукам пошла, но разденется, есть на что посмотреть!» (Максимов 1). "She said her mother's a thief, goes around stealing from shops, and that she herself has been living off men since she was fifteen, but when she took her clothes off, she was something to look at!" (1a).

Р-291 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ ⟨ЗАБРА́ТЬ⟩ ГО́ЛЫМИ РУКА́МИ кого-что coll [VP; subj: human; often neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing не возьмёшь; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to capture, win sth. or overcome s.o. without difficulty: X возьмёт Y-а голыми руками ≃ X will seize ⟨capture, take⟩ Y barehanded ⟨with X's bare hands⟩; X will win ⟨beat Y⟩ hands down; [often in refer. to a sports competition] X will trounce Y; X will blow Y away; || Neg Y-а голыми руками не возьмёшь ≃ [in refer. to a cunning person] you can't put anything over on Y; you can't outsmart ⟨outmaneuver⟩ Y.

Участковый сидел у раскалённой добела времянки в комнате дворника, отогревал посиневшие руки и хрипло раздумывал вслух: «Его, чёрта, голыми руками не возьмёшь… Оперативников просить?» (Максимов 3). The block sergeant sat by the white-hot, portable stove in the yardman's room, trying to warm his blue hands and hoarsely thinking aloud. "You won't catch that devil bare-handed…. Maybe we ought to call the Criminal Investigation Squad?" (3a).

Р-292 • ВСПЛЕ́СКИВАТЬ/ВСПЛЕСНУ́ТЬ РУКА́МИ [VP; subj: human; usu, past; usu. this WO] (usu. used in narratives; more often of women) to express a strong emotion, such as exasperation, despair, bewilderment, astonishment etc, usu. in reaction to something unexpected (the person raises his hands, separating them slightly, then he may clasp them together): X всплеснул руками ≃ X threw up his hands (in despair ⟨frustration, dismay etc⟩); X flung (up) his hands (in delight ⟨surprise, joy, exasperation etc⟩); X threw up ⟨flung⟩ his hands in the air; X lifted his hands in frustration ⟨exasperation, surprise⟩; [lim.] X clasped his hands.

Посетительница всплеснула руками: «Я читала про лечебницу доктора Коровина!» (Акунин 2). His visitor flung her hands in surprise. "I've read about Dr. Korovin's clinic!" (2a).

«Из штрафных лагерей я попал в самый ужасный… Снежное поле под открытым небом, посередине столб, на столбе надпись „Гулаг 92 Я Н 90“ и больше ничего… В мороз голыми руками жердинник ломали на шалаши» (Пастернак 1). "We got sent to… the worst of the penal camps…. An open snow field with a post in the middle and a notice on it saying: 'GULAG 92 Y.N. 90'—that's all there was…. We broke saplings with our bare hands in the bitter cold, to get wood to build huts" (1a).

P-294 • ОБЕ́ИМИ РУКА́МИ ПОДПИ́СЫВАТЬСЯ/ ПОДПИСА́ТЬСЯ под чем ⟨ПОДДЕ́РЖИВАТЬ/ПОДДЕРЖА́ТЬ что⟩ coll [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the initial position, otherwise fixed WO] to agree with, support sth. readily and completely: X обеими руками подписывается под Y-ом ≃ X is all for Y; X supports Y all the way; X couldn't agree more with Y; X supports ⟨agrees with, is behind⟩ Y one hundred percent; X agrees wholeheartedly with Y.

Я обеими руками подписываюсь под вашим решением. I support your decision one hundred percent.

P-295 • ОТБИВА́ТЬСЯ РУКА́МИ И НОГА́МИ (от чего); УПИРА́ТЬСЯ/УПЕРЕ́ТЬСЯ РУКА́МИ И НОГА́МИ both coll [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to refuse categorically (to do, accept, agree to etc sth.): X отбивается (от Y-а) руками и ногами ≃ X resists (Y) with all he's got; X fights (it ⟨Y⟩) tooth and nail; X fights tooth and nail against Y; [lim.] X wants no part of it ⟨Y⟩.

Ивана хотят сделать старостой группы, а он отбивается руками и ногами. They want to put Ivan in charge of the group, but he's resisting with all he's got.

P-296 • РАЗВОДИ́ТЬ/РАЗВЕСТИ́ РУКА́МИ coll [VP; subj: human; more often past] to be unpleasantly shocked, bewildered, and show that one does not know what to do, how to react etc: X развёл руками ≃ X was at a loss (to know what to do ⟨how to react etc⟩); X shrugged his shoulders (in bewilderment ⟨perplexity etc⟩); X threw up ⟨spread⟩ his hands (in bewilderment ⟨perplexity etc⟩); X was dumbfounded ⟨nonplussed etc⟩.

…О. М[андельштам] спросил, почему сейчас заболевают после нескольких дней внутренней тюрьмы, хотя раньше просиживали по многу лет в крепости и выходили здоровыми. Врач только развёл руками (Мандельштам 1). M[andelstam] then asked him why it was that people got into this state [i.e., became ill] after a few days in prison, whereas in the old days prisoners spent years in dungeons without being affected like this. The doctor only shrugged his shoulders (1a).

P-297 • РУКА́МИ И НОГА́МИ быть$_{ø}$ за, поддерживать кого-что coll [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to be in favor of, support s.o. or sth.) fully, very strongly: one ⟨a⟩ hundred percent; all the way; (be) all for (sth.); lock, stock, and barrel.

«Этот термин „советская власть“ стал неточно употребляться. Он означает: власть депутатов трудящихся, только их одних, свободно ими избранную и свободно ими контролируемую. Я — руками и ногами за такую власть!..» (Солженицын 2). "The term 'Soviet regime' has come to be used imprecisely. It should mean government by the soviets, by representatives of the toilers and by no one else, freely elected by the toilers and freely controlled by them. I am a hundred percent in favor of such a government!…" (2a).

P-298 • С ПУСТЫ́МИ РУКА́МИ приходить, возвращаться, уходить и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] bringing or having gained nothing: (return ⟨leave, come etc⟩) empty-handed; (leave ⟨go back etc⟩) with nothing to show for one's efforts; ‖ Neg не с пустыми руками ≃ not (come) with one's hands hanging ⟨empty⟩; [lim.] not (come ⟨arrive etc⟩) unprepared.

«„Я не попаду, — говорю, — уйдут маралы, второй раз не вернутся. А нам с пустыми руками не стоит возвращаться“» (Айтматов 1). "'I'll miss,' I said to him. 'The deer will get away and won't come back again. And we cannot return empty-handed, you know that'" (1a).

P-299 • С РУКА́МИ И (С) НОГА́МИ; С РУКА́МИ-НОГА́МИ coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] 1. «Передай моему другу Автандилу Автандиловичу, что пропаганда козлотура в надёжных руках» (Искандер 6). "Tell my friend Avtandil Avtandilovich that the promotion of the goatibex is in reliable hands" (6a).

P-307 • В ОДНИ́Х РУКА́Х [PrepP; Invar; adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: concr pl or abstr); fixed WO] in the possession or under the control of one individual: in the hands of one person.

Опасно, когда большая власть сосредоточена в одних руках. It's dangerous when a great deal of power is in the hands of one person.

P-308 • В ПЛОХИ́Х РУКА́Х быть$_{ø}$, оказаться и т.п.; В ПЛОХИ́Е РУ́КИ попасть. [PrepP; these forms only; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: concr or abstr); fixed WO] (to be, end up etc) in the possession or under the control of an ill-wisher, an enemy, a person or group capable of inflicting harm: X в плохих руках ≃ X is in the wrong hands; || X попал в плохие руки ≃ X fell ⟨got⟩ into the wrong hands; X ended up in the wrong hands.

Оформляю, плачу в кассу что положено и возвращаюсь домой с тяжёлым сердцем: дело попало в плохие руки… (Рыбаков 1). I signed the papers, paid the bill and went home with a heavy heart. The case had got into the wrong hands… (1a).

P-309 • В РУКА́Х чьих, у кого, каких быть$_{ø}$, находиться и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is usu. subj-compl with copula] 1. [subj: human or жизнь, судьба etc] a person (his life etc) is entirely subject to s.o., under s.o.'s complete control: X у Y-а в руках ≃ X is in Y's hands ⟨power⟩; person X is at the mercy of Y; thing X lies ⟨is, rests⟩ in Y's hands.

Страшная мысль мелькнула в уме моём: я вообразил её [Машу] в руках у разбойников (Пушкин 2). A terrible thought flashed through my mind; I pictured her [Masha] in the hands of the brigands (2c).

2. [subj: concr or abstr] sth. is in s.o.'s possession, at s.o.'s disposal: X у Y-а в руках ⟨в Y-овых руках⟩ ≃ X is in Y's hands; Y has possession of X; X belongs to Y; [lim.] Y has hold of X.

Инициатива… в эти дни была в руках у немцев (Гроссман 2). The initiative at this time belonged to the Germans (2a).

3. в наших ⟨ваших, его и т.п.⟩ руках [subj: abstr, often всё] (of a decision or the outcome of sth.) sth. is dependent upon s.o., exclusively determined by s.o.: X в Y-овых руках ≃ X is in Y's hands; X is (entirely) up to Y; it's in Y's power to decide…

[Зилов:] …Жизнь идёт, но мы с тобой — у нас с тобой всё на месте. Во всяком случае, у меня к тебе всё в целости-сохранности. Как шесть лет назад… [Галина:] Ничего у нас не осталось. [Зилов:] Да нет, всё в порядке. А если что не так, мы всё можем вернуть в любую минуту. Хоть сейчас. Всё в наших руках (Вампилов 5). [Z.:] Life moves on, but you and I haven't changed. At least my feelings for you are just as they were six years ago…. [G.:] There's nothing left. [Z.:] No, no, everything's fine. If something's not quite right, we can bring it all back any time we like. Right now, if you like. It's up to us entirely (5a).

P-310 • ГОРИ́Т В РУКА́Х чьих, у кого coll, approv [VP; subj: дело, работа, всё; pres or past] some work is being done efficiently and well by s.o., or everything s.o. does is done efficiently and well by him: у Х-а работа горит в руках ≃ X is doing a ⟨one⟩ heck of a job; X is doing a bang-up job; || у Х-а всё горит в руках ≃ X makes everything look easy; everything ⟨whatever⟩ X does comes out just fine.

Поправит столбик, отойдёт с прищуренным глазом, посмотрит и радуется сам на себя: вот, дескать, какой я мастер — за что ни возьмусь, всё в руках горит (Войнович 2). He straightened out a post, then took a few steps back; his eyes narrowed; what he saw gave him great joy—what a master I am, thought Chonkin, whatever I try my hand at comes out just fine (2a).

Р-311 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ В РУКА́Х кого-что [VP; subj: human; obj: human or collect] to keep s.o. in subjugation, exercise control over s.o.: Х держит Y-а в руках ≃ X keeps ⟨has⟩ Y (well) in hand; X keeps Y under X's thumb; X has Y under X's control.

И он [командир полка] умел держать в руках отчаянных воздушных лейтенантов (Гроссман 2). And he [the commander of a fighter squadron] knew how to keep [the] wild young pilots under his thumb (2a).

Р-312 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ СЕБЯ́ В РУКА́Х [VP; subj: human; often infin (used with умеет, надо etc) or imper] to maintain one's self-possession, not give in to an emotional outburst: Х держал себя в руках ≃ X kept himself in hand; X controlled himself; X used ⟨exercised⟩ self-control; X kept a grip on himself; X kept his cool; || Х умеет держать себя в руках ≃ X has self-control.

Моя мать была вспыльчива, но, когда надо, умела держать себя в руках… (Рыбаков 1). Mother had a fiery temper, but when she had to she knew how to control herself… (1a).

Р-313 • НА РУКА́Х [PrepP; Invar] 1. ~ у кого, чьих, кого быть$_{ø}$, остаться и т.п. [the resulting PrepP is usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human, or a noun denoting an enterprise, area of activity etc)] a person (or thing) is, remains etc in s.o.'s charge, requiring s.o.'s supervision: у Y-а ~ Х ≃ X is on Y's hands; Y has X on Y's hands; person X is in Y's care; Y has X to look after.

«А Николай Васильевич редко бывает в институте?» — «Николай Васильевич? Очень редко. У него на руках другой институт» (Каверин 1). "Does Nikolai Vasilyevich often come to the Institute?"… "Nikolai Vasilyevich? Very rarely…. He has another Institute on his hands" (1a). ♦ «А что Маша, капитанская дочка?» Я отвечал, что она осталась в крепости на руках у попадьи (Пушкин 2). "But what happened to Masha, the captain's daughter?" I replied that she had remained at the fort, in the care of the priest's wife (2a).

2. ~ у кого быть$_{ø}$, иметься и т.п. [the resulting PrepP is subj-compl with copula (subj: concr)] sth. is possessed, held by s.o. at a specific moment: Х у Y-а ~ ≃ X is in Y's possession; Y has X on ⟨in⟩ hand; Y has X on ⟨with⟩ him; Y has X (on his person).

«Если лицо это вас действительно приглашало [в США], то у вас на руках должно быть от него какое-то приглашение…» (Войнович 1). "If he [this person] really invited you [to the United States], you should have the invitation from him in hand…" (1a).

3. быть$_{ø}$, оказаться ~ [subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. a noun denoting a library book, journal etc)] sth. is on loan, temporarily borrowed from the library: (be) out; (be) out on loan; (be) checked ⟨charged⟩ out.

Нет, никогда «Прокажённая» не оказывалась в библиотеке. Она всё была на руках (Олеша 3). No, The Leper Woman never did turn up at the library, it was always out on loan (3a).

4. умереть ~ чьих, (у) кого [the resulting PrepP is adv] (to die) in the presence of s.o. (often s.o. who had been caring for the dying person): (die) in s.o.'s arms; [used when s.o. does not want the responsibility of looking after the deceased, is afraid of the consequences of the person's death etc] (die) on s.o.'s hands.

И он испустил дух под вопли старухи, на руках у слесаря Пушкина (Битов 2). He departed this world, to the wails of the old woman, in the arms of Pushkin the locksmith (2a).

Р-314 • НОСИ́ТЬ НА РУКА́Х кого coll [VP; subj: human or collect] to value s.o. very highly, admire s.o., feel devoted to s.o., grant s.o.'s every desire etc: Х носит Y-а на руках ≃ X adores Y; X worships the ground Y walks ⟨treads⟩ on; X thinks the world of Y; [usu. in refer. to the attitude of an adult, esp. a parent, toward a child] X dotes on Y; [lim.] X spoils ⟨coddles⟩ Y; [usu. in refer. to a husband's attitude toward his wife] X waits on Y hand and foot; [usu. in refer. to one's respect for another's intelligence, skill etc] X has (put) Y on a pedestal; X idolizes Y; || Х-ы носят Y-а на руках ≃ [usu. in refer. to the admiration of a group of people for a celebrity] Xs lionize Y; Y is the darling of Xs; Xs make much ⟨a fuss⟩ of Y.

Живёт [Женя] в Москве, муж большой человек, старше её на двадцать лет, разумеется, её обожает, прямо на руках носит (Грекова 3). She [Zhenya] was living in Moscow. Her husband was an important person, twenty years older than she, and of course adored her, worshiped the ground she walked on (3a).

Р-315 • ПО РУКЕ́ [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: concr) or nonagreeing modif] 1. (of gloves, mittens) of the correct size, comfortable on s.o.'s hands: Х Y-у по руке ≃ X is the right ⟨my, your etc⟩ size; X fits (well); || Neg Х Y-у не ~ ≃ X doesn't fit (right); X is too big ⟨small, tight⟩ for Y.

2. (of a pen, tool etc) of a suitable size, weight, shape etc for s.o.'s hand: Х Y-у ~ ≃ X is comfortable (to write ⟨work etc⟩ with); X fits Y's hand; X sits well in Y's hand; X feels good (to Y ⟨in Y's hand⟩).

Р-316 • БОЛЬШО́Й ⟨ПЕ́РВОЙ⟩ РУКИ́ obsoles, coll [NP$_{gen}$; these forms only; nonagreeing modif] possessing or exhibiting a high degree of a specific quality: of the first water ⟨order, magnitude⟩; first-class; first-rate; darn good.

[Бодаев:] Только вы с ним поосторожнее, он плут большой руки (Островский 7). [B.:] You had better be on your guard with him; he's a knave of the first water (7a).

Р-317 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ В РУ́КИ кого [VP; subj: human; obj: human or collect; more often pfv] to bring s.o. under one's control, make s.o. obey: Х взял Y-а в руки ≃ X took Y in hand; X brought Y into line.

Вера знала, что выходит замуж за пьяницу и гуляку, но надеялась взять его в руки. Vera knew she was marrying a drunk and a playboy, but she hoped she'd be able to bring him into line.

Р-318 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ В (СВОЙ) РУ́КИ что [VP; subj: human or collect] to take upon o.s. the leadership or direction of sth., take responsibility for sth.: Х взял Y в свои руки ≃ X took Y ⟨the matter etc⟩ into his own hands; X took charge ⟨control⟩ of Y; || Х взял инициативу в свои руки ≃ X took the initiative; || Х взял власть в (свои) руки ≃ X took power into his (own) hands.

Надо было взять разговор в свои руки, а тогда его можно будет самой и кончить… (Залыгин 1). She felt she had to take control of the conversation, so that she would be able to end it… (1a).

Р-319 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ СЕБЯ́ В РУ́КИ [VP; subj: human, more often pfv; fixed WO] to regain control of one's feelings, mood, or actions (usu. after a shock, when suppressing one's extreme reaction, emotional outburst etc, or when attempting to become more focused, goal-oriented): X взял себя в руки ≃ X took himself in hand; X got a grip on himself; X got (a) hold of himself; X pulled himself together; X got control of himself ⟨regained his self-control⟩.

Чувствую, что меня всё время заносит, а остановиться не могу. Надо сейчас же взять себя в руки и немедленно вернуться в строгие рамки сюжета (Искандер 4). I keep feeling myself getting carried away, and I can't stop. I must get hold of myself immediately and return forthwith to the strict framework of the plot (4a).

Р-320 • В ОДНИ́ РУ́КИ coll [PrepP; Invar; prep obj; fixed WO] 1. продавать, отпускать и т.п. что (used in cases when any one individual is not allowed to buy or receive more than a limited amount of some type of food or goods) (to sell, give out etc a certain amount of sth.) per person: (to) a customer; per customer ⟨person⟩; apiece; a head.

Представители кооперации и госторговли предложили, до прибытия находящегося в пути продовольствия, ограничить отпуск товаров в одни руки — по фунту сахара и по пять фунтов муки (Ильф и Петров 1). Representatives of co-ops and government stores suggested limiting the sale of goods to a pound of sugar and five pounds of flour per person until the provisions that were en route could reach town (1b). Representatives from the co-operatives and state-owned trading organizations proposed that until the arrival of food supplies, already on their way, the sale of comestibles should be restricted to a pound of sugar and five pounds of flour a head (1a).

2. передавать, отдавать и т.п. что ~ (often in refer. to power, authority over sth. etc) (to give, hand over etc the whole of sth.) to a single organization, group, or individual: into the hands of one organization ⟨group, person⟩; to one organization ⟨group, person⟩.

Р-321 • В СО́БСТВЕННЫЕ РУ́КИ вручить, отдать кому что coll [PrepP; Invar; usu. nonagreeing modif or prep obj; fixed WO] (to present or deliver sth. to s.o.) directly: right to s.o.; into s.o.'s (own) hands.

«Кому вы отдали телеграмму?» — «Ивану Петровичу в собственные руки». "Who did you give the telegram to?" "I gave it right to Ivan Petrovich."

Р-322 • В ТРЕ́ТЬИ РУ́КИ передавать что, переходить и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; prep obj; fixed WO] (to give sth. over, be passed etc) to a person (or an organization) not directly involved in the matter at hand: to a third party; to someone else.

Ещё плохо зная нравы западных корреспондентов, я дал ответ [«Литературной газете»] через корреспондента гамбургской «Ди Вельт», а он… отдал в третьи руки… (Солженицын 2). I still did not know the ways of the Western newsmen very well, and I replied [to Literaturnaya Gazeta] through the correspondent of the Hamburg newspaper Die Welt, but he passed it on to someone else… (2a).

Р-323 • В ЧУЖИ́Е РУ́КИ попадать, отдавать что и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; prep obj; fixed WO] (to end up going, be given etc) to a person or persons who are not members of the family, group etc in question: into strange hands; to (perfect) strangers; to a (perfect) stranger.

Бедное его достояние могло отойти от него в чужие руки — в таком случае нищета ожидала его (Пушкин 1). His meagre property was likely to pass into strange hands—in which case beggary awaited him (1b).

Р-324 • ВЫКРУ́ЧИВАТЬ РУ́КИ кому media [VP; subj and obj: human or collect] to exert undue pressure on a person or group leaving him or it no option other than yielding to the doer's demands: X выкручивает Y-у руки ≃ X uses strong-arm tactics against Y; X strong-arms Y; X brings heavy pressure to bear on Y; X twists Y's arm. ○ ВЫКРУ́ЧИВАНИЕ РУК [NP] ≃ strong-arm tactics; strong-arming; arm-twisting.

Р-325 • ГРЕТЬ/ПОГРЕ́ТЬ ⟨НАГРЕВА́ТЬ/НАГРЕ́ТЬ⟩ РУ́КИ (на чём, около чего) coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human] to make a profit for o.s. through some dishonest means: X нагрел руки (на Y-е) ≃ X lined his pockets ⟨purse⟩ (from Y); X feathered his nest.

Р-326 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ РУ́КИ ПО ШВАМ [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] 1. Also: СТОЯ́ТЬ ⟨ВЫТЯ́ГИВАТЬ/ВЫ́ТЯНУТЬ и т.п.⟩ РУ́КИ ПО ШВАМ to stand erect with one's arms extended downward at the sides of one's body (generally when standing at attention): X стоял ⟨вытянул⟩ руки по швам ≃ X stood with his hands at his sides; X held his arms at his sides; X dropped his hands ⟨arms⟩ to his sides; [lim.] X stood to ⟨at⟩ attention.

Шура стоял руки по швам, бледный… (Шукшин 1). Shura was standing there with his hands at his sides, his face white… (1a).

2. ~ при ком, перед кем to be extremely deferential, obedient to s.o., act in a humble, proper manner in his presence (out of fear of this person, respect for his professional reputation, standing etc): X при Y-е держит руки по швам ≃ X stands at attention ⟨snaps to attention⟩ in Y's presence.

Нашего директора школы все боятся — при нём даже самые отпетые хулиганы держат руки по швам. Everyone is afraid of the principal of our school—even the biggest rowdies snap to attention in his presence.

Р-327 • ДЛИ́ННЫЕ РУ́КИ у кого coll [NP; pl only; usu. VP_{subj} with copula] 1. (in refer. to a person or organization) s.o. or sth. has so much power, influence etc that it is impossible to hide from or escape him or it: у X-а длинные руки ≃ X has a long reach ⟨arm⟩.

«Впрочем, вы можете уйти, но у нас, предупреждаю, длинные руки!» (Ильф и Петров 1). "You can leave, by the way, but I warn you, we have a long reach" (1a).

2. s.o. is thievish, prone to steal: у X-а длинные руки ≃ X is light-fingered ⟨sticky-fingered⟩; X has sticky fingers.

…Разве стала бы я огорчаться подобными мелочами, если бы в лаборатории хоть что-нибудь получалось? Если бы Петя, застенчиво улыбаясь, не спрятал от меня стеклянный колпак от микроскопа — я била посуду. Если бы красивая, гордая ассистентка не сказала Николаю Васильевичу, думая, что я не услышу: «Никогда ничего не выйдет. Дырявые руки!» (Каверин 1). …Would I have been depressed by such trifles if I'd managed to achieve [at least] something in the laboratory? If Petya, smiling shyly, had not hidden the glass cover of the microscope from me in the cupboard? (I had broken some glassware.) Or if the handsome, proud woman assistant had not told Nikolai Vasilyevich, thinking that I wasn't listening…: "Nothing will ever come of her. All her fingers are thumbs" (1a).

Р-329 • ЗАБИРА́ТЬ/ЗАБРА́ТЬ В РУ́КИ [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] 1. ~ кого to bring s.o. under one's control, subject s.o. to one's power or will: X забрал Y-а в руки ≃ X took Y in hand; X had Y under his thumb.

«Иная барышня только от того и слывёт умною, что умно вздыхает; а твоя за себя постоит, да и так постоит, что и тебя в руки заберёт…» (Тургенев 2). "Some young ladies have the reputation of being intelligent because they can sigh cleverly; but your young lady can hold her own, and do it so well that she'll take you in hand also…" (2c).

2. ~ что to assume authority, power over sth.: X забрал Y в руки ≃ X took ⟨got⟩ (full) control of Y; X took over Y.

[Глафира:] …Между тем [я] понемногу забираю в руки… всё ваше хозяйство… (Островский 5). [G.:] …Meanwhile, little by little, I'm getting full control of… all your domestic affairs (5a).

А про его собственного отца, Абрама Ноевича, говорили, что он, конечно, прекрасный, сочувственный, честный человек, золотые руки, работяга, если нужно, может сутками не выходить на типографии, только… маленько он тряхнутый, из-за угла пыльным мешком его ударили, пьёт много, а пьяный рассуждать любит… (Домбровский 2). As for his own father, Abram Noevich, they used to say he was, of course a fine, honest, compassionate man, a master of his craft, a hard slogger, who could work the clock round when necessary, without emerging from the typesetting room, but… a bit touched, dropped on his head when a baby, a hard drinker and fond of arguing when drunk… (2a).

3. ~ (чьи, кого) [subj or obj; fixed WO] the ability to do or make sth. very skillfully: skillful ⟨clever, golden⟩ hands; golden touch.

И когда идёшь, скажем, по улице Горького (бывшая Торговая) и видишь пышные деревянные ансамбли… то понимаешь: это всё Зенков — его душа, его золотые руки, его понятия о красоте (Домбровский 1). And when you walk, for instance, down Gorky Street (which used to be Commercial Street) and you see these gorgeous wooden buildings… you realise that this is a faithful expression of Zenkov himself: his soul, his golden touch, his sense of beauty (1a).

Р-331 • ИГРА́ТЬ В ЧЕТЫ́РЕ РУКИ́ (с кем) [VP; subj: human; if there is no obj, subj: dual] (of two people) to play the piano as a team: X и Y играют в четыре руки ≃ X and Y play piano four hands ⟨play four-hands piano music, play four hands on the piano⟩; X and Y play music ⟨pieces⟩ for four hands (on ⟨at⟩ the piano); X and Y play duets on the piano.

Супруги жили очень хорошо и тихо: они почти никогда не расставались, читали вместе, играли в четыре руки на фортепьяно, пели дуэты… (Тургенев 2). The couple lived very happily and peacefully: they were hardly ever apart, read together, played pieces for four hands at the piano, sang duets… (2g). The young couple lived very happily and peacefully; they were scarcely ever apart; they read together, sang and played duets together on the piano… (2b).

Час спустя Павел Петрович уже лежал в постели с искусно забинтованною ногой. Весь дом переполошился; Фенечке сделалось дурно. Николай Петрович втихомолку ломал себе руки, а Павел Петрович смеялся, шутил, особенно с Базаровым (Тургенев 2). An hour later Pavel Petrovich was already lying in bed with a proper bandage tied skillfully around his leg. The whole household was in a state of agitation; Fenechka didn't feel at all well. Nikolai Petrovich wrung his hands surreptitiously, while Pavel Petrovich laughed and made jokes, especially with Bazarov… (2g).

Р-333 • МАРА́ТЬ ⟨ПА́ЧКАТЬ⟩ РУ́КИ (об кого, обо что, чем) coll [VP; subj: human; usu. infin used with нечего, зачем, не хочет(ся) etc] to take part in sth. that is or is considered reprehensible, unworthy, demeaning: X не хочет руки марать (об Y-а) ≃ X doesn't want to dirty ⟨soil⟩ his hands (on person Y ⟨with thing Y, in thing Y etc⟩); X doesn't want to get his hands dirty (being involved with person Y ⟨doing thing Y etc⟩).

«Только не бейте меня!» Садчиков засмеялся. «Д-да кто об тебя р-руки станет марать?» (Семёнов 1). "But don't beat me!" Sadchikov laughed. "W-what? Who's going to d-dirty their hands on you?" (1a).

seems they don't give it to you directly, they have to send it through official channels" (10a).

2. получить ~ что to receive sth. and have it in one's possession: (have sth.) in (one's) hand; (get ⟨receive⟩ sth. from s.o.) in person.

Она не заплатит ему ни копейки до тех пор, пока не получит ордер на руки (Трифонов 4). She wouldn't pay him a kopek until she had the order in her hand (4a).

3. отдать кого ~ кому obs, coll (to give a person over) into s.o.'s custody, keeping: X отдал Y-а на руки Z-у ≃ X entrusted Y to Z's care; X put Y in Z's charge.

С пятилетнего возраста отдан я был на руки стремянному Савельичу, за трезвое поведение пожалованному мне в дядьки (Пушкин 2). At the age of five I was entrusted to the care of the groom Savelich, appointed to be my personal attendant in recognition of his sober conduct (2a).

Р-337 • НАКЛА́ДЫВАТЬ/НАЛОЖИ́ТЬ НА СЕБЯ́ РУ́КИ [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] to end one's life by suicide: X наложил на себя руки ≃ X laid hands on himself; X did away with himself; X did himself in; X took his own life; X died by his own hand; X committed suicide.

Было велено не трогать её [тётю Катю], но из уважения к семье и роду издали следить, чтобы она не наложила на себя руки (Искандер 3). People were ordered not to touch her [Aunt Katya], but, out of respect for family and clan, to watch from a distance lest she lay hands on herself (3a).

Р-338 • НЕ БРАТЬ В РУ́КИ что, чего coll [VP; subj: human] (in refer. to an activity that involves sth. held in or used by the hand) not to engage in some activity at all (either for a specified period of time or in general): X Y_{acc} ⟨Y-а⟩ в руки не берёт ≃ X hasn't touched ⟨never touches⟩ Y; X hasn't gone ⟨never goes⟩ near Y.

[Городничий:] Я карт и в руки никогда не брал; даже не знаю, как играть в эти карты (Гоголь 4). [Mayor:] I've never touched a card in my life; I don't even know how card-games are played (4b).

Р-339 • НЕ С РУКИ́ кому [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$; used without negation to convey the opposite meaning] 1. [subj: infin] (in refer. to actions that require the use of a tool, instrument, weapon etc) it is difficult or impossible for s.o. to do sth. Австриец бежал вдоль решётки, Григорию не с руки было рубить, он, перевесившись с седла, косо держа шашку, опустил её на висок австрийца (Шолохов 2). The Austrian was keeping close to the railing and Grigory was out of position for a slash. Leaning out of his saddle he held the sabre at an angle and let it fall on the Austrian's temple (2a).

2. [subj: infin or abstr, often это] the given time or circumstances are not appropriate, convenient etc for s.o. to do sth.: делать X Y-у не с руки ≃ it is inconvenient for Y to do X; it's not a good idea for Y to do X; [in refer. to an inopportune moment] X is coming at the wrong time ⟨at a bad time⟩; it's not the right ⟨a good⟩ time for Y to do X; [lim.] Y cannot spare the time to do X.

Так было с Францией — вдруг [Сергей] сказал, что исчезло всякое желание ехать: «Мне сейчас не с руки» (Трифонов 3). …He [Sergei] had decided against the trip to France. He suddenly announced that he had lost all desire to go: "I can't spare the time right now" (3a).

3. [subj: usu. abstr or infin] sth. is not acceptable or agreeable to s.o.: X ⟨делать X⟩ Y-у не с руки ≃ X ⟨doing X⟩ doesn't suit ⟨appeal to⟩ Y; it doesn't suit ⟨appeal to⟩ Y to do X.

«Я не поеду», — решительно заявил Митька. «Ты что? — Христоня нахмурился… — Отбиваешься от своих? Не с руки?» (Шолохов 3). "I won't go," Mitka said decidedly. "What's the idea?" Khristonya frowned…. "Are you breaking away from your own pals? Don't they suit you now?" (3a).

Р-340 • ОБАГРЯ́ТЬ/ОБАГРИ́ТЬ РУ́КИ КРО́ВЬЮ ⟨В КРОВИ́⟩ (кого) lit [VP; subj: human] to commit murder or participate in a murder or execution: X обагрил руки кровью (Y-а) ≃ X bloodied his hands; X has (Y's) blood on his hands; X stained his hands with Y's blood; X's hands are bloodstained ⟨stained with (Y's) blood⟩.

«…Пусть на минуту и я соглашусь с обвинением, что несчастный клиент мой обагрил свои руки в крови отца. Это только предположение, повторяю, я ни на миг не сомневаюсь в его невинности…» (Достоевский 2). "…Suppose for a moment that I, too, agreed with the prosecution that my unfortunate client stained his hands with his father's blood. This is only a supposition, I repeat, I do not doubt his innocence for a moment…" (2a).

Р-341 • ОПУСКА́ТЬ/ОПУСТИ́ТЬ РУ́КИ coll [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to become disheartened and lose the desire or ability to act: X опустил руки ≃ X lost heart ⟨hope⟩ (and gave up); X gave up (in despair).

И даже когда Алтынник перестал отвечать на её письма и перестал их читать и, не читая, вкладывал в конверт и отправлял назад доплатным, Людмила не отчаялась, не опустила руки, а продолжала писать с завидной настойчивостью (Войнович 5). And even when Altinnik stopped answering her letters and ceased even to read them, returning them unread and postage due, Ludmilla did not despair or lose heart but continued to write with enviable persistence (5a).

Р-342 • ОТ РУКИ́ писать, переписывать и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to write etc) by using one's hand (as opposed to a typewriter, computer etc): (write sth. ⟨write sth. out etc⟩) by hand; (write sth.) in longhand; (be) handwritten; ‖ переписать ~ ≃ copy sth. out.

Видимо, этот знак на машинке был повреждён, и машинистка ставила запятые от руки (Чернёнок 1). Apparently the machine's comma didn't work and the typist had inserted them by hand (1a).

Р-343 • ОТСО́ХНИ (У МЕНЯ́) РУ́КИ И НО́ГИ!; ОТСО́ХНИ У МЕНЯ́ РУКА́!; ЧТОБ У МЕНЯ́ РУ́КИ (И НО́ГИ) ОТСО́ХЛИ!; ПУСТЬ ⟨ПУСКА́Й⟩ У МЕНЯ́ РУКА́ ОТСО́ХНЕТ! all substand [main clause in a complex sent, or indep. sent; often foll. by a clause introduced by если, коли etc; these forms only] (an oath used to assure the interlocutor that the speaker did or did not do, or will or will not do, what is stated in the surrounding context) may terrible things happen to me if I…: may I be forever damned (if…); may my hand wither and drop off (if…).

[Пепел:] Пускай у меня рука отсохнет, коли я тебя трону!.. (Горький 3). [P.:] May my hand wither and drop off if ever I lift it against you! (3e).

Р-344 • ПЛЫТЬ/ПРИПЛЫ́ТЬ ⟨ПРОСИ́ТЬСЯ, ИДТИ́⟩ В РУ́КИ (кому) [VP; subj: usu. concr or abstr; the subj is often foll. by the pronoun сам] (of money, material possessions, career opportunities etc) to be readily available (to s.o.) and obtainable with little or no effort: X плывёт Y-у в руки ≃ X is falling ⟨dropping⟩ into Y's lap; X is begging Y to grab it.

Что значит быть красивой, — всё само… плывёт в руки (Рыбаков 2). That's what being beautiful meant. Everything just dropped into your lap (2a).

Р-345 • ПО́Д РУКИ держать, брать, вести кого [PrepP; Invar; adv] (two people support, take, lead s.o.) holding his arms from either side: by the ⟨both⟩ arms; (support s.o.) under the arms; (grasp s.o.) by the elbows.

…Присутствующие женщины подхватили под руки это побледневшее, встрёпанное, мокрое, рыдающее создание и, окружив плотным кольцом, повели утешать и обсушивать (Окуджава 2). …The women hoisted the pale, ruffled, wet, weeping creature by the arms and, surrounding her, took her away to dry and comfort her (2a).

Р-346 • ПОПАДА́ТЬ(СЯ)/ПОПА́СТЬ(СЯ) В РУ́КИ чьи, кого, (к) кому [VP] 1. [subj: usu. concr] to happen to come into s.o.'s possession: X попал Y-у в руки ≃ X fell ⟨found its way⟩ into Y's hands; X ended ⟨wound⟩ up in Y's hands; [lim.] X came Y's way; Y came upon X.

В пятьдесят четвёртом году ко мне в руки попала первая самиздатская… тетрадка — поэма Твардовского «Тёркин на том свете» (Орлова 1). In 1954 the first samizdat… manuscript found its way into my hands: Tvardovsky's poem Tyorkin in Hell (1a).

2. [subj: human or collect] to end up under s.o.'s control, authority: X попал в руки к Y-у ≃ X fell into Y's hands; || [used as a threat] X ещё попадётся мне в руки ≃ I'll get X yet.

[Голубков:] Белые уезжают. Нам надо бежать с ними, иначе мы опять попадём в руки к красным (Булгаков 2). [G.:] The Whites are leaving. We must go with them, or we'll fall into the hands of the Reds again (2a).

Р-347 • ПРИЛОЖИ́ТЬ РУ́КИ к кому-чему coll [VP; subj: human; often infin with надо, хочется, некому etc] to attend to s.o. or sth. in a serious, thorough way: X-у надо приложить руки к Y-у ≃ X must give Y the attention Y deserves; || некому руки приложить к Y-у ≃ there's no one to take care of Y ⟨to tend (to) Y⟩.

Сад запущенный, а руки к нему приложить некому. The garden is a mess, and there's no one to give it the attention it deserves.

Р-348 • ПРОСИ́ТЬ ⟨ИСКА́ТЬ⟩ РУКИ́ чьей, кого obs [VP; subj: human, male] to approach (a woman or her parents, guardian etc) with a proposal of marriage: X просит руки женщины Y ≃ X asks for ⟨seeks⟩ Y's hand (in marriage).

«Вы влюблены в меня?» — перебила его Наташа. — «Да, влюблён, но, пожалуйста, не будем делать того, что сейчас… Ещё четыре года… Тогда я буду просить вашей руки» (Толстой 4). "Are you in love with me?" Natasha broke in. "Yes, I am, but—Please, we mustn't do that—what you just— In another four years—then I will ask for your hand" (4a).

Р-349 • ПРОХОДИ́ТЬ/ПРОЙТИ́ ЧЕ́РЕЗ РУ́КИ чьи, кого [VP; subj: human (often pl), concr (usu. pl), or abstr] (of legal cases, money managed by s.o., patients cared for by medical personnel, students trained by teachers etc) to be handled, dealt with, or in the charge of s.o. for some finite period of time: X-ы прошли через руки Y-а ≃ Xs passed through Y's hands ⟨through the hands of Y⟩; [lim.] Xs passed ⟨went⟩ through Y's office.

Десятки маленьких детей прошли через руки Медеи, включая и Димитрия, покойного деда маленького уродца (Улицкая 1). Dozens of small children had passed through Medea's hands, including Dimitry, the late grandfather of the little freak (1a).

Р-350 • РАБО́ЧИЕ РУ́КИ [NP; pl only, may refer to one person; usu. this WO] people who work (more often those who perform physical or unskilled labor): worker(s); working hands; manpower; labor; || в месте X не хватает рабочих рук ≃ place X is short-handed.

По тем временам достать справку об увольнении из совхоза, где каждые рабочие руки числились на вес золота, было делом нелёгким… (Максимов 2). To obtain a release permit from a state farm in those days, when every worker was worth his weight in gold, was not an easy matter… (2a)..

Р-351 • РАЗВЯ́ЗЫВАТЬ/РАЗВЯЗА́ТЬ РУ́КИ кому [VP; subj: human, collect, or abstr; more often pfv] to give s.o. complete freedom of action by releasing him from his previous commitments, obligations, ties etc: X развязал Y-у руки ≃ X untied ⟨freed⟩ Y's hands.

Теперь ЧКГБ имеет против меня полный судебный букет (по их кодексу, разумеется) — и это только развязало мне руки, я стал идеологически экстерриториален! (Солженицын 2). Now the KGB had a whole bouquet of criminal charges to pin on me (according to their legal code, of course), yet this had only untied my hands, given me ideological extraterritoriality! (2a).

Р-352 • РАЗВЯ́ЗЫВАТЬ/РАЗВЯЗА́ТЬ СЕБЕ́ РУ́КИ [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to gain complete freedom of action by liberating o.s. from one's previous commitments, obligations, ties etc: X развязал себе руки ≃ X freed himself ⟨set himself free⟩; [lim.] X was free to do as he pleased ⟨liked etc⟩.

Я рассказала, как Глафира Сергеевна потребовала, чтобы Агния Петровна немедленно переехала в Москву, разумеется, чтобы развязать себе руки (Каверин 1). I told him how Glafira Sergeyevna had demanded that Agnia Petrovna should immediately move to Moscow, for the purpose, of course, of leaving her free to do as she liked (1a).

Р-353 • РАСПУСКА́ТЬ/РАСПУСТИ́ТЬ РУ́КИ coll [VP; subj: human] 1. to hit or beat s.o.: X руки распустил ≃ X used ⟨let loose with⟩ his fists (on person Y); X punched ⟨beat up etc⟩ person Y.

(used—often as a response in a dialogue—to state that the person or organization threatening to harm the speaker or another person will not be able to carry out the threat): (у Х-а) руки коротки (сделать Y) ≃ X's reach is (too) short; X's arm isn't long enough; X doesn't have the power ⟨X is powerless⟩ (to do Y); [lim.] (just) let X try (to do Y); ‖ [when used in direct address] руки (у тебя ⟨у вас⟩) коротки! ≃ just try it!; just you try!

«Вы знаете, что он помогает бургомистру упечь вас под суд?» — «Догадываюсь». — «Это вас не волнует?» — «Нет. Руки у них коротки. То есть, у бургомистра руки коротки, и у суда» (Стругацкие 1). "You know that he's helping the burgomaster haul you into court?" "I guessed as much." "That doesn't bother you?" "No. His reach is short. That is to say, the burgomaster's. Also the court's" (1a).

Р-359 • РУ́КИ НЕ ДОХО́ДЯТ/НЕ ДОШЛИ́ (у кого до кого-чего or что сделать) coll [VP_{subj}; may be used without negation to convey the opposite meaning; usu. this WO] s.o. cannot find the time to turn his attention to or focus on some person, matter etc: у Х-а руки не доходят до Y-а ≃ X never gets around to Y; X never has time for Y; X never has a ⟨the⟩ chance to do thing Y; X never gets down to thing Y; ‖ у Х-а не до всего доходят руки ≃ X can't manage ⟨cope with⟩ everything (at the same time).

Говорят, что он собирался как-нибудь на досуге почитать написанное Ермолкиным, но то забывал, то руки не доходили… (Войнович 4). They say that he intended to read what Ermolkin had written when he had time to spare, but either forgot or never got around to it (4a).

Р-360 • РУ́КИ НЕ ОТВА́ЛЯТСЯ ⟨НЕ ОТСО́ХНУТ⟩ у кого highly coll VP_{subj}; fut only; may be used without negation to convey the opposite meaning; usu. this WO] it will not overstrain, exhaust, or harm s.o. to do sth.: у Х-а руки не отвалятся ≃ it won't kill ⟨hurt⟩ X (to do sth.).

…Они вдвоём взялись за работу — к столу с внутренней стороны кнопками пришпиливали денежные бумажки… «Неудобно, — сказала Ванда, — понадобится бумажка, нужно стол переворачивать». — «И перевернёшь, руки не отвалятся, — сипло ответил Василиса, — лучше стол перевернуть, чем лишиться всего» (Булгаков 3). …They set to work together, pinning banknotes to the underside of the table with thumb-tacks…. "It's going to be inconvenient," said Wanda. "Every time I want some money I shall have to turn the dining-room table over." "So what, it won't kill you," replied Vasilisa hoarsely. "Better to have to turn the table over than lose everything" (3a).

Р-361 • РУ́КИ ОПУСКА́ЮТСЯ/ОПУСТИ́ЛИСЬ у кого coll [VP_{subj}] s.o. becomes disheartened and loses the desire or ability to act or work at sth.: у Х-а опускаются руки ≃ X is losing heart ⟨hope⟩ (and giving up); X is giving up (the struggle ⟨the fight* etc⟩); X feels like giving up ⟨quitting, throwing in the towel⟩.

Другой, видя проявление зла, чувствует его бесконечную связь с мировым злом, и у него опускаются руки от понимания, что вместо отрубленной ветки зла вырастет другая или даже многие (Искандер 4). The other, seeing a manifestation of evil, is aware of its infinite interconnections with universal evil and loses heart at the realization that if he chops off one branch of evil, another, or even many, will grow in its place (4a).

Р-363 • РУ́КИ ПО ШВАМ! mil [sent; Invar; fixed WO] (used as a command) assume the military posture of attention: attention!

Р-364 • РУ́КИ ПРОЧЬ от кого-чего! [sent; Invar; fixed WO] (often used as a slogan) do not interfere in sth. or in the affairs of s.o.: руки прочь от Х-а! ≃ hands off X!

«Ты должен изменить направление „Курьера“… Я же не говорю тебе о коренном изменении, о повороте на 180 градусов… Несколько негативных материалов о Союзе… Пойми, несколько таких материалов, и твои друзья смогут тогда говорить — „Курьер“ — это независимая газета Временной Зоны Эвакуации, руки прочь от [редактора] Лучникова» (Аксёнов 7). "You could change the politics of the Courier…. I don't mean anything basic; I don't mean an about face…. Just a few negative fillers about the Soviet Union…. Try to understand, Andrei. All it will take is a few short pieces and your friends will be able to say, 'The Courier is an independent newspaper of the Provisional Evacuation Zone. Hands off [the editor] Luchnikov'" (7a).

Р-365 • РУ́КИ ЧЕ́ШУТСЯ/ЗАЧЕСА́ЛИСЬ у кого coll; РУ́КИ ЗУДЯ́Т highly coll [VP_{subj}; usu. pres or past] 1. ~ (на кого) s.o. wants very much to have a fight, beat s.o. up etc: у Х-а чешутся руки (на Y-а) ≃ X is spoiling ⟨itching⟩ for a fight; X is itching ⟨dying⟩ to get ⟨lay⟩ his hands on Y.

[Расплюев:] Уж очень у меня на этого Попугайчикова руки чешутся; потому, подлец, всякую совесть потерял… Вы ему приказывать изволили, а он смеётся (Сухово-Кобылин 3). [R.:] …I've been just itching to lay my hands on that Popugaychikov. That's because the good-for-nothing's lost all sense of responsibility…. You order him to do something and he just laughs (3a).

2. ~ (что сделать or на что) s.o. wants very much to do sth. or start doing sth.: у Х-а руки чешутся сделать Y ≃ X is itching ⟨dying⟩ to do Y; X's hands are itching to do Y; [lim.] X is champing at the bit.

А если высокое и низкое в человеке сочетается? Тогда своеобразие образа заключается именно в этом причудливом сочетании, и у писателя чешутся руки обязательно сохранить его (Искандер 4). And if the high and the low are combined in one man? Then the uniqueness of the image lies precisely in this capricious combination, and the writer itches to preserve it without fail (4a).

P-366 • С ЛЁГКОЙ РУКИ́ чьей, кого coll [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv; fixed WO] prompted by or patterned upon s.o.'s successful initiative or action (which has served as a catalyst for other similar actions): с лёгкой руки X-а… ≃ following X's example; X set the example; X started ⟨set⟩ the ball rolling (by doing sth.); [in refer. to a witticism, a fitting sobriquet given to another etc] thanks to X's quick ⟨easy etc⟩ wit.

С лёгкой руки членов МАССОЛИТа никто не называл дом «домом Грибоедова», а все говорили просто — «Грибоедов»: «Я вчера два часа протолкался у Грибоедова»… (Булгаков 9). Following the example of MASSOLIT's members, no one called the place "Griboyedov's House," but simply—"Griboyedov": "Yesterday I hung around Griboyedov for two hours"… (9c).

P-367 • СКЛА́ДЫВАТЬ/СЛОЖИ́ТЬ РУ́КИ [VP; subj: human] (having become disheartened, having lost hope in achieving success) to cease to act: X сложил руки ≃ X threw up his hands; X gave up; X quit; [foll. by another verb in the same form] X just sat back and….

И что же нам сложить руки и ничего не строить, не пилить, не шить, не строгать, не ковать и не ваять до наступления коммунизма? (Войнович 7). Well then, were we supposed to just sit back and not build anything, neither saw nor sew nor plane nor forge not sculpt until the advent of communism? (7a).

P-368 • СЛОЖА́ РУ́КИ сидеть, less often ждать, стоять и т.п. coll [Verbal Adv; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to be) idle, inactive (usu. when the situation requires some decisive, energetic action): X (не) сидит сложа руки ≃ X is (not) sitting on his hands; X is (not) sitting around ⟨about⟩ twiddling his thumbs; X is (not) sitting around doing nothing; X is (not) sitting idly by; X is (not) sitting with his hands idle ⟨with idle hands⟩; X is (not) just sitting here; ‖ [Imper only; in limited contexts] не сиди сложа руки ≃ up and at 'em!

< «Сложа» is the old form of the short active participle of the verb «сложить»; the corresponding modern form is the perfective verbal adverb «сложив».

P-369 • СРЕ́ДНЕЙ РУКИ́ [NP_{gen}; Invar; nonagreeing modif] 1. (a person or thing that is) not in any way outstanding: ordinary; average; run-of-the-mill; mediocre; a pretty mediocre (sort of…); of a ⟨the⟩ middling sort; second-rate; [lim.] moderately ⟨inexpensively, reasonably⟩ priced.

Свидригайлов в этой комнате был как у себя и проводил в ней, может быть, целые дни. Трактир был грязный, дрянной и даже не средней руки (Достоевский 3). …Svidrigailov seemed at home in this room and spent, perhaps, whole days in it. The tavern was dirty, wretched, not even of a middling sort (3c). ♦ «Дай, думает, зайду в ресторанчик, перекушу». Видит — огни… Чувствует, что где-то не в центре, всё, по-видимому, недорого. Входит. Действительно, ресторанчик средней руки» (Булгаков 12). "I'll just drop into a little restaurant and have a bite to eat," he thought. He saw light. He could tell he wasn't very near the centre, everything ought to be cheap. He went in, and it really was a moderately priced restaurant (12b).

2. neither rich nor poor: of moderate means.

Если б над Англией не тяготел свинцовый щит феодального землевладения… если б она, как Голландия, могла достигнуть для всех благосостояния мелких лавочников и небогатых хозяев средней руки, — она успокоилась бы на мещанстве (Герцен 3). If England were not weighed down by the leaden shield of feudal landlordship… if, like Holland, she could achieve for everyone the prosperity of small shopkeepers and of patrons of moderate means, she would settle down quietly in her pettiness (3a).

P-370 • УКОРА́ЧИВАТЬ/УКОРОТИ́ТЬ РУ́КИ кому coll [VP; subj and obj: human or collect; usu. pfv] to force an individual or group to stop acting aggressively, fighting, beating another person, trying to subdue or unduly influence another country etc: X укоротит Y-у руки ≃ X will settle Y's hash; X will bring Y to heel; ‖ Y-у надо укоротить руки ≃ Y's reach must ⟨has to⟩ be shortened.

«…Необходимо… укоротить ей [России] руки. Это пойдёт вам же на пользу, а Европе даст возможность и дальше развиваться в нужном направлении» (Акунин 5). "…Its [Russia's] reach has to be shortened. It will be good for you, and it will give Europe a chance to continue developing in the right direction" (5a).

P-371 • УМЫВА́ТЬ/УМЫ́ТЬ РУ́КИ [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] to refuse to accept responsibility for some matter, withdraw from participation in sth. (usu. in order to avoid unpleasant consequences): X умывает руки ≃ X washes his hands of it ⟨of thing Y⟩.

«Война проиграна!.. Мы теперь можем умыть руки: мы сделали всё, что могли. Как говорили римляне, пускай другие сделают лучше» (Эренбург 4). "The war is lost!… We can now wash our hands of it all. We've done all we could. As the Romans used to say: 'Let others do better'" (4a).

< From the Biblical account of Pontius Pilate's words at the trial of Jesus (Matt. 27:24).

P-372 • ЖЕЛЕ́ЗНОЙ РУКО́Й править, управлять, руководить чем, наводить порядок, насаждать что и т.п. [NP; sent adv; fixed WO] (to govern, manage sth., establish order, instill sth. etc) exercising harsh or despotic control, applying overbearing force: (rule, run a company etc) with an iron hand; (maintain) an iron grip ⟨a grip of iron⟩ on…

«В своё время князь был непрост и даже очень непрост. Шутка ли — шестнадцать лет держит первопрестольную железной рукой» (Акунин 3). "In his time the prince was far from simple, very far indeed. It's no easy thing, maintaining a grip of iron on the old capital for sixteen years" (3a).

P-373 • ЖИВО́Й РУКО́Й obs, coll; ЖИВЫ́М МАНЕ́РОМ obsoles, substand [$NP_{instrum}$; these forms only; adv] (to do sth.) very quickly, promptly: in no time (flat); in a jiffy; in a flash.

P-374 • КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ РУКО́Й СНЯЛО́ что (с кого) coll [VP; impers; fixed WO] (in refer. to an illness, fatigue, emotions etc that) disappeared or passed immediately and completely: X как рукой сняло ≃ X just vanished; X vanished without a trace; X vanished in a trice; X vanished at once; X was suddenly gone.

«Ты… ты… всё приняла вчера?» — спросил я диким голосом. «Всё, батюшка милый, всё, — пела бабочка сдобным голосом, — дай вам бог здоровья за эти капли… полбаночки — как приехала, а полбаночки — как спать ложиться. Как рукой сняло…» (Булгаков 6). "You… you… you mean to say you drank all this yesterday?" I asked, appalled. "All of it, sir, all of it," said the woman in her comfortable, sing-song voice. "And God bless you for it… half the bottle when I got home and the other half when I went to bed. The pain just vanished…" (6a).

P-375 • МАХНУ́ТЬ РУКО́Й (на кого-что) coll [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to cease attending to s.o. or sth., cease expending time, effort etc on s.o. or sth. upon realizing that one's efforts are futile: X махнул на Y-а рукой ≃ X gave up on Y; X gave Y up as a hopeless case ⟨cause⟩; X gave thing Y up as hopeless ⟨as lost, for lost⟩; X gave up the struggle; || X махнул на себя рукой ≃ X stopped caring (about himself); X stopped taking care of himself.

[Аннунциата:] …Государь махнул рукой на дела управления. Первые министры с тех пор стали сами сменять друг друга. А государь занялся театром (Шварц 3). [A.:] …The King gave up on this business of running things. Since then the Prime Ministers themselves have done the replacing of each other. And the King took up the theater (3a). ♦ …Заметней всех изменилась Луиза, похудела, ссутулилась, и платье на ней было такой чудовищной пошлости и дешевизны, что Ольга Васильевна ужаснулась: женщина махнула на себя рукой! (Трифонов 3). …The most noticeable change had occurred in Louisa; she had grown much thinner, she had a pronounced stoop and the dress she wore was so appallingly tasteless and cheap that Olga was horrified: the woman had so obviously stopped caring (3a).

P-376 • ПОД РУКО́Й[1]; ПОД РУКА́МИ both coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. human or concr)] (of or in refer. to things, often household items that are located in convenient places so that one can easily use them; of or in refer. to people who stay or are kept nearby s.o., ready to help him, carry out his orders etc) (a person or thing is) very close by, easily accessible: (close ⟨near⟩) at hand; on hand; within easy ⟨arm's⟩ reach; at one's ⟨s.o.'s⟩ side ⟨elbow⟩; (readily) available; right there; [of or in refer. to things only] handy; at one's ⟨s.o.'s⟩ fingertips.

Мужчине всегда в некоторой степени свойственно желание попетушиться, а тут ещё под рукой такая штучка, как револьвер, почему же не схватить его, если для этого нужно только открыть ночной столик? (Олеша 3). It's always, to a certain extent, the nature of a man to want to ride the high horse, and when a thing like a revolver is close at hand, why not grab it, especially if all one has to do is open the night table? (3a).

P-377 • ПОД РУКО́Й[2] кого; ПОД РУКА́МИ [PrepP; these forms only; adv] when worked on, refined, crafted etc by s.o.: in the hands of; under the hand(s) of.

Под рукой мастера кусок теста превращается в произведение кулинарного искусства. In the hands of a great chef a lump of dough turns into a work of culinary art.

P-378 • ПОД РУКО́Й[3] ⟨-ю⟩ чьей, (у) кого obsoles, coll [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. human or collect)] a person (or group) is under s.o.'s authority or direction, is totally subjugated to s.o.: X под рукой у Y-а ≃ X is under Y's command ⟨rule, control, thumb⟩; Y controls X.

P-379 • ПОД РУКО́Й[4] ⟨-ю⟩ obs [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to do or say sth.) concealing it from others, without the knowledge of others: secretly; in secret; stealthily; by stealth; discreetly.

Ему [помощнику градоначальника] предстояло одно из двух: или немедленно рапортовать о случившемся по начальству и между тем начать под рукой следствие, или же некоторое время молчать и выжидать, что будет (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). He [the assistant town governor] had two choices: either to report the occurrence to the authorities at once, and secretly begin an investigation in the meantime; or else to keep quiet for a while and see what would happen (1a).

P-380 • РУКО́Й НЕ ДОСТА́НЕШЬ ⟨НЕ ДОСТА́ТЬ⟩ (кого) coll [VP; neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing (1st var.) or impers predic with быть$_{ø}$ (2nd var.); these forms only; fixed WO] s.o.'s high position or status makes him hard to reach, gain access to etc (may imply that s.o.'s high position allows him to act reprehensibly with impunity): X-а рукой не достанешь ≃ you can't get near ⟨within ten feet of⟩ X; X is (totally) inaccessible.

P-381 • РУКО́Й ПОДА́ТЬ coll [VP; infin only; usu. impers predic; less often, subj-compl with copula; fixed WO] 1. ~ (от чего до чего) [when used as subj-compl, subj: a geographical name or a noun denoting a specific site or location] (some place is) very close by, a short distance away: (от X-а) до Y-а рукой подать ≃ it's (just) a stone's throw (from X) to Y; Y is (just ⟨within⟩) a stone's throw from X; Y is ⟨it's⟩ (just) a stone's throw away; Y is within spitting distance of X.

«Поедем к ореху, а там и до Сандро рукой подать», — сказал Махты (Искандер 3). "Let's go to the walnut tree, it's just a stone's throw from there to Sandro's," Makhty said (3a).

2. ~ (до чего) [when used as subj-compl, subj: a noun denoting an important event, holiday, season, month etc] some event (holiday etc) is very near in time, soon to come: до X-а рукой подать ≃ X is close ⟨near⟩ at hand; X is just around the corner.

До праздников рукой подать, пора начинать готовиться. The holidays are just around the corner, it's time to start preparing for them.

P-382 • ХОДИ́ТЬ/ПОЙТИ́ С ПРОТЯ́НУТОЙ РУКО́Й [VP; subj: human] to seek alms: X ходит с протянутой рукой ≃ X begs; X panhandles.

Магазины исчезли. Карточки еле отоваривались, и беглецам, чтобы не умереть с голоду, только оставалось, что ходить с протянутой рукой — только никто не подавал, потому что и горожане были нищими, — или грабить (Мандельштам 2). Shops no longer existed, and our ration cards were scarcely honored at all. For refugees the only thing left, unless they were to die of hunger, was to roam the streets and beg—not that the townspeople had anything to give—or to steal (2a).

P-383 • ЩЕ́ДРОЙ РУКО́Й раздавать, давать что и т.п. [NP$_{instrum}$; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to give, give out etc sth.) generously, without begrudging s.o. sth.: with an unsparing hand; with a lavish hand; openhandedly; without skimping; (provide) liberally (for sth.).

Не стану в подробности описывать, как удалось тогда Ивану Фёдоровичу достигнуть цели и пристроить мужика в части, с тем чтобы сейчас же учинить и осмотр его доктором, причём он опять выдал и тут щедрою рукой «на расходы» (Достоевский 2). I will not describe in detail how Ivan Fyodorovich then managed to achieve his goal and get the peasant installed in the police station and have him examined immediately by a doctor, while he once again provided liberally "for the expenses" (2a).

P-384 • РУ́КОПИСИ НЕ ГОРЯ́Т [sent; fixed WO] it is impossible to destroy good literature, good literature will live on despite oppression and find its way to the reader: manuscripts don't burn.

[source] «…Я сжёг его [роман] в печке». — «Простите, не поверю, — ответил Воланд, — этого быть не может. Рукописи не горят» (Булгаков 9). "I burned it [the novel] in the stove." "Forgive me, but I won't believe it," said Woland. "This cannot be, manuscripts don't burn" (9a). ♦ Роман Булгакова [«Мастер и Маргарита»] вышел как бы из небытия, возродился из пепла, подтверждая тем самым главную надежду автора, что рукописи не горят (Войнович 1). Bulgakov's novel [The Master and Margarita] seemed to return from oblivion, to rise from the ashes, thereby confirming the author's principal hope—that manuscripts don't burn (1a).

С утра затопили. Стало дымить… Доктор, видевший это и понимавший, что надо сделать, пробовал вмешаться, но жена тихо брала его за плечи и выпроваживала из комнаты со словами: «Ступай к себе. Когда голова и без того кругом… у тебя привычка непременно говорить под руку» (Пастернак 1). They lit the stove in the morning. It began to smoke… The doctor, seeing it and understanding what needed to be done, tried to intervene, but his wife gently took him by the shoulders and sent him away with the words: "Go to your room. You have a habit of butting in with your advice, when my head is in a whirl without that…" (1b).

Р-386 • ЗАПУСКА́ТЬ/ЗАПУСТИ́ТЬ РУ́КУ ⟨ЛА́ПУ⟩ во что, куда coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human] to steal, appropriate sth. belonging to another (usu. the public or the government): X запустил руку в Y ≃ X put ⟨stuck⟩ his hand ⟨paw⟩ into person Z's pocket; X had his hand in the till; X helped himself to Y.

«Труслив ты стал, кум! Затёртый не первый раз запускает лапу в помещичьи деньги, умеет концы прятать» (Гончаров 1). "You're too easily scared, brother. This isn't the first time Zatyorty has stuck his paw into a landowner's pocket. He knows how to cover his tracks" (1b).

Р-387 • ИГРА́ТЬ/СЫГРА́ТЬ НА́ РУКУ кому coll [VP; subj: usu. human or collect] to help s.o. (usu. an adversary) or further sth. (usu. the cause of an adversary) by one's actions, often without being aware of doing so: X играет на руку Y-у ≃ X is playing into the hands of Y ⟨into Y's hands⟩.

«Мы оба считаем, что об этом надо кричать на всех перекрёстках, а когда доходит до дела, вдруг вспоминаем о дисциплине и принимаемся послушно играть на руку всем этим вождистам, либералам, просветителям…» (Стругацкие 2). "Both you and I believe that it must be shouted from the rooftops; but when it comes time to act, we suddenly remember about discipline and play docilely into the hands of our great leaders, those outstanding liberals, those pillars of enlightenment" (2a).

Р-388 • ИМЕ́ТЬ РУ́КУ где; (СВОЮ́) РУКА́ ЕСТЬ ⟨ИМЕ́ЕТСЯ⟩ у кого, где all coll [VP with subj: human (var. with руку) or VP_{subj} (variants with рука)] to have an influential friend, patron etc in some place who is willing to help one: X имеет руку в месте Y ≃ X has connections in ⟨at⟩ place Y; X has a contact ⟨contacts⟩ in ⟨at⟩ place Y.

«Вам написал аудитор просьбу, — пордолжал Тушин, — и надо подписать, да вот с ним и отправить. У них, верно (он указал на Ростова), и рука в штабе есть. Уж лучше случая не найдёте» (Толстой 5). "The auditor wrote out a petition for you," continued Tushin, "and you ought to sign it and send it off with this gentleman. No doubt he" (indicating Rostov) "has connections on the staff. О Сипенятине и Люсе Пряжкиной Нина «понятия не имела», Овчинникова назвала «трепачом-нахалом», Алика Зарванцева определила как «ни рыба ни мясо»… (Чернёнок 1). Nina "had no idea" about Sipeniatin and Lusya Priazhkina, called Ovchinnikov "an obnoxious bum," defined Alik Zarvantsev as "neither fish nor fowl…" (1a).

Р-426 • РЫ́БА С ГОЛОВЫ́ ГНИЁТ ⟨ВОНЯ́ЕТ, ТУ́ХНЕТ⟩ [saying] decay, corruption, disorder etc in a given environment or group begins with those in positions of authority: a fish stinks ⟨rots⟩ from the head; a fish always stinks from the head downward(s); a fish begins to stink at the head.

«Вот папа, например… он не может себе этого представить. Он не может представить, до какой степени разложения дошла наша армия… Самовольно уходят с позиций, грабят и убивают жителей, убивают офицеров, мародёрствуют… Невыполнение боевого приказа — теперь обычная вещь». — «Рыба с головы гниёт»… (Шолохов 3). "Father here, for example—he simply can't imagine it. He can't imagine to what extent our army has disintegrated…. They leave their positions in defiance of orders, rob and kill civilians, murder their own officers, go about marauding…. Refusal to obey orders is the usual thing nowadays." "A fish rots from the head"… (3a).

Р-427 • РЫБА́К РЫБАКА́ ВИ́ДИТ ИЗДАЛЕКА́ [saying] people who have similar characteristics or interests quickly recognize one another and find a common language (said in jest, often disapprovingly, when a similarity in character traits or similar interests form the basis for a quick friendship or mutual understanding): ≃ birds of a feather flock together; it takes one to know one.

Р-428 • КАК РЫ́БКЕ ⟨РЫ́БЕ⟩ ЗО́НТИК нужен highly coll [как + NP; these forms only; adv (neg intensif)] completely unnecessary, of no use to s.o.: (be as much use to s.o.) as an umbrella to a duck; (need sth.) like ⟨as⟩ a duck needs an umbrella.

Р-429 • НЕ УЧИ́ РЫ́БУ ПЛА́ВАТЬ [saying] a person who is expert at what he does has no need of another's advice: ≃ fish do not need to be taught how to swim.

Р-430 • Я ⟨ты, он и т.п.⟩ РЫ́ЖИЙ coll [VP$_{subj}$ with быть$_{ø}$, pres only; usu. in questions or neg] (said sarcastically, often with aggravation, when one is left out, ignored, not treated as well as the others etc) I am (you are etc) worse than the others: что я, рыжий? ≃ what am I, chopped liver ⟨a leper, some kind of leper⟩?

Р-431 • С РЫ́ЛА (брать, получать что и т.п.) substand, rude [PrepP; Invar; prep obj] (to take, get etc sth.) from each person: from every (damn ⟨stinking, bloody⟩) one of us ⟨you, them⟩; out of every (damn ⟨stinking, bloody⟩) one of us ⟨you, them⟩; a head; apiece.

Р-432 • КУВШИ́ННОЕ РЫ́ЛО obs or substand [NP; fixed WO] an ugly face that juts forward; by extension a person who has such a face: jug snout; juglike snout.

< From Nikolai Gogol's Dead Souls («Мёртвые души»), vol. I, 1842.

Р-433 • НА РЫ́ЛО (приходится, давать что и т.п.) substand, rude [PrepP; Invar; prep obj] each (gets), (to give) to each person: for ⟨to⟩ every (damn ⟨stinking, bloody⟩) one of us ⟨you, them⟩; a head; apiece.

Р-434 • РЫ́ЛОМ НЕ ВЫ́ШЕЛ substand, rude [VP; subj: human; past only] 1. (для кого-чего) ~. Also: РО́ЖЕЙ ⟨МО́РДОЙ⟩ НЕ ВЫ́ШЕЛ substand, rude one is too bad-looking (to be s.o.'s romantic interest, participate in some activity etc): X рылом не вышел ≃ X is too ugly (for s.o. ⟨sth.⟩); [when used as a rejoinder] not with a mug ⟨a puss⟩ like X's!; not with X's looks!; with a mug ⟨a puss⟩ like X's?

«Эй, чернявая, айда с нами, — не пожалеешь!» — «Девушки, вы — подружки?» — «Или не видишь, Сёма, ясно — подружки». — «Тогда пусть берут меня в игрушки». — «Ты, Сёма, рылом не вышел» (Максимов 3). "Hey, you with the black hair, come for a walk with us—you won't be sorry!" "Hallo, girls—are you two playmates?" "'Course they're playmates, Syoma, anybody can see that." "I'd like to be their plaything, then." "What, with a mug like yours, Syoma?" (3a).

2. [often used with infin of another verb] one is not fit or qualified for sth., does not meet the necessary criteria for doing sth. (because of his low social status, inferior position etc): X рылом не вышел ≃ X isn't good enough (to do Y ⟨for thing Y⟩); X has no business (doing Y); (doing Y) is not for the likes of X.

Р-435 • НЕ ПО РЫ́ЛУ кому substand, rude [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: infin); pres only] doing sth. is wrong, improper, unbefitting for s.o. (because of his insufficient income, low status etc): не по рылу X-у делать Y ≃ X has no business doing Y; who is X to do Y?; doing Y is not for the likes of X.

Р-436 • РЫ́ЛЬЦЕ В ПУХУ́ ⟨В ПУШКУ́⟩ у кого coll [NP; these forms only; VP$_{subj}$ with быть$_{ø}$; fixed WO] s.o. is implicated in sth. reprehensible, dishonorable: у X-а рыльце в пушку ≃ X has (obviously) been at the jam pot ⟨the cookie jar⟩; (it's clear that) X is a party to it; [when comparing one's own behavior with the reprehensible behavior of another] X is in deep, too.

Ему даже стало казаться, что он и впрямь общался с Аглаей ради воспитательной цели. Ну, а что было дальше, кто про это знает? Шубкин скажет про это? Не скажет. У самого рыло в пуху — Би-би-си слушает (Войнович7). He even began to feel that he really had been associating with Aglaya for educational purposes. And as for what happened afterward, who knew about it? Would Shubkin tell? He wouldn't. He was in deep too—he listened to the BBC (7a).

< From Ivan Krylov's fable "Fox and Marmot" («Лисица и Сурок»), 1813.

Р-437 • БЫ́ЛИ КОГДА́-ТО И МЫ РЫСАКА́МИ [sent; fixed WO] (said when a person is recalling his youth, happier days, and his youthful derring-do) there was a time when we, too, were young and in our prime: we too had our hour of glory; we too were young and daring once.

< From Aleksei Apukhtin's poem "A Team of Bays" («Пара гнедых»), 1895. The original line has «вы» (rather than «мы»).

Р-438 • НА РЫСЯ́Х; НА ВСЕХ РЫСЯ́Х [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] 1. ~ ехать, идти и т.п. Also: НА ПО́ЛНЫХ РЫСЯ́Х (of a horse or a horse and its rider) (to move) at a gait between a walk and a canter in speed: (go) at a trot; || на всех ⟨полных⟩ рысях ≃ at a full ⟨fast⟩ trot.

Он тронул лошадь, скомандовал и в то же мгновение, услыхав за собой звук топота своего развёрнутого эскадрона, на полных рысях, стал спускаться к драгунам под гору (Толстой 6). He touched the horse, gave the command, and at the same instant, hearing the hoofbeats of his squadron deployed behind him, rode at a full trot down the hill toward the dragoons (6a).

2. ~ бежать, мчаться, нестись и т.п. Also: ВО ВСЮ РЫСЬ all highly coll (of a person) (to run, race etc) at a relatively rapid or quite rapid pace (depending on the verb of motion used in conjunction with the idiom): at a good ⟨fast, quick etc⟩ pace; at a good clip; [the equivalent incorporates the verb of motion] trot (off ⟨down the street etc⟩).

…Когда мы подъехали к хвосту очереди, из-за угла выскочил парень с двумя пакетами апельсинов и на рысях помчался к парадному входу — обмывать, значит, это дело (Аксёнов 1). …As we drove up to the line a guy with two bags of oranges popped out from around the corner and trotted off toward the front entrance—to celebrate his purchase, I guess (1a).

Р-439 • РЫ́ЦАРЬ БЕЗ СТРА́ХА И УПРЁКА lit, elev [NP; usu. sing; fixed WO] a courageous man with high morals: knight without fear and without reproach ⟨blemish⟩; daring and irreproachable; chevalier sans peur et sans reproche.

Рыцарь без страха и упрёка, географ шёл… против всех с открытым забралом, разгневанно (Соколов 1). …Daring and irreproachable, the geographer moved openly against everyone, infuriated (1a).

< Loan translation of the French chevalier sans peur et sans reproche, a description in contemporary chronicles of the French knight Pierre Terrail, Seigneur de Bayard (1473–1524).

Р-440 • РЫ́ЦАРЬ ПЕЧА́ЛЬНОГО О́БРАЗА lit [NP; more often sing; fixed WO] (usu. said with good-natured irony) a person who is magnanimous and idealistic, but very naïve and impractical: the knight of the rueful ⟨mournful, doleful⟩ countenance; the knight of the mournful visage.

< From an appellation given to Don Quixote in Miguel de Cervantes's novel of that title, 1605.

Р-441 • ПРОПУСКА́ТЬ/ПРОПУСТИ́ТЬ РЮ́МОЧКУ ⟨СТАКА́НЧИК, СТО́ПОЧКУ, ЧА́РОЧКУ⟩ all old-fash, coll [VP; subj: human] to drink a glass or small amount of liquor: X пропустил рюмочку ≃ X had ⟨took⟩ a nip; X downed ⟨tossed down⟩ a glass; X had a shot (of liquor).

Друзей у него не было. Компании по пьяному делу он не водил — редко, разве что по большим праздникам, пропускал стопочку (Абрамов 1). He had no friends. He did not indulge in drinking sessions—on rare occasions he would down a glass, but only on important holidays (1a).

Р-442 • ИЗ РЯ́ДА ⟨-У⟩ ВОН coll [PrepP; these forms only; fixed WO] 1. [modif (intensif)] extremely, unusually: extraordinarily; exceptionally; uncommonly; incredibly.

Лето было из ряду вон дождливое. Summer was incredibly rainy.

2. [subj-compl with copula (subj: abstr)] very unusual, remarkable: X — из ряда вон ≃ X is (quite) out of the ordinary; X is (all-fired) exceptional; X is extraordinary.

Почему пушкинский Лицей стал питомником таких разных растений, столь пышно расцветших? Не потому, что это учреждение было таким уж из ряда вон по системе образования и воспитания (Чудаков 1). How is it that Pushkin's Lyceum was the nursery for such diverse and such luxuriantly flourishing plants? It wasn't because the institution itself was so all-fired exceptional in terms of educational system or pedagogy (1a).

3. [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: это); used as Interj] used to express resentment, indignation etc: it's outrageous!; it's an outrage!; that's ⟨this is⟩ (really) too much!; it's (really) over-the-top!

Вчера Петя опять сбежал с уроков и пошёл с мальчишками в кино. Это уж из ряда вон! Petya cut classes again yesterday and went to the movies with his buddies. This is really too much!

Р-443 • ИЗ РЯ́ДА ВОН ВЫХОДЯ́ЩИЙ [AdjP; modif or subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. abstr, occas. concr or human); often postmodif of нечто, что-нибудь, ничего etc; usu. this WO] very unusual, outstanding in some way, strikingly different from other (phenomena, things, or people in its or his group, category etc): (quite) out of the ordinary; exceptional; extraordinary; no everyday [NP]; [lim.] unprecedented.

А ресторан зажил своей обычной ночной жизнью и жил бы ею до закрытия, то есть до четырёх часов утра, если бы не произошло нечто, уже совершенно из ряду вон выходящее… (Булгаков 9). Meanwhile, the restaurant resumed its usual nighttime routine, which would have gone on until closing time, that is, 4 a.m., if something had not happened that was truly out of the ordinary… (9c) And the restaurant resumed its customary life and would have gone on peacefully until closing time, at four o'clock in the morning, had it not been for an utterly unprecedented occurrence… (9a).

Р-444 • В ПЕ́РВЫХ РЯДА́Х кого-чего идти, находиться и т.п. rhet, media [PrepP; Invar; adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: human or collect)] (to be) among the leaders in sth. (some field, movement etc): (be) in the front ranks ⟨the vanguard⟩; (be) at the forefront.

В нашей гимназии в каждом классе было по два отделения — первое и второе. Первое отделение считалось аристократическим, второе — демократическим… Вражда между первым и вторым отделениями никогда не затихала. Она выражалась в взаимном презрении. Но раз в год, осенью, происходила традиционная драка между первыми и вторыми отделениями… Почти всегда в первых рядах победителей был гимназист с задорным вздёрнутым носом — будущий писатель Михаил Булгаков (Паустовский 1). Every class in our high school was divided into two groups, the first and the second. The first section was considered to be aristocratic, the second democratic…. The enmity between the first and second sections never died down. It was usually expressed in mutual contempt. But once a year, in the autumn, it produced a traditional battle between the first and second sections of all the classes…. Almost always in the front ranks of the conquerors was a high school boy with a perky, turned-up nose—the future writer Mikhail Bulgakov (1b).

Р-445 • РЯ́ДОМ С кем-чем [AdvP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] 1. in close proximity to: next to; alongside (of); [lim.] next door to.

Рядом с нашей школой есть бассейн. There is a swimming pool next to our school.

2. when placed side by side (with s.o. or sth.) and observed in relation to him or it: next to; in comparison with; (as) compared with ⟨to⟩.

[Шервинский:] Вы красивая, умная, как говорится, интеллектуально развитая… А он рядом с вами — вешалка, карьерист, штабной момент (Булгаков 4). [Sh.:] You are beautiful, intelligent, intellectually developed, as they say…. And compared to you he's a coat rack, a careerist, a headquarters nothing (4a).

3. at the same time as, together with: along with.

Когда я узнал Никиту поближе, я понял, что рядом с детской наивностью в нём живёт трезвая расчётливость. When I got to know Nikita better, I understood that along with his childlike naïveté he had sober common sense.

Р-446 • В РЯДУ́ кого-чего [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] in the class or group of: among(st); in ⟨among⟩ the ranks of.

Ему принадлежит почётное место в ряду создателей современной офтальмологии. He occupies a place of honor among the founders of modern ophthalmology. ♦ Антисемитизм — явление особое в ряду преследований, которым подвергаются национальные меньшинства (Гроссман 2). [context translation] Anti-Semitism has a place to itself in the history of the persecution of national minorities (2a).

Р-447 • СТОЯ́ТЬ В (ОДНО́М) РЯДУ́ с кем-чем; СТОЯ́ТЬ В РЯДУ́ кого-чего [VP; subj: human, collect, or abstr; fixed WO] to be equal to s.o. or sth. else: X стоит в одном ряду с Y-ами ≃ X is ⟨ranks⟩ on (a) par with Ys; X ranks with ⟨among⟩ Ys; X is in the same class ⟨league, category⟩ as ⟨with⟩ Ys; X is on the same level as ⟨with⟩ Ys; X stands alongside Ys.

…В основном это были заметки о разных парадах, собраниях, митингах, приёмах и других торжественных церемониях, участником которых был генерал Бурдалаков, где его фамилия стояла в ряду с другими, иногда важными и громкими (Войнович 7). …The clippings were mostly announcements of various different meetings, gatherings, receptions and other solemn ceremonies in which General Burdalakov had participated, where his name stood alongside others, some of them important and famous (7a).

Р-448 • СОМКНУ́ТЬ РЯДЫ́ rhet or elev [VP; subj: human pl or collect] to unite, join forces in order to achieve a common goal (often implies overcoming petty differences in the process): X-ы сомкнули ряды ≃ Xs closed ranks.

Они [московские славянофилы] должны были сомкнуть свои ряды и высказаться при появлении «Письма» Чаадаева и шуме, который оно вызывало. «Письмо» Чаадаева было своего рода последнее слово, рубеж (Герцен 2). …They [the Moscow Slavophiles] had had to close their ranks and take a definite stand on the appearance of Chaadayev's Letter and the commotion it caused. That Letter was in a sense the last word, the limit (2a).

С

С-1 • САДИ́ТЬСЯ/СЕСТЬ ВЕРХО́М на кого coll [VP; subj: human] taking advantage of s.o.'s gentleness or weak will, to make him submit to one's will, carry out one's wishes: X сядет на Y-а верхом ≃ X will walk all over Y; X will boss ⟨push⟩ Y around; X will order Y about ⟨around⟩; [lim.] X will wrap ⟨twist⟩ Y (a)round X's little finger.

Он имел о себе самое высокое мнение; тщеславие его не знало границ… а со всем тем он обыкновенно оставался в дураках и всякий несколько опытный чиновник садился на него верхом (Тургенев 2). He thought very highly of himself; his vanity knew no bounds… but for all that, he was usually made a fool of, and any relatively experienced civil servant could wrap him around his little finger (2g).

С-2 • ростом В КОСУ́Ю СА́ЖЕНЬ coll [PrepP; Invar; nonagreeing modif; fixed WO] (usu. of a man) a very tall person: a giant (of a man); (a) stalwart (man).

< From the name of an old unit of measure: the distance from the tip of the toes on one foot to the tip of the index finger on the opposite hand when that arm is raised straight into the air.

С-3 • КОСА́Я СА́ЖЕНЬ В ПЛЕЧА́Х coll [NP; sing only; detached modif or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human)] (usu. of a man) a person with large, muscular shoulders: broad-shouldered; (with) big broad shoulders; (one has) broad shoulders.

[Варравин:] Ну, а к девочке-то и подделался один франт, некто Кречинский, молодчина, косая сажень в плечах… (Сухово-Кобылин 1). [V.:] Well, some dandy, a certain Krechinsky, good-looking, big broad shoulders, wormed his way into the girl's good graces (1a).

< See C-2.

С-4 • ЗАГИБА́ТЬ/ЗАГНУ́ТЬ САЛА́ЗКИ кому substand [VP; subj: human] 1. obs to raise and push s.o.'s legs toward his head with great force while he is lying on his back, thereby causing him great pain: X загнул Y-у салазки ≃ X bent Y into a pretzel.

2. to punish s.o. severely, deal with s.o. harshly: X загнёт Y-у салазки ≃ X will fix ⟨get⟩ Y (good); X will fix Y's wagon; X will settle Y's hash.

Тихон исподлобья окинул Штабеля с ног до головы, как бы прикидывая, во сколько обойдётся ему драка с дюжим австрийцем, потом коротко переглянулся с братом, тот хмуро кивнул, и они двинулись прочь, и лишь с порога парадного Тихон пьяно погрозил: «Я тебе, немецкая морда, ещё загну салазки!» (Максимов 3). Tikhon sullenly looked him [Stabel] up and down, calculating how much a fight with the sturdy Austrian might cost him, then exchanged a brief glance with his brother, who nodded equally sullenly. They moved away, and had reached the front door before Tikhon uttered his drunken threat. "I'll settle your hash, you ugly German bastard!" (3a).

С-5 • САМ НЕ СВОЙ coll [AdjP; usu. sing; subj-controlled; detached modif or subj-compl with copula (subj: human); fixed WO] one has lost his composure, is not acting as he usually does (under the influence of a strong emotion—usu. grief, worry, occas. joy, excitement etc): X сам не свой ≃ X is not himself; X is beside himself (with worry ⟨grief, joy etc⟩).

Первые недели и даже месяцы после ареста Вадима Киля ходила сама не своя (Некрасов 1). During the first weeks, even months, after Vadim's arrest Kilia was not herself (1a).

С-6 • САМ ПО СЕБЕ́ [AdjP; fixed WO] 1. [usu. modif] (of a person, thing, phenomenon etc) considered as a separate entity, with a focus on his or its intrinsic qualities, apart from related circumstances, events etc: in (and of) oneself ⟨itself⟩; [lim.] in one's ⟨its⟩ own right; [when it modifies a deverbal noun or a clause] the very fact of (doing sth.); the mere fact that…

Для Анны Николаевны пролетарская этика была священна сама по себе… (Богданов 1). To Anna Nikolaevna, proletarian ethics were sacred in and of themselves… (1a). ♦ Основное обвинение отец решительно отверг, но то, что он не сгрёб Лёву за шиворот и не вышвырнул тут же из кабинета, само по себе было очень примечательно (Битов 2). Father emphatically rejected the main accusation, but the mere fact that he didn't scoop Lyova up by the scruff of the neck and fling him right out of the study was very noteworthy (2a).

2. расти, жить и т.п. ~ [adv] (of a child) (to grow up) without receiving any attention, care, guidance etc from one's parents or guardians, (of an adult) (to live) having little or no contact with the person or people with whom one lives: on one's own; [lim.] live one's own life.

Родители были всегда заняты, и мальчик фактически рос сам по себе. The boy's parents were always busy, so actually he grew up on his own. ♦ У них с отцом [у Андрея с отцом] не существовало каких-то особых отношений — ни плохих, ни хороших, каждый… жил сам по себе (Распутин 2). He [Andrei] and his father had no special relationship—it wasn't bad, it wasn't good, each lived his own life (2a).

3. быть$_{ø}$, существовать, жить и т.п. ~ [subj-compl with copula (subj: human, abstr, or concr) or adv; when used with two subjects, the idiom is repeated with each of them; often used in two clauses connected by contrastive Conj «а»] some thing (phenomenon etc) is separate from, exists separately from a connected thing (phenomenon etc); some person (or group) lives, works etc individually, apart from some other person (or group): (all) by o.s. ⟨itself⟩; on one's ⟨its⟩ own; independently (of s.o. ⟨sth.⟩); [of things, phenomena etc only] (be) a separate entity ⟨separate entities⟩; ‖ [when both subjects are specified] X сам по себе, а Y сам по себе ≃ [of people] X went X's way and Y went Y's; [of things] X is one thing and Y is another.

[Липочка:] Так смотрите же, Лазарь Елизарыч, мы будем жить сами по себе, а они [тятенька и маменька] сами по себе (Островский 10). [L.:] Then, look here, Lazar Elizarych, we'll live by ourselves, and they'll [mama and daddy will] live by themselves (10a). ♦ Жизнь у него [Обломова] была сама по себе, а наука сама по себе (Гончаров 1). For him [Oblomov] life was one thing and learning another (1b).

4. действовать, происходить и т.п. ~ [adv] (of a person) (to act) on one's own initiative, not influenced by anyone's suggestions, without outside interference; (of a thing, event etc) (to happen, proceed etc) without any outside influence or interference: (all) by o.s. ⟨itself⟩; of one's ⟨its⟩ own accord; of one's ⟨its⟩ own volition; on one's ⟨its⟩ own.

«Да где ж это видано, чтобы народ сам по себе собирался без всякого контроля со стороны руководства?» (Войнович 2). "Who ever heard of people assembling all by themselves, without any control on the part of the leadership?" (2a).

С-7 • САМ СОБО́Й ⟨-ю⟩ [AdjP; subj-controlled; adv; more often used with pfv verbs; fixed WO] 1. (to happen, occur etc) without any outside influence or interference: (all) by itself; on its own; of itself; of its own accord ⟨volition⟩; automatically; || получилось ⟨вышло и т.п.⟩ само собой ≃ it came about (quite) spontaneously ⟨naturally⟩.

Дойдя на Севере до Архангельска… [куриный] мор остановился сам собой по той причине, что идти ему дальше было некуда, — в Белом море куры, как известно, не водятся (Булгаков 10). Having reached Archangel… in the North, the [chicken] plague stopped by itself, for the reason that there was nowhere for it to go—as everybody knows, there are no hens in the White Sea (10b). ♦ «Нож», — крикнул Филипп Филиппович. Нож вскочил ему в руки как бы сам собой… (Булгаков 11). "Knife," cried Philip Philippovich. The knife leaped into his hands as of its own volition… (11a). ♦ Беспорядок в комнате царил такой, словно он не образовался сам собой, а был устроен нарочно (Акунин 2). The disorder in the room was so pervasive that it seemed not to have arisen spontaneously, but to have been created deliberately (2a).

2. додумался до чего, добился чего и т.п. ~ obsoles (one came up with an idea or solution, achieved sth. etc) independently, without anyone's help: (all) by o.s.

[Городничий:] О, я знаю вас: вы если начнёте говорить о сотворении мира, просто волосы дыбом поднимаются. [Аммос Фёдорович:] Да ведь сам собою дошёл… (Гоголь 4). [Mayor:] Oh I know you. When you start spouting your crazy theories of the Creation, it's enough to make a man's hair stand on end. [A.F.:] But I arrived at it all by myself… (4f).

С-8 • СА́М ТАКО́Й ⟨САМА́ ТАКА́Я⟩!; СА́М ⟨САМА́⟩ ТЫ ⟨ВЫ⟩…!; ОТ ТАКО́ГО ⟨ТАКО́Й⟩ СЛЫ́ШУ!; ОТ … СЛЫ́ШУ! all highly coll, rude [indep. remark; fixed WO] (used in dialogue as a rejoinder to an offensive or abusive word or comment, which can be repeated in place of такой or такого) it is you yourself who are what you called me: look who's talking!; you're a fine one to talk!; you should ⟨can, can't⟩ talk!; that would be you!; [when repeating an insult] [NP] yourself!; you're the one who's [NP]!; you* call *me [NP]?!; [lim.] that's the pot calling the kettle black.

[Виктория:] Перестаньте! Сначала разберитесь… [Марина:] Молчи, вертихвостка! [Виктория:] Слушайте! [Марина:] Молчи! [Виктория:] Послушайте! [Марина:] Замолчи, негодяйка! [Виктория (вышла из себя):] Сама вы негодяйка! [Марина:] Мерзавка! [Виктория:] От мерзавки слышу! (Вампилов 1). [V.:] Stop it! First, get your facts straight… [M.:] Shut up, you hussy! [V.:] Listen! [M.:] Shut up! [V.:] Now listen! [M.:] Shut up, you wretch! [V.: (Losing her temper)] You're the one who's a wretch! [M.:] You bitch! [V.:] Look who's talking! (1b). [V.:] Stop it! Try and understand before you… [M.:] Shut up, you tart! [V.:] Look here! [M.:] Shut up! [V.:] Look here! [M.:] Will you shut up, you good-for-nothing! [V.: (losing her temper)] Good-for-nothing yourself! [M.:] Scum! [V.:] You call me scum? (1a).

С-9 • САМИ́М ⟨САМО́Й, САМИ́МИ⟩ СОБО́Й быть, оставаться, стать [NP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human); var. with быть is used in past and fut only] (to be, remain) the way one is by nature (in terms of character, outlook etc), (to behave) in one's customary manner: X был ⟨оставался⟩ ~ ≃ X was ⟨became, remained⟩ himself; X was ⟨became, remained⟩ true to himself.

«А ну-ка, стой! — Орозкул перехватил поводья из рук старика. Он как бы проснулся. Он снова вдруг стал самим собой. — Ты кому дуришь голову? Никуда ты не пойдёшь» (Айтматов 1). "Hold on there!" snapped Orozkul, grabbing the reins from the old man's hands. It was as if he had awakened; suddenly he became himself again. "Who do you think you're fooling? You're not going anywhere" (1b).

С-10 • САМО́ СОБО́Й ⟨-ю⟩ РАЗУМЕ́ЕТСЯ; САМО́ СОБО́Й ⟨-ю⟩ all coll [these forms only; sent adv (parenth), main clause in a complex sent, or indep. sent (used as affirm response); fixed WO] certainly; it is so apparent, expected that there is hardly any need even to mention it; that is the way things are supposed to go or be: it ⟨that⟩ goes without saying; naturally; of course; needless to say; obviously; it ⟨that⟩ stands to reason.

…Само собою, после того, как контракт был предъявлен, дальнейшие выражения удивления были бы просто неприличны (Булгаков 9). …It goes without saying, after he had been shown the contract, any further expression of surprise would be simply impolite (9c). …Of course, after the contract was presented, further expression of astonishment would have been improper (9a).

«Наверное, я тоже был не сахар. Наверное, я и сейчас не сахар, но тогда я пил ещё больше, чем сейчас…» (Стругацкие

1). “No doubt I wasn’t any prize myself. No doubt I’m still no prize, but in those days I drank even more than I do now…” (1a). ♦ Кирпичный завод и на воле-то не сахар, а тем более в лагере (Марченко 1). A brick factory even in normal conditions is no bed of roses, and in the camps it is even worse (1a).

С-27 • СА́ХАР МЕДО́ВИЧ obs [NP; sing only; often subj-compl with copula (subj: human); fixed WO] an excessively sweet and courteous (albeit not necessarily sincere) person: (one is) all sugar and honey; (one is) sickeningly sweet.

С-28 • КТО КУДА́, А Я В СБЕРКА́ССУ coll [sent; Invar; fixed WO] you are free to do whatever you want, but I am going where I want or have to go (may be used as a pretext for breaking away from a group): you can do as you please ⟨like⟩, but I’m off ⟨gone, out of here, off to…⟩; you can do what you want ⟨like⟩, but I must be off ⟨going⟩.

«Ну, ребята, кто куда, а я в сберкассу, — надо в деревню сходить». — «Прощальный визит — пошли!» (Гроссман 2). “Well, my friends, you can do as you please, but I’m off to the village.” “A parting visit? Let’s go then!” (2a).

< Valentin Katayev, in The Grass of Oblivion («Трава забвенья»), 1967, attributes this phrase to the poet Vasily Lebedev-Kumach.

С-29 • В СБО́РЕ быть$_{ø}$, оказаться, застать кого [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: human or collect) or obj-compl with застать (obj: human or collect)] (of people who are expected or supposed to be somewhere) gathered, in attendance: Х-ы были в сборе ≃ Xs were there ⟨here, assembled, present⟩; Xs had assembled.

…Он [дядя Сандро] быстро направился к дому тёти Маши. Там уже почти все были в сборе… (Искандер 3). …He [Uncle Sandro] hastily set out for Aunt Masha’s house. Almost everyone was already there… (3a). ♦ Созванные на совещание генералы были в сборе (Шолохов 3). The generals summoned to the conference had all assembled (3a).

С-31 • ЗОЛОТА́Я СВА́ДЬБА [NP; usu. this WO] a fiftieth wedding anniversary celebration: golden (wedding) anniversary; golden wedding.

Должен вам сказать, что в наших местах серебряные и золотые свадьбы не праздновали (Рыбаков 1). I should explain that silver and golden weddings were not normally celebrated in our part of the world (1a).

С-32 • СЕРЕ́БРЯНАЯ СВА́ДЬБА [NP; usu. this WO] a twenty-fifth wedding anniversary celebration: silver (wedding) anniversary; silver wedding.

Под предлогом серебряной свадьбы Граубе, Генрих Иванович, пригласил к себе на квартиру четырёх сослуживцев… (Терц 8). On the pretext of celebrating his silver wedding anniversary, Genrikh Ivanovich Graube invited four colleagues… to his apartment… (8a).

С-33 • (КАК) НА МАЛА́НЬИНУ СВА́ДЬБУ наварить, напечь и т.п. coll, humor [(как +) PrepP; these forms only; adv (quantif); fixed WO] (to prepare) a great deal (of food): (cook ⟨make⟩) enough for an army ⟨enough to feed an army⟩.

С-34 • ДО СВА́ДЬБЫ ЗАЖИВЁТ coll, humor [sent; Invar; often preceded by ничего, не плачь, не огорчайся etc; fixed WO] it will soon pass, it is not worth getting upset about (often said as a consolation to s.o. experiencing minor pain or distress): you’re ⟨he’s etc⟩ going to be just fine; you’ll ⟨he’ll etc⟩ live ⟨survive⟩; you’ll ⟨he’ll etc⟩ get over it; you’ll ⟨he’ll etc⟩ soon be right as rain.

«Тебе нелегко будет сообщить им [родителям] это известие [об отъезде]. Они всё рассуждают о том, что мы через две недели делать будем». — «Нелегко. Чёрт меня дёрнул сегодня подразнить отца… Он очень сконфузился, а теперь мне придётся вдобавок его огорчить… Ничего! До свадьбы заживёт» (Тургенев 2). “It won’t be easy to break the news to them. They talk all the time about what we’ll be doing two weeks from now.” “It won’t be easy. I don’t know what possessed me to tease my father today… He was very embarrassed; now it turns out I’ll have to upset him again… Never mind! He’ll survive” (2g). “You’re not going to find it easy to break it [the news of your leaving] to them [your parents]. They are always discussing what we are going to do in two weeks’ time.” “No, it won’t be easy. The Devil got into me today to annoy Father…. He was quite overcome, and now I shall have to disappoint him into the bargain. Never mind! He’ll get over it” (2e).

С-35 • НА СВА́ЛКЕ ИСТО́РИИ быть$_{ø}$, оказаться, место и т.п.; НА СВА́ЛКУ ИСТО́РИИ выбросить, выкинуть кого-что и т.п. [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human, collect, or abstr), nonagreeing postmodif (of место), or adv; fixed WO] (to end up in, be in, relegate s.o. or sth. to etc) historical oblivion: on ⟨to⟩ the ash ⟨rubbish, garbage, junk⟩ heap of history; in ⟨to⟩ the garbage dump ⟨the junk bin, the dustbin⟩ of history.

«Процесс бездушного отношения к эволюции преступления нами развенчан полностью, а пресловутая презумпция невиновности выкинута на свалку истории…» (Алешковский 1). “We’ve totally eliminated investigation’s indifference to the evolution of a crime, and we’ve thrown the notorious assumption of innocence on the garbage heap of history…” (1a).

С-36 • НИ СВАТ НИ БРАТ кому; НИ КУМ НИ СВАТ both coll [NP; sing only; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); pres only; usu. this WO] one is not s.o.’s close friend or relative and not of any concern or interest to s.o.: X Y-y — ни сват ни брат ≃ X is no one to Y; X is neither kith nor kin to Y; who is X to Y anyway?

[author’s usage] «Почему, собственно, я так взволновался из-за того, что Берлиоз попал под трамвай? — рассуждал поэт. — В конечном счёте, ну его в болото! Кто я, в самом деле, кум ему или сват?» (Булгаков 9). “Why did I get so upset over Berlioz falling under a streetcar?” the poet reasoned. “In the final analysis, let him rot! What am I to him, anyway, kith or kin?” (9c).

С-37 • ПЕРЕЁЗЖАЯ СВА́ХА coll [NP; usu. sing] a person who often changes his place of residence: bird of passage; nomad.

«Вставай, Капарин. Гость у нас. Это наш человек — Мелехов Григорий, бывший сотник, к твоему сведению» (Шолохов 5). “Get up, Kaparin. We have a guest. This is our man—Melekhov, Grigory—a former lieutenant, for your information” (5a).

С-39 • ПРИНИМА́ТЬ/ПРИНЯ́ТЬ К СВЕ́ДЕНИЮ что [VP; subj: human or collect; more often pfv; usu. this WO] to consider sth., allow for sth. when making a judgment or decision: X принял к сведению Y ≃ X took Y into consideration ⟨account⟩; X bore ⟨kept⟩ Y in mind; || примите ⟨прошу принять⟩ к сведению ≃ [when used in an official context] (please) be advised.

Конечно, сказать, что я это [мещанскую ненависть жены Марата ко всякого рода чудачествам] заметил и принял к сведению, было бы неточно. Я в самом деле это заметил, но тогда подумал, что… это мне показалось (Искандер 2). Of course, it would be imprecise to say that I noticed this [Marat's wife's bourgeois hatred for any kind of eccentricity] and took it into account. I did in fact notice it, but at the time I thought I was imagining things (2a).

С-40 • ДОВОДИ́ТЬ/ДОВЕСТИ́ ДО СВЕ́ДЕНИЯ чьего or кого, что or о чём usu. offic [VP; subj: human or collect; usu. this WO] to notify s.o. of sth.: X довёл до сведения Y-а Z ≃ X brought Z to Y's attention ⟨to the attention of Y, to Y's knowledge⟩; X apprised ⟨advised, informed⟩ Y of Z.

«…Я уполномочен довести до вашего сведения, что в случае нового задержания наших грузов вы будете иметь дело с генералом Пфердом» (Стругацкие 1). "…I have instructions to bring to your attention that if our goods should be detained a third time you will be dealing directly with General Pferd" (1a).

Не покупай это мясо: оно не первой свежести. Don't buy this meat—it's going bad.

2. [subj: a noun denoting an item of clothing, piece of linen etc] having been worn or used since its last washing, sth. is less than totally clean: X был ~ ≃ X was not completely ⟨quite, very⟩ clean ⟨fresh⟩; X had already been worn ⟨used, slept in etc⟩.

На Васе были помятые брюки и рубашка не первой свежести. Vasya had on wrinkled pants and a shirt that had already been worn.

3. [subj: анекдот, новости, информация etc] an anecdote (joke, some news, information etc) is not the most recent: [of an anecdote or joke only] stale; (that's) an old one ⟨a chestnut⟩; that one has been around for a while; [of news, information etc only] old (news); nothing new; [lim.] (information etc that s.o.) already knows ⟨has known for quite a while etc⟩.

Анекдот, рассказанный Геннадием, оказался не первой свежести и никого не насмешил. The anecdote Gennady told was an old one and didn't make anyone laugh.

4. [subj: human] (often of a person, more commonly a woman, who tries to appear younger than he or she actually is) one no longer is or no longer looks very young: not exactly in the first flush ⟨the first blush, the prime⟩ of youth; not exactly in the flower of (one's) youth; no youngster; [lim.] no spring chicken.

Несмотря на искусство гримёра было видно, что актриса уже не первой свежести. Despite the makeup artist's skill, it was obvious that the actress wasn't exactly in the first flush of youth.

С-42 • СВЕ́РХУ ДО́НИЗУ [AdvP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] 1. entirely, completely: from top to bottom.

«Осмотреть помещение кооператива сверху донизу. Перетряхнуть все лари, заглянуть под прилавки» (Пастернак 1). "Have the shop searched from top to bottom. Turn everything inside out, and see that you look under the counters" (1a).

2. from the highest ranking members to those at the lowest level: from top to bottom.

В жизни работника той службы, к которой принадлежал капитан [Миляга] бывают тревожные моменты, когда торжествует Законность. За время своей карьеры Афанасию Миляге дважды пришлось пережить подобную неприятность. Оба раза шерстили всех сверху донизу, но Миляге удалось уцелеть и даже продвинуться по службе… (Войнович 2). In the life of those who serve the Institution there are sometimes moments of anxiety when legality triumphs. In the space of his career Afanasy Milyaga had twice to experience that particular unpleasantness. Both times, everyone from top to bottom had been sheared away, but both times Milyaga managed to come out in one piece and even to advance in the service… (2a).

С-43 • ВСЯК СВЕРЧО́К ЗНАЙ СВОЙ ШЕСТО́К; ЗНАЙ СВЕРЧО́К СВОЙ ШЕСТО́К [saying] do not overstep the limits of your authority (said to or about a person who is behaving in a way inappropriate to his position or is interfering in someone else's affairs): ≃ stay on your own side of the fence; the cobbler should ⟨let the cobbler⟩ stick to his last; mind your own business.

[Аграфена Кондратьевна:] Опомнись! [Большов:] Знай сверчок свой шесток! Не твоё дело! (Островский 10). [A.K.:] Recollect yourself! [B.:] Stay on your own side of the fence! This is none of your business! (10a).

С-44 • БЕ́ЛЫЙ ⟨БО́ЖИЙ⟩ СВЕТ, often НА (ВСЁМ) БЕ́ЛОМ СВЕ́ТЕ, ВО ВСЁМ БЕ́ЛОМ СВЕ́ТЕ, ПО БЕ́ЛУ ⟨БЕ́ЛОМУ⟩ СВЕ́ТУ rather folk poet [NP; sing only; usu. this WO] the world around us, life in all its manifestations: this ⟨the⟩ world; the (whole) wide world; the wide, wide world; the great wide world.

Он [мальчик] не знал… что его ждут новые события в его маленькой жизни, что наступит день, когда он останется один на всём белом свете… (Айтматов 1). He [the lad]… didn't know that new events in his young life awaited him, that a day would come when he'd remain alone in the whole wide world… (1b).

…Фёдор Константинович вспомнил: [это] Буш, два с половиной года тому назад читавший в кружке свою пьесу. Недавно он её выпустил в свет… (Набоков 1). …Fyodor remembered: it was Busch, who two and a half years ago had read his play at that literary circle. Recently he had published it… (1a). ♦ Так, прежде чем выпустить в свет книгу о геологах (пусть это будет даже роман), издательство направляет его в геологическое ведомство, о пограничниках — в КГБ, о революционерах — в Институт марксизма-ленинизма и т.д. (Войнович 1). Before a book about geologists, even if it's a novel, can see the light of day, the publisher sends it to the Department of Geology; if it's about border guards, to the KGB; if it's about revolutionaries, to the Institute of Marxism-Leninism, and so forth (1a).

С-51 • ВЫХОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЙТИ В СВЕТ [VP; subj: a noun denoting a book, journal, CD, DVD, film, a theater production etc] to be produced and offered to the public: X вышел в свет ≃ X came out; X saw the light of day; X was released; [mainly of print materials] X was published; [of print materials only] X appeared in print; [of a theater production] X was staged. ○ ВЫ́ХОД В СВЕТ чего [NP; sing only; fixed WO] ≃ publication; release; [of print materials only] printing; [of a theater production] staging (of).

«Сама по себе затея написать книжку о выдающемся деятеле шестидесятых годов ничего предосудительного в себе не содержит. Ну, написал, ну, вышла в свет, — выходили в свет и не такие книги» (Набоков 1). "In itself the idea of writing a book about an outstanding public figure of the sixties contains nothing reprehensible. One sits down and writes it—fine; worse books than that have come out" (1a).

С-52 • ИЗВЛЕКА́ТЬ/ИЗВЛЕ́ЧЬ НА СВЕТ (БО́ЖИЙ) что [VP; subj: human] 1. to draw out sth. hidden, forgotten about, or unused from the place where it has been located: X извлёк на свет божий Y ≃ X took ⟨pulled⟩ Y out; X dug Y up ⟨out⟩.

Открыв шкатулку, дед извлёк на свет божий пожелтевший конверт. Opening the case, Grandfather took out a yellowed envelope.

2. to reveal sth., make known sth. that was long hidden (usu. a secret, a piece of information etc): X извлёк на свет божий Y ≃ X brought Y to light; X brought Y out into the open.

С-53 • НА СВЕТ (БО́ЖИЙ) НЕ ГЛЯДЕ́Л ⟨НЕ СМОТРЕ́Л⟩ БЫ obsoles, coll, rather folk [VP; subj: human, usu. я (implied); subjunctive only] nothing is dear to me, I have no desire to go on living: I feel life isn't worth living (anymore); I feel there's nothing to live for (anymore).

С-54 • НА ЧЁМ СВЕТ СТОИ́Т ругать, бранить, поносить кого, ругаться и т.п. coll [Invar; adv (intensif); more often used with impfv verbs; fixed WO] (to reprimand s.o., swear at s.o., curse etc) with great intensity: распекать ⟨бранить⟩ и т.п. кого ~ ≃ give s.o. a good tongue-lashing; lay s.o. out in lavender; rake ⟨haul⟩ s.o. over the coals; || ругать ⟨поливать⟩ и т.п. кого ~ ≃ call s.o. every name ⟨all the names⟩ in the book; swear at s.o. for all one is worth; curse s.o. up (hill) and down (dale); || ругаться ~ ≃ curse ⟨cuss⟩ a blue streak; swear like a trooper ⟨the devil⟩; turn the air blue; curse up (hill) and down (dale).

«Это когда они [женщины] ругаются с нами, думают, что мы им не нужны. Разойдётся и… поливает на чём свет стоит» (Распутин 1). "It's when we quarrel the women think they can get along without us. Call us all the names in the book" (1a). ♦ «Пушкина [новый пациент] ругает на чём свет стоит и всё время кричит: „Куролесов, бис, бис!" — говорил гость, тревожно дергаясь» (Булгаков 9). "He [the new patient] swears at Pushkin for all he's worth and keeps shouting, 'Kurolesov, encore, encore! '" the guest said, twitching anxiously (9a).

С-55 • НЕ БЛИ́ЖНИЙ ⟨НЕ БЛИ́ЗКИЙ, НЕ БЛИ́ЗОК⟩ СВЕТ coll [NP; these forms only; usu. subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: a geographical name, a noun denoting a place or destination, or infin); fixed WO] very far (from some place or from where the speaker is): far away ⟨off⟩; a long way off ⟨away, from here etc⟩; not right next door.

«Гостя тебе привез, Санёк, — заметно заискивая, сообщил тому парень, — из… Москвы». — «Ну». — «Не ближний свет, понимаешь?» (Максимов 1). "I've brought you a visitor, Sanyok," said the boatman with a noticeably ingratiating tone. "He's from Moscow…." "Well." "It's not right next door, you know" (1a).

С-56 • НИ СВЕТ НИ ЗАРЯ́ встать, проснуться, разбудить кого, уехать, прийти и т.п. coll [NP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to get up, wake up, wake s.o. up, leave, arrive etc) very early in the morning, before daybreak: at an ungodly ⟨unearthly⟩ hour; (well) before dawn ⟨sunup⟩; at the crack of dawn; when the sun is barely ⟨hardly⟩ up.

Князю стали нашёптывать. В один прекрасный день он уехал в многодневный охотничий поход, но неожиданно, ни свет ни заря, вернулся на следующий день и застал Щащико у себя в спальне (Искандер 3). People began to whisper to the prince. One fine day he left for a protracted hunting trip, but he returned the next day unexpectedly, at an ungodly hour, and caught Shashiko in his bedroom (3a). ♦ На другой день, ни свет ни заря, Лиза уже проснулась. Весь дом ещё спал (Пушкин 3). Liza awoke the next morning at the crack of dawn. The rest of the house was still asleep (3b).

С-57 • ОТПРАВЛЯ́ТЬ/ОТПРА́ВИТЬ НА ТОТ СВЕТ кого coll [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to kill s.o.: X отправил Y-а на тот свет ≃ X did Y in; X finished ⟨knocked, bumped⟩ Y off; X dispatched Y (to the next world).

«Ты что, на тот свет хочешь отправить меня?» — орал Орозкул на тестя (Айтматов 1). “What are you trying to do—finish me off?” Orozkul screamed at his father-in-law (1b).

С-58 • ОТПРАВЛЯ́ТЬСЯ/ОТПРА́ВИТЬСЯ НА ТОТ СВЕТ coll, occas. humor [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv; often pfv past with чуть не; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to die: X отправился на тот свет ≃ X went to the next ⟨a better⟩ world; X left ⟨departed⟩ this world; X departed for a better world; X gave up the ghost.

Женитьба его ничуть не переменила, тем более что жена скоро отправилась на тот свет, оставивши двух ребятишек, которые решительно ему были не нужны (Гоголь 3). Marriage did not change him at all, especially since his wife had soon departed for a better world, leaving behind two children, for whom he had absolutely no use (3c).

С-59 • ПОЯВЛЯ́ТЬСЯ/ПОЯВИ́ТЬСЯ ⟨ЯВЛЯ́ТЬСЯ/ЯВИ́ТЬСЯ obs⟩ НА СВЕТ [VP; usu. pfv] 1. [subj: human] to be brought into life: X появился на свет ≃ X came into the ⟨this⟩ world; X was born; X entered the ⟨this⟩ world. ○ ПОЯВЛЕ́НИЕ НА СВЕТ [NP; fixed WO] ≃ s.o.’s appearance in the world; s.o.’s entrance ⟨advent⟩ into the world; s.o.’s birth.

«Это страшный человек. Это оборотень, который явился на свет только упущением божьим. Я врач, но мне не стыдно признаться, что при случае я охотно умертвил бы его» (Стругацкие 4). “He’s a hideous person, a monster who came into this world only because of some divine oversight. I am a physician, but I’m not ashamed to admit that I would kill him if I only had an opportunity to do so” (4a).

2. [subj: usu. concr or count abstr] (of a literary work, painting, sculpture etc, or of a document, testimony, accusation etc) to come into existence, be created, produced, brought out: X появился на свет ≃ X appeared ⟨emerged⟩; X saw the light of day; [of a work of literature, art etc only] X was born; [of a document, testimony etc only] X came to light. ○ ПОЯВЛЕ́НИЕ НА СВЕТ [NP; fixed WO] ≃ the emergence (of sth.); the appearance (of sth.).

…Чтоб ни говори, не приди в голову Чичикову эта мысль [купить мёртвые души], не явилась бы на свет сия поэма (Гоголь 3). …Say what you like, if this idea [to buy dead souls] had not occurred to Chichikov, this epic poem would never have seen the light of day (3a).

С-60 • ПРОИЗВОДИ́ТЬ/ПРОИЗВЕСТИ́ НА СВЕТ кого [VP; subj: human or, rare, animal, female; more often pfv] to bear a child: X произвела на свет Y-а ≃ X brought Y into the world; X gave birth to Y.

«…Любить шалопая только за то, что ты сама произвела его на свет, — это нехорошо, это даже низко!» (Залыгин 1). “…It’s bad, base even, to love a scapegrace simply because you brought him into the world” (1a). ♦ Врачи предупреждали, что вторые роды убьют её. Всё же она забеременела вновь… И [она] и младенец Виктор выжили; а в декабре 58 года она вновь чуть не умерла, производя на свет третьего сына, Мишу (Набоков 1). The doctors warned them that a second child would kill her. Still, she became pregnant anew…. Both [she] and the infant Victor survived; and in December, 1858, she again almost died, giving birth to a third son, Misha (1a).

С-61 • ПРОЛИВА́ТЬ/ПРОЛИ́ТЬ ⟨БРОСА́ТЬ/БРО́СИТЬ⟩ СВЕТ на что lit [VP; subj: human or abstr; fixed WO] (in refer. to sth. mysterious or hard to comprehend) to make sth. clear, understandable: X проливает свет на Y ≃ X sheds ⟨casts⟩ light on Y; thing X throws light on Y; X clarifies Y.

Словом, находки [оперативников] были типичными для пригородного места и ни малейшего света на загадочную смерть Пряжкиной не проливали (Чернёнок 1). Basically their [the detectives’] finds were typical of a suburban area and shed no light at all on the mysterious death of Priazhkina (1a). ♦ Сочинение это проливает… свет не только на внутреннюю, но и на внешнюю политику помпадуров… (Салтыков-Щедрин 2). This work throws light not only on the external, but also on the internal policies of the pompadours… (2a).

С-62 • СВЕТ В КОНЦЕ́ ТОННЕ́ЛЯ увидеть; забрезжил, показался и т.п. [NP; fixed WO] something that gives one reason to believe that the end of a difficult time, tense situation, adverse circumstance etc is near: (to see) (the) light at the end of the tunnel; (there is) light at the end of the tunnel.

С-63 • СВЕТ ⟨МИР⟩ НЕ БЕЗ ДО́БРЫХ ЛЮДЕ́Й [saying] (said when a person receives help from s.o., usu. in a time of need) there really do exist kindhearted people who voluntarily help others: ≃ there are still some good people ⟨a few kind folk⟩ in the world ⟨in this world, on this earth⟩.

«Без мужа-то как обходишься?» Она [женщина] повернулась к Григорию лицом. На смуглых скулах её заиграл румянец, в глазах вспыхнули и погасли рыжеватые искорки. «Ты про что это?» — «Про это самое». Она сдвинула с губ платок, протяжно сказала: «Ну, этого добра хватает! Свет не без добрых людей…» (Шолохов 5). “But how d’you make out with no husband?” She [the woman] turned to face Grigory. A flush played on her brown cheeks and tiny reddish sparks flared and died in her eyes. “What are you getting at?” “What d’you think?” She pulled the kerchief away from her lips and drawled, “Oh, there’s plenty of that! There’s still a few kind folk in the world…” (5a).

С-64 • СВЕТ НЕ КЛИ́НОМ ⟨КЛИ́НОМ НЕ⟩ СОШЁЛСЯ на ком-чём; ЗЕМЛЯ́ НЕ КЛИ́НОМ СОШЛА́СЬ all coll [VP_{subj}; past only; used without negation to convey the opposite meaning; fixed WO] a certain person, thing, place etc is not the only one acceptable or desirable—there are other people, things, places etc that are just as good: на X-е свет не клином сошёлся ≃ X is not the only [NP] in the world; the world is bigger than thing X; place X is not the only [NP] where the sun shines; [usu. used to console s.o. who has been rejected by the person he or she loves] there are (plenty of) other fish in the sea; there are plenty of other pebbles on the beach; person X is not the only pebble on the beach; || на X-е свет клином сошёлся ≃ X is everything ⟨the whole world⟩ (to person Y); (person Y thinks ⟨you’d think⟩) the sun rises and sets on X; person X is person Y’s one and only.

Из двух мест я уже ушёл «по собственному желанию». Можно бы уйти и отсюда — на этом городе свет клином не сошёлся — но мне уже надоело скитаться (Войнович 5). I have already left two jobs “of my own accord.” Maybe I’ll leave this one, too. This isn’t the only town where the sun shines; but I’m tired of this rootless life (5a). ♦ Если она не ответит мне и на это письмо, то всё — вычеркну тогда её из своей личной жизни. Дам ей понять, что на ней свет клином не сошёлся… (Аксёнов 1). If she didn’t answer this letter either, then that was it—I’d cross her out of my personal life. I’d give her to understand that there were other fish in the sea… (1a).

С-65 • СВЕТ ⟨МИР⟩ НЕ ПРОИЗВОДИ́Л кого-чего; СВЕТ НЕ ВИДА́Л ⟨НЕ ВИ́ДЕЛ, НЕ ВИ́ДЫВАЛ⟩ all coll [VP_{subj}; these forms only; usu. used in a subord clause after такой… какого ⟨каких⟩; fixed WO] (in refer. to a high degree of a certain, generally negative, human quality) such as has never before existed: the likes of which the world has never known ⟨seen⟩; the world has never known ⟨seen⟩ such a [NP]; the biggest ⟨greatest etc⟩ [NP] the world has ever known ⟨produced, seen⟩; like ⟨such as⟩ you've never seen; you've never seen anything like him ⟨her etc⟩; the biggest ⟨worst etc⟩ [NP] on earth.

Когда знакомые хвалили характер Николая Андреевича, Мария Павловна, глядя на мужа весёлыми сердитыми глазами, говорила: «Пожили бы с ним под одной крышей, вы бы узнали чудного Коленьку: деспот, псих, а эгоист такой, какого свет не видел» (Гроссман 1). His [Nikolai Andreyevich's] acquaintances praised his character now and then, but when they did, Mariya Pavlovna, with her gay and angry eyes fixed on her husband, would exclaim: "You think he's so wonderful. You ought to live with him and then you would find out all about him: Kolya, the despot, the psychopath, an egoist the likes of which the world has never known" (1a). ♦ Ведь по роже видно, что паук и живодёр, каких свет не видывал… (Акунин 1). It was obvious from his face that he was as vicious a bloodsucker as the world had ever seen… (1a).

С-66 • СВЕТ ОЧЕ́Й чьих ⟨ЖИ́ЗНИ чьей⟩ elev [NP; often vocative; fixed WO] a dear, deeply loved person: apple of s.o.'s eye; light of s.o.'s life; [lim.] s.o.'s one and only.

…[Твардовский] не просто порицал пьесу [«Олень и шалашовка»], не просто говорил о ней недоброжелательно, но предсказывал, что пьеса не увидит света… (Солженицын 2). …[Tvardovsky] not only condemned the play [The Love Girl and the Innocent], not only spoke of it with hostility, but prophesied that it would never see the light of day… (2a).

3. rare [subj: human] to be freed of adversity and suffering: Х увидит свет ≃ X will breathe easy ⟨easily, freely⟩.

С-70 • ЧУТЬ СВЕТ встать, проснуться, разбудить кого, уехать, прийти и т.п. coll; ЧЕМ СВЕТ obs [AdvP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to get up, wake up, wake s.o. up, leave, arrive etc) very early, when it is just beginning to get light in the morning: at daybreak; at dawn; at the crack of dawn; at first light; (get up) with the sun.

…Чуть свет Момун переправился верхом на тот берег (Айтматов 1). …Momun crossed to the opposite bank on horseback at the crack of dawn (1b). ♦ [Ирина:] Как хорошо быть рабочим, который встаёт чуть свет и бьёт на улице камни… (Чехов 5). [I.:] Oh, how wonderful it must be to be a laborer who gets up with the sun and breaks stones by the roadside… (5b).

С-71 • Э́ТОТ СВЕТ [NP; fixed WO] earthly existence as opposed to that after death: this world ⟨life⟩; the world of the living.

«…Я буду помнить, что на этом свете нельзя ждать награды, что на этом свете нет ни чести, ни справедливости» (Толстой 4). "I shall always remember that in this world one can expect no reward, that in this world there is neither honor nor justice" (4a).

С-72 • СВЕ́ТА (БЕ́ЛОГО ⟨БО́ЖЬЕГО⟩) НЕ ВИ́ДЕТЬ coll [VP; subj: human] 1. to have no opportunity to rest and relax (because one is burdened by an excessive workload, serious concerns etc): Х света белого не видит ≃ X is snowed ⟨plowed⟩ under (with work); X is buried under a pile of work; X doesn't have a chance ⟨a moment⟩ to breathe.

2. to experience excruciating pain: Х света белого не видел ≃ X was racked by pain; X was going through (the agonies of) hell.

С-73 • СВЕ́ТА ⟨-У⟩ (БО́ЖЬЕГО) НЕВЗВИ́ДЕТЬ [VP; subj: human] to experience intense pain, fear, anger etc: Х света невзвидел ≃ [in refer. to pain] X saw stars; X nearly passed out; [in refer. to fear] X was scared out of his wits; X was scared (half) to death; [in refer. to anger, rage] X went blind with rage; X saw red; X turned ⟨got⟩ purple with rage.

«…Он и начал руку в плече прощупывать своими тонкими пальцами, да так, что я света невзвидел» (Шолохов 1). "…He began to poke his thin fingers around my shoulder so hard that I saw stars" (1b). ♦ Лизидас-де Визе свету невзвидел после выхода «Критики» и выступил со своей обещанной пьесой (Булгаков 5). Lysidas-de Visé saw red when The Critique appeared and quickly brought forth his own promised play (5a).

С-74 • СЖИВА́ТЬ/СЖИ́ТЬ ⟨СГОНЯ́ТЬ/СОГНА́ТЬ obs⟩ СО СВЕ́ТА ⟨СО́ СВЕТУ, СО СВЕ́ТУ⟩ кого coll [VP; subj: human or collect; more often pfv] to torment, oppress s.o. intensely, causing him great suffering and sometimes even bringing about his premature death: Х сживёт Y-а со света ≃ X will hound ⟨nag, plague⟩ Y to death; X will be the death of Y; X will drive Y to an early grave; X will bother the life out of Y.

…В Союзе писателей распределили, говорят, 15 экземпляров [книги Булгакова] среди членов секретариата (почему-то они охотятся не за книгами друг друга, а за Булгаковым, которого… сжили со свету) (Войнович 3). …In the Writers' Union, they say, fifteen copies [of Bulgakov's volume] were distributed among the members of the Secretariat (for some reason they don't want each other's books, but Bulgakov's, a man they hounded to death) (3a).

С-75 • БО́ЛЬШЕ ВСЕГО́ НА СВЕ́ТЕ любить кого-что, бояться кого-чего, ненавидеть кого-что и т.п. [AdvP; these forms only; adv (intensif); fixed WO] (to love, be Я знал, что Володя больше всего на свете избегал и презирал банальности… (Толстой 2). I knew that Volodya avoided and detested small talk more than anything else in the world (2b). ♦ А Маша ничего не говорила, потому что больше всего на свете боялась, что любимая Сандрочка и Ника узнают о том, что она совершила, и перестанут к ней приходить (Улицкая 1). Masha said nothing about it because what she feared most of all was that her beloved Alexandra and Nike would find out what she had done and stop coming to see her (1a).

C-76 • В РО́ЗОВОМ ⟨РА́ДУЖНОМ⟩ СВЕ́ТЕ видеть, представлять кого-что и т.п.; В РО́ЗОВОМ ЦВЕ́ТЕ [PrepP; these forms only; adv; more often used with impfv verbs; fixed WO] (to see, imagine s.o. or sth., interpret sth. etc) in an idealized form, as better than he or it actually is: (see s.o. ⟨sth.⟩) through rose-colored glasses; (have) a rosy outlook (on sth.); (paint sth.) in a rosy hue; (things) look ⟨seem⟩ rosy to s.o.; depict sth. in a rosy ⟨cheerful⟩ light

Я ожидал вёрстку. Жизнь представлялась в розовом свете (Довлатов 1). I was waiting for my stories to be run off at the printer's. Life seemed rosy (1a).

C-77 • В СВЕ́ТЕ[1] чего lit [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] from a certain position, proceeding from a particular view of sth.: in (the) light of; from the standpoint ⟨the point of view⟩ of.

…Поскольку ему сейчас надо было рассказать деду что-то об отце, отцу — о сыне, да ещё в свете всякой душевной тонкости по «растоплению льда», он начал… выбирать, что сказать и чего не сказать… (Битов 2). Since he must now tell Grandfather something about Father, tell father about son—and what is more, in the light of all manner of emotional subtlety, because of the "thawing of the ice"—he became… busy choosing what to say and what not to say… (2a).

C-78 • В СВЕ́ТЕ[2] каком видеть, представлять, изображать кого-что и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv; more often used with impfv verbs] (to see, present, portray s.o. or sth.) in a way that emphasizes a certain (as specified by the modifier) aspect of him or it: в лучшем ⟨наилучшем, (самом) выгодном⟩ свете ≃ (present ⟨portray etc⟩ s.o. or sth.) in a ⟨the most⟩ favorable light; (portray s.o. ⟨sth.⟩) in the best possible light; (show s.o. ⟨sth.⟩) to (the best) advantage; (show s.o. or sth.) to good ⟨his, its etc⟩ advantage; || в невыгодном ⟨мрачном, ином, ложном и т.п.⟩ свете ≃ (portray s.o. or sth. ⟨show s.o. or sth., appear etc⟩) in a bad ⟨gloomy, different, false etc⟩ light; || в истинном свете ≃ (see s.o. ⟨sth.⟩) in his ⟨its⟩ true light; (see sth.) in its true colors; (see) s.o.'s true colors.

…Она написала несколько романов, из которых в одном, под названием «Скиталица Доротея», изобразила себя в наилучшем свете (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). She also wrote several novels, in one of which, Dorothea the Pilgrim, she portrayed herself in the best possible light (1b).

Я… оказался перед зданием жёлтого цвета и подумал о том, что здание это построено давно, давно, когда ни меня, ни Ильчина ещё не было на свете (Булгаков 12). I… found myself facing a yellow bulding, and I thought how the building had been built a long, long time ago, before either I or Ilchin were ever born (12b).

C-81 • НЕ СВЕ́ТИТ кому highly coll [VP; subj: abstr, concr, or infin; occas. impers; pres or past] s.o. has little or no possibility or hope of obtaining or doing sth.: X Y-у не светит ≃ Y hasn't got a chance (in hell) of doing ⟨getting etc⟩ X; Y hasn't got much (of a) chance of doing etc X; there's no way in the world ⟨in hell⟩ Y will get ⟨will (be able to) do etc⟩ X.

«Докторская нам не светит, а в Академию и подавно мы никогда не попадём» (Зиновьев 2). "We haven't got much chance of a doctorate, and it's not even worth thinking about the Academy" (2a).

C-82 • ТО́ЛЬКО И СВЕ́ТУ ⟨-а⟩ В ОКО́ШКЕ ⟨В ОКНЕ́⟩ (у кого); (ВЕСЬ ⟨ОДИ́Н⟩) СВЕТ В ОКО́ШКЕ (у кого, для кого) all coll [usu. main clause (with быть$_{ø}$) in a complex sent, foll. by a что-clause (1st var.); NP (2nd var.); fixed WO] (a person, group etc is) s.o.'s sole joy, consolation: у X-а только и свету в окошке, что Y ≃ Y is X's all ⟨everything⟩; person Y is the (only) light of X's life; Y is everything ⟨all⟩ X has (in life); Y is all X lives for; Y is ⟨means⟩ all the world to X.

«А по правде, так весь свет в окошке у меня теперь здесь» (Максимов 3). "Anyway, to tell the truth, all I live for now is right here" (3a).

C-83 • ДО (СКО́РОГО) СВИДА́НИЯ; ДО СКО́РОГО coll [formula phrase; these forms only] a farewell salutation:

good-bye ⟨goodbye⟩; bye; I'll ⟨we'll⟩ be seeing you; see you later; (I'll ⟨we'll⟩) see you soon; till we meet again; till (the) next time.

«Ну, до свидания», — сказал князь Андрей, протягивая руку Тушину. — «До свидания, голубчик», — сказал Тушин… (Толстой 4). "Well, till we meet again," he [Prince Andrei] said, holding out his hand to Tushin. "Good-bye, my dear boy," said Tushin (4a).

С-84 • СО СВИДА́НЬИЦЕМ ⟨СВИДА́НИЕМ⟩ coll [PrepP; these forms only; usu. used as indep. sent] the first toast offered at an informal get-together of acquaintances, relatives etc who have not seen each other for a considerable period of time: here's to our reunion.

Трясущимися руками он разлил непочатую ещё четвертинку в два стакана и один из них пододвинул брату: «Со свиданьицем…» (Максимов 3). With shaky hands he poured a still untouched quarter into two glasses and pushed one over to his brother. "Here's to our reunion…" (3a).

С-85 • СВИНЕ́Ц НА ДУШЕ́ ⟨НА́ СЕ́РДЦЕ⟩ у кого [VP_{subj} with $быть_{ø}$] s.o. is depressed, burdened by troubles, sadness etc: у Х-а на душе свинец ≃ X's heart is heavy; X feels weighed down; there is a weight on X's heart.

С-86 • КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ СВИНЦО́М НАЛИТА́ ⟨налито, налиты⟩ [как etc + AdjP; nom only; subj-compl with $быть_{ø}$ (subj: голова, руки, ноги, тело etc)] s.o. has a feeling of heaviness (in his head, arms, legs, whole body etc): голова как свинцом налита ≃ s.o.'s head is ⟨feels⟩ like lead.

Утром Нина с трудом встала: всё тело было словно свинцом налито. Nina had difficulty getting up in the morning—her whole body felt like lead.

С-87 • ЛЕЧЬ СВИНЦО́М НА́ ДУШУ ⟨НА́ СЕ́РДЦЕ⟩ кому rather elev [VP; subj: abstr; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to make s.o. depressed, despondent: Х лёг свинцом на душу Y-у ≃ X made Y heartsick; X weighed heavily on Y's heart.

С-88 • ПОДКЛА́ДЫВАТЬ/ПОДЛОЖИ́ТЬ СВИНЬЮ́ кому coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human; usu. pfv] to do a vile thing to s.o., make trouble for s.o. surreptitiously: Х подложил Y-у свинью ≃ X did Y dirt; X played a dirty ⟨nasty⟩ trick on Y; X double-crossed Y.

А сейчас разве это изм [nonce word = коммунизм]? Каждый гоношит обмануть, урвать, наябедничать, подложить свинью, свалить на другого… (Зиновьев 1). "See what we've got at the moment. You can't call that the Ism [= Communism]. Everyone doing their best to cheat, to steal, to inform, to do other people dirt, to dodge responsibility…" (1a). ♦ …Говорили, что Строковский когда-то подложил серьёзную свинью Поляшко, а теперь хотел бы загладить вину (Залыгин 1). It was said that Strokovsky had once double-crossed Poliashko and now wanted to make amends (1a).

С-89 • КАК СВИНЬЯ́ coll, rude [как + NP; nom only; adv (intensif) or modif] 1. пить, напиться, пьян и т.п. ~ (to drink) excessive, enormous (quantities of alcohol), (be, become) extremely, disgustingly (drunk): (drink) like a pig; (be) drunk as a skunk; (get) stinking drunk.

Какая респектабельность, какой этикет, когда господа офицеры по любому поводу и без всякого повода напивались, как свиньи… (Рыбаков 1). Who needed respectability and etiquette when the gentlemen-officers got themselves stinking drunk on any excuse, or none at all… (1a).

2. наесться, нажраться ~ (to eat) to excess, immodestly, overindulging o.s.: Х наелся как свинья ≃ X made a pig of himself; X pigged out; X gorged himself.

С-90 • КАК СВИНЬЯ́ В АПЕЛЬСИ́НАХ разбираться, понимать, смыслить в чём coll, derog [как + NP; Invar; adv (neg intensif); fixed WO] (to understand) absolutely nothing (with regard to sth.): Х разбирается в Y-е ~ ≃ X doesn't know beans ⟨the first thing, a blasted thing, a blessed thing⟩ about Y; X knows as much about Y as a pig about pineapples.

В живописи наш начальник разбирается как свинья в апельсинах: посмотрите, какую мазню он повесил у себя в кабинете. Our boss doesn't know the first thing about art: just look at the piece of junk he has hanging in his office.

С-91 • ХУДО́ЖЕСТВЕННЫЙ СВИСТ [NP; fixed WO] 1. the art of whistling melodies: musical ⟨melodic, concert⟩ whistling.

2. coll elaborate lie, skillful deception: tall tale(s); fine yarn(s); cock-and-bull story ⟨stories⟩; whopping lie; a lot ⟨load⟩ of hot air; (give s.o.) a song and dance.

Сараев вытер рот рукавом, посмотрел на часы и пообещал, что придёт, разберётся. «Скоро придёте?» — спросила Ида Самойловна. «Скоро, скоро», — нетерпеливо ответил участковый и, как только она ушла, высказал Жихареву своё мнение, что его сообщение есть, как говорится, художественный свист, о чём Сараев может лично свидетельствовать (Войнович 7). Saraev wiped his mouth with his sleeve, looked at the clock and promised he would come and get to the bottom of things. "Will you come soon?" asked Ida Samoilovna. "Soon, soon," the policeman answered impatiently, and as soon as she was gone, he expressed to Zhikharev his opinion that Zhikharev's information was nothing but a load of hot air, to which fact Saraev could testify in person (7a).

С-92 • ВЫ СВОБО́ДНЫ! [formula phrase; Invar; fixed WO] (permission to leave given to one's subordinate or, in military contexts, to s.o. of a lower rank) you are allowed to leave: you may leave ⟨go⟩ now; you are free to go (now); [usu. in response to a slightly sarcastic or joking question «Я могу быть свободен?» — "Permission to leave?"] (permission to leave) granted; [in military contexts] (you are) dismissed.

«Благодарю, есаул, вы свободны. А вы, — обратился он к управляющему, — исполняйте все пожелания господина профессора» (Акунин 3). "Thank you, Captain, you are dismissed. And you," he said, turning to the hotel manager, "give the professor everything he asks for" (3a).

С-93 • СВОДИ́ТЬ/СВЕСТИ́ НА НЕТ что [VP; subj: human or abstr; more often pfv] to reduce sth. to the point of having no importance, role, meaning etc at all: Х свёл Y на нет ≃ X reduced Y to nought ⟨nothing⟩; thing X brought Y to nought ⟨nothing⟩; thing X nullified ⟨negated⟩ Y.

Есть бо́льшие грехи, чем обычные и свойственные всем людям, и они-то губительно влияют на дар художника и сводят его дар на нет (Мандельштам 2). There are… sins greater than the ordinary ones common to everyone, and it is these which can have a calamitous effect on an artist's gift and reduce it to nothing (2a).

С-94 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ СВОЁ [VP] 1. [subj: human; usu. pfv] to achieve one's desired, established aim (when in conflict with another person or when struggling against adverse circumstances): Х возьмёт своё ≃ X will succeed ⟨prevail, win out⟩; X will get ⟨have⟩ his way; [lim.] X's turn ⟨day, moment⟩ will come; X will get back at person Y; X will take his revenge.

«Дождались станишники [phonetic spelling = станичники] своего часа. И уж они, будьте покойны, они своё возьмут» (Максимов 3). “This is just what the Cossacks have been waiting for. They’ll take their revenge, don’t you worry” (3a).

2. [subj: a noun denoting a season, natural phenomenon etc] to manifest itself fully: X возьмёт своё ≃ X will come into its own.

…Весна брала своё. Всё кругом золотисто зеленело… (Тургенев 2). …Spring was coming into its own. All around him was the gold and verdure of spring… (2a).

3. [subj: abstr] to render its typical effect, dominate, usu. in an evident manner: X брал своё ≃ X was making itself felt; X was having its way; X was claiming its own; X was prevailing; [usu. of old age, illness etc] X was taking its toll; X was telling (on person Y); X was catching up (with person Y); [of age only] person Y was feeling his age; [of disease only] X was overpowering person Y.

Так жила тётя Маша со своими богатырскими дочерями — бедно, вольно, неряшливо. Дети и сама она питались чем попало, но могучая природа брала своё и все они выглядели румяными, сильными, довольными (Искандер 3). Thus Aunt Masha lived with her herculean daughters—poor, free, and slovenly. The children, and she herself, lived from hand to mouth, but mighty nature had its way and all of them looked rosy, strong, and content (3a).

С-95 • ПОСТА́ВИТЬ ⟨НАСТА́ИВАТЬ/НАСТОЯ́ТЬ⟩ НА СВОЁМ [VP; subj: human or collect] to (try to) gain one’s objective, (try to) succeed in doing sth. in the way one prefers, despite opposition: X поставил на своём ≃ X got ⟨had⟩ his (own) way; X had it ⟨things⟩ his (own) way; X insisted on having it ⟨things⟩ his (own) way; X won out.

Его [Михаила] удивил яркий свет в своей избе… [Он] заглянул в окошко. Степан Андреянович сидит за столом, Илья Нетёсов, Егорша — серебром переливаются молнии на кожаной куртке. Так, так, подумал Михаил. Сваты. Егорша решил на своём настоять… (Абрамов 1). He [Mikhail] was surprised by the bright light in his house…. [He] peeped in at the window. Stepan Andreyanovich was sitting at the table, along with Ilya Netyosov and Egorsha—the zipper on his leather jacket giving off a silvery gleam. So that’s it, thought Mikhail. Matchmakers. Egorsha decided to insist on having his way (1a).

С-96 • СТОЯ́ТЬ ⟨УПЕРЕ́ТЬСЯ coll⟩ НА СВОЁМ [VP; subj: human or collect] to continue to defend one’s views, beliefs etc, refuse to change one’s opinions: X стоит на своём ≃ X stands ⟨holds⟩ his ground; X won’t budge ⟨give in⟩; X sticks to his guns; [lim.] X sticks to ⟨by⟩ what he said.

…Сколько [жалобщики] его ни уговаривали, он твёрдо стоял на своём (Искандер 4). …Despite their [the plaintiffs’] best efforts to win him over, he firmly stood his ground (4a). ♦ Ему [сапожнику] объясняли, что своим поведением он наносит урон социалистической родине и рабочему классу, но он стоял на своём (Мандельштам 2). They said he [the cobbler] was letting down the Socialist motherland and the working class, but he would not budge (2a).

С-97 • ОСТАВА́ТЬСЯ/ОСТА́ТЬСЯ ПРИ СВОИ́Х coll [VP; more often pfv] 1. [subj: human] (in refer. to gambling) to end up with neither a loss nor a profit: X остался при своих ≃ X broke even.

2. [subj: human or collect] not to experience any change as a result of some developments, to remain in the same position, circumstances as before: X останется при своих ≃ X will neither win ⟨gain⟩ nor lose; everything will remain the same for X; X’s situation will remain unchanged ⟨the same⟩.

С-98 • СВОЯ́ СВОИ́Х НЕ ПОЗНА́ША [saying] said when, because of some confusion, an ally is mistaken for an enemy: ≃ he ⟨you etc⟩ didn’t recognize (one of) his ⟨your etc⟩ own; he ⟨you etc⟩ couldn’t tell (a) friend from (a) foe.

В первый же день он [Саша] сказал: «Володя, чтобы не было недоразумений. Я разделяю линию партии. Будем держать свои взгляды при себе. Ни к чему бесполезные споры». — «У меня тем более нет желания дискутировать со сталинскими подголосками, — высокомерно ответил Володя, — но уж раз вы меня сюда [в ссылку] загнали, то рот не заткнёте». Саша улыбнулся. «Я вас сюда не загонял, меня самого загнали». — «Своя своих не познаша» (Рыбаков 2). On the very first day, he [Sasha] said: “Volodya, just so there won’t be any misunderstandings, I want you to know that I accept the Party line. Let’s keep our views to ourselves. No need to have pointless arguments.” “I haven’t the slightest desire to debate with Stalinist yes-men,” Volodya had replied haughtily. “But since you put me here, don’t try to gag me as well.” Sasha smiled. “It wasn’t me who sent you here. I’ve been sent here too, you know.” “They don’t recognize their own, do they?” (2a).

С-99 • В КАКО́Й СВЯЗИ́? [PrepP; Invar; adv or subord Conj; fixed WO] how is (some action) connected with other immediate circumstances?: in what connection ⟨context⟩?; for what reason?; why?

И всё же гестаповцам удалось напасть на след. Во время допросов и пыток кто-то назвал имя Андрея Сташенка. Как и почему назвал, в какой связи, не знаю, но назвал (Рыбаков 1). Nevertheless, the Gestapo managed to pick up the scent. Under interrogation and torture, someone mentioned Andrey Stashenok. How or why or in what connection, I don’t know, but his name came up (1a).

С-100 • В СВЯЗИ́ с чем [PrepP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] by reason of: because of; in view of; in connection with; in light of; owing to; as a result of; on the grounds of; [lim.] (and) hence; [when a deverbal noun is translated by a verb] now that; since; || в связи с этим ≃ as a result (of this).

С-101 • В СВЯЗИ́ С ТЕМ ЧТО [subord Conj; introduces a clause of reason] by reason of the fact that: because of (the fact that); in view of (the fact that); in connection with (the fact that); in light of (the fact that); owing to (the fact that); as a result of (the fact that); now that (s.o. did sth. ⟨sth. happened⟩).

«Ну, конечно, в связи с тем что он князь, ему грозят всякие неприятности, но если бы он оставался тем же Чонкиным, разве неприятности были бы меньшими?» (Войнович 4). “Well, naturally, certain troubles do threaten him because of [his] being a prince, but had he remained the same old Chonkin, would his troubles have been any less?” (4a).

С-102 • В СВЯЗИ́ С ТЕМ ЧТОБЫ [subord Conj; introduces a clause of purpose] so as to: for the purpose of; (in order) to; with the aim of; so that.

С-103 • В Э́ТОЙ СВЯЗИ́ [PrepP; Invar; sent adv; fixed WO] linking (sth.) with what was stated previously: in this ⟨that⟩ connection ⟨regard⟩; in connection with the above; [in formal contexts] in conjunction with the aforementioned.

С-104 • ХОТЬ СВЯТЫ́Х (ВОН) ВЫНОСИ́ ⟨НЕСИ́, УНОСИ́⟩ coll [хоть + VP_{imper}; these forms only; usu. subord clause, often introduced by что; fixed WO] (sth. is) intolerable, appalling, embarrassing, or repulsive to the eyes or ears: (it ⟨this [NP] etc⟩ is) enough to make the saints blush; such a [NP] ⟨so [AdjP]⟩ that the saints would blush; (it ⟨this [NP] etc⟩ is) enough to make a preacher ⟨the saints⟩ swear; (it ⟨this [NP] etc⟩ is) enough to try the patience of a saint.

Был он чудак… шутник, враль. Бывало, такого наврёт, хоть святых выноси (Грекова 3). He was an oddball, a joker, a liar. Sometimes he could invent such lies that the saints would blush… (3a).

С-105 • СВЯТА́Я СВЯТЫ́Х (чего) elev, rhet [NP; Invar; fixed WO] 1. a well-protected place inaccessible to the uninitiated: the holy of holies; the inner sanctum; the sanctum sanctorum.

…Конструкторскими делами всё больше занимался… Янгель, которого перевезли в Москву вместе с группой других немецких инженеров и допустили в «святая святых» — в ракетный институт (Владимиров 1). …[Yangel] took over more and more of the designing work. He had been brought to Moscow along with a group of other German engineers and had been admitted to the "holy of holies"—the missile institute (1a).

2. sth. very dear, sacred: the holy of holies; [lim.] the sacrosanct ⟨hallowed etc⟩ principle.

В условиях нашей системы коллектив — это чуть ли не святая святых (Войнович 3). Under our system, the collective is practically the holy of holies (3a).

< Originally, the inner chamber of the Temple in Jerusalem, which only the chief priest was allowed to enter.

Я вам не буду расписывать, какое было море. Хорошее было море… В салоне, за чаем, только и говорили — что вот, мол, первая выметка и не зряшная; пустыря вроде не дёрнем; авось, мол, и дальше так пойдёт; «тьфу» через левое, чтоб не сглазить (Владимов 2). I won't try and describe what the sea was like. It was a good sea… Over tea in the saloon the talk was all about the hopeful prospects for this, the first cast. We seemed to have struck a good patch; with any luck it might be like that all the time—and then we'd spit three times over the left shoulder in order not to tempt fate (2a).

С-107 • ЧТОБ ОН ⟨ты и т.п.⟩ СГОРЕ́Л! highly coll [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] used to express one's extreme irritation, burning anger directed at s.o. or sth.: let him ⟨it etc⟩ burn in hell!; may he ⟨it etc⟩ burn in hell!; screw it ⟨you etc⟩!; to ⟨the⟩ hell with him ⟨it etc⟩!; damn him ⟨it etc⟩ (to hell)!

С-108 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ СДА́ЧИ ⟨-у⟩ (кому) coll [VP; subj: human] to return (a blow, an insult etc) similar to the one received: X дал (Y-у) сдачи ≃ X paid Y back in kind ⟨in Y's own coin⟩; X hit (Y) back; X struck back; X gave back blow for blow; X gave as good as he got.

Какая-то стерва толкнула меня в бок и меня же обругала. А я растерялся и не успел дать сдачи (Зиновьев 2). Some old cow rammed her elbow in my side and then bawled me out on top of it. And I was so taken aback that I didn't even manage to pay her back in her own coin (2a).

С-109 • ПОЛУЧА́ТЬ/ПОЛУЧИ́ТЬ СДА́ЧИ ⟨-у⟩ coll [VP; subj: human] to be repaid (for a blow, an insult etc) with a similar one: X получил сдачи ≃ X was ⟨got⟩ paid back in kind ⟨in his own coin⟩; X got back blow for blow.

С-110 • СДВИГ ПО ФА́ЗЕ (у кого) coll [NP; sing only; fixed WO] (of a person who experiences) a mild state of insanity (because of some obsession, deep emotional involvement in sth etc): (some kind of) lunacy ⟨craziness, kookiness etc⟩; going bonkers ⟨bananas⟩; || у X-а (произошёл) сдвиг по фазе ≃ X has come unhinged; X has taken leave of his senses; X has gone bonkers ⟨bananas⟩; X is ⟨has gone⟩ off his rocker ⟨nut⟩.

С-111 • СДЕ́ЛКА С СО́ВЕСТЬЮ [NP; fixed WO] an action undertaken by one that defies one's convictions and that one tries to justify to o.s. (usu. on some flimsy grounds): a deal ⟨a compromise etc⟩ with one's conscience; || пойти на сделку с совестью ≃ make a deal ⟨a bargain⟩ with one's conscience; compromise one's conscience.

С-112 • СДЕ́РЖИВАТЬ/СДЕРЖА́ТЬ СЕБЯ́ [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to refrain from displaying some emotion or performing some action: X сдержал себя ≃ X restrained ⟨checked⟩ himself; X managed to keep himself in check; X managed to control himself; [lim.] X bottled up his feelings ⟨anger, frustration etc⟩.

С-113 • ЧТОБ ТЫ ⟨он и т.п.⟩ СДОХ! highly coll, rude; esp. rude when addressed to the interlocutor [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] used to wish s.o. all kinds of trouble, to express one's hatred for s.o., one's desire for s.o. to die: he ⟨she etc⟩ can drop dead!; you ⟨he etc⟩ can go to hell ⟨to blazes⟩!; may you ⟨he etc⟩ rot in hell!; let him ⟨her etc⟩ rot in hell!; to hell ⟨to blazes⟩ with him ⟨her etc⟩; blast ⟨curse, damn⟩ you ⟨him etc⟩!; he ⟨she etc⟩ can croak for all I care!

С-114 • К СЕБЕ́ [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. in the direction of the doer: toward; [as a sign on doors etc] pull.

2. пойти, уйти и т.п. ~ (to go) to the place where one lives, works, is staying etc: X пошёл к себе ≃ X went to his room ⟨to his office, home etc⟩.

«„…Что сказать, если Грета спросит о тебе?" — „Что хочешь, то и говори", — отвечает [Алёша] и одним махом, как водку, выпивает свой компот и уходит к себе» (Искандер 5). "'What should I tell Greta if she asks about you?' 'Tell her what you want,' he [Alyosha] answers, and he downs his fruit compote in one gulp, like vodka, and goes to his room" (5a).

С-115 • НЕ В СЕБЕ́ [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human)] 1. one is in a state of severe emotional upset, has lost his composure: X не в себе ≃ X is in a bad way ⟨in bad shape⟩; X has been thrown off balance; [lim.] X is in quite a state; X is not in his right mind.

«Я вижу, ты не в себе, чувак. Лучше бы дома сидел» (Аксёнов 6). "I can see you're in a bad way, kid. You should have stayed at home" (6a).

2. one is not in his usual frame of mind, feels different than usual: X не в себе ≃ X is not (quite) himself; X is out of sorts.

[Андрей:] Я всю ночь не спал и теперь немножко не в себе, как говорится (Чехов 5). [A.:] I haven't slept all night, and now I'm not quite myself, as they say (5a).

С-116 • НЕ ПО СЕБЕ́ кому [PrepP; Invar; impers predic with быть$_{ø}$, становиться, делаться] 1. s.o. feels indisposed, weak: X-у не по себе ≃ X is not feeling well ⟨(quite) right⟩; X is feeling sick ⟨poorly⟩; X is not feeling himself; X is under the weather; X is out of sorts; [lim.] X feels ⟨looks⟩ (a little) green about ⟨around⟩ the gills.

Лёве вдруг не по себе… Тошнотворное чувство овладевает им (Битов 2). Lyova suddenly felt sick…. A sense of nausea gripped him… (2a).

2. ~ (от чего) s.o. feels tense, apprehensive, embarrassed etc (because of unsettling surroundings, fear, an unpleasant foreboding, awkwardness in a social situation etc): X-у было не по себе ≃ X was ⟨felt⟩ ill at ease; X was ⟨felt⟩ (very) uneasy; X was uptight; [usu. in refer. to an unpleasant foreboding, fear] X was upset ⟨disturbed, distressed⟩; X didn't feel (quite) right; X was ⟨grew⟩ worried; [usu. in refer. to social awkwardness] X felt uncomfortable; X didn't feel ⟨wasn't⟩ at home; [lim.] X was not himself; X was ⟨felt⟩ self-conscious.

Приёмник выплёвывал непонятные и от этого ещё более страшные слова. Гитлер лаял, как старый волк. Жолио стало не по себе… (Эренбург 4). The loud-speaker spat out the unintelligible words that sounded for this very reason all the more terrible. Hitler barked like an old wolf. Joliot felt very uneasy (4a). ♦ И всё-таки не по себе ей было, всё не шёл у ней из головы этот проклятущий след от папоротниковой ветки на нежной ноге её девочки, повыше колена (Искандер 3). Still, she did not feel right, her mind kept going back to the accursed mark from the fern frond on her little girl's tender leg, above the knee (3a).

С-117 • ПО СЕБЕ́ [PrepP; Invar] 1. найти, выбрать кого-что ~ coll [usu. nonagreeing modif] (to find, choose s.o. or sth.) coinciding with one's taste, of one's preference, commensurate with one's abilities, status etc: to one's liking; who ⟨that⟩ suits one; suitable [NP].

Бабушка говорила: «Будет несчастной та женщина, на которой Иосиф женится». Но, представьте, он женился очень удачно, отхватил жену по себе… (Рыбаков 1). Grandmother said, "It'll be an unhappy woman that Yosif marries." Yet, can you imagine, he actually married very well, he picked out a wife who really suited him… (1a).

2. оставить ~ что, usu. какую память [adv] (to leave sth. to those who remain) after one's departure or death: leave behind; leave s.o. with.

…Все [градоначальники], как бурные, так и кроткие, оставили по себе благодарную память в сердцах сограждан, ибо все были градоначальники (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). …All [the Town Governors], both the stormy and the mild, left behind in the hearts of their fellow citizens a thankful memory, for all were Town Governors (1a).

«Я стою у окна и смотрю на это пепелище — и сердце моё обливается кровью» (Битов 2). "I stand by the window and look at these ashes—and my heart bleeds" (2a).

С-160 • СЕ́РДЦЕ НЕ КА́МЕНЬ [saying] (one fulfills another's request, does sth. to make another happy, makes concessions to another etc because) despite one's reluctance to oblige s.o., one has feelings and cannot help but be responsive, compassionate: ≃ a man's heart isn't made of stone; one doesn't have a heart of stone.

«На днях… въезжает на санях во двор, по воде и грязи больной крестьянин… Отказываюсь принять. „Не взыщи, милый, перестал этим заниматься…“… „Помоги. Кожею скудеем. Помилосердствуй…“ Что делать? Сердце не камень… „Раздевайся“» (Пастернак 1). "The other day…a sick peasant drove his sleigh into the yard through the mud and slush. I refused to examine him. 'I've given up practicing,' I said…. 'Help me. My skin is bad. Have pity on me….' What could I do? I don't have a heart of stone. I told him to undress" (1a).

С-161 • СЕ́РДЦЕ ОТХО́ДИТ/ОТОШЛО́ (у кого) [VP_{subj}] s.o. ceases to worry about or be irritated by sth.: сердце (у Х-а) отошло ≃ X calmed ⟨settled⟩ down.

«Ночью то погладишь его [сынишку] сонного, то волосёнки на вихрах понюхаешь, и сердце отходит, становится мягче, а то ведь оно у меня закаменело от горя» (Шолохов 1). [context transl] "At night, I can stroke him [the little boy] while he's sleeping, I can smell his curls. It takes some of the pain out of my heart, makes it a bit softer. It had just about turned to stone, you know" (1c).

С-162 • СЕ́РДЦЕ ПА́ДАЕТ/УПА́ЛО ⟨ОБРЫВА́ЕТСЯ/ОБОРВА́ЛО́СЬ, ОТРЫВА́ЕТСЯ/ОТОРВА́ЛО́СЬ⟩ у кого; ОБОРВА́ЛО́СЬ ⟨ОТОРВА́ЛО́СЬ⟩ В СЕ́РДЦЕ ⟨В ГРУДИ́⟩ у кого; ВСЁ (ВНУТРИ́) ОБОРВАЛО́СЬ у кого; ВСЁ ТАК И ОБОРВАЛО́СЬ (ВНУТРИ́) [VP_{subj}, usu. pres or past (1st group); VP, impers, usu. past (2nd group); VP_{subj}, past only (variants with всё)] s.o. feels as if his heart has momentarily stopped beating (from fear, alarm, sudden foreboding, disappointment etc): у Х-а упало сердце ≃ X's heart skipped ⟨missed⟩ a beat; X's heart jumped; (s.o. ⟨sth.⟩) nearly gave X heart failure; [lim.] something snapped inside X; [usu. in refer. to disappointment] X's heart sank.

«А вечером, только спать собралась, — звонок. Сердце оборвалось» (Чернёнок 1). "And that night, just when I was about to go to sleep, the phone rings. My heart jumped" (1a). ♦ «Такие, как я — лишние мы на свете…» У него оборвалось внутри. Она делала всё, чтобы не завлечь его! Мужество выполнить обещание и жениться на Агнии слабело в нём (Солженицын 3). "The world has no place for people like me." Something snapped inside him. She was doing everything she could to make herself unattractive to him! His resolve to keep his promise and marry Agnia was weakening (3b).

С-163 • СЕ́РДЦЕ (чьё, у кого) ⟨ДУША́ (чья, у кого)⟩ РАЗРЫВА́ЕТСЯ (НА ЧА́СТИ) (от чего); СЕ́РДЦЕ ⟨ДУША́⟩ РВЁТСЯ НА ЧА́СТИ coll [VP_{subj}] s.o. feels deep emotional suffering (in empathy for another's pain, or in response to his own misfortune): у Х-а сердце разрывается на части ≃ X's heart is breaking (with pity ⟨compassion etc⟩); X's heart is breaking ⟨torn⟩ in two (with pity ⟨compassion etc⟩); X's heart aches (for s.o.); X's heart goes out to ⟨bleeds for⟩ s.o.

«В тот день, когда ты так сурово уехал… сердце разрывалось на части» (Чернёнок 1). "That day when you left so angrily… my heart was breaking" (1a).

С-164 • СЕ́РДЦЕ (чьё or у кого) СЖИМА́ЕТСЯ/СЖА́ЛОСЬ (от чего) [VP_{subj}] s.o. experiences sudden painful feelings as if his heart has momentarily stopped beating (usu. feelings of sorrow, anguish, pity, sudden foreboding etc): у Х-а сжалось сердце ≃ X's heart missed ⟨skipped⟩ a beat; X's heart sank; X's heart stood still; ‖ у Х-а сердце сжимается от тоски ⟨жалости, тревоги, нежности и т.п.⟩ ≃ X's heart is wrung ⟨breaking⟩ with anguish ⟨pity, compassion etc⟩; X's heart is aching with worry ⟨tenderness etc⟩.

С привычной тоской сжалось сердце: он подумал о Жене. Тотчас же, так же привычно, он прикрикнул на себя: «Гони её, гони!»… (Гроссман 2). The memory of Yevgenia came back to him, and as always his heart sank. As always he immediately reproved himself: "Forget her! Forget her!" (2a).

С-165 • СКРЕПЯ́ СЕ́РДЦЕ coll [Verbal Adv; Invar; adv; fixed WO] with great unwillingness: reluctantly; (much) against one's will; grudgingly; grit(ting) one's teeth; [lim.] swallow(ing) one's objections.

«Он делает это, скрепя сердце, преодолевая мучительные сомнения и колебания» (Каверин 1). "He does this reluctantly, overcoming doubts and hesitations which torment him" (1a).

< «Скрепя» is the old form of the short active participle of the verb «скрепить»; the corresponding modern form is the perfective verbal adverb «скрепив».

С-166 • НОСИ́ТЬ ПОД СЕ́РДЦЕМ кого obs [VP; subj: human, female] to be pregnant: Х носила Y-а ⟨ребёнка⟩ под сердцем ≃ X carried Y ⟨a child⟩ under her heart; X was with child.

На шестом месяце, когда скрывать беременность было уже нельзя, Аксинья призналась Григорию. Она скрывала, боясь, что Григорий не поверит в то, что его ребёнка носит она под сердцем… (Шолохов 2). Aksinya told Grigory of her pregnancy only in her sixth month, when it could no longer be concealed. She had kept it from him for fear that he would not believe it was his child she was carrying under her heart (2a).

С-167 • С ЛЁГКИМ СЕ́РДЦЕМ; С ЛЁГКОЙ ДУШО́Й [PrepP; these forms only; usu. adv; fixed WO] feeling good, relieved, with a positive attitude etc: with a light heart; lightheartedly.

«Уж кого-кого, а тебя на свадьбу позову». — Григорий шутливо хлопнул сестру по плечу и с лёгким сердцем пошёл с родного двора (Шолохов 5). "Don't worry, I'll invite you to the wedding if I invite anyone!" Grigory patted his sister's shoulder jokingly and left his father's house with a light heart (5a).

С-168 • С ТЯЖЁЛЫМ СЕ́РДЦЕМ [PrepP; Invar; usu. adv] in a depressed state, feeling unhappy, upset: with a heavy heart.

Оформляю, плачу в кассу что положено и возвращаюсь домой с тяжёлым сердцем: дело попало в плохие руки, и виноват я, никто другой (Рыбаков 1). I signed the papers, paid the bill and went home with a heavy heart. The case had got into the wrong hands, and nobody was to blame but myself (1a).

С-169 • С УПА́ВШИМ СЕ́РДЦЕМ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] in a very alarmed state, often when one has just heard or anticipates hearing upsetting news: with a sinking heart; with a sinking feeling in the pit of one's stomach; with one's heart in one's mouth ⟨boots⟩; [lim.] overcome by fear.

С-170 • С ЧИ́СТЫМ СЕ́РДЦЕМ [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] with complete candor or sincerity, with good intentions: with an open ⟨a sincere, a pure⟩ heart; [lim.] in purity of heart.

[Сарафанов:] Да-да, жизнь справедлива и милосердна. Героев она заставляет усомниться, а тех, кто сделал мало, и даже тех, кто ничего не сделал, но прожил с чистым сердцем, она всегда утешит (Вампилов 4). [S.:] Yes, life is just and merciful. It makes the heroes have doubts, and always consoles those who have accomplished little, even those who've accomplished nothing, but have lived their lives in purity of heart (4a).

С-171 • ПРИНИМА́ТЬ/ПРИНЯ́ТЬ (БЛИ́ЗКО) К СЕ́РДЦУ что [VP; subj: human; if imper, only neg impfv] to react to sth. with great sensitivity, be deeply affected by sth. (usu. used in situations when one sympathizes deeply with another's misfortune or reacts to sth. more intensely than is warranted): X принимает Y (близко) к сердцу ≃ X takes Y (right ⟨very much etc⟩) to heart.

Голубева этот разговор страшно заинтересовал. И он принял его близко к сердцу (Войнович 2). Golubev found this conversation terribly interesting. And he took it right to heart (2a).

С-172 • СЕ́РДЦУ НЕ ПРИКА́ЖЕШЬ [saying] you cannot force yourself to fall in or out of love with s.o.: ≃ the heart has a will of its own; one can't tell one's heart what to feel; the heart has reasons that reason does not understand.

«…О Мишке Кошевом с нонешнего [regional = нынешнего] дня и думать позабудь»… — «Вы, братушка, знаете? — Сердцу не прикажешь!» (Шолохов 5). "…Forget Mishka Koshevoi and never think of him again."… "Surely you should know, brother? We can't tell our hearts what to feel!" (5a).

С-173 • ЗОЛОТА́Я СЕРЕДИ́НА [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a middle position, policy etc that falls between extremes: the golden mean; happy medium; the golden middle.

«Есть золотое правило: не лезь в первые, не оставайся последним. Потому что спереди бьют в лоб, а сзади пинают в крестец. Спокойнее всего посередине. Потому и называется — золотая середина» (Копелев 1). "There's a golden rule: don't push to be first and don't be left last. Because in front they hit you in the forehead and behind they kick you in the ass. It's best in the middle. That's why they call it the golden mean" (1a).

< Loan translation of the Latin aurea mediocritas used by Horace (65–8 B.C.).

С-174 • СЕРЕДИ́НКА НА ПОЛОВИ́НКУ ⟨НА ПОЛОВИ́НКЕ⟩; СЕРЕДИ́НА НА ПОЛОВИ́НУ ⟨НА ПОЛОВИ́НЕ⟩; СЕРЁДКА НА ПОЛОВИ́НКУ ⟨НА ПОЛОВИ́НКЕ, НА ПОЛОВИ́НУ, НА ПОЛОВИ́НЕ⟩ all coll [NP; these forms only; fixed WO] 1. [usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: any noun) or nonagreeing modif] a person (a thing etc) does not possess the distinguishing characteristics of either of the two (expressed or implied) extremes, is somewhere in the middle: [when the two extremes are specified by the preceding context] neither this nor that; neither one nor the other; something ⟨somewhere⟩ in between; [when used in refer. to a qualitative evaluation] ordinary; just average; middling; run-of-the-mill; commonplace.

Тебе могут говорить разное, умное и глупое и серёдка на половинку… (Аксёнов 1). People may tell you different things, wise and foolish and neither one nor the other… (1a).

2. [adv] neither poorly nor well, in a mediocre fashion: (only) so-so; not great; fair to middling.

Экзамены Саша сдал серединка на половинку. Sasha did only so-so on his exams.

С-175 • НА ПО́ЛНОМ СЕРЬЁЗЕ говорить, отвечать, спрашивать и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to speak, answer, ask sth. etc) completely seriously, without joking: in all seriousness; [equivalents incorporate the verb of speaking] be dead ⟨totally⟩ serious; [lim.] mean business; mean it.

Я тебе говорю на полном серьёзе: не связывайся с этими спекулянтами, это может плохо кончиться. I'm dead serious: don't get mixed up with those speculators—you could end up in a lot of trouble.

С-176 • ВА́ША СЕСТРА́ coll [NP; sing only; subj or obj; fixed WO] (you and) women similar to you: (all) you women ⟨girls, gals⟩; (you and) women ⟨girls, gals⟩ like you; (you and) the likes of you; [lim.] your brand ⟨type, sort etc⟩ of woman.

[Никита:] Эх! С вашей сестрой разговаривать, никаких резонов не понимают; уйди, говорю, до худа доведёшь (Толстой 1). [N.:] No use talking with girls like you; they won't listen to reason. Clear out, I tell you, or you'll make me do something bad (1b).

С-177 • НА́ША СЕСТРА́ coll [NP; sing only; subj or obj; fixed WO] (we or I and) women similar to us or me: we women; (all) us women ⟨girls, gals⟩; women ⟨girls, gals⟩ like us ⟨me⟩; the likes of us; [lim.] our brand ⟨type, sort etc⟩ of woman.

[Бакченин:] Не помнишь наши первые встречи? Нашу последнюю встречу? [Шеметова:] Фронтовой эпизод. Мало ли что случается с нашей сестрой (Панова 1). [B.:] Don't you remember when we were first together? The last time we met? [Sh.:] A wartime story. Lots of things happen to us women (1a).

С-178 • ВСЕМ СЕСТРА́М ПО СЕРЬГА́М [saying] (usu. in refer. to reprimands, criticism etc) absolutely everyone gets something: ≃ no one is left out ⟨spared⟩; everyone gets what he deserves ⟨what is coming to him⟩; [lim.] he ⟨she etc⟩ gives everyone a hard time ⟨a piece of his/her mind, a beating etc⟩.

[author's usage] И вот кабы не Анфиса Петровна — ставь крест на всей затее с сенокосом. А Анфиса Петровна всем по серьге выдала (Абрамов 1). So if it hadn't been for Anfisa Petrovna, he [Mikhail] could have kissed the whole harvest idea goodbye. But Anfisa Petrovna had given them all a piece of her mind (1a).

С-179 • ПОЙМА́ТЬ ⟨УЛОВИ́ТЬ⟩ В СВОЙ СЕ́ТИ кого [VP] 1. obsoles [subj: human, usu. female] to make s.o. fall in love with one: X поймала Y-а в свои сети ≃ X caught Y in X's net; X snared ⟨hooked, roped in etc⟩ Y.

[author's usage] Женщины, как царицы, в плену рабства и тяжёлого труда держат 0,9 рода человеческого. А всё оттого, что их унизили, лишили их равных прав с мужчинами. И вот они мстят действием на нашу чувственность, уловлением нас в свои сети (Толстой 8). Women, like queens, keep nine-tenths of mankind in bondage to heavy labor. And all because they've been debased and deprived of equal rights with men. They revenge themselves by acting on our sensuality and catch us in their nets (8a).

2. [subj: human or collect] (in refer. to criminal groups, cults etc) using cunning or ruses, skillfully exploiting one's weaknesses etc, to draw s.o. into sth. reprehensible or illegal: X caught ⟨trapped⟩ Y in X's web; X trapped Y in X's net; X caught Y in X's trap.

Боль в сердце становилась всё горячее. На лбу у него [Григория] выступила испарина. Он сошёл с крыльца, испуганно прижимая к левой стороне груди ладонь, подумал: «Видно, укатали сивку крутые горки…» (Шолохов 5). The pain in his [Grigory's] heart had grown more intense. Perspiration broke out on his forehead. He walked down the steps, pressing his hand to his left side in fright and telling himself he was not the man he used to be (5a).

С-183 • ХОРОШО́ СИДИ́М! coll [formula phrase; Invar; fixed WO] said when people are enjoying drinks, a meal, and each other's company while gathered informally around the table: life is good!; [lim.] aren't we having a good ⟨nice⟩ time! Cf. if this isn't nice, what is?!

< The phrase "if this isn't nice, what is?" has been used repeatedly by Kurt Vonnegut and in broader contexts.

С-184 • ВО́Т ГДЕ СИДИ́Т у кого coll [VP; subj: any noun; pres only; fixed WO] a person (a situation etc) has caused s.o. so much irritation, annoyance, frustration etc that he cannot tolerate that person or situation any longer (usu. accompanied by a motion of the hand toward the neck): X у Y-а вот где сидит ≃ Y has had it up to here (with X); Y has got X up to here; Y is fed up (with X); Y has had about all he can take ⟨stand⟩ of X.

«Вот они где у меня сидят, эти интуристы! — интимно пожаловался Коровьев, тыча пальцем в свою жилистую шею, — верите ли, всю душу вымотали! Приедет… и или нашпионит, как последний сукин сын, или же капризами все нервы вымотает: и то ему не так, и это не так!..» (Булгаков 9). "I've had it up to here with these foreign visitors!" Korovyov complained confidentially, poking a finger at his veiny neck. "Believe me, they run you ragged! They come here, and they either snoop around like a son of a bitch, or they wear you out with their whims: this isn't right, that isn't right…" (9c). "Those foreign tourists, I've got them up to here!" Koroviev complained confidentially, poking his fingers at his scrawny neck. "…They'll come and spy around, like sons of bitches, or else they'll wear you out with their demands: this isn't right, and that isn't right!…" (9a).

С-185 • СИ́ДНЕМ ⟨СИДМЯ́ obs⟩ СИДЕ́ТЬ coll [VP; subj: human] 1. to spend all one's time in a seated position because one is physically unable to walk: X сиднем сидит ≃ X just ⟨only⟩ sits.

Сейчас, задним числом, я думаю, что у кагебешников даже и шанса не было не сдаться. Вопрос о моём отъезде был решён на каких-то верхах, им недоступных. И нарушить решение верхов им было не под силу (Войнович 1). Now, with hindsight, I think the KGB had no choice but to give in. The question of my leaving the country had been decided high up, on levels to which these men had no access. It was not in their power to violate such a decision (1a). ♦ …Иногда в голове возникают изумительные проекты, но чувствуешь, что тебе не под силу протолкнуть их через соответствующие учреждения (Искандер 4). Sometimes an amazing scheme will come to you, but you are aware that you don't have what it takes to push it through the appropriate channels (4a).

2. sth. is very difficult or impossible for s.o. to do (because he lacks decisiveness, does not dare to, cannot overcome his sluggishness etc): X Y-у не под силу ≃ Y just can't (get himself to ⟨make himself etc⟩) do X; Y is incapable of doing X; there is no way Y can do X; [lim.] Y can't bear the thought of doing X.

[Мандельштам] не мог отделить мою судьбу от своей… Мою любовь к живописи… он сразу забрал себе и так же решил поступить с Шекспиром. Ведь любить врозь означает отделиться друг от друга — это было ему не под силу (Мандельштам 2). …He [Mandelstam] could make no distinction between my life and his own…. He had immediately taken over my love of painting…and decided on the same policy with regard to Shakespeare. Loving different things was the same as separating, and he just could not bear the thought (2a).

С-215 • ЧЕРЕЗ СИ́ЛУ [PrepP; Invar; adv] (to do sth.) unwillingly, pushing o.s. to overcome some barrier (exhaustion, pain, fear, animosity, nervousness etc): with (a) great ⟨(an) obvious, (a) tremendous⟩ effort; with great ⟨the utmost⟩ difficulty; forcing o.s. (to do sth.); making an effort (to do sth.); [in refer. to physical barriers] straining o.s.; [in refer. to emotional barriers] in a reluctant manner; (doing sth.) costs s.o. an effort.

Он должен был что-то крикнуть, потому что крик подкатился к горлу… но вместо крика ткнул в спину извозчика и выдавил из горла через силу: «Гони!» (Федин 1). He should have cried out, because a cry had risen in his throat… but instead of crying out he prodded the cabby in the back and with a tremendous effort forced from his throat: "Drive on!" (1a). ♦ «Здоров, Андрюха», — бодрое радушие давалось ему явно через силу (Максимов 3). "Good to see you, Andrei, lad." His brisk friendliness obviously cost him an effort (3a).

С-216 • НАДРЫВА́ТЬ/НАДОРВА́ТЬ ⟨ПОДРЫВА́ТЬ/ ПОДОРВА́ТЬ⟩ СИ́ЛЫ чьи [VP; subj: usu. abstr] to exhaust s.o. utterly and for a long time: X надорвал Y-овы силы ≃ X sapped (all) Y's strength; X drained all of Y's strength; X totally drained Y; [lim.] X broke Y's health.

[author's usage] Последние недели, проведённые Наташей в комнате матери, надорвали её физические силы (Толстой 7). Those weeks spent in her mother's room had completely broken Natasha's health (7a).

С-217 • НАХОДИ́ТЬ/НАЙТИ́ В СЕБЕ́ СИ́ЛЫ [VP; subj: human or collect (народ, коллектив etc); usu. used with infin; usu. this WO] to force o.s. to do sth., overcoming one's timidity, uncertainty, fear etc: X нашёл в себе силы сделать Y ≃ X plucked ⟨screwed⟩ up his courage and did Y; X summoned (up) the strength to do Y; X summoned ⟨gathered⟩ his strength ⟨courage⟩ and did Y; X mustered the strength ⟨courage⟩ to do Y; X found the strength for ⟨to do⟩ Y; X braced himself and did Y; || Neg X не смог найти в себе силы сделать Y ≃ X couldn't bring himself to do Y.

Да, да, неизвестно, во что бы всё это вылилось, если бы Бенгальский не нашёл в себе силы и не шевельнулся бы. Стараясь покрепче овладеть собой, он по привычке потёр руки и голосом наибольшей звучности заговорил так… (Булгаков 9). Yes, yes, who knows how it all would have ended if Bengalsky had not summoned up the strength to do something. Making an effort to regain his composure, he rubbed his hands together in his customary way, and his voice resonated loudly… (9c). ♦ «А на кой они бросают бутылки?» — прокричала ему в ухо Нюра, паля одной рукой в воздух из пистолета. «Не боись [ungrammat = не бойся], Нюрка, опосля сдадим!» — нашёл в себе силы для шутки Чонкин (Войнович 2). "What the hell are they throwing bottles for?" Nyura shouted in Ivan's ear, firing a pistol into the air with one hand. "Don't worry, Nyura, we'll get the deposit back later," said Chinkin, finding the strength for a joke (2a).

С-218 • ОТ СИ́ЛЫ [PrepP; Invar; used as a restr marker (with a quantit NP or Num denoting a relatively small quantity)] not more than, at the highest calculation: at most; at the (very) most; at the (very) outside; maximum; tops; [lim.] at best; a mere [NP].

«…Сколько [вы] могли бы убить? Одного, двух, трёх, ну десяток от силы» (Войнович 4). "…How many could you have killed? One, two, three, a dozen at most" (4a). ♦ «Это я для себя только так решил. Думаю, до сорока годов доживу, ну, до сорока пяти от силы, и хватит. А то это, знаешь, всё ходи, мучайся. То поясницу ломит, то ревматизм на погоду болит» (Войнович 5). "This is just how I worked it out for myself. I figure I'll live to forty, forty-five tops, and that's it. After that, just walking around can be hell. Either your back's killing you or the weather's making your rheumatism ache" (5a).

С-219 • СИ́ЛЬНЫЕ МИ́РА СЕГО́ [NP; pl only; fixed WO] people of prominent social status, the most influential, powerful people in society: the mighty ⟨the powerful (ones), the great ones⟩ of this world; the high and mighty; the powers that be; [lim.] movers and shakers.

«Непостоянны сильные мира сего, — говорил Мольер Мадлене, — и дал бы я совет всем комедиантам. Если ты попал в милость, сразу хватай всё, что тебе полагается» (Булгаков 5). "How inconstant are the mighty of this world," Molière said to Madeleine. "And I would give this advice to all players: if you happen to win favor, seize everything you can at once" (5a).

С-220 • ЛУ́ЧШЕ СИНИ́ЦА В РУКА́Х ⟨В РУ́КИ⟩, ЧЕМ ЖУРА́ВЛЬ В НЕ́БЕ; НЕ СУЛИ́ ЖУРАВЛЯ́ В НЕ́БЕ, А ДАЙ СИНИ́ЦУ В РУ́КИ [saying] a less-than-ideal object, opportunity etc that a person already possesses or has available to him is preferable to a better object, opportunity etc that he may never (be able to) get: ≃ a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush; better an egg today than a hen tomorrow; one today is worth two tomorrows.

С-221 • СИНИ́ЦА В РУКА́Х coll [NP; sing only] a less-than-ideal object, opportunity etc that a person already possesses or has available to him (and which therefore is preferable to a better object, opportunity etc that he may never get): the proverbial bird in the hand; a (real ⟨an actual⟩) bird in the hand.

Итак, он давно бы хотел в таможню, но удерживали текущие разные выгоды по строительной комиссии, и он рассуждал справедливо, что таможня, как бы то ни было, всё ещё не более как журавль в небе, а комиссия уже была синица в руках (Гоголь 3). And so he had long been longing to get into the Customs, but had been held back by sundry current benefits accruing from the Building Commission, and he had reasoned, justly enough, that the Customs was, after all, no more than the proverbial two birds in the bush whereas the Building Commission was an actual bird in the hand (3b).

< From the proverb «Лучше синица в руках, чем журавль в небе». See С-220.

С-222 • КАЗА́НСКАЯ ⟨КАЗА́НСКИЙ⟩ СИРОТА́ iron or derog [NP; usu. sing] a person who pretends to be unhappy, helpless, offended etc in order to gain s.o.'s compassion: sympathy seeker; || X прикидывается казанской сиротой ⟨X строит из себя казанскую сироту⟩ ≃ X is moaning and groaning about his fate; X is playing on s.o.'s sympathies ⟨feelings⟩; X is making himself out to be a pitiful thing ⟨a poor soul⟩; X is playing the beggar ⟨the victim⟩.

[author's usage] [Войницев:] Не к лицу вам, милостивый государь, мой бывший друг, это казанское сиротство! Я понимаю вас! Вы ловкий подлец! Вот кто вы! (Чехов 1). [V.:] It doesn't suit you at all, my dear sir, my ex-friend, to try to play on our feelings. I can see through you. A cunning scoundrel, that's what you are! (1a).

< Initially referred to Tartar princes who, after the subjugation of Kazan (capital of the Tartar empire) by Ivan the Terrible in 1552, tried to get more concessions and gratuities by moving the tsar to pity when they appeared at his court.

С-223 • СИ́РЫЕ И ⟨ДА⟩ УБО́ГИЕ usu. iron in contemp. usage [NP; pl only; fixed WO] miserable, hapless, impoverished people (orig. of lonely, homeless, and crippled people, often of beggars: the poor and the wretched ⟨destitute, neglected⟩; the forgotten poor; poor wretches; downtrodden masses; miserable beggars.

С-224 • ОТ СИХ (И) ДО СИХ [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to read sth., do a job, carry out an order etc) within the strict boundaries of what is assigned (usu. used sarcastically with the implication that by doing so one demonstrates a lack of initiative, intellectual curiosity etc): from here to here ⟨there⟩; [lim.] within precise limits; from point A to point B (and no further).

…В их головах не укладывается, чтобы парень без образования, вроде меня, сам читал Ленина или что-нибудь ещё. Они сами-то его читали «от сих до сих» (Марченко 1). …Their minds couldn't contain the idea of an uneducated fellow like me actually reading Lenin—or anything else for that matter. They themselves had read only 'from here to here' (1a). ♦ Это же вдуматься: земля — тюрьма, кругом запреты, всё нормировано от сих до сих, всё разгорожено и перегорожено, ходи только так, живи только так (Кузнецов 1). When you came to think of it, the whole world was a prison: restrictions on all sides; everything laid down within precise limits; everything concreted up and divided off: you can go only here, live only like this… (1b).

С-225 • ПРЯ́МО СКА́ЖЕМ coll [Invar; sent adv (parenth)] (often used when introducing sth. unexpected and usu. negative, when speaking sarcastically etc) speaking directly and honestly: simply put ⟨stated⟩; to put it plainly; let's be honest ⟨frank⟩; frankly; to be (perfectly) frank ⟨honest⟩; let's face it; it must be said; [lim.] to put it bluntly.

[Колесов:] Взгляни на тот вон косогор… Вид, скажем прямо, довольно бледный. А теперь представь на этом месте такую вот (показывает) траву, альпийский луг (Вампилов 3). [K.:] Look at that slope over there… To be honest, the view's rather dull. But now, imagine in that place, grass just like this (He points), an alpine meadow (3b). ♦ «…Брал! Брал, но брал нашими советскими! Прописывал за деньги, не спорю, бывало. Хорош и наш секретарь Пролежнев, тоже хорош! Прямо скажем, все воры в домоуправлении. Но валюты я не брал!» (Булгаков 9). "I took bribes! I did, but I took them in our own Soviet money! I took money for registering people in the apartment house, I won't deny it, it happened. Our secretary Prolezhnyov is a fine one too, that he is! Let's face it, everyone in the house management office is a crook. But I didn't take any foreign currency!" (9c).

С-226 • НИЧЕГО́ НЕ СКА́ЖЕШЬ coll [Invar; sent adv (parenth) or indep. remark; fixed WO] (used to confirm the truth of what is being stated) that is absolutely true, indeed: there's no denying it; you ⟨one⟩ can't deny it; there's no getting away from it; (there's) no doubt about it; (there's) no two ways about it; [lim.] what can you say?

[Афанасий:] Мысли верные, ничего не скажешь… (Розов 1). [A.:] Your ideas are good, there's no denying it (1a). ♦ «Как [Костенко] жену аттестует, а? Скромность украшает человека, ничего не скажешь…» (Семёнов 1). "What a testimonial he's [Kostyenko's] giving his wife, eh? Modesty enhances a man, there's no getting away from it…" (1a).

С-227 • СКА́ЖЕШЬ ТО́ЖЕ highly coll [Interj; 2nd or 3rd pers only; fixed WO] used to express the speaker's skeptical or sarcastic attitude toward another's statement, his belief that what another has said or asked is impossible, absurd, absolute nonsense: you've got to ⟨you must⟩ be kidding!; what are you talking about!; don't give me that!; you don't say!; [lim.] come off it!

Разнообразные сведения, получаемые в этих беседах, вызывали у нашего хозяина то радостное изумление: «Ишь ты!», то скептические возгласы — «Скажешь тоже!» (Гинзбург 2). The varied information acquired in these conversations would elicit from him [our host] either a pleasurably astonished "What do you know!" or a skeptical "You don't say!" (2a).

С-228 • НЕ СКАЖИ́(ТЕ) coll [indep. sent; these forms only] (used to express an objection to or disagreement with what the interlocutor has said) you are not quite correct: I don't know about that; I'm not (so) sure (about that); I wouldn't be so sure (about that); don't be so sure; I wouldn't say that; [expressing disagreement with a neg statement] I think he was ⟨you do, they will etc⟩; [expressing disagreement with an affirm statement] I don't think he was ⟨you do, they will etc⟩.

[Лукашин:] Ну, а я представитель самой консервативной профессии. [Надя:] Не скажите. Мы с вами можем соревноваться (Брагинский и Рязанов 1). [L.:] Well, I'm a member of the most conservative profession there is. [N.:] Don't be so sure. We can offer you some competition there (1a). ♦ «Когда вы были мальчиком, я думал, что из вас выйдет поэт. Да и потом, когда прочёл ваши студенческие стихи о Гильотене». — «Стихи были так себе». — «Не скажите» (Чудаков 1). "When you were a boy, I thought you'd grow up to be a poet. I still thought so later on, when I read the verses you wrote as a student, the ones about Guillotin." "They were nothing special." "I thought they were…" (1a).

С-229 • СКАЖИ́(ТЕ) ПОЖА́ЛУЙСТА coll [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] used to express one's surprise (which may be colored by irony), bewilderment, discontent, indignation etc at s.o.'s statement or actions: you don't say!; fancy that!; (well) I'll be darned!; well, I never!; well, what do you know!; for heaven's ⟨goodness'⟩ sake!; how do you like that!; do tell!; is that so!; really!; good heavens ⟨grief, gracious⟩!; for crying out loud!; [lim.] aren't we (picky ⟨touchy, clever etc⟩)!

[Городничий:] …Говорил, что застрелится. «Застрелюсь, застрелюсь», говорит. [Многие из гостей:] Скажите пожалуйста! (Гоголь 4). [Mayor:] He was positively terrifying, he said he was going to shoot himself, "I'll shoot myself, I'll shoot myself," says he. [Many guests:] Fancy that! (4b). ♦ [Анна Петровна:] Надо с вами поговорить как следует… Вот только не знаю, с чего начать… [Платонов:] Не начать ли мне, Анна Петровна? [Анна Петровна:] Ведь вы околёсную понесёте, Платонов, когда начнёте! Скажите пожалуйста! Он сконфузился! (Чехов 1). [A.P.:] …It's time we had a proper talk…. Only I don't know how to start…. [P.:] Shall I start then? [A.P.:] You'll only talk a lot of rot if you do. Good grief, the man's embarrassed (1b).

С-230 • СКАЖИ́(ТЕ) СПАСИ́БО, что… coll [VP_{imper}; Invar; the main clause in a complex sent; fixed WO] while the outcome of a situation may not be entirely to your satisfaction, you should appreciate its positive aspect(s), realizing that it could have been worse: (you should ⟨must⟩) be grateful ⟨thankful⟩ (that…); you should ⟨ought to⟩ be glad ⟨thankful, grateful⟩ that…; …that's (at least) something to be thankful for; just thank your lucky stars.

И я, выслушав все возражения, отправилась на другой день в отдел опеки и попечительства. Полный крах! Оказалось, что лица, неблагонадёжные в политическом отношении, правом усыновления не пользуются. «Скажите спасибо, что на собственных детей материнства вас не лишили! Ещё чего придумали — чужих усыновлять!… И думать забудьте!» (Гинзбург 2). Having listened to all the objections, I went off the following day to the department in charge of guardianship and foster care. Total failure! It emerged that politically unreliable persons did not have the right to adopt children. "You should be thankful that you haven't been deprived of maternal rights over your own children! Whatever gave you the idea you could adopt other people's?… You can put it right out of your head!" (2a).

С-231 • КТО СКАЗА́Л (, что…)? [Invar; indep. sent or the main clause in a complex sent; fixed WO] used to voice a challenge to another's statement, widespread viewpoint, societal conventions etc (and to express one's own point of view): [when used as an indep. sent] who says ⟨said, told you⟩ it ⟨that⟩?; who ever said ⟨told you⟩ that?; [when foll. by a что-clause] who says ⟨said, told you⟩ that…?; who ever said ⟨told you⟩ that…?

За мной, читатель! Кто сказал тебе, что нет на свете настоящей, верной, вечной любви? Да отрежут лгуну его гнусный язык! За мной, мой читатель, и только за мной, и я покажу тебе такую любовь! (Булгаков 9). Follow me, reader! Who ever told you there is no such thing in the world as real, true, everlasting love? May the liar have his despicable tongue cut out! Follow me, my reader, and only me, and I'll show you that kind of love! (9c).

С-232 • (СЛИ́ШКОМ) СИ́ЛЬНО СКА́ЗАНО [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$; subj: any phrase or clause from the preceding statement (often implied) or это; fixed WO] (the preceding statement or a portion of it) is an exaggeration: это ⟨«X»⟩ слишком сильно сказано ≃ that's going too far; that's pushing it; that's a bit (too) strong; that's putting it (a bit) too strongly; that's an overstatement; calling it ⟨referring to him as, saying etc⟩ "X" is going too far ⟨pushing it, a bit strong, putting it (a bit) too strongly⟩; [lim.] calling it ⟨him etc⟩ "X" is spreading it (on) too thick(ly).

С-233 • СКА́ЗАНО — СДЕ́ЛАНО [saying] said when a person's decision or intention is immediately carried out, when a person can be counted on to do, without delay, what he says he will do: ≃ no sooner said than done; it's as good as done.

Обеденный перерыв был на носу, и Леонид Николаевич решил быстренько смотаться домой, закусить там на скорую руку и привезти шефу подарок. Сказано — сделано (Аржак 3). It was almost the lunch-break, so Leonid decided to dash home, grab a bite there and then bring the gift back to his chief. No sooner said than done (3a).

С-234 • (ДА) И ТО СКАЗА́ТЬ coll [these forms only; sent adv (parenth); precedes the statement with which it is used; fixed WO] used for emphasis with a statement that corroborates, explains, justifies etc sth. previously stated: after all; indeed; (and) well one might; and with good reason; [lim.] (and) one is right; (and) anyway; (and ⟨but⟩) then of course.

Парк, молодая красавица, ресторан на воде, рубль нищему — такое злачное количество другой жизни ослепило и Лёву, и он пошёл домой, раздавленный. И то сказать, — время ещё было тяжёлое… (Битов 2). A park, a beautiful young woman, a restaurant on the water, a ruble for a beggar—such a lush quantity of other life dazzled Lyova, too, and he went home overwhelmed. Well he might; times were still hard… (2a). ♦ Люся уехала из деревни сразу после войны и за столько лет научилась, конечно, у городских за собой доглядывать. Да и то сказать: какие у неё ещё заботы без ребятишек? А ребятишек Люсе Бог не дал (Распутин 3). She had left the village straight after the war, and in her years of city life had learned how to look after her appearance. But then of course she hadn't had all those family worries. God had not blessed her with children (3a).

С-235 • КАК СКАЗА́ТЬ coll [indep. sent or clause; Invar; fixed WO] 1. Also: КА́К ТЕБЕ ⟨ВАМ⟩ СКАЗА́ТЬ coll (used to express the speaker's hesitation or inability to answer a question confidently and specifically) it is hard for me to answer that precisely: how should ⟨shall, can⟩ I put it?; how can I explain?; let's put it this way; let me see; [lim.] I don't know if I'd say that.

[Кручинина:] Вас любил кто-нибудь? [Незнамов:] Как вам сказать… Настоящим образом нет… (Островский 3). [K.:] Has no one ever loved you? [N.:] Hm, how shall I put it? Not really (3a).

2. often это (ещё) ~ (used by the speaker to express his disagreement with or objection to the preceding statement) I cannot agree with that: I wouldn't say that; I wouldn't exactly put it that way; I wouldn't put it quite that way; I beg to differ (with you); that's what you think ⟨he thinks etc⟩; [lim.] that's stretching a ⟨the⟩ point (a bit).

«Задание несложное». — «Это как сказать, в нём есть свои трудности». "The assignment isn't that hard." "That's what you think—it has its difficulties." ♦ Ну, а насчёт мягкости приговора, так это ещё как сказать (Марченко 2). To say that the sentence was mild is stretching a point (2a).

С-236 • КСТА́ТИ СКАЗА́ТЬ ⟨ГОВОРЯ́⟩ [these forms only; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] in connection with or in addition to what was said: incidentally; by the way; by the bye; come to think of it.

Многими чегемцами было замечено, что парень этот своими глубоко запавшими глазами и большими часами кировского завода на широком запястье, носимыми поверх рукава рубахи, сильно смущает девушек округи… Кстати говоря, кроме часов в те годы, как знак власти, начинали входить в моду чесучовые кителя (Искандер 3). It was noted by many Chegemians that this young man with the deep-sunken eyes and the big Kirov watch on his thick wrist (he wore the watch over his shirtsleeve) created quite a stir among the neighborhood girls…. Incidentally, besides watches, another item that began to come into fashion in those years as a mark of power was the tussah tunic of military cut (3a).

С-237 • ЛЕГКО́ СКАЗА́ТЬ coll [Invar; usu. indep. sent or clause; fixed WO] (used to object to a suggestion to do sth. difficult) suggesting it is easy, doing it is far more difficult: (that's) easier said than done; (it's) easy (for you ⟨him etc⟩) to say; (it's) easy enough to say; if only ⟨I wish⟩ it were that easy.

[Нина:] И что случилось? [Бусыгин:] Влюбился. [Нина:] В кого? [Бусыгин:] Как тебе сказать… Она принадлежит другому. [Нина:] Отбей. У тебя должно получиться. [Бусыгин:] Легко сказать (Вампилов 4). [N.:] What happened? [B.:] I fell in love. [N.:] Who with? [B.:] How shall I put it?…. She belongs to another. [N.:] Win her over. You shouldn't have any trouble. [B.:] Easier said than done (4a).

С-238 • ЛЕ́ГЧЕ СКАЗА́ТЬ, ЧЕМ СДЕ́ЛАТЬ [saying] talking about doing sth. (esp. sth. that is often talked about) is easier than accomplishing it: ≃ easier ⟨more easily, better⟩ said than done.

С-239 • ЛУ́ЧШЕ ⟨ВЕРНЕ́Е, ПРО́ЩЕ, ТОЧНЕ́Е⟩ СКАЗА́ТЬ coll [these forms only; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] (used to indicate that the speaker is about to modify or present more accurately what he has just said) it would be more correct to phrase it this way: better (to say); (to put it) more precisely.

Они вышли из врат и направились лесом. Помещик Максимов, человек лет шестидесяти, не то что шёл, а лучше сказать, почти бежал сбоку, рассматривая их всех с судорожным, невозможным почти любопытством (Достоевский 1). They went out the gate and through the woods. The landowner Maximov, a man of about sixty, was not so much walking but, more precisely, almost running alongside, staring at them all with contorted, almost impossible curiosity (1a).

С-240 • МО́ЖНО СКАЗА́ТЬ [Invar; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] it is possible, reasonable, acceptable to phrase sth. the way the speaker has phrased or is about to phrase it: one ⟨you⟩ might ⟨could⟩ say; [lim.] what one ⟨you⟩ might call; what could ⟨might⟩ be called ⟨termed⟩.

…Правдивость рассказчика нужна самому рассказчику прежде всего, это форма его борьбы с собственным распадом, можно сказать, божественный эгоизм собственного бытия (Искандер 3). …The storyteller's veracity is necessary first of all to the storyteller himself. It is a form of his struggle against his own disintegration; it is, one might say, the divine egoism of his own being (3a).

С-241 • НЕЛЬЗЯ́ СКАЗА́ТЬ, ЧТО́Б(Ы)… [main clause in a complex sent + Conj; Invar; fixed WO] it would be incorrect, unjustified to state that…: one ⟨you⟩ cannot ⟨could not⟩ say (that)…; s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ cannot be ⟨could not have been⟩ said to…; it cannot ⟨could not⟩ be said ⟨claimed⟩ (that)…; it can hardly be said (that)…; [lim.] not that…

Нельзя сказать, чтоб предводитель отличался особенными качествами ума и сердца… (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). One could not say that the marshal was notable for any special qualities of the mind or heart… (1a).

С-242 • НЕ́ЧЕГО СКАЗА́ТЬ coll [Invar; fixed WO] 1. [Interj] used to express displeasure with, indignation at, or an ironic attitude toward s.o., sth., or, occas., o.s. (used in conjunction with a word or phrase expressing a positive evaluation to emphasize that this word or phrase is used ironically): (a fine ⟨nice, brilliant etc⟩ [NP]) I must say!; (a fine ⟨nice, brilliant etc⟩ [NP]) indeed ⟨to be sure⟩!; some [NP] (he ⟨that etc⟩ is)!

«Поздравляю, господин исправник. Ай да бумага! По этим приметам немудрено будет вам отыскать Дубровского. Да кто же не среднего роста, у кого не русые волосы, не прямой нос, да не карие глаза!.. Нечего сказать, умные головушки приказные» (Пушкин 1). "I congratulate you, Mr Chief of police. What a document! It'll be easy to trace Dubrovsky from such a description! Who is not of medium height? Who has not got fair hair—or a straight nose, or brown eyes?… I must say, these officials are clever fellows!" (1b). ♦ Хорош, нечего сказать! Опять двойку принёс — уже вторую на этой неделе. You're a fine one indeed! This is the second "D" you've brought home this week. ♦ «Хорош, нечего сказать! хорош мальчик!.. Отец на одре лежит, а он забавляется, квартального на медведя верхом сажает. Стыдно, батюшка, стыдно!» (Толстой 4). "A fine fellow, to be sure! A fine fellow!… His father is on his deathbed, and he amuses himself by mounting a policeman on a bear. For shame, sir, for shame!" (4a).

2. obs [usu. sent adv (parenth)] (used to confirm the truth and indisputable nature of what is being stated) truly, without question: there's no denying it; you ⟨one⟩ cannot deny it; [lim.] and ⟨make⟩ no mistake (about it).

«Что будет — то будет, — сказала попадья, — а жаль, если не Владимир Андреевич будет нашим господином. Молодец, нечего сказать» (Пушкин 1). "What will be, will be," said the priest's wife, "but I'll be sorry if Vladimir Andreevich isn't to be our landlord. He's a fine fellow, there's no denying it" (1c). "What will be, will be," said the priest's wife. "But it'll be a pity if Vladimir Andreyevitch does not become our master. He is a fine young man, and no mistake" (1b).

С-243 • СМЕШНО́ СКАЗА́ТЬ [Invar; sent adv (parenth) or a clause in a compound sent foll. by «но»; fixed WO] used to introduce and/or emphasize a description of a situation, which, as stated, may seem laughable, absurd, preposterous: this may ⟨might, will⟩ sound ridiculous ⟨ludicrous⟩; it sounds ridiculous ⟨ludicrous⟩; (as) ridiculous ⟨ludicrous, comical⟩ as it may sound ⟨seem, be etc⟩; (as) ridiculous as it is; ridiculously ⟨ludicrously⟩ enough; [lim.] it is a joke.

Не знали, ничего не знали, не только о местах отдалённых, но даже, — смешно сказать, — о деревнях, расположенных в пятидесяти верстах от самого Города (Булгаков 3). They didn't know, they didn't know anything, not just about remote places but even—and this will sound ridiculous—about villages fifty versts from the City itself (3b).

С-244 • СТРА́ШНО СКАЗА́ТЬ ⟨ВЫ́МОЛВИТЬ⟩ [Invar; sent adv (parenth) or a clause in a compound sent foll. by «но»; fixed WO] used to emphasize that what is about to be stated (or has just been stated) may strike the interlocutor as entirely unexpected, unwarranted, shocking etc: (it's ⟨this is⟩) too awful to say; (this is) dreadful ⟨terrible, horrible⟩ to say; horror of horrors; (this is) a terrible thing to say; [lim.] horribile dictu*.

Надежды на исцеление не было. Везти его было нельзя… Она день и ночь, почти без сна, следила за ним, и, страшно сказать, она часто следила за ним не с надеждой найти признаки облегчения, но следила, часто желая найти признаки приближения к концу (Толстой 6). There was no hope of recovery. It was impossible for him to travel… Night and day, hardly sleeping at all, she watched him and, terrible to say, often watched him not with hope of finding signs of improvement but wishing to find symptoms of the approach of the end (6b). ♦ И срок ему дали — умела царская власть лепить безжалостные сроки! — четыре года, страшно сказать (Солженицын 3). The tsar's government could dish out ruthless sentences when it wanted to, and he got—horror of horrors!—four years, four whole years! (3b).

С-245 • ТАК СКАЗА́ТЬ [Invar; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] if one may say it in such a way (used to tone down the phrasing of a statement or to indicate its impreciseness): so to speak; as it were; one ⟨you⟩ might say; what one ⟨you⟩ might call…; in a manner of speaking.

«Хочешь, Лёва, я тебе, от всей души, совет дам? Так сказать, одно правило подскажу. „Правило правой руки Митишатьева"… „Если человек кажется дерьмом — то он и есть дерьмо"» (Битов 2). "Want me to give you some advice, Lyova, from the bottom of my heart? Let me suggest a rule, so to speak. Mitishatyev's Right-Hand Rule: 'If a man seems to be a turd, he is a turd'" (2a). ♦ …Он уже потому чувствовал себя беззащитным перед демагогами, что последние, так сказать, считали его своим созданием, и в этом смысле действовали до крайности ловко (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). …He felt himself defenceless against the demagogues because they saw in him, as it were, their own creation, and in this respect they had acted extremely cleverly (1b).

С-246 • ЧТОБЫ НЕ СКАЗА́ТЬ… [Invar; used as Conj; fixed WO] used to introduce a harsher phrasing of what has just been stated, or to introduce a word (often a compar form of Adj or Adv) indicating that the speaker could have phrased his statement more harshly: (and) you could even (go so far as to) say; (and) it wouldn't even be stretching it to say; || ~ больше ⟨хуже и т.п.⟩ ≃ to say the least; to put it mildly ⟨lightly⟩.

Михаил вёл себя нечестно, чтобы не сказать просто подло. Mikhail acted dishonestly—you could even say downright meanly. ♦ «В этом государстве, чтобы не сказать хуже, вы единственный, кого мне не противно целовать…» (Окуджава 2). "In this kingdom, to put it mildly, you are the only person it does not disgust me to kiss" (2a).

С-247 • СКА́ЗКА ПРО БЕ́ЛОГО БЫЧКА́ coll, usu. disapprov [NP; usu. sing; fixed WO] a topic that is brought up or returned to incessantly, or the raising of or return to the same topic incessantly: (it's) the same old story ⟨thing, stuff, song etc⟩; (s.o. brings up etc) the same thing all over again.

«А где… она [Таньчора], где? Почему её тут нету?» — «Опять „где она". Сказка про белого бычка у нас с тобой, мать, получается» (Распутин 3). "Well, where is she [Tanchora]… eh? Why ain't she here?" "Here we go again. You keep coming back to the same old song, Mum" (3a).

С-248 • СКО́РО СКА́ЗКА СКА́ЗЫВАЕТСЯ, ДА ⟨А⟩ НЕ СКО́РО ДЕ́ЛО ДЕ́ЛАЕТСЯ [saying; traditional refrain in folk tales] some matter, job etc may be described quickly, but takes much time to accomplish: ≃ (it's) easier said than done.

[Кулигин:] Судятся-судятся [купцы] здесь, да в губернию поедут… Скоро сказка сказывается, да не скоро дело делается: водят их, водят, волочат их, волочат… (Островский 6). [K.:] There's trial after trial here, and they [the merchants] even take it to the provincial capital…. But it's easier said than done: they lead them on, and on, and drag it out and out… (6a).

С-249 • НИ В СКА́ЗКЕ СКАЗА́ТЬ, НИ ПЕРО́М ОПИСА́ТЬ folk, poet [Invar; predic (impers or with subj: any common noun); fixed WO] (used to describe the highest degree of some quality, characteristic, attribute etc) a person, thing etc is too extraordinary to be described: (mere) words cannot (begin to) describe it; one ⟨you⟩ couldn't begin to describe it (with words); (some person or thing is) more [AdjP] than words can tell ⟨say⟩.

«Я видел, как они [американцы] Германию разделывали. Ни в сказке сказать, ни пером описать… Летели сотни-тысячи в два, три слоя» (Копелев 1). "I saw them [the Americans] deal with Germany. You couldn't begin to describe it. Hundreds and thousands flew in two or three formations" (1a).

С-250 • БА́БЬИ ⟨БА́БУШКИНЫ⟩ СКА́ЗКИ coll, rather derog [NP; pl only; fixed WO] fables, nonsense: old wives' tales.

«Бог с тебя спросит, Иван». — «Никакого Бога нету… Бабьи сказки» (Максимов 2). "You'll answer for it to God, you know." "There ain't no God… Old wives' tales" (2a).

С-251 • РАССКА́ЗЫВАТЬ СКА́ЗКИ (кому) coll [VP; subj: human] to tell s.o. invented, fabricated, concocted stories: X рассказывает (Y-у) сказки ≃ X is spinning yarns; X is telling (fish) stories; X is telling tall tales; X is telling ⟨giving, handing⟩ Y cock-and-bull stories; X is handing Y a line; [lim.] X is giving Y a song and dance; X is making it up; || Neg Imper не рассказывай сказки ≃ don't give me that. Cf. tell it to the marines.

«И каждому из нас отлично понятно, что именно ты хотел сказать этими своими словами… А теперь будешь нам сказки рассказывать, он, мол, не в этом смысле» (Войнович 4). "Everyone here understands full well just what you meant by those words…. And now, you're going to hand us some cock-and-bull story about what you meant and didn't mean" (4a). ♦ [Шмага:] …Я убеждал Гришку отправиться в трактир «Собрание весёлых друзей»… [Дудукин:] Отказался? Неужели? [Коринкина:] Да это он сказки рассказывает (Островский 3). [Sh.:] …I tried to convince Grisha to set out with me for the Merrymen Tavern…. [D.:] You mean to say he refused? Is it possible? [K.:] Don't listen to him, he's just making it up (3a).

lop; at (a) full gallop; as one is galloping (along); (gallop) at full tilt.

«Вот наконец мы были уж от него [Казбича] на ружейный выстрел… Смотрю: Печорин на скаку приложился из ружья… „Не стреляйте! — кричу я ему: — берегите заряд; мы и так его догоним“» (Лермонтов 1). “Well, at last we got within rifle range of him [Kazbich]…. I looked and saw Pechorin take aim at full gallop. ‘Don’t fire!’ I cried to him. ‘Save your shot, we’ll catch up with him anyway’” (1a).

2. ~ остановить лошадь, остановиться to stop a horse suddenly, come to an abrupt halt: rein in a horse from a full gallop (to a sudden halt); pull up a horse abruptly ⟨short⟩ (from a full gallop); come ⟨bring one’s horse⟩ to a sudden halt.

С-253 • СО ШКО́ЛЬНОЙ ⟨С УНИВЕРСИТЕ́ТСКОЙ⟩ и т.п.⟩ СКАМЬЯ́ [PrepP; these forms only; fixed WO] 1. [subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human) or adv] one has just finished high school or college: X — (только что) со школьной ⟨с университетской⟩ скамьи ≃ X is right ⟨just, fresh⟩ out of school ⟨college⟩.

2. [adv] from the time of one’s study in school (or college): from one’s school ⟨schoolroom, classroom, university, college⟩ days.

Ужаснее всего это нескончаемое притворство и двуличие, входящее в плоть и кровь советского человека уже со школьной скамьи (Аллилуева 2). The ugliest feature of Soviet life was the endless dissimulation and double-facedness infused into the Soviet people from their schoolroom days, so that it became almost second-nature (2a).

С-254 • СКА́ТЕРТЬЮ ДОРО́ГА ⟨ДОРО́ЖКА⟩ (кому) coll [indep. sent; these forms only; fixed WO] 1. obs a wish for a good journey: I wish you ⟨him etc⟩ Godspeed ⟨godspeed⟩; (may) God speed you ⟨him etc⟩ (on your ⟨his etc⟩ way); Godspeed to you ⟨him etc⟩!; [in direct address only] Godspeed!

[Феклуша:] Что делаешь, милая? [Глаша:] Хозяина в дорогу собираю… [Феклуша:] Надолго, милая, едет? [Глаша:] Нет, не надолго. [Феклуша:] Ну, скатертью ему дорога! (Островский 6). [F.:] What’s that you’re busy at now? [G.:] Getting my master’s clothes ready for his journey… [F.:] Will he be gone long, my dear? [G.:] No, not long. [F.:] I wish him godspeed, that I do (6b).

2. go away or let s.o. go away (used as a wish to be free of s.o. or as a scornful dismissal of s.o.): good riddance.

[Надя:] Тогда уйду я! [Лукашин:] Скатертью дорога! (Брагинский и Рязанов 1). [N.:] I’ll go myself then! [L.:] Good riddance! (1a).

С-255 • СКА́ЧКА С ПРЕПЯ́ТСТВИЯМИ coll, humor [NP; fixed WO] an undertaking, process etc that does not progress smoothly, that constantly meets with difficulties: uphill battle; an obstacle course; a regular obstacle course; [lim.] hit a snag at every step ⟨turn⟩.

[Дорн (стараясь отворить левую дверь):] Странно. Дверь как будто заперта… (Входит и ставит на место кресло.) Скачка с препятствиями (Чехов 6). [D. (trying to open the door left):] That’s strange. The door seems blocked… (He enters and puts the armchair back in its place.) A regular obstacle course (6d).

С-256 • (НЕТ) НИ СКЛА́ДУ НИ ЛА́ДУ в чём highly coll [VP$_{subj/gen}$; fixed WO] sth. lacks logic, order, sth. is done without coordination etc: в X-е ни складу ни ладу ≃ there is no rhyme or reason to X.

На каждом объекте люди с бору да сосенки, во всём ни складу ни ладу… (Иоффе 1). People are chosen at random to do certain jobs, no rhyme or reason to it at all (1a).

С-257 • НА СКЛО́НЕ ЛЕТ ⟨ДНЕЙ, ЖИ́ЗНИ⟩ [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] when one is old: in one’s declining ⟨later⟩ years; in one’s old age; in the twilight ⟨the winter⟩ of one’s life; in the evening of (one’s) life.

Пьер Корнель не знает, что на склоне лет он будет рад, когда мальчишка примет к постановке его пьесу и заплатит ему, постепенно беднеющему драматургу, деньги за эту пьесу (Булгаков 5). Pierre Corneille does not know that in his declining years he will be happy when this boy accepts his play for production and pays him, a playwright gradually sinking into poverty, money for the play (5a).

С-258 • В СКО́БКАХ сказать, заметить, прибавить, упомянуть и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv; the verb is usu. fut (1st pers with subj мы or я omitted) or infin with надо, следует etc; the VP is used as sent adv or the main clause in a complex sent] (to say, note, mention etc sth.) incidentally, in passing, as a casual remark: заметим в скобках ≃ let us ⟨me⟩ say ⟨add, mention, note⟩ parenthetically ⟨in parentheses, in parenthesis⟩; [lim.] we ⟨I⟩ might say ⟨should add etc⟩ as an aside; by the way.

Заметим в скобках и мельком, что Пётр Ильич был довольнотаки красивый молодой человек, и сам это знал о себе (Достоевский 1). Let us note parenthetically and in passing that Pyotr Ilyich was quite a handsome young man, and was aware of it himself (1a).

С-259 • ВЫНОСИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́НЕСТИ ЗА СКО́БКИ что lit [VP; subj: human] to separate a certain question, problem, occurrence etc from the context in which it belongs: X вынес Y за скобки ≃ X took Y out of context; X isolated Y; [lim.] Y was torn from ⟨out of⟩ (its) context.

«Тезис личной судьбы — вот что ты не хочешь учесть в своих рассуждениях. На протяжении всех культур — греческой, египетской, европейской, он казался вынесенным за скобки, свободным от законов истории» (Каверин 2). “The thesis of personal destiny—that’s what you leave out of account in your deliberations. In the course of every culture—Greek, Egyptian, European, it appears to have been torn out of its context and has not been subject to the laws of history” (2a).

С-260 • ВО ВЕСЬ СКОК лететь, пустить лошадь и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (of a horse) (to race along) as fast as possible; (of a person) (to make one’s horse go) as fast as possible: (race along ⟨go⟩) at (a) full gallop; (put one’s horse) to a full gallop; (go ⟨make one’s horse go⟩) flat out.

Ростов пустил лошадь во весь скок, для того чтоб уехать с дороги от этих кавалеристов… (Толстой 4). Rostov put his horse to a full gallop to get out of their [the cavalry men’s] way… (4a).

С-261 • СКО́ЛЬКО (…) НИ…; СКО́ЛЬКО БЫ (…) НИ… [subord Conj, concessive] regardless of how great a number of times (one does or attempts sth.) or regardless of how great a quantity of sth. (exists, is in s.o.’s possession etc) (the desired result will not be achieved): however much; no matter how much ⟨how often, how many times etc⟩; as much as; || сколько ни пытайся ≃ try as you might; however ⟨no matter how⟩ hard you try; despite all s.o.’s efforts; || [when used with NP] no matter how much [NP] ⟨how many [NPs]⟩; it doesn’t matter how much [NP] ⟨how many [NPs]⟩.

…Сколько ей [Марье] ни толкуй — не понимает, что по нынешним временам учение — основа жизни (Абрамов 1). However much you explain it to her [Marya], she doesn’t understand that today learning is the foundation of life (1b). ♦ …Сколько его [Цурцумия] ни уговаривали, он твёрдо стоял на своём (Искандер 4). …Despite their best efforts to win him [Tsurtsumia] over, he firmly stood his ground (4a).

С-262 • ДО СКОНЧА́НИЯ ВЕ́КА ⟨МИ́РА, ДНЕЙ⟩ [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to do sth., continue etc) forever, eternally: till the end of time.

< The word «скончание» is used in this idiom only.

С-263 • ВСЕМ СКО́ПОМ coll [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (of people) (to do sth.) together, jointly: in ⟨as⟩ a group; as one man ⟨person⟩.

Если же коллектив всем скопом набрасывался на одного своего члена… — такой коллектив по понятиям людей и выше Степанова был здоровый (Солженицын 3). If the collective as one man attacked one of its members… that collective—according to the notion shared by people even higher than Stepanov—was healthy (3a).

С-264 • МИРОВА́Я СКОРБЬ lit [NP; sing only; fixed WO] 1. disillusionment with life, extreme pessimism toward the world and its evils (orig. of the poets of the Romantic Era): Weltschmerz.

«Отчего властители дум этого народа [еврейства] не пошли дальше слишком легко дающихся форм мировой скорби и иронизирующей мудрости?» (Пастернак 1). "Why didn't the intellectual leaders of the Jewish people ever go beyond facile Weltschmerz and ironical wisdom?" (1a).

2. often sarcastic the state of being tired of the world, disillusioned, disappointed in life: world-weariness; world sorrow; || предаваться мировой скорби ≃ take all the cares ⟨weight⟩ of the world upon one ⟨on one's shoulders⟩.

С какой-то точки зрения стукачи мало чем отличаются от наших либеральных друзей. Они по крайней мере не изображают из себя мировую скорбь (Зиновьев 1). "From a certain point of view informers aren't very different from our liberal friends. And at least they don't pretend to be suffering from world weariness" (1a). ♦ «Часа в три ночи Юлька вдруг проснулась, зажгла свет и внимательно посмотрела на меня. «Так и знала. Лежит с открытыми глазами и мировой скорби предаётся» (Гинзбург 2). About 3 A.M. Julia suddenly woke up, turned on the light, and looked at me carefully. "I knew it. She's lying there with her eyes wide open and taking all the cares of the world upon her" (2a).

< The term Weltschmerz ("world-pain") was coined by the German author Jean Paul Friedrich Richter (pseudonym Jean Paul), 1763–1825.

С-265 • СКОРЕ́Е БЫ coll [Particle] used to emphasize the speaker's impatient wish for a longed-for event to happen: if only (s.o. could do sth. ⟨sth. would happen etc⟩) sooner; one wishes (s.o. would do sth. ⟨sth. would happen⟩) sooner; one cannot wait (for sth. to happen); [when wishing that unpleasant circumstances would end] скорее бы это кончилось ≃ I wish it ⟨this⟩ was ⟨were⟩ over and done with; if only it ⟨this⟩ could be over quickly ⟨soon⟩.

[Лопахин:] (Со слезами.) О, скорее бы всё это прошло, скорее бы изменилась как-нибудь наша нескладная, несчастливая жизнь (Чехов 2). [L.:] (Tearfully.) I wish this was over and done with. I wish our miserable, muddled lives would change somehow (2b). [L.:] (With tears) Oh, if only all this could be over quickly, if somehow our discordant, unhappy life could be changed! (2a).

С-266 • СКОРЕ́Е ВСЕГО́ [AdvP; Invar; usu. sent adv; fixed WO] very probably, the probability is great (that…): most likely ⟨probably⟩; in all likelihood ⟨probability⟩; chances are; more likely (than not).

…Он мне говорил, что был когда-то эсером, за это и пострадал. Я в это не верил тогда и сейчас думаю, что сидел он скорее всего по уголовному делу… (Войнович 5). …He told me that it was once having been a member of the Socialist Revolutionary Party which had caused him so much grief. I didn't believe it then, and now I think that he'd most likely been in prison on criminal charges (5a).

С-267 • ЗАМЫКА́ТЬСЯ/ЗАМКНУ́ТЬСЯ ⟨УХОДИ́ТЬ/УЙТИ́, ПРЯ́ТАТЬСЯ/СПРЯ́ТАТЬСЯ⟩ В СВОЮ́ СКОРЛУПУ́ [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] to stand aloof from one's surroundings, isolate o.s. from the world around one: X замкнулся в свою скорлупу ≃ X retreated ⟨withdrew⟩ into his shell; X retreated into himself.

В эпохи насилия и террора люди прячутся в свою скорлупу и скрывают свои чувства, но чувства эти неискоренимы и никаким воспитанием их не уничтожить (Мандельштам 1). In periods of violence and terror people retreat into themselves and hide their feelings, but their feelings are ineradicable and cannot be destroyed by any amount of indoctrination (1a).

С-268 • ВЫХОДИ́ТЬ/ВЫ́ЙТИ ИЗ СВОЕ́Й СКОРЛУПЫ́ [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] to begin to open o.s. up to the world around one, stop cutting o.s. off from one's surroundings: X вышел из своей скорлупы ≃ X came out of his shell.

Вокруг столько интересного а ты живёшь, как отшельник. Пора тебе выйти из своей скорлупы. The world is filled with so many interesting things, and yet you live like a hermit. It's time for you to come out of your shell.

С-269 • КОЛЬ СКО́РО lit; КАК СКО́РО obs [subord Conj] 1. [condit; used with verbs in the indicative] considering that: as long as; since.

«Пролетарский поэт и восхищался стихами контрика? И никто не донёс?.. Не смею сомневаться, коль скоро вы настаиваете. Но дивлюсь, дивлюсь!» (Копелев 1). "A proletarian poet enjoying the poetry of a 'contra'? And no one denounced him?… I don't dare doubt you, since you insist. But I am amazed, amazed!" (1a).

2. rare [temporal] used to show that the situation or action presented in the main clause immediately follows the situation or action presented in the subordinate clause: as soon as; just as; hardly ⟨scarcely, just⟩… when; the moment ⟨the minute⟩…; no sooner… than.

Грушницкого страсть была декламировать: он закидывал вас словами, как скоро разговор выходил из круга обыкновенных понятий… (Лермонтов 1). Grushnitski's passion was to declaim; he bombarded you with words as soon as the talk transcended the circle of everyday notions… (1a).

С-270 • СКРЕ́ЖЕТ ЗУБО́ВНЫЙ; often СО СКРЕ́ЖЕТОМ ЗУБО́ВНЫМ both lit [NP, subj or obj (1st var.); PrepP, Invar, adv (2nd var.); usu. this WO] hatred, malice; (one does sth.) extremely unwillingly, hating what he has to do, having to overcome internal resistance: скрежет зубовный ≃ gnashing ⟨clenching, grinding⟩ of one's teeth; || со скрежетом зубовным ≃ gnashing ⟨clenching, grinding⟩ one's teeth.

a decidedly spiteful being, enormously ambitious, vengeful, and burning with envy. I gathered some information: he hated his origin, was ashamed of it, and gnashed his teeth when he recalled that he was 'descended from Stinking Lizaveta'" (2a).

< From the Bible (Matt. 8:12). The word «зубовный» is used in these idioms only.

С-271 • ВТОРА́Я СКРИ́ПКА [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a person who occupies a secondary or subordinate position in sth.: second fiddle; number two.

«Мой второй старик, Фриц, тоже старательный… Но он у Вальтера вторая скрипка — подсобник…» (Копелев 1). "My other old man, Fritz, is also assiduous… but he's Walther's second fiddle, an assistant" (1a).

С-272 • ПЕ́РВАЯ СКРИ́ПКА [NP: sing only; fixed WO] a person who occupies the leading, predominant position in sth.: number one; the number-one person; the pivotal ⟨key⟩ player; the top man ⟨woman⟩.

С-273 • ИГРА́ТЬ ВТОРУ́Ю СКРИ́ПКУ [VP] 1. [subj: human] to play the second violin part (in an orchestra or ensemble): X играет вторую скрипку ≃ X plays second violin.

2. ~ (в чём) [subj: usu. human or collect] to have a secondary or less important position (as compared to another person), be of secondary importance: X играет вторую скрипку ≃ X plays second fiddle (to s.o.); X takes a back seat (to s.o.); X is number two.

С-274 • ИГРА́ТЬ ПЕ́РВУЮ СКРИ́ПКУ [VP] 1. [subj: human] to play the first violin part (in an orchestra or ensemble): X играет первую скрипку ≃ X plays first violin.

2. ~ (в чём) [subj: usu. human or collect] to occupy the leading, predominant position in sth.: X играет первую скрипку ≃ X plays the leading role; X is number one; X is the pivotal ⟨key⟩ player; X is the top man ⟨woman⟩.

С-275 • СО СКРИ́ПОМ идти, протекать, делать что и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; more often used with impfv verbs] (in refer. to an undertaking, project etc) (to progress, do sth. etc) very slowly, impeded by difficulties along the way: plod(ding) ⟨inch(ing)⟩ along; meet(ing) with all kinds of difficulties; with setbacks at every step; (progress) painfully slowly; it's slow going (all the way).

Никто не мог понять… почему одних (меньшую часть) всё же выпускают из лагеря, хоть и со скрипом… а других, наоборот, загоняют в эту страшную категорию людей, оставляемых в лагере «до особого распоряжения» (Гинзбург 2). [context transl] No one could understand… why some—the minority—were released grudgingly… but still released; while others were consigned to the fearful category of those held in camps "pending special orders" (2a).

С-276 • НЕЛА́ДНО ⟨НЕСКЛА́ДНО, ХУ́ДО, ПЛО́ХО⟩ СКРО́ЕН, ДА КРЕ́ПКО ⟨ПЛО́ТНО⟩ СШИТ coll [AdjP; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); pres or past; fixed WO] one is clumsily built and awkward, but strong and sturdy: X неладно скроен, да крепко сшит ≃ X is poorly cut, but strongly sewn; X is badly cut, but strongly stitched together.

Как взглянул он [Чичиков] на его [Собакевича] спину, широкую, как у вятских, приземистых лошадей, и на ноги его, походившие на чугунные тумбы, которые ставят на тротуарах, не мог не воскликнуть внутренно: «Эк наградил-то тебя бог! Вот уж точно, как говорят, неладно скроен, да крепко сшит!..» (Гоголь 3). After a glance at his [Sobakevich's] back, as broad as that of a thick-set Percheron horse from Vyatka, and at his legs, resembling the stumpy cast-iron pillars that are placed along sidewalks for displaying theater bills, he [Chichikov] could not help exclaiming inwardly, "Truly God has endowed you bountifully! Here is one who, as they say, is badly cut but strongly stitched together!…" (3c).

С-277 • ОТ СКРО́МНОСТИ ТЫ НЕ УМРЁШЬ ⟨ВЫ НЕ УМРЁТЕ⟩ coll, iron [indep. sent; these forms only; usu. this WO] (used as a rejoinder to another's boastful, self-congratulatory statement) you have very little modesty: modesty is not one of your strengths ⟨strong points, better qualities⟩, is it?; you certainly ⟨surely, definitely⟩ don't suffer from modesty, do you?; modesty is not your forte ⟨strong suit⟩, is it?; you aren't afraid to toot ⟨blow⟩ your own horn, are you?; and (you're) modest, too; [when used as an aside] modest, isn't he ⟨she⟩?

С-278 • НЕ СКРО́Ю [Invar; sent adv (parenth)] I must say frankly: I won't ⟨can't⟩ hide it ⟨the fact that⟩; I won't ⟨can't⟩ hide it from you; I (must ⟨have to⟩) admit; I don't mind telling you; I can't deny it; frankly (speaking); (if) truth be told; to be honest; [lim.] I can't pretend (it isn't [AdjP] ⟨I didn't do sth. etc⟩).

Не скрою, я покривил душой перед Терещенко (Рыбаков 1). I can't hide the fact that I acted against my conscience in regard to Tereshchenko (1a). ♦ «Хотите, чтобы я вам рассказал о своих клиентах?» — «Не скрою, было бы интересно» (Войнович 7). "You want me to tell you about my clients?" "I can't pretend it wouldn't be interesting" (7a).

С-279 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ СЛАБИНУ́ highly coll [VP; subj: human] to yield (to s.o.'s requests, usu. out of a desire not to offend him); to back down from a stand one has taken, be insufficiently firm: X дал слабину ≃ X showed weakness; X gave in.

Иногда я пытался как-нибудь отбрыкаться [от чтения его рукописи]. «Ну зачем тебе моё мнение? Ты же знаешь, что от критики я отошёл…» Он в таких случаях пугался, смущался и пытался меня уверить, что ни на какую печатную критику и не надеется, ему достаточно только моего высокоавторитетного устного мнения. И, конечно, я всегда давал слабину (Войнович 6). Sometimes I tried to get out of it [reading his manuscript]. "Why do you want my opinion? You know I quit criticism…." Then, blushing, he would assure me that he wasn't asking for an actual review—just my highly authoritative verbal opinion. And of course I always gave in (6a).

С-280 • НЕ СЛА́БО coll 1. [AdjP; Interj or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: это or a clause)] (used to express admiration) (sth. is) quite good: (that's) not bad (, not bad at all)!; (that's) not half bad!; (that's) not too shabby!; (that's) awesome ⟨cool, super, neat⟩!; that's (pretty) decent.

2. [AdvP; adv] quite well: rather ⟨pretty⟩ well; not poorly; not too shabbily (at all); pretty decently.

С-281 • СЛА́ВА БО́ГУ coll [NP; Invar; fixed WO] 1. [subj-compl with copula (subj: any common noun, often всё), adv, or indep. sent used in response to «Как дела?» etc] sth. is (things are) going well, without problems: all right; (just) fine; pretty good; well and good; [when used as indep. sent in response to «Как дела?»] very well, thank you.

У нас всё слава Богу, жаловаться не на что. Things are going just fine with us—no complaints. ♦ [Ислаев (…оборачивается ко входящему Беляеву):] А… это вы! Ну… ну, как можете? [Беля-

2. [sent adv (parenth)] fortunately: thank God ⟨goodness, heaven, the Lord⟩.

Мой старик презирает этого Карамана, а всё-таки едет на его оплакивание… Но, слава богу, дом этого Карамана оказался недалеко (Искандер 3). My old man scorns this Karaman, but still he goes to his wake…. But, thank God, this Karaman's house turned out to be nearby (3a).

3. Also: СЛА́ВА ТЕБЕ́ ⟨ТЕ substand⟩ ГО́СПОДИ coll [Interj] used to express happiness, relief, or satisfaction on the occasion of sth.: thank God ⟨heavens, goodness⟩; I'm happy ⟨glad⟩ (to hear it).

Иван Николаевич покосился недоверчиво [на врача], но всё же пробурчал: «Слава те господи! Нашёлся наконец один нормальный среди идиотов…» (Булгаков 9). Ivan Nikolayevich looked at him [the doctor] distrustfully out of the corner of his eye; nevertheless he muttered: "Thank God! At last there is one normal man among all those idiots…" (9a). ♦ «Аппетит у меня хороший, — сказала Женя, — …волнения на нём не отражаются». — «Ну, и слава Богу», — сказала Людмила Николаевна и поцеловала сестру (Гроссман 2). "Yes, I've got a good appetite. Nothing affects that…." "I'm glad to hear it," said Lyudmila, giving her sister a kiss (2a).

С-282 • ВО СЛА́ВУ кого-чего lit [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv or nonagreeing postmodif] for the praise and honor of s.o. or sth.: to the glory of; for the greater glory of; in glorification of; glorifying.

…Люди, принявшие эту доктрину, честно поработали во славу новой морали… (Мандельштам 1). …The people who accepted this doctrine worked sincerely for the greater glory of the new morality… (1a).

С-283 • НА СЛА́ВУ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv or subj-compl with copula (subj: usu. concr or abstr)] very well, remarkably; great, remarkable: beautiful(ly); wonderful(ly); wonderfully well; splendid(ly); glorious(ly); magnificent(ly); [lim.] famously; (do) a wonderful job; most enjoyable ⟨-ably⟩; || X удался ~ ≃ X was a smash ⟨a hit⟩; X was a big ⟨tremendous, immense⟩ success; || справить свадьбу ⟨день рождения и т.п.⟩ ~ ≃ celebrate a wedding ⟨a birthday etc⟩ in a big way; [lim.] make an occasion of one's ⟨s.o.'s⟩ wedding ⟨birthday etc⟩.

День направлялся на славу; в добрый день выпало старикам уезжать с Матёры (Распутин 4). The day promised to be beautiful; the weather was good on the day the old people had to leave Matyora (4a). ♦ Ёлка удалась на славу. Да это и не трудно было (Гинзбург 2). The New Year's concert was an immense success, which was not all that hard to achieve (2a). ♦ Комиссар был гостеприимен, любил людей… И он захотел справить свадьбу на славу, как справляют этот праздник в степи, на просторе, под небом (Федин 1). The commissar was hospitable, he liked people…. And he wanted to make an occasion of his wedding, as is done in the steppes, out in the open, under the open sky (1a).

С-284 • НЕ СЛА́ДКО кому coll [Invar; usu. impers predic with copula or subj-compl with copula (subj: infin)] (in refer. to s.o.'s life, the way things in general are going for s.o. etc) sth. is unpleasant, difficult for s.o.: X-у (приходится) не сладко ≃ life is not sweet ⟨easy, a bowl of cherries⟩ for X; life is no picnic ⟨party⟩ for X; things are bad ⟨rough⟩ for X; X is not having an easy time (of it); [lim.] it ⟨doing sth.⟩ is hard on X.

Он [Коля] добился своего — Даша осталась с ним. Но и ему пришлось не сладко — кончался нэп, наступал государственный сектор (Искандер 3). He [Kolya] got what he wanted—Dasha remained with him. But life was not sweet for him—the New Economic Policy ended, the state took over the economy (3a). ♦ «Жена совершенно права. И без вас не сладко. Собачья жизнь, сумасшедший дом. Всё время меж двух огней…» (Пастернак 1). "My wife is quite right. Things are bad enough without you. It's a dog's life, a madhouse. I am caught between two fires" (1a).

С-285 • СЛА́ДУ ⟨-а⟩ НЕ́Т с кем-чем coll [VP; impers; prep obj: human or collect] it is impossible to cope (with s.o. or sth.): с X-ом сладу нет ≃ there is nothing I ⟨he etc⟩ can do with X; I ⟨he etc⟩ can't do anything with X; there is no dealing with X; X is impossible ⟨unmanageable⟩; person X is ⟨gets⟩ out of hand.

…Случилось одно небольшое происшествие в станционной парикмахерской. Решили подстричь ребят. А когда очередь дошла до Эрмека, тут поднялся такой крик и плач, что сладу не было никакого с мальчишкой (Айтматов 2). …There had been one small incident in the local hairdressers. They had decided to get the children's hair cut. And when it had come to Ermek's turn, he set up such a great display of shouting and tears, that there was nothing they could do with the boy (2a).

С-286 • (И) СЛЕ́Д ПРОСТЫ́Л ⟨ПРОПА́Л⟩ coll [VP_{subj}; these forms only; fixed WO] 1. кого-чего ~ (of a person, animal, or vehicle) s.o. or sth. abruptly disappeared (when of a person, by hiding or running off), making it seem as if he or it had never been in the place in question at all: X-а и след просыл ≃ X vanished without a trace; X vanished ⟨disappeared⟩ into thin air; all trace of X vanished ⟨disappeared⟩; [lim.] X was long gone; person X beat it ⟨flew the coop, took off⟩.

Думаю, что козы — самые хитрые из всех четвероногих. Бывало, только зазеваешься, а их уже и след простыл… (Искандер 6). I think goats are the most cunning of all four-legged creatures. I had only to let my mind wander a moment and sometimes they would vanish without a trace… (6a). ♦ Потребовал Бородавкин к себе вероломного жида, чтоб повесить, но его уж и след простыл… (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). Wartkin summoned the perfidious Jew in order to hang him, but he had disappeared into thin air… (1a).

2. чего ~ (of lost, stolen etc objects) sth. disappeared and cannot be found or gotten back: X-а и след простыл ≃ [present contexts] X is nowhere to be found ⟨seen⟩; there is no sign of X (anywhere); (it's as if) X vanished into thin air.

Вчера я забыла на работе сумку. Вернулась с полдороги — а её и след простыл. Yesterday I forgot my pocketbook at work, and when I went back for it, it was nowhere to be found.

С-287 • НАПАДА́ТЬ/НАПА́СТЬ ⟨ПОПАДА́ТЬ/ПОПА́СТЬ obsoles⟩ НА СЛЕД чей, кого-чего [VP; subj: human or collect; more often pfv] to uncover information or leads that allow one to follow or find s.o. (usu. a fugitive, a missing person, or s.o. who does not want his whereabouts known) or to find sth. (often a stolen object, an object whose location is being kept secret etc): X напал на след Y-а ≃ X picked up the scent (of person Y); X got on the track ⟨trail⟩ of Y; X picked up Y's trail; X came upon evidence of thing Y.

Эсэсовцы свирепствовали на станции, пытаясь обнаружить пособников налёта… Гестаповцам удалось напасть на след. Во время допросов и пыток кто-то назвал имя Андрея Сташенка (Рыбаков 1). The Gestapo went on the rampage at the station in their efforts to find the accomplices…. [They] managed to pick up the scent. Under interrogation and torture, someone mentioned Andrey Stashenok (1a).

С-288 • НЕ СЛЕД (кому) substand [Invar; impers predic with быть$_{ø}$; used with infin] s.o. must not (do sth.), it is inadvisable (to do sth.): не след (Х-у) делать Y ≃ X shouldn't do Y; X ought not to do Y; it wouldn't be right (for X) to do Y.

«Мда, не всякие штаны лучше бабьей юбки. Вот что не след забывать, мальчик» (Абрамов 1). "Mm-m-m. Not every pair of trousers is better than a woman's skirt. That's something you shouldn't forget, boy" (1b).

С-289 • СЛЕД ⟨СЛЕ́ДОМ⟩ В СЛЕД за кем идти [NP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to walk) right behind s.o., stepping where he has stepped: (follow) in s.o.'s tracks; (tread) on s.o.'s heels; [lim.] in single file.

…Лашков, посожалев, тронул своей дорогой, а когда заканчивал круг, снова встретил ветеринара, за которым всё так же, след в след, плёлся уже знакомый ему цыган (Максимов 3). Lashkov regretfully rode on his way and, as he was finishing his rounds, met the vet with the now familiar gypsy still treading on his heels (3a).

С-290 • БЕЗ СЛЕДА́ пройти, исчезнуть и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv] (of some emotion, phenomenon etc) (to pass or disappear) completely, leaving nothing behind: without (leaving) a trace.

Величавая дикость прежнего времени исчезла без следа… (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). The majestic savagery of former times disappeared without a trace (1a).

С-291 • НЕТ И СЛЕДА́ (от) чего; НЕ ОСТА́ЛОСЬ И СЛЕДА́ от чего [VP$_{subj/gen}$] it is as if sth. never existed or was present; sth. is entirely absent: (от) Х-а нет и следа ≃ there is no ⟨not a⟩ trace (left) of X; X has vanished without a trace; X no longer exists.

[Астров:] Переходим к третьей части: картина уезда в настоящем… От прежних выселков, хуторков, скитов, мельниц и следа нет (Чехов 3). [A.:] Now let's go to the third section: a map of the district as it is today…. There's not a trace of the settlements, farms, hermitages, water mills (3a). [A.:] Now let's move on to part three, a picture of the district as it is today…. The old hamlets, farmsteads, hermitages and mills have vanished without a trace (3c). ♦ Теперь от прошлой Юзовки не осталось следа. На её месте вырос благоустроенный город (Паустовский 1). The Yuzovka I knew no longer exists. Today there is a prosperous industrial city in its place (1a).

С-292 • СБИВА́ТЬ/СБИТЬ СО СЛЕ́ДА кого-что [VP; subj: usu. human, abstr, or a clause] to cause a person or group to lose a trail they are pursuing (often by providing false information, resorting to clever maneuvering etc): Х сбил Y-а со следа ≃ X threw ⟨put⟩ Y off track; X threw Y off the trail; X threw ⟨put⟩ Y off the scent.

«… Полезная информация была использована, чтобы сбить нас со следа» (Акунин 5). "…He used the information to good effect to throw us off the scent" (5a).

С-293 • ПО ГОРЯ́ЧИМ ⟨СВЕ́ЖИМ⟩ СЛЕДА́М; ПО ГОРЯ́ЧЕМУ ⟨СВЕ́ЖЕМУ⟩ СЛЕ́ДУ [PrepP; these forms only; adv] 1. ~ (чьим, кого) идти и т.п. (to chase) closely after a person or animal: Х идёт по горячим следам (Y-а) ≃ X is hot on Y's trail ⟨heels⟩; X is in hot pursuit; X is (right) on Y's tail.

«Вам повезло, — говорил Остап своему спутнику. — Вы присутствуете при смешном событии — Остап Бендер идёт по горячему следу» (Ильф и Петров 2). "You're in luck," Ostap remarked to his companion. "You're present on an amusing occasion—Ostap Bender hot on the trail" (2a). "You're in luck," said Ostap to his companion. "You're witnessing an amusing exercise—Ostap Bender in hot pursuit" (2d).

2. ~ (чего) immediately following some event: while the trail is still warm ⟨hot⟩; hot on the heels of; (immediately afterwards,) while sth. is still fresh.

…Ошибку эту, впрочем, можно объяснить тем, что события описывались «Летописцем», по-видимому, не по горячим следам, а несколько лет спустя (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). …This error, however, can be explained by the fact that the events were apparently described by the Chronicle not while the trail was still warm but several years later (1a).

С-294 • СЛЕ́ДОМ ЗА кем-чем [AdvP; Invar; Prep; the resulting PrepP is adv] immediately following (s.o. or sth.) in time or space: (right) after; (right) behind.

И опять ему снилась какая-то чертовщина. Бабка Наталья… протягивала ему горсть мятых вишен… А потом покойный начальник службы движения Егоркин… честил его на чём свет стоит… Следом за Егоркиным, выплыла из небытия собственная его — Лашкова — свадьба… (Максимов 3). Once again all hell was let loose in his dreams. Granny Natalya… offered him a handful of dried [sic] cherries…. Next comes Yegorkin, the traffic manager, long since dead… cursing him up hill and down dale…. After Yegorkin, his own wedding floated up from oblivion… (3a).

С-295 • КАК СЛЕ́ДУЕТ coll [как + VP; Invar; adv] in the right way or to the fullest extent possible: properly; as ⟨the way⟩ one should; as ⟨the way⟩ one is supposed to; (do sth.) right ⟨the way it should be done, really well⟩; (sth. is done) as it should be; as well as one should; [lim.] really; good and proper; || избить кого ~ ≃ beat the hell out of s.o.; beat ⟨pound⟩ the stuffing out of s.o.; || обругать кого ~ ≃ call s.o. every name in the book.

О, они не умеют как следует стрелять! (Федин 1). Oh, they don't know how to shoot properly! (1a). ♦ [Репников:] Да ведь ты его [Колесова] не знаешь как следует. А если он совсем не тот, за кого себя выдаёт?.. (Вампилов 3). [R.:] …But you don't really know him [Kolesov]. What if he's not at all what he pretends to be?… (3b).

С-296 • КУДА́ ⟨КОМУ́⟩ СЛЕ́ДУЕТ сообщить, донести, доставить и т.п. [AdvP or NP; adv or obj; fixed WO] (to report to, inform, deliver sth. to etc) the organization or person having power or exercising influence over the matter at hand (usu. the authorities, the political police etc): (to) the proper ⟨appropriate⟩ authorities ⟨quarters⟩; (to) the right quarters ⟨place, people, person⟩.

«Ничего нет проще, как переслать ваше заявление куда следует, и если, как вы полагаете, мы имеем дело с преступником, всё это выяснится очень скоро» (Булгаков 9). "There's nothing simpler than to send your statement to the proper authorities and if, as you claim, we are dealing with a criminal, that will soon be apparent" (9c).

С-297 • ЗАМЕТА́ТЬ/ЗАМЕСТИ́ СЛЕДЫ́ ⟨СЛЕД⟩ (чего) [VP; subj: human; if pfv, often infin with надо, хотеть etc or after чтобы] to hide or destroy evidence of one's involvement in sth. reprehensible: Х заметает следы ≃ X covers (up) his tracks; X hides his tracks; || Х заметает следы Y-а ≃ X covers up the ⟨all⟩ traces of Y.

В краткий период безначалия… он [Козырь], с изумительною для глуповца ловкостью, перебегал от одной партии к другой, причём так искусно заметал следы свои, что законная власть ни минуты не сомневалась, что Козырь всегда оставался лучшею и солиднейшею поддержкой её (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). In the short period of anarchy… he [Hotspur] switched from one party to another with an adroitness amazing in a Foolovite, covering his tracks so skillfully that the regime in power did not for a moment doubt that Hotspur had always been its best and most solid support (1a).

С-298 • ЗАПУ́ТЫВАТЬ/ЗАПУ́ТАТЬ СЛЕДЫ́ [VP; subj: human; often pfv infin with чтобы; usu. this WO] (using cunning maneuvering, clever ruses etc) to (try to) divert s.o. from the right course, esp. when he is pursuing someone else: X хочет запутать следы ≃ X wants to confuse ⟨foul⟩ the trail.

«Вам не приходило в голову, что преступников могло быть двое: один устранял слуг, а второй тем временем проник в дом через окно?» Комиссар (торжествующе): «Приходило, господин умник, ещё как приходило. Именно к такому умозаключению и пытался подтолкнуть нас убийца. Он просто хотел запутать след[ы] — это же очевидно!» (Акунин 7). "Did it not occur to you that two culprits might have been involved? That one dealt with the servants while the other broke in through the window?" The commissioner (triumphantly): "It did occur to me, my dear brainy monsieur, indeed it did. That is precisely the assumption that the murderer wanted us to have. It's perfectly obvious he was simply trying to confuse the trail!" (7a).

С-299 • ДО СЛЁЗ [PrepP; Invar; modif or adv (intensif)] 1. to a very high degree: extremely; really; || кому обидно ~ ≃ s.o. is frustrated to the point of tears; s.o. is so upset ⟨frustrated etc⟩ he could cry; s.o. is so frustrated ⟨annoyed etc⟩ he could scream; [lim.] s.o. could just cry ⟨scream⟩!; || обижаться ~ ≃ be offended to the point of tears; be deeply offended; || кому ~ хочется чего or что (с)делать ≃ s.o. desperately wants (to do) sth.; s.o. wants (to do) sth. so badly he can taste it; s.o. has a burning desire for sth. ⟨to do sth.⟩; || кому ~ жаль кого ≃ (seeing some person in such a state etc) is enough to make you want to cry; s.o. feels desperately ⟨incredibly⟩ sorry for some person; s.o. is so sorry for some person that he could cry ⟨weep⟩; || тронуть кого ~ ≃ move s.o. to tears; || ~ какой ≃ extremely ⟨ever so⟩ [AdjP].

Когда мы, в блокадную зиму, пилили с ней [тёткой] в паре дрова… она, пятидесятилетняя, точно так сердилась на меня, пятилетнего, как сейчас. Она обижалась на меня до слёз в споре, кому в какую сторону тянуть… (Битов 1). During the winter of the blockade of Leningrad, when she [Auntie] and I were sawing wood together… she, fifty years old, lost her temper at me, a five-year-old, in exactly the same way as now. She was offended to the point of tears by an argument about who was supposed to pull in which direction (1a). ♦ …Ему всё-таки до слёз жалко было князя Андрея, жалко было его гордости (Толстой 5). …He could have wept, so sorry was he for Prince Andrei and his wounded pride (5a).

2. ~ смеяться, хохотать (to laugh) very hard: laugh until ⟨till, so hard⟩ one cries; laugh till tears flow ⟨come⟩; laugh till tears run down one's face ⟨cheeks⟩.

Я иногда даже хохочу. И тот, в зеркале, хохочет. Я хохочу до слёз. И тот, в зеркале, плачет (Олеша 3). Sometimes I even laugh. And the one in the mirror laughs. I laugh until I cry. And the one in the mirror cries too (3a).

С-300 • СЛЕЗА́ ПРОШИБА́ЕТ/ПРОШИ́БЛА кого; СЛЕЗУ́ ПРОШИБА́ЕТ/ПРОШИ́БЛО both coll [VP_{subj} (1st var.) or VP_{impers} (2nd var.); these forms only; fixed WO] s.o.'s eyes fill with tears (from pity, a deep emotion etc or from an acrid smell, when swallowing strong alcohol etc): X-а слеза прошибла ≃ tears welled (up) in X's eyes; tears sprang up in X's eyes; tears sprang to X's eyes; (sth.) brought a tear to X's eye; (sth.) brought tears to X's eyes.

Гош и сам любил на досуге посидеть в кресле с хорошей книжкой, всем авторам предпочитал Виктора Гюго — оно и жизненно, и возвышенно, и слезу прошибает (Акунин 7). Gauche himself was fond of passing his leisure hours in an armchair with a good book, preferring Victor Hugo to all other authors. Hugo was at once so true to life, so high-minded, that he could always bring a tear to the eye (7a).

С-301 • ОБЛИВА́ТЬСЯ/ОБЛИ́ТЬСЯ ⟨ЗАЛИВА́ТЬСЯ/ЗАЛИ́ТЬСЯ, УМЫВА́ТЬСЯ/УМЫ́ТЬСЯ coll⟩ СЛЕЗА́МИ [VP; subj: human] to cry or to begin to cry hard, inconsolably: X обливался слезами ≃ X shed floods ⟨buckets⟩ of tears; the tears streamed down X's face; X wept bitter tears; [in refer. to a repeated action only] X used to burst into tears (whenever ⟨every time etc⟩…); || X облился слезами ≃ X burst ⟨broke⟩ into tears; X dissolved in tears; X had an attack of tears.

Я сел в кибитку с Савельичем и отправился в дорогу, обливаясь слезами (Пушкин 2). I got into the wagon with Savelich and set out on my journey, shedding floods of tears (2a). ♦ Новоявившийся гражданин посинел и залился слезами раскаяния (Булгаков 9). The newly arrived citizen turned blue and dissolved in tears of repentance (9d).

С-302 • СЛЕЗА́МИ ГО́РЮ НЕ ПОМО́ЖЕШЬ [saying] crying and getting upset will not remedy the situation, so cheer up (said in an attempt to raise the spirits of a hurt, disappointed etc person): ≃ crying ⟨tears⟩ won't help ⟨get you anywhere, solve anything); [lim.] it's ⟨there's⟩ no use crying over spilt ⟨spilled⟩ milk.

[author's usage] «Не кричи, Натальюшка. Слезой тут не поможешь. Бог даст, живых-здоровых увидим» (Шолохов 5). "Don't cry, Natalya, dearie. Tears won't help. God grant we'll see them all again safe and sound" (5a).

С-303 • СО СЛЕЗА́МИ в голосе говорить, сказать что и т.п.; СО СЛЕЗО́Й [PrepP; these forms only; usu. adv] (to speak, say sth. etc) as if one were about to cry, plaintively: in a tearful voice; almost in tears; close to tears; tearful(ly).

Митягин вертел косо напяленным на лысину лохматым треухом, растроганно, со слезой бубнил одно и то же: «Ах, беда! Вот беда так беда!..» (Тендряков 1). Mityagin twisted the shabby cap which sat crookedly on his bald head; he was deeply moved and he muttered the same thing over and over again, almost in tears: "What a terrible thing! What a terrible thing" (1a).

С-304 • В СЛЕЗА́Х [PrepP; Invar; usu. subj-compl with copula (subj: human), detached modif, or adv; often preceded by весь] one is crying: (all) in tears.

Во сне меня поразило моё одиночество, мне стало жаль себя. И проснулся я в слезах (Булгаков 12). In the dream I was astounded by my own loneliness, I began to feel sorry for myself. And I woke in tears (12b).

С-305 • УТОПА́ТЬ В СЛЕЗА́Х obs [VP; subj: human; usu. Verbal Adv] to cry inconsolably: X утопал в слезах ≃ X was drowning in his tears; X was crying uncontrollably.

С-306 • ПУСКА́ТЬ/ПУСТИ́ТЬ ⟨ПРОЛИ́ТЬ, РОНЯ́ТЬ/ПРОРОНИ́ТЬ⟩ СЛЕЗУ́ coll [VP; subj: human; more often pfv] to cry (from emotion, in an attempt to gain sympathy, in order to produce an effect etc): X пустил слезу ≃ X shed a tear; X shed (a few) tears; X let fall a tear; X turned on the tears ⟨the waterworks⟩.

Мне говорила Люба [Эренбург], что Фадеев был холодным и жестоким человеком, что вполне совместимо с чувствительностью и умением вовремя пустить слезу (Мандельштам 1). Liuba [Ehrenburg] has told me that Fadeyev was a cold and cruel man—something quite compatible with emotionalism and the ability to shed a tear at the right moment (1a).

С-307 • СЛА́Б(ЫЙ) НА СЛЕЗУ́ ⟨НА СЛЁЗЫ⟩ coll [AdjP; subj-compl with copula (subj: human) or detached modif (variants with long-form Adj only)] one cries often and usu. without any real reason: X слаб на слезу ≃ X is easily moved to tears; tears come to X too easily; it doesn't take much to make X cry; X is prone to the waterworks.

Он высморкался, рукавом чекменька раздавил щекотавшую щёку слезу, подумал: «Старею, видно. Слабый на слезу стал…» (Шолохов 2). He blew his nose, smeared away a tear that was tickling his cheek with the sleeve of his coat, and thought to himself, "I must be getting old. The tears come too easily…" (2a).

С-308 • ГЛОТА́ТЬ СЛЁЗЫ [VP; subj: human; often Verbal Adv глотая] to try to refrain from crying: X глотал слёзы ≃ X was swallowing his tears; X was fighting back (the) tears; X was trying to hold back (the) tears.

Словно что-то оборвалось внутри Григория… Внезапно нахлынувшие рыдания потрясли его тело, спазма перехватила горло. Глотая слёзы, он жадно ждал, когда запевала начнёт… (Шолохов 5). Something seemed to snap inside Grigory…. A sudden fit of sobbing shook his body and a spasm seized his throat. Swallowing his tears, he waited eagerly for the [song-]leader to begin again (5a).

С-309 • КРОКОДИ́ЛОВЫ ⟨КРОКОДИ́ЛЬИ coll⟩ СЛЁЗЫ (лить, проливать) [NP; pl only; usu. this WO] (used sarcastically or mockingly) (to shed) insincere tears, (to make) a false display of pity or sorrow: (shed) crocodile tears.

«С чувством гнева и возмущения, — говорится в статье, — узнали мы о чёрном предательстве некоего Голицына, бывшего князя… Теперь, изобличённый с поличным, этот… князь будет лить крокодиловы слёзы и каяться» (Войнович 4). [The article said:] "It was with a sense of anger and indignation that we learned of the black treachery of a certain Golitsyn, a former prince…. Now, caught red-handed, this… prince will cry crocodile tears and repent" (4a).

< According to an old belief, crocodiles weep while eating their prey.

С-310 • ЛИТЬ ⟨ПРОЛИВА́ТЬ/ПРОЛИ́ТЬ, РОНЯ́ТЬ⟩ СЛЁЗЫ [VP; subj: human] to cry (sometimes profusely): X проливал слёзы ≃ X shed tears; X cried hard; [lim.] the floodgates opened; || X лил горькие ⟨горючие⟩ слёзы ≃ X wept bitter tears.

…На четвёртый день [Григорий] уехал в район. Да не один, а с Варварой Иняхиной… Сколько она [Анфиса] слёз тогда пролила! И из-за чего? Из-за того, что бабы на каждом перекрёстке судачат да языком чешут (Абрамов 1). …On the fourth day he [Grigory] had left for the district center. Not alone but with Varvara Inyakhina…. Then the floodgates had opened! But why?… It was because of those women tittle-tattling and gabbing on every corner (1a).

С-311 • НЕ ПРОРОНИ́ТЬ СЛЕЗЫ́ ⟨(НИ or И) СЛЕЗИ́НКИ⟩ [VP; subj: human] to refrain from crying, remaining unmoved or indifferent: X не проронил слезы ≃ X didn't shed ⟨let fall⟩ a (single) tear.

Когда муж умер, она ни одной слезы не проронила (Гроссман 2). She hadn't shed one tear over her husband when he died (2a).

С-312 • ОСУША́ТЬ/ОСУШИ́ТЬ СЛЁЗЫ lit [VP; more often pfv] 1. ~ чьи, кому [subj: human or abstr] to console, calm s.o. who is crying: X осушил Y-овы слёзы ≃ X dried Y's tears; notion X was a source of consolation to Y.

2. Also: ОСУША́ТЬ/ОСУШИ́ТЬ СВОЙ СЛЁЗЫ lit [subj: human] to cease crying: X осушил (свои) слёзы ≃ X dried his tears ⟨eyes⟩.

…Вдруг слёзы побежали по её бледному лицу. Князь… нахмурился. «Пошла, пошла, пошла, — сказал Кирила Петрович, — осуши свои слёзы и воротись к нам веселёшенька» (Пушкин 1). Suddenly tears began to run down her pale face. The Prince frowned…. "Go on, off with you!" said Kirila Petrovitch. "Go and dry your tears and come back your usual merry self" (1b).

С-313 • ОТОЛЬЮ́ТСЯ СЛЁЗЫ чьи кому [VP_{subj}; fut only] a person who inflicts pain on another will eventually be punished for it, will suffer for it: отольются Y-у X-овы слёзы ≃ Y will (have to) pay for X's tears ⟨for what Y did to X⟩.

< From the sayings «Отольются волку овечьи слёзки ⟨слёзы⟩» ("the wolf will pay for the sheep's tears") and «Отольются ⟨отзовутся⟩ кошке мышкины слёзки» ("the cat will pay for the mouse's tears").

С-314 • СЛИ́ВКИ О́БЩЕСТВА old-fash; if contemp., usu. sarcastic [NP; fixed WO] persons of privileged, superior social status: the cream of society; social elite; the aristocrats; [of very wealthy "new Russians"] people living ⟨who live⟩ on easy street.

«…Иван Васильевич, как вспомню, так плакать хочется, сколько через мои руки людей самых выдающихся прошло. Физики, ботаники, писатели, ваятели, артисты, партийные работники. Элита. Сливки общества» (Войнович 4). "…Ivan Vasilyevich, when I think of how many outstanding people passed through my hands I feel like crying. Physicists, botanists, writers, sculptors, actors, Party workers—the elite, the cream of society" (4a).

С-315 • СНИМА́ТЬ/СНЯТЬ СЛИ́ВКИ (с чего) coll, disapprov [VP; subj: human or collect; usu. impfv] to take the best part of sth. for o.s. (usu. in cases where one's position gives one both first access to sth. and the opportunity to exploit the system to one's own advantage): X снимает сливки (с Y-а) ≃ X laps up the cream; X skims the cream (off Y); X skims the choicest morsels ⟨the best bits etc⟩ (for himself).

…Либералы печатали статью за статьёй, книгу за книгой… Ездили на конгрессы, симпозиумы, коллоквиумы. Организовывали лаборатории, кафедры, институты. Фигурировали в газетах и журналах. Красовались по телевизору. В общем, снимали сливки (Зиновьев 1). …The liberals published article after article, book after book…. They went to congresses, conferences, symposiums. They organised faculties, laboratories, institutes. Their names were constantly in the papers and magazines. They paraded themselves on television. In short, they were lapping up the cream (1a).

С-316 • НЕ СЛИ́ШКОМ [AdvP; Invar; adv or modif] not to a great degree, not especially: [with verbs] not too ⟨very⟩ much; not really; not particularly || чтобы ~ мешать ⟨зависеть, выделяться и т.п.⟩ ≃ (so as) not to disturb ⟨depend on, stand out etc⟩ too much; (so as) to avoid disturbing ⟨depending on, standing out etc⟩ too much; (so as) to avoid really disturbing ⟨depending on, standing out etc⟩; [with Adj or Adv] not (really) very; not too; not particularly; || ~ привлекательный ⟨приятный, громко, умело и т.п.⟩ ≃ rather unattractive ⟨unpleasant, softly, clumsily etc⟩; слушать ~ внимательно ≃ listen without paying too much attention; идти не слишком спеша ≃ walk in no particular hurry.

…Когда мы, маленькие, болели, то за нами ухаживал тоже отец, следил, чтобы мы принимали лекарства, вставал к нам ночью. Мама не вставала, она ничем никогда не болела и не слишком верила в чужие болезни (Рыбаков 1). …When we were sick as small children, it was father who looked after us, made sure we took our medicine and got up in the night to see to us. Mother wouldn't get up, she had never been ill and didn't believe very much in other people's illnesses (1a). ♦ Американцы внимали этим ламентациям не слишком внимательно, то и дело отвлекаясь на достопримечательности… (Акунин 4). The Americans listened to those lamentations without paying too much attention, distracted every now and then by the sights… (4a).

С-317 • БЕЗ ЛИ́ШНИХ ⟨ДА́ЛЬНИХ⟩ СЛОВ ⟨РАЗГОВО́РОВ⟩ coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv] (to do sth.) immediately, without wasting time on discussion or argument: without wasting words ⟨one's breath⟩; without another word; [lim.] without further ado.

В конце коридора его [поручика] уже ждут — два затхлых человека из тени. Неприятно усмехаясь, они загораживают дорогу и предлагают поговорить. Поручик без лишних слов принимается их бить и одерживает неожиданно лёгкую победу (Стругацкие 1). At the end of the corridor, the two moldy figures from the shadows are lying in wait for him [the lieutenant]. Snickering unpleasantly, they bar his path and propose a little chat. Without wasting his breath, the lieutenant starts beating them up. His victory is unexpectedly easy (1a).

С-318 • ДВУХ СЛОВ СВЯЗА́ТЬ не мочь, не уметь и т.п. [VP; infin subj-compl with не мочь, не уметь (subj: human)] to be unable to speak or express one's thoughts coherently (because of nervousness, shock, embarrassment etc, or because of one's poor mastery of the spoken language): X двух слов связать не мог ≃ X couldn't put ⟨string⟩ two words together; X couldn't get out a coherent sentence; X couldn't say anything ⟨could say nothing⟩ coherent (at all).

…[Чичиков] отправился тут же к председателю палаты, но председатель палаты так смутился, увидя его, что не мог связать двух слов… (Гоголь 3). …[Chichikov] set out immediately to see the Director of the Revenue Office. But the Director of the Revenue Office was thrown into such confusion at the sight of him that he could say nothing coherent at all… (3c).

С-319 • НЕ НАХОДИ́ТЬ ⟨НЕ МОЧЬ НАЙТИ́⟩ СЛОВ (чтобы… or для чего) [VP; subj: human; usu. 1st pers] to be unable to express one's sentiments because of great admiration, overwhelming gratitude etc or shock, outrage etc: я не нахожу слов (, чтобы…) ≃ words fail ⟨elude, escape⟩ me; I can't find (the right) words (to…); I can't put my feelings into words; I am at a loss for words (to express my emotions); || я не нахожу слов, чтобы выразить свою благодарность ≃ I can't tell you how grateful I am; I am more grateful than words can tell; no words can express my gratitude.

С-320 • С ЧУЖИ́Х СЛОВ знать, рассказывать, говорить что и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; usu. adv; fixed WO] (to know, say etc sth.) on the basis of the account(s) of others: (know) from what others have told one; (report ⟨repeat etc⟩) what others have said; (relate sth.) based on what ⟨on stories⟩ one has heard from another ⟨others⟩; [lim.] (know) from a secondhand ⟨thirdhand⟩ account.

Всё это я, конечно, рассказываю с чужих слов, может быть, в действительности это было не совсем так… (Рыбаков 1). Of course, I'm only reporting what others have said, maybe things weren't quite like that (1a).

С-321 • СЛОВ ⟨-а⟩ НЕТ[1]; СПО́РУ ⟨-а⟩ НЕТ all coll [these forms only; indep. clause used as sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] (used to emphasize that the statement it modifies is, in fact, true, even though a statement to follow will detract from or contrast with it) that is definitely true, there is no reason to doubt it: there's no denying ⟨disputing⟩ it; it can't be denied; (there's) no question ⟨doubt⟩ about it ⟨that⟩; there's no question ⟨doubt⟩ that…; (there are) no two ways about it; it's beyond dispute (that…); that's for sure.

«Это [реальное развитие мира в сторону коммунизма] — грандиозный процесс, слов нет. Меня лишь интересует, что он с собой несёт фактически, а не на лозунгах и в демагогии…» (Зиновьев 2). "It [the actual evolution of the world toward communism] is a grandiose process; there's no denying it. But what interests me lies in just what it really offers, not in its slogans and its demagogy…" (2a). ♦ [Астров:] Она [Елена Андреевна] прекрасна, спора нет, но… ведь она только ест, спит, гуляет, чарует всех нас своею красотой — и больше ничего (Чехов 3). [A.:] She [Helen] is beautiful, there's no question about that, but—let's face it, she does nothing but eat, sleep, go for walks and enchant us with her beauty. That's all (3c).

С-322 • СЛОВ ⟨-а⟩ НЕТ[2] (, как, до чего и т.п.) coll [these forms only; main or subord clause in a complex sent; used as intensif] (s.o. or sth. is) such as cannot be described or expressed in words: I can't tell you (how ⟨what⟩…); words fail ⟨elude⟩ me; (s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ is) incredibly ⟨unbelievably, indescribably⟩ [AdjP]; (s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ is) beyond description; (s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ is) [AdjP] beyond belief.

Вот это пирог! Слов нет, как вкусно! What a pie! It's incredibly delicious!

С-323 • СО СЛОВ кого ⟨С чьих СЛОВ⟩ знать, говорить, рассказывать что и т.п. …Впоследствии со слов Азалии Митрофановны стало известно, что предсмертное заявление состояло из одной фразы… (Войнович 4). …It was subsequently learned from Azalia Mitrofanovna that the suicide note consisted of a single sentence… (4a). ♦ Со слов мужа она всё знала о Григории… (Шолохов 5). From what her husband had told her she knew all about Grigory… (5a).

С-324 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ (СВОЙ) СЛОВА́ ⟨(СВОЁ) СЛО́ВО⟩ ОБРА́ТНО ⟨НАЗА́Д⟩ coll [VP; subj: human] to renounce what one has said, admit that sth. one has said is wrong: X взял (свои) слова обратно ≃ X took back ⟨retracted⟩ what he said; X took back his words; X took it (all) back; [lim.] X had to eat his words.

«…Я беру свои слова обратно: когда-то я говорила, что ты одна такая на десять тысяч женщин. Так вот: не на десять, а на сто тысяч» (Залыгин 1). "I take back what I said…. I said once that you were one woman in ten thousand. I was wrong. You're one in a hundred thousand, not ten thousand" (1a).

С-325 • ВЗВЕ́ШИВАТЬ/ВЗВЕ́СИТЬ СВОЙ СЛОВА́; ВЗВЕ́ШИВАТЬ/ВЗВЕ́СИТЬ КА́ЖДОЕ СЛО́ВО [VP; subj: human; often imper] to consider carefully what one is about to say before saying it: X взвешивал свои слова ≃ X weighed his words (carefully); X weighed (his) every word; X weighed every word he said; X chose his words carefully.

…[Министр] сдавленно сказал: «Бобынин! Я прошу вас — взвесьте ваши слова» (Солженицын 3). The minister said in a constrained voice, "Bobynin, I'm asking you to weigh your words carefully" (3a).

С-326 • ГЛОТА́ТЬ СЛОВА́ [VP; subj: human; often Verbal Adv глотая; usu. this WO] to speak inarticulately, failing to pronounce the ends of words distinctly: X глотает слова ≃ X swallows ⟨chokes off⟩ his words.

Когда он волнуется, он говорит быстро, глотает слова. When he gets nervous he speaks quickly and swallows his words.

С-327 • КРАСИ́ВЫЕ СЛОВА́ [NP; pl only; fixed WO] words, statements etc intended to impress: fine words; [as subj-compl only] just words.

«И вот видим мы с детских лет такое дело: в школе говорят красивые слова, а дальше не ступишь без блата, а нигде нельзя без лапы — так и мы растём продувные, нахальство — второе счастье!» (Солженицын 3). "As it is, what do we see from childhood on? We hear all those fine words at school, but then we find you get nowhere without pulling strings and greasing palms, so we grow up crafty. The brazen ones have all the luck" (3b).

С-328 • ЛИША́ТЬ/ЛИШИ́ТЬ СЛО́ВА кого [VP; subj: human] (usu. of a person who chairs a meeting, conference etc) to force s.o. to stop speaking before he has finished what he wanted to say: X лишил Y-а слова ≃ X took the floor away from Y; X cut Y off ⟨short⟩; [lim.] X silenced Y.

…Не пора ли лишить слова бишофсбергских бюргеров и рассказать обо всём с присущим нам бесстрастием? (Федин 1). …Is it not time to silence the Bischofsberg burghers and relate all with our customary impartiality? (1a).

С-329 • НЕ ГОВОРЯ́ ХУДО́ГО ⟨ДУРНО́ГО⟩ СЛО́ВА [Verbal Adv; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to do sth.) not having said anything about it or given any advance notice: without (saying ⟨uttering⟩) a word; without saying anything ⟨a thing⟩; without a word of warning.

Тут его [Рабиновича] двое молодцов, не говоря худого слова, хватают, руки за спину крутят и запихивают в серый автомобиль (Войнович 1). There he [Rabinovich] was grabbed by two hulking guys, who, without a word of warning, twisted his arms behind his back and shoved him into a gray car (1a).

С-330 • НЕ ДА́ВШИ СЛО́ВА, КРЕПИ́СЬ, А ДА́ВШИ, ДЕРЖИ́СЬ; ДА́ВШИ СЛО́ВО, ДЕРЖИ́СЬ, А НЕ ДА́ВШИ, КРЕПИ́СЬ [saying] either be true to your word or do not make promises: ≃ don't make promises you can't keep.

С-331 • НЕ ПРОРОНИ́ТЬ НИ СЛО́ВА ⟨(НИ) СЛОВЕ́ЧКА coll⟩ [VP; subj: human] 1. not to say anything: X не проронил ни слова ≃ X didn't say a word ⟨a thing⟩; X didn't utter a (single) word; X said nothing ⟨not a word⟩; X didn't open his mouth; || X не проронил Y-у ни слова (о Z-е) ≃ X didn't breathe a word about Z to Y; || не проронив ни слова [Verbal Adv] ≃ without (saying ⟨uttering⟩) a word.

Бирюков, слушая старушку, не проронил ни слова (Чернёнок 1). Birukov, listening to the woman, didn't utter a word (1a).

2. not to let anything s.o. says pass by one unheard, to make sure one hears everything: X не проронил ни слова ≃ X didn't miss a word; X didn't miss anything ⟨a thing⟩ (person Y said).

Они [студент и молодой офицер] стали говорить о Лизавете… Раскольников не проронил ни одного слова и зараз всё узнал: Лизавета была младшая, сводная (от разных матерей) сестра старухи, и было ей уже тридцать пять лет (Достоевский 3). They [the student and the young officer] began talking about Lizaveta…. Raskolnikov did not miss a word and at once learned everything: Lizaveta was the old woman's younger half sister (they had different mothers) and was thirty-five years old (3c).

С-332 • НИ СЛО́ВА ⟨НИ ПОЛСЛО́ВА coll⟩ [NP_{gen}; these forms only] 1. ~ не говорить кому, не понимать и т.п. [obj] (to say, understand etc) absolutely nothing: not a (single) word; not so much as a word; not a thing; not (understand) a bit (of what s.o. says etc).

«…Ни я, ни Дуня ни полслова ещё не говорили с ним [Петром Петровичем] о крепкой надежде нашей, что он поможет нам способствовать тебе деньгами, пока ты в университете…» (Достоевский 3). "…Neither Dunya nor I have as yet said so much as a word to him [Pyotr Petrovich] on the subject of our fervent hope that he'll help us to supply you with money while you're still in university…" (3d).

2. ~ (кому о чём) [predic (subj: human); usu. used as imper, occas. used in past or fut contexts] do not say anything about sth. (to s.o. or to anyone): Imper Y-у ⟨никому⟩ о Z-е ни слова ≃ don't breathe ⟨say, utter⟩ a word about Z to Y ⟨to anyone⟩; || X ни слова ≃ [in past contexts] X didn't say ⟨utter⟩ a word; X said nothing.

«…Так что прошу вас — никому ни слова и полнейший секрет!..» (Булгаков 9). "…So I beg you—keep it quiet, and don't breathe a word to a soul!" (9c). "…I must ask you not to say a word about it to anyone… it must be a total secret…" (9a).

3. ~ от кого [subj/gen] there have been no letters or any other type of communication from s.o.: от X-а — ни слова ≃ there has been no word from X; I haven't ⟨he hasn't etc⟩ heard a word ⟨a thing⟩ from X.

От Нины уже два месяца ни слова, я очень беспокоюсь. I haven't heard a word from Nina for two months already and I'm awfully concerned.

С-333 • ОТ СЛО́ВА ДО СЛО́ВА помнить, пересказывать, переписывать, читать что и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to remember, relate, copy, read etc sth.) completely, in full: every word (of sth.); from beginning to end; word for word.

«Поручили выпустить стенгазету, — продолжала Нина. — Она [Варя] пошла в соседний класс и списала там номер от слова до слова, даже фамилии поленилась изменить» (Рыбаков 2). "They were told to make a wall newspaper," Nina went on. "So, she [Varya] goes into the neighboring classroom and copies theirs—word for word, and she was even too lazy to change the names" (2a).

С-334 • ОТ СЛО́ВА К СЛО́ВУ [PrepP; Invar; adv; used with impf verbs; fixed WO] as the discussion or conversation develops: with every word.

Слушая Савранского, я от слова к слову всё больше убеждалась, что он именно тот человек, который нам нужен. Listening to Savransky, I grew more convinced with every word that he was exactly the man we needed.

С-335 • С ПЕ́РВОГО СЛО́ВА ⟨С ПЕ́РВЫХ СЛОВ⟩ понять, объявить, заметить что и т.п. [PrepP; these forms only; adv; more often used with pfv verbs; fixed WO] (to realize, announce, notice etc sth.) immediately, from the moment one or s.o. begins speaking: from one's ⟨s.o.'s⟩ (very) first words; at s.o.'s first words; right at the outset (of the conversation etc); the minute one ⟨s.o.⟩ opens one's ⟨his⟩ mouth.

Егорша с первых слов начал задирать нос… Он, видите ли, отпускник, а не просто там на побывку после сплава домой пришёл, и потому намерен отдыхать культурно, ибо его здоровье — это уже не его здоровье, а здоровье рабочего класса (Абрамов 1). From his very first words Egorsha started putting on airs…. You see, he was on official leave—not the same as mere time off at home after timber floating—and was therefore intending to relax in a civilized manner, since his health was not his health, but the health of the working class (1a).

С-336 • СЛО́ВА НЕ ДОБИ́ТЬСЯ от кого, у кого [VP; subj: human; often neg pfv fut, gener. 2nd pers sing не добьёшься or infin; used without negation with нельзя, не могу etc] to be unable to get s.o. to speak, take part in a conversation, answer a question etc: от X-а слова не ⟨нельзя⟩ добиться ≃ you ⟨one⟩ cannot get a word out of X; you ⟨one⟩ cannot get X to say a word.

«…Бывало, по целым часам [от Печорина] слова не добьёшься, зато уж иногда как начнёт рассказывать, так животики надорвёшь со смеха» (Лермонтов 1). "…Sometimes you couldn't get a word out of him [Pechorin] for hours on end, but when he occasionally did start telling stories you'd split your sides laughing" (1b).

С-337 • СЛОВА́ НЕ ИДУ́Т С ЯЗЫКА́ у кого [VP_{subj}; pres or past; usu. this WO] s.o. is unable or lacks the resolve to say sth. (because he is embarrassed, nervous, afraid of unpleasant repercussions, afraid of upsetting the interlocutor etc): у X-а слова не идут с языка ≃ X cannot bring himself to utter a word; X cannot get a word out of his mouth; X cannot get the words to come out; X is incapable of uttering a word; words fail X; X is tongue-tied.

Он [Обломов] припал к её руке лицом и замер. Слова не шли более с языка (Гончаров 1). He [Oblomov] pressed his face to her hand and fell silent. He could not bring himself to utter another word (1a). He [Oblomov] pressed his face to her hand and fell silent, incapable of uttering another word (1b). He buried his face in her hand and lay inert; words failed him (1c).

С-338 • СЛО́ВА НЕ СКАЖЙ кому; СЛО́ВА СКАЗА́ТЬ НЕЛЬЗЯ́ coll [VP; these forms only; imper used as impers predic (1st var.); impers predic with $быть_{ø}$ (2nd var.); fixed WO (1st var.)] it is absolutely impossible to say, express sth. to s.o. because of his quick temper, impatience, importance etc: X-у слова не скажи ≃ there's no talking to X; there's no approaching ⟨getting near⟩ X.

«Вам уж и слова сказать нельзя. Важные стали» (Распутин 3). "There's no talking to you at all now you're up on your high horse" (3a).

С-339 • ПО СЛОВА́М чьим, кого [PrepP; Invar; the resulting PrepP is sent adv (usu. parenth)] 1. as was stated by s.o.: по X-овым словам ≃ according to X; as X put it; X said; as X told it; by X's (own) account; || по словам всех ≃ by all accounts.

Раньше, по его [дяди Сандро] словам, между гневом властей и хватанием за пистолет гораздо больше времени проходило и всегда можно было что-нибудь сообразить (Искандер 3). In the old days, as he [Uncle Sandro] put it, you had much more time between the anger of the authorities and the seizing of a pistol, and you could always think of something (3a).

2. according to s.o.'s opinion: по X-овым словам ≃ in X's opinion ⟨view⟩; to X's mind ⟨way of thinking⟩.

Сам я этой статьи не читал, но, по словам рецензента, в ней нет ни одной свежей мысли. I didn't read the article myself, but in the reviewer's opinion there isn't a single original idea in it.

С-340 • БРОСА́ТЬСЯ СЛОВА́МИ ⟨ОБЕЩА́НИЯМИ⟩ coll [VP; subj: human] to speak or make promises irresponsibly: X бросается словами ⟨обещаниями⟩ ≃ X makes irresponsible ⟨careless, reckless etc⟩ statements; X makes idle ⟨empty⟩ promises; || Neg X словами не бросается ≃ X means what he says; X is true to his word.

Рабочие говорили: «Наш Анри словами не бросается…» Его любили за суровость, преданность, за большую душевную чистоту (Эренбург 1). The workers said: "Our Henri means what he says." They loved him for his sternness, devotion, and sterling honesty (1a).

С-341 • ДРУГИ́МИ ⟨ИНЫ́МИ⟩ СЛОВА́МИ [$NP_{instrum}$; these forms only; usu. sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] phrased in a different way: in other words; to put it differently ⟨another way⟩; [lim.] that is to say.

Теперь он [Фёдор] читал как бы в кубе, выхаживая каждый стих… Другими словами, он, читая, вновь пользовался всеми материалами, уже однажды собранными памятью для извлечения из них данных стихов… (Набоков 1). Now he [Fyodor] read in three dimensions, as it were, carefully exploring each poem…. In other words, as he read, he again made use of all the materials already once gathered by his memory for the extraction of the present poems… (1a).

С-342 • ИГРА́ТЬ СЛОВА́МИ ⟨В СЛОВА́⟩ [VP; subj: human] 1. to use words in a witty manner based on the substitution of one word (or meaning) for another: X играл словами ≃ X was playing on words; X was making plays on words; X was punning ⟨making puns⟩. ○ ИГРА́ СЛОВА́МИ ⟨В СЛОВА́⟩ [NP; sing only] ≃ play on words.

2. to speak evasively, using imprecise, ambiguous language: X играл словами ≃ X was giving (person Y) a lot of double-talk; X was double-talking (person Y); X was hedging. ○ ИГРА́ СЛОВА́МИ ⟨В СЛОВА́⟩ [NP; sing only] ≃ double-talk.

С-343 • ПОСЛЕ́ДНИМИ СЛОВА́МИ бранить, ругать кого, ругаться и т.п. coll [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to abuse s.o. verbally, curse etc) using indecent, highly offensive words: (curse ⟨berate etc⟩ s.o.) in the choicest ⟨vilest, foulest, crudest (possible)⟩ language ⟨terms⟩; (curse s.o. ⟨swear at s.o. etc⟩) for all one is worth.

Ругаясь последними словами, поплёвывая на асфальт, все трое стали говорить о ней [Ирине Викторовне]: какая у неё грудь, какие ноги… (Залыгин 1). …All three started talking about her [Irina Viktorovna], cursing in the choicest language and spitting on the asphalt: what breasts she had, what legs… (1a). ♦ Константин Иванович то восхваляет правительство, то поносит последними словами (Трифонов 6). Konstantin Ivanovich alternately extols the government and abuses it in the foulest language (6a).

С-344 • СВОЙ́МИ СЛОВА́МИ рассказывать, пересказывать, передавать что и т.п. [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to tell, recount etc sth.) not word for word, but conveying the main thought, the basic content: in one's own words.

Вот что я слышал в детстве о Джамхухе — Сыне Оленя и теперь своими словами пересказываю здесь (Искандер 5). That is what I heard in childhood about Jamkhoukh, Son of the Deer, and have retold here in my own words (5a).

С-345 • В ДВУХ ⟨В НЕ́СКОЛЬКИХ⟩ СЛОВА́Х рассказывать, объяснять что и т.п. [PrepP; these forms only; adv or sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] (to tell, explain etc sth.) concisely and simply: in a word; in two ⟨a few⟩ words; in short; in a nutshell; briefly; in brief; [lim.] (be) brief; [when used as a request or command] make it brief.

«Всё взять от партии и не отдать ей ничего… — вот, собственно, в двух словах, цель новой оппозиции» (Алешковский 1). "…Just take everything from the party and don't give anything back…. In a word, that's the new opposition's aim" (1a). ♦ [Лопахин:] Сейчас уеду, некогда разговаривать… ну, да я в двух-трёх словах (Чехов 2). [L.:] I'm just leaving and there isn't time to say much. Anyway, I'll be brief (2c).

С-346 • НА СЛОВА́Х [PrepP; Invar] 1. ~ рассказать, передать, доложить что и т.п. [adv] (to tell, recount, report etc sth.) in spoken form: (recount sth. ⟨relay a message etc⟩) orally ⟨verbally⟩; (give) an oral ⟨a verbal⟩ report ⟨account⟩ (of sth.); [in some contexts the idiom may be omitted in translation].

Решено было послать донесение в штаб. Для этого избран толковый офицер, Болховитинов, который, кроме письменного донесения, должен был на словах рассказать всё дело (Толстой 7). …It was decided to send a dispatch to the staff. An able officer, Bolkhovitinov, was chosen for the purpose; besides the written report, he was to give a verbal account of the whole affair (7a).

2. often disapprov [adv or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: это, всё это)] (s.o. states, proclaims etc sth.) insincerely, not supporting or intending to support his words by actions (the opposition between what is stated and what exists in reality is either overtly expressed, usu. by a clause beginning with на деле, or implied): in words; [lim.] pay lip service to; [as subj-compl only] just talk.

…Если нам дана эта жизнь, в ней должен быть смысл, хотя все поколения, с которыми я встретилась в жизни, начисто снимали этот вопрос… Идеалом стала математическая логика, но, к несчастью, только на словах (Мандельштам 2). If this life was given to us, it must have a meaning, although the very idea was dismissed out of hand by everybody, young and old, whom I have ever known in my lifetime…. Their ideal was logic of a mathematical kind, though they only paid lip service to it, alas (2a).

С-347 • ЛОВИ́ТЬ/ПОЙМА́ТЬ НА́ СЛО́ВЕ ⟨НА СЛОВА́Х⟩ кого coll [VP; subj: human] 1. [usu. pres, 1st pers sing] to accept s.o.'s statement as sincere and true, and act in accordance with what he said: ловлю тебя ⟨вас⟩ на слове ≃ I'll take you at your word; I'm going to take what you said ⟨your offer, your promise etc⟩ at face value; [lim.] I'll take you up on your ⟨the⟩ offer.

[Вася:] Папа… только что ты приглашал меня заходить почаще… [Я] ловлю тебя на слове (Арбузов 3). [V.:] Papa, you've asked me to come and see you more often. I'll take you at your word (3a).

2. [often neg imper] to interpret incorrectly what s.o. says or attribute to his words an unintended meaning based on his ambiguous wording, contradictory phrasing, or slip(s) of the tongue (one's misconstrual is usu. intentional and purposeful): Neg Imper не ловите меня на слове ≃ don't read into my words ⟨into what I said etc⟩ something that isn't ⟨wasn't⟩ there; don't take me ⟨what I said etc⟩ too literally; don't misinterpret ⟨misconstrue⟩ what I said ⟨I'm saying etc⟩; ‖ X поймал Y-а на слове ≃ [in refer. to a breach in logic] X caught Y.

Юмор должен проникнуть на все собрания, на все конференции, на все пленумы, на все съезды. Нет, меня на слове не поймаете, деловая часть не отменяется. Но все доклады, например, на съездах будут пронизаны юмором (Искандер 4). Humor must penetrate all meetings, all conferences, all plenary sessions, all congresses. No, don't take me too literally, the working sessions won't be abolished. But all the reports at the congresses, for example, will be shot through with humor (4a).

С-348 • НА ЧЕ́СТНОМ СЛО́ВЕ держаться coll, humor [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with держаться (subj: concr, usu. пуговица, крючок, брюки etc, or abstr); fixed WO] (of a button, a hook, s.o.'s pants etc) (to hang, be held) precariously, not securely; (of a venture, an undertaking etc) (to be) in a precarious state, liable to end badly: (be) hanging by a thread; [of a button etc only] (be) about (ready) to fall off ⟨down⟩; (be) practically ⟨almost⟩ falling off ⟨down⟩; [of a venture etc only] (be) likely to fall through ⟨to fail etc⟩; [lim.] (things are) touch-and-go.

Смотри, не потеряй пуговицу, она держится на честном слове. Be careful not to lose that button—it's about ready to fall off. ♦ Подполковник Горчаков был в ночной рубашке, в рейтузах, державшихся на честном слове, и в галошах на босу ногу (Лившиц 1). Lieutenant-Colonel Gorchakov was dressed in a nightshirt, in riding breeches which were almost falling down and in galoshes on his bare feet (1a).

С-349 • СПАСИ́БО НА ДО́БРОМ СЛО́ВЕ coll [formula phrase; Invar; fixed WO] an expression of gratitude for a word of approval, encouragement etc: thanks for the kind word; thank you for your ⟨those⟩ kind words.

«А знаешь, — сказал он [Михаил], — здоровому-то мужику теперь тяжельше… Ей-богу! Я пацаном был — мне легче было…» Илья как-то поспешно, словно боясь этого разговора, сунул ему руку, сказал: «Ладно, Михаил. Спасибо на добром слове» (Абрамов 1). "You know," he [Mikhail] said, "nowadays it's harder for a grown man. Really and truly! When I was just a kid, it was easier for me." As if afraid of this conversation, Ilya hastily thrust out his hand to Mikhail and said, "Okay, Mikhail. Thank you for those kind words" (1a).

С-350 • ЗАМО́ЛВИТЬ СЛОВЕ́ЧКО ⟨СЛО́ВО, СЛОВЦО́⟩ (кому за кого or о ком) coll [VP; subj: human] to speak well of s.o. to a person who is in an influential position, petition on s.o.'s behalf: X замолвил (Y-у) словечко за Z-а ≃ X put in a (good) word for Z (with Y); X spoke with Y on Z's behalf.

…Имел он [хозяин] в виду вот что: замолви у меньшевиков за меня словечко, а я в свою очередь прикушу язык, что ты сюда приезжал с военной тайной (Искандер 3). What he [the host] had in mind was this: Put in a word for me with the Mensheviks, and I in turn will hold my tongue about your coming here with a military secret (3a).

С-351 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ СЛО́ВО[1] [VP; subj: human] to speak on one's own initiative at a meeting, conference etc: X взял слово ≃ X took the floor; X spoke.

«Я протестую, — сказал Фарфуркис. — Во-первых, товарищ представитель снизу нарушил здесь все правила ведения заседания, взял слово, которое ему никто не давал, и вдобавок ещё

превысил регламент» (Стругацкие 3). “I protest,” said Farfurkis. “First of all, comrade representative from below violated all the rules of order for the meeting, took the floor, which no one had given him, and went over the time limit, on top of it” (3a).

С-352 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ СЛО́ВО[2] с кого [VP; subj: human] to have s.o. promise or assure one of sth.: X взял слово с Y-а ≃ X made Y promise ⟨swear⟩.

Он [Пастернак] поздравляет и отдает мне экземпляр пьесы, взяв слово, что я верну его ему… (Гладков 1). He [Pasternak] congratulated me and gave me back the play, after making me promise to return it… (1a).

С-353 • В ОДНО́ СЛО́ВО [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] 1. ~ сказать, подумать и т.п. coll (in refer. to words said by or thoughts occurring to two or more people at the same time) (to say, think etc sth.) simultaneously: [in refer. to speaking] in one voice; as one man; [in refer. to thinking] (we ⟨you and I etc⟩ are) thinking the exact same thing; [as indep. remark] my words ⟨thoughts⟩ exactly; (that’s) just what I said ⟨was saying, thought, was thinking⟩; you ⟨he etc⟩ took the words (right) out of my mouth.

[Почтмейстер:] А что думаю? Война с турками будет. [Аммос Фёдорович:] В одно слово! Я сам то же думал (Гоголь 4). [Postmaster:] What do I think? Why, there’s going to be a war with the Turks. [A.F.:] Just what I said! I thought the same myself (4c).

2. ~ говорить, утверждать substand (to make) the same utterance, (express) the same thought, (utter) the same words: (tell s.o. ⟨keep on saying etc⟩) the same thing; (say ⟨use⟩) the very (same) words; (give s.o.) the same story.

«Тем самым и Никитушка меня утешал, в одно слово, как ты, говорил: „Неразумная ты, говорит, чего плачешь, сыночек наш, наверно, теперь у господа бога вместе с ангелами воспевает“» (Достоевский 1). “My Nikitushka consoled me that same way, in the very words you used, he said: ‘You silly woman, why do you weep, our little son is sure to be now with the Lord God singing glorias with the angels’” (1b).

С-354 • ВЕ́РИТЬ/ПОВЕ́РИТЬ НА́ СЛОВО (кому) [VP; subj: human] to accept s.o.’s statement as being true without confirmation of the facts: X поверил Y-у на слово ≃ X took Y’s word for it; X took the word of Y; X took on trust ⟨on faith⟩ what Y said.

«Что вы мне предъявляете? И с кем я вообще имею честь беседовать?» — «Вам документы показать или… поверите на слово?» (Семёнов 1). “What are you charging me with? And anyway, to whom have I the honour of speaking?” “Would you like to see the documents or will you take our word for it?” (1a).

С-355 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ СЕБЕ́ СЛО́ВО [VP; subj: human] to decide firmly (to do sth.): X дал себе слово ≃ X promised himself; X made a promise to himself; X vowed ⟨swore⟩ to himself; X made himself a vow ⟨a promise⟩; X vowed (to do sth.).

Направляясь в мурьёвскую глушь, я, помнится, ещё в Москве давал себе слово держать себя солидно (Булгаков 6). Back in Moscow, when I found out that I was to go to remote Muryovo, I had promised myself that I would behave in a dignified manner (6a). ♦ «Отчего вы не служите в армии?» — «После Аустерлица! — мрачно сказал князь Андрей. — Нет, покорно благодарю, я дал себе слово, что служить в действующей русской армии я не буду» (Толстой 5). “Why aren’t you serving in the army?” “After Austerlitz!” said Prince Andrei somberly. “No, thank you; I vowed never again to go on active service in the Russian army” (5a).

С-356 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ СЛО́ВО[1] (кому); ПРЕДОСТАВЛЯ́ТЬ/ПРЕДОСТА́ВИТЬ СЛО́ВО [VP; subj: human] to allow s.o. to speak (usu. at a meeting, conference etc): X дал слово Y-у ≃ X gave Y the floor; X let Y have the floor; X gave Y the opportunity ⟨the chance⟩ to speak; X called on ⟨upon⟩ Y to speak.

Хочешь высказаться, тяни повыше руку, заметят — дадут слово, не то что в Союзе писателей (Войнович 3). You want to express yourself, just raise your hand, they’ll notice you and give you the floor, not like in the Writer’s Union (3a).

С-357 • ДАВА́ТЬ/ДАТЬ СЛО́ВО[2] [VP; subj: human] 1. ~ (кому) [usu. foll. by infin or a что-clause] to make a promise to s.o., assure s.o. of sth. or guarantee sth. with an oath: X дал (Y-у) слово ≃ X gave ⟨pledged⟩ his word (to Y); X promised (Y).

Василиса Егоровна принудила его во всём признаться, дав ему слово не рассказывать о том никому (Пушкин 2). Vasilisa Yegorovna forced him to tell her everything; she promised not to breathe a word to anyone (2c). ♦ «…Дай мне слово никогда не охотиться на оленей!» (Искандер 5). “…Pledge me your word never to hunt deer!” (5a).

2. obsoles [subj: usu. female] to agree to marry s.o.: X дала слово Y-у ≃ X pledged to marry Y.

С-358 • ДЕРЖА́ТЬ/СДЕРЖА́ТЬ (СВОЁ) СЛО́ВО [VP; subj: human] to fulfill one’s promise: X сдержал слово ≃ X kept his word ⟨promise⟩; X was true to his word; X was as good as his word; X made good on his promise; || Neg X не сдержал слова ≃ X went back on his word ⟨promise⟩; X failed to keep his word; X reneged on his promise ⟨word, commitment etc⟩; X broke his promise.

Бенгальский сдержал слово и никому не сказал, что гейшею был наряжен мальчик (Сологуб 1). Bengal’sky kept his word and didn’t tell anyone that the geisha was a disguised boy (1a).

С-359 • ЖИВО́Е СЛО́ВО [NP; sing only] 1. lit oral speech as opposed to written matter: the living word; living speech.

…Может быть, в сей же самой повести почуются иные, ещё доселе небранные струны, предстанет несметное богатство русского духа, пройдёт муж, одарённый божескими доблестями, или чудная русская девица, какой не сыскать нигде в мире, со всей дивной красотой женской души, вся из великодушного стремления и самоотвержения. И мёртвыми покажутся пред ними все добродетельные люди других племён, как мертва книга перед живым словом (Гоголь 3). …Perhaps in this very narrative, chords until now unplayed will resound, chords that will convey the infinite wealth of the Russian spirit, and perhaps there’ll emerge a man endowed with supernatural virtues or a divine Russian maiden unequaled in the world in the spiritual beauty of her feminine soul, filled to the brim with generosity and abnegation. And the virtuous people of all other tribes will appear dead to us, as a book is dead compared to the living word… (3e).

С-360 • ЗАКИ́ДЫВАТЬ/ЗАКИ́НУТЬ СЛО́ВО ⟨СЛОВЕ́ЧКО, СЛОВЦО́⟩ obs [VP; subj: human] 1. ~ (кому о чём). Also: ЗАПУСКА́ТЬ/ЗАПУСТИ́ТЬ СЛОВЕ́ЧКО [usu. pfv] to make a passing remark about or allude to sth.: X закинул словечко (Y-у о Z-е) ≃ X mentioned Z (to Y); X dropped (Y) a hint about Z.

[1-й мужик:] А ты помни, как он [Василий Леонидыч] слово закинул, чтоб мяту сеять? [2-й мужик:] Как же, мяту сей, вишь.

Ты попытай-ка, горбом поворочай — запросишь мяты небось… (Толстой 3). [First Peasant:] And remember how he [Vasili Leonidych] mentioned sowing mint?… [Second Peasant:] Sure, raise mint! He should try and do a little work—he wouldn't be so fast to talk about mint (3a).

2. (кому о ком or за кого) [pfv only] to speak well of s.o. to a person in an influential position, petition on s.o.'s behalf: X закинул (Y-у) словечко за Z-а ≃ X put in a (good) word for ⟨regarding⟩ Z (with Y); X spoke with Y on Z's behalf.

[Пётр:] Тятенька таки о тебе словечко закинул, а она ему напрямки: «просватана» (Островский 7). [P.:] Dad had just started putting in a word regarding you, when she came out flat with: "She's engaged" (7a).

C-361 • КРЁПКОЕ СЛО́ВО ⟨СЛОВЦО́⟩ coll [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a profane word or expression: strong ⟨off-color⟩ language; unprintable name; swearword; curse word.

«Что ж ты врёшь?» — говорит капитан-исправник с прибавкою кое-какого крепкого словца (Гоголь 3). "Why are you lying?" says the police captain with the addition of some strong language (3a).

C-362 • ЛОВИ́ТЬ КА́ЖДОЕ СЛО́ВО чьё coll [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to listen to s.o. very attentively, trying to let nothing he says slip by: X ловит каждое Y-ово слово ≃ X hangs on Y's every word; X catches everything Y says; X tries not to miss a single word (that) Y says.

Вчерашний трудолюбивый затворник, не читающий газет, превратился в модную и сенсационную фигуру. За ним [Пастернаком] охотились иностранные корреспонденты, ловившие каждое его слово (Гладков 1). The hard-working recluse who never read the newspapers had become almost overnight a sensational, much sought-after figure. He was pursued by foreign journalists who hung on his every word (1a).

C-363 • НО́ВОЕ СЛО́ВО в чём [NP; sing only; often subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: concr or abstr); fixed WO] the most recent, original, major achievement in some sphere of science, technology, or culture that significantly moves the field forward: a (major) breakthrough; a (giant) step forward; a major advance; groundbreaking work ⟨a groundbreaking discovery etc⟩; || сказать новое слово в интерпретации ⟨понимании и т.п.⟩ чего ≃ add new dimensions to the interpretation ⟨the understanding etc⟩ of sth.; lift the interpretation ⟨the understanding etc⟩ of sth. to a higher level ⟨to new heights⟩.

Ваша последняя работа — это новое слово в иммунологии. Your latest work is a major advance in immunology. ♦ Своей постановкой «Горя от ума» Товстоногов сказал новое слово в прочтении грибоедовской пьесы. Through his staging of Woe From Wit, Tovstonogov added new dimensions to the interpretation of Griboedov's play.

C-364 • ПЕ́РВОЕ СЛО́ВО в чём [NP; sing only; subj-compl with copula, nom or instrum (subj: concr or abstr); fixed WO] the very beginning (of a project, some work etc): (be ⟨mark⟩) the beginning of sth.; (be) the start ⟨the starting point⟩ of sth.

C-365 • ПОД ЧЕ́СТНОЕ СЛО́ВО дать, одолжить что и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to give, lend etc sth.) relying on s.o.'s honesty and his promise to return it: on s.o.'s word of honor; on s.o.'s word alone; on trust.

«Главное… заиметь личную дружбу с милицией. Когда было собрание, на котором меня принимали в партию, я был посажен на пятнадцать суток за мелкое хулиганство. Так меня под честное слово выпустили» (Зиновьев 2). "The main thing… is to make personal friends of the police. On the day of the meeting when I was to be admitted to the party, I was put inside for fourteen [sic] days for a breach of the peace. Well, I was released simply on my word of honour" (2a). ♦ Борис одолжил мне деньги под честное слово, расписку взять не захотел. Boris lent me money on trust—he didn't want to take an IOU.

C-366 • ПОМЯНИ́(ТЕ) ⟨ПОПО́МНИ(ТЕ)⟩ МОЁ СЛО́ВО; ПОМЯНИ́(ТЕ) ⟨ПОПО́МНИ(ТЕ)⟩ МЕНЯ́ all coll [VP_{imper}; these forms only; usu. a clause in a compound sent; fixed WO] you can be sure that what I am saying is true or will come to pass: (you) mark my words; take my word for it.

Помяните моё слово, эта ошибка ещё даст о себе знать роковым образом (Зиновьев 1). Mark my words, this mistake will have fateful consequences in the future (1a).

C-367 • ПОСЛЕ́ДНЕЕ СЛО́ВО[1] чего [NP; sing only; fixed WO] the most novel, recent innovation in science, technology, art, fashion etc: the last word; the latest (thing); the most up-to-date [NP]; [lim.] the most advanced [NP]; || в месте X всё оборудовано по последнему слову техники ≃ place X is equipped with all the latest technology; everything in place X is state-of-the-art.

Снимок с последней вещи Пикассо. Его лишь недавно привезла из Парижа Экстер. Последнее слово французской живописи (Лившиц 1). It's a photograph of Picasso's latest painting. Exter had just brought it from Paris. The last word in French painting (1a).

C-368 • ПОСЛЕ́ДНЕЕ СЛО́ВО[2] [NP; sing only; fixed WO]

1. the final and decisive point (in an argument, discussion etc) or the final decision or conclusive judgment (in some matter): the last word; the final word ⟨say⟩.

Получается впечатление, что упрямый Чернышевский как бы желает иметь последнее слово в споре… (Набоков 1). One gets the impression that the stubborn Chernyshevski wants to have the last word in the quarrel… (1a).

2. the defendant's statement made directly prior to the pronouncement of the verdict: concluding ⟨final⟩ statement; final plea ⟨word⟩.

В последнем слове я сказал [суду], что испытываю чувство безнадёжности, тем, что я говорю, просто пренебрегают, — если меня осуждают за слова, то должны принимать мои слова всерьёз (Амальрик 1). In my final plea, I told the court I was nearly overcome by a feeling of hopelessness when I realized that everything I said was simply ignored; that if I was to be judged by what I said, then what I said should be taken seriously (1a).

C-369 • ПРА́ВО СЛО́ВО substand [Invar; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] (used by the speaker to emphasize the truth of a statement) what I am saying is really true: no fooling; honest(ly); I mean it; (up)on my word.

«Любочку зря ты обидел, она прямо как ягодка — красавица, глаз с неё не свесть [obs or substand = свести]. Был бы помоложе — отбил бы, право слово, Витёк…» (Семёнов 1). "It was silly of you to offend your Lyubka, she's a real peach—a beauty, impossible to take one's eyes off her. If I was younger I'd cut you out there, honest I would, Victor…" (1a). ♦ [Разлюляев:] А после праздника женюсь!.. Право слово, женюсь! (Островский 2). [R.:] And after the holidays I shall marry!—Upon my word I shall marry! (2a).

С-370 • СКАЗА́ТЬ СВОЁ СЛО́ВО (в чём) [VP; subj: human, collect, or abstr; more often fut] to act in such a way as to influence (some course of events, the development of some situation etc): X скажет своё слово ≃ X will make his ⟨its⟩ presence felt; X will have an impact ⟨a notable impact etc⟩ (on sth.); [with subj: abstr only] X will have its say.

[Звонцов:] Общественные силы организуются закономерно и скоро скажут своё слово (Горький 2). [Z.:] The social forces are rallying systematically and will soon have their say (2a).

С-371 • СЛО́ВО В СЛО́ВО повторять, пересказывать, запоминать что и т.п.; ДО СЛО́ВА [NP or PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to repeat, recount, memorize etc sth.) precisely: (repeat ⟨memorize etc⟩ sth.) word for word; (repeat ⟨copy etc⟩ sth.) verbatim ⟨straight from the text(book)⟩; (remember ⟨recall etc⟩) every word (of sth.).

Я просто списываю — слово в слово — то, что сегодня напечатано в Государственной Газете… (Замятин 1). I shall simply copy, word for word, the proclamation that appeared today in the One State Gazette… (1a). ♦ Балашов всё ещё читал свой конспект. Старший политрук его слушал рассеянно, зная, что Балашов боец аккуратный, наверняка переписал в конспект всё слово в слово из учебника и никаких неожиданностей в его ответе быть не может (Войнович 2). Balashov was still reading his notes. The senior politruk was only half listening, certain that conscientious Balashov had copied everything straight from the textbook and would not say anything the least bit surprising (2a).

С-372 • СЛО́ВО ЗА́ СЛОВО coll [Invar; adv or indep. clause] 1. ~ (разговориться, познакомиться, расспросить и т.п.) (to get to talking) in a gradual, natural manner, with each participant's remarks eliciting a response from the other; (to get to know s.o., question s.o. etc) in a gradual, natural manner in the course of a conversation: [in past contexts] one word ⟨thing⟩ led to another; as the conversation progressed (one got to know s.o. ⟨asked s.o. sth. etc⟩); little by little (one got to talking with s.o. ⟨convinced s.o. of sth. etc⟩).

[Кашкина:] Как это вы вдруг… разговорились? [Шаманов (насмешливо):] Да так, очень просто. Я сделал ей комплимент, она… Да, вот так, слово за слово… (Вампилов 2). [K.:] How come you two suddenly started… talking? [Sh. (Mockingly):] Oh, it was very simple. I paid her a compliment, and she…. And then, one thing led to another (2b).

2. ~ (рассориться, разругаться и т.п.) [usu. used with pfv verbs] (to quarrel, have an argument with s.o. etc) with increasing intensity: one word provoked another; one hard ⟨harsh⟩ word brought another; one thing led to another; (the argument became more heated ⟨one became more brash etc⟩) with every word.

…Ребров потерял равновесие. Слово за слово — и все, будто только того и ждали, закрутились в эту воронку (Трифонов 1). …He [Rebrov] lost his self-control. One word provoked another, and this seemed to be all that was needed for the volcano to erupt (1a).

С-373 • СЛО́ВО НЕ ВОРОБЕ́Й, ВЫ́ЛЕТИТ — НЕ ПОЙМА́ЕШЬ [saying] words that are said cannot be taken back: ≃ spoken words are like flown birds—neither can be recalled; a word spoken is past recalling; words once spoken you can never recall; a word too much cannot be recalled; what is said cannot be unsaid.

Потом, уже в эмиграции, в конце жизни, Бунин вычеркнул мистиков, богоискателей, поэтов, эстетов [из своего стихотворения]… Но я не признаю этой самоцензуры. Что написано — написано. Слово не воробей (Катаев 3). Later as an emigré, towards the end of his life, Bunin deleted the mystics, god-seekers, poets and aesthetes [from his poem]…. But I do not accept this self-censorship. What is written is written. What is said cannot be unsaid (3a).

С-374 • СЛО́ВО — СЕРЕБРО́, МОЛЧА́НИЕ — ЗО́ЛОТО [saying] it is better to be silent than to say something you will regret later: ≃ speech is silver, silence is golden; speech is (of) silver, silence is gold; words are silver and silence is gold; [lim.] silence is golden; a shut mouth catches no flies.

«…Ничего и не надо рассказывать. Обо всём самое лучшее молчок теперь… Это истина вечная. Слово серебро, а молчание золото» (Пастернак 1). "…Don't start telling anything at all. It's better to keep your mouth shut…. Speech is of silver, silence is gold. That has always been true (1a)."

С-375 • ЧЕ́РЕЗ КА́ЖДОЕ СЛО́ВО ругаться, повторять, благодарить, цитировать и т.п. [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to curse, repeat sth., thank s.o., quote sth. etc) continually: every other word; with every other breath; the whole time; all the time.

Старуха хлебнула горя с мужем. Он был человек пьющий, скандальный… И через каждое слово по-матерному (Гроссман 2). The old woman had had a hard time with her husband. He was a drunkard—and a very quarrelsome one at that… And he cursed and swore the whole time (2a).

С-376 • ЧЕ́СТНОЕ СЛО́ВО [NP; sing only; usu. sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] (used to emphasize the truth of a statement) I am really telling the truth: word of honor; (up)on my honor ⟨word⟩; honest to goodness ⟨to God⟩; honest; I swear (it); [lim.] take my word for it; really.

[Кай:] Растерялся я… Честное слово. Совершенно растерялся (Арбузов 2). [K.:] I lost my head. Word of honour. I completely lost my head (2a). ♦ «Вы можете в Москве в два дня сделать дело, честное слово!» (Федин 1). "You can do your business in Moscow in two days, take my word for it!" (1a).

С-377 • ВЛАДЕ́ТЬ СЛО́ВОМ ⟨ДА́РОМ СЛО́ВА⟩ [VP; subj: human; the verb may take the final position, otherwise fixed WO] to possess the ability to speak and write expressively, eloquently: X владеет словом ≃ X has a way with words; X is good ⟨expert⟩ with words; X is a master of the spoken ⟨written⟩ word; X is a real wordsmith; [lim.] X has a silver tongue ⟨is silver-tongued⟩.

«Главный дар поэта — его воображение. Богатое, бурное, стремительное воображение — именно этим отличались Маяковский и Есенин от множества отлично владевших словом непоэтов» (Гладков 1). "A poet's main gift is imagination. A rich, boisterous, unruly imagination is what distinguished Mayakovski and Yesenin from all the non-poets who were merely expert with words" (1a).

С-378 • ЗА СЛО́ВОМ В КАРМА́Н НЕ ЛЕ́ЗЕТ ⟨НЕ ЛА́ЗИТ, НЕ ХО́ДИТ obs⟩/НЕ ПОЛЕ́ЗЕТ coll, often approv [VP; subj: human; infin without negation is used with не привык, не надо etc] one is quick to respond in a discussion, conversation, argument etc: X за словом в карман не лезет ≃ X is never at a loss for words ⟨for something to say⟩; X never has to search for words; X doesn't lack for words; X (always) has a ready answer; [lim.] X is fast on the comeback.

Слыхала, слыхала она [Лизка] от этого злыдня кое-что и похлестче — за словом Егорша в карман не лез (Абрамов 1). It was true that she [Lizka] had heard nastier words from that stinker before—Egorsha was never at a loss for something to say (1a).

С-379 • НЕ ОБМО́ЛВИТЬСЯ СЛО́ВОМ ⟨НИ (ЕДИ́НЫМ) СЛО́ВОМ, НИ СЛОВЕ́ЧКОМ⟩ (о ком-чём) coll [VP; subj: human] to refrain totally from mentioning s.o. or sth.: X ни единым словом не обмолвился (об Y-е) ≃ X didn't say a word ⟨a thing⟩ (about Y); X didn't mention Y at all; X didn't utter ⟨breathe⟩ a word (about Y).

После какой-то рюмки, однако, Виктор вспомнил, что Ирма ни словом не обмолвилась о его диком поведении у перекрёстка (Стругацкие 1). After an indefinite number of drinks Victor remembered that Irma had not breathed a word about his dreadful behavior at the crossroads (1a).

С-380 • ОДНИ́М СЛО́ВОМ ⟨СЛО́ВОМ СКАЗА́ТЬ obs, coll⟩ [these forms only; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] (used to introduce a summary of what has been stated or to replace part of a narration that the speaker is omitting) briefly: in a word; in short; in brief; [lim.] to make a long story short.

[Тригорин:] Тороплюсь кончить повесть, и затем ещё обещал дать что-нибудь в сборник. Одним словом — старая история (Чехов 6). [T.:] I'm in a hurry to finish a story, and I've promised to give something else to an anthology. In short—the same old thing (6c).

С-381 • ПЕРЕКИ́НУТЬСЯ ⟨ПЕРЕБРО́СИТЬСЯ, ПЕРЕМО́ЛВИТЬСЯ⟩ СЛО́ВОМ ⟨СЛОВЕ́ЧКОМ, СЛОВЦО́М, ДВУМЯ́ СЛОВА́МИ⟩ (с кем) coll; ПЕРЕБРО́СИТЬ ⟨ПЕРЕКИ́НУТЬ obs⟩ СЛО́ВО ⟨СЛОВЕ́ЧКО⟩ с кем substand [VP; subj: human; if there is no obj, subj: pl (variants with reflexive verbs)] to speak with s.o. briefly, make a few remarks back and forth: X перекинулся словом с Y-ом ⟨X и Y перекинулись двумя словами⟩ ≃ X exchanged a word ⟨a few words⟩ with Y; X had a quick word with Y.

Этап, этап… На этот раз одиночный, так что даже словом перебросится не с кем (Гинзбург 2). One forced march and then another. This time I was all on my own, so there was no other prisoner even to exchange a word with (2a).

С-382 • ПОМИНА́ТЬ/ПОМЯНУ́ТЬ НЕДО́БРЫМ СЛО́ВОМ кого-что [VP; subj: human; often neg imper] to say or think negative, bad things about s.o. or sth. when recalling him or it: X поминает Y-а недобрым словом ≃ X thinks ill ⟨badly⟩ of Y; X thinks ⟨speaks⟩ unkindly of ⟨about⟩ Y; X has a harsh word to say about Y; X doesn't have a good word ⟨thing⟩ to say about Y.

Ровно в полночь все двенадцать литераторов покинули верхний этаж и спустились в ресторан. Тут опять про себя недобрым словом помянули Михаила Александровича… (Булгаков 9). At precisely midnight all twelve writers quit the upper floor and went down to the restaurant. Here again they had cause to think unkindly about Mikhail Alexandrovich… (9c).

С-383 • К СЛО́ВУ[1] пришлось, пришёлся и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv or sent adv (parenth)] (s.o. says sth. because) it seems appropriate, comes to mind, is suggested by the course of the conversation: к слову пришлось ≃ it ⟨he etc⟩ (just) happened to come up (in conversation ⟨in the conversation etc⟩); since ⟨now that, as long as⟩ I'm ⟨we're etc⟩ on the subject ⟨topic⟩ (of…); it fits in with what I'm ⟨we're etc⟩ talking about.

«…Я упомянула о своём состоянии только потому, что к слову пришлось» (Тургенев 2). "I only mentioned my fortune because it happened to come up" (2e). "…I mentioned my income simply because it seemed appropriate at the time" (2g).

С-384 • К СЛО́ВУ[2]; К СЛО́ВУ СКАЗА́ТЬ ⟨ГОВОРЯ́⟩ [these forms only; sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] as an aside or additional comment connected to or suggested by the topic at hand: by the way; by the by; incidentally; [lim.] come to think of it; I should mention (that…).

…С той стороны реки паром уже приближался. К слову сказать, сколько я ни напрягал свой ум, а у меня, слава богу, есть, что напрягать, я никак не мог понять, какая сила движет паром поперёк реки (Искандер 3). …The ferry was already drawing near from the other side of the river. By the way, no matter how hard I strain my mind, and thank God I do have a mind to strain, I cannot understand what force moves the ferry across the river (3a).

С-385 • ДЛЯ ⟨РА́ДИ⟩ КРА́СНОГО СЛОВЦА́ говорить, острить и т.п. coll, occas. disapprov [PrepP; these forms only; adv; fixed WO] (to say sth.) in an attempt to show how witty, clever etc one is, in order to show off in conversation: just for (the) effect; (just) to create an impression; [lim.] just to be witty; for (its) eloquence alone; to make it sound good.

Она нисколёшенько не верила Егоршиным сказкам насчёт коровы. Сбрехнул, для красного словца сказал (Абрамов 1). She did not believe Egorsha's yarn about the cow one little bit. He was fibbing; he'd said it just for effect (1a). ♦ Пушкин как-то сказал: «Гений и злодейство несовместны»… И чем больше я думаю о литературе и судьбах писателей, тем больше убеждаюсь, что сказано это было не для красного словца (Войнович 1). Pushkin once said: "Genius and crime are incompatible."… The more I think about literature and the fates of various writers, the more I am convinced that Pushkin did not make that statement for its eloquence alone (1a).

С-386 • КРА́СНОЕ СЛОВЦО́ [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a witty word or phrase that produces an effect on the listeners: clever ⟨scintillating⟩ remark; apt remark; [lim.] flash of wit; quip; one-liner; [usu. disapprov] (mere) rhetoric.

Первый удар я намечал — письмо министру внутренних дел — ударить их о крепостном праве… (Не красное словцо, действительно таково: крепостное) (Солженицын 2). The first blow I had planned was my letter to the Minister of the Interior, in which I flung the word "serfdom" in their faces…. (This was not mere rhetoric—serfdom is the only word for it) (2a).

С-387 • В О́БЩЕЙ СЛО́ЖНОСТИ [PrepP; Invar; adv or sent adv; fixed WO] in sum: altogether; (all) in all; in toto; all told; taken together; as a sum total; [when used with Num only] a total of [Num]; [Num] in all.

У самой Аны детей не было. Зато у её трёх братьев и двух сестёр было в общей сложности 44 ребёнка… (Лимонов 1). Ana herself had no children. But all in all her three brothers and two sisters had forty-four children… (1a). ♦ Просидев в общей сложности года три, Адам Козлевич пришёл к той мысли, что гораздо удобнее заниматься открытым накоплением своей собственности, чем тайным похищением чужой (Ильф и Петров 2). After a total of about three years in jail, Adam Kozlevich decided that it was much better to accumulate your own property honestly and overtly than to take it from others covertly (2d).

С-388 • (как) СЛОН В ПОСУ́ДНОЙ ЛА́ВКЕ coll [NP; sing only; adv (when used after как only) or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: human); fixed WO] one is clumsy, awkward: (be ⟨move etc⟩ like) a bull in a china shop.

С-389 • СЛОНА́ НЕ ПРИМЕ́ТИТЬ [VP; subj: human; usu. past; fixed WO] not to notice the most important, significant thing: слона-то Х и не приметил ≃ X overlooked the obvious. Cf. visit Rome and not notice the Pope.

< From Ivan Krylov's fable "The Sightseer" («Любопытный»), 1814.

С-390 • КАК ⟨ЧТО⟩ СЛОНУ́ ДРОБИ́НА ⟨ДРОБИ́НКА⟩ (кому) coll [как etc + NP; these forms only; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: concr, usu. a noun denoting a small quantity of food or drink); fixed WO] sth. is insufficient in quantity for s.o.: X (Y-y) ~ ≃ X is like buckshot to an elephant; X is a drop in the bucket (for Y); [of food only] X is not enough to make a dent in Y's appetite; X isn't enough to fill a cavity; [of a drink only] X is not enough to wet Y's whistle.

…Тоненько закрученные сигаретки джойнтов он купил, раскрутил, смешал с обычным сигарным табаком и курил… Конечно, было понятно теперь, почему марихуана не действовала на него, он жаловался на это всё время. «Это же как слону дробинка, курить-то нужно именно эту тоненькую, уже готовую сигаретку, ни с чем не смешивая» (Лимонов 1). …He bought joints that had been rolled into nice slim cigarettes, unrolled them, mixed them with ordinary cigar tobacco, and then smoked them. Now it was clear, of course, why marijuana didn't affect him; he was always complaining about it. "That's like buckshot to an elephant. You're supposed to smoke that nice slim ready-made cigarette without mixing it with anything" (1a).

С-391 • СЛОНЫ́ ⟨СЛОНО́В⟩ СЛОНЯ́ТЬ obs, substand, disapprov [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to walk about without reason or aim: X слоны слонял ≃ X was roaming ⟨wandering⟩ around (aimlessly).

С-392 • ВАШ ⟨ТВОЙ⟩ ПОКО́РНЫЙ СЛУГА́; ВАШ ПОКО́РНЕЙШИЙ СЛУГА́ [NP; sing only; fixed WO] 1. obs [formula phrase] a courteous closing to a letter: your obedient ⟨(most) humble, most respectful⟩ servant.

«Ну, что нового у вас [в канцелярии]?» — спросил Обломов. «Да много кое-чего: в письмах отменили писать „покорнейший слуга", пишут „примите уверение"»… (Гончаров 1). "Well, what's new with you?" asked Oblomov. "Oh! all kind of things; in letters there's no more of 'your obedient servant', now it's 'accept my assurances'"(1c).

2. used when the speaker wants to avoid saying «я», «меня» etc: yours truly; your humble ⟨obedient, faithful⟩ servant.

«…Завтра будут разбираться другие дела. Ваше не будет». Тем не менее завтра, 4 апреля, пишущий эти строки решил посетить райисполком и лично убедиться, что его дело не будет рассмотрено. И вот мы идем втроём: управдом Емышев, один из членов правления и ваш покорный слуга (Войнович 3). "…Tomorrow other matters will be investigated. Not yours." Nevertheless, the next day, April 4, the writer of these lines decided to visit the Regional Executive Committee personally and satisfy himself that this matter would not be considered. And so there were three of us: the building manager, Emyshev, one of the board members, and your humble servant (3a).

3. obs [indep. sent or subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: я), pres only] I am ready to do anything you want me to, to help you in any way: (I am) at your service; I am your humble ⟨obedient⟩ servant.

…По дороге от барского дома показались две женщины и человек в белой шляпе, шедшие к офицерам. «В розовом моя, чур не отбивать!» — сказал Ильин, заметив решительно подбегавшую к нему Дуняшу… — «Что, моя красавица, нужно?» — сказал Ильин, улыбаясь. «Княжна приказала спросить, какого вы полка и как ваша фамилия?» — «Это граф Ростов, эскадронный командир, а я ваш покорный слуга» (Толстой 6). "…Two women and a man in a white hat appeared on the road leading from the big house, coming toward the officers. "The one in pink is mine, so keep off!" said Ilyin, catching sight of Dunyasha resolutely advancing toward them.… "What do you want, my pretty one?" asked Ilyin with a smile. "The Princess sent me to ask your regiment and your name." "This is Count Rostov, squadron commander, and I am your humble servant" (6a).

С-393 • СЛУГА́ ДВУХ ГОСПО́Д rather derog [NP; sing only; fixed WO] a person who tries to please simultaneously two persons, groups etc with opposite viewpoints, goals etc: servant of two masters.

По какому-то неопределённому признаку Юрий Андреевич вообразил, что Комаровский завёл в эту минуту речь именно о нём… в том духе, что он человек ненадёжный («слуга двух господ» — почудилось Юрию Андреевичу), что неизвестно, кто ему дороже, семья или Лара, и что Ларе нельзя на него положиться… (Пастернак 1). Something made Yurii Andreievich feel that just then Komarovsky was speaking about him, saying something to the effect that he should not be trusted ("serving two masters," he thought he heard), that it was impossible to tell if he were more attached to Lara or to his family, that Lara must not rely on him… (1a).

< The title of the Russian translation of Carlo Goldoni's play Il servitore di due padroni, 1745; of Biblical origin (Matt. 6:24, Luke 16:13).

С-394 • СЛУГА́ НАРО́ДА often iron [NP; fixed WO] a person, often an elected official or legislator, who has devoted himself to defending the cause of the people (ironic usage is usu. emphasized by quotation marks): (true) servant of the people.

Особенно просто, хорошо говорил он с пожилыми заводскими работницами и колхозницами, — всем нравилось, что секретарь — слуга народа, что он жестоко придирается к снабженцам, орсовцам, комендантам общежитий, а если надо, и к директорам заводов и МТС, когда они пренебрегают интересами трудового человека (Гроссман 2). He had a particular gift for talking to middle-aged women in factories and collective farms. They liked the way he showed himself to be a true servant of the people, the way he was ready to attack managers, food suppliers, wardens of hostels, managers of tractor-stations and factories, if they failed to take into account the interests of the working man (2a).

С-395 • СЛУГА́ ПОКО́РНЫЙ iron [NP; sing only; usu. used as indep. sent; fixed WO] (used to express refusal or disagreement) no, I do not want to: thank you very much; thanks a million; thanks, but no thanks; thank you, no.

[Мышлаевский:] Спереди красногвардейцы, как стена, сзади спекулянты и всякая рвань с гетманом, а я посредине? Слуга покорный! Нет, мне надоело изображать навоз в проруби. Пусть мобилизуют! (Булгаков 4). [M.:] In front the Red Guards like a wall, behind the speculators and all kinds of trash with the Hetman,—and in between—me? Thank you very much! No, I'm sick and tired of playing the dung in the ice hole. Let them mobilize me! (4a).

С-396 • НЕ В СЛУ́ЖБУ, А В ДРУ́ЖБУ [PrepP; Invar; indep. clause or adv; fixed WO] (said when asking s.o. to render a service) out of kindness rather than a sense of duty: do s.o. a favor (and do sth.); (do sth.) as a (special) favor; you're not obliged to but I'd be much obliged if you did.

Втроём они в два приёма опорожнили бутылку, и Храмов, выудив из пиджака красненькую, протянул её Ивану: «Иван Никитич, не в службу, как говорят, а в дружбу… я бы и сам, но боюсь — не дойду… пустая бутылка стала наводить на меня тоску…» (Максимов 3). When the three of them had emptied the bottle in two rounds, Khramov fished a ten out of his jacket and held it out to Lyovushkin. “Ivan Nikitich, you know what they say—you’re not obliged to but I’d be much obliged if you did…. I’d go myself only I’m afraid I’d never make it…. This empty bottle has begun to depress me” (3a).

С-397 • СОСЛУЖИ́ТЬ СЛУ́ЖБУ [VP] 1. ~ кому-чему (какую) [subj: human] to have done sth. that benefits s.o. or sth., is useful to s.o. or sth.: X сослужил службу Y-у ≃ X did ⟨rendered, occasioned⟩ Y a service; X did person Y a favor; X did person Y a good turn.

[Мурзавецкая:] Как по-твоему, кому ты должен служить: мне или ей? [Чугунов:] Никому, кроме вас, благодетельница. [Мурзавецкая:] Вот и сослужи своей благодетельнице службу великую, избавь её от заботы! Ведь иссушил меня племянничек-то. [Чугунов:] Ничего-с, можно-с, не извольте беспокоиться (Островский 5). [M.:] In your opinion, whom ought you to serve, me or her? [Ch.:] No one but you, my benefactress. [M.:] Then do your benefactress a great service; save her from anxiety. You know my nephew has been a vexation to me. [Ch.:] Don’t worry; it can be done. Please don’t be uneasy (5a).

2. usu. сослужить свою службу [subj: concr or collect] (of an object) to fulfill its function, (of a group, organization etc) to fulfill its mission (usu. with the implication that the object or group in question has exhausted its usefulness): X сослужил свою службу ≃ X has served its purpose; X has done its job.

[author’s usage] Этот аппарат уже отслужил свою службу и больше в таком виде ему [Сталину] не нужен, ему нужен другой аппарат… (Рыбаков 2). This organization had served its purpose and had no further use in its present form; he [Stalin] needed a new one… (2a).

3. usu. сослужить какую (usu. хорошую, неплохую, плохую, недобрую etc) службу кому-чему [subj: usu. concr or abstr] to have had a certain (a positive, a harmful etc) effect on s.o. or sth.: X сослужил Y-у хорошую службу ≃ X was (really) helpful to Y; X stood Y in good stead; || X сослужил Y-у плохую службу ≃ X did Y a disservice; X did Y harm; [lim.] X did Y more harm than good.

Даже лёгкий намёк на знакомство [с Мятлевым] мог сослужить ей [Лавинии] дурную службу… (Окуджава 2). Even the slightest hint that they [Myatlev and Lavinia] might be acquainted could do her a disservice… (2a).

С-398 • СТА́ВИТЬ/ПОСТА́ВИТЬ что НА СЛУ́ЖБУ кому-чему lit or media [VP; subj: human; fixed WO] to apply sth. (one’s talents, discoveries etc) or dedicate sth. (one’s life, work etc) to furthering some cause or serving some person’s or organization’s interests: X поставил Y на службу Z-у ≃ X placed Y at the service of Z.

Начиная с 1968 года мне здесь [в кабинете генерала Ильина] неоднократно объясняли, что я поставил своё перо на службу каким-то разведкам… (Войнович 3). Since 1968… it had been repeatedly explained to me in this [General Ilin’s] office that I had placed my pen at the service of some sort of intelligence agency… (3a).

С-399 • АБСОЛЮ́ТНЫЙ СЛУХ music [NP; fixed WO] the ability to sing any named note or identify any heard pitch without relying on a surrounding musical context, an instrument etc: absolute ⟨perfect⟩ pitch.

[extended usage] Дядя Сандро был рад, что остановил выбор на этом доме, что ему не изменило его тогда ещё только брезжащее чутьё на возможности гостеприимства, заложенные в малознакомых людях. Впоследствии беспрерывными упражнениями он это чутьё развил до степени абсолютного слуха, что отчасти позволило ему стать знаменитым в наших краях тамадой… (Искандер 3). Uncle Sandro was happy that his choice had fixed on this house, that his already sensitive nose for the possibilities of finding hospitality among people he barely know had not betrayed him. In later years, with continuing practice, he developed this sense to the point of absolute pitch. It was largely responsible for his becoming a celebrated tamada, or toastmaster, in our part of the world… (3a).

С-400 • НА СЛУХ [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. воспринимать, различать, определять и т.п. ~ to perceive, distinguish, recognize etc sth.) by only listening: by ear.

«Я [стихи] на слух не воспринимаю… Литература, понимаете, дело интимное, она непосредственного глаза требует» (Максимов 2). “I can’t take it [poetry] in by ear. Literature is a sensitive business, you know. The eye is essential” (2a).

2. петь, играть ~. Also: ПО СЛУ́ХУ (to sing or play sth.) without referring to printed music: by ear.

[Беневоленский:] …Он на фортепьянах всё, что вам угодно, самоучкой играл, по слуху… (Островский 1). [B.:] …He could play anything, whatever you liked, on the piano. He taught himself and played by ear (1a).

С-401 • ПРЕВРАЩА́ТЬСЯ/ПРЕВРАТИ́ТЬСЯ ⟨ОБРАЩА́ТЬСЯ/ОБРАТИ́ТЬСЯ⟩ В СЛУ́Х [VP; subj: human or collect; fixed WO] to listen very attentively: X превратился в слух ≃ X was ⟨became⟩ all ears ⟨attention⟩; X was ⟨became⟩ completely absorbed in listening; X listened ⟨began to listen⟩ with rapt ⟨undivided⟩ attention.

…[Он] глухо покашлял, снова заговорил, и я весь превратился в слух (Шолохов 1). …He cleared his throat and began to talk. And I was completely absorbed in listening (1a).

С-402 • ПО СЛУ́ХАМ [PrepP; Invar] 1. ~ знать, узнавать что ~ [adv] (to know, find out sth.) from the conversations or words of others: through hearsay; through the grapevine; from rumors.

2. [sent adv (usu. parenth)] according to rumors, stories etc that are being circulated: rumor has it; as the rumor mill has it; it is rumored; by all accounts; [lim.] …or so they say.

Старуха, не будь дура, отнесла записку [Сталина] не на склад, а в музей Революции, где получила такую сумму, что купила под Москвой домик, коровку, ушла с работы и, по слухам, до сих пор возит молоко на Тишинский рынок (Войнович 5). The old woman, no fool, did not take the note [written by Stalin] to the storehouse but to the Museum of the Revolution, where she sold it for enough money to buy herself a little house near Moscow and a cow; she quit her job, and rumor has it that to this day she’s still bringing in milk to sell at Tishinsky market (5a).

С-403 • СЛУ́ХОМ ⟨СЛУ́ХАМИ⟩ ЗЕМЛЯ́ ПО́ЛНИТСЯ [saying] news or gossip spreads everywhere (said when a person does not want to specify how or from whom he learned sth., but rather alludes to the fact that it is widespread): ≃ things get around; word gets around; news spreads like wildfire; it came through the grapevine; bad news travels fast; [said ironically] good news travels fast.

«Лучше скажите, каким вас ветром занесло? Больше года тут, и всё не могли собраться, удосужиться?» — «Откуда вы знаете?» — «Слухами земля полнится» (Пастернак 1). “Better tell me what brought you here. You’ve been around more than a year and you never found a moment to come till now.” “How do you know?” “Things get around” (1a).

С-404 • НА СЛУХУ́ (у кого, often у всех) [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with быть$_{ø}$ (subj: имя, название, стихи etc, often pl)] (to be) familiar (to everybody or to a certain circle of people): X-ы на слуху (у Y-ов) ≃ Xs are (quite) well-known (to Ys); || X-ы у всех на слуху ≃ Xs are on everybody's lips ⟨on every lip, on every tongue⟩; [lim.] Xs are ⟨have become⟩ household names ⟨words⟩ (among Ys); Xs are ⟨have become⟩ the talk of the town.

Эти теннисисты давно ушли из спорта, но их имена до сих пор на слуху у любителей тенниса. These tennis players have long since quit the game, but their names are on the lips of tennis fans to this day.

С-405 • НЕ ВСЯ́КОМУ СЛУ́ХУ ВЕРЬ (, РАЗУЗНА́Й И ПРОВЕ́РЬ) [saying; usu. used in an abbreviated form] a person should question (and verify) everything, particularly rumors: ≃ you can't believe everything you hear; one must not believe all he hears; you can only believe half of what you hear.

С-406 • НИ СЛУ́ХУ НИ ДУ́ХУ (нет) о ком-чём, от кого coll [NP$_{gen}$; Invar; fixed WO] there has been no news of s.o. or sth. (for an indicated or implied period of time, or since an indicated or implied moment): об X-е ⟨от X-а⟩ ни слуху ни духу ≃ there has been neither hide nor hair of person X; there has been neither sight nor sound of person X; there has been no word from person X ⟨of X⟩; I haven't ⟨he hasn't etc⟩ heard a word ⟨a thing⟩ about X ⟨from person X⟩; not a word has been heard about X; (there has been) no sign ⟨not a sign⟩ of X.

Глуповцы торжествовали. Но, несмотря на то что внутренние враги были побеждены и польская интрига посрамлена, атаманам-молодцам было как-то не по себе, так как о новом градоначальнике всё ещё не было ни слуху ни духу (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). The Foolovites celebrated. But despite the fact that their internal enemies had been conquered and the Polish intrigue disgraced, the bold atamans were still not quite themselves, since there was neither hide nor hair of a new town governor (1a). ♦ «Я своего заказа жду два месяца и о нём ни слуху ни духу» (Булгаков 10). "I've waited for my order for two months—and not a sign of it" (10a).

С-407 • В ДА́ННОМ СЛУ́ЧАЕ [PrepP; Invar; sent adv; fixed WO] in the given instance: in this case; in this (particular) instance; on this occasion; in the present ⟨given⟩ case; in the present instance; in the case in question ⟨at hand⟩.

Пилат объяснился. Римская власть ничуть не покушается на права духовной местной власти, первосвященнику это хорошо известно, но в данном случае налицо явная ошибка (Булгаков 9). Pilate explained himself. The Roman government had no wish whatsoever to interfere with the prerogatives of the local spiritual authorities. The High Priest surely knew this, but in this case there seemed to be an obvious error (9a). Pilate went on to explain. The Roman government did not infringe upon the rights of the local religious authorities, as the high priest well knew, but in this particular instance an obvious mistake seemed to have been made (9c).

С-408 • В КРА́ЙНЕМ СЛУ́ЧАЕ [PrepP; Invar; usu. sent adv (often parenth); fixed WO] in case of extreme need, when there is no other option or solution: if worst comes to worst; if (the) worse comes to (the) worst; at (the) worst; as a last resort; [lim.] in a pinch.

«Сиди дома. В крайнем случае, если пойдёшь к Борису… Не качай головой, я знаю» (Терц 2). "Stay at home. If worst comes to worst and you go to Boris's—don't shake your head; I know" (2a).

С-409 • В ЛУ́ЧШЕМ СЛУ́ЧАЕ [PrepP; Invar; usu. sent adv (parenth); fixed WO] under the most favorable circumstances: at best.

На свои заграничные гонорары Мыльников купил себе экспортную «Волгу» (другие писатели в лучшем случае ездили на «Жигулях»)… (Войнович 6). On his foreign royalties Mylnikov had bought himself an export-grade Volga (other writers drove Zhigulis, at best)… (6a).

С-410 • В ЛЮБО́М СЛУ́ЧАЕ [PrepP; Invar; sent adv; fixed WO] regardless of which of two or more options, possible circumstances etc is realized, is valid etc: in any case; whatever the case; [lim.] either way; in either case; whatever the truth.

Я не знаю, влюблена она в Мишу, в Петю, или в Сашу. В любом случае она влюблена не в тебя. I don't know whether she's in love with Misha, Petya, or Sasha. In any case, she's not in love with you. ♦ В Лёве всё приподнялось навстречу счастью — скажи сейчас Митишатьев, что глупо, несправедливо, напрасно приревновал его Лёва — бросился бы, расцеловал, расплакался и — в любом случае! — поверил бы! (Битов 2). Lyova's whole being rose to meet happiness. Were Mitishatyev to say that Lyova had been foolishly, unfairly, needlessly jealous, he would fall upon him, smother him with kisses, burst into tears and—whatever the truth!—he would believe! (2a).

С-411 • В ПРОТИ́ВНОМ СЛУ́ЧАЕ [PrepP; Invar; sent adv; fixed WO] if the opposite of what is needed, expected, demanded etc should happen: otherwise; elsewise; or else; if not; failing which; if such is not the case.

«Писать стихи надо каждый день, подобно тому как скрипач или пианист непременно должен каждый день без пропусков по нескольку часов играть на своём инструменте. В противном случае ваш талант неизбежно оскудеет, высохнет, подобно колодцу, откуда долгое время не берут воду» (Катаев 3). "One must write poetry every day, just as a violinist or a pianist must play every day on his instrument for several hours without fail. If not, your talent will stagnate and run dry, like a well from which no water is drawn" (3a).

С-412 • В СЛУ́ЧАЕ^{1} быть$_{ø}$; В СЛУ́ЧАЙ попасть (у кого) both obs [PrepP; these forms only; subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] (to be, end up) under the patronage of an influential person: X попал в случай ≃ X was ⟨found himself, ended up⟩ in Y's good graces; X gained Y's favor; [lim.] X became ⟨was⟩ a court favorite ⟨a favorite of the tsar's etc⟩.

«Подойди, подойди, любезный! Я и отцу-то твоему правду одна говорила, когда он в случае был, а тебе-то и бог велит» (Толстой 4). "Come on, come closer, my dear! I used to be the only one to tell that father of yours the truth in the days when he was a court favorite, and now it's my sacred duty to do the same for you" (4a).

С-413 • В СЛУ́ЧАЕ^{2} чего [PrepP; Invar; Prep (used with abstr, often deverbal, nouns); the resulting PrepP is adv] if sth. should happen, come about etc: in case of; in case…;

in the event of ⟨that…⟩; [lim.] if there is ⟨are⟩ any…; if it becomes a question of; || в случае нужды ⟨необходимости⟩ ≃ if need be; || в случае крайней необходимости ≃ in (the) case of (an ⟨a serious⟩) emergency; in (the event of) an emergency.

С-414 • В СЛУ́ЧАЕ ЧЕГО́ coll [PrepP; Invar; sent adv (often parenth); fixed WO] if some trouble should occur or need should arise: if something ⟨anything⟩ happens ⟨should happen⟩; in case ⟨in the event that⟩ something ⟨anything⟩ happens; if anything crops up; if something ⟨anything⟩ goes ⟨should go⟩ wrong; if need be; in the event of trouble; if there's any trouble.

«Всё [ордера на мебель] в порядке. Где что стоит — всё известно. На корешках все адреса прописаны и собственноручная подпись получателя. Так что никто, в случае чего, не отопрётся» (Ильф и Петров 1). "They're [the orders for furniture are] all in order. You know where each item is. All the counterfoils have the addresses on them and also the receiver's own signature. So no one can back out if anything happens" (1a). ♦ «Дашь ему документ — найду твою собаку. Не дашь — не буду искать…» — «Дядя Сандро, как я могу», — заныл внук Тендела… «Чего ты боишься?.. Он, в случае чего, скажет, что в колхозе достал…» (Искандер 4). "You give him the document—I'll find your dog. You don't—I won't look." "Uncle Sandro, how can I," Tendel's grandson whined…. "What are you afraid of?… If there's any trouble he'll say he got it at a kolkhoz" (4a).

С-415 • В ТАКО́М ⟨Э́ТОМ⟩ СЛУ́ЧАЕ; В ТАКО́М РА́ЗЕ substand [PrepP; these forms only; sent adv; fixed WO] given such a situation, under the given circumstances: in that case; if that's the case; then; [lim.] if so.

[Бутон:] Мэтр, вы сами… палашом повалили свечку. [Мольер:] Врёшь, бездельник! [Риваль:] Он прав. Вы задели свечку шпагой… [Мольер:] Так я повалил? Гм… Почему же, в таком случае, я на тебя кричал? (Булгаков 8). [B.:] Maître, you yourself… knocked over that candle with your broadsword. [M.:] You're lying, you loafer! [R.:] He's right. You caught the candle with your sword…. [M.:] So I knocked it over? Me? Hm…. In that case, why was I screaming at you? (8a).

С-416 • В (ТОМ) СЛУ́ЧАЕ Е́СЛИ ⟨Е́ЖЕЛИ coll⟩… [subord Conj, condit] if it should happen that: if; in case; in the event that; [lim.] supposing.

Жилец приказал Анфисе, преданной и давней домашней работнице Анны Францевны, сказать, в случае если ему будут звонить, что он вернётся через десять минут… (Булгаков 9). The lodger told Anfisa, Anna Frantzevna's devoted servant of many years, to say that if anybody rang him up he would be back in ten minutes (9b).

С-417 • В ХУ́ДШЕМ СЛУ́ЧАЕ [PrepP; Invar; usu. sent adv; fixed WO] under the least favorable circumstances: at (the) worst.

…Эти [бывшие марксисты и атеисты], преданные идеалам, с принципиальной прямотой могли в лучшем случае обрушить на вас град цитат, а в худшем и вытащить на собрании, не пожалев ни ближайшего друга, ни любимого учителя, ни папу, ни маму (Войнович 1). …Those [former Marxists and atheists] devoted to ideals and firm in their principles could rain quotations down on you at best and, at worst, drag you out in front of a meeting, with no mercy for a close friend, a favorite teacher, a father, or a mother (1a).

С-418 • ВО ВСЯ́КОМ СЛУ́ЧАЕ [PrepP; Invar] 1. [usu. adv; used with verbs in the fut or with надо, следует, пора etc] without fail, given any circumstances (the action in question will or should be carried out or come about): in any case ⟨event⟩; one way or another ⟨the other⟩; whatever happens.

«Скверно! — решил он наконец, — скверно, с какой стороны ни посмотри. Во-первых, надо будет подставлять лоб и во всяком случае уехать…» (Тургенев 2). "It's a bad business!" he decided finally. "A bad business, whichever way you look at it. In the first place I'll have to stand there waiting to be shot at, and whatever happens I'll have to leave…" (2e).

2. [used as Particle; often parenth; usu. placed before the word or phrase modified] used in conjunction with a word or phrase that qualifies or restricts the preceding statement: at least; at any rate; in any case; [lim.] anyway.

Я неудачник. Во всяком случае так считает моя мама (Войнович 5). I'm a failure. Or at least my mother considers me one (5a). ♦ «Не нужно нам никакой квартиры, — сказал Дмитриев задыхающимся голосом. — Не нужно, понятно тебе? Во всяком случае, мне не нужно» (Трифонов 4). "We don't need any apartment at all," said Dmitriev in a choked voice. "We don't need it, you understand? In any case I don't need it" (4a).

3. [sent adv (parenth)] regardless of the circumstances described in the preceding context, often regardless of which of the described options is correct or valid: in any case ⟨event⟩; at any rate; at ⟨in⟩ all events; whatever the case.

«Значит он миллионер?» — «Во всяком случае за расходами не стоит» (Войнович 3). "Then he's a millionaire?" "At any rate, he doesn't spare expense" (3a). ♦ Возможно, он [архитектор Ш.] сам спровоцировал запрет барельефа. Возможно, сразу согласился. Возможно, не очень энергично отстаивал. Во всяком случае, теперь сотрудничество с тобой повредило бы его положению и карьере (Зиновьев 1). "Probably he [the architect S.] provoked the banning of the bas-relief himself. Probably he was the first to agree to it. Probably he defended it without any great conviction. At all events, working with you would have damaged his professional position" (1a).

С-419 • НИ В КО́ЕМ ⟨КАКО́М⟩ СЛУ́ЧАЕ; НИ В КО́ЕМ ⟨КАКО́М⟩ РА́ЗЕ substand [PrepP; these forms only; adv; used as indep. sent in response to a question or suggestion, or to intensify the preceding negated statement; fixed WO] under no conditions or circumstances: not on any account; not ⟨never⟩ under any circumstances; [lim.] not for anything; not for one moment; not on your life; in no way; there isn't the slightest chance; [when used as a response to a question] no way; absolutely not; (that's) out of the question; certainly not; (no,) of course not; no, never; [lim.] there's no way.

«Ни в коем случае не допускаю мысли, — говорил негромко Афраний, — о том, чтобы Иуда дался в руки каким-нибудь подозрительным людям в черте города» (Булгаков 9). "I cannot believe for one moment," said Arthanius in a low voice, "that Judas would have allowed himself to be caught by any ruffians within the city limits" (9b). ♦ [Репников:] Включите свет. [Колесов:] Ни в коем случае! (Вампилов 3). [R.:] Turn on the light. [K.:] Not on your life! (3a). ♦ Кто лидер? Хмырь? Учитель? Ни в коем случае… (Зиновьев 1). "Who'll be the leader? Bloke? Teacher? No way!…" (1a).

С-420 • ПРИ СЛУ́ЧАЕ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv] 1. when or if needed: if ⟨when⟩ the occasion requires (sth. ⟨that…⟩); as required; if ⟨when⟩ necessary; if ⟨when⟩ need be; if ⟨when⟩ one has to.

…Она [княгиня] отлично ездила верхом, неплохо стреляла, а при случае могла выдоить даже буйволицу (Искандер 3). …She [the princess] was an excellent rider, not a bad shot, and when the occasion required it, she could even milk a buffalo (3a).

2. when or if circumstances are favorable or appropriate: given the opportunity ⟨the chance⟩; when ⟨if, as⟩ (the) opportunity arises; when ⟨if, as⟩ (the) opportunity presents itself; when ⟨if⟩ one has an ⟨the⟩ opportunity; when ⟨if⟩ one has the chance.

Егорша любил при случае выдать себя за начальника… (Абрамов 1). …Given the opportunity, Egorsha liked to pass himself off as a manager… (1a).

С-421 • НА ВСЯ́КИЙ ПОЖА́РНЫЙ СЛУ́ЧАЙ coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] as a precautionary measure, usu. in case an urgent need should arise: just in case; just to be absolutely ⟨doubly, extra etc⟩ sure; as a safety net; [lim.] in case of trouble ⟨of dire need etc⟩.

…Они [Лёшка и Константин] говорили до позднего вечера, а когда закрылись Сандуновские бани, взяли они Соломона Моисеевича, чтобы стоял на шухере [slang = настороже] и заграничный браунинг на всякий пожарный случай, унесённый Лёшкой с поля сражения во время Великой Отечественной войны, и пошли, не мешкая, к тому месту, где была припасена для них квартирка со всеми удобствами (Терц 1). …They [Lyoshka and Konstantin] talked until late at night, and when the Sandunovsky baths closed they took Solomon Moiseyevich along as look-out man, along with a Browning revolver (just in case of trouble) which Lyoshka had removed from the field of battle during the [Great Patriotic] war, and set off without delay to the place where that little apartment that had everything was waiting (1a).

С-422 • НА ВСЯ́КИЙ СЛУ́ЧАЙ [PrepP; Invar; adv or sent adv (often parenth); fixed WO] as a precautionary measure, usu. in order to be prepared for the possibility of sth. unexpected or for possible necessity: just in case; (just) to be on the safe side; just to be ⟨make⟩ sure; (just) to be ⟨to play it⟩ safe; (just) for safety's sake; as a precaution; [lim.] it might come in handy.

Боль прошла совершенно, я поднялся со скамейки и двинулся по аллее. Хотелось дойти до колодца и набрать в кувшин воду на всякий случай (Трифонов 5). Now the pain was completely gone. I got up from the bench and started down the pathway. I wanted to get a pitcherful of water from the well, just in case (5a). ♦ «Ты, конечно, знаешь, зачем я тебя вызвал?» После разговора с Ермошиным я догадывался, но на всякий случай сказал, что не знаю (Войнович 5). "Of course you know why I called you in?" I had some idea after my talk with Ermoshin, but just to play it safe, I said I didn't know (5a).

С-423 • НА КРА́ЙНИЙ СЛУ́ЧАЙ оставить, приберечь кого-что, отложить, припрятать что и т.п. coll [PrepP; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to put sth. aside, save sth. etc) in case an urgent need should arise, (to save one's opportunity to approach s.o., ask s.o. for a favor etc) until an urgent need arises: отложить что ~ ≃ put sth. aside in case of an emergency; || оставить кого-что ~ ≃ leave ⟨keep⟩ s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ as a last resort; use s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ only as a last resort.

Оставим Спекулянтку на крайний случай, сказал Учитель. А пока обойдём старых друзей, если это слово сохранило здесь какой-то смысл (Зиновьев 1). "Let's keep Speculatress as a last resort," said Teacher. "First let's go round to all my old friends, if the word still has any meaning" (1a).

С-424 • НА ПЕ́РВЫЙ СЛУ́ЧАЙ [PrepP; Invar; adv or sent adv; fixed WO] 1. as a first (action, step toward some goal etc), as a start: to start ⟨begin⟩ with; for starters ⟨openers⟩.

[Таня:] Куда вы меня приглашаете? [Колесов:] На свадьбу. На первый случай я приглашаю вас на свадьбу (Вампилов 3). [T.:] What are you inviting me to? [K.:] A wedding. To start with, I'm inviting you to a wedding (3a).

2. for the initial period of time (that sth. is in effect, sth. is being undertaken, s.o. is doing sth. etc): for the first little while ⟨bit⟩; [lim.] for now; for the time being.

«Ваших, то есть мамашу и сестрицу, жду с часу на час… Приискал им на первый случай квартиру…» (Достоевский 3). "I'm expecting your people, that is your mama and sister, at any moment now…. I've found them rooms for the time being—" (3a).

С-425 • НА СЛУ́ЧАЙ [PrepP; Invar] 1. ~ чего [Prep; used with abstr nouns; the resulting PrepP is adv] if sth. should happen, come about etc: in the event of ⟨that…⟩; in case of; in case…; [lim.] (so as) to be prepared for.

…Дядя Сандро думает, что же будет, если Щащико поверит этому негодяю [Омару]?.. А если тот на случай дурного исхода вот так же, как и он, Сандро, предупредил своего брата и тот сейчас прячется в лесу? Не перестреляют ли они все друг друга? (Искандер 3). …Uncle Sandro thought, What will happen if Shashiko believes this son of a bitch [Omar]?… And if Omar, just like me, has warned his brother in case of an evil outcome, and now the brother's hiding in the woods? Will they all shoot each other? (3a).

2. obs [adv] accidentally, without being planned: by chance ⟨happenstance⟩; (s.o. ⟨sth.⟩) happens to…; fortuitously.

[Городничий:] Так сделайте милость, Иван Кузьмич: если на случай попадётся жалоба или донесение, то без всяких рассуждений задерживайте (Гоголь 4). [Mayor:] Mr. Pry [Ivan Kuzmich], will you do me one kindness: if a complaint or report should happen to come in, have no compunction in holding it up (4b).

С-426 • НА (ТОТ) СЛУ́ЧАЙ Е́СЛИ [subord Conj, condit, with the additional meaning of purpose] so as to be prepared if: (just) in case…

Я… купил два карандаша на случай, если потеряю ручку, и перочинный ножик, чтобы точить карандаши (Искандер 6). …[I] picked up… two pencils (just in case I should lose my pen) and a penknife with which to sharpen them (6a).

С-427 • СЛУ́ЧАЙ ПРИВЁЛ coll; СУДЬБА́ ПРИВЕЛА́ [VP_{subj}] it happened that s.o. had the occasion (to do sth.): (s.o.) got the chance ⟨the opportunity⟩ (to do sth.).

[Хлестаков:] …Страх хотелось бы с ним ещё раз сразиться. Случай только не привёл (Гоголь 4). [Kh.:] …I was crazy to have another go at him, but I didn't have the opportunity (4d).

С-428 • НЕ СЛУЧА́ЙНО [AdvP; Invar; adv] not without reason: it is no ⟨not just⟩ coincidence (that…); it is no accident ⟨not accidental⟩ (that…); it is no ⟨not a⟩ mere chance (that…); [when a verb is translated by a deverbal noun] (sth. is) no ⟨not just⟩ coincidence; (sth. is) no accident ⟨not accidental⟩; (sth. is) no ⟨not a⟩ mere chance.

«Не случайно, — сказал Николай Терентьевич, — в Сталинград товарищ Сталин послал Никиту Сергеевича, фронт решающий, кого же послать?» (Гроссман 2). "It's not just coincidence," said Nikolay Terentyevich, "that comrade Stalin should have sent Nikita Khrushchev to Stalingrad. It's the key Front—who else could he have sent?" (2a). ♦ Я, конечно, не могу утверждать определённо, но думаю, даже уверен, что это имеет какое-то отношение к побочному сыну дедушки… Всё же не случайно он из Петровки! (Рыбаков 1). Of course, I can't confirm it, but I think, I'm even sure, that grandfather's illegitimate son may have had something to do with it… It was surely no accident that he lived in Petrovka (1a).

С-429 • ПО (ЧИ́СТОЙ) СЛУЧА́ЙНОСТИ [PrepP; these forms only; adv] accidentally, unintentionally: by ⟨out of⟩ pure ⟨mere, sheer⟩ chance; (purely ⟨merely, totally⟩) by chance; by pure ⟨mere, sheer⟩ accident; (purely ⟨only⟩) by happenstance; (entirely) by accident; it is entirely an accident (that…); (s.o.) (just) happens ⟨happened⟩ to…; [lim.] by luck (and by chance); by a fluke; it is ⟨was⟩ just the luck of the draw (that…).

Фёдор надевал белые перчатки и расставлял потемневший старый сервиз с сеткой мелких трещин… Антона Фёдор зауважал по чистой случайности. В первый свой визит опоздавший Антон попросил передать ему вон ту тройную менажницу. Как потом выяснилось, этот предмет только что был объектом обсужденья — никто не мог вспомнить, как он называется (Фёдор, несомненно, знал, но вмешиваться в барский застольный разговор не смел) (Чудаков 1). Fyodor donned white gloves and set out a darkened antique dinner service with a network of fine cracks… Anton managed to impress Fyodor by sheer accident. After arriving late for this first visit, he happened to ask if anyone could pass him that three-part relish caddy. It emerged later that this very article had just been the subject of conversation—no one could remember what it was called (Fyodor himself undoubtedly knew, but didn't dare to join in the table talk of his betters) (1a).

С-430 • ПО СЛУ́ЧАЮ [PrepP; Invar] 1. ~ чего [Prep; the resulting PrepP is usu. adv] by reason of (sth.), resulting from (certain conditions): on account of; because of; owing to; [lim.] on the occasion of; [when used with a noun denoting a holiday, festive event] (in order) to commemorate ⟨to celebrate, to mark⟩ (sth.).

«Мы им помощь везли по случаю землетрясения» (Аксёнов 3). "We shipped them supplies on account of the earthquake" (3a). ♦ «…Во всех пяти этажах уборные закрыты по случаю аварии водопроводной сети…» (Катаев 1). "…The lavatories have been closed on all five floors because of a break in the water system…" (1a).

2. ~ купить, приобрести, достать что и т.п. [adv] (to buy, acquire etc sth.) taking advantage of an opportunity, as the result of a favorable turn of events: by (a lucky) chance; by happenstance; [lim.] chance (up)on sth.; happen (up)on sth.; stumble (up)on ⟨across⟩ sth.

…Наверное, Потёртый думал о том, как ему легко, по случаю, достался этот красавец-пёс, могучий и склонный к верности, которого и воспитывать не надо и который… будет ему спутником и защитой (Владимов 1). The Shabby Man, no doubt, was thinking how easily, by what a lucky chance he had acquired this handsome dog, strong and naturally loyal, who needed no training and who… would be his companion and defender (1a).

С-431 • ПО СЧАСТЛИ́ВОМУ СЛУ́ЧАЮ [PrepP; Invar; sent adv (often parenth); fixed WO] as the result of favorable circumstances: by a stroke of luck; by a lucky chance; it is one's luck ⟨a stroke of luck⟩ that…; one has been lucky to…

В артель он попал по счастливому случаю: в городском саду разговорился с согнутым, похожим на стоящий полоз от саней, чахоточным человеком, и тот рассказал ему, что бросает счетоводство в инвалидной артели и уезжает… (Гроссман 1). He had been lucky to find the job in the workshop. In the town park he had got talking to a consumptive man whose back was so bent that it looked like a sledge runner standing on end, and this man had told him that he was giving up his job as a bookkeeper in a cooperative for the disabled and was going to leave the town (1b).

С-432 • ПО ТАКО́МУ ⟨Э́ТОМУ⟩ СЛУ́ЧАЮ [PrepP; these forms only; sent adv; fixed WO] since the circumstances are such (as they have just been described), as a consequence of (what has just been stated): that being the case; in view of that ⟨of what you have just said etc⟩; [in refer. to a previously mentioned holiday, festive event] to mark the occasion.

[Шмага:] Я подозреваю, что у вас есть намерение угостить нас, первых сюжетов, завтраком; по этому случаю вы мне дадите денег… (Островский 3). [Sh.:] I suspect that you intend treating us, the leading actors of our company, to lunch. That being the case, you forward the cash… (3a).

С-433 • НЕ УПУСКА́ТЬ/НЕ УПУСТИ́ТЬ СЛУ́ЧАЯ [VP; subj: human] to make use of favorable circumstances (and do sth.): X не упустит случая сделать Y ≃ X won't let slip ⟨won't lose⟩ the opportunity to do ⟨of doing⟩ Y; X won't let the opportunity to do Y pass him by.

«…Не только никаких Тихоновых и большинства Союза [писателей] нет для меня и я их отрицаю, но я не упускал случая открыто и прямо заявлять. И они, разумеется, правы, что в долгу у меня не остаются» (Гладков 1). "…Not only do Tikhonov and his like as well as most other members of the Union of Writers no longer exist for me, not only do I deny them, but I also lose no opportunity of saying so openly and plainly. And they, of course, are quite right to pay me back in kind" (1a).

С-434 • ОТ СЛУ́ЧАЯ К СЛУ́ЧАЮ [PrepP; Invar; adv; used with impfv verbs; fixed WO] (one does sth., sth. happens) irregularly, the occasions being separated by variable intervals of time: (only) on occasion; (only ⟨just⟩) once in a while; from time to time; every so often; (only) off and on ⟨on and off⟩; sporadically.

Моя сестра живёт далеко, мы обе очень заняты, вот и видимся от случая к случаю. My sister lives far away and we're both really busy, so we end up seeing each other only once in a while.

С-435 • ТЫ их ⟨его etc⟩ СЛУ́ШАЙ БО́ЛЬШЕ coll, iron [indep. sent; Invar; fixed WO] the persons or person named or implied cannot be expected to provide reliable information, make a helpful suggestion, give useful advice, and therefore should not be heeded: sure, keep hanging on their ⟨his etc⟩ every word; oh yeah, you should definitely listen to him ⟨them etc⟩!; yeah, right, their ⟨his etc⟩ word can ⟨is to⟩ be trusted!; you know how far you can trust them!

«Мне ребята в баре рассказали про новое средство…» — «Ты их больше слушай! Они за рюмку водки и не такое расскажут». "The guys at the bar told me about a new product." "Yeah, right! Their word is to be trusted! For another shot of vodka, they'd tell you anything." ♦ «Это у тебя чёрная горячка начинается». — «Нет, — сказал Иван, — не может такого быть. Мне главврач сказал, что она раньше чем через полгода не бывает». — «Ты их слушай больше. Может, они… утешают — чтоб не мучился зря» (Пелевин 1). "You've got the black shakes coming on." "No," said Ivan, "that can't be it. The chief quack told me that takes at least six months." "You know how far you can trust them. Maybe… they're trying to comfort you, so you don't suffer too much" (1a).

С-436 • ГДЕ ⟨РА́ЗВЕ⟩ Э́ТО СЛЫ́ХАНО? coll [indep. clause; these forms only; usu. foll. by infin or a чтобы-clause; fixed WO] (used to express indignation over or a strongly negative attitude toward some action or occurrence) this is unacceptable, unreasonable, outrageous: whoever ⟨who's ever⟩ heard of such a thing ⟨of anything like it⟩?; it's (simply) unheard of.

«Как?! — удивились чегемцы, — ты никогда не видел человека, а сам разговариваешь с нами, да ещё на нашем абхазском языке? Разве это слыхано?» (Искандер 5). "What!" the Chegemians marveled. "You've never seen a person, but you're talking to us, and in our Abkhazian language at that? Who ever heard of such a thing?" (5a).

С-437 • СЛЫ́ХОМ НЕ СЛЫХА́ТЬ coll [VP; fixed WO] 1. ~ о ком-чём, про что. Also: СЛЫ́ХОМ НЕ СЛЫ́ХИВАТЬ coll [subj: human] not to have any knowledge or information about s.o. or sth.: X слыхом не слыхал об Y-е ≃ X has never heard of Y; X knows nothing about Y; X doesn't have the faintest idea ⟨the slightest idea, the foggiest (notion)⟩ (who person Y is ⟨what thing Y is etc⟩); [usu. in response to a question] X doesn't have a clue.

«Эта Светлана, о которой я слыхом не слыхивала до позавчерашнего дня, ждёт ребёнка от Сергея» (Трифонов 3). "This Svetlana, whom I had never heard of until the day before yesterday, is expecting Sergei's child" (3a).

2. ~ кого rare [infin only; impers predic with быть$_{ø}$] s.o. is absent altogether, has disappeared: X-а слыхом не слыхать ≃ there is no ⟨not a⟩ sign ⟨trace⟩ of X; X is nowhere to be found.

С-438 • И СЛЫ́ШАТЬ ⟨СЛУ́ШАТЬ⟩ НЕ ХОЧУ́ ⟨не хочет и т.п.⟩ о ком-чём or чтобы… [VP; subj: human or collect; usu. 1st or 3rd pers] I refuse (he refuses etc) to participate in the suggested course of action or even to discuss it: X и слышать не хочет об Y-е ≃ X won't ⟨wouldn't⟩ hear of Y; X won't ⟨wouldn't⟩ even consider Y; X won't ⟨wouldn't⟩ have any part of Y; [lim.] Y is out of the question.

«Это уже слишком странно будет с вашей стороны, если вы чужих предпочтёте своим». — «Да ведь она тоже мне двоюродная тётка». — «Она вам тётка ещё бог знает какая: с мужниной стороны… Нет, Софья Ивановна, я и слышать не хочу, это выходит: вы мне хотите нанесть такое оскорбленье… Видно, я вам наскучила уже, видно, вы хотите прекратить со мною всякое знакомство» (Гоголь 3). "I must say I would find it strange if you gave preference to outsiders!" "But, you know, she is a cousin of mine." "What sort of a cousin is she to you… only on your husband's side…. No, Sofya Ivanovna, I won't hear of it! You don't want to insult me, do you? It seems to me that you have tired of me and wish to bring our friendship to an end" (3d).

С-439 • ЧТО СЛЫ́ШНО (о ком-чём, про кого-что, у кого, с чем, где)? [formula phrase; Invar; used as a question or subord clause] what is happening (with s.o. or sth., or at some place): what's new (with s.o. or sth., at some place)?; any news (about…)?; how is s.o. ⟨sth.⟩ doing?; how is it going?; what's the news (about…)?; what's the buzz (on…)?; what's cooking?

«Ну, как там, на мостике? — спросил Митрохин. — Что слышно?» — «Всё хотите знать?» — «Я-то нет, — сказал Васька. — Я и так всё знаю. „SOS" дали, теперь подождём, чего мы из него высосем» (Владимов 2). "What's happening up on the bridge?" asked Mitrokhin. "What's the buzz?" "Do you want to know it all?" "I don't," said Vasya. "I know it all already. We've sent out an SOS, now we must just wait and see what comes of it" (2a).

С-440 • РАСПУСКА́ТЬ/РАСПУСТИ́ТЬ СЛЮ́НИ coll [VP; subj: human] 1. to be or begin crying: X распустил слюни ≃ X started crying ⟨blubbering, boohooing, bawling⟩; X turned on the tears ⟨the waterworks⟩; X burst into tears.

…Я разревелся от злости… Когда Наталья Савишна увидала, что я распустил слюни, она тотчас же убежала… (Толстой 2). …I howled with rage…. When Natalya Savishna saw that I was crying she immediately ran away (2b).

2. to complain about sth. in an annoying, self-pitying manner, displaying a lack of resolve to right the situation about which one is complaining etc: X распускает слюни ≃ X starts ⟨is⟩ whining ⟨whimpering, sniveling⟩.

Да ведь это пустяк, даже и неприятностью назвать нельзя, а ты уже и слюни распустил. It's no big deal—you can't even really call it trouble, and yet you're already whining.

3. Also: ПУСКА́ТЬ/ПУСТИ́ТЬ СЛЮ́НИ coll to become excessively sentimental, exaggeratedly emotional about sth., thus producing an objectionable impression: X распускает слюни ≃ X is getting mushy ⟨gushy⟩; X is slobbering over s.o. ⟨sth.⟩; [often in refer. to sexual attraction] X is starting to drool (over s.o.).

«Пол-Фосфатки её [Катю] любит и треть всего побережья, и даже на Улейконе я знаю нескольких парней, которые сразу же распускают слюни, как только речь заходит о ней» (Аксёнов 1). "Half of Phosphate loves her [Katya], and a third of the whole seaboard, and even in Uleikon I know a bunch of guys who start to drool as soon as you mention her" (1a).

С-441 • ГЛОТА́ТЬ СЛЮ́НКИ coll [VP; subj: human] to look with desire at sth. alluring (yet inaccessible): X глотает слюнки ≃ X's mouth waters; thing Y makes X's mouth water; X drools (over thing Y); X looks on longingly ⟨hungrily, enviously⟩.

Смотрю на их новую машину и слюнки глотаю. Мне бы такую! When I look at their new car my mouth waters. If only I could own one like that!

С-442 • СЛЮ́НКИ ТЕКУ́Т/ПОТЕКЛИ́ (у кого) coll [VP$_{subj}$] 1. s.o. wants some food or drink that he sees or smells so much that saliva is building up in his mouth: у X-а слюнки текут ≃ X's mouth is watering; thing Y makes X's mouth water.

Она выложила телячьи отбивные на сковородку, по кухне распространился запах вкусной ресторанной пищи. Галя, усмехаясь, заметила: «Ишь, как пахнет… Слюнки текут…» (Рыбаков 2). She laid the veal chops [from the restaurant] in the hot frying pan and the communal kitchen was permeated with their delicious aroma. Galya observed with a smirk, "Goodness, how those smells make your mouth water!" (2a).

2. ~ (от чего, при виде кого-чего, при мысли о ком-чём и т.п.) (seeing, thinking of etc some desirable, alluring person or thing) elicits in s.o. a strong desire for him or it: у X-а слюнки текут (от Y-а ⟨при виде Y-а и т.п.⟩) ≃ X's mouth is watering; (seeing Y ⟨thinking of Y etc⟩) makes X's mouth water; X wants Y so badly he can taste it; X is dying to get Y; [lim.] X is drooling (over Y); just seeing ⟨thinking of etc⟩ Y is enough to make X's mouth water.

«У них слюнки потекут, когда они увидят её [машину]…» (Олеша 2). "Their mouths will water when they see it [the machine]" (2a). ♦ «Я эту самую мысль прокурору в опросе моём не то что ясно сказал, а, напротив, как будто намёком подвёл-с… так у господина прокурора от этого самого намёка моего даже слюнки потекли-с…» (Достоевский 2). "In my interrogation, I told this same thought to the prosecutor, not quite clearly, but, on the contrary, as if I were leading him to it by a hint… and Mr. Prosecutor even started drooling over that same hint of mine, sir…" (2a).

С-443 • ХОРОШО́ СМЕЁТСЯ ТОТ, КТО СМЕЁТСЯ ПОСЛЕ́ДНИМ ⟨ПОСЛЕ́ДНИЙ⟩ [saying] rejoicing at one's achievement or success too soon may end in disappointment: ≃ he who laughs last laughs longest; he laughs best who laughs last; he who laughs last, laughs best.

С-444 • НЕ СМЕ́Й(ТЕ) [VP_{imper}; these forms only; foll. by infin] used to forbid s.o. categorically (to do sth.): don't you dare; [lim.] you wouldn't dare (do ⟨to do⟩ sth.)!; don't even think about (doing sth.)!

[Несчастливцев:] Ты у меня не смей острить, когда я серьёзно разговариваю (Островский 7). [N.:] Don't you dare to joke when I'm talking seriously (7a).

С-445 • БРАТЬ/ВЗЯТЬ НА СЕБЯ́ СМЕ́ЛОСТЬ [VP; subj: human; foll. by the infin (more often pfv) of another verb; fixed WO] to dare (to say or do sth.): X берёт на себя смелость (сделать Y) ≃ X takes the liberty of doing Y; X is ⟨makes⟩ so bold as to do Y; X makes bold to do Y; X presumes to do Y.

Все три стихотворения абсолютны по форме и поэтической выраженности. Именно поэтому он берёт на себя смелость, не вдаваясь в обсуждение развития поэтических форм, сравнить их по содержанию… (Битов 2). All three poems are perfect in form and poetic expression. Precisely for this reason, without getting into a discussion of the developoment of their poetic forms, he has made bold to contrast them in content… (2a).

С-446 • СМЕ́ЛОСТЬ ГОРОДА́ БЕРЁТ [saying] bold people succeed at what they attempt to do: ≃ fortune favors the bold ⟨the brave, the daring⟩; [lim.] faint heart never won fair lady.

С-447 • ИДТИ́ ⟨ПРИХОДИ́ТЬ/ПРИЙТИ́⟩ НА СМЕ́НУ кому-чему [VP; subj: any common noun] to replace another person, thing, phenomenon etc: на смену Y-у придёт X ≃ X will take Y's place ⟨the place of Y⟩; X will come to replace Y; X will come (up) to take the place of Y; Y will be replaced by X; Y will give way to X; X will follow (in the wake of) Y; [lim.] X will come in Y's stead; X will overake Y.

Учительница особенно подчёркивает, что эти бедолаги в течение следующего месяца ничего не получат. Я спрашиваю, не умрут ли они тогда все от голода. «Конечно, умрут, — отвечает учительница. — Но им на смену придут новые толпы уволенных рабочих». Я верю (Гальего 1). The teacher puts special emphasis on the fact that these poor folks won't get anything the next month. I ask whether they won't starve to death then. "Of course they will," the teacher replies. "But new crowds of fired workers will come to take their place." I believe her (1a).

С-448 • ДО́ СМЕРТИ [PrepP; Invar] 1. убить кого, убиться ~ [adv (intensif)] used to emphasize the finality and fatal result of the action: kill s.o. ⟨o.s.⟩ dead.

2. [adv (intensif) or modif] to an extreme degree: напугать ⟨испугать, перепугать⟩ кого ~ ≃ scare ⟨frighten⟩ s.o. to death; scare ⟨frighten⟩ s.o. out of his wits; scare the (living) daylights out of s.o.; give s.o. the fright of his life; scare the pants off s.o.; || напугаться ⟨испугаться, перепугаться⟩ ~ ≃ be scared ⟨frightened⟩ to death; be scared ⟨frightened⟩ out of one's wits; be scared stiff ⟨silly⟩; || ~ надоел ⟨наскучил⟩ кому ≃ s.o. is sick to death of him ⟨it etc⟩; s.o. is sick and tired of him ⟨it etc⟩; s.o. is fed up to here (with him ⟨it etc⟩); || скучно кому ~ ≃ s.o. is bored to death ⟨to tears, out of his mind, stiff⟩; s.o. is dying of boredom; || ~ хотеть ⟨~ хочется кому⟩ ≃ one ⟨s.o.⟩ is (just) dying (to get ⟨do⟩ sth.); || ~ не хотеть ⟨~ не хочется кому⟩ ≃ one ⟨s.o.⟩ would (almost) rather die (than do sth.); || ~ любить кого ≃ love s.o. to death ⟨to distraction⟩; be crazy about s.o.; || ~ не любить что ⟨что делать⟩ ≃ loathe (doing) sth.; not be able to stand (doing) sth.; have a mortal aversion to (doing) sth.; || ~ устать ⟨измучиться⟩ ≃ be dead ⟨deathly⟩ tired; be dead beat; || заговорить кого ~ ≃ talk s.o. to death; talk s.o.'s ear off.

«Нянечка до смерти напугана случившимся» (Чернёнок 1). "The nurse's aide is frightened out of her wits by what happened" (1a). ♦ К числу мелких литературных штампов Бунин… относил, например, привычку ремесленников-беллетристов того времени своего молодого героя непременно называть «студент первого курса»… «До смерти надоели все эти литературные студенты первого курса», — говорил Бунин (Катаев 3). Among the minor literary clichés Bunin… included, for example, the hack-writer's habit in those days of describing his hero as a "first-year student."… "I am sick to death of all these literary first-year students," Bunin would say (3a). ♦ [Серафима:] Турку до смерти русского студня хочется, а не может на русском говорить (Эрдман 1). [S.:] The Turk was just dying to get some of the Russian meat-jelly but couldn't speak any Russian (1a).

С-449 • ПРИ́ СМЕРТИ быть$_{ø}$, лежать, находиться [PrepP; Invar; subj-compl with copula (subj: human)] one is in critical condition, is about to die: X лежит при смерти ≃ X is at death's door; X is near death; X is dying; X is on his deathbed.

[Муаррон:] Госпожу Мадлену Бежар вы забыли? Да? Она при смерти… (Булгаков 8). [M.:] Have you forgotten Madame Madeleine Béjart? Yes? She is near death… (8a).

С-450 • РА́НЬШЕ ⟨ПРЕ́ЖДЕ⟩ СМЕ́РТИ НЕ ПОМРЁШЬ ⟨НЕ УМРЁШЬ⟩ [saying] a person dies when he is fated to, not earlier: ≃ nobody dies before his time.

«Остров объявлен на военном положении… — Затем, проследив за метаниями хозяйки, [кадровик] брезгливо поморщился. — Раньше смерти не помрёшь, Самохина, не суетись…» (Максимов 1). "Martial law has been declared over the island…." Then watching Fyodor's mother rushing about the room, he [the personnel officer] winced with disgust: "Why the hurry, Samokhina? Nobody dies before their time" (1a).

С-451 • СМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ⟩ СМЕ́РТИ В ГЛАЗА́ ⟨В ЛИЦО́⟩ elev [VP; subj: human] 1. to be exposed to mortal danger (while engaged in battle, chasing an armed criminal etc): X смотрел в глаза смерти ≃ X looked death in the face; X stood face to face with death.

«Мы — коммунисты — всю жизнь… всю кровь свою… капля по капле… отдавали делу служения рабочему классу… угнетённому крестьянству. Мы привыкли бесстрашно глядеть смерти в глаза!» (Шолохов 4). "We Communists have given our whole lives… all our blood… drop by drop… to the cause of serving the working class… the oppressed peasantry. We are used to looking death fearlessly in the face" (4a).

2. to be about to die: X смотрел смерти в глаза ≃ X was staring death in the face; X was at death's door; X was on the brink of death.

С-452 • ПРОСТО́Й СМЕ́РТНЫЙ [NP; fixed WO] an ordinary person: a mere mortal.

«Долгие годы Коран с отцовскими пометками казался мне волшебной книгой, в магической вязи которой простому смерт-ному ни за что не разобраться» (Акунин 7). For many years the Koran with my father's notes in it seemed to me like an enchanted book written in a magical script no mere mortal could ever decipher (7a).

С-453 • ГРАЖДАНСКАЯ СМЕРТЬ [NP; fixed WO] 1. obs in 18th- and 19th-cent. Russia, the infliction of a public punishment, usu. mock execution, on a noble accused of being a state criminal and deprived of civil rights: civil death.

Выдача свидетельства о смерти была не правилом, а исключением. Гражданская смерть — ссылка или, ещё точнее, арест — потому что сам факт ареста означал ссылку и осуждение, — приравнивалась, очевидно, к физической смерти и являлась полным изъятием из жизни (Мандельштам 1). [context transl] The issue of the death certificate was not the rule but the exception. To all intents and purposes, as far as his civil status was concerned, a person could be considered dead from the moment he was sent to a camp, or, indeed, from the moment of his arrest, which was automatically followed by his conviction and sentence to imprisonment in a camp (1a).

2. (of a public or well-known figure, often a statesman, politician, etc) a complete loss of respect in society, loss of status, influence, authority etc. owing to inappropriate, unethical etc behavior: suffering absolute disgrace; becoming ostracized ⟨a social outcast⟩; (s.o.'s) political demise ⟨undoing⟩; [lim.] a kiss of death (to s.o. or sth.).

С-454 • КАК СМЕРТЬ [как + NP; Invar] 1. бледный, побледнеть ~ [adv or modif (intensif)] (to be, turn) very pale: (as) pale as death; deathly pale; (as) white ⟨pale⟩ as a sheet; (as) pale ⟨white⟩ as a ghost.

«Знаешь, что случилось?» — сказали мне в один голос три офицера, пришедшие за мною; они были бледны как смерть. «Что?» — «Вулич убит» (Лермонтов 1). "Do you know what's happened?" the three officers who had come for me said to me in chorus; they were as pale as death. "What?" "Vulic has been killed" (1b).

2. страшен, безобразен ~ [modif (intensif)] very unsightly, hideous: (as) ugly as death (itself); (as) ugly as sin.

С-455 • ПОХО́Ж НА СМЕРТЬ ⟨НА СО́БСТВЕННУЮ ТЕНЬ⟩; выглядеть КАК БЛЕ́ДНАЯ ПОГА́НКА ⟨НЕ́МОЧЬ⟩ [AdjP or как + NP; subj-compl with copula (1st var.) or adv (2nd var.)] s.o. looks very sick, very pale, totally exhausted: look like (living) death ⟨like death warmed over⟩; look green around ⟨about⟩ the gills; look like a goner.

С-456 • ПЕРЕД СМЕ́РТЬЮ НЕ НАДЫ́ШИШЬСЯ [saying] you cannot do at the last moment what you did not do before, when there was more time: ≃ you can't make up for lost time; it's too late for that now.

Перед трудными экзаменами Маша обычно занималась всю ночь, хотя и понимала, что перед смертью не надышишься. Before hard exams Masha typically studied all night, even though she knew that you can't make up for lost time.

С-457 • СВОЕ́Й СМЕ́РТЬЮ умереть [$NP_{instrum}$; Invar; adv; fixed WO] (to die) naturally, not as a result of violence, drugs, or an accident: X умер своей смертью ≃ X died a natural death; X died of ⟨from, by⟩ natural causes; [lim.] X died in his bed; || Neg X умер не своей смертью ≃ X died a violent death; X met with a violent end; [lim.] X was cut off in his prime.

Двоекуров, Семён Константиныч, штатский советник и кавалер… Умер в 1770 году своею смертью (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). Dvoekurov, Semen Konstantinych. State Councillor and knight of an order… Died in 1770 of natural causes (1b).

С-458 • (ТО́ЛЬКО) ЗА СМЕ́РТЬЮ ПОСЫЛА́ТЬ кого coll [VP; these forms only; impers predic; the verb always takes the final position] (used to express irritation at the long absence of s.o. who was sent on an errand) when he (she etc) goes on an errand, you have to wait an extremely long time for him (her etc) to return: X-а только за смертью посылать ≃ you could grow old waiting for X (to get back ⟨to do the simplest little errand etc⟩); it takes X forever (and a day) to do the simplest of errands; X is slower than molasses (in January).

Где ты столько времени ходишь? Тебя только за смертью посылать! Where have you been all this time? You're slower than molasses in January!

С-459 • ДВУМ СМЕРТЯ́М ⟨ДВУХ СМЕРТЕ́Й⟩ НЕ БЫВА́ТЬ, А ОДНО́Й НЕ МИНОВА́ТЬ [saying] the inevitable is going to happen whether or not one takes a risk (said to encourage a person who is about to undertake a risky venture, or to justify one's own decision to undertake such a venture): ≃ you ⟨a man⟩ can only die once (and you'll ⟨he'll⟩ die one day anyway); a man can die but once; one cannot die twice.

«Городок у нас хоть и старинный, а маленький, работать негде, парни после армии домой не едут, вот девчата наши и наладились в Игарку вербоваться… Я сперва не хотела, очень уж боязно, говорят, пьянка там большая и ночь долгая, да где наша не пропадала, двух смертей не бывать, одной не миновать, нынче вот собралась…» (Максимов 2). "This town of ours is old, but it's so small there isn't much work. After they've done their time in the army the boys never come back here, so the girls have taken to going to Igarka to look for jobs…. I didn't want to go at first, I was too frightened. People said there was an awful lot of hard drinking there, and the nights are long, but in the end I thought 'nothing venture, nothing gain,' you can only die once and you'll die one day anyway, why not give it a try? So now I'm on my way there" (2a).

С-460 • ГРЕМУ́ЧАЯ СМЕСЬ [NP; sing only; fixed WO] the unpredictable and often dangerous result of blending components, elements, phenomena etc that are generally deemed incompatible: explosive ⟨combustible, fiery⟩ mixture ⟨mix, combination⟩; [lim.] a deadly mix; a deadly cocktail.

С-461 • НЕ СМЕТЬ ДОХНУ́ТЬ coll ⟨ДЫХНУ́ТЬ substand⟩ [VP; subj: human] to be extremely afraid (of s.o.) or nervous (about sth.) and usu. not move (for fear of drawing s.o.'s attention to one, making sth. go wrong etc): X не смел дохнуть ≃ X didn't dare (to) breathe; X didn't dare (to) move a muscle.

Новый учитель был так строг, что ученики при нём дохнуть не смели. The new teacher was so strict that the students didn't dare to move a muscle in his presence.

С-462 • (И) СМЕХ И ГРЕХ ⟨ГО́РЕ⟩ coll [indep. clause; these forms only; fixed WO] sth. is both amusing and sad, is ridiculous and pathetic at the same time: you don't know whether to laugh or cry; it makes you want to laugh and cry (at the same time); it's (both) funny and sad at the same time.

Посмотрите на эту актрису. Ну разве можно в пятьдесят лет играть Джульетту? И смех и грех! Just look at that actress. Really, how can you possibly play Juliet at fifty years of age? It's funny and sad at the same time!

С-463 • КАК ⟨БУ́ДТО, СЛО́ВНО, ТО́ЧНО⟩ НА́ СМЕХ coll [как etc + PrepP; these forms only; adv] as if intentionally to ridicule s.o.: as if out of spite; as if to mock s.o.

Последовал экономический кризис… В это же время, словно на смех, вспыхнула во Франции революция, и стало всем ясно, что «просвещение» полезно только тогда, когда оно имеет характер непросвещённый (Салтыков-Щедрин 1). An economic crisis ensued…. At that same time, as if out of spite, revolution flared up in France, and it became clear to all that "enlightenment" was useful only when it had an unenlightened character (1a).

С-464 • ПОДНИМА́ТЬ ⟨ПОДЫМА́ТЬ⟩/ПОДНЯ́ТЬ НА́ СМЕХ кого-что coll [VP; subj: human] to make s.o. or sth. an object of ridicule: X поднял Y-а на смех ≃ X made fun of Y; X made a laughingstock of Y; X made Y a laughingstock; X had a laugh at person Y's expense; [lim.] X started jeering at Y; [when ridiculing s.o.'s suggestion, comment etc] X laughed Y down; || X поднимает Y-а на смех ≃ X makes ⟨keeps making⟩ Y the butt of laughter ⟨X's ridicule, X's jokes etc⟩.

«Я поделился своим открытием лишь с одним человеком — с моим коллегой Мишечкиным. Он меня поднял на смех, назвал это научным мистицизмом…» (Евтушенко 1). "I shared my discovery with only one man, my colleague Mishechkin. He made a laughing stock of me and called it all 'scientific mysticism'" (1a). ♦ [Наташа:] Я не знаю, что со мной делается, а они поднимают меня на смех (Чехов 5). [N.:] I don't know what's the matter with me, but they keep making fun of me (5a). [N.:] I don't know what's wrong with me, but I'm always the butt of their laughter (5d).

С-465 • ПРО́СТО ⟨ПРЯ́МО⟩ СМЕХ (ОДИ́Н) coll; (ПРО́СТО ⟨ПРЯ́МО⟩) СМЕХ ОДИ́Н coll; СМЕХ ДА И ТО́ЛЬКО coll; (ПРО́СТО ⟨ПРЯ́МО⟩) ОДНА́ СМЕХОТА́ substand; СМЕХОТА́ ДА И ТО́ЛЬКО substand [usu. indep. sent; usu. this WO] it is laughable, ludicrous: it's hilarious ⟨hysterical, ridiculous, (simply) absurd, a (sheer) farce, a joke, a riot⟩; it's enough to make a cat laugh.

[Кабанова:] …Гостей позовут, посадить не умеют, да ещё, гляди, позабудут кого из родных. Смех да и только! (Островский 6). [K.:] …They invite guests, don't know how to seat them, or even, think of it!, leave out one of the family. It's simply absurd! (6a).

С-466 • СМЕ́ХА РА́ДИ coll; ДЛЯ СМЕ́ХУ ⟨-а⟩ coll; НА́ СМЕХ coll; ДЛЯ ХО́ХМЫ highly coll [PrepP; these forms only; adv] in order to amuse o.s. (and others), in jest: (just) for fun; (just) for the fun of it; (just) for ⟨as⟩ a joke ⟨a laugh⟩; (just) for kicks.

«Была бы я царевна, — певуче, по-бабьи, сказала она, — я не была бы злая… Я не отнимала бы у него эту дудочку, я бы только дунула в неё разок — так, для смеху… Я бы его [пастуха], который мне дудочку принёс, жалела…» (Чуковская 2). "Were I a princess," she said in singsong voice, like a peasant woman telling a fairy story, "I would not be wicked… I would not have taken his pipe away from him, I would have blown on it once—just for fun…. I would have had pity on the shepherd-boy who brought me the pipe…" (2a).

С-467 • ПОКА́ТЫВАТЬСЯ ⟨КАТА́ТЬСЯ, ВАЛЯ́ТЬСЯ⟩/ ПОКАТИ́ТЬСЯ СО́ СМЕХУ ⟨ОТ СМЕ́ХА, С ХО́ХОТУ, ОТ ХО́ХОТА⟩ all coll [VP; subj: human or collect] to laugh hard: X покатился со смеху ≃ X rolled ⟨rocked, roared⟩ with laughter; X laughed his head off; X split ⟨burst⟩ his sides laughing; X fell down laughing; X rolled on the floor laughing; X was convulsed with laughter; X doubled over in ⟨with⟩ laughter; X busted a gut laughing; (sth.) made X roll ⟨rock, roar etc⟩ with laughter.

«Он очень нервный мальчик, — говорит мать… и добавляет шёпотом: — У него случается ночное недержание…» Но все всё слышат, и весь перрон покатывается от смеха, указывает на меня пальцами… (Арканов 2). "He's a very nervous child," my mother says… and adds in a whisper, "He sometimes wets the bed." But they all hear it, all of it, and the whole platform rolls with laughter, and they all point their fingers at me… (2a). ♦ Он рассказывал мне армейские анекдоты, от которых я со смеху чуть не валялся, и мы встали из-за стола совершенными приятелями (Пушкин 2). He told me anecdotes of army life that made me roll with laughter; by the time we got up from the table we were bosom friends (2a).

С-468 • УМИРА́ТЬ/УМЕРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ПОМИРА́ТЬ/ПОМЕРЕ́ТЬ⟩ СО́ СМЕХУ ⟨СО СМЕ́ХА⟩ coll; ЛО́ПНУТЬ ⟨ТРЕ́СНУТЬ, ПОДЫХА́ТЬ/ПОДО́ХНУТЬ⟩ СО́ СМЕХУ ⟨ОТ СМЕ́ХА⟩ highly coll [VP; subj: human or collect; if pfv past, usu. after чуть не] to laugh without restraint, laugh to the point of exhaustion: X умрёт со смеху ≃ X will die laughing; X will split ⟨burst⟩ his sides laughing; X will roll ⟨rock, roar⟩ with laughter; X will bust a gut laughing; X will be in stitches; X will double up with laughter; X will double over in ⟨with⟩ laughter.

«Ещё одно слово о „Фантомах" и я лопну от смеха…» (Ерофеев 1). "One more word about Phantoms and I'll die laughing" (1a). ♦ Тётя Маруся чуть не лопнула со смеха, когда выяснилось, что я не понимаю значения популярного среди вольного населения глагола «отоварить» (Гинзбург 2). Aunt Marusya almost burst her sides laughing upon discovering that I was ignorant of the meaning of the phrase "to trade in," much in use among the free population (2a).

С-469 • УМОРИ́ТЬ СО́ СМЕХУ кого coll [VP; subj: human] to make s.o. laugh hard, to the point of exhaustion: X уморит Y-а со смеху ≃ X will have Y in stitches; X will make Y die laughing; X will make Y laugh so hard Y will cry; [lim.] Y is going to die laughing.

[Добротворский:] Ах вы, проказник!.. Будет вам проказничать-то, уморили со смеху! Поцелуемтесь (Островский 1). [D.:] Oh, you joker, you…. Enough of your silly jokes, now. I'm going to die laughing. Kiss me (1a).

С-470 • СМЕШИ́НКА В РОТ ПОПА́ЛА (кому) coll [VP_{subj}; Invar] s.o. cannot stop laughing, keeps on laughing with no apparent reason: X-у смешинка в рот попала ≃ X has (got) the giggles; X has a laughing fit.

(Снова хохочут. Маша заливается.) [Валентин:] Машка, перестань!.. Ну, смешинка в рот попала! (Рощин 1). (They laugh again. Masha is in fits.) [V.:] Masha stop it! You've got the giggles! (1b).

С-471 • ДО СМЕШНО́ГО [PrepP; Invar; modif or adv (intensif)] extremely, to an excessive degree: to the point of absurdity; absurd(ly); ridiculously; (so… as to be ⟨look, seem⟩) ridiculous; to ridiculous lengths.

«…Согласитесь, Павел Петрович, что поединок наш необычаен до смешного. Вы посмотрите только на физиономию нашего секунданта» (Тургенев 2). "…You must admit, Pavel Petrovich, that our duel is unusual to the point of absurdity. Just look at our second's countenance" (2c). "You'll agree, Pavel Petrovich, our duel is so unusual as to be ridiculous? One need only look at the face of our second" (2g).

С-472 • СМЕ́Ю ВАС УВЕ́РИТЬ old-fash [Invar; sent adv (parenth) or a clause in a complex sent foll. by a что-clause; fixed WO] I take it upon myself to tell you confidently so that you will have no doubt (that what I am saying is precisely so): I dare say; I (can) assure you; let me tell you; I can tell you; [lim.] take it from me.

«Возможно, что он сейчас и имеет какую-нибудь комнату, но только, смею вас уверить, что не в Москве» (Булгаков 9). "It's possible that he still has a room somewhere even now, but, I dare say, it's not in Moscow" (9c). ♦ «Вы и не достанете рецепта, смею вас уверить» (Ильф и Петров 2). "I can assure you that you'll never find a recipe this way" (2d).

С-473 • НЕ СМИГНУ́В(ШИ) сказать, ответить и т.п. coll [Verbal Adv; these forms only; adv] (to say sth., answer a question etc) without getting confused or embarrassed (usu. in situations when the speaker knowingly makes a false statement): without batting an eye ⟨an eyelid, an eyelash⟩; without hesitation.

Хотя всем присутствующим ложь его была очевидна, Женька продолжал врать не смигнувши, надеясь отсрочить наказание за разбитое окно. Although it was clear to everyone there that Zhenka was lying, he continued doing so without batting an eye, hoping to delay his punishment for breaking the window.

С-474 • БЕСПЛО́ДНАЯ СМОКО́ВНИЦА [NP; sing only] 1. an infertile woman: (a woman) as barren as the proverbial fig tree; barren fig tree.

При мысли о жене настроение ещё больше испортилось. «Я тебя буду ждать», — сказала она. Как бы не так. Будет ждать в чужой постели. Сука!… Смоковница бесплодная. Небось даже рада. Муж на фронт, ей — полная свобода (Войнович 2). At the thought of his wife, his mood went from bad to worse. "I will wait for you," she had said. Sure, let's hear about it. She'll wait all right, in some other guy's bed. Bitch!… The barren fig tree! It must have even made her happy. Her husband at the front and total freedom for her (2a).

2. a person whose activity brings no results: X — бесплодная смоковница ≃ X is (like) barren ⟨fallow⟩ ground; (like) a fig tree without fruit ⟨a barren fig tree⟩.

< From the Bible (Matt. 21:19).

С-475 • чёрный КАК СМОЛЬ [как + NP; Invar; modif (intensif)] very black and shiny (usu. of hair, a mustache, whiskers etc): jet-black; pitch-black; coal-black; (as) black as pitch ⟨coal⟩; || чёрные как смоль волосы ≃ raven hair.

Это был среднего роста, очень недурно сложённый молодец с полными румяными щеками, с белыми, как снег, зубами и чёрными, как смоль, бакенбардами (Гоголь 3). He was a young fellow of medium height, of excellent build, with full rosy cheeks, snow-white teeth, and pitch-black whiskers… (3a).

С-476 • СМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ⟩ В О́БА coll [VP; subj: human; usu. infin (with надо, нужно etc) or imper] 1. ~ (за кем-чем). Also: СЛЕДИ́ТЬ В О́БА coll; СМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ⟩ В О́БА ГЛА́ЗА coll (in refer. to visual observation) to watch s.o. or sth., or look for s.o. or sth., very attentively: [when the person or thing is in sight] смотри за Y-ом в оба ≃ watch Y closely ⟨carefully⟩; keep an eye ⟨a watchful eye, a close watch⟩ on Y; || [when looking for a person or thing that is not yet in sight] смотри в оба, чтобы не пропустить поворот ⟨не проехать въезд на шоссе и т.п.⟩ ≃ keep an eye out for the turn ⟨the entry onto the highway etc⟩; keep your ⟨both⟩ eyes peeled for the turn ⟨the entry onto the highway etc⟩; keep your eye open for the turn ⟨the entry onto the highway etc⟩; [lim.] look sharp (now).

«Теперь мне в оба глядеть, — строго добавил он. — Чуть только [цыплята] начнут вылупливаться, сейчас же мне дать знать» (Булгаков 10). "Look sharp now," he added sternly. "The moment they [the chicks] begin to hatch, let me know at once" (10a).

2. ~ за кем-чем [prep obj: human or collect] to keep s.o. or sth. under one's close, general observation: смотри за Y-ом в оба ≃ watch Y (especially) closely ⟨carefully⟩; keep an eye ⟨a watchful eye, a close watch⟩ on Y.

Выступал там и Васькин. И называл имена тех, за кем надо смотреть в оба (Зиновьев 2). Vaskin was one of the speakers. And he named certain people who had to be specially closely watched (2a).

3. to be watchful, cautious, vigilant (in order to avoid danger, prevent an unpleasant occurrence, protect one's interests etc): смотри в оба ≃ keep your ⟨both⟩ eyes (wide) open; be on your guard; be on the lookout; watch out; don't let your guard down; be careful; keep your eyes peeled (for sth. dangerous ⟨suspicious etc⟩).

Поневоле начинаю волноваться. Вокруг освобождающейся квартиры что-то происходит, плетутся какие-то интриги. На каждом шагу встречаю доброжелателей, которые предупреждают. «Вам надо смотреть в оба, вы должны бороться». Почему бороться и с кем? (Войнович 3). Against my will, I began to get worried. Something was going on with that vacant apartment, intrigues were being spun. At every step I was meeting well-wishers who forewarned me. "You have to keep your eyes open, you should put up a fight." Why fight, and who with? (3a). ♦ Варя бесилась от сознания своей беспомощности. Днём ходила по лагерю, смотрела в оба — не обнаружится ли что-нибудь подозрительное (Акунин 5). Varya was driven frantic by the realization of her own helplessness. During the afternoon she walked around the camp, keeping her eyes peeled for anything suspicious that might turn up (5a).

С-477 • СМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ⟩ ВОН coll [VP; subj: human] to want and be ready to leave or get out of some place: X смотрит вон ≃ X is looking to clear out; X is looking ⟨ready⟩ to split; X is anxious to leave ⟨get out⟩.

«Холодно, что ли, в комнате или пахнет нехорошо, что вы так и смотрите вон?» (Гончаров 1). "Are you cold here or is there a bad smell in the room that you're so anxious to get out?" (1a).

С-478 • СМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ⟩ КО́СО на кого-что coll [VP; subj: human] to regard s.o. or sth. suspiciously, unfavorably, hostilely: X смотрит косо на Y-а ≃ X looks askance at Y; X frowns (up)on Y; X takes a dim view of Y.

…Не секрет, что иные фотографы смотрели на него [Венечку Пробкина] косо… (Аксёнов 12). It was no secret that some photographers looked askance at him [Venechka Probkin]… (12a).

С-479 • СМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ⟩ НЕ́ НА ЧТО coll, disapprov [VP; infin only; predic with быть$_0$ (impers or with subj: human, animal, or concr); usu. pres; usu. this WO] (usu. used to express dissatisfaction, a scornful attitude etc toward s.o. or sth.) some person, animal, or thing is too unattractive (small, lacking in some area etc) even to merit attention: (X —) смотреть не на что ≃ X isn't (even) worth a second look; X is nothing ⟨not much⟩ to look at; X is too ugly ⟨small, dinky etc⟩ (even) to bother with; [lim.] there's nothing ⟨there isn't anything⟩ to look at; [of an animal or thing only] X isn't worth the space it takes up ⟨the money one paid for it etc⟩; X isn't (even) worth having.

Другой раз попадётся такой [мужик], что и смотреть не на что: кривой, горбатый, деньги пропивает, жену и детей бьёт до полусмерти (Войнович 2). Sometimes you might get one [a man] that's not much to look at—blind in one eye, hunchbacked, drinks away his money, beats his wife and children half to death (2a).

С-480 • СМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ⟩ СВЕ́РХУ ВНИЗ на кого; СМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ⟩ СВЫСОКА́ [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] to regard s.o. with condescension, scorn: X смотрит на Y-а сверху вниз ≃ X looks down on Y; X looks down his nose at Y.

По-кавказски укоренённо презирая русских и всё русское вообще, он [Сталин] жаждал выглядеть со стороны чистокровным русским, чтобы по праву смотреть свысока на инородцев… (Максимов 1). For all his deep-rooted Caucasian contempt for Russians and everything Russian, he [Stalin] still wanted outsiders to take him for a full-blooded Russian, so as to have the right to look down on foreigners… (1a).

С-481 • СМОТРЕ́ТЬ ⟨ГЛЯДЕ́ТЬ⟩ СНИ́ЗУ ВВЕРХ на кого [VP; subj: human; usu. this WO] to regard s.o. with admiration, reverence: X смотрит на Y-а снизу вверх ≃ X looks up to Y.

Олеся смотрела на Лёву, как и я, снизу вверх. Она выросла в простой семье, мать её была домашней хозяйкой, и бабушки её и золовки тоже были при доме, и Олеся тянулась за Лёвой… хотела учиться, хотела работать, быть самостоятельной… (Рыбаков 1). Like me, she [Olesya] looked up to Lyova. She had grown up in a simple family, with her mother who ran the house, and her grandmother and sisters-in-law, and she tried to keep up with Lyova… she wanted to study, to work, to be independent (1a).

С-482 • СМОТРИ́ ЖЕ!; СМОТРИ́ТЕ ЖЕ! coll [Interj; these forms only; fixed WO] used to express an admonition, warning, or threat: (you'd better) make ⟨be⟩ sure (that…); you'd better (do sth.); mind (you do ⟨don't do⟩ sth.); mind and (do sth.); watch out; see ⟨see to it⟩ (that you do ⟨don't do⟩ sth); take care (that…); [when reminding s.o. of his promise] don't (you) forget; don't forget then; you make sure of that.

[Тарелкин (возвращается):] Ну, смотри же, старая, — не наври чего — говори мало; сиди себе да вопи, — одно тверди: ничего, мол, нет — жил честно — умер убого! Понимаешь? (Сухово-Кобылин 3). [T. (coming back):] Now see to it, old girl, that you don't start making up any stories. The best thing is not to talk too much, understand? Just sit yourself down and wail. Make sure you keep on repeating: "There's nothing left at all. He lived honestly, but dies poor!" Understand? (3a). ♦ «А я говорил тебе, чтоб ты купил других, заграничных [сигар]? Вот как ты помнишь, что тебе говорят! Смотри же, чтоб к следующей субботе непременно было, а то долго не приду» (Гончаров 1). "But I told you to buy different ones, the imported kind! You never listen to what people tell you. Well, you'd better make sure that they're here by next Saturday, otherwise you won't be seeing me again for a long time!" (1c).

С-483 • СМОТРИ́ ТЫ! coll [Interj; Invar; fixed WO] used to express surprise, sometimes flavored with humor or slight sarcasm: look at that!; just ⟨well⟩ look at him ⟨them etc⟩!; get a load of this ⟨that, him etc⟩!

Никто потом не мог сказать, откуда появилась колода карт у Бушуева… Рассевшись на Лёшкиной койке, Бушуев терпеливо учил: «Не зарывайся, не зарывайся, миляга. Карты горячих не любят. Будешь или нет прикупать? Будешь. Даю… Смотри ты, и тут взял. Говорил, что тебе фартить станет поначалу…» Лёшке шли карты, он розовел от возбуждения (Тендряков 2). Afterwards nobody could tell how Bushuyev happened to have had a pack of cards… Bushuyev made himself at home on Leshka's bed and patiently taught him. "Don't you get excited, boy. Cards don't like you if you get excited. Want to try another? All right. Here it is. Look at that, you've won again. I told you you'd be lucky to start with." Leshka held good cards and grew pink with excitement (2a).

С-484 • СМОТРИ́ (ТЫ) У МЕНЯ!; СМОТРИ́ТЕ У МЕНЯ! coll [imper sent; these forms only] (used to express a warning or threat) stop doing or do not do reprehensible things or else I will punish you: (you'd better) watch out ⟨watch it, watch your step⟩!; mind what I say!; don't you dare (, you hear me)!

«Сидоркин, вы там опять в шахматы режетесь?» — «Никак нет!» — рявкает Сидоркин и нагло ест начальство глазами. «Смотрите у меня» (Войнович 5). "Sidorkin, are you playing chess over there?" "Of course not!" barked Sidorkin, devouring the chief with his impudent eyes. "Don't you dare, you hear me!" (5a).

С-485 • КУДА́ (ТО́ЛЬКО) СМО́ТРИТ; ЧТО ⟨ЧЕГО́⟩ СМО́ТРИТ all coll [VP; subj: human or collect; pres or past] why does one take no action against, pay no attention to (some reprehensible, undesirable etc action or those who are carrying it out)?: куда смотрит X? ≃ what is X thinking of?; what is X doing (when he should be taking action ⟨measures etc⟩)?; [lim.] where is X?

«Где они там живут?» — …быстро и нервно спросил Павла Воронцов. «В бараке». — «В бараке?! Барак стоит?!.. — Воронцов даже затрясся и кинулся к окну… — А ты… ты, Павел Миронович, куда смотрел? Как позволил?» (Распутин 4). "Where are they living over there?" Vorontsov asked quickly and nervously…. "In the shack." "In the shack? The shack is standing?!…" Vorontsov shook and ran to the window…. "And you… you, Pavel Mironovich, what were you thinking of? How could you let them?" (4a). ♦ Люди кричали: «Безобразие! Куда смотрит милиция?! Милицию сюда!» (Семёнов 1). People shouted: "Scandalous! Where are the police? Get the police!" (1a).

С-486 • (прямо) НА ТЕБЯ́ ⟨на вас, на них etc⟩ СМО́ТРИТ coll [VP; subj: concr; fixed WO] (of an object s.o. is searching for) (it is) clearly visible: X (прямо) на тебя смотрит ≃ X is looking right at you; X is staring you in the face; X is right before your eyes; X is right in front of you.

«Где мои очки? Не могу найти». — «Да вот же они, на тебя смотрят». "Where are my glasses? I can't find them." "There they are—they're looking right at you."

С-487 • СМОТРЯ́ КТО́ ⟨ЧТО́, КАКО́Й, КА́К, ГДЕ́, КУДА́, КОГДА́, СКО́ЛЬКО⟩ [NP, AdjP, or AdvP, depending on the 2nd component; fixed WO] contingent upon who, what, what kind etc: it depends (on) who ⟨what, what kind, how, where, when, how much, how many etc⟩.

[Шеметова:] Нелепость, безумие — так играть своей жизнью, когда конец завиднелся! [Бакченин:] Какой конец? [Шеметова:] Войне конец… [Бакченин:] Когда началось, многие тоже говорили — от силы год. Я лично так считал… И что такое год? Величина в высшей степени относительная. И полгода относительная. И день. И минута… Одна длина у минуты в Казани, другая — у разведчика на вражьей полосе… Так что «скоро конец» — это смотря для кого… (Панова 1). [Sh.:] It's stupidity, madness to risk your life like that when the end is in sight. [B.:] What end? [Sh.:] The end of the war…. [B.:] When it started, lots of people said: At most, a year. I thought so myself. And what's a year? A highly relative quantity. And six months, too. And a day. And a minute…. A minute has one amount of time in it in Kazan, but a different amount for a scout in enemy territory. So "the end is in sight" depends on who for… (1a).

С-488 • СМОТРЯ́ ПО чему [Prep; Invar; the resulting PrepP is adv] as conditioned by: depending ⟨it depends⟩ on; contingent (up)on.

«Мы поедем завтра в лес?» — «Смотря по погоде». “Are we going to the woods tomorrow?” “It depends on the weather.”

С-489 • ЗДРА́ВЫЙ СМЫСЛ [NP; sing only; fixed WO] prudent, practical judgment based on a general perception rather than on profound knowledge of a situation: common sense; good sense; savvy; sound judgment.

«Я одного не возьму в толк — как вы могли послать с ответственной миссией беспутного молокососа? С вашим-то знанием людей!» В словах товарища окружного прокурора были и логика, и здравый смысл, так что Митрофаний даже смутился… (Акунин 2). “There’s just one thing I can’t understand —how could you, with your knowledge of people, have sent a dissolute raw youth on such a responsible mission?” The logic and common sense of what the assistant public prosecutor said was so clear that Mitrofanii was actually embarrassed… (2a).

С-490 • В ИЗВЕ́СТНОМ ⟨НЕ́КОТОРОМ⟩ СМЫ́СЛЕ [PrepP; these forms only; sent adv or nonagreeing modif; fixed WO] somewhat, in some respects: in a (certain) sense; in a way; in some sense; to some ⟨a certain⟩ extent ⟨degree⟩; in certain respects.
